5 AIRMEN LAND AFTER 9 DAYS IN PACIFIC

U. S. NAVY PLANE CREW WITHOUT FOOD FOUR DAYS

Aircraft Towed Safely To Hawaiian Island

COMMANDER HERO

Signals Sent Out to Freight Steamer Which Passed By

MONOLILU, Sept. 11.—Commander John Rodgers and his crew of four of the lost trans-Pacific airplane PN-3, No. 1, are alive and well. The crippled plane was found late yesterday, riding atop choppy seas by the United States submarine R-4, having been lost for 21 3/4 hours, after 25 hours of an attempted flight from San Francisco to Honolulu.

DRIFTED 450 MILES. Since the big plane reported that its gasoline supply was gone, it had drifted approximately 450 miles. It was found 15 miles off the island of COMMANDER PROMOTED. WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Commander John Rodgers, rescued after nine days afloat in the mid-Pacific, in his plane PN-3, No. 1, was appointed assistant chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics today.

Kaula, 64 miles northwest of Oahu, upon which is Honolulu and towards which the airplane was headed. It had been forced down within an hour's flight of its destination. The rescued aviators refused to leave their plane, but obtained water and food from the rescuing submarine as they were being towed ashore by a small boat.

FOODLESS FOUR DAYS. The crew plainly showed the strain which they had been under for nine days. They were heavily bearded, their faces were tanned by the tropical sun, and the wings of the seaplane were badly smashed by the seas but the hull was intact. Food and water exhausted on the fifth day, after the plane was forced into the sea by lack of fuel, the men therefore were without food for four days.

IGNORED BY STEAMER. The messages radiated by the searching plane and surface ships, were all picked up by the downed seaplane, but it could not put messages on the air in response. This was due to the fact that its drooping antennae was under water.

COMMANDER PRAISED. NAWILIWILI, Island of Kaula, Sept. 11.—The highest praise for commander John Rodgers for the manner in which he handled the disabled plane, PN-3, No. 1, was expressed today by all members of his crew, as they were brought ashore. Swearing by their commander, the men told how he would deprive himself of rations and water, but would insist that the crew take their full share.

WILD REJOICING. As news of the rescue spread, wild scenes of rejoicing were enacted in the surrounding communities. The populace here swarmed to the streets shrieking with joy and enthusiasm far higher than at any time since the signing of the armistice.

HUSBAND QUESTIONED. VINTON, Iowa, Sept. 11.—C. B. Cook, whose wife, Myrtle Cook, president of the Benton County W. C. T. U., was shot to death in her home Monday night, is to be questioned at a closed session of the coroner's inquest today. SPIRITUALISTS IN QUARREL OVER LOVE

British and French Delegates Clash Over Relation of Christ to Science.

Canadian Press. PARIS, Sept. 11.—A slight quarrel between the British and French delegates over the relation of Christ to spiritualism, broke out in yesterday's full session of the International Spiritualists Congress.

Leon Denis, French author, elected president of the congress, and Albin Vallabregue, leading French spiritualist, who is also a famous writer of horror and musical comedy producer, both denied the work of spiritualism as bringing the power of love on earth as expressed in the words of Christ.

CHRIST AS MEDIUM. These two Frenchmen talked so extensively about love in the abstract, that it appeared to get on the nerves of Dr. Abraham Wallace, a great friend of Sir Oliver Lodge, who in a rather tart speech, said:

"We must live the life of Christ, not talk so much about it. This congress has not emphasized enough the fact that Christ was the first great medium and that therefore it is quite obvious that the beginning of modern spiritualism is not in love, as my friends have said, but in withstanding persecution and in the strength to bear it."

RED CROSS WILL LAUNCH DRIVE IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Province-Wide Appeal to People to Start October 15

SEEKS MEMBERS AND AID IN MONEY

Further Phases of Work Told of at Afternoon Session Here

A province-wide drive for members and financial support will be carried out by the New Brunswick Division of the Red Cross Society on Oct. 15. This was decided at the annual convention of the division held in two sessions in the Admiral Beatty Hotel yesterday.

At the opening of the afternoon session Mrs. H. B. McDonald presided in the absence of Mr. Hayes. Miss S. Barrington, organizer of home nursing classes, told of the world-wide Red Cross peace time policy of building up healthy nations and the work of the home nursing classes as the foundation stone of all public health work.

She earnestly hoped home nursing classes had come to stay. Already more than 1,800 in New Brunswick had enrolled in the classes and 778 of these had already received attendance cards. Miss Barrington told of cases in New Brunswick where there had been needless suffering and death for lack of the knowledge of simple home nursing methods and declared lives had been saved in Saint John because of the prompt putting into action of knowledge acquired in the classes.

She emphatically declared the care of soldiers must be the best claim of the Red Cross. She said the Central Council had provided for the continuance of Junior Red Cross and the home nursing classes and that any community desiring to have a home nursing class might obtain it.

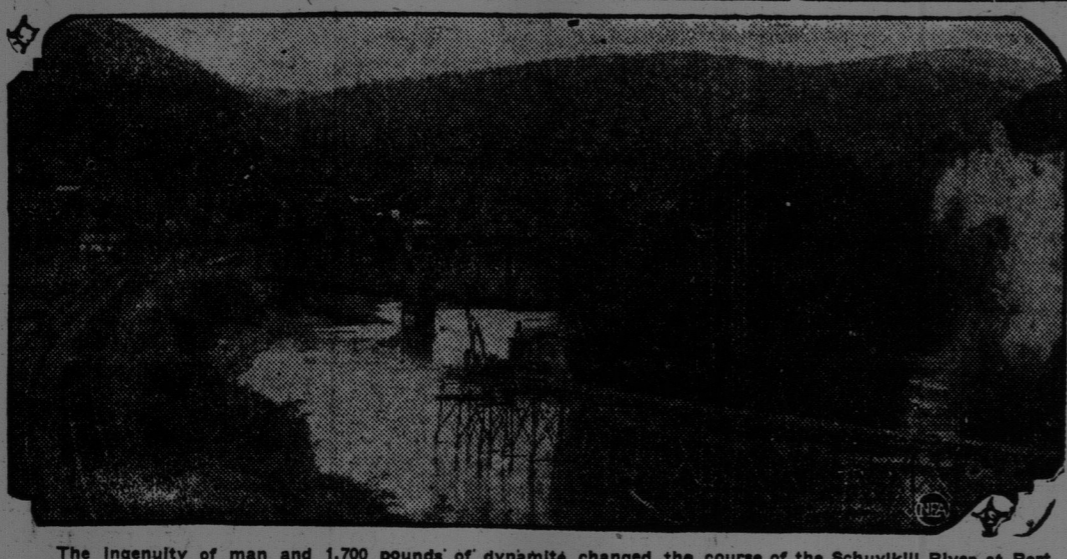

Miss Barrington closed with an eloquent plea for the care of the children as a duty owed to those who made the supreme sacrifice.

