FEW TO RINGER IN MEIGHEN CABINET

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter Has Talk With Premier.

Reported Hon. Mr. Wigmore Slated for Senate and That Sir J. D. Hazen Has Refused Place in Government at Ottawa.

(Special to The Times) Ottawa, Sept. 9.—As a preliminary re-organization of the cabinet it is reported here that Premier Meighen has asked the resignations of all the ministers and that most of them have been made available to be acted on at the prime minister's discretion.

The line up of the new cabinet as seen by those close to the government now seems to be the seven names already given, and the following: H. H. Stevens, member for Centre Vancouver; J. A. Stewart of Lunenburg; Edmund Bristol of Centre Toronto; Dr. R. J. Manion of Port William and Jas. R. Wilson of Saskatchewan as minister without portfolio.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, leader of the New Brunswick opposition, called on the premier yesterday. If he can be secured he will be the successor of the Hon. R. W. Wigmore, who is expected to resign in line to succeed Senator Donville if some one suitable can be secured to succeed him.

R. B. Bennett of Calgary refused to come in once, but he is still being pressed to reconsider and cannot be regarded as still a possibility. Other cabinet possibilities who are here, or have been here, include W. A. Boys, M. P.; H. B. Murphy, M. P., and Dr. J. W. Edwards, M. P.

E. K. Spinney had intended not to contest Yarmouth again, but is doing so because of the political situation in the province.

There is developing a rift in the British Columbia line because of the reported determination of the premier to make Colonel Peck, V. C., a senator. R. F. Green, M. P., and Dr. J. W. Edwards, M. P., are reported to be in the line to succeed Senator Donville if some one suitable can be secured to succeed him.

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—Premier Meighen has gone to Montreal. He has still to choose a French-Canadian cabinet minister from that province, and he wishes also to consult re the elections. An early announcement is expected.

(Canadian Press) Kingston, Ont., Sept. 9.—Addressing the Rotary Club yesterday, Dr. J. W. Edwards, federal M. P. for Frontenac, said that he did not believe that any of the three federal parties would have a working majority in the next parliament.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—The Gazette publishes the following from its Ottawa correspondent: "Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, minister of marine and fisheries, does not deny that his resignation has been offered and accepted."

There will be no official announcement of cabinet changes for a week at least. It is no small task to re-organize a government and find satisfactory successors. So far it is definitely known that Sir James Loughheed, Sir Henry Drayton, Hon. Senator Robertson, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Hon. Dr. Tolmie and Hon. E. B. McCurdy will remain in the cabinet. There may be two others of the present cabinet remain, but it is very doubtful.

TEN PER CENT. REDUCTION IN FREIGHT RATES?

(Special to The Times) Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 9.—Tomorrow an announcement is expected by the railway commissioners of a reduction in freight rates. Ten per cent is spoken of as the possible reduction. Wheat will be specially treated.

Griffiths Likely Main Man From Ireland At Inverness Conference

De Valera May Not Go, But Anyway Will Take Second Place.

Press Comment in England and Ireland on Britain's Latest Note—The Methodist Ecumenical Convention Passes a Resolution.

Dublin, Sept. 9.—A rumor was current in Sinn Fein circles here today that if plenipotentiaries are appointed to the committee of conference to confer with the British cabinet, Eamonn De Valera, Republican leader, does not desire to be one of them, being willing to leave the conduct of negotiations with Arthur Griffith, Sinn Fein foreign minister. In any case, Mr. Griffith will be the chief figure in the negotiations, once actual business is approached.

Mr. De Valera did not appear at the Mansion House this morning, and was not expected until the afternoon, but Mr. Griffith and Charles Burgess, Sinn Fein minister of defence, were early on the scene. It was said that no special meeting of the Sinn Fein leaders had been summoned to consider Premier Lloyd George's reply, but as those men see each other daily, no particular significance is seen in this.

Desmond Fitzgerald, Sinn Fein minister of propaganda, said today he expected no unnecessary delay in the reply to Lloyd George, and that Robert C. Berton, Sinn Fein courier, was in readiness to return to Inverness at any moment.

HOPES TO SIGN IRISH AGREEMENT. London, Sept. 9.—Premier Lloyd George, it was learned yesterday, told a messenger boy who recently delivered to him and the members of his cabinet a box of cigars from anonymous States tourists, as he signed the receipt: "This is the pen with which I signed the peace treaty, and I hope to sign the Irish agreement with it."

The messenger brought back to the donors of the cigars a letter from Lloyd George addressed to "My Anonymous American Friends," saying "It is genuinely helpful, at a critical moment like the present to receive this really delightful token of sympathy and good will from a group of Americans, and I trust we may succeed this year in founding lasting peace and harmony between the two great races which both have contributed so largely to the life and history of your great republic."

Press Comment. London, Sept. 9.—Sinn Fein Ireland is called upon to state whether its demands upon the British government contemplate separation from Great Britain, according to the view of the newspapers here. The text of the reply of the British cabinet to Eamonn De Valera's latest note, made public last night, was considered as a demand for a definite reply from the Irish Republican leader, and a plain declaration that the writing of notes between Dublin and London cannot be continued.

It was believed that Premier Lloyd George had smoothed the way for an acceptance by Mr. De Valera and his colleagues of the invitation to confer with members of the British government at Inverness, on September 20.

The text of the cabinet's reply to Mr. De Valera was prominently displayed in the papers here today, and the opinion was generally expressed that the government had gone as far as possible.

There was considerable speculation as to the nature of Mr. De Valera's reply to the note.

"It is impossible to say," said the Daily News, "that the present note asks anything whatever of Ireland that is not freely conceded by Australia, Canada and the ruling majority of South Africa. This may not be the basis for an agreement, but it is not monstrous to say it is not the basis for a discussion."

The Daily Chronicle says that in the answer they send to London, Mr. De Valera and his friends must decide "whether they are for or against a settlement." "They will do well," the newspaper continued, "to clear their minds of any idea that, because the government has preferred the 'soft answer' that turns away wrath, it will yield in any degree on the fundamental issue of unity within the empire."

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram, "I saw a squirrel yesterday, brushing several little white worms off his clothing. 'I have discovered why the birch leaves turned brown so soon.'"

"Don't it beat all?" said Hiram. "Then there worms just sucks the juice out of the leaves. An' they won't tetch maple or a beech or a cherry tree—jist the birches. Then there's that bud-worm that kills the spruce—an' another one that kills the tamarac. The's a bug fer everything—by Hen!"

"I wonder," said the reporter, "if that is the origin of the remark that so-and-so 'has got a bug'?"

"Well," said Hiram, "it might be true. Why not? Folks does git to be mighty queer sometimes after they pass out. You never kin tell. Still I wouldn't like to see a man on a bug, no, sir. A lot of it is jist natural-born cussedness."

"Will those birches die?" queried the reporter.

"I don't think so," said Hiram. "Them insects didn't git to work soon enough. The leaves 'ud soon be fallin' anyway. I guess they're jist enjoyin' life. But it does beat all. Them trees ain't got no original sin—an' yit they're pestered with worms."

"An' he to fight fer a livin'?" said the reporter, "cutting small sprays of leaves off the branches of an ash and letting them fall to the ground. What was he doing that for?"

"You'll hev to ask Dr. McIntosh about that," said Hiram. "He wasn't jist doin' it to sharpen his teeth—I'll bet."

"And those white moths flyin' over the greenward," said the reporter, "are they looking for late flowers?"

"I guess they're jist enjoyin' life," said Hiram. "They hev a mighty short life. They git to live about ten years in a minute to get much out of it. Queer world—ain't it?"

DID NOT WANT HARVEST WORK

A Thousand Unemployed in British Columbia Failed to Answer Call.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press)—One of the difficulties faced by the employment service of Canada in dealing with unemployment conditions throughout the Dominion, is set forth in the unemployment report for the week ended August 20.

The report from the employment service at Victoria, B. C., states that during that week, the office there had devoted practically all of its time to registering men for work in the harvest fields of the prairie provinces and at the end of that week had some 1,000 men registered for this particular work.

When the call came for men for harvest work, however, only about 600 of the 1,600 men registered expressed a desire to go in the fact that the United States converts insist that this is an absolute impossibility in most instances and will practically amount to an embargo on cotton goods imported into Canada.

The new dominion tariff declares that the name of the country of origin must be stamped on every three yards of selvedge, the paper says, and adds that United States converts insist that this is an absolute impossibility in most instances and will practically amount to an embargo on cotton goods imported into Canada.

The converts' association view the Canadian tariff with alarm," says the paper, "and fear that the U. S. Dade bill, which would amend the tariff act, unless some change in the wording of the objectionable clause can be effected."

MURDER IN A STREET CAR IN WEST ROXBURY

Chas. Wells Held on Charge of Shooting His Wife and Her Lawyer.

Boston, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Ella Wells was shot and killed and A. Louis Altmyer, a lawyer, was fatally wounded in a street car in the West Roxbury district today.

Charles A. Wells, who was divorced by his wife within a day or two, was arrested on the car, charged with the shooting. Passengers said that Wells, sitting two seats behind his former wife, and her lawyer, drew a pistol, rested it on the shoulder of a young woman in the seat between them, then fired five shots. Mrs. Wells was killed instantly. The lawyer was wounded in the head and died in the city hospital.

First reports to the police were that Wells had killed himself also.

When Mr. Norris' daughter visited him in the hospital last night, she is said to have found that he possessed about the same amount of money he had when he left home and also that his watch had not been taken. From this it is considered that if he was murdered robbery was not the cause.

Mrs. Charles Smith, who resides near the scene told the Times today that she was upstairs putting her baby to bed about 8:45 o'clock and happened to glance out of the window. She said she saw three men come down the street and go into the ship yard. In about a minute, she said, she heard a sound like something being struck and saw an object fall. It was quite dark at the time and she could not tell what the object was. Later she saw two men come out of the ship yard and start towards the corner where the bank of Montreal is situated, but they then turned and ran up Erin street.

FOR UNION IN METHODISM

Chief Topic at Ecumenical Conference in London Today.

London, Sept. 9.—At the ecumenical conference today the question of a Methodist union was the chief topic. Rev. S. D. Chown, general superintendent in Canada, who presided, spoke on christian unity and six speakers discussed the "aspects of Methodist reunion." These were Henry Smith, president of the United Methodist Church; Bishop E. D. Mouson, Methodist Church South; Sir Robert Perks; James R. Roy H. J. Taylor of the Primitive Church; and Bishop Clement of the African Methodist Church of Zion. All emphasized the need of Methodist unity.

