NOTES AND NEWS.

UNITED STATES.

Within the last three months a dozen women have been committed to Burlington, Vt., Jail for drunkenness. The Kentucky Giant, is dead; he was seven feet high, two and a half feet across the shoulders and his feet measured 15 inches.

A Lutheran clergyman in Freedom, Wis., who refused to officiate at the funeral of a Granger, has been dismissed by his congregation.

As the contributions to the Boston Young Men's Christian Association's building fund now amount to upwards of $125,000, the Trustees have felt authorized to purchase a site for the contemplated new building on Boylston street.

A remarkable rose bush adorns the cottage of a photographer of Santa Rosa, California. It was planted in 1858 and is of the Lamarque variety, the most beautiful of white roses, 25 feet high, 22 feet across, beautifully rounded, with a blossoming surface of 400 square feet, with 4,000 full-blown roses and buds.

A man with 22 children, Mr. Eben Milliken, has become a bone of contention between two school districts in Maine. These children attend the district in which they may reside to $40 from the school fund. Ten dollars were offered by one district to Mr. Milliken if he would stay in it until the 1st of May, but the other district offering to remove him and his children to the other district.

Thus The Columbus (Ga.) Equippier says a verse of the Song of the South: "A sorry sight it is to see a spilt team, consisting of a skeleton and a skeleton driver, hauling a barrel of new whisky over poor roads, on a lamp-blind mule, with rope harness and a spirit-driven wagon, into a farming district where the people are in coat, and women and children are forced to proceed scant attire by day and hungry sleeping at night."

A Georgia man objects to cremation, and goes in for bleaching dead men's (and women's) bones, and hanging them up in the yard, and the like. This would give new point to the old saying that there is a skeleton in every log. This sort of thing might be well enough, but then, how it would look!

The American Sunday-school Union has organized over twelve hundred schools during the past year, and since the commencement of the institution, in 1824, over fifty-four thousand schools with three millions of scholars. Three thousand churches have also been established through the agency of this society, and five hundred thousand persons have been converted through its exertions.

Advertisement in a Vicksburg paper: "My attention has been called to an editorial in the Vicksburg Herald, of today, which might reflect upon me, as a liar, scoundrel and a coward." Your first-class Vicksburg editor writes me up to his knees in gunpowder, with a parcel of fellows fooling around, each with a lighted cigar in his mouth.

A drunken man in a cheap hotel near Catherine Ferry lighted his pipe and went to bed the other night. Luckily, the building was not much damaged, but the man was in fact, he died. It is casually mentioned that it was his custom of a night to light his pipe and go to bed, drawing round his smoking breast the remains of repose. Hotels where that custom is recognized and encouraged are fine subjects for insurance.

The editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal gives the conventional notice. But on reading it over, the compliment has an equivocal look: "An exchange says: Kansas City man paid his mother-in-law's fare from England and then gave her the best room in the house. That man is a Christian, faithfully obeying the commandment: 'Love your enemies; do good to them that hate you and despitefully use you.'"

The last of the Semans Bay Company seems to be languishing by the gills. New York, the question being whether the company has been dissolved by the action of the Dominicans who snuffed out, or whether the company is still upon the snuffing process and declare it soon. It was a scheme of adventure and enthusiasts, born of the fish trade, and of the unreasoning longing in the Northern mind for the land of the orange and banana; and it never had a decent business or political excuse for its worthless life.

A tablet has been placed in the eastern wall of the building at Sixth and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia. It is apparently of slate, and has inscribed on it the following: "In this building sat the first Senate and the first House of Representatives of the United States of America. Herein George Washington was inaugurated President, March 4, 1789, and closed his career when John Adams was inaugurated the Second President of the United States, March 4, 1797."

A colored brother who, in Conference in Cincinnati, proposed a resolution enjoining celibacy on the membership, was constrained to take the back track by the remarks of a Kentucky "orator," who avowedly said: "We knew de antecedent and acceders ob Brudder Morgan, ob New York, who was now in de journal ob de early felicity ob his four wife, and dat her bodily form would scarcely be laid in de cold and stium tomb, and dat her angelic fingers would scarcely touch de strings of the golden harp in de celestial city above Brudder Morgan, ob New York, who be looking out for number five."

The numbers of The Living Age for the weeks ending May 9th and 16th, have the following noteworthy contents:—David Livingstone from the British Quarterly Review; Chinese Domestic Life, China's Diet; Mendelssohn, by Ferdinand Hillier, part IV.; Acquaintance; Magazine; International Vanities, Blackwood; The Philosophy of Stage, Macmillan; Wordsworth, Fortnightly Review; Impulsive People, The Queen; Sir John Lubbock on "The Little Bug" lies; Spectator; Illustrating Chambers' Journal; Count Duesen's Note, Saturday Review; etc. with "The White Cat," complete, by Miss Thackeray, and instalments of Disorder in Dreamland, and "A Rose in June," besides the usual amount of choice poetry and miscellany. With fifty two such numbers, of sixty-four large pages each (aggregating over 3000 pages a year) the subscription price ($8) is low; or still better, for $10, any one of the American $4 magazines is sent with The Living Age as a present. LITTLE & GAY, Boston, Publishers.

