TORONTO STREET RAILWAYMEN REFUSE TO JOIN STRIKE

Minister of Labor Says Western Strike Promoters Now Sit in Ashes of Their Own Folly

WINNIPEG STRIKE COST THE WORKERS ABOUT TWO MILLION

Hon. Gideon Robertson Issues Final Statement on Struggle—Says Promoters of Strike Sit in Ashes of Their Folly—One Big Union a Foe to Labor.

Winnipeg, Man., June 1.—Hon. Gideon Robertson, Dominion minister of labor, in a statement made to the press before leaving for Ottawa to confer with federal authorities, said that the promoters of the general strike in Winnipeg "now sit in the ashes of their folly" that "sympathetic strikes must always fail," and that the Winnipeg strike is "the first reversal of the play written at Calgary," where the one big union movement was launched last March.

Mr. Robertson's statement was as follows: "The promoters of the general strike in Winnipeg now sit in the ashes of their folly. Something like 200 men and women were voted out, professedly for the purpose of enforcing the recognition of the right of collective bargaining. In responding to the call, the majority violated and repudiated their obligations to their own trade unions and their contract with their employers individually and collectively, thus wilfully discarded their agreements, indicating that the possession of, what they are contending for is of little value."

Citizens Must Judge.

"Labor organizations which require that contracts made be fulfilled, merit commendation. The members of the public, and of governments, Labor leaders who advocate that only might is right, who hold that law, justice and honor should be disregarded at will, merit and receive the condemnation of all good citizens."

"An employer or employer, deny to their workers the right to negotiate collectively for the sake of their services, the economic force of the workmen may properly be directed against the offender, and the public will approve and sympathize. In a general sympathetic strike the force is directed against the whole community who are innocent of any responsibility for the offence. Public indignation is immediately aroused because of the inconvenience, loss and suffering imposed upon innocent people. Therefore, sympathetic strikes must always fail."

Would Destroy Unions.

"Socialism has long recognized that the trade unions are an impassable bar to its revolutionary program and seeks thru the one union movement (Concluded on Page 7, Column 3).

BRITISH MISSION TO GO TO THE BALTIC STATES

Reuter Cable.

London, June 1.—It is officially announced that, owing to the development of the situation in the Baltic states, it has been decided to despatch a British mission to Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania with branches at Revel, Libau and Kovno. Col. Tallant, who has been appointed British commissioner, left London for Libau on May 25.

A SUMMER DAY.

The first of June, the first day of summer, presided over by Grane, goddess of the hives, who swings the gates of the year wide open upon the scene of woods, fields, gardens all at their loveliest. Yesterday the goddess had all things to her liking. Every tree, including the oak, was at its best. The eye saw green foliage and white blossoms everywhere in city and country. A cloudless sky above and the song of birds in full flight all around. It was an unrivaled anniversary of nature's unrivaled day. Who thought for the time being of unrest or trouble from the strange magic of a perfect day, all who could be abroad were out of doors from early morning till the warm hours had run along past midnight.

And June is the month of roses!

MEN'S EXCLUSIVE STRAW HATS.

Saturday last was a record day for men's hats with the Dineen Company. Dineen's stock of straw hats is exclusive and no doubt that accounts for the big selling. Dineen is sole Canadian agent for Henry Heath of London, and Dungleap of New York, that whom there are no better hatters in the world. Heath is maker to His Majesty, and Dungleap is positively acknowledged the greatest success in the men's straw hat field. In the big stock there is also a superb showing of Panama at five dollars and upwards. All guaranteed. Dineen's address is 140 Yonge St.

AFGHANS GET TASTE OF HIGH EXPLOSIVES

Attacks on Fort Thai Repulsed and Fort Baldak Occupied By British.

London, June 1.—Reports received at the labor department with regard to the various strikes in progress throughout the country are generally encouraging. The minister of labor delayed his departure from Winnipeg this morning and should arrive in the capital by Tuesday.

It was stated at the department this evening that a number of the Vancouver miners had declared themselves as opposed to the general strike. The vote will probably not be all in until tomorrow, but the miners here are informed that certain unions are opposed to a strike. It is understood that progress is being made in arriving at a settlement of the strike at Lethbridge.

Messages received late tonight state that preparations are about completed by the civic authorities and citizens of Vancouver to meet any emergency there. The charter of the Policemen's Union prohibits engaging in sympathetic strike. There is a strong belief that the soldiers will condemn the strike action, but in any event will remain for constituted authority.

Everything is quiet and orderly in the Trail, B.C. district.

There is practically no change at Calgary. The public are experiencing no inconvenience other than restricted mail and express services.

Edmonton situation is apparently improving. Street car and other services are being operated. The official organ of the Trades and Labor Council urges the men to resume work. All mines in district 18 are idle, and no attempt is being made to operate them.

At Medicine Hat eight unions voted in favor of a strike and three against.

Post office, post and railway mail clerks have returned to work. The street car service will likely be resumed tomorrow, and the general feeling amongst the citizens is reported to be that the backbone of the strike is broken.

TIGHTENS SCREWS ON MARTIAL LAW

Berlin Minister of Defence Prohibits All Public and Private Gatherings.

Berlin, June 1.—The government apparently anticipates trouble in Berlin in the near future, for the minister of defence, Gustav Noske, has tightened up the screws on martial law, and with it civil strife.

It was announced on Friday night that the minister had relaxed the provisions of the law so far as to allow demonstrations against the peace terms, public meetings and parades. But he considers that this has been done to the letter, and now forbids not only public gatherings, but even private meetings indoors, unless specific permission is given.

The ostensible reason for this is that many meetings called, presumably for protest purposes, have developed into incitements dangerous to the government and agitations in favor of uprisings.

Paderewski Invites Americans To Probe Jewish Pogroms

Paris, June 1.—Ignace Jan Paderewski, the Polish premier, made it known today that he had decided to ask President Wilson to send a commission of Americans to go to Poland and investigate the charges regarding the treatment of the Jewish population there.

The note declares Germany is willing to pool her entire merchant marine with that of the associated powers. Neutral participation in the inquiry as to responsibility for the war is asked.

Two Great Labor Reforms and Strikes.

The League of Nations, which is to follow the Peace Treaty, will contain a covenant that the several subscribing powers will legalize an eight-hour day for workers in the great industries.

Here in Canada the lawyers, including the officers of the crown, as we call the advisers of the government and parliament, say that the powers of parliament in respect of an eight-hour day and length of day are limited to making such a provision apply to works done for or by parliament, as in the construction of railways, canals, buildings, roads, etc., and parliament pays for, that is parliament gets the power to regulate in this respect because parliament votes the money therefore, and parliament's right to attach conditions to expenditures of this kind is recognized in all constitutionally governed countries, but that parliament cannot pass a law imposing eight hours on factories or trades outside of government work—that this right belongs exclusively to the provinces.

This may or may not be good law; the courts may have to finally settle this dispute point.

But there is another section of our constitution that gives parliament power to pass laws for "the peace, order and good government of the country," and this section can be construed to cover an eight-hour law. We believe there is a good foundation for this argument, and a way can be found to bring it within the federal power, just as the federal power in the United States has found a way of getting by the law which limited the making of the criminal codes to the states. For instance, jurisdiction was got over even gunpowder dynamite outrages, and who could not be liable in the state courts or under state law, and so were brought under federal law into federal courts, by a provision under the clause giving jurisdiction to the federal authorities over transportation between states. So this law was passed the same time as dynamite but had passed over an interstate line, and was guilty of a crime against the federal power; and this law was enforced and survived.

We believe, in some way, either under the "peace, order and good government" clause, or after the manner of the Statute, we can get the eight-hour law in the Dominion statute book. But it may take a little time.

It would, however, be an absurdity for Canada to make a separate covenant and not be able to impose by the necessary laws and enforcement thereof; and, inasmuch as Germany overrode the opposition of the minority Board of Railway Commissioners, and has practically declared by doing so that it is now the "Great Steam railway," we do not see why the eight-hour day cannot be adopted by the parliament to cover all these great public services and all government departments.

So we do not take much stock in the contention of the law officers of the crown. Someone is using them to side-track a great issue.

So in any case, if the eight-hour day is to be made legal, either by federal or provincial law, or both, getting it by strike means not the best way.

The note is to make the demands on the governments, or the parliaments and legislatures, on the candidates in elections, most of all by running Labor party candidates.

Canada and the United States are hopefully backward in recognizing the Labor party. The situation is as follows:

We must recognize the labor organizations in our politics, federal or provincial, or municipal, for that matter.

For the moment then we think the best way to get an eight-hour day is to let the issue in politics. But this does not prevent the worker getting it by "collective bargaining." This is better than the demands made upon them by the "victorious" alliance of our enemies.

