ONE TOWN SWALLOWED UP BY LAVA SURROUNDS A CITY

Boscotrecase, Which Harbored 10,000 People, is No More—Even Naples' Population is Panic-Stricken by Vesuvius' Outburst.

Naples, April 8.—The hope that Mt. Vesuvius was becoming calm was dissipated to-day, when the volcano became more active than ever.

The panic has spread to Naples. Two strong earthquake shocks which shattered window panes and cracked the walls of buildings were experienced to-day.

A telegram received from the mayor of Sebastiano, a village near the observatory of the northwest declivity of Vesuvius, says the lava is approaching rapidly and that the people are terror-stricken.

The work of succor is hampered owing to the railway service which is interrupted by red hot stones thrown to a height of 3000 feet falling on the tracks.

And yet it is impossible to count the craters that have opened and from which streams of lava have flooded the beautiful, prosperous and happy land lying on the southeast shores of the Gulf of Naples.

The atmosphere is heavily charged with electricity and now and then the flashes of lightning are blinding, while the detonations from the volcano resemble in sound a terrible explosion.

The churches of the city were open all Saturday night and were filled with panic-stricken persons. Members of the clergy are doing their utmost to calm their fears, but the effects of their arguments are being sought for naught when renewed earthquake shocks are experienced.

Everywhere in the vicinity of the volcano crying scenes are witnessed—women tearing their hair in grief and old men crying aloud at the loss of their beloved homesteads.

Artillery cars have been sent to the assistance of the fleeing peasants, and the Duke of Aosta, Cardinal Joseph Prisco and all the authorities despite the rain to-day went into the mountains in order to succor or comfort the people.

These personages talked with the peasants in endeavors to pacify them, and the Duke of Aosta was especially active. He explained the means he thought best to save lives and property and had the engineers and soldiers erect parapets and dig trenches in order to change the course of the lava streams.

SIFTING BACK IN YEAR'S TIME IS PROPHECY OF WRITER WHO OUGHT TO KNOW

Western Liberals Dissatisfied With Oliver—Le Nationaliste Enlightens on Political Situation.

Montreal, April 8.—(Special)—A. Lavergne, M.P. for Montmagny, who is supposed to be the well-informed Ottawa correspondent of Le Nationaliste, declares that before a year Hon. Clifford Sifton will be back at his post at the head of the department of the interior.

He says the latest news makes Judge Lavergne chief justice of the court of appeals, while others say that it will be either Judge Henri Taschereau or Hon. Mr. Brodeur.

The correspondent states, on authority, that Premier Gouin was offered the lieutenant-governorship of Nova Scotia, but he thought they were joking at him, and demanded a prompt settlement of the subsidy question.

As for Mr. Fitzpatrick he is tired of public life, and in spite of the alleged official announcement of Le Presse, his promotion to the chief justice of the supreme court of Canada is considered a foregone conclusion.

Since Mr. Tarte's forced retirement Mr. Fitzpatrick is Sir Wilfrid's right arm and he assumed for some time the party leadership, 70-day, all Saturday night, and were filled with panic-stricken persons.

Then the western Liberals, supported underhandedly by Hon. Mr. Sifton and Mackenzie & Mann, begin to say openly that Mr. Oliver is too small a man for the department of the interior, and that before a year the hero of our political adventures will be reinstated in his old place.

A COMMISSION TO ENQUIRE IF NEW SUNDAY LAWS ARE REQUIRED

So Much Objection to Present Proposals, That Government Will Take Evidence in Various Places.

Montreal, April 8.—(Special)—As far as Montrealers are concerned, the more the provisions of the Lord's Day observance bill are studied the more objectionable do they seem in regard to the commercial and industrial interests of the community.

Representations both of a private and public nature have been made in parliament, pointing out that if the bill carries in anything like its present form some of the most important interests upon which the country depends for prosperity will be ruined.

In view of the influential objections which have been urged against the bill, the government, it is understood, will appoint a commission pending its passage to take evidence from the representatives of all other interests affected in every part of the Dominion.

The government, as a matter of fact, pledged itself to certain interests to introduce a Lord's Day bill, but it did not undertake to provide the machinery by which such a bill should be passed.

It can be stated authoritatively, however, that in view of the diversity of opinion which the government has found to exist in respect to the bill, it will appoint a commission to gather up all the evidence for and against the measure which will be submitted to parliament.

It may be said that among the most powerful objections to the bill are the railway people, if the Lord's Day observance bill, in its present form, passed, it would cost the C.P.R. $14,000,000 annually.

WHETHER ALCOHOL IS UNWANTED OR POWERED-REVOLUTION IS SURE

U.S. Congressman Makes Glowing Prediction—Beats Kerosene and Gasoline.

Washington, April 7.—Representative Morduck of Kansas, in a speech before the removal of the internal revenue tax on alcohol for industrial uses, said that the passage of the bill would work a revolution in the field of fuel, powder and illuminants. He said:

By known methods the same volume of alcohol burns nearly twice as long as kerosene and gives a far better light; and it is a cleaner and safer fuel than gasoline.

I believe this because this country, the chief producer of corn, which is the best source of alcohol, has for nearly fifty years held industrial alcohol in leash.

For internal combustion engines, the most important effect of removing the tax on denatured alcohol would be its regulation of the present erratic price of kerosene and gasoline.

Actual tests have demonstrated that alcohol at 20 cents a gallon is cheaper for light than kerosene at 15 cents a gallon. Twenty-cent alcohol would drive kerosene down in price or out of the market.

For internal combustion engines, 20-cent alcohol would bring 30-cent alcohol down to 20 cents, and would in time supplant it, perhaps, because gasoline, of which petroleum yields but 2 per cent, is increasing in price because of its increased use in engines.

The internal combustion engine is making a conquering march thru the land. Light in weight, small in size, easy to start, it is everywhere bringing new economies.

All kinds of uses. It is turning the weekly newspaper press, the town feed mill, the lath of the village blacksmith and, in some sections, it bales the farmer's hay, shells his corn, shreds the fodder and saws the wood.

With the tax removed from denatured alcohol, the use of the internal combustion engine will increase by leaps and bounds. Experts estimate that the output will reach 100,000 alcohol engines a year.

David A. Wells, a special commissioner, reported to the fifty-third congress that, in his opinion, 33 per cent of the whole product, prior to the imposition of any taxes on alcohol, was consumed in the arts and industries.

Leaving out the consideration of the great inventions which have come since 1860, other new uses and improved methods, the same proportion would bring our use of denatured alcohol to-day up to 75,000,000 gallons annually.

BEN FRANKLIN'S PORTRAIT ANDRE SAID TO HAVE TAKEN IT

Some of the History of the Painting Which Earl Grey Restores to Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, April 8.—By restoring the Benjamin Franklin portrait taken from the philosopher and statesman's home in this city during the Revolution, Earl Grey, the governor-general of Canada, will contribute one of the most interesting and dramatic features to the Franklin Bi-Centenary, which is to be held in Philadelphia April 17 to 20.

After hanging for 130 years in the English home of the earl's family, the portrait has been made a gift to the nation, thru President Roosevelt, and it is the governor-general's intention that it reach Philadelphia in time for the celebration.