GIVE DEMONSTRATION. A demonstration of home nursing class instruction in the care of babies was then given by two members of the Corona class, Miss Katherine Wood and Miss Florence Turnbull, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Martina Wallace, R. N., who in her spare time has instructed four different home nursing classes.

Miss Barrington told the meeting that the Corona girls had given $10 to the home nursing class work and $10 for the car for the patients of River Glade Sanatorium. The celluloid "babies" used in the demonstration were a gift from head office and have been named "George," after Dr. George Ruggles, and "James," after Dr. James Robertson.

Miss Helen Campbell, representing the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, was invited to speak. She told of her work in the dairy branch. The dairy, she said, provided all the year employment, was profitable and useful to both producer and consumer. She stressed the value of milk as a food and said that knowledge of this was a

A U-shaped curve in the river hindered the development of speedy rail service, there being room for only one set of rails around the curve. The new railroad tracks will be laid on the old river bed.

OFFERING CO-OPERATION.

The federal department, to spread this knowledge, was offering co-operation in societies carrying on public health work to such as the Red Cross. During the next few weeks this offer was to be made known throughout the province. Publications would be provided for distribution and it was most desired to reach the women in the home. Posters and motion pictures would also be available if desired to teach the gospel of a wise diet and addresses to school children or store window display could be arranged.

Miss Campbell has charge of a small booth at the Saint John Exhibition. Miss M. Murdoch, superintendent of nurses of the General Public Hospital, Saint John, spoke of the International Convention of nurses in Helsinki for this year, which occupied six days. Great courtesy was shown the nurses who represented 27 countries. The Canadian delegation numbered 60. An address on the Red Cross in French had been given and the close co-operation of nursing and the Red Cross was continually in evidence. In Japan all nurses' training was under the Red Cross.

NOTABLE ADDRESS, SHE SAYS. Miss Jean Brown, president of the Canadian Nurses' Association and director of the Junior Red Cross in Canada, gave a notable address at the convention, Miss Murdoch said. Child welfare work in New Zealand and Finland had been the subjects of two interesting addresses and specially impressive had been the addresses by the five charter members of the International Association. Japan was to be the next place of meeting of the International Convention, it was believed. The formation of subsidiary nursing groups, or nursing housekeepers, had been a much discussed subject, and these groups were held by the convention to be necessary in the Dominion. Miss Murdoch closed her interesting address with the announcement that the New Brunswick Association of Registered Nurses would gladly co-operate in the Red Cross home nursing classes. The announcement was received with applause.

RELATIONS WITH COUNCIL. The New Brunswick division's relations with the Central Council were described in addresses by Mrs. McDonald, Chatham, who attended the Central Council annual meeting. She pointed out the New Brunswick division long ago had drawn back from the Central Council more money than it had contributed to the Red Cross in war time and the Central Council was drawing on its capital to contribute to New Brunswick, but was guaranteeing the continuance of Junior Red Cross and home nursing classes which were second in importance only to the care of soldiers. The Central Council was disposed to give to those divisions which were most inclined to help themselves.

Mrs. McDonald appealed to the division to enter enthusiastically into the campaign to raise the budget of $6,000. Chatham had raised $1,000 through an energetic canvass.

WAYS AND MEANS. In the round table discussion on how the budget was to be raised, Miss Ethel Hasen Jarvis, secretary, said if 81 memberships were relied upon a 10,000 membership would bring only $2,000 to support the provincial office and the soldiers' work, as 25 per cent. would go to the head office and 50 per cent. to the local branch. It seemed that a financial campaign as well as a membership canvass would be needed. R. G. McInerney, treasurer, told factor in national welfare and general health.

the means which might be used to raise the budget. Mrs. Margaret Lawrence, Saint John, publicity and organization convenor, thought the extension and consolidation of branches was also desired. She suggested that the representatives of the various branches give their views. Mrs. McDonald favored a province-wide campaign on one day and said there was an obligation on outside branches to support headquarters and the soldiers' work which Saint John workers were largely carrying. Mrs. L. Foster, of Leakeville, said that branch had been the first to send a contribution to the provincial office.

The date of the provincial financial and membership drive was set for Oct. 15. The plan was to launch a financial drive and where the contribution amounted to $1 or more it was to entitle the donor to membership. Mrs. Jarvis said Red Cross collecting boxes in rural communities where there was no Red Cross had been a successful means of raising funds in other provinces. Mrs. Lawrence said the Women's Institutes would be willing to show appreciation of the Red Cross home nursing classes and that boxes might be sent to the institutes. The matter was referred to a committee with Mr. McInerney as convenor. Dr. Mabel Hanington addressed the meeting on the "Care of the Feeble-Minded," under three headings, custodial, medical and educational. Any well established institution provided all three types of care, she said. Custodial care was required for those of infant mind. She emphasized that where there were people were lovable and quite happy. She had heard parents earnestly declare they would much rather their child were an idiot than a moron as the care-for-idiots were so happy.

HOPES FOR INSTITUTION.

Dr. Hanington hoped that there would soon be a place in New Brunswick where idiots would receive custodial care. She described how those of low mentality heartily enjoyed the games of children of normal mental age and were gullible and lovable. Custodial care was absolutely necessary for the idiots. The Mongolian Idiots, which occurred in the highest families in the land, were so much alike in type that research was directed towards discovering any physiological cause. Dr. Hanington touched briefly upon medical care given to the feeble-minded and spoke of educational care as a very important subject. In educational care every possibility of the feeble-minded was fostered and after it was found they had good habits were allowed out in the world under supervision.

MAKING $30 TO $50 A WEEK.

From Waverly Institution there were several former patients now paying income tax and some were earning from $30 to $50 a week, but all were visited by the supervisor. Dr. Hanington described how imbeciles were taught to walk, to talk and to recognize electric bells, horns, dangerous smells, and acids.

Of feeble-minded cases 65 per cent were hereditary and 35 per cent were not, she said. The slightly delinquent, who had been left too long in the community and had been committed by the courts, were the most difficult cases. In closing Dr. Hanington declared that the care of the feeble-minded protected the community from apollatation, from crimes and the inroads of disease the lack of protection brought about.

PATRONIZING HOME INDUSTRIES

Not only the Maritime ports and provinces, but the whole country loses tremendously every year in revenue, in employment, even in population, because Canada permits so much of its traffic to be carried through foreign ports.

These figures are commanding attention all over the country. "Such a record," says the Calgary Herald, "adds point to the oft-repeated protest of the Maritime Provinces that the ports of Saint John and Halifax should have a greater share in Canada's vast export trade."

Our own ports should have the greater portion of that diverted traffic which can be recovered by resolute Canadian policy and practice. And it must be remembered that it is not the ports alone that are affected, and not the railways alone. This increasing diversion means that the country is being bled more and more every year, and very clearly that way lies disaster.

Ontario the other day preached the patriotic duty and advantage of buying Canadian-made goods and patronizing all forms of home endeavor. The development of Maritime ports, giving additional employment and increased revenue not only to our railway men, and our port workers, but to our merchants and farmers as well, should strike Sir Henry as affording an inviting opportunity to carry into effect the plan of patronizing home industries.

