NEW YORK, Aug. 12.-The new erica's cup challenger, Shamrock lay at anchor off Sandy Hook lightship last night, and early this orning she was to ved up the bay to wille, Staten Island. She will taken at once to Erie Basin, where will be stripped and her racing t stepped. Her spars are ready. The challenger of 1901 received

The skippers of the tugs loosed whistles, and the New York wailed a salute with her siren. The Erin acknowledged the salute with The three deep blasts. It was at her anchorage overlooking the field where she is to give battle in September to the defender of the cup that the yachting sharks had their first glimpse of the new challenger by daylight. The grace and beautiful lines of her bod y were marred by her cruising rig. But one glance, how-ever, was sufficient to convince the experts that Watson had built a much handsomer boat than the old Shamrock. She had none of the aggressiveness characteristic of the bull dog muzzle of the old boat. She looks the fastest boat ever turned out in British waters. One of her beauties is Watson's peculiar tilt of the counter. There is no flatness or tumble home along the top sides, and her great overhang gives her the appearance of speed. She was painted green, like Lipton's first challenger. She raised her anchor and took the tow line from the Haddon at 5.30. Shamrock the First had an ugly, coarse bow, that used to pound and batter the water whenever the slightest sem-blance of a head sea was raised. The bow of Shamrock II. reminds one of that of the Columbia. It should divide the water with ease. It cannot be denied that Mr. Watson, the designer of that wonderful bow, learned much from the intelligent study of the bow of the Gloriana. The whole forebody of the challenger, in fact, shows a skilful modification of the forward sections of all the good parts of the Watson and Fife and Herreshoff creations. The stern, too, tapers beautifully. The graceful way in which Mr. Watson has disposed of the great beam of the challenger is indeed a wonder of naval will go into dry dock to have her inder body cleaned before her trials all the attributes of a racing yacht.

The jury rig under which the yacht crossed was evidently intended for towing. The gafftopsall had very little pulling power. The stump topmast was only capable of setting a mere rag of a sail, and the square sail yar lashed on the port side of the deck had never had a sail bent to it.

After the steam yacht Erin has been put in dry dock the Shamrock will be hauled out for cleaning. Then will the shape of the challenger be revealed.

REQUIEM SERVICE

Empress Fraderick, Celebrated Sunday.

and Queen Alexandra Present d Laid a Wreath Upon the Coffin.

CRONBERG, Aug. 11.—People flocked into Cronberg from an early hour today to see the august persone who would attend the requiem service over the remains of Dowager Empress Frederick. Throughout the night and again today the officers of the regiments of which the deceased was honorary colonel had stood guard overthe coffin.

From 11 a. m. there was an unbroken stream of carriages arriving from Homburg, Frankfort and other points, bringing those invited to the solemn ceremony. Considerable bodies of roops, both infantry and cavalry,

At 2.30 p. m. the 18th regiment formed up along the streets and the band of the Bockenheim Hussars took its stand opposite the church. Every window, balcony and housetop was filled with people awaiting the arrival of the imperial personages.

Baron Von Reischach, court marshal of the Dowager Empress, super-intended the arrangements. Sir Frank Lascelles, the British ambassador, was mong the first to arrive. He took a seat facing the coffin, which was cov-ered with wreaths. On either side of the coffin were four officers holding the standards of the empire, of Prussia and of the deceased. Between them and the coffin were other offi-cials rigid and bearing drawn swords. Gradually the church filled with offieers in splendid uniforms and ladies wearing deep mourning. The congregation included the Duke of Connaught, the Duke of Cambridge and several members of the British royal household, Count Von Buelow, Count Von Waldersee, Dr. Spielhagen and Gen. Von Lindequist, At 4 o'clock the roll of muffled drums announced the arrival of Emperor William and King Edward, who had driven together from Homburg. The Emperor, wearing the black uniform of the Empress' Own Posen Hussars, led Queen Alexandra into the church, while King Edward, in the blue uniform of the King Edward Prussian Dragoons, conducted Empress Augusta Victoria. The choir from Berlin cathedral sang I Know that My Redeemer Liveth, and Dr. Dryander read a specially written prayer, after which Emperor William's four eldest sons stepped forward with drawn swords and stood close to the coffin. Dr. Dryander then delivered an oration, extolling the virtues of the Dowager Empress and dwelling upon her trials and sorrows. This was followed by the words of the burial service, "Dust

Then followed the magnificent hymn, Wenn Ich Einall Soll Scheiden, and a beautiful rendering of Be Thou Faithful Unto Death. As the last strains died away King Edward and Queen Alexandra advanced and laid a wreath upon the coffin. The King remained standing for a few moments alone beside the offin, and then turned and left

At its conclusion Empress Auguste Victoria and Queen Alexandra drove in a victoria to Homburg, the Emperor and King following in a second carriage. The streets were congested with sightseers long after the imperial and royal peronages departed.

CHANGE OF MANAGEMENT. Furness, Withy & Co. have decided Bradstreet's Review of the Past Week's Transactions?

Main Tendency Upwards in Cereal Prices-Cotton Weaker - Textiles Show Little Change - Business Failures-Trade in Canada.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Despite recurrence of corn damage reports from the eastern surplus production state and the formal launching of the general steel workers' strike, the aggregate business the country over seems to be of a good, and in most sections, unprecedented volume for this season of the year. All available mea sures of supply, demand and movement point to the business done in July having exceeded anything transacted in any similar mid summer month.

Early corn, a small proportion of the present year's crop, by the way, comes in for most of the damage, and late corn certainly ms better. Late estimates of Bradstreet's reports point to a curtailment of about 400,000,000 bushels in the four great corn growing states west of the Missisippi. Spring wheat threshing results in the northwest prove to be better than earlier antici pated, and the feeling is that a crop o 185,000,000 to 200,000,000 bushels of wheat will be gathered in Minnesota and the Dakotas, 75,000,000 bushels more than the actual yield last year. St. Paul reports July sales 25 per cent. ahead of last year. Kanasa City reports that probably one-third of the corn cancellations will be reinstated. St. Louis reports are quite favorable.

Chicago reports business in clothing, dry goods, boots and shoes hardly up to the average. New Orleans reports the outlook for fall trade encouraging. Complaints of the southern corn crop come from Knoxville and Memphis, but cotton seems to be flourishing. A good spring wheat crop will be gathered in Washington, and the hop crop, while smaller than last year, will be of very fine quality. The supply of labor is scarce at Portland, while San Francisco reports trade distributing affected by the strike.

In cereal prices the main tendency has been upward. The main strength of wheat lies in the continued heavy export business, far in excess of any previous week on record. the continued heavy export business, far in excess of any previous week on record.

United States and Canadian wheat supplies increased 2,314,000 bushels during July, but European, Australian and Argentine wheat supplies fell off much more heavily, the result being a grand total of supplies on Aug 1, 1901, of 122,379,000 bushels, a loss of 4,510,-000 bushels for July. World's stocks are the smallest held on this date since 1898, and the same is true of American supplies alone, but Furopean supplies are the heaviest since but European supplies are the heaviest since 1895.

Cotton is weaker. The outlook on Aug. 1 was for a crop slightly in excess of that of the present season, 10,300,000 bales.

Nine groups of staples, textiles, provisions and groceries, oils, breadstuffs; chemicals and drugs, hides and leather, fruits, coal and coke and building material, were marked higher diring July, while live stock, metals and naral stores moved lower. In the iron and steel trade, the strike is still the feature around which revolve high premium prices for plates, bars and sheets and tinned plates. Structural material, not affected as yet by the strike, is in very heavy demand. Other metals show little change on the week.

