French Repel Fierce German Attacks Against Fort Rheims

STRONG EFFORTS OF GERMANS
FRUSTRATED BEFORE RHEIMS

French Put Up Successful Defence of Pompelle Fort, Driving Off
Enemy—Another Attempted Blow in Champagne
Prevented by Fire.

Paris, March 3.—Strong efforts by German troops to debouch from the Neufchatel salient, northwest of Rheims, were frustrated, the French war office announced. The enemy failed to reach the Pompelle fort, succeeding only in gaining a foothold with small detachments to the west of it. A French counter-attack stopped a German advance on a half-mile front in the Champagne. The text of the statement is as follows:

"The artillery battle reported yesterday at several points on the French front from the Chemin-des-Dames to the Meuse continued all night with marked intensity, accompanied by very lively infantry actions, in the course of which the French troops retained the advantage.

"The aggressive enemy action manifested itself mostly in the region northwest and southeast of Rheims until the end of the day. German troops attempted to debouch from the salient of Neufchatel. The French fire, directed with precision, disorganized the attacks. Portions of German detachments which succeeded in penetrating French advanced positions were driven out by French counter-attacks. At the same time (6.40 p.m.) enemy detachments attempted to approach the French lines, but French fire forced them to return precipitately to the trenches they had left.

"After this first repulse the enemy launched a new and more violent attack in the same region. In spite of his repeated efforts he was unable to reach the fort of La Pompelle. A few enemy elements only succeeded in gaining a foothold north of a small wood situated to the west of the fort. At the same time an enemy attack more to the east, south of La Bretonnerie, obtained no result.

"In the Champagne, the enemy attacked the French lines at two points without obtaining the slightest success. Near Carnillet, an attack delivered on a front of 800 metres found the French trenches evacuated by orders. Energetically returning to the trenches, French troops drove back the enemy and re-established the French position.

"East of the Teton a German attack was checked under our fire. Southwest of the Butte du Mesnil there was a violent bombardment all night. During these actions the French inflicted serious losses upon the enemy and took a number of prisoners.

"On the left bank of the Meuse there was local artillery activity, which was quite lively in the Hautcourt sector. On the right bank, in the region of Vanx les Palameix, French patrols took two enemy raids, in Lorraine and in the Vosges, south of Pave, were completely checked."

Grand Headquarters of the French Army in France, March 3.—Determined efforts by the Germans to obtain possession of Fort La Pompelle, to the southeast of Rheims, and to secure another dominating position from which they could complete the destruction of the city, have met with a sanguinary failure. The preparations for the attack began on Feb. 28 along a front extending nearby ten miles, from Lorraine to Sillery. The German infantry, the following day, at five different points, went over the top, advancing toward the salient facing Neufchatel, La Pompelle, La Bretonnerie, Mont Haut and Teton, at the same time making a feint in the neighborhood of Betheny.

It was soon seen that the principal point of assault was La Pompelle, to which two battalions tried to force their way. Some of the Germans succeeded in reaching Alger farm, a fortified point fronting on the dismantled Fort La Pompelle, but none were able to enter the fort itself.

Line Restored. On March 2 a French counter-attack quickly restored the line to its original position, and not an inch of French lines now remains in German hands. The French regiment holding the position was one which had already won distinction on other battlefields. It held tenaciously under the horrible bombardment, in which thousands of gas shells made the air deadly poisonous. Some of its men who were taken prisoner successfully eluded their escort and took refuge in a shell crater, where they found a large supply of hand grenades. With these they held off the Germans who were endeavoring to recapture them, and eventually returned to the French lines.

An aspirant officer, who was captured, was forced to help carry a stretcher with a German casualty. His fellow-bearer, fatally wounded, and the aspirant immediately turned right-about and made for the French lines with his wounded prisoner.

WOMEN AND TRADES

Recommendation That They Be Utilized to Release Men for War Service.

Ottawa, March 3.—After a three-day session the war conference of Canadian women ended on Saturday afternoon when they met the war cabinet and presented a number of resolutions, adopted at the morning meeting with the war cabinet.

The war conference of Canadian women assembled at the call of the war committee of the cabinet...

The general resolutions passed by the conference were as follows: 1. That this conference desires to express to the war committee of the cabinet their great appreciation of the recognition shown of the place of women in Canada by the invitation issued to some among them to meet in conference in Ottawa.

Mill Grain in Canada. 2. Whereas the allied nations are facing imminent starvation and are looking to Canada for the source of supply, and whereas the people of Canada are making great sacrifices to supply this need, and whereas part of the grain that is being sent to Great Britain is being wasted in the production of spirituous beverages which are no benefit, but a serious detriment to the cause of the allied nations, therefore it is resolved that this conference express its belief that to prevent this waste of foodstuffs the milling of grain be done in Canada, and only the manufactured article be exported to Great Britain.

WAR SUMMARY THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED The Russian delegation has signed peace with the Germans and Austrians at Brest-Litovsk, and the Germans have stopped their military movements against Great Russia. The delegates reported by telegraph to the Petrograd soviets that after every hour that elapsed the enemy increased their demands. His latest terms were the cessation, in addition to the other territory, of the districts of Kurs, Kubansk and Belgorod in the Caucasus. In Russia, meanwhile, the spirit of resistance has risen and a strong element is opposing the peace. The treaty, it is said, is not more than ten per cent of the Russian population. These men will be taught the lesson, too, that like Germany, they cannot tear away most binding treaties of alliance as scraps of paper.

It will matter but little whether this peace treaty is ratified or not, so far as the fortunes of war are concerned, for the Japanese intervention and the uncertainty of Bolshevik policy will probably make the settlement of little military benefit to the enemy. He cannot tell when the Bolsheviks may repudiate it, as being exacted from them, and attempt to regain the lost territory, neither can he be sure that the Bolshevik propaganda in Germany will cease. In consequence he will have to make large forces in the east to watch the Russians and

REPORTS ON WORK OF FIFTEEN YEARS

Rev. T. Albert Moore Preaches in Metropolitan Methodist Church.

SOCIAL RECONSTRUCTION

This Work, He Says, Has Been Made More Difficult by War.

"Canada's social reconstruction problems have been made infinitely more difficult on account of the war," said Rev. Dr. T. Albert Moore, secretary of the Methodist department of social service, at the Metropolitan Church yesterday morning.

The work will be conducted on the same lines as those which have proved successful in aiding in detaching liquor power in the Dominion. So complete has been the defeat of the liquor interests that prohibition has now been enacted for every province in Canada—in the case of Quebec to go into effect in May, 1919.

Campaign of Education. The Methodist social reform methods had been first a thorow scientific investigation of the facts of each problem. Next, a systematic campaign of education to bring public opinion up to date with the requirements; then an organized movement to procure the requisite legislation.

GERMANS PLANNED SHORTAGE OF COAL EVEN BEFORE WAR

B. F. Haanel Speaks Before Royal Canadian Institute on Subject.

INTRIGUE IN CANADA

Closing Down of Coal Mines Brought About by Enemy Agents.

U. Murray Clark, K.C., president of the Royal Canadian Institute, in introducing B. F. Haanel, who spoke on "The Fuel of Canada," at the weekly meeting Saturday night, said that Mr. Haanel was a scientist and the son of a scientist, and that if Canada was to avoid disaster more heed must be paid to the scientists.

Mr. Clark said there were many factors in the fuel problem, but one of the most important was the German conspiracy which had been planned for some time before the war.

The German conspiracy is now known to have been planned towards the end of the last century with Teudic thoroughness. Hay warned Choate, President McKinley, and afterwards Theodore Roosevelt. After the battle of the Marne the Germans realized that they must depend on the German propaganda in the allied and neutral countries.

The Germans also plan to prevent the necessary increase in production and particularly to create a coal shortage in both Canada and the United States.

The closing down of coal mines in western Canada and the slowing down of coal production in the mines of eastern Canada were the result of the work of agencies financed by the Germans and directed from Berlin.

In 1914 it was well known that in order to ensure the success of the allied forces there must be a greatly increased production, especially of coal.

It is now quite certain that unless drastic action is taken there will be a winter that we have suffered from this winter. After the United States had been declared war on Germany the United States authorities began to take vigorous action against the I.W.W. and other organizations playing the German game.

As the picture indicates, Lieut. Scott was buried with full naval honors. His uncle, Capt. Garnet W. Chaplin of Toronto, was given special leave to London for the funeral.

Other People's Opinions

Dr. Watson on "Knavish Tricks."

Editor World: Miss Frieda Held's faithful periodic work should give her a right to candid private utterance on matters non-essential, such as the spirit and literary quality of a national prayer.

The weight of her offence lies, we are told, in her objection to a certain stanza which every educated person should know to be unworthy of the glorious history of Great Britain to permit her to print the second stanza in its book of praise, and it is omitted from some of the best English prayer books.

CANADA SHOULD REFUSE ALL GERMANY'S TERMS

Major Gordon Says Canadian Soldiers Live as Gods as Men at Home.

