

The Observer.

SAINT JOHN, JUNE 5, 1849.

The papers now presented have been considered. Mr. Gladstone I entirely concur with what has fallen from the Under Secretary of State for the Colonies; but I am sorry to say that the remarks which fell from the hon. and learned gentleman (Mr. Roebuck) are of that nature which I do not think consistent with my duty to pass over altogether.

I confess, when the first intelligence of these transactions reached this intelligence, my mind was deeply excited by it, but a review of the case, and a perusal of the proceedings and the history of the case, and the principles which may or may not have guided the former acts of legislation, we shall not be able to form a judgment. The hon. gentleman warns this House of the danger of the Rebellion Leases Compensation Bill. If he gives that warning upon the ground of the imperfect information which we possess, I heartily concur with him, and for one I will give no opinion upon the bill or upon the propriety of Lord Elgin or of Her Majesty's Government. But when I hear the hon. gentleman say, "the people of Canada have been voting the money of Canada, and therefore I warn you not to give a subsidy to that foreign power—Would that be a reason, because it is a question of the money of the colony, and not the money of this country, against our interference with this House? I protest against the proposal of the hon. gentleman, and I contend that this House has a perfect right to interfere in all imperial concerns.

Again, I will give no opinion whether it is a question of race, or whether I have read much in the public journals and private communications upon the subject. I have seen a hundred times upon the allegation that this question is a question of race. But I am not in a position to state that it is a question of race in the House of Assembly. Everybody knew that the French members of the House were in a minority in that House, and that the question of race was the question of race within the walls of the Assembly, but without. The hon. gentleman says that this measure was introduced into the Canadian Parliament with the sanction of the Crown. I apprehend that although that sanction can be no shield whatever. Being a matter involving money, it would have been impossible, according to the constitutional forms of the Province, to have introduced it without the sanction of the Crown. The hon. members who before arriving at a conclusion upon this question, feel it an imperative duty to examine, with dispassionate care, every step of the proceedings; and that they will pass no judgment whatever upon the executive of the colony, or upon Her Majesty's Ministers here, until they have carefully examined the whole of the papers, and endeavoured therefrom to form a wise conclusion.

The following is the speech of Mr. Roebuck, referred to by Mr. Gladstone. I hope that what I am about to say will be received by the House, relating to the country has naturally been very much excited by the statements which have appeared in these papers, and I am not in a position to state that they are entirely correct. I have read the papers, and I have seen the proceedings, and I have seen the statements which have appeared in these papers, and I am not in a position to state that they are entirely correct. I have read the papers, and I have seen the proceedings, and I have seen the statements which have appeared in these papers, and I am not in a position to state that they are entirely correct.

Mr. Roebuck said, I hope that what I am about to say will be received by the House, relating to the country has naturally been very much excited by the statements which have appeared in these papers, and I am not in a position to state that they are entirely correct. I have read the papers, and I have seen the proceedings, and I have seen the statements which have appeared in these papers, and I am not in a position to state that they are entirely correct.

Mr. Roebuck said, I hope that what I am about to say will be received by the House, relating to the country has naturally been very much excited by the statements which have appeared in these papers, and I am not in a position to state that they are entirely correct. I have read the papers, and I have seen the proceedings, and I have seen the statements which have appeared in these papers, and I am not in a position to state that they are entirely correct.

Mr. Roebuck said, I hope that what I am about to say will be received by the House, relating to the country has naturally been very much excited by the statements which have appeared in these papers, and I am not in a position to state that they are entirely correct. I have read the papers, and I have seen the proceedings, and I have seen the statements which have appeared in these papers, and I am not in a position to state that they are entirely correct.

Mr. Roebuck said, I hope that what I am about to say will be received by the House, relating to the country has naturally been very much excited by the statements which have appeared in these papers, and I am not in a position to state that they are entirely correct. I have read the papers, and I have seen the proceedings, and I have seen the statements which have appeared in these papers, and I am not in a position to state that they are entirely correct.

