Cause of strike—Dispute over hours and alleged attempts of Cataract Power Company, which controls the railways, to break up the union. Three weeks ago the report of the arbitrators was presented, giving the men an increase in wages and a more satisfactory schedule. The company asked for three weeks to arrange the schedule, and failed to put it into effect when the time expired. the time expired.

Elamilton, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The

Hamilton street railway employes went out on strike this morning. The employes of the Hamilton and Dundas another Cataract Power Company line, went out in sympathy.

The radial and the Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville Railways, the other two Cataract power lines, are not affected yet. The latter is not mixed up in the fight at all, but efforts will probably be made to get the Radial men to go out.

The radial was operated to-day, but not a wheel turned on either the street railway or the Hamilton and Dundas lines. This company made no effort to operate either the street railway or the H. & D. line, but it is claimed that it will make an attempt to operate both lines Monday.

The day passed off quietly, and there was no disturbance of any kind. There are about 160 men involved.

The trouble is caused by a dispute over hours and the alleged efforts of the company to break up the union. The matter has been hanging fire since August, when the agreement under which the men worked expired. The men were unable to negotiate a new agreement and prepared to sat 185 Seaton-street on Saturday night then ye had 185 Seaton-street on Saturday night a new agreement and prepared to strike. New York, Nov. 4.- The two candidates for governor of New York, Chas. E. Hughes and W. R. Hearst, rested to-day after their strenuous campaigning last week. Both are scheduled for a number of speeches to-morrow in Manhattan.

The usual "Sunday before election" gathering under the auspices of Tammany was held in Harlem. The speakers included Congressman W. Bourke Cockran and Francis Burton Harrison. Mr. Cockran said that he believed the political movement headed by Mr. Hearst to be "inspired by God and therefore irresistible."

A messenger sent to the home of Mr. Hears, with the request that he address the meeting returned with the reply that the candidate would not under any circumstances address a Sunday meeting.

Guy Fawkes' Celebration.

The Orangemen of the city held accelebration to-day in memory of the 301st anniversary of discovery of the gunpowder plot. They marched 300 strong to Erskine Church, where Rev. S. B. Russell preached a special sermon. William Clark, district master, was in charge, and Thomas Bradley, district marshal, acted as marshal.

St. Andrew's Society will hold its annual entertainment on Nov. 30, but instead of the usual big affair in the drill hall, they will have a concert and ball in their club quarters.

with my remedy I guarantee to cure constipation.

I also guarantee to prevent it; others do not.

My preparation which is in pill form gives a tone and regularity to the bowels that quickly rids the system of effete matter, accumulations of bile and other injurious results of costiveness.

I call my pills Dr. Hamilton's.
I am sure they are safe because composed of such health-giving vegetable extracts as Mandrake, Butternut, Hyoscamus and Dandelion.

My pills are not harsh or drastic. They cause no pain, no distress; they are prescribed by physicians because of their mildness and certainly to cure. For women and children I know of no better medicine for keeping the system healthy. For men they are prescribed by physicians because of their mildness and certainly to cure. For women and children I know of no better medicine for keeping the system healthy. For men they are perfect.

I have proved their merit in biliousness, constipation and headache, and can strongly recommend them in these troubles.

My personal guarantee stands between the first the first the first the populated area of the United States had outlawed the liquor tasfic. Twenty million boys and girls studied temperance text books. Teach us to bear the yoke in youth With steadfastness and careful truth. That in our time Thy grace may give The Truth whereby the nations live.

Teach us to look in all our ends On Thee for judge and not our friends, That we with Thee may walk uncowed By fear or favor of the crowd.

Teach us delight in simple things, And mirth that has no bitter springs, Forgiveness free of evil done And love of all men 'neath the sun.

Land of our birth, our faith, our pride, For whose dear sake our fathers died; O Motherland, we pledge to thee Head, heart and hand thru the years to be! —Rudyard Kipling.

The simple Life—and the Happlest.

Judge Gary of Chicago died last week at the age of 85. He had held office as judge since 1863, and was in harness to the day of his death. That morning he had made the usual morning trip to the little dairy around the corner for the day's supply of milk—the trip that he had made every morning for thirty years. Eds domestic life was of the simplest. Thirteen years ago he tired of wrestling with the servant girl problem, and decided to "go it alone." For thirteen years, with the exception of the aid of a work woman twice a week Judge Gary and wife did the housework alone. They divided the work like boys doing chores.