The highly successful baseball season enjoyed by the City League was celebrated in pleasant fashion at last evening's banquet at the Beatty, a most pleasant function, at which the various prizes were presented and the high lights of the past summer were reviewed.

Those who contributed to the League's success, and who are keeping the spirit of sport in a healthful condition in Saint John, are truly to be congratulated both upon the season's work and upon last evening's entertainment. The President of the League referred in the course of his remarks to the admirable support which the public gave to the sport during the summer.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, formerly leader of the Progressives, has declined to be a candidate again in Manitoba. His retirement from the House of Commons will be regretted by many, even outside his own party.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has all sorts of adventures on his travels. Just now it is snow-bound in South America. Buenos Aires reports that a heavy snowstorm yesterday has blocked railway service to Chile on the Trans-Andean line.

Saint John will look forward with interest to the visit here, on September 25, of Major-General Sir Fabian Ware, Permanent Vice-Chairman of the Imperial War Graves Commission. He is to address a public meeting in the Pythian Castle, and will exhibit a series of lantern slides showing the graves of Canadian soldiers in the war area.

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wayfarer"

The Earl of Sandwich—that eel who ordered meat between two slices of bread—had a dancing master in Paris who was so civil that the nobleman offered to do what he could for the master of the mink. "I should esteem it a particular favor if your lordship would never tell any one who taught me to dance."

Although the "Charleston," it is respectfully noted, has reached London and even been taken up by the smart set in the Mayfair vicinage, it does not appeal to the noblesse of South Carolina. It is, in fact, "a rude dance affected by a portion of the negro population."

Mr. H. G. Wells has anticipated so many scientific developments that one feels that his imagination, as exercised in his romance, "Men Like Gods," may have lent some presumptive probability to the reported discovery of Professor Caszamal, of the University of Milan, of a means by which human minds may communicate through the emission of radiographic waves.

It is Science has performed so many wonders that it is far beyond its reach. But fundamentally there seems to be no fact that militates against the Milan professor's theory, to say the least. That the "wave impulse" governs or applies to the nervous impulses, or

The cerebral control over the nervous centers, is altogether likely. What may eventually be done in the way of insuring, determining or controlling the "wave" the brain no one can say in the present state of knowledge.

The suggestion that the brain impulses may thus be harnessed and cooled like wireless telegraphy is a startling one. It seems to forebode not only a wonderful means of communication, but also the removal of the soul that hangs in front of the operations of the human mind.

As night falls the breeze grows into a heavy wind which gains sound and volume. Like a housewife in a passion of cleanliness, it goes about its work of scouring the heavens until, when day dawns again, it is upon a scene that is changed and new.

For the most part the summer foliage still endures, but there is a warning that Nature has in store for us new fashions and stage the world in brighter colors.

It is said that he was the richest man in America when he died. The same distinction is awarded to George Washington, who died three months later. But much of Washington's property was in undeveloped land, of uncertain value, so it is quite probable that Derby was the richer of the two.

In Derby's designation as "King" there was nothing hostile. It was an honest recognition of his undoubted and indubitable leading position in the commercial world of Salem, then in its heyday of widespread and profitable trading with the far corners of the earth.

KING REVEALS SENATE PLANS; MEIGHEN ASSAILS SHIP SCHEME

Former Prime Minister Terms Petersen Agreement "Manifest and Stupid Folly" in Bethany Speech

CABINET FINANCING METHODS BLAMED

Government Head, Defends C. N. R. Administration; Says Sir Henry Thornton Will Resign, if Politicians Should Interfere

PREMIER KING, continuing his campaign, spoke yesterday at Cayuga, Ont., while Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Opposition leader, spoke at Bethany, Ont. Each took occasion to assail each other's policies. Hon. Mr. King revealed that in the matter of senate reform the members of the government were agreed that life appointments should not be the basis of tenure of office in the senate. He condemned Mr. Meighen's statements regarding the Canadian National Railways, Mr. Meighen on the other hand, dealt with the late Petersen contract, terming it a "manifest and stupid folly." He also charged that the government itself was a member of the alleged Atlantic shipping "combine." He then assailed Mr. King's methods of financing.

King Speech

CAYUGA, Ont., Sept. 10—Premier King spoke this afternoon in a constituency which for him has historic family associations, for it was an ancestor representative that William Lyon Mackenzie went to parliament in 1839.

ASKS SPEECHES COMPARED.

Premier King referred to Mr. Meighen's speech at Wingham, and his own speech at Richmond Hill and asked the public to compare the two and draw their own conclusions as to what was right.

Heatedly and angrily, Premier King again shot back at Mr. Meighen. He took Mr. Meighen's Wingham reply and quoting lengthy extracts from both speeches accused the leader of the Opposition of deliberate falsehood. He took Mr. Meighen's reference to his Richmond Hill statement on railways and sharply questioned it.

"Is this fair fighting? I think the people of this country would support one thing above everything else and that is fair play. I don't think the public of this country want to have even their political opponents misinterpreted, their words distorted, their meaning twisted and even have direct falsehood told in regard to their position. I know these are strong words, but the time has come when they have got to be used. For four years in the course I have seen Mr. Meighen misrepresenting facts day after day and simply with the one purpose in view, of creating an impression that the government is wrong, no matter how his words are injuring the country."

TELLS SENATE STAND.

Premier King accepted Mr. Meighen's challenge on Senate reform. Mr. Meighen, he said, had challenged him to name one single proposal for reform of the Senate to which he would commit the government.

"I will take up his challenge," exclaimed the Prime Minister. "I will commit the government to this measure of reform, that I do not think Senators should be appointed for life. We have had men in the Senate who have reached the age of 102."

AGE LIMIT SUGGESTED.

"And a man who reaches that age might have been suited as an adviser to Noah, but he is not suited as an advisor at the present time. I say that when a man has passed a certain age, when it is perfectly apparent that his faculties are not as active as they should be, when his health is impaired, it is not right that he should continue to hold his position as a member of parliament."

Members of the government were agreed that life appointments should not be the basis of tenure of office in the Senate.

CONTENTION DENIED.

Mr. King bluntly denied Mr. Meighen's contention that he was hamstringing senators before appointment and pledging them to support anything the government might propose.

Premier King quoted Mr. Meighen's statement on the National Railways that the first month "I am in power I will stop new capital investments with a strong hand."

That there would be no more Scribe hotels, no more sky-scrapers on Yonge street, no more extravagant golf courses, no more radio systems. This meant, argued Premier King, that Mr. Meighen intended political interference with the National Railways, and if there were political interference Sir Henry Thornton would resign.

"But are you going to have our railways run by politicians or are you going to follow the system we have adopted and leave them in the hands of men like Sir Henry Thornton and his board of directors? I can tell you what would happen if Mr. Meighen tried that business. He said "I will stop these things." In other words, he will run the railways."

THORNTON WON'T SUBMIT.

