SHAMROCK WINS HER SECOND RACE NEVER HEADED ALMOST FROM START ONE WIN MORE NEEDED TO LIFT CUP

Conceded Defender Seven Minutes and One Second and Won by Elapsed Time of Two Minutes 26 Seconds—Cheers Greeted Challenger as She Crossed Finish Line.

SANDY HOOK, July 20—Shamrock IV, British challenger for the America's Cup, sailed home wing and wing to her second victory over the defender, Resolute, today and placed herself within striking distance of the coveted trophy. Tomorrow's meet—if she wins it—will clinch the series for Shamrock IV, while Resolute must take three straight to keep the famous cup on this side of the Atlantic.

Today's race, the first of three starts in which both yachts crossed the finish line, saw the trim hull of Sir Thomas Lipton's emerald challenger, and her vast spread of white canvas always in the lead, save for a brief period at the start when her balloon jib topsail fouled as it was broken out and Resolute forged temporarily into first place.

The thrills were all saved for the last 12 miles of the 30 mile triangular sail. Both yachts lasted along in a vagrant breeze. Shamrock steadily drawing away from her glistening white pursuer, until the challenger came within about two miles of the second mark.

There she caught a freshening northwester and spurred up, breaking out her balloon jib topsail and spinnaker as she rounded the stake, for a wing and wing run home before the breeze.

Resolute was still floundering along in a near calm, more than a mile from the stake, suddenly the breeze struck her and the trim craft, heeling over until her decks were awash, darted forward in pursuit. She seemed fairly to leap through the sea, flinging the white spray high as she tore along. She gained the mark in incredibly short time, and swinging close to the buoy, broke out her balloon and strained forward like a thoroughbred on the home stretch.

But a tricky breeze, which had appeared to favor the Shamrock from the start, had given the challenger too great a lead to overcome and she swept across the finish line at Ambrose Channel lightship nine minutes and 27 seconds ahead of the Resolute—a victory by two minutes and 26 seconds after the handicaps imposed because of her greater sail area had been mile triangular sail. Both yachts had lasted along in a vagrant breeze.

RESOLUTE LEADING IN TODAY'S RACE FOR CUP

Wind Increases to Nearly Ten Knots—Shamrock three-eighths Mile Behind at 2.45.

RESOLUTE INCREASES LEAD

SANDY HOOK, July 21.—At 2.45 the Resolute was leading by three eighths of a mile. The wind increased to nearly ten knots.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., July 21.—It was decided to commence third race for the America's Cup at one o'clock and the preparatory signal was blown at 12.55 for the start. The wind was very light but yachts seemed to pick it up and moved fairly fast.

LIPTON TO VISIT TORONTO

SANDY HOOK, July 21.—It was announced this afternoon that Sir Thomas Lipton will visit Toronto as soon as the race series finishes. A fête has been arranged in his honor by the Royal Canadian Yacht Club.

SHAMROCK LEADS ACROSS LINE

SANDY HOOK, July 21.—With two victories to her credit the Shamrock led across the starting line in today's race for the America's Cup defended by the Resolute. The Shamrock crossed the line nineteen seconds ahead of Resolute, the American skipper making no effort to gain the weather berth. The Resolute worked out about a hundred yards to windward but the Shamrock was well ahead and footing faster.

RESOLUTE LED AT 1.55

At one-forty o'clock the Shamrock was well out ahead of Resolute and it seemed as if she could cross defenders bow if she went about in starboard tack. However when the yachts came about the Shamrock, which had been coasting along surprisingly well, lost the lead and at 1.55 the Resolute was two hundred yards ahead.

RESOLUTE QUARTER MILE IN LEAD

SANDY HOOK, July 21.—The Resolute was leading by a quarter of a mile at 2.15.

West's Crop Situation is at a Critical Point

While Outlook is Termed by No Means Desperate, Rain is Vital Need to Save Grain in Many Sections—Some Damage From Grasshoppers.

WINNIPEG, July 20.—While the west needs rain, and in some districts need it badly, the crop situation in the prairie provinces is by no means desperate, according to reports collected here today. The weather forecast promises showers in many localities in Alberta and Saskatchewan, and cooler weather in Manitoba, all of which will be beneficial. Some crop areas, notably southern Alberta, report phenomenal growth and good prospects. Some districts in Manitoba and Saskatchewan are suffering from lack of moisture, which has been accentuated by a period of high temperatures. Moose Jaw district needs rain very badly. In northern Saskatchewan, conditions are "somewhat critical." It appears however, that substantial rains within the next week or so will save the situation in most cases.

Brandon, Man., July 20.—The Manitoba Provincial Fair was officially opened here this afternoon by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture.

Referring to the crop outlook, Dr. Tolmie said: "Looking over the country on my present car I am very much encouraged that the general crop conditions will be very much better than anticipated a few weeks ago. With anything like favorable weather the crops throughout the west should be very satisfactory."

Winnipeg, July 20.—If a heavy rain does fall in the next ten days, the prairie provinces will lose fifteen million bushels of wheat.

More than five hundred million bushels of wheat have been lost in the three provinces from a lack of moisture since 1915.

This statement was made by Robt. McGill, secretary of the grain exchange, today, at the Kiwanis Club.

Commerce Board "O. K.'s" Price Fixed by Sugar Refiners

Twenty-Six Cents Per Pound to be Basis of Charge to Public
SMALL LOTS HIGHER

OTTAWA, July 20.—In an order issued by the board of commerce this afternoon, approval is given by the board to the action of sugar refiners in fixing prices at 24c per pound. It is also provided that the sale of granulated sugar, at a price higher than 26c per pound plus freight, if any, will be held by the board to have been made at a price which includes an unfair profit.

The order states that where sales in small quantities are demanded, and by reason of currency limitations it is impossible to make exact payment for sugar in exact conformity with the provisions of the order, then if the demanded sale is of one pound, and the price, in exact conformity with the order is 26c cents or less, the sale, if made, shall be for 26 cents, but in such case the dealer may refuse to sell one pound and may require purchase of four pounds, whereupon the price shall be $1.05 for four pounds.

The same rate will prevail in regard to two-pound and three-pound sales.

The order proceeds: "Where the demanded sale is of one pound, and the price, in exact conformity with the provisions of this order is 26c cents, or less, but more than 26c cents, the dealer may refuse to sell less than two pounds, and the sale price for the two pounds shall be 53 cents. Where the demanded sale is one pound and the price in exact conformity with the provisions of this order is 26c, or less, but more than 26c cents, the dealer may refuse to sell less than four pounds, and the sale price for four pounds shall be $1.07. And, generally, where small quantities are sold, the dealer may adapt his price charged to currency conditions by marking down the price and not marking it up, the whole notwithstanding anything in this order contained.

"That while refiners' prices are 24 cents, or under, basis as aforesaid, sales of granulated sugar by wholesalers thereof, at a price so high that a retailer of such sugar will be unable to resell such sugar at 26c per pound, plus freight, and at the same time realize therefrom freight paid, a margin, spread or gross profit of 2c per pound will be held by this board to include an unfair profit.

"Provided, however, with respect to transactions in sugar had previously to the date of this order, the liability of all persons, firms and corporations for criminal or other consequences, with relation to sales or purchases of sugar, shall remain and be effective."

Emergency Orders in Coal Shipments

Railways Instructed to Give Priority to Northwest and Canada

Washington, July 21.—New emergency orders were issued yesterday by the United States Interstate Commerce Commission, giving priority in the movement of the winter stock of soft coal to the northwestern states and Canada.

More than a score of railroads serving mines in western Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, were directed by the commission not only to give preference in the movement of coal for the territory at the head of the great lakes, but also to give preference in the supply of cars for such shipments.

Coal operators within the district served by the railroads will be required to fulfil the wants of the northwest before filling orders for other sections, the commission directing the railroads to place an embargo on such latter movement, if it should be attempted by the coal men.

General Strike Called in Dublin Today

(Special 4 p.m. Dispatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)
DUBLIN, July 21.—A general strike was called in Dublin today in pursuance of a movement to secure the release of James Larkin, who is serving a sentence in New York on conviction of criminal anarchy. The order was not generally obeyed, but extreme labor men expressed the determination to bring the workers out and were reported to be forcing the withdrawal of laborers from Dublin at the city market. Armed men caused the workers to cease their tasks while vehicles were stopped and attacked on the streets. Labor here is divided on the question of a strike, even Liberty Hall chiefs regarding futile such methods of applying pressure to the U. S. Government. A procession was planned for this afternoon to demonstrate in force outside the U. S. Consulate and fears were expressed of attacks on trains.

Young Auto Thieves Are Sent to Burwash

Stole Car at Trenton, Came to Griet at Peterboro

Trenton, July 21.—Three young motor car thieves were on Monday, after a week's remand, brought before Police Magistrate O'Rourke and sentenced to terms at Burwash Industrial Farm. Wesley Willis, alias Walter Hall, and George F. Godfrey, alias Frank Harris, each got 18 months, and Edward Lewis 12 months.

On Saturday morning, July 10, at 4 o'clock, they broke into several garages around town, but did not find things to their liking until they broke into the garage of W. H. Finkle, of the Trenton Creamery on King street. But when they were taking his car out it stalled. The nursemaid, hearing the noise, awakened Mrs. Finkle, who aroused her husband, and he rushed down, and reached the street in time to see his car disappearing in the distance.

On the alarm being given, Chief of Police Wm. Bain sent out warnings to all cities and towns in the Midland district.

Late that evening, in the northern outskirts of Peterboro, three strangers in a car by their actions excited the suspicion of a resident, who telephoned the police. Their car had a steep hilly and had rushed backward to the bottom, where it smashed into a high cement wall, breaking an axle, demolishing a wheel and doing other damage. The car was great completely the description of the stolen car. The night taken into custody and Trenton was notified.

The prisoners gave the names of Walter Hall, Frank Harris and Edward Lewis. One had 10 cents, another 2 cents, and the third had no money at all.

On Tuesday they appeared before Police Magistrate T. A. O'Rourke, who remanded them for one week. On Monday they elected summary trial before the Magistrate, and pleaded guilty.

The finger-print records of two reveal a history. Walter Hall's real name is Wesley Willis. He was born in Bradford nineteen years ago. In 1918, in St. Thomas, he was sentenced on conviction of theft to three to twenty-four months in Burwash Industrial Farm. George F. Godfrey is the real name of the self-styled Frank Harris. He was born eighteen years ago in Pittsburgh, Pa. Three convictions are against him for theft, shop-breaking and escape from custody, the last for a term of 24 months. Edward Lewis is a young giant, 6 feet 2 1/2 inches tall. He was born in Duluth, Minn., nineteen years ago. There being no previous convictions recorded against him, he goes to Burwash Farm for 12 months.

Meetings Prohibited in Three Mile Limit

(Special 4 p.m. Dispatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)
CORK, July 21.—A ban on public meetings was issued today by the proclamation of Major-General Slickland, commander in Southern Ireland, prohibiting meetings, assemblies, and processions within a three-mile limit of the General Post Office. The proclamation will become effective tonight. It affects many important local fixtures including the city regatta.

Soviet Answer Inherent Says George

(Special 4 p.m. Dispatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)
LONDON, July 21.—Premier Lloyd George addressing the House of Commons today said the Soviet answer to the Allies regarding peace with Poland was incoherent, ambiguous and the propaganda was largely intended for home consumption. So far as he could understand however, the Soviet indicated its willingness to negotiate direct with Poland.

Home of My Childhood

Back to the home of my childhood I fain would go.
Back to the place where the sweet buttercups and daisies grow,
Back to the days when, carefree and blithe, I knew naught of life's woes.

It once was reality, but now I see
The dear little home, the old cedar tree,
Where the hours of youth passed too swiftly for me,
Such a homesick feeling steals over me,
For 'tis but a dream, no reality,
It lingers now but in memory.

Never again will I view the place,
As with childish face and flowing hair,
I used to sit beneath the maple tree
In grandmother's favorite willow chair;
Or as, when the day at school was ended,
My footsteps homeward I quickly wended.

—By I. P. Davis.

Won on Merits Declares Jarvis

NEW YORK, July 20.—Commodore Aemilius Jarvis, of Toronto, who was the guest of Sir Thomas Lipton on the Victoria during today's race tonight gave the Canadian Press this statement:
"Today's race was won by Shamrock wholly upon her merits and the benefits her skipper and crew have received through the experience of the two previous races, which are practically the only two real tests."
"Skipper, crew and ship are becoming better acquainted with one another. It will always be a tight squeeze to overcome her large time allowance, but with equal conditions of wind, I believe she will do it."

Lightning Dropped a "Bomb" on Boswell Avenue House

Hipped a Hole in the Roof of Thomas Carpenter's Home and Started a Fire, Which Was Quickly Extinguished—No One Injured.

Peterboro, July 21.—Peterboro was visited by an unusually severe electric storm Sunday night and those who exclaimed at the first distinct terrific crack at 10.45 "that they bet that struck something" were right in the conjecture. The residence of Thomas Carpenter, 300 Boswell avenue, was struck by lightning, but happily no serious damage resulted to life or property.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter had not yet retired, but their evening visitors had just gone home. The family all this week for England where Mr. Carpenter has secured an excellent position in London and much of their furniture and household goods are therefore packed ready for shipping.

The lightning struck the ridge board of the roof splitting it, scored its way inside about ten feet from the front and followed the beam down to the wall, shattering and splintering it. Another beam was badly splintered and jagged pieces of wood were strewn on the attic floor.

The electric current displayed its usual freakishness by avoiding a pair of snowshoes hanging on one of the beams and another at the south-east corner of the house marked the course of the mysterious fluid in its entrance and passage through the house, but it left no trace of its exit.

A Rending Noise.
Mrs. Carpenter said to-day that there was the most deafening crash and then a splintering tearing sound. She felt the whole house rock as if it was tumbling to the ground. Looking out the window she saw a shower of sparks falling down through the sheets of rain and Mr. George Jobbit, a G.T.R. conductor, who lives across the street, saw the same phenomena. Ralph Carpenter, a lad of thirteen or fourteen, said that he saw a big ball of fire that looked just like a moon hovering outside his bedroom window on the south side of the house.

The neighbours were at once aroused by the terrific crash and several ladies whose nerves were not keyed up to stand such electrical bombardments were prostrated with fright. Mr. Jobbit saw fire break out on the roof and ran into the house and with the aid of stepladders water was thrown on the blaze from below, while nature soaked it from the outside and the fire did not last long. The firemen were called and put on the finishing touches.

The house is owned by Mr. W. E. White and the damage estimated by Mr. White at $30 is fully covered by insurance.

BIRTH
SHORT—On Tuesday, July 20, 1920, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Short, Madoc Road, a son.

"Ghost" Walked and Then Flew

Joker Tried to Frighten Darky Boys but Met Roaming Bear "Jimmie"

Some practical joker ran into a disconcerting surprise last night when he tried to scare two darkey attendants of the Greater Sheeley circus-fair at the circus grounds. He didn't know that one of the bears was roaming practically at liberty inside the animal tent.

It was in the wee small hours of the morning when the city was fast asleep. The two darkeys were asleep in the animal tent.

They were roused by a terrible shriek, and they rushed out. Then the watchman came rushing over. All three searched for the ghostly mystery. Finally they found a big white sheet ruffled on the ground inside the animal tent close by "Jimmie," the huge East Indian bear. In "Jimmie's" paws they found a plaid cap, a piece of blue neck tie and a fair-sized strip of someone's silk shirt.

The darkeys remembered then that some fellows had been trying to scare them the previous night by telling them ghost stories. They figure now that one of those fellows was trying to make the joke good by appearing as a real ghost. But he evidently forgot to count on "Jimmie."