Bishop Mouson said all branches of the church were solidly united on all vital matters and divided only on the question of administration. Regarding the question of union of the Methodist Church and the Methodist Church South, in the United States, he declared amid applause that these two great Episcopal Methodist bodies in America must be one, or must answer before the judgment bar of God.

Sir Robert Perks said he believed a union of all the Methodist churches was on the eve of accomplishment.

Mr. Joy made a plea for a reunion of American churches, which he said was desirable, practicable and inevitable.

Constantinople, Sept. 9.—Greek forces occupying positions on the right wing of the Sakaria front are withdrawing from the battle area in consequence of heavy losses and the difficulty in maintaining communications with their base of supplies 100 miles away.

THREE WON IN NINTH INNING

Timely Rallies in the Major Leagues.

Tex Rickard Declares New Ring Material Needed to Keep Up Interest—Pitcher of Boston Nationals Suspended.

New York, Sept. 9.—Three games won in the ninth inning rallies in the major league yesterday. The American Philadelphia team defeated the Yanks, 6 to 5, by scoring the winning run in the ninth.

The St. Louis Browns sent the winning run across the plate in the ninth against the Chicago Americans.

After he had led the Philadelphia Nationals runless with only three hits for eight innings, Pitcher Ossinger, of the Boston Braves weakened in the ninth inning of the first game of a double-header, the Phillies scoring eight runs and winning the game. Boston won the second game. First Baseman Holke of Boston, hit a double, a triple and two singles in four times at bat in the latter contest.

Cleveland was unable to gain on New York, Detroit winning from the world's champions, 15 to 1, in the last home game for the Indians.

Boston, Sept. 9.—Pitcher Hugh McCullin of the Boston Nationals, has been indefinitely suspended by Manager Mitchell, so it was announced today. McCullin's failure to warm up for the second game yesterday was given as the cause.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Carter Ward Elliott, shortstop from the Yakima, Washington club, joined the Chicago Nationals today. Elliott last summer was a member of the Victoria, B. C. club.

Rickard Wants New Men. New York, Sept. 9.—New material must be found, Rickard is to renounce popular said Tex Rickard today, adding that the day of the mammoth purse and bankrupting set prices is passing.

"Provision must be made for replacement material," he asserted. "I am convinced that the public is tired of seeing the same boxes competing time and again."

With this idea in mind, Rickard is planning to increase the number of amateur bouts to be staged at Mullock Street Garden. This winter he plans to develop one or more prospective champions in each weight class with championship possibilities.

Mr. Rickard has no regular star bouts in mind at present," said Rickard, "but hope to use Carpenter, Dempsey, Tom Gibbons and others during the next twelve months. I have reasonable financial terms can be reached."

Bluenose and Mayflower. Lunenburg, N. S., Sept. 9.—Captain Angus Walters, master and part owner of the fishing schooner Bluenose, on his return from the Banks retraces a decision announced in the spring that he will decline to race his boat against the Boston schooner, which he has returned to the Banks, owned by the American and Canadian committees in charge of the race to compete for the Halifax Herald trophy, emblematic of the fishing schooner championship of the North Atlantic. Walters' contention is that the Mayflower is not a bona fide fisherman. The Bluenose stocked 2,200 quintals of fish on her second trip to the Banks. She is sailing better than she did in the spring, according to Captain Walters, who says he is willing to back her against any out-and-out fisherman operating in the North Atlantic.

Winnipeg, Sept. 9.—An American dog, Betty Broomhill, pointer owned by C. E. Griffith of Quebec, Okla., won the Manitoba field trials championship, the blue ribbon of the province, at Starbuck, yesterday.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—An attempt to arrange a meeting between the employees of the Montreal Tramways Company and the employers will be made by Judge Bazin, chairman of a board of arbitration now sitting to consider a proposed wage reduction 12 1/2 per cent at the present in effect. Representatives of the men appeared before the board yesterday and asked that this action be taken by the board and in the meantime the board adjourned until next Monday when a round table conference between the masters is expected as the result of Judge Bazin's intervention.

PROTEST MARK OF ORIGIN LAW

Cotton People in U. S. Say Canadian Stamping Law is Hard to Fulfill.

New York, Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press)—Protest to the Washington department of commerce against the new Canadian mark of origin law, which will become effective on January 1, 1922, has been made by the Converters' Association and the National Association of Finishers of Cotton Fabrics, according to the Daily News Record, a journal of the textile trades.

The new dominion tariff declares that on cotton goods imported into Canada the name of the country of origin must be stamped on every three yards of selvedge, the paper says, and adds that United States converts insist that this is an absolute impossibility in most instances and will practically amount to an embargo on cotton goods imported into Canada.

It is said that but few of the U. S. mills have facilities for printing the name of the country on the selvedge of their goods.

The converts' association view the Canadian tariff with alarm," says the paper, "and fear that the U. S. Dade bill, which would amend the tariff act, unless some change in the wording of the objectionable clause can be effected."

HEARING

Hearing was continued this morning in the police court in the case of William O'Brien, arrested early on Sunday morning, September 4, on suspicion of entering into the warehouse of the Great West Wine Company. John O'Brien, brother of the defendant, said that he returned home before midnight on Sunday and found his brother Frank in bed. He said that he went to bed and, on waking about two o'clock Sunday morning, he found that his brother William, who slept with him, was not in bed. The case was postponed until this afternoon at two o'clock. G. H. V. Bellows appeared for the Great West Wine Company and J. A. Barry represented O'Brien.

TWO MEN CHARGED WITH DRUNKENNESS

Two men charged with drunkenness pleaded guilty and were remanded. Another who was allowed out on a deposit of $16 did not appear in court and the sum was forfeited.

AUTOMOBILING ACCIDENTS.

An employe of the city, while working in connection with the new main to Spruce Lake, was struck by an automobile on Wednesday morning and rather painfully bruised. It is said that the car was traveling fast. The employe saw it coming and stepped back to avoid being hit, but did not move fast enough. He was thrown about twenty feet and sustained bruises to his hip, face and limbs. The car was brought to a stop and the occupants returned to see what damage had been done. His injuries proved to be not serious and he was able to return to his work yesterday.

It is said that a motor truck, while on the way out the Spruce Lake road, stopped on Monday evening and removed a lantern from a pole and then drove on. The watchman hurried to the scene and was nearly run over by the driver on his haste to get away. Another truck dropped into an excavation, and rolled to its destruction. The driver was killed by the fall of the lantern, but was extricated without much damage being done.

QUEBEC, SEPT. 9.—Addressing the Union of Municipalities of the Province of Quebec, Hon. W. G. Mitchell, provincial treasurer, urged towns and cities to be wary of further borrowing at present, saying that while the municipalities and the province of Quebec had an unsurpassed reputation in the money markets, careful and prudent administration was necessary to conserve that reputation.

The minister expressed pleasure at the cordial relations existing between the provincial government and the municipalities and hoped for the continuance of the entente cordiale between the two races and creeds in the province.

MORE THAN A THOUSAND LOST CHILDREN

Record is Shattered at the Toronto Exhibition, but All are Reunited With Their Relatives—Some Stranded Without Car Fare Home.

(Toronto Globe.) It was a common sight at the Exhibition yesterday to see a big, smiling, perspiring policeman walking toward the police station leading a lost child, or, sometimes, children, one in each hand, and often sticky and dirty.

Perhaps it was the heat, or it may have been the fun of the immense crowds, but it was Toronto's greatest day for lost children. In former years caring for 100 lost youngsters was considered quite a day's work, not to be completed until all were restored to their parents.

But yesterday the lost ones came almost in droves. Late last night the maitre in charge of the work said that between 1,500 and 2,000 lost kiddies had passed through official hands.

They Go to Sleep. After eleven o'clock last night, when tired visitors to the fair were crowding home, the lost children's tent still housed thirty youngsters. In the neighboring police station, on improvised couches made of coats and cloaks picked up during the day, little boys and girls were sleeping on all available floor space.

As fast as the children went to sleep in the tent they were gently carried by stalwart policemen to the comparative quiet of the station.

There were crying children and weeping parents in the tent. Mothers sobbed bitterly waiting anxiously for lost children to be brought to the shelter.

But by far the greater number of the little tots waiting could neither tell where they lived nor the names of their parents.

The Tears Vanish. From early morning till a late hour last night the tent next the police station was crowded. A good many came in weeping, but tears vanished as by magic when they espied the friendly face of mother or heard the voice of daddy.

Big ones and little ones there were, some taking their fate philosophically, others rather rebellious to be in such close proximity to the big "cops." But the "cops" proved good friends, and one young east-ender proudly exclaimed to the Globe that he had been "brought in" by a sergeant, not by a common policeman without any stripes, and he added: "He is a pretty good guy—he brought me some candy."

A young Chinese citizen of this city was calmly looking around, with all the placidity of an Oriental, eyeing with intense curiosity little Tommy Carlton, who was weeping bitterly. The Oriental looked into his bag, and, after some hesitation, did the act courteous, and gently handed Tommy one of his small tops.

Several mothers were getting anxious as the little ones did not turn up as quickly as they wanted. They were probably wandering around the midway, gazing at the wonders of the world, caring little how much mother worried so long as they could look at the wild horses and the cowboys.

Enter His Worship the Mayor. In the midst of the lost host appeared His Worship Mayor T. L. Church, who did his best, in his inimitable bachelor manner, to dispel gloom. "You are not lost," he said, "you are still in Toronto; you are not in Hamilton. You only imagine you are lost." The mayor's words helped some.

The management of the Exhibition had thought of the possibility of the unprecedented situation in the lost children line. Biscuits held back a small floor of tears yesterday, and a glass of lemonade appeared to be one of the best restorers of smiling faces.

One Toronto man, A. Paton, who had lost his little boy, was so grateful to the efficient manner in which he recovered his lost heir in a remarkably short time that he at once decided to devote the rest of the day to bringing home other people's children. As long as they could give their address, this generous-hearted citizen would load them on his truck and he would return to the police tent each time he had safely delivered his precious loads. Six times he had been away and had come back at ten o'clock last night, and he promised he would make one more trip.

