FRENCH HAVE SUCCESS ON THE AMIENS FRONT

ON THE AVRE

Paris Reports Notable Success -Haig Best in Night

Paris, May 3.—The French made an attack late yesterday on the front between Hallies and Castel, southeast of Amiene, and captured Hill 82 and the wood on the Avre River nearby, the war office announces.

RITISH WIN NIGHT BRUSHES.
London May 3.—In the neighborhood of Villers-Bretonneux, on the front before Amiens, the British gained the advantage in local fighting during the night, the war office announced. On the northern front there was vigorous sighting, especially near Givenchy, the forests of Nieppe and Locre and south of Ipres.

London, May 3—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—It is noteworthy that with the lull in the fighting since the Garman defeat at Ypres, all German talk of the "kaiser's battle' has vanished. The German experts and newspapers have now been instructed to warn the people that no new Sedan is possible, that Ypres is very strong, and the British fought most stubbornly and that, after all, Ypres is not of importance for the German command may decide not to take Ypres.

Peace Offensive Is Expected, But No Offer of Mediation, Even From Pope, Will Be Considered.

London, May 3.—The Times refers to a dispatch from Washington, stating that diplomats anticipate a peace move, but that no offer of mediation, even from the Pope, will be considered. Any proposal of peace must come from Germany, the Times declares. The Allies will meet any such move with the same unbroken front as they met the latest military offensive.

ALLIED RANKS CONFIDENT. Paris, May 3—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Henri Bidou, the distinguished military critic of the Journal De Debats, who has just returned from the front, gave Reuter's correspondent a most encouraging account of the position there. He says that the last time he visited the front was just after the capture of Kemmel Hill. He found some gloom over the possible consequences of its loss, but when he returned he was delighted to find a spirit of the utmost confidence among the Allied officers and men, resulting from the magnificent manner in which the Germans had been held up.

The first 1,500 school children to present the coupon appearing below at the Majestic Theatre will be admitted free of charge to the special performance of "The Blue Bird" to be given at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning under the auspices of The Advertiser. The children who are taking advantage of this offer should clip out the cupon carefully, and have it ready for presentation at the door. No war tax will be necessary, and those who come early are those who will secure a seat.
While The Advertiser would be glad to have as its guests every school child in London it is not possible to give more than one performance of the wonderfu fairy story. But those who witness the picture will have something to tell their parents about. SCOTLAND WILL FIGHT TILL HUNS ARE DEFEATED

London, May 3.—The war spirit in Scotland is described by William Short, president of the Washington State Fed-eration of Labor, and a member of the American Labor Mission now visiting England, in a statement to the Times.
"I have just returned from Scotland," he said, "where our mission saw much and learned much. We met the laboring men and women and they are doing all they can to help on the war by making material with which the Germans will surely be beaten, be the time short or long.

"I went to Ayr, where I spent my boyhood in the mines, and had an opportunity of discussing the war with the miners of that part of Scotland. They gave me the impression that they were as strongly determined as the same act, admitted he had not worked for over six months. "If you haven't been inclined to work, why haven't you enlisted then?" asked the magistrate. Slaughts declined to reply. Smith was delivered. He stated he had a job waiting, and was given a chance to make good or suffer the penalty. Chief Williams has other men and boys in the city in view, and they will be summoned to court in a few days unless they find work.

which is adjacent to Victoria Hospital. When the estimates were considered for this year, the opinion was expressed that as this was a purely military institution, the department of militia would pay this charge. Alas, those optimists did not know the department of militia. The department will not pay it, and judging from a letter which the city has received, it does not intend to pay in which the city can save the money and that is to cut the hospital off from heat which is supplied through Victoria Hospital.

London, May 3.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa agency).—Dutch papers state that 107 severely wounded British. Who have arrived at Rotterdam for repatriation, were not sent from Germany under proper conditions. No hospital train was provided and the Dutch medical authorities expressed forcible opinions regarding the transport of stretcher cases under such conditions. The German authorities, it is pointed out, must either confess inhumanity or admit that no hospital trains were available owing to the German losses on the western from. which is adjacent to Victoria Hospital. Some of the controllers thought that the city should be reimbursed. Mayor Somerville and City Clerk Baker will take the case up again and try and bring about a settlement. The opinion prevails that the cutting off of the hospital heat would soon bring about the ends desired.

GERMANS WORRIED ABOUT THE EAST

-New York Herald.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 3, 1918.

London, May 3.—There is grave uneasiness in Germany over the news from the East, where the Germans shortly will be confronted with overwheiming difficulties that will shatter the whole fabric of the Brest-Litovsk peace, says an Amsterdam dispatch to the Daily Express. From Finland to the Ukraine there is ever-increasing opposition to German oppression.

Vienna reports, it is added, that Vienna reports, it is added, that most of the Ukrainian crops were ruined by the peasants, who would rather starve than feed the Germans.

Ottawa, May 3.—The capital was unexpectedly invaded this morning by a delegation of farmers representing both Eastern and Western Ontario counties, who fear that their operations will be seriously interfered with if young men engaged in agriculture are immediately called out by the military authorities. The call for the gathering was sent on Wednesday night from Toronto by Mr. C. J. Thornton, ex-M. P. for Durham, and as a result over 200 representatives of the agricultural interests arrived in Ottawa today. They held a meeting in the railway committee room of the House of Commons and named a committee to wait upon Hon. N. W. Roweil, president of the Privy Council, and other members of the Government at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The committee consists of C. W. Gurney, Brant County; Ed. Sills, Lennox and Addington; C. J. "We are are not forgetful of the needs of the Empire," one speaker remarked, "but how can the production of food be increased unless we get the help we need?"

