The revolutionists have been very active for the past week, knowing that if the blockade is raised their cause will become much more difficult. THE BLOCKADE. London, Jan. 13 .- President Castro's request that the powers raise the blockade of the coast of Venezuela is still under discussion. The foreign office inclines to the belief that a suspension of the blockade would reduce matters to the same status that existed at the beginning of the dispute, and it appears probable that, unless an expedient is devised. Great Britain will advocate a continuance of the blockade in some form.

HOT FIGHTING NEAR TANGIER

The Moorish Government Unable to Cope With the Rebels— Complications Feared.

London, Jan. 14.-In a dispatch from Tangier, dated Jan. 13, the correspondent of the London Times says a serious fight occurred today two miles outside of Tangier. Several hundred tribesmen attacked a village defended by only 60 men. The attackers were repulsed and four of them were killed. The fighting may be resumed at any moment. It does not involve any danger to Europeans, but it shows that the Moorish Government is paralyzed by the rebellion and incapable of maintaining order. The Tangier correspondent of the Morning Leader reports serious fighting outside of Fez. He says the Sultan has been defeated, and that he escaped to the west. War Minister Menebbi, one of the Sultan's strongest supporters, was killed.

All the consuls, excepting the British representative, have left Fez. Fighting among the tribes is also proceeding near enough to Tangier for the sound of the shooting the city. The population of Tangier is alarmed, and is asking for the protec-tion of warships. A local Pacha took out a force to restore order, but he found it impossible to proceed, and has returned to Tangier.

Paris, Jan. 14.—A dispatch received here from Tangier, Morocco, under today's date, says a courier who has arrived there from Fez brought reassur-ing intelligence. Nothing is known at Tangier of the reported defeat of the Sultan, or of his rumored retreat westward.

COMPLICATIONS FEARED.

The Vienna Algemeine Zeitung, which is well informed in political matters, expresses apprehension of a collision between British and French interests in Morocco. The paper says that after the Spanish-American war France and Spain negotiated a special arrangement to take common military and political action in Morocco, and stable, in neighboring city. While working in a stable in the rear of the hotel, John Guard, a waiter at the Chateau Frontenac, entered the stable, and without warning opened fire on Shirley. Shirley was removed to the hospital. Guard was arrested and lodged in jail. The would-be murderer is a young Englishman about 24 years of age. He is one of a batch that arrived in Quebec some two years ago, and has since been employed at the Chateau Frontenac. Mr. Chamberlain's Position Re Cattle Embargo.

British Agent Thinks a Protest by Dominion Government Would Be Effective.

Montreal, Jan. 14.-William Henderson, a member of the County Council of Perthshire, and the accredited delegate to Canada of the Canadian Cattle Importation Association, a vast organization which takes in the who e cooperative movement in Great Britain, with 8,000,000 consumers directly interested, including the Butchers' Association of London, with its affiliated associations throughout the whole length and bread h of the country, is in Montreal with the Scotch curlers. Mr. Henderson has an important mission to Canada. He will leave for Ottawa in a few days, to confer with the Dominion Government regarding steps to be taken for the removal of the embargo now in force against Canadian cattle entering Great Britain. "The press of Great Britain is unanitions. The country is thoroughly aroused on the subject. It is now put before the electors at every electoral contest, and it played a very considerable part in the great victory of Mr. C. D. Ross in the Newmarket contest a few days ago. I am in a position to say that no Government will now dare to shelve the question, so thoroughly has the agitation been worked up. "The embargo will never be lifted through any representation made to the department of the Right Hon. R. W. Hanbury, president of the British Board of Agriculture, who had handled the subject in a very narrow, and, 1 must say, incapable manner. "This minister has unfailingly taken the side of the breeders, who naturally desire the maintenance of the embargo, and who form a ridiculously small proportion of those in Great Britain interested in the subject. The Cobden Club thoroughly indorses our position, and will work in our support.

"This unjust embargo now in force against Canadian cattle entering Great Britain," added Mr. Henderson, "must be abolished, and the time is at hand when the Imperial Government will realize that this legislation has struck a cruel blow at the best interests of Great Britain and Canada. When the matter shall have been properly presented to the British House of Commons, no Government, Liberal or Conservative, will have the hardinood to withs, and a demand which is today backed up consumers throughout the British Isles." Speaking of the class of cattle raised in Canada for the British market, Mr. Henderson said: "During the years of experience we had in feeding Canadian cattle, we found them the healtniest, the best thriving and the best paying, bed. It is apparent that death was beyond comparison, of any cattle we ever handled."

A Plain Statement Regarding the Grand Trunk Pacific.

MEANS FOR REMOVAL SUGGESTED WILL GET NO GRANT OF LAND

What Mr. Sifton Savs About the New Scheme_Canadian West Neglected by British.

London, Jan. 14.—To correct any misunderstanding and to dispel fears that the Grand Trunk Railway Company's financial position might be jeopardized by the Grand Trunk's Pacific commitments, it is announced today that the Grand Trunk Pacific will be an absolutely separate corporation, under the control of the Grand Trunk Company, but not guaranteed financially in any way by the older company. It is added that the form in which the scheme will ultimately go through will probably be dependent to a great extent on the subsidies obtained from the Canadian Government.