Forgot Their Carfare. There were other children who, while in the midst of the good things of this world, had not thought about going home, and had in their great spirit of joy and carefree abandon even forgotten to save enough money for carfare.

Interested citizens watching the population of the tent and the doings of the inhabitants came forward with enough cash for the fare, and a little extra for a last little drink of ginger ale or a doughnut.

They were discussing that ever vexing question of getting up in the morning. "I don't think," said Frederick Wiste, "that an alarm clock is any good at all. I hear the bell of my alarm clock go every morning. I simply lay my hand on the nearest thing I can pick up and hurl it at the clock. I am constantly paying for new alarm clocks, but they only raise me for a minute and I go to sleep again."

"I've got a new kind of alarm clock," reported Charlie Smile. "I don't know how long it will last, but it is simply doing fine work at present."

"How does it differ from others?" "It toots just like a motor horn. As soon as I hear it I jump out of bed to avoid being run over by a three-ton truck."

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

DON'T MISS THE NEW ADVENTURE

Imperial's Aerial Story Begins With This Week-end Bill—Reminiscent of Jules Verne.

"The Sky Ranger," Imperial Theatre's new aerial story will prove such a radical departure from the hackneyed week-end installment yarn that not only the adventure-loving kiddies but the grown-ups too will eagerly follow it to its conclusion. It is a fiction of the air, the new wonders being created to reach other planetary worlds, notably, Mars. The story is clever, it is very Jules Verne-like and will remind lovers of the scientific novelist of his "Clippers of the Clouds" yarn and his "A Trip To The Moon." To miss the three-reel opening chapter tonight or tomorrow would be a hindrance to a full appreciation of the whole fifteen chapters.

TICKET SALE WILL BEGIN ON MONDAY

With the closing of the Exhibition the next activity along entertainment lines will be the opening of the legitimate play season with Reginald Berkeley's brilliant comedy "French Leave," first of the Trans-Canada Theatre Ltd.'s group of all-English attractions to come across for a continental tour. The ticket sale opens Monday at 10 A. M. but the mail orders are coming in fast already. The top price is $1.50 with the second or rear half of the orchestra floor at $1.00 and balcony $1.00, 75, 50.

WHERE THE DIFFERENCE LIES.

It is hard to tell by the appearance of a man just what sort of a man he is. Some way with a barrel of flour. You can't tell by the staves or hoops whether it is going to be a good bread maker or not. In many ways "Regal" is just like an ordinary barrel of flour. It has staves and hoops like all other flours. But there is a difference. Take out the head and try a baking of it and you will quickly discover what this difference is. "Regal" is the very best bread flour ever was made. That is where it differs from the ordinary run of flours. If you have not tried it we advise you to do so at once. If you do, you will ever afterward be grateful for this information.

BOY BANDIT MAKES RAID ON HORSEBACK

Robs an Apartment, Mounts Steed, but Angry Women Pull Him to Earth.

(New York Times) The list of "baby crimes" continued to grow yesterday. In the Bronx, a sixteen-year-old boy hired a horse at a riding academy and rode out to a nearby farm, but he was chased out of an apartment house by half a dozen women, indignantly unhorsed when he tried to escape on his noble steed, and compelled to take to his heels to escape arrest. The police were looking for him last night and expected him to come home repentant as soon as the $5 which disappeared from the apartment house is expended on candy, girls and movies.

The youthful Jesse James is said to belong to a respectable family. He paid $2 at the riding academy for the horse, mounted and rode to the apartment house, he tried the rooms till he reached the sixth floor, where he found the apartment of Harold L. Birney, an insurance agent, open. Mrs. Birney, having gone next door to visit. He had thrust the contents of Mrs. Birney's handbag into his pocket when Mrs. Charles Naumann, her sister-in-law, entered Mrs. Birney's apartment and caught him red-handed.

Running down six flights of stairs the lad was pursued by Mrs. Birney, Mrs. Naumann and a constantly growing number of women, not to speak of their screams. By the time he reached the street and leaped to the back of his faithful mount he was surrounded by a crowd of excited women and children. Desperately he tried to force his steed through the crowd, but Mrs. Naumann clutched the reins and tugged at them so that he finally jumped off the horse, ran around the corner and disappeared into a vacant lot.

The woman described the lad as a good-looking young fellow, about 15, wearing an outfit resembling a Boy Scout's uniform, with a wide-brimmed hat, red bandana, khaki shirt and breeches and spiral leggings. The police of the Simpson street station quickly traced him to the riding academy and to his home, where his parents waited anxiously last night for his return. In Brooklyn, Michael Becker, 6, of 14 Monteth street, and Willie Clogowicz, 7, of 415 Bushwick avenue, were arrested on a fire escape of the apartment house at 409 Bushwick avenue, here. Yetta Weiler of that address reported to the police of the Bedford avenue station that on her return home last night she missed a pocketbook containing $20 which she had left in her kitchen. Detectives McCambridge and Cram sent to investigate, heard a noise on the fire escape. The policemen turned out the lights and soon saw two faces at the window, which turned out to be the faces of Michael and Willie. According to the police the pocketbook and the $20 were found in Willie's pocket. The boys will have a hearing in the Juvenile Court today.

EXPECT TO BRING MARS NEARER US THAN EVER

Todd and McAfee Plan Telescope Giving View as of 11-2 Miles Away.

Paris, Sept. 9.—B. McAfee, a wealthy American, for many years keenly interested in astronomy, who owns a charming French country seat at Villers-sur-Mer, close to Deauville, is now busied down there making plans to construct the largest telescope ever built. With it he intends to take photographs of Mars during 1924, in which year the planet, he says, will reach a point nearer the earth than it has been in more than 100 years.

The giant telescope, Mr. McAfee says, will be constructed at Chanaral, Chile. The idea is to utilize a disused mine shaft measuring over 50 feet in diameter. Probably sheathed, he says, the shaft will make an ideal telescope, and his calculations show that Mars will several times in the year reach its zenith over this very point. One of the greatest difficulties which must be overcome when building a telescope beyond a certain size is the mirror. It is therefore intended to construct a fifty-foot steel dish filled with mercury. This, Mr. McAfee says, will be rotated sufficiently to cause the mercury to assume the necessary concavity in order to act as an ideal mirror. It is calculated that the telescope will magnify 25,000,000 times, bringing the surface of the planet within a little more than a mile and a half of the observer. Mr. McAfee therefore hopes, once for all, to clear up the question whether the planet is inhabited. His collaborator in this work is Professor David Todd of Amherst. The professor intends to spend a whole year at Chanaral with Mr. McAfee, making observations. Next spring an advance party is going to Chile aboard Mr. McAfee's yacht Zarife. Mr. McAfee expresses the conviction that Mars is inhabited, and is sanguine of his ability to prove it by the proposed observations.

NEW YORK SKYSCRAPPERS Business Transacted in Rooms Giving View of Hudson.

William Archer writes in the Westminster Gazette, London:
The miscellaneous skyscraper—the high building—is not a monstrosity, but a thing of great imaginative daring, sometimes ugly, no doubt, but more often truly grandiose and colossal. It first came into being, for topographical reasons, in the congested line of Manhattan Island; but in a modified form, it is certain to spread through out all great cities. I do not mean that such windy canyons as lower Broadway and Wall Street will rise in London and Paris, but that in all populous places great islands of beautiful architecture will stand out above the sea of ordinary five and six-story houses.

The typical New York office building has enormous advantages. To see a publisher or a lawyer in London, and you find him installed in stuffy, dusty, unsanitary chambers, perhaps in a converted dwelling house of the 18th century, or two such dwelling houses inconveniently run together—at all events, in a dingy, rabbit-warren of a place. In New York you are shown up in an express elevator to the twelfth or fifteenth floor of a vast building. If your business is with a lawyer you pass along a spotlessly clean corridor, paved and lined with white marble, and you find him in a sunny, airy suite of rooms high above the noises of the city and "looking out" it may be, over the noble Hudson to the New Jersey shore, or over the series of gigantic bridges that span the East River—otherwise Long Island Sound.

If, on the other hand, your visit is to a publisher, you pass along no corridor, for the probability is that the elevator lands you right in his waiting room. He probably occupies one whole floor of the great building—half an acre of glass-partitioned space—a busy hive of multifarious industry. It is comfortably heated in winter, admirably ventilated in summer; the brightness and stuffiness of London are entirely absent. The publisher's own sanctum is probably in a corner, with magnificent views in two directions over the endless expanse of the city, with its cliffs of masonry and its countless planes of white stream. Air and sunshine penetrate everywhere—glorious sunshine being amazingly prevalent in New York.

Business has not out of its grime and housed itself in the blue spaces of the sky. And we make it our foolish pride, that we are earth-bound, and boast of our resolute propinquity to the gutter! People often ask why the practical Americans use four syllables to designate an appliance which we denote by the single syllable "lift." This is at first paradoxical; but after a few days in America you realize that the two words are admirably appropriate to two very different things. The American elevator for exhilaratingly elevates; the British lift laboriously lifts. I confess to taking great delight in the swift, sensitive machines that rush you up in the twinkling of an eye to the twentieth floor of a great hotel or business building. They are to the crawling, doddling British lift as a race-horse to a pack-mule. The tone of mind which professes to shrink in horror from such achievements of "mechanical civilization" is one of the innumerable phases of the Great Stupidity.

But "elevator architecture," though the most prominent feature of New York and other American cities, is not the only evidence of the constructive genius of the race. In every type of building America leads the world. The finest railway stations in Europe—Frankfurt, Cologne and the Paris Gare d'Orleans—are paltry in comparison with those vast palaces of marble and travertine in Pennsylvania and the Grand Central terminal, with the Union station at Washington not far behind them. Each is a city in itself.

BIG DECLINE IN DEATHS FROM TUBERCULOSIS

(Boston Globe.)
State Health Commissioner Eugene R. Kelley announced today that during the past four years there has been a decline of more than 30 per cent in the number of deaths from tuberculosis.

The health commissioner's statement was made in connection with a review of the six months ending June 30, 1921, as compared with similar periods in 1920, 1919 and 1918.

During the six months of 1918 there were 2670 deaths from tuberculosis; in 1919 for the first six months in 1920, 2178 and for the first six months this year 1817.

