CONDITIONS UNSETTLED IN AUSTRIA

Difference in Nationalities and Shortage of Food Held Responsible

SITUATION TODAY

Vienna, Nov. 25.—(By the Associated Press)—The unsettled conditions in the former Austro-Hungarian empire are due to differences of the various nationalities and lack of food, according to Andrew J. Kandreas Osnack, formerly a deputy from Plume in the Hungarian lower house.

"The Allied countries," he said, "should send a temporary commission here to settle the disputes growing up on all sides between Czechs, Austrians, Hungarians, Italians and Jugoslavs who appear unwilling to await for the peace conference, thinking that what they are able to grab now they will be allowed to keep."

Former Emperor Charles, in the course of an interview with the Associated Press to-day, declared that the situation at Vienna and throughout Austria was so grave that a single day should not be lost by the Allies in helping the people here. He insisted on the danger of Bolshevism unless the country was revictualled as quickly as possible.

Peace Path Difficult Vienna, Wednesday, Nov. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Difficulties attending the process of returning to a peace footing after a great war are illustrated here. Munition factories have been shut down, throwing out of work hundreds of men and women. Clothing has little prospect of securing employment because of the lack of coal. Cold weather has already begun and snow has fallen in Vienna.

While the streets of the city are bright and the theatres and opera are open, well dressed people are walking or using street cars, as cabmen demand from two to three dollars a ride.

This is all on the surface. There is untold misery in the poorer quarters with a constant cry for bread, of which there is provided a loaf a week for each person. Prices here are probably the highest to be found in Europe, and seem fantastic. The price of a short waist is $100, stockings cost $5 and a suit of clothes $150. The profiteers are also hitting the industry of weaving paper into material for the manufacture of men's and women's clothing, have virtually collapsed. This material, which once sold for $6 a yard, is now being dumped on the market at any price.

WANT PEACE DISCUSSION. By Courier Leased Wire. Basel, Nov. 25.—(Havas)—The Hungarian Government has requested the Allies to hold an immediate discussion of peace terms, according to reports reaching Swiss newspapers.

Two hundred and thirteen millions of dollars is the estimate placed by the Alberta Department of Agriculture on the grain crop of the province.

SOUNDS ALLIES RE TURKEY. By Courier Leased Wire. London, Nov. 25.—Ahmed Riza Bey, president of the Turkish senate, is going to Paris and London to ascertain the attitude of Entente statesmen toward Turkey, according to a British correspondent at Constantinople, quoted by the morning newspapers. Ahmed, the correspondent says, is one of the few Turkish statesmen, whose record would inspire Entente confidence and his influence extends considerably beyond his office. Ahmed desires to obtain Franco-British guidance in reorganizing Turkey. He is quoted as saying that the new Sultan is capable of playing a useful part in the regeneration of his country within the limits of its constitution and deserves the support of the Allies.

ALL POLITICAL POWER IN HANDS OF REPUBLICAN AND SOLDIERS' COUNCIL

Agreement Reached Between Latter Organization and Government; Outcome is Virtual Overthrow of Ebert-Haase Ministry

By Courier Leased Wire. LONDON, Nov. 25.—This morning's London newspapers display prominently the German advices regarding the agreement between the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council and the government, which is regarded as a development of the greatest importance, and as tantamount to the overthrow of the Ebert-Haase combination, and the adoption, at least theoretically, of the existing Russian system.

It is admitted that the German councils have not yet developed the extravagances which led to the disintegration and anarchy in Russia, the council's not being dominated by the Bolshevik element.

Nevertheless, The Daily Telegraph remarks that it is rather significant that Germany should have adopted even as a stop-gap, a measure which was one of Lenin's original and most characteristic contributions to legislative doctrine.

The Daily Mail, while pointing out the analogy to the developments in Russia, suggests that the new step is a part of a big bluff aimed at persuading the allies that the old Germany is defunct.

The Daily Express also thinks that the menace of extremism is possibly being exaggerated for the purpose of impressing the allies with the difficulties of the position.

Copenhagen, Nov. 25.—An agreement has been reached between the German Soldiers' and Workmen's Council and the Government, it is officially announced in Berlin.

The agreement provides: "First—All political power is to be in the hands of the German Socialist Republic and the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council.

"Second—Their aim is to defend and develop what has been achieved by the revolution and to suppress all counter-revolutionary activity.

"Third—Pending the election of representatives of the Soldiers' and Workmen's Councils to an executive council of the German republic, the executive council in Berlin is to exercise its functions.

"Fourth—The appointment and dismissal of all members of the various legislative bodies of the republic and until the final constitution is established, of Prussia, are to be made by the central executive council, which also has the right of control.

"Fifth—Before the cabinet appoints assistant ministers the executive council must be consulted.

"Sixth—A convention of deputies drawn from the Soldiers' and Workmen's Councils is to be summoned as soon as possible.

By Courier Leased Wire. Berlin (via Copenhagen), Nov. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Strange are the experiences of a traveller who enters Germany after an absence of several years. Formerly there were many and varied governmental orders and restrictions to be obeyed. Nowadays when you go to a police station the desk sergeant will say sadly: "You are not required to register any longer." And not even look at your passport.

Another feature of the "Freedom" in Germany, which may dumbfound the traveller is that the private soldier no longer salutes his superior officer. The soldier calls his officer "comrade."

Berlin outwardly is as orderly as ever, but order is no longer maintained by policemen, but by soldiers with arm bands as the badge of office. The picture is familiar to those who saw Petrograd during the Kerensky regime.

The prevailing tone in Berlin is still military, but it is a militarism of privates and non-commissioned officers. Their symbol is the red flag which waves above every government building, and from every automobile. As far as any participating in directing the affairs the bourgeoisie citizens do not exist. Hunger has set its unmistakable stamp on the inhabitants of the capital. Here and there hollow cheeks, sunken eyes and pasty complexions are evidence of the privation of the last four years. Similar conditions could be observed two years earlier in the city's poorer quarters, but today they prevail among nearly all classes. Dilapidated street cars and cabs drawn by skeleton horses intensified the picture of misery.

Berlin, crushed, broken and dispirited by privations has accepted defeat with almost incredible apathy. It is demoralized, listless and hungry, even sabbat. It is primarily this apathy and the feeling that nothing matters which is playing into the hands of a few energetic fanatics who constitute probably the gravest menace to the immediate future of the German people.

