THE KING'S HEALTH.

Today's Bulletins Show That His Condition Is Satisfactory.

London Rejoices at the Hopeful News--A Chicago Medical Man Talks--Service in St. Paul's Cathedral.

LATEST.

LONDON, June 26.—At 4.30 p. m., it was said at the Palace that King Edward continued to make remarkable progress.

6.15—"His Majesty passed a good day and has taken nourishment well. He is less weak and his temperature is now normal."

LONDON, June 26.—10.04 a. m.—The Duke of Connaught called at Buckingham Palace this morning at nine thirty o'clock. Later he said: "The news concerning the King this morning is most encouraging. The King's pulse and temperature are normal, and his condition on the whole is most satisfactory."

LONDON, June 26.—The official bulletin on the condition of King Edward issued at 10.15 o'clock this morning, is as follows: "His Majesty has had a better night and has had some refreshing sleep. He has improved in all respects. His constitutional condition is quite favorable, and the state of his wound also satisfactory."

LONDON, June 26, 1.30 p. m.—The King's satisfactory condition was fully maintained by the bulletin issued at 1 p. m. today. His Majesty looks well and his healthful appearance quite bears out the tenor of the medical bulletins.

LONDON, June 26, 2.12 p. m.—The following bulletin was issued from Buckingham Palace at two o'clock in the afternoon: The King's condition still remains satisfactory.

(Sgd.) Treves, Laking, Barlow.

SAW HIS FAMILY.

LONDON, June 26.—King Edward saw several members of his family in the course of the morning. The Queen remained at the palace, but the Princess Victoria drove out this morning. In most of the churches throughout the land today the services which were to commemorate the coronation of King Edward are taking place in the changed gloom of intercessory services.

JOY IN LONDON.

LONDON, June 26, 11.30.—King Edward's convalescence occasions the greatest satisfaction in all circles. His Majesty is already displaying the greatest interest in all public questions and is expressing his gratitude over the evidences of the world's solicitude by opening a number of telegrams with his own hands as reported in these despatches last night. This action excited him slightly, caused some restlessness during the night, and aroused some trifling solicitude on the part of the attendant doctors. All this really was unimportant, as His Majesty soon quieted down, and on the whole rested satisfactorily. Improvement was most marked. Everybody in Buckingham Palace is delighted and high hopes are entertained that his convalescence will be much more speedy even than as expected last night. At no time has there been any serious suggestion of the establishment of a regency. The most that was done was in the way of pure speculation, a suggestion that the Prince of Wales might act for his father as King Edward (then Prince of Wales) frequently did for Queen Victoria in former days and particularly during her last illness, but without his having formally been appointed regent. The good news given out by the Duke of Connaught at Buckingham Palace before the doctors morning consultation and which the subsequent official bulletin completely confirmed, occasioned the liveliest satisfaction to all persons at the palace, Mansion house and elsewhere collected to await tidings from the sick chamber. The absence of ambiguity in the language of the medical bulletin, which, unlike previous statements, has no qualifying phrases, has done much to restore confidence in the public mind in regard to the outcome of the King's illness.

CHICAGO EXPERT SPEAKS.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Dr. John B. Murphy, of Chicago, dean of the faculty of Rush medical college, has telegraphed to the New York Medical Journal the following statement regarding King Edward: "The official bulletins are very vague and indefinite, as the doctors do not state whether the abscess was due to appendicitis carcinoma or perforating ulcer. They infer that it was appendicitis, but the clinical course for five days preceding the operation does not correspond with that inference. If it be an appendicitis perityphilitic opened and drained with no attempt at removal of the appendix, his chances of recovery, allowing for his age and mode of living, should be 97 per cent. Even if he has a gangrene of a small area of the oecum from a perityphilitic abscess, his chances of recovery should be good unless the infection be very violent. One would infer from the mild symptoms the day previous to the operation that it was not violent. If the abscess be from a perforating ulcer of the oecum, the prognosis is more grave, for these perforating ulcers are grave in themselves, particularly the tubercular. If the perforation occurred through a malignant ulcer his chances of recovery would be very meagre, as a resection of the caput coli would be demanded. This is such a long and grave operation that he could scarcely withstand it, as it would involve an immediate risk of 40 to 43 per cent. The assumption that the abscess is of appendicitis origin is the most logical from his symptoms of pain and syncope on the fifth or sixth day preceding the operation. There was every reason for his physicians withholding from the public as long as possible. If the diagnosis of appendicitis had been made early, it is probable the operation would have been performed immediately, as the consensus of opinion of the American medical and surgical profession is that immediate operation, that is, the operation within the first 24 hours gives the best results and subjects the patients to the least risk.