Owing to the counter proposals the German delegation agrees to reduction of Germany's demands and to immediate condition that Germany be admitted to the league of nations; to renounce Germany's sovereign rights in Alsace-Lorraine and Posen, but to all other territories which Germany has seized up to give up the industry negotiations with the employers in the same trade or allied industry. But it is more or less a temporary agreement.

One is that a nation that gives an eight-hour day must be willing to apply to "one big union" as against "all employers."

Therefore think the best way to get the eight-hour day is to put it up to the powers, both federal and provincial, to live up to the demands of the workers. We must make the demands on the governments, or the parliaments and legislatures, on the candidates in elections, most of all by running Labor party candidates.

The German delegation nowhere in its notes says that it will refuse to sign the present treaty nor declares on behalf of the German nation "even in her need, justice for her is too sacred a thing to allow her to stoop to achieve conditions which she cannot undertake to carry out."

Excerpts from the note show means that in signing the peace treaty Germany would be executing a decree for its own proscription, nay, its own death sentence!

Nation Stands Agast.

The German note says, "we have been disappointed in the hope for a peace of justice which had been promised," and stand "agast" as the demands made upon them by the "victorious" alliance of our enemies."

Owing to the counter proposals the German delegation agrees to reduction of Germany's demands and to immediate condition that Germany be admitted to the league of nations; to renounce Germany's sovereign rights in Alsace-Lorraine and Posen, but to all other territories which Germany has seized up to give up the industry negotiations with the employers in the same trade or allied industry. ## BUSY DAYS AT TORONTO'S LABOR TEMPLE

TRADES COUNCIL PRESIDENT RESIGNS FOLLOWING DISPUTE

Street Railwaymen Decide Three To One Against Strike

when he handed out his statement. A feature of the meeting was the fact that the railwaymen refused admission to a committee from the metal trades council who wanted to address the meeting. The delegates were composed of three officials of the metal men—Jack Macdonald, J. Peel and James Higgins. When they asked permission to enter they were told that they would not be allowed in because of the fact that a reporter of the Star was there who wanted to also speak to the men who had been denied admission.

President W. D. Mahon of the Amalgamated Electrical Railway Engineers Association had been invited to speak at the Toronto meeting, but it was stated that he was unable to be present and his place as international representative was taken by ex-Ad. J. J. Gibbons, a member of the executive.

Seventeen thousand employees are out on strike according to the latest figures presented by the "big fifteen" last night. These may be listed approximately as follows, according to these figures:

Metal Trades	7,000
Carpenters	2,000
Garment Workers	2,000
Marine Trades	1,000
Mandy-Harris	1,000
Federal Laborers	1,400
Miscellaneous	2,600
Total	17,000

The outstanding feature of the events of the past two days has been the decision of the Toronto Street Railway employees to keep out of the strike until their own troubles demanded consideration. Leaders of the present movement in Toronto stated last night that the attitude of the street railwaymen was a negligible factor with the big fifteen.

Plumbers Meet.

Plumbers held an animated meeting at the Labor Temple yesterday, but official information as to results was not forthcoming, altho it was unofficially stated that their union was strong for a walk-out.

The District Brotherhood of Carpenters, which held a meeting to touch upon their own grievances, decided to leave them unheeded until the general strike was over. The telegraphers have decided to defer action with regard to the general strike. On the other hand the fire-fighters are holding a special session on Monday to decide necessary action.

Dave Morgan, a machinist, who led a strike of strikers from the Mandy-Harris works on Saturday, spoke as to the source of information relative to "two hundred men only" on strike at this plant. He said he was passing strange that I myself should be led to strike from the works if there were only 200 of them," said Mr. Morgan.

Candy Workers.

The strike of candy workers, numbering twenty girls, has aroused interest in the city. On Saturday afternoon the general strike committee issued a statement to the effect that twenty girls, employees of the Patterson Candy Works, West Queen street, averaging 17 to 18 years of age, had struck because one of the men working with them was asking a raise in wages. The report went on to state that this girl had been receiving $19 a week. Among the girls who went out were others who had received less than the girl who was dismissed.

Manager's Version.

W. C. Coutts, manager of the factory, stated last night that, while it was corroborated that twenty girls had been dismissed from the factory, the entire group of 100 did not receive a wage of $14 a week, with hours from 9 to 5. Only one of these girls, said Mr. Coutts, had been in the employ of the firm for more than a month, and the others were alleged to have been paid less than the girl who was dismissed had been employed only out of sympathy, as she was paid $19 a week. The manager further stated that no girl had been discharged, no girl had been asked for a raise, and no girl went out on sympathy. The hours had been changed during June and July to from 9 to 5, and Saturday afternoons off.

Official's Resign.

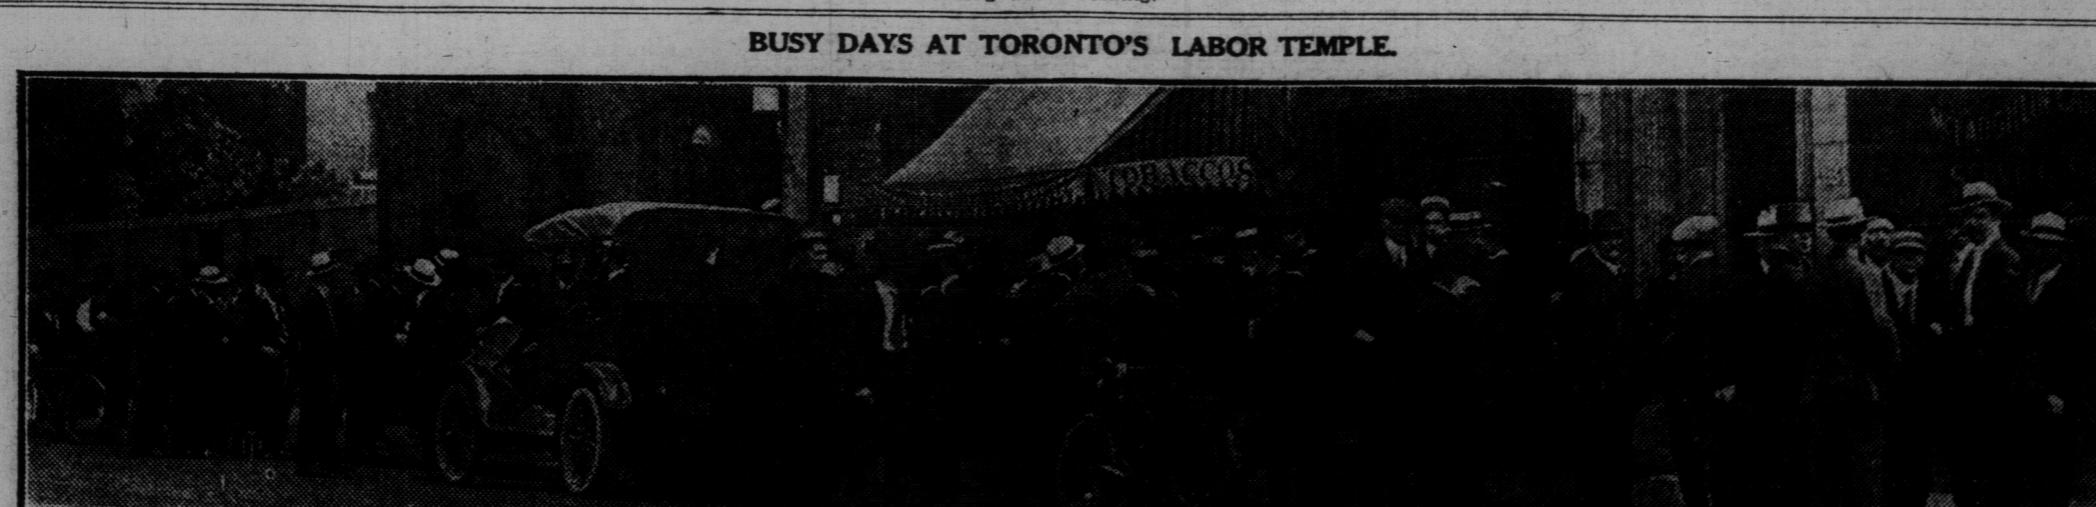

The convention of unions was an occasion of unusual width. First of all there was a hot dispute as to who was responsible for the figures given out to the press following the convention on Tuesday. Gen. Sir George Hall, Hon. Arthur O'Leary, president of the Toronto Trades and Labor Council; W. J. Hevey, the secretary; and John Doggett, who had been in charge of the previous convention, resigned, and Tom Black and E. A. Bailey of Todmorden joined in their place. Another convention will be held at the Labor Temple on Tuesday evening.

The fire-fighters are holding a meeting extra today at the Labor Temple in two or three sections. It is reported that Chief Russell has six hundred applicants at his call the moment. The fire-fighters of the insurance companies have signed their names to provide all the help needed should occasion arise.

