Great Damage Is Done By Floods In New Brunswick and Maine

Very Disastrous Floods Have Swept The Province

C. P. R. Traffic Completely Blocked by Washouts—People Up River Move Out—High Tide and Wind Flood Wharves—Damage Over $1,000,000.

A combination of flood and storm conditions which has holding the Maritime Provinces in its grasp since last Saturday night has had the effect of completely tying up all railroad traffic into this city on the C. P. R., causing floodings in various sections of the province, where the normal spring freshets were already in progress, and doing more or less damage to wharves along the harbor front here, since the downpour and high southeasterly wind surged the spring tide to abnormal height.

The rain itself is looked upon by city folks as a springtime blessing as it has completely washed away the last traces of the long winter with its super-abundance of snow and ice, but its great volume has so increased the freshets in the large rivers, streams and rivulets, already swollen by the melted snow, that serious damage has already been done to railway lines, traffic is impeded and hundreds of people are held up at the mercy of the elements in out-of-the-way places.

All night last the southeasterly gale raged with undiminished velocity. Directly in the path of the Meteorological Bureau, Douglas avenue, states that the wind ranged from twenty-eight to thirty-four miles with consistency. Around town numerous trees and signposts, chimneys and other objects were dislodged and scattered in various directions. The pedestrian stilt walk was an unprofitable accomplishment to church-going yesterday and to many it was a good excuse to stay indoors.

Two inches of rain. According to the scientific devices in the weather bureau the amount of rain was extraordinarily heavy for the period of storm up to eleven o'clock this forenoon. The total for the average is the director, and the director of the bureau says this is quite heavy. There is no doubt this rainfall last added to the St. John River freshet, and during the forenoon today the steady rain has been mostly a wash. The water level in the river has risen to a point near the traffic-way of the water street.

A 27-foot tide. Sand points were very nearly submerged, especially the southern side of the harbor. The water level of the harbor was perked up quite a bit by the high tide, and for a period it was a matter of climbing aboard the boat. On the tidal gauge the 27-foot mark was reached by about 10 o'clock. The water level was not so high as the tide gauge, but it was only today's high tide that the gauge so high. With a northerly wind tomorrow and an even higher tide the 27-foot mark might not be exceeded.

Storekeepers along the North and South Wharves were not inconvenienced by this high tide, but they are not sanguine about the tide of the next two days. In their elevated position these buildings did not get the water so high. With a northerly wind tomorrow and an even higher tide the 27-foot mark might not be exceeded.

DEMORALIZED. The unusual heavy downpour of rain, which has fallen almost continuously since Saturday, has caused numerous washouts along the railway tracks, particularly west of St. John. The New Brunswick division, according to official opinion given out at headquarters this morning, all trains west of St. John both C. P. R. and C. N. R. have been cancelled, and there is little hope of getting back to schedule running again before this evening. Should the rain continue throughout the day the hazard will be increased and it will be then practically tomorrow before the western lines are cleared sufficiently to allow for the resumption of railway transportation either to or from St. John.

Although relief trains have been sent forward to the delayed scheduled trains, difficulty is being encountered owing to numerous local washouts, and while crews of men are working hard to replace new and fresh wash-clearing the tracks a difficult and almost impossible task at the present moment. The only form of relief in little can be done, railway officials said this morning, until the water subsides. The extent of the damage will be heavy, but it was impossible to place even a slight estimate today.

Monday's C. P. R. division throughout New Brunswick is suffering probably

JANITOR FOUND MURDERED IN MONTREAL OFFICE

Had Been Shot Through the Heart—Thought to Have Surprised Burglars in the Act of Carrying Off Silks.

Montreal, April 30.—The body of J. B. Roy, janitor of the Sunner building, was discovered this morning on the tenth floor. He had been shot through the heart. The dead man was found in the office of the Perrin Kayser Co., silk importers, by operatives of the Dominion Signal and Casualty Co. at 8 a.m., and according to Dr. Robillard of the Montreal General Hospital, he had then been dead about three hours. Roy, it appears, had not punched his time clock for several hours, a fact which led the officers of the Casualty Company to investigate. From evidence available they reconstruct the murder as the work of burglars. It would appear that the culprit had been surprised by Roy in the act of carrying away silks from the office of the Perrin Kayser Co. and that they shot him.

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT OVER $1,000,000. Fredericton, N. Complete reports of the damage sustained by the C. N. R. lines was unavailable this morning although conditions were admitted as being serious all along the Valley Railway and the Canada Eastern. All trains were cancelled with the exception of the Marystown-Fredericton suburban trains.

