INMATE OF ASYLUM

Free To Come and Go As He Liked

KILLS WIFE AND SELF

Made Threats, But Was Considered Very Gentle.

SUPT. CLARK of the asylum: "Of course the man was allowed to visit his home at any time. He was a very gentle old man, and showed very little anxiety all the time he was here. It may be true that the asylum authorities were notified that he had made threats, but nobody dreamed of his doing anything like that."

Asylum Authorities Regarded Gustave Merkt as a Gentle Old Man, Fit to Be Released.

RELATIVES REPORTED HE HAD MADE THREATS

An inmate of an asylum, confined there because his family had fears for their safety because of him, yet apparently allowed to come and go from the Queen-street institution for the insane as he pleased—that was the condition of affairs concerning Gustave Merkt which yesterday afternoon, in his shooting and killing his wife, and then himself at the Merkt home, 10 Robert-street.

Merkt was 65 years of age, his wife, a cripple, was ten years his junior. The weapon, a .38 calibre revolver, is believed to have been purchased yesterday morning, and the alarm, given conclusively showing the murderer's demented condition, was dated the 28th, would indicate that the crime was premeditated.

Two bullets took effect in the woman's head, and she was found lying in a pool of blood in the little sunlit summer kitchen of her home, while the man also twice shot himself in the chest in the drawing room, still clutching the weapon, it and the hand that held it bled in blood.

The feature of the case occupying the attention of Coroner W. A. Young, who will open an inquest at McGill's undertaking rooms in College-street, at 10 o'clock this morning, is the responsibility of the authorities of the Queen-street asylum in allowing a man, criminally insane, to come and go from that place as he pleased.

Daughter's Story Discovers. According to the story of Henry King Clarke, a night telegraph operator, a boarder in the Merkt home, who was asleep in his room, he was awakened in rapid succession at 11:55 yesterday morning. Boys were in the habit of playing with a gun, and he thought nothing of it. He heard a noise, and heard two more. Then he rose, shaved and dressed himself and went down stairs, and found the door of the kitchen ajar. The girl went straight through to the kitchen and found her mother dead.

"My God, has father been home?" she cried to Clarke, who then turned to the drawing-room. There they found the man's body. Clarke rushed to the street and called a doctor, and the fainting and hysterical girl was carried to the house of a neighbor.

Dr. W. E. Ferguson, 24 College-st., and the police were summoned. The woman lay on her face with a bullet wound on either side of the head. One of the powder marks was found on the forehead, and another on the left temple. The wounds of entry were surrounded by powder marks. In the revolver were found four empty shells and one undischarged, and there were more loaded shells in the pocket.

Left Blackguarding Note. In the vest pocket, neatly written in ink, was found a note. This was the last cowardly blow at the man and his faithful wife. It read: "To the public and the press: This is the end of 37 years and five months of married life with an insulting, drunken, false and swindling woman. Hell can't be any worse. My last wish is that my body be cremated."

W. E. Smythe, 14 Robert-street, and another man who was passing, confirm Clarke's statement as to the succession of the shots. Merkt, a German, as was his wife. They had occupied the house for 23 years and owned it. He had been a chef at the Queen's Hotel a number of years ago and later at the Arlington. He had worked all over the American States and had just returned from Wilkesbarre, Pa., when he was committed for a five-year term to the little boy in a College-street moving picture show. He had a habit of leaving home suddenly, remaining away long periods.

Three daughters are left: Miss Lotie Merkt, who lived with her mother; Mrs. J. C. Sills and Mrs. R. E. Campbell, 387 Dovercourt-road. Had Feared a Tragedy. T. C. Robinette, K.C., who acted as counsel for the family at the time that Merkt was committed, said last night: "He was in police court May 16. At that time the son-in-law and the daughters saw me and explained to me for some time he had threatened to kill himself and his wife. I had previously declared that they were in fear of him, and that he should be

J. P. SLIPPED IN AND MISSED WELCOME

Got Off the Train at Parkdale as a "Short Cut," Not Knowing of the Reception Awaiting Him at the Union Station.

Because he hadn't been informed of the reception awaiting him at the Union Station and having taken the advice of a fellow passenger that Parkdale station was more convenient to his Rosedale destination—which it wasn't—Lieut.-Gen. Sir Robert Baden-Powell, hero of Mafeking, unintentionally disappointed several distinguished personages, a guard of honor of 300 boy scouts, and a big representation of the general public that had gathered to greet him.

"I wanted to see the slums of the west end anyway," said the eminent soldier, "but I must say they were happy and prosperous looking slums."

"Did you drive over from the Parkdale station?" he was asked at E. B. Oeler's residence where the newspaper men called upon him.

"I rode part of the way and walked the rest," he replied. "I had to walk a few blocks on the road to talk to a few workmen."

The disappointed ones at the Union on the arrival of the C.P.R. train, which was nearly 2 1/2 hours late, were Mayor Geary, Ald. Maguire, chairman of the reception committee, and W. K. McLaughlin, representing the city; W. K. McLaughlin, M.L.A., and ex-Mayor Oliver, representing the exhibition board; J. F. Mackay, president of the Canadian Club; T. C. Irving, J. Castell Hopkins and F. G. Oeler, son of E. B. Oeler.

Three hundred scouts were lined up from the entrance thru the rotunda to the train platform in command of Scout Master E. F. Britton, McKee, Assistant Commissioner, H. G. Hammond, and Brigade Adjutant J. K. Slaker. However on the arrival of the train the Toronto boys escorted their touring fifteen British comrades in arms to the exhibition grounds by way of the old fort. Squads from Halifax, Esquimaux, Nanaimo and Whistler were also in line.

A Girl Among Them. One of the most interesting features about the boys was a young girl about 15 years of age. She was bright and well dressed in khaki shorts and a white shirt with a hat similar to that of the boys, accompanied the Brampton detachment as a girl guide. She has only been out from England for a few months.

To-day the scouts will assemble at Trinity College grounds and march via Queen-street and Dufferin-street to the exhibition grounds, where they will remain for an hour and then have lunch. After lunch they will be reviewed in front of the grand Premier Laurier's Reply to International Delegation Regarding Columbia River.

Reported That Plans Are Under Way to Connect Ocean Terminus With Montreal.

NELSON, B.C., Aug. 29.—(Special).—Representative of the Boards of Trade of Revelstoke, Nelson and Portland, Oregon, met Sir Wilfrid Laurier this morning to discuss the question of the improvement of the Columbia River, between West Robson and the international boundary. The Americans were present on the invitation of the local board to inform the premier of the extent of the work done on river in the State of Washington. Exact information regarding the extent of the work which would be required on the part of the Canadian Government was not available.

