Anglo-American Relations.

Rioting in Paris—The Anti-Dreyfusites Angry.

Lord Byron the Niath Is a Bankrupt.

President Kruger Preparing for Trouble in the Transvaal-He Expects a Brush With the British.

London, April 26.-The Earl of Selborne, under secretary of state for the colonies, addressing a Conservative mass meeting this evening at St. Albans, Hertford, said he thought that if any justification of Lord Salisbury's policy were required, it was afforded by the present relations between the United States and Great Britain. "At a trying time," said his lordship, "the government preserved their self-control and waited for coolness, justice and common sense to reassert themselves.

Now the dark, miserable cloud which so long hung over the Anglo-Saxon peoples has drifted off. It is only a few days since British and American effectives and the same field exist her week. officers and men fell on the same field of conquest. They were not engaged in fratricidal strife, but were fighting shoulder to shoulder, and small though the incident was, it will be of importance in the history of the world. All must regret," continued Lord Selborne, "the lamentable cause of the incident; but the only three nations concerned were what he might term the 'three cousin nations of the world.'" He remarked that he had no doubt America and Germany in this matter would prove as amendable as Great Britain to the dictates of common sense.

LORD BYRON BANKRUPT. The first meeting of the creditors of Lord Byron (first cousin twice removed tween the German and the American of the sixth Lord Byron, the illustrious or English crews." poet, and ninth baron of the name). took place yesterday, and showed his liabilities to be £35,000 and his assets £50,000. A lawyer pleaded that his lordship should not be adjudicated a bankrupt as this would disqualify him from sitting in the House of Lords. The matter was adjourned.

RIOTING IN PARIS. The advocates and opponents of Dreyfus revision held rival meetings in Paris last evening, and fights oc-curred afterward in the streets. Several persons were injured.

The Figaro's publication of the evidence of Capt. Guignet before the court of cassation has thrown the anti-revisionists party into consternation. The Eclair and all the anti-Dreyfus papers are boiling with indignation, especi at the statement that the guilt of Dreyfus could be only inferentially established from the secret dossier. The Gaulois falls foul of the Figaro for its "infamous publication." Capt. Guignet's denunciation of Col du Paty de Clam as a forger is held to be a complete giving away of the case of the general

OVER THE VAAL.

There is renewed uneasiness over the situation in the Transvaal. President Kruger's chief of staff, Gen. Joubert, is inspecting the frontiers and selecting places suitable for entrenchments. More rigid inspection of the military has been ordered. Kruger evidently is expecting hostilities with England. The Dutchmen are uneasy over the result of the petition to Joseph Chamberlain, signed by 21,000 English residents of the Transvaal, and setting forth their grievances. The British army at Cape Town is being steadily augmented.

CZAR'S ASSAILANT DEAD. The death in prison is reported of the fanatic police officer who attempted to assassinate the present Emperor of Russia when he was traveling in Japan, prior to his accession to the throne. The would-be assassin inflicted an ugly sword-wound upon the head of Nicholas, who was only saved by the presence of mind of his cousin, Prince George of Greece, who felled the assailant with a terrific blow on the head with a stick. It is reported that the Corean emperor has leased three ports to a Russian whaling company. Two cabinet ministers have been banished through Lady Om, mistress of the emperor, because they opposed Russian demands. FIGHTING IN SAMOA.

Advices have been received from Apia, Samoan Islands, dated April 18, reporting that severe fighting has taken place between large bodies of friendly natives and the rebels. The casualties, it was thought, would not exceed twenty, and no Europeans were among the injured.

In the House of Commons the foreign secretary stated that Samoa in 1895 exported products representing £47,839, and imported £65,926. To Great Britain the exports were £5,400, and the imports therefrom £34,700; to the United States, exports £300, and imports, £16,800; Germany, exports £10,800, imports £10,600. The British subjects Samoa at the last census in 1895 were 459; Germans 20, and Americans

SUBSIDY FOR THE CABLE. The London Times announces that the British Government has decided to contribute an annual subsidy to the full amount recommended in the report of the Pacific cable committee of 1896 for the construction of a Pacific cable from British Columbia to Australia. PROSPECTIVE COMPETITION. Mr. John Barrett, formerly United States minister to Siam, spoke yesterday before the colonial party of the House of Commons on the relations of America in the Philippine Islands and the British colonies in the far east, showing the effect of the American possession of the Philippines to be mutually advantageous to the United States Great Britain and the far east, although Americans could be depended upon to compete keenly with Great Britain and Germany, making Manila a base of competition. THE CAPTAIN'S REPORT.

Berlin, April 27.-With the view of rectifying the reports of discord said to exist between the three naval com-manders at Samoa, the Norde Deutsche Zeitung publishes extracts from the reports of the commander of the German warship Falke. Capt. Schoenfelder says: "The wildest rumors are current concerning the relations between the officers and crew of the Falke and the Americans and English. The reports are due to some of our countrymen, who do not tire of creating ill-feeling between the officers and men of the three countries by promoting such ru-mors. New York, April 27.-Under a Manila date, The Evening Journal prints the following: "The revolt of the Filipinos against the authority of the United States appears to be on the eve of collapse. Aguinaldo, according to a representative of the Filipino commission here, is now conferring with the cabinet concerning peace overtures. The next advance of the American troops will bring about absolute surrender of the rebel forces. A feeling of hopelessness is spreading throughout the insurgent army, and many of Aguinaldo and Lunas' officers are returning to work in Manila.'

According to a special dispatch from Shanghai, it is reported that Aguinal-do's agents in Japan has issued a strong appeal for Japanese aid and sympathy, and are urging Japan to a friendly intervention with the United States.

AGUINALDO COUNSELS ECONOMY Aguinaldo issued a circular to the rebel commanders, telling them to instruct their men to economize their fire, save the empty shells, and not to fire at the enemy when the latter is under cover. Conferring the Degree of D. D. on . Worthy Man-Appointed a Professor.

Kingston, April 26 .- Rev. Dr. W. G. Jordan, of Strathroy, has been ap-pointed assistant and successor to Rev. Prof. Mowat, professor of Orientals and Old Testament exegesis at Queen's, subject to the approval of the General Assembly.