The decrease, Commissioner Kelley says, may be characterized as "dividends from the twenty-five years' campaign against the disease in this state." The commissioner, in this connection, paid a tribute to the late Dr. William J. Gallivan, a pioneer in the fight against the "white plague." Until his death, some weeks ago, Dr. Gallivan was director of the division of tuberculosis in the State Department of Public Health.

"Dr. Gallivan belongs almost all the credit for bringing the disease under control," said Commissioner Kelley. "It was he who conceived the measure by which the 'white plague' must be fought, and who aroused the leaders in the medical profession and the state authorities to the urgency of the situation.

"The construction of the Rutland State Sanatorium, one of the first of its kind in the country, if not in the world, was one of the results of his work, and the development later of the sanatoria method of treating the disease; the compulsory establishment of municipal and county tuberculosis hospitals, the education of the public concerning the disease and the establishment of tuberculosis clinics, all were mainly due to his enthusiastic and unabating efforts."

Commissioner Kelley also praised the work of Dr. Alfred Worcester at present head of the Massachusetts Medical Society and who was also one of the pioneers, he said, in the movement.

"The enactment of laws protecting the health of industrial workers, Dr. Kelley said, was also the outcome of the campaign against tuberculosis, and contributed toward preventing the spread of the disease.

"Measures limiting the hours of labor of women and children; guarding against unhealthy conditions in factories, such as the elimination of dust, the admittance of light and air, improvement of sanitary facilities, all played their part in bringing about the great improvement," he said.

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE COUNTRY.

Although Hon. Mr. Meighen says that he never pledged himself to a redistribution before an election, the whole country understood that he had given this assurance to the House last session.

Hon. Mr. Meighen said in his London speech that he would have preferred to have brought down a redistribution bill before going to the people but that he had come to the conclusion that it would not be done without prolonging indefinitely the uncertainty and lack of confidence that are retarding the commercial and industrial recovery of the country.

Ottawa reports today indicate that a majority of the members of the Meighen cabinet will withdraw from the government. The Premier probably will find cabinet repainting no easy task in the light of the conceded defeat of his party whenever the electors are given a chance to declare themselves at the polls.

Tomorrow's Maritime Championships sports on the East End grounds promise a notable revival of interest in athletic competition. There is a remarkably large entry list and undoubtedly keen contests will result.

opportunity for them and their children to obtain outdoor recreation and be in touch with the vital forces of nature. The most opportune time to secure this happy condition of affairs is before land has been reclaimed by the unearned increments created by social existence and social endeavor.

From the moment the first tree is planted it will begin to create values in land. There will be a river drive bordered with poplars and spruce now being which will form an additional park area to which access may be had at all times.

The exhibition period draws to a close. Today we are again favored with glorious weather. Make it a big day at the fair and help towards well deserved success.

MARKS HUNDRED YEARS OF PEACE Memorial Gateway Between B. C. and Washington State is Dedicated—Marks Also Completion of Pacific Highway.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 7.—(By Canadian Press.)—The first memorial to peace ever to be erected in the world, a massive gateway of concrete in the form of an arch, to commemorate the passing of a hundred years of peace between Great Britain and the United States of America, was dedicated with appropriate ceremonies of an international character yesterday at the site of the arch on the international boundary line between British Columbia and the United States of Washington.

The "Peace Arch" is a structure of reinforced concrete consisting of a solid base upon a foundation of heavy piling, and this supporting walls which are arched over an open space, and rise above it surmounted by a heavy entablature. The arch is already finished, and at night appears brilliantly illuminated by a multitude of electric lamps. It has cost about $40,000.

der the joint management of the International Peace Memorial Association of British Columbia, and a corresponding organization representing the State of Washington. Hon. Samuel Hill, a cousin of the late James Hill, who has been active in the erection of the arch, presided at the opening ceremony.

The flags of Great Britain, the United States, France, and Belgium were raised. The American flag was raised by a British Columbia girl and the Union Jack by an American girl.

The idea of an international peace portal followed a flag-raising ceremony on the boundary line on a day in 1915 to mark 100 years of peace between the two great Anglo-Saxon speaking nations. This was arranged by a joint committee of Canadians and Americans.

LESS PETTY CRIME BUT MORE BIGAMY

Judicial Statistics Reflect Social Conditions in Great Britain Immediately After the War.

London, Aug. 9.—(By Mail.)—Judicial statistics for England and Wales in 1919 give an interesting reflection of the social condition of the country in the year immediately following the war. The figures, published in a Blue Book, show, among other things, a remarkable fall in convictions for larceny and a great increase in cases of bigamy. The decrease of dishonesty may be attributed in some measure to the fact that employment was good and wages high, while the prevalence of the offence of bigamy was coincident with a war-induced weakening of the marriage tie, which was indicated even more emphatically in the divorce courts.

It is pointed out in the Blue Book that, if the number of persons for trial for indictable offences may be taken as an index, there was less crime in 1919 than in any other year of the present century. The number of such persons was 53,541, while the figures for each of the six years from 1913 to 1918 were 63,289, 58,589, 55,535, 58,617, 63,065 and 68,271 respectively. Offences of dishonesty, it is stated, make up five-sixths of the cases which come before the courts, and the diminution in this class of offences from 1917 was remarkable. In the same period the number of persons in receipt of poor relief fell continuously, and there was also a decrease in offences against the Poor Laws.

Higher 1915 Figures.
This decrease of offences since 1917 did not, however, extend to all crimes against the person. Crimes of violence, which totalled 1,387 in 1913, had fallen to 763 in 1917, and rose to 789 in 1918 and 981 in 1919. Sexual offences numbered 1,330 in 1913, 1,284 in 1917, and 2,700 in 1919. The diminution during the war in both these groups of offences was due to a great extent to the absence overseas of a large part of the adult male population. With regard to the subsequent increases, the figures for 1917. The latter number is 988 per cent. higher than the figures for 1913, and this startling increase may be compared with that of petitions for dissolution of marriages—998 in 1913 and 8,025 in 1919.

Although larcenies and other offences of dishonesty not accompanied by violence diminished, there was a corresponding falling off in offences of the burglary and house-breaking group, the only change being that burglaries diminished, while shop-breaking increased. The annual totals for the group from 1913 to 1919 were 3,792, 3,604, 2,934, 3,540, 3,971, 4,160 and 3,852.

During the period from 1913 to 1919 the annual totals for persons proceeded against for non-indictable offences—the minor offences within the ordinary jurisdiction of courts of summary jurisdiction—were 689,280, 626,765, 632,444, 610,218, 446,758, 375,105 and 493,047. In considering the variations of ordinary minor offences, the report submits, during the period which has elapsed since 1913, deduction might properly be made in respect of breaches of the regulations under the Defence of the Realm Acts and other war emergency legislation. A large proportion of the non-indictable offences are not serious crimes, but only contraventions of regulations made in the interests of public health, safety, comfort and good order, and it might be expected that in times of stress such as the present, the number of persons proceeded against under consideration such regulations would be enforced with less stringency than usual.

Juvenile Offences.
In view of the absence overseas of a large part of the adult male population, the reduction of the strength of police forces, and the diversion of the police to special duties connected with the war, the falling off in the number of persons proceeded against during the period since 1913 is not more than might have been anticipated. Comparing 1919 and 1913, there was decrease in the latter year of forty-eight per cent. in cases of cruelty to animals, seventy per cent. in respect of drunkenness, forty-six per cent. in offences against police regulations, seventy-seven per cent. in offences against the Locomotive Law, fifty-three per cent. in cases of prostitution and eighty per cent. in respect of begging and sleeping out. Increases are reported in betting and gaming, offences in relation to dogs, malicious damage, stealing growing fruit, and a number of other forms of delinquency. Juvenile offenders in 1913 were 37,520, and in 1917 they numbered 31,253. In 1919 the figures had again to 40,473. In general the statistics from the juvenile courts confirm the widely expressed view that juvenile crime increased during the war in consequence of the absence of fathers of families on active service.

The report notes that the decrease since 1913 in the number of convicted prisoners received into prison is unparalleled. The figures for 1913 were 139,000 and for 1919 were 31,032. Nearly the whole decrease arose among persons convicted summarily, and an important factor in the reduction of total receptions must be found in the operation of Section 1 of the Criminal Justice Administration Act, 1914, which, with a few exceptions, makes it obligatory upon courts of summary jurisdiction to allow time for payment of fines. In 1913 fines were imposed in 802,554 cases and 75,192 persons were imprisoned in default of payment. In 1919 fines were imposed in 328,716 cases, but only about 8,000 persons were imprisoned for non-payment of fines. There has been no general increase in the amount of the fines imposed corresponding to the higher rate of wages, and this has made it possible for a much larger proportion of offenders to pay their fines.

SAYS WOMAN STOLE LOVE OF AUDITORE

Wife of Brooklyn "Millionaire Stevedore" Sues Mrs. Catanzaro for $100,000.

New York, Sept. 7.—Mrs. Louise Auditore, wife of Frank Auditore, wealthy stevedore, has begun suit in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn against Mrs. Elva E. Catanzaro, of 2,521 Avenue M. Flatbush to recover $100,000 for the alleged alienation of the affections of her husband. The plaintiff obtained from Justice MacCrate an order for the arrest of Mrs. Catanzaro on the ground that she wanted to prevent the defendant's announced intention of leaving the country. According to application for the arrest order, Mrs. Auditore says Mrs. Catanzaro told her "she was going to leave her husband and go to Europe and remain there indefinitely."

Council for Mrs. Auditore told Justice MacCrate that if his client should obtain a judgment against the defendant any attempt to enforce it would fail if Mrs. Catanzaro left the country. Sheriff Drescher served the order for arrest on Mrs. Catanzaro and she was released in $5,000 bail.

Mrs. Auditore, who lives at 137 Cole-ridge Street, Manhattan Beach, says in her papers that the two families formerly lived for several years at 120 Windsor Place. They were always friendly and often went out together. She alleges that between Jan. 1, 1909 and Aug. 30, 1921, Mrs. Catanzaro "willfully, wickedly and maliciously ruined the affections of said Frank Auditore," and that she asked him to go to Italy with her. Further allegations made by Mrs. Auditore are that whenever her husband took her to theatres, dances or dinner "the defendant herein was also included in the parties;" that last January Mrs. Catanzaro went to Boston and at the same time Auditore "left for a pretended trip to Canada on business."