Judge Gary always came to the front windows in his nightshirt and raised the curtains at exactly 5 o'clock every morning. A workman who lives The Simple Life_and the Happiest.

Then he dressed, a process requiring about eight minutes. Then, with the aid of his wife—the courageous aged woman who walked in the streets with her husband after the anarchists had marked him for death because of his sentence of the Haymarcause of his sentence of the Haymarket bombthrowers—Judge Gary made the bed. He never would permit his wife to perform this task alone.

The judge took up his position on one side of the bed. Mrs- Gary stood on the opposite side. They took out the under sheet, shook it, spread it out, and then tucked it in. Then they took up the next piece of covering, and so on, until the work was completed.

Next, the judge went downstairs and made a fire in the range. If the her was cold he also attended to the furnace. Mrs. Gary started the catmeal to boiling and prepared the breakfast bacon. Just before breakfast was ready, the judge invariably went to a dairy for milk. Years ago he went to the house of an old woman several blocks away and purchased the milk. The old woman died several years ago, but the judge refused to desist from his practice. He simply changed his daily destination to a little dairy on Rush-street.

On his way back from the dairy he would stop at a bekeny and number of the dairy of the stop at a bekeny and number of the stop at a stop he would stop at a bakery and pur chase hot rolls for the morning meal.
When he arrived home the aged couple would sit down at a little table just big enough for two. The fact that they always had bacon for breakfast is simply another instance showing that their tastes were identical. There was no conflict of tastes or desires inside the walls of that old house in

After breakfast it was the custom of Judge Gary to read the newspapers aloud to his wife. When he departed for his courtroom Mrs. Gary did the work of sweeping and dusting. Not infrequently the judge prepared luncheon at noon. He would come home from court and find Mrs. Gary entertaining visitors in the parlor. He would sin away to the kitchen and would slip away to the kitchen and the callers would hear the rattling of stove lids and the noise that always announces the preparation of a meal, even by the best cooks.

"Am I keeping you from your lunch?" the visitor would ask.
"O, no," Mrs. Gary would reply. The judge has just come home and is down in the kitchen pottering about. He'll get himself something, so don't be disturbed."

Meanwhile the judge would be mak-Ing mush after an exacting formula. Usually he brought home with him a bag of bananas purchased from a fruit stand. Pelitical Complexion of U. S.

Sound and honest men, who are entitled to respect and who wish to do the best thing possible for their country, are about to strengthen the enemies and weaken the friends of popular government all over the world by voting for Mr. Hearst, who is just the kind of a demagog that I have described.

Springfield, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The fire in the Springfield coat mines, which was discovered in one of the deeps a few days ago, has turned out to be more serious than was expected. The fire area in No. 3 mine is so great and so far advanced that the management has decided that 4: can only be completely isolated and the rest of the mine rendered safe by sealing up the whole of the 2500 foot level, and all the working plances on the 3200 foot level.

The fire area in No. 3 mine is so and waiting for Tuest prognosticators have stopped and many wrongdoers who made their final claims covering the whole of the 2500 foot level.

The neulage plant, ralls, tools and everything in this part of the mine have had to be abandoned. It means also the loss of a very large body of coal.

The company will replace all lost tools, and announce their intention within a few days, of placing every man at work in other sections of the mine. It will take about two weeks to seal up the fire sections.

Closing down of the section on the 2,600 and the 3,200 foot levels means that 170 men are out of work temporarily, but it will only be a comparatively short time till all hands are again at work.

GOVERNMENT'S WARNING

Unusual Action Taken in B.C.-Local Party Interested Defends Company's Bona Fides.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 4 .- (Special.) -The British Columbia government is taking active measures to protect the public from wild-catting, and similar dealings in provincial mining properties, in so far as fair warnings may protect.

During the past few weeks many enquiries have been received at the departments of finance and mines in respect to the status of the British Columbia Amai-gamated Coal Company, which is con-spicuously advertising its stock in the east-spicuously advertising its stock in the eastern press.