The textiles show little change. Cotton goods have been firmly held, despite the quiet and even dull condition of business at first hands. The eastern jobbing business in prints, ginghams and cotton goods generally has been of good volume, though smaller than expected. Print cloths are easter, though not quotably lower, owing to the formal dissolution of the selling committee plan at Fall River. Talk of wage reduction is again not quotably lower, owing to the formal dissolution of the selling committee plan atFall River. Talk of wage reduction is again heard, but there is still an unwillingness to strike at the real cause of the trouble, that of over-production of certain kinds of print cloths, due to changes in style and fashion.
Recent re-orders of men's wear fall weights

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Chaplain H. W. Jones, U. S. N., spoke tonight in the Church of the Strangers, this city, on The Life and Work of a Chaplain of the Navy. Incidentally he told a story bearing on the relations of Eng-land toward the United States during the Spanish-American war. He said

This last winter, when at Barbadoes, we found the West-Indies British fleet there, and invited one of the British naval officers of high rank on board our ship to dine with us. C. P. R. Trackmen Are Working as of Yore.

Visitor's Impressions of the Place -Rev. Mr. Kirby to Take up Evangelistic Work at Once.

MATTAWAMKEAG, Me., Aug. 8 .-The trackmen's strike is quiet around this section of the C. P. R. This division is about fully manned, and the strikers seem very willing to settle down to regular work and regular ways. The fact is the men are tired of the agitation and would be satisfied to let matters rest as they are. Indeed, this section of the line never was in much sympathy with the The roadbed is in excellent strike. condition and the trains are now making regular time, which shows that the line is considered perfectly safe for

One crew which lost their places of the Maine Central during the strike have gone in a body to the C. P. R. in the vicinity of Brownville and are now working. The strikers on the Main Central are all once more at work. The general impression around here is that the men will continue to work on both lines, despite the fact that they are considered "scabs" by those who wish to prolong the strike. The section men in this division seem to be a very respectable and gentlemanly class of men, and are anxious to do the right for their employers and ness and general conditions, are im pressed with the fact that the work men are honest and true to their employers, and no evidence of shirking their work is apparent. Mattawamkeag is a quiet and restful place, and but for the large number of trains coming and going, would have rather a sleepy appearance, but he people are generally in comforttent depend on the two lines-Main Central and C. P. R .- for their living. It is at this point where the C. P. R branches off from the M. C. and trains of both companies all stop here. The village nestles down between two rivers, the Mattawamkeag and the Penobscot. Two of the finest railway bridges we have ever seen span these two rivers, one owned by the M. C. and the other by the C. P. R. Perhan the most unsightly thing around this place is the dirty old covered bridge, which had one span nearly washed out by the spring freshet and the heavy ice. It certainly does not look safe with all the fixing up it has had since the spring. (and where can you go where they are not?); some from Harvey, N. B. and from other places, and they are amongst the most useful in the com-munity. One thing is very apparent, everybody is given a fair chance

E. minister here, and Mrs. James Fairly of Boiestown, sister of Mrs. Barker, are expected on Saturday to make an extended visit at the M. E. age. Dr. Barker has been the E. L. convention in California and has visited his sons who live there. He will spend a week with a son Chicago before coming home.

Rev. Mr. Kirby of New Brunswick, who has been supplying for Dr. Bar-ker, preaches his last sermons here on Sunday next, and then he goes to series of evangelistic services with the Rev. M. R. Knight. From there Mr. Kirby expects to conduct special vices at Salisbury for two months then Bayfield, and Springfield until the end of next March or April.

Reading of the Defence

MELBOURNE, Victoria, Aug. 9.-The house of representatives today assed the second reading of the Australian defence bill.

Edmund Barton, the premier, made speech, during the course of which he said the standing army contemplated not only a sufficient force to guard the depots and to serve as military instructors for the levies to be called out in case the first line of defence, the navy, was broken.

The clause providing for calling out en from 18 to 60 years of age was erted to demonstrate to the world what Australia would do in time of emergency. The cost of the navy would be about £1,000,000 annually.

Summer School of Science Has Folded Its Tent

The Work in the Various Departments and How It was Condueted.

(Special Cor. of the Sun.) LUNENBURG, N. S., Aug. 8.-Yesterday was a red letter day for the Summer School members, who were entertained right royally by Bridgewater. At 3 p. m. the boat Bridgewater took the school up the La Have to the beautiful little town of the same name, many others driving or wheeling, in all about 300. The weather was just right and old Neptune ruled the waves in such a manner that even the most "mal de mer-ist" was tranquil. The whole expedition would need a special course in adjectives to adequately describe. The up the "Rhine of Nova Scota" was delightful; songs, jokes and speeches were in order, while many could not take their eyes from the cenery. Several spots of historic interest were passed, notably the hill from which during the war of 1812 a gun was fired at a privateer, effectually driving away the enemy, by Mrs. Oxner, sister of the late Sheriff Kaulbach of Lunenburg. One of the very few traces of the French in this county is Fort Point, where there was once a strong fortification, a supposed holy well, the site being now occupied by the peaceful light house. At Getson's Cove the steamer was met by the Trusty, having on board Mayor E. Davison, town council, committee of citizens and band from Bridgewater. The school promptly gave them three cheers and a tiger. The hosts boarded the Bridgewater and a cordial welcome to the school was voiced by the mayor. Added to this flow of soul was a most substantial evidence of good will in the shape of sandwiches lemonade, which were handed about in abundance till the visitors would fain cry, "Hold! Enough!" flying, and half the citizens at the town was en fete, with flags wharf on arrival of the steamers. There were also dozens of carriages, with four horses, in which the visitors were driven about the city, seeing the shops with their plate glass and electric lights, the tasteful house terraced and bowered in green; the sightly churches, the naturally excellent bridge, the well kept cemetery and everywhere views, picturesque and lovely. The invading host were taken to a pleasant grove, a few minutes walk from the station, where the ladies of the town served an abundant and dainty meal, beginning with salads and ending with ices. The place was illuminated with electric lights and colored lanterns, and with the band playing gaily and the fair, white By some magic every one of the 300 lests were well looked after and made to feel at home. After the band played the national anthem, Auld ang Syne was sung and the musical programme closed by the school singing lustily the Summer School ode of H. A. Woodworth's to the air of The Maple Leaf For Ever. By the kindness of Manager Brignall a special train brought home the tired, happy excursionists, and the school is large ly indebted to Frank Davison's arangements with the Coastal Steam ship Co. for the steamer trip. much praise cannot be given the Bridgewater people for their exceeding kindness and most acceptable manner in which it was rendered. day may come when some of the in struction received in the Summer School will be forgotten, but certainly the recollection of "Bridgewate lay" in the session of 1901 can never be effaced. Thursday evening took place a short lecture by Dr. Andrews on A Speck of Life, and the closing meeting. The audience was, as usual, large. Presi-dent Campbell acted as chairman, the platform being occupied by represen tative men from Lunenburg, Mayor Rudolf and Mayor Davison, and Mr. Wilson, chairman of the Bridgewater. Dr. Andrews spoke only too briefly on a most interesting subject, which he ilustrated on the blackboard. His lecture was reolete with scientific knowledge and humor. Then followed a hall of viz., character building, the training speeches. The president spoke in up of a child to the highest of which glowing terms of this most successful sion, of the great interest maintained throughout, the benefit derived and the great kindness that had been by the citizens. Spee were also made by the mayor, Dr. Hall, Mr. Love, Dr. Bailey, Mr. Letson, Dr. Magee, Rev. Mr. McGiller Seaman, Mr. Sterratt, Mayor Davison, Dr. Andrews. After the usual votes of thanks were tendered, the Summer School closed the session of 1901 with God Save the King. LUNENBURG, N. S., Aug. 9.-The Summer School of Science for this year is over, closing a remarkably success ful session. Of the 377 pupils and teachers, nearly all departed this morning. A few of the officers remained for the examinations, which are held today. The tremendous increase of membership is due probably to the fact that the public is becoming aware that the Summer School is not intended only for teachers, but for everyone wishing to extend or refresh his knowledge. Just to meet such a faculty as was represented this year would alone be a benefit; to know them s a liberal education. A brief outline of the working of each class is not out of place. The regular clas from 8.30 to 12.30 a. m., three subjects in each hour. It is estimated that n pupil can take more than two studies with benefit, but there is a wide range