Mrs. Catanzaro's husband, who is in the steamship business, insisted that there was no ground for the action.

"This has come as a thunderbolt to me," he said. "Only three weeks ago that we were all out together. Mrs. Auditore must be out of her head to bring such an action. It seems to me that some one has advised her to spend a lot of money for nothing."

POSSIBILITIES OF POWER FROM SUN

"No Sun, No Crops, No Life" Says Columbia Professor.

Counsels Manufacturers to Intensify Chemical Research—Little Being Done Towards Harnessing Light, He Claims.

New York, Sept. 9.—(By associated Press)—The problem how to harness the energy of the sun so as to utilize it for the direct benefit of man was presented to the chemists of the United States and Great Britain here yesterday by Dr. L. H. Baekeland, honorary professor of chemical engineering in Columbia University. He was speaking at an international meeting of the Society of Chemical Industry of Great Britain and of the American Chemical Society. He pointed out the necessity of chemical research for the advancement of American industry and warned manufacturers against discontinuing that work during the present period of business depression.

Speaking on the problem of how to utilize the rays of the sun, he briefly told how these rays acting upon plant life produced sugars, starch, cellulose and other foods. He said: "No sun, no crops, no life. So that, after all, the whole living world is dependent upon a delicate photochemical reaction."

"Our vast coal beds and our petroleum wells and our natural gas are merely the result of light energy stored up from one plant or animal life of former geological periods. This, in itself, ought to impress us with the enormous possibilities of photochemical synthesis and yet, here is a field where the scientist or engineer has accomplished next to nothing. In the utilization of this marvelous energy, we have not gone beyond the art of making photographs."

"When it comes to transforming light energy into chemical synthesis we have left this far the monopoly of this agent to nature; we have been acting at Rip Van Winkle."

"Where is the Faraday, the Ampere, the Leonardo de Vinci; where is the Archimedes who shall show us how to use the sun rays for charging our electrical storage batteries, or who will teach us how to handle the photochemical action of sunlight, or to emulate nature in her delicate synthesis of plant life? Who will utilize this delicate method instead of our hitherto brutal process of synthesis?"

"To the wide-awake manufacturer the present industrial depression should be an incentive to engage more chemists, to do more chemical research work, instead of laying off the men of their chemical staff, as has happened in too many instances since we got out of that fool's paradise of so-called 'prosperity.'"

"Most of our industries badly need 'fertilizing' and 'fertilizing' is better

CHILDREN'S AID HOME IS FILLED

Now Caring For Twenty-six Children, With Applications For Admission of Others.

The monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held last night in the Children's Home, 68 Garden street, with the president, A. M. Belding, in the chair.

The report of the agent, Rev. George Scott, showed that the pressure upon the available space of the society was very great. Although since last meeting four children were taken out by their parents three more had been received, making in all twenty-six children now under the care of the society. Several mothers wished the society to take care of their babies but other arrangements were made in most of these cases. Besides he reported a large number of older children who were in need of temporary care which was also found for them elsewhere.

A letter was received from the branch of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children referring a case in the province for investigation. The matter has been satisfactorily attended to. Another letter was received from the superintendent of neglected children of Nova Scotia about a case here which is now being attended to.

The rest was paid to Mrs. Kubal's brother-in-law, who induced her to tell the authorities of the crime her husband had confessed to her. Kubal is now in the death house at Sing Sing.

WE HAVE NOTHING ON THE ANCIENTS

People of 30 Centuries Ago Had Rickets, Flat Feet, Corns and Bunions.

Paris, Sept. 9.—With all the world's scientific progress, health conditions today are neither better nor worse than they were 3,000 years ago, according to Dr. Robert Jaures, who has just published the results of an examination of numerous Egyptian mummies that were buried along the Nile.

Not only were there then existent diseases that are now attributed to microbes but also there were malformations, Potts disease, rickets and flat feet, as well as corns and bunions.

In some of the bodies Dr. Jaures found distinct evidence of tubercular lesions in lungs, while microscopic examinations of hardened tissues revealed cirrhosis of the liver, abscesses and gallstones.

Not the least interesting discovery by Dr. Jaures was the fact that the ancient Egyptians were more sure-footed than the people of today, as was indicated by the fact that out of a thousand mummies examined not a single case of fracture of the foot or leg was found.

STATISTICS OF METHODISTS

Reports to Ecumenical Conference Being Held in London—Canada Represented.

London, Sept. 7 — Important world problems, including the reunion of Christendom, marriage and divorce, capital and labor, international co-operation and the causes underlying the change in "moral standards" of the present age, are to be discussed at the fifth Ecumenical Methodist Conference which opened in Central Wesleyan Hall, Westminster, last evening and continues until Friday, September 16. The speakers will be leaders of Methodist thought throughout the world and will include editors, educators and other prominent laymen as well as bishops and ministers.

It is ten years since the last previous similar conference was held in Toronto, Ont. Since then, according to official figures, Methodism has gained 3,635,241 members, probationers and adherents. The number of delegates to the present meeting, including African M. E. Church representatives, is 555 of whom 251 are from the United States, eighty-four from Canada, and 220 from all Wesleyan bodies in Great Britain and its dominions and mission fields. The opening sermon was preached at the historic Wesley's chapel here by Rev. S. P. Hoze, D. D., of Montreal. Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll, of Plainfield, N. J., will present to the conference an estimate showing the Methodist population in the world, including members, probationers and adherents to have totalled 36,622,190 in 1919. In 1910 it was given as 32,728, 547.

How to Eat Iron

Your body needs iron, but you can only get it from the food you eat—not from tonics or ten-penny nails. That is Nature's plan. Of all the minerals the body needs iron is the most important. Try this iron-food for breakfast:

Biscuits with Stewed Raisins. Heat two Biscuits in the oven to restore their crispness and cover with stewed raisins and milk. It supplies all the iron you need and all the food you need in digestible form—a food that puts you on your toes for the day's work.

TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat cracker. A crisp, whole wheat toast eaten with butter or soft cheese.

WOODEN SHIPPING AGAIN DISCARDED

Ships Costing $800,000 Offered for $2,100, Getting Few Bidders.

Washington, Sept. 7. — The sale at $2,100 each of the 205 wooden ships built under the direction of the Emergency Fleet Corporation for the United States is not the last thing that will be heart of the country's effort to build a war fleet, but the event may be taken as an official and final admission of certain truths that were told when the wooden ship programme was advanced. Congress started in with an appropriation of considerably more than a billion dollars for shipbuilding and set up the shipping board and the fleet corporation. At the head of the corporation were Chairman Denman and General Goethals, who was made general manager. The west and south had timber out of which to build ships and no steel. As a result a tremendous influence was brought to bear from those regions in favor of building wooden ships, and the government undertook a great programme of wooden ship building. But hard-headed engineers and practical shipping men insisted all along that the country would do better to concentrate on steel ships. They doubted if wooden ships built of green timber would be good for anything even in the emergency; they said that beyond all doubt the wooden ships would be junk as soon as peace was declared, and deplored the diversion of money and energy away from steel ships that would be occasioned by the construction of wooden ships.

At the head of these objectors was General Goethals, while Chairman Denman, who came from the Pacific coast, was the wooden ship advocate. The stock argument upon his side was that wooden ships would be better than nothing and that even in peace time they would be good for something. The disagreement finally became so bitter that both men resigned and left the matter to time, but the wooden ship party prevailed.

By the end of 1918 the emergency had passed and many contracts for wooden ships were cancelled, but the fleet of several hundred boats was on hand and has been ever since. Every prediction that General Goethals made has been fulfilled and now ships that cost from $300,000 to $800,000 are selling at $2,100.

Home Made Bread

Home made bread is without doubt the cheapest and most healthful food that can be produced for human consumption. It is the most completely digested solid food in the world, over 90% of it being transformed into health and strength. It yields nearly twice as much nourishment as rice or potatoes, and is ten times as nourishing as an equal value of meat. No bread is more truly wholesome or more perfectly satisfactory than that baked at home in which Royal Yeast Cakes are used.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

It was known many years ago that yeast is an excellent thing for constipation, anemia, boils and pimples. Lately eminent scientists have been investigating the matter thoroughly and their conclusions point to the fact that the beneficial effect of yeast has not been overrated. The yeast treatment is very simple and economical—and altogether harmless. Before each meal eat a Royal Yeast Cake, or take a cake dissolved in water or fruit juices. The scientific investigators say that the curative elements in yeast are the vitamins and nuclein which it contains. It is certainly well worth a fair trial by those who suffer from any of the ailments mentioned above. Send name and address for free booklet "Royal Yeast Cakes for Better Health."

estimate showing the Methodist population in the world, including members, probationers and adherents to have totalled 36,622,190 in 1919. In 1910 it was given as 32,728, 547.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—A net gain of 1,255,091 members has been made by all divisions of the Methodist church in the United States in the last ten years, despite great losses suffered by the denominations during the war, according to statistics compiled for presentation to the decennial Ecumenical Methodist Conference in London. The figures were compiled by Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll of Plainfield, N. J., former director of the United States Census.

Methodist Sunday schools in the United States, however, the report says, show a net loss, for the two years, 1918 and 1919, of 293,968, "an appalling figure," although 1920 returns indicate that "the lost ground is being regained." Notwithstanding that Sunday school pupils of the denomination in the United States were 200,000 less in number in 1920 than in 1918, the enrollment throughout the world shows an increase of 1,289,036 Methodist pupils for the ten-year period.

"It is a remarkably good showing that American Methodism has to present to the ecumenical conference," declared Dr. Carroll's statement. "Delegates representing nearly 37,000,000 Methodist members and adherents will be in attendance. We can never forget that the last decade includes the worst war in the history and that, though our nation was an actual participant in its battles for only a year and a half, we suffered with our allies its terrible effects."

"The year 1919 was the hardest the churches of America have known, at least since the Civil War. Methodism in most of its branches suffered, with the other evangelical denominations, actual losses. The Methodist Episcopal Church suffered most of all, losing 48,262 in 1918 and 59,987 in 1919—108,249 in two years—and the conditions were even worse if we leave out foreign missions fields, for the net loss in this country alone in 1919 was nearly 70,000. The Methodist Episcopal Church, South, lost 16,404 in that year. In 1920 the tide turned for all evangelical churches, heavy gains succeeding the losses.