Elgin, and that despatch, when the House next met, he should have great pleasure in laying upon the table—a despatch which he thought would show that Lord Elgin had acted throughout with his accustomed judgment, moderation, and good sense. The Despatch was dated the 30th April, and the mail was left, was forwarded to New York, just as the packet was about to leave. Undoubtedly, at the time the despatch was written, a riot of a very aggravated kind had taken place at Montreal, and the Parliament House had been burnt, but he saw no reason at all to apprehend, from the despatch, that there was a war of races of which the noble lord had spoken; on the contrary, he had every reason to believe that tranquillity was restored. There had no step taken in this matter which he should not hereafter be fully prepared to justify, and take the responsibility which belonged to himself and his colleagues. At the same time he must tell the noble lord that, in his opinion, the responsibility of these events rested as much upon the noble lord as upon other persons, in consequence of the proceedings in that House some time since, in relation to the Rebellion Leases Compensation Bill.

Lord Stanley replied, and again asked the question whether Lord Elgin had been left to act upon his own unassisted judgment with reference to the Indemnity Bill, or had he received advice and instructions from Her Majesty's Government? Earl Grey replied that no instruction had been given to Lord Elgin with reference to the Indemnity Bill. In Canada as well as in most of the other colonies, the governors were bound to act on their own judgments, and he should never depart from that wholesome rule by giving instructions from home.

Mr. P. P. Howard wished to know if there was any intention to send out troops, or the Guards to protect the Government. Earl Grey replied that in most of the other colonies, the governors were bound to act on their own judgments, and he should never depart from that wholesome rule by giving instructions from home.

Mr. P. P. Howard wished to know if there was any intention to send out troops, or the Guards to protect the Government. Earl Grey replied that in most of the other colonies, the governors were bound to act on their own judgments, and he should never depart from that wholesome rule by giving instructions from home.

Mr. P. P. Howard wished to know if there was any intention to send out troops, or the Guards to protect the Government. Earl Grey replied that in most of the other colonies, the governors were bound to act on their own judgments, and he should never depart from that wholesome rule by giving instructions from home.

Mr. P. P. Howard wished to know if there was any intention to send out troops, or the Guards to protect the Government. Earl Grey replied that in most of the other colonies, the governors were bound to act on their own judgments, and he should never depart from that wholesome rule by giving instructions from home.

Mr. P. P. Howard wished to know if there was any intention to send out troops, or the Guards to protect the Government. Earl Grey replied that in most of the other colonies, the governors were bound to act on their own judgments, and he should never depart from that wholesome rule by giving instructions from home.

Mr. P. P. Howard wished to know if there was any intention to send out troops, or the Guards to protect the Government. Earl Grey replied that in most of the other colonies, the governors were bound to act on their own judgments, and he should never depart from that wholesome rule by giving instructions from home.

The Steamship Europa, which sailed from New York on the 21st May, and Halifax on the 26th, after a rapid run of nine days from the latter port.

By the accounts from the western districts we learn that mortality is still in a rapidly extended state. The Billingsgate Star states that the number of deaths in the workhouses of that town for the week ending the 5th inst. was 600. The official return gave it as 400. The result, the editor maintains, was produced by the collecting into the town of Billingsgate the papers of the union, which contains an area of 250 square miles. The whole fixed population of the town, he says, is not equal to the number of inmates crammed into the workhouse and its auxiliary establishments. The miserable beings are estimated at 4000. It is not easy to give the exact number on any specified day, as large numbers come in on Monday and the next—three places in those abodes of wretchedness are but too frequently a few hours duration. The cholera has not abated on the 12th. The Halifax Freeman says that the deaths in Billingsgate for the week ending the 5th inst. amounted to 800. We should prefer the official returns above given to either this estimate, or the figures set down by the Star. Adopting the lower, it is a frightful statement.

The Treasurer of the county of Linerick, who is also a guardian of the Linerick workhouse, has issued a circular to the effect that the number of inmates in the workhouse is now estimated at 200,000, which added to the inmates, &c., might form a total of 240,000 burden on that county annually. The National Bank has refused to advance £400 to the board until the new rate is struck.

