BATTLE OF SHALHO

60,000 FALL IN ONE OF FIERCEST FIGHTS IN HISTORY

Both Armies Fight Feroociously for a Week and Desperate Conflict Still Continues, Being Particularly Fierce Midnight Sunday.

LEFT FLANK OF ARMY LOST ADDS FULNESS TO DISASTER

Grim Tragedy Enacted in Manchuria Makes a Strong Appeal for Peace, and Japs Show Signs of Magnanimity.

SCENE—Shakhe River, village and surrounding district 40 miles south of Mukden.

DURATION—Seven days of almost continuous fighting, beginning with a Russian advance and ending in a Russian rout.

CASUALTIES—It is estimated that 60,000 fell on both sides. Russians lost 40,000 and the Japs 20,000. Over 10,000 Russians were left dead on the field of battle.

SITUATION—After cessation of hostilities on Friday, the fight was renewed on Saturday and Sunday and continued throughout the night, being especially heavy at midnight. The left flank of the Russian army is lost. This may mean more disaster.

SIZED UP.

At the close of the seventh consecutive day of fighting between Japan and Russia, the battle was still raging. The Japanese offering stubborn resistance to the fierce onslaught of the Japanese. The sacrifice of life has been appalling. Estimates of the Russian losses alone in killed and wounded, at the end of the sixth day's fighting, being conceded at 50,000. While it seems improbable that 60,000 were aggregated at that time, Japanese official reports estimate that 10,000 Russian dead were left on the field of battle up to the night of Oct. 14, and claim that the Japanese losses are small by comparison with those of the Russians. Gen. Kurapatkin's report to Emperor Nicholas depicts the desperate character of the fighting and praises the valor of the troops, indicating, however, that he is hard pressed, with the result still in the balance. All hope of securing Port Arthur this season has been abandoned. Sir Nicholas has an unconfirmed report that the Japanese general, Nodzu, has been seriously wounded. It is stated in St. Petersburg in the fate of Gen. Kurapatkin as a factor in the Russian military situation.

FIGHTING CONTINUES.

Mukden, Oct. 17.—The battle was renewed and continued through the night, especially heavy at midnight. The Russians retain their position along the Shakhe River, and have made frequent sallies upon the Japanese, capturing six of the latter's guns. The eastern army is helping the western force to hold their position. Heavy artillery fire to-day. The fighting is now centered on the plain.

REARGUARD FIGHT.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 17, 3:45 a.m.—The latest reports from the battle are of Sunday afternoon and evening, when the Russians are carrying the day. The rearguard fight, evidently retiring on Mukden. Generals Oku and Nodzu were concentrating for another blow on the Russian right flank where the fighting is described as having been fiercer. Gen. Nodzu is reported to have been wounded seriously, but this cannot be confirmed.

Also the official account of the battle does not present the disastrous picture that many in St. Petersburg had resigned themselves to see, the general feeling here is of the deepest gloom. If the battle has not been Russian's Sedan in fact, the moral and political effect could hardly be worse. The result will render the war and its conduct more unpopular than ever at home, while the greatest danger is expressed that the Chinese population, if not the government, will be encouraged to abandon a long and doubtful neutrality and openly side with the victorious Japanese.

From the military point of view, the most bitter disappointment is in the knowledge that the reverses seal the defeat of the heroic defenders of Port Arthur, who are now without hope of rescue from the outside world. A remarkable feature throughout is the popular sympathy with Gen. Kurapatkin, Viceroy Alexieff is again charged with responsibility for Gen. Kurapatkin's attempt to take the aggressive. Pity rather than criticism is awarded the ill-starred general, but it is felt among army officers that the military prestige of the whole of Russia has suffered at his hands that it is impossible that he can ever be given the chance to retrieve the disaster.

RUSSIANS LOSE 40,000

10,000 DEAD OR FIELD BURIED BY JAPANESE

Terrible Record of Russian Disaster South of Mukden as Told in Reports Received at Tokio From the Jap Armies in the Field.

Tokio, Oct. 16.—(11 a.m.)—In the reports of the great battle, which continue to arrive from the front, the most striking feature is the terrible record of the Russian dead. Before the severe fighting on Oct. 14 Gen. Oku's army alone recovered and buried 2000; Kuroki buried 4500, making the total number of Russians buried by the Japanese, with Nodzu's army still to be heard from, 6500. Applying the usual calculation and making reasonable allowances for the fighting of the 14th and 15th, THE RUSSIAN LOSSES WILL EXCEED 40,000. Oyama estimates that the total Russian dead left on the field, including the fighting of the 15th, is over 10,000. It has been a bigger battle than that of Liaoyang.