The most serious conditions on the Canada Eastern was said to exist along

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, eh," said Mr. Hiram, formbeam to The Times reporter, "I went over to the station yesterday mornin' to see them there Scotch settlers come out an' buy farm an' the Settlement. I bet they'd make good, I guess they'd be as good as men as nine boys an' an' gals—as healthy as trout—as bright as they could be. An' they'd try to beat the old folks—Trust the Scotch for that. Them youngsters know their place, an' they got some eye on their belongings while the other one is takin' in the sights. Kin you tell me how it is a thousand people, all of 'em with some money to give 'em a start, kin come into Canada to settle an' not one of 'em stay here in old New Brunswick? It beats me. When we go onto wake up an' tell 'em the world? Here we're lettin' our own an' not tryin' to get somebody in their place, an' they got something on 'em that 'ud look as good to them folks from the Hebrides as we got? Not by a long way. They didn't know that's all. An' then other provinces 'ud wide awake an' goes after what from takin' 'em. That's why they git it. By Hien!"

PHYSICAL CULTURE AND PHYSIQUE TYPES

Men of Today Want the Quick, Prompt Service

"It was the development of the physique type that which first made it possible without risk to use the best and most expensive cloth in the making of men's clothes for a try on," said the Chief Designer of Semi-ready Clothes.

A quarter century ago a ready-made clothing shop was an assembly of cheap cloth carelessly thrown together, and made to fit the average man and for a fat man. And the average man fought shy of the cheap store on Chatham Street.

When the physique type system was developed it became an easy matter to tailor the finest cloth to the quick-fitting stage, for the seven types of men were provided for, and the Semi-ready system quickly uplifted the clothing shop to the stage where the most particular dresser could find just what he wanted in style and fabric.

"We show all the new styles and patterns in Semi-ready suits and spring top coats," said the manager of the Togeray, in King Street.

HELP KEEP THE DOORS OPEN FOR OUR GIRLS' SAKE. MOST OF BRITISH LABOR PARTY TASTE NO LIQUOR

Members of Parliament May Be Forced to Pay More for Their Meals.

London, April 29.—(By Mail)—In proportion to their number, the members of the Labor party drink far less than those of any other political party represented in Parliament, it was asserted by Dr. Salter, Labor M. P., in an address before the Industrial Christian Fellowship. So many of his party are teetotalers, he said, that they will soon be called upon to pay more for their meals.

Dr. Salter said in the last few years the kitchen committee—that is, the committee responsible for the conduct of the refreshment department—had barely succeeded in making both ends meet.

"But the committee now complains," he added, "that the restaurant is being run at a heavy loss. The sole reason for that is that the great accession in strength to the Labor party—which now numbers 144 members—has caused a great falling off in the consumption of alcoholic drinks in the house. Many members who had liberally patronized the bar in the past did not succeed in getting re-elected. And of the Labor members who took their places, three-quarters are total abstainers. They contribute practically nothing to the profits of the restaurant. Everybody familiar with the restaurant business knows that it is out of the drinks sold that the bulk of their profits are made. The kitchen committee is now con-

You Need a Bicycle for Business, Pleasure and Health

FROM early morn till late at night the bicycle plays an important part in our daily life. It does its work so quietly, so smoothly, so efficiently, we scarcely realize its presence.

Ride to Work Throngs of workmen cycle to and from work every day, saving time, car fare and the discomfort of riding in packed street cars or of walking long distances.

Multitudes of happy children—teachers, too—ride bicycles to school. And what in the world would the Boy Scouts do without bicycles?

Economical Deliveries All days long messenger boys—and boys making light deliveries—fit by on bicycles. Occasionally a plumber pedals by on his wheel on a hurry call—perhaps, a leaking pipe!

A carpenter with his kit wheels from one job to another. The collector and the insurance agent glide along to make calls—many of them not near a carline.

Pleasure and Emergencies Out in the country, the city man rides for a day's fishing with his rod tied on his wheel. Coming to wards him a farmer's boy wheels hurriedly to the city to get a spare part for a farm machine that has broken down.

Away down in California, Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks ride bicycles for pleasure and to keep fit. An example that other men and women could follow with benefit to their health.

More People Riding More people are riding bicycles today than for years past. The roads are so smooth, so clean, and so easy to ride on, they are creating new riders by the thousands.

Just climb on a C. C. M. yourself and see how exhilarating it is to ride a bicycle. See how easily it glides along, thanks to the C. C. M. Triplex Hanger—the three-piece hanger that gives the C. C. M. so much speed—and pep—and power.