The men express themselves contented as to the final issue of the great fight, and one man stated yesterday afternoon that the fight was properly arranged, and that one large manufacturer had already eliminated his workers to win out. The masters themselves are overjoyed off. It was stated that the news from Winnipeg was excellent, and that additions were being made to the ranks of the strikers in the best and most peacefully conducted strike in Canadian history.

Foch Confers With Generals on Rhine Region Occupation

Paris, June 1.—Marshal Foch and his assistant, Maj. Gen. Weygand, conferred twice Saturday with Louis Loucheur, minister of reconstruction, M. Gen. Sir Edward H. Wilson, chief of the British staff, Gen. Diaz, the Italian commander-in-chief, and Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, on details of the military occupation of the Rhine region after the signing of peace.

POLICE BREAK UP "RED" CONFERENCE

Twelve Members of Communist Party Arrested
With Literature.

The police are closely watching the movements in Toronto of the Bolsheviks, who are active in the distribution of the poisonous literature, and at 11 o'clock Sunday morning a squad of detectives, plainclothesmen, and Acting Assistant Cadet of the Dominion police raided 553 West Queen street and made twelve arrests. A quantity of Bolshevik literature, and a Socialist paper were found by the police in the room. The police learned that a round table conference was to be held yesterday, and when they satisfied themselves that the meeting was in full swing they broke down the door and arrested those found there.

Of the two main prisoners one of them is a British subject, the majority being Russians and workers from the United States. One of the accused claimed he was a Pole, but the police say they have information to prove that he is a German, and had been in Germany before the outbreak of war. Some of the persons known to be interested in the "communist" party are likely to be summoned by detectives to prove that the prisoner came from Germany.

Urge Revolution

The radical literature, found was similar to that taken possession of by similar groups during the previous raid here. The latest pamphlets contained the platform of the party and a second circular was an appeal to the strikers to start a revolution.

Following is a list of the twelve arrested, and held on charges of "having in their possession or on their premises objectionable literature contrary to an order-in-council": George Vlachuk, 202 John street; Ben Davis, 216 Page avenue; Luke Barabash, 100 West Richmond street; Anthony Madewell, 53 Augusta avenue; Herbert Hite, 162 Logan avenue; John C. Ford, 186 Dell street; Chester Clarke, 88 Wardell street; Thomas J. Bell, 130 Howard street; Andrew Volesky, 137 Orange avenue; and Matvey Blashkov, 112 McCaul street.

Red Platform

The program outlines the results of the revolution in Russia and after appealing to the workers to organize and cause an uprising concludes with the following statement:

(1.) The first act in the revolution of the proletariat is the forcible seizure of the governmental power and the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat.

(2.) The complete destruction of capitalist political institutions and the substitution of workers', peasants' and soldiers' councils as the governing authority.

(3.) The abolition of the standing army, the disbanding of the police and their followers (especially police officers and army officers), and the arming of the fighting proletariat leading to the establishment of the red guard.

(4.) The abolition of all law courts and the substitution for them of revolutionary tribunals.

(5.) The confiscation of all private property without compensation, secret or open, including factories, mines, mills, railroads, and real estate owned by individuals or corporations, and used for profit-making. The confiscated property to be distributed that is to be made the property of the working class under workers' control.

(6.) The confiscation of all banking accounts (excluding the small accounts of the workers) and the nationalization of the banking system.

(7.) The handing over of the land to the agricultural laborers and poor farmers.

Signed and Published by the Central Executive Committee, Communists' Party of Canada.

Score's Steps.

The above are the steps reads the paper which must be taken in order to establish the rule of the proletariat. The objects of the party are to organize and prepare the working class in Canada for the social revolution, which, the writers claim, is necessary for the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat.

The appeal, printed and distributed amongst the strikers, distinctly states the approval of the present strike in Toronto, and urges the men to revolt.

The following is a quotation from this pamphlet: "Our workers can send out the small factories and get the others to join you in the fight. Get the workers on the street, we'll fight for the right will be decided."

"If you machinists made so many splendid machine guns, rifles and bombs for your masters to sell, why did you not respond to provide yourselves with them before you strike? If you had done that, then you would not be at the mercy of a gang of policemen who are hired to protect your masters."

Battle of Freedom

"We packing house workers who slaved so nobly to provide your masters' army with food, are you willing to roll and provide for the feeding of their soldiers in their battle for freedom? The workers respond if you give the rallying call; the soldiers will not shoot at their brothers they are fired fighting for the capitalist gods."

The police claim that they could have made further arrests but they only intend at the present time apprehending those actively engaged in spreading the literature. No trouble was experienced by the police when they took possession of the Queen street premises.

Hearty Welcome is Accorded To Royal Newfoundland Regt.

St. John's, Nfld., June 1.—The steamer Corsican arrived this morning, three days overdue, with the Royal Newfoundland regiment, headquarters staff and regimental colors. Altho the arrival was made during a furious rainstorm an immense gathering witnessed the return and every evidence of hearty welcome was afforded.

TORONTO ISLAND DELIVERY.

TRIBUTES TO C.P.R. BY B.C. PREMIER

President Beatty is Guest of Canadian Club at Victoria.

Montreal, June 1.—Word has been received here that E. W. Beatty, who has been inspecting C.P.R. lines in the west, received a particularly enthusiastic welcome from the Canadian Club at Victoria, B.C. The president of the club, in introducing him, stated that people of British Columbia would oppose any move by the government which would in any way threaten or endanger the organization of the C.P.R. The premier, in moving a vote of thanks, paid high tribute to the past and present presidents of the company, and said that the Canadian Pacific was very dear to the people of British Columbia, and that their confidence in its methods and management had never been shaken.

Mr. Beatty is now returning from the coast, and is due at Lake Louise tomorrow, and at Calgary on Tuesday. He comes back to Winnipeg by way of Edmonton and Saskatoon.

LOST 56 PER CENT. OF PRE-WAR TONNAGE

New York, June 1.—The Cunard Steamship Company and allied lines lost during the war 45 ships with a combined tonnage of 2,000,000, while the Cunard Line alone lost 22 vessels with a tonnage of 220,444, or 56 per cent. of its pre-war tonnage, according to a statement issued by officials of the company here today.

The chief losses suffered by the Cunard and Anchor lines, the same amount of tonnage fell upon "the type of combined cargo and passenger steamers of moderate speed," and therefore first place in the post-war building program is being given this class.

MONTRÉAL POLICE SCATTER RADICALS

Used Mounted Officers in Breaking Up Meeting —
Wild Excitement.

Montreal, June 1.—Squadrons of police officers charging thru the park, with mounted officers aiding their efforts by dashing into groups of people, who were slow in moving around united to form a spirited scene on the slopes of Mount Royal this afternoon. It was an afternoon of wild excitement, with police in full gear, and the police in full show up.

The persistence of a socialist group in Montreal to endeavor to hold a meeting against the orders of the civic authorities was responsible for the excitement.

The dispersal of the men was out of the jurisdiction of any of the officers, Gen. Mewburn said, the dispersal being chosen by a vote of the men.

The annual birthday party of the Hamilton Sanitarium, held yesterday afternoon, was a most enjoyable and social function. J. J. Evel, president of the Hamilton Health Association, presided over the chief feature of the occasion, which was the opening of Dunedin pavilion.

With a view of influencing non-union men to join some union, an open-labor meeting was held in the Molders' Hall this evening.

The strikers in Toronto hoped to secure the co-operation of the street car men, who were organized by W. Peal of Toronto. The bus drivers would then be tied up tighter than Winnipig. The marine workers, he said, were also prepared to go to 100 per cent. strong, at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

The socialist meeting had been advertised by means of a circular signed "social democratic party of Canada, propaganda committee." The pamphlet denounced the police among other things.

SCORE'S SUMMER HABERDASHERY SPECIALS.

Leafy June and Summer wearables travel hand-in-hand, and the Score's assortments vie with Old Nature in attractiveness and variety. Look here! it is in order to enumerate such things as summer shirts, sunner collars, summer underwear, summer neck wear, summer hosiery, and other summer wear.

Six arrests were reported by the police for last weekend. Miss Elizabeth Royce, 81 Parliament street, faces a charge of perjury.

The army and navy veterans held their annual decoration day exercises at Stoney Creek today. The religious service was conducted by Rev. Canon Spencer.

ADRIATIC IS COMING WITH 12TH BRIGADE

London, June 1.—The Adriatic sailed for Halifax yesterday carrying 106 officers, 8 nurses and 190 troops, mostly the 12th Brigade from Bournemouth, the 78th battalion under Col. Semmens, 27 officers and 605 men for Winnipeg; the 85th battalion under Col. Groom, 40 officers and 1,180 men and sixty men, 18 officers, from London, and 44 men from Kinnel camp.