In presenting Rev. W. G. Jordan, of Strathroy, for the degree of D.D., Rev. Dr. Milligan, Toronto, gave an interesting account of the brilliant scholastic career of the reverend gentleman in the face of many difficulties. He was born in Whitby, Yorkshire, England, and after attending the national school was obliged at an early age to go into business. At nineteen he turned to the religious life, and for ten years engaged in religious work in various English towns. During this period he passed examinations in the subject prescribed for four successive years, coming out at the head of the lists. He graduated from the London University, taking a first-class in the final B.A. degree. After mature consideration through years of experience and study, he resolved to join the Presbyterian Church in England. He pursued for two years previous to entering the Presbyterian Church theological studies at Bradford, England, under Professors Duff and Shearer. Then he took two years' further study in the Presbyterian Theological College, London, of which Dr. Oswald Dykes is principal. His career here was also brilliant. Some nine years ago his inclinations took Mr. Jordan to Canada. Through the kindness of Prof. Dykes, he brought, and is the only one so far who has brought, a colonial commisison from the English Presbyterian Church of England to Canada. Soon after coming to this country he was settled at Strathroy, Ontario, where he still ministers to people who have learned to appreciate his superior qualities. Rev. Dr. Milligan spoke in appreciative terms of Mr. Jordan's rare scholarship, his fine spirit and his sagacious judgment, and of his great services to the church in Western Ontario. Rev. Mr. Jordan made a becoming response, his modest and unassuming manner impressing his hearers most favorably. He did not believe the facts cited by Mr. Milligan were the grounds for conferring this honor upon him; they were simply in justification of it. During a career somewhat varied and always practical he had striven to be a true scholar. The work of the minister was narrower than it used to be, but the clergy might still help men to retain the sense that the great soul of the world is just, and that there is a deep, divine meaning to human life.

TALKING ABOUT

The Incorporation of Benevolent Societies Made Easier-Insurance Companies Reserve Fund-The Oil Duty

Ottawa, April 27.-In the house yesterday, a question by Mr. McAlister (Restigouche) afforded the minister of appeared in various newspapers recently of the alleged exodus of large num-bers of Canadians to the United States. Mr. Sifton said that the information in the possession of the government is that there is no foundation for the reports. On the other hand, the government has definite information that thousands of Canadians who had gone to the United States in past years came back to reside in Canada last year, izing all the inflamed and diseased and thousands more intend coming back this summer.

The minister of finance introduced two government measures, one to simplify the process of incorporation of benevolent societies, and the other lowering the rate of interest in calculations made in connection with the reserve fund of insurance companies from 4½ to 3½ per cent. This rate is intended to apply to new business after Jan. 1, next, and will not affect existing business until a period of some seven years has elapsed. In relation to the power of investment of various companies, that matter has been dealt with by separate bills, and the power of investment varies with different

BENEVOLENT SOCIETIES. The finance minister also intro-duced a bill, entitled, "an act respect-British Columbia. ing the incorporation of benevolent societies." Benevolent societies, incorporated under the laws of the several provinces, frequently came to parliament, he explained, for Dominion legislation, and the question of the powers which should be given them had been a vexed one. Last year the promoters of one bill accepted the standard of safety fixed by the authorities of the finance department, and the bill passed. Another bill, with a less standard of safety, after passing the commons, was thrown out in the upper house. It was therefore proto take the provisions of the act incorporating the Ancient Order of Foresters as the proper standard of safety, and other companies hav-

THE "EXODUS." Mr. McAllister inquired if the attention of the government had been drawn to several dispatches in the St. John Sun from places in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia noting the departure of scores of people for the United States.

In reply, Mr. Sifton made a speech, in which he said the telegrams appeared to him to be manufactured for political rather than news purposes. But he read an extract from the To-ronto Mail and Empire, in which the statement was made that "Canadians are not now going in any numbers to the United States."

THE TOBACCO DUTIES. Mr. Cowan (Lib., Essex) quoted a paragraph from a newspaper, stating that the government had given the Tobacco Association of Essex to understand that no change would be made in the tobacco duties or regulations during the present year. Mr. Fielding said no such announcement could be made before the budget. YUKON SURVEYS. Col. Hughes asked about the survey by Messrs. Dibble and Dupont from Edmonton towards the Yukon last summer, and especially if the government was "aware that one or both of the gentlemen named was lost for some weeks." Mr. Sifton replied that Mr. Dibble was to commence operations near the mouth of the Parsnip and Omeneca ambassador there was every disposition to deal as lightly with the matter as possible. COAL OIL DUTIES.

Mr. Moore (Conservative, Stanstead) moved the following resolution: "That in the opinion of this house, it would be in the interest of the farming and laboring classes, and the country generally, to reduce the duty upon coal oil for illuminating and manufacturing purposes. That it would also be in the interest of the consumers of coal oil, for lighting or manufacturing purposes, to permit its storage in tanks and its distribution therefrom, and also from tank cars, in tank wagons or other suitable vehicles, to dealers and consumers, thus saving to the latter the cost of barrels and cooperage, and to take such means as may be deemed necessary to protect the Canadian peonetics. necessary to protect the Canadian peo-ple from the evil effects of trusts, ple from the evil effects of trusts, combines and monopolies upon this important industry." Speaking to his motion, the mover said both parties had given greater protection to coal oil than consideration to the interests of the consumer justified. Oil, he said, which sold in the United States for 10 cents, and 25 cents in Canada. By allowing the interior an opportunity to give a cost 25 cents in Canada. By allowing denial to the statements which have distribution in tank wagons the cost would be reduced about 3 cents a gal-lon, while if the privilege were allowed to dealers in Canadian oil, only the duty could be reduced. He quoted figures to show that the duty was most

Mr. Beattie, who moved the adjourn ment of the debate, contradicted the assertions of Mr. Moore.

Messrs, Rogers (Patron), Oliver and Richardson supported the resolution. The finance minister supported the motion for adjournment of the debate, and the minister of inland revenue pointed out the objections, from the consumers' standpoint, of the tank wagon distribution.

Mr. Clancy criticised the regulations, and pointed to the fact that the reduc-tion in the duty had not reduced the

Mr. Clarke Wallace contended that by controlling the refineries, the Standard Oil people controlled the output of coal oil, and for this he blamed the government. While the price of crude oil had fallen from $1.40 to $1.15 per barrel, the price of refined oil had increased.

After further discussion the motion to adjourn the debate carried.

Mr. McInnis moved the second reading of his bill to amend the Natural-ization Act, the purpose of which is to make it more difficult for Chinese and Japanese to become naturalized,

The objection being raised that the proposed amendment would render the naturalization laws too complex, the bill was temporarily shelved by ad-journment of the debate, on motion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Mr. Britton's bill, "respecting certain works constructed over navigable waters," was read a third time and

IN THE SENATE.

In the senate, Messrs. Perley and Boulton spoke of the reports of the large exodus from the Maritime Provinces to the U. 'ted States, the former attacking the class of European immigrants brought into the country.