Clifford Sitton, who arrived here yes ering the means to be taken to this end, day, says his trip through the States Mr. Henderson said: was to get an opportunity for a personal examination of the conditions of showing the unjust manner in which the most important centers, and gone over details of the work with numerous agents, and found things on the

NEGLECT OF THE WEST. Lord Strathcona spoke at the Royal Colonial Institute last night, where, in a paper read by Albert Hickman, Canadian Government agent, the British people were charged with neglecting Western Canada more than any other portion of the empire. It is believed, however, thanks to the energies of such men as Lord Strathcona, that new era has dawned. The idea that the American invasion involved the slightest danger to British interests is rialculed. The majority of incoming Americans appreciated British institutions, and become good Canadian citizens with great rapidity. The investment of so many American millions in Canadian lands is but forging one more chain in the existing informal alliance, the greatest in history, and known as the Anglo-American confederation. Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal has promised to lay the foundation stone of the Levsian Mission, which is being erected by the Wesleyan Metho-

Extension of the Intercolonial Railway Advocated by St. Joseph People.

St. John, N. B., Jan. 14.-The St. John Board of Trade yesterday afterncon at a largely attended meeting held to take action in regard to the proposed Grand Trunk line across Canada, and the Quebec scheme of the trans-Canada line, passed the follow ing resolutions:

The St. John Board of Trade places itself on record as favoring the exten-sion of the Intercolonial Railway from Montreal across the continent through Canadian territory, and improvement of harbor facilities, particularly on the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Maritime Province coasts." It was also moved "that in granting charters to transcontinental railway lines, it should be the policy of the Government not to grant a subsidy either of money or lands to such railway lines, but rather to consider that the right-of-way given by such charter is a valuable franchise owned by the people, and should be guarded so that it would revert to the people, if so desired; and further, that all such transcontinental railway charters should specify that the eastern terminus in winter and summer must be a Canadian port."

"Impertinent Talk" of Husband's Desertion Denied.

Inability to Live on $25,000 a Year

Vienna, Jan. 14.—Countess Lonyay, former Crown Princess Stephanie of Austria-Hungary, who, it has been asserted in the newspapers here, had been deserted by her husband, Count Elemer Lonyay, has telegraphed to the Neues Weiner Journal from Cape Martin, near Mentone, France, as follows: "Stories untrue. The disagreement between the couple has long been evident, and it is be-lieved that pecuniary troubles underlie the affair. As a widow the former crown princess enjoyed an income of $125,000 and had free residence at the imperial palace and the use of car-riages and servants. It is reported that the couple married in the belief that Emperor Francis Joseph and King Leopold together would contribute handsomely to their maintenance. In this, however, they were disappointed. The Emperor gave the countess $25,000 a year only, while King Leopold stopped her former allowance of $10,000 e year. The countess consequently tried to meet all the expenses of main-taining her household with one-fifth of her former income and found the task impossible.

She used the influence of her daughter, Archduchess Elizabeth-Marie, who is a favorite with the Austrian Emperor, to secure additional money, but since the latter's marriage to Prince von Windeschgraetz, the prince has interfered to prevent his wife from continuing to act as intermediary between her mother and her grandfather,

The Belle Isle Ferry Company sent bout 100 Windsorites home via the Walkerville ferry, at an expense to the ompany of 15 cents a head for street

"A good many of them were working girls," said Mr. Campbell, "and they wanted to get to their homes and suppers. We didn't know when we would have a boat to handle them, so we took this method of caring for our business." When the Promise left the Detroit

In 1856 he married Miss Priscilla Dawson, who died a number of years ago. He is survived by one son and three daughters, who were all with him when the end came. He was a member of the Presbyterian and a Mason, having founded McCallum Chapter of Masons, which was named after him, and being its first principal. Coming here in its early history, he has been identified with and a leader in every forward movement in the place. Senator McCallum was large contractor and shipbuilder, having built many public works and owned a fleet of vessels on the lakes. He was captain of the Dunnville Naval Company, which he commanded at Fort Erie, at the time of the Fenian raid in June, 1866, where he was in the thick of the fight, and was afterwards presented with a medal for conspicuous bravery. He entered public life in 1867, and sat in the commons almost continuously until 1887, when he was called to the senate. He sat in the Ontario Assembly in 1876 and 1878. He was a Conservative in politics.

TEMISKAMING

Arrangements Being Made for Terminals of the Road

At Nipissing Junction, or North Junction-Several Contracts Made.

Toronto, Jan. 14.-A committee of the Temiskaming Railway Commission, comprising A. E. Ames (chair-K. C. (counsel), W. B. Russell (engineer), and P. E. Ryan (secretary), will go to Montreal this week to discuss with the authorities of the Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific terminal arrangements for the new road at North Bay or Nipissing Junction, or at both points.

Nipissing Junction is a point three miles east of North Bay, where the G. T. R. strikes the main line of the C. P. R. At present the Grand Trunk runs into North Bay over Canadian Pacific tracks, but has purchased a right of way into the town over which can construct a line at any time. It s expected that when the C. P. R. builds its Kleinburg and Sudbury extension its present agreement with the G. T. R. will be abrogated. In any event the commission is anxious that some arrangement will be reached with both lines which will preserve the interests of the new Temiskaming line. The commission has placed an order with the Toronto Forge and Bolt Company for sufficient track bolts for 60 miles of main line and 5 miles of sidings. An order for spikes to cover the same distance of road has been placed with the Dillow & Hersey Company, of Montreal. The contractor for the line is to place an order for 75 60-ton M. C. R. standard flat cars with automatic couplers and Westinghouse airbrakes. These cars will be used in construction work and on the completion of the road will be taken

AN OBJECT LESSON

In a Restaurant.

A physician puts the query: Have you never noticed in any large restaurant at lunch or dinner time the large numper of hearty, vigorous, old men at the tables; men whose ages run from 60 to 80 years; many of them bald artd all perhaps gray; but none of them feeble

Perhaps the spectacle is so common as to have escaped your observation or comment, but nevertheless it is an object lesson which means something. If you will notice that these hearty old fellows are eating you will observe that they are not munching bran crackers nor gingerly picking their way through a menu card of new-fangled health foods; on the contrary they seem to prefer a juicy roast of beef, a properly turned loin of mutton, and even the deadly broiled lobster is not altogether ignored.

