GREAT DEMAND FOR HARVEST HELP.

WESTERN FARMERS WANT MEN FOR LATE HARVEST—C. P. R. WILL RUN EXTRA EXCURSION.

Although several thousand men have gone west on earlier excursions the demand for harvest help still considerably exceeds the supply, latest advices from Winnipeg stating that farmers everywhere are short-handed. Despite rumors of frost and short crops, their is well-paid work in the field for all comers. A last opportunity for laborers is offered by the Canadian Pacific, which has arranged to run an extra Farm Laborers' Excursion to Winnipeg, leaving all Ontario stations, east and west, Tuesday, September 17th. Same conditions will apply as on earlier excursions, going trip $12.00; return for $18.00 additional, after at least one month's work harvesting. Full particulars can be obtained from C. P. R. agents and from C. B. Foster, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

VOTER'S LIST NOTICE.

NOTICE is hereby given that a Court will be held pursuant to "The Ontario Voters' List Act," by his honor the Judge of the County Court of the County of Bruce, in the Town Hall, Mildmay, on Friday, the twenty-seventh day of September, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon to hear and determine the several complaints of errors and omissions in the Voters' Lists of the Municipality of Carrick for the year 1907.

All persons having business at the Court are required to attend at the said time and place.

Dated this 6th day of September 1907.
JOHN A. JOHNSTON,
Township Clerk.

BORN.

DAHMS—In Carrick, on August 31, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dahms, a son.

KUENZIG—In Carrick, on August 30th, to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kuenzig, a son.

BOY WANTED—To learn baking. $100 a year and board. Apply at once to Hy. Keclan, Mildmay.

—Mrs. Graham and son, Ormand, have returned to Indiana after spending five weeks at her mother's, Mrs. N. Vollick.

—Mrs. Clarence Kirkpatrick and son, of Hamilton, and Miss Jennie Wilson of Walkerton, paid a short visit to their uncle, Rev. J. R. Wilson. Miss Jennie has gone to New York City to take a nurse's training course in the Roosevelt hospital.

—Valentine Wissler and Philip Hoffman had a lawsuit at the Division Court at Walkerton last Thursday. Wissler sued for the price of some timber he had purchased on the Hoffman farm, which, he alleged, was destroyed by a fire set out by Hoffman. Wissler was allowed damages to the extent of $79.10. The costs of the case were $22.79.

Clifford.

Remember Clifford Fair on Wednesday and Thursday, October 2nd and 3rd. More attractive prize list than heretofore.

The two Misses Miller, daughters of Councillor Miller of Carrick, visited at Mr. Conrad Miller's last week.

Miss Edna Brown, who has been here since her brother's funeral, started on return to the West on Friday.

Mrs. Kugler and daughter, and Mrs. Thompson, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. H. Wendt, returned to their home in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schurter of Driftwood, Oklahoma, are visiting at Mr. Robert Rollinson's in the village, and renewing acquaintanceships in the neighborhood. Mr. Schurter has lands just adjoining the southern part of Kansas in Oklahoma. He speaks highly of the country, and has had an abundant share of prosperity, now owning 480 acres of land, which is as valuable as land here. The harvest is long past over there.

THERE IS SCRIPTURE FOR IT.

Old Dad Spulpin is a mean man—there's no use of talking. He had some youngsters picking plums for him all week, and he docked them for what they devoured.

Dad has never heard of that passage of Scripture which says that we are not to muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. Surely the child picking berries in the patch or pulling peaches or plums has a right to as much as he can eat, even as the ox has a right to take a mouthful of corn every now and then as he goes on his rounds.

But there be millions who never taste the fruits of their own toil.

They haven't time to sit down and enjoy the peach that they planted and grew. They wouldn't think of eating a plate of strawberries and cream, the fruit of their own fields. They never kill one of their own chickens and eat it, and they never roast a duck.

After all, a big injustice is done some people. Many folks complain that the rich boss is hard on them, but as a matter of fact the hired man lives better than his master. In thousands of cases he is better off than his employer. By the time the boss pays his wages bill and expenses he hasn't a cent to bless himself with. No one lives so extravagantly as the hired man.

It is the hired man's wife who buys creamery butter at 40 cents a pound, who gets her potatoes by the peck, and has her sirloin steak brought in by the butcher boy.

They will always be poor. The boss is the ox that treadeth out the corn. He is the only one in the whole caboodle who wears a muzzle, and if he didn't the rest of them wouldn't need a muzzle, for there would be nothing to eat.

We have got so far away from serfdom that to-day the hired man is better off than his employer.

When I see two men working in a field I spot the man with worn and anxious face and the hair prematurely grey for the boss, while the debonaire person, with the silver finger ring, and the silk shirt and the rolled-gold watch, is the hired man. He has no worries or cares; he lives on the best and he is not muzzled.—The Khan.

GOOD ROADS.

Fifty years ago there was some excuse for bad roads, for our country was poor. Now it is rich there is no excuse. A good road is always to be desired and is a source of comfort and convenience to every traveller. Good roads attract population, as well as good schools and churches. Good roads improve the value of property, so that it is said a farm lying five miles from market connected by a bad road is of less value than an equally good farm connected by a good road. A larger load can be easier drawn by one horse over a good road than by two over a bad one. Good roads encourage the greater exchange of products and commodities between one section and another. Good roads are of great value to railroads as feeders.

Thomas Clark, a farmer of Brantford township, was killed by a traction engine crashing through a bridge.

Teeswater and Local Option.

A curious case arising out of the local option campaign of last winter was brought before Hon. Mr. Hanna last Thursday morning by a deputation from Teeswater.

The vote on the question of local option took place on Jan. 7, with a poll of 135 for and 89 against. The majority being exceedingly close, the opposing interests demanded a scrutiny and recount, which were granted. This took place about Feb. 1, before Judge Malcolmson of Walkerton, when it was discovered that the cross on one of the ballots had been placed on the line between "yes" and "no." This ballot, however, was counted in the negative, on the ground that cross inclined slightly towards "no." But the inclination was so slight and perceived with such difficulty by the ordinary observer that a magnifying-glass was used to settle the difficulty. Even then a majority of precisely 60 per cent. existed in favor of the by-law.

But a very curious state of affairs was soon after developed, when two ballot papers, one containing the initials of the returning officer and the other the voter's cross, were observed to be stuck together. It was evident that the returning officer had handed the voter two ballot papers so fastened together, and that neither party was blame-worthy. The legality of this ballot, which voted "yes," was called in question and Judge Malcolmson threw it out, in pursuance of a decision rendered by Judge McLennan, sitting as a single judge as court of appeal in the Huron election case.

The result of this ruling was that the by-law was defeated by precisely two-fifths of a vote. Sometime subsequent the government despatched telegrams to the license commissioners throughout the province, requesting them not to issue licenses wherever local option bylaws had been defeated on technicalities. But in this instance the commissioners granted licenses to three houses in Teeswater, with the subsequent explanation that this had been done before this request reached them. These licenses will expire on April 30 next, and the deputation wished to obtain from the Government, through Mr. Hanna, an assurance that no licenses will be permitted in Teeswater next year and afterwards.

They also desired to know whether the policy of the government in respect to this question generally was unchanged. The deputation maintained that the Teeswater bylaw had clearly been defeated on what was practically a pure technicality.

In his reply, Hon. Mr. Hanna assured them that this matter would be closely examined. The complaint made was really to the effect that, although they had obtained 60 per cent. of the legal vote cast, they had been robbed of the fruits of their victory upon a pure technicality.

SUCCESSFUL STUDENTS.

The following is a list of students from Alberta College who have been successful in the examination held here in July by the Toronto college of music, and the Toronto Conservatory of Music: Primary piano, first-class honors—Miss Thera Oium, Miss Vinetta Butchart; honors—Miss Eva Howie; pass—Miss Eva Steenes. First piano examination, first-class honors—Miss Muriel Wilson (Strathcona); honors—Miss Ruth Somersall (Strathcona); pass—Miss Annie Symon. Second piano examination, first-class honors—Miss Hazel Anderson; honors—Miss Mabel Grant (Strathcona). Third piano, examination (final), honors—Miss Hazel Anderson.—Edmonton Bulletin.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Culleton and Charles Bedard of New York, are visiting relatives here.

—Rev. Wilson is under the weather this week with a very heavy cold. He is handicapped for the busy weeks he has ahead of him.

—Thirteen tickets were sold at the station yesterday for Port Elgin, where an Evangelical Sunday School convention is being held.

It is quite sure that the next Federal election will be a hot one. With campaign literature already in circulation, and politicians stumping the country, there certainly is every reason to suppose that there will be big doings once it is really on.

CURRENT TOPICS.

