DOINGS IN HUMBOLDT

How Motherwell Was Unanimous
Choice of the Convention—How Fred. C. Wright Was Settled—Who Squealed.

Humboldt, Dec. 1.—That Fred C. Wright, of the town of Humboldt, who was looked upon as the logical successor of Dr. Neely, as Liberal candidate in this constituency for the provincial legislature, was paid a sum of money in order to induce him to retire in favor of Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture in the Scott government, and ex-member for North Qu'Appelle in the legislature, is the sensational charge made in an affidavit over the hand and seal of Albert J. Wiswell, night operator of the Canadian Northern railway at Humboldt. The affidavit is contained in a pamphlet issued by Sinclair Elliott, independent candidate, in the form of an appeal to the electors of the constituency to unite with him in an effort to smash the Grit machine, and has caused a mild sensation.

The affidavit reads more like a fairy tale than an occurrence in real political life, and shows to what lengths the Scott machine will go in order to foist its ministers upon an unwilling electorate, and also makes it plainly apparent that the Liberal machine in Humboldt is not above making a deal if the ends of certain people are to be served. Motherwell, it may be mentioned, was defeated in Qu'Appelle in the local election about five months ago, but has clung onto office all that time, and has held the portfolio of agriculture in direct violation of all principles of representative government, and against the wishes of all the people of the province. But a seat must be found for him, some place, and it appears as though the machine was not particular how the job is done. Fred C. Wright, who, it was thought, would be the next candidate of the Liberal party, was formerly manager of the Bank of Commerce and is personally very popular. The electors, therefore, resent very warmly the action of the Scott machine in so wantonly dictating to them as to who their candidate must be, but, to all appearances, manipulating so that whereby Motherwell is saddled upon the constituency.

According to the affidavit of Wiswell, Wright, who was looked upon as the legitimate Liberal candidate in Humboldt as the successor of Dr. Neely in the legislature, came to him when he was engaged as operator in the Canadian Northern telegraph office at Humboldt, and, after explaining certain reasons why he could not accept the Liberal nomination, asked Wiswell if it would be possible for him to manufacture a fake telegram in the telegraph office, and at the suggestion of Wright himself, was to be delivered to him (Wright) and convey to him (Wright) the intelligence that his (Wright's) wife was ill in Ontario, and asking him to hurry to her bedside. The telegram was manufactured and delivered to Wright in due time, and the parties who were conversant with the facts, were pledged to secrecy.

The amount which was to be received on condition that Wright would withdraw in favor of Motherwell is not definitely stated, but, according to the affidavit of Wiswell, $4,000 was mentioned, $700 of which was to be paid to Wright in Winnipeg on his way east, supposedly in response to the fake telegram, which is alleged to have been manufactured at his own request, and which broke to him the sad news that his wife was ill. Where the money came from, or how much of it was really paid is not quite plain, but from present conversations mentioned in the affidavit, it would appear that the government was responsible for the payment of the amount.

It also appears that one of the leading spirits in the deal was H. C. Pierce, Liberal member for Wadena in the legislature, and it is alleged that he is the man who guaranteed the payment of the $700 to Wright in Winnipeg. Another interesting little bit of information in connection with the deal is that J. Bowen, from whom Wright is alleged to have borrowed some $1,500 is stated to have made the statement that he was to share the money when Wright, who is also alleged to have owed H. C. Pierce some $2,000 and, according to the affidavit, Pierce was to have his $2,000 from the money paid over to Wright by the government before Bowen got any, and as a consequence the latter thought he was getting a "dirty deal."

MR. CYR IS NUMBER 81

Another Former M.P. Provided for—Marine Department Disclosures—Sinecure Ministers —Government Coerced.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The general Liberal demand for serious reorganization of the ministry will probably go unsatisfied. To make people forget to government organs are suggesting that the Conservatives may change their leader, and adopt a new platform. But the Conservative party is perfectly satisfied with its leader, and proud of his honorable and splendid campaign which he has made. Mr. Borden's platform has been so popular that the government has borrowed a large part of it. Mr. Borden is not troubling himself in the least about his tenure of leadership. He is as willing to serve in the rank as at the head of the party, and has gone south for a few weeks, just after the campaign, without anxiety as to his own position. Judging by the legislation of the last few years, and that which is promised for the next year, the opposition leader is doing more than any other man in public life to improve the laws and administration and to reform the policy of the country. Take this record:

A GOVERNMENT COERCED

Government objected to Mr. Borden's programme of placing public utilities under the Railway Commission, but has now in part endorsed that policy and vastly increased the power of the Commissioners.

Government condemned and ridiculed Mr. Borden's program for civil service reform, but has been obliged to introduce a Civil Service Reform Bill, which pretends to cover a large part of the same ground.

Ministers declared that the Conservative policy of free rural delivery of mail was fifty years in advance of the age, that the system was a failure in the United States and would involve an enormous deficit. But on the eve of election the postmaster general introduced the system in such a hurry that he had to send to the United States for his post office boxes.

Government voted down session after session Mr. Borden's resolutions in favor of election reform, but last session introduced and put through a bill professing to accomplish the same purpose.

Government voted down Mr. Borden's motion for a thorough investigation of the marine department by royal commission or otherwise, and has been driven to make such an inquiry, which has already shown that the opposition charges were more than justified.

The opposition program last session called for the purchase of supplies by open competition, and two departments have already been forced

ANNUAL MEETING

Of Citizens Held in the City Hall on Monday Evening—Mayor and Aldermen Give Report of the Work Done During the Year.

There was only a fair attendance at the annual meeting of citizens and ratepayers held in the city hall on Monday evening.

Mayor Smith occupied the chair and in his opening address replied to the criticisms made at the meeting held the Monday previous. He upheld what the council of 1908 had done, and claimed that the council had held the expenditure down to as low a level as possible. He did not think that the salaries paid to officials was too high. The taxation was high but not too high for the convenience enjoyed by the citizens. He advocated a building of a trunk sewer and the enlargement of the water mains from the springs to the city. He also favored a change in the manner of electing aldermen and thought that there should be one alderman from each ward as well as five others from the city as a whole.

In conclusion he claimed that while he might have made mistakes, he had tried to do his duty and hoped he retired with the goodwill, confidence and respect of the citizens.

Each of the aldermen then made their reports dealing with the departments of which each was a head. Ald. Peterett for Finance; Ald. McDonald for waterworks; Ald. Ball for fire and light; Ald. Thomson for health and relief; Ald. Wright for parks and boulevards; Ald. Gillespie for works; Ald. Sinton for reception; Ald. Kramer for markets; Ald. Wilkinson for city hall, and Ald. Kusch for cemeteries.

The financial statement presented appears elsewhere in this issue.

Living Increased with Wages

The average wages per hour in the principal manufacturing and mechanical industries of the country were 3.7 per cent. higher in 1907 than in 1906, while retail prices for food were 4.2 per cent. higher, according to the July report of the United States Bureau of Labor. The regular hours of labor per week were four-tenths of 1 per cent. lower, and the number of employees in the establishments investigated by the bureau showed an increase of 1 per cent. The purchasing power of an hour's wage, as measured by food, was less in 1907 than in 1906, the decrease being one-half of 1 per cent.

The report shows that, as compared with the average for the ten year period 1890 to 1899, the average wage per hour in 1907 was 28.3 per cent. higher, the number of employees 41.4 per cent. greater and a decrease of 5 per cent. in the average working hours per week. The retail price of principle articles of food was 20.6 per cent. higher in 1907 than for the period 1890 to 1899. Compared with the average for the same ten year period the food purchasing power of an hour's wage in 1907 was 6.8 per cent. greater.

The report adds that the greatest increase in wages per hour in the manufacture of cotton goods, the increase being 12.9 per cent. In the paper and wood pulp industry there was an increase in wages per hour of 10.1 per cent; in silk, woolen and worsted goods industry, 4.4 per cent; in glass industry and street and sewer work, increase of 5.8 per cent. Of the establishments investigated two showed an increase of 19 per cent. in hourly wages, eight industries an increase of 5 per cent., and thirty industries an increase of less than 5 per cent. In one industry—iron and steel—there was a decrease of 0.9 per cent. in wages. The investigation made by the Bureau covers those industries in which the wages paid in one year were $10,000,000 or more.

The report represents the retail price of thirty staple commodities as sold in sixty-eight localities in the United States by 1,614 dealers. Retail prices of food in 1907 were higher than in any other year of the eighteen year period above named—Exchange.

Calendars for 1909.