Earl Grey's purpose to restore the Franklin portrait to American custody was announced at the banquet given in his honor by the Pilgrims of America in New York.

Blamed Upon Major Andre. It has been said that the person who took the picture from the home of the great philosopher was Major John Andre, the gallant young British officer who won so many hearts as the director of the Merckle fete during the memorable season of 1775 in Philadelphia, and who sacrificed his life on the gallows by participating in the Benedict Arnold affair, but Mr. Choate's explanation seems to indicate that General Grey took the portrait as a memento of his host, who was then in France, working for the patriot cause.

Franklin's home, which the British general occupied, stood in Franklin-place, where the statesman and philosopher had a dozen years before erected a building to house his family, his books and his philosophical apparatus.

Franklin-place, now known as South Orleans-street, runs off Market-street, from the corner of the village blacksmith and, in some sections, it bales the farmer's hay, shells his corn, shreds the fodder and saws the wood.

DELEGATES SIGN TREATY

WORK OF CONFERENCE ENDS

U. S. Does Not Accept Responsibility of Carrying Out Moroccan Reforms.

Algiers, April 7.—The signature of the Morocco convention to-day terminated the conference on Moroccan reforms, which was formally adjourned sine die, after nearly three months of labor. The final scene was one of impressive dignity. The ambassadors drove in the Spanish state coaches thru the quiet streets of the town, which were lined with people, and a squadron of troops, which had escorted the mayor and the officials of the municipality, was drawn up at the town hall and rendered the final honors.

Long Day Ended. The delegates occupied their accustomed seats at the long table, the Duke of Almodovar presiding. Everyone was smiling at the prospect of release from their long detention. Herr von Radowitz, of the German delegation, supported by M. Revillon of the French embassy, asked Duke Almodovar to communicate with the Swiss government on the subject of an inspector of police. The Marquis Visconti Venosta, head of the Italian delegation, thanked the president of the conference and the Spanish government and asked the president to transmit to King Alfonso the compliments of all.

After a short response by Duke Almodovar, the delegates signed the written copy of the protocol, which will be preserved in the archives at Madrid. A printed copy, certified to and signed by the president, will be given to each delegate.

H. S. Signs Under Reserve. Henry White, head of the American delegation, made a statement that the United States government did not accept the obligation of responsibility with regard to the measures necessary to carry out the provisions of the protocol. The signatures of the American delegates were preceded by the words "Under reserve, this declaration, made at Algiers, on the subject of the convention of April 7, 1906." The Swedish delegates made the same reservation.

After the sitting of the mayor of the municipality entered the room and congratulated the conference on its work. He announced that a marble tablet that would bear the names of the delegates to the conference.

Duke Almodovar later gave a luncheon, which was attended by all the delegates.

MR. WHITNEY'S CHOICE.

Premier Whitney thinks the legislative session should end with his mind. He has probably made up his mind that the demand for an act expediting the municipalization of Niagara power is so strong that a measure can be put through without serious controversy or delay; or that the decision to commit the province to handling a great business may stand over until another session.

The deputation which will interview him on Wednesday can scarcely find him in a state of perfect open mind. It is not the habit of prime ministers to receive deputations without first informing themselves upon the main lines of policy to be brought before them, and having a pretty clear idea of what they intend to do upon the questions submitted for their consideration.

Mr. Whitney would not set himself up as a ready-made expert on the development and distribution of electricity. Neither is he bound to accept the conclusions of a member of his government who happens to have been working overtime on hydro-electric power outside the executive council chamber.

But to the outsider it appears that the Hon. Adam Beck has gone so far in his advocacy of public exploitation of Niagara power that Mr. Whitney is certain to pay considerable deference to the views of one of the clearest-headed business men who hold place in his administration. Mr. Beck, apparently, has staked his public career upon the immediate practicability of the great enterprise which he and his colleagues of the municipal power commission are profoundly convinced should be undertaken by the province. Time is of the essence of success. Every month's delay will find the corporations more strongly entrenched behind their franchises and their water stock. To transfer supremacy from them to the province will cost more than it would have cost two years, or one year, ago. But it will cost a great deal more two years hence than it will to-morrow.

The public always has to pay through the nose for its own mistakes. It is better to pay than to sacrifice and be sacrificed altogether.

The proposals to municipalize Niagara power have been threshed out by business men in the most businesslike way, on such conservative bases as they would adopt in their own affairs.

The available data is more comprehensive and more reliable than was that upon which the power companies now working near the Falls made their original appeals for capital. Things which were then tentative have become certainties. Electrical science is much more of a commercial certainty than it has ever been. The greatest masters of it are the most confident that the range of its utilities and economies will, before very long, be immensely enlarged.

his sycophantic dependents have plenty of opportunity to interpret the signs of the times. They always insist on locking the tower key.

The Laurier tower has fallen, mayhap in order that they may hear what they have, so far, refused to see. In a pile of disordered and discredited masonry even they may discern something prophetic of what will befall the political structure they have reared upon a base of solid Liberalism.

Dr. Spraul, with that penchant for minute analysis of political situations which distinguishes him, has applied his magnifying-glass to the mortar, which it was vainly supposed would hold the Laurier tower together. He first vainly searched for solid cement. Finding it not, he concluded that the mortar was composed of sand and lime. But when he looked for lime he seems to have found nothing but sand. The lime had probably leaked on and passed by when the mortar was being compounded.

Sir Wilfrid will have his monument in due course. The faithful few, whom he has disappointed, may propose that it be erected on a spot which may be suitably distinguished by this inscription: "Here fell the Laurier tower." It is, in faith, an ominous incident for the prime minister of Canada. It is curious that it should have happened during a parliamentary week fruitful of that class of irritations which are bound to come to governments whose officers, high and low, are suspected of tampering with the high standards of probity which are always believed to govern the minutest details of conduct of those who act in the name of royal majesty.

We have been edified by the spectacle of a cabinet minister who administers a great railway for the people, busying himself with peddling crude petroleum to one of his subordinates on behalf of a local interest in which he was financially interested.

Another cabinet minister prevented his subordinate obeying the request of a parliamentary committee for a cable to be sent to England enquiring about the personnel of the North Atlantic Trading Company, which, prima facie, looks like a fine grafting concern.

The nation has seen the government defending transactions in land whereby sections for which the nation receives one dollar per acre were thereafter sold for seven or eight times that amount. The minister of justice weeps to the house because of his inability to induce judges appointed by the reigning government to obey the law.

In another place the minister of finance is shown to have failed to discipline insurance companies, when it was his manifest duty to do so on the formal reports of the subordinate.

A late cabinet minister, who was favorable to the public ownership of telephones, discreetly retired to the bench and was followed by another who having been the paid champion of the Bell Telephone Company, has abandoned the known policy of his predecessor.

Sir Wilfrid has been nearly nine years in power. He came in with a magnificent stock of virtue, which has unhappily been depleted.

The component parts of it are holding together by mortar from which the cement and lime have largely departed. What was once a tower of strength may speedily become a pile of disordered ruins.

Nobody knows this better than Sir Wilfrid. The smaller men around him are probably happy enough peddling oil, interfering with cablegrams of legitimate enquiry, pigeonholing the serious reports of the insurance department, and complacently observing the inflation of telephone stock.

