REVEALS VOTE STEALING CONSPIRACY PHIL LOTT MAKES DAMAGING CHARGES

Trick Ballot Boxes Were to Save the Ontario Government When Provincial Elections Were Brought On, and a Sample Was Got in Office of Central Liberal Association in Toronto.

ONE BROTHER ACCUSING ANOTHER AND MEN OF PUBLIC PROMINENCE

Bogus Boxes Not Used in Federal Election Because Candidate Lott Failed to Get Extra Ballots, and Their Presence is Fully Established.

Belleville, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Today developed some surprising sensations in connection with the preliminary hearing of the libel charge against Editor Carman of The Ontario. The editor's revelations of Phil A. Lott were considered a most complete and damaging arraignment of his brother, Byron, who contested West Hastings in the Liberal interest on Nov. 3, and the counsel for the defence skillfully battered and badgered him for several hours, the chief witness did not make a damaging admission. The story of a wide conspiracy to defeat the will of the people at the polls was most convincing in the absence of contradiction, as Lott left the box to-night with his story unshaken. Great interest is evinced in the case, and the courtroom was packed at every one of the three sessions to-day.

The conspiracy was detailed fully by Lott, and E. Guss Porter, member-elect. Lott involves men prominent in this county and Frontenac, and traces the connection up to the central Liberal organization in Toronto. From his testimony, the trick ballot boxes were to be used only in two or three ridings in the federal elections, but they were to save THE ONTARIO GOVERNMENT WHEN THE PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS WERE BROUGHT ON. Lott's conclusion troubled him when his brother, the candidate, outlined what was to be done, and he told his wife he would make an exposure. He, however, decided to get a complete chain of evidence.

Couldn't Get Extra Ballots. He went to Mr. Porter some time before the election and told him that the boxes had been imported for use in the election, and Mr. Porter was fully informed where the boxes were. At the last moment, however, it was decided not to use them, AS THE CANDIDATE HAD FAILED IN HIS EFFORTS TO SECURE EXTRA BALLOTS. Returning Officer Williams kept the ballots so close that Byron decided to get some printed in the office of The Bancroft Reporter. The bogus ballots printed there were not satisfactory, and Mr. Lott went to Ottawa to get some printed.

BYRON LOTT BROUGHT THE FIRST BOX DOWN FROM TORONTO, SAYING HE GOT IT AT THE OFFICE OF THE CENTRAL LIBERAL ASSOCIATION. THIS WAS A SAMPLE BOX. Phil Lott went to Harrowsmith and interviewed W. J. Shibley, Liberal candidate in Frontenac. Shibley gave him a letter to T. J. Riley, a school teacher, who told him the boxes would be shipped from Prescott. Ten boxes were shipped to West Ontario Junction and ten to W. H. Carefoot at Kingston. This testimony was corroborated by the express agent at Prescott.

Phil Lott's story was told with apparent sincerity, and in no particular was he shaken. He seemed to be anxious to tell all he knew of the affair, but when he referred to his brother his words showed a trace of regret, his eyes moistening on one occasion, when he said he was sorry for his brother's part in the scheme.

Truly Painful Episode. It is a painful episode of the affair that the evidence which brings to light a deep plot to carry an election against a tremendous popular majority should involve the only brother of the narrator, with whom there apparently existed no bad feeling. If there was anything out of place in the narrative, Phil Lott is the levity which he occasionally interjected when in encounters with the examining counsel. His witty sallies produced merriment, which found outlet in frequent bursts of applause and laughter.

The Dominion select police, Sherwood and Chamberlain, were present in the court, watching the case on behalf of the government. It was announced by Mr. DuVernet that Mr.

Belleville, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Phil Lott, brother of Lott, Hastings, on that last Tuesday, was a stranger and unknown to him, he was offered enough of his life, but refused to consider the offer.

Hamilton, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's majority will probably be cut tomorrow, when there is probability of Wentworth being elected. The majority of the Liberal candidate, W. O. Sealey, over his Conservative opponent, E. J. Smith, was only 20. The Conservatives applied for a recount, which was held to-day before Judge Snider, with developments of a somewhat sensational order.

The recount had out Mr. Sealey's majority down from 20 to 15 when the judge, after the ballots from polling division No. 25, Beverly, which gave Sealey 47 votes and Smith 22. As the ballots were being counted it was discovered that the deputy returning officer, Adam Valens, had committed a serious blunder in numbering the ballots on the back the same as in the poll book. Mr. Smith's counsel urged that the ballots for the whole division should be thrown out, and if that is done Mr. Smith will be elected by a majority of 10.

Mr. Sealey's lawyers contended that if the ballots were thrown out the election should be voided. Judge Snider reserved judgment till to-morrow.

Sealey lost one vote in each of the following places: Canal Ward, Dundas; Woodburn, Haystack, Binbrook, Bakerville.

Tokio, Nov. 18.—(3 p.m.)—A telegram from Meiji reports the destruction of another Russian arsenal and magazine located at Port Arthur. The Japanese discovered it, said, the location of the arsenal and centred their artillery fire upon it. After dropping 200 shells in the locality they succeeded in blowing it up. The Japanese are widening their guns and are using them to move their guns forward. The Russians continue their spirited sorties, using hand grenades in their attacks upon the saps.

St. Catharines, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—About 215 this afternoon one of the sailors of the steamer Ocean, which was undergoing repairs in Muir's dry-dock at Port Dalhousie, saw a flame shooting from the hold. He raised the alarm, and almost as he shouted, fire seemed to burst out in every direction. The men who were working on the vessel had to drop their tools and run for their lives. There was no time to save anything, not even the men's clothes.

A fireman ran to his quarters to endeavor to get some belongings, but fire burst out all around him, and he was with difficulty saved. He was a brother fireman, James Ouellet, of Montreal, who rushed to his comrade's assistance. Ouellet and the other men were badly burned on their faces. There was no steam up and no fire in the ship's furnaces, so that there was no means of fighting the flames with the hose. The men had to stand and watch the Ocean become reduced to ashes.

Water Into Dock. The water was let out into the dock, and some planks having been pulled up, the water rushed into the dock and rushed into the hold and put out the fire. But the flames in the upper works of the vessel were not extinguished and there was great danger at times that the fire would spread to the village. The fire was extinguished by the use of water, but the vessel had to be abandoned in that case. The only other vessel nearby was the schooner Arthur, which was towed out of danger.

Request for aid was telephoned to the city, and Chief Riley's men took the steam engine and hose wagon, and made a very rapid four-mile trip, reaching the scene of the fire in forty minutes. The firemen threw two streams of water on the blaze, and it was not long before there was a lessening of the flames, but they continued for a long time to burn fiercely. Their intense heat was suggested by the catching fire of 25 tons of coal, which had been moved up to the bow in order that the steam of the firemen was raised to make necessary repairs possible. This coal burned itself out after a time, and by 6 o'clock the firemen had the fire practically out.

The Ocean burned to the gunwale line, and while there will be some salvage, she is almost a total loss. The fire started somewhere near the engine room, but from what cause is a complete mystery. Captain J. V. Trowell, of Toronto, who was in charge of the vessel, said he was completely mystified, and could not account for it at all. Several of the workmen carried torches, which was the only fire on board. The vessel was one of the oldest on the lakes and cost $200,000 to build. She is covered by insurance. The Captain Trowell did not know what companies were interested. She carried passengers between Montreal and Hamilton in the summer.

The fruce around Muir's dry-dock caught fire several times, but the turning of the water into the dock stopped the flames from spreading any further. There was no wind blowing, and that was fortunate for neighboring buildings and probably for the town itself.