R. B. Russell's Appeal Was Dismissed

(Special 4 p.m. Dispatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)
London, July 21.—In the appeal of the Winnipeg Labor leaders to the Privy Council the petition of R. B. Russell was dismissed without the respondents being called.

After nearly two hours of argument by W. H. Trueman, K.C., of Winnipeg, the petitioners which developed into a running conversation between counsel and their Lordships, the Lord Chancellor dismissed the petition without calling on Sir John Simon, the respondents' lawyer. The Lord Chancellor said, "the petitioner asks leave to appeal in a criminal matter. He asks the Privy Council to advise His Majesty that there should be an exercise of his prerogative. Such advice is only given in a very special class of case. It is sufficient for me to say that the petitioner has entirely failed, in our opinion, to bring matter within that class of petition."

To Discuss Settlement of Irish Problem

(Special 4 p.m. Dispatch from Canadian Press Ltd.)

Both the Sinn Fein and Labor leaders in Dublin are very busy, and statements are expected to be made at Thursday's debate in the House of Commons.

They left Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock and soon picked up the trail of the three robbers. All along the road to Port Hope they heard stories of people held up and stores entered by a trio answering to the description of the three who held up Bartley.

Arriving in Port Hope about 10 o'clock, they believed that they had located the three robbers in the person of three fortune tellers operating with a collection of shows there.

They then went to the Port Hope chief of police who stated that the three fortune tellers could not be the trio for whom they were searching as they had been in town all day and suggested that a gang whom he had run out of town might be the guilty ones.

Famous Botanist Has Passed Away

Prof. John Macoun, Native of Belleville, Died Yesterday.

Prof. John Macoun, one of Canada's leading botanists, and for many years a resident of Ottawa, passed away yesterday at his home in Sydney, B.C. He was ninety years old, and was known from coast to coast as one of the great contributors to the science of botany, and one who in collaboration with his son, the late M. J. Macoun, formerly of this city and latterly of Ottawa, had analyzed and distinguished some 100,000 specimens of the flora of Canada.

His wife, formerly Miss Ellen Tyrrell, whom he married in 1862, survives him at Sydney, B.C., where they removed eight years ago, to live with their daughter there, Mrs. A. O. Wheeler. One son, W. T. Macoun, of the Experimental Farm at Ottawa, survives, and has left to attend the funeral of his father. One other son, James, passed away on January 8th of this year. Three daughters also survive. They are Mrs. Arthur O. Wheeler, Sydney, B.C.; Mrs. (Dr. Rufus) Kingman, of Wallingford, Vt., and Mrs. (Capt.) William Everall, of Victoria, B.C. The funeral will take place at Sydney.

The late John Macoun was born in Belleville near Albert College, and taught in the old public school near Albert College, besides lecturing in Albert College. He went to British Columbia on the order of the Government and wrote the flora of the west, and was the first to bring the Pacific slope to the public's attention. His writings are standard scientific works. Prof. Macoun left Belleville for Ottawa when his family was young. James Melville Macoun, C.M.G., his distinguished son, who died recently, was botanist and head of the Biological Division of the herbarium, Ottawa.

COUNCILLORS ON BENCH Mayor Riggs and Ald. Woodley occupied the bench in police court this morning in the absence of Magistrate Mason. William Harrison was fined $10 and costs or 21 days, and J. G. Flynn, accused of vagrancy, was cautioned and allowed to go to get to work.

Program of Chautauqua

Chamber of Commerce Completes Plans—The Various Features

At a meeting of the committee that is responsible for the bringing to Belleville this year for the first time the big Chautauqua features tentative plans were outlined for presenting this big programme of world famed artists and educators. Capt. F. W. Musgrave, who represents the Chautauqua circuit, was present at the meeting and aided in the work of organizing the committee and laying out their duties. Incidentally, he told the committee something about the different features that will be shown here during the entire week from August 10th to 16th with afternoon and evening performances each day except Sunday.

A perusal of the programme for the week shows that no expense has been spared in getting together for this week of attractions some of the best known entertainers before the public today and Belleville is very fortunate in being able to enjoy such a programme of features representing as it does high class music, both instrumental and vocal, as well as stage performances, pageants and other features that are seldom seen outside of the larger cities and even then only as individual offerings.

The general committee that is responsible for getting these star attractions to come here and which has guaranteed the large amount necessary to bring this talent to Belleville consists of James Bone, Major Ponton, Harry Ackerman, W. B. Deacon, Charles Hanna, J. G. Moffat, William McCreary, Col. L. W. Marsh, Mack Robertson, Col. E. D. O'Flynn, O. H. Scott and Ernest P. Fredericks.

The ladies committee will consist of Mrs. Robert Chadwick, Mrs. J. McGie, Mrs. Fred Andrews, and Miss Annie Hurley. These ladies will be asked to aid in the organization of the children's pageant which is one of the big features of the week.

Details as to the different features which will make up the week's entertainment will be made known later through literature that will be sent out and by advertising in the local papers but it will suffice now to say that no such attention of high class entertainment has ever before been brought to Belleville. It has truthfully been said that it represents "grand opera at movie prices" because the local committee has made an arrangement whereby season tickets good for every performance will be sold for $2.75 including war tax. These tickets can be used by any member of the family so that the entire cost of the whole week's entertainment does not represent much more than the price that would be charged in the larger cities for one of the features on the programme.

To give an idea of what will be presented here the following summary of the week's programme is submitted:

Weman's Body Found, Her Child's a Week Ago

Mormons, July 20.—Few events in the history of the village have caused a greater sensation than the disappearance of Mrs. Alex. Boyd, aged twenty-six, of this village, and the finding of the body of her infant child in Crowe River, near the bridge, last Tuesday morning.

The discovery of the woman's body yesterday at a point farther north has partly cleared the mystery. A diver worked all day Saturday between the dam and the bridge, but without results. Residents of the village were walking near the river above the dam yesterday afternoon and noticed the woman's body floating on the surface. The coroner was called, and the body removed to the undertaker's rooms.

I look forward to a country, To a house not made with hands, To a city with foundations— Far beyond these sufferings lands.

One by one earth's joys have left me, One by one its hopes have fled, When the night that death bereft me How I soothed his dying bed.

Has he gone from me forever? Cherished ties and early dead, Can it be that I shall never Reunite those severed threads?

There no kindred ties are broken; There no cherished forms decay; There no sad farewells are spoken, God shall wipe our tears away. In loving memory of the late Blake Faulkner.

—Mrs. Blake Faulkner.

Farmers' Pool Plan Favored

The idea, suggested by the directors of the United Farmers of Alberta, has been received with favor in some quarters here. The proposal is an outgrowth of the grain growers' dissatisfaction over the Federal

The handsome cruising yacht "Wanderer," which was in Lake Simcoe waters last summer, arrived in Beaverton port last Thursday and will cruise the lake for some time and if possible pass through to the Georgian Bay.

While the Trent Canal is practically open and it is possible for small craft to pass it is somewhat doubtful whether such vessels as "The Wanderer" could as yet make the passage safely.

Flashed into Eternity

Lad Stricken as He Sat With Four

A despatch to Kingston from Northbrook tells of a dreadful casualty through lightning at that place. A gloom has been cast over this neighborhood by the death of little eight-year-old Fred Lloyd, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lloyd, by lightning on Monday afternoon. A bolt struck the chimney, a streak leaving the stove and hitting the lad on the head. Fred was sitting with his four brothers and parents timing the distance of each flash by the thunder when instant death came.

In a few moments it was found that the cellar was in flames, but nothing could be done but save the contents, which was speedily accomplished by the few present.

Much sympathy is extended by the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd in their sad hour.

A near neighbor, Henry Vanness, lost a fine cow and a two-year-old calf during the same storm. The hail and rain was intense—the hail remaining on the ground for some time.

OXFORD NONCONFORMIST D.D.'s

On June 24th at Oxford there was an interesting sequel to the Eucosmia. By a recent statute the restriction of the degrees in divinity to those in priest's orders in the church of England was removed, and the University has taken the opportunity to members of other Christian bodies. The first act was taken some weeks ago, when the D.D. was conferred by degree on Dr. Selbie, Principal of Mansfield College. On June 24th the honorary degree of D.D. was bestowed on six eminent theological thinkers and writers, Very Rev. James Cooper, D.D., professor of church history in the University of Glasgow; A. S. Peake, M.A., formerly Fellow of Merton College, professor of Biblical exegesis, Victoria University, Manchester; Rev. John Skinner, D.D., principal of Westminster College, Cambridge; Very Rev. ### THE RAISING OF SHEEP

In Australia there are no fewer than 80,000,000 sheep, in the United States 40,000,000, in Great Britain 27,000,000, and in Canada only 3,500,000. As shown in The Agricultural Gazette of Canada for May efforts being made in all the provinces to remedy this state of things. That is to say encouragement is being given to the raising of sheep in a variety of ways,—by pure-bred rams being distributed or sold on easy terms, by the holding of competitions, at which generous prizes are given for the best ewes and for the best fleeces, by obtaining the highest price for wool through the Departments, and through the Canadian Co-operative Wool Grower's Association, by organized sheep sales, and, as in Ontario in particular, by placing flocks on a share basis. Amended legislation has also been passed for the protection of sheep from dogs. As a sample of the good work that is being performed it might be mentioned that in Saskatchewan in the last four years the amount of wool consigned to the co-operative branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture increased from 179 consignments, weighing 69,404 pounds, for which the average price realized was 17 1/2 cts., to 916 consignments, weighing 394,968 pounds, at an average price of 61 1/2 cts. per pound. The articles in the Gazette would imply that what has been done in Saskatchewan is also being accomplished in the other provinces of the Dominion.

TO TRUE A WIRE WHEEL.

When it is necessary to true a slightly misaligned wire wheel one should be careful to use a close-fitting wrench or parallel pliers on the nipples and do the job slowly and evenly. A wooden block serves to steady the hand in checking up the "out" and "in" places on the wheel. The general principle is that tightening nipples on an outer row of spokes throws the rim in, while tightening those on the inner spokes moves the rim out. Nipples directly opposite these tightened should be loosened about half as much.

STUDENTS FROM AFAR COME TO QUEEN'S.

Queen's summer school, which started in 1910 with an enrollment of twenty-seven students, has this session an attendance of 221, which entitles it to be called Canada's greatest summer school. The remarkably rapid growth of the school shows clearly that it is filling a great need, and teachers, especially, are beginning to realize the opportunities it presents. From Alberta there have come ten students, six from Saskatchewan, and two from Manitoba. From eastern Canada, Nova Scotia sends two and Quebec fourteen. Ontario sends 186. Two students come from the United States, one from Pennsylvania, and the other from Virginia.

Sad Fatality at Omeme Village

G.T.R. ENGINE HITS AUTO CONTAINING THREE PERSONS

Lindsay, July 19.—A sad fatality occurred Thursday night about five o'clock in the village of Omeme, when Charles Downey, aged 19 years and 9 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Downey, of Downeyville, met death, when an auto in which he was riding, was struck by a G.T.R. engine. The unfortunate young man who was employed on the township stone crusher at Omeme was it is understood, on his way home, and when near the Sturgeon St. Crossing, in the village, was overtaken by Mr. Percy Lucas, mail carrier, and his brother James, in a car and was asked to get in as they were on their way to Downeyville. The deceased sat in the front seat with James Lucas on his knee and Percy Lucas driving. The boys started north and conversed together with no thought of danger. When on the Sturgeon St. railway crossing the auto was struck by a G. T. R. engine attached to a caboose, and headed for Lindsay. The car swung round so that Charles Downey was nearest the locomotive, which caught the auto the second time, and turned it completely over, a crumpled mass of wreckage, burying Charles Downey and Percy Lucas under it. The train crew and a number of spectators were soon on the scene, and did everything possible for the injured men. Charles Downey was taken from the wreckage in an unconscious condition, with his body badly bruised and mangled and his skull crushed in. Percy Lucas, strange to say, escaped with a few cuts and bruises, while his brother, James, sustained a number of nasty cuts and bruises, though not of a serious nature. Medical assistance was soon summoned from the village, and Dr. Blanchard, of Lindsay was phoned for as well as Rev. Father Guiry, of Downeyville, who administered the last rites of the church before the young man passed away. The Lucas brothers were given every attention and reports from Downeyville to-day are to the effect that both young men are resting comfortably. Their escape from death is indeed miraculous. The accident created great excitement in Omeme, and a big crowd was at the scene. Coroner Dr. Blanchard decided that an inquest was necessary and instructed High Constable Conquerood to empanel a jury.

The train was in charge of Conductor Alton, with L. Blair, engineer, and L. Wakelin, fireman. The crossing where the accident occurred is not considered a dangerous one. A good view of the track can be obtained on either side. The young men, it is said, felt satisfied that no train was in sight. It bore down upon them when the car was practically astride the track, too late to avert the accident.

Outside, the corner boards on the house were torn off on one side and a rift was made in the cellar. A number of cases containing stuffed birds had the glass fronts demolished and some glassware and dishes were broken.

Quashes Conviction by Justices of Peace

Interesting Decision by His Honor Judge Willis in Case of Young vs. Ward

Perhaps no case has occasioned more interest and comment in the northern part of the county of Hastings than the charge laid against a young man named Thomas Young, a returned soldier living at Hybla, Ontario, for theft.

The contents of the safe, namely the bill, is absolutely valueless as money, and the intrinsic value as a piece of paper is so small that one could not say readily that it has any value as such except that it is a piece of paper. Paper is worth money, and this must be worth something.

"There was no malice on the part of the plaintiff shown in this trial, nor would any case have been held if the defendant had promptly explained the contents of the safe instead of letting it be understood that he had found ten dollars in the safe.

"What is the nature of the evidence in regard to this charge? It is shortly as follows: W. A. Ward held a public sale of his household goods and effects on August 29th, 1919, at Bancroft, and John Perry, a licensed auctioneer, was the auctioneer on the occasion.

"This piece of paper is what is called a Confederate Bill, and was issued in the Southern States from Richmond, the capital of the Southern or Confederate States in the Civil War between the North and South States of America.

"The charge in this case is for the theft of ten dollars. At the sale the defendant started the story that he had found ten dollars in the bank, and he was complimented by several persons upon being lucky, and the story grew to be common gossip.

"Now the meaning of 'dollar' when referred to in our statutes, is the ordinary currency of Canada, and not of any foreign country. And this Young misled people, and especially the complainant, when he said he had found a ten dollar bill in the bank. From this statement, and the manner of it, this whole trouble has arisen, with the assistance of some others who are gossiping busy-bodies.

"The contents of the safe, namely the bill, is absolutely valueless as money, and the intrinsic value as a piece of paper is so small that one could not say readily that it has any value as such except that it is a piece of paper. Paper is worth money, and this must be worth something.

"There was no malice on the part of the plaintiff shown in this trial, nor would any case have been held if the defendant had promptly explained the contents of the safe instead of letting it be understood that he had found ten dollars in the safe.

Old Boy's Reunion

Col. Ponton has received the following from one of the real veterans of the olden times, who evidently keeps memories green and vivid: My Dear Sir—

Although it has been many years since I, then a young man, was in business in Belleville, I have not forgotten its attractions, the joys and friendships that were mine while there.

Believing that my tribute, in verse to Belleville will strike a responsive chord in your heart.

Yours in Quinte's Visions G. R. Fearebay, Charlestown, Mass.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO.