The government announces that no such company is known to the provincial authorities, nor been incorporated or registered to do business in British Columbia. The company is represented by Owen J. B.
Yearsley, 61 Confederation Lite Building, Toronto. Its advertisements, signed by Yearsley, say it "controls 11,500 acres of coal land in the Nicola Valley, estimated to contain approximately 1,400,000,000 tons of coal," and, in the advertisements this paragraph is specially displayed:

"Referring to security afforded small investors by that provision of the British Columbia law requiring all companies doing business within the province to open their,

mined."

This paragraph concludes: "This protects the small stockholders as everyone interested, whether owner of 10,000 shares or only 100 shares, has the right to know at all times just what the company is doing, and there is no possible way of the company adopting with any success a freeze-out game. The government being an interested party, much greater protection is afforded small stockholders than in any other country."

In connection with this paragraph, the government desires it known that the so-called British Columbia Amalgamated Coal Company is not being organized or registered under provincial law, and there exists no protection as under quoted paragraph for those who may see it to invest in its securities.

to the following in The Hamilton Her-

A Toronto citizen, William Nisbet Robinson, has essayed the role of Hampden. In behalf of the people of Canada he has appealed to the courts with a view of compelling the great Grand Trunk Railway Co. to obey the law. A Canadian statute of 1852 provides that the G. T. R. Company must carry third-class passengers for a penny a mile, and that it must run at least one train a day, with third-class carriages, thruout the length of its line. This provision has been ignored for a great many years by the company, and Citizen Robinson has appealed to have General Manager Hays summoned before the courts and "justice done in the premises."

There is no doubt about the existence of the law. Nor can it be by the railway company. But if the law were observed, we cannot see that any great advantage would be gained by the travelling public. be gained by the travelling public. To run each day a single train with one or two poorly equipped passenger cars, on which the fare would be two cents a mile instead of three, would not be regarded by travellers as much of a boon. The provision of the old statute has been ignored because there has been no public demand for the accommodation which it calls for.

that is not encouraged to disobey the law by just such writings in the newspaper press. The Herald says no one wants a measly third-class fare any in the Grand Trunk charter is the identical one that at the very same time (fifty odd years ago) was inserted in every charter in England. And for years the railroads obeyed the law and ran ONE parliamentary train a day But one enterprising manager happened along that thought it would be good business to put the penny a mile car on every train. All the roads followed suit and the whole of the fast and high class and yet third-class passenger travel of Great Britain had its origin in this very clause that the Grand Trunk is alleged to have ignored and which The Hamilton Herald pats them on the back for ignoring.

be made whereby they may be allowed to continue in the profession until they have met with the government requirements, the separate schools thruout the country will be seriously handicapped for competent teachers, and the separate schools' staffs thruout the country—for a time at least—somewhat disorganized.

There is no doubt that many of the present teachers will not submit to the humility of reviewing subjects which were brushed over and dropped 10 er 15 years ago. One of the Brothers, in a local school, in discussing the situation, declared positively that he would not do it! He had taught in Toronto for 15 years, and had learned to consider this city his home, and would dislike to leave; but he had no ties other than his school to hold him, and he would not hesitate about packing up and leaving the country for other fields, where he was confident his services would be appreciated.

He said it was ridiculous to compel a man to take up algebra, for instance, and other subjects in which he had been rusty for 15 years, merely for the sake of a certificate, when he never expected to make use of them again in professional life.

From an interview with Hon, Dr. Pyne, however, it would appear that those who feel less injured personally will be accorded plenty of time in which to make the necessary review.

The minister of education was not in a position to say what action the government would take in the matter, but gave assurance that the best interests of the schools would be well considered. gave assurance that the best interests of the schools would be well considered. "Everybody concerned may rely upon receiving fair treatment," he said. "No thing will be done suddenly in the matter, and the process of eliminating the unqualified teachers will be gradual. "The government realize that this is a most serious question, and careful thought will be brought to bear upon it. "I have no doubt whatever that this decision will be for the ultimate benefit of both teachers and pupils."

the first question presents no serious difficulty. Much light is afforded by the cases decided in England under the imperial act, 16 and 17 Vict., cap. 119, as well as by our own decisions. Whether the booth in question here

DR. A. W. CHASE'S O CATARRH CURE ... ZOC. was a house, office or other place within the meaning of section 197, is largely, if not entirely, a question of fact. The point to be determined is whether the nature of the structure, its position on the race grounds, the manner of its occupation by the defendants and the uses to which it was being put justify the conclusion that it was a house, office or other place, opened, kept or used for any of the purposes specified in the section.