Three thousand people crowded St. Paul's Anglican Church, Bloor street, last night to hear Major (Rev.) C. W. Gordon (Ralph Gordon) deliver a message from the front.

Belgium's devastated plains gave the answer "No." The women of France were writing to their loved ones on the front to tell them that they were in the front lines.

Canada's duty at this crisis was first of all to turn away from the acceptance of any such terms as offered by Germany. The duty of individual Canadians was to be united at home as the soldiers were in the front.

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 4

Russia, Germany and Japan.

Fussillaninity is the main feature of the Russian delegation, which has undertaken to sign a treaty of peace with Germany. Germany will, of course, only use it as a pretext for further encroachments, as her policy, now that it is plain that she can make no gains in the west, is to justify her militarism by grabbing all she can in the east. A Germanized Russia would compensate for the loss of Belgium and Bagdad, and might even prepare the way for the acquisition of these prizes in a later war. The later war is already being planned by the German chiefs, whose present solicitude is to secure a peace interval for the preservation.

All this should be clearly understood by all friends of democracy. The British people have grasped the facts and are nerved with a high resolve that there shall be no "next time." The French, silent, but determined, will stand to the last. The United States have put their hand to the plow, and there will be no looking backward under President Wilson.

There are two considerations of importance arising out of the present situation. The first concerns the domestic condition of Germany and Austria. While everything is to be hoped from internal agitation and revolt, it is the opinion of the best observers that the German people left at home have not the spirit of revolution among them in sufficient strength to change the German policy. It is only after a crushing defeat and the overthrow of the militarist plans, with the consequent revelation to the German people of the sordid way in which their leaders have used them, and the return home of the defeated armies, that a revolt is probable.

The other consideration is the participation in a new phase of the war by Japan. That power has already done great things for all the entente allies, including Russia, and the time has now come when, with the collapse of Russian self-respect and national consciousness, the Germans are determined to take advantage of the situation, and it becomes the duty of Japan to counteract that move. Very valuable stores at Vladivostok, Harbin and at other points in Siberia make it wise and necessary to prevent these falling into enemy hands, and Japan is the most natural guardian and trustee of these treasures under the circumstances. The United States is beginning to share the perfect confidence which Great Britain places in the Japanese Government, and the action to be taken will no doubt prove a checkmate to the German plans.

Abolition of Patronage.
Patronage in political practice received rough handling from Prof. Wrong at the Empire Club on Thursday. There was no expression of dissent with his views from the experienced audience that listened to his indictment. He briefly summed up the overwhelming case against the system, and asked for help for its overthrow.

Mr. Norman Sommerville added another argument of great weight. He appealed to the knowledge of those present if it were not the fact that this reason a better class of men did not go into politics was because there was so much evil and corruption as a result of this vile system. Abolish it, and immediately political life would become purer and a better class of men would be attracted to take part in public affairs.

The holding of the first civil service examination in Ottawa yesterday was a good omen of the new policy, and there is no doubt that promotion for merit will beget an era of efficiency and economy.

A Woman's Era.
Yesterday's papers announced an important discovery by women workers. The microbe of gas-gangrene had not been isolated, and there was no way of making the anti-toxin with which to inoculate affected patients. Most of these anti-toxins are produced within two or three days of infection, but the gas-gangrene poison could not be found. The women observers who have discovered it hit upon the fact that it was produced within twenty hours,

Sympathy for the Grand Trunk, But None for the Canadian People

There is a tendency in some quarters to weep over the woes of the Grand Trunk and the British investors, who many years ago subscribed the capital stock of that company. The Montreal Star has devoted a good deal of space to proving that Canada is indebted to the Grand Trunk for developing the country and for constructing a tunnel under the Detroit River, the Victoria Bridge at Montreal, and other important works. It joins with The Montreal Gazette, The London Advertiser and others in deploring the sad fate of British investors in the securities of the Grand Trunk. Some, however, we are asked to believe that the owners of the Grand Trunk have been shabbily treated by the government of Canada, and will suffer irreparable injury if their road be nationalized.

It might be a sufficient answer to say that the common stock of the Grand Trunk has paid no dividends for years, and has no value beyond the voting power of the stockholders. Some, however, possess, and that the holders of preference stock, in the event of the road being taken over by the government, will receive for their property all that it is reasonably worth. But, in view of the obvious attempts to play upon the sympathies of our people, it may be well to glance at the reverse side of the ledger and see what the Grand Trunk owes Canada. The Star, Gazette and Advertiser have much to say about the British investor, but they have nothing to say about the terrible burden of debt that the men in control of the Grand Trunk have placed in perpetuity upon the unfortunate people of Canada.

POLICY INFAMOUS, SAYS SOCIALIST

Attack in Reichstag on German Administration of the War.

TRUTH IS KEPT BACK

Country is Sold, Body and Soul, to the Military Caste.

London, March 3.—The German Government's "infamous war policy" was assailed in the Reichstag in the course of Friday's debate by Herr Vogthier, an independent Socialist, according to Berlin advices sent from Amsterdam by the Reuter correspondent there.

"The German ultimatum is not calculated to create conditions of peace and friendship with Russia," Herr Vogthier declared. "In the case of the Ukraine peace Germany and Austria already are quarrelling over the booty. The war we now are waging in defenceless Russia serves only the propertied classes of the disputed territory. In Lithuania we have made no moral conquests. The Lithuanians too to be back in Russia."

"We are not allowed to know the truth. The Fatherland party is pursuing a bloodthirsty propaganda against foreign countries. We are sold body and soul to the military caste. We are pursuing an infamous war policy."

At this point the vice-president called the speaker to order, but he insisted on continuing his speech. "High wages in the munitions industry," Herr Vogthier declared, "are corrupt wages for the purpose of keeping workmen in good temper in the interests of carrying on the war. The imperial chancellor has sent him from Bavaria, thereby infringing the law."

After another interruption, the deputy accused an admiral and a commandant at Swinemunde of appropriating confiscated foodstuffs, adding: "We must abolish the whole of this Michels-Capella management. The Dittmann case (Dittmann was a radical Socialist member of the Reichstag accused in connection with the German naval mutiny) ought to give the Reichstag cause for reflection. A general who runs wild can, by arresting obnoxious representatives of the people, decimate the Reichstag."

The Polish deputy, Von Trampszinski, declared Poland is being treated worse than an enemy country, whereupon Under-Secretary Lewald said the Germans have done "an immense amount of work in behalf of culture in Poland, in the way of school administration, etc. He admitted, however, that "the hearts of the people there are with Russia."

The Star, Gazette and Advertiser have much to say about the British investor, but they have nothing to say about the terrible burden of debt that the men in control of the Grand Trunk have placed in perpetuity upon the unfortunate people of Canada.

The Grand Trunk was planned and largely constructed between sixty and seventy years ago. The Province of Ontario aided in its construction by large financial grants. The province also loaned money to the Grand Trunk Co., some millions of which had not been repaid at confederation. The Dominion Government agreed to construct at its own expense a railway between Moncton and Winnipeg, and to largely assist the Grand Trunk in constructing a line between Winnipeg and Tidewater on the coast. The government faithfully carried out its part of the contract, and constructed the National Transcontinental line, including the Quebec Bridge, at a principal cost of at least $200,000,000. By bond guarantees it financed the entire Grand Trunk Pacific. And, in addition, it guaranteed and cash loans, aided materially in the construction of the prairie section, assuming that the whole system, from Moncton to Prince Rupert, cost $400,000,000, then it must be conceded that the government furnished four-fifths of the amount. As a matter of fact, the two governments, by a series of loans, has been paying all the fixed charges of the Grand Trunk Pacific, including those for which the Grand Trunk is liable, and the annual burden of interest which this country is paying on the venture as a whole represents a capital cost of $500,000,000!

The Grand Trunk by its contract, undertook to lease, equip and operate the line between Moncton and Winnipeg, and to so efficiently equip and operate the line between Winnipeg and Prince Rupert as to take care of the fixed charges upon that road. The understanding was that the government was to furnish the money and credit for building a transcontinental line, and the Grand Trunk was to operate the same and to pay the interest charges. But after the road, costing $200,000,000, between Moncton and Winnipeg was completed the Grand Trunk refused to lease it, refused to equip it, refused to operate it, and left the system on the hands of the government. The line between Winnipeg and Prince Rupert it has so poorly equipped and operated that the road has never paid working expenses, and the Grand Trunk has never paid a dollar of the fixed charges that fall due year after year. The long-suffering government paid all these fixed charges and even offered to keep on paying them until 1920, but the Grand Trunk insisted that the government itself must take over the road, assume for all time its obligations, and relieve the Grand Trunk of all its commitments in respect thereto.

The Grand Trunk simply cannot carry on; it is committed to pay $3,000,000 a year on account of the Grand Trunk Pacific. All the government has to do is to stand aside and let the law take its course. The Grand Trunk has no money, and the Grand Trunk must go into liquidation. What the government now proposes to do is to save the stockholders of the Grand Trunk a great deal of money by taking over both systems. No doubt in so doing they will deal generously with the stockholders of the Grand Trunk, but no matter how cheaply it acquires the Grand Trunk the government faces a dead loss of $500,000,000. The Grand Trunk has no money, and that road today has no commercial value.