The presentation work of art which The Regina Steam Laundry is presenting to their patrons this Christmas is certainly well worth seeing. It is well known that the calendars which this firm presents to their patrons are always the best, this year The Regina Steam Laundry have gone even better and in their work of art "Sysonby" they are presenting a subject which will appeal to all. "Sysonby" was the King of American race horses. To make the gift more acceptable a well written career of this great horse accompanies each calendar.

For their many patrons having offices, another subject has been secured. A beautiful reproduction of Gaston Roulett's clever painting "In the Harbor, Venice." This is a very large calendar, specially designed for office use.

You will be able to see a display of these calendars in the windows of the Regina Pharmacy, 1719 Scarth St. on Dec. 7th, 8th, 9th. Immediately after, patrons will receive orders entitling them to their calendar.

Acclamation for Armstrong

Portage la Prairie, Man., Nov. 28.—A heated meeting of a group of Portage Liberals was held tonight, when the decision of the last meeting was reversed, and it was decided not to oppose Hugh Armstrong. Edward Brown refused absolutely to stand, and no one else could be induced to take the field. Hugh Armstrong was thus allowed to go in by acclamation at the bye-election.

Pardon Came Too Late

Edmonton, Nov. 26.—Neville F. Harbottle, who was last summer sentenced to two years imprisonment in Alberta penitentiary for the use of funds of the inland revenue department, Edmonton, died at the general hospital this morning at 9 o'clock.

A petition had been in circulation and was being largely signed, asking for his release. The pardon had been granted and reached the penitentiary officials at 12 o'clock today, but was too late. The funeral takes place on Saturday from his residence in Edmonton.

He leaves a wife in Edmonton, his mother in Toronto and one brother serving a term of imprisonment for a similar offence in Kingston penitentiary.

A POSSIBLE CLAIM

Supporters of the government may however, justly claim that many of these reforms are not serious. In the late election the amount of fraud and corruption was not reduced, and the government campaign funds raised by corporations and contractors doing business with the government was the largest on record. Up to the present time, months after the act became law, appointments to the civil service are still made by patronage and not by merit, and we shall have scores of salaries voted "notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Civil Service Act." Rural mail delivery has made little progress since the election. The railway commission as enlarged has not yet got organized and is one member short. In the Marine enquiry every question referring to campaign contributions by marine contractors is left out. While the patronage list is said to be abolished, the people whose names are on it continue to do business with the government.

But while the government is not honestly carrying out the principles of the Conservative platform, it has paid Mr. Borden and his party the high compliment of trying to make people believe that this policy is enforced.

SINECURE MINISTERS

The proposed establishment of the Department of Labor as a separate portfolio recalls the pledge of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's party in opposition to reduce the number of departments and abolish several cabinet offices. Instead of doing this the government has already increased the establishment by restoring the heads of customs and excise department to cabinet rank with full salaries, while retaining the department of commerce to which part of their work has been assigned by the previous government. The net result is an increase of $4,000 in ministers' salaries and the creation of a sinecure office for Sir Richard Cartwright which he has held for twelve years. Three departments, namely the State, the Privy Council and Trade and Commerce give practically no work to their chiefs, yet the government is creating a new one with a salaried minister, whereas anyone of the above three might be lacked to the department of labor without sensibly increasing its work.

The appointment of an additional minister means much more than his salary. Each minister has his retinue of private secretaries, typewriters, messengers and door keepers; his travelling expenses, his private car expeditions.

MARINE DISCLOSURES AT ST. JOHN.

As a result of Commissioner Cassel's inquiry at St. John, New Brunswick, the agent of the Marine Department for that district, the engineer of a government cruiser, and the New Brunswick inspector of light have been suspended for taking presents and obtaining loans from contractors with the department. It may be noted that the contractors who gave these favors are all active party men. Charles Macdonald of the St. John Iron Works, who made several advances to the agent, and gave presents to the engineer, was one of the campaign speakers in the recent election for the Minister of Public Works, and his colleague in St. John. B. Macaulay, who made some presents to the agent and frequently exchanged cheques with him, was one of the platform speakers for the government candidate in Queens-Sunbury. John E. Moore, who also made advances to the officials, is one of the contractors who just before the late election purchased the St. John Telegraph, a Conservative jour-

SAME OLD MACHINE

James Conmee, M.P., is the only government supporter declared elected in New Ontario. He was one of the chief promoters of the Aylesworth Bill to give the federal authorities control of the lists in the organized portions of that province. How the lists were stuffed before the election was made public at that time. The same tricks were attempted in Algoma, but were partially frustrated in the west riding.

But the sensational evidence of the Port Arthur personation trial just closed shows that more than one conspiracy was needed to elect Mr. Conmee. The uncontradicted evidence shows that the returning officer appointed by the government, moved a poll 15 miles by an order made two days before the election, giving no public notice of the change. This no Conservative scrutineer or voter reached the new voting place. The men whose votes were polled there were youngsters picked up at Port Arthur, shipped by special Sunday train to the designated spot, made drunk on the road, and induced to vote from two to nine times each in the names of men who were on the list, but who were not in the neighborhood. The deputy returning officer and poll clerk, were of course, suitable persons to hold such a poll, and no Conservative knew that polling was going on till after noon, when one happened to visit the place.

The whole program is in line with the "Minnie M" affair, and the other election frauds which killed the Ross government and which have disgraced Ontario Liberalism. It shows that there is no repentance and no reform, that the old machine is still engaged in its old practices, and has the confidence and protection of the government of Canada.

A GROWING LIST

Mr. Parmelee, former member for Shefford, was number 79 of the Liberal members or recently retired members, who have taken office. Number 80 was Mr. Phillyson, who represented Richmond, N.S., in the last house, and is now a judge. Number 81 is Mr. Cyr, late member for Provencher, Man., now appointed immigration agent in France.

ELEVATOR SUBJECT

Discussed by Western Premiers and Representatives of the Grain Growers from Three Provinces.

The conference of representative grain growers of the three western provinces met the premiers of the three provinces in the city last Thursday.

The grain growers present were as follows: Manitoba: D. W. McQuig, R. McKenzie, J. W. Scallion and Andrew Graham.

Saskatchewan: E. N. Hopkins, A. E. Partridge, A. G. Hawkes, F. M. Gaetz, and R. C. Saunderson. Alberta: T. H. Woolford and E. L. Freeman.

The premiers considered the following proposals which had been passed at a meeting of the inter-provincial council of the Grain Growers' Association held in Winnipeg, on Sept. 25th:

(1) That the government provide by purchase or construction of both, at each railway point, where any considerable quantity of grain is marketed, elevator facilities with up-to-date equipment for cleaning, loading and weighing grain, that the facilities for the most part be sub-divided into bins of 1,000 bushels capacity, and that the system be operated by the government direct, or through a commission appointed for that purpose.

(2) That the minimum capacity at each shipping point be approximately one-third of the quantity annually marketed there. This whole amount need not, however, be provided at the outset, but the storage structure should be so arranged as to easily admit of addition and extension as necessary demands.

(3) That the charge for handling and storing grain be such as to provide interest on amount invested, cost of maintenance and provision for gradual payment of initial cost.

(4) That a certain per cent. of the storage (not to exceed 25 per cent.) should be at the disposal of buyers of street grain.

(5) That two or more farmers be granted the privileges of jointly occupying a bin.

(6) Advantages without the co-operation of the Dominion government.

(a) The abuses incident to the storage facilities being in the hands of those interested in the purchase and sale of grain would be abolished such as, improper grading, the giving of light weight, the taking of excessive dockage, the substituting of grain of inferior quality for that specially binned by the farmer, denying the privileges of special binning to the farmers on the false plea of lack of space and interference with the freedom of shipment of stored grain by the owner.

(b) Adequate facilities for the cleaning of the grain are not provided by the elevator companies. The government system would enable the cleaning of grain to grade requirements before shipment, retaining to the farmers a large amount of screenings valuable for feeding purposes, increasing their chances of obtaining higher grades when grain was inspected and saving them from payments of freight on screenings from point of shipment to the terminals.

(c) Dockage would be no longer a matter of guess work. The farmer would be credited with his exact amount of cleaned grain and permitted to retain his screenings, which oftentimes include valuable grades of various kinds as well as weed seeds having a high feeding value.

The following facts illustrate the saving possible in this connection: It is estimated that the 70 million of wheat of the crop of 1906 inspected, contained 2 p.c., or 1,400,000 bushels of screenings, averaging in worth 1 ct. a pound, and which cost the farmer on an average 10 cts. a bushel in freight charges owing to his inability to have his grain cleaned before shipment. These two items represent a loss of $560,000 to the farmers of the west, which will occur every year with additions until abolished by the establishment of a government storage system equipped with proper cleaning apparatus. The above amount would pay the interest on a sum sufficient to create the storage system asked, and provide a sinking fund which would liquidate the cost within a reasonable term of years.