WHO SHALL BE ROADMASTER? Once more Mr. Whitney has put his foot down on the question of perpetual franchises on the King's highway.

Mr. Graham, speaking for the better element of His Majesty's rather forlorn opposition, has endorsed the doctrine that, at all costs, the King's subjects, and not any small section of them, shall retain absolutely supremacy upon the King's highway.

Private companies which obtain privileges of laying rails upon the national thoroughfares do so for their own advantage. To give them perpetual rights which would exclude the government itself from using the rails, would be a crime against the nation. It would set up a financial oligarchy, compared with which the hereditary fummery of a house of lords are agreeable and harmless pastimes.

people are the servants of the railways. Under the new conditions it will be understood that the railways are only the servants of the people, and are really subsidiary political factors of a country which has awakened up to its own importance, and has resumed possession of its own engines of prosperity.

Hitherto legislative bodies have, without taking sufficient thought of the morrow, given away privileges which have instantly been transmuted into huge aggregations of watered stock. The corporationist may possibly be drowned in his watered stock. That creation of a high finance has veritably become a schoolmaster to bring the people to public ownership. There is something admirable in the persistence with which the corporations ask for the impossible. They become so accustomed to seeing the rights of the people bartered for a mess of pottage that their naturally intellectual quickness seems to fall them when it comes to signing up a new temper which has permeated the public mind.

They have convinced themselves that they are public benefactors. They have assumed that the public as a whole was no better than the short-sighted, time-serving individuals whom, thru an indulgence which was unwarranted, but quite excusable, it allowed to be their rulers, because they dressed themselves in the phrases and clothing of Liberalism, and were a long time in being found out.

The demand for perpetual franchises is at once the measure of the hardness and of the blindness of able men of business, who have miscalculated the extent to which Canadian human nature will stand the impositions of watered stock. The fundamental principles which cause Premier Whitney to denounce every attempt to obtain perpetual exclusive franchises on the King's highway, and the municipal power commission to demand expropriation of electrical corporations, are the same. They are at the basis of the government of the people by the people.

In interrogative form they are summed up in seven words: "Shall democracy rule in its own house?"

INDIAN IS LIKE POLYCHLORED. It almost looks as tho the poor Indian were being officiated to death. He is in a worse case than the polychlorer. That unfortunate individual is only taxed to the tune of about 30 per cent. of his premiums for the salaries, commissions and other expenses of officials. But the equally confiding Indian in Canada has to pay 41 per cent. of the national appropriation for official oversight of himself.

The cost of the Indian department last year was $1,584,665, of which $464,672 went to officials. There are about 100,000 Indians under the merciful protection of the department. There are 2200 officers looking after them. The Indians decrease his guides, philologists and friends increase. Within the last ten years the department has added 359 men to its staff. In British Columbia there are 1000 reserves for 25,000 Indians. This is great business for the officials.

The whole department must be overhauled soon. Happily, Canada's reputation for treating her aborigines compares extremely favorably with that of the United States. We are really very good to our red-skinned compatriots—the multiplicity of officials notwithstanding. In some things we are altogether too good, especially in grants to schools.

We have established a connection between church and state in regard to Indian education, which is more pernicious in some respects than that which disturbs the body politic in England and Wales. The government, for example, pays $72 a year to the mission schools for each child they receive for instruction. The Indian is a diminishing quantity. The churches metaphorically attend the natal couch of the papoose to secure a sort of advance vested interest in his moral and religious education. There is no fierce competition for the child, and for the $72.

The buck and squaw, who have so far overcome what seems to be a tendency of nature as to produce another of their kind, discover that they have a cash asset in their offspring's spiritual prospects. The missionary, or religious schoolmaster, comes to the tepee and invites the father to permit his child to receive Christian instruction. The Indian asks, "How much a year will you pay me?" The moral and spiritual well being of the little redskin is committed to the highest bidder. So does the shrewd parent run a commission business with the fruit of his loins.

Thus tho the evil of rebating, which, in insurance, has caused Senator Cook and his friends so much grief, afflict the godly uplifting of the Indian. What would happen if an investigation into the Indian evangelization methods of the churches were decreed?

AN APPROPRIATION TO-DAY. Toronto city council will to-day vote on the appropriation for the new department of industries and publicity. Ten thousand dollars will be little enough to set aside for the first year's operations. Such a department must not be a five-cent affair. It is a great advertising proposition. It is worth to the city at least as much as an ordinary business house spends annually on propaganda. Some western towns with less than a fifth of Toronto's present population are spending ing a fifth of $10,000 on telling the prospective settler of their special advantages.

Boston is another case in point. Boston is supposed to be old, conservative, intellectually proud, and hidebound. But Boston is showing a fine spirit of modernity. She has a mayor who thinks commercial progress and educational efficiency are almost synonymous terms. So he is asking the city council to appropriate for speedy expenditure, on an advertising campaign $50,000.

To-day we may learn who are the city fathers of courageous faith and farseeing practice.

WHERE THE FARMER COMES IN. You would think from the talk of some critics of public distribution of electrical energy that the farmers had no great interest in the project. But the farmer stands to benefit more than anyone. It has been shown that a horsepower of energy costs less than $12 at the Falls; that it can be distributed economically over a large part of Ontario.

One horsepower of energy running eight hours a day would easily give a farmer thirty to forty incandescent lamps about his place, in his house, his stable, his barn, his lane. He would have the best and the cheapest light, requiring no lighting of coal oil lamps to clean, no lighting by means of windy lights. To have light all hours by turning a switch will be a greater boon to the farmer's wife and daughters than most men are able to realize.

A little electric motor would pump water for house and stock, grind cattle feed and cut wood. A larger motor, carried on a wagon, would hitch up to a threshing engine, on the roads. Power wires would gradually be installed on all the main roads.

Ontario has no coal. She has millions of horsepower of electrical energy waiting to be utilized. At a very near day some chemist or inventor will find —what they are all after—a simple, inexpensive way of converting this energy into heat for house-warming purposes. Westinghouse, Edison, Lord Kelvin say it will be found. Cities other than Toronto have already had a taste of it in the heating of street cars. There is a good deal of it in Ottawa now. It is the finest, the cleanest and the most easily handled of all heat. It requires no hauling. It goes any place on a wire. This heat is coming and it will go into every house, and Ontario has enough for every house if we are wise enough now to begin by making electrical energy a great public utility owned and distributed by the state. Never let "electrical barons," like "the oil barons" of the United States, get between this best of all gifts of Providence and those who need it. Surely the farmer has a right to this cheap light, cheap heat, cheap power.

The only way to get it is for every elector to press his member in the legislature to support a public ownership measure inside the house and out.

THE CAUSIS RIGHT. London Free Press: The Bramford Express, in its issue and syndicated Ottawa letter says: "W. F. Maclean's two-cent-a-mile railway fare proposal is up again, but gains little support even among his own friends. It told him to go to the railway commission first." It is all very pretty to poke fun at the member for South York, and waxes. But the majority of the two-cent railway rate will be better laughed at the gentleman might join in the fun-fest, provided that it was the proposal of the member for South York is spoken is getting to be somewhat of a bore. There is too much meddling about the railway system to do it. It springs from the old rule, when your case is weak abuse the opposing counsel.