IN ST. PAUL'S.

LONDON, June 26.—At the hour when the King should have been crowned a great and distinguished gathering, almost identical with that which would have sat in Westminster Abbey, gathered in St. Paul's cathedral. The approaches to the cathedral were lined by silent throngs, through which drove priests and pages, colonial premiers, foreign envoys, ambassadors and members of the house of commons, all in sombre clothes. In the chancel were Joseph H. Choate, the U. S. ambassador, Whitelaw Reid, the special ambassador of the U. S. to the coronation; J. Pierpont Morgan, Jr., and the leading members of the nobility. In the nave, about a thousand of the Westminster Abbey ticket holders, mainly women, were seated. Shortly before noon the big western doors were swung open, sunlight streamed in and the Duke of Cambridge, leaning heavily on the arm of an esquire, walked to the chancel. As 12 o'clock struck there arose from the far end of the nave the clear notes of the opening sentences of the litany, chanted by four of the cathedral clergy. Their tones were in such unison that that seemed to emanate from one powerful voice. The choir took up the responses. At each supplication, the procession, headed by the cross, advanced a few steps and then stood still until the response was completed. Through the kneeling congregation the choir advanced to the chancel steps. A score of the clergy followed, and behind them were ten bishops in gorgeous robes. Then came the Archbishop of York, the Most Rev. Wm. Dalrymple, McLagan, the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Rev. Frederick Temple, and the Lord Mayor, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, the corporation in full state, bringing up the rear.

With evident feeling the choir sang the three Psalms of intercession, after which the Bishop of Stepney, the Right Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, read the lesson, Isaiah, chap. 3, verse 7—"I said in the cutting off of my days I shall go to the gates of my grave. I am deprived of the residue of my years." The Bishop of London, the Rt. Rev. Arthur F. Wintram, from the altar steps read the prayers. "O Lord save the King," rang out to the farthest recess of the dome, and brought a whole-souled response from the choir and the congregation. The anthem and the singing of the hymn, "Thine arm, O Lord, in days of old was strong to heal and save," and Psalm 51 concluded the short service, whereupon the Bishop of London, surrounded by the archbishops and bishops from the altar steps impressively pronounced the benediction. For a few moments complete silence reigned and all heads bowed in prayer, after which the almost blind Archbishop of Canterbury was carefully led down the steps, the procession reformed and the congregation went out into the sunlight gladly discussing the wording of the latest bulletin from Buckingham Palace. Simultaneously a similar service was conducted at St. Margaret's church, Westminster. It was largely attended by cabinet ministers, peers and members of the house of commons and was concluded with singing "God Save the King."

From India, Australia, and Africa everywhere where Britons congregate, telegrams announce the holding of impressive supplicatory services. IN MONTREAL (Special to the Star.) MONTREAL, June 26.—In all the Anglican churches of the city services were held today with invocations to God for the recovery of the king. A number of other Protestant denominations held union services for the same purpose. In the Catholic churches special prayers are offered at every mass for the recovery of the king. This morning's services were generally well attended and of an impressive character.

FREDERICTON.

The Teachers Institute in Session—Large Attendance—Distinguished Speakers.

(Special to the Star.)

FREDERICTON, June 26.—The biennial meeting of the provincial teachers' institute convened here at the assembly hall at the Normal School, at 10 o'clock this morning, Chief Supt. Inch presiding. There is a very large attendance, even greater than anticipated, there being an enrollment of between 300 and 400 teachers and many other visitors. Among the principal persons to address the institute are Mrs. Oberholzer of Philadelphia, Pa., Prof. Robertson of Ottawa and John Adams, an eminent educationalist of Glasgow, Scotland. After devotional exercises, conducted by the chairman, Dr. Inch referred in feeling terms to the critical illness of the king. The whole assemblage rose and sang God Save the King. Dr. Inch then addressed the meeting referring to the departure to South Africa of the New Brunswick teachers and to the progress along educational lines in this province. The Sloyd system and the school in this city was spoken of and all the teachers advised to make a visit to the Sloyd school exhibit in connection with the institute meeting.