Thirty-three officers and 155 men repatriated from the impalials are on board, together with Col. Farmer of the medical corps, who is returning to Halifax for duty.

The 12th Brigade will be at Halifax on June 10, and the 85th on June 11.

Under the auspices of the Holy Name Social Study Club, Danforth avenue, Rev. M. Cline, rector, delivered an interesting address, entitled "Man Has the Right to Live by His Labor," at a well-attended meeting yesterday in the club room.

"At a time when capital and labor are at arms, groups of the church cannot remain indifferent at whichever way the wind blows," said Rev. Father M. Cline. Her position in such a crisis is more than that of an irresponsible spectator. In the emergency that has now arisen, the church should be brought to the hope of bringing them to a mutual understanding of their respective rights and duties. If justice is to triumph over greed, then the church should be brought to the hope of bringing them to a mutual understanding of their respective rights and duties.

BASEBALL NEWS

The Leafs Win Two Great Games from Binghamton, Saturday, by a One Run Majority Each

THE SCORE:

FIRST GAME	SECOND GAME
Toronto..... 4	Toronto..... 3
Binghamton.... 2	Binghamton.... 2

The Leafs Were There With the Big Bat Saturday.

IT was indeed a day for baseball Saturday, and thousands of Toronto fans who witnessed the big stadium witnessed two of the best games of the season. Both fixtures came off with interest and excitement, and the many situations kept the crowd intensely attentive until the end of the second game. The Leafs scored three runs early in the first game, more by luck than anything else.

Toronto tallied in the fourth when Holden scored on Sandberg's two-base hit to the left field.

The game was won in the fifth when the Leafs took it upon themselves to knock the ball around the lot to three runs. Gonzales started off with a single. Purcell duplicated. Much to the surprise of the Binghamton crew, Gonzales and Purcell pulled off a double steal.

Whitehead was passed, filling the bases. Eddie Onslow then did what was expected of him, and singled.

Onslow crossed the plate for another run when Breckinridge was out at first.

The scoring ended when Anderson walked and was caught cold off first soon afterward.

Justin certainly pitched first-class ball, and allowed the Bingers but five hits throughout the game. As usual, he caught several napping off the bag.

One of the features of the first game and perhaps the afternoon was Gonzalez's catch in the ninth. He got out toward the left and caught a Texas leaguer with his back to the plate.

McCabe was pulled out of the box in the fifth, and replaced by Gingras, who kept things considerably milder with the finish.

Heck was chosen to pitch the second game, and except for the first inning, kept his opponents well in hand. Gingras was again sent to the mound for Binghamton.

The Bingers started early and Binghamton scored three hits in the initial innings which gave them a two-run margin.

The Leafs did some good stick work in the sixth, and tied up the score. Holden singled. Anderson followed with a single. Sandberg hit the plate in the back and the two were home. Heck then placed a slashing single to centre, and Holden and Anderson crossed the plate, tying the score.

The game remained a tie until the last of the tenth, when Gingras weakened and threw eight consecutive walks, walking Onslow and Breckinridge.

Anderson ended the suspense with a clean single to right, and the game was won.

Purcell replaced Purcell in the line-up for the second game, and played shortstop while Gonzalez managed the third bag.

Although Saturday was an ideal day for baseball, it was also a notable day for the wearing of new warm weather apparel. Fan and fashion seemed to be in the air over the city yesterday Saturday. There was a veritable sea of new straw hats, and it was really the first big day of the season for every kind of summer apparel.

Light green tweed suits were very much in evidence, and low cut shoes were there in huge numbers.

Today, Men's Outing Suits of Light Weight Homespun, Tweeds, Flannels® and Worsted Materials Are Offered, Special Price $13.75

Every man knows the comfort of a two-piece suit when everything seems in a sweater; consequently such a special offer as this at this time of year will be a popular one. Happiness and Long Lives To All Her Patrons!
The Murray-Kay Co. Celebrates Her 66th Anniversary

A 66th birthday is an important event, and is bound to discover us in a reminiscent mood. It bids us travel back in memory over a long stretch of time into the dim and distant year of 1853, a long history of commercial integrity and progressiveness, a proud history of friends made and kept, of a place bigger and more firmly established in the life of Toronto with every year.

The year which marked the inception of the little dry goods store of W. A. Murray is beyond the range of memory of most Torontonians of today. This little store looked out with its youthful vision on a queer and quaint Toronto indeed. Just for curiosity we will try to reconstruct it with the help of a few old landmarks, youthful contemporaries of Murray-Kays.

A narrow fringe of structures along the blue waters of Ontario, thickly interspersed with beautiful trees, a characteristic which is happily not altogether lost.

An old print of Toronto at this time shows Front and Palace Streets as the main streets, with the old City Hall to the south of them. Yonge Street Wharf, Maitland's, Brown's, Tinning's and several others received the small and officious-looking tugs which plied the lakes at that time. The lofty spires of St. Michael's and St. James' Cathedrals broke the skyline and far among the green fields to the north lay the Normal School, and to the west Trinity College and many more old friends still with us today.

FIREMEN'S THREAT TO STIR ALDERMEN

City Council to Deal With Problem of Today's Meeting.

The firemen's threat to strike is likely to be the chief matter that will come before the city council at its meeting on Monday. Just what turn the discussion will take is not known, but there are already indications that Controller McBride and others will have something to say about the firemen's demands. The question will come up in the board of control in the morning, and from that point of view, the differences of opinion among that body. There are stated to be a waiting list of 800 to get on to the fire department.

With reference to protection of the Island shore the board of control recommends that the commissioners of parks be authorized to proceed with the work pending action by the department of public works, and that funds to the amount of $10,000 be reported, it being distinctly understood that the city does not by this action assume any responsibility for the protection of the south shore of the island, which obligation the city contends rests upon the federal government.

The Toronto and York highways commission have tendered to the commissioners of finance a detailed statement of expenditures in 1918, an account of construction and maintenance, crediting interim payments theron to the city and reporting a balance due amounting to $10,755. The board recommended that the commissioner of finance be authorized to pay the balance determined to be due in settlement of this account after the same has been certified by the commissioners of the city on the commission and the city auditor respectively.

The board request council to confirm the following minute which was unanimously adopted by the board at its meeting held on the 30th instant:

"That the provincial secretary be respectfully requested to authorize the holding of a public inquiry into the escape of two female prisoners from the county jail on Thursday, May 19th inst., and that he be also requested to investigate at the same time other matters in connection with the administration and management of the jail of recent occurrences which might indicate a lack of discipline and nonobservance of regulations."

Do not enter with writing, bleeding, or protruding. No surgical operation.

SEARCHED FOR GAS LEAK.

Searching for a leak in a gas pipe resulted Sunday morning in Mrs. Espey and George Lowrey, 22 Hurley Avenue, North Toronto, being burned about the arms and face. The damage by fire was $25. Firemen from North Toronto hall rendered first aid to the injured, pending the arrival of a doctor.

MEN FROM REGINA WARMLY WELCOMED

Exhibition Camp Thronged With Friends of Men Who Enjoyed Trip Home.

Saturday morning the troops from the "Regina" arrived at the Exhibition Camp, and were given a warm reception. Among the details were the train with the Regina troops were 17 members of the 8th Stationary Hospital Staff. Corp Arscott stated that the Regina carried about 2,000 troops. The trip was fine and the weather also, which enabled all to be on deck, and the smooth sea saved many from mal de mer.

The officers who came with them, and who signed the book, were: Major W. M. Cormack, 132 Mavety street; Lieut. O. C. Cox, 75th Battalion, 26 Selby street; Lieut. A. W. Sewell, 2nd Selby Battalion; Lieut. A. W. Spence, 8th Cavalry, Canadian Mounted Rifles, Ottawa, Ontario; Capt. Frank G. W. V. A. Grand Concert

Parkdale G. W. V. A. band made its debut in public at a grand concert given in St. John's Hall, corner Stewart and Portland, on Thursday evening last, under the auspices of the ladies auxiliary of the branch to the relief fund. The St. John's minstrel troupe of some twenty girls also did their bit, and the church created a most favorable impression on the audience present as to their entertaining quality, under the direction of Mr. H. Sinclair and Mrs. McCall. This concluded the first half of the program.

For the second half the Parkdale musicians struck up a lively march, followed by Piper Watson of the G. P. O. staff. Scotch music was plentiful and well received. The following artists contributed songs, duets and readings: end men, Messrs. Dunton Holliday, George Morton, John Johnson, Walter Barritt and Baker Pierrots; The Vellor sisters, Dorothy McCull and Babe Chapman, Misses Lavine Jones, Goddard, Jeffries, Miss Baker, Miss Abercrombie.