NEW GERMAN GOVERNMENT CAMOUFLAGE, SAYS MERCIER

Cardinal Primate of Belgium Doubts Sincerity of the Changes in Germany—Barbarian Motto of Might Shattered by Allied Victory

By Courier Leased Wire. Brussels, Nov. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Cardinal Mercier and Burgomaster Max, two of the most prominent figures of the war in Belgium, accepting King Albert, re-ceived the Associated Press correspond-ent to-day. Both men are as different physically and mentally as the ideas, ideals and opinions they represent. Burgomaster Max, being one of the leaders of the Liberal party, while Cardinal Mercier is the most prominent Catholic in Belgium.

"I never despaired, I never lost hope, although at times my heart was very full," Cardinal Mercier told the correspondent, referring to an incident in December, 1914, when Baron von Bissing, military governor of Belgium, virtually made him a prisoner in his episcopal palace. "I received a telegram then from the Associated Press and have never been able to answer it. I wish to reply to it now."

"Yes, Bissing treated me as a prisoner for four days."

Concerning the governors of Belgium during the war, Cardinal Mercier said that Balkinghausen was more cruel and inhuman than Bissing and more perfidious, insidious and dangerous.

"There was not much to choose between them, however," he said.

Referring to his quite recent birthday anniversary, the correspondent complimented the cardinal upon his robust appearance and health. The Cardinal replied: "It is true that I am sixty-seven, but rather it is my seventy-first, because the last few years seemed like eight to me."

Referring to the change in the government of Germany, Cardinal Mercier said: "I am no politician, however, the changes seem too sudden to be lasting." His new government appears to me like a camouflage of the autocracy, and the changes seem to have been made to order, according to pre-arranged schedule.

"It is God's justice and the public conscience is satisfied. The triumph of justice is complete. The barbarian motto that might is right has received its death blow. The dream of pan-German domination has been shattered and evaporated like noxious gas in the wind, and thanks to God's justice, right has triumphed and the Belgians once more are free and independent."

Burgomaster Retired. Burgomaster Max was more reticent and refused to speak concerning his treatment by the Germans, refusing to mention the word Germany.

"I don't wish to pose as a martyr," said the burgomaster. "I wish to forget the past and think of the future."

Burgomaster Max is already installed in the city hall and has resumed the duties of his office. The little coach where he slept during the dark days of August and September, 1914, is still conspicuous in one corner of his office. The Burgomaster's appearance shows traces of the sufferings, hardships and privations he

ARMY OF OCCUPATION IS DRAWING NEARER RHINE

Re-occupation of Alsace-Lorraine by the French Troops Accompanied by Growing Enthusiasm on Part of Population—"Liberators" are Enthusiastically Acclaimed

By Courier Leased Wire. STRASSBURGH, Saturday, Nov. 23.—By the Associated Press.—The re-occupation of Alsace-Lorraine by the French troops has been accompanied by growing enthusiasm on the part of the population in proportion as the forces penetrate further toward the Rhine. Nearest to the old German frontier the rejoicing is greatest, and the manifestations most picturesque.

After Chateau Salines, Metz and Saareburg in Lorraine, and Mulhouse in Alsace, Colmar and Saverne, Zabern, opened their arms and poured out their hearts to their "liberators" with an ardor that exceeded by far the welcome of Metz. All through the provinces the smallest villages and rural districts have shown particularly that their loyalty to the French nation has been deepened rather than diminished by their long separation. Saverne, the small garrison town, where a German lieutenant developed a sensational affair out of an insignificant chaffing incident in 1913, had on its Christmas dress when General Dupont arrived at the head of his troops. The streets had been planted on both sides with evergreens, and more bunting was flying than the entire region was supposed to possess after four years of death of cloth of all sorts.

In this region of Alsace, where the German nation was supposed to be not only the principal, but almost the only tongue, French officers and men were everywhere treated to the joyous surprise of being saluted in French. It was not Parisian in its accent, but quite understandable and uttered with a sincere emotion that provoked tears.

FRESH VANDALISM. Paris, Nov. 4.—On the eve of the signing of the armistice the Germans carried out their usual acts of cruelty and pillage in Metz, Charleville region, according to an interview with Albert Phelan, under secretary of state for the interior in the Temple.

The former German Emperor and his former crown prince had their headquarters in the region of Metz for more than three years and the district was intact until the morning of November 10. On that morning the German soldiers directed a heavy fire against Metz and destroyed half the town. During the bombardment it was necessary to remove the 200 patients in the hospital there. The bombardment stopped at 10 o'clock on the morning of November 11, a half hour before the armistice went into effect.

This destruction, Mr. Phelan adds, was carried out without any military aim and is a new proof of German barbarism. General von Arnim commanded the enemy troops in the Metz region.

INNSBRUCK OCCUPIED. Rome, Nov. 25.—Italian troops occupied Innsbruck, the capital of the Austrian Tyrol, on Friday, in accordance with terms of the Austrian armistice. They also took possession of Landeck, west of Innsbruck, on the Inn River.

At Innsbruck the German population, although welcoming the Italians warmly maintained a calm and respectful attitude. The Italian population came out to meet the Italian troops who were greeted enthusiastically. The city authorities assisted the Italians in establishing control.

BRING MEN HOME AS RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLY

Maj.-Gen. Ashton, Adjutant General, Tells of Demobilization Plans

NEED MEN OVERSEAS Canadian Corps of 80,000 to Garrison German Territory

The governmental policy is still to return soldiers to Canada in the order already given out, that is, giving preference to married men and those who have seen the longest service at the front. Maj.-Gen. E. C. Ashton, adjutant-general for Canada, said this afternoon. Maj.-Gen. Ashton has been in the city over the weekend, the guest of his brother-in-law, Mr. W. F. Cocksutt, and he gave the Courier an interesting resume of the government's plans for demobilization and reconstruction.

The Canadian corps which was on the firing line at the time of the signing of the armistice, will form a part of the evacuated German territory for a period of at least six months, according to Gen. Ashton. The other Canadian troops, particularly those who have not yet crossed from England to France, will be returned to Canada as rapidly as possible. The work of returning them has already been commenced, and they are now crossing the ocean at the rate of between 20,000 and 30,000 a month. The Canadian railway system are unable to transport a larger number. It is noteworthy that it is railway, not shipping, facilities which limit the return of the men.

A conference has been held with all the railways of the Dominion, with a view to facilitating the transportation of the returned men. At the present

THE WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS, AUTHOR OF "MARGARET GARRETT'S HUSBAND," AND OTHER NOTABLE STORIES.