The grain being weighed into cars by a government official having no interest therein, will facilitate the collections of claims for shortages from the railway companies.

(7) The preservation of the identity of the grain in special bins under the custody of government officials will make possible the establishment of a sample market which will largely correct the injustices incident to a grading system, when climatic conditions make it impossible for the grade description to classify grain according to its intrinsic value. For example, a slight bleaching suffered by a large percentage of wheat the year before last condemned millions of bushels having the essential qualities of One Hard to be graded as Two Northern, making the price four cents per bushel less than it should be and occasioning an enormous loss to the producer. Also this year owing to a general frost the grading system operated to

PROPOSED LEGISLATION

May Pass Law Making it a Criminal Offence to Accept Secret Commissions—Modelled After an Imperial Act.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—The government has under consideration and will probably introduce at the coming session of parliament in 1909, making it a criminal offence to accept or accept secret commissions with a view to corruptly influencing business transactions in which the employer of the agent who accepts the commission is interested. The bill is aimed to prevent the whole system of secret commissions, either in connection with private or government business. It will, of course, meet abuses shown by the recent investigation at Quebec under Judge Cassels to have existed in the marine department of the administration at that port. The measure has the hearty support of Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, minister of justice, and it is understood has been endorsed by the cabinet in council.

The British Act, after which the proposed measure will be modelled, provides that if any agent corruptly accepts or obtains or agrees to accept or attempts to obtain for himself or for any other person, a gift or consideration as an inducement or reward for doing, or foregoing to do any act in relation to his principal's affairs or business, or for showing or foregoing to show favor or disfavor to any person in relation to his principal's affairs or business, or if any person improperly gives or agrees to give or offers any gift or consideration to any agent as an inducement or reward for doing, or foregoing to do, any act in relation to his principal's affairs or business, he shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding five hundred pounds, or to both. A penalty is also provided for giving or accepting with intent to deceive an employer, and receipt account or other document in respect of which he is interested and which contains any statement which is false or erroneous or defective in any particular, and which is knowingly intended to mislead the employer.

The expression "considerations" includes valuable considerations of any kind. An agent includes any person employed or acting for another. A person serving under the crown or any corporation or any municipal council or any board or guardianship is an agent within the meaning of the Act.

As will be seen from the above the act is very wide in its scope and while possibly abuses aimed at may be redressed under the present criminal code with respect to obtaining goods under false pretences, the new act now contemplated will make the offence a specific one and will undoubtedly have a far reaching effect in putting a stop to a custom which is too prevalent in connection with both private and government business in Canada. The act has been found to work well in Great Britain, and although as yet there has been comparatively few prosecutions, the simple facts of its being put in the statute book with several penalties attached has been found to act as a deterrent to the making of secret and corrupt agreements between agents and contractors and others.

Several members of the Dominion government have given representatives of the grain growers an assurance that such legislation can be easily secured as soon as the request is made by a provincial government. The additional advantages under these circumstances would be that grain could be sold for future delivery to greater advantage since the grade would be known. Also advances on warehouse receipts could be secured so soon as delivery of a car lot was completed at the initial elevator, enabling a farmer to discharge his more pressing liabilities and market his grain in a more leisurely manner, selling only when there was an active milling or export demand. The effect would be a generally higher level of prices for the farmer. Collections would be facilitated and transportation would not be demanded at any season of the year in excess of the power reasonably equipped railway.

The best of all reasons for creating the system is that the class who form the major part of the population demand it, and that it can be granted without placing a tax upon the remainder of the people.

Assembly Called.

A proclamation has been issued by the lieutenant governor in council calling the first session of the second legislative assembly of this province. The session is to open on Thursday, Dec. 10th.

At this session a speaker will be chosen, and there is much speculation as to who will be the man, although it is conceded by many that Mr. Sutherland who was deputy speaker in the last house, will have the refusal of the appointment.

Legislation regarding rural municipalities will probably be dealt with.

Minard's Lintment Cures Garget in Cows.

Dorando Beats Hayes.

New York, Nov. 25.—In a great race, Dorando of Italy, who was disqualified in the famous Marathon race at the Olympic Games in London, last July, after having been helped to the finish, squarely defeated John Hayes, who won the Marathon in the Madison Square gardens tonight, before more than ten thousand madly enthusiastic spectators. Dorando ran 25 miles 2 laps tonight in 2:44, 20-25, while Hayes who was beaten more than a third of a lap, was timed in 2:45:05-1-5. Right up to the last lap the men raced like a team, Dorando leading by a small margin at the end of each mile. There were two instances of what looked like foul work, each man offending, otherwise the race was clean and fairly contested. Dorando was in better physical condition as the race proved for Hayes was on the verge of collapse at the end of the long journey. Hayes' sweetheart, Miss Florence E. Mason, of Lowell, Mass., fainted away when she saw the young American trailing home defeated. The time is a new world's record for an indoor track. The Marathon race in England was run in 2:56:18-2-5, Hayes' official time. Italian citizens raised the roof after Dorando had come home in majestic triumph. He made a splendid showing.

Every penny from the stamps, after paying for printing and distribution, will be used for the maintenance of poor patients at the MUSKOKA FREE HOSPITAL FOR CONSUMPTIVES, and for extending the fight against the dread White Plague.

This Christmas Stamp idea was started in Denmark about four years ago where the cash returns have built and financed a Consumptive Hospital. A year ago, the Red Cross Society of Denmark sold over 400,000 with the co-operation of stores, churches, clubs, and boys and girls. In fact, everybody helped in this popular movement, and this year the National Red Cross Society is selling the stamps all over the States.

A STAMP FOR CANADA

The neat little stamp in red and white, like above cut, and selling at one cent each, is published by the National Sanitarium Association in the interests of the Muskoka Free Hospital. The stamp does not pay postage, but may be put on letters, packages and Christmas cards of all kinds, and will bear the happy Season's Greetings everywhere.

Willie workers all over the Dominion are organizing little bands for stamp selling. The hospital board is hoping that over a million stamps will be sold before Christmas, and the work for the consumptive poor from sea to sea will be greatly strengthened. Other interesting information may be obtained by writing Mr. J. S. Robertson, Secy-Treas. of the Association, 347 King Street West, Toronto.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION

May Pass Law Making it a Criminal Offence to Accept Secret Commissions—Modelled After an Imperial Act.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—The government has under consideration and will probably introduce at the coming session of parliament in 1909, making it a criminal offence to accept or accept secret commissions with a view to corruptly influencing business transactions in which the employer of the agent who accepts the commission is interested. The bill is aimed to prevent the whole system of secret commissions, either in connection with private or government business. It will, of course, meet abuses shown by the recent investigation at Quebec under Judge Cassels to have existed in the marine department of the administration at that port. The measure has the hearty support of Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, minister of justice, and it is understood has been endorsed by the cabinet in council.

The British Act, after which the proposed measure will be modelled, provides that if any agent corruptly accepts or obtains or agrees to accept or attempts to obtain for himself or for any other person, a gift or consideration as an inducement or reward for doing, or foregoing to do any act in relation to his principal's affairs or business, or for showing or foregoing to show favor or disfavor to any person in relation to his principal's affairs or business, or if any person improperly gives or agrees to give or offers any gift or consideration to any agent as an inducement or reward for doing, or foregoing to do, any act in relation to his principal's affairs or business, he shall be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to a fine not exceeding five hundred pounds, or to both. A penalty is also provided for giving or accepting with intent to deceive an employer, and receipt account or other document in respect of which he is interested and which contains any statement which is false or erroneous or defective in any particular, and which is knowingly intended to mislead the employer.

The expression "considerations" includes valuable considerations of any kind. An agent includes any person employed or acting for another. A person serving under the crown or any corporation or any municipal council or any board or guardianship is an agent within the meaning of the Act.

As will be seen from the above the act is very wide in its scope and while possibly abuses aimed at may be redressed under the present criminal code with respect to obtaining goods under false pretences, the new act now contemplated will make the offence a specific one and will undoubtedly have a far reaching effect in putting a stop to a custom which is too prevalent in connection with both private and government business in Canada. The act has been found to work well in Great Britain, and although as yet there has been comparatively few prosecutions, the simple facts of its being put in the statute book with several penalties attached has been found to act as a deterrent to the making of secret and corrupt agreements between agents and contractors and others.

Several members of the Dominion government have given representatives of the grain growers an assurance that such legislation can be easily secured as soon as the request is made by a provincial government. The additional advantages under these circumstances would be that grain could be sold for future delivery to greater advantage since the grade would be known. Also advances on warehouse receipts could be secured so soon as delivery of a car lot was completed at the initial elevator, enabling a farmer to discharge his more pressing liabilities and market his grain in a more leisurely manner, selling only when there was an active milling or export demand. The effect would be a generally higher level of prices for the farmer. Collections would be facilitated and transportation would not be demanded at any season of the year in excess of the power reasonably equipped railway.