The point of all this is that a vigorous old age depends upon good diges-tion and plenty of wholesome food and not upon dieting and an endeavor to live upon bran crackers.

There is a certain class of food cranks who seem to believe that meat, coffee and many other things are rank poisons, but these cadaverous sickly-look ing individuals are a walking condemnation of their own theories.

The matter in a nutshell is that if the stomach secretes the natural digestive juices in sufficient quantity any wholesome food will be promptly and certain foods cause distress one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal will remove all difficulty, because they supply just what drochoric acid, diastase and nux Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do not act upon the bowels, and in fact are not strictly a medicine, as they act almost entirely upon the food eaten, digesting it thoroughly, and thus give a much "Less Crown. More Colony." "A man named Greenlees" has sprung Into fame in South Africa by bluntly asserting at a public function, attended by Chamberlain and Milner, that what the Transvaal needed was "less crown and more colony." This was an epigrammatic way of saying that it was time the country began to emerge from the status of a crown colony into that of a self-governing one. The man named Greenlees is undoubtedly a loyal British subject, and meant no disrespect to the crown. The crown, in the sense in which he used the word, stands for the autocratic administration of the Transvaul, necessary to restore order and assert British sovereignty over a conquered race. This despotism, a benevolent one, to be sure, over a civilized people, is contrary to the genius of British imperialism. It is only a temporary expedient, and the British Government is bound to confer representative institutions on the colony as soon as this can safely be done. The British subjects there would be the first to rebel if these privileges were denied longer than they considered necessary. The man named Greenlees is probably a bit of a Radical, who chafes under the un-British system of personal rule and would prefer to have the forms of liberty and take the risks. At any rate, in a biting phrase, and a phrase can do much to vitalize a public issue.

In Canada, there are many still living who can recall the time when "less crown and more colony" expressed a popular sentiment, which had more justice in it than the present demand in the Transvaal. Responsible government is withheld there for fear it might put power in the hands of a subjugated and sullen race, who might turn it against imperial interests. In this country it was withheld from loyal British subjects of British blood. It is a popular theory that the American revolution taught Great Britain a lesson which changed her colonial policy. It is true she never afterwards at- for the enlightenment of future gentempted to levy taxes on a colony, but there was little in her attitude toward subject, "and shall probably not need Canada, until Lord Elgin's regime, to the skull after next Christmas, I dunindicate that she had grown much wiser. There was certainly no sign of repentance in giving Upper Canada ought to bring in the open literary marsuch governors as Francis Gore, Sir ket. Maitland, Sir John Colborne and Sir Francis Bond-Head, all of whom flouted the principle of responsible government and spurned the representatives of the people. Even the rebellion of 1837 failed to make Downing street understand the temper of the Canadian people, and the home government dared to support Lord Metcalfe in his absolutist methods. Metcalfe had been trained in the East Indian service, and his ideas of government had been molded by the habit of ruling inferior people. He insisted on making all appointments to office, without consulting his council, with the result that he was left for some time with one minister, Dominick Daly. "Dominick Daly was the ministry, and the ministry was Dominick Daly." It was as a supporter of this enemy of constitutional liberty that Sir John Macdonald first entered public life in 1844. These are old stories, but it is just as well that Canadian Liberals should refresh themselves with a little history at times, and the younger ones be reminded of the struggles of their fathers for their British birthright. The mother country has learned the lesson at last, and every British statesman is anxious to see self-government conferred on the new South African colonles at the earliest moment possible. The experiment will be one of absorbing interest to the civilized world.

The Insane and the Poor.

Chief Justice Meredith comments severely on the fact that ten persons are detained in the county jail awaiting removal to the asylum, and he advises the grand jury to make strong representations on the matter. The insane population is increasing at a melancholy rate, and the Government is doing everything possible to meet the situation. When the old University buildings at Cobourg are in shape for the reception of insane patients, the pressure on the asylum accommodation will be much relieved. A rap from judge and jury will do no harm, and may do good. There was a senseless opposition in the Legislature to the erection of the asylum at Brockville, but we may hope that in future the question of providing for the insane will be above party politics.

The judges might do another philanthropic work by upbraiding those counties which have no ho ses of refuge. Many of the so-called insane persons confined in the jails are harmess od men and women, who are merely senile or simple-minded, and who should not be sent to an asylum but to a porhouse. It is a disgrace to some of the wealthiest counties in the Province that they make no provision for their aged or infirm poor. The Attorney-General has more than once intimated that the Government may be obliged to adopt compulsory measures to remedy the evil. The judges and grand juries could do much to strengthen the hand of the administration in compelling municipalities to do their duty in this respect. Happily the County of Middlesex is not open to this represch.

Trunk Pacific may take, there will be no land grant. The announcement is THE LONDON ADVERTISER COM- reassuring. When the Canadian Pacific Railway was projected the enterprice was regarded as almost desperate, a huge gamble, and the Government had little se uple all throwing in 25,000,000 acres of land when land was the cheapest thing in sight. Unfortunately it was allotted on the checkerboard system, a block of railway land alternating with a block of public land on both sides of the railway line. The blocks of railway land, being exempted from taxation for twenty years, have greatly hindered development, as they paid nothing toward the expenses of municipal government, the building and maintenance of bridges, roads, schoolhouses and other work necessary in opening up a new country. It would be a crime to repeat such a bargain, with our eyes open. Besides, the lands of the Northwest, which had hardly a prospective value twenty years ago, are now being rapidly filled up, and most of them have now a market price. The country cannot now afford to alienate any large portion of its dommain to a railroad or any other cor-

The subsidy to the Grand Trunk Pacific will probably be a cash one, but it should be accompanied by conditions which will secure some return to the country either in stock, interest, the free carriage of mails, or in the performance of other public services.