In short, the Grand Trunk made a contract with the government which it utterly failed and refused to carry out. The government, on its part, spent $500,000,000 for which it gets no return. This means that the people of Canada for all time have paid a penalty of $200,000,000 a year for their only railway upon the written pledge of the Grand Trunk. It is they who are entitled to sympathy and we are unable to see why they should not sympathize with the government. The Grand Trunk may well say to its sobbing sympathizers in the Dominion: "Weep not for me, but for yourselves, oh daughters of Jerusalem."

GERMANY PLANNED ATTACK ON BRAZIL

British Fleet Saved United States by Turning Back Kaiser's Navy.

Chicago, March 3.—Julian B. Appold, an Englishman, who has served in diplomatic circles and who is said to have been a United States attaché in London, is believed to have written an address before the Irish Fellowship Club, that an attempt of Germany in 1918 to take possession of Brazil, was foiled by the drastic measures of the British fleet, which blocked the way of the German battleships in the English Channel and gave them three hours to turn back.

The attempt was made at that time, said Mr. Appold, because Germany, seeing the United States at the helm of the world, believed the American government powerless to halt her program of conquest. Mr. Appold said that he received his information from a British naval officer who is living near Portsmouth, England.

Enemy Makes Progress With Rumanian Negotiations
Amsterdam, March 3.—Semi-official German today Austrian statements received here today set out claims of forward steps toward peace between the central powers and Rumania.

FIRE AT LAKEFIELD.
Lakefield, Ont., March 3.—Fire was reported in what is known as the Cavendish stable, lately used as a storehouse for motor boats and canoes. When discovered the whole interior was a mass of flames, and nothing could be done to save the building or its contents, which were totally destroyed. About 120 canoes, along with several launches and a new Overland automobile, belonging to the Brock Boat Co., were consumed, with heavy loss.

REVELATION MAKES GREAT SENSATION

Paris, Saturday, March 2.—Foreign Minister Pichon's revelation concerning German demands that France surrender the fortresses of Toul and Verdun as a guarantee of her neutrality in the war between Germany and the United States, has made a profound impression upon the public. It is believed to furnish positive proof that Germany was determined to goad France into war.

In reply to the question as to why it took 3 1/2 years to decipher the code despatch from Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg to Baron von Schoen, the German ambassador in Paris, conveying the demand, it is explained that the German foreign office changed its cipher in 1911 after the negotiations over the Agadir incident, and that the French foreign office had been unable hitherto to find the key.

The new cipher was so complicated that the French cryptographic bureau had only just succeeded in unravelling it. The expectation now is that other important despatches will be deciphered.

EX-CZAR IS DEFENDED.
London, Friday, March 1.—(Delayed.)—Speaking at a dinner given in his honor tonight in London, Sir George Buchanan, British ambassador to Russia, who is now on leave, took occasion to correct the widespread report that at the time of his abdication Emperor Nicholas was ready to conclude a separate peace. Sir George said there was not a word of truth in this report.

MURDER AT MOSSUP.
Mossup, Conn., March 3.—Alleging that he had made insulting remarks to her ten-year-old stepson, Mrs. Paul Lucier, 35, today stabbed Mrs. John McCarthy, 40, at a local woolen mill. The woman returned home and was arrested by a deputy sheriff only after her husband had been knocked unconscious. She recently completed a two-year sentence in jail for shooting her husband.

DRAFT TREATIES TO PASS.
Washington, March 3.—The senate foreign relations committee is expected to recommend during the week ratification of the treaties with Great Britain and Canada for reciprocal draft privileges.

UNABLE TO CARRY ON, YET AFRAID TO DROP IT

THE WOMAN WHO CHANGED

BY JANE PHELPS

George Makes Good His Threat

CHAPTER XIX.
I felt horribly chagrined over the book episode. And I had the most peculiar feeling about George's action in burning them. I felt as if he had burned all my good resolutions. I felt hard, discouraged. Were all my attempts to make myself more attractive to end in the same futile manner?
But as the days passed I, with the resiliency of youth, forgot to worry about my failure to inform myself of the usages of polite society; if I did not quite forget the manner in which George had discouraged me.
Then one day Annie came upstairs and told me that a woman wanted to see me.
"Didn't she give you her card?" I asked.
"Oh, she ain't that kind of a person at all, ma'am! I think perhaps she is asking for charity or something."
"Oh, very well. I'll be down presently."
"You wished to see me?" I said, a few moments afterward.
"Yes, ma'am! I am engaged to teach you social usages. Engaged by Mr. Howard."
I disliked her immediately. Her personality; her patronizing tone; looks. Everything about her.
"When did he engage you?" I asked in as haughty a tone as I could assume.
"To be exact, three days ago," she replied.
"Useless Rebellion."
Suddenly I felt the blood rush to my face. I would not stand it! I wouldn't have this woman taking such a superior air toward me. I wouldn't! Yet while I fumed inwardly I knew that I should have to do as George said. But why hadn't he told me? I felt the tears coming at the thought of his absolute indifference to my feelings, but quickly crushed them back.
"I am to come three times a week for the present. Shall we commence at once?" Mr. Howard is anxious for you to improve quickly."

"No, we will not work today. I have other arrangements," I told her. "You may come day after tomorrow, at ten o'clock."
"Very well, ma'am, but I am afraid your husband will not like it."
I made no reply, and as I was still standing, she rose and swept out of the room. Swept is the only word that describes her movement.
I rushed upstairs and threw myself on the bed in a very rage of mortification and resentment. George was treating me like a child. He might at least have told me that he had made his threat good, that he had hired that horrid woman.
I then thought of Madge Loring. If she hadn't laughed at me, made fun of my wish to improve myself, George would not have been made angry; and perhaps would not have engaged a teacher for me. That was the way I thought of her. A teacher, and I a child being forced to learn whether I liked her or not.
I hated Madge Loring from that minute. It was thru her that this insult had been put upon me.
A Heated Argument.
When George came home he was angry because I had been crying.
"Now what's gone wrong?" he said with a scowl.
"Oh, George, how could you do it?" I said, choking back the sob in my throat.
"Do what? What are you talking about?"
"That horrid woman! how could you insult me by sending her here? And you never told me she was coming, and she knew I did not know, and oh, it was all so awfully mortifying!"
"I forgot to mention the day she was coming, but I distinctly recall telling you that I had engaged her."
"No, you said you were going to." "The same thing with me. I do not say things I do not mean."
"But I will try so hard to learn if you will tell her not to come. She's awful!"
"That shows how childish you are. Mrs. Sexton has been a social power in her day. That she was left penniless when her husband died accounts for my being able to secure her services, for which I have to pay well, I can assure you. She is absolutely an authority upon society, social manners and customs. I consider we are very fortunate to be able to have such a mentor for you. What did you talk of today?"
"We didn't talk." I replied, beginning to be frightened that I had offended again by sending her away.
"Why, may I ask?"
"Oh, I was so hurt and mortified that I just couldn't." I should have cried every minute. She's coming day after tomorrow at ten o'clock," I hastened to add.

"Well, see that you do not send her away again. If you do, she may refuse to come to you."
"Very well," I said meekly, longing to rebel, to declare I would not receive her, that I wouldn't allow her to teach me anything.

TOMORROW.—Evelyn Reeve Comments.

AFTER-DINNER SPEECH MAKES KEMP KNOWN

London Paper Prints Complimentary Article on Overseas Minister.
Canadian Associated Press Correspondence.
London, Feb. 21.—A decidedly complimentary special article in The Daily Express deals with Sir Edward Kemp and his work. "Canada," says the writer of the article, "wants her war leaders on the table for open audit at any time, and in Sir Edward Kemp she found incomparably the best man to control her overseas minister. Sir Edward Kemp's advent as overseas minister was, too, a welcome relief to Sir George Paer, who had for over long undervalued to struggle under the double burden of acting as high commissioner and overseas minister.
"Until recently," the article concludes, "Sir Edward Kemp was absolutely unknown to the average Englishman. Today, by reason of one short, simple speech made at the Canada Club, he is known to all. He cannot unstay that speech even if he would, and from today the 'man in the street' will continue to regard him as the voice of Canada overseas. A short after-luncheon oration lifted him at once into the ranks of the man who counts."

CATHOLIC CHURCH REMAINS UNBROKEN

Archbishop McNeill issues Pastoral Letter on "The Pope and the War."

In a pastoral letter on "The Pope and the War" by Archbishop McNeill, which was read yesterday in the Catholic churches of the city, his grace said in part:

"The Catholic Church is the only international power remaining unbroken by the conflict of nations and empires. International socialism, Masonry, commercial and scientific organizations, all the bonds which connected men of one nation socially with those of the other nations, are powerless, excepting one, the Catholic Church. Even the men who assailed the church on account of local issues, if they are thoughtful men, would not will to see disappear this international expression of the brotherhood of man. The accusations which have been circulated in Canada against the Catholic Church have reference chiefly to the position and the attitude of His Holiness the Pope.