The entire stream, from its source at Lake Windermere to the ocean, is about 750 miles long, and the portion affected by the present proposition is 150 miles. No estimate is available of the cost of the proposed work. Chamberlain, Washington State, said that seventeen millions had been spent on river improvement in United States, and also the river was carrying the commerce of the state, it had resulted in lowering freight rates to an amount each year in excess of the cost of the work. Under the circumstances, it was doubtful if Portland would benefit by the Canadian expenditure.

Sir Wilfrid intimated that he was not convinced that the opening of the Columbia River to navigation would have a tendency to lower freight rates on lines running east and west. He favored the undertaking, since it opened a new channel of commerce between the United States and Canada, and would be another bond to bind the two countries together. He would consider, not the smaller question of the improvement of the short stretch of river between West Robson and the boundary, but the much larger one of the improvement of the whole river from Lake Windermere. Engineers will be sent out and an estimate made of the cost of the entire undertaking.

Sir Wilfrid also said: "This work could be done in two ways. The two countries might proceed independently, each doing work on its own side of the boundary, or on the other hand, they might get together and act in concert."

The latter plan the premier thought to be much better. The schemes might ultimately be dealt with by the international waterways commission.

WILL HURRY THE WORK. Toronto-Ottawa C. N. R. Line Ready a Year Hence.

OTTAWA, Aug. 29.—(Special).—It is stated that, as a consequence of the purchase of the Bay of Quinte Railway of the Canadian Northern, the construction of the Ottawa end of the Toronto-Ottawa line will be commenced at an early date. This will mean that the Canadian Northern line between Toronto and Ottawa will be completed several months earlier than was anticipated, and that the road will be in operation not later than the fall of 1911.

BERLIN VOTES ON BYLAWS. New Sewer System Favored—Factory Loan Defeated.

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—(Special).—Berlin to-day voted on two important bylaws. One to loan $15,000 to the Baetz Bros. Furniture Co., which recently was burned out, and the other to spend $300 in improving the sewage system. The Baetz loan was to be repaid in fifteen annual installments, with interest, but owing to the absence from town of so many citizens, the required two-thirds majority of votes was not polled, the bylaw had a straight majority of 572 votes out of 1206 polled. The result showing 339 in favor and 267 opposed. The bylaw to extend the sewerage system carried by 304 in favor and 213 opposed.

REPORTERS BARRED. Cardinal Vannutelli Will Not Be Interviewed.

His excellency has especially asked that no reporter be allowed to board the Lady Grey, which will bring the church dignitary up the river. Mr. Pugh, leaves to-morrow evening for Rimouski, where he will meet the cardinal legate.

THOUSANDS WERE ON GROUNDS YESTERDAY

When Lieut.-Gen. Sir Robert Baden-Powell presses the magic button at 2.30 p.m. to-day, and the shrill siren whistlings and rumbling of machinery tell of industrial life awakened, it will mean that the Canadian National Exhibition has entered upon the 25th year of its existence. To be strictly accurate, it should be added that the great annual exposition was known as the Toronto Exhibition until a few years ago, although for considerably longer period it had taken on a national character, but there are individuals who do not claim to be more far-sighted than other folk who predict that within a generation the exhibition will have developed into a permanent world's fair. Anyway, it's with us again, and for the next two weeks there will be many strangers within the gates and much legal tender in circulation.

The inaugural ceremonies this year will take place in front of the grand stand, an innovation which will please the public, for the auditorium of the dairy building is a cozy affair, giving little accommodation to the thousands who attend the official opening. Then will follow the review of the 2500 boy scouts and the public will be free to wander over the 280 acres of grounds, from the model military camp on the west to the home of the "Made in Canada" brand of exhibits and the products of field, forest and mine, not to mention the gentler arts. Then, at night, there is the grandstand performance, with its many features, but strong as usual in military and musical effects, with the Grenadier Guards' Band from London, England, participating. And the public are not likely to forget that this splendid band is to give two concerts on the grand plaza during the afternoon.

Many Disappointed. The directors' luncheon in the administration building at 1 p.m. will have Sir Robert as its specially distinguished guest. He will be seated by the grounds by Honorary President W. K. McNaught and Second Vice-President J. S. Oliver will perform a like duty for the British Empire. President George Gooderham, M.L.A., will be in the chair, and the gathering promises to be a notable one, but speeches will be short. The day before, before Baden-Powell presses the button he will speak, and before that Mr. Gooderham will read the annual address following a hoarse and weary day. The formalities will be over.

Yesterday was called "Opening Day." The term was appropriate in having regard to the operation on big passenger cases and consignments of all kinds, but did an injustice to the exhibition itself. It was in reality a day of general preparation and there were corners in the buildings which might be termed finished products, but exhibitors worked hard last night, and by noon to-day a marvelous transformation is promised.

The great majority of persons who attend the exhibition are aware of the fact that the exhibition butters do not emerge from the chrysalis until inauguration day, but everybody is not so well posted, and a regrettable feature yesterday was that, of the thousands of people who strolled thru the grounds, there were a number of United States visitors who had evidently expected to find things in the way of who, to put it mildly, expressed disappointment. They were mostly tourists who had booked tickets in border States, and were in the way of a general preparation and there were corners in the buildings which might be termed finished products, but exhibitors worked hard last night, and by noon to-day a marvelous transformation is promised.

Rehearsal Last Night. A rehearsal of the military tattoo was held in front of the grandstand last night, and viewed by an interested gathering of about 1000 spectators. Before handing over admission money, it was impressed upon them that a simple rehearsal with no pyrotechnics was in prospect. The management were not eager to invite sightseers, but the public were especially anxious to hear the Grenadier Guards' band and were not disappointed. The Guardsmen, in rich scarlet and gold lace, marched into the arena playing the "British Grenadiers" and the applause was generous.

Hats by Henry Heath. If England holds one thing above all others in the world, it is hats. The English hat sells on Broadway and Fifth-avenue, New York, for twice the price asked for the same hat in Canada. This is especially true of those made by Henry Heath of London, England, who has been forced by the large demand in the United States to open a store on Fifth-avenue. The Heath hat is one worn by King George and the aristocrats of Europe. The Dimsen Company, 140 York-street, has Canadian agents for the Heath hat in Canada, and announce to-day that new shipment, including the latest Derby, Beaver, Alpines and Silks, has arrived. These hats sell in Canada because of the tariff at half what the New York dealer asks for them.

DR. CLEAVER ONCE MORE AFTER HIGHER CRITICS

Resolution Aimed at Dr. Jackson's Teachings Discussed—Burwash and Rowell in Reply.

VICTORIA, B.C., Aug. 29.—(Special).—Heterical teachings in Methodist Colleges, or what has become known as the Jackson controversy, came up before the Methodist general conference to-day, and after a discussion which lasted for three hours, it was decided to leave such matters to the procedure of the church. This decision was reached by a vote of 125 to 24.