It is natural for the members of parliament to give their support to a proposal for a two-cent railway rate. Members of parliament believe in a no-cent-railway rate. They travel on goods trains. But the majority of the people of Ontario would have the two-cent-a-mile basis. You can ride thru Michigan on the M.C.R. for two cents a mile. The country traveler for South York in population and grades to Western Ontario where you must pay three cents a mile. The Ontario government believes in the lower rate and has put it in force on the Temiskaming Railway. Col. Hendrie's railway bill would have the present fares on electric railways. So the idea is growing in popularity.

It is well at this time for those who have the welfare of the people at heart to remember that, altho the champion of a cause is abused, yet the justice of the cause remains. You can't stop the progress of the plan to get cheap power for the people by abusing the Hon. Adam Beck, as J. J. Wright of Toronto has done, nor do you successfully attack the merits of any case when you malign the defending counsel. With the proposals for cheaper railway fares and cheaper power the people are on the side of the defending counsel.

ADVICE FOR YOUNG MEN.

Rev. Isaac Couch Preaches a Warning Sermon to Youth.

In Woodgreen Methodist Tabernacle last evening Rev. Isaac Couch delivered a powerful sermon to young men. Taking for his text Eccles. x. 8, "Whoso breaketh thru a fence a serpent shall bite him," he said that the verse referred to the walls of loose stones that surrounded the vineyards in Palestine, which were a favorite resort of snakes so that anyone who broke thru into a neighbor's vineyard would receive a wound. We were only safe while we kept within the walls which God built around us. We should never forget the eternal "ought" in our preaching and teaching. The world would never be evangelized with water from Clifton Springs. We needed more of the sacred law in our homes and more enforcement of it in our commonwealth and a greater reverence for it in our heart. Sin was breaking thru God's wall.

The unreasonableness of tampering with intoxicants was vividly portrayed, and young men were counseled to leave liquor alone, for an ounce of prevention was worth a ton of cure. Poisonous drugs had an affinity for certain parts of the body, and intoxicants had an affinity for the brain and soon transformed a man into a fool or a maniac. True, everyone who drinks intoxicants does not become a sot, but every sot drinks intoxicants, and no one expected to become a sot when he starts with the wine glass. No one should run the risk, for while the grace of God saves one Gough, half a million die thru the serpent's bite.

What was true with liquor was true also with every form of sin, and the youth was advised to be honest in the sight of all men. A man who had been the manager in a large drygoods house had told him that he and other heads of departments had always made a practice of taking what underclothing and other articles of apparel they might desire without paying, and that this man had given articles to each of two young clerks, who, no doubt, thought they had a right to accept and yet if the incident had come to the knowledge of the proprietor they might have found themselves behind prison bars. The preacher declared that the miserable wages paid by some firms to clerks led to their temptation to do wrong, but that temptation never resisted. He incidentally said he had witnessed cases where crown officers seemed more anxious to secure a conviction than to do what was exactly right.

THEIR MAJESTIES APPRECIATE. Reply to Canada's Condolences on Death of Queen's Father.

Ottawa, April 7.—(Special).—The following reply has been received by the governor-general from the secretary of state for the colonies, to the message of condolence with their Majesties sent by the government of Canada on the occasion of the death of the King of Denmark:

"Downing-street, 21st March. "My lord—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your despatch No. 8, of the 21st ult., enclosing a copy of the approved minute of your privy council expressing profound regret for your ministers and tendering the devoted sympathy of the people of Canada to their Majesties the King and Queen, in the loss which they have sustained in the death of his late Majesty the King of Denmark.

"Your despatch and its enclosures have been duly laid before their Majesties and I am commanded to request you to convey to your ministers and thru them to the Canadian people, the cordial thanks of their Majesties for this mark of sympathy in the time of distress and of appreciation of the great loss which they have sustained, and to say that Her Majesty the Queen has been greatly comforted by the expressions of affectionate regard towards herself and by knowing that the heart of Canada goes out to her in her sorrow. I have, etc., "Elgin." (Signed)

TWO SUDDEN DEATHS. Ottawa Dentist, on Visit, is Found Dead in Bed.

Ottawa, April 8.—Charles S. Taggart, local manager of the Northern Insurance Co., and a prominent real estate man, died Saturday night of diabetes, having only been confined to his room 24 hours. He had all plans arranged to go to Austria for treatment. Word was received to-night of the sudden death at Renfrew of Dr. Edward Wallace, dentist of this city. He went to Renfrew Saturday to spend Sunday with his friend, Dr. Cook, of that town, and was found dead in bed this morning.

Infant Murder. Quebec, April 8.—With the little back broken, and bearing marks of having met with a brutal death, the body of a newborn infant lies in the morgue, while a young woman of St. Malo and her brother and brother are under arrest. WINTERED WELL.

Curator Carter Speaks of the Demerence of the Zoo.

Superintendent Carter, usually one of the most genial of men, is especially happy these days. The secret of it all is found in the splendid success which has attended the efforts of the zoo staff in the care of the beasts and birds confined therein. "In all my experience of 20 years," said Mr. Carter, yesterday to "The World," "we have never had so good a winter. Two monkeys, two pheasants, and a little deer were the sum total of our losses. Improved methods of heating are said to be responsible for the good showing. Mr. Carter produced a bunch of keys and opened the door leading into the elephant house. The heavy elephant, 20 years old, appears to have grown considerably during the winter. When he landed in New York from Siam on January 27, 1905, he weighed 3830 pounds, and on July 29, 1905, he tipped the scales at 4140. Mr. Carter hopes for much better things during the next three years.

Venus, the handsome lioness, was in a happy mood while the two little cubs, six weeks old, lying fast asleep on the sawdust floor, are about the size of full-grown cats. When in playful mood, the lioness will with one tap of her paw send the little fellow spinning to the far end of the room. Next to the three yearling cubs were visited. One of the latter, according to Mr. Carter, has been the cause of much anxiety to the attendants.

"Nansen," the Polar bear, has already outlived the usual span of life in captivity by three years. "We bought fish for him all the baby winter, even when we have to pay 10 cents a pound for it. Nothing too good for Nansen," said the superintendent. Three fallow deer, one of which arrived the early part of the week from Epping Forest, are the latest arrivals.

The buffalo calf is thriving wonderfully, while the old folks are becoming more civilized.

WOULD TRUST COLONIES MEN ON THE SPOT WISER

Lord Curzon Raps Government for Its Recent Treatment of Natal.

London, April 7.—Lord Curzon, in his speech at the Pilgrim's Club banquet at the Savoy Hotel last night appealed to the British to, as far as they could, trust the men on the spot in the colonies and not to worry, fret or nag them with dogmatic wisdom. They themselves did not claim superior wisdom, but in any case their errors were in nowise comparable to those based on dogmatic ideas, conceived at home.

He proceeded to rap the government for its recent treatment of Natal, warning it never to sacrifice the interests of a dependency to exclusively British interests and never to force on it a policy unsuitable to it because it was advantageous to the home government.

Lord Curzon concluded by urging the country to send its best men to its dependencies.

THREE MEN KILLED.