IS BLAME TO BE ATTACHED TO MAN OR TO EQUIPMENT?

Crown Attorney Drayton Receives Information Which Reflects on Both—Inquest Opens on Tuesday Evening and Will Be Thoro.

Nothing new of an authoritative nature developed yesterday regarding the causes of the terrible fatality of Thanksgiving night. The injured man all doing well. There are many rumors on the street as to the cause. It is stated that Armstrong, the motorman, was under the influence of liquor. This fatal trip was the first of the day for him. It is claimed that evidence will be given at the inquest which begins next Tuesday night to prove this. It is also stated that the car which he took out was not in a proper condition for service, that it was partially condemned and should have been sent to the car hospital. This the crown, it is claimed, are positive they will be able to prove.

Another important fact will be brought out at the enquiry, and that is THAT OUTSIDE OF BRILLIANT TRAVEL OR NOT, AS FAR AS BRAKES, CLEANERS, OR THOSE WHO SEND OUT THE CARS, ARE NOT COMPETENT TO KNOW WHETHER A CAR IS IN PERFECT RUNNING CONDITION OR NOT. AS FAR AS BRAKES, CLEANERS, OR THOSE WHO SEND OUT THE CARS, ARE CONCERNED.

Officials at the King-street car barn, where Armstrong took his car, either moved or did not give the name of the motorman who he relieved. They said that if this man had been reported they would have reported them. They also said that the ill-fated car had stopped at the corner of Queen and More-streets at 2:45 o'clock. A firing party under Colonel Smith will assemble at the corner of Queen and More-streets at 2:45 o'clock. A firing party under Colonel Smith will assemble at the corner of Queen and More-streets at 2:45 o'clock.

It is said that Armstrong in conversation at the hospital yesterday declared that he endeavored to apply the brake, but it would not work. Then he tried to make use of the reverse attachment to the motor, but it also failed to respond to the demands. Then he jumped.

Coroner's Jury Visits Scene. Coroner Cotton yesterday commenced the enquiry into the cause of the fatal accident at the G.T.R. crossing at the intersection of King and York streets.

A CONGESTED THOROUGHFARE AND A CONGESTED CENTRE AND THE CURE.

Now that public opinion is aroused over the East Queen-street level crossing catastrophe, the authorities of the city and county may see the need of making some provision for the greater safety of the public.

Either by design or by accident things have taken the course that almost all the traffic coming into Toronto, either from the east or the northeast, or the west or the northwest, is forced down to the front of the city along Queen-street. And yet all the country traffic that comes into the city originates north of Bloor-street, but, as we said before, either by design or accident, it is forced down to Queen-street, where it congests. Take a look at the map, and you will see that all the country traffic, with the exception of the lake shore to the west, comes in on roads that run diagonally to the northeast and the northwest from the city hall. These roads are Dundas-street, the Weston and Davenport roads and the Vaughan-road, all west of Yonge-street. And east of Yonge-street there are the Don Mills-road, Dawes-road, the Kingston-road and the Danforth-road. All these roads strike the city north of Bloor-street and could all come in by Bloor or Gerrard street, either directly, or by two-level bridges, both of which have been long advocated by The World, namely, one from Danforth-avenue to Bloor-street and a high-level bridge at Queen-street over the Don.

And if anyone cares to go out to the corner of Bloor-street and Dundas-street he will see a peculiar condition of affairs, namely, that for a quarter of a mile, from Dundas-street on Bloor-street going eastward, there is nothing but a sandy road, thru which no loaded wagon can make its way. If it did, it would encounter the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific, which it can pass lower down over the Dundas bridge. But for some reason or other, this piece of roadway has been neglected and no one can come into the city by Bloor-street if they so desire—they must help to congest Queen-street.

The same thing happened in the east. The Bloor and Danforth viaduct has never been built, and for the want of this nearly all the country traffic to the northeast of the city has to come down a mile and a quarter south to Queen-street.

Then there is another condition that aggravates this situation. These diagonal roads leading into the city are nearly all of them in the worst possible condition. Let anyone drive to-day along the Davenport-road adjacent to the city, or in the city, or along the Kingston-road, or the Danforth-avenue, and they will find them altogether unfitted for the traffic that comes over them. The township council does not seem to be competent to provide proper roads; it seems to shift the responsibility on the city of providing an entrance by the three great arteries; namely, Dundas-street, over which there is a street railway track; and Yonge-street and Queen-street. Apparently the average township council will do nothing in the way of good roads unless it is forced to. We are sorry to say that even the municipality of Toronto Junction, with a population of over 5000 people, is not able to maintain a proper roadway on Dundas-street. The township council of York for a few thousand dollars could bring the first concession east of Yonge-street—Bayview-avenue is its pretentious name—which ends at Cummer's Hill, underneath the Canadian Pacific on the side of the hill and into Rosedale; but the township council hitherto has refused to carry this out. The late E. A. Macdonald has the plans laid and saw the advantage of the improvement. The same township council is trying at the present moment to extend Gerrard-street from Greenwood-avenue to Coxwell-avenue at a cost of a few thousand dollars, and thus let traffic into the city under the subway near Pape-avenue and over the high-level bridge across the Don on Gerrard-street by the fall. But this, too, will apparently fail, as this same council has been trying to do this same thing for several years past, and always manages not to do it. The high-level bridge on Gerrard-street and the subway constructed at a very considerable cost east of it have practically been useless for the lack of this extension of Gerrard-street.

The consequence of all the foregoing is that traffic is forced down to Queen-street and has to cross the railways at the most expensive points. There is no comparison between the cost of a small and yet efficient subway like that on East Gerrard-street under the Grand Trunk and the long and more expensive subway that have to be built in the centre of the city like those on Queen and King streets.

The Bloor and Danforth high-level viaduct would not cost $400,000, and once built it would give an uninterrupted roadway clear of railway crossings from Dovercourt-road in the west right over to the Kingston-road in the east, from six to seven miles in length. A high-level bridge at East Queen-street would let both the Grand Trunk and C. P. R. run underneath it and do away with two of the most dangerous level crossings that exist. A subway also must be built under the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific along West Bloor-street, and Bloor-street would then be eight or ten miles long and give an uninterrupted approach to the city free of all level railway crossings. Another dangerous crossing of this class that must be removed at an early date is that on Yonge-street of the Canadian Pacific, where the traffic originating north of the city comes in. Some of these bridges or subways are of even more accommodation to the people outside of the city than to the people inside of the city, and therefore legislation ought to be provided that would apportion the cost fairly on all those interested. The roads of the township leading into the city are so bad that the legislature should establish some kind of a commission to do the work necessary in providing decent highways, as it seems to be utterly beyond the capacity of the township councils.

The accident of Thanksgiving evening has long been delayed, but its coming was inevitable. Still more disastrous accidents must come in the near future if some intelligent solution is not found for the condition of affairs described above. There is no need to congest the traffic of Toronto when a few comparatively cheap expedients will distribute it and save time, save life and aid the convenience of everybody.

There is no reason why traffic should any longer be forced south to Queen-street when it would if it could come in more naturally to the north end; why Queen-street should be congested from one end to the other, and why the business of Toronto should have an interrupted approach to the city free of all level railway crossings. We suggest both to the east and west would let traffic from north of Bloor-street come along Bloor-street to any street it cared to come down, and in this way Spadina-avenue would be improved, the corner of Bloor and Yonge streets would become a prominent retail centre, and the Second and Third Wards, which we have always pointed out were more or less dead, would get an impetus of growth. The west end has had its full share of subways and bridges, and in consequence the west end is growing abnormally, making the city one-sided; the east side has been neglected.