The report of the executive committee was read by Secretary Brittain, showing receipts $565.30, and expenditure $547.42. On motion of Mr. Oulton, seconded by Mr. Horseman, the enrollment fee was fixed as follows: Gentlemen, $1.00; ladies, 50 cents. Prof. J. Brittain was re-appointed secretary and Miss Harriet Gregg of St. John, was elected assistant secretary pro tem. Mrs. Oberholzer then addressed the meeting, speaking upon schools savings banks.

TERRIFIC STORM

Causes Loss of Over Half a Million Dollars in Dakota and Iowa.

SIoux CITY, Iowa, June 26.—The storm which swept Dakota and northwestern Iowa was one of the most terrific in the history of this section. The path of the storm covered a space about 60 miles wide and extended from Pierre, S. D., to a point near Lamars, Iowa. Within its track there is not a community that has not suffered loss of property. At Hudson, S. D., the loss will amount to about $50,000. The entire loss from the storm will be more than $500,000. The storm was like a fierce tropical gale, and swept across the country for more than an hour with unabated fury. Its velocity was from seventy to eighty and at times ninety miles an hour. Store fronts and plate glass windows were blown in, houses were unroofed, barns were overturned and throughout the entire section there is not a windmill left standing. TIPPICANOE CITY, Iowa, June 26.—A destructive tornado struck the south edge of Malma county, four miles north of here; last night and passed along a path east and west through the county. At Troy, several houses were demolished and one man was seriously injured. At Pleasant Hill houses were unroofed, including churches and school houses.

A TRIPLE MURDER

Charged Against the Owner of a Shanty River Boat.

RIPLEY, Tenn., June 26.—O. J. Thompson, a fisherman and owner of a shanty river boat, has been placed in jail here upon the charge of a triple murder, committed near Caruthers' Mill. The allegation is brought by Mrs. Ellen Thompson, who declares that Thompson killed her husband, at the point of a shot gun compelled her to move her household goods into Thompson's boat, and follow down the river with her two little children. Shortly after leaving the shore, according to the story of the woman, Thompson administered poison to the two children, who died a few hours afterwards.

FATAL EXPLOSION.

The Shock Was Felt For Five Miles—Great Damage Done.

MADRID, June 26.—A gunpowder magazine at the encampment of Carabanchel, five miles from here, exploded this morning, two men were killed and fourteen were wounded. The shock was felt for miles. Scores of houses were damaged, the doors of the royal palace were thrown open by the force of the explosion and many windows were smashed. The king, accompanied by the members of his household, joined the crowd which hurried to the scene, in order to ascertain the extent of the damage.

SHOT WAS FATAL.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Anthony Sherman, cashier of the Merchant's National Bank of this city, who shot himself last week because of a heavy shortage, died this morning.

ARTHUR HAYDON

Drowned in a Creek Near Calgary—He Was at Paardeberg.

(Special to the Star.)

CALGARY, N. W. T., June 26.—Arthur Haydon, was driving into town when the floods, having washed away a portion of Nose Creek bridge, his horse fell into the stream and before he could extricate himself he was swept away and drowned. Haydon came to Alberta from the eastern provinces a short time ago. He served in South Africa with the St. John volunteer corps, and was at Paardeberg.

Chief of Police Clark received a despatch from Calgary last evening announcing the death by drowning of Arthur Haydon, who resided here some years. Mr. Haydon came here from England and was for a time employed with Manchester, Robertson & Allison. When the first contingent went out to South Africa he was one of the members of G company. He was about 25 years of age and has a brother, Bertram Haydon, residing in this city. No particulars were given in the despatch, but it was stated that search was being made for the body.

SERVICE OF INTERCESSION.

At nine o'clock this morning a special service was held in St. Luke's church by the Rev. R. P. McKim. The coronation service was to have been held at this hour today, but owing to the illness of the king all the Episcopal churches in the empire decided to hold a special service of intercession at the hour appointed for the coronation service. In St. Luke's church the attendance was large and the order of service was similar to that used in England.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 26, 1902.