Perhaps it is fortunate that we have the London Lancet and other medical and scientific journals to fall back on in our leisurely studious moments, or else we should drift along in blissful ignorance of our follies, our extravagances, our disregard of the simplicity that is pronounced necessary to health and happiness. Occasionally the Lancet, recognizing pitying our infirmities, condescends to sympathize with human weakness, and even goes to the extremity of encouraging us in our dispositions.

Physiological scientists tell us brutally that in the matter of nutrition we make a serious mistake when we order expensive food; that turtle soup is not only expensive but valueless from a nutritive point of view; that 200 oysters have not the sustaining quality of a pound of beef; that a pint of beer is much more nourishing than a small bottle of expensive claret, and that there is no difference, chemically speaking, between a 5 cent and a 50 cent cigar. Hence our error extends not merely to the punctate necessities but to the comparative luxuries and vices of the table. We have hypnotized ourselves into the belief that we are really getting what we pay for in good results of sustenance and easy digestion, as well as in pleasure of the palate.

And here the Lancet comes ably to the rescue of the epicure, and the scientist, with his prosy discussion of protein and nutritive values, is put to flight. It points out convincingly, at least to the good liver, that the operation of the mind has not a little to do with good digestion and, consequently, with the nutrition afforded. Of what value is a pound of beef to the person who abhors beef and whose palate craves oysters? Why should a man of adequate means drink the beer he may dislike when he prefers a more expensive port? In short, cold facts of chemical analysis do not take into consideration the matter of digestive operation as influenced by the bent of the mind, for, as the Lancet says in conclusion, "when food does not appeal to the eye it is likely not to appeal to the stomach."

A majority of people in this world do not listen to the warnings of the scientists or read the Lancet, but content themselves with eating and drinking as their tastes dictate, and profiting or suffering accordingly. Hence these discussions of food values never reach or molest them. But to the sensitive few who are anxious to do the right thing and yet wish occasionally to indulge the caprices of the palate there is a store of comfort in the conclusions of the Lancet and in the confirmation of the old saying that what may be one man's meat may be another man's poison. It is pleasant to know on high authority that the proscribed article willingly eaten serves a better purpose than the prescribed food swallowed with a protest. Again the mind asserts itself over the body and "good digestion waits on appetite."

LABORER AND KING.

An Incident Which Shows the Good Side of George III.

When George III. of England, in 1788, made his tour through the southern counties, his progress was not that of a monarch, but of a squire, to whom fresh air and exercise were necessities of daily life. "Society in the Country House" narrates that the King inquired about Addison's birthplace, and found his pleasure in visiting places enriched by literary associations. He refused to be fêted, and stipulated that there should be no state entertainments.

During this journey the King gave a proof of his kindness and courage. He had recently visited Berkeley Castle. In conversation with his companion, on Edward II.'s murder in that building the King seemed wholly preoccupied. A minute or two later, with the remark that he would ride on a little by himself, he spurred his horse, and met a laborer riding by the side of a wagon. Attempting to steer his horse between the rider and the cart, the King was somehow hit on the leg by the rider, and nearly precipitated into the wagon.

Manners, his companion, seeing the accident, quickly rode up. Doubling the thong of his hunting-crop, he lifted it against the man, exclaiming, "You scoundrel! Don't you see it is the King?" The countryman, petrified with surprise, remained speechless, and in imminent peril of the courtier's lash.

"Don't strike him on any account!" exclaimed the sovereign. "My knee is hurt a little, but it is altogether an accident, and will do me no real harm." On reaching the next stage, his Majesty insisted on himself applying the liniment which had been procured. It proved to be a severe and painful contusion; but the King would not confess himself disabled, and continued the journey as if nothing had occurred to interrupt it.

About the House

FAVORITE DISHES.

Puffed Potatoes.—Cut baked potatoes in halves, lengthwise, and carefully remove contents; mash thoroughly, adding warm milk, butter, and salt; beat until light. Fill the half shells heaping full and place on baking tin in a hot oven until lightly browned.

Canned Blueberries.—Take one cup of blueberries to two cups of pieplant; cut in small pieces; add three-quarter cups of sugar, and stew until pieplant is soft. Put in cans, airtight. It is excellent for pies or table use, as the pieplant takes away that flat taste of the blueberries.

Mayonnaise Without Oil.—Put one cup of milk and four tablespoonfuls of butter in a pan on the back of stove where the butter will melt, but not cook. Beat three eggs, add one teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of flour, one tablespoonful of sugar, one teaspoonful of mustard, and a dash of cayenne pepper. Mix thoroughly and strain into the milk. Put all over a hotter place on the stove and add a half cup of vinegar slowly, stirring constantly. When thick as custard, remove from the stove and beat for a few moments. This dressing will keep for a month in a cool place.

Surprise Salad.—Make a jelly of seasoned vinegar and gelatine, coloring it with green fruit coloring. Pour into saucers, having tumblers inverted upon them. Let it set, and then remove the tumblers. Fill spaces with cabbage salad and chopped nuts or with celery, apples, and nuts.

Attractive Lunch Dish.—Take nice, sweet salt pork and freshen. Place in spider and fry till brown. Remove from fire and dip in batter made of one egg well beaten, half cup sweet milk, pinch of salt, baking powder and flour; to make a good batter. Return to spider and fry a golden brown.

Spaghetti.—Boil together one and a half pounds of hamburger steak, one can tomatoes, two onions chopped fine, two large green peppers chopped, and pepper and salt to taste. Cook one and one-half hours. Boil one package of spaghetti in separate kettle; cook until tender; drain the spaghetti dry and put on a large meat platter. Spread the pot of meat and vegetables next, as a layer, and sprinkle grated cheese on top.

Novel Luncheon Course.—Lay on each plate a leaf of lettuce. On this set a little cup made of wheat flour. Fill with chopped pineapple, orange, cherries, or any fruit in season. Pour over all a good mayonnaise dressing.

Luncheon Dish.—Pare four large, firm cucumbers, cut lengthwise, and place in cold, salted water for an hour. Stew in a shallow stew pan in clear, boiling water until transparent. Lift carefully so as not to break or make messy, and lay each piece on a slice of brown, buttered toast. Make a sauce or dressing of milk and butter with a little cornstarch; pour over and serve hot.

Salad Dressing.—To four eggs beaten light add one-half cup melted butter, one heaping teaspoon German prepared mustard, four tablespoons vinegar, one tablespoon sugar, one tablespoon salt, and one-half tablespoon black pepper. Boil all together or add cream after the rest is boiled. If it curdles take the egg beater and beat the mixture till smooth.

Preserve Eggs.—For every three gallons of water add one pint of well salted lime, one-half pint common salt. Mix well, put in a jar or keg, and put in fresh eggs; the shells must not be cracked. When fresh eggs are put in they will come out fresh. If kept six months or longer. They must at all times be kept under the brine.

Traveler's Lunch.—Fry slices of ham as for the table. Put through the meat chopper, then return to the frying pan with the drippings from the frying. Heat and mix thoroughly, pack in a fruit jar or something convenient to carry and you have material for sandwiches.

Cabbage Salad.—For dressing use four eggs, well beaten, with three-quarters cup vinegar. Next, mix one-half cup sugar, one teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful dry mustard, one teaspoonful pepper. Add the eggs and vinegar to the above mixture, with a lump of butter. Cook in a double boiler till thick. Pour while hot over a crock containing two-thirds cabbage and one-third celery.

Crown Roast.—Use about five pounds of lamb roast, such as is used for chops. Have the butcher trim off the ends as for French chops, and fasten together to form a crown. Put in a roasting pan with the trimmed end up and roast until tender. When there is danger of the ends burning too much before the meat is done wrap a clean cloth around them. Put lettuce leaves in the centre of a platter large enough to set the crown on; line it with large lettuce leaves to extend to the top, and fill it with creamed green peas. Decorate the rough outside edges of the crown with rose radishes and garnish the platter with parsley.

"Rose Radishes."—Cut the skin from the end to the top of the radishes, in narrow strips, and put in ice water for about an hour before using. They will open out like little roses.

Bacon on Toast.—Toast some bread; keep hot. Fry bacon and put one piece on toast, two slices of tomato, salt, pepper, another slice of toast. Fry an onion in the bacon drippings and pour in a pint or more milk; thicken, pour over the toast, and serve hot.

Good Cup of Tea.—Fill the teapot with boiling water ten minutes before it is needed. Pour out this water and put in a scant teaspoonful of tea for each cup of boiling water poured over it. Do not wash out a teapot, but rinse it. The pot should hold the aroma of the tea.

Dutch Stew.—Take the small pieces of a beef roast, or any kind of beef meat, cut in small pieces, add celery salt or an onion, as desired, a small lump of butter, and stew all together. When done thicken; have some slices of bread toasted, turn over the stew, and you have an appetizing dish.