"Considering the heavy losses in the previous two years, it is remarkable that the total net increase in members and probationers of the Methodist bodies of the Western Section (United States) has been 1,255,091, exceeding the increase of the previous decade, 1900-1910, by nearly 282,000. The percentage of increase is also greater. For the decade ended in 1910 it was 15; for the last ten years, nearly 17."

Dr. Carroll, in commenting on the fact that the number of itinerant Methodist ministers, 48,765, represented a loss of 299 as compared with a gain of 6,501 in 1910 for the previous ten years, said: "Certainly, more ministers are needed instead of fewer for a growing Methodism. What is the trouble? Is the Methodist ministry less attractive than it used to be?"

In conclusion, Dr. Carroll says: "The net increase of Sunday school pupils for all Methodist bodies (in the world) for the ten years, is 1,289,036. Of this handsome gain, the Methodist Episcopal Church, the only body of any name, so far as I recall, which has more scholars in Sunday school than members in church, gets the lion's share—894,478. It also participates in the total increase of 85,705 of officers and teachers. When it is remembered what a great recruiting agency for church members the Sunday school has become, the significance of the gains in the number, equipment and scholars of this institution is a happy augury."

MISS FLORENCE EDWARDS.
Many friends will be saddened to learn of the death of Miss Florence Elizabeth Edwards, which took place at an early hour this morning at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Myles, 65 Simonds street. Miss Edwards was for many years librarian of the North End Library. She was a prominent worker in the Portland Methodist church, particularly in the W. M. The bride was attired in a pretty suit of navy blue serge and hat to match, and carried a bridal bouquet of mixed flowers with maiden hair. She was accompanied by Miss Gladys M. Rupert, and the groomsmen was Rolley C. Reicker, a brother of the groom. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Reicker left by train for a short tour throughout the province, including the homes of the bride and groom at White's Cove and Wickham. ARBITRATION POSTPONED.
Arbitration between the St. John and Quebec Railway Co. and certain property owners in Westfield in the matter of right of way, which was to have been taken up in this city on Tuesday, September 13, has been postponed, owing to the fact that there seems to be some doubt as to whether the Judges' Act as amended at the last session of the dominion parliament permits a judge to act as arbitrator unless he is nominated and given authority by the dominion government. Premier Foster took the matter up with the minister of justice in August and asked that the necessary order-in-council be passed, but a satisfactory reply not being received, counsel for both parties to the dispute have agreed that postponement is the only course to pursue until the matter of the jurisdiction of the judge-arbitrator is settled. The parties had agreed to have Hon. W. B. J. Jones of Sussex, judge of the Kings county court, sit in the matter.

ATTENDANCE WELL UP TO AVERAGE

54,000 to 55,000 People Have Seen Exhibition So Far.

M. R. A. Ltd. and T. S. Simms & Co. Split First Prize for Best Exhibit—Sheep Judging Completed Today—No v a Scotia's Prize Dog Entry.

The attendance figures at the St. John Exhibition this year have been very gratifying, according to one of the officials at the grounds this morning. He said that the attendance to date totaled between 54,000 and 55,000, which is well up to last year's figures. With a continuation of the fine weather which has prevailed on all except one of the days of the fair, the total for the week is expected to exceed that of 1920.

Saturday, the opening day, and Tuesday, on which rain fell for the greater part of the day, the attendance was disappointing. Saturday had about 4,500 and Tuesday about 4,000. On Monday, Labor Day, nearly 20,000 people passed through the turnstiles, and on Wednesday about 11,000. Yesterday's total was slightly above 15,000.

The Prize Booths.

The three outside men selected to pick the best booths in the show for a $50 gold prize, had some difficulty in making the award on account of the excellence of the arrangements and exhibits. Competition however, was narrowed down to the showings of Manchester, Robertson, Allison, Latham and T. S. Simms & Co., Ltd. and the judges finally split the prize. The Manchester booth consisted of a combined exhibit of living room, dining room and hall of a modern home and displayed men's, women's and children's clothing, furniture, rugs, dishes, silver and the various household trimmings. The Simms company exhibited the manufacture of some of their brush products. Both were highly commended by the judges.

The judging of live stock was completed this morning with the exception of a few sheep, which was a very heavy class this year. These will be completed this afternoon.

N. S. Dog Trophy.

It was announced by officials of the New Brunswick Kennel Club this morning that the special cup donated by the local club for competition between entries from Nova Scotia had been awarded to "Buccleigh Specialist," a collie exhibited by Thomas F. Markley, of Halifax, which won a fine string of awards.

Practically all the dogs in the show removed last night and this morning and the show closed.

It was announced by the management today that all exhibits less than ten years of age, if accompanied by adults, would be admitted to the grounds free after 12 o'clock, noon, on Saturday.

A Fine Exhibit.

Probably one of the best exhibits of trunks, bags and suit cases ever shown at any exhibition held here is that of H. Horton & Sons, Ltd., and which has caused many favorable comments. This enterprising firm occupies a large booth, which is devoted exclusively to their line of trunks, including wardrobe and steamer, also cludy bags, suit case, ladies' bags, purses and pocket books in great varieties. This firm has recently made extensive alterations in their store, 9 & 11 Market Square, where they carry a large stock of these lines of goods.

(Special to The Times.)

Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 9.—The first carload of apples to be sent co-operatively from the Fredericton district will go out tonight to the Montreal market. Wealthy, Duchess and Dudley, with a few Alexanders. The last report from Montreal is that the market is satisfactory. Last season and possibly New Brunswick apples obtained top prices on the Montreal market against competition from fruit from well-known fruit-raising districts.

The fire situation in various parts of the province is reported today to be greatly improved as the result of the heavy rain early in the week. After today, fire-fighting crews will be withdrawn, leaving patrols on.

DOUBTFUL ABOUT TRUNK MATTER

British Stockholders Already Weary of Judicial Proceedings and May Balk at the Expense.

London, Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press)—Although press cables from Canada assert that an appeal to the privy council will be taken against the judgment of the Grand Trunk board of arbitration, declaring the common and preference stocks valueless, there is reason to believe that the stockholders here will hesitate about making such an appeal, owing to the expense involved.

It is not known here what authority is behind a statement from Canada that such an appeal will be taken. The stockholders here are doing nothing in the matter until a full text of the decision is received by mail. Many of the holders of the stocks here are already weary of the judicial proceedings and may balk at the suggestion of further assessment for expense which would result from an appeal to the privy council.

Much of the recent speculative buying of the "trunks" came from Lancashire and Yorkshire. The Manchester Guardian in mentioning this country's making a caseable arrangement, if possible, of court, and hopes that the Canadian government will see some way to meet the stockholders in a generous spirit. Otherwise, in the opinion of the Guardian there is no option but to prosecute an appeal, especially in view of the fact that the judgment of the arbitration board is as ex-president W. H. Taft.

The Yorkshire Post says that what will strike people as most unexpected in the wide differences of opinion between Cassels and White, the two Canadians on the one side, and Taft, the most independent member, on the other, "is inconceivable," says the Post, "that stocks valued at £27,000,000 will be swept away and the holders receive nothing. That would be a change of quotations on the Grand Trunk stocks today are purely nominal, as yesterday.

Senator Beique. Winnipeg, Sept. 9.—The award of the Grand Trunk arbitration board was just what I expected, in view of the obligations of the Grand Trunk to the government and its guaranteeing of the Grand Trunk Pacific," said Senator F. L. Beique, vice president of the Banque Du Hochelaga, Montreal, who is touring Canada with President Beattie of the Central Bank. "I don't think that any other award could be expected by anyone," he continued. "Of course it will be a disappointment, as that of the government made an offer of the road to the shareholders if they chose to keep it."

MAKE JAPAN THE LEADING NATION

Supplant Britain and United States, Says a Tokio Paper, Outlining Course.

Tokio, Sept. 9.—Japan would become the leading nation in the world, the champion of weaker peoples, while the United States and Great Britain would drop back to secondary positions in the international scale, if Tokyo representatives would enter the forthcoming international conference at Washington prepared to abandon her imperialistic aims and cease pressure on China, according to the Oriental Economist.

The newspaper laughs at the dismay with which the government and people of Japan have received Washington's proposals. It declares if Japan is prepared to abandon her imperialistic aims and cease pressure on China, according to the Oriental Economist.

"With Japan alone acting on so liberal a principle, it would be impossible for them to maintain their moral position in the world. In that case, China and other weak nations would bow to Japan in confidence. India, Persia, Egypt, Haiti and other possessions of great powers would rise in a body, demanding freedom for themselves as Korea and Formosa had done, and the world would be a very different place."

"In this way Japan's position would rise from the lowest to the highest pitch, causing a contrary change to the position of Britain, America and others, in this way only can Japan be saved."

ZIONIST CONGRESS

Carlsbad, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 9.—The committee on organization of the world Zionist Congress plans to put before the congress for adoption a proposal that the congress should meet every three years. It will also propose that the present congress choose from the delegates 150 who would meet yearly and elect the greater and smaller executive committees, officially known as the "actions committee."

Some delegates from Eastern Europe have decided to call upon the congress to take special steps to protect the thousands of Jewish orphans left homeless and helpless as a result of pogroms in Ukraine during the last three years.

Thursday's sessions were devoted chiefly to debates on the measure of support to be given co-operative movements in Palestine, as against private enterprises. Many of the delegates spoke in favor of private enterprises.

CANADA'S DEBT

Ottawa, Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press)—Canada's net debt declined by $12,831,276 in August. The net debt then stood at $2,344,949,085. A decline of approximately $6,000,000 in ordinary expenditure and $2,000,000 in expenditure on capital accounts as well as increased tax collections are factors.

Figures covering the whole period of the fiscal year up to the end of August show, however, that Canada's debt has increased by $90,465,632 as compared with the previous year.

STREET PAVING.

Commissioner Frink said this morning that not a day passed but two or three petitions were received at his office asking for repairs to streets and sidewalks. The commissioner said he had informed some of the petitioners that if he had the total tax receipts he would still be unable to comply with half the requests he received. He added that people seemed to think that this year would see the end of the world and wanted everything done up in the year so as to be prepared for the end. About three miles of paved streets will have been laid within a year, this, the commissioner said, together with the pavement already laid down, will place St. John in a very favorable position with reference to other cities in Canada of a like size.