G. R. Fearebay, M. D. Where flows the Moira gracefully into the smiling Quinte's arms, I see a stately City chaste.

"Fair Belleville, in rich gown adorned A chanzel robe of green to see, Delighting in a sunshade gay Of flow'ry shrub and leafy-tree.

Oh blissful are thy fragrant joys Of peace and quiet, love and cheer: And all thy blessed friendliness, To human hearts so very dear!

Grand Belleville, vision of delight, What joy to know and dream of thee, Where'er thy lover wanders his way, Ever mindful of thy 'homey' glee;

For blessings do attend the steps Of all who know lov'd Quinte's cheer That bay of every season's joy, That limes thee in its waters clear!

Tragedy and Mystery

Few events in the history of the village have caused a greater sensation than the finding of the body of an infant in Crowe river near the bridge, early Tuesday morning, and subsequent events.

Mr. Thomas McQuigge was crossing the bridge about 6 a.m. when he noticed the child floating in the water. He immediately ran to Joseph Dale's and he and Mr. Dale secured a boat and brought the child to shore, and later took the body to Wiggins & Martlett's undertaking rooms and placed it in charge of Mr. Litt. Coroner Dr. Alger of Stirling was also notified as soon as possible.

Mr. O. R. Jones was also notified and steps were taken to identify the child, which was about nine months of age. Early in the forenoon Mrs. Almond Boyd and Mr. George Riley identified the child as being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Boyd. Mr. Riley is a grandfather of the child. At the same time it was learned that Mrs. Boyd, the mother of the baby was also missing. Both her husband and father stated they had no idea where she was and very little idea as to when she left the house. Various circumstances would place the time at between 2 and 4 a.m.

On the arrival of the Coroner a Coroner's Jury was empaneled composed of the following: Messrs. Reeves Alhart, R. T. Warren, Tim Clement, H. J. Boyd, A. T. Neal, W. C. Inkster, J. H. Dale, A. J. Shannon, Joe O'Neil, and H. W. Sabine. The remains were viewed and Dr. Thompson testified that in his opinion, death was caused by drowning. There had been rumors that the child was dead before being put in the water but both the Coroner and Dr. Thompson were positive that death was caused by drowning.

Mr. Alex. Boyd was called and identified the body as that of his youngest child, Maxine Boyd. He stated that he had five children, the oldest being ten years of age. His wife, who is missing, was 28 or 27 years of age, her maiden name being Minnie Riley. The only thing he noticed that his wife was mentally effected was that for two or three weeks she had been at him to have the children placed in the shelter. He knew of no reason for her desire to have the children placed in the shelter and had not paid much attention to it. When he went to bed his wife was lying across her bed with her clothes on and in answer to a remark from him she stated that she was going to sleep that way for awhile. He went to bed about 10 p.m. and fell asleep immediately, waking about 4 a.m., when he got up. He was surprised to find his wife and baby missing, but thought she had gone to her sister's. The inquest was then adjourned until Friday, July 16th at 10.30 a.m.

All day Tuesday and most of Tuesday night parties dragged the river in the hopes of finding the body, of Mrs. Boyd, but without results.

SEIZURE AT CARDINAL

In pursuance of instructions issued by the Attorney-General to seize all shipment of liquor arriving in quantities at the border on suspicion that they may be intended for consumption across the line, License Inspector Adams seized seven cases of Black and White Scotch whisky at Cardinal this week on their arrival from Montreal by express. The liquor was consigned to a man, who does not live in the immediate vicinity of Cardinal. He was asked to claim it and tell the license officials what use he intended to make of it, but failed to do so. C. R. Deacon was in Cardinal on Wednesday in connection with the case. The liquor will now be confiscated.

FELL FROM BOAT

A sad drowning accident took place near Brass's Point Bridge, Seely's Bay on the evening of the 12th, when Lloyd Baxter fell overboard while trolling for fish. As he was alone in the boat at the time the line was found to be fast to a stump and it is supposed that while hooking it and trying to extricate the hook, he overbalanced and fell overboard. The body was recovered after dark, after being several hours in the water. The Coroner, Dr. Young, was called on but he decided that an inquest was not necessary. The body of the deceased was then taken to his home at Jones' Falls.

HAVING A GOOD TIME

The detachment of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery are having a big time on their march home to Kingston from Petawawa camp. The R. C. H. A. band on Saturday evening, gave an excellent concert at the town hall in Arnprior, which was very highly appreciated by the Arnprior citizens. On Sunday evening, a sacred band concert of high class order was given by the members of the R. C. H. A. band. Members of the R. C. H. A. also played a game of ball with one of the Arnprior teams.

YOUNG GIRL BURNED

Miss Lillian Grant, daughter of Mrs. Hector Grant, Mississauga St., Mt. St. Ursula, was badly burned on the left arm and side last Sunday evening. She was out with a party of relatives and friends from Beaverton for a car ride. In coming down Sansons Hill one of the front wheels struck a stone, swerving the car suddenly into the ditch. The car overturned, imprisoning the occupant beneath it, fortunately not falling on any of them. By opening the car door those in the rear seat got out from beneath, and with the assistance of others all were released, none the worse for their experience, with the exception of Miss Grant, who, unfortunately, was burned by escaping gasoline. The car was considerably damaged and the top totally wrecked.

Father John Sullivan, who has been curate of St. Francis Xavier parish, Renfrew, for the past two years, and who leaves for Calumet Island, was the recipient of an address and a purse of $1,100 subscribed by the parish. MORE CHLORINE IN WATER

Ten pounds of chlorine to one million gallons of water is the formula being used by the city of Peterboro, in an effort to counteract the contamination that is present in the city water due to the increase in cottagers in the Kawartha Lake District and the operations of the lumbermen who are busy driving the season's cut down the Otonabee River.

CRAZY TO LEAP FALLS

The fate which befel the English daredevil, Charles G. Stevens, when he went over Niagara Falls last Sunday will not prevent Miss Vernie Morrison, of Detroit, twenty-four years old, from trying to accomplish the feat. Miss Morrison, who lives at 20 Bismarck Avenue, Detroit, has written the Mayor of Niagara Falls that "she is crazy to try it." Her letter was written before the Englishman went to his death Sunday, but she said his fate had not dampened her enthusiasm.

FOUND DEAD IN BED

A very sad death occurred on Sunday morning when Mr. Azard King, a resident in the vicinity of Havelock, was found dead in his bed. The late Mr. King had been in the village on Saturday evening on his customary rounds of shopping. Mrs. King on going to awaken her husband the following morning, was horrified to find him dead. The family physician pronounced death due to heart trouble. Deceased was in his 73rd year, and is survived by a wife and three daughters.

PROGRAM FOR OLD BOY'S ENTERTAINMENT

Committee Announces Schedule of Events For July 24th-27th—Rochester Boys Coming Strong Led By Luke Clement—Mr. D. V. Sinclair Provides Headquarters For Committee.

The generosity of Mr. D. V. Sinclair in allowing the committee the use of the store at 240 Front street for Reunion Headquarters has happily overcome a troublesome problem. With Belleville's prosperity, no stores were available for this purpose, in the business district, and it looked for a time that offices might have to be secured in a more out-of-the-way thoroughfare. Mr. Sinclair, ascertaining that the committee were in need of a central location, most generously delayed the renovation of his new premises till after the Reunion had taken place. A more suitable place could not be found, and its convenient situation will be appreciated by those of the city as well as the visitors.

The Entertainment Committee submitted last evening their final program for the entertainment of our visitors during the Reunion, and plans as outlined met with the hearty approval of the General Committee. In submitting it for public approbation the committee trust it will find favor in every section and that the citizens of Belleville will lend their hearty support and cooperation in making each day of the Reunion a success. Our visitors leaving us, at the close of the Reunions of 1905 and 1910, unanimously declared they could not have been better treated. Have them leave us, once again filled with this sentiment and an ever-increasing desire to revisit constantly the place of their birth.

Tuesday, the day on the Bay, has been made available by the G.T.R. picnic to Twelve o'Clock Point. The steamers "Brockville" and "St. Lawrence" will make numerous trips, so all desirous of enjoying a sail and old-time basket outing can do so. The sailings of the steamers permit either a short or long sojourn at the Point. Proposed times for leaving, as follows:

8.30 a.m.—Str. Brockville. 10.30 a.m.—Str. St. Lawrence. 12.30 p.m.—Str. Brockville. 2 p.m.—Str. St. Lawrence. 4 p.m.—Str. Brockville. 5 p.m.—Str. St. Lawrence. 8 p.m.—Str. St. Lawrence. The steamer Brockville accommodates the celebration at Peterboro. A resident of the village undertook the job of counting.

The Secretary of the Reunion received this morning a letter from that renowned old Bellevillian, Luke Clement, of Rochester, who has always done so much in marshalling the Bellevillians of Rochester on their pilgrimages home:

"Will have ads. in five papers here, also a boat ad. on times of leaving. Expect and prepare for a good crowd on the 24th."

THREW INTO WATER. Somewhere in the St. Lawrence are two quarts of the finest Canadian gin, gone, but not forgotten. Searchers are dragging the river, but with no results to date.

It all happened in this way. A little party set out for the mecca of meccas, Canada Part of illicit stock was placed inside and part was placed in the boat, safely out of sight of suspicious eyes. All was well until the shores of Clayton, N.Y., were reached. The lookout reported that all was not well and that a man in all probability an officer, with an eye to duty was patrolling the shore. Rather than take any chances, overboard went the gin.

And now certain individuals are bewailing the fact that the officer was not an officer at all.

The capacity of the Cobourg public school is so badly taxed with 630 pupils on the roll that the board is considering the building of a two-room addition.

Hon. Nelson Parliament, M.P.P. speaker of the Ontario Legislature, is to speak at Gananoque on August 4th, when a celebration will be held.

BUILDING A FREIGHTER.

At Sackets Harbor, N.Y., the plant of Charles Gamble located at the lower end of the railroad property is now a scene of unusual activity, as after a sleep of a score or more years, ship building has once again been resumed at the old historic town. Mr. Gamble has been very fortunate in securing the contract to build a freighter for a syndicate headed by D. M. Anderson, who is now spending the summer at his summer home at the lake.

CHILD FRACTURED THIGH

Irene DeMarsh, the four-year-old daughter of Alderman J. H. DeMarsh, Front Street, had the misfortune to break her left leg yesterday afternoon. The little girl had followed a neighbor's kitten into the barn and upstairs into the loft. Unluckily the child stepped on some straw over a hole in the floor and fell through. Her thigh was fractured. Medical attention was secured at once and the fracture was reduced.

BEST PROTECTION

"A new bullet-proof glass for cashiers' cages consists of two sheets of plate glass between which is placed a sheet of pyralin. Bullets fired at it from a 38-calibre revolver at a distance of three feet dented and cracked the glass, but it did not fly. The best protection for a bank cashier against hold-up men," says the Boston Globe, however, "is a trap-door in front of his window, fixed so that he can press a spring and drop the hold-up man down cellar, where the police can find him when they come."

PUBLIC WORKS MEETING

A special meeting of the Public Works Committee has been called for this evening to consider the question of sewage disposal at Burnham street and other urgent matters.

SENTENCED TO PERTH GOAL

Drug addicts giving their addresses as Detroit and purporting to be husband and wife, whom Chief Phillips, of Smith's Falls, twice placed under arrest, first in Smith's Falls and later in Perth, have been committed to Perth goal for four months. They were found guilty of the theft of fifteen dollars' worth of drugs. Previous they had pocketed a quantity of morphine of Dr. Murphy's. Although they had stolen the drugs, it was deemed best to prefer a charge of vagrancy against them and this was done. Both man and woman gave evidence of having been long addicted to the use of cocaine, morphine, etc.

NEW POTATOES 80c PECK

This morning's market was much larger than usual for Thursday. A few strawberries sold at 25c box; gooseberries, 10c box; red currants, 15c; black currants, 25c; red raspberries, 35c; beans, 2 quarts for 25c; peas, 30c quart; cherries, 15c box. New potatoes began at $4 per bushel but sold down to 80c per peck.

INTRODUCED OLD GAME

Monday a stranger tendered a twenty dollar bill at a Port Hope hardware store in payment for fifteen cents worth of nails. The merchant started to count out the change when the buyer introduced the old story of having the correct change and there would be no need of changing the twenty. In the meantime, however, the sharper had picked up his twenty and also the ten given in change. But the hardware man was too alert and he soon made his crooked customer hand back the ten spot.

A RULE OF THE ROAD

It is noticeable that a number of our automobile owners are not familiar with the rules of the road and there is consequently unnecessary confusion at intersections. For the benefit of those who do not already know it, we may state that when a driver approaches a street intersection, the car approaching on his right hand side has the right of way. In police court circles in Toronto and elsewhere whenever there is any dispute over a collision, the party who had the right of way usually gets off easy, while the other fellow is, of course, in trouble.

8000 MORE MARRIAGES

Statistics just made public in Paris show that during the first six months of 1920 there were 8,000 more marriages there than during the corresponding period in 1919, while births jumped nearly 3,000 over the figures for 1919.

THROWN FROM BUGGY

Mr. and Mrs. John McQuade of Alfred Street, Kingston, were badly injured in an accident on Saturday evening three miles from Odessa. They were in a buggy, driving on the right side of the road, when an automobile driven by a man from Sharpton, struck the buggy from the rear. Both Mr. and Mrs. McQuade were thrown from the buggy which was completely demolished. Mr. McQuade was injured about the head while Mrs. McQuade had her shoulder hurt. Both were taken at once to Odessa where Dr. Maybee dressed their wounds.

The horse escaped injury. It is understood that the Sharpton man has agreed to pay all damages.

ACCIDENT NEAR OMEME

The long hill, two miles east of Omemee, was the scene of two or three accidents Monday night, but Mr. Sam Gerrill, Oakwood, perhaps had the worst, while he was climbing up the long hill the car stalled and the gears were stripped. Apparently the brakes refused to work and the car backed down the hill, finally swerving into the ditch. Fortunately it remained upright, and the passengers escaped unhurt, beyond being badly frightened.

Mr. Gerrill met with an accident a year ago while coming out of Omemee, when his car ran over a steep embankment.

GRAIN ABOUT ENTERPRISE

The prospects for a bumper crop of grain was never better in Enterprise section. Hay has also picked up well and will be a good average crop; and potatoes never looked better, with potato bugs scarce, and if those raising potatoes would get after the bugs this summer and fall, the pest could be exterminated, as last winter was too cold for them and not many of them survived.

"FOUNTAIN OF PERPETUAL YOUTH"

The latest claim to having discovered the "fountain of perpetual youth" comes from Vienna, where Eugene Steinback, professor of biology, announces that he has invented two days of rejuvenating men; one by means of a slight operation on certain glands, and the other by X-Ray treatment, causing a general improvement of the cell system.

Vienna scientists say that Prof. Steinback's claims have been corroborated by successful experiments with animals.

A LOSS OF FINGERS.

David Zaccapri, an employee of the Lakeside Canning Co., Wellington, had the misfortune to have his hand caught in a power cutter which mangled the fingers on the right hand badly, some of which had to be amputated.

BEAUTIFUL PLANT.

A tropical plant belonging to the collection of the late Walter T. Ross, Picton, last week broke into bloom of marvellous size and beauty. The plant was given by Mr. Ross to Mr. E. Fosbury about a year ago. It is a tree plant, Datura Corniculata (horn of plenty). There were eight trumpet-shaped flowers on the plant, each measuring eight inches long by five across. Inside the flower is of French white and the fragrance is delightful. It is just such a flower as would delight the heart of Mr. Ross, whose collection of tropical plants are noted.

