An expert electrician has devised a system, whereby the rooms in a house can be heated by rugs, mats, etc., charged with electricity. This is likely to cause no end of trouble. For instance, Julia and her young man may just get snuggled down on a single seated couch for a tew hours gum drop conversation when the old man upstairs would turn on the scorch current. The temperature of the couch drapery would immediately raise, also Julia and her Willie, the undue heat causing a coldness between them that might never thaw out.

That the Dominion dairy and cold storage commissioner has made no mistake in appointing Mr. George H. Barr to an important position on his staff at Ottawa is the general opinion of the dairymen of Western Ontario. Mr. Barr has been connected with the dairy interest for over 20 years and has a knowledge of it the equal of which few others possess. In the summer of 1902 the department of agriculture put him in charge of the instruction work in a group of factories in Lambton County, with headquarters at Watford, and as a result of his work there and similar work carried on by Mr. Publow in the east, the present system of forming the factories into THAT the Dominion dairy and cold ent system of forming the tactories into ent system of forming the factories into groups for instruction purposes was adopted. The following year Mr. Barr was appointed chief instructor for Western Ontario, which position he has held to the present time. In the same year he was appointed superintendent of the Western Dairy School, Strathroy, and in 1903 was made secretary-treasurer of the Dairymen's Association of Western On-tario. These positions he has resigned to accept a situation on the staff of the dairy and cold storage commissioner, Ottawa, Mr. Barr expects to enter upon his new duties in Ottawa about April 10.

Why do Country Boys Plock to big

Most small towns are short of young men. As a rule there are plenty of agreeable girls who would not object to matrimeny; there are plenty of old people and enough babies to go around. But the boy-oh, where is he?

The boy, the young man, has gone to the city, where he imagines there are opportunities. To him the old home town is dull and stupid. He sees no future for himself there. Both for social and financial considerations he rushes off to the great city. Very frequently he finds that he is lonesomer there than at homenearly always so; and even more frequently he finds that riches do not grown on ten-storey walls. But still he goes to the city.

In going there the boy simply follows his daddy's dollars For years his daddy and his mother and his big sister and his Aunt Mary Ann have been mailing their money to the big city for mail order bargains.

Result.—Home merchants don't thrive, grass grows in the streets, no jobs are to be had, no opening for a new business, and the young man goes to the city because it is a place where people have traded at home and built up their own community and provided opportunities for out-siders as well as for themselves.

If you want to keep your boy at home build up your home town so that he can build up his career among his home folks.

The Split-Log Drag.

The spring time is coming, when the question of country roads will be bothering our farmers again. Much expensive machinery has been purchased by some municipalities to keep a good road. A very simple and in-expensive contrivance is known as the split-log drag, which consists of a 12inch log being split in two and the two parts divided with rounds like a lad. der. This is drawn by a team with a diagonal hitch, and it as been suc-cessful in levelling rough roads and filling ruts. It can easily be done by any farmer and is very cheap. An esteemed contemporary is offering a prize for it's use this season.

The Privileges of Old Age.

Old age has its drawbacks, but it has also its privileges. Not the least of these is leisure; not idleness, for that way lie wretchdness and disintegration—but freedom from the stress of unlovely rivalry, and opportunity for the calm and moderate pursuit of congenial occupation. With its advent one may doff the armor, but not the apron, and choosing one's bench, not as a slave, but as a master.—U. S. Senator William P. Frye, in the March Circle.

WE understand the provincial government has appointed Mr. T. F. Hawken, of Strathroy, bailiff of the sixth division court for the county of Middlesex, in place of Mr. Malcolm McIntyre, resigned.

Fix of the present generation of skaters ever saw a pair of old fashioned "curl up" skates or know what they are, but it they are native born their parents or grandparents can probably tell them all about these old time appliances for skating over the ice. The boys and girls of today have quick fastening, light and handsome skates, and in many cases keep them attached to shoes that are used only them attached to shoes that are used only for skating and are put on at the pond side. In the old days straps for the "curl ups" were unknown, leather thongs or stout strings being used with a sort of "harness" to keep the skates on the feet. The term "curl up" comes from the man-ner in which the forward end of the skate irons were curled, extending over the toe to the foot. Doubtless many of the old folks can remember when the cheapest skates consisted of a wood bottom for the foot and a strip of metal for an ice surface. These were "cheap" indeed.