"Sir Henry Thornton will never submit to that kind of thing. Sir Henry Thornton and his board of directors are not the kind of men to take the responsibility of managing the railways and then have some minister come in and say: 'You will do what I say in regard to railways or I will stop them.' And I think the people of Canada will think twice before approving that sort of thing."

OLD PRACTICE FOLLOWED.

Mr. Meighen had criticized the government for not including National Railway debt in the ordinary public debt. But in doing this the government had followed the practice of all previous governments.

The Prime Minister further declared that under two years of the Meighen government the railway debt had increased by $278,000,000, while under three years of Liberal government the addition to the railway debt was $294,000,000, or $44,000,000 less. In the oper-

Meighen Speech

BETHANY, Ont., Sept. 10—Speaking in Durham County today where W. T. R. Preston, author of the report declaring the existence of a great ocean shipping combine, was a candidate at the last election, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen characterised the government's contract with the late Sir William Petersen as "a manifest and stupid folly."

SEES FOLLY IN AGREEMENT

The folly of the agreement was so apparent to everybody, that the government had to get a committee of parliament to find a "decalogue" to bury it in, "declared the Conservative leader.

"Mr. King takes great unctious out of the fact that the contract was ratified by parliament," he continued. "It had to be. Every contract which a government enters into must be ratified by parliament. But, outside the official debates of the House of Commons, I never heard one man of any political party who had anything good to say of the contract. It was a manifest and stupid folly."

TERMS REVIEWED.

The Conservative leader reviewed the terms of the contract.

"You could no more control rates got to be used. For four years in the course I have seen Mr. Meighen misrepresenting facts day after day and simply with the one purpose in view, of creating an impression that the government is wrong, no matter how his words are injuring the country."

GOVERNMENT IN "COMBINE"

"The Government itself could not function without it," he insisted. "The Government was member of the 'combine' and what's more, it is still Rates charged by the combine prevail on the Government boats. What is to be thought of a Government which sets the people of Canada to put their hands in their pockets and pay Sir William Petersen $18,300,000 to break a 'combine' of which their own ships were members."

"It is true that in recent days the Prime Minister has been rather abusive of me," said Mr. Meighen in opening, "but I am not here in the character of a man who is hunted for his sins."

"He resented my reference to the record of his government being a blank," Mr. Meighen said, "and he declares that his achievements are very great."

DEBT REDUCTION FALLACY.

Mr. King claimed, as one of the achievements, a reduction in the National debt, but this was a fallacy. The Prime Minister had adopted the practice of endorsing the notes of the Canadian National Railway and keeping these amounts out of the national debt of the country.

"I'm not objecting to the endorsing so much if he would only tell the country the truth," Mr. Meighen said.

Mr. King's method of financing meant that an amount equal to the national debt before the war was not revealed as part of the debt, even though Canada was liable. Mr. King's claim that the government had reduced taxation was also fallacious, Mr. Meighen said.

CANDIDATES WITHDRAWN.

Mr. King was withdrawing Liberal candidates in Western Ontario in favor of Progressives and at the same time complaining that he could only function in parliament by the aid of Progressives, the Conservative leader declared.

The meeting was held in a large tent in the sunny picnic park, approximately 2,000 people were present.

Mr. Meighen had accepted his position as president of the C. N. R. on the understanding that there would be no political interference; but Mr. Meighen's plan was to have political interference from the first month of taking office.

SCRIBE HOTEL LEASED.

Mr. Meighen said there would be no more Scribe hotels. The present position was that the National Railways had leased the Scribe Hotel in Paris. In addition to that they have got space in the building and they got it with a single cent of payment. Mr. Meighen said there would be no more sky-scrapers on Yonge street. The position was that the Canadian National had sold a piece of property at a very much larger price than they paid for it. Mr. Meighen had said there would be no more golf courses. The C. P. R. had a golf course at Banff in connection with their hotel, but Mr. Meighen did not propose that course should be abolished. What Sir Henry Thornton had wanted the golf course at Jasper Park for was to attract tourists and this year thousands of people had to live in cars on the railway sidings at Jasper Park because they could not get accommodation in the hotel.

Weddings

Marshall-Lyle.

Miss Sadie Marion Lyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rochford Lyle, of West Somerville, Mass., and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Snodgrass, of Titusville, N. B., where she has visited every summer, became the bride of Donald Leslie Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Marshall, of West Somerville, Mass., on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 22, at 6 o'clock in the presence of relatives and friends. The ceremony, which was at the home of the bride's parents, 23 Lowden avenue, was performed by Rev. David Fraser, pastor of the West Somerville Congregational church.

Donald-Kerr.

The parsonage of the United Church at Jerusalem, Queens county, was the scene of a pretty wedding, when Rev. J. E. Shanahan, pastor of the church, solemnized the marriage of Miss Ida Kerr of Summer Hill and Walter Donald of the same place on Wednesday, September 9, in the presence of immediate friends. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Donald left by automobile for a short trip through the province. On their return they will reside at Summer Hill.

Climo-Colwell.

A wedding of interest to friends in Saint John took place on Wednesday in the First Baptist church, Halifax, when Miss Evelyn Marie Colwell became the bride of Dr. Charles B. Climo. The groom was a former resident of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. L. Huddleston, pastor of the church. After a honeymoon trip in New York and Atlantic City they will reside in Halifax.

Ward-Stiles.

MONCTON, Sept. 10—(Special)—A quiet wedding took place at the home of George Ripley, Sunny Brae, Wednesday afternoon when William Ward, of Buctouche, was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Stiles, of Coates Mills. The ceremony was performed by J. L. Lund, pastor of the Sunny Brae United church.

Deaths

James Bradley.

ST. GEORGE, Sept. 10—James Bradley died here Monday. He was 88 years of age, the son of the late James and Mary Bradley. The direct cause of his death was pneumonia, contracted a few days ago. "Jim," as everyone knew him, had been an invalid for twenty-six years, confined to his bed, unable to move more than a foot, the result of rheumatism. Through all the long years he accepted his lot, never complaining. His mind was clear and he took great interest in the affairs of his family, his friends and the country. A great reader with a marvelous memory, he was an interesting conversationalist among the Catholics of his church, where the prayers for the dead were read by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Holland. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery. The pallbearers were John C. O'Brien, George E. Frailey, Samuel McClellan, Wallace Lynott, George Marshall and Edward Mullen.

PLACE COLORS IN STONE CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

N. B. Artillery Brigade Plans Are Complete For Ceremony WILL MARCH FROM ARMOY AT 10 A. M. Brigade Founded in 1793 Has Fine Record—Many Overseas

The 8th New Brunswick Brigade, or 8th Medium Brigade, Canadian Artillery, founded in 1793 and second oldest of the artillery militia units garrisoned in the British Empire outside of the British Isles, will place its regimental colors in St. John's (Stone) church on Sunday morning at the church centenary service, when His Lordship Bishop Richardson will be the preacher. The colors were presented to the regiment as the gift of the women of the city and county of Saint John on December 18, 1861.