IS THIS A JOKE? It looks like one, altho the city directory is not supposed to give to humor. But when one happens to run across this bit of information, it looks as if somebody had been fooling: "Trowell, John V., captain horse man, h 11 Cavvra-square." The captain is a well-known lake mariner.

AMATEUR FORGER'S POOR LUCK. Wanted all Bank Books Called for, But Couldn't Sign the Cheque. William Bell was arrested last night on the charge of stealing a bank book. Mr. Bell lived with Mr. and Mrs. Richard and Locker at 25 Chestnut-street. They are colored people. Richard had $91.50 to his credit in the Dominion Bank, Queen and Terminus streets. Bell went there, it is claimed, presented the bank book and told the teller he wished to draw out the full amount. Mr. Bank Clerk filled in the book of the cheque, Bill Bell fell down on the signature, and the bank clerk got him and he was arrested. His defence is that Mrs. Locker gave him the bank book with instructions to draw $15 for her, and that the bank clerk made a mistake in filling in the receipt for the fortune. Bill doesn't explain how he was going to get the fifteen without the proper signature.

shepherds of Toronto would take part in the prosecution at a later stage of the proceedings. The early part of the morning was devoted to the hearing of the reserved objections by Mr. McCammon, counsel for the accused, to the jurisdiction of the court in the hearing of the evidence claimed to be irrelevant.

As to Jurisdiction.
On the opening of the court, Mr. DuVerne acted for E. Guss Porter, who will act as counsel for the government, to appear with him. Mr. Shepley would be present as counsel for the accused as to the jurisdiction of the court. Mr. Porter had suggested that as the offence was committed in the county of York, the jurisdiction of the court should be in that county. He took the fullest responsibility for the selection of the magistrate. His learned friend, the opposite side has questioned his motive in this matter, but his only desire was to get at the facts. A serious charge which, if true, should drive that person out of public life. Mr. Porter has been charged with a conspiracy and was entitled to clear himself. When he had satisfied counsel for the government, he would meet them halfway, as he and his client were actuated by no spite or revenge. He believed in good citizenship. Mr. Porter was conducting the case at his own expense and felt it his duty to bring out all the facts. There had been no more important case in which he was involved, and all he asked was the fullest liberty to produce the evidence. The magistrate, in his time, was already taken up for part of next week. He would sit all day today and Saturday morning.

Stands for One Week.
Mr. DuVerne asked that the charge against Mr. O'Flynn be postponed for one week, and this was agreed to.

Mr. McCammon was perfectly willing to have Mr. Shepley act in conjunction with the prosecution. He gave the following additional objections to the jurisdiction of the court: That the information did not show where it was taken. Mr. Wood was not clothed with the authority of a justice of the peace; that Mr. Wood had not been sworn in as a justice of the peace; that this case having arisen out of a private matter, the magistrate should not try this case because he was an active participant in the said election. The information was not a true copy of the original. The information had been committed in the Township of Sidney and was colored by the alleged jurisdiction of the court.

Mr. McCammon said if they would maintain the serious charge against Mr. Carman he would assist in any way possible by giving to the prosecution any information he possessed. Otherwise he would resist the prosecution.

In reply Mr. DuVerne said Mr. Carman had deliberately charged Mr. Porter with an offence, and Mr. Porter invited him to come here and prove the charge. If the accused apologized and said he was in error the court should eliminate that portion of the charge.

The magistrate put in here that he had the oath of office 40 years ago and had been fully recognized since then. He said he would not be swayed by any matter but the criminal law case.

Mr. DuVerne said if the charge went to the matter would have to end.

Mr. McCammon: And if you confine yourself to this case we will have no objection.

Mr. Porter in the Box.
E. Guss Porter was put in the box and began the story of his knowledge of the bogus ballot boxes. From time to time Mr. McCammon interrupted stating objections to the evidence. He did not want any hearsay evidence, as this had nothing to do with the charge in the investigation. Mr. DuVerne contended that as Mr. Porter had been charged with a conspiracy, it was not necessary for him to show that he had no connection with the ballot boxes except in the way of the story as related to him by Phil A. Lott, the brother of the Liberal candidate in West Hants.

Mr. Porter said the first he knew of the boxes definitely was on the Sunday afternoon prior to the election, when he was told that bogus ballot boxes had been brought into the riding. On the Sunday afternoon following, in the presence of Mr. Corby and himself, election day, he related all the circumstances in connection with the matter.

Mr. DuVerne: Who was this person? Mr. Porter: Phil A. Lott.

Lott went to Mr. Corby's office, and Mr. Porter expressed surprise at seeing him there. "You're the last man I expected to see," he said.

Lott Had to Tell.
Lott said: "My God, it's awful, but I made up my mind to tell you. I then asked that Porter and Corby keep it quiet. Lott was pressed to explain, and finally said it was a matter of his conscience. He has a canvas tote bag, which he opened, and took from it a ballot box. Porter and Corby examined the box, and said it seemed to be all right. Lott closed the lid and asked them if they were satisfied the box was all right.

"We said it looked all right, and Lott again opened it. There were 12 pieces of paper marked with B. O. Lott's name. Lott explained how he dumped the ballots into the box by means of the handle of the box."

There would be more ballots in the box than were polled, and Lott showed them how the returning officer would switch a number of ballots into a compartment where they would not be seen when the box was opened. Lott took a piece of paper and showed how the scheme was worked. When asked if the returning officer would not detect the working of the handle, he said the returning officers would be instructed to do so.

CATARRH IS NOT A LUXURY OF A NECESSITY
Catarrah makes a man ridiculous—it makes an office a place of torment. It makes him dangerously sick. It is pretty sure to bring on consumption, pneumonia, or at least a chronic cough. You cannot afford either, but you can afford the cure for it. It is Dr. Allen's Catarrh Powder. It relieves a cold or catarrh, or cures a headache in 15 minutes. Don't hawk and spit and disgust your friends, but cure yourself by the use of this remedy.

PROTECTION OF LEVEL CROSSINGS
BOARD OF TRADE INVESTIGATING

Peculiar Coincidences in the Visit of Delegation to Buffalo on Thanksgiving Day.
It may well be considered coincidental that at the time of the happening of the Thanksgiving level crossing tragedy, President J. F. Ellis and Secretary F. G. Morley of the board of trade in Buffalo making enquiries along the line of the problem which, in the aftermath of the accident, is a general theme of discussion, namely, ways and means for obviating the dangers of such crossings.

The matter came up as an issue at a meeting of the board of trade council two months ago, but in the absence of data it was deemed necessary to allow it to stand over for a time. The visit of Messrs. Ellis and Morley to Buffalo on Thursday was with the purpose of getting such data, and they have returned very favorably impressed with the views of the board of trade of that city, as explained to them by its chairman, Augustus F. Scheel, chief engineer E. B. Gattner and Edward J. Brady, a commissioner.

A rather peculiar incident of their trip in Buffalo was the remark made by Mr. Ellis to an acquaintance who had spoken of the difficulty in getting people to take the proper grade crossing. The words were uttered as if he were speaking of an accident where several people were killed, and he was as closely as can be judged about the same time as the Buffalo crossing was crashed into by the engine.

At next Tuesday's meeting of the board of trade, the practical side of the crossing problem viewed from a vantage point not heretofore gained. It is also more probable that Mr. Gattner, who has expressed his willingness to speak before a general meeting of the board, will be invited to Toronto. Engineer Rust will likely be asked to be present also so that the practical side will be well represented in debate. Members of the board will have the privilege of inviting their friends, so that the meeting will be of an open kind.