"The English cases develop two lines of decision depending upon the facts in each case, They turn chiefly on the point whether there was or was not such a fixity or localization by the persons charged, of structure or ground as to constitute a 'place' within the 16 and 17 Vic., Cap. 119.

"The courts have declined to define a 'place' in general terms, but they recognize the principle that a 'place' must be in some sense fixed and ascertained, and the enquiry is whether the facts of the particular case show that the person charged was making such use of a charged was making such use of the principle. house, office, room or other place in which he was operating as to bring him

IN MONTREAL DIVISIONS

Gallery Faction Trying to Force Dr. Guerin Out of St. Ann's-Situation in St. Mary's.

Montreal, Nov. 4.-(Special.)-While Justice Garrow, in dissenting, holds that "the object of the legislature apparently was to reserve the race course of incorporated associations as places where betting might be made during the actual progress of a race meeting."

In Dissent.

Same box, nothing can be more unsatisfactory than the government interests in St. Ann's and St. Mary's divisions.

After a great deal of hesitation, it has been decided to hold the St. Ann's Liberal convention on Tuesday even the actual progress of a race meeting.

where betting might be made during the actual progress of a race meeting without the bettors being subject to the offence of which the defendants are found guilty?

Section 197 in effect is that any person who keeps a place where bets are taken is liable to a penalty for keeping a disorderly house. Section 204 says that no person shall keep any place for the receiving of bets, but this shall not apply to a race of the receiving of bets, a distinction between a place for the receiving of bets.

A unanimous finding appears, how-ever, to be hopeless. Altho ex-Ald. M. J. Walsh, M.L.A., and Ald. Gallery, the excommunicated member for the division, have manifested a good deal of activity, there are still signs that they are endeavoring to bluff Dr. Guering the progress of a meeting w party would allow the labor man to go in unopposed, but there are two other elements demanding a fight at all costs. These are the out and out supporters of the government, and the men who want an election for the ready cash which such an event throws in their way. The latter have, in fact, made some amusing representations to the government. They declare to the ministers that the division is in danger, that these are critical times, and that at least $25,000 should be spent just to re-establish Sir Wilfrid Laurier's thattened specifies. shattered prestige.

Heavy Business Crowded Into Saturday's Session-Stocks Passing Rapidly to New York

World Office,
Saturday Evening, Nov. 3.

Activity in Cobalt stocks showed no abatement to-day, heavy transactions being towded into the two hours of business. These displayed considerable buoyancy, especially under the quick profit-taking that is now in effect from floor traders. The demand for shares is as yet largely confined to Foster and Silver Queen, which have become exceedingly popular. Foster branched out into new ground, and it is now freely asserted that the stock is showing a scarcity that corroborates the opinion that the control of the security has gone off the market. Trading in Silver Queen is hampered because the transfer office has been let. Work will be commenced its reported from this account at New York. All offerings of Trethewey are being readily absorbed between $8 and $9, and this stock, and some nervousness is reported from this account at New York. All offerings of Trethewey are being readily absorbed between $8 and $9, and this stock will prove a free trader when the new scrip is available. Price of Silver Quotations for silver bullion continue to make a stendy and firm advance. The New York price is now within 1/2c of 71c. The London price has drawn up to 32 11-16d per oz., and Mexican dollars are quoted 1/3c higher.

Violet Changes Hands. Clarence J. McQuaig, who was the purchaser of Foster and Trethewey, has now made a deal for the Violet mine. The latter has already shipped $30,000 worth of ore, and development work is steadily progressing at the property. No statement can be had as to the amount paid for the Violet property.

Considerable difficulty is experienced in keeping prices at a parity between the Toronto Stock Exchange and the Standard Mining Exchange. Telephone communication affords a good means for arbitrage between the two boards, and ottentimes the spread runs between 5c and 10c on the active shares. The difference in quotations is not entirely satisfactory to the outside trader, but this cannot be avoided unless the whole business were carried out on the curb at one place.