The King's colors in Union Jack with the crown worked in floss and 1793 beneath worked in figures of gold. The "Regimental Color" is a blue ensign, in the center is a figure with the letters "N. B. Artillery" enclosed by a wreath and surmounted with the crown, all beautifully wrought in floss with 1793 in figures of gold beneath. Both colors are made of the heaviest and most costly silk, and as there is a total absence of paint on either color, they are both in a fine state of preservation.

St. John's church was built of the garrison church of the city and its present rector, Rev. A. L. Fleming, is the chaplain of the brigade.

PARADE SUNDAY. The regiment will parade at the Armoiy on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and on the march to the church will be headed by the regimental band, St. Mary's band. Lt.-Col. Norman P. McLeod will be in charge of the parade, and it is expected that all of the officers will march. They are as follows: Lt.-Col. Norman P. McLeod, M. C.; Quartermaster, Capt. E. H. Turnbull; Adjutant, Capt. Arthur Anglin, M. C.; medical officer, Capt. E. Stanley Bridges; honorary chaplain, Capt. A. L. Fleming, 19th Heavy Battery, Major D. V. White, M. C.; Capt. Henry F. Morrissy, Lieut. Adrien B. Gilbert, Lieut. Harold Vincent, Lieut. C. Martin Merritt, Lieut. William C. Curry; 4th Medium Battery, Major E. M. Slader, Capt. A. A. Dodge, Lieut. J. G. Hart, Lieut. W. A. Marshall, Lieut. E. W. Frichard; 6th Medium Battery, Major G. A. Gambelin, M. C.; Capt. W. A. Evans, M. C.; Lieut. E. D. Walsh, Lieut. Douglas McKean and Lieut. D. G. Fowler.

COLOR PARTY. Lieut. C. Martin Merritt will carry the King's Color and regimental band will carry the color party. The guard for the color party will be composed of the three sergeants who are senior in the brigade and have seen the most active service. They are Sergt. H. Pike, M. C.; Sergt. J. Peters and Sergt. C. W. Walton.

The route of the parade will be along the streets, south side of King square, along Charlotte King, Germain, Union, Peel and Carleton streets.

THE PROCEDURE. The customary order of service will be followed with the adjutant knocking with his sword upon the closed doors of the church, asking that the regiment be admitted to deposit its colors. The rector, Rev. A. L. Fleming, will give the formal acceptance and the procession will then march up the main aisle of the church in the following order: Clergy, bishop, colonel, Colonel McLeod and Color Party and the brigade.

Colonel McLeod will make the formal request that the colors be accepted for safe-keeping, and the rector will express willingness to receive them in the sacred cause of King and Country and in the name of God. The guard will present arms to the colonel and he will take each color, humbly placing them upon the Holy Table. The Bishop will offer the prayer for blessing.

Directly after the prayer the drummers will roll the drums and the buglers sound the Last Post. Special hymns and anthem will be sung and during the taking of the offering St. Mary's band will play. The Bishop will preach the sermon.

PROUD TRADITIONS. The regiment has proud traditions. The first militia artillery unit in the Empire was the Honorable Artillery Company founded in 1597 for improved training of citizens of London. Next in age comes the unit formed in India by the Hon. East India Company in 1748. The 8th New Brunswick Heavy Brigade has developed from the Loyalty Company of Artillery of the City of Saint John, N. B., formed in May, 1793. It is not only its antiquity of which it is proud, however, it has had as its members men who have brought high honor to the province in all fields of endeavor and as a regiment it has greatly achieved.

FIRST CAPTAIN. John Colville was the first captain of the company which was organized ten years after the landing of the Loyalists when the safety of the city was threatened during the war with the French. Those early days were days of alarms and excursions and training was very much training for active service. Companies of Artillery had been formed in other sections of the province and in 1888 all were united under the New Brunswick Regiment of Artillery. The Lieutenants-Colonel's company, the Lieutenants-Colonel's company, manding the regiment have been as follows: Richard Hayne, Stephen Kent Foster, John B. Armstrong, George West Jones, Dr. Walter W. White, Hon. Dr. J. E. M. Baxter, Beverly R. Armstrong, W. Henry Harrison, D.S.O., and Norman P. McLeod, M.C., now commanding. The Regiment became a Brigade in 1869 and just recently it has been renamed as the 8th Medium Brigade Canadian Artillery. The artillery played its part in official celebrations of national events, and the welcome of distinguished guests as well as in safeguarding the peace of the country, and social events under its auspices were assured of success.

HISTORY COMPILED. Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Beter has compiled a very complete and interesting historical sketch of the regiment from 1793 to 1896. Since that time its members have given a good account of themselves both in the South African war and in the recent great war.

The brigade is now a training skeleton and its number is not large. Each summer its members go to Petawawa training camp and the brigade has 6-inch howitzers and 4.7 inch heavy guns at the Armoiy in Saint John.

In the South African War some of the members of the regiment enlisted in a company recruited in Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick. In the Great War, 2,041 of the members of the brigade were on active service, including the officers who had rank in the C.E.F. as follows: Lieut-Col. B. R. Armstrong, Major W. A. Harrison, M. C., Lieut-Col. D. F. Piddington, Major S. S. Skinner, Lieut-Col. W. H. Harrison, D. S. O., Lieut-Col. F. C. Magee, D. S. O., Major J. T. MacGowan, Major L. W. Barker, Major L. T. Allen, Capt. J. E. BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Husband and wife each sought one another for divorce, in different counties, was disclosed in Middlesex Probate Court, where Major C. Barber, prominent Lynn banker, whose home is in New York, has filed a libel against his wife, Mrs. Edith Y. Barber of Amesbury. Charging the banker with desertion in September, 1921, Mrs. Barber, some weeks ago, filed a petition for divorce in Essex Probate Court, Salem, stating she was married to Barber in Boston, June 18, 1917, and since has lived in Winthrop, Lynn and Newton. For several years the Jews have been holding their religious meetings in the homes of the people of their race and creed in the city. For holiday occasions, such as the celebration of the Jewish New Year on Sept. 19, they have been hiring halls for their gatherings. This is a considerable expense and the Rev. Samuel Aronson, the local rabbi, is eager to establish some permanent religious headquarters. It was hoped by some to have such a hall in

TOO MANY SHIPS FOR TRAFFIC IS TROUBLE

Sir Alan Anderson Says Freights at Laying-Up Point Since 1921

TONNAGE IN YEAR IS REDUCED BY 800,000

Says Government Operation Is Part of Cause of Present Difficulties

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Although the world is suffering from a surplus of ships, all tonnage would be needed if the nations were to trade as before the war, Sir Alan Anderson of the Orient Line told the recent meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce at London.

"Unfortunately," said Sir Alan, "while the world's population has increased, the trade is less than before the war. The increased transport of oil is some compensation for less transport of coal, but apart from the coal there has been a great reduction in the volume of international overseas trade."