Runaway Yard Engine Crashes Into String of Caboosees.
Keyser, W. Van, April 7.—A runaway yard engine to-night crashed into a string of caboosees standing on the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, resulting in the death of three men. The wreckage caught fire and J. W. Jennings, a conductor of Brunswick, Md., and M. Keyser, a brakeman of Sandyhook, Md., were roasted to death. J. L. McKenny, a conductor of Martinsburg, W. Va., died soon after being dragged from the debris. W. B. Long, a brakeman, also of Martinsburg, is in a hospital seriously injured.

Boat Capsizes; Four Drown.
Lancaster, April 7.—Four bridge builders of Portland, Maine, employed on a dam which is being erected across the Susquehanna River at McClellan's Ferry, 25 miles south of here, were drowned to-day by the capsizing of a boat. The names of the men are Bissat, O'Connell, Neal and Smith.

SUNSHINE AND ROSES.

This Does Not Describe the Life of a Missionary in Japan.

The life of a missionary in a foreign land is not all "sunshine and roses." Even in a country like Japan, there are many hardships and nerve-wearing crises, which, to meet successfully, demand all the tact, strength of mind and ability that a man possesses. Then again the climate is wearing, for it is of chameleon-like quality, very changeable. The steady drip-drip of the rainy season seems to dampen spirits as well as other things, and homesickness, under such circumstances, is an undesirable disease. The missionary, of course, has his home wherein are some few reminders of Canadian life, and it is doubtful if there is any piece of furniture in that home better loved than the piano. Music bath charms in Canada, but particularly in Japan. The principal difficulty the missionaries have, is that the ordinary Canadian or American piano is not constructed to withstand the vagaries of the climate. The rainy season brings so much moisture that fine veneers crack and sound boards warp, leaving the instrument in a very bad condition. Because of these facts there is much interest to manufacturers in Canada in a letter written by Rev. R. C. Armstrong, a Methodist missionary at Hamamatsu, to the firm of Gourlay, Winter & Leeming of this city. It appears that the firm shipped to Mr. Armstrong in 1904 a grand piano. After nearly two years of use of the instrument, during which time it was subjected to all the climatic changes so common in that country, Mr. Armstrong said: "The piano has now passed through all the changes of climate in Japan—and there is not a crack in it." He goes on to say that other pianos brought there from America had been terribly cracked and damaged by the weather, and begs to congratulate the firm on their splendid achievement in piano building.

AN OLD BOYS' DEMONSTRATION.

Alexandria, April 7.—It has been decided to hold a Glengarry Old Boys' union the first week of July. A demonstration will be held in Alexandria on Thursday, July 13, and another at Williamsstown on Tuesday, July 12. It is expected that this historic county's old boys' re-union will eclipse any gathering ever held in Eastern Canada.

Goes to Ottawa.
London, April 8.—George Rennie, who for many years was gardener at the London Insane Asylum, has been appointed head gardener at the parliamentary buildings, Ottawa.

DOWIE TO MEET ACCUSERS SAYS CHARGE IS UNJUST

Will Fight for Rights Till Strength Leaves—Declares Life is Pure.

San Antonio, Texas, April 7.—John Alexander Dowie arrived here to-day over the International & Great Northern Railroad from Laredo, and the entire local membership of his church met him at the station. The feeble old man tottered from the Pullman car, and was received by a hundred of his own people with bare heads and outstretched hands. He has apartments in the leading hotel of this city, and he has so far declined to see anybody but his immediate party. Dowie will spend Sunday here, and should his physician permit, it is announced, he will speak at the Zionist Temple at the usual noon meeting. Dowie seems to be buoyed by the mental excitement of the present situation. He expressed confidence that he will be the victor in the Zion City controversy. In his remarks to his people to-day, Dowie said: "The Lord has given me strength to defeat these ones."

Will Meet His People.
Dowie will reach Zion City next Tuesday. He will call upon his people to gather in Shiloh Park on the Wednesday night meeting, and there behind closed doors he will ascend the rostrum and will show them that he is still leader of the Christian Catholic Church in Zion. Just what Dowie will say, he refused to-night to divulge, but that he will open the vials of his wrath and hurl anathemas upon his accusers was evidenced by the grim look of determination which overspread his countenance as he detailed his plans.

Sunday afternoon a great mass meeting will be held at the tabernacle, of which the general public will be invited. For this occasion excursion trains will be run from Chicago to Zion City. Dowie will then tell the story of Zion.

Not in Dotage.
The physical appearance and vigorous language of Dowie dispelled the rumors of his infirm condition. Far from being "a very sick man and in his dotage," as certain of the leaders in Zion are credited with averring, Dowie seemed to be remarkably alert mentally and active physically.

Dowie was asked what he intended to do to Volva when Zion was established, but he only smiled gravely and said: "A good general upon the eve of battle never exposes his plans to the enemy. I prefer to keep them to myself. It is interesting for him. Oh, it is hard, so hard, not to lay hands on such a man, and lay them on hard."

Charge to Monstrous.
After declaring his readiness to fight for his rights "until the last vestige of strength leaves me," Dowie said: "I say that I endeavored to inculcate the tenets of the Christian Catholic Church, which God gave me. The charge is not only monstrous but ridiculous upon its face, and I defy them to produce one scintilla of evidence to substantiate the accusation. My life has been that of a student, and I can say before God that no man is purer than I in his private life. Doesn't my face tell this story?"

DOWIE NEEDS MONEY.

Chicago, Ill., April 7.—Dowie, who, up to last Sunday, had controlled millions of dollars' worth of property, is now said to be in need of funds. A telegram was received at Zion City to-night by Deacon Whitte, from San Antonio, Texas, asking Whitte to meet Dowie in St. Louis Monday night with $500.

Dowie was repudiated to-night by a majority of the creditors of Zion, who met in Shiloh Temple, after agreeing to support the new leader of Zion in his contest against the "first apostle." He returns to Zion City, 622 out of the 800 Zionites at the meeting signed official pledges of their support.

PANIC AMONG AUTOGRATS
CZAR MUST YIELD TO WITTE

Radicals Will Control House and Attempt to Thwart People's Will Would Be Fatal.

St. Petersburg, April 7.—A panic has been created in government circles by the surprising strength developed by the Constitutional Democrats in the elections, which may have immediate and dramatic consequences. The issue between reaction and reform, which has been hanging in the balance, has been unexpectedly precipitated by Premier Witte. The elections have greatly strengthened the premier's hand in his fight against the reactionaries, and he now feels strong enough to challenge Gen. Treppoff and Minister of Interior Durnovo and the entire reactionary cabinet.

Less than a fortnight ago the premier was decidedly pessimistic, and believed that the majority in the lower house of parliament would be Conservative, and that the entire program for reform might be overturned. The results of the elections, however, convinced him that the Radicals will control the house, and that an attempt to thwart the popular will, as expressed by the ballot-box, would be a fatal blunder on the part of the government. It was learned from an unimpeachable source to-night that the premier journeyed to Tsarskoe Selo on Thursday to lay this before the emperor, and made another trip to Tsarskoe Selo last night, and was closeted with his majesty until after midnight.

The impression is abroad that the success of the Constitutional Democrats' bill will insure the success of the big foreign loan of which the government is so urgent a need.