THE old oaken bootjack, the timeworm bootjack, the heel-gripping bootjack that nung on the wall, back of the stove, near the woodbox! I remember it well. It was the most useful and indispensable article of furniture of any farm house. What foud recollections it recalls to mind! I remember when I had tramped around in the suow and the slush all day, until my stiff leather boots shrank to my wet feet like a second growth of hide and pinched my toes like a vise. What a pinched my toes like a vise. What a relief it was on returning home at night to sock my heel firmly into the grip of the old bootjack and feel its power, as I gradually dragged my cramped foot from its leather case, pinching and wiggling my numbed and half-frozen toes to get them back into natural shape, and then feeling the stinging sensation as the blood began to circulate freely once more. The useful old oaken bootjack! I have seen it thrown at tramps, book agents, dogs and cats. I have seen it used to dig potatees, crack nuts, kill rats and mice, drive nails, stir soff soap, poke the fire, and break the ice in the old water tub. The old oaken bootjack, the timeworn bootjack, the heel-gripping boottub. The old oaken bootjack, the time-worn bootjack, the heel-gripping boot-jack that hung on the wall.

Fruit Growers Industry.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture, the Ontario Fruit Grower's Association, various local and district associations, and the Farma's Institutes are at the present time co-operating in a very vigorous campaign for the furtherance of the fruit growing industry. The Fruit Grower's have arranged an extensive series of meetings in connection with the Farmer's Lostitutes of the Province to promote the oranization of co-operative Fruit Grower's associations. This work began at Leamington four years ago, and has been followed up success. Already there are twenty-eight such associations. Messrs. A. E. Sherrington, of of Walkerton; Harold Jones, of Maitland; W. D. A. Ross, of Chatham; D. Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have been a sufferer for the past eight years with a trouble which first originated from painful periods—the pains were excruciating, with inflammation and ulceration of the female organs. The doctor says I must have an operation or I cannot live. I do not want to submit to an operation if I can possibly avoid it. Please help me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Washington, D.C.

Her second letter: Her second letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"You will remember my condition when I last wrote you, and that the doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I received your kind letter and followed your advice very carefully and am now entirely well. As my case was so serious it seems a miracle that I am cured. I know that I owe not only my health but my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to your advice. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I wish every suffering woman would read this letter and realize what you can do for them."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick 59th and East Capitol Sts., Washington, D.C.

WATFORD, MAR 22, 1907.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

If the Postmaster General desires to increase the revenue of his department he might advance the postal rate on the tons of mining prespectuses that now flood His Majesty's mail. A sliding scale, based on the value the promoters estimate their !propositions to be worth, would bring in a revenue that in a short time would defray the cost of a rural free delivery in the wilds of Muskoka. Aside from the burden they impose on the P.O. department they have become a nuisance to those who are obliged to carry them from the office to the waste basket.

It is estimated that three hundred thousand immigrants will enter Canada this year. The active campaign carried on by our agents in Britain and the U.S. is having its effect, and a desirable class of settlers are coming to the country. The Dominion, with its thousands of square miles of virgin soil, offers greater inducements to newcomers than any country under the sun. Here every able bodied and industrious man is assured of a home for himself and family, and by exercising thrift and good management is assured of a competence in a few years, that he could not acquire in a life time in the old land. The broad and fertile acres of the great West, and the rich forests of New Ontario, await and welcome his coming.

The question of national disarmament will be discussed at the coming peace Conference to be held at the Hague. The colossal folly of spending millions of money, in preparation for war which may never come, is recognized by the leading statesmen of all nations, and the common people who have to bear the burden of people who have to bear the burden of taxation are beginning to resent the causeless expenditure. Nations, however, are constituted very much like individuals, and as long as rivalry and jealousy prevails the dawn of the era of universal peace is in the remote future. The Emperor of Germany, who is one of the disturbing features in international diplomacy, has already intimated his objection to the proposal, and without unanimity there is little hope.

The railway companies have themselves to thank for the present agitation for lower fares and restriction of their powers. By their arbitrary and public opinion defying methods of dealing with the people they have antagonized a large element upon which they are dependent for their support. Public sentiment has become so aroused that legislatures have been obliged to take action, and the railway magnates are now the suppliants for favors they refused to grant to others. President Roosevelt's decided stands has brought the great traffic lines up with a shoot turn, and they are knocking at the door for mercy. Canada is proceeding along the same lines, and is insisting on rights which the public have long been denied. The people rule and own this country and the railways or any other corporation who undertake to deprive them of their right will make trouble for themselves in the end.