Senator Mills said he was not surprised at the two speeches on this subject, though they were the last that might be expected from two senators from the Northwest. Both speeches unworthy of the senators who had delivered them. He wanted to know what right either of the senators had to traduce the immigrants from Europe. The new settlers brought out by the government had been members of the Roman Catholic Church for over a thousand years, and yet they were characterized as barbarians. He would like to know how the government was going to keep the people of the Maritime Provinces in Canada who wished to leave. Did they want the government to issue grants to detain them? Both Senators Perley and Boulton, he feared, were actuated more by political motives than from any desire for the public welfare.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell moved the adjournment of the house, and congratulated Senators Perley and Boulton on having aroused the ire of the minister of justice. The minister often spoke at random, and he had done so in his deference to immigration. There had been a wonderful change in Mr. Mills' opinion since the days when he declared that the National Policy was driving the people out of the country. He quoted from returns to show that Mr. Mills' statement regarding the increase in immigration during the last three years was not fair. Senator Mills said that Sir Mackenzie's quotation did not justify his strictures on the government. They did not show the number of people who had crossed the border, while the census returns had shown that during the regime of the late government there were 100,000 less people in the country than the minister of agriculture at that time had claimed there were. He alluded to the great increase in the population in British Columbia during the past three years. Then there was the Klondike, in which there was a city with a population of 30,000, that had sprung into ex-Istence within the past two years.

The Binder Twine Contract. Our contemporary, the London Free Press, in its issue of Friday last, devoted a column and a half to the discussion of the alleged sins of the Dominion Government in dealing with the binder twine contract. It is important to consider whether the Free Press has not been much more anxious to misrepresent the Government than it has been to protect the interest of the farmer. When the question was discussed in the Senate the other day, Hon. Mr. Mills did say that when the Government undertook to sell in small lots, the sales had not been satisfactory, and the practice had been abandoned before there was a change of Government. Mr. Mills did not say, as the Free Press represents him as saying, that the sales had not been made to the highest bidder for cash. On the contrary, what he said was the very opposite—that the Government had advertised for tenders, and that the sale had been made to the highest bidder, and for cash. It is true that Sir Mackenzie Bowell objected to this, as he said the manufactory had been established in the penitentiary for the purpose of furnishing twine at a low figure to the farmer; but Sir Mackenzie Bowell was for many years a Minister of the Crown, and for a time Prime Minister, and at no time during the existence of the Governments of which Sir Mackenzie was a member was there any restriction put upon the purchaser. When the Government sold the twine as best it could for cash, the purchaser made the most of his opportunity in the market with the twine so purchased, as well as with the twine bought from manufacturers in private establishments, and Sir Mackenzie Bowell was unable to show, and did not show, that attempts were made to prevent combines from unduly enhancing the price when he was a Minister of the

The truth is that the Government went into the manufacturing of twine for the purpose of giving employment to convicts, and to diminish the cost to the public of maintaining them; and the vital question is not whether the price of twine has been kept down below a fair market value, but whether it is being manufactured at a loss in the prison institutions, so that the public have a larger sum to pay for the maintenance of convicts in consequence.

Our contemporary has for many years advocated a high protective tariff. It has defended the system of watering stock upon which large dividends have been paid, but when it comes to binder twine it declares that this product nurchased at less than cost, and if its view were to be carried out those engaged in the manufacture outside of the penal institutions would be forced into bankruptcy. Supposing the government had sold the twine at less than half its value, and that it had bargained, or attempted to bargain, with the purchaser that it was to be retailed at a fixed price-what advantage would this have been to the man who did not purchase penitentiarymade twine? For it must be remembered that but a very small portion of the binder twine consumed in Canada is manufactured at the prison estab-

The government has taken off the duty. There is a free importation of the article into the Canadian market. Anybody may buy either within or without Canada what he chooses, and may freely import it, and this is the best assurance that a farmer can have, that his supply of binder twine can be purchased at a fair figure. All that the Free Press has said upon the subject as simply nonsense. It is an attempt to mislead, and it has not the merit of even being skillful.

American Trade Fallacies.

The American trade returns show the exports in the United States in 1898 to have been $1,210,291,913 and the imports $616,049,654. The exports of Great Britain last year, in round figures, were $1,470,000,000. The United an occasion. States is rapidly overhauling Great Britain and will soon be the greatest exporting country in the world-a position she is bound to keep by reason of her enormous area and the extent and variety of her resources. The United States is developing her manufacturing export trade, but in this line is still a long way behind Great Britain. Agricultural products formed 71 per cent of the American exports last year, while British exports are almost entirely manufactured goods.

It is amusing to note the chuckling of American papers and politicians of narrow protectionist view over what they call the "favorable balance of trade." The excess of exports over imports last year reached the sum of $594,242,259. This balance was greater than ever before, owing to the increase of exports and the simultaneous decrease of imports. The growth of exports is a matter for congratulation, but to point to the falling off in imports as an equal benefit shows an ignorance of the first principles of international commerce. Europe, which takes most of the American exports, cannot pay for American goods except by selling European goods in return. No country can buy goods and pay with cash-it would go bankrupt. A nation can only purchase commodities with the products of its own labor. Let us see how this law applies to the United States. That country sold last year $594,242,259 more than it bought, consequently foreign countries, it is claimed, owed that sum to count and should have paid it in as her rivals try to make out gold. "Favorable balance of trade"

sophists pictured this torrent of cash pouring into the pockets of the American people. But did it? Certainly not. Europe would have been thrown into a panic if that much gold were demanded of her. A large part of it went to cancel American debts in Europe. In addition much of the American exports represented the interest on British and other foreign capital invested in the United States, and the profits made by the British shipowners in carrying American goods on the high seas. As a result the United States drew only a comparatively small amount of gold from Europe in settlement of last year's exchange. The United States bids fair to pay off all her debts in Europe in a few years, and then American imports will begin to soar upward. A dozen Dingley Bills will not be able to prevent it. If Europe continues to buy American goods in the present enormous quantities, the United States will have to take goods in return or suffer the penalty. She cannot get the cash without paralyzing the European money markets, and in that event surplus American goods would go begging. The truth of this is so obvious that one can only marvel at the asininity of certain politicians who predict that the time will come when the United States will not need to import anything from the outside world.

Snap for John Bull.