Taking the classes are they appeared on the time table, the first was chemistry, taught by Dr. Magee Parrisboro High School, whose genial presence attracted many to the work. So large was the attendance that it was impossible to do the usual laborawork, so more time was put on the ures. Ot was ever the aim of the ructor to make clear the 'main principles underlying modern chemistry, so the students could explain difficult points on resuming their school room duties. As far as possible the laboratory experiments were done by the students themselves, training them in the handling and preparing of simple apparatus, special attention being given to the making of apparatus from cheap and easily obtainable ma terials.

In botany, the elementary class was conducted by Mr. Nelson of the Mac-Donald Manual Training School, P. E. I., and much interest was manifested. He taught the general outline and form of plants, their morphology and physiology. The advanced pupils were started with much enthusiasm pupils by Dr. ToKay, superintendent of edu-cation for Nova Scotia, and were continued in the course with Dr. Hay, editor of the Educational Review, St. John, N. B. Dr. Hay gave special attention to sea weeds, fungi, life and surroundings of plants, how they get their food, etc. He made excellent suggestions for teachers as to interesting children in botany, that instruction should treat rather of the living plant than its structure. Both classes were a combination of lecture, laboratory and field work, and much practical work was accomplished, the tramps being an exceedingly pleasant fea-

The drawing department was ably onducted by F. G. Matthews, Bristol, Eng., instructor of the MacDonald Manual Training School at Truro. The syllabus was originally arranged for essons in various kinds of drawing, but at the request of the students it consisted of lectures on How to Teach of use to the teacher of a small school, including all the grades, and also to one in a large school, teaching one or two grades only. A new feature to the majority of teachers in this province was the brush work, the idea of which was readily seized, and many intend introducing it in their schools. An interesting feature of work for lower grades was the free-arm drawing with crayon on the blackboard. The work for the other grades consist ed of free-hand and ruler drawing, slate drawing, model drawing, geometry, light and shade. This class was extremely popular.

F. A. Dixon, principal of the High School, Sackville, N. B., carried through the work of the zoology class with great acceptance and success. Practical demonstrations were a leading feature. Whenever possible, the living object was studied and dissected. Blackboard illustrations were also freely used. Dissections were made on mammal, birds, and a large variety of fish. The early morning class at the wharf for the study of fish was a very interesting feature. On the numero tramps, collections were made in which insects took a prominent part. The class enjoyed a lecture on fish from Prof. Prince, outside of his public lectures on the subject.

In connection with the chemistry department was the class of blowpipe robed waltresses flitting among the analysis, which was conducted by Dr. Mt. Allison University. The system used does away with troublesome and expensive apparatus; all that was needed for the experimental basis of the whole course of chemistry wa three or four chemicals, blowpipe and a 3-cent candle. The students were re quired to work out all experiments fo emselves after receiving a few directions at the outset. Special attention was also given to teaching good English, in which to explain their experiments. Dr. Andrews has the happy faculty of imparting his enthusiasm and his class obtained gratifying results. He is shortly to bring out book on Blowpipe Chemistry, about which he is constantly receiving inquiries, letters asking the date of publication having come from as far away as California. The physics class was taken by Dr Scott of New Brunswick University Fredericton. The main point inculcated was that no science can be taught without practical work, first steps in any science must be taught by experi-

One of the most important in this Summer School course has been the educational lectures of Dr. Hali, professor of pyschology and education in the Normal School, Truro. Dr. Hall has just returned from a year's study on these subjects with Prof. Laurie Edi burgh, and throws into his lec tures a force, freshness and originality of idea that make them of incal alable value. He teaches what education is up of a child to the highest of which his race is capable. Material use the works of nature and man as the child finds them in his surroundings; following the way a child develope first the sense, then the mind and spirit. Feeling is the basis of all knowledge; one should proceed from the known to the unknown, whence we may deduce the rule in teaching of turning everything to use. The in fluences of home, street, church, are brought by children to school, to be sextended or corrected by the teach The child really brings some knowl edge on all subjects taught, namely language, natural science, arithmetic the teacher's duty is to widen, correct clarify this knowledge. To gain be results in education and developmen this order must be preserved; feeling sensation, perception, conception, rea son; the order of a child's natural development. Having due regard to these fundamental principles, there is one other that is supreme—to evoke the will of a child in educating him. All educational material finds its centre of unity in the mind of the child; we must never forget it is mind we ar developing, and that knowledge get ting must ever be regarded as of sec ondary importance. What the stude is, not what he knows, must ever our care. Therefore in education quality takes precedence to quantity. The geology class was in the abl ands of Dr. Bailey, New Brunswick University, The purpose of this course was to explain and illustrate the aims nd methods of geological Advantage was taken of the sions and numerous expeditions to study the wasted sections at eatures and probable origin. Among the numerous specimens North Mountain traps were observed indicating the extent of former glacial transportation. Other evidences of glacial action were studied in the rounded hills or drundines which distinguish Lunenburg scenery and of which the many slands of Mahone Bay and Chester Basin are illustrations.

Too much praise can hardly be given to the instruction of the physiology class by S. A. Starratt, Yarmouth, N. S. In the short time of the Summer School he managed to get in a half year's work on his subjects, and while professing to give teaching merely in physiology and hygene he covered a vide field that embraced ethics, religion, geography, literature. That his pupils were instructed in the best ense of the word and not examined was amply evident by a paper specially prepared for the reporter from notes taken in the class by one of the younger pupils. She showed a grasp of the subject that was unusual in a school girl. Mr. Starratt showed by reference to the living body, to cuts and actual dissection, that many of the elementary physiological facts may be easily understood by children: he emonstrated by physical tests some of the differences between training and teaching. Suggestive questioning rather than bare statement of facts vas the method adopted.