The best of all reasons for creating the system is that the class who form the major part of the population demand it, and that it can be granted without placing a tax upon the remainder of the people.

Assembly Called.

A proclamation has been issued by the lieutenant governor in council calling the first session of the second legislative assembly of this province. The session is to open on Thursday, Dec. 10th.

At this session a speaker will be chosen, and there is much speculation as to who will be the man, although it is conceded by many that Mr. Sutherland who was deputy speaker in the last house, will have the refusal of the appointment.

Legislation regarding rural municipalities will probably be dealt with.

Dorando Beats Hayes.

New York, Nov. 25.—In a great race, Dorando of Italy, who was disqualified in the famous Marathon race at the Olympic Games in London, last July, after having been helped to the finish, squarely defeated John Hayes, who won the Marathon in the Madison Square gardens tonight, before more than ten thousand madly enthusiastic spectators. Dorando ran 25 miles 2 laps tonight in 2:44, 20-25, while Hayes who was beaten more than a third of a lap, was timed in 2:45:05-1-5. Right up to the last lap the men raced like a team, Dorando leading by a small margin at the end of each mile. Will They Reform?

Some weeks ago the Minister of Marine made two announcements to prove that his department retained remnants of conscience notwithstanding the declaration of the royal commission to the contrary. Mr. Brodeur informed the country, which had been startled with the fresh revelations from Quebec, that all officials who took commissions, and all the contractors who paid them, will be prosecuted. He also was quoted as saying that the patronage list would be abolished. This pledge of virtue was distributed by government organs with high editorial praise.

But nothing has happened. No official or contractor has been arrested, and no one seems to be alarmed. The very contractors who were to be prosecuted are still supplying goods at highly profitable monopoly prices to other departments, and even to the Department of Marine. It may be that sometime in the future a few subordinates will have no party pull, will be punished, but no peril awaits the principal officials who have been appointed by this government are implicated. As for the large contractors concerned, most of them are important members of the government party. They will not only escape prosecution, but are almost sure to retain patronage and continue their contributions to the campaign fund. They are fresh from labor and contributions in the party interest in the recent fight. Mr. Brodeur has not spurned their campaign offerings.

It is true that Mr. Brodeur has written a letter to his deputy, directing him to instruct the agents "to disregard the patronage list." But this published document gave no instructions to purchase supplies in the open market to the best advantage, and no hint as to the course to be pursued. Evidently then private instructions have been sent out. Though this letter was written nearly three weeks ago, no general calls for tenders have appeared since, and so far as can be learned no purchases have been made from dealers who are not supporters of the government. In short, if the old patronage list has been cancelled, it has been replaced by a new one. When the accounts are seen it will be found that the purchases are made from the same favored persons. There is now a purchasing agent at Ottawa for the department. He has been at work since last spring. He was appointed on account of the royal commission's exposures, but has gone on buying from dealers on the patronage list just the same as the party did before him. So far as the party has gone, since it was convicted of lack of conscience it has continued to justify the verdict, adding the additional offence of false pretence and hypocrisy.

One Organization

The convention of Conservatives of Saskatchewan to be held in Saskatoon on Wednesday next, December 9th should be an important event in the history of the party. In addition to the subject of organization and finance, referred to in a previous article there is no doubt but that the question of a provincial party leader will be brought up. No doubt but that the party suffered in the recent federal elections from the fact that the Conservatives as a party had no party leader to rely upon. The Provincial Rights party with Mr. Haultain at its head, and the Conservative party though both are comprised of a large extent of the same members, have in the past, been run as two distinct organizations.

In provincial politics both have the same platform. This being the case it is probable that the question of uniting the two organizations may be up for discussion at this convention. Better and more effective work for the cause of the Conservative party both in provincial and federal affairs could be done if the party had but one organization.

Should such a union be made there is no doubt as to who would be selected as the leader of the party. Mr. Haultain has the confidence of every member of the party, and we believe that he would be as strong, if not stronger in provincial politics as head of a Conservative party as he is at the present time. From the votes of the two recent elections it would appear that the Provincial Rights party received about 7,000 more votes in the provincial elections than the Conservatives did in the federal contest. However, this may be accounted for because of the greater unpopularity of the provincial Liberal leaders, and also on account of the issues. In the province of Ontario the Conservative party received more votes in the provincial elections than in the Dominion elections. So that we have no doubt, but that the principles of the Provincial Rights party would not suffer any set back if they were called by any other name.

However, this is a subject which may be profitably discussed at the convention, which it is to be hoped will consist of representatives from all parts of the province. It is an open Conservative convention and every Conservative in the province is invited.

Editorial Notes

Rather cold weather for the running of Calder and Motherwell.

The legislative assembly of the province of Saskatchewan has been called to meet on Thursday, Dec. 10.

Mayor Smith must feel his position why the citizens have not even suggested his name as a possible for 1909.

Duncan Marshall has been brought from Edmonton to campaign in the interests of Hon. W. R. Motherwell in Humboldt. Other workers have also been sent in. Hon. William is making a desperate struggle to secure a seat.

The advices from Ottawa that the surveys on the Hudson's Bay railway line are progressing rapidly sounds like stale news. According to the progress reported before the election we fully expected that the road would have been built before the end of the year.

It is astonishing how generosity is developed in the breasts of business men, who have dealings with government officials. Out of the pure goodness of their hearts, men who in their transactions with others figure close to the line and want a dollar's worth for every dollar they pay out, when they come to deal with government officials, that is with some government officials, give away with a prodigal hand, and are careful also to obey the scripture mandate about not letting their left hand know what their right hand doeth. They do their aims in secret, and even when Judge Cassels asks them questions they "fess up" with great reluctance. A nice little problem in ethics arises out of these transactions, as to whether in such cases it is better to give than to receive. The officers whose heads will shortly drop in the basket, must think it is.

Press Comment

(Bystander in Toronto Sun.)
 Has any legislative assembly debased itself more than will the British House of Commons on a question vital alike to the state and to the family, it yields to the rampage of the Suffragettes? The thing seems almost inconceivable. But already in the case of the monstrous Payment of the Unemployed Bill, when 288 members shirked division, the prevalence of political timidity has been most ominously displayed. The fact is that whenever the parties in a constituency are equally divided, a little local clique, fighting solely for its own good, may be able to turn the scale. The suffragettes are surely not to be wanting in energy nor to lack a certain ability to turn the scale. The suffrage for both sexes will probably be the sequel. There must then come, it would surely seem, either a coalition or a crash.

Creelman Gazette

The women of Canada have not yet become at all generally interested in the question of votes for women, yet it is interesting to note that the women of our sister colony, Australia, have now the right to vote in state and Commonwealth elections.

They are by no means the first women to get this right, for, besides our enterprising neighbors south of the line, which has extended the suffrage to women in parts of the country, some countries that we are apt to look upon as far slower than ours—among them Finland—have not only women voters, but women representatives in parliament.

It is interesting to us, who are not sure whether we want it or not, to see how the matter works out where it has been given a fair trial.

All-Fins over twenty-five years of age may vote, regardless of sex. And it was in 1906 that the first women were sent to the Finnish Diet. Last July a number of women again ran for election, and now, of the 200 representatives, 26 are women and many of them owe their seats to men voters. They have shown that women can do good work for their country working quite as earnestly and hard as the men, and their influence is felt in committee when all the questions are hammered into shape before being brought before the whole house.

quence is felt in committee when all the questions are hammered into shape before being brought before the whole house.

All classes of women are found in the diet, a farthing, who by the way speaks excellently in public in English, and is known for her broad sensible views beyond the bounds of her own country; a doctor of philosophy, several teachers, a factory inspector, and a woman who at ten was working out as a servant girl, but who has found time for self improvement enough to make her, while still young the organizer of a sort of servant's trade union and the editor of a paper published in their interests.

In three cases both husband and wife are in parliament, and unlike the woman editor in the states who had to explain in her paper the difference between her respect for her husband in domestic life, and her utter contempt of his views in political life, they all agree with their husbands.

Finnish women sit among the men in the diet and actually draw the same salary. But this does not seem odd to the Finns for they are accustomed to the mixed schools and to men and women studying together in the universities, while many important positions throughout the country are held by women who receive as large pay as would men doing the same work.