An Ideal Woman's Medicine.

So says Mrs. Josie Irwin, of 325 So. College St., Nashville, Tenu., of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Never in the history of medicine has the demand for one particular remedy for female diseases equalled that attained by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never during the lifetime of this wonderful medicine has the demand for it been so great as it is to-day.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific, and throughout the length and breadth of this great continent come the glad tidings of woman's sufferings relieved by it, and thousands upon thousands of letters are pouring in from grateful women saying that it will and posidoes cure the worst forms of female complaints.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all women who are puzzled about their health to write her at Lynn, Mass, for advice. Such correspondence is seen by women only, and no charge is made.

boosted accordingly, and those who failed to get their orders in before yesterday were charged $9 per cord. A number of cars arrived yesterday and the work of distributing the wood to all parts of the city is carried on night

STUDENT SHOT BY WOMAN

Tragedy Occurred in Her Attorney's Office-Released on Ball.

Marcon, Ga., Jan. 14 .- Mrs. Effle L Carson shot and instantly killed Robt. A. Rigsby, a student in a business college here, Monday. The tragedy took place in the office of Attorney Marmaduke G. Bayne, to whom she had gone for advice.

After the shooting Mrs. Carson delivered herself to the sheriff. She was placed in jail, but subsequently reeased on a bond of $1,000. The coroner's jury found a verdict of voluntary manslaughter.

Mrs. Carson charged that Rigsby had circulated stories damaging to her. She had gone to the lawyer with a eper for Rigsby to sign, exonerating her The lawyer submitted the paper to Rigsby, who declined to sign, but asked a personal interview. He went to the lawyer's office, and immediately asked the attorney and his stenographer to step into the hall. The door was closed at once and locked.

In a few moments shots were heard, and Mrs. Carson appeared, announcing that she had killed Rigsby. He was found on the floor dead, with his own revolver near his right hand. What occurred between them is not known, except an admission by Mrs. Carson that he applied an opprobrious epithet to her.

Letters to the Editor.

AN EXPLANATION.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: In Monday's issue of your paper my ttention has been called to a letter from Dr. Moorhouse regarding the appointment of the ladies' advisory board of Victoria Hospital by the Local Council of Women, and asking why this was done by that body. The reaon for this is readily explained. When t becomes known that the L. C. W. is the largest body of women workers in Canada (and is also affiliated with the same of Great Britain), in our own city it represents all charitable and most of the educational societies. It is most strictly non-sectarian and non-political, and was deemed by the powers that then existed (now more han three years ago) to be especially well adapted to deal with the appoint ment of this advisory board, and upon an invitation of the hospital trust three years ago, a meeting of the L C. W. was called. The object of the meeting was explained to the large and representative meeting assembled, and the names submitted to the trust were those chosen by the L. C. per ballot. On the ladies' advisory board fourteen societies are represented, by virtue of some members belonging to more than one society. The King's Daughters, Women's Christian Association, Women's Christian Temperance Union and others have more than one representative by these means. The ladies' advisory board, at all times, has given liberally of time, means and help in any way required, cheerfully and willingly, and has endeavored to de all possible to assist the hospital and the welfare of its inmates, and will continue to do so, as long as its services are required or asked for. Hoping this letter will explain matters to the satisfaction of all, and thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space in your paper. Yours truly, E. YARKER, Secretary Local Council of Women. and president ladies' advisory board.

Judgment for $1,657,709. New York, Jan. 14.-Sir Bache Cunard, president of the Cunaid Line of st amships recovered a judgment yesterday in the supreme court for $1,-657,709 against his first cousin, Charles G. Francklyn. Mr. Francklyn was fifteen years ago in charge of the property in this country of Sir Bache, who inherited a large fortune from his father, Sir Edward Cunard. At that Sir Bache complained that Francklyn had converted large sums to his own use. He therefore brought suit to recover $3,000,000, and after a long litigation Francklyn agreed to compromise the case for $1,250,000. This he failed to pay, and the present suit, which was not defended, was brought for $1,250,000 with interest.

This, at all events, was given as one of the reasons for there being such a light run at the market today, which, following the light runs of last week, stiffened prices cosiderably for all butchers' cattle. A Bill Providing for Rebate Equal to Coal Duty TO BE PASSED BY U.S. CONGRESS

Arguments and Presentments for Such a Procedure Presented in

OF EMERGENCY

House of Representatives. Washington, Jan. 14.-The report of the ways and means committee of the House on a bill providing for a rebate equal to the duty now imposed on all kinds of coal, and coming from all countries, for a period of one year, says: "This is an emergency measure. Precedents for such legislation are found in the Chicago fire and the fire at Eastport, Maine. In these cases Congress rebated the duty on lumber used in rebuilding the burned districts. Whether legislation will increase the importations or reduce the price coal is a question on which men differ. But it is all Congress can do in the premises, and will satisfy the demand of many of our citizens. While there is a threatened coal famine in any part of the country we cannot turn a deaf ear to the cry of the people. The committee did not consider it best to make any changes in the tariff on coal, after the period of one year had expired, preferring to bring in this as a purely emergency measure and not desiring to go into the question of tariff revision.

THEY ARE SHARKS. In the coal famine investigation of the Senate committee, Senator Stewart, commenting on testimony mitted that the independent dealers had forced the advance, said: "The who puts up prices of coal now with the result of causing the freezing of women and children is a shark. I don't know," he added, "that we can punish them by law, but we will give them a chance to explain.