The kindergarten department under Mrs. Patterson of Truro Normal School attracted a good deal of attention, averaging some seventy visitors a day. The work was prepared spe cially for teachers of primary grade or of miscellaneous schools. The aim was not to train kindergarteners but to meet the wants of all having little children under their care. The lowing subjects were taken up: Aim Drawing. These were modelled to be and method of child study; naturestudy for young children; educationa value of stories; critical study of school songs and games; value of finger games: busy work for little ones; punishments and moral training; development of originality. The tonic sol-fa system was > taught by Miss A. Ryan, instructor in voice culture, Halifax. Excellent work was done. Miss Ryan stating that she had found good voices and natural musical ability in Lunenburg. Several pupils passed the examinations successfully and obtained certificates from the Tonic Sol-Fa College, Lonclass don, Eng. In the elementary the course embraced chords and intervals of the common scale; relation of tones in a key; time as regulated by accent; use of the modulation and time chart; study of rhythmic forms; ear exercises: general preparation for junior and elementary certificates the advanced class were taught relation of keys: transition: minor mode advanced rhythms; study of transi tional and minor passages from musi-cal classics; preparation for intermediate and advanced certificates. One of the most popular classes wa that of English literature, taught by Prof. J. T. Murray of Cincinnati University. The time was put mostly on eth, to the interpretation which the professor brought a clear, comprehensive method and amply evidenced culture. At the close of the course Mr. Murray gave an admirable

SAVANNAH, Ga., Aug. 11.-Eight en miles south of Savannah, near the Seaboard Air Line railway, charred trunk of the body of Jo Washington, the negro ravisher of Mrs. J. J. Clark, is all that remains to tell the story of the tragedy of last night. Washington was captured at Liberty City yesterday afternoon and was brought to Way Station, near which place his crime was committed. He was carried in before Mrs. Clark, who identified him positively as the negro who had assaulted her. The negro's positive identification sealed his fate. A mob of 400 men clamored for his life, but the leaders, number ing less than a dozen, carried into execution their plans of vengeance distance. Washington walked to his death without a tremor and met it without a prayer or an appeal for incident to the principal, but to the end he stubbornly refused to acknowledge that he had assaulted Mrs. Clark. A crowbar was driven into the earth. To this Washington was bound in a sitting position. His legs extended straight in front of him on eithe side of the bar. A chain held him fast around the waist, while a heavy rope encircled the bar and his Washington's victim had been asked by the leaders of the mob to apply the torch to the pyre, but this she de clined. Her husband was selected in ner stead. Washington looked straight into the eyes of Clark as the latter stooped down to apply the match. The wood was rich, fat pine and was satueaped hungrily towards Washington's body, but the man showed no signs in his face of the agony he must have suffered, and met death without a groan. The leaders of the mob watched till Washington's head fell back upon his shoulders and he died. without a shot having been fired, without noise and undue excitement hey dispersed.

Negroes, citizens of the Bryan county, in which the tragedy took place, were almost a unit in approving it and very many of them ere members of the mob.

PORT SILL, O. T., Aug. 10 .- Three additional suits have been started against James R. Woods, the first winner of the Lawton district land lottery, who in choosing his claim shut Miss Mattle Beals out from filing on a tract next to Lawton. A local town site company staked off Woods' entry last night, and stretched ropes to in-dicate alleys and lots, and gave notice of contest. These Woods displaced with the aid of an axe, but during the night two hundred squatters took posession and say they will contest to the end. Woods' attorneys have warned the squatters to move within ten days. A fourth contest was inaugur-ated when a placer miner's claim, based on the alleged discovery of oil on the Woods' homestead, was filed Collections were made from the dif-ferent beaches illustrating distinctive with the registrar of deeds.

LORD KITCHENER

Issues a Proclamation to the Boers in the Field.

LONDON, Aug. 9.-A parliamentary paper has been issued containing a proclamation issued by Lord Kitchener, August 7, in accordance with instructions from the imperial government, the governments of Cape Colony and Natal concurring. The proclamation says: "All commandants, field cornets and leaders of armed bands, being burghers of the late republic and stil lengaged in resisting his majesty's forces, whether in Orange Colony or the Transvaal portion of his majesty's South African dominions, and all members of the governments of the late Orunless they surrender before Sept. 15, be permanently banished from South Africa. The cost of the maintenance of the families of burghers in the field who have not surrendered by Sept. 15 shall be recoverable from such burghers, and shall be a charge upon their property, removable and immovable in the two colonies."

The preliminary correspondence shows that the proclamation is based upon suggestions which the governent of Natal forwarded to Colonia Secretary Chamberlain July 24, and that the date Sept. 15 was recom ed by Lord Milner. The reasons of the government for the proclamation are set forth in a preamble to the procla nation as follows:

'Whereas, the late Orange Free State and South African Republic have been annexed to his majesty's dominion; and "Whereas, his majesty's forces are and have been for some considerable time in complete possession of the seat of government of both the aforesaid territories with their nubite offices and the whole machinery of administration, as well as of the principal towns and the whole of the railways, and "Whereas, a great majority of the burghers of the two late republics, to the number of 35,000, exclusive of these who have fallen in the war, are now either prisoners of war submitted to his majesty's government, or are livcontrol of his majesty's forces;

"Whereas, the burghers of the late republics still in arms are not only few in number, but have lost almost all their guns and munitions of war and are devoid of regular military organization, and are, therefore, unable to carry on regular warfare or to offer any organized resistance to his majesty's forces in any part of the country; and

"Whereas, those burghers who are still in arms, though unable to carry on regular warfare, continue to make isoated attacks upon small posts and detachments of his majesty's forces, to plunder or destroy property and to damage railway and telegraph lines; and

"Whereas, the country is thus kept in a state of disturbance, checking the resumption of agricultural and industrial pursuits; and
"Whereas, his majesty's government is determined to put an end to a state of things which is aimlessly prolonging bloodshed and destruction and inflicting ruin upon a great majority of the inhabitants, who are anxious to live in peace and earn a livelihood for themselves and families; and "Whereas, it is just to proceed against those persons who, being in a position of authority, are responsible for the continuance of the present state of lawlessness and are instigating their fellow-burghers to continue their hopeless resistance to his majesty's govrnment."

Therefore Lord Kitchener issues his proclamation. The afternoon newspapers comment approvingly upon the proclamation of Lord Kitchener. Even the Westminster Gazette says there is no fault to find with it, nor is there any objection to make on the score of justice. It thinks, however, that it is extremely doubtful if it will have any effect in shortening the war. Most of the fighting Boers are already completely ruined. The Globe says the proclamation is as judicious as it is drastic, and that the only question is whether it is "Not even the strong enough, adding: er can find fault with it the score of inhumanity. It has on the score of inhumanity. It has long been obvious that such a step was imperative in order to avert ruin upon the inhabitants desirious of peace.

She is held on a charge of murder, and will be given a hearing in the Charlestown court on Tuesday next. It is charged that following a quarrel, she pushed the man out of an upper story window, but many think that Eldredge fell out and that the murder charge will be dismissed for lack of evidence. It is known that the couple quarrelled frequently and occasionally drunk too much liquor. The dead

Francis Wayland Glen, that irrembug whom the liberals of the riding of South Ontario once elected to parliament, but who is now sec retary and general manager of the "Continental Union League" of New York city, has had another of his bad turns. This time Glen has discovered a dastardly plot arranged by Orange men, Sons of the United Empire Loyalists, and Anglo-Saxon, Scotch and Norman monarchists to destroy this great and glorious republic. Glen says he thinks he can connect the conspir-ators with the assinations of Lincoln and Garfield, and in an investigation would prove his charges by such witnesses as Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sin Richard Cartwright, Hon. Mr. Mills, Sir Hector Langevin and other public men. He also asserts that Great Britain sent over large sums of money last fall to make sure the re-election of McKinley. The president of the Continental Union League announces that whatever statements Mr. Glen chooses to make have no connection with the league. Years ago when the tariff was a live issue in Canadian elections, Glen undertook to raise a big campaign fund in this country for the free trade party, but evidently his services were not appreciated or a senatorship might have been his before this. In late years he has been noted for his violent anti-British tirades in the New York Sun. Liberals nowadays will have nothing to do with him, and it is even doubtful if Henri Bourassa would welcome him, should he ever decide to return to the (Chicago Chronicle.) England is conducting one war at least in which she will enjoy the sympahty of decent people the world over. This is a war against the spitting habit .