Detail of Losses. A report dealing with the Russian losses, received during the night from the Japanese field headquarters, says the losses sustained by the enemy force, including the Russian army, so far ascertained, are as follows: Bodies left near Banhu, on the left bank of the Taitse River, 300. In front of our Banhu detachment, 1500; at Taitse, 300. Near Tamentou, 300. Before the right column, 200. Near Kionnikok and north of Tamentou, 1200. North of Panlansan and near Wuming, 150. Before the left column near Shaotaku and northward, 300.

The number left in other places has not been counted yet, but is large. The enemy's loss in this direction must exceed 20,000. Among the trophies reported captured are 200 shells, six ammunition wagons and much uncounted munitions.

Jap Losses Small. Fragmentary reports of Japanese casualties are coming up to and including Oct. 14, lost 3500 men. Estimates of the total Japanese losses are not possible, but they are small in comparison with the FULL LOSSES OF THE RUSSIANS. Reports despatched late yesterday from the field are following in chronological order: "The main force of the right army, which had already occupied Chouchafun Heights, reached a line on the Shakhe River, but one division of the enemy continues to offer a stubborn resistance. The centre army has reached its objective and has been heavily engaged since the morning of Oct. 15. On the morning of Oct. 15 the enemy in front of the left army continued holding its position north of Shaho and Lamuntun, offering a strong resistance. The centre column is engaged in taking Shaho, and the main body of the right column is advancing against Lamuntun, which is being held by the enemy. The enemy has six batteries between Shaho and Saganatun, which are vigorously shelling our column and our position at Linchien, but the bombardment is not strong enough to prevent our advance. On Oct. 11 the left column of the centre army lost 281 killed and wounded.

Greivous List of Casualties. The casualties to ourselves and the Russians and the number of trophies captured by the left army follow: "During the five days from Oct. 10 to Oct. 14 inclusive, our losses were about 200 killed and wounded, officers included. During the four days from Oct. 10 to Oct. 13 the number of corpses left by the enemy and buried by us reached 2000. The enemy's dead after the battle of Oct. 14 were very numerous. The prisoners taken numbered 80. The principal trophies were 30 guns and many rifles, uniforms and accoutrements.

"There are some forces of the enemy on the right bank of the Shakhe River in front of the main strength of the right and centre armies, but no battle on a great scale has occurred. The forces of the enemy at Shaho and Lamuntun, facing the left army, have been offering a stubborn resistance, but have been dislodged and their positions have been captured.

"On the afternoon of Oct. 15, a force of the enemy appeared near Santaokangzu and continued to offer resistance until sundown, portions of our centre and left armies engaging them. ## RUSSIANS FIGHT FOR PRIDE

FEEL THEY CANNOT STOP BUT MUST WIN ONE BATTLE

Gunsmen Shovel Shells Into Breches of Guns as Stokers Shovel Coal Into Furnaces.

Mukden, Oct. 16.—(From a Russian correspondent.)—There was a lull in the battle yesterday, but fighting was continued on the night.

The army is southwest of here 10 miles. It is now certain that the army will be able to extricate itself.

The losses amount to 30,000. It has been a bigger battle than that of Liaoyang.

The Russians are attacking on the right today. The firing to the southwest is less violent. The men are tired out and food has been insufficient. Every available man and gun is being used.

The troops have behaved most gallantly, hurling themselves repeatedly against impregnable positions.

The heavy storm of Oct. 14 added to the misery of the troops. There is great depression but stolid tenacity among the men. There has been a great sacrifice of officers.

The plain occupied by the retiring Russians is covered with burning shells. The men are shovelling shells into the breaches of the guns as stokers shovel coal into furnaces.

Howitzers are used by the eastern army. The Russian guns have superior range and burst shrapnel at 4000 yards.

There is scarcity of reliable maps. Two divisional commanders have lost their chief staff officers, one of them being killed, and many commanding officers have met death heroically leading their regiments.

Shrapnel fell near Gen. Kurapatkin. He showed desperate energy and even in the darkest remained hopeful.

There was a cessation of hostilities Saturday. Neither side can stand much such contests, the ferocity of which was frightful.