Miss Baxter made a very capable accompanist for the evening.

COUNSEL DECLARES HIS CLIENT IS NOT SANE

T. C. Robbette, K.C., counsel for Frank McCullough, visited the condemned prisoner at the jail Saturday evening. Mr. Robbette held a long conversation with McCullough, and at the close of the interview assured that he was not mentally deranged. On Monday Drs. C. K. Clarke, A. J. Johnson and Claire will report on the sanity of the condemned man.

PAINT MANUFACTURERS ORGANIZE CLUB

Manufacturers and wholesale distributors of paints, oils, varnishes and kindred lines met at a dinner in the King Edward Hotel on Thursday evening last and adopted constitution and by-laws for the formation of a club of all those interested in this branch of the business in Toronto and vicinity. The organization of the club was attended by representatives from a large majority of firms engaged in the industry, the entire number of members figures well for success. The purposes of the club will be to promote fraternal and social relationships amongst those engaged in the allied trades, as well as the promotion and stimulation of mutual interest, such as the removing of customs and practices contrary to sound business principles and ethics, will be dealt with by committees appointed for such purposes.

The club will be affiliated with the Canadian Paint Oil and Varnish Association and strong co-operation throughout the Dominion will be sought.

UNVEIL MONUMENT TO W. B. PRESCOTT

Typographical Union Members Honor Memory of Dead Leader.

As a mark of appreciation for his work as international president, the members of the International Typographical Union yesterday unveiled a monument in Necropolis Cemetery to William Blair Prescott, who joined the local union, and who died in Chicago in 1916.

The monument was dedicated by Commissioner of Labor James M. Lynch, of New York State, a former president of the International Union, who dwelt upon the qualities of the former president as he knew them. Commissioner Lynch told how the monument came to be erected, every member of the union in both Canada and the United States having contributed ten cents to a general fund for the purpose.

The memorial tablet is the work of A. J. Clark, a Toronto artist.

Other speakers were J. W. Hayes, secretary treasurer of the I. T. U.; Walter Barrett, first vice-president of the organization, and James H. Gilmour.

THINKS VERA DE LAVELLE ESCAPED TO HELP HIM

On his return Saturday afternoon from the jail T. C. Robbette, K. C., said that Frank McCullough was glad when he was told that his sweetheart, Vera de Lavelle, had escaped from the jail. McCullough wanted to know if Vera had been caught, and when told that she was still at liberty expressed the opinion that she had fled in effort to help him.

More About the Food Problem.

The World's editorial on Thursday morning last on the food problem and the cost of living touched the spot, it was summed up in the statement that the food profiteers cut the throats of the manufacturers. A lot of people have begun to wake up. The government on Friday appointed a committee to inquire into the cost of living. If this is an earnest of good faith, well and good, but if it be merely camouflage, there are worse things in store for us.

Unless this cost of living difficulty, which rests on the price of food, is dealt with, we shut ourselves automatically out of the markets of the world by our high cost of production. No man can say what the result of that will be. If it throws us back upon our own capacity for self-consumption it does not require unnatural powers to foresee the inevitable aggravation of the present situation. It is not to be thought that the nations of the world are to isolate themselves like so many Chinas; even if they were able to shut out all foreign intercourse for thousands of years, as China did. Humanity, to be normal and vigorous and sane, must have inter-communication and inter-commerce. It is a defect of any system that would tie up a limb and stop the vital circulation and union with the whole body.

This is where the real evil and the fallacy behind the general strike exist. The whole body suffers when any member is paralyzed, and the paralyzed member suffers equally with, or more than, the rest.

The desire for more wages rests on the cost of living, which is primarily the cost of food. We have urged in season and out of season the necessity of fixing food prices, and were listened to with deaf or unwilling ears. One food controller after another turned down our representations. The result is now with us. It would have been easy three years ago to fix prices for domestic consumption at prices then prevailing; prices even then beyond the dreams of the most avaricious farmer.

It was not the farmer who had to be satisfied. It was the food profiteer, the cold storage expert, and the big-commission dealer, who saw millions in corners of all kinds of food, and the politicians consulted the interests of those rather than the interests of the nation.

Fixed prices for domestic consumption merely required a little foresight in establishing a government clearing house for the needs of the nation. With our knowledge of the wants of our population in the actual food necessities there would have been no more trouble in feeding the nation at fixed prices than in operating the army commissariat, and not half as much as handling a nation on strike.

The problem of production would have been simple for the foreign market, for food would have offered all the stimulus at the export prices prevailing that would have been necessary to induce the most active production on the part of the nation.

Our low cost of living would have stimulated our manufacturing interests to an extraordinary extent, and when the war closed we would have been in splendid shape to face any possible condition of domestic trade and labor or of export requirements.

Nobody would listen to this in the last three years. The usual humbug about not understanding intricate situations was handed out by one controller after another, and affairs were allowed to drift from bad to worse.

Can any remedy be applied now? The only remedy is production—production to the limit. Of food first, and of everything else afterwards, and as soon as possible.

There are great stores of food in the country. They should be commanded by the government, the costs averaged over the period for which they have been held, and there are great stores that have been held, we believe, an average of two years. The domestic needs should be supplied at reasonable rates, so that wages can be placed on an equally reasonable basis and the surplus can be exported to countries that want our surplus at prevailing market rates. These overseas rates would probably balance any price concessions made to domestic consumers, sufficiently so at any rate to make this scheme perfectly feasible to any group of business men who set about putting it into operation.

The control of food prices would settle the strikes immediately. It is not money the men want, but values. If they got the same values for three dollars a day they do not want four.

The wages question being settled by the price reductions in food the demand for shorter hours could easily be settled in turn. The manufacturer does not object to high wages or shorter hours. He objects to conditions that render it impossible for him to compete in the world's markets. Give the worker food at such a price that wages may be paid and hours shortened without injury to the manufacturers' interests as a competitor in the world's markets, and he has no objection to pay what the factory they could do differently.

The unions must see as their own intelligent leaders do, that the interests of employer and employee are identical. If the manufacturer can get no orders he can employ no labor. So he locks up his factory. And if the workers' owned the factory they could do differently.

This is all plain and simple enough, but to stir the minds of those in authority is anything but simple. There has been the chief difficulty all along.

For the rest, and whatever happens, what is most necessary is production. Everybody should be producing all he can. Food should be produced in every vacant lot and back garden even more industriously than last year. If the government runs according to form it is practically certain that it will not adopt the plan we have outlined, in which case the situation will be worse, instead of better. The more food is produced the less distress there will be during the coming winter. If the government adopted the plan proposed we would be able to enter immediately on an era of great industrial activity, producing at attractive prices commodities required all over the world, and under conditions of wages and operation that would give us the most contented and intelligent labor in existence.

TRANS-CANADA LIMITED MAKES INITIAL RUN

New C. P. R. Transcontinental Leaves on First Journey to Coast—Fastest of All.

Montreal, June 1.—The new Canadian Pacific train Trans-Canada Limited left Montreal today completely full on the first 300-mile run to Vancouver. The equipment of this luxury train has an estimated value of $6,000,000 on rolling stock received for daily schedule westbound and eastbound, including 59 sleeping cars, 12 dining cars, 12 observation cars, 5 compartments, 12 baggage cars and 24 locomotives. The run from Montreal to Vancouver will be made in 92 hours—20 minutes, and from Vancouver to Montreal in 92 hours—15 minutes. Section from Toronto, connecting at Sudbury, makes the run from Toronto to Vancouver in 90 hours—40 minutes, and from Vancouver to Toronto in 88 hours. This is the fastest transcontinental run in the American continent, and the first passenger list included many from New York, Philadelphia and American points.

PEOPLE OF KAZAN RISE AGAINST BOLSHEVIKI

Qmsk, June 1.—An uprising against the Bolsheviks began in the city of Kazan, on the Volga, north of Samara, on May 15, according to a Bolshevik report. The people besieged the residence of the Bolshevik commissioners demanding food, the removal of Bolshevik troops from Kazan and the liberation of hostages. Detachments of Hungarian troops finally dispersed the crowds.

An uprising at Nizhniy-Novgorod recently was suppressed with great cruelty.

Neil Forbids Barbara to Go to Mrs. Orton's Parties.

CHAPTER C.

Neil scarcely spoke all the way home. But I tried to talk to Mr. Prostick also I felt very little like conversing, and made me uncomfortable to think he had seen Neil drinking too much. I couldn't help wondering also what he must think of me for going to Mrs. Orton's. I realized perfectly that he knew I had received no invitation. That while his office had invited the others, even Neil, think she had invited him, it went without saying I laid my hand over his and asked:

"What is it dear? Are you ill?"

"No!" shortly.