Seven vessels, carrying 883 passengers, sailed from Linerick for America last week. The two to Quebec were the Kingstown and the foreign corn. The case of Smith O'Brien. The publication of the judgment against Mr. Smith O'Brien, the late leader of the rebellion, by the House of Commons, has excited a great deal of indignation, and it is considered probable, or possibly, will be transmitted to a court of law, that they will be allowed to expiate themselves. The case of Smith O'Brien. The publication of the judgment against Mr. Smith O'Brien, the late leader of the rebellion, by the House of Commons, has excited a great deal of indignation, and it is considered probable, or possibly, will be transmitted to a court of law, that they will be allowed to expiate themselves.

Her Majesty's Annual Visit to Scotland. From the improvements and preparations which are being made in the Highland districts, there is every reason to believe that the visit will be a most successful one. The Emperor of Russia has retarded the march of his army toward Hungary, and has himself taken off for Moscow, where an outbreak was apprehended. Dembinski and Ben are fully prepared to take advantage of any insurrection which may break out in the rear of the march of the Russian force.

Only five vessels are reported as having arrived at Boston on Thursday and Friday last, and all from New York and New England ports. The case of Smith O'Brien. The publication of the judgment against Mr. Smith O'Brien, the late leader of the rebellion, by the House of Commons, has excited a great deal of indignation, and it is considered probable, or possibly, will be transmitted to a court of law, that they will be allowed to expiate themselves.

Only five vessels are reported as having arrived at Boston on Thursday and Friday last, and all from New York and New England ports. The case of Smith O'Brien. The publication of the judgment against Mr. Smith O'Brien, the late leader of the rebellion, by the House of Commons, has excited a great deal of indignation, and it is considered probable, or possibly, will be transmitted to a court of law, that they will be allowed to expiate themselves.

Only five vessels are reported as having arrived at Boston on Thursday and Friday last, and all from New York and New England ports. The case of Smith O'Brien. The publication of the judgment against Mr. Smith O'Brien, the late leader of the rebellion, by the House of Commons, has excited a great deal of indignation, and it is considered probable, or possibly, will be transmitted to a court of law, that they will be allowed to expiate themselves.

horo into the Creek on the Sands, while wading through the water.—Bid.

Canada.—The Montreal Pilot of the 19th inst. gives a list of 49 Addresses to the Governor General, approving the policy of the Administration. An Address from the County of Leeds was signed by 3000 names, and was presented by a Deputation of 61 persons. The Niagara Address had 6000 names.—The Conservatives have enlisted under the Ministerial banner. The Address from St. Hyacinthe county and head of Lake Ontario, contained 9500 signatures. It is stated that over 100,000 signatures, attached to the Address, were forwarded to the Governor General, confidence in his Government, and concluding in severe terms the Ministerial policy. The Highland Society of Brock, has unanimously resolved to enroll his Lordship as an honorary member of the Society. The St. Andrews Society of Woodstock, (only two dissenting) have resolved to send an Address of condolence in the noble Earl.

MONTECAL, May 31.—The Parliament is just prorogued by the Commander of the Forces, the Governor, not returning to town. The crowd, about six hundred men, all British, cheered with a general hurrah for the new government. The crowd dispersed before Gen. Rowan left the House. It is stated that the Government has resolved to incorporate the St. Lawrence and Champlain Company.

MONTECAL, May 31.—The Parliament is just prorogued by the Commander of the Forces, the Governor, not returning to town. The crowd, about six hundred men, all British, cheered with a general hurrah for the new government. The crowd dispersed before Gen. Rowan left the House. It is stated that the Government has resolved to incorporate the St. Lawrence and Champlain Company.

MONTECAL, May 31.—The Parliament is just prorogued by the Commander of the Forces, the Governor, not returning to town. The crowd, about six hundred men, all British, cheered with a general hurrah for the new government. The crowd dispersed before Gen. Rowan left the House. It is stated that the Government has resolved to incorporate the St. Lawrence and Champlain Company.