The daily record of wrecks on land and sea is becoming so common that the average newspaper reader merely glances at the heading to note the number of killed and injured, and turns over to the Thaw trial or some other sensation of the day The reading public becomes callous and indifferent, and, unless the disaster is of unusual magnitude dismiss it with a passing comment. Even an earthquake with its attendant horrors only arouses a lanquid interest. This is not as it should be and, unless this apathy is shaken off little is likely to be done in the way of apply. ing a remedy. A large majority of the ing a remedy. A large majority of the disarters that take place are preventible, and due to gross carelessness and incompetence on the part of those responsible for their occurrence. This is where the strong hand of the law should show itself, and an example made that would deter others from offending. Unless some action is taken along these lines the uncertainty of life will continue to be daily demonstrated.

One of the most successful sales of the season was held at Geo, Wilkie's, Wisbeach, on Wednesday afternoon. There was a big crowd in attendance, everything was in first class shape and top prices were realized, steers sold for $65, two fat cows for $115 cash, cows for over $50, and a two-year-old colt for $178. The total sales amounted to $2,280, $350 more than the owner's estimate, which speaks well for Auctioneer Elliot's ability as a salesman, everything being disposed of in three hours. All the people in the neighborhood are sorry to lose Mr. Wilkie and family as they are good neighbors and good citizens. They take with them the best wishes of the community to their new home in Strathroy.

Morley-Wilson.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilson, 359 Bannatyne ave., yesterday, beneath a bower of palms, smilax and white blossoms erected in the drawing room for the event, Rev. J. W. Macmillan performed the ceremony, uniting in marriage Miss Gertrude May Wilson, their second daughter, and Arthur W. Worley of the firm of Mogley & Suffield Morley, of the firm of Morley & Suffield, barristers, of this city. The lovely bride, who was given away by her father, was beautifully gowned in ivory chiffon, embroidered in a design of lillies of the values of the sufficient ley and morning glories, worn over a foundation of white taffeta. She carried a beautiful bouquet of lillies of the valley and forget-me-ncts, which, with a rich mink stole, were gifts from the groom. Her sister, Miss Cora Wilson, performed the duties of bridesmaid, wearing a most becoming frock of white point d'esprit over white silk. She carried a boquet of white carnations. J. A. Suffield performed the puties of best man. At the class of the ceremony the Mendelseche. close of the ceremony the Mendelssohn close of the ceremony the Mendelssohn wedding march was played by Master Jack Gibson, after which the guests, numbering about thirty, repaired to the dining room, where refreshments were partaken of, the bridal table being centered with a collossal cake surmounted with lilies of the valley.—Winnipeg Telegrap of March 2th gram of March 7th.

The bride is a niece of Mrs. W. D. Cameron, of Watford, and has many friends here, who join in congratulations.

A Misleading Statement.

TO OUR NUMEROUS FRIENDS AND CUS-

We notice in a dodger circulated in Arkona by Messrs. McKenzie & Meldrum, under the head of "Boycotted;" the following statement. "We had been dealing with a large hardware firm in London. They were told, "If you sell to Mckenzie & Meldrum you cannot sell to us." The statement is absolutely untrue, and we courteously but very firmly ask those gentlemen to prove the assertion, and until they do, we feel justified in not paying any attention to anything they may say in the future, as we are altogether too busy to do otherwise.

Now, just a word of explanation. It is almost an invariable rule for the larger

Now, just a word of explanation. It is almost an invariable rule for the larger wholesale houses, especially the hardware, dry goods, boots and shoes and millinery, to deal with only one retailer in a small town or yillage, and as we deal almost exclusively with this large hardware house, having known the head of this firm from boyhood and when he first started as a clerk, we dealt with him and this firm from boyhood and when he first started as a clerk, we dealt with him and have been dealing with him as he advanced step by step to his present position. Now, for reasons of their own, and without the slightest influence being used, they decided it was not wise to sell to more than one dealer in a place, and when they told us of their decision our answer was. Married in London.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Arnold, sr., 506 Nelson street, London, March 13th when their third daughter, M. Laura, was united in marriage to Herbert H. Smith, of Watford. Rev. D. E. Martin, of the Hamilton Road Methodist Church, officiated. The bride looked charming in a dress of pearl gray duchess silk, and carried a large bouquet of carnations and smilax. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Arnold, of Dreaney avenue. After congratulations the guests partook of an elegant dinner. Miss Jennie Moore read the following address:

To Mr. H. Smith and Bride:

Though mud a foot deep and darkness so dense, that we could not through it peep, and almost went to sleep, conveyed by a rickety old bus, we came one and all to kick up a fuss. While we all regret that you could not make a choice of a help-mate from one of our number, and had to go abroad for a different brand, nevertheless we feel that as time is a healer the disappointment will vanish, especially when we see with our own eves the choice you have made in choosing such a charming bride. We meet here to-night upon a very joyous and yet regretful occasion. Joyous, because of the pleasant associates and cheerful surroundings, and regretful because it means we must say frewell to one we always held in high esteem and whom we as well as a large circle of other friends will be sorry to have you leave our midst. However, while you are away in the Wild and Woolley West, bounding o'er the vast unwooded plain, taming buffalo, breaking ronchos shocting coyotes, etc., it is a pleasure to know your thoughts will sometimes wander back to the many friends you left behind. To show further the respect and esteem in which you are held, we ask you to accept these tokens and will conclude with this well known wish,

Happy are we met,

Happy have we been,

Happy any we part,

And happy meet again.

