"For more than twenty years I have been afflicted with Chronic Constipation. Have been treated by several physicians here and function in the States, and have tried many of the cures advertised through the press without receiving any permanent benefit.

In consequence of the complications arising from this disease I have been obliged to undergo a painful surgical operation, and was compelled last year to give up work. About six months ago I consulted Dr. Miller, who gave me a box of his DINNER PILLS, and I can cheerfully testify that their effect in my case has been little less than magical. Since then I have recommended them to some of my friends, who have experienced like good results from their use and returned mether warmest thanks, and I confidently give them a public recommendation, as I have found them, by far, the best medicine I have rever used."

I like the Anglo-Saxon speech,
With its direct revealings;
It takes a hold and seems to reach
Far down into your feelings;
That some folks deem it rude I know,
And therefore they abuse it;
But I have never found it so,
Before all else I choose it.
I don't object that men should air
The Gallic they have paid for,
When "au revoir," "adieu, ma chere,"
For that's what French was made for;
But when a crony takes your hand But when a crony takes your hand At parting to address you, He drops all foreign lingo, and He says: "Good-by, God bless you! This seems to me a sacred phrase, day,

Quaintly, but nobly fashioned.
It well becomes an honest face,
A voice that's round and cheerful;
It stays the sturdy in his place,
And soothes the weak and fearful;
Into the porches of the ears
It steals with subtle unction.
And in your heart of hearts appears
To work its gracious function;
And all day long with pleasing song
It lingers to caress you,
I'm sure no human heart goes wrong
That's told "Good-by, God bless you!"

I love the words, perhaps because

We looked at one another, And I –I saw in mother's eyes
The love she could not tell me,
A love eternal as the skies,
Whatever fate befell me. Whatever late detell me.
She put her arms about my neck,
And soothed the pain of leaving,
And though her heart was like to break,
She spoke no word of grieving;
She let no tear bedim her eye, For fear that might distress me, But, kissing me, she said "Good-by," And asked our God to bless me. —Eugene Field.

The principles which this party represented spread very rapidly among the agricultural states of the west, and at the last presidential election the People's party, or Populists as it is now called, carried a good many of the western states, and elected quite a number of governors and state legislatures. Mr. Herman Hicks Of Rochester, N. Y. Deaf for a Year Catarrh in the Head Catarrh is a CONSTITUTIONAL disease and requires a Constitutional Remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla to cure it. Read: like Hood's Sarsaparilla to cure it. Read:

"Three years ago, as a result of catarrh, I entirely lost my hearing and was deaf for more than a year. I tried various things to cure it, and had several physicians attempt it, but no improvement was apparent. I could distinguish no sound. I was intending putting myself under the care of a specialist when some one suggested that possibly Hood's Sarsaparilla would do me some good. I began taking it without the expectation of any lasting help. To my surprise and great joy I found when I had taken three bottles that my hearing was returning. I kept on till I had taken three more. It is now over a year and I can hear perfectly well. I am troubled but very little with the catarrh. I consider this a remarkable case, and cordially recommend Miscellaneous.

BY THE REV. A. CARMAN, D. D. I know a land towards the West, A land I love, the first and best; A land of genial clime and air, With bread for all and bread to spare; A land of health and wealth and piece, Of noble toil and toil's increase; A land of broad and fertile fields, A land of broad and fertile fields,
Where tillers' care bright harvests yields;
A land of milk and corn and oil
Where fatness tinges rock and soil;
A land of quarry, pit and mine,
Of sponting well and flowing brine;
A land of fonntain, river, flood,
A land of mountain, meadow, wood;
A land of busy earnest men
That guide the plough or wield the pen:
That crowd the tracks and marts of trade
To make their wares or sell them made;
A land of daughters sweet and fair, A land of daughters sweet and fair, That brighten home and lighten care; A land of churches, courts and school of learned men, some learned fools. A land of parliaments and laws
Where rich and poor have equal cause;
A land of liberty and right
Where manhood feels true manhood's might Where virtue's shield protects the chaste, And rising arts develop taste; Where pleasures fill the frugal home, And plenty more bids millions come; Where commerce gladens sea and lake, And freighted trains the forests shake; Where towns spring up and cities rise. Swift proof of wealth and enterprise; Where every man has even chance, Where every man has even chance, And oringes not to lordly lance; Where every man a king, and free, May hold his land in simple fee; Where every man by work may thrive, The strong grow rich, the weak may live; Where men their honest gains enjoy, And gains on gains their powers employ.

The above loyal strain forms the introdutory part of Dr. Carman's poem on Canada, omprising over two hundred lines, reprinted from the Methodist Magazine. The author says: "I wrote these lines about thirty years ago, when I had more hope, but not more love, of Canada, the land of my birth, the land of my pride and joy, than I We can control things. Why Farmers are Thankful First of all, says a correspondent Practical Farmer, I am thankful, for the good health enjoyed by every member of our family. There is no accumulated filth whatever about our house to contaminate barn, cement floors under stables, roof over barnyard, no dangerous open or closed slop drains with their deadly sewer gas, no undrained land near, a well ventilated cellar with a plantaged cellar w with a plastered ceiling, and building paper under all carpets above. These are a few of the things that help to give us a healthful home. Then there is the fruit garden with bushels of delicious and health-giving berries of all kinds-hard for the doctor and druggist, but good for us, and so much beter to take than even sugar-coated pills.