CRAIGMONT GOING STRONG

About one hundred and fifty men are now employed in construction work at the Craigmont Corundum Mines. The company are building on a much larger scale, than that of the former plant. When building operations are completed and the necessary machinery installed the company will engage about double the number of men formerly engaged. A seven years' contract has been signed, thus assuring a good run.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.

An unfortunate accident happened to Pomroy Sutherland, Jr., of Baptiste on Saturday evening last. In the discharge of his duties operating an edger in Jennings & Baileys saw mill, his right hand in some manner came in contact with the gearing of the machine, mangleing it so badly that it was found necessary to amputate his thumb and index finger. The tips of his other three fingers were taken off just below the nails. The unfortunate accident caused intense pain and Mr. Sutherland will be on the casualty list for some time. Drs. Beeman and Embury administered medical assistance. All hope he may speedily recover.

SHOULD AWAKEN LIVELY INTEREST.

The intention of the Ontario Government to build a Provincial highway between Belleville and Maynooth should awaken the lively interest of the residents of western Renfrew, says the Eganville Leader. With Maynooth the terminal of a trunk road and the Ottawa-Pembroke highway within a few miles of Eganville, the thought comes at once that a connecting link of good roadway joining the counties of Hastings and Renfrew is now a feasible proposition at a comparatively low expenditure. The question is one worthy the serious consideration of Messrs. Carthy and Warren, members of the Legislature and the Reeves of the different municipalities comprising western Renfrew county. The project should be taken up at once, and we have little doubt that with unity of action the Hastings-Renfrew highway will be a reality.

MINING ACTIVITIES LIVENING UP.

Mining activities are beginning to liven up in Hastings north. The Feldspar field at Hybla is being opened up to expectations. Promising veins have been stripped on different farms and those interested in Feldspar mining claim they have mountains of the ore in that vicinity. Other properties are being opened up in the vicinity of Bancroft. The latest one on the farm of Mr. Sam Robinson, Pandash Road. Mr. Robinson has sold his farm to mining experts. With Craigmont booming and Bessemer iron mines about to become active, it looks like a real mining boom.

AXE FACTORY BURNED.

Word was received at the head office of Canada Foundries & Forgings Limited, Brockville, Monday of the destruction by fire of the plant of the Mann Axe & Tool Co., Limited, at St. Stephen, N. B., negotiations for the acquisition of which by Canada Foundries & Forgings, Limited, were under way. The loss is estimated at $200,000 on machinery and stock.

THEFTS REPORTED.

The mail of Chief Burke of Brockville, Tuesday morning contained notice of the theft of three automobiles and a bicycle. The Kingston police requests the Brockville force to keep watch for a short stout French Canadian who is wanted there for the theft of a Perfect bicycle; the Ottawa police report the theft of a Chevrolet five-passenger car, model 490, carrying license number 68378 serial number 30856; the Toronto police are searching for a Ford five passenger car equipped with self starter, demountable rims and one-man top. The license number is 234-304. Trenton reports the theft of a five passenger Chevrolet, dark green body, black fenders, Diamond tread tires on the front and Goodyear, plain tires, on the rear. The license and serial numbers are 125488 and 100-97. The chief constable at Alexandria, Ont., has requested Brockville police to make a search here for a Chinaman named Fred Johnston, who is wanted in that place.

CANADA'S FLEET DUE IN SEPT.

The Naval Fleet, consisting of a cruiser, two destroyers and two submarines, which the British Government has presented to the Admiralty, are expected to come out in September. Commander Hosi, who recently went to England to supervise the taking-over, has asked that a number of other officers be sent across. The ships are now being overhauled and got in readiness for service. They may be quartered at Halifax in summer and Esquimaux in winter. Commander Hosi is likely to succeed Admiral Kingmill as Director of the Canadian Naval Service.

TO INVESTIGATE CANCER CURE.

Dr. John Amyot, Deputy Minister of Health for the Dominion, will make a study of Dr. T. J. Glover's cancer cure and will attend a clinic which is being arranged for his benefit at St. Michael's Hospital Toronto. Extra accommodation will be provided at the hospital for a large number of applicants who cannot be accommodated at present. Applications for treatment have been received from many people who reside in the United States, and there is a long list of Canadians awaiting treatment.

HOTEL COMMITTEE GOING STRONG.

The campaign of the Kingston Hotel Committee has now passed the halfway mark, and is now on the home stretch for $200,000. Up to Monday a total of $100,150 had been received by the committee, and prospects are very promising for the complete success of the campaign.

A SEVERE STORM.

Monday afternoon about five o'clock a severe electrical storm accompanied by an extraordinary heavy fall of rain broke in the vicinity of Fortknox. A bolt of lightning hit William Forth's residence tearing the shingles off the roof near the cornice and destroying an apple tree at the end of the house. Although the storm centred about 10 miles from Brockville not a drop of rain fell in Brockville, but the low rumbling of thunder could be heard at intervals. Brock Davis, Glen Buell, and H. S. Hadigan, Escott, each lost a cow during recent electrical storms and Victor Rowsome, New Dublin, lost a sheep by the destructive element.

RING ON DEAD RAT'S NECK

Madge Kalsely, the 14-year-old daughter of Benjamin Kalsely, a farmer living near Fairmont, W. Va., is rejoicing over the finding of a finger ring which she lost over a year ago when feeding pigs on her father's farm. A few days ago the farmer found a dead rat with the ring around its neck. The ring evidently slipped over the rat's neck when it was small and as it grew the little band strangled it.

BROKEN GLASS.

It is the most natural thing in the world when a window or a bottle has been broken on the sidewalk to sweep the remains into the roadway adjoining. In doing so people do not give consideration to the fact that a great deal of harm is often occasioned by the action. Broken glass is a menace to children playing in the streets, horses' hoofs and to automobile tires, and the damage done in this way is by no means inconceivable.

HAS NEW BOAT.

H. W. Smith, of the L. C. Smith Typewriter Company, Syracuse, N. Y., will spend the summer at Alexandria Bay on his new seventy-five foot boat Ruma. This boat has just been completed at the Pendleton Ship Works at Wiscasset, Maine.

The boat is in charge of E. J. Estes a well known Alexandria Bay captain. The Ruma is finished throughout with mahogany, with delft blue cushions and curtains; it is completely equipped with sleeping apartment gallery, dining-room, etc.

FELL FROM CHURCH STEEPLE.

Leslie (Dan) Howard of Elgin St. Ottawa, a painter in the employ of Walter Stacey, of that town, at noon Tuesday fell from the steeple of Simcoe Street Methodist Church to the roof of the church and then to the ground below. Although it seemed almost a miracle, he escaped with apparently only slight injuries. He was unconscious for a time but soon came round and after being examined by Drs. Cameron, Donavan and Belt was removed to the hospital in the ambulance.

PRODUCING EGGS FOR 26 CENTS.

A Kingston citizen who has kept a close tab on his poultry yard during the past year finds that his eggs are costing him 26 1/2 cents a dozen. An average of twelve hens during the year laid 1,222 eggs, feed and other expenses cost $39.20. In estimating the profits he did not include $14.50 as the value of birds killed during the year and replaced by pullets, which would bring the cost per dozen still lower. Of course the feed for the hens included scraps from the table.

TO MAKE PAPER FROM WASTE STRAW.

Plans are now under way for the establishment of a million dollar paper mill in Southern Saskatchewan. Large financial interests in Toronto are behind the scheme. It is proposed to utilize the thousands of tons of waste straw in this province for the manufacture of paper. Close proximity to an adequate supply of sheep coal is one of the essentials in the location of such a plant, and it is believed by the men behind the scheme to lignite fields of Southern Saskatchewan offer the necessary fuel requirements. A preliminary survey of the territory is now being made by W. R. Phillips, a former mayor of Trenton, Ont., who made the announcement Monday regarding the proposed establishment of the new industry. According to Mr. Phillips, there is no question about the possibility of manufacturing paper from straw. There are several plants on the American continent which are being successfully operated, one being in Eastern Canada. It has been found from experience that from two tons of straw and two tons of coal there can be manufactured one ton of paper.

WHITE PEOPLE ARE RARE.

A snow white hind has been born in an Inverness deer forest, and is being guarded with the utmost care. It is not only because a white hind is considered an emblem of good luck, but also that such a case is very rare, says Pearson's Weekly. While albinism is common enough in rabbits, rats, mice, guinea-pigs and certain other animals, it is very rare in deer, and even rarer in the case of horses. A true albino is a creature whose skin and hair is devoid of coloring matter. True, it has pink eyes, but this is simply because the absence of pigment in the eyeball allows the red blood in the capillaries, or tiny veins, to become visible.

Albino people are rather rare in this country, but not so much so in other parts of the world. In New Guinea is a race of albinos whose skin varies in color from pink-white to a whitish-brown. In Bolivia there is a similar tribe from whom has grown up the legend of the White Indians.

Birds give frequent examples of albinism. You find albino jacksnaws, rooks, blackbirds and even swallows. Stranger still, there are albino fish. A race of albino trout has been produced in America and found to breed true.

Albino flowers are, of course, very common.

There are certain curious points about albinos which are difficult to explain. As everyone knows, white pigs are common in most parts of the world. In Virginia there are none. White pigs are born there, as everywhere else; but the farmers destroy them at once. The reason is that, if allowed to live they never reach maturity. They eat the paint root plant which is common everywhere, and their bones turn pink and their hoofs drop off. Black pigs eat the same root with perfect impunity.

HAD FOOT AMPUTATED.

A terrible accident occurred at Campbellford Station on the G.T.R. Monday night about 9.25 o'clock when Mrs. Wm Hanna, of Rosemount Ont., either jumped off, or fell off one of the Orange specials. She was unfortunate to fall under the moving wheels and her left foot was amputated just above the ankle, and the toes of the right foot severed.

It appears that the train was just pulling out, and had proceeded no farther than five car lengths, when the unfortunate woman went to get off the train. To reach her home she should have got off the train at Campbellcroft.

Conductor Hoover, of Lindsay, who was in charge of the train, did all possible for the injured lady, who was rushed to Port Hope hospital, where it is reported she is getting along nicely.

Engineers Hullah and Hannavan were in charge of the double-header.

LINDSAY WOMAN COMPLAINS HUSBAND DESERTED HER.

A Lindsay woman has notified the police that her husband has deserted her, having, she alleges, left for parts unknown with another woman. The wronged wife, it seems, is not so much concerned about the loss of her husband as by the fact that she was left the sole support of two children. Her mother love naturally objected to handing the children over to an institution, and she wished help.

R.C.H.A. DUE END OF WEEK.

The main body of the R.C.H.A. is not expected to reach Kingston before Saturday. It left Arrnprior Monday morning on the march. Three officers and sixty men, constituting the advance party, reached the city on Thursday and everything is being put in readiness for the reception of the batteries, which are commanded by Lt.-Col. W. H. E. Elkins, D.S.O., M.C., with Captain R. L. Fort as adjutant. Captain Fort was confirmed in his rank and appointment to the permanent force by the Canada Gazette of the 19th inst. effective from April 1st, 1920.

The health of the rank and file is reported as excellent and the hardening effect of the field manoeuvres is very pronounced. But all were glad to leave for Kingston upon receipt of marching orders.

NEW PREMIER ABSENT-MINDED.

A characteristic story of the new premier, Hon. Arthur Meighen, is told locally, says the Lethbridge Daily Herald. It refers to the early days when Mr. Meighen was a struggling barrister in the town of Portage la Prairie. The domestic manage of the premier-to-be at that time, could not run to keeping a servant, and it so happened that Mrs. Meighen, having to be at a friend's house for an entertainment, left the one and only baby of the family at the time in charge of Arthur. Mr. Meighen is occasionally absent-minded, and in the particular task of conning over a case at home the baby became troublesome. To get a little peace so that he could carry on the work in hand, the fond father, took the infant over to a friend, meaning to come back for it later. Engrossed over his work he, for the time being, forgot all about the baby, and was only called to the fact that it was taken over to a friend by the appearance of Mrs. Meighen. The mother going to the bedroom was alarmed at finding baby absent. Going to the father to ask about it a complex situation was raised, in that he had lost all recollection of the name of the friend to whom he had taken it. It was only by dint of telephonic messages to all known friends that baby, to the joy of mother and father, was eventually traced.

REWARD FOR DILIGENCE

W. J. Byrens is the first farmer within the corporation of Newburgh to take advantage of the council's offer of a bonus for building road fences of wire. He carried away a cheque for forty dollars on Monday as a reward for his diligence in this respect.

TURNING OUT ORE.

One of the greatest assets to the township of Kaladar is the Spar mine developing on the Rathbun Co's limits, just east of the railway station. Messrs. Sullivan and son, Detroit, Mich., have a force on the grounds and tons of good ore in heaps, line the furrows of excavation.

AN ADVERTISING AEROPLANE.

Advertising is fast becoming a science, in which there is no limit to the methods that may be adopted to attract the attention of the public. This was evidenced when an aeroplane landed in the field near Regiopolis college, Kingston, about 8.30 p.m. on Sunday. It had painted on its wings in bright colors words used expressly for advertising purposes. There was a navigator and pilot on board and it had hardly lighted when hundreds of people residing in the vicinity gathered to examine the craft. The pilot and navigator came into Kingston but made a very brief visit, leaving in a westerly direction, presumably for Toronto.

ANOTHER PROGRESSIVE FARMER.

Walter Fox purchased last week from G. Edward Boulter's Percheron stables, Picton, a fine team of pure bred Percheron fillies, both have been prize winners at Toronto and Ottawa. This pair were considered by Mr. Boulter as good as any sold from his stables. Prince Edward county is at present noted for its Percheron horses and more will be heard from the old county as Mr. Boulter has sold to date all to good horsemen; one to Clayton Hyatt; one to Bert Davidson; two to Sterling and George Martin and will to Walter Fox, all purebred and will be shown at Picton fair this fall.

HOGS $19.00 TODAY

Messrs. R. Empson and Son shipped today a number of hogs at $19.00 per cwt.

HOLLOWAY STREET PICNIC

The annual excursion of the Holloway Street Methodist Sunday School yesterday to Twelve o'clock Point was very successful in spite of the rainy weather of the morning. The Brockville took up large crowds in the evening and afternoon.

SHIPPED HORSES

Mr. Charles McMahon who has been in Port Hope since July 1st shipped his two racers, Miss Abbie Brino and Joe Kelly to Kingston. Miss Abbie Brino has been under the care of a veterinarian since the holiday. It was first thought the mare was suffering from distemper but later symptoms point to dope having been administered. It is unfortunate that the persons who would be guilty of such contemptible tactics could not be apprehended. The mare was feeling much better Wednesday and here's hoping that McMahon comes through at Kingston with flying colors, says the Port Hope Guide.

TO HAVE DIRECT LINE

It is believed that the Canadian National railways will build a line from Sydenham to connect with the Grand Trunk System, so as to make a direct connection with Kingston. It was learned on Tuesday that surveyors are now at work on the farm of B. Harrigan, near Murvale, and it is understood that the line to be followed takes in along mud lake creek, that the connection with the Grand Trunk may be made at Collins Bay. At the present time the route to Kingston is via Harrowmouth.

MONSIGNOR MURRAY HONORED

This week Right Rev. Monsignor E. H. Murray, pastor of St. Michael's Church, Cobourg, received a letter from Bishop O'Brien, of Peterboro, who was then in Lourdes, France, on his way home from Rome, saluting him as a Prothonotary Apostolic, which is the highest dignity conferred by the Holy Father upon anyone in the priesthood. The ceremony of investiture will take place later on the return of Bishop O'Brien, who sails from Liverpool for Canada via Montreal on July 28. We congratulate Monsignor Murray on his new honors. He has been parish priest in Cobourg for forty-one years of the fifty-four he spent in holy work, and he has well and truly earned his honors. Seven years ago, on the appointment of Bishop O'Brien, he was invested as Monsignor, and four years ago a big celebration of his parishioners was held on his celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of entering the priesthood.