The main answer of the English politicians to the women of the country has been, not so much that they are not fitted to vote, as they have not shown that the women as a general thing want to vote. Therefore the suffragettes think they will show them. So they proceed to annoy the ministers in every possible way, making it necessary to safeguard the house of parliament with cordons of police, and making it impossible for a member of parliament to address a public meeting anywhere by setting up a screech of "votes for women" as soon as he begins to speak.

It is not pleasant to think of women of the refined classes acting like street roughs, but perhaps the end justifies the means. Anyway it is not likely Canadian women will ever have to make such a struggle, even if they do decide they want the suffrage, for we are not as Conservative as the old country in our manners, and it is easier to change the old order of things; also, if the suffragettes gain their end in England, it will pave the way for us, and the suffragettes will get attention sooner or later, just as a baby gets it if it yells loudly and long enough.

There is so much to be said on both sides of the question, some women have more time to study politics than their husbands in a busy farming community like ours, and much legislation in behalf of women and children particularly would be carried out better when women vote, while on the other hand, many women would not take the trouble to think questions out clearly, and would be easily bought or led by their stronger minded sisters.

Prince Albert, Nov. 27.—The city is crowded with men looking for work, and every train is bringing in more. The board of trade offices are besieged and at times have the appearance of a large employment bureau. Telegrams and letters are being received from all over the west, asking if there is work available, and Mr. Moorhouse, the secretary, desires it to be known that it is useless for men to come here at present seeking employment, as all the lumber and manufacturing companies have all the help required. Although between fifteen hundred and two thousand men are engaged in the lumber camps during the winter season, the most of these are already in the bush, and in fact, have been since the first of October.

God Behind the Masses.

(By Rev. Charles Stelzle.)

It has long been acknowledged that the voice of the people is the voice of God. The undiscerning may hear in the people's voice only a great roar of discontent, or the mutterings of the misguided mass. But he who has understanding will hear the "still small voice," which speaks the will of God.

The statesmen in every age who have accomplished the things which all the people, got their inspiration because they kept close to the masses. Rarely does the vision come to the man who spends all his time in the seclusion of his study. His touch on life is so slight, and his understandings of the needs of men so inadequate, that his outlook extends only to the limits of his own life and his narrow experience. It is only as a man comes into contact with others that his own life becomes larger and fuller, and it is out of this fullness that he is enabled to speak concerning the greater problems of life.

No class of men have a broader experience than the "common people"; no class knows quite so well what it means to toil and to suffer and to sacrifice. None have higher aspirations and none exhibit deeper consecration. It is because of this that God speaks through them.

Sometimes their expression of God's will is crude. Sometimes it comes as a shock to men who have become accustomed to things as they are, who, quite satisfied with present conditions are unwilling to be made uncomfortable by a change which may mean a readjustment in their way of living and in their way of doing business. But to stand in that it is necessary to oppose certain features—man-made and man-inspired—which have crept into the plans which the people present, but back of them all and beneath them all will be found the hand of God.

This has been proven in history. It every great fight for the right and for progress, the leisured classes, the so-called upper classes, have been on the wrong side of the battle field. The common people—the men of uncommon sense—to those the world owes a debt of gratitude.

If you would hear the voice of God keep close to the people.

Traffic in Girls

So many young girls in Philadelphia have been disappearing from the knowledge of their friends that the authorities have been active in trying to unearth a traffic in girls which they felt existed. They were successful in finding what seemed to be a clearing house for these chattels, where there was a list of all the resorts in the city, with their telephone numbers. A number of victims were found, some of whom had been induced to enter the resorts under the promise of good clothes and a nice time, others of whom had been enticed to brothels, locked up, and their clothes hidden, until they submitted to the sale of their bodies. In a few cases men had gone through mock marriage ceremonies and then sold their supposed wives to the keepers of the resorts. It seems the procuring of victims from the ranks of the young and inexperienced had developed into a well organized business that no doubt was quite profitable. Think of it—making a business of hunting innocent young girls to their destruction for the money in it! Is it not enough to madden one at the entire profit system? People's Press.

The National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education Deals with the Subject—Must Have Skilled Workers

Atlanta, Nov. 20.—The National Society for the promotion of Industrial Education opened the sessions of its second annual meeting in the Hall of Representatives of the state capitol this morning. Chas. S. How, president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, and president of the Case School of Applied Science, presided. Governor Hoke Smith, who acted last evening as toastmaster at the banquet of the Society, offered a formal welcome this morning to the delegates present, who represented more than twenty-five states. This welcome was strongly seconded by Mayor Joyner of Atlanta, who extended to all the visitors the welcome of the city, and bade them see for themselves what the south is doing industrially. The first address of the meeting was made by E. P. Bullard, Jr., of the Bullard Machine and Tool Co., of Bridgeport, Conn.

Manufacturer Pleads for Apprenticeship System.

Mr. Bullard urged that manufacturers give more attention to training their apprentices. He said in part:

"It is admitted by all that we need more skilled men and that some means must be devised for developing the inefficient and unskilled so that they may be valuable to themselves, their employers and to the community in which they live.

Where can these men be found? The supply is inadequate to the demand. Our public schools do not educate for any particular trade, our colleges do so broadly, but not specifically, our technical schools lay the foundation of engineering professions but relatively few have an opportunity to avail themselves of the courses offered. According to a writer in a recent periodical, which I beg leave to quote:

"Less than 5 per cent of all the millions of school children in the United States ever reach the secondary school and it is safe to say that not more than 25 per cent. of the whole number ever go above the fifth grade; that is to say—of approximately 24,000,000 children enrolled in 1907, at least 18,000,000 will leave school between the fifth and sixth grades."

"Think what this means industrially, it means that every year millions of American boys and girls—for all grow up to be Americans no matter where they are born—are sent out wherever workers are needed; to factories, to trades, to commerce, to all industries. They are turned out into the world of fierce competition utterly unfit to compete, into a world of splendid opportunities without the training of intellectual power to enable them to take advantage of these opportunities. It is strange that skilled workmen are so few, or that the unskilled, low wage occupations are so overcrowded, or that our armies of unemployed are larger every time depression brings them into notice.

"Carefully devised apprenticeship systems successfully operated in the majority of factories would do much to augment the existing supply of skilled and efficient workmen, being educated along definite lines, thereby meeting the demand for competent leaders and executives. They would offer to young men of limited means, who would otherwise be forced into that large and growing class of unskilled labor, an opportunity to learn a trade. They would increase the efficiency of a plant, an industry, a people."

The South Speaks for Industrial Education.

The evening session of the National Society was presided over by Samuel D. Jones, sometime President of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. Addresses were made by Congressman Charles R. Davis, of Minnesota, and by G. Gunby Jordan, president of the board of education of that city, who made an eloquent plea for a broad policy in developing industrial education throughout the States. He said:

Psychological Moment for Industrial Training.

"Panics are productive of great good. These levelers prick inflation, institute economics, beget surer methods and herald the living truth that fitness and worth alone survive. The past twelve months have brought home to every industry in our land the need for a reliable export trade. The need for American goods which shall offer the stability of those of Germany, the taste and variety of those of France, the cheapness of our English competitors.

"Now is the psychological moment

THE OPIUM PROBLEM More than a year ago the Throne of China issued a decree, appointing a number of "capable and upright departmental officials" to investigate the nation's opium traffic. Their report has just been published and as it is said to be the most complete investigation of opium consumption yet attempted in China, it should prove of the utmost value in shaping the decisions of the International Commission which is to meet in Shanghai in January. As is well known by every man, woman and child in Canada, this country is to have a representative on that commission in the person of William Lyon Mackenzie King, M.A., M.P. On this account our interest in the opium traffic in China becomes acute and a resume of the native official's report will be received with enthusiasm.