The British people have good reasons for thanking Germany, France and Belgium for cheap sugar. The secretary of the British Confectionery Association reports that between 1881 and 1891 the number of persons engaged in making confectionery in Great Britain increased from 29,588 to 55,080. During fourteen years of sugar bountles from 1884 to 1898, the capital invested in this industry increased from £3,000,000 to £8,000,000, and the output from £6,000,000 to £14,000,000. Germany, France and Belgium, by paying export bounties on sugar have helped to build up the confectionery business of Great Britain to these great proportions, besides giving sugar to every Britisher at a lower price than even the Frenchman, the German or the Belgian has to pay at home. It is not strange that the British Government, with enlightened selfishness, has all along refused to listen to the clamor for a duty against bounty-fed sugar. The abolition of the bounties would benefit the sugarproducing colonies of the West Indies, which have been sorely hit, but it would be a loss to the mother country. John Bull would then have to pay full price for his sugar. Now his neighbors pay part of it for him. And the neighbors are just beginning to suspect that John has the best of the deal, whereas John has known it all

British exports in the nrst three months of this year were $391,473,405, an increase of nearly $30,000,000 compared with the corresponding period in 1898. Identification of the Body-A Clue That May Indicate Who Is the Murderer -A Startling Plea.

Harriston, April 27 .- The man whose body was found near here on Saturnight has been identified, and that the case is one of murder is now apparent. The cap found near the body and the shoes on deceased's feet have been identified as those worn by Aaron Noble, who hired on Nov. 4 last year to work for A. Darroch, in Minto-township. Noble remained at Darroch's only until Nov. 8, when he left before breakfast without his wages. At the time he wore a brown suit of clothes, and carried a satche. The latter is missing and the high con-stable, who is investigating, is certain the man has been murdered, and the clothes taken from the corpse and the duck pants and coat put on in their place. When Noble left Dar-roch's he had $60 in his pockets. From When Noble left Daran examination of the body, the con-stable believes the throat has been cut, as well as one ear. The body was buried yesterday morning.

A CLUE. Another mystery in connection with the murder case here was the discovery yesterday afternoon of a new suit of worsted clothes, socks, braces, paper collar, mitts, black cotton gloves, black necktie, new white shirt, with brass collar-buttons and a well-worn overcoat, in the pockets of which were a red and white spotted pockethandkerchief, and a copy of the Buffalo Express of the date of Nov. 21, 1898. These things were all wrapped up carefully in the overcoat and hidden among the bushes at the roots of a cluster of cedar trees, about 50 feet from where the body lay. High Constable Merewether says these clothes do not belong to the dead man, but that they are of value as a clue to the murder, which he believes was committed about the time of the date of the paper found on the overcoat pocket. The worsted coat has a tiger worked in yellow silk below the braid on the inside of the collar.

ASKS NO MERCY. Canton, Ohio, April 27.—Attorney Welty occupied the morning in his closing speech in defense of Mrs. George, accused of the murder of Geo. D. Saxon. He said to the jury that if they found the accused guilty of murder in the first degree, they should not recommend her to mercy, substi-tuting imprisement for life for the death penalty. "For her sake, and for my sake," he said, "do not recommend mercy. We do not ask it. We do not want it." Reviewing the evidence, Attorney Welty called attention to the fact that it was all purely circumstantial and clouded with doubt in important essentials. TO BE HANGED.

Kamloops, B. C., April 27.-At the spring assizes here, Mr. Justice Irving presiding, the only case ready was that of Casimir, the Indian, charged with murdering Philip Walker, on April 15th. A large amount of evidence was taken, and the jury, after being out twelve minutes, returned & verdict of guilty. The judge immediately sentenced Casimir to be hanged on Friday, June 2.

The horse died of hydrophobia, says Dr. Stinton; one cow died and another recovered. Several dogs have been shot on suspicion, but none of these permitted to survive have developed symptoms. The M. H. O. wants to know whether there is power to kill suspected animals still at large.

Dr. Bryce states that though the law does not cover the case specifically, health officers are permitted to take action in the interests of public health. He has therefore ordered the execution of the dogs. The maximum time for the incubation of rabies is 40 days, and this may account the past good health of the animals.

Archbishop Gauthier's Narrow Escape at Kingston.

Kingston, Ont., April 27.-Excellent horsemanship on the part of Patrick Fannon, Archbishop Gauthier's coachman, averted what might have been a serious runaway accident at 5:30 yesterday afternoon. His grace, accompanied by his secretary, Father Meagher, and Senator Sullivan, were returning from Queen's convocation, and when standing at the senator's residence the horses took fright at the electric cars. They pranced about until whipped into quietness by the coachman, but not before the pole of the carriage was broken, when the archbishop and Father Meagher left the vehicle. Had not Fannon, who is an ex-driver of "A" Battery, been exceedingly cool-headed, the spirited team would have been off with its oc-

RATS CHEWED HER FACE. Quebec, April 22.-Quite a sensation was caused recently by the announce-ment that a lady of advanced years, living on the Cape, Mrs. Thompson, had been attacked during the night, and seriously injured. Her face was cut, and she had received a severe nervous shock. As no entrance of in-truders could be found in the house, the problem, though considered by the police for some time, was unsolved. A day or two ago the experience was repeated. Mrs. Thompson was awakened, and her cries brought assistance just as several enormous rats were making their escape. The lady's face had several wounds, which subsequently became much inflamed.

According to dispatches from Vienna, liquid air, when mixed with silicious occurrence took place six weeks ago, marl and ignited by electric spark, exploded with twenty times the effect of dynamite, and when used in cannon no heat was developed, and the range of the projectile was considerably increas-

Prof. Tripler said he believed the report from Vienna erred in stating that the liquid air was mixed with marl. "In all probability," said Prof. Trip-ler, "some compustible substances, as charcoal or hydro-carbon, such as turpentine or kerosene, was probably mixed with the liquid air. Silicious marl may have been used to retard the explosion, but that would be its only office. I do not think that the Viennese experts are justified in declaring that the range of prejudice wil be increased by the use of the compound in place of gunpowder."

Prof. Tripler said that although the liquid air, when mixed with a combustible substance and ignited, is a highly explosive, it is not dangerous to handle. Concussion will not set it off, and therefore it can be poured into a gun to form the charge, or placed in the projectile, and shooting the gun without 59 bishops are now on the way. danger. It is explosive only when ignited by a spark. Prof. Tripler said that it would also have the advantage over powder of enabling a gun to be fired with great rapidity without heating the metal.

His untimely death will be mourned by a host of friends. Several years ago Mr. Thornton met with an accident in Detroit, where he was employed, and he never regained his health. METHODIST DEBTS.

The Methodists of Canada expect to raise $1,000,000 as a twentieth century fund, and it is proposed to expend a portion of this amount in assisting churches which are financially weak. Some statistics relating to church debts have recenly been gathered, and from these it is learned that 437 congregations are free from debt, 305 have depts of less than $500 and 406 have debts of over $500. Of the latter several are very heavily encumbered, and this fact has often been referred to when the question had been before the general conference. These congregations will be greatly benefited by the distri-26TH BATTALION BAND.