W. M. McQuillian of Haldlmand County said it was the desire of the farmer to avoid politics, the situation being too serious, but the Government had asked the farmers to produce more food. The German offensive is not yet ended in the view of military authorities, and the enemy is expected to make further attempts to reach the channel. The supreme war council has completed a two days' session with a meeting at Abbeville, northwest of Amiens. All military questions were discussed and decided on and the results obtained are reported to have been most satisfactory. French troops have driven back the Germans in local attacks in Hangard Wood and southwest of Mallly-Raineval, south of Hangard, they have recaptured Baune Wood. Berlin reports the situation as unchanged and records only artillery duels on the various fronts. Elsewhere on the western front, in Northern Italy and in Macedonia, there has been little activity. In Italy the rains have ceased and the weather has improved, but the fighting operations still are confined to patrol engagements. In Palestine the British have recocupled Es-Hait east of the Jordan and northeast of Jericho. More than 300 prisoners were taken and the advance continues.

Teutons Uneasy Over Russia.

Germany and Austria-Hungary apparently are meeting with difficulties in oppressing the peoples of occupied Russian territories, and as a result there is grave uneasiness in Germany. The Ukrainian Government has been overthrown by the Germans, and it is reported that a new government, presumably favorable to the Central Empires, has taken the reins of power. Berlin reports the occupation of Sebastopol, the great Russian fortress and naval base in the Crimea, but gives no details. The men will not be provided with rations and quarters here. WILL COST THEM MORE Light Users in Broughdale Face High Hydro Bills.

There are 54 former London Electric customers in Broughdale and district who will likely pay a great deal more for their light in the future than when they were customers of the private company. These customers are scattered from Huron street north to the fourth concession. They made the suggestion to the utilities commission that they personally should take over the London Electric lines as they stand, as they announced that they secured a price from Manager C. T. Barnes. The price he gave was $1,600. It would cost the utilities over $900 additional.

The commission is not inclined to spend this money outside the city, and it is up to the would-be customers. It was suggested that they should pay 10 per cent in addition to their lighting bills. This would work out 50 cents each, but would allow but 3 per cent on the money. The commissioners suggested was a great sufferer from cramps in the money. The commissioners suggested to the commissioners su bills. This would work out 50 cents each, but would allow but 3 per cent on the money. The commissioners suggested 20 per cent or $1 a month extra. The next suggestion was that the would-be customers should club in and buy the equipment and turn it over to the commission. The customers will be communicated with.

Trimmed Hats Half-Price and Less Saturday $3.98 and $5.98

EVERY SHAPE NEW, purchased this week at a fraction of their value, every new shape and color, including a splendid lot of blacks, will be found on the sale table Saturday. This is a real opportunity to secure a stunning hat at about half value, as in most cases the shape alone is worth more than the above price.

This opportunity came our way the first of the week to clear these shapes at a price which in justice to our customers we could not pass. We set our trimmers to work to prepare these hats for Saturday sale, and all will be ready in the morning at 8:30. No matter what color, shape or style you fancy you will find it here at above prices Saturday—not handled and rejected models that have been on the tables for weeks, but freshly-trimmed new shapes in finest straws, tagel, etc., that will be first shown Saturday morning at 8:30. Sale prices $3.98 and $5.98

HURON COLLEGE AND THE WEST-ERN UNIVERSITY.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Will you allow me to correct the fol-lowing statement in your issue of today
—"The rental of Huron College has gone from $1,100 to $3,000 in a few years"?
That statement is wholly incorrect, and it is only right that the public should know it.

know it.

(1) The impression is conveyed by that item that the university is now paying $3,000 as rent to Huron College. The fact is, that it pays nothing and never did, and it has not been asked to pay anything like that sum as rent in

The fact is, that it pays nothing and never did, and it has not been asked to pay anything like that sum as rent in the future.

(2) The amount paid at first by the university to Huron College was in no sense a rent, for the amount, viz.: $1,100 was simply what it cost the college for heating, insurance, caretaking, repairs, etc., of the part occupied by the university. Nothing was charged for the use of the buildings and the extensive grounds. The college spent $2,100 in fixing up the buildings to suit the needs of the university. For that sum also we received no return. But we contented ourselves with charging only a fair share of the running expenses, and this we did in order to help on the university in its early days when it was sorely cramped for funds. It was a free gift on the part of the college to the university. The gift has been continued for over nine years, and let me add, the college has received but little credit for it.

(3) Hitherto, the university enjoyed the use of about one half the building.

(3) Hitherto, the university enjoyed the use of about one half the building.

versity. The gift has been continued for over nine years, and let me add, the college has received but little credit for it.

(3) Hitherto, the university enjoyed the use of about one-half the buildings. Now it is asking for the use of five sixths of the whole buildings. Huron College maintains that if the university desires all this, the university should pay five-sixths of the cost of maintenance, and Huron College one-sixth. This five-sixths of the cost of maintenance is estimated at $1,700 all told. If it is less, the university will pay less, if it is more, it will pay more. Surely that is fair, Hitherto the college has neither asked for nor received any rent in the strick sense; that is, any return for the use of the buildings and grounds. Hitherto, as stated, the university hap aid the college nothing beyond what was necessary to cover its share of the runaing expenses. The college council believes, rightly, I think, that the time has come when the university should pay something for its accommodation. The college buildings are assessed at $20,000 by the city assessor, Five-sixths of that is, in round numbers, $16,000. At five per cent, which is a very low rate to charge as rent for any building, the rent would be $800. That is really all that the college asks for the use of five-sixths of its buildings and all its grounds. I submit that this is the only item that can rightly be termed as rent, which is very different from $3,000 ment, which is very different from $3,0 which is very different from $3,000 mentioned in the item of news to which I refer.