THE RUSSIANS ARE NOW FIGHTING IN MANCHURIA IS FORGOTTEN, THEY FEEL THAT THEY CANNOT STOP. "THEY MUST WIN ONE BATTLE."

This evening the Japanese seem no nearer. Fires are burning to the south. About 12 miles from here the eastern army is retiring without fighting.

Montreal, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—La Presse going to support the Conservative party and Mr. Dansereau, sent to Europe for a holiday or to accept his old position of postmaster of Montreal are amongst the sensations of the day. Yes, it appears that a blow has fallen upon the Liberal party, as La Presse newspaper, with its daily circulation of nearly 100,000, has been sold to or controlled by a number of leading Conservatives, and from this La Presse will no longer be devoted to Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

MR BORDEN N MONTREAL

TO 3000 FRENCH CANADIANS

IN THEIR OWN LANGUAGE

Expresses Belief Quebec Will Return to its Old Allegiance to the Conservative Party on Nov. 3.

Montreal, Oct. 16.—(Special.)—In answer to the question who is behind Borden I think I may say that the people of this country are behind our policy. I do not fear the issue of the ballots are counted as the people react, for I believe the grand old Province of Quebec will on the third of November next return to its former allegiance to the Conservative party.

R. L. BORDEN.

The culminating feature of Saturday's continuous demonstration in favor of the Conservative cause was the magnificent reception accorded R. L. Borden by three thousand French-Canadians in the Monument National, and thousands could not get into the hall. It had all the whoop-up of a French-Canadian gathering and quite exploded the foolish theory of a solid Quebec for Laurier.

Spoke in French. The Conservative leader spoke in French, the following being extracts from his address:

"I do not speak your language as fluently as I would wish, but when I accepted the Conservative leadership, I took the firm resolution to familiarize myself with the idiom of the people of this province. Let me tell you, ladies and gentlemen, that I am above all race and religious prejudice. We are all children of the one God. We all belong to the one great Canadian family, and we have the glorious privilege of living under a flag that protects all races and creeds within this great empire of ours. You may therefore rest assured that if I am called upon to form a government, and indications appear to that effect, you will have your large and legitimate share of representation in the one large and legitimate share of influence.

"The splendid battle you have waged in the past for the conservation of your existence as a people as well as for your national autonomy have won for the sons and daughters of French-Canada the admiration of all those who have read your history.

Next to ignore them. Then the leader spoke of the French groups all over the Dominion and said: "I take before you the solemn engagement not to ignore them, but on the contrary to give them that attention and position to which they are entitled. As a matter of fact the traditions of the Conservative party as well as my own inclination render it duty on my part to repeat before you to-night these declarations, which have already been made. You are the majority in this province, and you have given a splendid example of tolerance and generosity, and in a manner that does you the greatest honor."

A telegram from Premier Roblin, dated Medicine Hat, read as follows: "The battle cry of Manitoba and the Territories is the national policy and the illustrious facts to do her duty on Nov. 3. You can depend on the west going hers."

Others Also Spoke. Speeches were also delivered by F. D. Monk, L. T. Marchal, Campbell Lane, and other candidates in St. Lawrence, and others.

Mr. Borden will speak in Quebec on Monday evening, at Three Rivers Tuesday evening, at Sherbrooke on Wednesday afternoon, Woodstock, N.B., on Thursday, St. John on Saturday, and Moncton, N.B., on Monday. The leader will also speak in Halifax, Oct. 27.

DAUPHIN ELECTION NOV. 14

CONSERVATIVES SEE A TRICK

Richardson Proclaims Himself Government Ownership Champion of the West and Attacks Sifton.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 16.—The writs for the continuation of Dauphin for the election on Nov. 14. Dauphin is the most northerly of the Manitoba ridings and Liberals claim that this course is necessary in order to reach the sub-divisions.

Conservatives, however, say the election has been postponed in order to give the Liberal machine a chance to get in some of its fine work, as Glen Campbell, the Conservative candidate, is very popular in the riding and has already thrice covered the ground and would have a practical walk-over if the elections were held on Nov. 4.

R. L. Richardson was given a great reception in Brandon last night when he made a rattling speech in favor of government ownership, of which he declares himself the champion in the west. He attacked Hon. Clifford Sifton bitterly on personal grounds, accusing him of systematic hoodluming.

The election in Brandon promises to be a spirited contest.

O'BRIEN TO IRISHMEN.