The Twenty-sixth Battalion has secured the services of Mr. W. J. Judges, rolled 24 of the best musicians in the city as bandsmen. Bandmaster Judges Royal Canadian Dragoons at Winnipeg, and was there regarded as one of the best trumpeters in the Dominion. It is the intention of the officers of the Twenty-sixth to make their band one that the citizens of London and county of Middlesex may well feel proud of, and judging from the material which comprises the band, it is safe to say they will succeed. LONDON OIL MEN.

In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Thomas Beattie denied the statement that the oil wells of Canada are in the hands of the Standard Oil Company, and asserted that there is not a single well in the Petrolea district that is not controlled by Canadians. The Standard Company has acquired property and intends sinking wells. The company which controls the refineries in Canada is the Imperial Oil Company, of which the following, all of whom are Canadians, are directors: Messrs. Fitzgerald, Smallman, Englehart, Minhinnick, Thomas Hodgens, M.P.P., (East Middlesex), Mills, Geary, Isaac Waterman, W. M. Spencer, Wm. Duffield. The Standard Oil Company, it was true, has an interest in the Imperial Oil Company, but all the old members of that company retain their interests.

AMONG THE PROPHETS. A. L. Richardson, of Hamilton, drift-ed into town yesterday with a view of making arrangements with the direc-tors of the local club for the position of manager. He did not know that Mr. Popkay had come to terms and that the position was filled. Speaking of the various teams in the Canadian League, being a Hamilton man, he thought that the Ambitious City team had a cinch on the pennant. He says their team work is excellent, and the individual playing cannot be surpassed. "There'll be some fast company for Stratford," said the genial Richardson, "and it will be necessary to put a strong aggregation in the field to beet them in the field to beat them in the race. London, too, has a cracker-jack team, and in fact all the other clubs in the league give promise of putting up fast ball."-Stratford Beacon.

PHILOSOPHERS. The Guelph Herald is sending up a mournful howl about being shut out from having any games in that city on May 24. Stratford is in the same box, but they take the matter philosophically because they know that it will pay them better to play out of town on that day, as older towns in the game are likelier to draw bigger crowds, and in this way the receipts coming our way will be larger. Stratford will have no league games on either May 24 or July 1.-Stratford

If necessary to prevent such vandalism, a reward should be offered for the apprehension of the culprits. The offense is a serious one, and the law imposes heavy penalties.

THE CONQUERING HERO. Champion John L. Scholes will be royally received tomorrow night, when he arrives in Toronto from New York. He will be met at the station by the mayor and representatives of the citizens' committee, and will be escorted to the Massey Music Hall, where a concert in his honor will be given under the auspices of the Athenaeum Club by the Q. Monsieur Broussea, of St. Isadore, Thinks of Moving Out of His Home.

Montreal, April 27.-There is a haunted house in St. Isadore, La-prairie county, a few miles from Mon-There, strange sounds, which seem like a man tramping around the house, the floor creaking beneath the heavy tread, followed by violent knocks, have been heard time and again at the residence of Frederick Brosseau, a well-to-do farmer of the place, who has a wife and nine children. Madame Brosseau was alone when she first heard the noise, but since then the entire family have been almost frightened out of their wits by these unnatural sounds. Rev. Cure Blanchard was called in, and he as-perged the different rooms, but still the noises are repeated, and Mr. Brosseau talks of moving out.

TOOK POISON.

Detroit, April 27.-Mrs. Wm. A. Kendall, young daughter and son, came from Chicago last Monday to visit her sister, at 267 Fort street east. The sister had a bottle of carbolic acid in a cupboard, for disinfecting purposes. The cupboard is not very high, and though it was supposedly securely closed, the 17-months-old son of Mrs. Kendall climbed upon a chair and gained access to the deadly poison, swallowing enough of it to produce death within three hours and a half. After investigating the circumstances the coroner decided that it was an accident and that no inquest was necessary. Mrs. Kendall's husband is mate on a boat out of Chicago.

An American Opinion of Canadians-Enthusing Over Scholes' Reception.

E. C. McBride, writing to the Buffalo Enquirer, says:

"Canada and Canadians are not un-derstood in this country, especially in cities further inland. Often one will hear nick-names given to certain men as Dagoes, Spaniards, etc., in tones meant to convey disrespect and many times it occurs that the word Canuck is also sprung on some well-known man, showing that he originally came from Canada. Now there is not one out of every fifty men, yea, I will venture to say one out of every 500 men, who knows how the name Canuck originated, but that has no place here. At least two of our city aldermen are Canadian born and many of our best officials and business men in this city originally called Canada home. In fact, it is said that Gen. MacArthur, who has made such a remarkably gal-lant fight and record in the Philippines, was born in Canada, and not so many miles from Buffalo either.

"This column is not intended as a political school, but 1 started out to show that although Canadians are thought to be bigoted and great admirers of blue laws, which have been ridiculed by Yankees, still they are much more liberal than the citizens of this city or of this country. A young man ramed Scholes' a few weeks ago left Toronto and with a young pro-fessional pugilist named Gallagher he took steerage passage on an ocean steamship, and landing in England competed in the amateur champion-ships of the world in two classes, and, what is more, he won out.

"He landed yesterday on his home trip in New York city, where he was met by a delegation of Toronto citizens. When he gets back to his native city he will be given a reception in a big hell there attended by the best scoundrel placed a lath, closely set with three-inch wire nails, across the bicycle path on the Hamilton road, in welcome that will put in the great ovation tendered Ned Hanlon, the famous oarsman, a few years ago, when that Torontonian returned from England, having defeated all of UNDISCOVERED REGIONS IN ASIA. Writing for the Youth's Companion of unseized "Opportunities for Young Explorers," Sir Clements Markham says: "In Asia there are unexplored tracts in various directions. In spite of recent journeys in Oman and in the Hadramut, there is still an unknown region in Arabia upward of 400 miles square; and there is also much yet to be done in Asia Minor.

"In Persia, parts of Luristan and the country of the Persian Kurd still re-main unexplored. Farther east Dr. Sven Hedin, extensive as his travels have been, has left a great deal of work for the future explorer. There are the passes from Tibet into Nepal, much unknown country in Southwestern Tibet, the mighty range which bounds the Tsanpu Valley on the north, and extensive tracts of the northern plateau; while Lhasa, the capital, has never been visited since the days of Huc and Gabet, who were there upward of 50 years ago.

