

FUSIONISTS IN NEW YORK

Will Have the Spending of the People's Taxes. Figures Show How the Vote Went In City and State.

San Francisco Vote For Labor and Wide Open Town.

New York, Nov. 3.—The forces of fusion will be in practical control of New York City's government after Jan. 1 next, although Tammany Hall's candidate for Mayor, Wm. J. Gaynor, was elected yesterday by approximately 72,000 plurality.

With the exception of Mayor, the fusion sweep was complete. Not another Tammany candidate on city or county tickets won. The success of the fusion forces in electing their candidates for comptroller and president of the board of aldermen, together with the victories of the fusion and anti-Tammany candidates for the presidency of all five boroughs, will give the opposition to Tammany thirteen out of sixteen votes in the important board of estimate. This board will have in its hands during its term of office the expenditure of practically $1,000,000.

On the county ticket the fusionists elected their candidates for district attorney, sheriff, county clerk, registrar and city court judge, which, with their other victories, will place nearly every bit of patronage in the greater city in their hands.

With a few scattered election districts missing, the vote for Gaynor, Democratic-Tammany candidate for Mayor, stands at 246,755. Second in the race was Otto T. Bannard, the Republican-fusion nominee, with 175,062 votes. Wm. R. Hearst, candidate of the civic alliance, was last, with 150,560 votes.

Below Mayor the fusionist candidates on the city ticket won by substantial pluralities, that of W. A. Pronger, for comptroller, being approximately 67,000, and that of John Purry Mitchell, for president of the board of aldermen, 54,000.

The borough presidencies all went to the fusion or anti-Tammany candidates. The strength of the fusionist cause in New York county was indicated by the plurality of 22,000 votes which Chas. S. Whitman, the fusion nominee for district attorney, received over George Gordon Battle, the Tammany candidate.

Even more significant was the victory of John S. Shea, fusionist for sheriff, an office with great emoluments, over Christopher D. Sullivan, Tammany, by a plurality approximating 27,000. The fusion triumph in New York county extended to its candidates for Supreme Court Judgeships, all three of its nominees for those offices being successful.

Tammany elected 22 of its candidates for the Board of Aldermen in New York county, as against 32 elected by its two years ago. It will have 42 votes in the new Board for the greater city and the Fusionists 36.

Latest returns indicate that the New York State Assembly of 1910 will contain 94 Republicans and 56 Democrats, a Republican majority of 38. The present Assembly has a Republican majority of 48.

HEARST PLEASSED. Wm. R. Hearst declares himself satisfied with the result of the election yesterday, inasmuch as an anti-Tammany Board of Estimates was elected. He said:

"If an anti-Tammany Board of Estimates has been elected I consider myself well rewarded. I went into the campaign to do exactly that, as I stated in my letter of acceptance.

"I hope that Judge Gaynor will make a satisfactory Mayor, and I am sure of one thing at least, that he will make a better Mayor surrounded by an honest and independent Board of Estimates than he could have made surrounded by a Tammany gang, from which we have the good fortune to be delivered.

"I congratulate the city on the election of my associates on the city ticket, and a majority on the Board of Estimates." (Continued on Page 3.)

HAPPY EVENT.

Connor-Bower Marriage Took Place This Afternoon.

A quiet, but one of the prettiest matrimonial events of the autumn season was solemnized this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 196 Emerald street north, when Jessie L., third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bower, was married to Mr. William Connor, of the firm of Connor Bros., the well-known Barton street jewellers. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. J. A. Wilson, R. A., of St. Andrew's Church, in the presence of a large number of immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

Leaning on the arm of her father and becomingly attired in a dress of cream duchess satin, with Irish lace trimmings, and carrying a bouquet of roses, the bride entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's March. The bride and groom were unattended. The room, tastefully decorated with palms and other flowers, presented an artistic appearance.

After the wedding the guests sat down to a supper provided by Caterer Knappan. Many congratulations were bestowed upon the happy young couple. The young couple, who have a host of friends, especially in the St. Andrew's Sunday school, where they hold prominent positions, were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents, indicating the high esteem in which they are held.

Followed by the best wishes for their future prosperity, the happy couple will leave at 7:30 for western points. The travelling gown of the bride was topped with heavier hat to match. After their return they will reside at 163 Sanford avenue north.

WAS A HARD FIGHT OVER ANNEXATION.

Board, However, Practically Confirms City's Terms In Full—Litigation Possible.

There is a general air of satisfaction around the City Hall this morning over the outcome of the annexation proceeding yesterday in Toronto. The Railway and Municipal Board backed the city up in almost all its contentions, and the terms, which are embodied in the annexation order, include about everything that Hamilton asked for. The aldermen and city officials are pleased to see the matter disposed of, as the city has been battling with Barton township over water supply and sewer connections ever since the proclamation of 1903. The taking in of the new territory practically eliminates the possibility of trouble now, so that while the board yesterday decided it had no power to alter the former annexation agreement, by which the city was bound to give water supply within a reasonable distance of the mains, this point is not considered important. The city wanted a clause inserted that water should be supplied township people only within 750 feet of the main north and south of (Continued on Page 10.)

CAME FROM NORTHWEST.

Interesting Figure on the City Streets To-day.

Corporal Slater Came to Take Veale to Regina

And Proves Interesting In His Talk About West.

Frederick J. Veale, alleged forger, etc., goes back to Regina to-morrow morning in charge of Corporal Slater, of the N. W. M. P., who arrived in the city last night. The officer said there are three charges to be preferred against Veale in the west for obtaining money from farmers by false pretence. He will be taken first to Regina, and if committed for trial he will be taken to Moose Jaw to the assize court.

The appearance of a N. W. M. policeman on the streets here is a very unusual sight, and Corporal Slater is the centre of attraction wherever he goes. He is a fine specimen of a man, about six feet tall, and built in proportion, of pleasing personality, and an aburn moustache that would make any old Canterbury, Kent, and was formerly an accountant in London, Eng.

This morning Corporal Slater was the guest of Mr. Sam Garrity, the famous engineer. Sam took the officer on the vertical elevator to the top of the City Hall, and then up to the tower, where he had a fine view of the city. He was introduced to the Mayor and all the chief city officials, and to-night will be a guest at the armories.

Corporal Slater has had considerable experience. He has three years in South Africa and served all through the war. He joined the N. W. M. P. five years ago, and likes it well. He is an Englishman, a native of old Canterbury, Kent, and was formerly an accountant in London, Eng.

He is staying at the Royal Hotel, where his big sombrero, red tunic, riding boots and spurs make him the cynosure of all eyes.

When spoken to about conditions in the west, the officer says there never was such a time of prosperity as now. Money is plentiful and the harvest has been a bountiful one. He advises young men with ginger in them to go there. He says the exporting of cattle from the ranches will exceed that of former years. He considers the west the great bonanza for energetic young men.

TRAGEDY OF THE PRAIRIES.

Father, Mother and Two Children Murdered—Tracing Suspect.

(Special Wire to the Times.) Wynyard, Sask., Nov. 2.—Constable Jarvis left last night in search of a Hungarian, who, it is alleged, shot George Thoburn, aged 35, in the vicinity of Clair, north of Little Quill Lake. It is believed that Mrs. Thoburn, her mother and a child of the former, aged 2 years, were all murdered, if they cannot be found. Another boy, 5 years old, was badly clubbed, but when the neighbors visited the house on Tuesday he was able to tell who had committed the deed.

Last night a man suspected of the crime stayed at Emerson's farm, eight miles north of the town, and was said to have lived at Josephson's farm house, two miles east. The suspect is driving a heavy team, which belonged to Thoburn. He is heading for Regina, claiming that his parents reside nineteen miles from there. He was a farm laborer for Thoburn. The little boy states that the hired man threw his father in the cellar. The boy was covered with blood from gashes on his face when found.

Hundreds of settlers, well armed, are scouring the country, but can find no trace of the woman or the farm laborer. Thoburn, the murdered man, came from Sarnia, Ont. The bodies of the two women were found in the well to-day. Nesie, the name of the Hungarian, is 22 years old. He has not been captured yet.

Nice and Sweet. We are displaying in our east window a quantity of first prize comb and extracted honey. See it. None better ever offered. Special price by the dozen. We have the extract in sixty-pound cans; also in one, two and five-pound glass jars. Those Long Point ducks arrived yesterday and are selling fast; so are squabs.—Bain & Adams.

GREER ON THE CASE

Description of Gebhardt Tallies With the Barton Murderer.

(Special Wire to the Times.)

Toronto, Nov. 3.—Inspector Wm. Greer, who has been working for some time on the story that the man, Otto Mueller or Gebhardt, under arrest for murder in New York, might have been the perpetrator of the Barton murder near Hamilton, would not say anything definite as to his investigation to-day. "In two or three days I expect to be able to say definitely whether there is anything in the story or not," Inspector Greer said this morning. "By that time I will have received information from New York which should pretty well settle the question. I must say that the descriptions of the man tallies very closely, however, and there may be something to tell about the story in a few days."

STRUCK OUT.

Action Among Lincoln County People Over Lands.

In the action of Ethel Gibson and Johann Van Dyke against their uncle, Arthur F. VanDyke, for the reconveyance to them of certain lands in Lincoln county, a motion was made by P. D. Crerar, acting for one of the plaintiffs, Johann Van Dyke, to have the name of the other plaintiff struck out on the grounds that she did not institute the suit, and therefore was not a party to it. Judge Snider made the order, costs to be paid by Ethel Gibson. The defendant contended that no statement of claim had been served since the notice of action. The statement of claim should have been served six months ago. An order was made for the trial to go on at the St. Catharines assizes in December. Ethel Gibson, one of the plaintiffs, was notified to be ready to proceed with the case then.

A rather complicated case is that of the Rural Publishing Company of Peterborough against the White Class Advertising Company of Chicago, for money due on advertising. Mr. O. D. Pete, of this city, is acting for the plaintiff. The defendants have property in this country, and Mr. Pete is seeking to get the amount of the account. This morning he applied to Judge Snider for an order for jurisdiction, and it was granted.

EVERYBODY MUST HELP.

That Is the Watchword In the Y. W. C. A. Campaign. A Strenuous Two-day Campaign Will Close To-morrow Night.

The Committee Now Has In Hand Over $11,000.

"Everybody help" is the watchword for the final effort this week to complete the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. building funds. To-day and Thursday the ten teams will do strenuous work. About one hundred business and professional men, including several leading citizens, are devoting almost their entire time to it, and the co-operation of the whole community is earnestly desired.

Table with 3 columns: Y.W.C.A., Y.M.C.A., Special committee. Lists names and amounts raised.

Luncheon will be served at headquarters for the last time on Thursday at 12:30. The campaign will close at 10 o'clock Thursday night.

During the closing days of the campaign the voluntary contributions of those who have not been called upon will be greatly appreciated. Any sum, large or small, will be thankfully received. Pledges are payable in four equal instalments six months apart, beginning January 1, 1910. Telephone 15,000 for headquarters.

The full amounts required must be secured sooner or later and the advisability of finishing the work during the present campaign will be recognized by all.

With their new buildings completed, the Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. will be in proper shape to carry forward their splendid work for the young people. This is for the benefit of the city as a whole and all the people should have a part in it.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS.

Protect the city. Don't be niggardly with the Y. W. C. A. It won't bother you again for a long while.

I see that my friend, Mr. J. J. Scott, is again working hard on behalf of the city.

Who objects to the city making the best bargain it can with the Hydro-Electric Commission?

We all believe with the Presbytery that betting and gambling are evils that should be overthrown.

Ex-Mayor Stewart hasn't got his Majority cards out yet.

I rather like those church banquets. They help to make the members feel rather more chummy, and take the chill off.

In spite of all you may say, we shall have to reckon with that Cabaret suit. Carrying it to the foot of the throne means money.

No doubt the people want the aldermen to make the best bargain for them they know how. They are, not fools.

Had Ex-Mayor Biggar and Ex-Ald. Gilbert not rushed down to Toronto and threatened trouble in connection with the York Loan, I have very good authority for saying that nobody would have lost a cent, and Joseph Phillips would not now be in the penitentiary. The Dominion Loan Company was prepared to take over the business and pay every investor every cent they had invested, but it didn't relish going to court, and backed out of the agreement.

What is to become of Mrs. Kibble and her six little children the next eighteen months that her husband is in jail? Society ought to be able to answer that, but it can't. In cases like this, we act as if we were a lot of black handers or worse.

The Hamilton Herald in its attacks upon the Mayor and Ald. Pergine, shows what kind of a journalistic tough it is.

Liberty is sweet even to a dog. Watch how he wags his tail when he gets off the string.

Why object to the Mayor trying to make the best bargain for the city? Bedford goes to the funny house. So here ends the second chapter of the Kinrade tragedy.

PRESIDENT WILCOX STATES THE FACTS.

Canadian Pacific Railway Has Nothing to Do With Iron and Steel Deal.

Mr. Wilcox, President of the Hamilton Steel & Iron Company, has shanded out a statement to-day with regard to the rumors which have been going around in reference to this company.