"The only instruction the Pope has issued to Ireland or Quebec in regard to the war is his request to pray for a just and lasting peace. There are very nearly a thousand Catholic priests engaged as military and naval chaplains in the British forces, including those of the dominions. The number of Catholic men requiring so many chaplains is a testimony to the devotion of those Catholics who, for racial or national reasons, are accused of having failed to measure up to the average standard of patriotism in war times, than at least let him have the credit of those many hundreds of thousands of Catholics fighting in the British armies."

DEPUTATION ASKS HIGHER ALCOHOLIC CONTENT OF BEER

Prime Minister, However, Does Not Hold Out Any Hope of This.

MEMBERS DISAPPOINTED

Sir William Hearst and Ministers Are Hooted After Reply is Made.

In spite of the hoots, hisses and howls of a small number who helped to make up a large deputation which waited upon the prime minister and members of the Ontario Cabinet on Saturday, they asked an amendment to the Ontario Temperance Act, which would raise the alcoholic content of beer from 2 1/2 per cent. to 3 per cent.

It was estimated that about 2500 persons met at the armistice building and marched to the parliament buildings and this number was almost doubled by the additional crowd that gathered at the great assembly that day. The deputation was supported by representatives who urged that 2 1/2 per cent. alcohol replace the 2 1/2 per cent. proof spirits which temperance beers now contain, according to the act.

Sir William's reply was cut short when the temper of the crowd was manifested. The speaker, Mr. Hearst, called upon his followers to "be men" and a quieting effect, but of the first intimation that their demands were to be met, a certain portion of the crowd became more or less noisy and unruly. They shoved in towards the steps of the front entrance, and in no way holding them back, the combined efforts of several policemen to hold them back, with the result that the prime minister and his cabinet members were obliged to retreat until they had thanked the speakers for the logic of their addresses and the spirit in which they had made their remarks, and then they were responsible for the actions of the crowd.

Appreciated Arguments. Sir William paid a glowing tribute to the part which has been played in the war, when replying to the speeches in support of the memorial, and said the labor men had stood between the Hun and the British Empire. He said that the arguments advanced by the speakers, he said that in this matter the voice of the rest of the province had been heard, and that a certain measure was unreasonable in view of the fact that Dominion legislation would soon come into effect, making it prohibitive to manufacture or import the very thing the deputation was asking for.

He cited the experience of British Columbia in that labor had voted down such a measure and had fearlessly and with full knowledge that his statement would be most unwelcome, he said, "But will not hide behind the action of another government, and I will be candid with you and tell you that I can not promise favorable consideration of your petition."

His statement brought hisses and hoots in abundance and a more determined effort to break through the cordon of police. The speaker, who has been shown, I will just thank you for your views and will not detain you further," Sir William said, and turning to the speaker, he expressed his appreciation of the manner in which they had presented the petition.

When the cabinet ministers had left, Thomas Moore, Niagara Falls, spoke to the men, after which they dispersed without further demonstration. Sir William Hearst, Hon. W. D. McPherson, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Hon. T. W. McGarry and Hon. Finlay Macdonald, all of whom were on the front steps when it was found the inside accommodation was inadequate.

Thomas Moore, Niagara Falls, presented the memorial and, in support of it, said that the legislation enacted at present in force had resulted in the drinking of strong beverages by a certain class of workers, and that deaths were resulting thru the drinking of wood alcohol, and other stimulants. He suggested that the government had acted without due regard for the majority in passing the present laws. He then presented the memorial.

Arguments Are Presented. Wm. Fred Saul, representing the workers of Toronto, said in a refreshing beverage was a reasonable demand and that only a moderate representation of the demand would be given. He regretted the temperance remarks made at the recent prohibition convention.

Charles Hamilton, Hamilton, Ont., chairman of the Ontario Executive Board, cited a number of police court cases to show that the present law is a detriment to sobriety among drinking people.

HUSBAND AND WIFE ARE BOTH GRATEFUL

John Holman Believes That Tanlac Has Saved His Life.

"I had reached the point where I felt that nothing could save me from this world more and, really, I don't believe I would be alive today if it hadn't been for Tanlac," said John Holman, of Chestnut street, Toronto, recently. Mr. Holman, who is now sixty-three years of age, has lived in Toronto all his life, and is a man of wide acquaintance and many friends.

"Two years ago, or more," he continued, "I commenced suffering from stomach trouble and nervousness, until I was simply dwindling away to nothing. I suffered terribly from indigestion, and my nerves were all to pieces. I haven't been able to strike a lick of work since last April. I was as weak as a baby, and actually didn't have strength enough to carry a small flower pot across the room. I was so unstrung that I would have nervous tremors and shake all over like a leaf in the wind. Many a night I never closed my eyes for sleep at all, and was so tired and weak during the day that I could hardly drag myself along. I was as white as a sheet, and just a complete nervous and physical wreck. I tried all kinds of medicines, but kept going down until my hopes of getting well were all gone."

"My wife begged me to try Tanlac, and I began taking it under protest, because I didn't believe it would do me any good. But I soon found out Tanlac was different from other medicines I had taken, and by the time my second bottle was gone there was a great difference in my feelings. In fact, I was so encouraged by my wonderful improvement that I kept on taking it and it has been a long time since I have been as well as I am now. My appetite is great, and I can eat plenty of good food without feeling a morsel of indigestion. My nerves are so much better that I can sleep good every night and am feeling stronger and better than I have in a long time. I don't know just how much I have gained in weight, but I do know I'm a different man already, and if any man ever had reason to praise Tanlac that I am in me, and Mrs. Holman and I both are most grateful for what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Toronto by Tanlac's Drug Store and by one regular established agency in every town. Mr. Rowe St. Clair is personally supervising the sale of Tanlac at Tanlac's Drug Store, 232 Yonge street, and meeting scores of enthusiastic purchasers daily, and if you will call at the store he will be glad to explain just how this new medicine does its work, and how much good through your friends and neighbors, gives such good results to those that use it. RETURNED SOLDIERS GUESTS AT DINNER

Home Advisory Council of 75th Battalion Are the Hosts.

A complimentary dinner was tendered to about 400 returned men and officers of the 75th C.E.F. by the Home Advisory Association of that battalion at the new Masonic Temple, Saturday evening. The chair was taken by Lewis A. Howard, president, who in his opening address, tendered a hearty welcome to all, and said he felt it a great privilege to be there, especially as his own son was attached to the battalion. He paid a touching tribute to the memory of the heroes who had made the supreme sacrifice and said also they were not present in person, they still were very much so in his memory of everyone, and he sincerely trusted that the present great struggle would soon be brought to a victorious end, so that all might be welcome to all, and said he felt it a great privilege to be there, especially as his own son was attached to the battalion. He paid a touching tribute to the memory of the heroes who had made the supreme sacrifice and said also they were not present in person, they still were very much so in his memory of everyone, and he sincerely trusted that the present great struggle would soon be brought to a victorious end, so that all might be welcome to all, and said he felt it a great privilege to be there, especially as his own son was attached to the battalion.

The entertainment was supplied by Archie J. Gall, and Arthur Bailey, late features of the Savage Players. The two artists lived up to their reputation and were encored over and over again. Other artists who contributed to the evening's entertainment were: Johnnie Barrow, of New York; William Hearst, Dick Lee, and boys of the battalion. The silent toast to the late Col. S. G. Beckett, n.c.o.'s and men of the battalion who had fallen in action. "The 75th Battalion in France," and "Our guests," were handed.

The evening was brought to a close by the singing of the song of the 75th Battalion, "The Heroes of the Grand Old Flag," by Archie J. Gall.

Of Little or No Value, Says Speaker, in March of Progress.

A. E. S. Smythe, president of the Theosophical Society, was asked during the course of last evening's meeting in the Canadian Foresters' Hall if other nations besides the Jews believed the Jews to be the chosen of God. "Well, I won't say that," replied Mr. Smythe, "but it is a fact that the Jews have been persecuted themselves chosen. I believe the Germans hold ideas along those lines."

Touching upon the theme of his address, the speaker said that the Jews in Nor in Jerusalem." The speaker pointed out that all outward show and pomp was denounced as being of little or no value, and that the greatest religion teachers and prophets, and quoted many passages from the Scriptures to prove his contention, that the least as also the words of the Christ, who depended upon the great of God within the heart of each and every soul for all that made them high and noble in ideal. Therefore, keeping this fact in mind, he pointed out that the pomp and show were vain things in the march of progress. In conclusion, Mr. Smythe quoted Bishop Wilberforce's words, "The Christ who saves the world is himself, and that Jesus of Nazareth was the specialization in one individualized centre of the potentialities of each and every soul."