"The great River Tsanpu, from latitude 94 degrees and ten seconds east to its entrance into the Valley of Assam, under the name of Dihong, is wholly unknown. "The whole region of complicated

It was a homely scene, truly. Nevertheless, that center figure, with her girlish, yet sweet, handsome countenance, made it as Paradise to the be-holder. Still, it was a strange place from which the only son of the Hon. Merton Gower to select a wife.

The contrast between Gwyn's surroundings, and the elegant, brilliantlylighted drawing-room of Steinwood, which Rowland entered half an hour later, was great; but the lover's sole thought was how, after a year or two's education, Gwyn Rebna would adorn it. "Where is Marian?" he asked Lil, who was playing chess with her brother. "On the terrace, I believe, admiring the storm-clouds," she replied. "She is wise respecting the elements, and predicts a tempest before morning, Mr. Gower. Check! Jack!"

Rowland, opening a window, stepped on to the terrace. He closed it quickly, for the fierce wind that rushed in sent music, prints and antimacassars flying. A few paces off he saw his cousin leaning on the balustrade. Watching the coming storm, Mar-

'Thanks, yes. Are you going?" "Yes. Sometimes one is company when two are not," retorted Marian, passing into the drawing-room. "Whatever has put her out?" queried Rowland Gower, making no attempt to follow."What strange creatures women are!" he added, contemplating the magnificent storm-clouds piling higher and higher in the west, and listening to the increased roar of the waves.

There will be a tempest, truly, and that before many hours are over.' He was correct. A tempest of the elements and a human tempest of passion-both were destined to break soon.

CHAPTER III.

The storm predicted by Marian and every fisher in St. Trevick burst with violence about midnight. Under the fierce wind the trees round Steinwood, though years seasoned, groaned and bent like willow wands; while out at sea, beneath the black canopy of night, the waves rushed upward with an awful sound, then, giving a shake to their foamy crests, fell with a crash upon the shore. All at St. Trevick were aroused from sleep. Two or three of the fishers, dressed, came forth to watch the fearful storm from under the shelof the cliffs.

ong them were Daniel Rebna and his laughter. A shawl thrown over her hes she crouched in the hollow of a he fisher, whose keen eyes were bent ward.

"Who could sleep on such a night, George Sanders?" she answered. "As we passed Ruffton's cottage, we heard even the children crying for fear. Didn't we, father?"

'We did, lass. If this last, we'll be having the young gentleman from Steinwood down. It's against human nature to keep a-bed in a storm like

"Heaven send none!" At the mention of "the young gentleman from Steinwood," Gwyn had drawn back, nervous, perhaps, that even the dark night could not conceal the color on her cheeks. But in a second she had resumed her former position. Doing so, she caught her father's hand, and she cried:

"Father, for mercy, look yonder-just by the St. Trevick reefs." What, Gwyn?" asked the old man, peering round. "What did thee think thee saw, lass?" "A ship, father. That is, a large, black bulk. What can it be but a ship? Unless my eyes deceived me; but I'm Gwyn stopped, with a startled cry, for the sudden shooting aloft into the darkness of a rocket only too plainly told her eyes had been correct. The blue sepulchral light revealed a handsome vessel rushing under bare poles to inevitable destruction.

"Not at all, perhaps, father," remarked Gwyn, giving George Sanders a glance, which he held as sweet reward. "If we can save even one, we shall be repaid for our trouble." All now was excitement, commotion.

The men ran to and fro, making every preparation they could command for rescue, while the women prepared large fires and beds for any who might be saved. They did not, these humble, earnest.

Christian-hearted people, stay to inquire the nationality of the ship-whether friend or foe; sufficient, they were fellow-beings, in dire extremity. Soon the lights from the shore and the rockets from the vessel disclosed to the crew the full horrors of their position. Above the dash of waters and howling wind arose a human cry, that struck like death on every heart.

"Heaven aid them," cried Gwyn, and give us power to save!" A hand clasped hers, a voice whispered in her ear: "Gwyn!"

"Oh, Rowland," she whispered, as turning she found him at her side. "They will perish; so many lives, and so near land. It is terrible. Let no hand be idle."

"Mine shall not-you shall see," smiled, and passed from her. In a second her woman's fears were aroused; hastening after him she murmured entreatingly:

"Not you, Rowland. There are those here more fitted to the work. Not He answered with a smile, as, seizing the gunwale of the boat, he helped to push it to the shore. "Now," cried old Daniel Rebna, "who will volunteer, lads?"

"I," answered Rowland and Captain

Jack, simultaneously; but to Gwyn's relief the fisher put them back.
"No, gentlemen," he said, "your courage is equal to any of ours, but skill is lacking. There are suffic brave hearts here. Truly, yes. In a minute the full com-

"Thank goodness, they will not let Jack go," cried his sister."I should have died of fright." Marian's eyes were bent on Gwyn.

There was a bitter light in them, as, in a low, sarcastic tone, she said: "Gwyn Rebna seems equally pleased they are not accepted."

The girl started, coloring; then, with dignity, meeting the other's gaze steadily, she rejoined: "I am Miss Rylands. The lives of yonder crew hang upon a thread. The gentlemen would have been useless hands when there are others more accustomed to the work. If those fail, then I hope they will not hesitate to risk their lives for these poor fellows. There may be women and children on board-who knows?"

"Bravo! You are right, Gwyn Rebna." began Mr. Rylands, when he was interarose the words:

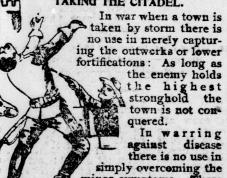

It was so. The handsome vessel had driven bows on to the reef, the tagged points of which, plercing her, held her impaled, while each mighty wave breaking over her, carried at times more than one life away from the human forms clinging to the shrouds and rigging.

At the same time the boat, which had been launched, was dashed back on to the beach, her side stove in, and her brave crew only with difficulty being clutched from the grasp of the hungry

LORD MINTO AT QUEEN'S. Kingston, Ont., April 27.-Lord Minto Ringston, Ont., April 27.—Lord Minto attended Queen's convocation yesterday afternoon, and his reception was enthusiastic. Lord Minto and Rev. W. H. Fitchett, of Melbourne, Australia, had conferred upon them the degree of LL.D., and Rev. W. G. Jordan, of Strathroy, the degree of D. D. Lord Minto said he appreciated the distinction because it tion because it came from one of the oldest schools of learning in Canada. He hoped to do honor to the degree given. Many students, including a number of ladies, obtained B. A., M. A. given. and B. Sc. degrees. Chancellor Fleming presented a bust of Lady Aberdeen, work of Hamilton McCarthy. minor symptoms. There are plenty of mere stimulating preparations largely composed of alcohol, which give a false and temporary exhibaration followed by relapse, but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a true and radical remedy. It contains no alcohol. It does not inebriate or create a craying for intoxicating stimulants. It does more than overcome the outer symptoms of disease. It attacks it in its highest stronghold and routs it absolutely and completely from the very citadel of life. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substi-tute for "Golden Medical Discovery" that he may make a little larger profit. "I feel it my duty to write and tell you what Dr. Pierce's medicines have done for me," says Miss Emma Lee, of Williford, Sharp Co., Ark., in a friendly communication to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. "I was suffering severely and tried several doctors' remedies but received only very little relief. I had bronchitis, catarrh, and also womb disease. I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription.' As soon as I had taken the first bottle I could see that the medicine was helping me. I also used the local treatment you suggested.