PRESIDENT BAER'S STATEMENT. New York, Jan. 13 .- Mayor Low and representatives of the coal carrying railroads today discussed the coal situation in the five boroughs of Greater THE SCARCITY OF COAL

President Baer, of the Reading Company, read a statement describing the position of the coal roads. He maintained that the roads are doing all possible to relieve the situation. There was, he declared, no coal combination of which he was the reported head. The situation was full of difficulties. and the failure of miners to work during the holidays had reduced the output, and the price had been unduly advanced by the smaller companies and individual operators. "The companies I represent," he said, "do not believe that it is just to the public to scarcity of coal to increase the price. The difficulty in keeping down the price is that many of the operators sell at the highest price obtainablefrom $2 to $5 per ton-higher than that Coal and Iron Company and the Lehigh Coal Company sell their coal." SELLS AT $5 A TON.

Mr. Baer said his companies will continue to sell at $5 a ton. The real cause of the present scarcity lay in the fact that no coal was mined last summer and none was stored for the winter. President Thomas, of the Lehigh Valley, said he would do all possible to increase the supply of coal at $5. A committee was appointed by the operators to confer with dealers who are willing to extend the sale of hard coal at 10 cents a pail.

At one time he and his five assistants were in charge of the hospital on Blackwell's Island, with some 1,300 patients under their care. During the last year he has been house surgeon at the Polyclinic Hospital, and has been associated in almost all the important operations that have been done here during that time. He has made a good reputation for himself as a surgeon, so much so that he was recently invited to take part in a serious operation in Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, where he went for that purpose. ### OLDEST MEMBER OF LONDON PRESBYTERY DIED TODAY

Few Days' Illness.

He Was One of the Best Known Presbyterians in Canada.

ERY MANY Londoners and friends elsewhere will learn with the deepest regret of the death of Rev. J. A. Proudfoot, D. D., which ocat 8 curred o'clock this morning at his home on Oxford street, London Township. On Saturday evening he suffered an apoplectic stroke, and never regained consciousness.

Dr. Proudfoot was one of the best known, and the oldest, of the members of the Presbytery of London, and was always one of its ablest workers. His zeal, earnestness and strength of personal character were re even to the very last.

His association with the work of the Christian church in Ontario extended over a period of 54 years, and the gold-en jubilee of his ministry was marked by the members of the Presbytery of London by interesting services, during which the aged divine was presented with a beautiful oil painting of himself. It was accompanied by an address, in which his labors during his long connection with Presbyterianism in Ontario were appreciatively commented up-His death will be a great loss to his friends and the church.

He was born in Perthshire, Scotland, in 1821. In the summer of 1832 he came with his parents to America, and after spending a few months in New York State came to Toronto and settled in London in the spring of

His father, Rev. William Proudfoot, undertook the training of young men for the ministry of the United Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Caven, of Toronto, and Dr. Proudfoot being among his students. Dr. Proudfoot was licensed to preach in 1847, and labored for three years in St. Marys and vicinity. Some idea of the growth of Presbyterianism in that district, and of the work done by individual men in those days, may be inferred from the fact that now

Death of Rev. Dr. Proudfoot After seven congregations occupy the field which this young minister served alone. The home mission work which also he was called to do took him frequently to all parts of Ontario, from Sarnia to Toronto.

From St. Marys he was called to succeed his father as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here, where he labored until 1890. Shortly after began his work in London his church was destroyed by fire, and a deputation from the Central Church, of Detroit, came here to induce Dr. Proudfoot to accept a call, which he promptly declined on account of the needy condition of his church at that time. In addition to the work of the pastorate, and at the call of the church, est. His church connection was with the new St. James' congregation. occasion of his jubilee Dr. Proudfoot told of the journey which he made with his father from Toronto, which they made by boat to Fort Stanley, and from there to London by wagon, the journey taking ten days. The purchase of a lot for the site of a was his father's first consideration, and he was successful in getting one on York street, two doors west of where the Tecumseh House is. The lot was covered with forest at that time, but with the aid of some Westminster yeomen, a clearing was soon effected, and the erection of the edifice begun. The population at that time was small, among the inhabitants beonly five Presbyterian families. Dr. Proudfoot married a daughter of the late Dr. Coleman, of St. Marys, who survives him, with eight children—two sons and six daughters—all of whom live here, except John J. A. Proudfoot, M.D., and Mrs. H. A. Davidson, of Woodstock. Mr. William Proudfoot, barrister, of this city, is a son. One daughter is a nurse, and another is a teacher at the Conservatory of Music. Other members of the family are at home. Two brothers still survive him—Hon. William Proudfoot, of Toronto, and Robert, of Goderich.

The funeral will be held on Friday, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The services will be held at 2:30 o'clock.

PATIENTS IN THE JAILS Death of Mrs. Charles Taylor

Most of Them Should Go to Poorhouse, Not Asylum.

Unfortunates Who Can't Pay for Medical Examination.

Chief Justice Meredith, in charging the grand jury on Monday, spoke very strongly in regard to the inadequate system of dealing with persons awaiting investigation as to their sanity. He deplored their temporary confinement in the jails especially.

Commenting on the large number of these persons at present under his care, Governor Boston says that radical changes will have to be made before the evil can be remedied. Most of the cases are those of aged persons, who have no means of support. The poorhouse would be the proper place for them. To speak of them as dangerously insane is ridiculous.

Generally the friends of these unfortunates, who are awaiting medical examination, are too poor to furnish the physicians, and it falls upon the county authorities to do so. This means fur-ther delay, and is likely to prove fatal to such persons as are really suffering from insanity. And, finally, it not infrequently happens that persons committed to the asylum are returned to the jail authorities for disposal some charitable institution. The only way to dispose of the evil appears to be the establishing of wards in the asylums for the handling of these cases, as this would insure prompt and expert action in all instances.