The following amendment moved by Dr. A. D. Watson and seconded by Rev. Dr. Sparling was carried: "That whereas the matters contained in the resolution now presented are in their nature such as call for the most careful and mature deliberation of those best fitted to adjudicate in such matters and inasmuch as this general conference, which is by its constitution and usage a legislative rather than a court of trial, and cannot give that patient and calm deliberation to these matters which the interests of great truth and highest fellowship demand having provided legislation embodying a method of procedure in cases of supposed departure from the teachings of Methodism, which we believe will not tend to stifle the candor of our professors, yet will serve to keep inviolate the integrity of our Methodist doctrine, and at the same time hold firm the confidence of our people, therefore: resolved that having provided adequate machinery for such cases such as are referred to in resolution, this general conference reaffirms its allegiance to Christ as King and Saviour, and God, and its faithful adherence to the doctrine of God which liveth and abideth ever; that as in His word God has spoken to us by His Son, we acknowledge Him as the infallible teacher as well as revealer of the things of God."

The attack on Rev. Dr. Jackson was led by the Rev. Dr. Shearer, who quoted extensively from his writings and from those of men arrayed against him at the higher criticism. He was supported by H. M. Winter, Chancellor Burwash and N. W. Rowell, K.C., replied.

CONSTABLE'S HARD TRIP Travels 300 Miles Thru Wilderness With Lunatic.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Aug. 29.—(Special).—T. R. Polkes, a Dominion constable, has arrived here after one of the most arduous trips ever made by an officer of the law. He came from the national continental construction, north of Pigeon Lake, and for the 300 miles was in charge of Tony Conner, a raving lunatic, who repeatedly attempted suicide.

Polkes had no other companion on the lonely trip across the lakes and thru the muskegs and wilderness.

DENOUNCES MASONRY R. C. Bishop of Joliette Will Excommunicate Members.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29.—(Special).—Mr. Alfred Archambault has decided that a good Catholic can make no difference between Freemasons, be they of French, English or Scotch rite. They are, in fact, all alike, and the Bishop of Joliette, who declares that Freemasonry in general aims at the destruction of the Roman Catholic church, or social order, or political authority and the marriage tie. His lordship also said that all members of any of these lodges would not be refused the sacrament of the mother church at the hour of death, but will also be refused Catholic burial.

Mgr. Archambault then referred to grave charges that certain residents of Joliette were members of these forbidden lodges, and declared that if this could be proven, he would excommunicate such persons from the cathedral pulpit. He would ask the faithful to vote against them either at municipal, provincial or any other election.

BLIND WOMAN'S SAD VIGIL. Waits Patiently for Dead Husband to Awake From Sleep.

GUELPH, Aug. 29.—(Special).—Edwin Henry Hall, an old resident, lay dead in his home in Suffolk-street for some time before his aged and blind wife knew that he had died. She thought he was sleeping when he did not answer her, and covering him up as well as she could, she sat beside his bed and patiently waited for him to wake up. All Saturday afternoon and night and nearly all Sunday she waited. Then some neighbors came in and told her the truth.

AN ESCAPE FROM THE JAIL. Man Serving Term for Vagrancy Gets Away.

William Fletcher, 27 years old, who had served a week of a 90-day sentence at the jail for vagrancy, succeeded in eluding his guards while at work in the Riverdale Park yesterday afternoon at about 5 o'clock. It would appear that he had made arrangements with a confederate on the outside, as his suit of prison clothes were found in a nearby ravine by the guards, who missed him and went in search.

WANT CHANNEL TO DOCKS Harbor Commissioners Ask Dr. Pugsley for Aid.

A representation of the Toronto Harbor Board yesterday waited on Hon. Mr. Pugsley, federal minister of public works, who is at the King Edward Hotel, and asked that the government defray the cost of dredging a 16-foot channel from deep water in the bay to the proposed freight docks that the city plans to have on Ashbridge's Bay property. The channel would also serve the big docks which the National Iron Works will build. It is estimated that the cost of the dredging may reach about $75,000.

YORK TOWNSHIP AND C.P.R. GETTING NEARER

Strenuous Conference on Monday Help Outleak Some—Trouble May Be Solved.

The construction of a 30-foot subway at the Elizabeth-street crossing, another 30-foot subway at the Jane-street crossing, and the cost of an enlarged subway, if such is ever deemed necessary, is the outstanding question discussed at between the members of the York Township Council and the C.P.R. representatives on Monday afternoon. It was a long and strenuous session, and the township representatives, with Reeve Henry in charge, practically fought every foot of their way. For the township in addition to Barker and Syme and Councillor Griffith and Assessment Commissioner Clarke.

The C.P.R. appeared Superintendent Osborne, Engineer Hertzberg and Solicitor Walker, with Allan Royce acting in an advisory capacity. For nearly an hour the two parties have been fruitless sources of contention to the township, in that the level crossings, asking that 30-foot named, and it was practically in accordance with the desires of the township. Following the fact acceptance of the two 30-foot and the one eight-foot subway, residents living north of the Jane-street crossing demanded a subway of 30 or 35 feet at that point, and this has practically given rise to most of the disagreement.

Mr. Osborne then reviewed in detail some of the improvements under way, as the Mimico "cut-through" branching from a short distance beyond Islington to the main line, and the subway line running to Hamilton, which must divert the freight coming in over the Hamilton line to West Toronto to relieve the congestion in the latter street yards, said he. "We have now a double track to Hamilton, and this will be at once extended westward, and have big plans, and the enlargement of the West Toronto yards is a part of them." Mr. Osborne spoke further with respect to C.P.R. plans.

Engineer Hertzberg and Allan Royce added their views, but Reeve Henry and council were insistent at the outset that, while the Scarborough and Jane-street crossings should be at least a 20-foot width, and so matters were for a time adjourned, neither side conceding anything further.

As a last resort Reeve Henry then submitted a proposition to which the C.P.R. representatives have agreed. The proposal was, in brief, to reserve to the municipality the right to demand the widening of the Jane-street subway up to the original existing 48 feet. The company's representatives would only concede this point in view of a release from the costs attached, and which may never eventuate.

Altogether, in view of the fact that the company will expend a large sum of money in developing the district and three good subway crossings will be built, obviating all level crossing risks, coupled with the fact that Reeve George Syme and other representatives proposed that the township endorsed the proposed settlement, a suggested arrangement will in all probability be carried out.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS

BROTHERS ARREST BROTHERS
Two Were Policemen and Others Were Charged With Housebreaking.

HAMILTON, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Philip and John Wintermute, East Murray-street, were arrested this afternoon, charged with breaking into the store of Mrs. King, North James-street, and with assaulting Constable Joseph Duffy. The officer found them in the store and attempted to arrest them. He alleges that the two men attacked him. His brother John, who is also a policeman, came to his assistance, and between them the Wintermutes were taken in.