The Buffalo commission was founded in 1888 as the result of an agitation of the local chamber of commerce. The board of trade of that city, who were state appointed, the posts being purely honorary and unpaid. The commission has since been reconstituted by the state and city each 25 per cent. In case the railway refuses to agree, the matter is referred to the superior court.

Should the railway neglect to begin work or to complete it the commission is empowered to use its own force and staff thereat and to recover the cost from the railway.
The commission is invested with very broad powers. It can, if necessary, order the closing of the crossing, acquire such property as may be needed. The expense of the commission, surveys, plans, engineers, etc., etc., are borne by the city.

Mr. Ellis expressed himself as not desirous of meeting Toronto's commission established, entirely free of aldermanic control. He approved approval of the permanent holding of the office of commissioner.

Dangerous Disregard.
A railroad official yesterday spoke of the Grand Trunk crossing at the freight sheds at the foot of John-street as a spot that offered a menace to passengers in the street railway cars operating along it.

The first he knew of crooked work was last fall, when a by-election was in progress. His brother, Ryan, told him in an off-hand way that the Tories had no chance to win, considering the Liberals had a majority. Ryan said they had a scheme to win West Hants. Witness thought that Ryan was not serious. They were going to steal it.

"I told him," said the witness, "that they couldn't work the blue pencil, as there was too big a majority. He told me of a box that worked with a spring. He said the government paid $50 for the patent which was taken out in the name of George Sullivan and Relyly were the men who brought them over to the city. I don't know whether he was nominated then or not, but after I was at my brother's he had one of the boxes, which he had got in Vancouver."

"Boxes Were a Winner."
Lott then described two trick boxes, one that worked with a spring, the other a hand worked, which he worked with the handle. It was about Oct. 1 when the second one came to my attention. Sunday before the nomination Ryan said he had received letters from Relyly, Sullivan and myself. He said the "W" appearing in one, he understood to refer to Watertown, N.Y. He said he had a box that he had made in Kingston to find out what the trick was. It was Shibley who referred him to the box. I don't know whether he mixed up with the case. Shibley knew what he came for.

Shibley wrote a letter of introduction to Relyly and gave it to Ed. Rutland, who drove witness. Relyly and Shibley seemed to understand, saying he would pay for the boxes. Relyly said twenty boxes were brought over to Prescott. He wrote the card addressed to Lott which was produced in court.

I have a card which says "boxes were a winner." Provided witness: "And I would take Almightly to defend the Ontario. I told him that I would not sell a man's coat at three and sevenpence the sheep from the coats all day."

Witness gave an ocular demonstration of how the sheep were to be divided. He said he was instructed in the election but had sent no money to the boxes. He said he had a card which he had given to Relyly of Lott's behalf. He had no knowledge of Relyly's Kingston.

Harry, well-known distiller and former member for the riding, fully corroborated Mr. Porter, except he could not remember the names of the men who were to get the boxes. He and Mr. Porter had a stationer had been boxes made for them. P. A. Lott's house, because the story had been told that Mr. Porter had instructed the whole party. Mr. Porter had told him that his brother, Ryan, had asked him to make affidavit that he would not get into the boxes. Mr. Porter and Corby. This Philip refused to do. Lott said that Mr. O'Flynn would not deny anything but he refused to renege himself. Mr. Corby denied sending his travel agency.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.
Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.
Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug, at all, but simply absorbs the germs and impurities in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the indurated masses which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh, in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, these are composed of the finest powdered willow charcoal and other natural antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of a large, pleasant tasting lozenge, the charcoal is so finely divided that it is absorbed in a much improved condition.

It is a general health-giving, purifier, sweetens breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can be done by its use. It is used, but on the contrary, "is a benefit."

A Buffalo physician in a recent issue of the "Medical Review" writes: "I have used Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach, indigestion, flatulency, constipation, and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although I have used them for years, I still believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

How It Happened.
Mr. Porter said he asked Lott how he had come to be in the box. Lott said he didn't expect any money, that it was a matter of conscience. Said Lott: "My brother expected me to take an oath that I'd do what was fair and then use one of these trick boxes. He'd said he'd give me $500. I'm a member of parliament and I think I ought to expose him. He has a feeling for me, and is willing that I should commit a crime in order that he might profit by it."

Lott asked what he should do and

ENGINEER TO REPORT.
At yesterday's meeting of the board of trade, the following resolutions were carried on motion of A. D. Foster:
1. That the dangers of the C.P.R. crossing over Queen-street at the Don, which is increased when the C.P.R. is brought down the side of the Don, be immediately resolved upon the part of permanent protection of this point, together with the matter of the cost thereof.
2. That in view of the serious accident at the Grand Trunk Railway crossing at the foot of John-street, and as the ever increasing traffic at this point will increase the liability of such accidents occurring in the future, be it therefore resolved that the city engineer be instructed to report upon the best means of permanently protecting this crossing, together with the estimate of the cost.

Mr. Roblin, anywhere in regard to the matter of the ballot boxes. Mr. O'Flynn then examined Mr. Corby and asked if he had any information. Mr. Corby replied he did not believe Mr. O'Flynn was in earnest about the matter. The Liberals had done so much in other places to screw jury parties that he had no faith in them.

Phillip Lott Sues Porter.
Phillip Lott was called. He acted as deputy returning officer in the election, and the story, unshaken in cross-examination, bore out the recital of Mr. Porter.

The first he knew of crooked work was last fall, when a by-election was in progress. His brother, Ryan, told him in an off-hand way that the Tories had no chance to win, considering the Liberals had a majority. Ryan said they had a scheme to win West Hants. Lott said that Mr. O'Flynn would not deny anything but he refused to renege himself. Mr. Corby denied sending his travel agency.

Thought It Was Crooked.
After review Lott said he had a conversation with Frank Conroy, deputy returning officer, on the day of the election. Conroy said: "I thought there was some trick work on or would have been appointed a member of the provincial election. When he had spoken 12 ballots and only got one."

They had come to the conclusion on the Tuesday before the election that the boxes would not be used because they could not get the boxes. His brother said they would have the boxes made in the morning. They would get lots of ballots to use them. Mr. Conroy questioned Lott as to why, trouble he had with some people in Dawson. He was suspicious of some and of some people for selling liquor and getting him into trouble. He was appointed a member of the provincial election. Lott had told him that he would be appointed a member of the provincial election. Lott had told him that he would be appointed a member of the provincial election. Lott had told him that he would be appointed a member of the provincial election.

ISSUES STRONG DENIAL.

To a reporter of The World, Mr. Stratton said he had read the statement which, it is said, has been made by Philip Lott to Mr. Porter in connection with the alleged bogus ballot boxes, and the statement is so absolutely false and malignant in its character that only a harshly and severely reprimanded strong in denial and condemnation. He heard anything about these ballot boxes, directly or indirectly, until it was circulated in Peterborough on election day, from Belleville, and subsequently read it in the press, and the statement so far as I am concerned is in the most false and every respect.

Philip Lott was convicted on Aug. 18, 1904, for selling liquor without a license in the Township of Seymour and was fined $50 and costs. He made application to this department, supported by a resolution of the Council of the Township of Seymour, asking that the fine be remitted. Notwithstanding the resolution I did not consider for one moment the remission of the fine, and this action may account in some measure for his having so maliciously connected my name with something that I know nothing about. The story is so utterly concocted, the story is utterly false, and without a particle of justification. It is a gross and malicious attempt to be used for the purposes suggested.