(4) So far as Huron College is concerned, it is quite indifferent from a financial standpoint whether the university takes the buildings or not. The connection of the college with the university has been hitherto an entirely unprofitable transaction financially to the former, and we cannot afford nor would it be right, any longer, to give to a Government institution with plenty of money the free use of buildings obtained and mathained by the voluntary contributions of the members of the Church of England. All we ask is that at least the university pay a very low rental for the use of buildings and grounds, which they have had for ten years free. Believe me, yours faithfully, DAVID WILLIAMS, Bishop of Huron, and President of Huron College Council.

of the Ontario Government employment bureau, a visitor in the city today. "I consider this the most important kind of war work I could do," said Miss Straith as she told of the pioner work undertaken by the Government employment bureau this year to introduce women helpers for mixed farming. She objects to the term "farmerettes," which has been applied to the young women, several from Weatern Ontario at present taking a short course in practical agricultura in the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

"Last year," she said, "the Government bureau enrolled and placed a large number of girls as fruit-pickers. This is the first time that placing women shelpers on mixed farms has been undertaken, consequently we are just about three years behind France and England in this respect. One side of the work is securing the girls, the other finding places for them. The first has not been difficult. LOCKOUT STILL ON, DECLARE LINEMEN. AFTER CONFERENCE

Men Insist They Must Have

The utilities commission yesterday failed to settle the dispute with its men over their demands for a wage linemen over their demands for a wage increase.

The commission refused to concede the men an increase. The men modified their demands, agreeing to cut them in half. The commission failed to meet them. The men, after considering the commission's proposal rejected it. "The lockout is still on," they declared.

The discussion between the men and the commission was a long one.

The men first reviewed the different clauses in the working agreement. There was no trouble here. The schedule was the only stumbling block.

The discussion was featured by some interesting passages.

Chairman Pocock, at the outset, assured the men that the commission did not object to the union.

Alleges Discrimination.

President J. Dean of the trades and labor council, who was with the delegation, declared that Mr. Buchanan tried to discriminate against the union.

labor council, who was with the delegation, declared that Mr. Buchanan tried to discriminate against the union. Pending the settlement of the trouble, he said that the manager had offered four men increases, backing up his statement that he would treat with the men individually.

Mr. Buchanan said that he had told the men that they would get no increase in schedule, but that he was willing to advance a few of the men.

V. Bonser acted as spokesman for the men. Their wages demands, as he outlined them, were: Foremen, 52½ cents; linemen, 41½ cents; troublemen, 52½ cents; groundmen, 40 cents; cablemen, 52½ cents; groundmen, 40 cents; cablemen, 52½ cents; groundmen, 40 cents; cablemen, 52½ cents; for their three years' work. The men after the discussion said that they would split their demands, which were for 5 and 7½ cents' increase, and take 45 cents for linemen and 47½ cents for foremen.

Are Well Pald.

The commissioners contended that the employees were being paid higher than any other place in the province with the exception of Toronto. Mr. Buchanan cited the wages of some of the workers who had been on the job steady last year, and these ran from a little below $1,100 to $1,400.

As to the question of a lockout, Mr. Bonser said that they had asked a year, and these ran from a little below $1,100 to $1,400.

As to the question of a lockout, Mr. Bonser said that they had asked a new agreement. They had received no reply. They had terminated the old one. There then being no agreement they could not work. Mr. Bonser said the superintendent had told him that if they quit it would be for good. Mr. Buchanan said that he had told the men's representatives that they would have to accept a renewal of the old agreement. The next move was then up to the men, and they were responsible for the cancellation of the old agreement.

When the men left the meeting to consider what they would accept, the commission voted unanimously to stand for the old agreement.

The men returned later. Only Chairman Pocock of the commission was present, and he told the men of the decision. The men returned to their room, and in less than five minutes announced that they would accept nothing less than a 2½ cents an hour increase.

juveniles at the Grand Theatre for the benefit of the Great War Veterans' Association.

Fervent applause, pleased faces on all sides, and frequent outbursts of laughter all told the story of unqualified appreciation and enjoyment. A "continuous performance," the interest of the audience was kept keyed up to a high pitch by the rapid transitions from one form of entertainment to another, the surprises that each change brought. From beginning to end, the program went with a smoothness, snap and finish which many adult professional companies might well envy. No group of grown-ups could ever hope to win such affectionate admiration as that evoked by the boy and girl artists, from wee, terribly-in-earnest chubby tots to young people entering upon the dignity of their teens. The one or two trifling, naive blunders of the smaller entertainers only added to the fun without in the slightest detracting from the artistic finish of groupings and dances.

A joyous riot of kaleidoscopic coloring, the ensemble dances in costume were the very essence of grace and spirit, efficiency translated in terms of Terpsichore.