GREENEST SUMMER YET!

So far, the greenest summer ever. Not a gray field, or faded crop, or a tree blanched or spotted with yellow leaves. Unequaled pasture, unequaled crops, superb growing weather; every stalk and blade extending and filling up; greenheads getting top-heavy; every root swelling with increase. In a few more days a great crop will be in the reaping. The showers have delayed, but each day's delay makes the yield a lighter one. Somehow, the cool nights have helped to cheer the farmers. And these are the days to take a drive by the roads through the farms, gardens and orchards of Ontario.

REACHED GOOD AGE

Thomas N. Carter, one of Trenton's oldest citizens, celebrated his seventy-second birthday on July 2. Mr. Carter has been a resident of Trenton for thirty years and was in the boot and shoe business for many years. When he was about fourteen years of age his parents and family arrived from England and settled in Deseronto, where his father was the first butcher.

CHICKEN THIEF CAUGHT

George Carr, of Colborne, was brought to Cobourg goal Thursday by Chief Jamieson of Colborne, on remand, charged with stealing chickens and selling them to a dealer there. There has been quite an epidemic of stealing at Colborne. Carr was taken back to Colborne Tuesday for trial and was acquitted, as the party who lost the chickens, could not identify as his chickens those found in Carr's yard.

ACCIDENT AT NAPANEE

On Tuesday afternoon an automobile accident occurred at the corner of John and Dundas streets, Napanee when Mrs. Wood and her two daughters, Lena and Myrtle were knocked down and badly bruised, one wheel of the car passing over Mrs. Wood. Charles McKim was going west on Dundas street, intending to make a turn east, when another car, driven by Mrs. H. W. Kelley, was proceeding east on Dundas St. Mr. McKim was slightly ahead of the other car and in trying to avoid a collision, Mrs. Kelley swerved quickly to the right, knocking the three women down, who were crossing the street. Mrs. Wood was perhaps more seriously injured, although no bones were broken, but she suffered from severe shock. Miss Myrtle Wood had her leg badly bruised and scraped and also suffered from shock and Miss Lena Wood escaped with minor injuries.

SAIL FOR ENGLAND.

Mrs. Windsor and little son of Deseronto, will sail on Saturday for England where Mr. Windsor is employed with the government. Lately Mrs. Windsor has been residing in Galt. Upon Mr. Windsor concluding his work in the old homeland, the family will return to Canada—preferring the land of their adoption to the land of their nativity. We hope says the Deseronto Post, to see them come back—in fact we hope to see thousands of the best people from the old land come to Canada. They are the only class of new comers to this country that can be relied upon—as the late war proved.

AUTO NEARLY RAN INTO THE SCUGOG.

Tuesday night two women in an auto had a narrow escape. They were proceeding north on Lindsay St.; Lindsay and after passing the Academy, the driver seemed to lose control of the car. It looked at one time as if the machine would go over the embankment into the river, but fortunately it struck the bridge railing and thus avoided the plunge. The occupants were badly frightened.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS TO THE HIGH SCHOOL

At the recent High School Entrance Examination, the Belleville Board of Examiners, were required to deal with 235 Candidates, distributed as follows: 112 from the City Pub. and Separate Schools, 114 from the neighboring Rural Schools, and 9 who wrote at Frankford.

Of these candidates who are admitted to High School as per the following lists, considerably over half were passed on the report of the teachers concerned, while a large part of the others were only required to write on part of the examination, in which the Board considered them somewhat weak.

The papers were considered fair, although many candidates found the Grammar beyond them and were unable to make a mark that would help them to reach the required aggregate of 60 per cent. They should not, however, have fallen below pass standing, as several did.

The Governor-General's Medal is won by Miss Arlene Kirkpatrick, of Queen Victoria School, who has a very high mark; the prize offered by the Daughters of the Empire is won by Miss Helen Potter, of the same school, who also went very high. The Board of Examiners consider that Evelyn McCourt and James Hurley rank equally for the prize offered to the pupils of St. Michael's Academy.

Certificates have been mailed to the successful candidates, and a statement of marks to each unsuccessful candidate. While any rejected candidate has the right to appeal for re-reading to the Board before August 19th, in view of the care with which the work was done, it is not at all likely that an appeal would change the result, for every case that the Board could see any possibility of getting through was re-read before the candidate was finally rejected.

Another Version of the Sidney Tragedy

Ontario's Trenton Correspondent Sends More Complete Details of Saturday Morning's Fire.

Trenton, July 17, 1920.

At four o'clock Saturday morning, July 17th, the frame house owned by Mr. Chas. Munn, of Johnston, was burned to the ground. A bachelor brother, Mr. Alonso (Dow) Munn, aged 74 years, residing with them, was burned to death.

At four o'clock, Frank Munn, aged 14 years, was awakened by the smell of smoke. He hurriedly pulled on his clothes, ran to his uncle, the unfortunate victim, and flashed a green light in his face and told him to get up at once, the house was on fire. Mr. Dow Munn got up. By this time all the occupants of the house (Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Munn; James, aged 4; Maud, aged 8, and a visitor, Miss Vera Sweet) were awakened and rushed to the kitchen where they hurriedly dressed. Mr. Chas. Munn called to his brother who answered "yes." This was the last known of Mr. Dow Munn.

Mrs. Munn ran to the dining room and phoned Mr. Meyers, a near neighbor, who gave the alarm to the neighborhood. Neighbors were soon at the scene of the disaster, but all efforts were in vain and in a couple of hours the house was burned.

Mrs. Munn ran to the parlor bedroom, in the west part of the house, to save some clothing, but she only succeeded in getting a fur coat. Had Miss Sweet been in this room, she too would have shared the fate of Mr. Dow Munn, but fortunately she slept this night in the central part of the house.

The cause of the fire is unknown. It started in an attic store-room at the west end of the house, and spread rapidly. The house was built several years ago, by Mr. Jno. Munn, father of the victim, and was an old landmark.

A woodshed ten feet to the north remains intact, also a drivehouse at the west.

The charred remains of Mr. Dow Munn were found Saturday morning. Deep sympathy is felt for the family, and kind friends are doing all they can for the bereft family.

Robert Totten's Leg Broken

Was Engaged in Loading Hay When He Fell

Mr. Robert Totten, a prominent farmer, living at Wellman's Corners, had the misfortune on Saturday morning to break his thigh near the hip, while unloading hay. Mr. Totten was working on the load and was thrown off to the ground. Dr. Potts was called and gave immediate attention after which the injured man was rushed to Belleville hospital, where the fracture was set. Mr. Totten is an elderly man and the injury is a severe shock to him. He had his leg broken several times previously.

Jos. Kennedy Dropped Dead

Instantaneous Death of Well-Known Citizen Saturday

Mr. Kennedy was born in Ireland 92 years ago and came to Canada at the age of twenty. He had engaged in agriculture and spent the greater part of his life in this vicinity and city. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church. Surviving are two sons, William of Belleville and Joseph of Toronto and one daughter, Mrs. D. Finkle, Toronto. Mr. Kennedy was the last of a family of sixteen.

Interesting Letter by J. J. B. Flint

Job wrote: "Why died I not from the womb? For now I should have lain still and been quiet. I should have slept, then had I been at rest. With kings and counselors of the earth, or with princes that had gold, who filled their houses with silver, or as an hidden untimely birth I had not been, as infants which never saw the light. There the wicked cease from troubling and there the weary are at rest. The small and the great are there, and the servant is free from his master. As the cloud is consumed and vanisheth away, so he that goeth down to the grave shall come up no more. He shall return no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more. Are not my days few? Cease then and let me alone, that I may take comfort a little before I go, whence I shall not return, even to the land of darkness and the shadow of death. A land of darkness, without any order, and where the light is as darkness. But man doth die and where is he? So man lieth down and resteth not; till the heavens are no more they shall not awake nor be raised out of their sleep. And though after my skin worms devour my body, yet in my flesh shall I see God, whom I shall behold, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another, though my heart be consumed within me."

The greatest poets this earth has produced never equalled the wonderful imagining of the book of Job, or it may be inspired, as others hold; but it thrills the soul as no other human work has done. Different conclusions are drawn as to its teachings as regards immortality.

I presume all thoughtful people agree that there is something contained in the human frame that is not blood, bone, muscle or sinew. Every short period the body is renewed. None of us possess one atom of the body of a few years ago. Some assert that all thought is a secretion of the brain, and when the brain ceases to act, thought dies. How can this be urged, when our entire brain changes periodically? We are not aware of an instant in which our brain did not normally act. While changes are taking place in the brain, thought is just as active as ever. Then we must believe that the soul is a spirit inhabiting the body during life, not a part of the body, but using the organs of the body to express its ideas or views. When the time arrives that from the wearing out of the organs, the whole bodily system collapses, the immortal soul simply leaves the body, assuming its ethereal, and perhaps, (as Sir Oliver Lodge asserts) its ethereal body.

Materialists contend that thought is simply a secretion of the brain. Destroy the brain and thought ceases, and the human frame becomes dust.

How blind we are to the miracles which surround us! How many of us spend time in watching the blue sky, the sunrise and sunset? The myriads of stars, the amazing growth, beauty and sweetness of the flowers? Every flower, no matter how humble, is a miracle.

We bury a small round seed in the earth, utterly devoid of color, fragrance or beauty. In a short time, forcing its way out of the ground, the green stalk appears, watered by the rain and the dew, the leaves unfold, each leaf a miracle. Buds appear, then the royal rose with its wonderful shades and tints and its fragrance. All the beauties of the sky, the waters, the great trees, the perfume from thousands of flowers, each differing from the other. Looking around us, breathing the sweet air, filling our souls with all the wonders of the earth and heavens, we raise our eyes to the psalmist, "In wisdom hast thou made them all."

EARLY MORNING TRAGEDY IN SIDNEY TOWNSHIP

Dwelling of Charles Munn Burned at an Early Hour and Dow Munn, an Aged Bachelor, Perishes in the Flames.

Dow Munn, an elderly bachelor, lost his life at an early hour this morning, when his brother's dwelling-house, near Johnston's school, in the third concession of Sidney, was destroyed by fire.

Mystery surrounds the origin of the fire. The story as related to The Ontario is that Frank Munn, the young son of Charles was sleeping with his uncle in an up-stairs bedroom. About three o'clock the boy was awakened by the pungent odor of smoke. He had a flashlight near his bed and arose to investigate. He looked across the hall and saw that a fire had started in an adjoining room, that was not occupied. He immediately awakened his uncle and the latter arose and, after looking at the small blaze, said he could soon put that out. Frank ran down stairs and awakened his parents and two other children who were sleeping below. When they attempted to go up the stairs the smoke was so dense and the flames had made such rapid progress that it was altogether impossible to go up the stairs. The building was frame and rather old and the fire spread through every room in a few seconds. Dow Munn was not again seen alive.

Almost nothing was saved from the house. The piano and practically all of the furniture and clothing were burned.

The home, though old, was of very substantial construction, the frame being of heavy timbers. The loss is estimated at $4,000.

Dow Munn, who lost his life, was a bachelor and about 72 years of age. He was a native of Sidney township and had made his home with his brother since the latter's marriage. He was a very popular member of the community and held in high respect because of his genial nature and estimable character. The deplorable fatality which brought his life to so tragic a close has awakened deep feelings of sorrow and regret wherever Mr. Munn was known.

Belleville.—Early apples promise fair to good. Winter varieties average crop.

Redecliffe.—Crop conditions most favourable. "Drop" has been very light. All varieties indicate a full crop. Duchess, Snows, and McIntosh Reds leading varieties.

Wellington.—Weather conditions favourable. Fruit very clean, and, with the exception of Spies, almost a full crop is expected. On Spy trees which bore last year the crop will not be over 25 per cent., but on trees which did not bear, the crop will be normal.

Bloomfield.—Heavy "drop" on some varieties. Spies blossomed well but crop will be light; Starks and Wagners are also light; Ben Davis fair; Duchess and Wealthy loaded to the extent that they will not need thinning.

South Bay.—The "set" has not been good especially on Mann, King, Baldwin, Baxter and Cranberry Pippin varieties. Ben Davis, Spy, McIntosh Red, and Wagner about equal to that of 1919. Russet, Pewaukee, and Talman Sweet fair to good.

Milford.—The "set" has been good. Weather conditions excellent. Golden Russets and Ben Davis a full crop. Fameuse and Spies very light—not over 25 per cent. of normal. McIntosh Reds, Cranberry Pippins, and Kings promise 75 per cent. of normal.

St. Lawrence Valley.—Ideal weather conditions, and prospects for a good crop of all varieties grown in this district. Fruit clean, and very few insects reported. Yellow Transparent, Duchess, Wealthies, Alexanders, fair to good. McIntosh Reds and Fameuse "set" well, and have made excellent growth. The crop as a whole is expected to almost equal that of last year.

Georgian Bay District.—June drop still in process, but rains of last two or three weeks gives promise of good size.

Meaford.—Medium to full crop of all varieties except Spies, which will be about 50 per cent.

Owen Sound.—Snow, Mann, and Duchess promise to be heavy, but Baldwin, King, Golden Russet, Greening, and Wagner will be only a partial crop with Spy almost a total failure.

Collingwood.—Fall apples promise a good crop with the exception of Yellow Transparent; winters medium.

Oshawa.—In well cared for orchards the "set" is reported good, but not heavy in uncared for orchards.

Newcastle.—Weather conditions during the blossoming period were ideal, and the "set" has been good. Early varieties, such as Duchess and Wealthy, require thinning. Kings, McIntosh Reds, and Snows look well, but the acreage in bearing of these varieties is not large. Spies and Baldwins very light—in some sections a complete failure. Starks, although a light blossom, have "set" well. Golden Russets good. Ben Davis will compromise 75 per cent. of the winter varieties. The crop in the district along the lake front will be very light, but promises fairly good north of the fourth concession.

Port Hope.—In well cared for orchards, of which there are very few, the crops will be from fair to good, but this district as a whole will be light.

Cobourg.—Weather conditions ideal. June drop not heavy. Golden Russets, Ben Davis, Starks, Rhode Island Greenings, and Kings promise well; Spies and Baldwins, light; fall varieties, fair.

Colborne-Brighton.—Little change in prospects since last report. End of "drop" period not yet reached. Fruit exceptionally clean. Snows, Wealthies, McIntosh Reds, Russets, Ben Davis, Starks, Cranberry, and Cooper's Market heavy; Spies, light to good, but "patchy"; Baldwins light.

Trenton.—In one section of the district the "set" has been very poor, especially on Snows, McIntosh Reds, and Cranberry Pippins. June "drop" continues to be heavy. Fruit exceptionally clean. From another section of the district reports are more favourable. McIntosh Reds, Snows, Wealthies, Starks, and Ben Davis are expected to give two-thirds of a normal crop. Spies are lightest, but the young trees promising. One correspondent states: "If favourable conditions continue the 1920 crop both in quality and quantity should

Apple Prospects for Ontario

Apple prospects in Ontario are reviewed in a recent crop report of the Federal Fruit Branch, as follows:—

In the western section of the province the weather during the early part of June, generally speaking, was dry, but recent rains have greatly improved conditions. In Eastern Ontario the weather though cool and the season backward, has been favourable to good development. The one outstanding feature is that there is very little fungus in evidence on leaves or fruit, although in many sections the last few days have been favorable to its development. The following is a summary of reports received from our correspondents:—

Between Toronto and Hamilton, Duchess light, Wealthy good, Ribston and Blenheim fair to good, and Russet good. Where spraying has not been done fruit will be of very inferior quality.