Then press back on your pedals and see how quickly and smoothly the Hercules Coaster Brake acts. Note how strong and rigid the frame is. It's of English Seamless Tubing, strongly reinforced. Look at the brilliant, lustrous enamel—durable and lasting. And the glistening nickel. It's done over copper so it won't rust. Glimpse the new Gibson Pedal, too—so light and so strong. Its silvery frame is of aluminum and cannot rust. Stand back and look at the C. C. M.'s trim, graceful, racy lines. A beauty! A bicycle anyone would be proud of. And one that will give years and years of faithful service.

You need a bicycle—most everybody does. Slip into the C. C. M. dealer's and talk things over with him. He will show you all the new models, including the new C. C. M. Sport Model for the man who wants something different.

YESTERDAY IN CITY CHURCHES

The final session of Waterloo street Baptist church Bible class, for this season, was held yesterday. The election of officers for the coming year was held. Harry Marley, re-elected, first vice-president; Mrs. George Brown, second vice-president; Mrs. G. H. Grogan, secretary; Miss Florence Kierstead, assistant secretary; Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, treasurer; Mrs. J. H. Frodsham, the pastor, Rev. J. A. Swetnam referred to the fact that he had received, one of the leading members of the class, was leaving soon for the United States where he had accepted his home, and on behalf of the class he presented to Mr. McIntyre a gold watch. Mr. McIntyre made a fitting reply and cordially thanked the members.

The monthly pupil interchange arranged by the Methodist ministers of the city was carried out at the morning service in the church yesterday. Rev. H. E. Thomas, of Esmond street, exchanged with Rev. R. G. Fulton, of Centenary. Rev. Neil MacLachlan, of the Queen Square church, exchanged with Rev. H. B. Clarke, of the Coburg street church. Rev. J. M. Rice, of Fairville, exchanged with Rev. F. T. Betram, of Cadixton. Rev. E. E. Steyn, of the Douglas street church, exchanged with Rev. J. K. King, of Zion church. The Methodist exchange was held last Sunday of each month from September to May, inclusive.

Rev. J. A. MacFarlane, M. A., Grand Organizer of the Loyal Orange Association of Quebec, delivered forceful addresses in city churches yesterday morning. He was the preacher at the services in the Ludlow street Baptist church and in the evening he delivered the sermon at Centenary church when his subject was "The Keys of the Kingdom."

The congregation of the Germain street Baptist church greatly enjoyed the special solo given at the evening service by Miss Lyla A. Procter of Halifax. Miss Procter has a particularly pleasing and sympathetic soprano voice and she sang with fine effect, "Come Unto Me," by Eliza Dunn.

For the morning service yesterday a pulp exchange was made by Rev. George E. Knight of the Coburg street Christian church and Rev. Isaac Brindley of the Edith Avenue Hall.

Rev. William Phillips of the Douglas avenue church described the observance of the Lord's Day in St. John to his congregation at the services last evening. He said that the keeping of the Sabbath was marked by peace and quietness practically the same as he had found in Australia some twenty-seven years ago when he first visited that country. However, a more recent visit to Australia disclosed conditions altogether different. The people had become what they termed "Americanized." He rejoiced to find St. John as he had found Australia twenty-seven years ago.

Rev. W. D. Noyes, chief international worker among the Chinese, is in the city for a general conference with those interested in the local missionary. He spoke to the Central Baptist and Trinity Episcopal Chinese classes yesterday and will hold other meetings this week. In his remarks yesterday Rev. Mr. Noyes said that there was no Oriental menace. He said that they were generally law abiding citizens. He urged against their exclusion and added that he hoped to see

AFRICAN TRIBES REJECT WIFE-BUYING PRACTICE

British Authorities in Kenya Notified by Chiefs of Reform Pledge

London, April 5.—(By Mail)—In practically every Kenya tribe it is the custom for the young men to purchase their wives, the groom paying a certain price to the father of the girl in cattle or goats. However, the Director of Education in Kenya has now received a document, to which are appended over ninety signatures, including that of one of the chiefs, in which the signatories state that, although they have themselves bought their wives, they realize the evils of such a custom, and pledge themselves not to sell their daughters in marriage, but to encourage unions based on mutual affection, says the Nairobi correspondent of "The London Times."

BANQUET FOR TRAIL RANGERS AND TUXIS BOYS

The final banquet for Trail Rangers and Tuxis Boys was held in the Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening. About 140 boys sat down to their own tables, which were decorated for the occasion by themselves.