Three Italians, Sim Rouse, Finklingo and Frank Grunzini, were arrested here this evening on advice from the Guelph police. They are wanted on a charge of stealing a double-seated rig on an ulster. Chief Randall of Guelph arrived to-night to take the men back.

Separate School Board.
At the meeting of the Separate School Board to-night, J. B. Turner, the examiner, presented his report on the entrance examinations. Of the seventy-eight children sent up by the separate schools, forty-nine were at first successful. Since the examinations, under the new ruling of the government, that all those who made sixty per cent. of the possible, but had failed in one subject, were allowed to pass, eight more had passed.

PARRY SOUND, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Fire broke out Sunday in the Seguin Parry Sound, and in a few minutes it was apparently quenched with a few pails of water. At The Exhibition

ONCE more the turnstiles at the Exhibition grounds are in motion, and another great Fair is in progress. Yesterday the private view of pictures was the objective point for the majority of those who passed through the gates, but many enjoyed an early ramble through the buildings, where the various and sundry exhibits were receiving their finishing touches. And it was a sight not without interest as one canvas drape after another was brought down, revealing something of unusual beauty, usefulness, or fine flavor to the taste. In the Manufacturers' Building the Store adds a substantial quota to the sum of attractions. The finest of lovely lingerie, the smartest of Parisian costumes, the handsomest of soft furs, and the most harmonious of home furnishings have been artistically arrayed—choice specimens from their respective departments in the Store.

The lingerie exploits an exquisite intermingling of lace and sheer mull, one Empire nightgown, in its delicate combinations of color and Valenciennes, being particularly noticeable; also a litris Princess slip, which is a beautiful example of lace applique on the finest of Swiss embroidery. An infant's robe, in soft mull, inset with the webbing of narrow insertion and finished with infinitesimal French dots, is another delightful bit of needlecraft.

From lace to pearly a far cry in substance, yet the same subtlety of design that characterizes the bits of cross-stitch undergarments and the adjoining section devoted to fur. Here a luxurious ermine wrap, bordered with black fox, stands out as an alluring example of the season's revival of the old dolman style, the same long, open sleeves being shown in a similar block developed in ermine and trimmed with silk fringe. Fringe as an ornament is further noticed in a broad capelet of ermine and embroidered chiffon, long knotted silk fringe finishing both the stole and the soft pillow muff that accompanies it. The demand for fur is shown in a new fur, is shown in a long stole edged with Alaska sable.

Prominent among the gowns displayed is a lovely creation of evening wear, fashioned of white chiffon, patterned with odd black discs, the skirt being confined at the foot with a narrow founce of black chiffon lace.

Another evening gown is of green striped silk with overdrape of gold embroidered net. A third Paris mode is an afternoon dress in black and white silk veiled with black chiffon and caught into the popular hobble band of black satin.

A coat and skirt in broadcloth in Biarrot blue, an another in a brown check basket cloth carry out the prevailing note of plainness and narrowness in Autumn tailoring, while three or four charming examples of blouse-making testify to the fondness for veiled effects.

In the presentation of furniture and decorative treatment, the usual suite of rooms is shown, each a room suitably hung and furnished. This year the drawing-room is an embodiment of the Louis XVI. idea, carried out in ivory and mauve, the walls being paneled in cream enamel and heliotrope silk, curtains of the latter fabric falling from beneath lambrequins bordered with bullion fringe, an Austrian rug, and delicate little cane and enamel chairs and settees in the design of the period completing the scheme.

The dining-room is a clever reproduction of Jacobean treatment. Sober and splendid specimens of cabinet making in old oak, a superb Kirman-shah carpet, in the shades of brown, hived with terra cotta and old blue, and a true Jacobean frieze topping the oak paneled walls, combine to the making of a pleasant setting for the dignified proceeding of dining.

A living-room comfortably equipped with roomy chairs and couches in Early English oak, and tapestry coverings, and a bedroom which is hung with white and gold wall paper and green curtains and supplied with bed, dressing table and bureau of Circassian walnut, are further examples of artistic furnishing principles.

The exhibit is one that visitors to the Fair will find it worth while to study closely.

Successful Treatment for Deafness With the "Auris"

By a simple adaptation of the scientific principles of acoustics and sound transmission, the "Auris" enables a deaf person to hear what is said in ordinary conversation, to take an intelligent part in the family and social discussions, to listen comfortably to a sermon or a concert, in fact to again enjoy the advantages of perfect hearing.

The "Auris" consists of a receiver which may be carried anywhere on the person, a telephone transmitter which magnifies the sound without the burring, rushing sound so often destroying the usefulness of intended aids to the hearing, and a small ear piece about the size of the one side of a watch case, which may be held to the ear either in the hand or by a flexible head band.

An advantage of the "Auris" aside from its wonderful sound-strengthening qualities, is the ease with which it may be worn, quite unnoticed.

The connecting wire is not much larger than the cord of one's eyeglasses, and the ear shell is no heavier or more noticeable than the glasses themselves. Another advantage is the extremely low cost of the "Auris." The complete mechanism is guaranteed to help the hearing where help is possible at all.

We will be pleased to demonstrate the "Auris" and convince you of the benefit to be derived from it, without any obligation on your part being incurred.

See This Most Interesting Display of New English Worsteds

The almost severely plain styles that fashion sanctions in suits for the new season bring the West of England Worsteds into special demand, for perhaps no other material so adequately meets the requirements, when owing to the absence of garniture the success of the tailoring and finish depends almost entirely on the fabric. In our very extensive display of these worsteds there's an array of the new colorings that's a pleasure to see—rich, soft, subdued effects that are triumphs of the dyer's art—effects that for beauty and distinctiveness have made the mills of England famous. There are new shades in grey, green, brown and navy, Copenhagen, amethyst and ashes of rose, with new striped diagonals or fancy designs. We feature two specially attractive lines that are of interest both from their distinctiveness and beauty of design and their splendid value. Thoroughly shrunken, we highly recommend them as suitable material for a smart, stylish, elegant costume for Fall wear; 52 inches..... $1.50

The Nationals had a great celebration on returning to Montreal Saturday night from Cornwall. It is the first time that a team of French-Canadians have won the championship of the senior league since 1893, but that season their team was composed of French and Irish players, mixed.

The two local teams met Monday for their first game of the season, and at this distance it looks an easy win for the Indians on their superior performance. The Boys in Blue have gone from bad to worse. Their loss over the youths from the capital Saturday was nothing to the capital. Something must be amiss in the management of Scarboro. The team that looked like sure contenders, divided to a genuine second division composition for reasons best known to themselves. The game on the holiday should prove interesting, in as much as the fans will want to see how steady Tennessee, who have recently beaten Nationals and Montreal twice, can turn the tables on the Toronto.