The state of English public sentiment on this subject is illustrated by a recent incident which was consid the man who was killed by a man at ered of sufficient importance to be Summerside about a month ago, has cabled to this country. On a crowded steamboat returning from Hampton court to London one of the passenger spat. Immediately a score of people around him directed their disgusted and indignant gaze at him and the poor man, mumbling an humble apology, retreated precipitately to another part of the boat.

What these indignant passenger would do if they had to ride on the Chicago street cars it is difficult to ne. Perhaps they would wait until they came to the river and then jump in and drown themselves. A passenger on one of these cars is fortunate indeed if some man does not sit in front of him and spit across his face, between him and the wind, dur-ing the whole journey. "Thou shalt not spit" is the new commandment everywhere written and spoken in London at present, and it is time that t made its appearance in Chicago. The anti-spitting hero of this city

We have spent some hundred million pounds We have spent some hundred million pounds to prove the fact once more. That horses are quicker than men afoot, since two and two make four:

And horses have four legs and men have two legs, and two into four goes twice.

And nothing over, except our lesson—and very cheap at the price.

For remember (this our children shall know; we are too near for that knowledge) we are too near for that knowledge)
Not our mere astonied camps, but Council

All the obese, unchallenged old things that

Then let us develop this marvellous asset which we alone command,
And which, it may subsequently transpire,

We have had an imperial lesson; it will make

KITCHENER'S PROCLAMATION,

Step by step, but to slow time, the confederation of South Africa under British rule is being accomplished That the war has reached the guerilla stage is evident from the terms of Lord Kitchener's proclamation, in which he announces that all Boer leaders who do not lay down their arms before September 15th will be permanently banished from the country and that the cost of maintenance of the familles of the burghers in the field who do not surrender by that date will be a charge upon their property. The text of the proclamation gives them greater personal liberty. and the preliminary correspondence on which it is based, show that it has been issued by Lord Kitchener in accordance with instructions from the British government, in which the governments of Natal and Cape Colony concurred. While a drastic measure, ly good wages is given the cold shoulit is aimed at the leaders and that small minority of the rank and file or a job in a factory. DEATH OF SIGNOR CRISPI.

Signor Crispi, the Italian statesman whose death is announced, was for many years a prominent figure in European politics. He formed with Count Bismarck in 1887 a secret polie between Italy and Ger many, designed chiefly to thwart the aggressive policy of Russia. Only a short time after perfecting that alli-ance Crispi won the thanks of the French government for his successful efforts in behalf of the negotiations between Great Britain and France relating to the Suez canal, and which resulted in an agreement satisfactory to both parties. In 1861 the first parliament of the new kingdom of Italy met at Turin. At that period Venice and the Quadri lateral including Verona and Mantua, still remained under the Austrian empire, while Rome was held by a French garrison for the Pope. The revolution in Sicily and in Naples, expelling Francis II., had been effected by the victories of Garibaldi in the preceding year. Among its most active local supporters at Palermo was - Francesco Crispi, a young barrister, who had in 1884 taken part in the insurrection provoked by the tyranny of King Ferdinand. That insurrection was suppressed in Naples and Sicily. Some who had, like young Crispi, taken up arms for the insurgents escaped to France, but came to Fiedmont or Genoa when the era of con-stitutional liberty for Italians was opened by the administration of must be something expected to be d'Azeglio and confirmed by that of seriously damaging to Laurierism in Count Cayour. Crispi fought as a soldier for the liberty of Sicily and held an office in its provisional government till its annexation to the kingdom of Italy. Elected in 1861 to sit for Palermo, Crispi appeared in the first Italian parliament as the right-hand man of Garibaldi. The acquisition of Venice in 1866 and of Rome in 1870 satisfied the aspirations of Italian nationality and removed the grounds that divided Crispi and his wing from the majority of parliament. In 1876 Signor Crispi was elected president of the chamber of deputies, and in 1887 he was given the portfolio of minister of the interior by Premier Depretis. After the death of Depretis the cabinet was reconstructed with Crispi at its head. Signor Crispi held the premiership of Italy almost uninterruptedly from that time down to 1896, when the crushing defeat of the Italian army near Adowa, Abyssinia, hurled him from power. Through his long public career Crispi maintained a close friendship with England.

TORONTO'S LABOR PROBLEM.

Toronto householders are endeavor ng to meet the scarcity of domestic servants by calling in the aid of the Chinese, and already, according to the World, in several of the best homes in the city John Chinaman is to be found performing the duties of maid of all work. The girls in the capital of Canada's biggest province, prefer life in a factory or a store to entering domestic service, chiefly because it is a more independent life and one that While a woman's work in the house is never done, the factory or shop girl has her evenings to herself. The Hallfax Board of Trade has appointed a committee to treat with the railway and steamboat lines entering the city with a view to securing special rates for a weekly trade excursion into Halifax. A former proposal of this kind failed to secure the co-operation of the Intercolonial and Dominon Atlantic railways.

It is reported from Ottawa that Mr. Tarte has given to New York artists the work of decorating the new rooms in Rideau Hall designed for the recep tion of the Duke and Duchess of York. This is a growing time in Canada for American car and locomotive builders as well as decorators.

The Hamilton Spectator remarks: It's taking almost as long to figure out the census returns as it is to pay the men who made them.

According to the Halifax Chronic the I. C. R. has not yet paid expenses under Mr. Blair's management. D. A. R. VICE-PRESIDENT

Accompanied by Mr. Denny, General-Manager Gifkins and Secretary Campbell.

Arrived in the City Sunday on the Prince Rupert - An Interesing Interview With Mr. Ronald.

The Prince Rupert made a specia trip to Digby on Sunday to bring to the city T. R. Ronald, the vice-president of the Dominion Atlantic Railway Company, who has been accompanied in his usual tour of inspection of the company's fine system by his colleague on the board of the company, Archi bald Denny, P. Gifkins, general manager of the company, and R. L. Campbell, the Dominion Atlantic Company's secretary. A Sun representative had the opportunity of a pleasant with the vice-president, whose family, as is well known, has had intimate associations with New Brunswick in the past, his father having been in his day a well known shipbuilder in the Miranichi district. Several of Mr. Ronald's brothers and sisters are buries in the soil of our province, which nat-urally has for him an interest outside all questions of business association. Mr. Ronald is a splendid type of the cultured cosmopolitan, standing six feet high, and a comparatively young old Windsor and Annapolis Railway into the splendid trunk system of the Dominion Atlantic, with a fleet valued at two millions of dollars, rolling stock that can't be beaten in America, and a railroad which can be scarcely rivaled in the natural beauties of the counry through which it runs. Vice-president Ronald himself strongly on the necessity of additional facilities being supplied to his company in their treatment of the St. John business. Keeping in mind the very large sums of money spent by his company on this side of the Bay, he thought, to use his own words, that the city of St. John could afford to give his company's steamer "something more than half a wharf." This was said with the utmost geniality, but no doubt one of the objects of Mr. Ronald's visit to St. John has been to see for himself how and where difficulties have arisen in the development of a so much to business which represents the city of St. John. He had the less nesitation in saying what he did as he has a profound conviction in the future of St. John as one of the terminal

"And what have been the general results of your tour of inspection?" "Our line is not only handling an enormous amount of business." was the reply, "but it was never fitter to deal lent condition, rolling stock of a firstclass type, and steamers which, according to my co-director, Mr. Denny, are 'among the finest passenger steamwith our railway, with which I have been identified, from first to last, for thirty years. There is only one officer, only one employe of the company who beats me in my record, and that is our espected president, Fitch Kemp, who its development, associated with my-self, since the inception of the old Windsor and Annapolis railway.' "That must date back a long time?"

he interviewer remarked. "Yes," said the Dominion Atlantic spell of some thirty-three years. Our property has been built up into its present considerable success by the ard work of hard working men, among whom I am proud to myself and my colleagues. If we are wide-awake and know what successful railroading is and should be, it is the product of a vast experience and of many interesting experiments. But interests of the public, and the public have cheerfully and gratefully re-

"What are your views, Mr. Ronald, as to extended wharf accommodation for your company at St. John?"
"I would rather not say at the moment," said Mr. Ronald. "We are increasing our business to a great ex-tent and bringing a large amount of have improved facilities sooner or later is imperative. Otherwise this large business which we have developed and unt up inter its present proportion nampered unnecessarily. We wish only one thing, to do our best for the trade. It has been our experience, and it has en the experience of every properly managed trading corporation, that th more facilities given, and the better you, treat the public, the faster and more certain becomes the development and the greater is the beneficial reaction on every industry that may require your services. And in this respect I speak not only for myself and the important stockholders of the Do-minion Atlantic Company." ## ST. JOHN TO BENEFIT.