Mrs. Clayborne Arrives; Ruth and Brian Meet Her.
 CHAPTER LXXXIII.
 The next day Ruth was visibly happy and excited.
 "Something's happened! that fool husband of hers has been promising something; or doing something to make her happy," Arthur Mandel said to himself.
 He was soon to know.
 "Mr. Mandel, I am going to ask a favor," Ruth said during a lull in the morning's business.
 "It is granted," he smiled at her.
 "Wait until you know what it is," she returned. Her voice carried a joyous lilt. "I want to remain at home all day Saturday, please, unless you need me for something important."
 "No indeed! but may I ask what it is that is going to happen on Saturday? You look so happy. No one has left you a great fortune, have they, so making you leave me altogether?"
 "Oh, no! my aunt, Mrs. Clayborne, who mothered me always, is coming." Then, impelled by the interest in his eyes fixed upon her, she added: "You know she wouldn't come because I displeased her by taking a position. She is a little old-fashioned in her ideas of what is proper for a woman to do and while she has written me regularly, she has refused to visit me because of my work."
 "No wonder you want Saturday. Don't you want Monday as well?"
 "No thank you. She may as well get accustomed to the idea of having a working woman for a niece. But I thought it would be rather lonely if I left her to-morrow, as she does not get in until seven o'clock to-night."
 "How would this do for a quick-conceived plan? You work only mornings while she is here. Then you can lunch and shop and matinee together."

 "That would be lovely! but—do you think you can spare me? She said in her letter she would only remain a few days."
 "Didn't I propose it?" He was pleased that he could give her so much pleasure as he evidently had by his thoughtful arrangement.
 "Yes, I am going to ask something more."
 "Very well. It is also granted."
 "If Aunt-Louisa will—she may refuse, may I bring her into the shop, one day, and let her see that my work isn't—degrading?" she had passed for a word, and they both smiled when she found one.
 "I shall be delighted! and if she doesn't quite disapprove of the place, and so be prejudiced against the printer, perhaps you will allow me the pleasure of showing my respect by taking you both to lunch."
 "Oh, Ruth! being altogether too kind," Ruth objected, by her eyes shone. It would be delightful for her aunt to be entertained even for one meal by a man who knew so well how to do things.
 "The words were kind to me," he returned. "But we must not think too much about it! Your aunt may refuse to have anything to do with me or mine," he indicated the shop.
 "She would not if she knew you." The words were spoken without thought, and Ruth blushed violently as she realized that perhaps Mandel would think they meant more than she had intended. But with his usual sane, cold, he bowed and replied: "I hope she will be persuaded."
 Ruth was delighted with the plan he had outlined for her. Her aunt never had been an early riser. Rachel would take her breakfast to her room long after she and Brian had left the house. Then her aunt would slowly dress—as was her custom—and amuse herself by reading, or taking a short walk until luncheon time. Then, too, she would have Rachel with her, and though Ruth knew the old negress would be questioned, she really had no fear she would tell anything that would hurt her.

 Dinner was postponed that night until seven-thirty. Brian came home at the usual time and "lilted up" as he called it.
 "When a man's wife's relatives visit him it's up to him to put his best foot forward," he had laughingly remarked as he commended to his wife.
 "You're a dear to think of it!" Ruth replied.
 Just then the bell rang and some flowers were delivered to Rachel.
 "Oh, Brian how thoughtful!" Ruth exclaimed delighted, she had opened the box and then ran to kiss him.
 "Be careful there!" he grumbled. "You'll make me sick."
 The little apartment had quite a festive air as they left for the train. The very best linen and dishes had been used to make the table attractive, and the deep crimson dahlias gave just like the dining room always needed—always "responded to," as Ruth expressed it.
 The train was on time, and Mrs. Clayborne was pleased to be very loving toward Ruth; very gracious to Brian. Ruth consequently bubbled over with enthusiasm.
 "Here we are!" she said to her aunt as the cab stopped at their door. I do hope you will love my home."

SPECIAL SERMON AT PARK CHURCH
 Rev. Robert White Spoke on "Baptists and Progress of God's Kingdom"

There were good congregations at Park Baptist church yesterday. In the morning the subject was "The Place of Baptists in the Progress of the Kingdom of God."
 The Baptist Brotherhood has a place of power and leadership in the Kingdom of God, declared the pastor. They cleared the thoughts of men of the confusion of centuries, stirred their consciences, enriched their lives, and took possession of ever-widening areas of thought and life in the name of the God of Redemption. Cardinal Hosius, president of the council of Trent (1545) says: "If the truth of religion is to be judged by readiness to suffer, then no people can be surer than the Baptists."
 "God has given Baptists, men and ideas; ideas (1) of the authority of Christ; (2) of the secret of the religious life; (3) of the basis of the Church and society; (4) of the Bible; (5) of Ritual; but he has given us these ideas in regenerate and inspired men. It is our conception of Christ and His authority and rule that gives us the uniqueness deserving of all the value of separate statement. We refuse to everyone any share in Christ's authority. His sway is absolute, exclusive, unlimited, indefeasible, incommunicable, admits of no question, and allows no equal. The right to rule is in Christ, not in papal throne, not in episcopal see, not in ministerial office. We are separate and self-directing communities because we wish to give His authoritative teachings an unhindered sway.
 "God set us to answer the question: What is a New Testament church? And in looking for an answer it seemed to us that other churches had clouded the mind of Jesus, and allowed the tradition, custom and creed to displace the authority of Christ. It is the momentum of this idea that has swept us to where we are.
 "In summarizing our stand for human freedom we say:
 (1) The municipality is not to meddle with religion or to interfere with the affairs of the church.
 (2) We steadfastly believe in the spiritual nature of man and his consequent rights of freedom of soul and independence.
 (3) We hail the wide recognition of social duty and seek grace to apply Christ's teaching to iniquitous conditions of life.
 (4) We give full acknowledgment to the Revelation of God in Christ, the central element of faith, the key of history, the redemption of life, and the light of destiny. This witness we dare not impair.
 Good attention was given to the message by the congregation; the pastor speaking in his usual earnest and vigorous manner. The music also was good. The choir's increasing in numbers and the congregational singing was very good.
 The evening subject was "The Exclusiveness of Christ."
 Mrs. $5 to $5.25; bulls $8.50 to $9.50; feeding steers, $9.25 to $10; stockers, choice, $8.25 to $9.25; light, $8.50 to $7; milkers, choice, each, $90 to $140; springers, choice, $95 to $150; sheep, ewes, $8 to $10; bucks and rams, $5 to $9; lambs $15 to $15.50; hogs, medium and heavy, $18.50; f. o. b., $17.50 to $17.75; calves $17 to $18.50.