The facts of the matter are that a number of estates which held considerable blocks of the company's stock have disposed of them and this stock has been purchased by Toronto and Montreal capitalists. Hamiltonians still hold the majority of the stock.

The Board of Directors will be increased in number and the new seats will be taken by Messrs. E. B. Osler and W. D. Matthews, of Toronto.

BEACH LIVING IS EXPENSIVE.

Property Holders Grumbling Over the New Rates Imposed.

Beach property owners are by no means a happy lot. Tax notices have just been sent out and the rates are so high that one old resident who holds a job which pays him only about $500 a year, remarked, "We might just as well be living in New York." Modern conveniences cost money, and the sidewalks and water system must be paid for in addition to other rates.

Then there is the school question. The children are still barred from the Van Wagner School and the Commissioners have made no provision for other accommodation on the Beach. The parents had hoped that their children would have to pay only the ordinary ten cents a month in city schools, but on Monday and yesterday they were told that they must pay $1.00. Some of them had to go home without taking their places in their classes.

Nor do the Beach people know where they stand in regard to transportation. In September the Commissioners issued rate tickets on the Radial to the children. In October the youngsters had to pay themselves, a matter of $1.85. This month the Commission has issued tickets again.

The whole Beach business has been muddled ever since the Government undertook to take over the sandstrip.

BEDFORD, Now Says He Did Not Make a Confession.

London, Nov. 2.—Bedford, who confessed to murdering Ethel Kinrade at Hamilton, was to-day remanded for eight days at the Bow Street Police Court.

Bedford, interviewed by the Canadian Press, said he did not remember ever having made any confession to having murdered Miss Kinrade. He had only read an account of the murder in Canadian newspapers.

Bedford to-day told his sister that he did not remember his being in her house on the evening of October, before he gave himself up at Scotland Yard.

Bedford's sister told the Canadian Press that she thought her brother had a strange look in the eyes and that he was insane.

IT JUMPED.

H., G. & B. Car Did a Funny Stunt at Noon.

As a result of an H., G. & B. car running off the track on Main street east about noon to-day, a large telegraph pole was broken and a fence knocked down but, outside of that, no damage was done and the passengers escaped uninjured. The car had a good number of passengers, some of whom were from Grimsby. It had almost reached Sanford avenue when a stone on the track caused it to jump and the front trucks at once turned toward the south. The car jumped the curbing, struck the telegraph pole, broke it, went through the fence, narrowly missed a house and finally stopped. The trucks were pointing toward the east and the car itself towards the south. After leaving the tracks the front trucks gradually turned so that the car cleared everything within the radius of its own length. Notwithstanding the numerous bumps the car did not appear to be badly damaged. The ladies who were in the car screamed as soon as the car received its first bump after leaving the track. A crowd quickly gathered. The trouble gang was sent down to put the car on the track. The pole which was broken is hanging suspended with only the wires to hold it up.

THE HUGGER AGAIN.

While walking down Arkelidon avenue last night about 10:45 a young lady was accosted by a man, who tried to do the hugging trick. A young man on the street at the time heard the young lady's scream and gallantly went to her assistance, but before he reached her she would-be hugger had escaped in the darkness.

AFRAID OF FOREIGNERS.

Youth Feared Being Carved Up Over Halloween Affair. Ran to Policeman For Protection; Fined in Court.

Other Unimportant Cases Before Magistrate To-day.

Raymond Gilland, 390 Hughson street north, broke John Bartha's window, according to Magistrate Jelfs' decision in Police Court this morning, when the youth was arraigned for wilful damage. He paid $5 for his Halloween mischief. "Don't let them hurt me; don't let them hurt me. A crowd of foreigners are after me and will kill me!" Those were the words of the excited youth to P. C. John Clark, on Monday night, as the officer was walking his beat on Bay street north. Then the youth told the officer how an army of foreigners were chasing him, armed with knives and other weapons that could do much bodily harm. Gilland kept close to the officer, and when the foreigners came up, they were quite peaceful and carried no arms, but made a complaint about defendant hurling a specimen of geology through their window.

John Bartha was the chief speaker, and at his request the youth was summoned.

NEW CITIZENS WANT THINGS.

Deputations From Annex Already Waiting on City Engineer.

Litigation Possible Over Cement Walks In the Suburb.

Open Charge of Graft In Connection With School Contracts.

It did not take Hamilton's new citizens long to get busy about improvements in the annexed district. The Railway and Municipal Board settled the terms yesterday afternoon, and this morning several of the property owners swooped down on the City Hall to enquire about sewers, water mains and other matters in which they are interested. One of the first arrivals was William Strong, who wants permission to lay out three new streets in his survey, known as "Bloomsdale." Mr. Strong says the lots he is willing to give the city for roadways are worth $2,000. There is a string attached to his offer. He wants the city to build cement walks free of cost, and left plans with the Engineer.

City Engineer Macallum went down to the new district to-day to inspect the sidewalks which caused such a fuss at the annexation proceedings before the Municipal Board yesterday. The city has reserved the right to bring action against the contractors if the walks are not found to be up to the specifications in every respect. The Engineer's department will at once begin laying out a sewerage and waterworks plan for the new district.

As a result of the west end of the reversion wall being left unfinished the washing of the water is weakening the underpinning of the city dock, and it is said there is danger of the structure collapsing if something is not done to protect it from the waves. The Harbor Committee will discuss the matter this afternoon, and also ask for an appropriation to engage another team to haul garbage for filling in purposes behind the reversion wall.

There is a lull in the power situation to-day, although another storm is looked for when the matter comes up again in the Council on Monday night next. The Hydro-agitators will exert all their forces in one final attempt to force the city into accepting the Commission's ultimatum. Mayor McLaren had no comment to make to-day about the attacks made on him by the Herald. Referring to the heading that the mask was off at last, His Worship jokingly remarked, "Well, Halloween is over."

A special despatch to-day from London says: In an interview this morning Hon. Adam Beck stated that the agreement submitted by the Hydro-Electric Commission to Hamilton will not be changed in any way unless different arguments from those already presented are adduced.

It will be noticed that Mr. Beck intimates the contract might be changed if different arguments are adduced. The aldermen who are battling for Hamilton's rights are convinced that about the stiffest argument they can give the commission in view of its actions is to call its bluff, as was done by the council on Monday night.

The Building Committee of the Board of Education yesterday afternoon awarded contracts as follows for the new addition to the Victoria avenue school: Brick and masonry work, W. H. Yates, jun., $19,875; carpentering work, R. Press & Sons, $6,863; steel work, Hamilton Bridge Company, $2,645; plumbing and heating, Adam Clark & Park, $8,520; roofing and blackboards, (Continued on Page 10.)

R. MCKAY & CO.

A Spanish Beauty

"But, Kathleen," Rory cried, agitated, "you hate this Morgan!" "May Heaven send me a better spirit. We are all unjust to Morgan. My father's folly is no blame to him. He wished to marry me; her head dropped and her voice fell; the world compelled me to marry him—true; but, Lord Roderick—loves me."

"My little Kathleen!" It was all he could say. His heart was full of pity, full of remorse, full of savage hatred of that man. She looked so pretty, so sad, so fragile; and he, with all his strength and rank, was so powerless!

He ground his teeth and clenched his fist, and thought what an unutterable satisfaction it would be to punch Morgan's head!

"He loves me, I know it—in his way," Kathleen went on, hurriedly, her voice faltering in spite of her; "and I—well, I may grow to like him a little by and by. If I marry him—and I must—I will be his true and faithful wife in word and deed and thought. And, Lord Rory, after to-night it may be—just be a long time before we meet again; and so—I will wish you joy—you and your bride—now and then."

Her voice choked; she stopped, covering her face with her hands. It was the last time, and she loved him so dearly, so dearly!

"Oh, Kathleen!" "Good bye, Lord Rory! May the good God bless you forever! And don't come to our cottage any more. I want to do my duty. Don't make that hard duty any harder than it is now!"

"Kathleen, listen to me!" he cried, passionately. "You shall not marry Morgan! I say it—I will swear it! If he will listen to fair measures, and let me pay your father's debts, he shall listen to me, by—"

Her little hand closed gently over his lips. "Hush, my lord! No, no! Would you make my name the country's talk? Would you ruin my father and disgrace me? No; you can do nothing—you must do nothing. If you ever cared for your old playmate, Lord Rory, take her good wishes now, and leave her—forever!"

She held out her hand with a sob. Both of his closed over it, and there was a hot mist before the brilliant, azure eyes.

"Kathleen! Kathleen! what can I say?" She interrupted him with a gesture of inexpressible pain.

"Say nothing, do nothing, my lord; only leave me. There is no feeling in my heart but kindness and good-will to you. Let there be none in yours but some pleasant memory of the little girl who was once your playmate. Oh, my lord, it grows late, and I—I am not strong! Go, if you have any pity, and leave me by myself!"

"Good bye, then, Kathleen, but not forever, not for long. This matter cannot, must not, and like this."

He turned and left her; it was her wish, and he knew Kathleen feared not the gathering darkness nor the loneliness of these Wicklow hillsides and glens. He took his last look at the little drooping figure, fluttering there in the wintry twilight; and who was to tell him that the sad blue eyes would be sealed forever, the sweet, beautiful lips chill in death, when he looked upon them next!

The twilight gathered above her; the moon rose round and crystal clear, sailing up over the purple sea. The night wind rose with it; and, shivering more with the cold within than the cold of the autumn night, Kathleen turned slowly to go home, when an impetuous voice, close beside her, rang out with one vibrating word:

"Stay!" She sprang back with a little cry. There before her, dark and passionate, with dusky eyes of fire and gleaming dagger, stood the betrothed wife of the man she loved. There, on the lonely hillside, stood the high-born Spanish beauty and the Irish peasant girl face to face!

CHAPTER VII It was a startling tableau. There, in the lonesome moonlight, on the deserted hillside, the rivals met, and there was danger and death in the face of one. The glowing Castilian beauty was set in rigid whiteness; the brilliant Spanish eyes, that could melt and grow dewy and sweet as the eyes of a young child, were ablaze with a terrible, lurid light now. Women of her fierce race and fiery blood had stabbed their base-born rivals, without a word, for far less, ere now.

But Kathleen O'Neal was as "plucky" as she was pretty. She recoiled a little, with a startled face, it is true, at first sight of this dangerous apparition, but after that she gave no sign of fear. She understood all in an instant, and drew herself up with as grand an air as my Lady Inez herself.

"The blue eyes met the black ones in a clear, steadfast, guileless gaze. "And you dare to look me in the face, you traitress!" Lady Inez said, between her clenched, pearly teeth. "Are you not afraid I will murder you where you stand?"

The cloudless blue eyes never quailed, the fair cheek blanched not one whit, yet the dark daughter of the south before her looked quite capable of carrying out her threat.

"Afraid, my lady!" Kathleen said, quietly, and a little disdainfully. "No! And I am no traitress. I never wronged you, my lady, and I am neither afraid of you nor your dagger."

"She could not, had she been studying her answer for a lifetime, have answered better. The brave words, the brave eyes, disarmed and cooled the passionate Castilian, who admired courage in man or woman above all earthly attributes.

Kathleen. Oh, my lady, he loves you, and you alone, and it is no marvel, for you are beautiful as the angels. I have been his little playmate; I am his humble friend; nay, more, I will own to you, who are to be his wife, that I love him, too!"

The Spanish beauty retreated a step, and stood gazing in wonder at her rival, never beyond even her dreams of bravery, so faced her dagger with fearless eyes, and who owned so heroically her hidden love.

"That you, my lady, so beautiful, so high-born, should stoop to be jealous of poor little Kathleen, I can not think; but if you ever have, for one single second, then you have basely wronged your noble lover. You have his whole heart, my lady. Oh, cherish it as it deserves, trust him as he trusts you, for there is not his equal on earth!"

Her face looked inspired in her, unconscious eloquence. She had completely turned the tables, and it was the haughty donna who lowered her lofty crest now.

"And Lord Roderick never loved you? You swear it?" "I swear nothing; but Lord Roderick never loved me, the folly, the madness, have all been mine."

"Then I have been grossly deceived; and yet," her face, which had lighted eagerly, darkened. "It looked strangely suspicious—it does so still. If what you say be true, my little one, why, then, does he so oppose your marriage with this other?"

"Ah, my lady," Kathleen pathetically said, "we have known each other so long! Will you not even let him be my friend? You, who are so happy, may pity me, who must wed a man I abhor. He would save me if he could. Would you, my Lady Inez, do less for the playmate of your youth?"

"No!" The impulsive Spanish beauty, as impetuous in her likes as her hatred, flung away her dagger and caught both Kathleen's hands. "So, my little one; and you shall not marry a man you abhor! Ah, Dios! how horrible is the thought! We will save you—my lord and I!"

Kathleen drew her hands away, very gently, but very resolutely. "She was brave to the core, but not brave enough to endure the caresses of the woman Lord Roderick Desmond loved."

"You are very good, my lady, and I thank you, as I did him, but it may not be your wish to do nothing save give me your good wishes. My duty lies before me. The way may be hard, but I will follow it. You can do me but one favor, and that is, trust your lover."