THE KING'S HEALTH.

A great sense of relief was felt this morning when the official bulletin announced that the king had passed a better night than the previous one, and that his condition was regarded by his physicians as satisfactory.

While the public mind will eagerly seize, however, upon every hopeful symptom and report, it must not be forgotten that the operation performed was a very serious one, and that for days to come there will still be danger of complications or a relapse. We can but hope for the best.

THE GLOBE'S FLING.

Loyalty of late has become so strained that it seems to have become improper to say that the king was ill.

The above sneering remark forms the concluding sentence of an editorial which deals with the fact that the English press, except Reynolds's Newspaper, did not publish the news of the king's illness as soon as it was published in American papers.

DEMOCRATS AT WAR.

The Star referred a day or two ago to a democratic meeting in New York at which ex-President Cleveland and ex-Senator Hill were the chief speakers.

His administration, instead of being a fountain of democracy, sending forth pure and refreshing streams, became a stagnant pool from whose waters foul vapors arose—poisonous to those who lingered near.

Having debauched his party he was offended by its effort to reform and gave comfort to the enemy. Virginia killed his daughter to save her chastity. Cleveland stabbed his party to prevent its return to the paths of virtue.

A merchant, about to fail, invited his creditors to a dinner and after stating his condition, secured a year's extension from all present. One of the number, a relative, waited until after the others had retired and then accosted the debtor: "Of course, I promised with the rest to extend the time, but you are going to make me a preferred creditor, are you not?" "Yes," replied the debtor, "I'll tell you now that you are not going to get anything, the rest won't find it out for a year."

that means Democracy and a Cleveland which means plutocracy. Every speech made by Mr. Cleveland shows more clearly the odiousness of the policies for which he stands.

DEVELOPMENT OF CONSCIENCE.

It is a Duty Too Frequently Neglected By Parents and Others.

"By the State—or Without It" is the caption of a recent editorial in the Brooklyn Eagle which contains opinions that are entitled to attention both for their importance and the intelligent source from which they come.

Looking over society, the Eagle is forced to the conclusion that neither the public school, the church nor the parent is teaching, in an effective manner, what is right and wrong in conduct. Years ago, before the country became populous, a population made up of so many elements, the family taught the child of right and wrong, but that teaching is rather of the past.

Who will say that the Brooklyn newspaper is not stating a great deal of truth? What intelligent man or woman will deny the correctness of its statement that the whole system of instruction in public schools "is morally a negation," and the trouble with our present system of education is that it takes for granted that the people are taught right and wrong without being instructed?

Those who are interested in public education have made great progress in many directions, but have they not, for fear that they may encroach upon the religious, or rather the non-religious views of some people, neglected to teach the elementary lessons of right and wrong so essential to character?

A Montreal despatch states that the price of furniture has been advanced ten per cent. by the manufacturers.

The difference between the C. P. R. and the bridge men and the water supply men has been settled by granting the men an increase in pay.

CUSTOMS UNION.

Discussion on the Question in the British Commons.

Remarks By Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman, Sir W. Harcourt and Austen Chamberlain.

In a recent discussion in the British Commons, on the finance bill, the question of an imperial customs union was incidentally referred to.

Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman said the discussion on this issue had turned almost entirely upon the question of the possible effect of the action taken by the government upon the financial relations between this country and the colonies and the rest of the world.

Sir W. Harcourt said that he failed to understand how we could have free trade with the colonies without departing from our principle of free trade with the world.

Mr. A. Chamberlain said the chancellor had told the house that the tax was proposed for the purposes of the war and to spread wider the basis of taxation.

The Exhibition Association has invited the lieutenant governor of the province, Hon. J. R. Snowball, to formally open the exhibition. It is expected that he will accept. At present the association is calling for tenders for building a shed in which to store the fireworks to be used during the show. Other arrangements are progressing very satisfactorily and there appears to be no doubt of the complete success of the exhibition.

BODY RECOVERED.