Popular English Habit
 From Which Came Wealth
 Of Sir Thomas Lipton
 SIR THOMAS LIPTON is known throughout the world for his plucky and persistent effort to lift the American Cup. There can be no doubt about him being a good sport. He has also done good work since the beginning of the war by giving his yacht and assisting in the financing of Serbian relief. But when all is said and done, Sir Thomas Lipton's name has become known chiefly through that great British institution, "the Five-o-Clock Tea." When it comes down to a fine point, tea is the national beverage of the English people.
 For many years "tea time" in England has meant one of the most cheerful and welcome meetings of the day. Everyone seems to be relaxed and war convivial over this time-honored institution. Truly it is the "cup that cheers." "Afternoon tea" is the fashionable function at which all that gossip-begotten and a great variety of breakfast speed and when judgment on one's acquaintances is delivered over the delicate cups of still more delicate tea. "Five o'clock tea" is the good old-fashioned meal at which prodigious quantities of plum cake, bread and butter and jam are consumed with good, honest cups of the steaming beverage.
 The London city clerk would not think of missing his "tea," although he is not able to get home for it as a rule. Perhaps it is for that reason so many "tea shops" thrive in the main thoroughfares of the city itself. These "tea rooms" are very spacious and generally decorated with marble and glass in profusion. Small individual tables are set in rows and the waitresses that take one's order are an institution in themselves among the clerks. A very well made cup of tea can be had in these establishments for 2d. (or four cents) with all the surroundings of a good restaurant. Etceteras, such as bread and butter and a great variety of cakes, can be had proportionately cheaply.
 One often thinks there should be a small fortune for anyone who would venture into the "shilling tea" business in this country. In England it is evidence throughout the country. A "shilling tea" is the fitting climax of a long country trudge on a fine afternoon (generally Sunday), in explanation let it be said that the Londoner delights in getting out of London on a Sunday, and special excursions are run all the year round to rural spots twenty or thirty miles outside the city, on that day. Guide books are issued in great profusion by the advertising departments of the railway companies and one always arranges to make the climax of the walk a visit to one of the delightful crescent-covered, inn or quaint wayside houses, where one may rest in quaint old-world gardens or in aged parlors and enjoy the "shilling tea" to repletion. Tea, bread and butter, watercress, lettuce, fresh eggs, jam and cake are all included in the bill of fare, while for an extra sixpence a large bunch of old-world flowers may often be purchased as a souvenir to take home. Surely such a scheme would meet with hearty response and appreciation here in localities near by the larger cities.
 The English love their "tea" and have brought the custom of drinking it into this country and have in fact taken it with them all over the world. Generations have thrived on the luscious beverage which, when properly made, is most healthful. Boiling water must always be used in infusing it and this in itself is a splendid precaution against bacterial life. The English understand to a nicety, too, the economy of drinking good tea. Tea growers tell us that it is more economical to use a little good tea than to have to put in twice as much poor tea to make the same strength. It appears the secret is all in the leaf, cheap tea being made from the poorer leaves on the bushes, while the higher-priced teas are made from the tenderer and more succulent growths that really yield a richer liquor.
 So many think that anything more than the lowest price obtainable for tea is money unnecessarily spent; but when you come to consider that a pound of good tea will yield 250 cups the cost per cup is so infinitesimal that the saving is negligible. A mistake frequently made is to put too much tea in the pot. A small teaspoonful is ample to the cup, this is of fine tea costing, say, 50 cents a pound. Cheap tea, however, must be used in larger quantities, hence the economy in buying cheap tea does not really exist at all. An expert's recipe for making tea is this: Warm an earthenware teapot and put in a small teaspoonful (about 1-26th of an ounce) for each cup (with cheap tea considerably more must be used); have a kettle of water freshly boiling, and bubbling boiling at that; pour it over the leaves and leave it to draw for five or six minutes. Pour off into another teapot and serve. This liquor (without the leaves) can be warmed up without any bad effects and will still retain its original flavor. All experts agree on this one point—boiling hot water that has not been boiled before must be used to get the true leaf flavor.
 About Poets.
 Alfred Noyes, English poet, and Princeton professor, was talking in New York about the poetry slump. "The war has caused a dreadful slump in poetry," he said. "Everything else has gone up 300 or 400 per cent., but a sonnet that before the war would easily bring $15 hardly commands $5 to-day." Mr. Noyes laughed dolefully. "We ought," he said, "to revise the old proverb so as to make it read, 'Poets are born, not paid.'"

Getting Back Three Million Dollars
 THE PAPER CONTROLLER for Canada a few weeks ago added $12 a ton to the price of news print paper—the kind used in printing the Courier. This addition, following closely upon several previous increases authorized by the Paper Controller, has meant to Canadian newspaper publishers a total increased publishing cost, in the matter of paper alone, in the past eighteen months, of three million dollars. This very considerable sum Canadian publishers must recover from their customers, their readers and advertisers.
 In connection with the earlier increases the readers of many daily newspapers have been required to pay $1 or more per year for their newspapers, while the subscription price of very many weekly newspapers has been increased from 50 to 100 per cent. In many cases still further increases will be necessary.
 But all the three million dollars increase in paper costs cannot be loaded on readers; some of this sum must come from the advertisers—this in the form of increased advertising rates. Advertising rates in Canada are, generally speaking, much lower per thousand in circulation than in the United States. Speaking on this point the editor of Marketing, a Canadian advertisers' newspaper published in Toronto, says in his last issue: "In meeting the Canadian publishers' calls for higher rates, advertising buyers should not fail to recognize that for years they have benefited by the publisher's undervaluation of his space, and should be the more willing on that account to recognize the present necessities." To all of which The Courier agrees.

AFTER THE WAR MATTERS.

The armistice with Germany expires on Dec. 17th. There has been some vague talk that Germany might not after all accept the Allied terms but there need be no fear as to that. The historic message of Admiral Beatty "The German flag is to be hauled down at 3.57, and is not to be hoisted again without permission" has been fully complied with and Field Marshal von Hindenburg has informed the Berlin Government that the army is in no position to renew fighting. Under these circumstances the only possible thing for the Hun to do is to take matters out in bitterness against Great Britain and in this regard the "Hymn of Hate" will have to be revised and brought more up to date in order to accord with the present intensity of feeling. The peace conference it is stated cannot in view of the many preliminaries convene before the early part of January, and the conference is anticipated will last for some six weeks. It is said that in the matter of indemnities France will file a damage claim of $68,000,000,000 and other countries will also have like bills in proportion. Canada should, and no doubt will, also be represented in this regard.