"Until death, from this hour! But, my little one, is there nothing I can do for you?" "Nothing, farewell!"

She waved her hand and fluttered away with the words on her lip. The heart in her bosom lay heavy as lead, but Kathleen had no thought within it of self-laudation. Less generous sacrifice has sounded its trumpet before the world, and called itself martyrdom.

She sprang along in the moonlight as fleetly as a young deer, and as gracefully as a young girl, and she was getting to her, but the sharp pain was yet to come. Now she felt nothing but a dumb sense of misery and weariness, a sick loathing of herself and her life.

"And I am only eighteen!" she thought, drearily; "and life is so long, so long!"

Her way was unutterably lonely; she met no living thing as she sprang lightly over the hillside, and she was to call Wondrously lovely the silver light lay on lakelet and tarn, or brown hillside and purple heather and shining sea. Crystal clear and numberless the white stars swung in the blueblack sky, calm and cloudless and serene.

As her cottage home came in sight she leaned against a sycamore waving in the wind, and looked on all that hush and beauty and peace with strangely solemn eyes of blue.

"And what does it matter, after all?" Kathleen thought—"a few years more or less, joy or gladness, in this lower world? It all ends in six feet of earth—and home is yonder!"

"Kathleen!" A voice at her elbow spoke. She wheeled quickly around. A short, thick-set man, with a bull-dog face and a profusion of whiskers, stood beside her.

"You, Mr. Morgan?" "Me, Kathleen!" he said, sullenly. The habitual expression of his face was a mingling of low cunning and sullen ferocity. "I've come for your hand."

"She shivered all over. Oh, Rory! In his bright, best beauty he rose before her, glorious in his young, magnificent manhood as even the Apollo of the gods; and she, the side stood this human satyr, she must wed!"

"I've been to the cottage," Morgan sulkily pursued, "and I've seen your father. He told me you were bent with Lord Rory Desmond. Now, what had he to say to you, I should like to know?"

"What you never will know," Kathleen replied, very calmly. "Mr. Morgan, I have you no pity, no mercy? Will you not spare my father and wait? He is a very old broken-down man."

ground out between his bull-dog teeth, "I'll make you pay for every insolent word!"

While the purple twilight shifted to silvery moonlight, Gerald Desmond stood in the lonely glen below the Fairy Well and waited. He had, in an eminent degree, that one virtue which all good haters, all thorough villains, should possess—patience. He had learned completely what so few of us ever learn—how to wait. When he leaned against the moss-grown rocks, he smoked his Cuba and looked from under his hat at the dark-blue patch of sky all gemmed with crystal stars. Not of their tremulous beauty was he thinking, but of his own astuteness—how cleverly he had misled his victims in the toils.

"Ah, my haughty, handsome, dark-eyed donna," he mused. "What do you think of your beloved one now?" A light, fleet step came swift as a young fawn's down the glen at the moment. He swung around, and beheld the Castilian heiress speeding swiftly and lightly along.

"Donna Inez!" He flung away his cheroot and went to meet her, but the donna recoiled, with a look her face had worn for him more than once before.

"You, Senator Gerald? I thought you had gone home!" "And left you in this wild and lonely place by yourself? Really, Lady Inez, you pay me but a poor compliment."

He laughed as he spoke and offered her his arm. She shrunk away with a look of cold disdain.

"No, senator; I can make my way unaided. Did not Lord Roderick pass you on his homeward walk?" "Without seeing me—yes. And you, Lady Inez, you heard and saw—enough?"

The Housekeeper

LITTLE HILLS. In making hot starch, add one tablespoonful of lard and one of salt to each gallon of starch. Be sure and use white hot.

For cold starch use about half the usual quantity of starch and add a tablespoonful of powdered borax. This stiffens without danger of the iron sticking.

For ironing blouses, get asbestos, if possible. Careless holders when finished with little sacks or cases buttoned on. These are easy to launder and easily replaced. For quickly made holders to use around gas stoves save your suit sacks and other small sacks. Slip the holder inside, turn the end back inside and fasten with a small safety pin. When scorched or soiled there are easily removed and a new cover quickly put on.

A slight scratch is made on a whitening sponge freely with a cloth wet with hydrogen peroxide and iron dry. The scratch will disappear like magic.

TO SAVE ELASTIC. To save elastic in children's blouses, which cost sometimes as much as the material of the blouse, take a piece of tape or selvage the size of a child's waist, less four inches. Cut the tape in half, insert four inches of elastic, put the tape, with the elastic in the centre of it, in the hem of the blouse. It will act the same as if it were all elastic and wear better. Therefore you can make six blouses with the same elastic which you would otherwise put in one blouse.

TO SMOOTH IRONS. Tack a piece of sandpaper on the end of the ironing board to smooth the irons.

UNUSED LINENS. Valuable linens that are unused should at least be washed once a year, thoroughly dried, and refolded. This will prevent yellowing and also the injury which results of creases are allowed to remain too long.

TAGLERINO NOT GUILTY,

But Black Hand Charge Has Yet to be Heard.

When the trial of John Taglerino, on a charge of assaulting Joseph Deak, was again taken up yesterday afternoon the first witness called was P. C. Springer. He told of going to the store. He saw Deak that night, and he was badly cut up and somewhat excited, as he had been drinking. The first trace of blood was on the sidewalk. Deak told him Taglerino had wounded him.

Merritt Settlement

On Thursday of last week a number of people assembled at the home of Mr. Omar Bartlett, McCollum's Settlement, and gave him a surprise, it being the eighty-second anniversary of his birth-day. There were relatives from Welland, Smithville, Grimby Village, Caistor and Merritt Settlement.

Mrs. M. O. Merritt has returned home after spending Thanksgiving week with relatives at Ottawa.

Mrs. L. Lammman and Mrs. Wm. McCannell and daughter, Ina, spent Thursday of last week with Mrs. M. Merritt, of Fultou.

Mr. Norris Bartlett, of Chantler's, visited his parent here last week, Mr. A. Bartlett.

Mr. Ira and N. Jacobs, of Winona, called on relatives and friends in this place on Thanksgiving Day.

Arthur Lammman spent Thursday and Friday with friends at Welland.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Zimmerman, of Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Putnam, of Spring Creek, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Nelson on Sunday and Monday last.

Mr. W. Southward, of Beamsville, called on relatives here on Monday last.

Mrs. M. Merritt of Fultou, spent Monday with Mrs. J. Lammman.

Mrs. A. Lammman and baby, Kenneth, spent Thursday of last week with Mrs. C. Teeter, of Kimbo.

Mrs. W. Merritt and son, Dennis, visited Mr. and Mrs. E. Teet, of Winslow, on Sunday last.

Kelvin

This section is having an early winter. It has been real winter weather lately.

Mr. G. W. Weaver purposes having an auction sale of his farm stock and implements in the near future.

A few relatives spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Charles Almas, of this place.

Several from this vicinity attended Mr. R. W. Watson's auction sale of farm stock and implements at Mount Vernon on Tuesday last.

Many attended church here on Sunday.

Rev. T. R. and Mrs. Clarke spent Monday evening in Northfield Centre.

The cheese factory will close at an early date.

Mrs. Sovereign has returned to her home after spending a few days with her sister, here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Jarvis spent Sunday with the latter's brother.

Quite a number from here spent Saturday in the Telephone City.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church met on Tuesday last at the home of Mrs. Clarence Crabb.

York

Mr. Oscar and Mrs. Wickett, of Hamilton, are spending a few days with the former's parents here.

Mrs. M. Runchy spent Thanksgiving with her daughter in Hamilton and Toronto.

Mrs. E. Baker was the guest of Mrs. E. Moore last week.

Miss Jennie Renshaw spent Friday with the Misses Martindale, Fair View farm, Ontario.

Mr. Arthur and Mrs. Smith, Grand View farm, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. Bradt.

The weather being wet and cold is making it disagreeable and slow for the farmers getting out their potatoes and root crops.

The annual Thanksgiving dinners were held in St. John's Sunday School hall on Friday night, Oct. 29th. A good programme was given by a number of Cayugaites to a large and appreciative audience. All did ample justice to the fine dinner gotten up, as usual, by the ladies of the Auxiliary.

Mr. L. Bradt, Cloverhill, left on Friday to attend the funeral of his cousin, Mrs. John Stitzinger (see Mary Hans).

FOR WIDE OPEN TOWN.

San Francisco, Nov. 3.-After three years of reform government, which followed the bribery graft disclosures in the Neuf and Schmidt union labor demonstration in 1906-07, San Francisco yesterday again chose union labor administration by electing P. McCarthy mayor, and Charles M. Fickert district attorney.

Opposed to Fickert was Francis J. Heney, who for three years has conducted the bribery graft prosecutions. Mr. Heney's defeat was decisive, his vote running behind that of W. H. Crocker, Republican, for Mayor, and that of Dr. T. W. B. Leland, Democrat.

Continuance of the graft prosecutions was the dominant issue. Mr. Heney promised, if elected, to carry it on with unabated vigor. Mr. Fickert asserts that he will prosecute only such of these cases as can probably be carried to a successful result.

The opposition to McCarthy rallied round the statement made from the stump that if elected he would make San Francisco the "Paris of America." This declaration was seized upon as meaning he would stand for a return to the "wide open town."

Shortly after midnight Francis J. Heney, conceding his defeat, said: "The first battle for 'Equality before the law' has been fought and lost, but the war against graft will continue to be waged by all true soldiers, who have been fighting with me in the great cause of common honesty, common decency and civic righteousness.

"We have been defeated in this election, but the sober moral sense of the community will again reassert itself and San Francisco will vindicate herself before the world. I retract nothing I have said during the recent campaign. I have no regrets except for poor San Francisco and the many thousands of people who were shouldered to shoulder with me in the good fight."

DEMOCRATS IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Nov. 3.-The Democrats of Massachusetts were more gratified in looking to-day than yesterday's election, for while the latter succeeded in keeping Gov. Eben S. Draper and the balance of the State ticket in their present positions, their victory by a margin of 8,000 votes in a total of 370,000 was too close for comfort.

MAKING BUTTER ON THE FARM.

Good Cows, Good Care, and Good Feed Essential to Success.

(By Edgar L. Vincent in Canadian Farmer.)

There are many farmers who are not quite satisfied with the butter they make. They want to know how to make better butter, how to store it more safely while it is on their hands and how to market it to better advantage.

One thing is sure; that is, to make the best butter one should have a knack for it. It may safely be said that many farmer folks do not really know whether their butter is strictly first class or not.

What these people might well do would be to submit a sample of their butter to a good honest man who will tell them frankly how their butter would rate in the hands of an expert.

LOOK AFTER THE COWS. Knowing one's weak points, then we may turn attention to our cows. Are they the best possible for our purpose? Here again we are often handicapped.

But you may take the best of cows and keep them in unsanitary quarters, and little can be expected in the way of encouraging results. There is a marked upward trend in this respect all over the land.

How many herds of cows on the average farm do you think are groomed every day? It is my good fortune to own a farm in the midst of an intelligent dairy community.

And then there are many little things which work against the best making of butter on the ordinary farm. So much has been said about cleanliness that many farmers pass it by lightly.

PURE WATER. Pure water for washing utensils and rinsing butter is another thing of importance. The well water of many farms is far from pure.

CARE OF BUTTER. When it comes to the care of butter itself, a few things are worth thinking about. One is that no hand should ever touch cream or butter.

REPORTER IN VAUDEVILLE.

How Lew Donnelly, Now at Bennet's Broke In.

There's a newspaper reporter at Bennet's this week. Lew Donnelly, formerly reporter on the Philadelphia Ledger and New York Sun, did not go into the business behind the footlights voluntarily, it might be said.

All had told some of their experiences in their various professions. Lew Donnelly, so he was asked to tell some of his. He cheerfully complied, and for half an hour told of many of the experiences incidental to every reporter's life.

It was all right to tell stories in the club in an offhand way, but to do it on the stage before a critical audience, well, the thought of it gave the reporter cold feet.

So he was wanted after that first turn there. He did not want off to Philadelphia in the morning, and when the time arrived he made his appearance at the house he was billed for.

Through his knees shook he got through, and made good. Before that week was over he had engagements in his pockets for 36 weeks ahead, and last summer refused a six weeks' engagement at the Palace Theatre in London, Eng., which is the largest and best of its kind there.

OF A NOTED FAMILY.

Emily Stevens, who plays the principal woman's part with George Arliss, in "Septimus," is a member of the famous Madden family, and a cousin of Mrs. Fiske.

A HIT AT BENNET'S.

An act that received only casual mention in the advance notices, and promised to be nothing more than an average number, is proving one of the hits of the Bennett bill this week.

"BEVERLY."

Lovers of the clean, wholesome, well-welcome George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly" at the Grand tomorrow evening. It is the story of an American girl in a European principality where she meddles in those things which she should not, and succeeds in interfering in affairs of state, of which she knows little or nothing.

"THE WOLF."

Sam S. and Lee Shubert's production of "The Wolf" is a drama of the Hudson Bay country, comes to the Grand on Friday and Saturday of next week.

"THE BARRIER."