J. J. McCaffery's Leafs have not yet recovered from the N. C. Nationals' victory in Newark three out of four. They dropped the series to the fall-enders, and are in a fair way to repeat their performance. The Leafs are in a fair way to repeat their performance. The Leafs are in a fair way to repeat their performance.

MONTEAL, Aug. 29 (Special).—With the N. C. championship theirs by virtue of the result of Saturday's games, the Nationals, at a special meeting held to-night, decided to ask the Minto Cup trustees for a series with New Westminster on Sept. 11 and 24. The Minto Cup trustees have agreed to the challenge. Nationals request that the trustees name as one of the referees the two officials. Unless this request is granted, Nationals will not make the trip to the coast. That is the reason for the postponement of the series.

Monday Game at Bayville Park. The game of ball played at Bayville Park yesterday between two teams from the city was the start of the season, named by McCaffery's Leafs and Halliday's Tigers, was worth a long way to go and see. The Tigers were returned the winners after an eight-inning game. The whole game was the timely run of John Anderson, a star of 20 years ago. In the fourth inning, which was the score. The spectators went wild with excitement as John kept up his run around the bases after losing the ball. The saddest man on the field was Manager McCaffery of the losers, as he watched his team go down to defeat. The other features were the hitting of Charlie Podger for the losers and Fitzsimmons and Tom Parr of the winners. The prize played for was a dinner at the King Edward, which comes off some night next week. The score:

Eleven Hits Wasted

BY THE KELLETTES. Rochester Win But Buffalo Wallop. McGinnity—Orioles Shut Out Royals.

The Leafs may be termed the "rulers of the west" after yesterday's exhibition with Providence, in which the latter team applied the whitewash brush in the tune of 3 to 0, despite the fact that they had only five hits to the locals' eleven.

Providence's batsmen were the opposite of the Leafs' singles fillers, but at that it was more due to inside stuff not coming off that locals were made to look sick. However, once with the worst of some pretty dumb playing, the Leafs perhaps being in the seventh, with Vaughn on second and McGinnity at bat, they downed and shut out the bats.

McGinnity, who was in the lead, had three and two on him, and on first base Mullen picked up the third, the result being that Shaw, facing Vaughn was caught off stride.

Newton and Barber were the opposing twirlers, and honors went to the latter, even if he did receive a bigger applause than Newton. But, the latter did not give a base on balls, like Newton who gave five, and, besides, lightened in pinches, following a strike, after a certain element of luck with him all afternoon, the first being in the initial innings, when Mullen picked up the third, the base line, only to have Dempsey kill it.

Two were on at the time, and the fourth was scored on. Hatters' errors by the Leafs accounted for two of the visitors' runs, Newton making a wild pitch, and Barber on third, after the latter had tripped, while Tommen had a passed ball with Elston on third in the fourth. The innings were Newton's, one, he starting by passing Elston, Collins sacrificed, Arndt was given a charity, and then Rock's single fills the sacks. Tommen's passed ball allowed Elston to count, while the other two were scored on by Elston.

First Day's Bowling D. D. D. Tourney. The druggists, dentists and doctors' lawn bowling tournament opened yesterday afternoon when 24 rinks competed, one each from Hamilton, Paris, Dutton, Watertown, Oranville and Buffalo, and they had a hard time of it against the strong Toronto rinks. Play started at 1 o'clock. Dr. Moore, a trophy winner in the Dominion three years ago, was put out of it by Dr. Pepler. Ernie Legge, last year's winner, was also knocked out of the big event by Reekie of Dutton, the cut-throat man winning 16 to 10. Dr. Griffin of Hamilton was also victor over Dr. Hamill of Alexandria, the latter having an exceptionally strong rink. Dr. Griffin was by it to 13 on the last end after being down considerably early in the game. Play commenced this morning in the second round at 10 a.m. The rinks are to be on hand sharp on time.

The results of yesterday's games are as follows: Preliminary Round—Dr. Hamill, 13 to 10, Dr. Moore, 13 to 10, Dr. Griffin, 13 to 10, Dr. Pepler, 13 to 10, Dr. Legge, 13 to 10, Dr. Reekie, 13 to 10, Dr. Hamill, 13 to 10, Dr. Moore, 13 to 10, Dr. Griffin, 13 to 10, Dr. Pepler, 13 to 10, Dr. Legge, 13 to 10, Dr. Reekie, 13 to 10.

Argos and Tigers Elect the Officers For Rugby Season. The Argonaut Rugby Club held their annual meeting last night at the club quarters, when officers were elected and matters of importance pertaining to the coming season were discussed. It was decided to get down to practice early in the season, and the first workout the club will hold the first week of Wednesday night at Bayville Park. The real practice will not start till Sept. 10. The meeting felt that all the club wanted to have a winning team, and to secure a competent coach, with this in view a committee of Joe Wright, Walter Harris and Bill Grant were appointed to select a first-class coach, who will be given sole charge of the team, and make arrangements for the season. The officers elected were as follows: President, B. McKee; sec-treas, H. H. Nightingale; committee, W. H. W. Grant, J. S. Robertson, manager, Joe Wright.

TUESDAY MORNING, AUG. 30, 1910.

FIGHT IT OUT.

Mayor Geary and the city council should take the very earliest opportunity of letting the Toronto Electric Light Co., its advisers and abettors and all and sundry interested in its welfare, know that there will be nothing doing in the extension of the electric light franchise to greater Toronto. The principle of the thing was fought out in the case of the street railway, and that corporation has conceded in the face of stern necessity the fact that it has no claim outside the old city boundaries.

If the Toronto Electric Light Co. wishes expert legal opinion upon its own case well and good, but it should not expect the city to join it or encourage it in any way on what the citizens and their representatives must regard as a wild goose chase.

The claim is, of course, merely a pretext for opening up the greater question of the extension of the franchise. That is another wild dream of the Electric Light Company, which the city can in no way countenance or be held responsible for. Several pointed intimations have been given to the company which should have made the city's position absolutely clear on this matter, but the company has no sensitiveness when a great prize is at stake, and will demand and entreat as long as there is a weak-backed alderman or anyone else in authority who offers any ground for hope. It would be cruel to encourage the company with any such delusions, and the sooner it makes up its accounts, with the hope of an extended franchise or a wider area of activity written off its inventory, the better.

If the city were a private concern, the company would take the straight answers it has already received as final, but there seems to be an impression that the city might be led into doing what no private firm would do. The city has installed a great electric light and power equipment after offering to buy out the company. The success of that plant depends on the amount of business it does. Toronto looks not only to the old city area in part, but to the new city area in its entirety for a market for the power it is bringing from Niagara. No private firm would tolerate any competition in such a case, and it is not complimentary to the acumen of the city officials to suppose they would be less vigorous in the application of business methods.