"Can I help you, Neil? I wish you would tell me what is worrying you. I know something is." I added in response to a silent gesture.

"No—let me alone."

I went quietly out and closed the door. I told his aunt he still was suffering with a headache, and so would not join us at luncheon. The telephone rang twice or three times. I answered it. "Neil, I'm sorry, I'm afraid I'll have to speak English," I added, "but I would not disturb him, although he might be cross, and rather sulky." I kissed him softly, telling him how I loved him, and then I always should, no matter what happened. Then I told him how sorry I was that I ever had displeased him by going to his office, and by taking that letter.

"I was foolishly jealous of Mrs. Orton, Neil. I am not any longer and I want you to forgive me, and love me as you used to."

"I don't have it, do you hear?"

"Yes, Neil."

"See that you don't let it happen again. Those people aren't the kind I want my wife to associate with. Blanche is all right, but the others aren't your kind. He yawned prodigiously and I hurried to bed without replying. There was no use arguing with him in his present condition.

The next morning he woke up with a headache, but insisted upon getting up. I went to him and said, "I did not urge him to remain at home. He had acted anxious and disturbed for days. Perhaps his affairs needed his attention, and if I kept him at home, he might blame me. Aunt had an annoyed him with questions, until I talked to him with him, and he said stay long enough."

"Neil acts peevish. He must be ill. I am sure he is overworking," she remarked when I returned to the room. The cup of coffee she was drinking her was still warm. I felt like telling her it was time to go to bed, but I did not disturb him.

He looked so worried, so anxious that my heart went out to him, and I kissed him softly, telling him how I loved him, and then I always should, no matter what happened.

RATES FOR NOTICES

There was a popular belief that the rate of exchange between Canada and the United States would settle to some extent upon the conclusion of the war, but since it is still maintained at an abnormally high figure attention has been drawn to the volume of imports from the United States as being a considerable factor in maintaining the high exchange balance. Therefore the "made in Canada" slogan has taken on a new feature of significance. With the rate of exchange at par, and Canadian money passing current, dollar for dollar, with American money, the "made in Canada" appears patriotic. Now, however, its consideration has become a matter of economics.

Dunlop All Canadian

The manufacturers of automobile tires are now advertising their "made in Canada" claims more insistently than, and during the past five years the Dunlop Rubber Company in particular, making the point that it is a Canadian organization thru and thru, both the wages of its employees and the dividends of its shareholders going to Canadians or British subjects. The Dunlop Rubber Company was originally organized from the ground up in Canada, and it has maintained its separate identity, while co-operating with the English Dunlop Company in the department's efficiency of operation and scientific research for the perfecting of processes of production.

A National Product

The rubber industry has no home. Every nation has its own large organizations that manufacture rubber products for their national markets. Conditions are impossible for the manufacture of finished rubber products at, or near, the source of supply for the raw material. The various grades of gum rubber are native in tropical regions only, and Canada is therefore on equal footing as regards raw materials, with every other country in the world. The rubber industry has reached a high stage of development. A foreign-made tire does not contain any different materials from the home-made article, nor has any country a monopoly of skill in making tires. This is the argument advanced by every Canadian manufacturer of automobile tires.

Favoring the Consumer

The Dunlop Tire and Rubber Goods Company today announces substantial reductions in its prices for automobile tires. The improvement in conditions for ocean traffic and the release of vessels for freight-carrying, is mainly responsible for this readjustment. The reductions apply also to the Dunlop "cord" tire, which after most exhaustive experimentation, was announced to the public several months ago.

The new Dunlop price lists on automobile tires and tubes is an encouraging intimation from a large manufacturer that when the cost of production is lowered in any department, a reduction will follow to the consumer.

WINNIPEG STRIKE COST TWO MILLION

To undermine and destroy the labor organizations whose policy is to regard their obligations as sacred and inviolate. It has chosen the "One Big Union" idea as a popular platform along which to lead the trade unionist, urging him to discard his honorable obligations and join the big show.

"In March last at Calgary the play was written, the "Winnipeg strike" is its first rehearsal with the main performance promised for a later date. The Winnipeg rehearsal has cost approximately $100,000. The strike has been well organized and has been contributed to the outcome, because they believe the general sympathetic strike is wrong, vicious and demoralizing. Employers should rather seek to deal justly and at this period liberally with their workmen and use the bona fide labor unions in their legitimate efforts to obtain a reasonable competence for all who are willing to labor."

Employers must not mistake the outcome of the general sympathetic strike as a defeat to organized labor. On the contrary, labor will emerge from the conflict strengthened with the wisdom gained from its experience. Numerous strong labor organizations have been formed and are contributing greatly to the outcome, because they believe the general sympathetic strike is wrong, vicious and demoralizing.

Count Von Brockdorff—Bantau head of the German delegation, continues to assert that the allies cannot be accepted as originally framed, declaring them to be "more than the German people can bear."

Whether the allies are to make any concessions remains to be seen.

German troops in Lettland and Lithuania are reported to have been ordered to withdraw to a position in the Baltic provinces marked out for them by the allied high command.

British and Russian Bolshevik warships again have come into battle in the Gulf of Finland. Altho the Bolsheviks had the big battleship Petropavlovsk, weighing 23,380 tons, in their battle line, they were forced eventually to flee to Kronstadt.

Meanwhile commissions of the allies are going thru the German counter-proposals to the German treaty, and it is expected that the reply of the allies and associated powers to them will be delivered during the present week. Sunday saw the council of four nations awaiting the report of the commission.

The threatened London police strike has been postponed until after peace is signed.

ment of action taken was made.

Tonight the city was quiet.

At a conference of officials on the railways having headquarters in Winnipeg, it was decided to issue a notice to all employees on strike, to the effect that unless they returned to work, not later than 10 o'clock Monday, June 1, they will be considered as having left the service and their places will be filled. These include the shops, round-houses, stores and freight sheds and clerks. Railway mail clerks today officially called off the sympathetic strike.

These men were never really on strike, altho they were employed by the railway, and removed the flag, and removed the arm officer who attempted to interfere.

Premier T. C. Norris also removed the flag, but refused to remove it, saying:

"This is the first time I have ever seen the Canadian flag insulted."

CITY COUNCIL ADJOURNED.

At the city hall the council was considering the advisability of resuming street car service when the crowd appeared. The tumult was so great that the council adjourned, after Mayor Chas. F. Gray had persuaded the men to assemble in a nearby park, where he addressed them. He reviewed the events of the strike, and declared the city would maintain order at all costs. His remarks were both cheered and jeered.

Premier Norris, addressing the strikers at the parliamentary chamber, reiterated that the sympathetic strike must be called off before provincial authorities would be compelled to take action to end the strike.

The strike was never really on strike, altho it was addressed to the Civic government, and removed the flag, and removed the arm officer who attempted to interfere.

While resolutions presented to the Moose Jaw Labor Council were withdrawn. One hundred of the striking Winnipeg firemen have returned to work, and 400 of the employees of the city have asked for reinstatement. The local staff of the firemen, not all lost strength, the general strike, and the general strike of the unionized members of that union to return to work before tomorrow night or the international union will send men here to fill their places.

With arbitration conferences actually under way in the basic industrial dispute of the general strike—the walk-out of the metal trades—and hundreds of employees returning to work, gradual settlement of the civic and industrial tie-up which has been almost complete since May 15, was beginning today, according to government officials.

Edmonton despatches indicated resumption of public service functions is now complete there altho strike headquarters asserted workers in 32 trades were still out.

The general strike, now being taken at Vancouver and Victoria, B.C., will be completed and announced within a few days.

Reports from the mining districts in Ontario and British Columbia said that the labor situation at Cobalt and Fenelon as acute, the not directly related to the Winnipeg strike situation as are the general strikes under way or under discussion at other points.

Favors Walkout.

Medicine Hat Alta. May 31—Union men of Medicine Hat voted, it was said today, to walk out on a general strike Monday if the Winnipeg strike is not settled. Civic employees voted against the strike.

Lethbridge Voted.

Port Williams, Alta. May 31—Employees of various unions in this city now voting on whether or not they shall go on strike in sympathy with Winnipeg strikers. Indications point to a strike being called Monday evening or Tuesday morning.

Fort William Doubtful.

Port Williams, Alta. May 31—The probability of a general strike in this city seems more remote tonight. Strike votes taken among the unions individually have shown considerable opposition, the postoffice employees voting against a strike by a large majority.

At the same time the leaders who are working for the universal strike in sympathy with Winnipeg, have on record to do so, and every union affiliated with the Trades and Labor Council had ballots distributed among its members which were all supposed to be in the hands of the committee by 2:30 today, and the secretary of the strike committee.

DRAMATIC FINALE AT L.O.D.E. MEETING

Miss Constance Boulton Resigns, Alleging Disloyalty By a Few Members.