Mrs. Maria Barbara Taylor, wife of ex-Ald. Charles Taylor, died yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Taylor had been invalided by paralysis for the past fifteen years, and was 69 years of age at the time of her death. Taylor was born at Leipsig

She is survived by her brothers, William Harding, of this city; Gilbert Harding, of the Guinness Brewing Company, Dublin, Ireland, and her children, W. H. Taylor, of Chicago; G. torate, and at the call of the church, he became lecturer of homiletics and pastoral theology at Knox College, in which work he continued from 1867 to 1901. In this way be has been the means of influencing successive classes of students, many of whom attained a high place as preachers of the Gospel, and attribute their success in no small measure to the inspiration of his teaching and to the excellence of the system of homiletics which he framed. It is to be hoped that this system will become a permanent possession of the Christian church.

In the Presbytery of London, Dr. Proudfoot was fondly called the Father of the Presbytery, and in its deliberations he always took great interest. His church connection was with the new St. Lames' congregation. A bird of passage is a bird-generally well and familiarly he comes north about the first of May, and does not leave us until some time in October. He is not all this while nesting or singing, but he is in the bushes ready for a pleasant chat with you, if you have proved yourself a companionable friend. Robins are very irregular about coming or going, and some of them are sure to be left self a companionable friend. From States were irregular about coming or going, and some of them are sure to be left behind all winter. Most of the birds are gregarious when traveling; probably for gregarious when traveling; probably for the sake of safety. A flock of very peacful birds is compelled to add the ad-ditional protection of traveling by night. By day they generally are resting or feeding in some pleasant locality. In the spring they always are heard first in the early morning; in the autumn their good-bye is heard at the approach of evening. All night they are on the wing. It is a mistake to suppose that any of our birds care for home as a residence They only stay in one spot long enough They only stay in one spot long enough for a single purpose; either for rearing young, or to collect food, or to escape cold weather. These fellows that drop down on us in the early morning to dine from our mountain ash trees in August Some from our mountain ash trees in August or September are cosmopolitans. Some varieties of birds will abound in a section one year and be very scarce the next. This is markedly true of grosbeaks and orioles. During 1902 the orioles have been mostly birds of passage, nesting probably further north—but appearing in large numbers as birds of passage—eating plums and grapes, and spoiling what they could not eat. A saucy firt and handsome marauder, the oriole can do more mischief in a week of traveling than a flock of birds that are residents.

Costly Interviews.

The Khedive has only once been inerviewed by a professional journalist, and that occurred during an Egyptian crisis a few years back. The lucky follower of the note-book who accomplished this feat was with his Serene Highness exactly half an hour, and his account of what transpired filled two columns of the Pall Mall Gazette. For this Mr. Astor paid $6,000, which worked out at the handsome rate of approximately $2 50 a word, or $200 for every minute the Khedive was talking, says the Cincinnati Tribune. The enterprise of foreign pressmen is amazing, and the German newspaper which secured an authentic account from Osman Pasha's lips of how the fall of Plevna came about had to pay its representative well for his trouble. The journalist in question was serving with the Czar's forces as a correspondent, and upon the great sol-dier being taken prisoner he disguised himself as a Russian officer and was successful in interviewing him - of course, in the presence of his captors. The conversation lasted two hours, and the journalist received $7,000, plus expenses, this being the highest price ever paid for an interview.

Von Moltke was always proof against the wiles of the interviewer, and just before the outbreak of the Franco-German war a journalist attached to a Berlin paper was promised $5,000 if he succeeded in interviewing him. He managed to worm his way into the general's presence, but when he asked his opinion on the outlook, Moltke replied: "An excellent season for beans, but we could do with some more rain." Bismarck was equally cautious until after his quarrel with the Emperor, whereupon he confided his grievances to a journalist, who netted $6,000 for simply jotting down his remarks on paper. The conversation was only fer an hour's duration so the lucky pressman was paid at the rate of $100 a minute.

Useless Prayer.

Representative Lamb of Virginia tells story about a little girl and her prayers. She lives in Petersburg and is just 4½ years old. Like all other good little girls, she kneels every night at her mother's knee and, after recit-ing the Lord's Prayer, silently adds a little prayer of her own. One night her mother, rather curious, asked her

An Unappreciated Gift.

A certain young missionary sent pathetic appeals home for various articles for use on an African farm. Among other things a milking stool was sent to him. He gave it to the negro whose duty it was to milk the cows, with injunctions to use it. On the first day the negro returned home from the cow sheds, bruised and battered, but with an empty pail. When the missionary asked for an explanation the negro replied: "Milk stool very nice, massa, but

Miss Kayanagh, in her proud beauty and dignity, with her fine educate n, many accomplishments and natural refinement, had been her ideal ever since she could remember, and now it was a terrible shock to have her idol shattered thus in a moment to discover that she had been guilty of wrong and falsehood, if not of crime. Miss Kavanagh groaned aloud.
"But it was a terrible mesalliance."