MONTREAL, Aug. 12.-Manager Rus sell of the Intercolonial was in town today. He said: "There is absolute he Intercolonial and the Canadian fic. There are now no friction ats between the two lines. I don't there is any road the Canadian Pacific officials have a better feeling or than the intercolonial. This good ling has been reached, too, with any disadvantage to the Intercolonial. LATE CANON KETCHUM. Impressive Funeral Service at St. Andrews Monday.

By the death of the late Rev. William Quintard Ketchum, D. D., which occurred at Sh Andrews on Saturday last, the Church of England in this province has lost the oldest of its elergy, both in point of age and also in the number of years spent in the ministry of the church. The universal respect of the community in which for so many years his lot was cast was clearly seen yesterday in the large and representative gathering of the citizens of St. Andrews present at the funeral ervice in All Saints church, and further manifested in the general tolling of church bells as the long procession wended its way to the place of internent, while flags were flown at halfmast from public and private buildings. The services at All Saitns church vere conducted by Archdeacon Neales and Canon Roberts. There were also present at the service Rev. W. O. Raynond, Rural Dean of St. John, representing the clergy of that city; Rev. O. S. Newnham of St. Stephen, Rev. W. H. Street of Campobello, Rev. F. Robertson of St. Stephen, Rev. J. W. Millidge of Oak Bay, and Rev. C. W. McWilliams of St. Andrews. The casket was borne by the visiting cler-gy. The hymns "For all Thy Saints who from their labors rest," "Now the laborer's task is o'er," and "On the Resurrection morning," were beautifully sung by the choir. The interment took place at the burial ground surrounding the beautiful little church at Chamcook. Here the casket was borne by the hands of members of the church corporation and the service of ommittal read by the Rev. Charles J. Ketchum, rector of the Church of Our Saviour, Middleboro, Mass., a son of the deceased. The remaining prayers were said by Archdeacon Sills of Portland, Maine. The choir of the little church sang the hymn "For ever with the Lord;" then all that was mortal of this old and faithful pastor was laid to rest beside the partner of his joys and sorrows, and the grave was covered with flowers. Rev. Canon Ketchum was one of the few who could claim the honor of being a son of a Loyalist, his father having come to the province in 1783, while but a very young man. He was born at Woodstock and educated at King's College, Fredericton (now the University of New Brunswick), Colimbia College, New York, -conferred oh him the degree of doctor of divinity about the year 1870. For twelve years after his ordination in 1846 he abored most acceptably at Fredericton. He was appointed to the parish of St. Andrews in March, 1859, by the lieutenant governor of the province, in whom the patronage at that time was vested. This was the last appointment made to a parish by the representative

For a period of forty years Canon Ketchum was the active and energetic secretary of the Diocesan Church Society, and all through his life he displayed the most lively interest in the

Samuel Andrews, a loyalist, pected president, Fitch Kemp, who was rector 32 years; his successor, Rev. or watched over our enterprise and Dr. Alley, was rector 40 years, and the Rev. The late Canon Ketchum was a man of scholarly attainments and enjoyed the intimate friendship of the late Bishop Medley, whose biographer he became. "Coffee and I had quite a tussle. City Wants Military Review-Decora tions and Illuminations—Expense no Object-Official Robes for

In the mayor's office on Monday afternoon a well attended meeting of the citizens and representatives from the several local societies was held to discuss preliminary arrangements for the reception of the Duke and Duchess of York. Among the societies whose delegates were present were the various Polymorphian clubs, Nep-tune Rowing Club, Irish Literary and Benevolent Society, St. Andrew's, St. George's, Tourist Association, Sons of England, L. The recep-tion, he said, would be to a large exent under the control of the provincial government, but as the visitors would be in our city, we should do all we could to express our gratification of their presence. Two things we had to do: decorate the streets and houses to the best of our ability and illuminate during the evening. The presentcoldiers would have its place and probably take up one afternoon. It to hold a reception one evening in the exhibition building. The great difficulty was the uncertainty regarding the time of arrival and departure and the length of stay. It was necessar: to get up a provisional programm bject to change. The day on which it was supposed the royal party would arrive was unsettled. The last word ed it Oct. 18, which came on a Friday. IN THE MARKET.

Owing to the danger to the crop from the prolonged drought and the scarcity due to the farmers being season of the year. They are selling in the market at from $2.75 to $3 per barrel, with the demand in excess of the supply at that price. The scarcity in the States is even more serious than here, and consequently home growers have already begun to ship with an additional stiffening effect upon the price. In Boston good potatoes are worth $5 per barrel, while smaller spe-cimens stand at $4.50. In New York the price ranges from $5.50 to $7.50. Potatoes are now arriving in the American market from Germany, which of late to a price even higher than their scarcity warranted, took a slight drop this week and are now selling at the wharf at about $4. Chicago, is the guest of Mrs. Josiah near Woodstock and the excitement Wood. Richard Tuttle and wife, of has entirely died out. The prompt Mount Pleasant, N. S., were in town measures of the board of health have earlier than usual, and rushed their goods forward, thus accounting for the drop. The supply of chickens and fowl is abundant, evceeding the merchants' capacity for disposal. They are worth the market. Refined oils have taken a drop all round. Oranges of all kinds are so scarce and the price so high, that the market in them will be practically closed for the next three or four weeks. The first early local squash of the season came down river on the steamer Springfield yesterday from the farm of W. H. Sterrit at Gray's Mills.

RETURNIN GTO ENGLAND. Rev. C. W. Townsend, late of Hillsboro, left for England yesterday, and will accept the pastorate of a church in his native land. Rev. Mr. Townsend has been eleven years in Canada, and during the past three years in Albert county, as pastor of the Hillsboro Baptist church. During his pastorate he has attained considerable prominence as a lecturer and preacher. The Messenger and Visitor says: "Mr. Townsend has the high regard of his brethren for his Christian character and fine powers as a preacher." closed his pastorate at Hillsboro last Sunday, preaching his farewell sermon to an overflowing congregation. His congregation presen handsome purse, and Mrs. Townsend with a handsome silver toilet set. Hon. H. R. Emmerson, in a letter, spoke of his departure as a loss to Canada.

It is noticeable that strangers find it difficult to locate the baggage master at the Summerside, P. E. Would it not be a good idea to have the officer in charge dressed in uniform as at all upsto-date

THE CANADIANS AT BISLEY CAMP.