Thousands of women are using PSY-CHINE, because they know from experience that in it they have a safe friend and deliverer. Psychine is a wonderful tonic, purifying the blood, driving out disease germs, gives a ravenous appetite, adds digestion and assimilation of food, and is a positive and absolute cure for and is a positive and absolute cure for disease of throat, chest, lungs, stomach and other organs. It quickly builds up the entire system, making sick people well and weak people strong.

If a Japanese artist wishes to describe in color and design the anticipation of happiness he draws a picture which is a combination of an April evening, a moon, a nightingale and a m tree or two. Victory is symbolized by the iris, grace and quiets by the willow tree and the swallow for symbols. Patriotism is sometimes indicated by a spray of cherry blossoms. The almond flower is the flower of spring and symbolizes beauty The dragon twines and Japanese artistic course through all Japanese is The dragon twines and writhes an art, root and branch. His name Tatsu, and when you see him pictured as fighting with a tiger it is the symbol of religion fighting against power. A dragon floating about in the clouds means success in life. Tori, the cock, perched upon a drum, signifies good government. Both the Greeks and the Japs use the butterfly to symbolize immortality.

Both Suspicious.

Baron Hubner went one evening to call upon President Thiers, who was then at the head of the French republic. The baron found the door of the house open and walked upstairs. In the dim light a man crept stealthily toward him. Knowing that the president went in fear of his life and, unwilling to die a martyr in a cause not his own, the baron hurriedly explained, "I am not M. Thiers." "I know that you are not M. Thiers," answered the mysteriyou are." Before answering the baron insisted upon knowing the identity of his companion. "Oh. I am M. Thiers' was the answer. Hubner declared himself. "Ah." said the butler. with a sigh of relief, "I have your name first on the list of visitors." Each had taken the other for an assassin.

Worked the Tigers.

Near Perak, in the Malay peninsula, is a prosperous rubber factory run by a long headed Scotchman. In order to obtain the sap from which the rubber is made it is necessary to puncture the bark of the trees. Laborers are scarce in that district, but there is an abundance of tigers. There were not enough men to "tap" the trees, but the Scotch proprietor hit on a brilliant idea. He knew that tigers are fond of valerian, so he gave orders that all the trees should be rubbed with this stuff. The tigers came up and caressingly scratched the bark in the most approved herringbone fashion, after which all that the coolies had to do was to walk around once a day and

Mamma had not noticed the clock striking during all of the afternoon and, thinking perhaps it had stopped asked little Rita to go into the and see if it was running. Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart

Cures the nerves through the heart. Experience of the highest medical authorities ha Cures the nerves through the heart. Experience of the highest medical authorities has conclusively proven that the quickest way to cure diseases of the nerves is to fortify the heart with "food" that is natural to it, and that enriches the blood; and it has been proven also, beyond the shadow of a doubt, by this same high medical authority, that Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is the most potent nerve nourisher and heart trengthener that has been "gathered in" from nature's lap to assuage sufferings, stop pain and heal the heartsick; and when you know that with the heart, the main spring, the healince wheel of life, out of order, the future looks out on nothing but darkness and that will lift you back to health? Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will relieve any and every form of heart disease in 30 minutes.

LEPROSY.

Peculiarities of This Loathsome and Deadly Disease. The fact that many persons come into intimate contact with lepers for years without becoming affected is not strange when one reflects that the same applies to the closely allied disease-tuberculosis. Men have voluntarily submitted themselves to direct inoculation with material from the sores, discharges, etc., of lepers, yet in only one case (that of a Hawaiian convict who, when condemned to death, submitted to the alternative of inoculation) was the actual disease produced in this artificial manner.

There is no cure for leprosy. All the emedies proposed after th becomes well seated have been of little use. The utmost attained is a prolongation of life and a mitigation of suffering.

is a tradition which has of late obtained some scientific support that fish diet is one of the necessary causes of leprosy, either through taintfish containing some substance which stirs the bacilli into activity or through the bacilli growing in the fish and thus being taken into the stomach. This lunacy may have originated in the belief that the scales of the leper and the scales of the fish are analogous. Leprosy exists among inland peoples who never eat fish and does not seem specially prevalent among those of the coasts who eat most fish. A curious thing about leprosy is that only one woman is affected to every four men.