After supper the judges presented the prizes for the best decorated table. The judges were Alexander Wilson, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Work Board; Rev. A. Telford, president of St. John's Boys' Work Board and William J. Bowfe, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. The prizes went to the Portland Methodist boys for the best decorated Tuxis table, with St. Luke's boys a close second, and last to Portland Methodist boys for the best decorated Trail Ranger table.

A. M. Gregg, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., then led in the singing, after which R. G. Schofield presented the cups donated by him, which were won in the recent sailing meet. Medals also were presented, which were donated by Royden Foley, Rev. H. B. Clarke, of Portland Methodist church next gave an inspiring address. Then came the stunts and Germain Street Baptist boys won both prizes, one for Tuxis and one for Trail Rangers.

A feature of the evening was the presentation to Captain Bowfe by the Portland Methodist Tuxis boys of the prize they had won, a five-pound box of chocolates. Captain Bowfe is leaving St. John this year and regrets were expressed as, it was said, he had been a friend to all and had always been ready and willing to aid the Tuxis and Trail Rangers of the city in every way possible.

FRANCE MAY CLASH WITH THE TURKS

Will Send Two More Army Divisions to Syria—Will Have 46,000 Men There.

Paris, April 30.—As a precaution against what is regarded as the threatening force of the Turks in concentrating twenty thousand troops along the northern border of Syria, the French Government has decided to reinforce its own military strength in the mandated territory by two divisions. The first of these divisions, under the command of Gen. Weygand, who sails late this week for Beirut to take over the duties of French high commissioner in Syria and commander of the army in the east.

The reinforcement of the 26,000 troops already in Syria was decided upon, it is understood, at conferences between Premier Poincare and Gen. Pelle, French high commissioner in Syria and head of the French delegation at the Lausanne conference.

Gen. Pelle has been assured by Ismet Pasha that the Turks were not concentrating their forces against France, but the Paris Government looks with disfavor on what it believes to be an effort by Ankara to exert pressure on France in the near East.

PASSENGER LINERS ARE DIVERTED HERE

Owing to the presence of a great quantity of ice in the Gulf of St. Lawrence the C. P. S. liners Montcalm and Metagama, both of which have sailed from the other side of Montreal, have been diverted to St. John. The Montcalm is due here this evening and the Metagama will probably be here on Wednesday. This means a considerable change in the plans of the company.

A double inquest will be held tonight when the same coroner's jury will inquire into the death of Thomas Palmer, who died from injuries supposed to have been received from a fall, and Mrs. Silas McDiarmid, who died on her way to the hospital after being struck by an automobile. The inquests will be held in the court room in Germain street.

Tailored Suits Easier to Own

RIGHT good news it is to hear that Tailored Suits are lower than in years. Just price some here or know the new things that go so well. How do the Camel Hair ones strike you? Or the Camelines—overplaid, the knotted Bannockburns, the colored paper and salts, the points of design.

Of course you would expect to see a good number of Navy, Sand and various Tan Tropicans and Poiret Twills, but you had better look at the Blacks—there's something about them that can't go down on paper without a lavishness of adjective. Quite as low as $22 you feel free in selecting. There are even Pipers and Suits in mingled tints together with Burs around $26.75.

The low notched collar (some have two notches) shere favor with the high-cuts. Fastenings vary, a few have just the linked button. Rows of tucks are also prominent trimmings.

Those Bedecked In Newer Materials

The Camel Hair Suits at $54.75 stand by themselves in softness of color tone and fabric and the designing has had to be equally particular. A close competitor many warm up to is the jaunty Cameline at $49.75. A straight box Model with an overplaid, it makes you feel like a run-out-of-doors, patch pocketed and leather buttoned.

Beside the Bannockburns are Heather Tweeds with linked buttons and Satin linings at $44.75. The Bannockburns show their strength in a knotty weave—shades are Tans, Greys and Blues. Like a few others in the tailored mode, this one is belted, the pockets are set in on the skirt as well. $49.75.

Take a trot over to Daniel's second floor and glance round—everything is there, and lately the accommodation has been expanded, more interiors and more dressing rooms.

Religion Persists In Russia Despite Official Scourge

Observer Says. People Turn More and More to Simple Faith, Which Hostile Attacks Only Cause to Grow.

London, April 5.—(By mail)—"I have lately had the opportunity of hearing the views of persons who have been engaged in religious work in Russia since before the war, and who are as fully qualified as anyone can be to pronounce an opinion regarding the spiritual state of the broad masses of the people today," writes the Helmsford correspondent of the London Morning Post.

"The population, it is said, may be divided into three main tendencies: the active scoffers just mentioned, the actively religious, and between them a mass of indifferentists, this class includes many former Communists, who have been lured by Communist propaganda away from their old beliefs, and now, disgusted and disillusioned by Communism, find themselves drifting into an attitude of pure negation.