Mr. Drayton, counsel for the city, may be depended upon to give an authoritative opinion on this question as the courts, and if he advises that the city is within its rights, the company should be politely informed to that effect, and the correspondence closed. Another point to which attention might be directed is the crafty attempt to get ahead of the city in North Toronto. If North Toronto intends to come into the city, either at this time or in the future, that municipality should understand that it has no right to fetter the city with any deals with corporations which would be hostile to the city's interests.

Mayor Geary would be well-advised to put these ideas into official form and convey them, with his compliments and any red tape that may be required, to the Electric Light Company.

TWO RAILWAY COMMISSIONS. WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(Press report).—The Interstate commission has handed down since May 1, 1910, 140 decisions in formal cases. In addition to these decisions, the commission has profusely settled in the neighborhood of a thousand claims informally during the same period. While the several commissioners usually take short vacations in the summer they are constantly holding conferences during such vacations with traffic officials and others, and as a general rule at least one commissioner is always present in Washington to transact any important business that may arrive during the absence of his associates.

Where has the Canadian Railway Commission been for some weeks? Probably on holidays. But the public are waiting for a decision on: Telephone rates. Telegraph rates. Express rates, and the Canadian Pacific's overcharges, contrary to law. Why not show diligence equal to that of the American commission?

THE EDUCATED HINDU. When The New York Evening Post recently criticized the current remark that education to the Hindu simply means getting qualified to fill a government job, and contrasted his sarcastically with the Englishman who is led to India by the sense of a lofty human mission, it missed the point. It would naturally be inferred from the tenor of ordinary United States comment that natives are kept out of the Indian civil service by hosts of Englishmen who get appointments for the asking. This is very inaccurate. Only in the higher civil positions do English officials preponderate—the lower ranks are almost entirely filled by educated natives. The whole trouble connected with the educated native is that there are not nearly enough government jobs for him to fill, even if the 1100 English civil servants were withdrawn. The demand really is that unnecessary posts should be made to accommodate office hunters.

Entrance to the higher civil administration of British India is only obtained after a severe course of training, and success at not a pass, but a competitive examination. Many more apply than can hope to receive appointments, but those who fall do not hang round England plotting sedition and airing their grievances. They turn to other lines, where their education can be of service. But this is just what the educated Hindu too often does, and hence the gibe which formed the subject of The Post's advertisement. The problem presented by the Hindu is a difficult one and it cannot be met even if every government post in India were filled by Hindus. What the country would become in that case it is not difficult to conjecture.

A SERIOUS MATTER.

As was suspected, the brakeman on the Grand Trunk train which was wrecked near Durand, Michigan, was an inexperienced strike-breaker. It appears that he has confessed to having had no experience in railroading when appointed, that he had undergone no examination, and that he refused to act as a conductor owing to his knowing absolutely nothing about the business.

This is a very serious matter for the Grand Trunk, but it is a much more serious matter for the public. The railway will suffer in the only place where it has any susceptibility—its cash-box. But the people have been torn with a tragedy of death and mutilation, with all the horrors of a railway catastrophe.

The public cannot be expected to trust themselves on a railroad where the officials, to gratify some personal spite, would not renege—as they had agreed to do—the men who knew their business. What does Mr. Hays say to this?

The Globe is walling about the idiots of the province. What is it doing to head off the electric ring putting all the same people of Ontario under bondage? A little more sympathy for the real people is more to the point. Some people are up against grasping corporations; idiots are not.

The Globe thinks that "the marvel" is that he (Mr. Joseph Downey) can bring himself into daily association with hundreds of chattering idiots. "The Globe forgets that Mr. Downey has been in daily association during its sessions with the Liberal opposition in the legislature. After that why should the Globe marvel? But then it does a little chattering itself as well as the rest of us.

Lord Northcliffe, who is now in Canada, and The Montreal Star both appear to be gloating over the fact that Lord Northcliffe is down on the Intercolonial Railway. Is it because it is owned by the people? Lord Northcliffe is a newspaperman as much as The Montreal Star is a newspaper, and it is rather surprising that newspapers and newspapermen, who live by public support, are always against public-owned propositions.

The sheep and the goats will be able to divide without hesitation over the leading dramatic pieces this week.

CONSERVATORY YEAR BOOK.

In the Conservatory of Music year-book for the approaching term we have tangible evidence of what an important branch of educational activity music has become in Toronto. It is difficult to realize that all the opportunities that many go to Europe to attain are available without leaving Canada. Yet such is the case, and so far as training and instruction are concerned, pupils are able to get all that they might go to Europe for, with less expense and with more certainty of attention. There has been no lack of examples of what may be done in their training here, and who now receive reputations on the stage and in the concert platform which Europe is glad to confirm.

The faculty of the conservatory numbers over a hundred members. Dr. Edward Fisher, the musical director, having the assistance of the best qualified teachers in the Dominion. Among these may be mentioned Dr. A. S. Vogt, Dr. J. Humfrey Anger, Frank L. Blackford, Dr. Edward Broome, A. T. Kirpigan, H. M. Fletcher, Dr. Albert Ham, J. W. F. Harrison, Dr. F. H. Kirkpatrick, Russell G. McLean, W. J. McNally, Cyril E. Rudge, John Waldron, Frank S. Weisman and H. A. Wheelton.

The buildings of the conservatory are delightfully and conveniently situated and extensive residential accommodation is available. Being affiliated with Toronto University, the degrees of bachelor and doctor of music are attainable by students. The music hall, with its fine organ, is an ideal place for the recitals which are frequently given. Every branch of vocal and instrumental art is included in the curriculum of theory, orchestration, expression, languages and other technical for competition.

The fall term commences on Wednesday, and the year-book may be had on application. The government annuities system has been in operation now for 18 months. The total of annuities sold is $650,000. The average amount is $350. About one-third of the purchasers are women.

Turn Down Any Deal With Toronto Electric Co'y

The North Toronto Town Council will have before it to-night the application of the Toronto Electric Light Company for wiring and putting poles on the town streets, with the privilege, of course, of the city corporation supplying light and power to the municipality.

Fortunate indeed, it is that by the original agreement with the City and Suburban Water, Light and Power Company, the town cannot go outside of municipal ownership without allowing the charter, which was bought from the City and Suburban Company, to revert back to that company.

By means of special legislation the town has been enabled to get light from the Interurban Light Company during the past three or four years, but it should be brought to the legislature that this should be a permanent rather than a temporary expedient.

In view of the agitation and the strength of the feeling for annexation of the town to the city, it is not to be believed that there are sufficient realties in the council, who would try to tie up North Toronto to an obligation which would be altogether at variance with the plans which are being brought to maturity by the City of Toronto.

Both light and power are badly wanted by the residents of North Toronto, but this must be obtained in the very best way and the hydro-electric power is the only satisfactory way. If the real people are more to the point, some people are up against grasping corporations; idiots are not.