African Blood Brotherhood.

The method of making blood brotherhood among the Galla and Somali has its peculiarities. It is described by William Astor Chanler in "Through Jungle and Desert." Lokomagul on behalf of his people and I on behalf of my own each seized in our right hands a round stone. Upon the stones we liberally expectorated. Each then passed his stone to his following, who did likewise. We then exchanged stones, and each, holding the stone in his right hand, with his left dug a hole in the soil, meanwhile uttering words of supposed magic import. In these holes we finally placed the stones and covered them with sand. We then grasped hands and assured each other that we were the best friends possible.

Chance and Accident.

It is a mortifying truth, and ought to teach the wisest of us humility, that many of the most valuable discoveries have been the result of chance rather than of contemplation and of accident rather than of design.

It was a son of Erin who asked the meeting to excuse him from serving on a committee because he expected to be unexpectedly called away.

Horses for the West-

Glencoe, March 11.—The northwest fever has broken out again here with greater in-tensity than ever. People desirous of go ing to the west experience great difficulty in securing cars. Nearly everyone going taking a full complement of horses allowed in a car with settlers' effects, i. e., ten horses or cattle Many are shipping full care of horses. Four carloads of horses left this place on Saturday for the west, in ad dition to one for the old country. Some dition to one for the old country. Some buyers are taking all sorts and conditions of horses. They claim it is possible to make good money out of them, the demand for cheap horses being so great in the west. It is a good thing for this part of the country, as all the old scrubs are being gathered up and taken away, enhancing the price of the horses that remain.

Death of a Brooke Ploneer An old and respected resident of Brooke passed away in the person of Mary Ann Watson, relict of the late John Parker, on Thursday, March 7th, in her seventy-sixth year. Deceased had been in failing health for some time, but the end came somewhat sudden and unexpected, heart somewhat sudden and unexpected, heart trouble being the cause of her death. Mrs. Parker was born in the Township of Goulburn, Carleton Co., Sept. 27th, 1831, and when only three years of age came with her father, the late Wm. Watson, to lot 14, in the 13th concession of Brooke. The Township at that time was uninhabited by white men, her father being said to be the first white settler of Brooke therefor it is needless to say that the deceased passed through all the hardships, inconveniences and privations of pioneer inconveniences and privations of pioneer lite and lived to see the Township of her adoption transformed from a wild and trackless forest into a fertile and well adoption transformed from what and trackless forest into a fertile and well cultivated township. She was married in 1854 to John Parker, and settled on lot 13, con. 13, Brooke, where she resided until the time of her death, her husband having pre-deceased her eight years. Ten children blessed this union, of whom eight are still living, viz.: William, Francis, Harvey and Mrs. R. McIllmurray, Brooke; John W., Mrs. James Murdock, and Florence, Regina, and Mrs. Robt. J. McBean, Crossfield, Alta. She is also survived by two brothers, William, Napinka, Man., John, Deckerville, Mich., and five sisters, Mrs. Nelson, Desmoines, Iowa; Mrs. James Acton, Warwick, and Misses Jane, Betsey and Martha, Watford. The subject of this sketch was an earnest lifelong christian and during her last illness gave strong testimony of her last illness gave strong testimony of her trust in Christ. The funeral, which was trust in Christ. The funeral, which was largely attended took place on Saturday, at 10 a.m., to the Mt. Carmel cemetery. The funeral service was held in the church, and was conducted by the Rev. T. B. Coupland, six grandsons acting as call bearing. pall-bearers.

SPRING ADVICE.

Do Not Dose With Purgatives and Weakening Medicines-What People Need at This Season is a Tonic.

Not exactly sick—but not feeling quite well. That's the spring feeling. You are easily tired, appetite variable, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Or perhaps pimples and eruptions appear on the face, or you have twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order, that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily deder, that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble. Don't dose yourself with purgative meeicines in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. What you need is a tonic medicine that will make new, rich, red blood, build in the real-coord record. icine that will make new, rich, red blood, build up the weakened nerves and thus give you new health and strength. And the one medicine to do this speedily and surely is Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Chief Justice Meredith has quashed the local option by-law of Ailsa Craig, on which the vote was 104 to 70. The mathematicans got to work under the two-fifths clause, and figured away until they found that the by-law was lost by two-fifths of a vote. It required 104 2-5 votes to carry, and 104 was all that could be got together.