Favorites of other entertainments were again welcomed, the versatile Munro children. Master Charles McCarthy, the celebrated boy cornetist, graceful Kathleen England, acceptable in both songs and dancing: Gladys Comber, whose dancing has won her about enough medals to make a suit of armor, and who has also achieved wide fame as a successful girl performer on the bagpipes: Rena Curnoe, who revealed a voice of much promise in her song, "It's Lovely To Be in Love"; Lucille Bailey, in her latest novelties, the "Balloon" and "Electric Dance"; Miss Constance Cowan, who, with her "Oriental maids" sang most sweetly, "Cherry Time in Tokio," which opened the program, and proved a most cap-

Is it by a single handed and successful attack on an enemy mahine gun and crew?

here exists for the man performing them some overflowing. chance of escape, some hope of survival. What of the action of the Grenadier Guards, the Irish Guards and the Coldstreams, who were asked to hold back the Germans along the Hamiebrouck-Estaires road for 48 hours, until the Australians ould arrive to save the day? This meant absoutely certain death for scores of them, and hose whose death was decreed knew that they, personally, could not survive. They were in small groups, fighting off overwhelming numbers of the enemy, and were being surrounded and cut off from all assistance. They could retreat and save their lives, or they could surrender, but by doing either of these things they would be giving to the foe the advantage of time gained, which might mean that the required 48 hours' grace would not be allowed the Australians. They chose to fight until the last man was shot down and unable to fire again, and thus kept back the Germans until the stated time had elapsed. Is not the deliberate choice of certain death for the cause greater bravery than even the most spectacular action in which there is possibility of survival? Yet it is improbable that these super-heroes will be known by name to future generations, or that decorations will be bestowed on them posthumously. They are among the thousands who gladly gave up their lives for humanity, and that is all.

Far from the battlefields, supreme courage is shown at times which brings no plaudits from the world. One London home is mourning the death of a young girl, Miss Edith Aiken, who voluntarily underwent acute suffering some time ago, that her brother's health might be improved. Not only did she willingly permit a portion of her skin to be removed and grafted on her brother, but, learning that the benefit to the wounded man would be increased if no anaesthetic were administered to her, she refused to take a narcotic, and endured the pain for his sake. Naturally, I looked around in amazed relief for this opportune deliverer. I hadn't/far to look. The handsome motor car I had noted passing us a moment before had evidently turned around and come back. CHAPTER 167.

Well, it was comical to see Jimmy Coon and Mrs. Jimmy standing on the bank of Mirror Pond early that morning, just as the sun was gilding the glassy waters. Jimmy was pointing out to Mrs. Jimmy the beautiful scenery, and the points of interest.

You remember that Mrs. Jimmy was a Southerner, and that she had always lived in Georgia, and that this was her first visit up North, and to Mirror Pond, Jimmy Coon had bragged so much about the scenery around Mirror Pond, and the view from their veranda in the famous Hemiock Apartments, that Mrs. Jimmy was a little bit disappointed in the scenery; and I'm sorry to say that she turned up her little snub-nose and said, "Oh, pooh, the view here is nothing to compare with the lovely scenery in Georgial Why, the view from our Bay-window in our Sycamore Flat, as we look over the waters of the Grand Lagoon, beats this view all hollow."

She was correct in one statement: for the hollow in the Sycamore Flat was larger than the inner court of the Hemiock Apartment House. But Jimmy was very clever in securing family peace, and that is the famous Hemiock Apartment House. But Jimmy as a lovely house and that is where Tom and Jerry Beaver live. Dick and Billy Otter live over by the Island on Bank street. Benny Mink lives in the next blook, and Boby Skunk has a lovely home near our residence. Teddy Possum and his family live across the street from us, but Teddy's house isn't half as big as our residence."

And all Mrs. Jimmy said was, "Oh, you don't tell me." And Mrs. Jimmy image are much superior in every way to this law they don't brag soo much. It's an Jimmy's mother, who had been listentially beach habit. And you know our Southern families around the Grand Lagoon have true blue blood; and they are much superior in every way to this law they are much superior in every way to this any are much superior in every way to this say a may the superior of his foolish talk; and she was a larger than the inner court of the Hemiock Apartment House. PIMLICO MEETING

Has Little Trouble in Capturing Patapsco Steeplechase.

Baltimore, Md., May 3.-With bright mmerlike weather, there was a treendous crowd out for the second day of the Maryland Jockey Club meeting at Pinlico. First-class racing came out of the seven offerings, though in the last there came a disqualification, when Back Bay was set back for the foul rid-ing of Fricksen, and Home Sweet Home was moved into third place. It was a race for the selling platers, and went to The Masquerader, with Favor went to The Masquerader, with Favor, the lightweight of the party, second. Ericksen's mount was disqualified for

He raced up to the Schwartz jumper, but hung there, though he forced the son of Brazillo and Midget to quicken his pace. About this time Infidel II. was all through, and he was being eased back by Byers, but New Haven was still hard at it. It was a race through the front field, but Archdale had foot enough always to have daylight between him and the Garth fencer, and he had something left at the end.

C.N.R. Tourist Sleeping Cars mean Comfort to the Traveller

The interior is somewhat more modest in appointment than the standard or first-class sleeping car. Of solid steel underframe, and with highly polished dark green finish, the Canadian Northern's tourist cars present a very pleasing appearance. The interior is finished in mahogany, with aisle carpet to match and cork composition flooring to deaden sound and lessen vibration. Commodious smoking room and toilets; kitchenette with appliances for light cooking, running water, etc., are greatly appreciated. Roomy berths, accommodating two persons if desired, are just one-half the first-class rate. Second-class ticket holders may also occupy these cars, and the Dining Car is always available at meal time. Trains leave Toronto Union Station 10 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays for Winnipeg and points west.

Agricultural Committee Passes Resolution for Farmers' Exemption.

GLASS HURRYING HOME

May Be Asked to Explain Why He Waited Till Too Late to Act.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, May 2.—There has emanated from the committee of agriculture as a result of the discussion precipitated by Best of Dufferin, and Glass of West Middlesex, a resolution strangely like unto the amendment proposed to the new military service order by Dr. Molloy of Provencher on April 20 last, and against which both Messrs. Best and Glass at that time voted. The resolution of Dr. Molloy was as follows:

"The House regrets that the proposed order-in-council departs entirely from the principle of the order-in-council of December 3, 1917, allowing the exemption of those whose services are essential for promoting agricultural production, and the House therefore declares that the proposed order-in-council should be amended so that it shall provide for the exemption of those who are now actually and effectively engaged and so urgently needed in the production of foodstuffs upon the farms of Canada."