To-morrow twenty-eight provincial conventions will meet and elect 187 members of the lower house of parliament. The peasant representatives have a clear majority over all the other classes combined.

Should the Radicals make anything like the sweep which they anticipate, the emperor probably will be compelled to yield to the premier's advice. At any rate, he seems to have aligned himself with the people, in regard to the situation as desperate, and that the time had come to choose between himself and Interior Minister Durnovo, and counselled big majesty not only to accept the result of the elections but to anticipate any demand on the part of the lower house of parliament for a constitution by the issuance of a constitution before parliament convened, and at the same time mark his change of policy by the proclamation of general amnesty at Easter. The premier is also understood to have pointed out that such a course would make a splendid impression.

CHURCH RENOVATED.

Berkeley Street Methodists Spend $5000 on Edifice.
For the first time in two months services were conducted in the body of Berkeley-street Methodist Church, yesterday, as it has been under repairs for that time.

The organ which was on the level with the gallery has been lowered, new seats have been installed, new carpets laid, and the walls and ceilings have been painted. This was done at a cost of about $5000, which has already been raised.

Yesterday three services were held. Rev. J. J. Redditt, president of the conference, preached in the morning. Rev. Eber Crumley in the afternoon and Rev. Richard Whiting of Avenue-road Baptist Church conducted the evening services.

BAR OF GOLD STOLEN.

Taken From Box and Piece of Steel Substituted.
New York, April 7.—A bar of gold bullion, valued at about $17,000, was stolen in shipment between Georgetown of British Guiana, and New York City.

The discovery of the theft was made to-day when the box in which the bar was shipped was opened and found to contain a piece of steel, evidently a part of some machine. The box seemed to be in perfect order. The number on the regular consignment was disturbed. The box arrived on the steamer Karoma Friday and was consigned to a company here which has concession in British Guiana.

BOIL THE WATER.

The C. P. R. have a private drain south of the York-street bridge, which empties into the bay. The C. P. R. manufacture their own gas, and this, it is charged, is tunneled into the bay, via a private drain.

Several parties have dumped cartloads of refuse into the bay at the foot of the York-street bridge. The gas is all gone and the water front men are complaining of the pollution of the harbor. What are the harbor officials and the city engineer's department doing? said a Chicagoian to The World last night. It is about time the by-laws regarding the pollution of the harbor were being enforced. The bay is a regular cesspool, owing to the fact that the harbor and city by-laws are not enforced. The Gas Company and the C. P. R. should be summoned to the police court for violating the bay by tunneling in oil, says Aldrich.

TRAINMEN WANT SUNDAY REST.

Some of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen favor the Lord's Day Act, now before the house in every particular pertaining to Sunday railway service.

Superior Lodge No. 225 have forwarded to Rev. J. G. Shearer, secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, a resolution endorsing the action and pledging individual support.

At a meeting of R. T. Coromation Lodge No. 233, held April 6, the members unanimously recorded themselves as believing that it would be in the interest of the railway men of Canada to stop running freight trains on Sunday; that it would not endanger life on properties to run the same number of trains in 6 days that are now running in 7; that an enforcement of the act would result in more men being home on the Sabbath; and that the passing of the act would be much better for the workmen.

A TRAVELER'S PRESENTATION.

London, April 7.—Two years of splendid service for the Western Ontario Commercial Travelers' Association were rewarded this afternoon at a quarterly meeting of the association, when Mr. William R. Grant, president for 1904 and 1905, was made the recipient of a cabinet of solid sterling silver. The cabinet was of oak, with a silver plate engraved on the lid, and it contained 110 pieces. The presentation was made by C. W. Nicholas, president.

FREE TO MEN

Until Robust Health, Strength and Vigor Is Regained.

Perfect Manhood. The man of nerves, good health, self-confidence and undaunted energy. The embodiment of success, popular in every walk of life, respected and esteemed by all. Such is the manly man.

For forty years I have been making strong, vigorous men out of the puniest weaklings. A man comes and discouraged, with Brains, Losses, Impotency, Varicocele, Hemorrhoids, Lame Back, Kidney or Stomach Troubles. I give him my world-famed Dr. Sanden Electric Belt, with suspensory, absolutely free, to use for two months. Mind you, not one penny in advance or on deposit. A few sittings convince him that he has found the right remedy. It fills him with new life, joy, vigor, and strength, and at the end of the time he is only too glad to pay me for the Belt and to recommend it to his friends.

This is the way I cure men. This is the way thousands every year regain their lost strength, without the slightest risk to themselves, for it costs you nothing whatever. You pay me only when cured, and in many cases the cost is only $5.00; or, you want to pay cash, full wholesale discount.

My great success has brought forth many imitations of my Belt, and I give freely with my Belt. Be sure you get the genuine. Call to-day and take a Belt along. Or send for one and my books on Electricity and its medical uses, which I send free, sealed, by mail.

WINNIPEG STRIKE ENDS.

Cars Are Moving Again—Result of Mediators' Efforts.

Winnipeg, April 7.—(Special.)—The street railway strike is settled, and the cars were all started with the former employees in charge at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Dr. Sparling and Principal Patrick made the announcement after an hour's session with the men at Friendship Hall.

As the two mediators left the hall they were loudly cheered by the men. They went immediately to the Street Railway Company's offices to communicate the decision that the men had accepted the terms offered.

The wages are advanced one cent an hour all round, while there is to be no discrimination against union men. The arbitration clause, too, is left out.

All former employees are taken back by the company except those who exercised violence toward union men. There is a clause in the agreement that the company will be willing at all times to treat with its men, or any committee employed by them, on any subject in the interests of the company, or employees.

There was a general feeling of relief over the termination of the strike, and 45 cars went out at 4 o'clock they were heartily cheered by thousands on the street.

The Misses McVitt, 22 Murray-street, will not receive again till the fall.

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Miss Ellis Jeffreys, the English actress, who will make her first appearance at the Princess Theatre this evening will have the advantage of being seen for the first time by local playgoers in one of the brightest and wittiest plays of the present season.

Mr. Sutro wrote "The Fascinating Mr. Vandervelt" expressly for her, and consequently the role of the heroine, Lady Clarice Howland, a titled young widow in fashionable society, fits her precisely.

In the play Mr. Vandervelt, who is an up-to-date killer of the most approved kind, attempts to trick Lady Clarice into a marriage with himself.

She succeeds, but at the end of the play, rather to the surprise of the audience, gives her hand to another man, who, apparently, had been too modest to come forward for her.

Mr. Sutro writes brilliant story for, some of the New York critics go so far even as to declare that his work may be compared favorably with that of Sheridan or Goldsmith.

Liebler & Company, Miss Jeffreys' managers, have surrounded her with an excellent company of actresses, including Frank Worthing, a splendid actor, who appears in the title role.

An evening of laughter promises to be found at the Grand this week, for the Hay Ward and his big musical organization will hold their first presentation of Ward as a "Lone Star" in "The Gaffer," a vehicle said to be admirably suited to this comedian's unctuous style.

The new piece is said to be decidedly more ambitious than anything Ward has ever attempted and to possess a strong legitimate worth. "The Gaffer," Hay Ward will be seen at the Grand society and working his graft of touching.

His new made friends so persistently coming out, that they soon dread his coming as the war of the plague.