The report declares that the production of opium in China is less than it was a year ago, and that the official classes of the community are breaking themselves off the pernicious habit of smoking the drug. With equal positiveness it states that "a real determination to give up the practice, no matter how intense the craving for the drug, results in a complete abandonment of the habit within a few months." This comforting assurance is at variance with popular opinion, which, however, as de Quincy pointed out long ago, was remarkably ignorant on the subject of opium. Nevertheless the authors of the report say that in a few years at the present rate of reform, opium smoking will have practically ceased in China. The present intention of the Chinese government appears to be that for ten years opium is to be grown and sold under strict official supervision, and that the end of the decade the drug shall become contraband and its possession or use a crime. The officials do not dissent from the wisdom of this course, but they point out practical difficulties to be overcome. They reason that a definite amount of opium would require to be fixed upon for purchase, on the basis of that fixed upon in regard to foreign opium, and there could be no use made of that amount left over. The fact that the use of the drug is decreasing convinces them that the amount of unsold opium would be large. They declare further that if China establishes these official bureaus, Great Britain will object on the ground that a Chinese monopoly is being created. The British government's good faith in a wish to suppress the traffic is taken for granted. The export of the drug from Hong Kong into China has been forbidden, and for two years no opium will be permitted in Shanghai. At present the contraband trade from Hong Kong is large, amounting to twelve chests a day, which is exactly the four times the amount used in the great port itself. The report urges that the enormous expense incurred by Japan in regulating her official sales in Formosa is a strong argument against China going into the dispensing business. Finally, abuses might grow out of the administering of the bureau hardly inferior to the ill they sought to remove. The official recommendation that the best system is one indirectly adopted on that of official sales. All establishments selling opium and all opium smokers should be supplied with permits, failure to secure which should be punishable by a heavy fine. The report continues: "In order to secure the still speedier suppression of the practice, poppy cultivation should be prohibited entirely within a period to be fixed, and proclamations should be issued by the provincial authorities threatening members of the official classes persisting in the habit with loss of their rank, and the rest of the population with enrollment on an opium smokers' list, to be published broadcast. All honors should be closed to them, and they should be treated as pariahs, so that a stimulus for the abandonment of the practice would thus be supplied by a man's natural ambition." The report goes on to say that in some parts of China it is the cultivation of the poppy that should be stopped; in others the smoking. Some provinces use foreign opium exclusively; others use the native drug. The provinces of Yunnan, Kwelchaw, Szechuan, Shensi, Shaansi and Honan are all growers of opium, and exporters to other provinces, but Yunnan, Fuk-tien, Nanking, and Anhui will grow no more of the drug. Neither will Honan after next year. This will mean that the entire production of opium in China will have decreased by 30 per cent. If the foreign powers do not force their opium upon China, and if the newly formed poppy system is capable of preventing smuggling, there is every reason to believe that the Chinese government is capable of stamping out the traffic altogether.

DISTRIBUTION OF SEED

Farmers May Receive Samples of Wheat, Oats, Corn, Barley and Potatoes from the Experimental Farms.

By instruction of the Hon. Minister of Agriculture a distribution is being made this season of samples of superior sorts of grain and potatoes to Canadian farmers for the improvement of seed. The stock for distribution has been secured mainly from the experimental farms at Indian Head, Sask., and Brandon, Man. The samples consist of oats, spring wheat, barley, peas, Indian corn (for ensilage only) and potatoes. The quantity of oats sent is 4 lbs., sufficient in each case to sow one-twentieth of an acre. The samples of Indian corn peas and potatoes weigh 3 lbs. each. A quantity of each of the following varieties has been secured for this distribution: Oats—Banner, Danish Island, Wide Awake, White Giant, Thousand Dollar, Improved Ligowo, all white varieties. Wheat—Red Varieties, Red Pile (beardless), Chelsea, Marquis, Stanley and Percy (early beardless), Preston, Huron and Pringle's Champlain (early bearded), White varieties, White Fife (beardless), Bobs (early Beardless). Barley—Six rowed; Mensury, Odessa, and Mansfield. Two rowed, Infusible and Canadian Thorpe. Field Peas—Arthur and Golden Vine. Indian Corn (for ensilage)—Early sorts, Angel of Moonlight, Comptons early and Longfellow; later varieties Selected Learning, Early Mastodon, and White Cap Early Dent. Potatoes—Early varieties, Rochester Rose, and Irish Cobbler. Medium to late varieties, Carman No. 1, Money Maker, Gold Coin and Dooley. The latter varieties are as a rule more productive than the early kinds. Only one sample can be sent to each applicant, hence if an individual receives a sample of oats he cannot also receive one of wheat, barley, peas, Indian corn or potatoes. Lists of names from one individual, or applications for more than one sample for one household, cannot be entertained. The samples will be sent free of charge through the mail. Applications should be addressed to the director of experimental farms Ottawa, and may be sent in any time from the 1st of December to the 15th of February, after which the lists will be closed, so that the samples asked for may be sent out in good time for sowing. Applicants should mention the variety they prefer, with a second sort as an alternative. Applications will be filled in the order in which they are received, so long as the supply of seed lasts. Farmers are advised to apply early to avoid possible disappointment. Those applying for Indian corn or potatoes should bear in mind that the corn is not usually distributed until April, and that potatoes cannot be mailed until danger from frost in transit is over. No postage is required on mail matter addressed to the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, Ont. WM. SAUNDERS, Director of Experimental Farms.

Last night Gus Fournier, who was appointed postmaster at St. Denis, was suspended, arrested and then liberated on bail. Detective Duran had the letter under actual observation from posting until it arrived at Duck Lake. The charge is not generally credited here, but is laid to dishonest clerks.

OPPOSES CALDER

Hugh A. Green, a Farmer and Independent Liberal, Asks Electors of Saltcoats to Vote for a Local Representative.

Yorkton, Nov. 27.—Hugh A. Green, a well known and popular farmer of the Wallace district will run against Hon. J. A. Calder in the approaching bye-election as an independent Liberal. Mr. Green has been a life long Liberal and in the last provincial election worked hard to elect the Hon. J. A. Calder. He states, in his published election address "I take the field in order to give every elector who believes a local man should represent his constituency a chance to say so by his vote. As a Liberal I have no confidence in Mr. Calder, not because Mr. Calder is a member of the government, but because Mr. MacNutt had represented Saltcoats as only a man living in the constituency can represent it. Mr. Calder represented a constituency in the last legislature and notwithstanding his influence as a member of the government was defeated at the late election in Milestone by a non-resident. As a farmer living in Saltcoats I solicit especially the votes of the farmers of Saltcoats. I believe in the provincial government ownership of elevators in order that farmers may obtain their fair share of the ultimate price of the grain they grow and would ask the support of farmers in order that we may force this issue on our provincial government." As Mr. Calder's nomination was practically forced on this constituency and is very distasteful to the large majority of voters, Mr. Green's chances of election are exceedingly bright.

Through our advertising columns we are pained to learn that Mr. Hugh Alexander Green of Wallace has so far forgotten his duty as a Liberal as to raise his standard of revolt and rebellion to do battle with our forces in Saltcoats under our lieutenant-general Calder, on the 7th of December next. And this in spite of all our solemn warnings. We therefore solemnly read Mr. Green out of the party—and not only him, but every other Liberal who has, or thinks of having the impudence of so audaciously so support his candidature in any way. Let him be anathema. What right has he, or any other Liberal local man though he be, to dare to oppose the will of the prime minister, from whom all political blessings flow? We therefore command, each and every justice of the peace, commissioner for taking affidavits, game guardian, school inspector, road fortman, road laborer, enumerator, would-be deputy returning officer, and every other Liberal who dare not say his soul is his own by the power of the patronage we wield and by that gratitude which is the expectation of favors to come, to smite Green and every other Liberal who supports him, his and thigh and teach these political rebels that the people of this country must do as the Scott government tells them.—Yorkton Enterprise.

GENERAL NEWS

Carleton Place, Nov. 27.—A most regrettable incident occurred here on Wednesday, when Florence, the five year old daughter of George Aylford, of the Clarendon hotel, was severely bitten in the face by a supposedly mad dog. Mr. Aylford left immediately with the little girl for Minneapolis, where she will be put under the Pasteur treatment. Florence is an extremely popular child and all here sincerely hope that no evil effects will follow. Several dogs have since been destroyed suspected of suffering from rabies.

Calgary, Nov. 27.—The blockade on the branch south from Calgary continues very severe. Three hundred thousand bushels are stored at High River and half a million yet to market. Everything is filled with wheat. The same condition is in all towns between here and Macleod. Farmers have recourse to various methods of storing their grain. In one instance a farmer had erected a six foot enclosure, poured his wheat in, and trusting to nature, had left the bin exposed to the weather. This enclosure stored three cars, while another three cars lay out in sacks. In another instance the farmer erected a building capable of holding ten cars. This means a great amount of extra labor, as it will be necessary to again move this grain.

Calgary, Nov. 27.—Living away up in the foothills northwest of Cochrane is Juliette Jacqueline Shettler, a handsome young woman about 25 years of age, who, according to the New York Telegram, is suing James Gordon Bennett for the right to bear his name in Paris. The case will commence tomorrow in Paris. Suit was entered by her mother six years ago. She would not give particulars to correspondent. Whatever was done in the lawsuit would be by proxy. Speaking of Bennett and her early life, Miss Shettler stated that she was born in Paris and educated in Surrey, England. She knew Bennett, and he might be a great, but he was certainly not a good man. She positively refused to make any statement regarding her parentage, nor would she speak of her mother, except to state that the suit was entered by her, using the daughter's name, some six years ago in Canada.