Quite a Change, Yes? Quite a Change, Yes?

Every member of the Opposition voted for this resolution. Every member of the Government voted against it, including Messrs. Best, Glass, Cronyn and others. Having done so, the country cannot but view with surprise the following resolution which has emanated

Mewburn Can "Advise."

This resolution has been conveyed to Major-Gen. Mewburn, and Major-Gen. Mewburn, and Major-Gen. Mewburn, it is stated, has declared that he has no power to do anything else than "advise" the registrars to call the city people first before the rural communities are touched. He cannot even "order" that this be done.

In fact, the only recourse of the farmer who has already reported, or large the minimum to the farmer of absence from the city have been of absence from the con manding officer until such time as his brothers from the city have been conveyed to Mewburn, and Major-Gen. Mewburn, and Major-Gen. Mewburn told Dr. Edwards that registers had been requested to send out notices to men in urban centres calling the farmers. In some cases this had not been done, and in others there had tassed the House and Parliament of provider that this be done.

Week of May 4 To Be Held As "Bicycle Week"

"Ride a Bicycle" Will Be Slogan of Enthusiast This Summer-Expect 100,0 00 New Riders to Take Up Sport T his Season.

For the Bicycle Week, May 4 to 11, week in Canada, and the bicycle has which will be celebrated throughout Canada as the official opening of the 1918 bicycle season, a catchy slogan, "Ride a Bicycle," will be brought to the attention of the Canadian public in a number of attractive and spectacular ways. The main idea of the bicycle enthusiasts will be, however, to demonstrate that there is health, pleasure, utility and economy in riding a bicycle. No attempt is being made by the 3,000 Canadian bicycle dealers to "boom" the wheel, because it has already gained considerable popularity as a practical means to an end. This is the third annual celebration of the spring show far better than they were twenty years ago, while the legislative restrictions upon cycling are now practically negligible. There are also various features to show that the modern wheel is superior in design, make up and material to what it was a decade of two ago. In addition, bicycles do not cost one-half what they did in the nineties, when the riders, it is said, rode to killing fads. Preparations are being made to sell 100,000 new bicycles in Canada this year, while in the United States, with the much greater population, the general order is for one million new bicycles before the snow comes again. CANADA FIRST SAW BICYCLES IN 1876

The first wheel was brought to the Dominion in the spring of 1876 by the late A. T. Lane of Montreal, whose death was recorded several months ago. The late Mr. Lane was, in fact, the first cyclist on this continent, as his English wheel was the first to be seen in the United States as well.

There is a marked difference between the first velocipede brought across the Atlantic and the generally-accepted present-day model. Bicycle enthusiasts now declare that the silent two-wheeler now stands in better favor than it has The first wheel was brought to the Health For All ever done and, judging by the apparent interest in the bicycle at present as an economical and practical form of transportation, the demand for new bicycles this year will probably reach the 100,000 mit in the Dominion. If the manufacturers are able to fill all orders during the next six months. all orders during the next six months, there will be approximately 500,000 bicycles in use on Canadian streets and roads, according to reliable statistics. That the number of wheels actually in use this year will reach the half-million mark and will undoubtedly surprise many people. This fact stands as an indication of the value of the bicycle for economy, pleasure, business and health, according to the cycling authorities of the country. This is not an in-

Sit in an upright position. This leaves the heart, liver and stomach in a position for perfect concerted action. Don't stoop over the handle bars. Just remember that you are not a racer. The stooping position may be necessary for racers, but speed is detrimental to health if kept up too long. You may not be able to run or walk fast for one mile, but still you may be able to ride fifteen miles, or even more, on a bicycle and thoroughly enjoy the sport. When you walk the entire burden of the body is borne by the legs. In bicycle riding you are in a sitting position and therefore you are economizing the expenditure of vital and nervous forces. Consider the wheel seriously during this National Bicycle Week; analyze its real values as applied to your individual activities, and you will see how it will increase your efficiency. NATIONAL BICYCLE WEEK,

WHY NOT A BICYCLE?

Spring is the most beautiful time of the year, when after the closed-in days of winter everyone is anxious to get fresh air and feel the sap of youth begin to run again. What better way than to ride a wheel? Automobiles are away beyond the purse of many, with their large initial price and constant upkeep, while a bicycle has practtically no upkeep whatever. And yet the rider gets every bit as much enjoyment from a bicycle. He even gets more, for a bicycle. He even gets more, for there is no "Wonder where the money's coming from" hanging over his head to mar the enjoyment of his ride, and he feels his muscles strengthening and his cheeks glowing with the healthy exercise of cycling. Its much better than street car riding, too, and will soon save its initial cost in car fare.

The businessman who possesses a wheel saves whole hours of time and maintains a cheerful disposition, while his neighbor, who waits for a street car, loses his appointment and his temper at the same time.

The bicycle is unique in that it is the only vehicle not taxed. It has been recognized by the finance minister as an article of usefulness and therefore escapes the tax. Why not take advantage of its usefulness then?

The very opportunity which you want vantage of its usefulness then?

The very opportunity which you want will be furnished by the Bicycle and Motor Sales Company next week, when they hold their great spring display of 1918 models. Special inducements are being offered to customers who buy then. The attractive display of bicycles of every description and priced so as to meet all purses, is sure to

GREY RIDES FOR NERVES.

When Sir Edward Grey, the great

BIKE RIDING MEETS WITH CONSERVATION REQUESTS OF GOVT.