USEFUL HINTS.

Drive Mice Away.—A bag covered with cayenne peppers stuffed in a hole will cause the mice to migrate to other quarters.

To Keep Music Book Open.—To keep a hymnbook or other book of music open on the piano rack, lay across the bottom a bar of solder, covered with ribbon fringed and tied at each end.

Be Your Own Carpenter.—Save money by buying a few carpenter's tools and make your own light-furniture, such as magazine racks, umbrella stands, shirt waist ironing boards, and many other useful articles. A neat finish is made by painting dead or jet black.

Home Made Ink.—Take one 15 cent package of gray silk dye; dissolve in one pint of boiling water, and mix thoroughly. Set aside to cool and the ink will be ready for use. It is removed easily with hot water if spilled on one's clothes.

Care of Umbrella.—Always unroll an umbrella when not in use. After it becomes wet open and dry. When dry, stand with handle down. This method prevents cracking silk.

Clogged Chimney.—When your wash-board becomes old, cut up the zinc, and on a day when you have a good fire, put it in the stove, throw back all the dampers, and it will clean out all the soot.

Troublesome Flies.—When there are children in the family, have a carpenter divide the back screen door at the cross piece, near the centre of the door, so that only the lower part opens when the children go in or out. The flies settle near the top of the door, so this arrangement keeps out a great many flies. There is a narrow strip of wood fastened to the lower end of the upper part of the door, which overlaps the lower part, so that the whole door opens when pushed or pulled above the division line.

Bookkeeping for Housewife.—Young brides and also housekeepers who find it hard to live within their incomes will find this system helpful to them: Have a book in which to keep account of everything you buy each day. Start with pay day, and on the right hand page mark C. O. H., meaning "cash on hand." Underneath write how much money you have, and on the other side the date of the month and the day. Write down everything you buy that day. Also put aside 10 cents each day for your gas bill. Every week when you get your house money put a certain amount away for your rent. In this way you will never run short when rent day comes, and the 10 cents each day almost will pay the gas bill and you never will miss the dime. The change that is left at the end of the week put away for your pin money. You will find the system interesting and also economical. There are lots of little things a woman will buy that she does not need so when you look your little book over each evening you will see them and try to be more saving each day.

CHINESE AS SERVANTS.

Majority are Apt to Disregard Contracts.

There is no doubt that, with the shortage of labor, Chinese servants have become very exacting, says the Victoria (B. C.) Colonist. They all want to become cooks, and, as every one knows, there are other household duties for which help is needed quite as much as for cooking. Besides, there is a distinct tendency on the part of Chinese servants to disregard all contracts which they make with their employers. They leave on short notice, and very many of them are utterly insensible to any kind of responsibility. The shortage of labor is enabling us to see the Chinaman in his true light, and there is plenty of evidence that if he is allowed to control the domestic service of the province our homes would soon be in the hands of a union of Orientals, with whom we have almost nothing in common. It would be a fool's paradise into which we would enter if the prayer for the free admission of Chinese as servants were complied with. It is proper to add that among Chinamen there are many who appreciate their obligations towards their employers, men of good, sterling honesty, whose word can be absolutely relied on. But such are in the small minority. It would be exceedingly bad policy for the housewives of British Columbia to entrust their domestic welfare in the hands of irresponsible Chinamen and this is just what would happen if the request for their free admission into Canada were complied with.

SOME CURIOUS SPOONS.

Uses to Which they Were Put by People a Few Centuries Ago.

We are familiar nowadays with spoons of many shapes intended for every variety of purpose, but some old-fashioned styles are now merely curiosities. There is the old-fashioned marrow spoon, for instance, which was used for extracting marrow from bones. It was made double, one end being used for small bones and the other for those of larger bore.

Another example is the mulberry spoon. This has a perforated bowl and a spiked and pointed handle, says the London Globe. The implements were made for use in a day when mulberries were much more commonly eaten than they are at the present time. With the perforated bowl a little sugar was sprinkled on the berry, which was then conveyed to the mouth on the spiked end of the handle.

The introduction of tea led to the making of a variety of new kinds of spoons, including the necessary teaspoon itself, some of which still remain in use, while others have disappeared. At South Kensington may be seen, for example, a curious collection of the little scoops so well known to our great-grandmothers as "caddy spoons." Tea caddies of the old-fashioned kind have long been superseded, and when the caddy with its two-lidded and metal lined end compartments and the sugar bowl in the cavity between went out of use the caddy spoon or scoop disappeared also.

Another obsolete curiosity is the snuff spoon, which, in the days when nearly everybody took snuff, and took it everywhere, was used for conveying the scented powder from the box to the hand, or in some cases direct to the nose. Candle spoons and pap spoons also are out of date. A Llangollen gentleman a few months ago, wrote in a Shropshire paper that he had in his possession a silver pap spoon which had been originally given by the Marquis of Exeter to a member of the Hoggins family of Bolas. The possessor of this spoon remarked that it had been given to him by his father, with the wish that it should be handed over to the first married in each succeeding generation, for as such it had come to him through the intermarriage of the two families in years gone by.

Three hundred years ago there was one at Ilford, in Essex, which held more than a quart. Others of more legitimate make were such as the curious combination implement with which folk of that date were familiar. When most people still dipped their fingers into the general dish to help themselves to meat, more dainty diners carried about with them an implement which was a combination of spoon and fork and toothpick. The fork was at the base of the spoon, while the handle of the double article was finished off with a little figure terminal, which served as handle for the toothpick. The terminal figure was a very favorite form of spoon ornamentation.

It is most familiar in the Apostle spoons, of which original sets fetch such high prices and of which latterday imitations are so abundant; but the figures were by no means confined to the Apostles. In some cases the spoons were curiously finished with double heads, which can hardly have conducted, one would think, to convenience of handling. A curious but decidedly unpleasant form of ornament gave its name to the "death's head" spoon, which was made for commemorative purposes—a very unattractive kind of "memento mori."

BABY'S HOLD ON LIFE.

Baby's Own Tablets cost 25 cents a box. A box bought now may save your baby's life. Summer complaints come often without warning, and thousands of little ones die from them every summer. If children's stomach and bowels are kept in order there is little danger of these troubles, and that is just what Baby's Own Tablets do. They are good for the new born baby or the well grown child—and they are absolutely safe. Give your child an occasional dose of Tablets and you will keep it well. If you have not got a box of Tablets in the house now, send for them at once, and you may feel that your little ones are safe. Mrs. Wm. Parrott, Myrtle, Ont., says: "My little boy suffered greatly from colic, and cried almost continuously. A few doses of the Tablets cured him, and now I give the Tablets occasionally to prevent the trouble returning." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SPOILS OF AUSTRIAN COURT.

How They are Divided Among the Attendants Upon Royalty.

Court etiquette in Austria is more stringent than in other European courts. The attendants come in for large perquisites, as comestible articles are never allowed to appear twice on the royal tables. It must be a good thing to be one of these attendants, as to one man falls all the uncooked bottles, to another the wine left in the glasses, and the game, fish, and sweets are equally divided in the same way. Each morning a market is held in the basement of the palace, where the Viennese come to purchase the remains of the banquet.

This custom is a revival of one that obtained great favor in the Middle Ages. Then the great lords of the land were not above accepting the remains of a feast and the Lord Chancellor was entitled to the ends of one large candle and forty small ones each day. He in his turn made capital of this perquisite and undoubtedly his exchequer was greatly increased by it at the end of the year.

MAN-A-LIN

Copyright 1906, by The Manalix Co.

MAN-A-LIN Is An Excellent Remedy for Constipation.

There are many ailments directly dependent upon constipation, such as biliousness, discolored and pimpled skin, inactive liver, dyspepsia, overworked kidneys and headache.

Remove constipation and all of these ailments disappear.

MAN-A-LIN can be relied upon to produce a gentle action of the bowels, making pills and drastic cathartics entirely unnecessary.

A dose or two of Man-a-lin is advisable in slight febrile attacks, la grippe, colds and influenza.

COLD PLATES AND HOT PLATES.

Many of the Former Still Found, But the Latter, Happily, Spreading.

"We still find," said Mr. Plugginton, "many cold plates. Lots of people seem to regard hot plates as a superfluity, or even as an affectation of style that is not to be encouraged, and so give you cold plates to eat hot food from; thus really spoiling many a good meal."

"I ate dinner yesterday at a place where the food is excellent and admirably cooked, where everything they give you is good and appetizing and ample in supply, but where the joy of the meal was marred by cold plates."

Just why they give you cold plates at this place I don't know, but it is simply the survival of an ancient custom, I guess.