FREIGHTS LOW

"Since 1921 freights have been at the laying-up point. The cargo-tonnage of the world has been without profit and any rate has been accepted which was just less costly than laying the ship up. In the principal ports throughout the world there were by July, 1925, about 12,500,000 tons of shipping laid up. Since 1922 hard facts have forced owners to break up ships. I have no up-to-date world figures, but the tonnage laid up in British ports has sunk from 1,800,000 gross tons in July, 1922, to 600,000 gross tons in April, 1925.

"In ten years the total tonnage of the world's steam and motor ships has increased by half from 45,500,000 gross tons to 61,500,000 gross tons. Of this great fleet 23,000,000 tons are less than twenty years old, and only 10,000,000 tons are more than twenty years old. It is more startling if one looks back eight years further to 1916. Since the war there have been added to the world's fleet new, efficient ships equal to the whole of the steam and motor tonnage in 1916.

"These are facts about the world's total tonnage and the ocean-going fleets have within the last ten years increased in about the same proportion, in spite of the fact that the ocean-going tonnage belonging to the United Kingdom fell from 18,300,000 gross tons to 16,900,000 and that of Germany from 4,700,000 to 2,200,000. The United Kingdom and Germany before the war were the leading maritime nations, and their fleets have shrunk by about 4,000,000 tons. During the same period the ocean-going fleet of the United States increased by over 10,000,000 tons from 11,000,000 to 21,000,000, and the combined fleets of Japan, Holland, France, Italy and Norway increased by 5,500,000 gross tons from 7,100,000 to 12,600,000.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL

"Many of these new merchant navies are owned and controlled by Governments not always on commercial lines, and this fact adds materially to the difficulties of overseas transport. On April 1 last the Government of the United States, for example, owned nearly 6,000,000 gross tons, of which about 900 ships of 4,000,000 were laid up.

"I am glad to say that the desire of the world to own superfluous ships seems to be growing less intense; the total steam and motor tonnage recorded in Lloyd's Register fell by 500,000 tons between July, 1924 and July, 1925, and the decrease was mainly in ocean-going vessels.

"The new ships are much more efficient than a fleet of similar size before the war. There are 5,000,000 gross tons of tankers specially constructed for transporting the world's output of oil which in 1924 amounted to about 170,000,000 tons, and is growing steadily.

"The sickness of the world's shipping, a last analysis, is caused by just that same disturbance of credit, currency, exchange and national outlook which we in this chamber consider and debate in so many forms."

TAX COLLECTIONS IN COUNTY LOWER

Figures Show Fewer People Save Discount in Two of Parishes.

The returns from the tax collectors for the four parishes in the county of Saint John for the discount period have been received by the county treasurer and the amount received is less by $234.88 than was received in the same period last year. The parishes of Simonds and Musquash were the only ones to show an increase over last year, they having paid in more than $2,000 over 1924.

Following are the figures for the various parishes:
Lancaster—County purposes, $32,806.81; highway, $7,448.97; total, $40,255.78. Amount collected last year, $61,798.16. A part of the falling off is accounted for by the fact that no returns have yet been received from Lorneville.

Simonds—County purposes, $14,188.82; highway, $3,535.50; total, $17,724.32. Amount collected last year, $15,550.85.
St. Martins—County purposes, $6,163.18; highway, $1,183.81; total, $7,346.99. Collected last year, $6,887.45.
Musquash—County purposes, $1,120.18; highway, $236.79; total, $1,356.97. Collected last year, $1,494.73.

Lascelles Is Mentioned For Gov.-General

British United Press.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—To the long list of those suggested for Governor-General of Canada as successor to Lord Byng the name of Viscount Lascelles, husband of Princess Mary, is now being suggested in London social circles.

It is even said that the Viscount is anxious to go to Canada, but it is impossible to obtain any confirmation of the statement.

Many names have been eliminated from the list. The Duke of Atholl is still in the running, but no one seems to know where the definite choice will fall. It all depends on Canada, and it is now unlikely that it will be settled until after the elections.

MORRISY MAY RUN AS AN INDEPENDENT

Lord Beaverbrook's Brother is Mentioned as Conservative Possibility.

NEWCASTLE, Sept. 10.—It is probable that C. J. Morrissey, a member of the last New Brunswick Legislature, will offer as an independent candidate in the next federal election. In the legislature he sat as a supporter of the Veniot administration but was defeated on Aug. 10.

At the last federal election he lost the nomination by a small majority. Mr. Morrissey would neither confirm nor deny the report of his running as an independent but authentic sources have intimated that he is being pressed by many of his followers to adopt this course and he will probably do so.

CONSERVATIVE POSSIBILITIES.

The Northumberland Conservative party will hold its convention on September 22. At present C. F. Hickey, of Chatham, D. S. Craghan and R. T. D. Aitken, of Newcastle, and James Robinson, of Millerton, are regarded as probable aspirants.

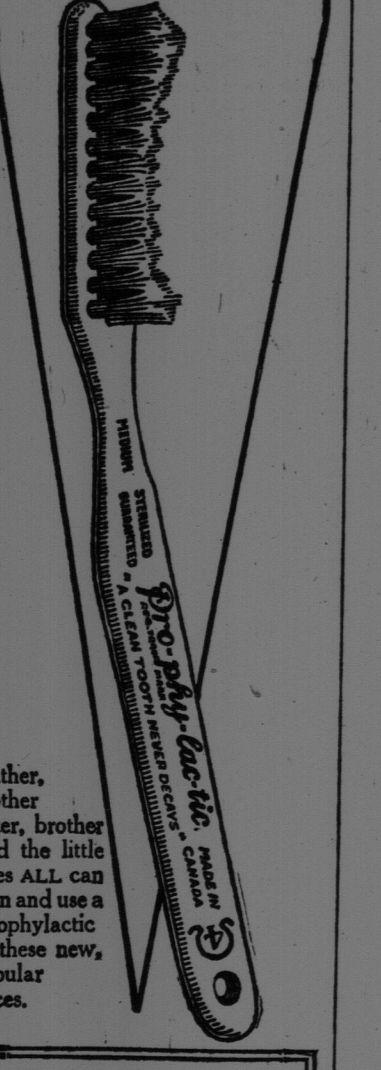

D. S. Craghan is being strongly supported. Twice Mayor of Newcastle, and a descendant of a political family, he is rapidly coming to the fore in the realm of politics.

R. T. D. Aitken, brother of the world famed Lord Beaverbrook, is well acquainted with the political game. He has returned to his home in Newcastle after a period of 15 years, five years of which he spent with the overseas forces. He was active in the recent provincial election and is being pressed to accept the federal nomination.

James Robinson, of Millerton, is also in the field for the nomination. He is one of the Northumberland political veterans.

C. F. Hickey, of Chatham, Conservative contestant in the last federal by-election, is regarded as the most probable choice of the Conservative party if he will allow his name to go before the convention but so far he has not said whether he will accept.

Sons of England Will Honor Dead of Order on Sunday.

BRAZILIAN IS WEAKER TODAY IN MONTREAL

Several Other Stocks, However, Show Strength as Market Opens.

PRICES UPWARD IN WALL STREET

Easy Money Rates and Continuance of Rediscount Rate are Factors.