"The Barrier," the attraction at the Grand Friday and Saturday, promises an unusual dramatic treat. The cast is one of the strongest that will be offered to Hamilton theatregoers this season.

EBENEZER.

Mr. McMurdo Continues Addresses at New Mission.

The unfavorable weather made no noticeable difference in the attendance at Ebenezer Hall last evening. Mr. McMurdo appears to have won his way in to the hearts of the people in the east.

THROWN OFF.

Ottawa Man Refused to Give Extra Car Ticket For Parcel.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—A writ launching a very interesting case will be issued on behalf of Mr. David Rotkin against the Ottawa Electric Railway Company.

Rotkin claims that he got on the street car on Gladstone avenue with a parcel in his hands. He put his ticket into the box, and then the conductor told him that he had to put in another ticket because the parcel was so large.

He refused, and to use the plaintiff's own terms: "He grabbed me by the whiskers and threw me out."

He is suing for $500 damages.

MAN-HUNT.

The North of England Shocked by Brutal Murder.

Stalybridge, Eng., Nov. 2.—The entire County of Cheshire is engaged today in a man-hunt for the murderer of G. H. Storms, who was stabbed to death in his home, Gors Hall, in Dunkinfield, last evening.

Storms was one of the most prominent men of the North of England, and his friends have sworn to see that his murderer is caught and punished.

The murderer broke into Gors Hall and the servants hurried for help. When they returned they found their master stabbed to death, evidently in a struggle with the intruder.

QUITTS MINISTRY.

Brother-in-Law of James Robinson Feels the Disgrace.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—The Ottawa Presbytery to-day accepted the resignation of Rev. Peter Mathieson, of Richmond, Ontario. He arrested his brother-in-law, James Robinson, of Warren, and is running the farm where the murders took place. He resigned partly for this purpose, and partly because of the disgrace ensuing on his name through his brother-in-law's crimes.

GAYNOR ELECTED.

New York, Nov. 2.—William J. Gaynor has been elected Mayor of New York by a plurality approximating 75,000.

The indications at midnight are that he will be alone in his own particular kind of political glory in the

OTTO BANNARD. Defeated Republican candidate for Mayor of New York.

Board of Estimate and Apportionment, which spends the city's money.

In the next four years New York will spend approximately a billion dollars. That money will be spent under the direction and by the votes of a board made up of a Tammany Mayor, a Republican and Fusion president of the Board of Aldermen, a Republican and Fusion comptroller, possibly a Republican and Fusion president of the Borough of Manhattan, Republican and Fusion presidents of the Boroughs of Brooklyn, the Bronx and Queens, and possibly a Republican and Fusion president of the Borough of Richmond.

REFORMERS BEATEN.

Throughout the Union to-day the general result was such as to give no encouragement to municipal reformers. In almost every place where that was made a pronounced issue the verdict was on the side of the machine. Judge Gaynor, the Tammany candidate, carried New York by 70,000 plurality over Bannard, the Republican-Fusionist, who in turn was 25,000 ahead of W. R. Hearst. Despite President Taft's attitude of hostility toward the Cox machine in Cincinnati, that organization won out; the reformers were whipped out of their boots in Philadelphia; the labor organizations that elected Schmitz in San Francisco are again victorious, and Henry, the militant reformer of California, is apparently thoroughly tamed. The Fingy Connors machine wins in Buffalo, and the Barnes machine in Albany.

About the only gleam of hope for municipal reformers is to be found in the Indianapolis election, where Gauss, the Democratic candidate, was defeated by Lewis Shank. The brewers and the liquor interests generally are said to have spent money like water to elect Gauss, and Thomas Taggart worked for him.

There were only three elections for Governor yesterday—in Rhode Island, Virginia and Massachusetts. The Republicans carried Rhode Island and Massachusetts, and the Democrats, as usual, won in Virginia. Governor Abram J. Pothier is re-elected in Rhode Island, over Oliver Arnold by a plurality of at least 5,000. Judge William Hedges Mann is elected Governor of Virginia to succeed Claude A. Swanson, after a campaign of unusual bitterness. The Republican candidate was Captain William P. Kent, and toward the close of the contest attacks affecting Kent's integrity were made by Congressman Glass and Governor Swanson.

The centre of interest in Maryland was the constitutional amendment disfranchising the bulk of the negro population. This amendment has been beaten, as a similar amendment was four years ago, but by a smaller majority.

The chief interest outside of New York, however, centred not on these State contests, but on the many municipal elections throughout the Union. Of these the liveliest was in Cleveland, where Mayor Tom L. Johnson has at last met his Waterloo. But in this election Johnson, opposed by a candidate without half Burton's renown—Herman

JUDGE GAYNOR, New York's new Tammany Mayor.

C. Baehr—has been defeated. He concedes Baehr's election by 1,500. In Louisville there was a bitter campaign, the counterpart of that in New York, and the result indicates the election of W. O. Head, the Democratic candidate.

The American or anti-Mormon candidate in Salt Lake City, Mayor J. S. Bransford, has been re-elected. This, however, is largely due to the failure of the opposition to pull through a successful fusion.

The only result of national significance in Massachusetts, where the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill was a prominent issue. Ex-State Senator Vahey, the Democratic candidate for Governor, loses about 10,000, after running heavily in Boston. Gov. Draper's small plurality is still 60,000 last time—is taken as a strong indication of the attitude of Massachusetts toward the tariff bill in the Congressional election next year.

WHO GAYNOR IS.

William J. Gaynor, lawyer, fifty-eight years old, educated at Whitestone (N. Y.) Seminary, in Boston, and for a brief time under the Christian Brothers; taught school in Boston, studied law in Utica; in 1872 moved to Brooklyn, where he did newspaper work and continued law studies; in 1875 admitted to the bar in Kings county; conducted crusade in Flatbush against liquor saloons, running without license, which resulted in victory of reform ticket; as police commissioner of Flatbush, closed illegal road houses on Ocean Parkway, by taxpayer's suit stopped Hugh McLaughlin ring's effort to sell to Brooklyn the Long Island Water Company for nearly $1,000,000 more than city finally paid for it; by taxpayer's suit forced Brooklyn elevated railway to pay about $1,000,000 back taxes; continued to fight the McLaughlin city officials; in 1893 nominated by Republicans and Independent Democrats of Brooklyn for supreme court and elected; instrumental in having John Y. McKane, boss of Cox Island, sent to Sing-Sing for ballot-box stuffing, thereby driving McLaughlin ring from power; in 1894 declined nomination for Governor from Democrats.

LIKES CANUCKS.

Lord Beresford Talks of Britain and Canadian Canals.

London, Nov. 2.—Speaking at the Royal Colonial Institute to-night Lord Charles Beresford said the future was black, and Britain could only hold her own by keeping her supremacy at sea. The rivalry of the empire should be interchangeable and should have the same discipline and uniform signals. He found the Canadians strong, healthy, cheery, energetic; the best specimens of the British race he had ever seen. The loyalty of the Canadians was unbounded. Their energy was splendid. They could very well have sat still on the question of defence, for they could shelter themselves behind the Monroe doctrine. But they are too proud an offshoot of the old stock to do that. They determined to defend their trade routes. Having allied to the excellent feeling prevailing between Canada and the United States, Admiral Beresford declared the nation should not talk of having a fleet that could win a battle. It should rather aim at having such an empire fleet as nobody could attack at all.

Refused to Pass Resolution Condemning Bridge.

To Meet in Quebec—New Superintendents—Dr. Pringle on Vice.

St. John, N. B., Nov. 2.—The Dominion W. C. T. U. decided to-day to meet in Quebec next year. Superintendents were appointed as follows: Peace and arbitration, Mrs. Chesley, Ontario; scientific temperance instruction, Mrs. Spofford, British Columbia; health and heredity, Dr. L. E. Skinner, Toronto; medical temperance, Miss Richardson, Montreal; evangelistic, Mrs. A. Gordon, foreign work, Mrs. S. J. Craig, Alberta; exhibitions and fairs, Mrs. Rugg, Sherbrooke; unfurnished wine, Mrs. Hazen, Ontario; raftmen and lumbermen, Mrs. Hillborn, Toronto; legislation and petitions, Mrs. J. Geggie, Quebec; equal franchise and Christian citizenship, Mrs. O. C. Edwards, Alberta; parlour meetings, Mrs. Thompson, Quebec; flowers, fruit and delicious mission, Miss Harris, Ontario; Sunday schools, Mrs. I. H. Bullock, St. John; juvenile and bands of mercy, Mrs. MacLachlan, Hamilton; sailors, fishermen and lighthouse-keepers, Mrs. Whitman, Nova Scotia; soldiers and militia, Mrs. E. E. Starr, Ontario; anti-narcotics, Mrs. E. B. Johnston, Barrie; press, Mrs. N. B. Johnston, Barrie; railway employes, Mrs. J. B. Archibald, Halifax; prison reform and police stations, Mrs. S. A. Jones, Quebec; Lord's Day observance, Mrs. Fraser, New Brunswick; World's W. C. T. U. missionary work, Mrs. Sanderson, Quebec; school methods, Mrs. Thornley, Ontario; systematic giving, Mrs. S. H. Black, Nova Scotia; school savings banks, Mrs. McGregor, Nova Scotia; literature depository, Mrs. Bascom, Toronto; work among young people's societies, Mrs. Newton, Ontario; curling ball, Mrs. McKee, Barrie; medal contests, Mrs. John Ewing, Quebec; work among the blind and people, Mrs. Livingston, Ontario; auditor, Mrs. S. D. Scott, St. John; auditor for literary depository, Mrs. Fletcher, Toronto; convener of plan of work, Mrs. Sanderson, Quebec; convener of resolutions, Mrs. S. G. E. McKee, Ontario.

Quite a breeze was caused by the reading of a resolution submitted by Miss Archibald asking the convention to go on record as condemning bridge whist.

Scarcely had the Secretary finished the reading of the resolution when a Quebec delegate moved as an amendment that no action be taken on the matter. The W. C. T. U. she contended, was banded together to fight the liquor traffic, and had no right to give opinions on social questions like that. For herself, she declared she did not play cards, nor did she approve of it, but she knew many people who were as good as if not better than she who saw no harm in a game of cards.

At this point the President asked Miss Archibald if she would not withdraw her resolution. This, however, she refused to do. She had been approached since coming to St. John by several ladies who had asked her to introduce the resolution. The convention, she held, should declare itself on any question of social reform. If this was not the case, why had the members passed resolutions condemning the white slave traffic and the opium traffic?

Mrs. Currie rose to protest against classing bridge or cards with such evils as the liquor traffic or the white slave traffic.

Miss Archibald—Well, one leads to the other. Another delegate described bridge as a form of narcotic, by which some women got intoxicated and neglected their homes.

The convention finally declined to condemn bridge whist.

This evening Rev. Dr. Pringle, addressing the convention, repeated his charges regarding vice in the Yukon.

Miss Elimeer Smith, of Nova Scotia, was elected "R." Secretary; Mrs. Ada H. McLachlan, of Hamilton, L. Y. L. Secretary, and Mrs. A. S. A. Gordon, of Ottawa, editor of the Bulletin. Mrs. S. S. Jones, of Quebec, was appointed delegate to a world's convention on prison work to be held in Washington.

Recommendations for police matrons and other matters tending to the better care of women prisoners were made.

KILLS HER FATHER.

Did It, She Says, to Save Her Mother's Life.

Melbourne, Nov. 1.—Giving evidence at an inquest on her father at Braidwood, New South Wales, a 13-year-old girl named Maggie Lambie made the following statement:
"Father, mother and I were in the kitchen about 7 o'clock. Father said he would kill mother, and threatened to throw a log at her. Mother said she would send for the constable, and father said: 'I'll kill you before I've done with you.'"
"I really thought he would, too, by the look in his eyes. I then turned round to my mother and said: 'I'll kill you, too.' I asked him if he meant it. He replied: 'You'll see before the night is out.' 'No, you won't,' I said, and ran away."
"I got the gun and put a cartridge in it and poked it through the window, then fired. 'Father,' I said, 'running back into the house, 'I did it. It was me; I did it.'"
"Father was standing there. 'Why?' he asked. I did not answer. 'I won't tell any one,' he said; 'you did it to save mother.' Then he fell. He said: 'I forgive you, Maggie, and hope God will, too.'"
"I did not wish to hurt him; I only did it to save mother.' The confession was voluntary, and the girl was committed for trial.

"My boy brand as they would a steer on the western range, in the initiation ceremony of the School of Mines by a fraternity, impels me to cry out to mothers, and demand that such a barbarous practice in a civilized country come to an abrupt end." This statement was made by Mrs. J. A. Snedaker when she brought her son, Eugene Snedaker, 19 years of age, student at the school, to Denver.

The first sod on the new Canadian Northern Railway in Durham county was turned yesterday morning at Starkville by Miss Agnes Ferguson, daughter of Robert Ferguson.

STEPS ON DICE.

Negro Kicks Civil War Veteran to Death at Terre Haute, Ind.

Police Head Fears If Accused Man is Found Mob Will Act.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 2.—Arthur Smith, an aged civil war veteran and known to many as "Dad," was kicked to death here to-day by a negro, because he accidentally stepped on a dice while walking by a place where a number of negroes were engaged in a game of craps.