Much Cheaper and Healthier Than Riding in Street Cars.

Sir Thomas White, minister of finance, has asked for economy on the part of the Canadian people. The bicycling enthusiasts and boosters are claiming enthusiasts and boosters are claiming that this is exactly in line with their feeling towards the business or sport of cycling. The bicycle is admittedly the most economical form of vehicular transportation, and, in addition, there are the claims of health, pleasure and general utility in favor of wheeling. In view of the statements of the Government and war authorities with reference to the subject of conservation it is evident that the cyclists can make capital out of the appropriate application of the bicycle to the interpational situation. Statistics have shown that bicycling is cheaper than the use of street cars, while the wheel undoubtedly gives healthful exercise. The cost of shoes has doubled so that even walking is now expensive, but the price of rubber tires for the bicycle is practically the same as hefore the war. ven walking is now expensive, but the rice of rubber tires for the bicycle is ractically the same as before the war. The tires are about the only part of a icycle that wear out. The cost of asoline is comparatively high, but, of ourse, the simple bicycle does not reuire any "gas." In this connection, is appropriate to draw attention to be fact that John D. Rockefeller, the il magnate and multi-millionaire, egularly rides a bievele despite his

It is records of the bicycle show that has been a steady increasing inst in the wheel since the start of war, and trade experts anticipate more bicycles will be sold in Canthis year than ever before. The men of the cycle trade estimate the number of bicycles which will sold in Canada during 1917 will h 100,000.

How U.S. Boys Won Their Einst Datto In Eronco

"To teach the Americans a lesson" was one pu rpose of the German attack northwest of Toul on April 20, so the German prisoners say, but the only lesson connected with the engagement as far as observant editors can see, is that the Yankees can meet about three times their number of German "shock troops" and send them back to their trenches pretty heavily depleted. The German blow was delivered against the junction of the French and American lines by special Sax on "storm troops"—the only first-class units, according to a French authority, east of the Picardy battlefield. Outnumbered enormously, their lines swept by a hurricane of poison-gas and high-explosive shells, Pershing's men exacted a price for every inch of ground they yielded, and ultimately recaptured, by the fiercest kind of hand-to-hand fighting, all they had HOUSEKEEPING IS A BUSINESS. ECONOMICAL COOKING IS A SCIENCE.

Our Consumers' League BY ISABEL C. ARMSTRONG.

SWAT IT NOW!

The editorial page of this paper is to be credited with coining a new phrase, or perhaps more truthfully speaking, writing a parody on a very old one, in advising readers to "consider the fly."

The editorial page's advice has been along the lines of "consider the fly learn of it and be wise." The housekeeper who would merit a reputation for wisdom should be considering the fly very seriously just about this time of year, profiting by experiences of past years. Talk about the way thirtythree thousand of Canada's gallant men were mobilized and overseas within ten weeks after the outbreak of war, or the miracle of organization, whereby Kitchener's new army was summoned from all parts of the Empire to the little, old mother country! Such deeds as these pale into insignificance before the prodigious manner in which the armies of flydom are recruited. One fly scout invader done to death now, according to a learned scientist, is a greater victory achieved than 500,000 successful swatted in mid-summer. Beware then the first buzzy, vicious little fly that hops along, trailing not "clouds of glory," but fith and evil germs on his hairy legs. Don't wait until that one little fly has become a myriad before starting to wage warfare.

DO IT NOW. Get your defences all in readiness. Better adequate window and door screens than many packages of tangle-foot and poison pads, than formidable numbers of units of energy squandered later on in swatting and chasing of the elusive household pests! Better also the spending of money now on the necessary screening than pouring out coin of the realm on nostrums diseases, which the ruthless fly carries along in his deadly pack.

Remember that device which was a part of the provincial exhibit at the London Child Welfare Exhibit in February, the little model standing on one side of the room, showing the travels of the "harmless" little fly? Remembe how that fly arose from the breeding place of filth and started out on its life adventure, gally sipping at garbage cans, tripping over manure heaps, poising over the sputum of tuberculous patients, ambling into the grocer's sugar barrel, alighting in poultry yards, flitting into the house to make a tour of the ing baby, crawling over the face of the little one, unloading there deadly

Do you say that you and your family are quite well in the summer months, even if an occasional fly wanders your way? Even if you haven't contracted diseases through the too close association of Mr. Fly with your nome and food, aren't you too fastidlous to enjoy the idea of eating with your food the filth deposited by Mr. Fly as souvenirs of the different places he

If there is any truth in the adages that "a stitch in time saves nine" "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," the truth is intensified hundreds of times over in the case of the fly. Consider the fly now to swat it and protect your house against it, and a few months hence you will rise up to call your foresightedness blessed.

JANE WIGGINS' KIT-BAG.

Dear Miss Armstrong,—It was nice of you to give me a call a few weeks ago, and echo answers "Here!" But I admit echo is a little slow in replying. But increasing production is a big task, and to "plow the fields and scatter" leaves me scatter-brained.

I wish I had time for half the things that I want to say. Did you notice the nice tribute that Mr. Frank Glass paid to the women in Parliament lately? We naturally agree that it marks him as a REALLY INTELLIGENT MAN. But wasn't it funny to hear some of the representatives of the people still talking about the "safety and eplicity of the Home for Women," And the wonderful respect they had for us before we got so "forward," and how the home is our sphere? You bet it is—so much so that most of us feel homely and spherical when we've had an unadulterated dose of it.

But the thing that tickles me is the talk about our slient influence. Funny, wasn't it, that it the politics of the past no one ever hired halls and brass bands to implore the use of this power—nor came in cabs to get us to exercise it.