Canadian Press. MONTREAL, Sept. 11.—Weakness in Brazilian, which was again the active feature, attracted attention at the opening of today's stock market, the price dropping 1/2 overnight to 72 1/2, and then sagging to 71 for a net decline of 1 1/2. Later it strengthened to 71 1/2. On the other hand, Shawinigan advanced 2 to 16 1/2, Dominion Bridge 1/4 to 10 1/2, National Breweries 1/4 to 5 1/2, Steel Canada 1/4 to 9 1/2, and Steamships Ltd. 1/4 to 48. The balance of the list was quiet. Bank of Montreal and Laurentide sold unchanged at 237, and 79 1/2 respectively, while Brompton lost 1 to 22, and Winnipeg Ralls pd. in a small lot transaction, 1/4 to 96 1/4.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Stock prices resumed their upward movement at the opening of today's market. Relative to easy money rates and the continuance of the 8 1/2 per cent. rediscount rate by the New York Federal Reserve Bank, were stressed as bullish factors in overnight commission-house advices. Initial gains of about a point each, were recorded by United States Steel common, American Smelting and General Electric.

Morning Stock Letter NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The industrial averages yesterday reached a new high and we see yet no change of any kind in the market. Speculation jumps from stock to stock and from group to group, and there is no general forward surge, but the market partly reaches new highs. Earnings estimates are high, but the accounts are well margined and people do not seem to want to sell. To break this market it is seemingly going to take some piece of news that will badly frighten the bulls, and this is not on the horizon yet. Motors continue in the lead and higher prices for some of them are likely. The way Studebaker held yesterday after its big advance indicates higher prices for it. Southern Railway should be bought on this dip. We are still bullish on the specialties, which we have been recommending and we expect much higher prices for Atlantic Gulf, California Packing and AGR. Steel showed little response yesterday, following the small decrease in unfilled orders reported. This month is likely to show a gain in forward orders and steel looks higher. Bellco Consolidated Gas is still a purchase.

Brokers' Opinions NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Hornblower: Buy leather stocks, mainly Central Leather and Barrett, on the basis that the last six months of the year will show a surplus increase in earnings. Puy Lehigh Valley. Block Maloney: The present rally will probably carry a little further, but on strong spots you can sell them, as there is no change in the situation. A great many people are waiting to cash in. Houseman & Co.: Without anticipating a sustained move in the oils, it is entirely possible for them to have a partial recovery and to regain some of the ground. Tobey & Kirk: Gen. Motors earnings this year would suggest good extra dividends. Rail situation remarkably strong and favorable events in this group indicated.

AUTO IS IN CITY WAY TO PACIFIC

Arrives From Halifax and Will go From Here to Fredericton.

The Ford car which left Halifax Tuesday for Vancouver over the proposed all-Canadian transcontinental roadway, arrived in the city at 7 o'clock last evening and, although it was not taken to the exhibition, many citizens had an opportunity to view it in front of the Admiral Beatty. G. Hitchinger, the photographer who will film the Halifax-Vancouver tour, and F. L. Scrymgeour, publicity man, composed the party along with the Sussex dealer. Today it is proposed to film the historical and interesting beauty spots of the city and the party hope to leave this afternoon for Fredericton. They will be driven to the capital by Royden Foley, local Ford dealer.

Dr. P. E. Doolittle, president of the Canadian Good Roads Association, will join the party at Quebec and proceed with them to the Pacific coast. The car is covered with such legends as "Halifax to Vancouver over the all-Canadian route." The car bears a set of Ford City, Ont., license plates and Halifax plates are joined to them. While in Moncton a large gathering of citizens inspected the car and viewed the signing of a parchment roll by Mayor Edgett. The roll will be signed by the Mayor of each city visited.

LAST AWARDS IN N. B. DOG SHOW

Bench Exhibition Closes—One of Best Ever Held Here

Prize Winners are Announced—Variety Classes and Children's Variety.

With the judging of the children's variety, and other variety entries, and the presentation of prizes, the seventeenth annual dog show of the New Brunswick Kennel Club closed last night after having treated the visitors to the exhibition to the most successful dog show held by the club. Champion "Solva Sarah II," whippet (female dog, owned by Witty Warren, Montreal, delighted the afternoon exhibition crowds with two 75 yard racing exhibitions in front of the grandstand. The dog made good time and amazed the crowds with its lightning speed. During the presentation of prizes in the evening, Miss Alice Tobin, secretary stenographer of the kennel club, was presented a dainty silver flower vase as a proof of the appreciation the members feel for the capable manner in which she attended to her secretarial duties before and during the show. A large number of silver cups were presented to the owners of the winning canines in the various classes.

Current Events NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Devoil and Reynolds declare extra dividend of 50 cents on common and regular quarterly dividend. Western Union July operating increase $1,462,757, against $1,090,647 year ago. Studebaker August output 27,600 cars, against 30,000 in July. President of Gen. Pets says board contemplates increase in dividend to $2 from $1.50 as soon as stockholders approve $10,000,000 bond issue. American Superpower increased annual dividend on common A and B from 90 cents to $1.00. Federal Reserve System, 7.4, 74.8 and 80.3. New York Federal Reserve discount unchanged 3/4 per cent.

MACHIAS, Me., Sept. 10.—Although rain fell and the track was heavy, the racing card was completed at the Machias fair today. The feature event was the free-for-all, which was won by inches by the old campaigning mare, Saska, from Little Bondsman, the first being a dead heat. Addie Echo nosed out Mr. Deel in close finishes in the 2:24 class.

ENJOYABLE BANQUET MARKS END OF SEASON FOR CITY LEAGUE

GORMAN GIVEN GOLD WATCH AS LEADING PLAYER

Speeches and Special Entertainment Are Well Received

THE banquet of the City Senior League in the Admiral Beatty Hotel last evening, climaxed a prosperous season, was the first of its kind in many years and was one of the most enjoyable and successful functions of its kind, marked as it was by the greatest spirit of friendliness and honor. The address by President Gorman, His Worship Mayor Potts, Hon. Mr. Wignmore, J. C. Chesley, Charles M. Lingley, Vice-President Walter R. Golding, Ray Hansen and others were of a high order and quite witty.

The outstanding event was the presentation of the beautiful gold watch donated by "Sporting Life" to Charlie Gorman, selected by a representative jury as the most valuable player for the year 1925. Hon. Dr. Fraser presented the trophy and profoundly stirred his hearers. Gorman was given three rousing cheers and a tiger, a similar occasion being accorded Earl Nelson, the Royals' star, when he was presented by Dr. Baxter with the cup for the leading hitter. Dr. Baxter's apt and fitting little speech in handing over this trophy to the colored boy was the finest bit of the evening. In his reply, Nelson said he always hoped he would be worthy of the honor paid him.