A Highly Successful "At Home.'s

Lord Roberts Visits the Camp and Announces that He Cannot Visit Canada This Year

(Special cor. Ottawa Journal.) LONDON, July 14.-So far as Canadian results at Bisley are concerned you will have learned the facts by cable, consequently reference to them in a letter is unnecessary. In regard to the Kolapore Cup competition, however, I may say that it was watched with the keenest interest by the friends of the four competing teams. The Canadians present and many others representative eight from the dominion, but that was not to be, for the mother country team proved to be an exceptionally strong one. But the Canadians coming in second had consolation in the substantial fact that they won the £80 which is given by the National Rifle Association in this match. The conditions provide that when the mother country team carries dominated the mother country team carries dominated the state of the conditions provide that when the mother country team carries dominated the state of the conditions are carried to the canadian carried as guard of honor, and while waiting a guard of honor, and while waiting a guard of honor, and while waiting the canadian carried to the carried to the canadian carried to the carried to the canadian c off the cups the £80 in cash go to the colonial team which makes the next highest total; but when a colonial team wins the cup it secures the money to indulge in any demonstrations after to indulge in any demonstrations after the match, but with characteristic tional Rifle Association, Major Genton (who did not leave the ranges during the competition, although he had not completely recovered from a severe cold which he contracted on the Atlantic) called his men together and in a neat little speech asked them to was formally received by Colonel Tiljoin in giving three cheers for Major Brock and the successful mother country team, who had some of victors in try team, who had come off victors in an honorable contest. The response was worthy Canadian lungs. Major Brock acknowledged the compliment, proposed three cheers for the men from Canada, Jersey and Guernsey, and a special cheer afterwards for Colonel Tilton. The weather during the afternoon was "scorching," making movenoon was "scorching," making move-ments about the ranges a decidedly the building were visited, and Lord uncomfortable experience. A note-worthy fact of this competition was that the Canadians were first to finish each of the three ranges-200, 500 and markably slow.

THE "AT HOME." I have attended not a few commandant's "at homes" at the Canadian Camp, Bisley, but not one more successful than Colonel Tilton's. The attendance was not so large as usual, but that circumstance could easily be accounted for-the phenomenally tropical character of the weather, making the journey from London (twenty-five miles) the reverse of desirable. Colonel Tilton was assisted in receiving his guests by Mrs. Tilton, and Mrs. Henderson, wife of Captain Henderson,

The party then proceeded to a "tea" adjutant of the team, occupied a promadjutant of the team, occupied a prominent position at the reception, which took place in the Canadian "hut."

Lord Strathcona, accompanied by J. G. Colmer, was among the early arrivals. Among those I noticed in the "hut" and on the grounds were Hon. R. R. and Mrs. Dobell, Hon. G. W. Ross, premier of Ontario; Major General MacKinnon, Captain John Barlow and Capt. Simpson of the staff, well known to the officers of the First Canadian Contingent, who visited the captain proceeded to a "tea" at Sir Henry Fletchers' hut, Colonel but Ludgate station is a close rival, and Mrs. Tilton being included among the guests who were present. Before Lord Roberts' arrival in the Canadian camp, an ex-governor general of Canadian camp, an ex-governor general of Canadian at the very best shoeblack in London—a genius in his way, who, be the weather wet or dry, turns out a boot of glossy brightness with great admoitness. "BOBS" VISIT TO THE CANA-DIANS. With the exception of those members of the Canadian team who were participating in the final stage of the King's prize competition, all were paraded in full dress uniform on Saturday afternoon to await the arrival of Lord Roberts, who had intimated his intention to pay a visit to the Can-adian camp. The weather was intolerably hot, and only a few Canadians were present to witness the arrival of the distinguished soldier so popular throughout the British army. Several hundred boys from the Shaftesbury Homes, near Bisley, were drawn up in the vicinity of the Canadian camp as Shortly after four o'clock "Bobs" arrived in a carriage, accompanied by Lady Roberts and General Sir Redalso. He was anxious to visit Canada, but he regretted very much that he would be unable to do so this year, Following entries were made in Colonel Tilton's visitors' book, which, as stated in my last letter, "saw service," when Wimbledon in 1882: "Roberts, F. Lord Roberts was enthusiastically cheered wherever he went. The gallant soldier's popularity is universal alike in military and civilian ranks; and it is evident that Sir Redvers Buller also is a favorite. The fact of his appearing so frequently of late in company with Lord Roberts disposes of the unwarranted representations made in some quarters, to the effect that their professional and personal relations were "strained." So far as aptacles for himself for outlay upon that their professional and personal re-lations were "strained." So far as appearances go, these relations seem to be of the most friendly and most harmorious character.

LORD ROBERTS ON LESSONS OF THE WAR.

There was a large gathering of military men and of civilians in the um-brella tent when the commander-insiderable importance on the occasion.

For twenty years, he said, he had been constantly impressing upon all concerned the paramount of teaching soldiers to be expert in the use of their rifles. He had now to preach from the hand, and hands over I shilling to the soldiers by the said, he had hands over I shilling to the soldier. By this system he receives sixpence more than two-thirds of his daily earnings. Against his bank account is placed the cost of his polishes, blacking brushes, etc., handed out to him. Even with these same text more strongly than ever before. His recent experience in South Africa only tended to confirm his pre-viously expressed views, and induced progress of the South African cam-paign—(1) the absolute necessity of making the soldiers of the empire and of those who leave by far the larada, a country which had played a good shots, and (2), the equal necesprominent part in the campaign in South Africa, which all hoped was applay their individual intelligence. This second point of Lord Roberts was, it taking initiative, which he attributed to superior intelligence of the Amerito superior intelligence of the can soldier. "Tommy," as a rule, is man who from bootblacking mad ruse to electric engineering and was premerely a fighting machine under orpared, should occasion arise, to fit up pared, should occasion arise, to fit up and has to act independently, he man-ages to get over the difficulty much easier than "Tommy" under similar circumstances. Lord Roberts went on to say that IN FORMER DAYS

when men fought in close formation

fifty yards, the tendency of .nilitary to drill and to march together, mechanically, but in future all this be changed, for in future campaign troops will have to be in very extend-ed order. The war in South Africa, he continued, had brought about many changes in tactics, and had necessitated the employment of a much larger number of mounted men than vere formerly needed. Volley firing is now practically obsolete, except, perders of his officer; whereas if the Amhaps, to cover an attack or an advance at a very long distance, or perhaps when acting on the defensive inside some carefully entrenched position. In order to train Britsoldiers to be good shots at the lesser ranges of 200 and 150 yards, they must be taught to fire very rapidly, and to take most careful cover after each shot, in order not to be seen long enough to enable the enemy to take careful aim at them. It was in order to encourage shooting of this kind that he had given his prize this year. He sincerely trusted that the bought experience of the war int their consideration and would do all in their power to encourage rifle shooting. However brave men might be, however well drilled, well set up and well disciplined, and however well they might be able to ride, they must be expert in rifle-shooting. Lord Roberts' departure from the camp was made the occasion of another enthusiastic demonstration.

Naturally, there is great emulation in order to reach the regular posts, which are generally the most profitable, especially in perquis-ites. It is an open secret that Charing man must be brightly shod, and the red-coated lad appeals with almost certain success.

> France and Her Sea Drill-Russia and Austria Have Evolutionary Squadrons in Commission.