FEW TO LINGER IN MEIGHEN CABINET

Toronto, Sept. 9.—Labor will contest four of the Toronto seats in the coming federal election. At a mass meeting called by the Labor representation committee in the Labor Temple last night candidates were nominated as follows: South Toronto, John W. Bruce; Centre Toronto, James Simpson; East Toronto, Jas. Richards; West Toronto, Mrs. Hector Prenter. The labor representation committee is regarded as being the mouthpiece of the independent labor party, and, with the exception of Jas. Richards, the candidates selected are understood to be in sympathy with the radical socialistic wing of the Labor Party.

Co-operation with the U. F. O. in the York constituencies was adopted as the policy of the convention. Support was affirmed to J. A. Cameron, former candidate in West York, and in East and West York, conventions will be held with the U. F. O. prohibition issue.

Steps have been taken by the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance to make prohibition an issue in the federal election. At a meeting of the executive of the branch here yesterday a resolution was adopted urging the Dominion executive to make an appeal for the nomination of candidates in aid of the orphans, which is to be held in St. Andrew's rink, providing the committee can obtain a like offer from a number of other exhibitors.

The forest fire situation remains practically unchanged today. A report this afternoon from Spruce Lake was to the effect that things were quiet there and it was thought there was little if any danger to property. At Robin Hood Lake B. Lingley and W. E. The fire at Ferguson Lake, back of Ketepee, is well under control.

STRANGE MONSTER OF DEEP SIGHTED

Tale of Captain of the Calvip Austin Confirmed by Pilot and Quartermaster.

Boston, Sept. 9.—Captain W. T. Holmes of the steamship Calvip Austin, on arrival here from New York, reported sighting off Setauna a sea monster of the weird and terrible kind which the members of the crew confirm his statement.

Fearing ridicule, Captain Holmes was reluctant to discuss the matter, but after being urged he said that he sighted what at first appeared to be a sealplane, lying motionless on the water, about a ship's length ahead. As the steamer approached the object was seen to move and then a ball shaped head shot out of the water and turned in the direction of the on-coming vessel.

Then it was that the captain and pilot got a full view of the stranger. Its eyes were like large glass balls, while protruding from the neck were two fins, or flappers. The entire body of the huge monster was visible. The captain said it was fully twenty feet in length and must have weighed a ton. The pilot and the quartermaster, who also saw the monster, described it as even larger than the captain's estimate.

CATTLE MARKET IN TORONTO BURNS

Many Hogs, Sheep and Cattle and Several Horses Included in Loss.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—The western cattle market, a civic institution, seven and one-half acres in extent, was wiped out by fire this morning. The vast network of cattle pens, runways and sheds, and piles of lumber in an adjoining lumber yard, gave the fire plenty of material.

A few hundred hogs, sheep and cattle and several horses were burned. The Toronto municipal abattoir, adjoining the cattle market, was not damaged, and the immense works of the Massey-Harris Co. escaped any damage. No estimate of the loss is available, but the insurance on the cattle market amounts to some $75,000.

MAY HAVE TO GO TO THE RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS

Hon. W. P. Jones, K. C., of Woodstock, was in the city yesterday and while here took up with the directors of the St. John and Quebec Railway Co. several matters of interest and importance. Among these was the request of the Canadian National Railways for an expenditure by the company of about $60,000 to cover the erection of certain dwelling houses along the line of railway for section men, new sidings and revised grades the most important of which that Mr. Jones's Crossing above Fredericton. At this point the St. John river has backed up several times when the ice was going out and prevented continuation of traffic and done damage to the roadbed. The C. N. R. maintains that the St. John and Quebec Railway Co. should bear the expense of raising this part of the road, which would probably cost from $40,000 to $50,000. The directors take a contrary view, claiming that this expenditure belongs to maintenance. In the agreement between the provincial and Dominion governments it is provided that if the parties fail to agree the board of railway commissioners shall settle the dispute, so that will probably be the solution.

PLAN RECOVERY OF A CENTURY'S OIL TREASURE

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle Interested in Project to Salvage Craft Off Kafir Coast.

London, Sept. 9.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, novelist, has interested himself in a scheme to recover treasure from a ship sunk in 1782 off the Kafir Coast, South Africa.

Doubloons, piece of eight, rubles, diamonds and pearls, worth $5,000,000, are reported to lie in the rotting cabin and hold of this ship, the Grosvenor, which was lost off Port St. John.

A Johannesburg, South Africa, syndicate has undertaken to search for the treasure.

"I have written to the syndicate asking question with regard to the method by which they hope to save the treasure," said Sir Arthur Doyle. "If the answers are satisfactory—and I am an old sea-going man myself, with knowledge of such matters—I may take up the search for a million pounds."

Salvage experts doubt whether treasure on long lost is recoverable.

"All search for sunken cargo is speculative, and all questing for sunken treasures a dream," said an authority. "Several salvage companies have tried in recent years to recover treasure from wrecks. They have picked up a few coins and some jewelry and have spent a king's ransom in raising scrap iron."

Father Cormier. Interment was in St. Gabriel's Cemetery.

All search for sunken cargo is speculative, and all questing for sunken treasures a dream, said an authority.

FEARS INSANITY FROM LACK OF EMPLOYMENT

Jersey Hospital Director Declares Unemployment and Discontent Breed Mental Ailments.

Trenton, September 9.—Present conditions in the country are such that there is grave danger of a rapid increase in insanity, according to the annual report of Dr. Marcus A. Curry, medical director of the State Hospital of the Insane at Morris Plains, submitted to the State Department of Institutions and Agencies.

The Institute for Mental Hygiene, General Discontent, lack of employment, and post-war problems combine to present a fertile field for the development of mental ailments, he declared.

"It is an established historical fact," said Dr. Curry, "that the reconstruction period after any great war is marked by a general unrest and economic distress. The present era is no exception. The general discontent of the people, the spread of the propaganda of anarchistic propaganda, and the universal depression has thrown many out of employment, leaving them with no more profitable occupation than discussing and brooding over their trouble. As work is one of the most effective curative agents, which has been discovered for the treatment of State hospital patients, so absence of work is one of the most dangerous factors in bringing about mental disorders."

The combination of idleness, financial worry, and madious Bolshevistic teachings is likely to produce either a criminal or a paranoiac tendency, perhaps both simultaneously.

The need of mental hygiene was never more serious than at the present time, said Sir Arthur Doyle.

"The danger of these introverted and anti-social lines of thought and the necessity of some form of outlet for the mind, whether constructive or not. Otherwise, this institution and other State hospitals must anticipate an even more marked increase in current events during the ensuing year."

Dr. Curry emphasizes in his report the importance of the problem created by the large number of former service men who require treatment for mental diseases. He advocates the establishment of a large Government hospital where these men can be properly classified and segregated, and thus afforded more adequate treatment. Classification of soldier patients by mental diseases is now impossible without special wards.

Marked progress in the reorganization of the hospital in spite of the overcrowded condition of the institution is reported in the report of Dr. Curry. The number of patients admitted during the year was 663, the largest in the history of the institution. At the close of the year there were 2,773 patients in the hospital, an increase of sixty over the previous year.

SHOW LITTLE KNOWLEDGE

Some Answers to Questions About Men and Affairs of the Day.

New York, Sept. 7.—Seventeen thousand five hundred students in grammar schools, high schools and colleges, scattered through the country, averaged only forty-four per cent. on a recent examination on current events, when asked questions such as: What is Uncle Sam? Who is Charles E. Hughes? What are Sinn Fein, Budgets, and Sales Tax, and who is Senator Lodge?

The Institute for Public Service, which is reading these answers, was informed that Lloyd George is king of Ireland, that Sinn Fein is a group of Socialists here, and that Samuel Gompers is a poet and minister to France, has made its report.

"There is reason to wonder whether the general public is any less to fear from even biased histories than from schools which do not teach current events," says the institute's report.

The institute's report, which is a series of questions, calling for freak memories, instead they called for knowledge and understanding of frequently mentioned men, places and issues affecting our national life.

"The returns are not from our country's best favored young people or from men who have made a household pet of the animal. It is so tame that it sleeps with Marston's six-year-old son and follows the boy about the ranch like a dog."

FOUR INJURED IN ANNAPOLIS ROYAL TRAIN COLLISION

Bridgetown, N. S., Sept. 8.—A visit to the Annapolis Royal ruins today finds the fire practically extinguished, only the hard coal bins and debris in the foundations smouldering. A special train from Kentville in charge of Conductor Harry Kyler and Driver Will Ritchie, reached Annapolis about 11.30 a. m., with firemen from Kentville and a chemical engine. In the dense fog and smoke in the railway yard white shunting, a portion of a train telescoped the van of a ballast train injuring four persons. One was seriously hurt. In the meantime another special was being rushed from Yarmouth in charge of Conductor Arthur Hayes. This contained the team fire engine Neptune with 1,500 feet of hose and fifteen men, in charge of Captains R. K. Smith and G. W. Holstead. This train made the run from Yarmouth to Annapolis in three hours and twenty-five minutes, and the steamer Neptune was soon placed on Edwards' Wharf, and with a siamese soon had two streams of salt water from the harbor playing on the ruins. The steamer did excellent work.

A Heavy Loser.
Charles Dargie and Son are probably the heaviest losers by the fire, their big furniture establishment and its contents were worth at least $50,000. Their insurance is about $20,000. Mrs. Potter's big dry goods establishment contained more than $25,000 worth of up-to-date goods. She carried about $5,000 insurance.

CANADA IS FACING SERIOUS SITUATION, SAYS W. S. FISHER

Toronto, Sept. 8.—"We are facing a more serious situation than we have ever had before in Canada," said W. S. Fisher, St. John (N. B.), president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, addressing two hundred representative men at the National Exhibition directors' luncheon today. He believed the situation could be remedied by Canadians ceasing to buy and import non-essentials and by giving Canadian goods the preference. That was the only way to help the Canadian workman. The heavy trade balance in favor of the United States, he declared, was a severe handicap.

PRESIDENT BEATTY OF C. P. R. SPEAKS OPTIMISTICALLY

Worst of Depression Over and Conditions Gradually Returning to Normal—Conditions in Canada Fundamentally Sound.