Thamesville Easily Won From Brampton

Woodstock, March 3.—Thamesville had little trouble in defeating the Brampton intermediates here Saturday night in the play-off of the O.H.A. semi-finals, the score being 8-2. The game was necessary owing to a tie on the round. There was a good crowd of spectators present for the exhibition. The Brampton team, which was a green combination, worked hard, and had it all over their opponents from beginning to end. The game was rough, and referee Tommy Munro kept the penalty box occupied by one or more of the players most of the time. Thamesville slammed into Brampton in the first period and added one in each of the second and third periods. The final score was 8-2. Goals were scored by: Thamesville (8)—Goal, Reardon; defence, Bescham, Longday; centre, Far; right wing, McClure; left wing, Bartlett; sub, Smith. Referee—Tommy Munro, London.

PLAYED HOCKEY UNDER MILITARY GUARD

Ottawa, March 3.—Five members of the Beaches hockey team played against the Nationals of Ottawa Saturday night under military guard. With five hockey fans from Renfrew, they were taken into custody by the Dominion police, as a result of the Ottawa team's refusal to play under the Military Service Act. An urgent call was sent to Renfrew by the players, who had five hours' leave, and they were only liberated at noon today. The Renfrew team, playing under guard, won the game, 3 to 1. The players were fined for $1000 during the playing of the match.

LINDSAY, HOCKEY LEAGUE

Lindsay, March 3.—In the final game of the Lindsay Hockey League the Olympians and Deimans played a tie game of 4 to 4, after playing 20 minutes overtime. The Collegiate Institute team, who were the champions, were taken in custody by the Dominion police, as a result of the Lindsay team's refusal to play under the Military Service Act. An urgent call was sent to Lindsay by the players, who had five hours' leave, and they were only liberated at noon today. The Lindsay team, playing under guard, won the game, 3 to 1. The players were fined for $1000 during the playing of the match.

CENTRAL BASEBALL LEAGUE DEPENDS ON TERRE HAUTE

Indianapolis, Ind., March 3.—The Central Baseball League will operate as a six-club circuit this year if Terre Haute can meet the necessary $2000 forfeit and give assurance of finishing the season. It was announced here today after a meeting of league directors. The league would include Terre Haute, Evansville, Richmond, in Indiana; Springfield, Omo, and Bloomington and Peoria, in Illinois.

FERDIE SCHUPP SIGNS CONTRACT FOR $10,000

Louisville, Ky., March 2.—Ferdinand Schupp, of Louisville, will sign a contract with the New York National pitching staff, according to announcement here today. Schupp recently announced that he had returned a 1913 contract to Manager McGraw with a demand for an advance in salary. McGraw came to Louisville and conferred with Schupp, who it is said unofficially, will receive $10,000 for the season.

Beaches Hockey League Reinstates A. Pimm

At a well-attended meeting of the Beaches Hockey League executive, held at the De La Salle Institute on Saturday evening, the case of Arthur Pimm, the Riverside Junior player, who made an infringement on the league rules by taking part in a Junior O.H.A. game against De La Salle, was reinstated on evidence given by the delegates present. Pimm acted in the role of substitute and only played about ten minutes. Another statement in favor of Pimm's case was made by Mr. Coombs, who stated that Pimm appeared at the Arena to view the game as a spectator and was only playing after much persuasion by the coach of the Beaches, Eddie Longfellow. As Pimm had nothing to do with the playing of the Beaches, as just stated, the executive voted unanimously that he be allowed to continue as a player in good standing with the Riverside Club. This rule, which bars any player taking part in an O.H.A. game, will be amended next season, allowing a player to take part in one game, then if he fails to make good he will be able to come back with the out-coop players instead of hanging up his stick.

In all probability the semi-finals will be played next Thursday, when the Beaches League will stage four games at the Arena, starting at 7 p.m. The first game will be between the Beaches and the Collegiate Institute, which was the former major time when he beat his previous records, getting credit of 19 seconds, with Barnes just a stride behind. Weigarten with a liberal hand, cap landed third place. The boy, step and jump went to Bob Barnes, who made a fine jump, with Lomborg second and McKee just a couple of inches behind for third. The 100-yard walk went to Dubois, one of 29 seconds, with Barnes just a stride behind, separating him and Kent, the third man.

CANADIENS SCORED LESS THAN TORONTO

Pro. Teams Play Listless Game of Hockey in Arena Gardens.

The pro. hockey game at the Arena on Saturday night reminded the fair-sized crowd of misguided fans present of the old-time give-away checkers. That is, the draft game, where you win by forcing your opponent to take your men. Thus the Canadiens were successful in the latest tilt with the Toronto, as they allowed our own blue shirts to score a margin in goals—two to be exact. The electric goal-reading at the finish: Toronto 5, Canadiens 3.

A feature was the erratic shooting that would have done credit to the mid-set series of the Boston Bruins. The Canadiens were without Malone and Pritch, the blue shirts, where you win by forcing your opponent to take your men. Thus the Canadiens were successful in the latest tilt with the Toronto, as they allowed our own blue shirts to score a margin in goals—two to be exact. The electric goal-reading at the finish: Toronto 5, Canadiens 3.

L. Lajoie or E. Collins Greatest Second Sacker?

It would be interesting to have a vote of fandom on the question of second base on the country. Grantland Rice named Eddie Collins for the keystone position. Rice came to a conclusion that baseball was absolutely fair, but the admirers of Lajoie and Collins are so numerous that the great Frenchman should have been chosen over the famous field captain. Lajoie is another who would get a big ballot in an election of this kind. Admittedly one of the brainiest boys who took up baseball as a profession, Lajoie was blessed with extraordinary baseball skill and a sure pair of hands and a fine batting eye. Truly, Johnny Evers was a wonderful second baseman. It would do the heart of any fan to see Lajoie in the position of the man who worked by his side for a long term of years. Ritchey was smart, and a terror at the plate in a pinch. But Lajoie and Collins are right on the top and argument as to the better of the two will never be decided.

Ball Club Owner Bets War to Be Over in April

If the war ends before the Boston Red Sox season opens the Boston Red Sox will have a wonderful team. Here is the list of players who are expected to be in this city on a hunt for players:

P. E. Booker, of San Francisco, who has been active on the British turf for the last 10 years, has received permission from the British war office to start in the league in England, London, Paris and Brighton in certain circumstances in the league, while three other clubs will be located at camps. The league will play five months' season, opening on April 1 and closing on Sept. 1. The early fall it was deemed advisable to close at this date.

ONLY WAITING TO MAKE ANNOUNCEMENT PUBLIC

New York Writer Says Intermediate League is Sure to Give Up Ghost.

A New York paper on Saturday had the following, which is given for what it is worth: Hope for resumption of activities by the International League has been abandoned. Despite the reluctance of club owners concerning the fate of the best of the minor leagues, it has become known they will announce publicly in the near future their decision to warn the bench for the duration of the war. Daily indications multiply of complete disintegration ahead. Wholesale disbanding of the clubs is underway. Of the eight teams that composed the organization last year only two are anxious to continue in the face of conditions even more trying than beset them during the campaign of 1912. They are Toronto and Buffalo, both of which produced a profit last season. But the other clubs are not keen to tempt disaster. The sole hope of the International League is a measure one indeed—in the Eastern League, embracing the baseball in New York State. But even should games on Sunday be permitted it would be necessary to resign the entire circuit.

Providence, the directors of which recently announced they did not wish to continue under present circumstances, already is negotiating for a franchise in the Eastern League. It is understood that Worcester may withdraw to make room for Providence. International leagues regard the passage of the Sunday baseball bill only as a remote possibility. So they are unloading while the major league market is good.

HEADED BY ROSENBERG
Austrian Organized Bank at Zurich to Finance German Propaganda.

Paris, March 3.—The arrest of the actress Summe Depsy, who has played a minor role at Sarah Bernhardt's theatre, on charges of maintaining relations with the enemy, has caused a sensation because of the important connections of her alleged accomplice, the Austrian banker, Louis Rosenberg, who was prominent on the Paris bourse and whose Paris bank is under sequestration, fled to Switzerland at the opening of hostilities. He organized a bank and information bureau at Zurich in association with another Austrian named Bettelheim, according to the Paris press. The newspaper officials had expressed their willingness to raise the wages to the standard of the C.P.R. scale, that is to say, a raise of one cent an hour, but the men were obdurate, and would accept nothing less than a 30 per cent raise, which was equivalent to about 8 cents an hour. On this basis the men would receive not 25, 48 and 27 cents an hour respectively, but about 32, 53 and 34 cents an hour. The C.P.R. scale was for the three grades of work done at the sheds. The men stated that it was incorrect to say that negotiations had only just begun when they walked out, because they had been in conference upon the matter since the middle of the month.

Suspected Spy at Chatham Tells More
About His Movements.