Edmonton, Nov. 27.—Howard Douglas, commissioner of Dominion Park returned today from Elk Island park at Lamont. He says the buffalo are being driven into the winter quarters and are all in fine shape. There are now 475 there. Park will be moved to Battle River Park next year when the 300 remaining in Montana are brought north. About 75 from Banff park will be brought up here. Some moose and elk from Banff will also be brought up to the northern park, and later musk ox, caribou and other native animals will be brought and become extinct. Next spring Mr. Douglas and H. C. Campbell of Ottawa, superintendent of forestry will take a trip west to the new Dominion park at Yellow Head. Five guards will be appointed and arrangements made for the care of the park. This park is 5,400 miles in extent and is the largest single park in Canada.

Of our total bread winners only 4 per cent. are in the professions and in the public service—the other 96 per cent. would be immediately benefited by such an education. Our backwardness in this regard is phenomenal. For it is true that the American people, until now have not appreciated the superlative value of the most efficient instrument in international competition; a system of thorough industrial and technical education.

"Our theories of education are obsolete—our practices are wasteful. Theory is the grave of all progress. The cry is for men and women who can do things. Let America supply these men."

America's Best Mechanics, Foreign Born.

"An employer of labor and a student of industrial life in America, recently declared that already 50 per cent of America's skilled mechanics are born and trained in foreign countries. Investigation shows that 98 per cent of the foremen and overseers in manufacturing enterprises in New York State, were educated in Europe."

"In the Commissioner of Labor's report, we are told that 'special trade and technical schools have been judged, both in this country and abroad, as the most efficient means of promoting the growth of industry and the improvement of product. Manufacturers everywhere are turning to the study of industrial education—no longer with any question as to its value, but merely as to the best means and methods.'"

"Doctor Draper gives credit to the other than regular industrial schools in this: 'Private business colleges, which for profit have undertaken to train pupils in simple mathematics, business forms and the like, have been a great help to many for a long time. Several of the Young Men's Christian Associations have established schools of this character and some of them are beginning to include trade schools in their scheme. Correspondence schools have attracted thousands of students and developed the existence of a widespread desire for self-improvement.'"

"Germany and Japan are living examples of what has been accomplished for the world, both in peace and war, by him who studies, first industrially and then technically, to accomplish the things of life. Industrial education accomplishes, as Person states, three things: It raises the average of intelligence; it develops specialized labor; it offers an opportunity for genius."

Organized Labor must be Recognized. Leon C. Sutton, editor of the "Labor World" of New York and New Jersey spoke on "The Wage Earner's Benefit from an Effective System of Industrial Education." He urged the point of view of the wage earner, saying: "To some few manufacturers in the United States who want to have educated, at public expense, young men and young women, who upon their graduation from an Industrial School, can be used as a club to lessen the rate of wages, or can be used as strike breakers, an effective system of industrial education means one thing. To the wage earner, on the other hand, who wants to have his children taught better than he was taught, it means something far different. He has a different standard. He wants the children taught not merely dexterity of hand but he wants them taught in addition to the theory of mechanics, the reading of blue prints and the use of tools, also the history of commerce, the ancient guilds, the origin and growth of Trades-Unionism, the story of the struggles through which it has gone, something of what real true unionism means in the betterment of the men and women of our country today, so that after their years of study in the industrial school they do not come forth with their diploma to eat up their fellow human beings by inferior work at lesser wage during longer hours and thus be an aid in undoing just what trade unionism has struggled so long and earnestly to win. They must start on their career at the foot of the ladder, well drilled of course, with a loyalty to their trade and a pride in their craftsmanship and yet a feeling that they have much to learn by practical experience."

While in England a visit was made to Devonport dockyard for the purpose of seeing the latest Dreadnaught man-o-war. H. M. S. Collingwood, launched. A tremendous gathering witnessed the big battleship successfully launched by Lady Asquith.

Xmas, with its problem of what to get for the little ones is coming and the following from the Canadian, may help some puzzled mothers: "A book for grown-ups to enjoy and youngsters to revel in, is 'Little Sam in Volendam,' rhymes and pictures by Estelle M. Kerr. Miss Kerr is a Toronto girl, whose clever work has won appreciation from all acquainted with the younger group of Canadian artists. She has studied in Holland and France, and possesses both ambition and originality. In this volume the author presents seventeen delightful illustrations for rhymes which have a humor and rhythm all their own. The verses by Miss Kerr are such as might be grown in 'garden' where Robert Louis Stevenson sowed his immortal. A charming bit of song is 'The Windmills.'"

A tall thin windmill came one day to live in Volendam. The short Dutch windmill laughed and laughed as only Dutchmen can. The windmill from America, just waded its arms and said: "Now if you watch me you'll see, the laugh's on you instead, for though you are so picturesque and steady, you must know, the winds that blow across the sea have whispered that you're slow."

There have been few books for small readers which are as full of quaint and delicate attractiveness as these glimpses of Holland which we catch from "Little Sam in Volendam." These rhymes and pictures make a gift book which should be in the hands of every Canadian youth, not later than December 25th at the latest. (New York, Moffat Yard & Co.)

"We believe that in any effective system of industrial education from which the wage earner is to derive a benefit organized labor must have a part. The young men and the young women educated in the various handicrafts which they have chosen in the trade schools, will be either the friends or the enemies of organized labor. It is not necessary that the pupils should be taught to be rabid unionists or to be strike breakers, but they should have their consciences awakened and they should learn what trade unionism means, what it has accomplished and what it has to attain. When once they have been taught to think we will risk the rest and an effective system of industrial education can confer no greater benefit upon the future workmen and workingwomen than to teach them to think, in addition to using their hands."

"We have said that an Effective System of Industrial Education must include the co-operation of the Trade Unionist. The pedagogues see in theory the value of such a training, the manufacturer sees the value of its productiveness, the Trade Unionists sees its human side and these young men and women are to be his successors. He remembers his trials and his sacrifices and he goes with natural caution, but admit him to his proper place among the boards of control and among the practical instructors, give due weight to his advice and then his attitude of suspicion will be turned to one of cordial co-operation."

Mr. W. H. Hurlay, returned last week from a trip to England. Mr. Hurlay, who is manager of the Regina Steam Laundry, after travelling some sixteen thousand miles, says that Regina "Our Queen City" looks good and compares very favorably indeed with any city and possesses more substantial buildings than many a larger city.

Out on a business and pleasure trip Mr. Hurlay naturally devoted considerable time to the laundry industry and was fortunate enough to be asked to visit, amongst others, the most exclusive laundry in New York.

The Regina Steam Laundry is going to make a specialty of laundering gentlemen's personal linen. This department will be fitted with the very best machinery, several new devices are already enroute and this will be the means of having Regina served by the most modern laundry in the west. This is the aim of Mr. Hurlay and he is supported by Messrs. Whitmore Bros.

While in England a visit was made to Devonport dockyard for the purpose of seeing the latest Dreadnaught man-o-war. H. M. S. Collingwood, launched. A tremendous gathering witnessed the big battleship successfully launched by Lady Asquith.

Xmas, with its problem of what to get for the little ones is coming and the following from the Canadian, may help some puzzled mothers: "A book for grown-ups to enjoy and youngsters to revel in, is 'Little Sam in Volendam,' rhymes and pictures by Estelle M. Kerr. Miss Kerr is a Toronto girl, whose clever work has won appreciation from all acquainted with the younger group of Canadian artists. She has studied in Holland and France, and possesses both ambition and originality. In this volume the author presents seventeen delightful illustrations for rhymes which have a humor and rhythm all their own. The verses by Miss Kerr are such as might be grown in 'garden' where Robert Louis Stevenson sowed his immortal. A charming bit of song is 'The Windmills.'"

A tall thin windmill came one day to live in Volendam. The short Dutch windmill laughed and laughed as only Dutchmen can. The windmill from America, just waded its arms and said: "Now if you watch me you'll see, the laugh's on you instead, for though you are so picturesque and steady, you must know, the winds that blow across the sea have whispered that you're slow."

There have been few books for small readers which are as full of quaint and delicate attractiveness as these glimpses of Holland which we catch from "Little Sam in Volendam." These rhymes and pictures make a gift book which should be in the hands of every Canadian youth, not later than December 25th at the latest. (New York, Moffat Yard & Co.)

"We believe that in any effective system of industrial education from which the wage earner is to derive a benefit organized labor must have a part. The young men and the young women educated in the various handicrafts which they have chosen in the trade schools, will be either the friends or the enemies of organized labor. It is not necessary that the pupils should be taught to be rabid unionists or to be strike breakers, but they should have their consciences awakened and they should learn what trade unionism means, what it has accomplished and what it has to attain. When once they have been taught to think we will risk the rest and an effective system of industrial education can confer no greater benefit upon the future workmen and workingwomen than to teach them to think, in addition to using their hands."