Cobalt camp. They have practically absorbed the Nipissing property, and are now busily engaged in buying all the offerings of such good stocks as Foster, Silver Queen, Trethewey and any other substantial silver-producing companies in the Cobalt camp.

The suggestion embraces that of a Cobalt trust, in which Canadians will ultimately take stock at perhaps ten times the price at which they are now selling, the shares of the subsidiaries, which will go to form the big amalgamation. It is now generally believed that the control of Foster has already passed to the New Yorkers.

Millionaires From Nipissing, Boston, Nov. 4—(Special.)—There were but three participants in the 400,000-share option upon Nipissing Mines Company stock at $25 per share, given to the Guggenheim interests—Capt. De Lamr, who contributed 200,000 shares; E. P. Earle, the president of the company, who gave up 100,000 shares, and E. C. Converse, who contributed 100,000 shares.

William B. Thompson, who secured the original option from the directors for 600,000 shares, 240,000 shares at $4 per share, and 360,000 shares at $5.50, and took up his option for the entire amount, is today the largest stockholder in the company next to the Guggenheims, who are now in control.

passed out of the control of the Toronto syndicate is correct, lively transactions will be witnessed in the shares during the incoming week. Several weeks ago it was predicted that Foster shares would soil at $$ before the end of the year, but now bets are being offered that this price will be doubled before Christmas. Toronto speculators have already made a handsome clean-up on the stock, but those who having parted with their shares are very disgranted because they cannot recover them except at a big advance.

In Good Investment Position. The next dividend on Nipissing, it is claimed, will be at the rate of 40 per cent. or 10 per cent, for the quarter. Belleville, Nov. 3 .- At the regular meet-

Mckinnon Building, - TORONTO BUY AND SELL ALL COBALT MINING STOCKS

On his first visit to Cebalt, in August, 1905, our S. R. Clarke secured an interest in the well known Lawson mine. Since then he has made monthly visits to the camp and examined the producing and non-producing mines in all stages of development.

The matured result of all these investigations, aided by many years' patient study of ore deposits, is being re-embodied in a circular which will be forwarded to investors on request.

Cobalt has a few of the greatest mines in the world and as a necessary consequence a large number of propositions of no economic importance are truggling for recognition under the guise of its magic name.

Last Link Will Be Made as Soon as Engineer's Report is Received.

The opening of the Canadian Northern Ontario Railway, which was to have taken place to-day, has been again postponed pending the receipt of the inspection report from George A. Mountain, engineer to the railway commissioners. Mr. Mountain returned to the city from the inspection trip on Saturday night and is to make his report to-day. In this case the line will be opened to-morrow, the first train from Parry Sound arriving some time during the afternoon. As soon as Mr. Mountain's report is received the switch to connect the James Bay line to the old Belt Line of the Grand Trunk will be laid. The laying of this switch will take about an hour and a half, being the last link to connect To-ronto to Parry Sound.

The company expect to have their tracks to the foot of Cherry-street in less than a month. The freight shed at Cherry-street will also be completed about that time.

G.T.R. Grading.

The Grand Trunk Rallway are engaged in reducing the grade of the Toronto to North Bay section of their line from 55 feet per mile to 30 feet. The Work will be completed before the winter sets in, which will result in a minimizing of the cest of operation during the winter months and a faster train service.

The Grand Trunk have almost completed the task of changing their semiphores from one side of the track to the other, occasioned by the new rule adopted some time ago, whereby the operation of trains is now done on the left track instead of the right.

COMMENCES TUESDAY EVE. Formal Opening of the Great Hor-

Final arrangements for the opening of the Ontario Horticultural exhibition will be made at a meeting in Marsey Hall to-night. The exhibition will be formally opened Tuesday evening by Premier Whitney. The exhibits this year are far greater in number and interest than at the two previous shows and the Black Like Band is a strong attraction. The band will play two programs each day. The exhibition is a big undertaking, but the indications are that it will be liberally patrenized. The fact that the railways are giving a single fare rate proves a great inducement to the people of the province to come to a show which is interesting and beautiful.