Misses' identity, family pride and laughable complications all the go thru two acts and hours of madcap fun. Besides the regular matinee a special matinee will be given on Good Friday.

Lottie Williams is the attraction at the Majestic this week, appearing in her new play, "The Gaffer," entitled "My Tomboy Girl."

The play is said to be the most dramatic and realistic sensational drama ever produced in many years.

It is a chorus of pretty girls making the production musical as well as dramatic.

High-class vaudeville acts are introduced.

Dorothy Russell is the headliner at the Shick Yonge-street Theatre this week.

Miss Russell is making her first appearance in Toronto and is the daughter of the famous beauty and prima donna she will be the object of considerable interest.

Miss Russell is a singer of more than ordinary talent. The opening of the play is said to be the most dramatic and realistic sensational drama ever produced in many years.

It is a chorus of pretty girls making the production musical as well as dramatic.

High-class vaudeville acts are introduced.

Easter's Tasteful Millinery

We have made a special effort this season to introduce styles in Ladies' Hats that are exceptional in point of taste and usual in the item of cost to our patrons. The designs have been imported from the most recent productions in Paris, London and New York, and we have no doubt that those who will favor us with a visit to our showrooms will appreciate the excellence of our display.

MAN ACCUSED OF MURDER CONFRONTED, NOT IDENTIFIED

Montreal Police Unable to Make Case Against Bradley—Le Canada's Comments.

Montreal, April 7.—(Special.)—Shortly before 9 o'clock to-day Bradley, the man arrested as a suspect in the Ahern murder, was called from his cell, where he was enjoying a morning smoke. A couple of the Cote St. Paul people had arrived, in charge of Police Captain Masse, and Bradley was wanted to pass in front. The early visitors were the young girls Eugenie Leduc and Beatrice Lapere, who saw the unfortunate victim of the assault and the man together, and they were placed in a private room of the detective department from which they could have a good view of Bradley. Both girls looked him up and down, slowly and with deliberation, and studied his face from various positions, and the verdict seemed to favor Bradley.

He was like the man they saw in the neighborhood of Cote St. Paul on Tuesday evening, coming out of the bush, carrying a bundle under his coat, but neither of them was prepared to say positively that Bradley was the man. After about twenty minutes he was taken back to the police cell.

Eugenie Leduc, who appears not too robust, was inclined to feel sick shortly after being confronted by Bradley, and only by an effort was prevented from going in a faint.

A man named James Woods, 208 Cadieux-street, came to see Detective Lapointe this morning. He positively saw a man exactly answering the description of the murderer leaving Bonaventure Station at 8.40 on Wednesday morning for some American point. He says the man was about 5 ft. 6 in. in height, with high cheekbones, pockmarked, blonde drooping moustache, shabby brown fedora hat, faded dark coat. He was tough looking individual and carried a couple of bottles of beer in his pockets. He was evidently very much excited, so much so he attracted the attention of Stationmaster Caron, who showed him which train to get on.

Referring to the terrible death of little Ida, Le Canada says: "Belongs like the one who killed little Ida Ahern are evidently degenerates, and a degeneracy that constitutes a danger to society. The most severe repression cannot protect us against these monsters, who, in the delirium of alcohol, or in the collapse of their mental faculties, no longer preserve the power of reasoning and do not reckon the result of their acts. Society certainly has the right to protect itself by placing the guilty person in the physical impossibility of repeating the crime, but it strikes us that matter is one pertaining especially to mental pathology, and that if we have the right to protect ourselves against the unconscious acts of violent, insane people by placing them in asylums, we should also have the right to adopt measures of protection against the attacks, not only from justice which punishes, but also from science which foresees and prevents."

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS MILK PRODUCERS AGREE

Decide to Accept Retail Dealers' Suggestion for Six-Months Seasons.

One of the largest meetings in the history of the Toronto Milk Producers' Association was that of Saturday afternoon in the parlors of the Albion Hotel. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. President James Chester presided. The meeting was called primarily to discuss a proposition submitted by the Retail Dealers' Association at a joint conference between the two associations on Saturday, March 31. At the latter an offer of $1.05 per can of 8 gallons for five summer months and $1.25 for seven winter months was practically agreed upon. Saturday's mass meeting of the producers, after long discussion, unanimously endorsed a resolution pledging the Milk Producers' Association to enter into an agreement with the dealers for the time and price stipulated. The efforts of Archibald Campbell, M.P., to further the passage of a law providing for a uniform eight-gallon can were commended. Levi Annis made a strong appeal for unity among the members with a view to presenting a strong front at Ottawa.

At a meeting of the executive of the Producers' Association with the city dealers later in the afternoon, some objection was taken by the latter to the five months term. It was urged on behalf of the dealers that six months should constitute the summer season, and six the winter. In return for this they submitted an offer of $1.05 per can for the summer and $1.20 for the winter months, delivered at the dealers' place of business, a decrease of 5 cents a can, and a corresponding gain of 5 cents a can on the winter months. A casual comparison served to show that the change would work to the advantage of the farmers supplying the milk. In view of this the executive of the milk producers decided to accept the terms offered, but not strictly in accordance with the resolution of the mass meeting held earlier in the afternoon. Circulars will be sent to every member of the Producers' Association advising a hearty co-operation with these terms. The agreement will extend over the whole year and will with the exception of the City Dairy Co. (which is not a member of the Wholesale Milk Producers' Association), include every representative firm in and around the City of Toronto.

Toronto Junction.
Toronto Junction, April 8.—The death occurred yesterday of Mr. John Johnston, a teacher in the collegiate institute. She was 29 years of age and had been ill for some time. The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon from the residence on Lakview-avenue, to the Metropolitan cemetery at Richmond Hill.

East riding in automobiles is again becoming a source of danger to the driving in vehicles and walking in High Park-avenue. It is claimed that several deaths along the street to-day at twenty miles an hour, while others were driven at a much faster speed than allowed by law.

The property committee of the public school board met last night and again discussed the finance question. No definite decision was arrived at.

The salaries of the town officials have received much attention lately and a special meeting of the executive committee will be held on Thursday night, when a recommendation will be forwarded to the council.

There are forty-five loads of cattle at the Union Stock Yards for to-morrow market. The total receipts of last week were 103 loads, including 1994 cattle.

The court of revision of the assessment roll will be held in the council chamber on Monday, April 16, at 10.30 o'clock. Among those who are appealing are: Arch. Campbell, L. Murch, P. M. Gray and Dr. Nielsner.

EMPIRE HOTEL.

East Toronto.
East Toronto, April 7.—Amid great enthusiasm it was unanimously resolved at a meeting of laymen and clergymen last night to organize a lacrosse club to be known as the Aberdeens. These officers were chosen: Joseph Bennett, president; Mr. Robson, first vice-president; J. E. Ziemann, second vice-president; Mr. Cobbledeck, honorary president; J. W. Johnson, honorary vice-president; L. J. Grey, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Maclean, A. McCowan, Mayor Richardson and Dr. Walters, patrons; Harold Carnahan, secretary-treasurer. The athletic field on Gerrard-street will be utilized for practice purposes. It is proposed to enter a team in the Junior C.L.A.