The last word received on Sunday night from W. H. Farrell, superintendent of terminals for the Grand Trunk system in Ontario in regard to the freight handlers' strike was "no change," and the embargo on freight going out of or coming into the city has not been raised. This morning the company is putting a number of new hands to work, and it is hoped that the situation will be constantly relieved within the next twenty-four hours. Mr. Farrell was asked if he would re-employ the men who had walked out, and he stated that he could give no out-hand answer to that question since it demanded mature consideration. On Saturday the company invited the strikers to send up representatives to meet those of the G.T.R. The men did so, and both parties conferred upon the points at issue. The representatives of the men then promised to give their decision at 10 o'clock. This they did, but the situation was unchanged. Mr. Farrell stated that the Grand Trunk officials had expressed their willingness to raise the wages to the standard of the C.P.R. scale, that is to say, a raise of one cent an hour, but the men were obdurate, and would accept nothing less than a 30 per cent raise, which was equivalent to about 8 cents an hour. KITCHENER STORE
PREY TO FLAMES

Fire, Discovered by Woman
Shopper, Guttled the Main Building.

Kitchener, Ont., March 3.—From $40,000 to $50,000 damage was done last night by a fire which completely gutted the department store of West-lich-Gondis Company, Limited, and which for a time threatened to destroy an entire business block on the north side of East King street. It is understood that the loss is partly covered by insurance. The headquarters of the fire department is directly behind the store, and this made possible a promptness in starting the fight against the fire which is accredited to the saving of the remaining buildings in the block. The fire was discovered by a woman who was shopping in the basement of the store. In a few minutes the flames broke out and made quick headway to the rear of the store. Shoppers and clerks were hurriedly had time to leave before the place was in a roars of flames. A family living on the third floor of the building had been carried out on ladders. Practically the entire stock in the main store is ruined. The goods' furnishing department and the grocery department were gutted by fire. Goods which were quickly thrown into place when the fire was discovered. Half of the main floor of the store caved in on the second floor was saved from smoke and water, although a considerable portion of the stock was burned. Two of the fire fighters, Harry Ellis and Philip Kern, were overcome by smoke and badly burned about the face and hands. The department got the fire under control at about 3:30 a.m., but at noon today a stream was still kept playing on the ruins. The fire is believed to have started from an overheated motor, which was used to run the cash carrier system.

PRO-KAISERITE PUNISHED.

Canton, Ohio, March 3.—"You guys will be taking your hats off to the Kaiser in his month," shouted Harry Rogalski, a former employe of the Canton Dropforge Company, to a crowd of workmen in the plant. Every workman immediately quit work and reinforced by hundreds of persons, escorted Rogalski to the public square, where he was made to kiss the American flag. Suspected Spy at Chatham Tells More
About His Movements.

Special to The Toronto World.
Chatham, March 3.—H. L. Peltier, the suspicious character arrested some three weeks ago and held as an alleged spy, and who since his arrest has absolutely refused to give any definite explanation of his mysterious wanderings in this city and county, yesterday became more communicative, and told the court officials that he had worked for nearly a year with Hees and Company in Toronto, also in London and Guelph. He gave his age as 33, stated he had not been seen when he was a soldier under any consideration. He was remanded for another week until some of the concerns mentioned are communicated with.

ALLIES COMPLETELY RE-ESTABLISH LINES AT LA POMPELLE.

Paris, Saturday, March 3.—The official communication from the war office last night says:
1. The line of the head of Rheims and in Champagne the enemy artillery displayed only feeble activity during the course of the day. Our troops immediately established their lines at La Pompelle. The German attack directed against this point last night was carried out by two battalions.
2. The cannonading was quite spirited on the right bank of the Meuse, at Hill 344, and north of Besonvaux; it has intermittent on the rest of the front.
3. Eastern Theatre, March 1.—South-west of Seres a Bulgarian reconnaissance was repulsed by British troops. In the region of Monastir the artillery actions were intermittent. Allied aviators bombed enemy depots west of Petric and the railway station at Fardovica, in the Vardar valley."

NO CHANCE FOR ENEMY.

New York, March 3.—Any offensive which the Germans may launch on the western front will prove an utter failure, according to Lieut.-Col. John H. Dunn and Major William J. Casey, former Massachusetts national guard officers, who returned here yesterday from France. These officers, who spent five months at the front, asserted that the allies have established an impenetrable line in the west. Lieut.-Col. Dunn believes the Germans lack facilities for paving the way for an infantry offensive by any effective aerial attack.

TWO HUNDRED BOMBS CAST
By British Aerial Raiders

London, March 2.—An official statement on aerial operations says: "Notwithstanding a strong wind and rain our airplanes made a few flights in co-operation with the artillery and dropped over 200 bombs on various objectives and many rounds from the air on ground targets. Four hostile machines were brought down. One of our machines is missing."

JAPS OPPOSE ENEMY COLONIES.

Sydney, Australia, March 3.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—The Japanese consul-general in the course of a lecture delivered here yesterday said that Japan, like Australia and New Zealand, strongly desires that the German colonies shall not be restored to Germany after the war, as they were the peace of the Pacific would not be regarded as secure.

LONELY SOLDIERS ASK FOR LETTERS

Ten Canadian Boys in England Desire Toronto Girl Correspondents.

An appeal from overseas, to the women of Toronto is sure of a hearty response, whether that appeal be for money, comforts, nuts or sox. No matter what the boys over there ask for, it is almost sure to be granted.

Saunters Thru The City Shops

Three sure signs of springtime: Robin redbreast, boys playing marbles and women buying straw hats! We'll take the first two for granted because the women were out in full force Saturday, thronging the downtown stores, seeking new headgear.

Women are apparently going to wear simple little affairs on their heads this spring. Smart and plain with a dash of color, or a chic touch given with a turned brim or a quill.

Hats are small and perky, and not quite as bright in tone as last year. The trench color is the newest note, and this is somewhat of the light khaki shade. The shade is not hard to wear and is generally becoming, especially if a touch of cherry or Paddy green is added.

FOOD DICTATOR QUILTS. A Vienna despatch to The Keinsche Westfalsche Zeitung of Essen, states that Emperor Charles has accepted the resignation of Major-General Hoefler, food administrator, who has been succeeded by Dr. Ludwig Panel.

ADVICE TO GIRLS By Rosalind

DEAR IRENE M.: I'm afraid you are a little girl. Can't you have more than one boy friend? Because you "go out" with one boy, cannot you be good friends with any others?

DEAR ROSALIND: I am a girl, 17 years of age, and am very much in love with a boy of 18. I met him at school, and he has been out with him twice. I feel embarrassed when talking to him, and do not say very much, whereas, I can talk quite freely to other boys.

DEAR VALERIE: Note my answer to Irene. Boys and girls of 17 and 18 are just chums—never lovers. Talk to the boy as you talk to your girl friends about mutual interests that arise from school work and companionship.

DEAR ROSALIND: We're two girl chums, 18 and 19 years of age and considered good looking. We've lots of boy friends, but a few weeks ago we were intro-

LAUNDRY SOAP FROM HOME WASTE

Instead of Feeding Drain Pipes of Sink, Conserve All Grease.

What about the conserving of fats? There is a tremendous waste of fats going on in every household in the Dominion, and the women in the kitchens of Canada are thoughtlessly and carelessly permitting that waste.

There are some Toronto women who are trying to co-operate in the great conservation by making use of their fat wastage, and it is surprising what is being accomplished in the kitchens of Toronto this year.

One Toronto housewife has a whole shelf in her laundry filled with bars of home-made soap made by herself from fats saved in her own kitchen.

San Salvador, March 3.—According to an official communication the Germanophile revolution in Costa Rica, led by Fernandez Guell, has been completely suppressed.

Answer to Louise. MY DEAR GIRL: I'm afraid I agree with your punishment was quite too undignified and drastic for girls of your age.

DEAR GIRLS: Dancing under right conditions is an extremely pleasant pastime. The exercise is all in the place where one dances and the people one dances with. The only safe and correct way for a girl to meet boy companions is at her own home.

DEAR ROSALIND: I am a girl, 21 rather dark, petite, and most people think I have a very strong face. There is a young man whom I go with very often, and we are very fond of one another.

DEAR VALERIE: There is no necessity for a girl suffering annoyance from strange men on the street. When you go out with your girl friends, you should have reported it to the first policeman you met.

Why Ontario Must Greatly Increase Production of Foodstuffs This Year

Dr. Riddell Tells How the Government is Planning to Help the Farmers and so Aid the Allies in the Effort to Free the World of German Militarism.