Did you notice that the food controller (in a somewhat faint voice) has suggested that we can the can this season? He is no believer in "try, try again," is he? Personally I look upon my jars as "bright gems in my crown," and wish that Kipling would write a new vegetable verse, "The Rhyme of the (Three Hundred and) Three Sealers."

The famous Dr. Wiley takes a sensible view of (self?) preservation—have you read his recent article on the subject? "Woman's Sphere" today seems to extend right round this sphere on which we live, and the only trouble is, How is she going to find TIME to do all that her hands, her head and her feet find waiting for her to do with all her might?

STRETCHING THE HOURS.

Some of us have managed to put 25 hours into the usual 24, now that we have daylight saving. (I love it; don't you?) The elongated light we have daylight saving. (I love it; don't you?) The elongated light means nothing in the young lives of others. But they are the sort of people who were never meant for Time—but for Eternity—and they'll probably travel through on a train that stops at both ends! But have you no words of wisdom for the Housewife's Problem? A great deal is said about the bound of the housewife and the probable of the bound of the housewife's problem? said about the beauty—and the duty—of motherhood, these days. But a certain amount of help is (almost) as necessary to the mothers as to the farmers-and if mothers become as extinct as the Dodo, it won't matter a bit about the farmers.

THE DELIVERED DINNER.

Years ago Charlotte Perkins Gilman, in a little work called "What Diantha Did," suggested a solution of the domestic problem that was distinctly practical—i. e., the delivered dinner—all handed in on your doorstep in thermos containers, the modern version of "hot and hot between two plates," that was delectable in Dickens. In New York this is actually being done; 250 families are being served in this way. Lunch costs 35 cents per head, and dinner 50 cents. The menus are excellent, and if you eliminate the cost of the cook and her meals, and the gas, from the financial budget of an ordinary family, this is not an extravagant price. In half the extra time at her disposal, the housemother might make sufficient cash "on the side" to make up the difference, anyhow. The New York concern is backed by some publicspirited citizens with capital, who are pledged not to make charges that will not them more than a 5 per cent profit. You have started many good things in your columns, and advocated many reforms. In the new conditions forced upon the whole world today, we are all trying to preserve our poise. Wha centrally-controlled meals? What would help us more than self-contained,

SERVICE BY THE HOUR.

The "paid-by-the-hour" house worker would assuredly follow. Now that all jobs (except motherhood!) are interchangeable between men and women, it wouldn't matter much if these dear delightful creatures were men or women. I think so highly of men (after an unadulterated course of hurry), that I believe they could make beds, wash dishes, sweep and dust, as well as even a woman!

Do get some golden opinions on this subject from your readersmunition workers are paid from 15 to 35 cents an hour—why not house workers ditto? Let them wear a uniform, and punch the time clock. But if somebody doesn't come soon to hold up the hands of the housewives, the poor dears will die out.

Perish the thought! Yours to the last meal, JANE WIGGINS.

SELF-CONS ERVATION.

In the past few weeks, we have heard from a number of our readers, starting with Christy Mackenzie, about ways of saving time and strength in their housework which they have learned by experience. Here are a few more ideas along the same line, one "eavesdropped" by the editor, and another

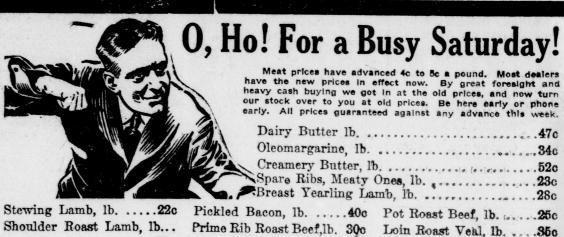

NEVER "FUSSES" FOR VISITORS.

"Yes, the last of my visitors left the end of the week, and I'm trying to get my bedrooms cleaned before any more come," said a capable looking young matron to a friend as they sat down at a table, which was already occupied in "You do have a lot of visitors, and you never seem to be flurried, and to have time for so many other things," said the friend. "Yes," replied the young matron, "I have had visitors for the last ten weeks, with just about time between to change the bedding and freshen up the rooms. But I don't fuss over company any more. When I was first married, t used to worry me terribly if everything was not just as it should be. Now, do my best and give the visitors a welcome, let them understand they are free to entertain themselves, and prepare for them just what I would for my family. With three young children going to school, and no help but my wash woman once a week, I couldn't manage any other way. My idea has always been to be careful and save as much work as possible." been to be careful and save as much work as possible." CLEANING POTS AND PANS.

"The part of housework I always used to dislike most and which seemed "The part of housework I always used to dislike most and which seemed to take up such a lot of time was cleaning pots and pans," writes a "Constant Reader." She adds: "One day I tried an experiment on a pot that got badly burnt, when I was called to the telephone, held there for a long conversation, and in the meantime the fire in the range unexpectedly burned up briskly. I almost felt like throwing that pot away, it looked such a discouraging job. Instead, I shook in some powdered ammonia, filled it up with cold water, and set it over the fire, while I was doing the rest of the dishes. To my amazement and delight, practically all the burnt food, which had been sticking to the pot poured off with the water, and the rest rubbed off with scarcely any effort. pot, poured off with the water, and the rest rubbed off with scarcely any effort. No more hard scraping and scrubbing of sticky, greasy pots and pans for me. I always keep a package of ammonia at my elbow for the 'bad ones.' I have been asked if I don't waste fuel and ammonia. I save an enormous amount of time and energy, and wear and tear on pots and pans, and also manage to keep my hands in decent condition.