The town council will meet to-night, at a meeting of the Balm Beach park commissioners, called for last night, was a litter date. Dr. Walters, chairman of the park commissioners, has recommended Mayor Richardson to call a public meeting of the residents of Ward 1, East Toronto, to discuss park matters. The meeting will be held on Stouffville.

A. E. Gilmore has purchased the produce business of James Cook & Son at 247 College-street, Toronto. Mr. Cook is retiring from business and will take up his residence in South Parkdale. Mr. Gilmore has had an extensive experience in handling butter, eggs and poultry.

North Toronto.
A farewell party was given to Captain Friedham of the Salvation Army on Friday evening at his home on Duggan-avenue, Deer Park, which was largely attended. The captain is being transferred to Germany.

Two play grounds are under consideration by the Deer Park Cricket Club. One is the Upper Canada College grounds, and the other the O'Halloran property, adjoining the Deer Park Hotel.

York Township council ordered the township engineer, P. S. Gibson, to buy 50 tons of machine broken stone to be used on Yonge-street. Mr. Gibson says: "As we have no sleighing this winter the farmers did not draw any stone, and it will be impossible to get any stone this spring. However, the 50 tons will be ready to put on the street in the fall."

Town Engineer P. S. Gibson is inspecting the town's sidewalks. He will report to the council at the next meeting. The sidewalks shall be constructed with a certain amount of concrete and a rubber coating is too expensive.

Chester.
The regular weekly Lenten services at St. Ann's Church came to a close on Friday evening. The last service was held by the Rev. Dr. Osborne of St. Saviour's Church, East Toronto. The attendance at these services was much larger during this Lenten season than in any previous year.

Doncaster.
Last Friday afternoon M. McCormack's residence, Cherry-street, was broken into and $40 abstracted.

The Oranegen of L.O.L. No. 351, Danforth-avenue, will have a busy night next Thursday evening, as they will initiate four candidates into the Orange degree, and after that function they will advance six candidates to the purple and blue degree.

One is to request the city council to put a night car service on Broadview-avenue. The second is for a sewer along Danforth-avenue, from Pape-avenue to Broadview-avenue, and the third to extend the Broadview-avenue car line from Broadview-avenue to Greenwood-avenue.

Yorkville Old Boys.
The Yorkville Old Boys will hold a meeting at Ketchum Hall, 39 Davenport-road, this evening. Everyone who lived in the late Village of Yorkville previous to March, 1883, should attend and register.

Tolmorden.
Miss Sarah Boyd, who has been in the Isolation Hospital with diphtheria for the last week, is convalescent, and is expected to be home soon.

Stuck fishing. At the first dam of the Don River is now in full swing, and good catches are being made, but the fishermen are anxious for a warm rain, which would improve matters considerably.

COUNCIL MEETING TO-DAY WON'T NEED NIGHT SESSION

Nothing of Great Importance in the Reports of the Board of Control and Committees.

The city council ought to get through this afternoon without any night session. There is not much for argument in the report of the board of control.

There is some hope of a decent sort of sidewalk on the north side of West Wellington-street, opposite the government house, the government agreeing to pay their share of the cost.

The assessment commission recommends in regard to the park at the foot of Dufferin-street that the premises on 4 Dominion-street be purchased from Williams & Poole for $3700. The property has a frontage of 24 feet and a depth of 140 feet.

The Brooklee suit will likely be settled on the terms already recommended by the city solicitor. Another matter which will go thru after a little discussion will be the expenditure of $1000 to put St. Lawrence Hall tower in a safe and presentable shape.

The city solicitor has forwarded the following letter:
Some twenty years ago the city widened Page-avenue and took some land which had been held as an endowment for the incumbent of Trinity Church, Toronto. There was no one to whom the principal money could be paid, and the city have held it, and have every year since then paid interest on the amount at 6 per cent. to the incumbent for the time being.

The Municipal Act provides that such money might be paid into court with interest at 6 per cent. for six months in advance, and that the corporation would then be relieved from liability. The rector and churchwardens have a private bill before the legislature and have suggested that in the bill might be inserted a clause allowing them to take over the money in question and relieve the city from any future liability. I have consulted the city treasurer, and he approves of the plan. The amount is $22,500, and the arrangement is that this may be paid to the rector and churchwardens with three months' interest in advance.

For the new fire engine there were two tenders at $5500 and the board of control recommends that the Watson Co. of Brantford, Ont., the contract as the fire chief approves of their tender.

The tenders for food supply for the 200 at riverdale are let to the Model Bakery Co. for bread at 50 per cent. loaf. Edward Mallon gets 3 cents per pound of beef necks and 15 cents for livers and Andrew Armstrong is the lowest tender for feed.

It is interesting to note in going thru the accounts that there is about $140 paid to the Toronto Railway Co. for tickets very recently and perhaps some aldermen might ask who uses them. In regard to the east end sewerage system assessment, Commissioner Forman recommends that $300,000 be paid $100 in full compensation for the easement taken over 10 feet of his land on the west side of Lee-avenue.

At the Lansdowne-avenue subway, the board will recommend that it be referred back pending further report from the engineer.

The roof for St. Lawrence market at a cost of $6500 is recommended. There will be another lengthy talk about island baths as the aldermen are much divided upon the question.

LIVE STOCK EXCHANGE A TRUST
Kansas Supreme Court Delivers a Sensational Judgment.
Topeka, April 7.—In a decision rendered to-day the supreme court held that the Kansas City Live Stock Exchange is a trust, and that all cattle mortgages made thru members of that exchange are invalid. Millions of dollars' worth of paper will be affected.

COBALT SHARES ON MARKET
"Silver Bar" Stock Will Be Offered Public To-Day.
Cobalt, April 8.—(Special.)—The stock of the Silver Bar Mining Company will be placed on the market at 9 o'clock Monday morning. The stock subscriptions will be received by all the brokers in the camp, and arrangements have been made in Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto and Sudbury for subscribers to get in on the ground floor. The officers of the company are Rinaldo McConnell, president; J. E. H. Barnett of Renfrew, vice-president; Dr. Knight, Kingston; W. D. Gregory, Toronto, and F. A. Bapty, Ottawa, directors. The last named gentleman is secretary-treasurer. This property adjoins the Savage Mine, and has hitherto been known as the Knight or Kingston Mine. The capitalization is put at $500,000, and shares are put on the market at 50c each, the first allotment to consist of 100,000 shares.

WHOLE BUILDING IN PERIL CLERKS WON'T ENTER IT

Faulty Construction Which Caused Fall of Laurier Tower Said to Entered into Whole Addition

Ottawa, April 7.—(Special.)—A new wrinkle has developed in connection with the "scandal" of the Laurier Tower.

The actual loss from the falling tower is probably $20,000, and the government organs have been busy proclaiming that, after all, this loss will fall upon the contractor.

It is now announced that the same defective cement that caused the collapse in the tower was used thruout the whole addition and that the civil servants employed in the departments of inland revenue and public works have absolutely refused to enter it.

The entire addition, altho passed and paid for, may be torn down, entailing a probable loss to the government of $70,000.

The city was thronged to-day with visitors, mainly from rural districts, examining the ruins.

George Goodwin, the contractor who built the Laurier tower, has been awarded the contract for the new Victoria Museum.