Kingston Industrial Agricultural Society held its annual banquet recently in the Hotel Frontenac, Kingston. Dr. W. A. Riddell, superintendent of the trades and labor branch of the Ontario Government was the guest of honor, and the following are the remarks he made:

"The Germans thought wrong. I was in Germany in 1912. One day I took my kodak and went to see some of the historic places out from Marlow and thence up in the hills. I saw a little stone house, beautifully situated and was just about to snap a picture of it when a man came forth from the house in a soldier's uniform, dressed in another uniform, and stood forth. Feeling a little uncomfortable, being caught with a kodak I tried to explain that I was a tourist. The officer said to me 'You speak English, I am from Milwaukee.' I asked him what he was doing there in the army. He replied that his father was a German and his mother was a German, and when father died mother wanted to go back home to Germany, and in Germany one must be in the army to get up in the world. Once you get to be a captain you can marry in the best families. They told me of their navy and their army. We walked back to Berlin. I asked for a glass of milk instead of beer and they said you must be a Canadian! As I was getting up from the table a man touched me on the shoulder and said, 'Hello, you say you were a Canadian and we are greatly interested in Canada. Would you accept an invitation to a cafe this evening?' A number of our friends would like to talk with you from Canada. Well, they pumped me dry until 2 o'clock in the morning as to why Canada was giving $250,000,000 to the British navy. I replied that England has helped us to develop our country. We are largely a food-producing people, we ship our grain and feed annually and we need the shipping and trade routes protected and England has always protected us in that way. They said, we will protect your trade routes and we will carry your grain, too. But, I said, England's capital has helped us to protect our country. They said, we will loan you capital in that way. Well, I said the real reason probably is this, my father's father was Irish, my mother's father was English, my mother was Scotch and I am English, and we love England and love to serve her. Well, why did we like to be a small province instead of a part of the greatest empire in the world? Do you think Canada would fight for England? I said you remember what we did in the South African War. Then they wanted to know what I thought about giving ships. Would we give England many? Well, I said, I did not think we ought to sponge on England and not pay our share of the upkeep. Well, they did not know why England should rule the world with 40,000,000 population while they had 170,000,000. The point brought out was that we have made our selves safe. We have protected our food supplies in case of war and we can maintain our food production in our own country and if we can hold up the British navy for 40 days we can starve England. I am here to fight Germany and I am here to fight her with this food production, and we can beat Germany with this food production game. We accepted this war for an object and it is to win and it will end when that object is attained, and I hope it will not end until that time.

More Help Needed. The government felt last year that it should do what it could to increase the acreage in Ontario. Some 120 tractors were purchased so that the farmer would be able to see the various makes of tractors in their own county. The tractors were in various stages of development, having weak spots here and there. They gradually found out two or three makes that were most successful, and adapted to our soil conditions in Ontario. Some were very successful. It was very difficult to get experienced operators. It was hard to get a man who knew how to run the machine, to keep it running, who knew the gas and plowing end. But on the whole the tractor has come to stay and it has meant much to increased production in Ontario. With the food situation as serious as this, and food production as essential as it is, no effort or sacrifice is too great to secure increased production.

IF YOU PLANT TREES OBSERVE THESE RULES

City Dwellers, as Well as Farmers, Will Be Interested in These Points.

If the roots of a tree are frozen out of the ground and thawed again in contact with the air the tree is killed.

Young trees should not be set in grass fields, or sowed grain or clover. Potatoes, carrots and low crops that are well cultivated may be raised among young trees.—New York Sun.

UNDERSTANDING

F. A. Senecal of Plantagenet, a French-Canadian speaker at the Ontario Good Roads Association's convention in Toronto last week considered that his participation in the program was significant of a better understanding and closer association between the different sections of the Canadian people. He quoted the following lines as worthy of the consideration of his hearers:

If I knew you I would know me How little we Would disagree! But never having Yet clasped hands We sometimes fail To understand That we all want To do what's right And treat each other "Honor bright!" How little we Would disagree If I knew you And you knew me!

THORNHILL. Edwards Grainger of Deer Park will give his illustrated address on "The Ways and Habits of the Honey Bee" at the next meeting of the horticultural society. EAST GARAFRAXA. W. H. Reid has purchased the west half of lot 7, con. 19, East Garafraxa, from Angus Ross, for $6800.

GUELPH. Mr. McAllister of Guelph has purchased 100 acres in Erin Township belonging to Duncan McLean.

GLENEG. John Smith of Gleneag, who recently married Miss Johanna Heaney of Neenagh, has purchased Miss Margaret Canavan's farm, and they will start farming there in the spring.

FOREST. W. Caldwell of Centralia shipped two carloads of hay from Forest. The annual spring horse show of the Forest Agricultural Society will be held on Thursday, April 25. J. Digory, who has been a resident here for a few years, has gone to Stratford to reside, where with a friend he will go into the gardening and greenhouse business.

CHATHAM. Hogs on the Chatham market have received $20.25 per hundredweight, the highest price in the annals of the local market. The record is attributed to the shortage and to the desperate efforts of the packers to secure hogs. One large hog sold on the market realized $107.

CARE OF SWINE

At a time when every person who can is being urged to raise a pig, a pamphlet reprinted by the live stock branch of the department of agriculture at Ottawa, entitled "Feeding and Housing of Swine," comes most opportunely. The pamphlet, which can be had free from the publication branch at the federal capital, contains sections by three of the leading authorities on the subject in Canada. The first of these is Professor G. E. Day, formerly of the Ontario Agricultural College, who writes on the selection of the bear and sow and the management of both and of the young pigs. The second is Mr. E. S. Archibald, Dominion animal husbandman, who deals with the farmer's cheap pigery, supplying diagrams of appropriate buildings with dimensions and other useful particulars. The third is Mr. G. B. Rothwell, assistant Dominion animal husbandman who deals with the same subject, but from a different standpoint. He describes a cheap, portable hog cabin that can be built and utilized by practically anybody who is willing to take the trouble. Illustrations of the cabin and diagrams with specifications are also given.

WESTON. Reg Cowan, son of Mr. Ben Cowan, left on Monday, Feb. 25, for Harding, Man., where he intends taking up farming and stock raising. The farm is owned and occupied by W. H. English, to whom the C.F.R. last year awarded the gold medal for having the finest 1000-acre farm in the district.

GEORGETOWN. Samuel Trimble has sold his 100-acre farm on the 8th line below Georgetown to an Erasmus farmer.

HALTON COUNTY. The Alkens homestead changes hands again. John McDowell sells his 200-acre farm, being lot 3, concession 4, Esqueping Township, Halton County, to Wilfred Snow. This farm has the reputation of being one of the cleanest and best farms in the County of Halton.

HORSE OUTLOOK GOOD. "I have been following the horse market rather closely for some time past," said G. H. Williams, district representative of the department of agriculture for Durham County, Port Hope, "and as a result of my observations have concluded that the outlook for horse breeders was never brighter than it is just now. In spite of the advent of the motor, more horses are being used for carriage purposes in cities than at any previous time. Both the horse and the motor have a place in this business."

MAKING MAPLE SUGAR

The appeal of the food controller to produce large quantities of maple sugar and maple syrup this spring should receive a ready response from those who have groves of maple trees. While maple sugar can be made as it was in the early days of settlement, with very simple apparatus, the work is greatly reduced and better products made when a modern equipment is utilized. For the instruction of those not entirely familiar with advanced methods, the publications branch of the department of agriculture at Ottawa has issued bulletin No. 2-3, entitled "The Maple Sugar Industry in Canada." By text and illustration it makes very clear the operation of a maple sugar plant. The time to tap, the utensils to use, the refining and handling of the product are all dealt with. This bulletin is available for distribution to those who apply for it.

The wire fence is king in the country. Fence rails make excellent quick-fire and hot-fire fuel, and there are quantities of rail fences waiting to be replaced by wire. Possibly never again will farmers be able to sell old rails at more than the original cost. We heard the other day of a farmer peddling rails at 60 cents each. This was an exorbitant price, and it was cruel to take advantage of the needy. The fence rails might be made to pay for wire enough to take their place. The sooner the rails give place to wire the better for the farmer, too. A townsman can get out the old buck-saw and enjoy the best bodily exercise in the world saving the rails into stove-lengths. Farmers who have rails to sell should lose no time making the fact known. If we mistake not it takes about sixty average-sized fence rails for one cord of 4-foot cord wood.—Canadian Statesman.

Fashion Displays for Spring

Will Begin Today and Will Continue Throughout The Week

It is our aim to present at the beginning of each season a comprehensive display of the modes that are likely to be in highest favor during the following months.

Without giving too much attention to extreme creations, such as are made more for display purposes than for use, we nevertheless have arrayed for your inspection many delightful novelties from the world's best fashion shops, novelties that also possess the characteristic of utility.

We believe that the good taste and sound qualities combined in our spring merchandise will meet the approval of discriminating women.

It is to the inspection of these stocks that we cordially invite you today and the following days.

What Fashion Has Decried in Coats

Fashion has been absolutely fickle where coats are concerned—so much so that one cannot possibly follow her moods—which are, however, delightful. Here she favors a high waistline—there you see one that is much below normal, and extremely smart. Again there is a new belted effect that is captivating.

Coats are long and coats are short—just whichever you like, though the long coat predominates. Shawl collars there are—collars that envelop the shoulders—square collars and tuxedo collars, and trimmings that are an art in themselves.

The materials mostly used are covert, velours, poplins, gabardines and tweeds, with such shades as sand, beige, navy and Monaco blue, submarine green, rookie and greys favored.

The back of one woman's coat of rookite gabardine is most appealing. It has a paneled, long-waisted effect, richly embroidered in self and old gold. Collar and cuffs are also touched with embroidery and huge smoked pearl buttons complete the charming model. Price, $85.00.