Well authenticated stories continue to accumulate with regard to the maltreatment of British prisoners. They have been sent on their way home without food, clothing, or guides and have been subjected to shocking indignities. A commission is to be appointed which will examine secret documents in Berlin in order to bring home the guilt of the war and the responsibilities for violations.

Great preparations are in progress for the proposed visit of King George to France when he will convey officially to the President hearty congratulations upon the successful termination of the war and the glorious part played therein by the republic.

Amid the tottering crowns manifestations continue in the Old Land, that King George and the members of the Royal family remain in high regard.

FREEDOM OF THE SEAS.

There can be no question that Germany hopes for trouble between Great Britain and the United States when the question of the freedom of the seas comes to be settled.

Upon the recent occasion when Governor Williams of New York and Governor Cox of Ohio delivered addresses in Massey Hall, the Cabinet at Ottawa was represented by Hon. Mr. Rowell and he is thus rebuffed:

On behalf of the Dominion Government, Mr. Rowell welcomed the visitors to Canada, and referred to the contributions made by the two States they represented to the public life of the country. In 1914 Canada and the United States were preparing to celebrate one hundred years of peace between the two countries, said Mr. Rowell. Instead war had broken out and the peoples of the two nations stood side by side. This action would constitute, he said, a monument to the glory of the people of this continent. Any chance of further war was removed on Thursday when the German fleet surrendered to Admiral Sir David Beatty, he said, amid applause.

"We may differ about the 'freedom of the seas.' We shall not enter upon a controversy on that matter," said Mr. Rowell, "but I may be permitted to point out that while your nation consists of a great number of States, closely knit together by transportation systems, our commonwealth consists of a great group of States or free nations, bound together by the oceans of the world, and our lines of communication are upon the high seas. Just as you will insist upon maintaining control of your lines of communication, so we demand the right to maintain our lines of communication," declared the President of the Privy Council amid prolonged applause. "The freedom of the seas which has been assured during the last four years has been largely preserved, not only to Britain and Canada, but to all free people of the world, by the patient, silent, courageous, unselfish service of His Majesty's sailors upon the high seas, magnificently backed up by the American navy." (Applause.)

Mr. Rowell put the matter in a very apt and common sense way.

It is in fact inconceivable that Uncle Sam when the subject is considered on the basis named, can come to any other conclusion than that advanced.

BRINGING HOME THE SOLDIERS

The military side of demobilization of Canada's Army overseas has been completed and is ready to be put into operation immediately peace is declared and the Higher Command of the Allies consents to the withdrawal of troops. The Department of Militia and Defense authorizes the following:

The question of precedence for the returning Canadian troops has been carefully gone into by the special Canadian committee on demobilization which has been working in England and Canada since 1917. At first sight it would appear that the first battalions on active service should be the first to be demobilized but it has been pointed out that all these old battalions have received new drafts and the proportion of service in say the First Division is little different to that in the Fourth Division. Every battalion in the line has been reinforced to at least five times its original strength.

The possibility of bringing Canada's troops back by units was carefully gone into, and it was decided that the practical should be considered with the sentimental. The economic needs of the labor market, and the time of the year the men would reach home had to be taken into consideration. Another point made against demobilization by units was that since the heavy fighting territorial regiments have lost considerable of their identity having been reinforced by drafts from other districts. Thus a Montreal unit might be returned for disembarkment to that city only to find that a large percentage of its strength, joined by draft after casualties, was from Nova Scotia or British Columbia, and as a result several hundred men would have to be shipped again for other points, causing delay, confusion and undue cessary strain on limited railway facilities.

In the close co-operation between the military side and the economic side of demobilization, it was decided that it would be better to first return men whose trade classification showed there was immediate need for them from an industrial point of view. The question of married and unmarried men was also fully gone into. Preference is to be given to the married men because of their heavier responsibilities. This class, under the scheme, was again divided, and the order of their return will depend on the length of time they have been away from home. Then come single men in accordance with their length of service overseas.

The sorting out of the men according to occupation and whether married or single has to be done at some stage of demobilization and it has been decided, in order to prevent unnecessary cross-traveling in Canada and delay in re-arranging the men to their homes, to do this sorting in France and England before embarkation.

The military scheme of demobilization of necessity comes first. The number of Canadian troops overseas according to the latest figures was 286,304.

An estimate of the number of men to be disbanded, based on the number re-ordered by provinces, is in round numbers: Ontario, 121,600; Quebec, 49,500; New Brunswick, 12,500; Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, 15,500; Manitoba, 33,500; Saskatchewan, 18,500; Alberta, 21,500; British Columbia, 35,500.

For the purposes of demobilization Canada has been divided into twenty-one dispersal areas and men are to be allowed to return to any area selected by them, regardless of the place of previous residence or enlistment. The rate of return to each area will be in accordance with the proportion that the number desiring to return to such area bears to the entire force. The men will be returned in standardized drafts of 500 of all ranks.

It is the intention of the Militia Department to discharge men immediately on reaching their dispersal area, so that they may quickly return to civil life.

After consultation with the Imperial Ministry of Shipping and the Canadian War Board, the conclusion has been reached that, taking into consideration the available amount of shipping and rolling stock in Canada which can be used for transport of troops, the rate of return at the beginning will be about 20,000 per month.

RESTRICTED MESSAGES.

The local North-Western Telegraph office has received word that commencing to-day cables relating to mercantile shipping only and full rate foreign money transfers may be accepted over their lines.

MUST MAKE RETURNS

According to notice served by the Fuel Administration of Ontario, all firms burning more than twenty tons of coal per annum, must forward to the administration details of their needs, filled out upon a form which may be obtained from the local fuel commissioner, who in Brantford is Mayor MacBride.

AN EXPLANATION

Some misunderstanding has apparently arisen as to the increase in The Courier's subscription rates. The increase takes effect Dec. 1, and on all subscriptions after that date the new rate of 45 cents per month, must be paid. Some have obtained the impression that by paying before Dec. 1 they can obtain the paper for the old rate, but this is not so.

NAVAL CENSORSHIP.

The admiralty has removed the war censorship restrictions placed upon press reports and printed articles relating to naval matters. The war censorship restrictions placed upon photographs and other pictures of naval vessels, etc., also are removed. That is to say, that in respect to all matters published relating to the royal navy and to naval matters generally the press and publishing trade will revert to their pre-war practice. The cable censorship is not affected.