Says They Behaved Foolishly in Last Parliament.

Cork, Oct. 16.—Addressing a monster meeting here to-day, William O'Brien declared that some rule was in the offing since what was believed the Dunraven scheme of an Irish financial commission had sympathy in official quarters, but the foolish conduct of the Irish party in fighting Chief Secretary Wyndham, the lord lieutenant, and Anthony MacDonnell, under secretary to the lord lieutenant of Ireland, who were pledged to conciliation, threatened to spoil all. It was not surprising that Wyndham repudiated the Dunraven scheme, for no man trusts his political reputation to the hands of men who behave so foolishly as did the Irish members in the last session of parliament.

DEWART BY ONE VOTE IN 317 CAPTURES S. TORONTO CONVENTION

Nomination Made Unanimous on the Motion of Messrs. Lee and Ward, the Runners-Up.

H. Hartley Dewart, K.C., was unanimously chosen by the South Toronto Liberal convention on Saturday night to contest the riding with A. Claude Macdonell, the Conservative candidate.

Confidence that a vote could be recorded before South Toronto was the most important consideration not only in Toronto, but in all Canada. It was the heart of the business centre of Canada and their responsibility was great.

Look for a Surprise. T. C. Robinette welcomed the convention to Centre Toronto, E. F. Johnston was to speak in his behalf in the same hall next Thursday.

Prophesies Merging of the Anglo Celtic World—Morley Sails With Him.

Liverpool, Oct. 16.—The World has the following from Liverpool, England: Andrew Carnegie was seen by the correspondent of the New York World on board the Celtic today and was asked for his views on the American presidential election.

"I am convinced that the steel triumph will be the triumph of the west and will be prolonged, unless both sides welcome intervention, of which I think the civilized powers first duty is to press upon Russia and Japan by every means of stopping the further bloodshed. The effects on far eastern trade, too, are extremely serious, and will take many years before they disappear."

Garrison Parade Yesterday Largest Yet—Canon Cayley Preached Timely Sermon.

Better weather than that which graced the annual fall garrison parade yesterday it would have been almost impossible to desire. The sun was at its brightest, tempering gradually the slight, beautiful chill of the October afternoon.

The parade was a most successful one, and the crowd of sightseers was by no means the least of the attractions. The streets were never in better shape for martial tread. Little wonder it is that the parade drew the largest and densest street yet that the crowd of sightseers was by no means the least of the attractions.

the government, if it wants to run its intercolonial lines over there to Winnipeg and beyond Winnipeg west, has the running rights, from Winnipeg west. But if at the end of 50 years the government determines to take over the eastern section, the Grand Trunk Pacific says, "By the term of this contract you have got to give us 50 years more of running rights over the portion that we want to bring up and down into connection with the Grand Trunk System on the lakes and all North Bay, but after that 50 years you have no running rights over our road west of Winnipeg."

"Now, what does Sir Wilfrid Laurier say? He says, 'It is a political necessity for Canada to have a line of railway down thru the Maritime Province ports from the west, every inch of which is on Canadian soil.' He says the United States may take away the bonding privileges. What will you think when I tell you that, since 1884, we have had railway communication from the waters of the Pacific down to Halifax, every inch of it upon Canadian soil. Is there any dread just now that the bonding privileges may be cut off? None. It was simply a forced reason for a hasty action. Why, a political necessity would mean that you want to get the railway farther off from the American border, yet this new railroad is yet closer to the State of Maine than the Intercolonial."

"Then he says, 'There is a commercial necessity, because there is in the Northwest, and it is actually furnishing for intercourse and access.' What is that fact? The Canadian Northern and the Canadian Pacific carry all the goods for that country and carry them. In the winter season or in the summer, the one line or the Canadian Pacific can carry four times what it is carrying today on the single track.

"THE HOUSE OF QUALITY."

and doing it easily, so the railway men say, and they ought to know. "The development of the new country? Now, I spoke to you about the development west of Winnipeg—they don't develop new country there; but they say, 'We want to develop a new country back of Ontario back of Quebec, and in the hills back of New Brunswick.' No one says may to do that; but before you make your corporations and enter into your binding contracts, is it not the part of these common sense and where there is no exception that country and find out whether its conditions are favorable or not to a railway, and to what kind a railway?"