Another woman's coat of Monaco blue silverstone will delight you. Novel features are the large shaded buttons that border the shoulder seams and drop over the arms, the dressy fitted bodice and the rope-like girdle. Price, $72.50.

Beautiful indeed is a misses' coat of sand gabardine, lavishly stitched in Monaco blue. The narrow belt that runs through blue buckles; the bell sleeves and the large Roman striped silk collar give added charm. Priced at $72.50.

You could not imagine the exquisite richness of a youthful coat of suede velour in a rare blue shade. It is "beauty unadorned." It is for the great Oriental buttons on belt and sleeves. You just long to show the rainbow-hued satin lining, too. Price, $35.00.

Spring Has Surely Arrived in the Frock Sections Transforming Them Into a Bower of Beauty

Beauty of color, beauty of material, and the transcendent beauty of design is seen in every Spring frock that graces the large and inviting departments devoted to their display.

Smart taffetas, clinging Georgettes, silk crepes and lovable foulards, that have won their way once again into fashion's heart, are among the most favored fabrics, while serge reigns supreme for early spring street wear. And the way in which many of the materials are combined is as fascinating as it is mysterious.

The designs are innumerable and fetching beyond all description—and as to colors, well, nature surely loaned her color box to Dame Fashion, for they are wonderful. They shade from the delicate pastel tones on up through unique shades never seen before to rich sombre shades of blue, green, grey, etc. The following frocks are typical of the new modes.

Georgette crepe in pastel blue begins one of the exquisite frocks in the Women's Section. Crystal beading in solid panel effect on skirt and bodice, and the under bodice of silver lace effectively finish it. Price, $75.00.

Another woman's frock is fashioned from navy and white Georgette crepe in foulard design combined with navy taffeta. The double-winged tunic of crepe and taffeta, the long bell sleeves and the heavy silk tassels that adorn the bodice are a few of the adorable features. Price, $42.50.

Dear to the heart of any miss would be one frock of navy and buff taffeta. The buff tunic is embroidered with beads to give the new plaid effect, while the navy bodice has a pert row of buttons from waist to throat and a jaunty circular collar to complete it. Price, $75.00.

As fetching as it is simple is a misses' gown of soft taupe Georgette—made lovelier still by the rich silk embroidery on the draped skirt and bodice. An odd little braid girdle is a new note. Priced at $65.00.

Skirts Were Never Lovelier

And no wonder, when you see the glorious materials and wonderful colors that have gone into them.

Baronette, a lustrous new material with a metallic lustre; foulards in bewitching coin spot and tear drop patterns; satin-checked, satin-striped and gingham plaid taffetas; crepe de chine, and a host of beautiful cloth materials give evidence of the vogue of the separate skirt. As to colors, they are just everything you can think, and more than you ever dreamed could exist.

The styles are delightful, showing draped, tunic, pleated, straight and gathered effects, with such adornments as crushed girdles, sashes, high waist lines and indescribable pockets. Best of all, the prices are so various as to suit every purse.

Among the New Petticoats

Of course you will not want to miss seeing them, for they are so necessary to the new suit, skirt or frock. And the section where they are displayed is such a glory of color that it is a pleasure to walk through it.

Taffetas still hold first place, and the exquisite shot effects and plain tones with which they glow are adorable. There are pussy-willow Japs, too, silk jerseys that so many love, and white tub silks for the summer frock. Last, but by no means least, are satins of lovely lustre and color.

No need to mention designs, except to say that they are the latest products of fashion, particular attention having been given to obtaining a neat effect about the hips. They range in price from $5.00 to $15.00.

And the New Negligee Gowns

Of course you will want to see them, for here again are displayed adorable styles for your hour of leisure.

They are Japanese made, and a great many of them are Japanese in design with exquisite embroidery in rare designs, loose flowing affairs with great sleeves that are as graceful as they are artistic. Besides are Empire effects and styles caught in at the waist with elastic.

The materials are rich silks, silk crepe de chine and delaines, in plain colors and color combinations, showing such shades as new blue, rose, maize, sky, pink, navy, tan and black, with mauve. Price $5.00 to $35.00.

The New Suits Are New Indeed—You Will Enjoy Seeing Them

Lines that will give added grace to the matron are seen in the women's suits—youthfulness of style and jaunty touches that will give the chic appearance that every miss craves in the suits for young women—suits for everyone at every price—suits that are a delight to behold and a joy to wear.

Serge is still the favored material for these lovely suits for women and misses, while gabardine follows closely in popularity. After them come such attractive spring materials as tricotine, Poret twill, poplin, Delhi cloth and fine tweed. Silk, too, will be as highly favored as ever for later spring and summer wear, and already we are displaying many charming models made from taffetas and corded silks.

Navy, sand, beige and greys lead the splendid array of delightful colors, with Pekin and Monaco blue, hunter's green, new browns and nigger, rookie, taupe and black in close succession. The suits are short—short of skirt and short of coat—the

One Woman's Dress Suit is of sand serge. The coat has a peplum finely pleated at the back and sharply pointed in front. The bodice of the coat extends in long button trimmed flaps over the hips, and it is finished with a brown broadcloth collar in long shawl effect. The skirt is shirred to a broad belt, also trimmed with flaps. Price $75.00.

Navy serge is seen in another woman's handsome suit. The short box coat is richly banded with broad military braid, while the white silk fabric vest and striking mahogany buttons give a stunning finish. The skirt has a tunic front similarly braid trimmed and gathered belted back. Price $85.00.

Another exclusive model of sand covert cloth bears a pony jacket. There's a vest, too—this time of soft black satin with exquisite chequered border and high collar, in Paddy and sand. The smart plainness of the skirt is enhanced by an almost invisible pocket caught with a huge button. In the Women's Section. Price $85.00.

Youthful, indeed, is a misses' Eton suit of sand serge. The jaunty short coat just reaches the waist line at the back and is slightly pointed in front. Odd little shaded buttons adorn it, and also the prettily paneled skirt. Price $62.50.

latter showing such charming styles as pleated and irregular peplum effects, pony coats with smart vests, tailored designs and cunning bolero, and Eton models. Such a variety as to make it a veritable joy for you to do your suit buying.

As to trimmings—they vary in accordance with the design. The tailored models, as usual, boast little adornment, save smart buttons and stitchings, while dressy models show lovely over-collars, many novelty buttons, chic panniers, stitchings and embroidery. To give you an idea of the smartest styles shown, we here describe a few models:

Dark navy serge fashions another stunning suit. The jacket has a deep peplum, showing tucked panels at the back, and plain fronts with tailored pockets. A novel feature is the gingham plaid silk vest. The skirt is as smart as it is plain. In the Misses' Section. Price $69.75.

You will be enraptured with a misses' suit of beige corded silk. The coat is richly embroidered in navy, beige and gold, and lined with gold satin. The skirt has graceful loose side panniers and a broad girdle. Price $100.00.

Blouses

Are Growing Lovelier With Every Season.

You really must not miss a visit to the Blouse Section, where the display of new styles for wear with spring suit or separate skirt will show you the latest modes and all the exquisite materials and colors fashion is exploiting for the new season.

Georgettes, in sand, grey, beige, Nile, flesh, orchid, coral, peach, new blues, maize and such lovely shades are still favored for dressy wear, while combination colors are highly fashionable.

Then come silk crepe de chine, in all the new plain and combination colors, rajahs and delicate, indestructible voiles, in a host of pastel shades.

Among tailored waists you will find habitais and tussahs of rich weighty finish, in plain colors, white and wonderfully smart striped effects. Lingerie blouses, too, are demanding great favor among fashionable women.

It would be quite impossible to touch even the fringe of the countless exquisite designs, but some of the characteristic features of the newest are:

Collarless, slip-over designs, low flat collars, high collars and hunting stocks, gypsy and tuxedo collars; embroidering in self and contrasting colors, rich heading in exclusive designs; tiny self-covered buttons and buttons of metal and pearl, used for either trimming or fastening.

Altogether these blouses are so delightful and fascinating that you will love every single one of them. The prices vary just as widely as the designs.

Queen Quality Boots And Other Fashionable Footwear

Disclosing the Advance Models for Spring

The question of what footwear will be worn this spring is revealed by the wonderful display of new shoes in our extensive shoe department.

High boots, low boots, English walking boots, Oxfords and pumps will be shown, with a preference for the high shoe—the height of these ranging from 8 to 9 inches.

Button and lace styles share equally in favor, other interesting features being long, narrow vamps in the dressy shoes; Spanish, Cuban and covered heels, and dainty finishing touches in the way of stitching, etc.

Plain colors predominate, but delightful two-tone combinations are also shown. Dark and African brown, field mouse, mahogany, navy and grey are among these shades, with a great deal of black.

Worthy of particular note are the perfect fitting qualities, graceful lines, smartness and flexibility of every one of our "Queen Quality" shoes, no matter what the price.