Three players figured closely in the final standing for this trophy. Nelson was a bare six points behind Gorman, while Dalton was nine points behind Nelson. The exact tabulation was as follows:

Name	1st	2nd	3rd
Gorman	8	1	4
Nelson	2	8	1
Murphy	0	2	2
Hannah	0	0	2
Lloyd Stirling	0	2	0
Snodgrass	0	0	1

Ruth, Meusel, and Gehrig Hit Consecutive Homers Tying Record

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Blows dealt by Washington and Pittsburgh have taken most of the fight for first place out of Philadelphia and New York, but there is every indication that the season-long struggle for third and fourth runnings in the first division of both leagues will continue to the end. After hammering away at the third place White Sox in the American League for weeks, the Tigers and the Browns smashed the barrier yesterday and Chicago fell to the second division. Masterful pitching by Gaston and Wriggall of the Browns, coupled with timely hitting by Bennett, accomplished a double defeat of Collins' team, 6-2 and 6-4, both contests going extra innings. Slater's team thereby rose from fifth to third place, while Detroit, in fourth place, was the bridge over which the advancing and retreating baseball forces marched. The Tigers could get no better than an even break with the Indians, winning the first at 6-1, and losing the second, 7-2. The Browns are now one game ahead of the Tigers, and the Sox a half game ahead of Detroit.

St. Louis and Boston kept up their scramble for fourth and fifth places in the National. The Braves pulled up to within a single game of fifth place St. Louis by sharing a double-header with the Phillies, winning at 6-8, after they had been beaten out 4 to 0 by Carlin. The Cards made the slight advance possible by dropping their game with the Pirates, 9 to 5.

George Spragg To Protest Win By G. Powell

Watch Macks Go Now; Have 2 Real Mascots

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Two shining-faced colored boys, each about eight years old, brought to the Athletics' bench today as mascots, were credited by the players with breaking their losing jinx. The youths, beaming at the distinction thrust upon them, kept the players in good spirits with songs and dances before the game. As a good luck token, the players rubbed the heads of these mascots before going to bat, and base hits began to ring out when they were needed. After the game, the youths were showered with coins and promised each would be bought a new suit of clothes.

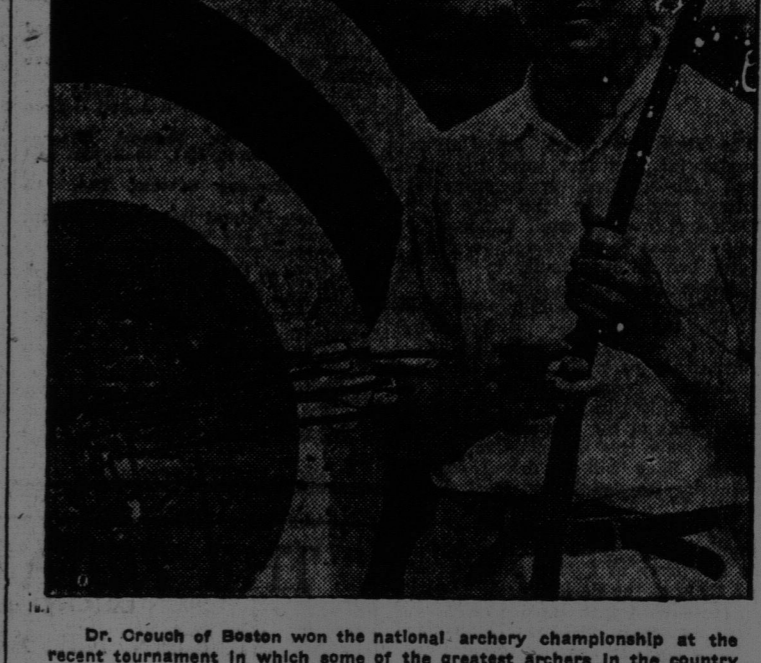

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The local runner who finished second in the tempestuous road race yesterday in connection with the Exhibition here, informed The Times-Star this morning that he was protesting the win by Gordon Powell, of Dorchester, Mass., on the ground that Powell used the sidewalks and also cut the corners over the route. Spragg says it was understanding that the runners should stick to the road which he did. As he was only beaten by a matter of 12 seconds, he contends he would have shown up better had he known this practice would be followed. He said he was sending his protest in writing to W. E. Stirling, vice-president of the M. F. B., in charge of the event.

Nearly All Managers Slated To Hold Posts For The 1926 Season

Despite many rumors that have been heard to the contrary, there will be few changes, if any at all, in the management of the major league baseball teams at the close of the current season. It is a popular pastime in the closing days of the regular season to speculate about new managers for the teams that failed to do well during the season, but it is an unusual fact that this year, the managers of the teams which made the poorest showing are the most secure in their positions. Managers of teams that have won pennants have been discharged in the past, as was the case with the late Pat Moran when he lost his job after winning a pennant with the Pirates, but that is not the case with any of the present managers.

The Start

It was 4:06 o'clock when Starter Frank White fired the pistol and men started from the front of the grandstand on the exhibition grounds. Powell immediately took the lead, with Lambert in second place. After covering two laps on the track the runners led the grounds for Carmarthen street with Powell leading by about 50 yards. On the way to the corner of Macleburg street the visiting runner ran on the sidewalk and increased his lead slightly over Lambert and Spragg, who were running abreast on the inner track. On reaching the corner of Sydney and Duke streets, Powell was about 100 yards ahead. On entering Prince Edward street the three runners were making good time and remaining in about the same positions. At a point on the Marsh Road near the McAvilly plant, Powell had increased his lead slightly, while Lambert was drawing away from Spragg and the distance between the leader and the second man was about 200 yards.

HOW FIXED FOR SUITS?

Of course you can do with another one—a man wants three or four suits to keep alternating. That system has been found to cut down the yearly cost of one's clothing and still gain the effect of lavish spending.

Triple C Tailoring is tailoring from expensive cloth—but not expensive the way we buy and sell. WILL DEVELOP ALBERT MINES

Ottawa Engineer, in City Today, Purchases Controlling Interest

Louis Simpson Says Plans Announced Later—Quebec Development.

Louis Simpson, industrial engineer, of Ottawa, is in the city today. Mr. Simpson made it known in an interview that he has purchased a controlling interest in the Albert Mines, in which the late Hon. William Pugsley and others were interested, and that he proposes to proceed with development there on an important scale after certain preliminaries have been adjusted. The business is that of extracting oil from the shales.

Mr. Simpson was interested in the development of power on the Ottawa river, in Pontiac county, where a section of Chat Falls is to be harnessed. Referring to the Quebec despatch of this morning, announcing the acquisition of the mines, Mr. Simpson said that he had been granted by the Quebec government for this development, Mr. Simpson said that evidently one of the names had been confused in transmission over the wires. Mr. Simpson was interested in the property and negotiated its transfer.

The man to whom the Quebec government has given permission to proceed is A. G. Munch, managing director of the Kingdom Mining, Smelting and Manufacturing Company, a subsidiary of James Robertson & Sons, Montreal. The company mines lead and zinc in the vicinity of the power site at Chat Falls.

Mr. Simpson said that his plans regarding Albert county development would be announced later. He is moving to New Brunswick, and will take up quarters at the mines, about five miles from Hillsboro.