The whole matter only needs to be placed to the bottom to prove how utterly untrue the statement is. I am anxious that the fullest investigation should be made, and that assistance I can render will be cheerfully given.

They met at Millard's undertaking establishment. After being sworn in by the coroner, they were taken to the bodies of Mrs. Mahany and Victor McKay. They then went to the scene of the accident, where they spent some time examining the wreck of the street car and becoming familiar with the various points which will be brought out in evidence during the trial. The coroner will be resumed on Nov. 22 at Dingman's Hall.

Warrants for Arrest.
A warrant has been issued for the arrest of William Armstrong, the motorist, but he has not yet been taken from his hospital. He was visited by Crown Attorney Drayton and made a rambling statement, which Mr. Drayton refuses to make public until Monday, when he is to make public the hospital but were not permitted to hold any conversation with Armstrong. The general utility of the street car and the fact that it was not permitted to hold any conversation with Armstrong with committing culpable homicide and slaying three persons.

Mr. Drayton said he has had considerable information, some of which places blame on the motorist and some of which places blame on the car and the condition of the brakes. The truck which is lying nearest the wrecked truck shows that the brakes on the truck were not taken a grip on the wheel. Between the brake and the wheel on the truck, the grip there is an inch of space. J. M. Godfrey has been engaged to look after Armstrong's interests.

An expert who examined the mechanism of the ruined car says that the appearance of the brakes was due to the jarring of the collision. He seemed to think that the appearance of the controller box indicated that it may have been out of gear, altho the effects of the smashing by the locomotive will make it very difficult to determine the possible to provide expert evidence of a definite nature.

The Question of Brakes in Use.
The question of brakes in use on the cars of the Toronto Railway Co. is one that will no doubt largely enter into the evidence to be taken at the inquest. Already writers are sending telegrams to Newmarket, where the company is charged with parsimony and "cutting the hand brake as old-fashioned and useless." The general utility and safety of brakes is one that for a long time has been open to question. The Metropolitan Railway, the cars of which were made by the Toronto Railway Company, the air brake is used. Some of these have been taken off because they were not satisfactory. On a long-distance run, like the cars running to Newmarket, where there are few stops, they work well; but where cars have to stop frequently and have to be drawn up in a short space they do not meet the requirements. Other systems in use are the ratchet brake and the friction brake.

The friction brake is one that worked admirably on the cars of the Toronto Railway Company until last winter, when, on account of the large amount of slush and water, many of them were found to be defective in their mechanism and they bound and stuck. Different shaped cars are equipped with different brakes, it having been found that one kind of brake is not suited to every kind of car. The old ratchet brake is still used on modern cars and is considered to have its advantages. The question, like the one in the minds of railway officials, is whether the Metropolitan Railway has made any improvement in its brake system.

Superintendent Grace claims that Agent George Ewan, Mackenzie and other railway officials were busy yesterday securing particulars of the accident. He said that the city should in fact have a solicitor present at the inquest to look after the city's interest in the mechanical condition of the cars on the fullest and most searching investigation possible in order to bring out every side of the case. It was impossible to lay the blame until the facts were all known, but the accident had increased the desirability of making the application to the legislature for power to appropriate the street railway system.

Bell
PIANOS

A musical enthusiast said to us lately that in a little while everybody would have a Bell Piano, because of its magnificent tone and unusually fine construction. "All that is needed," said our patron, "is that people should be told about it and see and hear it for themselves." The plain fact is that the Bell never fails to attract and enthral people of musical judgment and taste.

The tone is remarkable alike for its beauty and power. There are volume and power; there are delicacy and liquid purity; there are singing quality and balance—all in remarkable degree. The illimitable quick repeating action used makes the Bell an established favorite with musicians. You cannot listen to the Bell Piano without being conscious of the superiority of its tone—without being moved to warmest praise.

As the result of careful manufacture, as the outcome of technical exactitude in every particular, this instrument could not be other than fine. But what is more important to the purchaser, it is superlatively fine. As a matter of fact, no one can listen to the tone of the Bell without expressions of wonder and enthusiasm, for its tone is peculiarly delightful; it has warmth and singing quality, sweetness and power, volume and exquisite modulation.

If you have the room for a square piano buy from the Bell Piano Co. a good one that will last you for years. You will also have in our bargain cabinet pianos, uprights, and various makes, at unusually low prices. If you cannot call write for list.

ITS RECORD AGAINST IT: The Globe goes to a great deal of trouble to try to show that its attitude towards the Hamilton Street Railway is identical with its methods of dealing with the Toronto Street Railway.

It attempts to show that it has been consistent and only succeeds in moving its hypocrisy. "Now surely," says The Globe, "the sacredness of contract protects both parties to it."

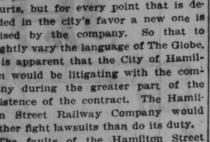

Not for a moment would the Globe entertain The World's suggestion that because of its deliberate violations of the terms of its agreement the Hamilton Street Railway should forfeit its franchise.

"The cheap demagoguery," it said, "in which the World indulges in promoting public ownership does not cause more than a passing remark."

Was The Globe right when it enunciated the foregoing doctrine in regard to the Hamilton Street Railway case, or is it right now when it decimates in regard to the Toronto Street Railway's violation of its agreement that it should favor an application to the legislature for power to extinguish the street railway for municipal operation.

NEW THOUGHTS: Are you growing more attractive as you advance in life? "Given a healthy body," says Dr. R. V. Pierce, the specialist in cases of Buffalo, N. What is his OFFENCE? The proceedings at Ward Two Conservative Association the other night seemed to indicate that a movement is on foot to deprive Dr. Beattie Nesbitt of the position he has won in the Conservative party in Toronto.

VALUABLE FRANCHISES: Late converts to a great public cause are always apt to let their zeal outrun their discretion.

There is undoubtedly in all public services administered by private corporations an enormous increment which is produced by the citizens and is in no degree attributable to the monopoly holders. More especially is this true of a rapidly growing city like Toronto.

TORONTO TEACHERS IN GUELPH

The Toronto teachers who made a pedagogic invasion of the educational institutions in and about Guelph yesterday included nearly 400 of the public school preceptors of the city.

The new rural consolidated school, built by Sir William Macdonald, was a point of special interest.

A lecture was given by Principal Hodgins of the consolidated school, telling of the steps that led to its building.

Some of the teachers improved the time until the train left by making a flying trip thru the Bell Piano and Organ Works, and at 7:30 the party was back in the city again.

The movement of crops was formerly a problem, but railways and trolley lines almost to the farmer's door have solved the transportation, writes Isaac F. Maroussion.

These farmers basted their grain—of a distance of 25 miles—to Guelph, the route of the Great Northern Railway passed. It kept the farmers from the market.

T. C. Robinson, K.C., visited the premier at the Queen's Park yesterday afternoon and left the buildings with the premier's secretary.

PRICE CONSIDERED HIGH CITY DOES NOT LOSE HOPE

Facts Relating to the Ottawa Street Railway and Ottawa's Proposal to Buy It.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Altho it is admitted by all that the price asked by the Ottawa Electric Railway for a decided high one, the city has not lost hope of acquiring the road to be operated by the municipality. At the last meeting of the special committee it was decided to have the city engineer prepare a report as to the condition of the road and plant, the city solicitor as to the legal phase of the question, and the city auditor as to the financial aspect and the prospects of the city making the venture pay at even a high purchase price.

Offered $210 a Share.