The Toronto Electric Light Company is turning heads, just now, in all directions just for the sake of boundaries in order to tie up these districts to itself, and to make it municipal to attempt to make an agreement with this company, when the chances for municipal light and power are so favorable.

INSPECTOR DEW RELATES WHAT CRIPPEN TOLD HIM

Practically Admitted Crime and Suicidal Intentions, But Said Girl Was Innocent.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Both Hawley H. Crippen, the American doctor, and Ethel Levene, his typist, were accused of the murder of Belle Elmore, the former's wife, in the formal charge read to them in the Bow-street Police Court to-day. Miss Levene was charged also with harboring and maintaining Crippen after the crime and while knowing that he committed it.

Dew swore that when he made the arrest Crippen said: "I am not sorry. My anxiety has been too much. He told Crippen that he must put him in handcuffs, 'as you have written that you intended jumping overboard.' To this Crippen replied: 'I will not do that. My anxiety has been too awful.'"

A card was found among Crippen's effects and on the back of it the following: "I cannot stand the horror I go thru every night and I am as I see nothing bright, and as my journey is coming to an end I have made up my mind to jump overboard to-night. I know I have spoiled your life, but some day you may learn to forgive me. My last words are of love."

Dew produced a torn piece of a card on which Crippen had written: "I shall we wait until to-night, about 10 or 11? If not, what time?"

Dew concluded, repeating a conversation which he had with Crippen during the return trip to Liverpool. Crippen said: "When you took me off the ship (at Quebec) I did not see Miss Levene. I do not know how things will go. They may go all right; they may go all wrong. I may never see her again, and I want to ask you to let me see her. I won't speak to her. She has been my only comfort for the last three years." Crippen was allowed to see his companion in trouble.

Solicitor Newton stated before the court opened that Crippen told him: "I confessed nothing. I have vehemently denied it. I know I know of no crime and have taken part in none. During my voyage to Canada on the Montrose I had not the slightest suspicion I was watched. The arrest came like a thunderbolt. I could not at first realize I was a prisoner."

Inspector Dew's comments on the methods of transients and journalists are highly amusing and somewhat pungent. With feeling he declared it was quite a pleasure to meet English pressmen, as they were gentlemen. The Canadian Associated Press has heard surprise expressed that the moment Crippen and Levene were in possession of the Megantic he did not immediately protest against their being allowed to come aboard.

LAYMEN'S MISSIONS

S. S. Organizations Will Co-operate in the Work. H. K. Caskey of the Laymen's Missionary Movement has just returned from Silver Bay, N.Y., where a conference was held by about fifty leaders of the laymen's movement, and demonstrated the national secretaries from different parts of the United States.

The machinery of the national, state and county organizations of the strong and active S. S. Union, has been placed at the disposal of the laymen's missionary movement, if they find it possible to use it.

There were 19,000 Sunday school conventions held in North America last year, with an attendance estimated at between three and four million. Sixteen thousand adult classes have been organized in the last three years, and it is expected that this number will be increased to 25,000 by the end of each of these classes there is a devoted and missionary committee, and most of these committees are ready to co-operate with the laymen's missionary movement in pushing missionary work.

Provincial Sunday school conventions are to be held in Canada in October and November, and the Canadian council of the laymen's missionary movement has already asked that the missionary feature be emphasized and made as conspicuous as possible. The dates of the conventions are: Summer, Oct. 15-18; Woodstock, N. B., Oct. 15-20; Truro, N.S., Oct. 25-27; Oshawa, Ont., Oct. 5-7; Calgary, Alta., Oct. 15-18.

MACHINES TO SELL STAMPS

Several Automatic Venders to be Tried in Toronto. Torontonians will have an opportunity now of buying postage stamps from an automatic vending machine containing one and two cent varieties. Two will be placed on the exhibition grounds, one in the postoffice, and three in the business districts. If they are a success, many more will be gotten.

The machine looks a great deal like the penny-in-the-slot gum and candy machines, seen on any street corner. On the top of the oak case, which is about 18 inches wide, 30 inches high, and 10 inches thick, is a plain band of iron with "Postage Stamps" moulded in large letters. Down the front are two long strips of steel set well into the case, and between them are directions for inserting the coins. At the top of each strip is a bright piece of steel, and thru it is a slot. Lower down about half the length of the case is a depression, and in it a horizontal slot, thru which the stamp appears. Still lower down is an upright slot, where the coin of wrong denomination finds its escape.

Two cents for a two cent stamp, and five cents for a five cent stamp, and the stamp appears after the second cent has been put in. A machine holds 2000 stamps on the supply is exhausted.

locked up and that he had firearms in the house. This was all sworn to in police court and entered in the papers of the case. He was only a week at the hospital when he was declared insane by both examining physicians and sent to the asylum. I am surprised that he was allowed liberty.

Dr. W. T. O'Farrell, chief physician, one of the two physicians upon whose examination and subsequent certificate Merkt was sent to the asylum, said: "I certainly regarded Merkt as a dangerous man when he was sent to the asylum. It was largely upon the history of the case as given by the family that I based my opinion."

Dr. C. K. Clark, superintendent of the Queen-street Asylum, said, in answer to questions: "Of course the man was allowed to visit his home at any time. He was a very gentle old man, and showed very little insanity during all the time he was here. In fact, the question of his discharge, of letting him to-morrow morning, was up to-day."

"I do not think that the asylum authorities are in any way at fault in allowing him his liberty, as was done. Like a Boarding House. From enquiries made by Detective Mitchell, it seems that Merkt returned to the asylum after he had visited the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Sills, in D'Arcy-street, at 8 a.m., for the authorities say it was seen about 10 o'clock that it will be seen that an insane man can walk in and out of an asylum in Toronto, purchase a deadly revolver and straightway walk off and end two lives. The World and the police, too, have more than once urged that some proper check should be imposed by law on the purchase and sale of revolvers."

"EXHIBITION ILLUSTRATED." The "Exhibition Illustrated" is a publication which cannot fail to appeal to everyone who takes a patriotic interest in the growth of the Canadian National Exhibition. It is of newspaper size, is printed on fine paper and contains 20 pages. While the reading matter gives an excellent review of the outstanding features of the exhibition, the crowning glory is the illustrations, which are remarkably good, showing typical scenes on the grounds, buildings and members of the directorate. The price is five cents.