"For hot plates are a modern custom. Formerly people got along very well without them; but it is different now, when it is so easy to provide them, and yet they are by no means, even to-day, everywhere to be found."

"You might eat to-day at the abundant, the well supplied and well-equipped table of a family whose every member was the personification of kindly grace and hospitality, and yet find here your food served to you on cold plates; rugged people, these, by whom, out of some feeling bred in the days when luxuries were less common, hot plates would still be considered as a mark of concession to effeminacy. And by such a reason, indeed, might the cold plates be accounted for in some small hotels, off the beaten track, though in many another hotel their presence is due simply to slackness, indifference or a failure to rise to modern conditions."

"But the hot plate, by no means a sign of degeneracy, but one marking simply and rationally a desire to rise to our privileges, is everywhere spreading; it will some day everywhere prevail, and meanwhile when we eat where it has not yet come let us be grateful then for the food."

THEN IT'S DIFFERENT.

"Life," remarked the man who comments on things, "is just what we make it."

"Which goes to show," replied Senator Badger, "that you never tried to run for office and placed yourself in the hands of your friends."

SERUM TO BAFFLE TYPHOID.

German Physicians Discover New Cure After Experiments.

Abdominal typhoid fever need no longer be feared if the new serum produced by Drs. Meyer and Bergell, of Berlin, Germany, in the laboratory of Prof. von Leyden fulfills all expectations. It is learned that the professor himself is virtually convinced of its efficacy. He explained that the typhoid serum discovered some time ago gave remarkable results in rendering human beings immune from typhoid.

It was found, however, when the serum was injected in the course of an attack of the disease the patient invariably succumbed. He and his collaborators thereupon set to work to find out the causes of the fatal effect. These were eventually traced to toxins in dead typhoid bacilli contained in the original serum.

Efforts were then directed toward obtaining a serum absolutely free from protoplasm. After two years of arduous experiments, horses being used as subjects for inoculation, a serum was produced in which the organic matter had been decomposed by means of murtic acid and low temperatures.

Human patients were subjected to injections of this with the result in several instances of splendid effects. Some cures were effected even in severe cases, and one patient, although badly attacked, after two injections within seven days, was completely cured except for the ensuing weakness.

Prof. V. n. Leyden is anxious for the serum to undergo a crucial test of a serious epidemic of typhoid before pronouncing final judgment.

A Cure for Rheumatism.—The intrusion of uric acid into the blood vessels is a fruitful cause of rheumatic pains. This irregularity is owing to a deranged and unhealthy condition of the liver. Anyone subject to this painful affection will find a remedy in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Their action upon the kidneys is pronounced and most beneficial, and by restoring healthy action, they correct impurities in the blood.

A young man who was to be married in church to a Miss Way, after a courtship of four years, privately requested the choir not to open the service by singing, "This is the Way I long have sought."

No Alcohol in It.—Alcohol or any other volatile matter which would impair strength by evaporation does not in any shape enter into the manufacture of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Nor do climatic changes affect it. It is as serviceable in the Arctic Circle as in the Torrid Zone, perhaps more useful in the higher latitudes, where man is more subject to colds from exposure to the elements.

"Young man," said the serious gentleman, "did you ever pause and think that each tick of the clock brings you another moment nearer to the end of your existence?" "I was thinking of something of that kind this very minute," cheerfully replied the youth, "only the idea struck me that each tick brought pay-day that much nearer."

ISSUE NO. 33-97.

AN ANGLER'S ELYSIUM.

According to advertisements all summer resorts are alike. They are the best ever—but if fishing is better anywhere else than it is in "Georgian Bay" we do not know where it is. There is a greater variety of fish in this water than anywhere else, and they are always hungry. No one ever counted the fish in the Georgian Bay, but those that have been caught there have been counted and eaten, and if you read the Government reports on fisheries, you know that Georgian Bay supplies more fish than any other equal body of water in the world. The only place you can afford to fish is where the fish are numerous, big and delicious in flavor, and that place is Georgian Bay—so the fishermen say. Suppose you send for booklet, issued by Grand Trunk Railway System, free, telling about the home of the bass, pickerel, pike and the noble trout family. Address J. D. McDonald, Union Station, Toronto, Ont.

Elsie—"No, but mother would. She's the whole thing in this family."

Impurities in the Blood.—When the action of the kidneys becomes impaired—impurities in the blood are almost sure to follow, and general derangement of the system ensues. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will regulate the kidneys, so that they will maintain healthy action and prevent the complications which certainly come when there is derangement of these delicate organs. As a restorative these Pills are in the first rank.

Two young men were having a heated argument over a problem which needed a great deal of mental calculation. "I tell you," said one, "that you are entirely wrong." "But I am not," said the other. "Didn't I go to school, stupid?" almost roared his opponent. "Yes," was the calm reply; "and you came back stupid." That ended it.

COMMERCIAL EXPANSION.

The year 1906 will be a notable one in the commercial annals of the entire world. Not only has the business of all countries enormously increased, but all industries have received orders on very remunerative conditions.

Cucumbers and melons are "forbidden fruit" to many persons so constituted that the least indulgence is followed by attacks of cholera, dysentery, griping, etc. These persons are not aware that they can indulge to their heart's content if they have on hand a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, a medicine that will give immediate relief, and is a sure cure for all summer complaints.

PEOPLE'S WAYS ON STAIRS.

The Thoughtless Man Who Monopolizes the Narrow Stairway.

"It disturbs me always," said a quick moving man, "when I'm climbing a pair of stairs just wide enough for two to find ahead of me a man walking up squarely in the middle, where nobody can pass him on either side, thus practically monopolizing the whole stairway. I am not disturbed primarily because his walking thus keeps me from going ahead past him, though that does disturb me some, but because of the evident thoughtlessness of others that he is walking so reveals. I hate to see thoughtless people. This man sees ahead of him nobody coming down, the stairway there is clear, and that's as far as he thinks. The ostrich buries its head in the sand and thinks that thereby it wholly conceals itself—the man going up the middle of the stairs sees the way clear ahead and never thinks that somebody may be coming up behind."

"I dodge to one side, thinking that perhaps I can get past him there, but only to find him, quite by chance, of course, swaying to that side and so blocking me there; and then I try the other side, there to be blocked in the same way and to become, I confess, by this time somewhat irritated. But there is nothing for me to do then but to keep my temper and follow the man in the middle until he steps clear of the stairs on the platform, where there is room to pass him."

"The fact is that the man mounting the stairs in this way in the middle may be doing this from innate piggishness; he may be one of those men who naturally pig everything in sight. But the very best that can be said for him is that he is a thoughtless man, a man who habitually thinks only of himself, and for such a man I have no use. I wouldn't hire him for any sort of a job for the man thoughtless of other people could certainly never get anything out of them and so would not be profitable."

Watkins—"The De Robinsons are giving a big dance next month. I wish they'd invite me." Roberts—"Do you? Then I'll tell you a scheme that generally works. You drop in some night and tell Mrs. De Robinson that you'll be out of town all next month. See if they don't invite you then."

There can be a difference of opinion on most subjects, but there is only one opinion as to the reliability of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It is safe, sure and effectual.

YOUR HEALTHY COMPLEXION.

A daily bath in cold or tepid water is an indispensable aid in keeping the skin of the body in good condition. The complexion also very often suffers from insufficient washing in pure water. It is impossible for those of us who live in large towns to keep the complexion quite as blooming and healthy as the inhabitants of country districts, but more care might frequently be taken to wash off the smuts that help to clog the pores of the skin. Use hot rainwater, if it is possible to procure it, with two or three spoonfuls of oatmeal thrown in to soften the water. Next proceed to thoroughly massage the face with some good soap and a firm sponge, then rinse the skin in another basin of cold water, into which has been poured a few drops of eau-de-cologne or alcohol, finally rubbing into the face and neck a little lanolin or cold cream.

HOW DIVERS ARE TRAINED.

Schools in England—How Science Has Helped Them to Work in the Sea.

The Admiralty trains divers, and every British warship carries at least one representative of the craft and frequently more. There are training schools at Portsmouth, Devonport and Sheerness. One of the difficulties with which divers have to contend is probably not realized by a landsman, namely, that the greater the depth the greater is the pressure of water on the man's body and the greater the labor and exhaustion of working. The naval authorities limit their men to a depth of 120 feet. The greatest depth to which a man has descended is said by Siebe to have been 204 feet, and the pressure at that depth was extraordinary, namely, 88½ pounds to the square inch. One wonders how any human being could stand it. Twelve fathoms, or about seventy feet, would be enough for most men. The ears and nose would probably begin to bleed and the pressure on the head would be very serious. A practised diver can, of course, descend much deeper without such unpleasant sensations.

