Again, it seems to breed infection, throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tuber cles may be suddenly deposited in the lauge or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional ase of a bottle of this Sarsapavilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Nursery Rhymes, No. 9.

A very lean pig, on a windy day, Stood alone by a garden gate; He couldn't get in. for the gate was locked, And sadly he moaned o'er his fate. Then he wiped his eyes with a curl of his tail, And gracefully stood on his ear, And a trembling tear coursed down his spine, Till his face turned the color of cusr.

His snoot grew flat, and gray were his locks, When a knot-hole round he espied; And he sat on the stiken folds of his paw. And peered through that loop-hole wide. He saw the sun in a golden beam. Glint its rays on a buoket of mash. And his poreine feelings walked upin his breast. And he went through that hole with a dash.

Then his optic fell on some CATTLE SPICE, As he glanced o'er the garden green; And he smacked his lips and distended hi With a relish uncommonly keen.

He loaded his skin till it cou'dn't hold more And his sides began to ex; and His face got cheeky; stont grew his limbs, Vid he left for his land. He reached the hole at the side of the gate
And jumped for that circular crack
When his febrile pulse felt a normal shock
And he fell on the broad of his back.

And the Coroner sat on the fat remains
Of that porker in his pride:
And this was the verdict the Jury gave;