Between nine and ten o'clock this forenoon, while the steamer Hampstead was coming through the narrows on her way down river Hallett Mabee, mate of the steamer, saw the body of a man floating in the water near what is known as the Swift Point eddy. Being unable to leave the wheel, where he was on duty, Mr. Mabee did not notify the captain until the Hampstead was near her wharf, or otherwise the body would have been picked up. Whenever the news was received, word was sent to Randolph and Baker's mill and a small boat went up river to the place indicated. The men in it found the body, which proved to be that of Anthony Babineau, an employe of Randolph & Baker's, who was drowned on Sunday, 15th, while sailing with a companion on the river. The body of the man was taken to a building near the mill. Coroner Robinson, of Spruce Lake, was notified, and upon arriving at the mill impelled a jury who viewed the remains.

Many beautiful floral tributes were received from friends and acquaintances of the deceased.

NORTH END MEMORIAL.

Laying of Corner Stone Postponed—More Contributions.

Mrs. Balsley wishes to gratefully acknowledge the following contributions to the North End memorial fountain fund: Miss Gertrude Porter, $10.00; Hon. James Holly, book, $13.75; Mr. Marvin, of nail works, book, $5.00; Lady Friend, $1.00; American Friend, $1.00.

This contribution of Miss Porter's makes a total of sixty dollars donated by that lady, as she had previously given two of twenty-five dollars each. The sums sent in by Hon. James Holly and Mr. Marvin were collected by them on the books supplied by the ladies of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Balsley states today that after having considered the matter, the ladies have decided that it would be more patriotic in them to postpone the laying of the corner stone until the coronation takes place. It was suggested that the function be held on Dominion Day. This suggestion was not adopted. The many contributions of lemons and other articles to be used in the sale on the grounds at the time of the laying of the stone are being taken by North End merchants who will credit them to the ladies and return equal quantities when the time comes. This favor is greatly appreciated.

LOCH LOMOND RACES.

Commodore C. H. Wright of Loch Lomond, the Lipton of St. John county yachtsmen, has offered a cup to be sailed for on Dominion Day. His own boat, the Alexandra, and the Log Cabin boat, Sylvan, with one owned by the Wheelmen's Rod and Gun Club, and another owned by S. H. Barker, will be in the race. An effort is being made to arouse greater interest in racing on the lake, and the Log Cabin Club will probably offer a trophy. R. S. Jackson will be sailing master of the Sylvan, and A. F. Johnston of the Alexandra, on Dominion Day.

There may also be a race on Saturday next. A letter from Upper Loch Lomond to the Star says: "Commodore Wright trusts that the various clubs on Loch Lomond will bring out their yachts to compete with the Alexandra on Saturday, June 28. There will be a race also on Dominion Day and Labor Day. Prizes will be given. If there are six entries three prizes will be given. The course will be the same as on Decoration Day."

Fairweather and Gerard G. Ruel; and the Grace M., by Charles E. Ewell.

The yachts will sail over the course known as C., which is from the clubhouse to a buoy off Brown's shore, thence down to South Bay and return to the clubhouse, a total distance of about ten miles.

PEACHES, APRICOTS AND PLUMS.

The first California fruit of the season has been received by A. Goodwin yesterday and is now being sold at very reasonable prices. It consisted of a consignment of peaches, apricots and plums of fine quality.

A rather unusual shipment was made by Mr. Goodwin yesterday when two large crates of rhubarb were sent to Fredericton. Under ordinary conditions that town is well supplied by farmers living near by, but it appears as though the unfavorable weather has hindered the growth of rhubarb and supplies have to be sent from this city.

THEY BLESS THE BRIDES.

These are the days when the birds in the depot need never go hungry, and no doubt, if they could speak, they would bless the blushing young brides who shake rice off their dresses. For the past month the floor of the depot has been literally covered and the birds have been feasting as only sparrows can feast. They are especially happy in the mornings when all the grains which have been thrown during the evening are in plain sight unspoiled by feet. During the early hours a visitor to the station may see the parent birds bringing their young ones down to feast, and at the same time, while very few people are musing, teaching them to fly.

CLEANED.

This morning the street department, acting on a suggestion made in the Star, sent a number of men to North Market street, which has been in an exceedingly filthy condition for some time. The street was cleaned and those who do business on it are hoping that it will be kept clean.