Sam Swope, a giant negro, who is alleged to have killed Smith, fled after the crime.

Harvey V. Jones, police superintendent, has taken precautions to prevent Swope falling into the hands of a mob, in case he is found, because many threats have been made that he will be lynched.

Within a few minutes after Smith had been killed news of the affair spread rapidly, and in addition to a force of police several hundred citizens engaged in the pursuit after the negro.

The countryside for miles about the city was carefully searched. Brush piles were even beaten in a belief that the pursued man had sought to hide in the hope that the mob would pass by him and that he could remain concealed until night.

Policeman Smock, who was mounted on a bicycle, patrolled the road in the vicinity of the county poor asylum. He caught sight of Swope crouching near a haystack and hastened after him. The negro managed to keep himself out of range of the patrolman by running in a line with the haystack until he came to some heavy woods. All trace of him was lost here.

Swope came to Terre Haute from Henderson, Ky. He had been employed at the Modes Turner Glass Works and had been arraigned in the police court several times.

WON'T HANG.

Government Clemency in Mrs. Robinson's Case.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Robinson, the unfortunate woman under sentence to be hanged at Sudbury three weeks hence for the murder of the infants of her daughters, will not have to suffer the death penalty. This much has already been decided after a review of the evidence and the circumstances of the case by the Minister of Justice. It is very doubtful, however, if the Cabinet Council will see its way clear to grant a full pardon. There is no precedent for such a course in the history of the Dominion. In the only similar instance where sentence of death on a woman was commuted some years ago to a limited term of imprisonment the term was made fourteen years, and she was liberated after serving seven years.

The case is clearly one of murder, and even though the circumstances all cry for mercy, it is doubtful if under the criminal code a full pardon can be granted. The matter will come before the Cabinet this week for consideration. Meanwhile the flood of petitions for clemency and pardon pouring into the Department of Justice is unnumbered. It is estimated that over one hundred and fifty thousand persons have already been heard from. All sections of Canada, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, are represented, and many letters are being received from the United States. Some of the petitioners couch their prayer for mercy in original poetry, others write essays or distribute on the various aspects of the case.

CUT OFF HEADS.

Didn't Want to Suicide and Leave Them Without Sustenance.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 2.—Neighbors who broke in the door of Daniel Schoke's house at Pine Grove to-day found that Schoke had cut off the heads of his wife and two-year-old daughter with a knife, and then committed suicide by shooting himself. He was 55 years old and a butcher.

In a note Schoke said he was not being fairly treated, and that he did not want to leave his wife and daughter to their own resources after he was dead.

About a week ago he got up during the night and went downstairs and sharpened the butcher knife with the intention of killing himself, but his nerve failed him. When he told his wife next day, she exclaimed: "What would I do then?" This remark is supposed to have inspired the double murder in addition to the suicide.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got Dr. H. W. Merron to treat me. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $34 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."

KELLY'S DEATH.

Smith Brothers Guilty of Causing Bodily Harm.

They Will Likely Get Off With a Light Sentence.

Barrie, Nov. 2.—Guilty of unlawfully inflicting grievous bodily harm on the late Michael Kelly was the verdict returned by a jury after three hours' deliberation in the case of William and James Smith, who were tried on a charge of manslaughter before Sir Wm. On Sunday, June 27 last, Michael Kelly, an aged man, stopped the Smith Bros., as they were driving past his house, and began a quarrel over an impounded cow, which ended in the Smiths striking him. He died during the night.

LARGE PLANS FOR 1910 STREET WORK.

Board of Works Approves of Street Railway Specifications and Good Road Estimates.

Mr. W. D. Flatt to Build Incline in West End—Removal of Gore Park Fence.

The Board of Works last night approved of the specifications under which the Street Railway reconstruction work will be proceeded with next year, and forwarded to the Council a recommendation that a good roads by-law be submitted in January, providing for an expenditure of $200,000.

In connection with the street railway plan, Manager Coleman wrote stating that the arrangement must not be considered final until the company submits the specifications to its financial backers. The company also stipulates that it shall not be charged with the initial cost of creosote block in the work to be done next year.

THE SPECIFICATIONS.

The specifications approved of are as follows: The streets where new tracks will be laid are: York street, Queen street to cemetery chapel. James street, Barton street to the Bay. Locke street, Main street to Herkimer street. King street west, Bay street to Margaret.

1. It is agreed that the specifications for Herkimer street, from Queen to James street, are to be the same in every respect as those adopted for tracks, which were laid on James street and Barton street in 1909.

2. The Street Railway Company is to pay the entire cost of replacing the present kind of pavements on James street, from Stuart to Barton street, after track laying operations are completed (cost of asphalt to be fixed at $1.25 per superficial square yard, and in case wood blocks are adopted, the company shall contribute at the rate of $1.75 per superficial square yard).

3. The space between the outer rails, 15 feet wide, is to be concreted by the company so as to provide a five-inch base for the pavement surface. The top of the concrete base to be for brick five and a quarter inches below the lip or head of the rail and for wood blocks three and a half inches below the lip or head of the rail, as the case may be.

4. All concreting specified herein shall be done by the company, but the city is to pay for the concrete base fifteen feet wide, specified in clause 3, on all streets with the exception of James street from Barton street to Stuart street, at cost, provided, however, that the cost to the city for this concrete work shall not in any case exceed 54 cents per superficial square yard.

5. The pavement removed outside the outer rails in all cases is to be restored in concrete by the company at the company's expense to a depth provided for the different pavements in clause 3 hereof.

6. The concrete herein provided for shall be mixed in the proportions of one of cement, three of sand and five of broken stone. The city will engineer, he said, would be satisfactory.

7. The city will provide the company with suitable broken stone for all the concrete work at the price charged in 1909, namely, $2.80 per load of sixty-four feet delivered as required.

8. It is the intention that in all reconstructed tracks the devil strip shall be five feet wide, and the company is to be permitted to widen the devil strip to five feet on the following portions of streets, on restoring the existing pavements, namely: King street, from Hughson to Bay street.

Margaret, from King to Main street. Main, from Locke to Margaret street. Stuart, from James to Caroline. Guide, from James to John street. York, from James to Queen street.

9. The ties shall be placed five feet apart, and shall be in all cases at right angles to the rails.

10. Steel ties shall be placed ten feet apart, and the construction shall be similar to that relating to King street east, James street and Barton street, with the exception that the rails are to be seven inches in height and about eighty pounds in weight per yard, with concrete work of corresponding dimensions, but in all cases steel ties shall be placed under joints of rails and properly fastened by approved clip fastenings.

11. All surplus earth and refuse materials excavated for track work shall be removed at the expense of the company.

12. The pavement is to be laid so that the tread of the rail shall be from one-eighth to one-quarter inch above the adjacent pavement, and no part of the pavement shall be above the tread of the rail.

13. The cost of removing the material to the extent that would be needed to put in pavement, did not tracks exist, shall be borne by the city and the company in the proportion of one-half cost to each, and the material suitable for road making shall be hauled to a distance not exceeding three-quarters of a mile as directed by the city authorities.

14. It shall be the duty of the company on all work covered by clause 13 to keep separate earth and refuse materials for road making, and care must be taken not to mix this with refuse material or earth.

15. The city is to supply water free for the purpose of concrete mixing specified above.

16. The city is to supply the necessary levels free of cost to the company.

17. Track grades are to be installed where necessary, the cost of same being divided 75 per cent. to the company and 25 per cent. to the city.

18. In connection with the good roads programme Ald. Robson wanted Wellington or Wentworth street included in the list, and said he would bring the matter up in the Council.

Chairman Allan said that if a by-law was submitted for more than $200,000 it would be defeated. He pointed out that if the city continued making new streets for the next two years, the same as it did last year, there would be no need to resort to local improvement, there would be so many permanent pavements.

This is how it is proposed to spend the money:

CATARACT ACCOUNTS.

The accounts rendered by the Cataract Company under the celebrated contract, passed by last year's Council, and which the city refuses to recognize, were referred to the City Solicitor.

"We should take a stand one way or the other," advised Mr. Waddell, "and pay for the quarry power under the 1905 contract."

"That is what we have been doing," said the Chairman.

WEST END INCLINE.

Walter T. Evans appeared on behalf of W. D. Flatt, who wants to build an incline up the mountain at the head of Garth street. If the committee would give him an assurance, he said, that his client could secure a right-of-way, plans would be prepared at once.

"We have both the city and the township to deal with," he said, "and we must advance so far with each before we can do anything."

An assurance that the right-of-way would be granted by the city on condition that the plans and specifications were approved of by the city engineer, he said, would be satisfactory.

The scheme, he said, was to cut away part of the slope and have a vertical lift. If necessary a bridge will be erected at the top, as an approach to the mountain top.

Ald. Jutten thought if the concession was granted Mr. Flatt should undertake to maintain the steps.

Mr. Evans pointed out that the mountain top was not populated at the present time and the investment was not likely to pay for some years. The street is sixty-six feet wide at this point, and Mr. Evans said about two-thirds of this would be required. His client, he said, was anxious to proceed with the scheme at once.

The matter was referred to a sub-committee and the engineer.

THE GORE FENCE.

In connection with the proposal to remove the iron fence around Gore Park, Chairman Bruce and Commissioner Lees of the Parks Board, asked the committee to consider the question of replacing it with a cement curbing, at a cost of about $700.

"Of course, you won't expect us to pay all the cost," suggested Chairman Allan.

"No, we can confer about that," said Chairman Bruce.

Mr. Lees thought the present curbing would do for a foundation, but Secretary Brennan thought it was impracticable.

THE TIMES AREA.

On behalf of the Times, Kiwan Martin, K. C., asked the city to waive its demand that the company give a lien on its land to hold itself liable for any action for damages in connection with the area, under the new alley, west of the Times building. The company, he said, was quite willing to have the annual charge for maintenance and repairs made against the lands, also the guarantee to fill in the area, when ordered to do so by the city. It was quite willing to hold itself liable for accidents, but did not want, what practically amounted to a blanket mortgage on its property, because of the difficulty that might arise in the event of fire if the company found it necessary to raise money on its lands. This would be almost impossible if actions for amounts, that could not be ascertained, were pending against the company. The property is entirely free from encumbrance at present. The matter of repairs and so forth, he pointed out, would be under the complete control of the City Engineer, and the danger of accidents was remote. The city solicitor will report at the next meeting.

OTHER MATTERS.

The F. W. Bird Company will be permitted to cross Whitfield avenue from the T. H. & B. spur to the Beach road, the company accepting the engineer's plan for a three per cent. grade. This was the matter over which the company threatened to move to Quebec.

The city will build a snow fence on the heights near the High Level bridge, as requested by the Township of Beverley, Nelson and the Farmers. It will cost about $200. The townships will have to build a trough for watering horses near the Valley Inn.

The construction of a cement walk on Barton street, between Sherman avenue and Lottridge street, will be advertised.

DISPUTE OVER POLES.

The city and the Cataract Power Company are into a tangle over pole rental. Last year the company paid $1 each for 425 poles. It is only obliged to pay for pole carrying power wires, not used for street lighting. The company sent a cheque for $145 this year, and explained that through a mistake it paid too much last year. The city returned the cheque, and deducted $425, the same amount as paid last year, from an account it owed the company. Secretary Brennan will try and straighten the matter out with the company.

PRESBYTERY TAKES STAND

Against Gambling and Immorality—Resignation Accepted.

At the afternoon meeting of the Hamilton Presbytery held in Knox Church school room yesterday, the resignation of Rev. John Crawford, Niagara Falls, was carefully considered, and after some discussion was accepted with regret.

Mr. Crawford said that when he received the call to his present church, years ago, there were certain facts which were not made known to him, and after laboring to the best of his ability he had decided to tender his resignation. Various members of the Presbytery said they had been much surprised when they heard that Mr. Crawford was having difficulty with his congregation, but under the present circumstances there was nothing to do but to accept his resignation. The Presbytery decided to do so, and it will take effect at the end of this month.

A committee, consisting of Rev. Dr. Radcliffe, Rev. Dr. Smith and Rev. A. F. McGregor, was appointed to prepare a resolution to express the Presbytery's appreciation of Mr. Crawford's long service. Rev. J. L. Campbell, St. David's, was appointed interim moderator, with instruction to declare the charge vacant at the end of this month.

Rev. Mr. Crawford leaves at the end of this year for Glasgow and Edinburgh, where he will enter upon post-graduate work. The resignation of Rev. J. W. McLeod, Thorold, who was leaving the country, was taken up on, there being no opposition, it was accepted. Rev. Dr. Ross was appointed interim moderator to declare the charge open after the last day of November.

A long discussion took place regarding the ordination of G. M. Dicks, who had expected to be ordained at this meeting of the Presbytery. It was decided to hold it on Nov. 16. Rev. Dr. S. Lyle will deliver the charge to him. He will have charge of Port Colborne church.

A committee, consisting of Rev. W. J. Dey, convener, Rev. Dr. Wells and Rev. J. A. Wilson, was appointed to consider the proposition of amalgamating the Sunday school and Young People's Society.