A young girl named Kate Curry, residing a few miles south of Gallegus, was, on Saturday last, noticed by an engineer on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, endeavoring to extricate a pet lamb that had got its foot fast in a cattle guard. In her anxiety to save her pet she did not heed the whistle of the engine. Just before the engine reached them, the lamb was extricated and bounded away, but she was struck by the pilot of the engine and thrown some fifteen feet from the track. She was found in a deep gash in her head and in an insensible condition. Medical assistance being called she soon recovered, and is now doing well.

GENERAL.
The storage passage from Liverpool by steamer is now only $15. This is thought to work both ways. If it is to work at all, there are a good many people who would like to invest $1000 a trip over to their country friends. And it shouldn't cost any more to go than to come, certainly.

A young bachelor who had been appointed sheriff was called upon to serve an attachment against a beautiful young widow. He accordingly called upon her and said: "Madam, I have an attachment for you." The widow blushed, and said that his attachment was reciprocated.

"You don't understand me, you must proceed to court." "I know it is late yet, sir, but I prefer to go to court now." "Mrs. C., this is no time for trifling; the justice is waiting." "The justice! why, pray, for whom?"

Lo, the Poor Lascion!
The New York Sun describes the scandalous treatment of a lunatic at the hands of the authorities in the asylum on Ward's Island. Alfred Whitehead, the victim, is an Englishman, about 63 years of age, perfectly healthy in body, but an infirm mind. He is said by the mischievous visitor of his son. It was found necessary to remove him to the asylum some time ago, when he was seized by his representative son last week. The son found his father rather better than he expected, and a band passed around his body, fastening his arms to his sides, and drawing his feet out from under him, so that he could not move. He was ordered to lose the coats, and as soon as the order was given he tore his coat to shreds. The son, who promised to do better, and on Thursday the son again visited the asylum and found his father in a condition which he found his father. He was suffering from want of food, and every part of his body was cut and bruised where his keepers had trampled him. He said that he had been beaten frequently and mercilessly. His feet had been trampled together, and when he tried to walk he was so lame that he was unable to get up. His leg and found it in a terrible condition. The son informed his mother of the state of affairs and she at once ordered her husband's removal. It was found that Mr. Whitehead had been such as to endanger his life, and it seemed probable that his feet would have to be amputated. Mr. Whitehead and his wife are persons of culture, and occupied high social positions in England. The names of the other party have been laid before the Grand Jury, and a thorough overhauling of the institution is looked for.

Africa Diamonds.
The diamond fields of South Africa are going to pay of almost all reports of treasure that have excited the world in the last quarter of a century, and the miners, who have been enjoying sparkling visions, and that there is a limit to the wealth of valuable gems that the soil, rocks and rivers of the Cape Colony can contain. For the last two years the New Rush has been the principal scene of activity, and last fall gave employment to 15,000 native laborers and 10,000 miners, but in February the residents of the camp had dwindled down to a few hundred, while this far in the present season the yield of diamonds has been fifty per cent below the average of the last two years, and thirty per cent below that of 1872. The value of claims has also been decreasing for the last two years, and it is so urgent that ten per cent per month is paid by diggers. The government has employed by them, and the claim is the set it is. If that fails to yield an equivalent, no matter how promising it may be, it must be given up at the end of the time specified for the loan to run, and it is these money-lenders and the diamond brokers who are making the money, and making it easily, in the Colony. Two years ago the digging along the river Vaal employed over 10,000 men, but now there is no work for over two hundred. There are no doubts many diamonds yet to be gleaned, but it is the capital and not the deliver who is to make the money from them in the future.

Kate Field in Spain.
In one of her sparkling letters to the New York Tribune, Kate Field tells how she crossed the Spanish frontier into France, journeying through the lines of both the Carlists and Republicans. Traveling in her sailing suit in the diligence from Tafalla to Pamplona. The train reached the river Aragon, beyond which the engineer did not dare to go for fear of ambushes. An omnibus was in waiting, however, dirty, rickety, no matter for eight ladies, and nobody knows how many outside. With a bustling air she sprung into her back seat, the passengers—seven men, three women, a boy, a baby and a parrot—entered the region of the Carlists. Telegraph wires dragged upon the ground, railroad bridges were blown up, and stations were torn inside out. Soon a very dirty, ragged man, with a gun, appeared before the omnibus and commanded the driver to halt. It was the enemy. He did not throw open the omnibus, but he threw open the door of your life! He neither relieved the lady of her watch nor frankly took the rings from her fingers. He confided his party to the driver, and after exacting the toll which all must pay, allowed the driver to continue. Arriving at Pamplona, the lady beheld a small army of Carlists, who followed her to her hotel and made the situation agreeable by watching every mouthful she ate, inviting her to join the army and become their vivandiere. "Live the vivandiere!" they shouted in chorus. "No knowing what might happen she retreated to her omnibus, telling the driver to harness his horses and be off. He obeyed, and after meeting half a dozen similar traps she sprightly correspondent found herself beyond the region of the Spaniards.