PARTY OF INVALIDS

Rushed through so quickly from Halifax that they came practically unannounced, 34 invalided soldiers reached here at 10:40 last night via C. P. R. Under the new system, by which each military district handles its own men, they arrive and disperse to their homes many days sooner than formerly, but frequently there is little time to make known when they will arrive.

Traveling separately, eight or ten men, members of the original first contingent home on furlough, arrived here during the afternoon, in addition to the invalided men who came last night.

None of the officers expected with the party came in. Major C. E. Livingstone of Harriston was in charge, and Capt. Wallace of Ottawa accompanied the men as medical officer. Medical officers are being provided for each party at present, in addition to the conducting officer.

The men reported that they had an extentionally enjoyable trip. They appear to have accomplished the journey in record time, as they left the port of embarkation only a week ago Wednesday, and reached their homes within eight days.

W. C. Kennedy of North Essex Goes After Mergers on White's Say-So.

TAX POOR MAN'S TABLE

D. C. MacKenzie Calls for Removal of Flavelle From Munitions Board.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, May 2.—W. C. Kennedy, the Liberal member for North Essex, made his maiden speech on the budget this evening, and by his effort stamped himself as one of the coming men of the House of Commons. He is one of the "baby members," but a lusty youngster, with ideas, a facile way of expressing them, and the courage of his convictions. way of expressing them, and the courage of his convictions.

He went after the bankers' association, and called the Government to task for allowing, through the mere word of the minister of finance, banks to merge. Ten years ago, he pointed out, there were 34 banking institutions, now there were but nineteen. At this rate, in ten years there would be but three or four banks, with the finances of Canada under the control and direction of possibly a dozen men. This would develop Toronto and Montreal into great financial centres, at the expense of the rest of the country.

Mr. Kennedy paid his respects also to the method of taxing the poor man's table, the last word in bad taxation.

Goes For Flavelle.

D. D. Mackenzie of North Cape Breton, in the course of a startling speech, summed up the history of the Davies company disclosures, and the career of the eminent man, Sir Joseph Wesley Flavelle, who is head of the company, and chairman at the same time of the imperial munities board.

food hoarder.
"Surely the people of Canada have "Surely the people of Canada nave already paid enough for the services of Sir Joseph Flavelle. He declares that he is charging nothing for his services. But he has taken tribute from the people for his plant, and he has been granted a baronetcy. The time is long past due, Mr. Speaker, when this baronet, without qualms of public conscience, should be removed to private life.

Would Be a Good Service.

Get handsome Catalogue B. For home training get Catalogue I.

The body of Irma Pallatinus was right and proper, and to be commended. I do object, however, to the Government refusing to remove the duty on other farm machinery. I believe that the question of free trade and tariff revision should be left in abeyance, until after the war, but what the country needs now, and needs badly, probably worse than the average man understands, is more production. It is the duty of the Government to back up the boys at the front by encouraging in every possible way the agriculturalists of this country on whom so much

These are the men to be made to pay, not the poor man,
"In' Detroit, and I understand other American cities, Canadians are taxed 2 per cent of their income under what is known as an alien tax. I would recommend to the Government that it take up this matter with Washington, and either have this tax removed, as we have no such tax in this country, or have its equivalent here.

The Bank Merger Wave.
"I strongly object to the minister of finance having power to permit the amalgamation of banks without bringing it first to the banking committee."

Direct Beneftis Preferred.

"I heartily approve of the tax on packing plants and cold storages, and while the Government is to receive all the profits over 15 per cent, and half the profits from 7 to 15 per cent, I sincerely hope that the Government will not receive one cent of profit, as I believe that we should so shape legislation that the man earning $2 or $4 a day should be able to live decently, to bring his family up as they should be brought up. It really makes no difference to him whether the profits go to the Government or the packers, so long as he has to pay. It is true that he receives an indirect benefit, but indirect benefits are of little account to a workingman who has to pay $4 a pair for children's shoes, pay for clothing at an equally excessive price, and pay $10 or $12 a ton for coal."

Government's Broken Pledge.

"I condemn the Government for the methods it adopted in handling the military service act. It has broken the pledge solemnly made by the minister of militia and the premier of this country to the agriculturalists, and today our rural communities are disorganized, at the very time there should be Extravagant Financing. "The Government of this country has expended $5,000,000 in raising $400,000,000 by the Victory Loan, an absurd sum, in my judgment. The city of Detroit raised $52,000,000 at a total expense of $6,500. What cost 1 cent there costs $1 in Canada.

costs $1 in Canada.

"Why continue so many boards and commissions which have been appointed by this Government? They are a useless expense to this country.

"I hope that the Government will realize that if it is to receive financial assistance from the people, they must be satisfied that the Government is handling the country's affairs honestly and economically, and that the people are receiving 100 cents for every dollar paid in."

MAYOR DEMANDING SETTLEMENT WITH CIVIC UTILITIES

Wants All Zigzag Accounts Straightened Up At Once.

Mayor C. R. Somerville stated to the tilities commission at its meeting on Thursday that he wanted a settlement of accounts between the city and the commission. He said it was also his intention to have a settlement with the London and Port Stanley Railway. The accounts of these two utilities with the city have been running zlg-zag for some time. No one seems to know just how they stand. It seems that one of the points of difference be-tween the city and the commission is a charge, placed by City Treasurer J. S. Bell, of $20,000 for the property on which the new utilities building stands. Bell, of $26,000 for the property on which the new utilities building stands. The commissioners were of the opin-ion that the accounts should be settled. Secretary O. E. Ellwood will confer with Treasurer J. S. Bell and the fig-ures which each owes will likely be placed before a joint committee. Mayor Somerville will likely go after the L. and P. S. Railway when the opportunity affords.