The committee offered the company $210 instead of $20 per share, but the company would not come down. As to the manner of paying for the road, the plan approved by the sub-committee is:

If a sale be made to the city the purchase price should be paid by the city issuing bonds carrying interest at 4 per cent, which would be exchanged for the company's stock. In this way would be taken by the shareholders of the company on payment for their stock. This is the proposition accepted by the city. The acceptance of it makes the financing of the project by the city a comparatively simple matter if the sale is carried out. In that case the bonds should be twenty years, without sinking fund. Then, in the legislation required, the right to issue other bonds to renew these should be obtained, and a sinking fund of at least 1 1/2 per cent, provided for the second issue, so that at the end of the second term of 20 years a considerable portion would be paid off. Authority should also be obtained to reissue the balance of the bonds for a further term of twenty years, with full sinking fund, to the extent of whatever amount is lacking in the sinking funds to meet the full second issue. It is also proposed to make the bonds of the street railway assets and undertakings of the street railway when taken over by the city, the bonds of the street railway, with all its appurtenances and property, in the event of the city defaulting on the bonds. In this way the debt incurred by the city in the purchase of the street railway should be borne and carried by the street railway, with its appurtenances and property, the same being a substantial asset.

The debt incurred in the purchase would also be in the earnings of the street railway alone, and the city would then have a fine property, without expense to the ratepayers.

Operate by Commission.

As to the manner of operating the road, Mayor Ellis, the father of the scheme, thinks there should be a commission of the mayor and two citizens elected alternately for two or three years, by the ratepayers. This would be the way with the franchise, which would be in evidence if the city could not make the appointments.

Your correspondent endeavored to find out from the company the number of passenger cars, the valuation of the different assets of the company, etc.

Appetite Was Poor. Dizzy Most of the Time. Could Not Sleep at Night.

Many people are unaware of having anything wrong with their heart or nerves till some little excitement or overwork makes them feel faint and dizzy, or perhaps simply going up or down stairs causes dizziness and specks to float before the eyes. People troubled in this way should heed the warning, and not fail to take treatment before something more serious occurs.

For all heart and nerve troubles there is nothing so equal

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

We do not claim that they will cure chronic heart disease, but we do claim that they will strengthen the weak heart, and build up the shaky nerve system.

Here is what Mrs. Sidney Hoffman, Ellisville, Ont., says:—

"I was troubled greatly with my heart, and was so very nervous that the least little thing started me. My appetite was very poor; I could not sleep at nights, and was dizzy most of the time. I took three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and I am very pleased to say that they did me a wonderful lot of good."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25. All druggists, or mailed direct.

but the company did not care to give much more at present than that contained in the annual statement. It is understood, however, that there are 100 or more cars, including 100 open cars, seven sweepers and two snow plows. The park at Britannia comprises 15 acres. There are four hydraulic water lots, power houses and a modern storage battery. The distance from Britannia to the Rockcliffe rifle range is eleven miles. These are the two most distant points of the service, and the fare from the centre of the city to either is ten cents, or two tickets. There are all 43 miles of track, the street distance being about 25 miles.

The committee offered the company $210 instead of $20 per share, but the company would not come down. As to the manner of paying for the road, the plan approved by the sub-committee is:

If a sale be made to the city the purchase price should be paid by the city issuing bonds carrying interest at 4 per cent, which would be exchanged for the company's stock. In this way would be taken by the shareholders of the company on payment for their stock. This is the proposition accepted by the city. The acceptance of it makes the financing of the project by the city a comparatively simple matter if the sale is carried out. In that case the bonds should be twenty years, without sinking fund. Then, in the legislation required, the right to issue other bonds to renew these should be obtained, and a sinking fund of at least 1 1/2 per cent, provided for the second issue, so that at the end of the second term of 20 years a considerable portion would be paid off. Boston, Nov. 18.—Contributions aggregating $13,000 for the Irish parliamentary fund have been forwarded to Ireland from this city by the United Irish League within a week. The amount included $12,000 from Philadelphia and $1,000 from sympathizers with the home rule movement in Toronto, Ont.

Sixteen Hours in an Open Boat.

New York, Nov. 18.—After 16 hours in an open boat, the crew of the "Philo" were rescued by the steamer "Grenada" which arrived here today. The "Philo" was abandoned about 30 miles from Bermuda, after a hopeless struggle with the hurricane which passed up the coast last Sunday night. Her crew of 16 men had been shipped away from her foremast broken and water was pouring into her hold in a flood when the crew got away in the Helicot, leaving all their personal effects behind. They had been in the boat for 16 hours, and had lost all their provisions. The "Grenada" under command of Captain E. W. Benson, of the "Philo" port, and was off Hoag Island, Va., when the storm broke.

The Look Arm of the Law.

William Dink, who was employed by the William Davies Company, has been arrested in Campbellville. He will be brought to Toronto to stand his trial on the charge of stealing $11 from the company's office when he worked as a driver. When he left Toronto, Dink went to Campbellville, his former home.

Afflicted with Erysipelas For Ten Years. Cured by Four Bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters.

Mrs. N. Peister, of Brighton, Ont., was Cured Two Years Ago and Has Had No Return of It Since.

Read what she says:—"It is now about two years since I was cured of a terrible attack of Erysipelas, with which I had been afflicted for ten years. I had tried almost everything, including medicine from several doctors, but could get no relief. I had given my case up as hopeless, but I procured five bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it completely cured me. In fact, the cure has been permanent. It is now two years since I took Burdock Blood Bitters, and I have not had the slightest sign of the disease returning. I fully believe that your wonderful remedy has taken it so completely out of my system that I shall never be bothered again with it. I have the greatest of faith in Burdock Blood Bitters."

THIRTY LIBERALS BY ACCLAMATION

Montreal, Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Thirty Liberal members were elected today to the legislative assembly by acclamation. The following counties have returned members to assist the Parent government:

Arthabaska, Bagot, Bellechasse, Bonaventure, Dorchester, Hamilton, Kamouraska, Laprairie, Le Haut-Paradis, Levesque, Lotbiniere, Matane, Montserrat, Montmagny, Montserrat, Nicolet, Quebec Centre, Quebec County, Richmond, Rimouski, St. Lawrence, Temiscouata, Veillon, Yamachouane, Yverdrum, Two Mountains, Riverview.

All the ministers holding portfolios have been returned by acclamation—Premier Parent, Hon. L. G. Gouin in St. James, Hon. J. J. Gauthier in St. Lawrence, Hon. W. A. Vein and Hon. Dr. Goerin, ministers without portfolio, are being opposed in Argenteuil and St. Anne's, respectively.

Hon. A. LeBlanc has been returned by acclamation in Laval, while Hon. E. J. Flynn and L. E. Pellerin are without seats in Nicolet and Dorchester. Liberals have taken their places in the new House of Commons.

The idea of running National candidates in the provincial election, as proposed by the Hon. A. LeBlanc, is being opposed in Laval, and will then probably be asked to support the Conservative candidates in Bonaventure, Champlain, Charlevoix, Compton, Jacques Cartier, Joliette, Massimino, Bouchette, Sherbrooke, Soulanges and Stanstead. Hon. A. LeBlanc is expected to speak in favour of the National candidates in the following counties: Champlain, Hochelaga, Lake St. John, St. Lawrence, St. Anne, Ottawa, Napierville, Quebec East, Sherbrooke, Terrebonne, Vercheres, Drummond and Wolfe.

LIVED FIFTY-TWO YEARS IN TORONTO

Death of David Bee—Was Baker to British Garrison Here.