"My sister says your medicine did her more good than anything she ever took. She was down in bed and could not walk until after she had taken your medicine, and now she goes where she pleases and helps to de her work."

Every suffering man or woman should write for a free copy of Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page 'llustrated Common Sense Medical Adver. It will be sent paper-bound for the bare cost of customs and mailing, 31 one-cent stamps; or in heavy, handsome cloth-binding for 50 stamps.

BROKEN FAITH When Women

let us see how men can die," said the Rev. W. Tindail, of Walkerton, Denie That Sir Wilfrid Has Violated Any Pledges.

> The following letter from Rev. W. Tindall, Methodist clergyman, of Walkerton, appears in the Toronto Globe: Sir,-I think that I may claim to be amongst the oldest prohibitionists in Canada, having in my boyhood watched with approving interest the introduction of prohibition in the State of Maine, and next, the legislative action of New Brunswick, followed by the constitutional contest and victory for the principle in the Queen's privy council; the subsequent legislation and enforcement of prohibition in several States of the American Union. I have according to my ability, by voice, purse and pen, stood by the cause, and I am still unalterably committed to the principle with an unwavering faith in its ultimate triumph.

Though a member of the alliance, cannot approve of the denunciation of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, nor agree with the action of some organizations which charge him with a breach of faith in not carrying out his (alleged) promises by refusing, under present circumstances, to place prohibition on the statutes of the Dominion.

That Sir Wilfrid has not violated any pledges nor deceived the prohibitionists is to me evident, for the following reasons: In his tour through several provinces in the autumn of 1893, the question was put to him in several places, first, I think, in Walkerton where I had the honor to represent the prohibitionists by appointment to first | Colorado Convicts Were Busy Issuing confer with him on this important subject personally. At this interview he did not commit himself in any way. The same day I placed in his hands a written inquiry from the W. C. T. U. of Walkerton, which he read in the presence of more than two thousand people, and replied substantially as follows: "The Reform convention at Ottawa placed a plank in its platform that a plebiscite should be taken and were made in plaster of paris throughout the Dominion to test public molds. opinion on the question of prohibition. and if I should come into power that resolution shall be carried out, and if a majority of the Canadian people be found to desire prohibition, they shall have it," and in carefully reading his public utterances in several places afterwards he adopted language similar to this, in no case committing himself to prohibitive legislation if expressed by a small majority of a slender vote of the electors of the Dominion, and it was not so understood by the prohibit ory convention in Toronto last July, In that large assembly the question was asked whether the government would require a majority of the whole electorate or a majority of those who would record their votes.

No person seemed qualified to give a positive answer to the question, hence it seems to me unfair to charge the premier with violating a pledge which he never made. And it seems to me weak and illogical to parallel prohibition with the case of a candidate holding a seat in a legislative body if elected by a majority, however small it may be, for when majority, even of one vote, he holds his seat. It cannot be otherwise: the matter ends there. But if prohibitive legislation is enacted, without being strongly sustained by public sentiment, It would be impossible to enforce it, for we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that such violations of the law as seduction, arson, robbery, murder, etc., are regarded by the whole community as criminal, and the punishment of those guilty of such crimes has the approbation of all persons in civilized communities, while the public consience, as a whole, is not educated to that high standard to regard the liquor traffic as criminal, and the enforcement of prohibition would meet with strong opposition. The fight would be with the lowest and worst elements of society, backed by that class who have large financial interests involved in this wretched traffic; but all this can and will be overcome when an overwhelming majority sustain prohibition. not merely by a dorment sentiment, but by enthusiastic and self-sacrificing efforts to rigidly enforce prohibition, at all hazards. We stand face to face with the fact that such a condition has not been reached yet, for although it is equally true that in the late plebiscite Quebec largely reduced the majority, it is equally true that the majority in Ontario on this occasion was much less than on the previous vote a few years ago-much less, even after allowing for the loss of the enfranchised wo-man's vote. Now, in all reason, if only 23 per cent of the electors of the Dominion had interest enough in prohibition to go to the polls and vote for it, can it be imagined that if a stringent prohibitory law were placed in the statute book those who were so indifferent would rally to support and enforce that law in the detection and punishment of all offenders? In my humble opinion, if Sir Wilfrid were the greatest enemy of prohibition, and if he wished to bring it into contempt, he could not more effectually do so than to comply with the demand of the Dominion Alliance. Victory is sure, but there is work ahead. Success can only be accom-plished by steady, continuous, persistent efforts in educating the people in the evils of this dreaded traffic, by progressive advanced legislation in the provinces, curtailing and restricting the licensing system, until the growing sentiment shall include an indubitable majority in mighty phalanx, united, resolved, determined, whose voice shall be heard in our halls of legislation as the sound of many waters.

Chatham, April 27.-The English and Mongolian pheasants with which the government stocked Rondeau Park, a 5,000-acre preserve in Kent county, have stood the winter well. #### WHILE IN PRISON

Counterfeit Money.

Canon City, Col., April 27.-Some very successful coiners have been operating inside the state penitentiary here. The counterfeits made are silver dollars, and it is believed they are of a combi-nation principally of babbit metal, which was used in setting the gratings during the construction of the prison.

The coins were first detected by merchants who sold delicacies to the prisoners. This led to an investigation, and 28 of the bogus dollars were found in the possession of the convicts.

HIS LAST JUMP

Actor W. H. Powers Will Not Play Murty Keerigan Again.

Detroit, April 26.-W. H. Power's absence from the cast of "The Ivy Leaf" at Whitney's this week is accounted for by the fact that he is nursing two broken legs received in making the leap from the tower, required by the play.

While playing at Grand Rapids about seven weeks ago he failed to land squarely on the mattress one night, while making the jump, and sustained a fracture of one of his egs. Just as he was rounding to after a three weeks' vacation, he broke the other in a similar manner, which put him out of the business for the rest of the season. Mayor Wilson Thinks Will Do for the North End Fire Hall -- Market Paving Tenders.