The British naval manoeuvres this year are to take place within an area that extends southward from the latitude of Edinburgh to the fortyseventh parallel. In this space is included the English Channel, the seas about it and part of the Bay of Biscay, the territorial waters of foreign littorals being, of course, excluded. The home land of Great Britain is, on the scheme, allotted to a power owning the "B" fleet, while Ireland the Scilly and the Channel Islands belong to another power possessing the "X" fleet. In the first case the ports of Portsmouth, Portland and Plymouth are supposed to be fortified and in a state of adequate defence; and in other, Queenstown, the Scillies and the harbors of Alderney and Guernsey, together with the vessels in those ports, are held to be proof against attack by vessels of any de-

This assumed state of affairs based upon what might probably and reasonably exist during a struggle for supremacy in the Mediterranean. If designated fortified ports be marked off on a map of the British Isles, and this map be held upside down, it will be seen that roughly the English Channel represents the Mediterranean and that the south coast of England becomes the south coast of France that the Channel Islands take the place of Malta, that the Scilly Islands represent Gibraltar, and that Queens becomes another British port. The object of each fleet is to obtain ommand of the English Channel and of the approaches to it and to the St. George's Channel, the ultimate aim of In addition to the two main fleets, four squadrons have been formed those designated as "C" and "D" being attached to the "B" fleet, and those distinguished as "Y" and "Z" to the "X" fleet. Flotillas of tugs, gun vessels and torpedo boats are, as additional defences, assigned to duty at the four principal ports, mainly for examination service, which is to be boys themselves. Roughly, they go on duty at 7.30 a. m. and return at 6 p.

The metropolis is divided into stations. One of the classes consists of second in command, on board the Magnificent. This fleet consists of the Channel squadron, and includes eight battle ships, thirteen cruisers gunboats and eight destroyers. Of its accessories squadron "Y" is made up of two cruisers, two gunboats, the Hecla, eight destroyers and four torpedo boats, and squadron "Z," of four Cross Railway station is the best cruisers, two gunboats, twelve de-G. In squadron "C" there are two cruisers, two gunboats and nine destroyers, and in "D" five cruisers, two gun-boats and fifteen destroyers. The fleets are about equal in numbers, but an examination of the separate ships shows that in fleet "B" are included older battle ships, to which no hypothetical ratings have been assigned. The mere enumeration of the ships is astounding, and shows, after all, the enormous superiority of Great Britain as a sea power. The manoeu-vres are certain to be instructive, because the arrangements are set down in admirable detail and the rules and regulations are simple. Apart from the solution of the general scheme, the fleets will have a chance to perform important strategical and tactical movements, and the opportunities for testing the cruisers and torpedo craft

Vice admiral Menard's "B" squadron was supposed to be the English Channel fleet seeking a junction with the Mediterranean forces designated as "C." The squadrons of Vice Admiral Caillard and Mallarme represented French intercepting and supporting ships. Vice Admial de Maigret was not able to defeat his two enemies before they joined, al-though it is decided that the advantage lay with him, because of the damage inflicted. An eminent French suthority declares, however, that the well known, and that they could not occur in the case of actual war. In view of the Sublime Porte's reported refusal to permit the visit of the Greek squadron of exercise to certain Turkish coasts, this distinction gives emphasis to the selfish aphorism that after all noth-ing succeeds like success. During its late war the Greek navy was most anxious to attack the Ottoman fleet, but political reasons kept it in a state of masterly but enraged inactivity.
This doubtless will not be dulled by

In the August Atlantic Brook Adams leclares that if the Americans are determined to reject reciprocity in all its forms and to insist on their advantages and to concede nothing to their adversary * * * they should recognize that they are provoking reprisals in every form, and should accept the situation with its limitations. To carry out an aggressive policy in some security the United States must have, ne believes, three hundred thousand trained men whom she can put in the field in twenty days, with an ample reserve of officers and of material. "She needs," he continues, "well fortified coasts and colonies, and an effective transport service. More especially she needs a navy. * * * Americans are disposed to assume that no coalition could ever be formed against them Judging by the past, nothing can be more certain than that coalition both can and will be formed against them.

* * * At the mere rumor of war one hundred thousand men would have to leave the country to garrison Cuba. Puerto Rico, the canal, the Philippines and Hawaii. But to send one hundred thousand men abroad would strip the Union bare. Even the ports would be defended by militia, and no reinforcements would be at hand to After a Most Successful Session of supply the waste in the tropics. Such garrisons could hardly stand against the overwhelming mass of troops that could be concentrated against them. "The navy," he concludes, "is even feebler in proportion to the task that would be required of it. The United States has 520,000 tons of war ships, built or building, France and Germany have 1,162,000 tons, and France, Russia and Germany have 1.731,000 tons." And yet there are misguided men in conress, and more misguided men out of it, that seriously but ignorantly believe we have gone too far in our military and naval establishments. Nothing, not even a sound beating by some continental coalition or a disgraceful but necessary crawfishing out of some international quarrel, will ever convince these experts, for they listen in fatuous complacency to the economic siren that sings of the ships and forts, can by some hocus-pocus of special magic improvise when danger is lifting the latch strings of our doors."

The number of men who took advantage of the cheap C. P. R. excursion on Saturday to secure work in the Northwest wheat farms far exceeded the number anticipated and taxed the resources of the C. P. R. to their utmost to handle them. In all 2,534 men left by that line for their western desination. Only about 1,000 had been expected, and to forward the increased number every car on this end of the C. P. R. was drawn upon, and in addition several had to be procured from the I. C. R.

All day long the railway station was crowded with laborers of all sorts, sizes and conditions, and the orderly and speedy way in which they were handled spoke highly for the efficiency of the officials on both roads. Early Saturday morning a party of about 300 from the Sydney district were sent forward in a special to Vanceboro to relieve the pressure here. Another excursion of the same kind will go forward on Saturday next, will go forward on saturday next, when about 600 more men are expected. The tickets cost $10, and to all who go steady employment is guaranteed up to December at a rate of wages varying from $35 to $60 per month. It will cost $18 to get home. The men all seemed satisfied with the outlook and were content to accept the terms for the sake of seeing the country if nothing else.

The "Square" was filled with music sweet, the streets with bright array;

The town folk stood upon their steps, the country folks, discreet,

With horses prancing to the tunes, drove up some other street.

I've heard full many bands since then, and paid to get a seat; I've heard them play their loudest airs and softly, sadly sweet, But never has my being thrilled with rapture more complete

Dairy Commissioner to Inspect Got Stations in Maritime Provinces - Only Complete Census Returns in Are from P. E. Island-Garrison Artillery Returns-No. 2 Co., Capt. Baxter, Second.

The minister of militia has returned to the capital, and taken up the work of organizing the military events to visit of the Duke of York. It is expected the programme will be completed before the end of next week. The intention is to have the arrange-ments published as soon as possible in order that the officers commanding the different corps which are to participate may be made acquainted with the deails in ample time to prepare for the reviews. When the statement is made officially, as it was today at the census bureau, that complete returns of the enumerations have been received from only one province, Prince Edward Island, it will be seen to what extent the recently published reports of a population are based on guess work rather than facts. Archibald Blue, special commissioner of the census, on being asked whether the newspaper statements were approximately correct, replied with an emphatic shake of the head. "It is all guess work," he said, "and is evidently far astray." This remark of Mr. Blue's covered also figures given to indicate stuffing of the census in 1891, namely, that 54 of the constituencies, including part of the city of Toronto, show an increase of only 18,000 in population, yet the number of families is larger by about 13,000 than the number reported in the last census. It has for some time been stated that what the census returns indicate is that 54 counties in Ontario show a decrease of 10,000 in population, but an increase of 13,000 families as compared with 1891.

Mr. Blue declined to express any opinion upon the correctness of this statement, but it is learned from other sources that it is upon this alleged showing that the semi-official accusation of census stuffing in 1891 are based, however, even such a deduction is open to question, and there should be no difficulty in testing the accuracy of the 1891 returns in this