Port William, Ont., Sept. 8.—C. P. R. officials here today included President Beatty, Senator Beluque, Sir Herbert Holt, General Superintendent J. J. Scully, Master Mechanic J. S. Allan, Vice-President A. D. McTier, W. C. Guthrie, superintendent, and E. F. McKee, the president's private secretary. Many local men called upon President Beatty. In the course of an interview President Beatty said: "While there still exists a pronounced quietness in business, especially in eastern Canada, it is possible, indeed probable, that during the fall months of the year there will be an improvement, largely due to the stimulus and increased purchasing power because of the excellent western crop. It is not to be expected that the revival in general business will be other than gradual, and it may easily be next spring before a great tendency towards normal conditions is observed. Unemployment exists in particular localities to a considerable extent but it will not, I think, become acute during the fall months. There will undoubtedly be considerable unemployment during the winter, but the possibility of this has been thoroughly appreciated for some months past, and the governments, municipalities and corporations are prepared to take such steps as they legitimately can to reduce it by the only proper means, namely, by wherever possible providing work. Any other method of relieving the situation should only be considered because of absolute necessity. There is still some shortage of labor on the railway for maintenance work. There is also, I am glad to say, a steady improvement in the financial situation. "There is nothing in the situation which should cause pessimism. Work deferred is not work completed, and extensions and additions to existing plants will be necessary even to meet a normal expansion of business next year. "The conditions in Canada are fundamentally sound. "It is, I think, a fact, however, that the two great necessities for this country's advancement, namely, the obtaining of suitable settlers in as large numbers as possible and the attraction of capital for the extension of Canadian enterprises, should be given the most serious consideration now and not later. It is policies which are initiated in time of depression that are usually those of super-erogation and not founded on either hope or courage, but there is nothing in Canadian conditions to warrant the lack of either. "Governmental economy still should be a watchword. The best Canadian is he who has a personal stake in the enter-prices of his own country. "There is nothing special to announce as to the company's programme for 1922 as that will not be determined until a later day." Asked what he thought of the rate situation, Mr. Beatty stated that undoubtedly decreases in rates would be necessary just as soon as the financial condition of the company warranted it.

CHEAPER MEALS AFTER SEPT. 14

Montreal, Sept. 8.—The Canadian Pacific Railway, as well as the Canadian National and Grand Trunk, will make substantial reductions in dining car prices, necessary just as soon as the financial condition of the company warranted it, effective Sept. 15.

Ever since the peak of high prices was passed numerous cuts have been made, and will continue to be made until normal is reached, railway officials said today. The reductions announced for Sept. 15 are substantial and affect practically the entire menu.

-a brush that will last you for years and years

"Pal o'Mine"

A few minutes' work with a Simms Lather Brush and you have smoothed a path for a quick and easy shave. Many men blame their razor when the fault lies with the brush. If you are one of these, examine your brush. More than likely you will find that the bristles in the centre are completely worn down. No wonder the razor pulls no matter how much it is stropped!

The bristles in Simms Lather Brushes have just the right degree of elasticity to generate quickly a creamy coat of lather and they are all gripped immovably in a bedding of vulcanized rubber.

Price 50c. to $15, at Drug, Hardware and Department Stores.

Every Bristle in every Simms Brush is guaranteed effectively sterilized by the most improved methods.

Round the Bases in 13.
Minot, N. D., Sept. 9.—Irving Wallace, catcher for a local semi-professional baseball team this week established what was said to be a new world's record for circling bases. Wallace made the circuit in thirteen seconds, relaying, he claims, the former record made by Archie Dean of the Rochester International League team.

Playing only with his right hand, he shot a 42 on the first nine holes, of the East Lake course, a distance of 3220 yards. He made a 6 on the 610-yard fifth hole and a 4 on the 525-yard ninth. Jones suffered burns to his left hand last week which rendered that member useless for golfing purposes for a while, but he expects to play in the national amateur championship tournament at St. Louis. EMPIRE USED HAND MIRROR TO WATCH QUICK DOUBLE PLAY, HE SAID.
Clarence Rowland, formerly manager of the White Sox and now boss of the Columbus club, says that there was a time when an umpire silenced him quickly and completely. It was the funniest experience on a ball field Rowland ever had, according to his own admission.

"I was managing Dubuque in the Three-I League at the time," says Rowland. "The game was being handled by Wild Bill Setley, who was quite a character those days.

"I was coaching at third base and we got a runner to first during the early innings. The next batter made a single and our runner started on the dear run from first, rounded second and bore down on third. Right at his heels was Bill Setley.

"The ball was quickly recovered and beat the runner to third by a couple of steps. Setley waved him out, and I had nothing to say. But you should have heard me yell when, on turning, he also called my other man out at second, although he was standing on the base. The third baseman had whipped the ball down to the second baseman, trying to complete a double play on our man who was trying for the base.

"Where do you get that way? I demanded. 'You had your back turned on the play; how could you call him out?' 'Setley grinned, came over to me, and showed me a small mirror he had concealed in his hand. 'I had my eye on that play all the time,' he said, 'and you know that he was out.'

"I was stopped all right. Had nothing further to say."

SLID TO THIRD AND HOME WITH BALL TUCKED SAFELY IN HIS UNIFORM

Years ago umpiring in the old Western League was no easy job. In that rate, that's the verdict of E. H. Wood, for many seasons handler of the indicator in several leagues who later became a theatre manager.

One instance he recalls in particular, says Wood. "It was at Peoria, Ill. then a member of the Western. Those were the days when the great base stealers slid head first, before the hook slide was known.

"One of the visiting players slid head first into second and in some fashion knocked the ball out of the shortstop's hand. I didn't see him do it, nor did any of the players. He slipped the ball into his shirt, rose to his feet, paused for a second and tore for third.

"Into the base he slid, in a cloud of dust, got up, and while the Peoria players were hunting the ball for the ball, he started on the dead run for home.

"Again he slid, rose, carefully brushed off his uniform and strolled casually to the bench. One there he took the ball out of his hiding place and tossed it back into the diamond.

"Immediately I was surrounded and Peoria demanded a decision. I called the runner safe. After the game I beat all existing records from the park to the hotel, and took the next train out of town. I still feel the cold shivers whenever I think of that experience."

BATTLE OF UTLAND SHOWN IN MOVIES

Ingenious Use of Animated Diagrams is the Basis for Thrilling Film.

London, Sept. 7.—By the ingenious use of animated diagrams, the evolutions which made up the Battle of Jutland, have been used as a basis of a motion picture film. The course of the fight is shown clearly and a real thrill is produced as Beatty's battle cruisers are seen bearing down on the German fleet and Jellicoe succeeds in cutting off von Scheer from his base. The accuracy of the movements is guaranteed by Major-General Sir George Aston. He is a well-known authority on military and naval history, and he has spent two years collating the British and German logbooks, signal registers and other detailed official data to ascertain exactly what did take place on May 31, 1916.

A map of the North Sea is the first shown with the German fleet dashing out and the British rushing to intercept them. Beatty draws near von Hipper's advance squadron and alters course to meet him. The destruction of the Queen Mary and other British cruisers is displayed by an explosion and widening circles as the vessels go down. Then comes the main fleet action with the Germans steering west in a desperate attempt to escape the British guns, and the much-discussed turning-away manoeuvre of Jellicoe to avoid a torpedo attack is shown. How it narrowed the target and let the torpedoes through the British line harmlessly is clearly demonstrated by doubling back under cover of darkness strated. The escape of the Germans by the stern of Jellicoe, follows and the engagement ends with von Scheer sheltering behind his mine field.

The film is frankly educational. It shows how great a part tactics play in a big naval fight. Its interest and the close attention of a large audience at its first display today.

LAST VOYAGE OF THE AMERICA

Yacht Which Lifted British Cup to be Returned to the Government After Half a Century of Private Ownership.

(By Associated Press.)
Boston, Sept. 9.—The last voyage of the schooner yacht America, which, by lifting the Royal Squadron Cup in English waters, opened the way to the long international competition for the cup that now bears her name, will begin at this port tomorrow.

Her final cruise will take the America to Annapolis, Md., there to return to the custody of the navy department after nearly half a century of private ownership. The trip will extend over twenty days, in which the famous schooner yacht will call at various coastal ports, the yacht club of which for the past part have participated in the arrangements for her transfer.

It will not be the proud yachting queen of the seas that will rip down the coast. Because of the necessity of passing under several bridges her masts will be lashed to the deck and sails stowed. A sub-chassis will take America in tow.

The yacht, her bottom cleaned and caulked after being laid up twenty years in local waters and otherwise made ship-shape again, will leave Lawley's shipyard at 9 a. m. tomorrow for the waterfront here, from which departure will be taken in the afternoon for Marblehead. The itinerary then follows:—

September 11, at Manchester, Mass.; September 12, passed through Cape Cod and calls at Monument Beach and Marion; 13, at New Bedford; 14, at Fall River Yacht Club, Tiverton, R. I.; 15, at Providence; 16, at Newport; 17, New London; 18, New Haven; 19, Stamford; 20, Indian Harbor; 21, Oyster Bay; 22, Larchmont or New Rochelle; 23, New York Y. C., at 23rd street; 24, Gravesend Bay, with call at Battery; 25, Newark; 26, Trenton; 27, Philadelphia; 28, Wilmington; 29, Baltimore; 30, Annapolis.

At Annapolis, the America will be formally given over to the government. Secretary Denby, who accepted the schooner yacht some time ago, is expected to be there in person. The transfer will be made by Charles H. W.

Foster, a yachtsman of this city, who has owned her for four years. His offer free and clear was made conditional on his acceptance of $1.

FROWNS ON THE CHURCH UNION MOVEMENT

Canadian Church Heading Towards Trouble, Says Church Times.

London High Anglican Paper Issues Warning to Those Whom it Believes to be in Danger—The Question of Episcopacy.

London, Sept. 8.—(Canadian Press Limited.) Canada must be interested in the British High Anglican view of the union of the churches movement as it is presented from Canada.

And then the Church Times proceeds to warn and advise those whom it believes to be in danger, saying: Now, if Canadian Churchmen merely regard themselves as members of one of the Protestant sects, only retaining certain features of antiquity, they had better cease from any polemics, and negotiate openly with the Presbyterians, Methodists, Congregationalists and Baptists of their country, and bid farewell to Catholic Christianity.

It is widely believed in Canada that the establishment of a triple alliance will force the bishops to make further concessions. The general superintendent of Methodism stated recently that "everything must go into the crucible." He derided the "ecclesiastical habit."