Public Amusements

At the Royal Alexandra

"Mother." For the opening week of the regular season the Royal Alexandra presents a domestic drama, very skillfully constructed and full of emotional interest. This in itself testifies to the artistic quality of the play, since it is as true of the dramatic as of other arts that the more confined the sphere the more perfect and individualized must be the theme and its treatment. But a successful play requires more than the peculiar qualities of the vignettist. It needs must be of strong human appeal and touch the deeper chords of natural feeling. And this, "Mother," presented by William A. Brady, but the work of Jules Eckert Goodman, undoubtedly is. Were the play unrelieved it would be less attractive, but the author has provided a persuasive element of humor that renders it more than usually attractive. This secures a measure of relief from the shadow of the foolishness and waywardness of the mother's boys, while also securing the victory of mother love over the temptations and experience of youth. The play leads up to a series of intensely emotional situations, and at the crucial stages of its development the response of the crowded audience was unambiguously genuine. Mothers seem born to self-sacrifice, but the author has thoughtfully provided a resource for more than that of regret.

At the Grand

"The Alaskan." An entertainment, clean, breezy and bright, attractive and pleasing to the eye and ear, is "The Alaskan," which was presented for the first time in this city at the Grand last night before a large audience.

At the Star

"The Girl in the Taxi." It is not a piece to which you may safely take your mother-in-law. It is the tidiest thing that has appeared on a Toronto stage and if any ladies happen to see it they may be moved to follow the example of some who left last night after the second act, the scene of which is a New York house of assignation. The dialog is full of double meaning when it is not directly salacious. The closing lines of dialog point the moral. The various characters represent one another and the head waiter, who had formed in the second act the virtuous resolution of retiring because he "was sick and tired of waiting on old and young rouses," has the last ejaculation: "Oh, Percy!" "Oh, Bertie!" "Oh, Mignon!" "Oh, women!" "Oh, Hell!" "That's our specialty!"

At Shea's

Mile. Dazie. Shea's new theatre is—or deserves to be—the mecca for the exhibition visitor this week. Certain it is that the opening performance, yesterday, attracted large audiences, and stirred them to all sorts of enthusiasm. The program indeed is one of the best assorted that could be imagined for this season of the year.

The Three Leightons in "One Night Stand in Minstrelsy" are really and entertaining, and so are Conlin, Steed and Carr, who give some selections from musical comedy. Ballerina's dogs gave a wonderful exhibition of skill and canine culture in their performance. It is really marvelous how these cunning little animals under the given conditions to have tried to avoid the accident? "I would consider that the ferry should have backed up." "Had you been in the same situation would you have expected the boat to run you down?" "No! I would have expected the boat to stop."

William A. Ross, who is recorded as having saved the life of Miss Mamie Jaffray on the fated night, stated that he was quite certain that there was no reversing of the engines until the impact had taken place, and that right up till this time the boat had been sailing at her accustomed rate of speed across the bay. His evidence, however, was somewhat quashed by Counsel Phelan, who did some clever cross-questioning at this point. Ross stated that the ferry was brought to a stop in 20 feet, which of course would be absolutely impossible under the conditions, he declared.

Dineen's Great Exhibition of Furs

This Exhibition of Garments in all the different departments is a Special Feature of the World's Greatest Annual Fair

CANADA'S great exhibition in Toronto marks the final passage of summer and the first real days of fall. It likewise brings from the whole of Canada a crowd of visitors to our doors and it is natural that we should prepare for them in such a manner as to make their visit memorable.

Where it is possible merchants have put on at the Fair a special exhibit of the work they are able to produce. With us, however, we find that it is wiser and better to use our own show-rooms for the purpose because of the very extensive nature of the fur garments we have to display.

Visitors should remember that we have been making fur garments in Toronto for over fifty years and our knowledge of good fur must go unquestioned. We make everything in our own work-rooms from fur purchased by members of our own firm in Europe, Asia and in the far North of Canada. Our name on a garment is your guarantee that it is something above the superior.

Garments made from advance styles furnished by Paris, Berlin, London and New York in Alaska Seal, Persian Lamb, Moire Persian, Chinchilla, Canadian Mink, Hudson Bay Sable, Russian Sable, Pony Skin, Silver and Pointed and Arctic Fox, Baum Marten, Lynx, Alaska Sable and the lower grades of popular furs.

BOY SCOUTS DISPLAY AT THE FAIR TO-DAY

Youngsters Will Show Their Skill in Fine Points of the War Game.

The background of the boy scout display at the exhibition to-day will be a number of tents strung in crescent shape formation. When the reveille is sounded the scouts will emerge and at once enter upon their ordinary camp life, which will continue throughout the afternoon, and will provide an entertainment in itself. The foreground of the arena, however, will be used for displays of special branches of scout work. The display is made realistic and interesting by making it arise naturally out of a wagon accident, a burning house, a quarrel, an incident in scout warfare, a fray with savages, and so on.

The display that the British Boy Scouts will put on will be a perfect example of what might happen to an exploring party, or patrol of scouts, in a hostile country. They will enter the arena drawing their little transport carts, upon which are packed all their belongings, and proceed to pitch their camp, as they have done many times on the western prairie in the last few weeks. Cooking is soon in progress and the wonderful trek-cart is converted into a bath. Some scouts turn to and mend their clothes, and one wanders out to shoot some game. He is attacked by a hostile force; his comrades come to his rescue; his comrades are defeated; the wounded are brought in and attended to; the meal provided by the cooks is devoured; camp is struck, and with the trek-cart now converted into an ambulance wagon to convey the wounded, the self-contained little troop goes on its way. This, together with the first aid displays, the cavalry melees, the treasure camp and the grand horseback battle, will be among the spectacular items of the program. Not so noticeable, but equally important, will be the exhibition of signaling during almost the whole of the afternoon. Examples of semaphore and Morse code will be given by flag, smoke and wireless telegraphy.

Following the arrival of Baden-Powell at 2:30 and the opening of the exhibition there will be a review of the scouts and thereafter the following incidental display: Races of boy scouts, starts, boxing, wrestling, javelin race, physical drill, scout horse race, life-saving, tug-of-war, first aid, life-saving and fire brigade display, exhibition of knot-tying and display of cooking results, lassoing, cavalry musical ride and melees, scout games and horseback battle.

The Story of Our August Furniture Sale

is going to have a happy ending. We are so pleased with the appreciation that the people of Toronto have shown us in our efforts to sell the better kind of Furniture during August, that we have prepared for the last day a list of values that cannot be matched on the continent.

Our alliance with the best manufacturers now enables you to get the best of Furniture without paying "fancy" prices. We would like you to do more than look over the attached list; it's well worth your while to clip it out, and bring it with you to our Fifth floor to-morrow morning. Then look up each piece separately and tell us if it is not the best value you've ever seen.

Shades of the prison house! To-morrow, School Children's Day at the Fair, is the last bright spot in a child's Summer vacation, and definite notice to its parents that everything should be ready for school. Let the youngsters go to the Fair to-morrow, but let their parents find time to come and pick up these things for children when they are marked at such reasonable prices. It would be worth while having them come and try on the boots on their way to the grounds.

Bound in green cloth, with gold title. Eight full-page illustrations by F. Vaux Wilson, and special design in colors and gold on wrapper and poster. Price $1.10.