Niagara District.—Fair to good for all varieties.

Lake Erie District.—Baldwins and Spies light in some sections including unsprayed orchards; summer and winter varieties will average about 50 per cent. of a full crop; fall varieties about 30 per cent.

Lambton.—All varieties set well except the Baldwin, in limited areas.

Wyoming.—Spy, Baldwin, Greening, Snow, Duchess among the best; fruit looks clean.

Ingersoll.—Nearly all varieties of fall apples promise full crop. Spy and Baldwin probably 50 to 60 per cent., other winters a full crop; quality and set of all varieties exceptionally good, even foliage on unsprayed orchards looks excellent at this writing. We look for more apples in this locality than for several years past and mostly of good quality.

Georgian Bay District.—June drop still in process, but rains of last two or three weeks gives promise of good size.

Meaford.—Medium to full crop of all varieties except Spies, which will be about 50 per cent.

Owen Sound.—Snow, Mann, and Duchess promise to be heavy, but Baldwin, King, Golden Russet, Greening, and Wagner will be only a partial crop with Spy almost a total failure.

Collingwood.—Fall apples promise a good crop with the exception of Yellow Transparent; winters medium.

Oshawa.—In well cared for orchards the "set" is reported good, but not heavy in uncared for orchards.

Newcastle.—Weather conditions during the blossoming period were ideal, and the "set" has been good. Early varieties, such as Duchess and Wealthy, require thinning. Kings, McIntosh Reds, and Snows look well, but the acreage in bearing of these varieties is not large. Spies and Baldwins very light—in some sections a complete failure. Starks, although a light blossom, have "set" well. Golden Russets good. Ben Davis will compromise 75 per cent. of the winter varieties. The crop in the district along the lake front will be very light, but promises fairly good north of the fourth concession.

Port Hope.—In well cared for orchards, of which there are very few, the crops will be from fair to good, but this district as a whole will be light.

Cobourg.—Weather conditions ideal. June drop not heavy. Golden Russets, Ben Davis, Starks, Rhode Island Greenings, and Kings promise well; Spies and Baldwins, light; fall varieties, fair.

Colborne-Brighton.—Little change in prospects since last report. End of "drop" period not yet reached. Fruit exceptionally clean. Snows, Wealthies, McIntosh Reds, Russets, Ben Davis, Starks, Cranberry, and Cooper's Market heavy; Spies, light to good, but "patchy"; Baldwins light.

Trenton.—In one section of the district the "set" has been very poor, especially on Snows, McIntosh Reds, and Cranberry Pippins. June "drop" continues to be heavy. Fruit exceptionally clean. From another section of the district reports are more favourable. McIntosh Reds, Snows, Wealthies, Starks, and Ben Davis are expected to give two-thirds of a normal crop. Spies are lightest, but the young trees promising. One correspondent states: "If favourable conditions continue the 1920 crop both in quality and quantity should be the best for the past three or four years. In this district the fruit is exceptionally large for this date. No trace of fungus on fruit, but some evidence on leaves in few cases." Golden Russets and Ben Davis leading varieties.

Concerning the C.O. League game played at Lindsay Wednesday. The Warden says:

On the whole Belleville had a snapper fielding team, and they have improved in their hitting. They have largely forgotten the heavy-hitting idea and are following the place-hit game, which after all is the best run-getting method. They had a number of timely raps, little singles that brought in the runs. At that they were inclined to play the game safe, taking no chances until they had secured a good lead. The result is that they only had a couple of stolen bases during the entire game. As a matter of fact both catchers caught well and kept the runners hugging the bases. "Peeny" Mills has his old time whip. Meagher was their big stickler, with three safeties. The visitors presented two or three new faces, and appear to be bringing along the younger players.

The Lindsay Post also says: With their exhibition Wednesday the Belleville team showed why they head the list. "Peeny" Mills, the fast, heady-playing catcher, and "Lefty" Goyer pitching worked well together and kept the batters guessing. The support of the whole team was tight and snappy, showing long, insistent practice.

DARING HOLD-UP.
A hold up in broad daylight occurred on the Gravel Road, near Peterboro, Wednesday afternoon about 5:15 o'clock, when two women and a man in an automobile stopped W. G. Bartley a driver for William Stock and Sons, as he was driving home from his route, asked him to sell them a loaf of bread and while he was changing the quarter which one woman offered him the other two went around to the other side of the rig and took about $8 of the Company's money from his pouch and about $7 of his own money from his pocket unnoticed. They also took his handkerchief from his pocket and then attacked him and attempted to gag him with it, but he fought them off. They then escaped without Bartley being able to detect the licence number of the car. The hold-up took place near the 3 mile post on the Gravel Road.

Bartley described the three as being dressed in gypsy costumes and states that the man was of a copperish complexion.

Two women and a man answering to the description of the trio who held up Bartley entered Patterson's store at Crawford's Grove Wednesday and after, offering to read Mrs. Patterson's hand tried to pass off a large bill which aroused Mrs. Patterson's suspicions and which she refused to change for them.

It was rumored Thursday that two stores in the vicinity of Springville had been broken into Wednesday night and suspicion centers around the three who held up Bartley.

The Peterboro police were notified of the Bartley holdup at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening and since they have been trying to trace the robbers, but as yet they have obtained no clue.

LIQUOR TRAFFIC REAL SCANDAL
The liquor traffic in the city of Hull, since the granting of beer and wine licences by the Quebec provincial government at the instance of the Hull city council, is proving anything but satisfactory to the citizens at large.

GOOD APPLE CROP
Apples this year give every indication of being the best harvest for three years, said A. G. F. Ostrom, produce dealer, this morning. The foliage and the fruit are remarkably clear as yet.

CUTTING DOWN TREES
The operations are in full swing at the top of Murney's Hill, in the felling of the four trees in front of the property of Mr. E. P. Frederick. The Standard Paving Company has the job in hand and will complete it in a day or so. Yesterday there was talk of an injunction being served against the work, but such did not materialize.

WEDDING BELLS
A quiet home wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. J. H. Lane, 1102 Seventh street west, Calgary, when Miss Lottie May Bartlett, of Campbellford, Ont., was united in marriage to Mr. R. C. Lane, of High River. A small gathering of friends witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. W. Dalglish.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane will make their home in High River.

The groom is a native of Campbellford, being a son of the late John and Mrs. Lane, who went to the west some years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Lane have the best wishes of a large number of friends in this vicinity.—Campbellford Herald.

A FRENCH-CANADIAN MARKET

Last Saturday morning it so happened that the writer was in the town of St. Johns, Province of Quebec. The town is located twenty-five miles south of Montreal in the center of an excellent agricultural district and contains about 3,000 inhabitants.

As we had to take our departure by a somewhat early train we arose at five o'clock. The market-place was located immediately across the street from our hotel. Even at that unearthly hour several waggons were backed up to the walks with produce ready for sale. By six o'clock every available inch of space, both on the outside market square and within the building, was occupied. It is only fair to state, however, that the town, as indeed nearly every town and city in the province, has adopted daylight saving. But even at that the marketing was being done a full two or three hours ahead of the time for such business in Belleville. Not only were the sellers there with the goods at six o'clock but the buyers were around looking over the produce and carrying away the bargains.

Jean, Jacques and Pierre are early risers and thrifty in all things. Up here in Ontario, where we know a great deal more than the benighted sons of France, who inhabit Quebec, we do things in a different way.

For instance when the farmer has a fat "critter" ready for market he no longer attempts to butcher himself as his grandfather used to do. Amateur butchering is not now considered good form, you know, in rural circles. When the Thurlow farmer has a fat steer ready for market, he sells the steer to the drover. The drover does no butchering but ships the animals in cattle cars to Toronto where the steer is resold to the Harris Abattoir or the William Davies Company or other large slaughtering firms where butchering is carried out by wholesale. The steer is then butchered, quartered and shipped back to Belleville, where it is resold to the retail butcher who sells to the ultimate consumer or else sells to the restaurant keeper who resells to the final consumer.

The steer was not improved by its journey to Toronto and the quality of the beef was not improved by the trip back to Belleville. Though the butchering is rather more artistic at the extensive Toronto abattoirs than can be expected from local executioners.

But the point we wish to bring out is here. First the honest farmer must have a profit and he usually earns all he gets for he has all the work of rearing the animal from infancy to maturity. Then the drover must have pay for his time and trouble in driving bargains with the farmer, driving the animal to the shipping point and expenses of travelling to and from Toronto and the risk of declining markets must be allowed for. The men at the Toronto stock yards are not working solely for purposes of recreation, as was brought out at an investigation that has not altogether faded into oblivion. The railroads come in for theirs with freight in the two directions and finally the retail butcher must earn an honest dollar by way of profits on sales to his customers.

The point is here, gentle reader, when you buy a piece of steak at the retail butcher stall you have to put up for four profits, first, the farmer's, second the drover's, third the packing-house magnate's and fourth the retail butcher's, without mentioning double railway freight.

Poor, ignorant Jean Baptiste, unacquainted with the ways of modern business, simply eliminates the drover, the railroad, the slaughter-house millionaire and the retail butcher. He flavellises on his own account and combines in himself the functions of them all.

At St. Johns we saw no professional butchers or regular butchers' stalls, in or around the market. But we did see, perhaps, a hundred French-Canadian farmers having for sale on the tables inside the market an extensive and tempting array of fresh pork, veal, beef and lamb. The work had it by a big majority. The offerings were mostly a single carcass or part of a carcass by each individual. The meat was all cut up in convenient sizes for sale.

The prices, we found, were very reasonable, though not unreasonably reasonable. Therefore the practice of these unschooled habitants had a double advantage. The producer received a much higher price for his goods than he might otherwise do and the ultimate consumer benefited likewise by the elimination of flavellism on intervening transactions.

The thrift of the French-Canadian was shown in another direction. There were abundant offerings of wild red raspberries, clean and fresh in appearance. The price asked was seventeen cents a quart. Few berry boxes were visible. Some late strawberries were noticed. The sellers were asking twenty cents a box. New potatoes had appeared. The price was $1.60 a peck. For fresh eggs the dark-eyed sales ladies were demanding half a dollar per twelve. We noticed a particularly fine appearing lot of yearling chickens. The man in charge told us the price was "two dollar."

Although the population at St. Johns is almost exclusively French we had no difficulty in making them understand English. We had learned in previous tours of Quebec that the natives understood English far better than they did our broken badly pronounced French. We therefore have given up making an exhibition of ridiculous book French and very rarely indeed, even in the remotest parts of the province, have we had any trouble to make those with whom we tried to converse understand.

We confess that we have a great liking for the French-Canadian, especially in the rural parts where he is unspoiled by contact with bargain-hunters, bolshevists and profiteers. He has a genuine hospitality, openness of heart and unaffected courtesy that are hard to resist. He is willing to live and let live.

THE GREENEST SUMMER YET

The editor has just returned from a tour of nearly 1,500 miles through Ontario and Quebec. In the light of that experience he now feels safe in predicting that Ontario will have one of the finest grain crops in her history. The bumper crops of 1915 will probably surpass this year's return, but in 1915 heavy rains at the maturing season lowered the standard of the grain and spoiled the straw.

It is remarkable at this season of the year to see the fields as green as in early May and the pasture-lands still putting forth an abundant growth of grass. In a dairy section like that around Belleville the importance of rich pasturage can scarcely be over-estimated.

Col. Ponton reports that the fall wheat he harvested on July 13th is heavy, bright in color and free from rust and smut. We believe that conditions will be general in this district and characteristic of all kinds of grain. The long, well-filled heads are already bending low from their weight. Practically every variety of crop, with the possible exception of hay, should yield better than an average, and even hay will not fall far below its usual record.

From our observations we would state that Belleville is the centre of a large district that will be favored with the finest crops to be found anywhere in Ontario or Quebec Provinces. During the months of April and May a drought prevailed over eastern Canada. But the condition of the soil was such that the spring grain germinated and made a fine growth, with only the moisture left in the soil from the winter snows.

The drought was broken in this district a week or two sooner than in western Canada, or even at Toronto and a full month sooner than was the case in Quebec. We ascertained during our tour through Quebec that dry weather continued there almost to the first of July. Since that time abundant rain has fallen but its arrival was too late to make much difference in the hay crop which is relatively far more important there than it is in Ontario.

We journeyed all through the much-talked of Eastern Townships, with Sherbrooke as their center of population. It is a district characterized by high hills and deep valleys, in contrast with central Quebec, which is an almost unbroken plain. The Eastern Townships form an excellent agricultural section but they are still very much inferior to the district around Belleville. The buildings generally betoken a degree of prosperity that is superior to that of most parts of Quebec but they have not reached the stage of development to be seen in the better communities in Hastings and Prince Edward.

In the Eastern Townships, as in all other parts of Quebec, the farms are infested with weeds to a degree that is unknown in Ontario. Wild mustard, the white daisy, the buttercup, the blue devil, the perennial sow thistle and other weed enemies give to the fields and meadows a ragged appearance. The French habitant is not a skillful agriculturalist and his Anglo-Saxon neighbors in Quebec are little better.

Farmers in Ontario should be warned in times of fodder scarcity that they run a risk in the importation of hay from Quebec. If they do they will be almost certain to contaminate their clean fields with some of the most persistent weed pests known to man.

But the point we wish to bring out is that in Belleville district, or Central Ontario, is especially favored this year and has every prospect of crops that will fill the hearts of the producers with gladness.

The advantages of mixed farming, such as is practiced here can readily be seen this year. One or more branches of farming may fail to bring good returns, but the deficiency is more than likely to be made up by large yields in some other lines.

Distant pastures look greenest, but when everything is considered, the rising generation, which is sometimes prone to seek a future in distant parts, will do well to consider that this section of Canada offers exceptional features and gives equal promise with any other part of the Dominion or the United States of prosperity and advancement.

The present summer has probably been the greenest, take it all through, within the memory of living man. At this season we almost invariably have pastures burned brown and leaves withering and turning yellow. Instead of that we still have superb growing weather, with cool nights and bright sunshine through the long days. Those who have gone to summer resorts are complaining of the unpleasantly cool nights which produce chills and rheumatism and many resorters are leaving for home. But the cool nights, bright days and moist soil are bringing along a crop of spuds that will, in a few days, make the $1.60 a peck demand look about like thirty cents.

STRAINED RELATIONS

A critical situation has arisen between Sweden and Finland over Sweden's attitude toward a delegation from the Aland Islands which represented to the Swedish Government that the population of the islands desired self-determination on the basis of a referendum. After a sharp exchange of notes between the two governments a battalion of Finnish troops has been landed on Aland and encamped near Mariehamn.

The Finnish government has arrested two leaders of the Aland deputation on a charge of high treason.

Sweden has despatched a note to Finland urging the Finnish government to consent to a plebiscite by which the population of the islands would decide whether they shall belong to Sweden or Finland but it is understood the Finnish government is unshaken in its determination to oppose any such measure.

Official opinion here is that Finland's attitude is based upon the assumption that the initiative for separation of the Alands from Finland was taken in Sweden, whereas, it is declared, the agitation began with Alanders who based their right of self-determination on historical grounds and upon principles recognized by the League of Nations.

The Finnish government has announced that it "absolutely rejects all such claims as are irreconcilable with her sovereignty over the Alands, which Sweden recognized without reservation."