MONTECAL, May 31.—The Parliament is just prorogued by the Commander of the Forces, the Governor, not returning to town. The crowd, about six hundred men, all British, cheered with a general hurrah for the new government. The crowd dispersed before Gen. Rowan left the House. It is stated that the Government has resolved to incorporate the St. Lawrence and Champlain Company.

MONTECAL, May 31.—The Parliament is just prorogued by the Commander of the Forces, the Governor, not returning to town. The crowd, about six hundred men, all British, cheered with a general hurrah for the new government. The crowd dispersed before Gen. Rowan left the House. It is stated that the Government has resolved to incorporate the St. Lawrence and Champlain Company.

MONTECAL, May 31.—The Parliament is just prorogued by the Commander of the Forces, the Governor, not returning to town. The crowd, about six hundred men, all British, cheered with a general hurrah for the new government. The crowd dispersed before Gen. Rowan left the House. It is stated that the Government has resolved to incorporate the St. Lawrence and Champlain Company.

ward all the bridges and vehicles have been carried away, and the greatest concentration prevailed. To add to all the rest the Cholera has broken out in the vicinity of the crevasse, and already a child and three negroes have fallen of the disease. Near Orleans, Wednesday, May 30. In spite of all the efforts to stop the great crevasse, the water is still rising, and labor is perfectly lost in attempting to subdue it.

The Crevasse.—Our latest accounts from New Orleans by telegraph are to the 30th May. At that period the crevasse had not been stopped, and one-half of the city was inundated.—The inhabitants are flying from their homes, and business affairs are being wound up. The Crevasse.—Our latest accounts from New Orleans by telegraph are to the 30th May. At that period the crevasse had not been stopped, and one-half of the city was inundated.—The inhabitants are flying from their homes, and business affairs are being wound up.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

ward all the bridges and vehicles have been carried away, and the greatest concentration prevailed. To add to all the rest the Cholera has broken out in the vicinity of the crevasse, and already a child and three negroes have fallen of the disease. Near Orleans, Wednesday, May 30. In spite of all the efforts to stop the great crevasse, the water is still rising, and labor is perfectly lost in attempting to subdue it.

The Crevasse.—Our latest accounts from New Orleans by telegraph are to the 30th May. At that period the crevasse had not been stopped, and one-half of the city was inundated.—The inhabitants are flying from their homes, and business affairs are being wound up. The Crevasse.—Our latest accounts from New Orleans by telegraph are to the 30th May. At that period the crevasse had not been stopped, and one-half of the city was inundated.—The inhabitants are flying from their homes, and business affairs are being wound up.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

ward all the bridges and vehicles have been carried away, and the greatest concentration prevailed. To add to all the rest the Cholera has broken out in the vicinity of the crevasse, and already a child and three negroes have fallen of the disease. Near Orleans, Wednesday, May 30. In spite of all the efforts to stop the great crevasse, the water is still rising, and labor is perfectly lost in attempting to subdue it.

The Crevasse.—Our latest accounts from New Orleans by telegraph are to the 30th May. At that period the crevasse had not been stopped, and one-half of the city was inundated.—The inhabitants are flying from their homes, and business affairs are being wound up. The Crevasse.—Our latest accounts from New Orleans by telegraph are to the 30th May. At that period the crevasse had not been stopped, and one-half of the city was inundated.—The inhabitants are flying from their homes, and business affairs are being wound up.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

The Mobile Register contains the following California news to the 9th of April.—Plans were on foot to establish a regular line of mails through California. There were 80 vessels at San Francisco, with new arrivals daily. The town of San Francisco was under great excitement, from rumors abroad that the military was preparing to march on the city. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason. Col. Fremont and his party have arrived safely in California, by the overland route. The Alcalde and all the council of the town had been displaced by Justices of the Peace, and disorder was reigning in all branches of the administration, which was attributed to the conduct of their late governor, Col. Mason.