At the regular meeting of the fire and light committee last night the mayor submitted a statement, showing that the cost of building and equipping a new fire hall in the north end would be $7,050, and that the maintenance would be $2,325 per year. Thus the outlay would be $18,675 in five years, whereas the total loss by fire in the city north of Pall Mall street during the past five years was $6,848 25, with insurance about double that amount. "It was apparent," he said, "that it would be

It was imperative that the estimates be kept down to the lowest notch this year, particularly.

Ald. Malloch warmly resented so much cold water being thrown on the project. Of course, it would be knocked out in the council if that was the way they dealt with it. But the north end was growing more than any other part of the city, and should have fire protection. A fire hall was needed there just as much as in South London or East London.

Ald. Pritchard supported the view taken by the mayor, that the matter should be laid over for this year at

Ald. Jolly said the hall was needed and should be got if at all possible. No action was taken and the item will be in the estimates when they come before the council. Inspector Bell reported the collection of license fees amounting to $361. The engineer was instructed to prepare specifications for paving the market and call for tenders, to be in at an

Miss M. German, of London, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank German, Thorndale. The trustees of the Church of England, Kirkton, had a meeting on Monday evening to transact business and make preparations for building their new church. Mr. Alexander Westman, of Devizes, one of the old and respected pioneers of Nissouri township, is dead. Mrs. James Bolton, of Motherwell, who injured herself over a week ago while attending to her domestic duties, is improving very slowly. Angus Wigle, an Essex peach grower, says his peach trees are all right, and attributes their non-injury by frost to letting the orchard run to weeds. A Kent canning company shipped a car of canned goods to the Klondike. The boxes had to be strapped with iron for transportation over the mountains. Robert McLean, of Burford, was charged at the Brantford police court Wednesday with the theft of a buggy and harness. He was convicted and sentenced to three months in jail.

Mr. John Slattery, brother of Mrs. John Reeves, Kingston, died at Eastwood on Tuesday morning, aged 82 years. He had been magistrate at that place for sixty-five years. When he came to this country first he worked a farm in the township of Pittsburg, for Mr. R. Hughes.

Latest reports from the peach district of Essex are not as bad as at first reported. It is now said that not more than 25 per cent of the peach trees are killed. Some districts are damaged much worse than others. Orchards that were not cultivated, but allowed to run to weeds, escaped the severe frosts. The annual spring horse fair of the East Elgin Agricultural Association was held Wednesday afternoon. There were many entries and it took somewhat of the nature of a street fair. The entries were taken at St. Andrew's Market. The animals were then marched down Talbot street to the Horton Market to be judged, and back to the St. Andrew's Market, where the diplomas were presented.

A small smashup occurred at the Cromwell street yards of the G. T. R., Sarnia, Wednesday afternoon, causing considerable damage. A number of freight cars were being shunted into a siding, with the result that they came back too fast and demolished the stop-block at the end of the siding. The rear car was also pretty bad-

THE LYNCHINGS IN GEORGIA

Startling Statements Made by Bishop Walters-Another Bloody Struggle in Prospect.

New York, April 27 .- At the New New York, April 27.—At the New Jersey annual conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, in Jersey City, Bishop Alexander Walters, D.D., bitterly denounced the Georgia lynchings, and made some startling assertions. He said: "It is generally believed by the fair-minded that if Hose did kill Cranford, it was to avenge the did kill Cranford, it was to avenge the killing of five colored men by a mob said to have been led by Cranford at Palmetto March 18." After referring to newspaper statements that Hose did newspaper statements that Hose did not outrage Mrs. Cranford—a crime for which lynching is usually condoned by both black and white—the speaker said the people of that section, who had some regard for the reputation of the south, raised the outrage cry or the south, raised the outrage cry or der to save themselves from everlasting disgrace, and the baser sort to justify their awful crime. "Ere another fortnight shall have passed over our heads, this subtle scheme will be laid bare to the world. This is the ignis laid bare to the world. This is the ignis fatuus that is leading us on to another bloody struggle. It is the southern white man's subterfuge to satiate his implacable hatred of the negro. If the good white people of the north are not disillusioned and do not put a stop to this sweeping tide of lawlessness, it will bot be long before they will be again called upon by a god of justice to give their best blood to pay the penalty of the crimes of the south. The real cause of our trouble is race hatred.

* * The passage of the Jim Crow car laws in several of the southern car laws in several of the southern states and the disenfranchisement of negroes, regardless of qualification; the shutting out of them from hotels, restaurants and places of amusement, are all manifestations of race hatred. We are censured as a race for not exhibitsight cars were being shunted into siding, with the result that they me back too fast and demolished e stop-block at the end of the sidge. The rear car was also pretty baddamaged by the mishap, and the the part of the Afro-Americans themselves will stop these atrocities.

"President McKinley and the Federal Government have shown themselves impotent to convict the murderers. In the name of Almighty God, what are we to do but fight and die? The Cubans to a certain extent, but will be an average crop. The condition of wheat in Rodney is not very promising. Some to free from Spanish oppression, were never treated so barbarously in times of peace by that government as some negroes have been in the States of Arkansas, Texas, North Carolina, South withered, and unless the weather proves and Georgia. It is rather favorable from this time out a small Carolina and Georgia. It is rather yield will be the result. Rain is longto read in the great dailies and weeklies of our country of the Americans giving to the Cubans and Filipinos an equitable and beneficent government, when they are powerless to even secure life and liberty to their citizens at home. "You cannot forever keep the negro out of his rights. Slavery made a coward of him. For 250 years he was taught to fear the white man. But he is rapidly emerging from such slavish fear, and before long will contend for his rights as bravely as any other man. One of two things must be done in order to avoid trouble. The negro must order to avoid trouble. The negro must be treated fairly, or furnished with suf-ficient money to return to the land whence his ancestors were stolen. The first suggestion, that of fair play, is the just one, and if those in authority, and the press and pulpit, would cease to eater to prejudice, but speak out holdly cater to prejudice, but speak out boldly for equal justice for all American citizens, this could easily be accomplished. Those who speak flippantly of our extermination will find that when that work is begun all the white people of America will not be against the negro, any, more than they were during the civil war. Why will not the intelligent and far-seeing white people call a halt to these injustices before it is too late? Have they so soon forgotten the history of the past? It was the policy of concillation and condoning of the sin of slavery that led to the loss of so much blood and treasure. Well did Thomas America will not be against the negro, Jefferson say before the conflict, in speaking of the injustice of whites towards the blacks: 'I tremble for the future of my country when I remember that God is just."