The Aland archipelago, in the Gulf of Bothnia, consists of 30 inhabited islands, with a population of 24,000 of whom 12,000 reside on Aland island, the principal town of which is Mariehamn. The islands formerly belonged to Sweden but were taken by Russia in 1809. The Finnish government holds that the political importance of the islands is so great that no Finnish government could cede them to a foreign power and the united with Sweden they would constitute a constant source of danger to Finland.

EUGENIE AND THE EMPIRE

The passing of the ex-Empress Eugenie is not likely to excite much sympathetic feeling in France. Fifty years have passed since Napoleon fell into German hands, and his wife and child fled to England to escape the fury of the French mob, but there has been nothing revealed since then that softens the picture of the degenerate, dissolute court of this political adventurer and political adventuress, who, by their intriguing and scheming, led their country into a disastrous war, and sowed the seeds of hatred and national jealousies that fruited in the recent great European war.

Napoleon III, like his great uncle and namesake, was ambitious to found a dynasty in France. He sought a wife in the royal courts of Europe, but the princesses drew their skirts about them and refused to recognize him. It was then that he married Eugenie, a lady whose parentage would scarcely bear scrutiny. She had beauty and the social graces that were demanded by a court, but neither she nor the emperor had the ability to discriminate between those entitled to recognition and those who were merely self-seekers. The consequence was that the court was infested with penniless adventurers, newly-rich bankers, stock jobbers, political schemers of all kinds, not to mention gamblers and crooks. The description which Nicholas Murray Butler recently gave of some of the supporters of Gen. Leonard Wood might be applied to the court of Napoleon and Eugenie. Napoleon's chief adviser was his illegitimate half-brother, a cool, cynical man of fashion, completely master of the under-currents of Parisian politics, business and society.

It is to the credit of the French people of the time that they were not deceived by Napoleon or by Eugenie. The emperor was regarded properly as a charlatan the empress as an upstart. The Royalists stayed away from court, and the middle classes and peasantry tolerated the empire because it acted as a bulwark against the revolutionary socialism which they feared would seize their savings. Professor Schapiro, in his history of Europe, says that "under the great Napoleon these two elements, the peasants and the bourgeoisie, had combined against the old nobility; under his nephew they combined against the working class."

A court like that of Napoleon, brilliant with a forced brilliancy, was the ground in which seeds of war quickly matured. Napoleon himself regarded a war policy as essential to his ambition, but his practice was to associate himself with allies; in case of victory he could claim the credit, and in case of defeat he could put the blame on the others. In 1854 he joined England and Turkey in making war on Russia. In 1859 he joined Sardinia in a war on Austria. In the early sixties he intervened in Mexico, and supported the Austrian Prince Maximilian and his Carlotta in their tragic effort to establish monarchy in the new world. Unfortunately for Napoleon and for France, his last war had to be fought without an ally, and against a power whose strength he sadly underestimated. The circumstances leading to the Franco-Prussian war are familiar. The perfidy of Bismarck has been much dwelt upon by historians, and well deserves the utmost condemnation for all time, but even Bismarck's forging of the Ems telegram would not have brought on war had there not been a reckless war party in the French court. This war party was headed by the Duke of Garmont, minister of foreign affairs, and by Eugenie. They prevailed upon the emperor and his prime minister, Ollivier, to make unreasonable demands upon King William, and his refusal was used by Bismarck to make "a red rag for the Gallis bull." A few months later Napoleon was a prisoner, and his consort a refugee in England.

English sympathy was decidedly with Germany during the war, but the English people received the royal refugees with consideration. Napoleon died in England three years later, and his widow made her home there for the rest of her life. She had been provident enough to amass a huge fortune during the heyday of the empire, and this was transferred to England. It has been stated that the whole of the fortune estimated at thirty millions has been left to the church.

THE PRICE OF POTATOES

Many people are peevish
About the price of potatoes,
But not I.
After I have hoed five hundred hills,
In baked soil,
Under a broiling sun,
And killed six hundred devilish bugs,
Or maybe seven hundred and fifty,
I feel that the potatoes I raise
Are worth about
A dollar apiece.
So I give my grocer a terrible shock
By smiling when he mentions the price,
And paying it without a murmur.
I hear other people saying
That the wearing of furs is Unethical.
I used to feel that way
Myself
But after I have replanted three times
The rows of Golden Bantam
From which I hoped to harvest an Early crop, I think of a moleskin coat
With unalloyed pleasure.
It would use up so many moles.
Yes, indeed,
A garden is Quite educational!

HOUSE AND HOME

A house is built of bricks and stones,
Of sills and posts and piers;
But a home is built of loving deeds
That stand a thousand years.
A house, though but an humble cot,
Within its walls may hold
A home of priceless beauty, chain
Love's eternal gold.

L. O. F. Picnic A Big Success

Victoria Park Scene of Fine Program of Sports Yesterday

Despite untoward weather conditions, the field day yesterday at Victoria Park under the auspices of Court Moira No. 33, Independent Order of Foresters, was an unqualified success. The storm clouds cleared away shortly after the noon hour and it was not long before crowds were finding their way to the park. By the time the program started, there were about a thousand people on the grounds.

Rednerville band, which is a new organization, less than a year old, furnished the music during the afternoon and evening. The bandmen wear a natty uniform which makes them present a fine appearance.

Sports of all kinds were indulged in on the park. The cool breezes from the bay made the outing very pleasant.

The winners of the events were:

- Boys' Race 14 years and under: 1—A Workman. 2—Albert Oram. 3—G. Barriage.

- Young Men's Race: 1—G. Maldeha. 2—A. Frith. 3—W. Asselstine.

- Married Men's Race: 1—J. M. Tufts. 2—J. Black. 3—J. A. Noble.

- Swimming Race: The course was across the harbor. The prize winners swam almost neck and neck and to the last second or two of the race, the event was in doubt.

- 1—W. Asselstine. 2—W. Saunders. 3—H. Artis.

- Ladies' Nailing Contest: 1—Mrs. Seams. 2—Mrs. Hillman. 3—Mrs. Calberry.

- Soap Race: The ladies were presented with the soap they picked up.

- Married Ladies' Race: 1—Mrs. G. T. Lawson. 2—Mrs. F. E. Cook. 3—Mrs. J. R. Calberry.

- Single Ladies' Race: 1—M. Lynch. 2—Rita Hunter. 3—G. Sager.

- Girls' Race, 14 and under: 1—Celine Lynch. 2—Jennie Storms. 3—Lena O'Neill.

- Peg Race: 1—Mrs. J. R. Calberry. 2—Mrs. P. Fisher. 3—Mrs. E. T. Lawson.

- Sack Race: 1—J. Semark. 2—W. Sanford. 3—J. LeTourneau.

- Smoking Race: 1—G. A. Nobles. 2—E. Baldrice. 3—J. Rainfield.

- Round Race for Ladies: 1—Mrs. E. T. Lawson. 2—Mrs. F. E. Cook. 3—Mrs. J. R. Calberry.

- Water Race: 1—W. Asselstine. 2—H. Kellar.

- 100 Yards Dash (unmarried men): 1—Wilfrid Sanford. 2—Arthur Babcock. 3—F. Kerr.

A tug of war between the I. O. F. team of nine men and all comers resulted in two straight pulls for the "All Comers," who were rewarded with cigars.

The greasy pole competition was long drawn out. There were many slips into the water but finally Arthur Babcock slipped off the pole to the end and picked off the winning ticket. Hundreds watched the performance.

The baby show was a big one with twenty-six mothers showing twenty-seven infants, there being twins in the competition. The youngsters were a very fine looking lot, according to the judges, and will make good citizens some day. Anyway they were very quiet while being judged. The prizes were won as follows:

1st, one year-old baby of Mrs. D. Bradford, Bridge Street west. 2nd, seven-months-old baby of Mrs. F. Post, Octavia Street. 3rd, two-months-old baby of Mrs. Percy L. Masters, Murney Street.

Special—Court Moira gave a special prize to Mrs. M. Cannon's twins. The judges of the competition were Dr. G. Cronk, Chas. L. Walters and J. O. Herity.

The program of sports was brought to a close at six o'clock and then the dancing started. A fiddler played the music and the dancers tripped it on the platform until late at night.

It was a big day in the Forestry Court and had the early rain kept off the crowd would have been much greater.

Much of the success of the affair was due to the energy of Mr. E. A. Sanford, who arranged for the picnic and acted as starter in the events.

The hen and chickens were won by Miss G. Sager. Mr. J. Craddock won the half ton of coal.

Eastern Star On An Outing

Most Enjoyable Picnic by Members of Belleville Chapter

The members of Belleville Chapter No. 55, Order of the Eastern Star, held a most enjoyable outing yesterday afternoon and evening. To the number of seventy-five they left Belleville by automobiles at two o'clock and journeyed to Oak Lake.

The weather was ideal and the real picnic spirit was in the crowd. Every car had a star emblem upon its windshield. Arriving at the Lake picnic grounds, the party set about to enjoy themselves. An excellent program of sports was run off:

- The MacKay Race, (marble race): Miss Florence Newton. Cooke Prize, (peg race): 1—Mrs. R. Wensley. 2—Mrs. H. A. Morgan. 3—Mrs. J. A. Boyes.

- Rothwell Race (Bean Race): 1—W. R. McCreary. Blecker Race (The Best Race): Taylor Race (Running Backwards): Miss Rothwell.

- McCreary-Barlow Race: 1—Mrs. Wilson. 2—Miss Rothwell. 3—Mrs. McCreary.

- Butchard Race (Blindfold Driving Race): 1—Mrs. Knight MacGregor and G. McIntosh. 2—Mrs. H. A. Morgan and Rev. W. G. Swayne.

- Harden Race (Needle and Thread): 1—Mrs. Andrews. 2—Miss Anderson. 3—Miss Rothwell.

- Newton Race (Duck on the Rock): 1—Mrs. Gilbert. 2—Booby Prize—W. J. Carter.

- Chesher Race (Nail Race): 1—Mrs. James Reid. 2—Mrs. J. Waddell. Gilbert-Moon Race (Smoking Race): 1—W. R. McCreary. 2—C. J. Lewis.

- McIntosh Race (Egg Race): 1—W. M. Barlow. 2—W. R. McCreary.

- Barlow Race (head race): 1—Mr. Rothwell. 2—Mr. G. McIntosh.

- Cherry Race (balloon-relay Race): 1—Mrs. W. C. McCorkindale. 2—Mrs. Lyman Moon.

At the close of the sports the prizes were presented. At six o'clock the ladies of the party provided an excellent spread of viands to which full justice was done.

The party left at seven o'clock for Stirling and returned to Belleville via Frankford, the Trent Valley and Trenton, arriving here at nine o'clock tired but supremely happy after the day's outing.

The efficient committee which had the program in charge and which deserves the highest praise for the satisfactory result was composed of Mrs. H. A. Morgan, Miss Florence Newton, Mr. Wm. Cooke and Mr. F. H. Chesher.

Orangemen Celebrated at Napanee, Monday

NAPANEE, July 13—Over seven thousand people poured into Napanee yesterday by automobile, train and buggy to celebrate the "Glorious Twelfth," and right royally they did so. The cloudy morning changed to a sunny afternoon, and at one o'clock the Orangemen paraded the streets to the music of the life and drum. The Kingston lodges had one of the biggest turnouts and received a great deal of praise. Their bagpipes attracted much attention by their stirring music.

After the parade the lodges assembled in the park where a number of speakers gave short addresses. County Master Joyce acted as chairman. The speakers were Rev. J. H. H. Coleman, Rev. Mr. Boyce, Rev. Mr. Farnsworth, Rev. Mr. Rogers and Rev. Mr. Creagan.

Although Napanee was crowded with pedestrians, buggies and cars, no accidents occurred and everything passed off smoothly. Meals were supplied by the ladies of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches.

Will Convert Flour Mill Into Oakoal Plant

Oshawa Men Take up Big Project—Want Contract for Garbage

OSHAWA, July 15—If present plans materialize, Oshawa may give a plant for the manufacture of Oakoal, the owners of which have the sole rights for the manufacture of this product in the counties of Ontario, Durham and Northumberland.

The chief promoters of the project are Messrs R. W. Dixon and Son, at present, proprietors of the Oshawa Flour Mills. If the necessary details including the securing of a contract with the town of Oshawa for its garbage can be arranged, it is their intention to go out of the milling business, and convert the flour mill building into a plant for the manufacture of Oakoal briquettes, which it is intended to make from coal dust, using garbage as a "binder."

A similar plant has been located in Toronto, and the promoters of it expect to have it in operation shortly. Messrs Dixon, along with other gentlemen interested in the scheme, met the Sanitary Committee of the Town Council on Saturday night to discuss with the committee the question of a contract for the town's garbage. Various plans were suggested, but the one which appeared to be most satisfactory all round, in the opinion of those present, was to make an agreement with the new company to collect the town's garbage for a period of five or ten years at a certain sum per capita. The figure discussed was 50c per capita, based on the assessment roll. This would work out at about $5,000 per year at present, and the amount would increase in proportion to the population.

Another matter about which the Sanitary Committee was uncertain was the question of proper handling of the garbage at the plant in order to avoid unsightly and also unsanitary conditions. Messrs Dixon assured the committee that there would be no cause for complaint on this score, as the garbage would be taken at once inside the building, and dumped into a pit, in which it would be treated with a strong disinfectant which would kill all germs and neutralize all odors. The old wheel pit, which is about 26 feet deep, would be used for this purpose. Building Erected in 1837

The flour mill building is one of the oldest in town, having been erected in 1837, and used continuously for milling purposes since that date. Mr. Dixon, Sr., says that since Wheat Board control became effective, there has been no money in the milling business, and he is desirous of getting into some other line that is more profitable. He is very enthusiastic about the possibilities of Oakoal, and claims to have thoroughly investigated it before entertaining the idea of installing the plant here. The undertaking means a considerable outlay, the machine for pressing out the briquettes costing about $16,000.

The plant as proposed will have a capacity of 200 tons a day and it is hoped to turn out at least 60 tons a day from the start. Fifteen to twenty tons of garbage will be required for this output. At first, only garbage from Oshawa will be used, but later on the supply may be drawn from other towns along the lake front.

SENT TO GAOL FARM On Monday Gordon Stewart, of Campbellford, came up before Judge Roger in the county judge's criminal court at Cobourg on charges of housebreaking and theft, and was given a sentence of not less than six months or more than twelve in the gaol farm at Burwash. The offences were committed in Colborne.

PAID FINE AT LAST MINUTE An executive meeting in Cobourg on Wednesday evening, a fine of twenty-five dollars was imposed on the Peterboro team for interference with Umpire Thomas on July

BASEBALL FANS TOO ROUGH Joe Campos, one of the leading newspaper men of Mexico, who frequently comes to this country on important errands, recently stated that Mexico would never adopt baseball because the American game reeks with deception and lacks the fundamental features of entertainment that are provided by the bull fight.

The Mexican writer once attended a ball game in New York. He wrote a special story of the game for his paper and the yarn was widely read in Mexico.

A feature that awed him was the manner in which the spectators call for the life of the umpire. The cries of "Mob him!" "Kill him!" etc., that come from the patrons of the sun-baked seats seems to convey to the writer's mind the idea that trouble is promised after the fray. He wants to know the use of yelling such things when the fans do not mean to carry them out. He charges it is rank deception to tell a man you are going to kill him, then not to do it.

NO MORE COAL ORDERS When questioned Wednesday on the city's coal supply, Peterboro's City Treasurer Adams, stated that they were just out of coal and no more orders were being taken. Possibly there might be one hundred tons on hand, he said. The coal has been sold at $13 a ton.