His dress costs more than a hundred pounds; it is of tanned willow and rubber and made in one piece, with a big opening at the neck. The helmet is of copper and screws on to the shoulders so tightly that the water cannot penetrate the joint. Air is pumped down to him by a pipe made of canvas, and rubber and outlet valves, which only open outwardly, are placed at convenient places to permit the vitiated air to escape. These valves are extremely important, as by them the diver can regulate his supply of air.

In addition to this pipe the diver has a lifeline enabling him to communicate with his assistants above water. This was formerly done by a series of con-cerled tugs or jerks on the line, but the method is being superseded as a means of communication by the telephone, the wires being conveyed by the lifeline. He therefore touches the button and talks as if he were in the city.

Another great improvement is the use of the electric lamp, though in some West Indian waters a diver can see clearly for some distance. In other waters again the darkness is intense twenty or thirty feet down. The weight of the dress is extraordinary and is necessary to enable the diver to maintain his stability. His helmet weighs considerably over a quarter of a hundred weight, and his boots, taken together, about as much, while if these be not sufficient he claps lead upon his shoulders.

Get Your Roofs Shingled Right
It's Less Money And Less Work
Tools A-Plenty

You can put on a roof that will last a hundred years and be the right kind of a roof every minute. Or you can put on a ten-year roof that will probably leak after the first rain hits it, and keep leaking till it is rotted away.

Either roof will cost you about the same in money at the start. But the "Oshawa" shingled roof will be FIRE-PROOF—literally; and wind-proof—actually; and lightning-proof—positively. That's the hundred-year roof! And that "Oshawa" shingled roof will be weather-proof for a century. We'll GUARANTEE in every way for a quarter-century—from now till Nineteen-Thirty-Two.

Guaranteed in writing for 25 years—and you needn't ever paint it, even! That's saying something, isn't it? What would your mill-man say if you asked him to guarantee cedar shingles for even ten years? He certainly would make remarks! And even the best cedar-shingled roof will be leaking badly inside of ten years. Seven out of ten of them leak the first time it rains. No wood-shingled roof is fire-proof for a minute, and the first high wind that catches a loose shingle—woosh! goes half your shingled roof over into the next township.

Yet cedar shingles cost you just about the price of these guaranteed "Oshawa" Shingles—28 gauge tough-ened steel, double galvanized—good and wind-and-weather-proof and lightning-proof. Four-dollars-and-a-half a square buys "Oshawa" Galvanized Steel Shingles—ten feet by ten feet. Compare that with the present price of cedar shingles—how does it strike you? And you can put on these "Oshawa" Galvanized Steel Shingles yourself, easily, with no tools but a claw-hammer and snips. Simplest thing you know—can't get 'em on wrong. "Oshawa" Shingles lock on all four sides—whole roof is practically one sheet of double-galvanized steel that never needs painting.

And GUARANTEED—don't overlook that. Guaranteed in writing, over the seal of a company with a quarter-million capital—guaranteed in plain English, without any ifs or buts, for 25 long years. That's the argument in a nutshell—cost the same as wood-shingles; fire-proof, water-proof, rust-proof, lightning-proof; easier to put on; and GUARANTEED. That's the "Oshawa" proposition! Tell us the measurement of any roof, and we'll tell you exactly what it will cost to roof it with less work and for less money.

Plenty of facts that concern your pocket-book come to you as soon as you ask for our free book, "Roofing Right." A post card will do to ask on.

Why don't you ask now?

Up at Goderich, where people with social aspirations tumble over themselves trying to be up-to-date, and where the proudest and happiest woman is the one who has evolved a new scheme, a shocking thing happened recently. One of the popular society women announced a white "elephant party." Every guest was to bring something she could not find any use for, still too good to throw away. The party would have been a great success but for the unlooked-for development which broke it up. Eleven of the nineteen women brought their husbands.

Design From The Worry Club.—Life is a rush, but we can't all get there together. In consequence, we worry—Can't help it because nerves are weak, vitality is burnt up and there's no staying power left. Cut out the worry part and build up. Let Ferrozone help you. It's a most strengthening nutritive tonic. Fills the blood and iron, supplies building material for worn out organs, generates the sort of vitality that makes you want to do things. No medicine more helpful for men, women and children who need strength and staying power. Try Ferrozone, 50c per box at dealers.

Two years ago the Dominion government passed an act requiring that all seeds (especially timothy and clover) offered for sale by dealers should be kept free from noxious weeds, the names of which are specified in the act. The statute provides that any seed merchant selling or exposing for sale or having in his possession seed containing to any extent any of the noxious weeds specified, shall be fined for a first offense an amount not exceeding $1, and for repeated offences larger amounts. Mr. T. R. Raynor, government inspector, is making a tour of this province and has several cases for prosecution.

Ever Have Cramps?—Kind of fierce to be tied up in a knot a midnight with cramps. Keep Nerviline handy. Ten drops quiets cramps instantly. Used occasionally Nerviline prevents this trouble entirely. From Stratford, Ont., Wm. Dee writes: "Nothing I know of will give such quick relief to cramps, colic or pain in the stomach as Nerviline. If you feel queasy or sick, just ten drops of Nerviline in water and you're well next minute." Think of the protection and comfort contained in a 25c bottle of Nerviline, and get it to-day.

The new comet is seen at its best about 3 o'clock a. m. It is situated in the northeast almost due north of the Orion group. Those who know say that those of us who live three years longer may expect to see a comet compared with which our present visitant is scarcely worth mentioning. This wonder of the skies is "Halley's Comet," which after its mighty circuit through space, has for centuries paid us regular visits at an interval of about seventy-five years. On its last appearance, in 1835, its brilliant disc and flaming tail, spanning the heavens like an arch of fire, created the greatest excitement.

A Question Often Asked.—Why so many people feel worse after taking pills than before? Trouble is that drastic pills are used. No remedial action is obtained, the bowels are irritated and dreadful constipation follows. In using Dr. Hamilton's Pills you are scarcely conscious of having taken medicine. Although very mild, Dr. Hamilton's Pills do regulate the bowels, stimulate normal action of the glands, and create neither nausea, griping or violent action. Positively guaranteed for biliousness, indigestion, stomach, liver and kidney ills. For a safe family pill rely on Dr. Hamilton's, 25c per box at all dealers.

The company that proposes building a cement plant at Benallen claim to have an excellent proposition. They state that there is enough marl there to keep a fifteen hundred barrel mill going continuously for eighty years. Close to the marl bed is a large outcrop of clay which is suitable for cement making. The company propose to build an 800 barrel plant the cost of which will be $100,000, but the building will be constructed to allow extension.

On Thursday morning last a large pool of blood might have been seen on the floor of the cellar of G. C. Hanna's new store, now nearing completion, and seems to have come there in this way: There has been of late many cases of thieving, and nightwatchman Lewis was on the lookout. He walked through the main floor of the building, and fancying he saw a shadow in one corner near the front, went to see what it was. He forgot that under the show window the floor had not been laid, and in the darkness he fell through the opening down to the cement floor beneath. He thinks it must have been about two o'clock, and he lay there unconscious until about five, when, in a dazed condition, with three ribs broken, and feeling bruised and sore, he found his way to his home, and his injuries received attention.—Wingham Advance.

Stomach troubles, Heart and Kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. LIVE STOCK MARKETS.
TORONTO.

Receipts of live stock at the city market since last Friday were 62 carloads, composed of 856 cattle, 431 hogs, 1198 sheep and lambs, with about 150 calves. Besides the above, there were 299 hogs shipped direct to two local packing houses.

The quality of fat cattle was the same as usual, few good and many poor quality.

Trade was fair for good, but very slow for the common, medium classes.

Prices were easy all round, with the exception of a few picked cattle. One dealer informed The World that he bought a load of cattle for shipping purposes that would have brought fully 25c. per cwt. more at the Junction on Monday.

Exporters—Exporters sold from $4.50 to $5 per cwt., and export bulls at $3.75 to $4.25. Not many exporters on sale as will be seen by sales reported.

Butchers—Best lots of butchers sold at $4.50 to $4.75; best loads at $4.25 to $4.40; medium, $3.75 to $4; common at $3.25 to $3.50; cows, $2 to $3.75; canners at $1 to $1.50 per cwt.

Milk Cows—About 20 milks and springers sold at $25 to $50 each.

Veal Calves—Prices ranged from $3 to $6.25 per cwt. Only a few selected brought the latter price.

A PASTORAL.

It was a beautiful night. The gentle zephyrs of the evening played musically amid the silky leaves of the turnip trees and the onion bushes, and wafted from across the distant fields the delicate fragrance of the growing cabbages and the far-off odor of the bean trees.

"Betsy," he cooed, as they sat on the rickety wooden fence surrounding Mrs. Filligan's pigsty. "Ow beea-utiful is luv! Jes' think ov it, Betsy. Wen we are married we'll have a pig all on our own, all to ourselves."