IMPLORED TO STAY

Motion is Carried Asking Miss Boulton to Reconsider Her Decision.

Montreal, June 1.—There was a dramatic finale at the L.O.D.E. convention at the Ritz-Carlton Saturday afternoon, when Miss Constance H. Boulton, for seven years regent of the Chamberlain Chapter of Toronto, and a member of the order since its foundation, tendered her resignation, alleging unprincipled and disloyal actions by a few members, and left the meeting.

At the morning session, Lady Pope told the members how feeling among the working people against the more fortunately placed might be avoided by smiling at workmen, saying "It is a hot day, or a cold day," to those who were driving and dressed and belonged to a ball with the limousine lights turned off.

The resignation of Miss Boulton came as a surprise. She had been closely identified with the work of the order during the past year, being national organizer-secretary, and school lecturer in Ontario for the joint committee of the L.O.D.E. and Navy League.

Reading of Resignation.

Miss Boulton's resignation read as follows:

"I am president, I beg to tender my resignation from the national executive and from the whole order, for the following reasons: Because of the unprincipled and disloyal action of a few members who have circulated garbled and false statements calculated to discredit the order, and because of the highest character who have been elected to do the affairs of the order, by threatening to take out an injunction against the order, based upon a debatable technically, before even the question at issue had come before the annual meeting, and which undoubtedly intimidated and influenced the subsequent vote."

"In view of the fact that these actions are absolutely disloyal, and against the interests of the order, and that in view of these facts, the annual meeting has sustained these actions by electing the authors of these false and malicious statements, as counsellors and officers in the national executive, I refuse to act with them on the national executive, to which I have the honor of being elected, and therefore, sever absolutely my connection with the order.

(Signed)

"Constance Ruynder Boulton,"

Absolute Silence.

There was absolute silence for a few moments as Miss Boulton left the room. Col. Gordon proposed that the resignation of Miss Boulton be accepted with regret. To this there was an indignant protest, and an appeal was made to the chairman, Mrs. A. E. Goorderham, that something be done to remove the difficulty, to which Miss Boulton referred. "I am sorry Miss Boulton felt she had to do it, but she is absolutely fearless and has the courage of her convictions, and while I regret she felt it necessary to take this step, we know she has done what she believed was right to do." A motion was put to the meeting to consider her decision and this was carried, with about five dissenting, those resolving to accept the resignation with regret. Miss O'Brien, Toronto, who attended the meeting in delegation, said: "I did this because I think I see it in the best interests of the order. I have spent a very trying morning and have done my best to make Miss Boulton reconsider her resignation. I regret, and I think the thanks of the order should be tendered her for the work she has done."

MISS BOUTON'S STATEMENT.

Speaking subsequently, on her resignation from the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, Miss Constance Boulton, in part, said:

"I can keep the order, but I must be out of the order if I remain in the public. There is always a grain of truth in every story, and in this instance that of truth lies against the integrity of the leaders of the order, but perhaps against their business acumen. From the experience among the Daughters of the Empire, we never had reason to believe that anything had been done intentionally that would be detrimental to it, and the fact that among the 45,000 women in the order, not one had given up their services day and night to assist the empire (some having even laid down their lives) their stress of that work), that is but a sad workers establishes beyond doubt that service and public spiritedness are the underlying principles of it all."

Miss Boulton spoke of the splendid work done by the retiring president, Mrs. A. E. Goorderham, who, she said, had given up all social engagements during the term of office, and had herself absolutely at the disposal of the order, for which she labored unceasingly.

said Miss Boulton, "I feel very strongly with regard to this matter, and my signature was a protest to the action of certain ladies."

"Lady Kingsmill spoke of having paid $50 for a copy of minutes. It should have been explained that this was the actual cost of transcribing these minutes."

POLICE IN LONDON POSTPONE STRIKE

Will Wait Till Peace is Signed on Lloyd George's Return From Paris.

London, June 1.—London's threatened police strike, for which the members of the force voted by a big majority, has been called off for the present. At the demonstration in Hyde Park, which had been arranged for today by the police, it was announced that the executive committee of their organization had decided to postpone the strike until after peace was signed, or at least until the return of Premier Lloyd George from France.

The announcement also came at the Hyde Park meeting that the official tally of the policemen on the question of strike was 44,539 in favor of and 224 against a walk out.

Secretary Hayes of the Police Union, in giving the news, explained that the strike committee was not anxious to call a walk out if it could have the men's grievances redressed in any other way.

He added that he desired to avoid the inconvenience of a strike and to give Premier Lloyd George an opportunity of dealing with the matter personally.

Will Await Premier's Return.

The premier himself who gave us the understanding that the government would recognize the demands of the police, said Hayes. "There no fault of ours we have not been able to send a delegation to Paris, and therefore will wait the premier's return to the office." He turned out in the hot sunshine to witness the proceedings. The procession, which came from various assembling places, went to Hyde Park, where, at 4:30 o'clock, and the men ranged themselves round ten platforms from which speeches were made.

The proceedings lost much interest as soon as the committee's decision on the strike was learned.

It is estimated that 20,000 policemen, all of them in plain clothes, but accompanied by comrades in uniform, marched to Hyde Park, where over 100,000 persons had gathered to take part in the demonstration. Many of the speeches delivered from the various stands were of a threatening character, warning the ministers, the "Gibraltar Bonus" Law, May Day and Long, that the day at last was approaching when they would be swept from office. Some of the speakers referred ironically to the government's disappointment at finding that regiments of guards with machine guns and tanks prepared to deal with the strike would not be wanted.

"We shall strike when it suits ourselves" said Secretary Hayes in one part of his address. "The authorities

THE HAPPY EXODUS—FAREWELL TO ENGLAND.

Belgians leave England for home after exile of four years and a half. Each day sees hundreds and thousands depart laden with bundles and baskets, these refugees journey across the channel to what the Germans have left their homes. The foregoing photograph shows part of the 1300 who set sail for home on board the steamer Guildford Castle from Tilbury. One refugee is seen shaking hands with a British officer who is seeing them off.

SMALLER POWERS INFORMED OF TERMS OF AUSTRIAN TREATY

Object to Questions of Rights of Minorities on Race, Language and Religion as Infringe-

Paris, June 1.—The secret plenary session of the peace conference yesterday afternoon decided to present the peace treaty to the Austrians at noon Monday. The small powers made reservations on the financial and reparations clauses.

The session was largely attended. It developed a spirited discussion.

Premier Bratianu of Rumania, M. Trumbich of Serbia, Premier Venizelos of Greece, and the Czech-Slovak delegation presented reservations on the financial and reparations terms.

M. Clemenceau assured them that this would be considered by the council of four before the treaty was presented, and an agreement then reached to proceed with the presentation of the terms.

It was agreed that the day at last was approaching when they would be swept from office. Some of the speakers referred ironically to the government's disappointment at finding that regiments of guards with machine guns and tanks prepared to deal with the strike would not be wanted.

CHANGED MARKET IN TOBACCO TRADE

European Demands Will Probably Take All Surplus Stock of U. S.

The Kentucky tobacco markets have opened for the pre-war season, but have never before in the history of the industry were there more different or more disturbed conditions prevailing.

In the first place the war has caused generally high prices throughout the producing districts, and in some instances it had upwardly largely increased the cost of production.

Special instance of this was that the "air-dried" type of tobacco brown in color, Hovey, Overholt, Gerington, Green, the Green river section, etc., under the influence of the war, sold at a higher price than the "dark" dried type produced.

Especially it was learned that the spy chief had extended his operations to the United States and other countries on the western coast of Europe, and that the American had succeeded in evading detection in Holland and had steamed into that country for the United States on board the steamer of the Holland-America Line.

While government agents in the United States will not consider the matter, it is understood that the German spy system in America in the early part of 1915, to arbitrary extent.

However, "Richards" remained in America or when and how he returned to Germany is a mystery to the allied secret service men in the States, who charged with the task of keeping him in their trail. That he had safely returned to Berlin, however, became known in the spring of 1916, when he was sent to the United States to be a spy.

It was learned that agents sent to America at about the time hostilities began in Europe were receiving money from German agents in many countries, and offices of German-owned manufacturing firms in the United States, Mexico and other countries in Central and South America.

When the United States declared war on Germany the German spy and bomb plotters were there openly organized.

Before that the Baroness Maria von Kretschmar had arrived in this country on March 21, 1915, under the name of Mme. Marks or De Victoria.

The information which the British secret service received stated that the baroness, at one time a student of Heidelberg, and later at a university at Zurich, Switzerland, was a drug addict.

Upon the woman's arrival in America she took up residence at the Knickerbocker Hotel. Later she moved to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and then to the Netherlands Hotel where she was known as Anna Marie de Victoria.