Although they tried to secure more coal from the coal companies no orders would be taken and no visible supply was in sight. Mr. Adams did not fear any shortage, he said, for he understood the Robert Hicks Co. had plenty of coal assured them and enough to supply the city.

ADDS FIVE BUSHELS TO ACRE One and one-half inches of rain fell over the whole of Southern Alberta from the Rockies to Saskatchewan and from Calgary to the boundary Sunday night, and accordingly to Experimental Farm experts, the storm means an added five bushels to the acre on the Southern Alberta crop this year. It is estimated that the Lethbridge railway division will ship 25,000,000 bushels of all grains this year, as against 38,000,000 bushels in the big crop of 1915. Ten days ago it looked as if Southern Alberta would have a poor crop.

FATHER SOUGHT SON

An Ottawa paper says that a search is being made for Ephraim Smith and his son, Harold, Cobden, who went to Ottawa on Thursday last in a new Overland automobile. They were to have returned the next day, but as yet have not done so. Smith is thirty-eight years of age, and relatives in Cobden are very anxious of their continued absence.

SHEESLEY SHOWS

Sheesley Shows, which passed through Port Hope on Sunday to Peterboro, suffered a serious loss Tuesday in the death of Nero, their prize lion. Twenty days ago it was operated on at Chatham by a prominent surgeon there for a tumor, and while the operation itself was successful it contracted pneumonia through its weakened condition due to the loss of blood. Everything possible was done for the valuable beast but all human efforts were in vain, and it breathed its last at seven o'clock Tuesday night. Its tamer, Capt. Hultbringer, who has been with the show for two years, feels the loss as keenly as if he had lost a pal, but would not display his grief outwardly. "It was the best of the bunch," he said simply. The lion was nine years old and had been with the show seven years. It weighed 650 pounds, and was valued at from $1,200 to $1,500. The beautiful coat of the animal was taken off at once but whether it will be mounted or not the management have not determined.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Scovell, also Mrs. Warren Scott, are spending a few of their holidays at Percy Boom.

The estimates of expenditure will likely be reduced $3,000, the city council owing the Board $3,000 for Pinnacle Street school.

Miss M. E. Faulkner wrote a letter of protest against the order of children at West Belleville playgrounds, their trespassing in the garden and the drumming of the piano after play hours.

The matter was referred to the Queen Mary School Committee with power to act. The board expressed regret.

Mr. A. McGie said the school board had no authority over the playgrounds. The trouble was undoubtedly caused after the supervisors are gone and the play over.

Mr. O'Flynn said the board had authority to act.

"Two years ago we called on the proper authority," said Col. Ponton. "It was found the trouble was not caused by the school children."

Miss Fleming sent the board a communication relative to her removal from Queen Victoria school to Grier Street and to certain correspondence.

Mr. O'Flynn referred to privileged correspondence from Principal Wilkin.

Mr. H. McGinnis said Blecker and Baldwin Wards were in favor of Miss Fleming being retained in Queen Victoria School.

The matter was referred to the School management committee.

The rent of the Taylor property will be raised to $30 per month.

Miss Burnham asked for appointment as a teacher.

The by-law covering the estimates was read.

Rev. A. M. Pederson, of Minneapolis, Has Spent Sixteen Years Among the Tribes of the Santals, Who Love and Admire the British Government.

India is not so full of unrest and dissatisfaction with the British rule as the anti-British propagandists in this country would have us believe.

According to the Rev. M. A. Pederson of Minneapolis, who has recently returned here after 16 years spent as Field Secretary of the Santal Mission of Northern Churches in India, it is only a small minority of professional agitators that is advertising the India rule of the English as a total failure.

Among the Hindu natives themselves there is some unrest, some desire to get away from the sway of the British, but not very much.

"Most of the intelligent natives of India," said Mr. Pederson, "understand the vast and complicated problems which the British Imperial Government has to solve at the present time, and are willing to await results patiently. They understand, also, that India furnishes an unusually involved problem for the progressive statesman, with a thousand conflicting and opposing elements which not the best-intentioned government in the world could reconcile in a day."

"There is the matter of education. India even today is steeped in ignorance. Only six per cent. of its population is literate. The rest can't read nor write in any language. Now, what about India, with its 192,000,000 of population, to whom the written word is an insupportable mystery, with its innumerable faiths and castes and races—what would India do with self-government or the ballot, if she obtained them today?"

"It is easy to predict what would happen in India," Mr. Pederson continued, "if the ruling hand of Great Britain were suddenly removed. There would be fighting all over the peninsula in a week. Mohammedan and all India would revert back to a state of anarchy under some native tyrant or group of tyrants."

"India is not like a Western country, whose people have been educated up to self-government. More of western education is the crying need of the peoples of India, but all their traditions and beliefs are set against it. There is the old caste system of the Hindus. Their ancient rule is, that only the Brahmins, members of the priest-caste, should be educated, and it is a sin, according to the Hindu law, to teach a non-Hindu to read the sacred law. Women by the same tradition, are not to be taught the mysteries of learning."

"To educate a woman, and to give a monkey a sharp knife, is the same thing," runs the Law of Manu, the Moses of India.

"In spite of this, the British Indian government has filled up the country with schools, and for the first time has given the low-caste Indian a chance to obtain something of an education. The natives themselves are beginning to realize the value of this. More and more are clamoring to learn the English language. More and more are looking to it as the Open Sesame to a wider knowledge of the outside world."

Tales of unrest in India, of unspeakable oppression by the British Government, of plots among the natives for its overthrow are largely without basis, in fact, according to Mr. Pederson, and have been spread by a Bengali organization of dissatisfied young natives, who do not at all represent the general opinion of the peninsula. This group has called itself "Young Bengal" and is an organization much like the Young Turks in Turkey. It is they, Mr. Pederson said, who have drummed up the scare about the British tyranny in India. And it was done with money, which they have, in many cases, robbed from banks and business houses in Calcutta. This young Bengali organization is composed of Bengalese, young bloods, who chafe under the bit of British control because they want to get the bit in their own mouths and run amuck over India.

"And Great Britain is not losing any of its grip on India," he was asked.

"No. There is no present danger of the British Government being driven out. But it is relaxing here and there in small matters as the need for such action may arise. The British Government knows how to do that; and was taught how to do it by the American colonists when they became the United States. The British rule their subject races not with a mailed fist, but with a kid-glove hand, that lets go whenever it becomes too dangerous to hold on."

"And that is exactly what will happen here: If India does become restless, weary of the British rule, passionately eager for a native government and in some measure capable of administering such a government, then India will get it. It will not gain anything through revolution, through any bloody upheaval, or any swift spread of Oriental Bolshevism over the country such as the propagandists of the so-called liberal press have been fermenting. It will be because the British Government itself will step back to India and will give its people a measure of home rule, if necessary, a local government, if necessary, complete autonomy under the British Crown."

"That may be in the future. At the present time it is very much a vague possibility, and the natives themselves, the large bulk of them, are not asking for it. And as for oppression by the British Indian Government, you may say that it practically does not exist."

"What of the stories of British tyranny, of requirements that natives salute a white man in a certain way whenever they pass, and that in general they humble themselves before the members of the India Government?"

"Stories of that nature that have come here are half true, but they have been misrepresented. Anybody who has lived in India knows what it all means. It is merely an old Hindu custom that men should salute in a certain way. India, with its centuries of caste tradition, has prescribed the details for every course of man's actions and every step in his conduct. If my servant in India, for example, should come into my room with his shoes on and his turban off it would be as unheard of a happening as if I should come into your office with my hat and shoes off. If orders have been issued by the British military government prescribing the manner of saluting a British colonel by a native, that is only putting down a recognized practice among the natives themselves as between the population and any superior official. It is by no means such a proof of British oppressive tyranny as it may appear when read in New York City and presented in English print."

"But, of course, it makes good reading, if your object is the discrediting of the British Government in India. And that is why young Bengal has been making the most of such orders, playing them up, adding picturesque details not necessarily true, sending propaganda literature all over the world, spending millions of dollars in the process, money in which they have, in many cases, actually robbed from the banks and business concerns in Calcutta, the centre of such unrest before Miles is supposed to have been as does exist in India."

Around Calcutta and the Northwest provinces is the most fertile field for the destructive agitator in India, according to Mr. Pederson. During the war and for years before it, German agents were busy there fomenting dissatisfaction, sowing plots against the British government, intriguing with the petty native rulers, doing what they could to make things uncomfortable for the British lion. And some of this has persisted until now when the war is over. Along the Northwest border of India the fits of the Himalayas has left a series of alternate hills and valleys, which have never been explored by the white man, and over which Britain has never obtained any really adequate control. They are occupied by small tribes of natives, under their native chiefs, who are really outlaws from all established government and whose business is plunder and robbery.

The war and German support, encouraged them to become more active than ever, and they swooped again and again from their barren hill country to the rich plains of the lowlands, robbed what they could in their short raids, and returned again with as much plunder as they were able to carry away. Even now these tribes still made occasional raids from their hidden valleys, and nothing much can be done about it once they are returned. But they are a few outlaws, according to Mr. Pederson; and do not represent any large part of the Indian population, nor any real sentiment of the natives of India.

Among the tribes of the Santals, where Mr. Pederson has been for more than sixteen years, he found even less opposition to British rule than in other parts of India. The Santals are an aboriginal casteless race who neither speak a language nor hold a belief like those of other Hindoo tribes. They owned the peninsula of India centuries ago, before the successive invasions by the Dravidians, Hindus and Mohammedans, which swept down upon it from the North.

With the coming of the first of these Santals were driven out of their fertile possessions and gradually forced back up the barren hills in the central part of India. There they have stayed, in a territory called Santal Parganas, about as large as Rhode Island, some fifteen millions of them, and have retained their very ancient customs, practices, beliefs.

They are a simple people, and their state of development has not advanced beyond that of the savages. They live by raising rice, in a primitive, difficult manner, made more difficult by the barrenness of the soil they possess on their bleak hills. They live in small villages, with one central street, and are under the absolute sway of their headman or chief. Their whole life is a relic of the time when the tribe had to fight continually to keep alive, and had to be organized for effective defense or sudden attack.

They have now been taken under the special attention of the British government, which has given them a plot of ground in the fertile lowlands and has otherwise taken measures to prevent their extinction. And these Santals have in turn taken the British government to their hearts. There is no Bolshevism or unrest of any kind among them. The British government is a person to them, the Rajah, whom they admire and love. The Rajah can do no wrong. During the war, if the Rajah had asked for any number of them to fight, they would have gone gladly. Five thousand of them actually go to Mesopotamia to work in the labor corps. But they were too undrained a race, and too mentally undeveloped to be of use in combat units.

A number of the Santals have become Christians. There is a colony of 85,000 of them, who have been Christianized, and who live on the plot of ground given them by the government in the fertile lowland. But the majority of the Santals still cling to their primitive, animistic beliefs. Bongas, or spirits, dominate all their life and thought. Every rock, every tree, and natural phenomenon, every wind that blows and every spring that wells up, mysterious enough, from about the root of a tree, is under the control of a spirit of its own.

Pistol Shot Ends a Career of Crime

For some weeks past newspaper readers in England and Scotland have been watching the desperate efforts of Percy Toppis to escape the net which the police of the country were trying to draw round him. Time and time again it seemed certain that he could not escape. He was reported to be surrounded, but time and time again he broke through, as if he could read the minds of his pursuers, and anticipated their movements. Finally he was cornered, and in pistol battle with the police fell dead, shot through the heart. This ended a varied career of crime, which began so far as the police records show when Percy was a twelve-year-old boy, ran through the gamut of all kinds of trickery and violence and culminated in a cold-blooded murder. If it is admitted that there is a criminal type, then it must be said that Percy Toppis was a typical criminal, a moral degenerate. He could not have been wholly sane. His mother believes that his war experiences unhinged his mind. He was wounded several times.

Cold-Blooded Murder

The crime for which Toppis was wanted at the time he met his death was the murder of Sidney George Spicer, near Andover, on April 24. The details of the crime are not clear but it appears that Toppis fired the shot which Spicer was driving, and was taken into the country. He planned to murder Spicer and take what money was in his possession and also steal the car. This part of the program was carried out, and Toppis meeting a soldier friend, took him for a joy ride. That friend, who was arrested as an accomplice, said that during the ride Toppis sat with his revolver beside him on the seat, shivering for fear of arrest, but determined to take another life or half a dozen lives if need be rather than fall into the clutches of the law. The police were soon on the trail. Toppis abandoned his machine and vanished either into the countryside or to his hidden in some city.

The Hunt is Up

Immediately reports of his supposed whereabouts began to pour in on the police. People were sure they had seen him simultaneously at widely separated points. Every port, every railway station was watched, for it was supposed that Toppis might seek to slip out of the country. This he did not do. He made for Scotland, travelling by train and on foot, for he was short of funds. He kept a diary of his wanderings, and this fell into the hands of the police. Why he should have kept such an incriminating thing on his person is a puzzle, unless the theory of insanity is adopted. He tells in it of his feelings as he read the news of the chase, how now it was close to him, and again drawn off on some false scent. In Edinburgh he had come almost to the last of his resources and was obliged to pawn his watch. The first definite news of him came to the police on June 3. He had taken refuge in an empty shooting lodge, and was observed by a farmer, who summoned a policeman. The two went to the lodge and challenged Toppis. Immediately he drew a revolver, shot both of them down, and jumping on his bicycle, sped away.

Lightning Change Artist

The wounded man recovered and was able to identify their assailant as Toppis by means of photographs. A few days later the police learned that he had stayed at a hotel in Inverness for a short time. He was by this time penniless, and had to leave a coat with the hotelkeeper to settle the bill. The last scene of the hunt was staged near Penrith. A country constable saw a soldier lying on the roadside and became suspicious. He questioned the stranger, who admitted that he had overstayed his leave, but was making his way the best he could back to rejoin his regiment. Further pressed, he suddenly turned angry, drew a revolver and made the policeman surrender his baton and handcuffs. He then permitted him to depart. The constable at once hurried home, got on a motorcycle and started after the man, whom he now believed to be Toppis. After turning in a general alarm. After a short chase Toppis was sighted. By this time he had shaved, donned a civilian suit and very easily resembled the rough-looking stranger who had drawn a revolver on the constable.

The pursuers were certain of their man, however, especially when he began to run. They drew revolvers and opened fire. Toppis had some difficulty in getting his own pistol into action. By this time the police were almost on the top of him, so close indeed that as Toppis fell, with a bullet in his heart, one of the policemen was able to catch him in his arms. Toppis' first crime was petty theft, committed when he was twelve years old. In the course of two or three years he was convicted of several other thefts and was punished. When he was sixteen he committed his first serious crime, an attempted assault upon a young girl, for which he served two years. On his release he abandoned himself to a life of crime. A man of good appearance and manners, he had exerted a fascination over many women and obtained money from them. On one occasion he lifted a girl, from whom he had received money, on the day she was waiting at the church to be married to him. His war record was rather a spotted one, and he deserted several times. A long term of imprisonment was awaiting him even if he had not committed the murder.

About two years ago the first symptoms of the trouble appeared, which afterwards resulted in his death. Everything possible was done to insure his recovery. He underwent several operations but the relief derived from these was only temporary. For several weeks past his strength was declining and his condition gradually becoming worse and on Sunday afternoon, July 4th, he quietly passed away.
He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, two young sons, father and mother, and one sister.
The funeral took place on July 6th, the remains being interred in Rylstone cemetery. The memorial service was conducted in the church by Rev. J. J. Black.