The death of David Bee at his home, corner of Church and McGill-streets, yesterday morning removed one of the old residents of Toronto. For several years he had been afflicted with paralysis, and on election day an accident overtook him, by which one of his ribs was broken. He was in his 72nd year, and came to Toronto 52 years ago, when it was a mere village. From Leith, Scotland, when Toronto was occupied by a British garrison, he, being a baker by trade, had the contract of supplying bread for the soldiers. The Central Prison also depended upon his supplies for a time. He was an old member of the Masonic order and of the old (Unionist) Presbyterian Church.

WEDS HIS STENOGRAPHER.

Charles W. Post Takes a Poor Girl for Bride.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 18.—Charles W. Post, multimillionaire manufacturer, has wedded a poor girl, Miss Mary Post, here today at the home of the bride's parents, only the members of the families being invited. The bride is a young woman employed by Mr. Post for the last five years, and insists she will continue to look after his manuscripts as before, saying: "My husband is a hard worker, and would not be angry if I were to remain in the office." She is a tall, graceful and strikingly handsome young woman, 29 years of age. Mr. Post, who has travelled extensively with his daughter in Europe and America, was drawn up outside the hotel, where he was designed in Chicago, is said to have been the most expensive evening of that city, and is estimated to cost $30,000. Mr. Post was married to a former wife, and is now maintained on $100 a month. The couple left for a wedding tour through the southwest, and will reside permanently in the city where Mr. Post has built a handsome $200,000 home. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Young, a striking contrast to the promised residence of the bride and groom in the home of the bride's parents.

ONE CENT A WEEK FOR THREE WEEKS.

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—The delegates to the American Federation of Labor today voted unanimously to levy an assessment of one cent a week on each member in aid of the textile workers now on strike at Fall River, Mass. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 1,400 to 400. The vote was unanimous, and was received with great cheering. The assessment is to be levied on the members of the organization for a period of three weeks, and the amount is to be used for the benefit of the strikers.

WHEAT ACREAGE LESSENS.

The average and 1904 stock returns, given by the compiling statistics for 1904, which have just been issued by the British board of agriculture, give some interesting particulars as to the wheat acreage in the country. There is a decline of 25,000 acres on the total acre planted to wheat and grass, as compared with last year, but the decrease is entirely due to the decrease in the acreage for railway and building purposes. The acreage under wheat in the United Kingdom, including fallow, is 1,382,700 acres, or an increase of 100,000 acres over last year. There are 2,000 more acres now sown in wheat than in 1903. The increase in the number of sheep amounts to 42,000.

UNION TYPEWRITER COMPANY LIMITED.

HEAD OFFICE: 7-9 ADELAIDE ST. W. TORONTO.

Nov. 16, 1904.

Messrs. Newsome & Gilbert

City

Gentlemen:—For the past year and a half you have been promising and advertising through various mediums a new visible typewriter, which to use your own words, was to be infinitely superior to anything yet placed on the market.

Taking advantage of your kind invitation we inspected your machine yesterday under the demonstration of Mr. Lee Kingsley, direct from the Home Office, and presumably its makers best demonstrator. After examining the machine and witnessing Mr. Kingsley's demonstration, we have concluded that the Underwood typewriter, which is now so popular with Users, excels in many vital points, which should be embodied in the mechanism of a good writing machine.

With a firm belief in the superiority of our machine, we would challenge you to demonstrate before the public, in what particular features or devices your machine is superior to the Underwood. We would be willing to have your expert Mr. Kingsley demonstrate for you; we will furnish a local demonstrator.

Points to be judged as follows:—

- Durability.
- Simplicity of Construction.
- Automatic conveniences.
- Paper feed accuracy.
- Line spacing accuracy.
- Character of work.
- Interchange-ability of ribbon and parts.
- Permanency of alignment under various tests.
- Simplicity of lever and type-bar mechanism.
- Ease of making insertions.
- Tabulating.
- Adjusting margins for different width papers.

We agree to submit to the verdict of three judges, one chosen by you, one by us, and a third to be decided upon by the two thus selected. Decision to be based upon the greatest number of points as outlined above.

It must be agreed by both parties that the losing side must give $100.00 to the Sick Children's Hospital. This challenge must be accepted within twenty-four hours.

Yours truly,

UNION TYPEWRITER CO., LIMITED,
per J. G. McRae.

GARMENTS OF QUALITY

People ask us how it is that we are able to procure such all around perfect pelts for our fur garments.

The explanation is obvious. We are the largest fur dealers in Canada, and being such we have an advantage in buying in large quantities for cash and obtaining big discounts—we select what is good and discard the balance—we don't handle poor furs at any price.

Then you know that Dineen fashions are absolute—we can't say that we originate designs because we always look to Paris for the latest creations. Just remember, however, that Paris depends on us for "quality."

disturb and cause a temporary rally. Sell corn on any sharp advance. Oats—Receipts were small and the cash demand fairly good. Trade small and unimportant, with prices about steady. It is a narrow scaling market.

Provisions—Weakness in corn was against the market, which held fairly well under the circumstances, and shows good resistance to the selling.

E. & C. Randolph to J. Lorne Campbell; Chicago, Nov. 18.—Wheat—Not much of a market, and the level for delivery was lower. More or less long stuff came out, but was absorbed by shorts on the day before. Trade again in professional and local scaling. Argentina shipments, 98,900 bushels; Indian, estimated, 2,000,000 bushels. Primary receipts for the week will be about 75 per cent. of last year.

Corn—Quiet; weak and lower, especially December, which sold at 1 1/2c at one time, under pressure of offerings and poor demand. The continuing moderate weather for curing and the increasing receipts as well as liberal country offerings and light shipping demand all served to create weakness. Primary receipts for the week will be nearly 50 per cent. in excess of last year. Sheets look advantage of the decline to cover, but the market acted heavy.

Oats—Quiet and steady, without special price change. The long holders of May have a carrying charge of 1 1/2c, and the receipts very light, the latter tending to hold the market in these face of big stocks.

Provisions—Hogs, 5c to 10c lower, with 25,000 lb. 15.00 for Saturday, December 24 1/4; March, 7 3/4; May, 7 3/4. Corn—Most American receipts steady, 48 1/2; futures, steady; December, 48 1/4; January, 48 1/4. Bacon—Cumberland end, weak, 41 1/2; short rib, dull, 45c.

Liverpool Grain and Produce. Liverpool, Nov. 18.—Closing—Wheat—Spot, nominal; futures, quiet; December, 2 1/4; March, 7 3/4; May, 7 3/4. Corn—Most American receipts steady, 48 1/2; futures, steady; December, 48 1/4; January, 48 1/4. Bacon—Cumberland end, weak, 41 1/2; short rib, dull, 45c.

Receipts of live stock at the city market were 11 carloads, composed of 90 cattle, 650 sheep, 3 calves and 200 hogs. Prices were unchanged in all the different classes.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS 'JACK-THE-HUGGER' SCARE

Three Toronto Junction Ladies' Unpleasant Experience—Annexation Argument Postponed.

Toronto Junction, Nov. 18.—Toronto Junction has a "Jack-the-Hugger" mystery which so far has baffled every effort made by the police and private individuals to unravel. Some months ago the wife of a prominent barrister was attacked by the unknown "hugger" at a point on Louisa-street where a thick growth of trees grows close to the roadside. The screams of the lady scared away the assailant. Nothing further transpired until during the past 10 days, when the unknown assailed three ladies in that part of the town bounded by Annet-street, Gladwyn-avenue, road, Lakeview-avenue and Quebec-avenue. The assaults were made after dark in two cases, the ladies escaping in each instance.