HELD INITIATION.

The Woodmen of the World held a regular meeting on Friday night. One member was initiated in the first degree, after which the second degree was exemplified in amplified form by Past Council Commander Harvey Mulligan and Dr. J. B. Gamble. This degree is a very impressive one, and a number of candidates went through it. The attendance was very large, including a number of ladies. Council Commander A. B. Lee presided over the meeting. He was also appointed captain of the Woodmen's team in the City Carpenters League.

2-z-z-rip! As a Courier reporter stepped from the stairway onto the second floor of the fire hall this morning his feet shot from under him with lightning-like velocity and in the nick of time did he clutch at the banister rail and avert a catastrophe. "Watch your step," sang out a brawny fire laddy engaged in oiling the hardwood floor until it shone like a mirror. "Watch your step is right," rejoined the scribe. "I'm gonna look for my anti-skid chains. Whadda ya think this is, a skating rink?"

THANKSGIVING SERVICE HELD AT ST. JUDES

Capt. the Rev. C. E. Jenkins, Addressed War Veterans Last Night

Taking for his text, "Out of the lion came forth meat out of the lion's den," Capt. the Rev. C. E. Jenkins delivered an impressive and moving thanksgiving message at St. Jude's Church last evening. The church was crowded to capacity and the audience sat in silence during the delivery of this solemn thanksgiving message. The members of the Great War Veterans were in attendance as the special recipient of the words which Capt. Jenkins had for them. In beginning the speaker stated that the motive of the service was to give thanks for the success of the Allies in both battle and in victory. The lion lay dead as a result of the courage and strength of one man and by death the lion had become the unconscious supporter of a higher and nobler type of life. This quotation stated the speaker, "is symbolical of the last four years in our history. War has been drinking the life blood of the empire for the past four years, but Black Friday has changed to the joyful Easter Monday and we have been victorious. The chief satisfaction of the Allies have in the conclusion of this awful conflict is the satisfaction they will have in having victorious and knowing that because their cause was right they had triumphed over their foes.

The nation has humbled itself and now it has been exalted through the blessing of God. The timber for the Kaiser's coffin, graphically declared the speaker, was hewn long ago by the Carpenter of Nazareth, and his downfall will soon take place. The speaker described the many resemblances between the downfall of Babylon and Nebuchadnezzar. The downfall of that ancient king had come through his dreams of too much power, and this had also been the fate of the Kaiser. The day of Monday, November 11th, is only one more vindication that God's word is true. This vindication corresponds to the sweetest of the honey that came from the lion. War has done more in four years than peace will do in an indefinite period in every way in which the Empire is affected.

A short special message was at this point given to the members of the G.W.V.A. exhorting themselves to continue to carry on; not in the ordinary sense, but to do their utmost to promote social condition in the community. A high and fitting tribute was paid to the men who will never return. They have been proclaimed the heroes of the world, and their promotion has been Canada's loss. Capt. Jenkins in conclusion gave a description of the part that Canada has played in the war, and the glorious page of history that she has made.

Special music was very acceptably rendered by the choir. Rev. Moe's sermons made a deep impression upon his hearers, and it is hoped that he will accept the call tendered him.

Home Attractions—"A Wife and Mother"

"A Wife and Mother" asks how "To make home attractive?" The home keeper must be an attraction, careful of her appearance so that every line of the husband comes home he will be compelled to admire her and the children will look up to her with adoration; more important still, her spirit should be just as attractive as her personal appearance. The meals should be cooked and served in an enticing way. There should be music and games in the home, and in other ways thought should be expended on making it attractive.

Christians and Labor—"A Labor Man" asks, "Is it inconceivable for an earnest Christian to be a member of a trades union?" I know no good reason why he should not and I can think of many reasons why he should. It goes without saying that a true Christian cannot be an anarchist, or a member of any body which plans for unrighteousness, or that which is contrary to the spirit of the Gospel. As I understand it the object of a trades union is to watch over the interests of labor and to see that capital does not encroach upon its rights.

Since that time Mr. Carter has received no further word from him, and since the survivors were very few, he fears that his brother was among the lost.

HOW IT'S DONE. A Clubman had been reading a small deal concerning farming food conservation, etc., and it occurred to him that it might be a good idea for him to have a try at the game. Turning to an old friend in whose wisdom he had absolute faith, he asked: "Say old man, what does a chap have to do, anyway, to be a gentleman farmer?" "It is very simple," said the other, "One simply stays in town all winter and makes money."

PROUD. "Before we were married, she complained, 'you always engaged a cab when you took me anywhere. Now you think the tramcar is good enough for me.'" "No, my darling, I don't think the tramcar is good enough for you. In a cab you would be seen by nobody, while I can show you off to so many people by taking you in a tramcar."

AMONG THE FLOWERS. First Scout—"Do nuts grow on trees?" Second Scout—"Sure!" First Scout—"Then on what tree does the doughnut grow?" Second Scout—"The pantry."

SPOILED IT. "Jack said you were a bird." "Really," she exclaimed, delighted. "Yes, a parrot."

EVIDENCE. The judge to jury, who have retired several times without agreeing, understand that one jurymen prevents your coming to a verdict. In my summing up I have clearly stated the law, and any jurymen who obstinately sets his individual opinion against the remaining eleven is totally unfit for his duties. The Solitary Objector—"Please M'ud: I'm the only man who agrees with you."

ACCORDING TO PLAN. "We are retreating gloriously, your excellency." "In good order eh?" "Splendid. We've set fire to every church we've passed so far."

A CHANCE TO SLEEP. I thought I had the Spanish flu. And promptly went to bed. I stayed there for a day or two. And read and read and read. The doctor said "there's nothing wrong." At last and turned me loose. I oft have wished to sleep that long. It was a fine excuse.

A PROVERB DISPROVED. George Ade was talking about the modern girl. "The modern girl," said he, "is shockingly necessary. The proverb has it that fair heart never won fair lady, but a dozen girls at least are throwing themselves at old Gabe, the millionaire, though Gabe, as everybody knows, is dying fast of heart disease."

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels, and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Rheumatism depends on an acid which flows in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive processes, and remains there because the liver, kidneys and skin are too torpid to carry it off. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. ARNOTT RECOVERS AFTER SUFFERING FOR THIRTY YEARS

"Nothing on Earth Like Tank." He Says - Troubles Overcome

"Well, sir, a neighbor of mine put me onto this tank. A few weeks ago, and it's the finest thing I have ever run across in the sixty-seven years of my life," declared Thomas F. Arnott, of 124 South Bay street, Spokane, Wash., U.S.A., recently.