"Willum," she whispered, resentfully, "why should we want ter buy a pig? I shant want ter buy a pig when I've got yew!"

Then all was silent once more, except that the gentle zephyrs still played amid the fronds of the cabbage bushes and the silver-throated frog still sang from the roof.

The Ontario Railway Board advises municipalities not to borrow money for local improvements at the present excessive rates of interest.

John Gerron, proprietor of a grain elevator near Tremont City, Ohio, recently cut off his tongue with a knife, using a pair of pincers to pull it out to make the cut. Gerron had suffered two years with cancer of the tongue, and begged physicians to cut it off. They refused, and he performed the operation himself. It is said that he will recover.

Doc. Thomas of Tara was nearly drowned in Chesley Lake, Amabel tp., on Labor Day. He upset his boat in fifteen feet of water when fishing, but on coming up for the third time managed to catch the end of the boat.

Prominent Manufacturer Speaks.—In Vanleek Hill, Ont., no one is better known than Geo. S. Watson. When he says "Catarrh is a real cure," depend on it being so. "My wife," he writes "was subject to bad attacks of throat irritation and bronchitis. Many remedies were tried but few proved at all useful. Catarrh is a different. It seemed to get right at the sore spots and brought relief quickly. We have found Catarrh an absolute cure for bronchitis and catarrh." Nothing cures more quickly so get it to-day, two sizes, 25c and $1 at all dealers.

Another is now to be added to the galaxy of natives of Bruce County who are famous. J. Russell Coutts, B. A., the young man who has discovered the process of making illuminating gas from corn cobs, corn stalks and common straw, is the latest addition to the list. He was born in Tiverton, his father, Rev. Jas. Coutts, being pastor of the Baptist church there from 1868 to 1874. He is a graduate of McMaster university.

Don't be whining about having a fair chance. Throw a sensible man out the window and he'll fall on his feet and ask the nearest way to his work. The more you have to begin with the less you will have in the end. Money you earn yourself is much brighter than any you get out of a dead man's coffers. A scant breakfast in the morning of life whets the appetite for a feast later in the day. Laziness waits until the river is dry and never gets to market. "Try" swims the river and does all the business. "Can't do it, but "try" made meat out of mushrooms."

PANDORA RANGE

The Pandora oven is perfectly ventilated. The air in the oven is constantly being renewed with fresh air drawn through three vents between oven and fire-pot doors, and the cooking fumes carried out through another set of vents in back end of oven, as shown by illustration.

oven never smells close and stuffy, as do the majority of range ovens. Food cooked in it is more healthful, as well as more appetizing and satisfying.

Kay Corry, aged sixteen, shot himself at Wiarton, while drawing his gun toward him muzzle first.

George Atkinson, a market gardener of Lambton Mills, was killed by being jammed between a gate post and a projecting board on his waggon.

At the Zoological Gardens in the Bronx Park, New York, recently, an Elephant, which was being fed in the usual way with buns and cake, became tired at the lack of offerings, and made an exploring expedition with his trunk into the spectators' pockets. In the course of his search he came across a bundle of paper in a man's pocket, and drawing it out, proceeded to swallow it. The man cried out that the packet contained $300 and the keepers armed with prods, came to the rescue. The packet had only gone as far as the elephant's mouth, and a little persuasion with the prods the bundle was raked out in a somewhat dilapidated condition and restored to the owner.

Hon. George P. Graham, of Brockville, has entered the Dominion Government as Minister of Railways and Canals, while Hon. Wm. Pugsley, of St. John, takes the Public Works department. With Mr. Graham's removal to Ottawa, it is likely that Hon. A. G. McKay will be Opposition leader at Toronto.

The township of Bruce will have two representatives at County Council next year, as we understand there are considerably more than 1000 qualified municipal voters on the list. This is pretty good evidence that the township is going forward rather than backward. There will be 32 members in the Bruce County Council of 1908.

An exchange says it takes a sharp knock to break an egg from the outside, while a weak chick with its soft bill can break out from the inside. It's the same way with a town. The knocks from the outside have little effect, but the business interests of a town continually knocking one another for spite, is an injury to the citizens and prosperity thereof. Oh, yes, it is the blows at home that hurt a town.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else. It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought this success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and salivary complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. AN INCREASE OF $22090,054

Canada's Foreign Trade for Four Months
Totals $214,156,015.

A despatch from Ottawa says: Canada's foreign trade totalled $214,156,015 in the first four months of the current fiscal period from the first of April to July 31, an increase over the similar period the year before of $22,090,054. During the four months the imports totalled $131,803,070, an increase of $590,208; animals and their produce, $77,766,121, an increase of $15,476,746. Free imports totalled $51,730,825, an increase of $9,703,760. Duty collected amounted to $20,898,734, an increase of $4,214,436.

There was a decrease in the volume of exports, which were of the value of $82,352,945, the decrease being $1,948,653. During the four months exports of products of the mine showed an increase of $743,838; agricultural products showed an increase of $3,847,874. The decreases in exports for the period were fish, $546,160; lumber, $590,200; animals and their produce, $5,022,373; manufacturers, $342,148. During July the volume of exports took a jump of $11,174,051, totalling for the month, $27,723,599.

1,853 DEATHS IN JULY.

Reports of the Provincial Board of Health for That Month.

A despatch from Toronto says: Reports from 564 divisions of the province to the Board of Health show the number of deaths from all causes in July to have been 1,853. From contagious diseases the number of deaths was 207, out of a total of 600 cases. The statistics regarding contagious and infectious diseases for the month were as follows:

HEAD SEVERED FROM BODY.

Window Cleaner Decapitated in Elevator Shaft.

A despatch from Toronto says: Thomas Davidson, employed as a window cleaner at the Traders Bank building, had his head completely severed from his body by coming in contact with a descending elevator shaft on Saturday afternoon. His decapitated body fell from the ninth floor to the bottom of the building, leaving the head resting on a cross-beam. Davidson was working at the windows from the top of an elevator, which he lowered as he worked. The weight attached to another elevator, which was running, descends rapidly as the car ascends, and as he leaned over at his work, the weight caught him on the back of the neck. No one was aware of the accident until a man in charge of a news stand on the ground floor heard the body strike the bottom of the shaft. The head had to be carried down in towels to be placed with the body in the patrol wagon. Davidson was 23 years of age, and had only been a short time in the country.

FIRE IN PENITENTIARY.

Started in Binder Twine Department, But Was Noticed in Time.

A despatch from Kingston says: Saturday night, about ten o'clock, an alert watchman was surprised to see a sudden flash of light in the engine-room of the binder twine department at the penitentiary. He summoned aid, and the fire was subdued with little damage beyond scorching the woodwork and blackening the walls. Spontaneous combustion among the oil and waste about the engine is thought to have been the cause, as no fire had been in the building for four or five days.

INSANE PRISONERS REVOLT

One Killed, Several Wounded, in the Clinton, N. Y., Prison.

A despatch from Clinton, N. Y., says: One of the worst outbreaks among the insane prisoners in the history of Clinton prison at Dannemora occurred on Wednesday night. As a result, Isaac Dubois, one of the inmates, is dead, shot through the heart by a guard. The insane prisoners were being marshalled for bed when at a given signal they rushed into the big lower dormitories and slammed the doors in the faces of the guards. Having locked the doors they proceeded coolly to set about making their escape by smashing the doors and sawing the bars. Some of the less violently insane, however, helped the jailers. Seeing that the struggling convicts could not be reached through the big steel doors, the guards turned on them from the windows streams of water from the fire hose. This kept them at bay but did not subdue them. The guards were finally obliged to use rifles and pistols, and it was after midnight before the uprising was quelled. Besides Dubois, who was killed, several other prisoners were more or less seriously wounded.

THREE CHILDREN DROWNED.

Skiff Capsized in Lake in Hastings County.

A despatch from Madoc says: A drowning accident occurred at Gilmour, about thirty miles north of here, on Wednesday afternoon, when three children of Mr. Norman A. Green, agent for the Anglo-American Iron Company for North Hastings, and a resident of this place, were drowned in Wadsworth's Lake, where Mr. Green has been spending the summer with his family. On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Green and one of the older boys, Percy, had gone out picking berries. Another boy, Roscoe, was in the house putting the baby to sleep. On the shore of the lake, close to the house, was a new skiff, which Mr. Green purchased this summer. It is thought that the children got the boat into the water, climbed in, and pushed out from shore. When about 45 or 50 feet out, they capsized the skiff, which was very light, and as the shore is rocky and slopes away rapidly, they were thrown at once into deep water. Roscoe was the first to discover the accident. Having succeeded in putting the baby to sleep, he had gone out to join the others in their play, when he was horrified to see the skiff floating bottom upwards, and the children nowhere to be seen. The news of the drowning soon spread, and neighbors from miles around came to assist in dragging for the bodies. That of the little girl, Helen, was the first to be discovered. Her body was found about seven o'clock, three hours after the accident. The body of Burnett, was recovered at 7.30 the following morning, and that of Willie an hour later.