Rev. Dr. Radcliffe and Rev. D. R. Drummond composed a committee appointed to consider the reports sent by the General Assembly, dealing with the appendix to the rolls of the Presbytery, statistical forms and the plan for supplying vacancies. They will report at the next meeting, to be held in January.

The following resolution was presented by Rev. John Young and seconded by Rev. Dr. Dey: "That this court approve of the commission sent out by the Assembly's committee on moral and social reform, asking for amendments to the criminal code with a view to discouraging gambling and adultery, and to urge the securing of as many signatures as possible by various members of this Presbytery in their respective congregations."

The resolution was carried unanimously.

THE ROAD OF THE FUTURE.

All road builders are now engaged in trying to devise a road which will stand motor traffic. Many new methods have been tried, with varying degrees of success, but none of them seems to be perfectly satisfactory.

If broken stone is to form the wearing surface, then some means must be found to hold the binding particles so firmly that they cannot be sucked out and sufficient strength must be given to the mass to enable it to withstand the sliding action of the wheels at bends and turns. Several kinds of tar macadam answer fairly well, but they are expensive.

It seems to me that the most promising kind of road for heavy automobile traffic is what is called Durax in England. It is a pavement of three-inch irregular cubes of hard stone, laid in small segments of circles. These stones can be cut by machinery, and are comparatively inexpensive; they are laid without grout, but there seems to be no reason for its omission except the cost. Great quantities of this kind of pavement have been laid in Germany.

THE SOCIAL EVIL.

To the Editor of the Times: "Sir,—In June of this year the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, which met in our city, unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

"Whereas, the Assembly has learned with surprise that 'habitués, open and notorious adulterers and habitual, open and notorious lewd cohabitators' are not unlawful in the present state of the Criminal Code of Canada;

"Therefore the Assembly would respectfully urge the Government to ask Parliament to amend the Code so as to protect Canadian society and morals against this grave peril;

"The necessity for this amendment is proven by the case recently before the courts in our city, regarding which our Magistrate is reported to have said in an emphatic tone: 'I hope the other (higher) court will find some law to enable it to punish such scoundrels as these.'"

But, alas! our Creator's commandment as recorded in Exodus xii. 14 is not on the statute of Christian Canada! Under which the charge of "procuring girls for immoral purposes" could promptly be changed to that of "adultery"—the original punishment for which was stoning of both man and woman to death. Christ later revealed forgiveness for a repentant sinner, and it is not condoning the sin, rather emphasizing it, showing how, before the Searcher of hearts, the guilt began with the intent. Matt. v. 28. Is not the lack of such a law with suitable enforcement at the root of the awful 'white slavery' of to-day?"

In this case our authorities have done their duty; now it rests with every individual Christian voter in Canada to do his duty, and through his Church render aid as possible to the Moral and Social Reform Committees of the various denominations—towards moral safety for the sons and daughters of Canada, and thus redeeming the name of Christian civilization before the heathen nations of the earth. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, "For a Better Canada."

The date of the by-election in North Essex has been changed from November 10th to November 11th, owing to representations received from the returning officer that another day was necessary to complete arrangements for holding the election.

GREAT RUSH FOR RESERVED SEATS THIS A. M.

New Stand May be Erected at East End of Grounds to Accommodate the Fans—Jungle Terrors Are in Great Condition.

Rooters' Club Will be Formed

Meeting Held on Thursday Night at Ramblers Club

ROOT-HOG-OR-DIE Will be the motto of the Rooters' Club which will be organized on Thursday night at the Ramblers' Club, under the leadership of Fred Murphy.

A strong bunch of rooters is of inestimable value to a team, especially in a hard battle. The game on Saturday will be no parlor affair, but with the assistance of the Rooters' Club, the Tigers should defeat the Rough Riders by a fair sized margin.

The Imperial Musicians, who are making such a hit at Bennett's this week, will look after the instrumental end of the programme.

Two men were electrocuted and another one seriously injured in an accident which happened at Chamblay, Que., on Tuesday.

That the Tigers were never in better condition is the opinion held by several of the experts who saw them play in Montreal last Saturday.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

The man who said that Jeffries and Johnson wouldn't fight still has a chance. They're not in the ring yet.

Skene may confine himself to the half-mile distance next season.

Isn't Jeffries the reckless man in money matters? First he demands winner take all and a $20,000 side bet for his fight with Johnson, and then turns down an $80,000 offer to go on the stage.

Jockey Shilling or ex-jockey as he now is, has been held without bail on the charge of stabbing his employer, R. E. Thomas. He claims that he acted in self-defence.

We're now ready to forgive Jeff and Johnson for all the talking they have done, but wouldn't it be the last straw if somebody steals the articles and the two principals start off on the theatrical circuit and forget all about their little scuffling date?

Johnson held two red dice in the palm of his right hand while the dining game was going on in the Hotel Albany. But the expected suggestion that he and Jeff roll the ivory for the championship was not forthcoming.

Any young man who bets his carfare on a football game and then sends his way back to his mother should not be turned loose without a chaperon.

Bob Fitzsimmons is on his way to Australia, where he intends to fight the much abused Bill Squires. The Cornishman needs the money and figures that Australia is a better place to get it than either England or America, where fight fans know only too well that he has seen his best days.

The presidents of the leading colleges which maintain football adjutants have no brics to throw at the engaging game. They argue that accidents and fatalities are incidental to all form of athletic sport. Still, they must admit that the eleven youths who lost their lives at football this season did not lose them in any other way.

John L. Sullivan in Pittsburg yesterday was asked about the likelihood of his being chosen referee of the Jeffries-Johnson fight when he replied: "I am not a candidate for referee, but if I am satisfactory to both principals and the club that gets the mill, I will give each man a square deal and see that both fight all the time. I will not accept a penny. I don't believe in paying a referee in a fight. In glove contests remuneration is all right. There is no glory in the referee job for me. I will be remembered long after Jeffries and Johnson are forgotten.

"What do I think about Jeff's chances? Even if I had an opinion you could scarcely expect me to express it when I may be the third man in the ring. But I will tell you something that is not more detrimental to one fighter than to the other. In my day, if a fighter took to this show game while still in harness, or pretended to be in harness, the public would chase him out of town."

Canadians will take an active part in the New York Horse Show that opens next week. Three well known men from this side will act as judges, namely, Robert Graham, of Claremont; Dr. McEachern, of Montreal, and Dr. Andrew Smith, of Toronto.

Toronto will be well represented in the show ring, the following owners being ready to ship to New York: Crow & Murray, George Pepper, Graham Bros., Hodgkinson & Tisdale, and last, but not least, Alex. Minn and his peerless light-weight jumper, Foxglove. Miss L. Wilks, of Galt, and Hon. Adam Beck, of London, are also taking their horses down for the show.

"Can't beat these English jockeys much," said Snapper Garrison to a New York Evening World writer. It was in the World's Fair Derby at Chicago in 1893, when the horses were at the post for one and three-quarter hours. An English jockey, imported to ride one of the entries, didn't understand the rules, and when "Old Pet" let us off the Englishman was standing still. Turning to the starter, he said: "Is it a go?"

"Yes, you blockhead," snapped Pettinelli. "It's a go. Can't you see it is a go?"

"Then I shall be on me blooming way, sir," he said, as he started to whip up his horse, then a quarter of a mile behind the field."

The King still holds second place in the list of winning owners on the English turf, and is likely to finish the season so. His total of more than $100,000, of which Minoru earned about $75,000 in six races, is, however, considerably behind that of Mr. Fairie, who won sixteen races and more than $100,000 with only four horses. This fortunate owner and breeder has in his stable the best three-year-old, and perhaps the best two-year-old of the present season, Bayardo and Lemberg, half-brothers, from the Galopin mare, Galicia. Bayardo alone won about $115,000, though Minoru defeated him in both the Two Thousand and the Derby. The Duke of Portland is third on the winning owners' list, with $75,000 earned by nine horses in fifteen races. Only first money is considered in calculating the winnings of owners in England.

The Kaiser, who maintains a breeding and racing establishment as the King of Prussia, is at the top of the list in Germany and likely to reach the record for an owner in that country. This was made three seasons ago, when the horses of Messrs. Von Weinberg, the Frankfurt bankers, earned about $165,000 in our money. The Weinberg horses were trained by a Canadian, George Walker.

Charges Fraud In Herald Race

St. Catharines Man Says He Saw Substitution Practiced

St. Catharines, Nov. 2.—A St. Catharines man who witnessed the Herald road race in Hamilton, Thanksgiving Day, stated to the Times correspondent today that he is willing to take an affidavit regarding alleged "cooked" work he saw in the race.

"I was standing along the road between Hendrie's Farm and the Valley Inn," he said, "when a certain runner (whose name and number are given) came along. Here the runner was met a buggy carrying another man in running attire, dressed in a similar uniform and numbered identically the same. The fresh man jumped into the race and the man whose place he took was put into the buggy and covered up with blankets. Had I not seen the substitution I would not have believed it. It was in company with a Hamilton man, who remarked at the time on the incident. I am willing to take my affidavit at any time before a Justice of the Peace as to the truthfulness of my statements."

Deputy Commissioner Hogan, of the Street Cleaning Department, however, who was captain of the Yale eleven in 1904, dissented strongly from this view.

"Opening up the game isn't going to decrease fatalities," he said. "It has operated since 1906 to increase accidents, and it will keep on doing so. You cannot legislate against such an accident as the one in which Byrne was hurt. Any sport is likely to afford such instances, but the notoriety that accompanies football is lacking."

"Abolish the forward pass. That is the way to eliminate a good deal of the danger of the game. Byrne was a tackle, and I venture to say that most of the men who are hurt are ends and tackles on the team that has not got the ball."

Yale Daily News: Most accidents have the effect of impelling us all to an absolute condemnation of football. Our emotions are powerfully stirred against the game. We ask ourselves, "Is football worth such a price?" Instinctively we answer "No." But still we know that these accidents are a coincidence—the rare exception. Compared with the vast number who play football, the percentage of fatally injured is extremely

HIGH SCHOOL BOY KILLED.

Robert Millington, aged 17, was manager and halfback of the Pottsville, Pa., High School football team, and while playing against the Shamokin, Pa., High School team on October 2nd, sustained a fatal injury to the head which resulted in his death a few days later. He had been badly kicked in the abdomen, and the attending physicians found, upon examination, that his intestines had been ruptured. An extremely delicate operation was performed, but without success.

HOW ELEVEN WERE KILLED.

The eleven young men who have already lost their lives—gridiron heroes—are in simply ascending order of the term—come from different sections of the United States, for wherever football is played there is danger to be found. Who these eight are, in addition to Cadet Byrne, the latest victim, and how they met their death may be briefly told as follows: Walter Evans, aged 18, was captain and fullback of the Guthrie County High School team at Panora, Ia. In a game on Saturday, October 2nd, with the Yale, Ia., High School team Evans tried to tackle an opposing halfback. The Yale halfback struck him on the head with his knee. Evans was hurled to the Methodist Hospital at Des Moines, where it was found that the fifth, sixth and seventh vertebrae were fractured. An unavailing operation was

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

New York Tribune: Chancellor MacCracken, of New York University, who led the crusade for a reform of the football rules four years ago, said yesterday that, in his judgment, abolition of the game was not called for by the death of Byrne, the West Point player, from injuries received in the game with Harvard on Saturday. Dr. MacCracken said that further modification of the rules, in an effort to make the game less dangerous, might be necessary, and suggested some action this winter.

"I am shocked and grieved to hear of Byrne's death," said the Chancellor, "but I see no reason to abolish so good a game as football. A further revision of the rules making the game more open, I believe to be necessary, and that the Intercollegiate Athletic Association will take some such action I deem certain, and feel sure that the game will be made more open."

Washington, Nov. 3.—The annual football contest between the West Point Cadets and Annapolis midshipmen, which was to have taken place at Philadelphia, Nov. 27th, will not be played this year. Final decision was reached yesterday by the athletic authorities of the naval academy to grant the request of the Superintendent of the Military Academy to cancel the game owing to the death of Cadet Eugene A. Byrne. This decision, which was made known at the Navy Department yesterday, had been postponed in the hope that some way might be found to play the game, which is looked forward to by the entire service of both the army and the navy.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 3.—In the absence of any definite statement from the Harvard University authorities regarding the future of football as a college sport here, the students plucked up courage yesterday and once more turned their thoughts on the annual contest with Yale.

Dean Le Baron Russell Briggs, chairman of the Athletic Committee, in discussing the fatal accident in the West Point game, said: "We feel very bad over the occurrence at the West Point game and we sympathize very heartily with his folks and the academy of which he was a member. Of course there are other sports in which there is great risk of injury and death, and many of these sports are recognized outdoor sports, for example, horseback riding. Not having been at the game at West Point, I am unable to say anything on this particular occurrence, but we all sympathize with the cadet's friends and are sorry that this thing happened."