The Reason for the Road.
"There never has been a line of decent railway surveying made on that back country with the design of getting an east and west line clear away down to Moncton. Sir Wilfrid Laurier went into the library and he got the story of a good old man, 200 years ago went up that country and he gave a description of it and in June 18 and said, 'No, no, no. On that tale of 200 years ago, he predicated the possibilities of that country as an agricultural country, with a climate and able to produce sufficient to make it really profitable. "After they have made the contract they are sending out their surveyors."

The Original Proposal.
"Let me tell you what was proposed. The Grand Trunk came to the government in 1852, and said, 'We want a charter to build from North Bay thru to Winnipeg and into that great west country. We will ask you to give us a reasonable subsidy for the mountain section and for the section between North Bay and Winnipeg; we will enter into an arrangement with you, any reasonable arrangement, to hand over to the Intercolonial Railway the 40 miles that we bring down out of that country at the port of Montreal, and in that way we will get into that country, and you will get your continental rates down thru the Maritime Province ports."

Where the Graters Come In.
"Now, I believe this also is true, that when the Grand Trunk talked with Sir Wilfrid with reference to that road it was understood between them that that portion was to be built by the construction company, but by the company itself. Why? The company has to pay 8 per cent of the cost of that section on the cost of construction. It is to the company's interest to have that constructed as economically as possible. But all the heeled, and the contractors behind the heeled, came up and said: 'That will not do, Sir Wilfrid; there is nothing in that for us. We want the government to build that portion and we want the contract for building it section after section, mile after mile; and again Sir Wilfrid had to give way. And they spent the next six or seven years for labor in the form of railway grading, bridges, locomotives, cars, and all the other things required for a railway operation. Too good a thing for the contractors. Today they are saying: 'This is the opportunity of our life; we will back the government; we will make our money on this. It is the last chance we will have out of the Laurier government; and we will back them for our own purposes.'"

Sanctity of the Contract.
"I have had some experience in public measures. I have read and I have observed, and I have never yet seen across the board, so to speak, so utterly unnecessary and wasteful proposition as this which the government has hurried thru parliament. And Hon. William Patterson gets up and says: 'Why, that contract is signed, sealed and delivered, and it is the duty of the government to see that it is carried out. If you do, a financial crash will come in this country and Europe will be the product of the direct consequence.' 'A voice.' 'Let it come.' What idle talk! How unsafe to force a thing thru parliament before the people ask for it, and then when it comes to the people and they have a chance to pass their judgment, say: 'You cannot judge now, because this thing is done, and if you break it up, crash will come over everything financial in this country and in Great Britain.'"

But I will tell you, Mr. Patterson, and I will tell you, Sir Wilfrid, one thing, I know something about finances; I do know something about money markets, and I do know that when a minister of finance I had to make a loan of $20,000,000. I had to very carefully study the market, and I had to take the very best advice of the very best financiers on the other side. These men jauntily run into the raising of $20,000,000 in hard cash on the markets of the world with the credit of Canada, and do it as easily as you would eat your porridge in the morning. "The very moment that you go into the market for $17,000,000 of gold cash you go into the markets with the bonds, the guaranteed bonds for the middle and the mountain sections, and also get your credit is thrown into the market for $17,000,000 or $17,000,000."

But Sir Wilfrid says, 'You are a

London, Oct. 15.—The Economist, in an article on the field on colonial municipal debts, says that Canadian municipal loans give smaller returns than Australian and South African, but there is a distinct difference in favor of the credit of Montreal as compared with Quebec and Toronto. The Saturday Review, referring to the Laurier speech at Toronto, says that Eng. Hub free traders have far had no such direct contradiction of their theory of colonial opinion.

POSTER ON THE G.E.P.

In a critical review of the Grand Trunk Pacific contract on Saturday night Hon. Geo. Foster declared that the statement by Premier Laurier would be cost to the country would be only $1,000,000 was the biggest of false assertions. Mr. Foster went into figures to show the financial burdens assumed by the government in its proposed loan to the country, which it was forced against its own desire by the exactions of party followers, and declared that the building of the government portion of the line would result in the biggest carnival of corruption. The designation of "populist" as government ownership was not in reality the issue it was in fact to be. Mayor Urquhart had been obliged at the crack of the party whip to forsake his principles of public ownership, for where was the difference between government ownership and public ownership?

It's the Quality that tells.

Whiskey is not a low priced article at any time. Then surely it is worth while to pay just a little more and have the best. "If it's from Michie's it's good."