ALBERTA'S BEEF CATTLE.

Over 35,000 Will be Exported This Year.

A despatch from Calgary, Alberta, says: Provincial Live Stock Inspector Creswell is enthusiastic over the appearance of the beef cattle which will be put on the market this fall. He has been through all parts of Alberta several times this summer and is now going on another round. Last fall the ranges were swept clean of everything that would come near designation of "beef," and there was a banner shipment, about 75,000 cattle being exported. Owing partly to this fact and also partly to the loss experienced last winter on the open ranges, the shipment this year will not be nearly so heavy as last, but the condition of the cattle will be far superior, although last year's grade of cattle was a high-class one. In Mr. Creswell's opinion there will be between 35,000 and 40,000 head of cattle exported this season. Shipping has already commenced on a small scale, but the big shipments will not be put through for a month or two yet.

TEN KILLED IN FRANCE.

Fatal Collision Between an Express and Freight.

A despatch from Coutras, France, says: Ten persons were killed and twenty-five injured in a head-on collision on Sunday between an express train bound from Bordeaux for Paris, and a freight train. The accident was caused by a misplaced switch.

KILLED AND BURIED HUSBAND

Manitoba Squaw Makes a Confession of the Crime.

A despatch from Shoal Lake, Manitoba, says: The arresting of a squaw, charged with murder, and the finding of the body of John Assinwassis, of Rolling River, commonly known as Fred Johnson, has cleared up the peculiar and sudden disappearance of that Indian about a month ago. The squaw was on trial here on Thursday for the murder of the husband.

Between three and four weeks ago Assinwassis disappeared and no trace had been seen of him for some time. Indian Agent Wheatley notified the police and asked for an investigation. Constables Jos. Guertin and Garrook, of Portage La Prairie were put on the case. These two, after a careful search, found a little mound about two miles north-east of the town. Scraping the earth away, they came upon the body of the Indian, which had been buried in a badger hole.

The accused squaw made a confession, stating that her husband had been drinking and brought home to the tepee two large bottles of whiskey, which she had hidden from him. Johnson threatened to kill her if she did not give up the hidden whiskey. He chased her, and she laid down her chud, threw him down and choked him, not intending to kill him, but he died shortly afterwards. Early in the morning she dragged the corpse to a big knoll nearby and wrapped him in his blanket, and buried him, putting his drinking cup under his arm.

MISSING MANAGER SUICIDES.

A. Giannetti, of Toronto, Italian Bank, Cuts His Throat.

A despatch from Toronto says: A. Giannetti, the missing manager of the "Banco Giannetti," which closed its doors a few days ago, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor in a room of the Hotel Cecil, Queen Street and Beaconsfield Avenue, shortly after 12 o'clock on Thursday night. In his possession were found letters addressed to "A. Giannetti," a quantity of Italian money, and $1,475 in American money. There was also an envelope addressed to the "Chief of Police, Toronto." The body was identified as that of A. Giannetti, the missing Italian, by means of a newspaper picture. The man registered at the hotel during the afternoon, giving his name as G. Laspirauc. During the evening his actions aroused suspicion, and shortly after the house was locked up for the night the attention of some of the roomers was attracted by groans coming from the room. The door was found to be locked, and when it had been broken in the dead body was found on the bed.

STABBED BY ITALIANS.

Fitter in Bridgeburg Shipyards Struck First Blow.

A despatch from Bridgeburg, Ont., says: A man by the name of Moxon, who works as a fitter at the Canadian shipyards here was seriously wounded on Friday afternoon by being stabbed three times by an Italian. The trouble arose by the Italian stepping on some work, which Moxon was doing. He struck the Italian, who drew his knife. The Italian is now under arrest, and will stand his trial at Welland.

FIFTH WARSHIP TO BEAR NAME.

Temeraire Is Successfully Launched at Davenport.

A despatch from Davenport, Eng., says: The battleship Temeraire, third of the Dreadnought class, was successfully launched at the dockyard here on Saturday evening. The ceremony was performed by Countess Foliescue, and was witnessed by thousands of persons, including many notables.

OVER A HUNDRED WOUNDS.

Another Italian Stabbing Affray at Fort William.

A despatch from Fort William says: Another fight in the Italian section on Saturday night may end in the death of one Louis Wegolot. It started in the house of a woman, Janette Cigliana, where two men began to quarrel, and Paolo de Filippo drew a knife and stabbed Wegolot. De Filippo is in jail and Wegolot has over a hundred wounds in him.

CORPSE IN OPEN BOX.

A Mysterious Tragedy of the Algoma Wilderness.

A despatch from Toronto says: Cased in an open wooden box a partially decomposed human body has been left lying in the waters of the Blind River, near the town of that name, in the District of Algoma. Such is the story told by letters which have reached the Provincial Board of Health.

The epistles which have brought the affair to the notice of the authorities are dated about Aug. 16. Their writers assert that about two weeks before the corpse of a murdered man was found lying in the bush at some distance from the town. A week elapsed and no action was taken. Finally the remains, then somewhat decomposed, were taken to Blind River. There an inquest was held. The writer of one letter asserts that the body was then laid in a plain wooden box and placed in the river, about three feet from shore "in accordance with the orders of the coroner." The correspondent complains to the Board of Health that the body has been placed in close proximity to the town, and in the stream from which some residents draw water supplies, and it is consequently a menace to the health of the people.

ROBBERY OF FRENCH GENERAL.

Letter of Credit Taken From His Pocket in Montreal.

A despatch from Montreal says: A daring robbery was committed on Wednesday, when General De Negrier, of Paris, a guest at the Windsor Hotel, was relieved of his wallet, containing a letter of credit for a large amount, while he was attempting to board a street car. General De Negrier, who is well-known in French army circles, having had command of the French troops in Algeria, is on a visit to Canada. According to his story, he was followed to the Bank of Montreal, where he drew a considerable sum on his letter of credit, by those who eventually stole his wallet. After leaving the bank and while trying to board a car, in order to return to the hotel, he felt himself pushed, but paid no particular attention to it. At the time his wallet was in his right hip pocket, and in the same pocket were the bank notes and gold which he had just drawn from the bank. Strange to say the thieves missed the money and got away with the wallet, which contained the letter of credit, which is of no negotiable value except to the general himself.

CONSPIRACY IS THE CHARGE

Information Sworn Out Against Alberta Lumbermen.

A despatch from Edmonton, Alta., says: Informations were sworn out on Thursday before Inspector Worsley, of the Mounted Police Barracks charging the following members of the Executive Committee of the Alberta Lumber Dealers' Association with conspiracy in relation to trade and trade combinations: P. A. Prince, Calgary; W. H. Clark, Edmonton; W. D. Baker, Calgary; A. M. Grogan, Calgary; F. W. Irwin, Vegreville; J. McDonald, Edmonton; A. G. Grosse, Wetaskiwin; D. C. Gourlay, Lacombe; William Dean, Olds; W. Stuart, Calgary; W. Barclay, Claresholm, and J. W. McNichol, Lethbridge.

Each defendant is charged with three conspiracies, that is to say with his co-directors and other members of the Alberta Retail Dealers' Association, with conspiracy with members of the Mounted Police Association of British Columbia, and with conspiracy with the British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Association, known as the Coast Association. There are in all, therefore, one hundred and forty different charges in connection with this prosecution, each one of the twelve directors of the Alberta Lumber Dealers' Association being charged with twelve different offences. The statute under which the charge is laid provides: "That everyone is guilty of an indictable offence, and liable to a penalty not exceeding four thousand dollars, and not less than two hundred dollars, or two years' imprisonment, or, if a corporation, is liable to a penalty not exceeding ten thousand dollars, and not less than one thousand dollars, who conspires, combines, agrees and arranges with any other person, or with any railway, steamship, steamboat or transportation company, to unduly limit facilities for transportation, to restrain or injure trade, to prevent, limit or lessen manufacture, or to prevent or lessen competition."

THE SACRIFICE; The Farm

FOR HER FAMILY'S SAKE.

He looked reproachfully at her, and drew his chair nearer. As he opened his lips to speak, she turned to her other neighbor and asked for a glass of water.