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—The Ottawa football team did not practice yesterday afternoon on account of rain, but instead the players all gathered at the O. A. C. and went through an hour's work on the signals. The team is not likely to be chosen until Friday evening, but it is now understood that Phillips will be switched back to inside line and that Stuart Christie and Bert Stromach will be the outside wings for Saturday's big game against the Tigers at Hamilton.

Williams had his lame knee wrenched in the match with Argonauts at Toronto, and it was feared that he would have a lay-up week and wait for the saw, which local fans seem to realize is inevitable. To-day, however, Williams was around as spry as a two-year-old. "Am I going to play at Hamilton, well certainly," Williams shouted in response to a query. "I wouldn't miss that game for millions. We're going up there to win the championship."

It will not be known until to-day whether or not McCuaig will go away before next week. He is ticketed, but efforts are being made to have him postpone his trip until next week. If he goes, Sherriff will be used at left scrimmage. President Nagle, who has been attending the injured players, states that they will be all right. He is very optimistic about McCuaig's chances, as the half-back's knee is pulling around nicely.

Dr. Hendry sent word that he would act as referee, and this afternoon a wire to that effect was also received from George Griffith, of Toronto. With such competent men in charge the game is sure to be kept exceptionally clean.

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—T. P. Fitchie, the star forward of the Pilgrims, and one of England's greatest soccer players, broke his ankle in yesterday's game at Haverford with the team of the Associated Cricket Club of Philadelphia. He probably will never be able to play again. Playing with only ten men, the visitors defeated the local players three goals to none.

Toronto Globe: Judged by last Saturday's exhibition at Rosedale the football of the big league is much inferior to the Rugby of a few seasons ago. The tackling was good, but the runnig, dodging and system plays were those of juniors, and no man on either team ever attempted a pass in the whole game. The Argonauts were decidedly the better team for all but about six minutes of the match, and unless the Interprovincial champions show an immense improvement over last Saturday's display here the Dominion championship will be a walkaway for the Intercollegiate representatives. It is not conceivable, though, that such a game as Ottawa played here last week would be anything but a joke for Hamilton.

There is a probability of a couple of changes in the Ottawa team to play at Hamilton Saturday. Davis, McCuaig is not likely to be in good enough shape, and Stuart Christie will probably be kept at right half. Phillips and Stromach are slated to play the outside positions, but there is talk of moving Phillips to inside wing again. Dick McGee and Dr. Sherriff are also strong possibilities for the team. Sherriff replaces McCuaig at left scrimmage, as McCuaig has engaged to go West on business this week.

The condition of Quarter-back Earl Wilson, of the Annapolis Midshipmen, who is suffering from injuries similar to those which killed Cadet Byrne at West Point, remains unchanged to-day, and the surgeons are still hoping that he will improve sufficiently to warrant them in operating in an effort to save his life.

An Ottawa exchange says that Half-back Lawson, of the varsity team, told friends in Ottawa Saturday that next year he would line up with Ottawa, as he proposed to take up his residence in Ottawa after he had finished his course at Varsity this year.

Norcross and Art Kent will both be able to play for the Argos against Montreal next Saturday. Kent had his shoulder knocked out of joint in the

JACK WILL HOLD TITLE FOR YEARS IF JEFFRIES LOSES

Last Chance For Supremacy of the White Race Now Depends on the Big Californian.

That mournful cry of the schoolboy, used so often when playing the game of marbles, "Well, here goes my last law," might approximately be applied to the heavyweight situation, as it pertains to the white and colored races to-day. If the youngster can't win with his last marble, he's "busted." If Jeffries can't defeat Johnson, that "white supremacy" slogan isn't likely to count for much for a long time. Jeff is the last one. He'll have to turn the trick or Johnson is liable to be champion for several years. Little consolation is to be had from the hope that perhaps some strong young fellow will come along and win the title. Heavyweight champions aren't unearthed and developed in a few months. No matter how game, clever and fast a youngster may be he will lack the one great essential, experience, which is another way of spelling generalship.

There is but one way to gain generalship. Learn it in the ring. Knowledge learned in the gymnasium doesn't count for much. You are liable to forget all you know once you get into the ring, are blinded by the lights, note a sea of faces glaring at you, and behold your opponent in the opposite corner snoring and trying to look as fierce as possible. It's like getting stage fright. How often a man will walk out before an audience, have a lump come up in his throat, mumble a few unintelligible words and then make a hasty, disorderly retreat. It wasn't necessarily a lack of gameness that prevented him from putting forth his best efforts. Perhaps if you had tossed him into a drinking den with instructions to "get busy," he might have cleaned up half a dozen of the habitues in as many minutes. He was game all right, but the strange environment got his goat and he was thrown out at first.

JACK WILL HOLD TITLE FOR YEARS IF JEFFRIES LOSES

Last Chance For Supremacy of the White Race Now Depends on the Big Californian.

That harness racing can be made to pay without public betting is the belief of A. J. Welch, the owner of the Readville, Mass., track. He now knows that the entertainment he gave the public at his track this season cost too much money. The $50,000 handicap race was a very costly feature. It drew a large crowd, but it was a losing proposition. Many old-time horsemen do not take to the handicap idea of racing, but Mr. Welch is still firm in the belief that it is the kind of racing that will bring the crowd. But no association can afford to put on a race like the one at Readville last summer without asking grand opera prices, and it is evident that the followers of the harness horses are not educated up to paying them.

HARNESS RACING WITHOUT PUBLIC BETTING.

No More $50,000 Stakes—Big Handicap Event at Readville Was a Losing Proposition—Large Crowd, But Did Not Pay.

Since the close of the racing season at Readville, says a New England exchange, Mr. Welch has been going along with the work of improving the property, and there is no doubt that Readville will be on the map next season, with a Grand Circuit meeting and possibly with a big fair the proposition to form a big New England fair circuit, to be composed of Readville, Hartford, Providence, Brockton and possibly another member, looks like a good idea to horsemen who have raced at the big fairs in their sections of the country. It is a matter of record how successful the Brockton Fair has been. It is true that it is the result of years of good management, but it certainly looks as though equally successful fairs could be held in Boston and in Providence. On the day that the Charter Oak stake was raced this year, it is probable that the largest number of spectators that ever witnessed a trotting race saw the great four-year-old stallion, The Harvester, take the measure of Bob Douglas. The Brockton management hangs up $1,000 and $500 purses, but if it was one of a line of meetings that would give the best horses a chance to race for four or five weeks, it would be possible for the management to give a number of stakes for larger purses, with perhaps one or two $5,000 early-closing events. With a chance to enter their horses in valuable events of this kind the trainers with high-class horses would not be obliged to go West to race during the latter part of the season.

COFFROTH WILL LIKELY GET THE BIG FIGHT.

Articles of Agreement Pave Way For Colma's Offer—Said to be Understanding—John L. Sullivan Will Likely be the Referee.

AT LEAST ONE fight promoter is chuckling just now as a result of the articles of agreement signed by Jeffries and Johnson. His name is James W. Coffroth, and speaking in strict confidence he has the right sewed up in a way that leaves no chance for failure. Coffroth hasn't said a word since arriving in New York a week ago, but it is evident that he laid plans some time ago which have resulted in the discomfiture of several rival promoters in San Francisco. According to the articles of agreement the bout must be of 45 rounds or more. That is the obstacle thrown in the way of the "Frisco promoters, Sid Hester and Lecari. It is illegal to hold bouts of more than 20 rounds within the limits of the Earthquake City, so that Hester and Lecari are already out of the competition for the match, in spite of the fact that Hester stands ready, he says, to hang up a $75,000 purse, or 70 per cent. of the gross receipts, while Lecari is on record with an offer of 85 per cent. of the receipts and 75 per cent. of the pictures. Coffroth's arena at Colma is not under the jurisdiction of the "Frisco authorities. It is located in another county, where there is plenty of "freedom," as much as the sports used to enjoy at Coney Island in the days of John Y. McKane, when in spite of the law against prize fighting finish contests were held without the slightest interference. Coffroth, therefore, can pull off the fight of 45 rounds or more and yet San Francisco fight fans will be able to attend, as the Colma ring is within easy reach of the city. If promoters in Nevada, which has legalized finish fights, should take a hand in the bidding, Coffroth probably believes that they would not go high enough to put him out of it, while it is also a foregone conclusion that both fighters will bar all prospective battle grounds outside of California.

On the surface, therefore, the belief is further strengthened that Coffroth has a secret understanding with the big pugilists and when the time comes to select the best offer for the mill the Colma man will secure the plum. It is even possible, though, that the scheme may be somewhat embarrassed at the last moment if Jack Gleason, another "Frisco promoter, carries out his plans. Gleason has been quoted as saying that he will build an amphitheatre outside of "Frisco's city limits and will set up in a tenting bid for the mill. But even then it is thought that Coffroth's fine Italian hand will do the most effective work.

Several days ago it was announced that Jeffries and Johnson would not meet in the ring before July 4th. That is the date secretly advocated by Coffroth, who, it is said, advised both Jeffries and Johnson to agree upon it purely as the best kind of a business proposition. That the fighters took Coffroth's tip is clearly shown by the articles signed. If the right takes place on Independence Day it will surely draw a tremendous gate, while in the meantime the men have eight months in which to go after vaudeville gold and then train for the battle. The signing of articles, while a long step toward an actual conflict, is not a clincher. The fight will not be a certainty until the purse and the battle ground have been agreed upon, together with the selection of a referee. But the men have gone about the matter with so little friction so far that very few persons remain skeptical.

John L. Sullivan has offered to referee. Johnson has already expressed a willingness to accept him, believing that Joly, always an advocate of fair play, would give him a square deal. Jeffries and Sullivan have always been warm friends, so that if the veteran ex-champion is acceptable to the boiler-maker there will be no trouble over this point. Jeffries and Johnson were both congratulated on the outcome of the negotiations. They seemed well satisfied with the way they had reached an agreement and each expressed confidence in his ability to defeat the other. Johnson will begin a theatrical engagement in Chicago and Jeffries will probably fill a similar engagement to be announced shortly.

Further strengthened that Coffroth has a

SANTAL-MIDY

SAYS FRANK GOTCH TO THE BIG POLE

'If You Want a Match This Year, Come Quickly and Get It,' World Champion Says He Will Win Two Falls in an Hour.

From the present appearance of things, Frank Gotch, the world's wrestling champion, is preparing to confine his attentions for the season of 1909-10 to the stage, rather than to match wrestling, but before beginning an all-winter vaudeville campaign the big westerner wants to clean up all the foreign timber in sight. Chiefly his attention in this line will be confined to Giovanni Raicevich, the Italian with whom he is matched for Chicago on Nov. 9, and Zbyso, the Polish champion, whose challenge he accepts in a letter published herewith.

Murat, Mahmoud and a batch of other Turks are due in America, but Gotch evidently believes that the Italian and the Pole are the big foreign guns in sight at the present time, and the other Europeans and Asians will doubtless have to wait until spring if they want a chance at the loran.

Gotch went to Chicago for his home in Humboldt the other night to see Zbyso make his western debut and to listen to his challenge, first made in Buffalo, for the championship, and evidently the big fellow was not particularly impressed with the Pole, for he not only accepts his deft, but offers him a concession to lose a match quickly, in that he says he will give up the decision to the Pole if he does not gain his two falls inside an hour's wrestling time. This handicap is probably extended in the hope that in order to avoid himself of it, Zbyso will cancel some of his burlesque dates, it being understood that the big Pole is booked pretty solid throughout the Northwest.

GOTCH'S REPLY TO ZBYSCO.

Gotch's letter on the subject is as follows: Sporting Editor—Just a few lines on the wrestling situation. I have just signed a vaudeville contract for eighteen weeks, to open last Monday in November. Have put this off two weeks longer now than the original opening time, which was the fifteenth. Did this in the hopes of landing one or two of these foreign champions before being tied up in such a manner that I could not meet them. After once being tied down to a contract, it would be possible for all of them to masquerade around the country, telling people how easy it would be to throw me down, were they able to get me in the ring. Now this Zbyso is the man I would really like to get at. He has challenged me and can get action on particularly favorable terms if he wants it. I understand that he is making Buffalo his headquarters, though not there now, and I have entrusted a Buffalo friend with the task of trying to arrange a match with him. If the match can be landed before my vaudeville contract is started I will make a big concession.

Will wrestle Zbyso best two out of three falls, and if I don't win my two falls in less than an hour of actual wrestling time, Zbyso can have the match and any per cent. of the purse he wishes to take a chance for on that basis. I am on with the big Italian on Nov. 9, in Chicago, and I feel that these are the two men who will make the biggest noise this winter, providing I let them alone.

I have asked my representative to let me know as soon as possible if Zbyso wants my game or not. I feel certain that I have offered him a pretty fine concession for a quick engagement, and it ought to be enough for any man who has championship aspirations. The place of wrestling matters little to me—whatever suits him and his manager will be satisfactory for us. I wish it could be in Buffalo, where I have not wrestled for many moons and where I know I have a host of friends. I remain, yours for quick action, Frank A. Gotch, Morrison Hotel

IS UP TO ZBYSCO.