Oh, just think what it would be to have a grown-up, handsome, abble brother like Kenneth Kelth," she concluded, with shining eyes. "Have you no thought for me?" cried her aunt, bitterly. CHAPTER XLV. There was not much sleep for two of he inmates of Shannondale that night. he young Lady Isabelle was very unhappy on account of her aunt's anger against her, but more so over the ter-rible discovery of the sin of her early life. Besides this, she had firmly made life. Besides this, she had firmly made up her mind that justice must and should be done. She had determined that Kenneth should be told everything which she knew regarding his history; that he should be read to the should be read to the shear that she knew regarding his history; that he should have the proof of his mother's lawful marriage to her father, and whatever property might rightfully belong to him as her half-brother. To Katherine Kavanagh that never-to-bekatherine Kavanagh that never-to-be-forgotten night was even longer. All the eventful past came up in review before her, and it seemed as if never, until now, had she realized the full atrocity of the wrong perpetrated against her brother's

The last fourteen years of her life had been in the society of her pure-hearted little niece, in whom she had striven to inculcate the highest principles of nobility and honor. Her own spirit had grown whiter from constant contact with the innocent child, and in this purer atmosdo what is right. Just now you said I phere; and now, in spite of her invincible pride and obstinacy, she shrank from the remembrance of her former wickedness with a sense of pain, almost of despair, that was indescribable. Not once did she close her eyes in slumber that long night threath and are the properties.

that was indescribable. Not once did she close her eyes in slumber that long night through, and when morning broke if seemed as if years had left their mark upon her. Still, her spirit was far from being subdued, and when Isabelle came in to inquire if she were better, and pressed a lingering, appealing kiss upon her forehead, she turned her face impatiently away from the contact of her pure lips, and would not answer her.

The young girl moved softly about the room, intent upon doing something for her comfort. She put misplaced articles in order, drew up the curtains to let in the bright sunlight, dusted the furniture in a housewifely manner, hoping all the time for some kind word in return. After rearranging a vase of flowers and bringing a glass of fresh water, which she set upon a table by the bed where Miss Kavanagh could reach it, she stole sadly out of the room again. A sob burst from the wretched woman as the door closed after her. after her.
"She will never love nor look up to me again," she moaned; and still her proud spirit refused to de what she knew to be right and just—what she knew would give her back the love and trust she craved.

The day was perfect, and the sun streamed warm and bright in at the open windows of the library, through which the odor of roses, helictrope and mignonette was wafted, filling the room with fragrance, while the birds could be heard singing blithely in the trees without. Isabelle stood long at one of the windows, looking wistfully toward the village of Shannon, an unusual gravity on her face, a look of resolution growing in her eyes and settling about her mouth. All at once she moved toward a writing-desk and sat down.

"I am going to do it she said, in a tone of decision, "for I knew it is right." She took up a pen, and, drawing toward her a sheet of paper bearing the Langford crest, wrote:

TWO GREAT BOXING CONTESTS WILL BE HELD IN FEBRUARY

-The Big Race Meets-General.

By Way of Comment.

Hockey has certainly taken a firm hold upon the sporting tendencies of the smaller boys of London. Almost every district has its quota of players. In many places open-air rinks are built by the boys in their own yards, and the game is enthusiastically indulged in. It is from these back-yards and corner lots that recruits come from for the league matches.

American horsemen have been bidding high for the services of "Patsy" Gallagher, the Toronto steeplechase rider. They were outdone by "Mike" Maloney, the Canadian, however, whose chances for fame in the horse world are unusually bright.

Why not an ice race meeting among local horsemen? The Thames affords excellent opportunity, and the horse-men themselves can furnish enough material. There are many spaces along the old river that could be utilized in the absence of a speedway. Some gentlemen might win the esteem of a large and influential body by putting up a watch or some other trophy as a prize. Many a good match race could be made among the local nags, and it would be very little trouble to their owners. The cove furnishes several half-mile stretches, which could not be put to better use. Then all danger, if there is any, would be removed, and the boaster could be made to prove the claims that his horse is the best.

THE RING. FITZ AND RUHLIN MATCHED.

Chicago, Jan. 13 .- This city will witness the light between Fitzsimmons and Ruhlin, should the negotiations looking to the arrangement of a match be successful. Thus Philadelphia is out of the running, although she has considered the favorite in the talk about the expected contest. The Quakers offered a purse of $3,000 for the fighters, through the Penn Art Club. Chicago, however, woke up, and doubled Philadelphia's offer. One offer of $7,000 or 50 per cent of the receipts has been made by Windy City interests, provided the fighters can be made to meet here early next month. The latter offer has been telegraphed to Fitzsimmons and to Billy Madden, Ruhlin's mana-There is little doubt Madden will accept the offer on the percentage basis. He seems every anxious to Rublin fight the Cornishman. Barring Jeffries, Fitzsimmons has asserted irequency that he stands ready to meet any man in the world. It therefore seems likely he will not refuse the offer if the Akron Giant, as the latter was not named in connection with Jeffries, the only man excepted.

PROPOSED FITZ-JEFFRIES MATCH.

Toronto, Jan. 13. - Manager Herman, of the International A. C., rert Erie, will come to Toronto this week for the purpose of having another conference with Jim Corbett regarding a match with Jim Jeffries. Mr. Herman believes that the battle could be pulled off at Fort Erie withinterference. A substantial purse would be offered. Corbett says he will meet Jeffries anywhere. "Jefwould probably as soon meet me at Fort Erie as anywhere else if the inducements are right," said Gentleman Jim. "As far as I am concerned, I am willing to box for any purse that suts Jeff. My forfeit is up and I'm waiting for him to cover it.'

WANTS TO FIGHT EVERYONE. New York, Jan. 13. - Prof. Jimmy Kelly, manager of Andrew Tokell, the champion bantam of England, now in this country, has posted $500 on behalf of his man. Accompanying the money Kelly issued a defi for Tokell to meet any man in America from 112 to 115 pounds for $2,000 a side. After Kelly had deposited the money, he said: "Of course, we prefer a match with Harry Forbes, the American champion. A match with him and Tokell is practically ratified, but in order not to take any ances I put up $500 to show that we mean business. We are willing to agree to anything that looks reasonable, as long as we can secure a match."