MONDAY EVENING, MAY 18.

Clap-net Appeals.

It would have been a deed of charity to the newspaper-reading public if the Government had ordered the elections for May instead of June, allowing only a Glendonian interval between the dissolution and the return of the writs. It is that case people would not have been doomed to have contempered rant inflicted on them morning after morning in the sacred name of popular education for more than two weeks. As it is they are fated to have such stuff as was editorially served out to them this morning inflicted on them daily for fully five weeks. Perhaps they can stand it, as endurance is one of the Loyalist virtues. It is to be hoped that the speakers at the mass meeting, to-morrow night, will talk sense, and not rant and rave and froth and foam like the sectarian weeklies and morning dailies. The candidates and the cause are disgraced by such advocacy. Cannot the schools—the Ontario system and the New Brunswick system—the calm, dispassionate, their merits, without references to Costigan's resolutions, the Bishop's pastorals, or the Pope's allocutions! Does Ontario groan under "the separate school burden"? How much higher are the school taxes in Toronto than in St. John, and how much less efficient are the schools? Now here is a chance for those who have evidently determined to talk nothing but "non-sectarian schools" for four or five weeks to say something practical—to enlighten people on the evils attending the practical working of the system against which they are warned to be on their guard. Political clap-net is an insult to the popular intelligence, and the clap-net that is now daily uttered in the form of appeals to the Ontario and the Brunswick is an insult to the cause for which it is assumed to be necessary. Give electors credit for common sense, and address arguments instead of religious and political "hog-wash" to them.

The Cabinet Trust.

The Ottawa Cabinet sings one tune at the introduction of every Government measure of great importance. It sings of the late Government and the resources and prospects of the country. Cartwright manufactured a deficit of three millions in order to make a point against his predecessor—injuring the credit of Canada for the sake of striking at Mr. Tilley. The same tactics have been followed, the same old song sung, from then to now, the speech of the Premier on his Pacific Railway scheme being the last and most striking specimen of the favorite sermons of the country in the ministry. The engagements of the late Ministry threaten us with destruction, the public work for which we here by ask a loan of several millions will be of no commercial importance. This is the song the Ministers sing, one after the other, who perform every time. They thus attempt to injure the credit of the country at the very time of asking for a loan to construct a great public work! But what is the credit of Canada, what the prosperity of the country, what the completion of the public works that will develop her immense resources—that will impregnate these in comparison with the Ministerial desire to blast the reputation of the leaders of the Opposition and to puff, Alex. Mackenzie into greater prominence?

The detriment of the public interest. They wish to acquire the right to control a huge over-land route of John Harbor. Should they once acquire the right of way over the Harbor, it is not hard to see that they will dispose of it in some way to the Amalgamated Railway Companies, at an enormous profit. The general opinion is that such a bridge should be built by the Government, or at least under their control.

THE POLICE PREMIER.

You have no doubt heard of the grace-ful manager in which the Premier receives his visitors, particularly those who do not belong to the "party." Among those who imagined that Justice could be better secured by a personal interview with the Premier, was Mr. Moffat. He thought the public would be interested in the Premier's views on the subject of the Government. Mr. Mackenzie replied that he would not do anything of the kind. We will spend no more money there until the Intercolonial Railway is finished. Mr. Moffat then asked if the Government would send a dredge to improve the harbor, in accordance with the wishes of the Premier. Mr. Moffat replied that he would not do anything of the kind. We will spend no more money there until the Intercolonial Railway is finished. He thought the public would be interested in the Premier's views on the subject of the Government. Mr. Mackenzie replied that he would not do anything of the kind. We will spend no more money there until the Intercolonial Railway is finished. Mr. Moffat then asked if the Government would send a dredge to improve the harbor, in accordance with the wishes of the Premier. Mr. Moffat replied that he would not do anything of the kind. We will spend no more money there until the Intercolonial Railway is finished.

THE POLICE PREMIER.

You have no doubt heard of the grace-ful manager in which the Premier receives his visitors, particularly those who do not belong to the "party." Among those who imagined that Justice could be better secured by a personal interview with the Premier, was Mr. Moffat. He thought the public would be interested in the Premier's views on the subject of the Government. Mr. Mackenzie replied that he would not do anything of the kind. We will spend no more money there until the Intercolonial Railway is finished. Mr. Moffat then asked if the Government would send a dredge to improve the harbor, in accordance with the wishes of the Premier. Mr. Moffat replied that he would not do anything of the kind.