Zbyso is playing on the burlesque circuit with great success. He has been in Chicago and Milwaukee, and is now in Minneapolis for a two-week session there and in St. Paul. Gotch's Buffalo representative has laid Gotch's acceptance of Zbyso's challenge before Jack Herman, manager for the Pole, and his reply is awaited.

The Toronto Horse Show in the Spring.

Canadians Will Participate in New York Horse Show.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Canadian National Horse Show Association was held at the King Edward Hotel yesterday. It was decided to hold the horse show in the spring of 1910, provided the armories could be secured, and it was also decided to request the co-operation of the Toronto garrison in holding a military tournament at the same time.

The following officers and directors were elected: President, Geo. W. Beardmore; First Vice-President, Hume Blake; Second Vice-President, J. J. Dixon; Secretary-Treasurer, W. J. Stark; Directors, R. New York, Nov. 2.—The horse show that opens next week will have a thorough international character. Besides several owners and judges coming across the line from Canada, England will be well represented.

Of the five English army officers who are to participate in the military riding at the National Horse Show next week Lieutenant C. J. Wolwyn, Royal Field Artillery, arrived last night on the Minnehaha, from London, and in his charge were the six horses that will be seen at the Garden.

Lieutenant Wolwyn was met at quarantine by a reporter, and said that the horses had made a fairly good voyage, although the first two days of the English Channel were rough and the big steamer tossed about. "Of course, we wish that we had more time to fit them for the show—especially a week, you know—but we hope they will make a good showing," he added. "I am just back from Spain at a horse show in San Sebastian, where we did very well."

The young officer, who is of wiry build and blond complexion, was met at the pier by James T. Hyde, secretary of the National Horse Show Association. To-morrow the others of the party will arrive on the Carmania, of the Cunard line. They are Major Beresford, Seventh Hussars, at the head of the party; Lieutenant York, of the Royal Horse Artillery; Lieutenant Gerard Hetherington, Eighteenth Hussars, and Lieutenant C. Bage Montefiore, Royal Field Artillery.

Two horses belonging to Lieutenant Wolwyn were among the six. Biscuit and Topthorne, the former having won several prizes at local shows in England this summer as "a good performer." Tommy, another horse belonging to Major Beresford, is also a prize winner.

Fighting is Better Sport Than Rugby,

So Says Superintendent of Public Schools of Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Nov. 2.—On account of the recent football fatalities, Samuel Anderson, superintendent of the public schools of Pittsburg, took a decided stand against the game to-day, and it is probable every influence will be brought to bear for the suppression of football here.

"I think fighting is a better sport," said Superintendent Anderson. "Two young men are killed and seriously injured in football, and the game should be done away with."

Favorites Won at Baltimore.

Fauntleroy Beat His Field Easily in the Walden Stakes. Baltimore, Nov. 3.—Four favorites and two second choices carried off first honors at Pimlico yesterday. The Walden stakes, the feature race of the afternoon, was won by Fauntleroy, who was the favorite at the prohibitive odds of 1 to 4. At the raise of the barrier Fauntleroy went to the front, closely followed by Bob Co. and Scarus. Chilton Queen was practically left at the post and Jockey Reid fell off of Rosshampton, while McCahey, on Fauntleroy, set his own pace. Goldstein closed the gap between his mount and the leader, and at the three-quarters was second. The mare, however, had shot her best, tiring badly and soon dropped in the rear, being passed by Bob Co. and Scarus. Bob Co. challenged the favorite in the stretch, but the latter had too much speed and won handily by a length and a half. Summary: First race, 6 furlongs—Aylmer, 112 (Goldstein), 1 to 2, won; Gay Deceiver, 112 (Rettig), 10 to 1, 2; Danceress, 100 (Moitrye), 10 to 1, 3. Time, 1:14 1/5. First Public Offering of Taxicab Stock

WE have secured and are now offering $100,000 of the Capital Stock of Berna Motors & Taxicabs, Limited, At $6.00 Per Share Capital Authorized $500,000 - - - Issued $388,150

This is the first opportunity the public have had of participating in Toronto's Taxicabs, which have been operating since April, 1909, with such good results that their success is now assured.

Popularity of Taxicabs

The introduction of the Taxicab with its promptness of action, neatness of appearance, and moderation in time saved, distance covered, and number of passengers carried, has been accepted so readily by the Toronto public that a steady increase of equipment has been necessary, and more cabs are yet needed to supply the demand.

Comfort and Privacy

The discomforts caused by the incessant crowding of the street cars and the delays and annoyances of waiting and changing cars, as contrasted with the comforts of a private conveyance with no waiting and no crowding as provided by the Taxicabs give another reason for its popularity.

In Other Cities

This also explains the large number of Taxicabs now in use in London, Eng., New York, Paris, and all the cities of civilization, until now there is not a city of any importance that has not installed or is not about to install a Taxicab service, and gives a tangible reason why Toronto, which is growing rapidly, will have an increased demand for the Taxicab which will compare with that of other live cities.

Exclusive Contracts

Exclusive Taxicab service contracts with this Company covering a term of years have been closed with twelve of Toronto's leading hotels, and other plans are maturing which will materially increase the public demand.

Assured Investment

With the already assured earnings and great possibilities of the Taxicab Company this offering of the Company's Stock at $6.00 per share presents an unequalled opportunity for a large paying investment. The business of the Company is conducted strictly on a cash basis.

Public's Opportunity

In making this offering to the public we are springing an opportunity to co-operate in this enterprise, and participate in the big earning power of the Taxicab as a great public utility.

MARKETS AND FINANCE

Toronto Markets

LIVE STOCK. The railways reported 107 car loads of live stock at the city market, consisting of 1,648 cattle, 1,367 hogs, 2,911 sheep and lambs, 86 calves and 11 horses.

The C. P. R. led off with 53 cars, which is a record run for that road, consisting of 864 cattle, 558 hogs, 1,704 sheep and lambs and 58 calves.

The G. T. R. had 50 car loads—751 cattle, 654 hogs, 1,127 sheep, 28 calves and 11 horses.

The Canadian Northern had four car loads—35 cattle, 15 hogs and 80 sheep. The quality of fat cattle was about the same as has been coming to this market.

There was a fair trade at about the same quotations as given last Friday. Exporters—A few export bulls were all that was offered on this market, which sold at $4 to $4.85 per cwt.

Butchers—Geo. Rowntree, who bought 280 cattle for the Harris Abattoir Company, reports prices as follows: Butchers' heifers and steers at $4.20 to $5.10; but a very few at the latter price. Cows, $1.50 to $4.70; bulls at $2.50 to $4.85.

Stockers and Feeders—Harry Murby reports very little doing in stockers and feeders, good quality cattle being scarce. Mr. Murby bought 70 cattle, 600 to 1,000 pounds each, at $3 to $4.25 per cwt.

Milkers and Springers—There was a strong market for a fair delivery of good to choice milkers and springers, at $40 to $70 each. There were common cows and late springers, for which there is little or no demand, that sold down at low prices.

Veal Calves—Prices for veal calves were firm, at $3 to $6.50 per cwt., with a few of choice quality at $7 per cwt. Sheep and Lambs—Nearly 3,000 sheep and lambs were on sale. LABOR CASE.

Gompers and Van Cleave Give Their Side of It.

New York, Nov. 3.—President Gompers, in a statement to-day, said that labor will not give up the fight. The statement reads: "With all due respect to the majority of the court, I cannot surrender constitutionally guaranteed rights because a judge will issue an injunction invading and denying these rights."

"If I must go to jail I shall have the consciousness of the fact that other men have in the past been compelled to suffer in defence of justice and right in the cause of humanity and for the maintenance of human liberty."

"I intended to stay over here to-morrow to finish up my report for the annual convention at Toronto, but I shall leave as soon as I can get into Washington as soon as I can. I want to be within the jurisdiction of the court, whatever disposal is made of the case."

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 3.—J. W. Van Cleave, president of the Buck's Stove and Range Company, to-day issued the following statement concerning the decision in the case of Gompers, Morrison and Mitchell: "The assault upon me by the American Federation of Labor in 1900 was plotted in a cold blood. I was assailed not as an individual, but as president of the National Association of Manufacturers. The federation did this in order to show its power. It aimed to strike terror into everybody outside its own ranks, workers, employees and the general public alike, and to coerce the President of the United States, the Congress and the court, federal and state, to do its bidding."

WAS A HARD FIGHT OVER ANNEXATION.

Thomas Irwin & Son, $97; plating, J. Chapman & Son, $1,850; painting and glazing, William Dodson, $1,800; iron stairs, R. G. Olmsted, $1,848; sewer Barton street, east of the Jockey Club.

There was a hot time when the question of cement walks was reached. The township entered into a contract to build certain walks, awarded the contract and issued debentures. The board had no power to cancel this contract, and the city will take the township's place. If the walks are not laid according to specifications the city has the right to sue.

"The most ridiculous walks you could seek to have constructed," said City Solicitor Waddell before the board. "You have to step down eight or nine inches from one street to another."

"You have to do that on every street in Hamilton," interjected Mr. Duff. "You have to do it on James street."

"These walks are being rushed through just because Mr. Barnes has a contract with the township. The grades are ridiculous," said Mr. Waddell. Thomas Barnes, the contractor, and Reeve Gage, got pretty warm over some of the things said about the sidewalks, and Mr. Barnes threatened to begin action for slander within twenty-four hours against City Engineer MacCallum and others.

Chairman Leitch, however, told him he had better quit his remarks, as statements made before the Board, in evidence, were privileged.

The entire district annexed must pay the city rate. The district south of Main and east of Trolley, will have an eleven year exemption at the township assessment, and the district near the Jockey Club will have a fifteen year township assessment, but city rate.

Among the property owners who sought to have properties included in this arrangement and failed were J. J. Scott, J. Walter Gage, William Strong, the Sanford estate, and others.

"After 30 years' experience with the Hamilton Council I have never known the city to take a reasonable or fair stand in the matter of annexation," was Mr. Scott's frank opinion. "Every time I have bought property I have had the assessment jumped to twice its figure, once the city tried to triple it for me."

"I tell you this board is not going to dictate the policy of the City of Hamilton in the matter of taxation exemption. The city may have changed its policy since your agreement. You've got recourse at the polls or at the Court of Revision."

"You can't get any satisfaction out of the Court of Revision," said Mr. Nesbitt. "Why ten acres of land right there is farm property, and you see what it will mean to the owner."

"Oh, he'll be assessed as farm property. This board will not re-open the whole question of taxation exemption," said Mr. Leitch.

The city must take over the two schools, one in section 8, and the other in section 1. The cost will be adjusted by arbitration.

The township asked that revenue from the railways running through the district and the license fee from Maple Leaf park should go to Barton, but the board ruled that the city should get all revenue from the district annexed.

Mr. Waddell charged that the township had collected all the taxes from the district, and had not spent the proper share there because it knew the property was to be annexed.

"That is the way to do business for the city," was Mayor McLaren's comment this morning. "It will cost us a good deal more than 21 mills for the district for a few years, but in the end it will save thousands of dollars for Hamilton."

WEATHER NOTES. Pressure is low over the northern portion of the continent and low over the south portion, giving gradients in Canada for south and southwest winds. Showers have occurred more or less locally from Manitoba to the Maritime Provinces.

RUGBY.

A rumor has been going the rounds that the Y. M. C. A. senior football team intends defaulting the balance of the League games. Manager Guy Long wishes it distinctly understood that the team has no intention of defaulting, and will play the season out. The Y. M. C. A. has never been noted for quitters and will not start this season.

A full practice will be held in the yard to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock sharp. Manager Long requests all players to turn out, as the team at Dundas will be chosen from those out to practice.

At the meeting of the City Church League last evening, the protest of the Knox Church was sustained. From the reports of the representatives of the Knox team, the crowd interfered very much with the play of the game, and in the latter half, all the way through, by crowding on the field of play. Usually it is caused by enthusiastic followers who unwisely interfere with their own team's success by rushing on the field.

The game will be played at the finish of the regular schedule, when all arrangements will be made to keep the field clear.

If the games scheduled for Saturday in the league cannot be played early in the afternoon, it is possible they will be postponed on account of the big game at the Cricket Grounds, as all the players wish to see the big game. At all events the matter is left entirely in the hands of the contesting teams.

Basketball.

A very interesting game of basketball was played at the Collegiate gymnasium between the Thistles and Briars. The teams were well matched, and all the players acquitted themselves with credit. The score was tie until the last five minutes, when the Thistles scored four points. The final score was: Thistles 13, Briars 9.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 3.—Basel Bruetel, aged one year and six months, died last night in the General Hospital from the effects of falling from a window in his home at 12 Lovatt Place, to the ground, a distance of 12 feet, on Monday night. The child was picked up apparently unhurt. The only visible injury was a slight bruise on the side of the head. The brain had suffered and death ensued twenty-four hours after the accident.

STRUCK BY BLAST.

Amherstburg, Ont., Nov. 3.—The drill boat Centron, of the U. S. Sullivan fleet, was blown up with dynamite last night about 7.59 o'clock, and five of the men on board were injured, though none seriously. It is believed the explosion was caused by the drill passing over blasts placed in the river some time ago. The Centron was not badly damaged. It met with a similar accident last year.