DEATHS FROM BOXING. St. Louis, Jan. 13. - There were five leaths during 1902 as the direct result of boxing bouts. Thomas Hornketh (Tommy White) died four days after he was knocked out by Thomas Markey at the Knickerbocker A. C., Philadelphia on March 29. Albert Terrill (Kid Albert) collapsed in the Golden Gate A. C. ring at Philadelphia, while boxing with Wm. Stokes on Sept. 1, and died four hours later. Frank J. Smith died at Allentown as the result of a bout with Hans Hartrant the night previous. James Cassidy (Tom Noonan) died the day after his bout with Eddie Dixon at Boston on May 22, while Chas. Gildy died at Detroit on Aug. 11 as the result of being knocked out by John Beaubien two weeks before.

HOCKEY.

LOST BOTH GAMES. The two St. John's A. C. Junior League teams were beaten in the second series of Junior League games played at the Jubilee Rink last night. The first game was well fought, and was full of clean plays. Dickson, of the Hortons, was cut over the eye. The result was 3 to 1 in favor of the Hertens. The lineup: Hortons-Carrothers, goal; Reynolds, point; Southcott coverpoint; Wilson, Loney, Dickson and Taggie, forwards. St. John's -Rogers, goal; Harley, point; Fieming, coverpoint; Bridgman, Wooley, Nichols and Spence, forwards.

The Watericos, who are possibly the speediest aggregation in the league, trimmed St. John's II. easily by a score of 4 to 0. Jack Towe scored two Fitz and Ruhlin and Jeffries and of the four goals and played a clean-cut game. The lineup: St. John's II.—Spry, goal; Simmons, point; Gibson, coverpoint; Nash, Hiscox, Spittal and Hodges, forwards. Waterloos—Kennedy, goal; Marshall, point; Evans, coverpoint; Reid, Towe, Matthews and Williams, forwards. RESIGNED PRESIDENCY.

Mr. C. B. Edwards has resigned from the presidency of the Junior Hockey League. His resignation was handed in at noon yesterday. Another president will be elected at the next meeting. The outside rink is being put into good shape.

FINED FOR BEING LATE. Collingwood, Ont., Jan. 13.-Orillia played their return match in the intermediate series, O. H. A., here last night. The game was advertised to begin at 8:15, but the Orillias did not arrive till 10 o'clock, and Referee Hugh Rose promptly fined them $10 for being late. The game was one of the best ever seen here, and Orillia played a strong game until ten minutes before time was up, when they seemed to go to pieces, and Collingwood quickly scored 3 goals, thus winning the game by a score of 5 to 4.

DUTTON DEFEATED.

Glencoe, Jan. 13.—The Glencoe Hockey Club Defeated Dutton at Glencoe on Monday night in a friendly game by a score of 11 to 3.

Horse World: When Lord Derby, then with a record of 2:061/2, was sold for $10,500, it was freely conceded that the price was far below his real value, and his subsequent earnings for Mr. E. E. ANOTHER DEFEAT.

Montreal, Jan. 13 .- The Scotch curlers met the Montreal Heather team on the latter's rink yesterday, and were defeated by a total score of 92 to 65. Matches were played in the morning, afternoon and at night, but the Scotch curlers were apparently not in the best of form, and the local men had the best of it except in the afternoon games, when Cousins' and Sprains' rinks defeated the Heather rinks by a small margin.

INGERSOLL RINKS BEATEN. Woodstock, Ont., Jan. 13 .- At Ingersoll two rinks of Woodstock curlers played off the first draw in Group No. 3 of the Ontario tankard. Woodstock won by one shot.

FUNERAL OF MR. McHARG

Remains of the Dead Fireman Interred at Hamilton.

Engineer's Life.

The funeral of Robert M. McHarg, the Wabash fireman killed at the Port Robinson collision, took place yesterday from his father's residence, on Horton street. The remains were taken to Hamilton on the 10:25 train for interment. There was a large attendance of friends of the bereaved family, and from St. Thomas came a deputation of 30 Wabash and Grand Trunk trainmen, who accompanied the remains to their last resting place. The pallbearers were six in number, amongst them being Engineer Mc-Callum, with whom McHarg was running when he met his death. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Thomas Wilson. Engineer Mc-Callum feels very keenly the death of his fireman. Had it not been for Mc-Harg's coolness in the face of death McCallum would also have been killed. His engine was already on the bridge when the danger was first noticed, and thinking the train would collide before his train could clear the structure, he made preparations to jump 50 feet to the ice below. McHarg, however, seized him by the shoulder and persuaded him to wait until the train was over the bridge before leaping. "Goodbye." was the last words uttered by McHarg as he went down with the wreck on top of him.

CASING OF WELL BLOWN OUT BY GAS.

Canadian Product Promises to Become an Important Factor in the Market.

Chatham, Jan. 10.-A new oil well was "shot" this district yesterday. It promises to rival all others in these fields in point of production. The gusher spouted with such force as to blow out the iron casing of the well. It is now flowing at the rate of 25 barrels steadily. This is the eighth profitable well in this part of the oil fields. The indications are for more big strikes during the next

We congratulate our shareholders upon the above news, as this new Gusher is situated on the South line of the 1,530 acres in which they are interested, and still further proves the Dominion Oil Co.'s claim to at least 1,000 acres of oil lands surrounding their famous "Gurd Gusher." The oil we produce is bringing the highest of any on the North American Continent. A marked demonstration of the way in which the permanency of this field is regarded is shown by the Standard Oil Company having constructed line from the "Gurd" Gusher to the nearest railroad and now erecting additional steel tankage and pumping stations. A limited issue of the treasury stock is now offered at the exceptionally low price of 35c PER SHARE, this being the opening and the lowest price at which a share of this stock has ever been offered. The present purchasers will be entitled to a dividend of 1 PER CENT per month on par, commencing Feb. 1-about 36 PER CENT per annum on the investment at present price.