"I have suffered for thirty years," he continued, "with a bad stomach and other troubles and spent a large part of what I made for treatments and medicines, but never did get any better until I began taking Tank. Everything I would eat hurt me and the gas on my stomach would rise up into my chest and cut my breath short. Sometimes my heart would beat so hard and fast that I would just have to stop for breath. I had uneasy all the time for fear I had heart trouble. I would have blind dizzy spells when I could hardly stand on my feet. I also suffered with headaches and my feet played out nearly all the time. From it, I can now eat what I want without it hurting me for the first time in thirty years, and since my food digests and the gas has stopped forming on my stomach I don't have any more trouble with palpitation and shortness of breath. Why, before I took Tank the least exercise would completely tire me out, but now I can walk or work all day long and feel none the worse from it. I guess I have taken a barrel of medicines of different kinds and lived on a diet, almost starving myself, trying to get rid of my trouble, but I suffered just the same until I got Tank. So I know what Tank has done for me and I appreciate it enough to tell everybody about it. In my opinion there's nothing on earth like it."

Rippling Rhymes

THE ILL WIND
The influenza went its way, and slow its legions every day, as dire a thing as war, and they were wined beneath the rods, men clamored to their divers gods. "What did you send it for? What is the use of a disease that makes men cough and wheeze and sneeze until they break their necks? What profits it to spring an ill that fills the posthouse on the hill with ghastly human wrecks? Sometimes we cannot see the plan behind the rod that chastens man, and so we pity kief; why shouldn't life be endless bliss, why should we suffer that and this, and why be sore and sick? The influenza came along just when our statesmen, going strong, were primed for the campaign; they had their speeches learned by heart, and they turned out with graceful art, their doctrine safe and sane. Windjammers there, windjammers there, were suffering to paw the air, and make the welkin reel; the voters, shuddering with dread, looked on the carnival ahead, of argument and spiel. Then came the flu, and crowds were banned; all public meetings in the land had a verboten effect; the candidates could only take the speeches they were primed to make, and put them down in brine. Yet people cry, "What is the use of penitence that looks like goose, and puts us on the blink? They have not learned to analyze, they have not learned to use their eyes, they have not learned to think."

CAR STEALING EPIDEMIC

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Automobile stealing has become so prevalent in Montreal this year, and especially recently, as to warrant it being described as epidemic, according to George A. McNamee, Secretary of the Automobile Club of Canada. Within the past week complaints of cars stolen have been made by eleven members of the club, and many others have suffered. The principal cause seems to be for the purpose of joy-riding.

CONFERENCE CONTINUE
Paris, Nov. 25.—The mixed conference between the Allies and German headquarters, discussions are again quite lively, according to The Echo de Paris. The Allies are expected to re-open conversations by the actual signing of the armistice.

View of War Settlement

By Romanian Statesman Who Supported the Allies

In an interview with the Christian Science Monitor representative Take Jonescu, the well-known Roumanian statesman, who is again in London, took a grave view of the situation in Europe. The moment is such, he said, that it is impossible to forecast what to-morrow will bring. From all one can see, Germany is entirely defeated and it is for the Allies to pursue the destruction of Germany's military and naval forces.

"In conditions of peace two things are paramount, and a third is imposed by a right sense of morality. The first is absolute withdrawal of German influence of any kind in what was once Russia; otherwise Germany, although defeated would have reverted to the Roman Empire. The second is the break-up of the Hapsburg monarchy, that is, the creation of entirely independent states to replace Austria-Hungary, which is the future world with only 19,000,000 inhabitants, 8,000,000 Germans and 8,000,000 Magyars.

"Conditions of peace must provide for an independent and united Poland, for an independent Techoch-Slovak country, for a united Roumanian, and for Serbia united with the Jugoslavs. If that is not done and these nations receive only so-called autonomy, which is merely a word, Germany would have won the war, as she would be mistress of Central Europe and of the Balkan peninsula; because if Austria-Hungary is kept alive nothing and nobody can prevent the nations of the east of Europe from being under German influence, and under German hegemony.

"The moral condition is that Germany ought to pay for all damage, devastation and crime she has committed in Belgium, in France, in Serbia, in Roumania, in Italy—everywhere where her armies, and those of Austria-Hungary, have plundered at will. After such slaughter, human conscience would never understand how Germany could remain unpunished and her victims without compensation. I hope all these conditions will be fulfilled, and I believe in the right and in the sense of justice of the leaders of the Allied nations.

TAKE JONESCU

"As for my own country, to talk of her restoration is nonsense. It should be restored to the state in which she was before the war, and she should have remained quiet and have enriched herself, like neutral countries, instead of losing 300,000 of her people, and practically all her possessions. I personally was largely responsible for pushing Roumania into the war, knowing as I did that this was the will of the nation and that freedom against the Germans and Magyars, the war's real authors, was being done what honor dictated.

"We wanted, and want, our national unity, that is unity with the rest of Roumanians who are enslaved by the Magyars. We have paid for that unity the high price, and we accepted the risk of losing everything and of all becoming slaves should the Allied nations be defeated. But with the victory of the Allies, it is a moral impossibility for the Roumanian nation not to have national unity, and that is impossible without freedom from Austria-Hungary those territories where Roumanians are in majority.

"The idea of giving to the Roumanians of Hungary so-called autonomy is absolutely contrary to the will of the Roumanian people, who want to be united in one single community and not divided in two. And to imagine that the Roumanians of Transylvania would acquiesce in our falling under the sway of the Hapsburgs, together with our brethren from Hungary, is to imagine that we are mad.

"Once more I tell you, Messieurs Jonescu concluded, "I have no fear but that Roumania's unity will be one condition of peace."

Mine Lighting

Designed especially for mine lighting, a new idea consists simply of a special blue glass screen that is clamped over the bottom of the electric light reflector, thus enclosing the bulb. The light is filtered through the special blue glass, it is claimed by the manufacturers, is equal to that obtained from the nitrogen lamp. It is said to be white and pure and the equivalent of daylight. The question of proper lighting is important in breakers and picking tables.