"Fraulein von Tollen," a passionate voice whispered in her ear, "why do you treat me so? If you only knew, Lora—if you knew—"

Fraulein von Tollen, if you please," she replied, leaning back in her chair. "I entreat you, Fraulein von Tollen, give me some hope. You cannot really be so cold toward me as you pretend. You must know that ever since I first saw you—"

The little wooden fan in her hand snapped in two at this moment, and she involuntarily made a movement as if to rise.

"For Heaven's sake," he implored her, "I beg of you stay! After supper, one single word—"

Trembling with agitation, she laid the fan on the table; the break was in the middle of the coat of arms.

Adalbert Becher beckoned for some more champagne. When he had filled his glass he called down to the other end of the table, "Tollen! Tollen! you know," and lifted his glass.

Lora looked at her brother with horrified eyes. What! They were already so intimate.

In the confusion that would ensue at the end of the supper, she hoped to be able to escape. She must go home, that was her one thought; but she soon found it impossible. She was carried along with the throng that pressed toward the cool salon and the ball-room; the music of a waltz caught the ears of the company excited by the wine, and several couples began to dance with more ardor than dignity.

"Rudolph, I must speak to you," whispered Lora, as she stood by a pedestal of black marble which held a Terpsichorean; behind her stood Adalbert Becher, excited and angry because she had repeatedly refused to dance with him. She held her brother tightly by the arm, as he tried to pass her with his partner. "In a moment," he replied, disappearing in the whirl.

"One word, only one word, Fraulein von Tollen," whispered a voice behind her. "I love you with all my heart—"

She stood there with her lips pressed close together, white as the wall of the room, and pretended not to hear.

"You are such a beautiful girl, Lora, I must—I—you drive me mad with your coldness."

She felt his hot breath on her cheek, a warm touch on her ear; she ran suddenly across the hall and stood before Rudolph, who had just finished his dance. "Take me home," she demanded with trembling lips, "at once. I am ill."

She looked at him in such terror, with eyes blazing with indignation and face so pale, that he sprang up, excused himself to his partner, and giving Lora his arm, led her to the cloak-room. When Lora was dressed in her cloak and hood, Aunt Melitta came up wringing her hands, which still held her whist cards.

"For Heaven's sake what is the matter, my angel?"

Rudolph muttered about "whims," as he put on his overcoat.

"Don't leave your game of whist unattended," entreated Lora. "I am not well. My head aches. You know I have not been able to sleep much lately."

She kissed the small, troubled face under the pansies, and slipped down the stairs into the hall. Once there she fled out into the open air along the garden-path; she heard Adalbert Becher's voice behind her, hoarse and excited. Not until she reached the gate of the park did her brother overtake her.

"Very delightful to have to take an unexpected promenade like this," he said angrily; and as she still remained silent, "what possessed you to run away like that?"

"I am very sorry that I was obliged to trouble you, Rudi, but to whom can I go if not to you?" she said in a trembling voice.

"I should like to know why you ran away?" growled Rudolph. "I am sure you didn't lack for attention. Do give some reason, at least, so I can give some explanation to Adalbert, poor fellow; he is beside himself."

"I will not listen to insolence from a drunken man," replied Lora, throwing the end of her long cloak, which was made of an old cashmere shawl of her mother's, over her shoulder, to protect herself from the cold wind.

"Drunk! Insolent!" exclaimed the lieutenant, who was also excited by the champagne. "It is true he spoke to you of his liking for you, but you don't call that an insult! You girls are marvelous, upon my word!"

Lora walked on faster.

"Let us drop the subject," she said. "No, by Jove! I am sorry for the poor fellow. He is in love with you, Lora. I should think you would be glad to escape at last from all the toiling and moiling at home. And yet—what on earth can you expect? He is—"

He stopped suddenly. Lora, who was walking in front, on her narrow side-walk, turned, and the flickering light of the single lamp, which always burned during the night on the corner of the

Rathhaus, shone directly on her beautiful, angry face, and displayed her gleaming eyes. "What more do I want?" she exclaimed; "and do you ask that, you, who only a short time ago designated this man as a parvenu of the commonest kind?"

"I have learned to know him since then, and he really is not so bad," replied her brother crossly. "But go on, do—there is a devilish draught here."

But she did not stir. "You call him 'thou,'" she continued, "and you seem to be his friend. Well, then, you can take my answer for him: I cannot endure him; he is to me the most antagonistic person I ever met, and he had better take care never to speak like that to me again,—he had better take care!"

Her cloak blew off her shoulder in the wind; she looked angry and threatening at this moment.

"Don't be tragical," said the lieutenant, dryly. "He is a good fellow and has a good position, though he isn't highly educated. If you had any knowledge of life, you would not mount on your high horse so readily."

She wrapped her cloak about her again and walked on through the dark, lonely street.

"What is it to us," continued the lieutenant, striding along beside her, "how he got his money? He might have been a dog-shearer for aught I should care, provided he didn't steal his money. And what do we care what people may say about Frau Elfrida's origin? It is all the same to us whether she comes from New York or from Westenberg, as the people say, and it is a matter of equal indifference what her parents may have been. A man cares little for the prejudices of rank, when he sees what a poor creature he is without the all-desirable tin."

"You sit here in this hole, perched on your coat of arms as on a throne; and you, especially, you will wait a long time, my dear, before a baron of the empire comes along, even though you were much prettier than you are. Do you want to be a sour old maid? And what is going to become of you when the governor goes off? I should think you would consider it your duty to jump at such a splendid match, if only for your parents' sake, who are in constant anxiety as to what is to become of you girls, Katie would have a support, too, then. The devil! It is no small thing that a girl in your position should have such an offer! Eh! Did you say anything, Lora?"

She was just turning the corner of the street, at the end of which was her father's house.

"No!" was the reply, half blown away by the wind, which swept toward them here with full force. He could not see the contemptuous smile that rested on her lips.

"Don't then," he muttered.

A few minutes later the young girl stood breathless, before the low house-door, and turned the key gently in the lock.

"Well?" he inquired, standing behind her.

"What?" was her answer.

"I am going back again, Lora, and—"

"A pleasant evening," she replied indifferently.

"Then listen to me," he returned in a low, angry tone, holding her by the cloak. "I shall tell him that you will think of it, Lora?"

"What interest have you in this courtship?" she asked, her usual soft voice full of cutting contempt. "You are afraid, perhaps, that your two poor sisters may be a burden to you, by-and-by? You may rest easy on that score—"

"But, Lora—by Jove, it is not that!" he declared, in confusion. "I only meant it for your good."

"But I will not!" she cried aloud, quite beside herself with anger, "do you hear? I will not."

And the door escaped from her detaining hand, and shut with a bang; at the same moment a gust of wind blew open the opposite window, and suddenly extinguished the poor little kerosene lamp, that had been placed on the stairs, to light her into her room when she returned. She crept upstairs in the darkness, with gentle steps and bending head; had she awakened her father? She listened on the upper floor—all was still; but then she heard her mother's voice: "Lora! Lora!"

She went to her mother's bed and crept down.

"Did I frighten you, mamma?" she said tenderly.

"No, no; but why are you at home now, Lora? Is it all over already? Did you enjoy it? I am sure it must have been very fine."

By the faint light of the night-lamp, her mother's eyes seemed full of love and mildness.

"Ah, if I could only tell her all!" thought the young girl, as she laid her head on her mother's shoulder and began hesitatingly to describe Adalbert Becher's persistent attentions. A shudder of horror and indignation ran over her slender figure, and at length her voice died away in a flood of tears.

Frau von Tollen lay quite still, her hand on her child's head.

"But why do you cry so dreadfully?" she inquired at length. "Is it an in-

"I have learned to know him since then, and he really is not so bad," replied her brother crossly. "But go on, do—there is a devilish draught here." But she did not stir. "You call him 'thou,'" she continued, "and you seem to be his friend. Our August Reduction Sale.

Quality is the fundamental principle in good storekeeping. It costs no more in the transportation, handling, storing, insurance, display and advertising good qualities than for poor.

Dealing may safely be closer in good quality stuffs, quantities may safely be larger, satisfaction and good will will assuredly be greater.

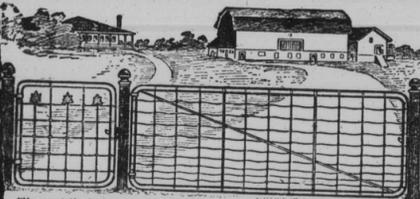

Most stores prefer the cheaper quality and larger profits, or big profits on high qualities.

We can afford smaller profits. There is more money to be made on 100 yds selling with 5 cents per yd profit than on 30 yds bearing 10c. profit—this is the way we're situated. We work on the 100 yd selling basis with the smaller profit.

Quality is our watchword. Our August Reduction Sale presents many mighty values. There are big reductions in all Departments. Every Bargain is a genuine Bargain, backed up by our Reputable guarantee of Satisfaction.