The young lady had a desperate struggle with the scoundrel, and scratched his face so vigorously that she felt certain she can identify him should she see him again. She described him as being about 23 or 24 years of age, well dressed and good looking. The man is forming a vigilance committee and preparing to take the Junction "Jack-the-Hugger" with a coat of tar and feathers and a swift trip out of town on a fence rail.

Electors of the Third Ward are pressing ex-Mayor Armstrong to stand for reelection on the ground that there has been no time in the town's history when men of his business ability were more needed than now. It is understood that a strong effort will also be made to induce ex-Mayors Cline and Lambton to stand for reelection in other wards. A. M. Wilson and C. Hall are spoken of as candidates for the Fifth Ward.

Anniversary services will be held in the evening at the Methodist Church on Sunday, Rev. Mr. Baker will preach in the evening. Margaret Irene Guthrie, only child of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Guthrie, 76 Hallow-avenue, died this morning at 2:30 p.m. of typhoid fever. She was 23 years of age.

To-day the G.T.R. had a big gang of men laying the rails on their new switch on Carver-avenue, from the main line and along the west side of the street. The Junction company's works. The original intention was to continue this switch across Junction-road to Campbell's mills and the Comfort Soap Works, but this course was blocked by the C.P.R., which built a crossing over Junction-road and connected it with the tracks on the Grand Poultry Company's property, and at the same time secured the right to continue the switch south along Carver-avenue to Campbell's mills and the soap works, thus blocking the G.T.R.'s move in the same direction and preventing them obtaining access to the factories situated there.

A horse attached to one of Bredin's delivery wagons ran away on Dundas-street today. The driver stuck to his post until the horse suddenly bolted across the street opposite Union-street, and brought one of the wheels up against a telegraph pole. The vehicle was only slightly damaged. The motion was the mandamus to compel the Toronto Municipal Council to submit the annexation to the people, which was to have been argued at Osgoode's.

A UNIQUE DEER SEASON NOT ONE FINE IMPOSED

Also it was the Driest in the Thirty-Three Years' Experience of Detective Greer.

Inspectors Greer and Rogers of the provincial detective force returned last night from the Muskoka district, where, during the period of the deer hunting season, they were employed looking after the observance of the laws laid down for sportmen, and seeing to it that none but duly qualified license-holders brought down game. The territory covered by the two was along the chain of lakes well known to every deer hunter, being Pine, Bird, Wood, Luck, Bigwin and Clear lakes, and the southern branch of Muskoka River, ground they have covered annually for years.

Mr. Greer found the season a unique one, inasmuch as it developed not a single complaint of any kind, and there was no need to exercise any authority whatsoever. In every past year, they had found it necessary to impose fines in a few cases at least. In all about ten or a dozen camps of hunters were visited.

Detective Greer, whose experience of the Muskoka district which he has for 35 years, declared emphatically last night that the weather was the driest he had ever seen in the district. During the three weeks he was away there was not a vestige of rainfall, the days being uniformly bright and sunny, something he had never known before. These conditions were against successful hunting, but the animals shot were mostly very young and lacked size.

He himself, the not on the ground as a sportsman, brought down a fine buck. There was good partridge shooting, and a fair chance to knock down varieties of quail.

SIMPSON COMPANY LIMITED

STORE CLOSING AT 5.30 P.M.

Men's $3.50 Trousers at $2.49

Another of those cases where the Men's Store gets you into direct touch with the clothing manufacturer. We can sell trousers Monday at about the price you'd pay for them yourself if you were in the retail clothing business instead of an individual "consumer."

225 pairs Men's Fine English Worsted Trousers, all new patterns, medium and wide stripes, in dark grays with white and colored rope stripe effect, cut in the latest style and perfectly tailored, sizes 32 to 44, regular 3-50, on sale Monday at 2-49

A Buffalo Coat, $12.00

"For one hundred and twenty, you mean." No, $12. It's not the hide of an old plains roamer from the west, but it's near it. It's just as warm, and you know what the old Buffalo coats were. It looks just like it, but it's not real buffalo fur, it's imitation, with a wind-proof interlining of rubber.

The buffalo himself is gone, and the few buffalo coats and robes remaining are thin and worn, or prohibitive in price to ordinary folk. Here's a good practical substitute, just as warm, just as brown and furry, for $12.00.

Men's Imitation Buffalo Fur Coats; made from the very best quality cloth, in dark brown color; close, heavy and even cut; the whole coat interlined with good serviceable rubber cloth and best quilted cotton body lining, making this coat, we believe, one of the best on the market at the present time; our special price 12.00

Men's Wools

In the Furnishings department great satisfaction is expressed at the splendid stock of woolen underwear and comfort, bringing garments of various knitted kinds which we have so successfully collected for this winter. DEAFNESS

FREE BOOK ON ITS CURE

A book that contains knowledge of the greatest value and assistance to deaf people is being given away absolutely free of charge by Dr. Sproule, B. A., the famous Ear Specialist. It contains important information in regard to his recent discovery of a new and successful cure for deafness.

For years Dr. Sproule, whose heart always aches with sympathy for the deaf, has studied the cause and cure of deafness. Year by year he has gained, through his experience as an unequalled Ear Specialist, and his constant scientific research, fresh knowledge in regard to deafness and how to cure it.

Always Had Weak Lungs

Before Using Dr. Slocum's PSYCHINE (PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)

The greatest of tonics and disease destroyers

When it is considered that one may live a few days without water or only a month without food—yet for only a few moments without air, the great importance of taking every care of the respiratory organs, the lungs, is clearly realized.

Psychine Built Me Right Up

Linden, N.S., November 7, 1904. "I cannot speak too highly for your excellent and very valuable remedy for weakness of throat, lungs or declining conditions. My brother, mother and sister were all cured by your Psychine. I noticed a tendency in this direction, but thank God, through the use of Psychine I today enjoy good health. I suffered for some two years from a distressing, obstinate cough and weak lungs. I used Psychine and Oxomulsion, and they now strong and I enjoy splendid health. Yours truly,

ELLA M. COVE. The cause of almost every organic disease is traced to a weak throat or affected lungs. The lungs being the primary organs in the circulation of the blood, if they become diseased the blood takes on impurities which are delivered to every part of the body. General weakness, run-down system, indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, loss of flesh, night sweats, chills and fever, feelings of depression are the outcome of diseased lungs and are the allies of consumption.

Psychine and fresh air are doing wonders for lung sufferers. It is truly specific known to modern medical science which will cure either incipient or advanced consumption.

Psychine is the greatest protection against all disorders of Throat, Chest, Lungs and Stomach. If you are quick to catch cold, have pain on taking a long breath, or subject to catarrh or weakness of the throat, buy Psychine. The work of Psychine tells wherever the lung, stomach or the system need to be strengthened and built up.

Psychine is pronounced SI-KEEN

$8 Suit Cases for $5.95

These cases are the result of months of effort on the part of this store's Trunk Department. The manufacturer of them declares, with tears in his eyes, that they cost him every cent he charges us for them. No dress suit case like it can be bought elsewhere under $8.00, and you can spend more than that and fail to get as good.

60 Fine Cowhide Suit Cases; lined-lined, two outside straps, going all around, four inside straps, two brass bolts and locks combined, size 24 inches; regular $8.00; on sale Monday, 5-95

Great Showing of Presentation Umbrellas

The man or woman who chooses an Umbrella to give is one of the wise ones whose gift is appreciated for practical as well as sentimental reasons. The sentiment clings all the longer to gift that has usefulness. These holiday umbrellas of ours are certainly beauties, though.