THE GERMAN BALLOONS

Lose Value as Allied Airmen Establish Superiority. German anxiety for the safety of the Hindenburg observation balloons increases with the growing superiority of the Allies in the air. These balloons are guarded with every possible care. Generally special patrols of scout machines are detailed to fly around the balloons while at work to keep off hostile aeroplanes. As they are strongly defended by "archie" batteries so that their destruction is an extremely dangerous and difficult matter. Nevertheless, they are destroyed with regularity, and sometimes in extraordinary numbers. Fifteen were brought down in flames by British pilots in a single day. Many more of the balloons were destroyed by the British in such a case as a quick dive often brings the enemy's balloon and observer to sudden grief. Even so the archie fire is accurate because the gunners have the balloons in their sights.

British planes going far and over German territory have found how great is the concentration of German air power for home defense. German scouts are being driven out of their lines. The British formation leader accepted battle and the fight raged for forty minutes. Four German planes spun to earth in flames, one of them being driven down out of control. One British machine was downed and another was reported missing. After the fight the British planes were regrouped and the defeated German squadrons fled and left the air in possession of their adversaries, who carried out the raid according to plan. The German aerodrome suffered severely. One heavy bomb demolished a large hut and another burst between four German planes standing on the airfield, one of them being driven down. This morning the Germans lost eleven planes and the British two.

There is no doubt that the morale of the German soldier suffers from nothing else so much as the superiority of their own airmen to those of the Allies. An English pilot who is well known was fighting eight German scouts over the sea near the coast of France. In a British formation of five machines and together they drove down three enemy planes in flames. The remaining two broke away and dived steeply toward the coast. One British pilot sped down after them, but the Germans escaped. Realizing his inability to reach the Germans the first British pilot pulled his machine out of his dive and turned over to switch on the engine. He refused to start. The pilot knew that he could not glide half way to the British lines. At the height of a couple of hundred feet he was shot down, which to him, it was a large field in which German troops were drilling. He was just about to land when suddenly the engine spluttered and burst into flames. Instantly he hit the ground and was killed. Several bursts of machine gunfire into the diminished space of the German aerodrome, who finally gave up and fled. The British pilot and airplane, both of which reached home safely.

Service at Home. She never missed attendance at church, and when Sunday came, and a bad cold, and a dismal rain kept her at home, she was irascible. "We will have service at home," said her husband, and the good woman was pleased. "I have never been to church since that time," she said, "but I have enjoyed the church service more than I had admitted in days gone by." "You be the chap," he said, "and I will be the priest." In hoarse, uncertain voice, the wife sang a hymn. Then the preacher took his turn, and for one whole hour he scolded the woman who sat in front of him. The priest's duties she neglected her church duties to visit and gossip, she was not doing as much for the Red Cross as she might, and the woman who was said to be a good woman, was not so good as she seemed. "I am not so good as I seem," she said, "but I am sufficient to keep the orphans in France ten years. The conclusion of the sermon" was drowned by the sound of the woman's sobs. "The just like you," she said, "the priest is in disgust, you will let a preacher say all these things to you, but when a husband tries it you are abused. Sorrows are ended."

BOSNIA ASKS FOR RE-UNION WITH SERBIA

National Government Appeals to Crown Prince of Latter Country

By Courier Leased Wire. Basel, Monday, Nov. 25.—The Bosnian National Government has addressed a note to Crown Prince Alexander of Serbia asking for an immediate re-union of Bosnia and Herzegovina with the Serbian Kingdom, under the sovereignty of the King George, the dynasty of which the Crown Prince is the full heir.

Kara George V. (Black George) Petrovitch, was the founder of the reigning dynasty in Serbia. He was dethroned in 1917, leaving two sons, one of whom, Alexander, became the reigning prince in 1918. The title of Alexander to the throne was confirmed, but the dignity is not here. In 1918, Alexander was forced to abdicate and was banished. The Obrenovitch dynasty then became the reigning house of Serbia and continued until 1902 when King Alexander and his queen were murdered. Their son, King George V. became monarch. His older son, Prince George, renounced his succession to the throne in 1909 and Prince Alexander, the younger brother, became the heir-apparent. Prince Alexander fought with great distinction during the recent Allied offensive in southern Serbia.

AIR SUPREMACY IS NOT THE ONLY THING. Canadian members of the Royal Air Force have won many laurels abroad, but Canadian engineers have won laurels in Canada in the construction of Mount Tunnel, a tunnel which was opened on October 23rd, on which date the Canadian Northern Railway established through train service between Toronto Union Station, Ottawa, Central Station and Montreal, and Montreal, 415 Lacanichiere street, west two blocks from the Windsor Hotel, Windsor and Bonaventure Stations.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take responsibility of meat in Backache or Bladder troubles.

We are a nation of meat eaters, and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble. The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but becoming weak from overwork, they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead and you have stinging pains or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night, when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or "rheumatism" in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jax Satta, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will be free. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jax Satta is inexpensive and easy to injure; makes a delightful and refreshing "knee-water" drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

LONG BRANCH LOVERS MAY AGAIN OSCILLATE. The famous no kissing in public ordinance of Long Beach, Cal., has joined the number of members of the past, along with William Hohenzollern and Johnnie Bayleym. Judge Williams of Los Angeles having ruled for the defendant in the case of A. T. Sackett, who boldly admitted that he had kissed his fiancée good night at the garden gate and indignantly declared that he "would do it again." The judge declared the ordinance a curse, and became an accessory before the fact in prospective oculatory performance.

REVOLT PROGRESSING. By Courier Leased Wire. Zurich, Nov. 25.—The counter-revolutionary movement in Austria is progressing to such an extent that the national council has placarded the streets, warning the public against it. It is said that the monarchists are resorting to all kinds of methods to procure disarmament of the council and trying to frighten the people by the prospect of Allied occupation, according to a Vienna dispatch to The Frankfurt Gazette.

NOTICE
Increase in Subscription Rates Commencing Dec. 1, 1918
The subscription rates of the Brantford Daily Courier and the Brantford Daily Expositor, commencing December 1st, 1918, will be as follows:
Delivered in Brantford and Vicinity, 45c. per month
By the year, Paid in Advance, $5.00 per annum
By Mail, " " " 4.00 per annum
Single Copies, 2c.
After publication of this notice, payments in advance on subscriptions will only be accepted to December 1st at the old rate, after that at the new rate.
This advance in subscription rates has been made necessary by the tremendous increase in the cost of white paper, the price of which has recently been fixed by the Paper Controller at Ottawa. By this one item alone thousands of dollars are added to our annual cost of production, and in addition, labor, presses, stereotype supplies, type and all other items of expense have enormously advanced in price during the last few years.
Even at the new rates the Brantford papers are only now charging prices which have been in force for some time back on almost all the other daily newspapers published in this section of the Dominion. In many cities the subscription rates are very much higher.