At the time Jeremiah A. O'Leary, John T. Ryan, now a fugitive from justice, and other leaders of the Irish movement in America were at the height of their anti-British propaganda work.

The secret agents of the allies soon learned that Anna Vassilieva as she was then generally known, was receiving money lavishly in hotels about the city, and that she frequently was in conference with leaders of the Irish freedom movement in New York.

Recently indictments have been returned by the federal grand jury against ten leaders, charging them with treason in connection with German spy and bomb plots.

The identity of "Frank Richards" is admitted in the indictments to be a mystery to the United States government officials.

"FRANK RICHARDS" STILL A MYSTERY

Identity of Leader of Kaiser's Naval Spies Unknown in America.

BARONESS IN THE U. S.

Woman and Irish Leaders
Conspired in New York
Against Allies.

Who is "Frank Richards," the mysterious American revealed by the military secret service of France, Great Britain and the United States to have been the driving force of the Kaiser's naval spy system during the war, with headquarters in Berlin?

It is known that for upwards of five years he was in charge of all the German spy work laid down for operation on the western hemisphere. From the start of the war in the summer of 1914, he was in the German foreign office, in Berlin.

Warning of the fact was sent to the German government in Berlin by the German spy system, who were granted an increase of $2 per week, which was ultimately recommended to council on Monday, March 31, 1919, and defeated.

After a lapse of a short time the order was given to the members of the board of control to participate in a general sympathetic strike, and thereby leave the community the prey and victim of the ever-present hazard, namely—FIRE—on to depend upon the services of amateur fire departments, who in others prove an absolute failure, likewise increase the risk to the entire community. But if we are forced to strike every precaution will be taken to safeguard the interests of the citizens. Business districts, competent fire fighters will be detailed through the press and otherwise, that the fire fighters received two salary increases last year, a statement that is positively incorrect, who were discriminated against and should be subject to the same treatment accorded other servants of the civic service, we, therefore, proceeded to adjust the difference, and eliminate the discrimination in which we were unsuccessful in obtaining the $2 per week war bonus.

While it must be admitted by the most conservative that since the beginning of the war, the cost of household essentials and domestic commodities have attained an alarmingly high altitude, and that decreased to an almost unbelievable portion of its pre-war value, and all things taken into consideration, will be admitted by the most conservative that the war has caused generally high prices throughout the producing districts, and in some instances it had upwardly largely increased the cost of

WALL STREET VIEWS

OIL STOCKS OFTEN YIELD BIG PROFITS

Caution in Buying is, However, Strongly Urged on Prospective Investors.

Henry Clews, in his weekly market letter, says: "The monetary outlook is fairly satisfactory. Our government is in large treasury notes quite free, and the banks are taking them without difficulty, having somewhat lessened their holdings of government bonds. In the early part of June, the second instalment on the Liberty Loan will become due. Foreign governments are likely to seek credits in larger sums, and the necessity of financing our export trade on a large scale is also becoming more pressing. In proof of which is the growing sentiment favoring the creation of a huge banking organization whose purpose would be to obtain capital for capital is also becoming more numerous, and within a few weeks the demand for crop moving will assure them of greater activity in business, and the effect of high values which absorb banking funds. The chances, therefore, favor firm money for several months to come."

MARKET HOLIDAY.

The Canadian stock market, as well as the stock and cotton exchange in New York, were closed on Saturday. While the Chicago grain market was open, there was a holiday at the Chicago stockyards.

EROSION INDICATES GOLD IS PLENTIFUL

Vermilion River's Sands Carry Gold From West Shining Tree Deposits.

One evidence of the presence of gold in unusual quantities at West Shining Tree is the Vermilion river. This and the Montreal are the only rivers in Northern Ontario whose sands carry gold. The miners have found a rich alluvial sand at Vermilion must have come from West Shining Tree. The existence of large deposits of gold in the Vermilion is well known the Dr. Coleman thinks they are not payable. But anyone who goes back to the time of his report will find that there was no official record in the whole of Canada or believed that there would ever be any lode mines of gold in Ontario.

The conditions are not favorable for rich placers because of the great size of the river. The ore body is very large and some of the ore is very rich. The even distribution of fine-grained pyrite in unusual quantities may be a favorable feature.

Matachewan is, in fact, the most highly mineralized camp in northern Ontario. Like West Shining Tree, it is on the Montreal, but it has no pyrite and no pyrrhotite, account for its presence of the gold. This differentiates the camp from Shining Tree and Porcupine and others into which the Vermilion flows. But it touches the latter only at one or two minor points.

The main ore body at the Ottis is 100 feet wide, and 34 miles long, and extends for 15 miles, and the whole 100 feet gives more than average values. The camp will probably have several big mines. There has been a great amount of Barite and fluorite occur in the district. There are also indications of chalcocite, platinum and microscopic diamonds. The spindrift rests on the Ottis, have aroused a great deal of interest among mining men.

S. R. Clarke.

NEW GOLD CAMPS HOLDING ATTENTION

Mining Men Keenly Interested in West Shining Tree and Matachewan.

Shining Tree and Matachewan are two gold camps now absorbing practically all the attention of mining men in Ontario. Neither camp has yet been developed to the stage where positive assertions can be made, but most mining men aver that none of the other northern gold camps had as promising an outlook in their earlier stages.

In the most advanced property in Shining Tree is Wapakapi, and here an 80-foot body of ore is absolute at the 80-foot level. Depth possibilities are, of course, problematical, as is the case in all mines, but if the veins carry down, as the best mining talent believe, then Wapakapi will be one of the real big gold mines of Ontario.

West Shining Tree is equally promising and the fact, the area is more spectacular than on the Wapakapi. On the Herrick development is producing most satisfactory results, and the Buckingham is showing up equally satisfactory.

In other portions of the camp the Hudd and Gosselin are properties which are holding attention from big capital and important announcements in connection with them may be made any day.

Shining Tree may be said to have definitely passed the prospective stage, and to be fast approaching the productive era. Mills for three properties are already under discussion by the respective directors.

OIL STOCKS OFTEN YIELD BIG PROFITS

Caution in Buying is, However, Strongly Urged on Prospective Investors.

Under the caption, "Advice to Investors," Glenn Craig Tobias, Petroleum Securities Underwriter, recently issued a circular for distribution which contains some interesting lights on oil. These are among the "Dont's": Don't buy oil stock in companies with low capitalization; The very nature of oil operations is such that at least several million dollars is required to operate successfully.

Don't buy stock in any American oil company unless the company has been passed by the United States capital issues committee. Or, in the absence of such license, inspect the Dun and Bradstreet reports.

Don't buy stock in a company whose produce and gambling on whether it will or will not produce is where you lose your money.

Don't buy stock in an oil company entire assets consist of leases. The value of a lease lies in the oil it will unless you can secure some definite assurances as to the honesty of the management. Stock in companies may be bought in honest management as well as real tangible assets.

Don't invest in a company that is wholly a producing organization. The refining end of the oil business is the manufacturing end, and a company to be truly successful and dependable should be a refining company, producing oil as an incident to its main business.

Don't buy stock because it is cheap. There is no such thing as a cheap stock. Ninety-five per cent of the face stocks sold is what the average investor buys.

Don't be misled by flashy certificates and gusher talk. A stock certificate is nothing more or less than a certificate of interest, and the "estimated" value of a company's leases or other holdings is not always the actual value.

Don't take too seriously the 10,000 and 20,000 barrel wells. There is only one 10,000 barrel well in every 10,000 wells drilled, and the average oil well produces only 100 barrels daily. As a general proposition, if the oil company has large assets of tangible property, management and dependable sources of income, with ample capitalization, operating in a proven field, it may generally be considered a good investment.

Oil is Essential. We have found it necessary to spend thousands of dollars for advertising to interest the public in oil securities, especially in the oil industry because of fake propositions that have been sold to the public in recent months. However, it is unjust and unwise to put the burden of the promoters' sins on the petroleum industry. Oil is recognized by the governments of the world as one of the three essentials of civilization. Canada has been instrumental in the oil industry, has appealed to Congress for a $50,000 appropriation looking towards the conservation of petroleum and by-products. England has been quietly buying up oil-producing territory for years.

Now, the fact is no one should rightly advise the public against buying oil securities. It is not only unwise, but unpatriotic. If the public had not bought off securities in 1910, 1911, 1912 and 1913, there would not be so much increased oil production, what would the allies have done? Uninformed critics to the contrary notwithstanding, no man would be headless if he advised us to buy oil securities.

Another evidence of the growing interest in the new Shining Tree camp is the announcement that the Anzac Mine Company of Porcupine have secured five properties in that rich gold district, and for a time will concentrate most of their attention on development of the new holdings, as quicker and more satisfactory results are anticipated in the Shining Tree field.