Tells How To Prepare a Simple Mixture To Overcome Disease.

To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of the following mixture after each meal and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggist, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.

This prescription forces the clogged up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes Rheumatism.

As Rheumatism is not only the most painful and torturous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.

It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism. Cut this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it, you want it badly.

SERIOUS DEPLETION IN FUNDS

HARD TIMES HARD ON THE POOR CONSUMPTIVE

Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives Makes an Urgent Appeal for Money.

$25,000 Required to Cover Bank Overdraft and Provide for Maintenance of Poor Patients.

These head-lines tell the story of our needs. They are heavy and urgent. Many times during the past twelve months the question has pressed itself upon the Trustees, "Can we continue the work further?"

Every month brought its quota of accounts for salaries and wages of staff, bills of butcher, milkman, eggs, groceries, heavy coal bills—a serious item—and other uncontrollable expenses so long as the doors were kept open.

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier returned to Ottawa this afternoon from New York, where the premier spent the whole of his brief holiday of ten days. Although Sir Wilfrid would only spare himself so short a respite from the duties of office he has been benefitted greatly by the trip and is again in the best of health. Hon. George P. Graham met the premier in New York on Friday and accompanied him home. Although a number of ministers are away, the cabinet council will meet frequently from now on to deal with urgent public business.

Rosthern Sask., Nov. 27.—Edward Tadel, who was committed for trial on the charge of having killed W. F. Ames, returned yesterday from Prince Albert, having been allowed out on bail of $4000. Salfrey, the missing burglar, has not been captured. The police in all the towns and cities in the neighborhood were sent a description of the missing man the day of the tragedy. It has been learned by the Rosthern police that Ames and Salfrey were in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan and Warman before coming to Rosthern. At Warman Salfrey's overcoat was stolen from him, but with the aid of Const. Barber, R.N.W.M.P., he recovered it.

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—Major General Sir Percy Lake will not go to India as quartermaster of Indian forces as indicated in cable despatches on Saturday. This is the announcement of an order issued by the war office some time ago which has just reached the public through the official channel. At the request of the Canadian government, Sir Percy Lake decided not to accept the post in India but to remain in Canada to complete the important work of military extension which he commenced some years ago. It is understood that Sir Percy will be given a larger salary and powers. He will probably be given the title of military adviser of the government.

Rome, Nov. 29.—The Pope has abandoned the idea of holding a consistory in December. This decision was reached partly because of the difficulty in choosing new French cardinals, and partly because the pontiff desires the termination of the discussion of the educational bill in England before he creates a British cardinal. In the meantime the pope will profit by the presence of Archbishop Gleason of St. Louis, in Rome and the forthcoming visit of Archbishop Ireland to study the matter of the American episcopacy with a view to creating another American cardinal.

Bishop Emard of Valleyfield, Canada, and Hon. Sydney Fisher, Canadian minister of agriculture, were presented to the Pope Saturday. Fisher went first to see the Pope after asking an audience of King Victor Emmanuel and this fact has created considerable comment.

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—An order-in-council, passed on Saturday, provides that no vessel from any American port with cattle on board will be allowed to touch any Canadian port; that no Canadian cattle will hereafter be exported to Europe except from Canadian ports; that no vessel clearing from a Canadian port with cattle from the United States will be permitted to take Canadian cattle on board; that no vessel which has touched a port in any of the effected states will be allowed for a period of twenty-one days to take cattle from Canada. The government has been advised that the Canadian Pacific railway is refusing to carry American cattle through Canada via way of Winnipeg.

Dissolution of Partnership. NOTICE is hereby given to the public that the firm of Speers, Marshall & Boyd, formerly carrying on business at the City of Regina, in the Province of Saskatchewan, has been dissolved, and that the undersigned George Speers has withdrawn from the said firm. The debts of the said firm are to be paid by Marshall & Boyd.

DATED at Regina, this 1st day of December, A.D. 1908. GEORGE SPEERS, Embury, Watkins & Scott, His Solicitors.

Prince Albert, Nov. 29.—Martha Orloff, charged with the murder of her infant child at Melior, on August 18th last was acquitted by the jury this afternoon, who brought in a verdict of not guilty. The verdict caused a cheering in the court, which was immediately suppressed by Chief Justice Wetmore, who threatened to have the offenders arrested.

Prince Albert, Sask., Nov. 29.—H. T. Loughran, an advertising expert, engaged in a special issue of the Prince Albert Times, had his leg broken this afternoon. In company with J. H. Hall, he drove out to the gold dredge, which is situated some 12 miles up the river, and in getting out of the buggy the horses started and he missed his footing and fell on the hard ground. He was immediately brought back to the city and taken to the Victoria hospital. Mr. Loughran is a well known eastern newspaper man.

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier returned to Ottawa this afternoon from New York, where the premier spent the whole of his brief holiday of ten days. Although Sir Wilfrid would only spare himself so short a respite from the duties of office he has been benefitted greatly by the trip and is again in the best of health. Hon. George P. Graham met the premier in New York on Friday and accompanied him home. Although a number of ministers are away, the cabinet council will meet frequently from now on to deal with urgent public business.

Ghastly Find

Moose Jaw, Sask., Nov. 30.—The crew on an outgoing freight made a horrible discovery this morning about three miles east of Moose Jaw when the mangled remains of a young woman were found scattered beside the track. The lower portion of the body was found a yard from the track, while the head and trunk were carried 28 paces from the rest of the body.

It is thought that the unfortunate victim was struck by a westbound passenger. The body was poorly clad with very little underclothing. The only mark of identification was a new linen handkerchief with the name Bayly stamped on the corner. The other handkerchief, badly soiled, was the only thing in the pockets. There is no clue at present as to how the tragedy occurred and the corner is awaiting further information before holding an inquest.

The remains have since been identified as that of Rosie Habispic who had been working as a domestic at Moose Jaw. She had evidently started to walk to Regina where her people live.

R. S. Lake's Majority

Moosomin, Nov. 26.—The recount for Qu'Appelle was completed today before Judge Johnstone, who declared R. S. Lake elected by 52.

In reference to the ballots missing from poll 88, the judge examined several witnesses and satisfied himself to the number of votes cast for the candidates at this poll, and the evidence agreeing with the certificate furnished by the deputy, his certificate showing 25 for Brown and 40 for Lake was accepted.

San Francisco, Dec. 1.—Chief Biggy last night tendered his resignation to police commissioner Keil at the latter's home, claiming that he had been hounded by the opposition press and graft prosecution. Keil refused to accept it. Biggy then took a patrol boat back to the city and was drowned.

Rome, Dec. 1.—The Pope's illness is causing some apprehension and his recovery is not regarded as certain. At the vatican an endeavor is being made to hide the gravity of the case, but the correspondent of the Hearst news service is informed that the Pope is feverish and has passed a bad night. His respiration is difficult owing to bronchial complications.

At the last convention of the International Bureau (Socialist), held in Brussels in October, the British Independent Labor Party was formally admitted as a constituent part of the international Socialist movement. There has been a tendency on the part of the Socialist organizations to repudiate what is essentially the combined socialist and trade union movement in Great Britain, and to deride the operations of the labor party since it really became a force in the councils of the Empire, and the S.D.F. (Social Democratic Federation) of Britain has been a leader in this line and went so far as to oppose the entrance of the British Labor Party into the bureau because forsooth, they worked hand in hand with the trade unionists in endeavoring to obtain the legislation required by the working people.

These had to be paid somehow. Contributions—especially after the turn of the year when the financial depression was felt at its keenest—fell off to such an extent, that each month the burden became heavier. During all this period there was only one thing to do, and that was to lean on our banker—swelling the bank overdraft.

The trial was the severest in the history of these Muskoka Homes, in which nearly 3,000 persons, stricken by the dread white plague, have been cared for.

But never for a single hour did the doors of the Free Hospital fail to swing open, and give a welcome to suffering ones without money and without price.

The good news has gone forth of a rich harvest the wide Dominion over.

Friends, we come to you at this time, when the clouds of depression are being lifted, asking that you now—in the direness of our extremity—help to lift the burden being carried—not for any personal gain, but solely, alone, only on behalf of suffering sisters and brothers.

Our plea is on behalf of the sick ones.

What will you give? Do not say nay. Help generously. Help all you can. Help now.

Contributions may be sent to W. J. GAGE, Esq., Chairman Executive Committee, 84 Spadina Avenue, Toronto; or J. S. ROBERTSON, Sec.-Treasurer National Sanitarium Association, 347 King Street West, Toronto, Canada.