PROPOSED UNION OF EAST ST. JOHN BEFORE COUNCIL

Action was Deferred Until More Information is Available

Report of Progress was Received from Civic Power Commission—Car Line to Millidgeville Would Bring Growth to City—Other Matters Dealt With.

The proposed union of East St. John with the city was brought up at the committee meeting of the Common Council this morning. Action was postponed until more definite information regarding revenue and expenditure, which might be expected to result from the union, is available.

Commissioner Frink said that the constables now serving be re-appointed on filing bonds and take the matter up in council on Tuesday.

Commissioner Frink said that the residents there could secure the city on the same plan as the parish of Lancaster. The residents should get together and find out what they want.

Commissioner Frink said he amounted to a question whether the city was willing to submit to a direct levy in order to consummate the union.

Commissioner Frink said he was prepared to move that exact information regarding what might be expected be obtained.

The Mayor said that the rate varied from $1.50 to $2.45, but Commissioner Bullock said that would mean nothing if the valuation was low.

On motion of Commissioner Wigmore it was decided to lay the matter on the table and to bring it up later with G. G. Murdoch and the county secretary.

Commissioner Frink said that a car line to Millidgeville would bring growth within the city limits.

The Mayor said the inquiry had invited the council to inspect the institution on hospital days, next Saturday. The General Public Hospital would also be open for inspection.

Commissioner Bullock read an application from John White to buy a lot leased by him on Orange street from the city for $450. The ground rent at present was $11.

On his motion it was decided to comply with the request on condition that Mr. White accept full responsibility for the retaining wall on the property.

To Mastership Of University College. Sir Michael Sadler, recently in St. John Goes to Oxford.

London, April 30.—(Canadian Press)—The appointment of Sir Michael Sadler, vice-chancellor of Leeds University to the mastership of University College, Oxford, continues to meet with criticism, not wholly favorable, because of the fact that the change will be the means of narrowing his opportunities for service.

The London Daily News points out that in his days in Manchester and Leeds, Sir Michael has become steeped in the life of the city of the young universities.

"His influence for many years on the young men of a distinctive type to be found at these universities and on the progressive educational thought of the great industrial centres of the north has been of the rarest kind."

It is frankly to be regretted that this well forged link is now to be snapped. We may regret that under our parliamentary system there appears to be no prominent place for a man of his peculiar gifts and attainments. With greater respect to the present head of the board of education he is not to be mentioned in the same breath with Sadler.

PROMINENT MEN WILL BE PRESENT ON FIRST NIGHT

Committee in Charge of the Four Outdoor Concerts in Aid of the Hilton Belyea Benefit Fund secures Assurance from Several Men Prominent in the Public Eye to Appear on Opening Night.

The campaign in aid of the Hilton Belyea Benefit Fund to enable the great sculler to proceed to England early in June in quest of the Diamond Sculls at Henley has taken on a provincial aspect in view of an announcement from the managing committee in charge of the outdoor series of concerts, this morning.

The general manager, R. S. Sims, reports that several of the best-known men in the public eye of the province have given assurance that they will be on hand on the opening night, Tuesday, May 8, to assist in firing the first gun of this campaign.

The big news for those assisting in this work and it adds interest to the first announcement that these concerts will be given.

At City Hall. The committee appointed to interview members at City Hall were on hand early this morning and were closeted with Mayor Fisher for some time. At the conclusion of the conference, Mr. Sims announced that His Worship had consented to appear at the opening night ceremonies.

The committee also interviewed Commissioner Bullock, Commissioner Wigmore and Commissioner Frink and secured assurance from them that they would be on hand on the opening night. Commissioner Frink also granted the committee permission to use King Square for the entire week. The contract for the erection of the platform has been let and work on the construction will commence within a few days.

The secretary has written the most prominent of the local artists regarding their services for the four concerts. It is planned to hold three of these concerts in King Square and one in West St. John, the home of the champion.

One of the most popular performers in the city has been prevailed upon to emerge from a two year retirement and help the committee put his reputation over in fine style. The publicity committee also was empowered to have window cards printed for distribution throughout the various parts of the city and Carleton.

It is expected that a definite announcement respecting the names of the men from outside the city who will appear on the opening night can be made within a few days. All the different committees are devoting considerable time to the project and they will report at a general meeting on Wednesday night. Already one of the bands has promised to give their services gratis for one night.

LOYD GEORGE FOR FREE TRADE

And Against Great Waste Created by Alcohol.

Manchester, Eng., April 30.—Former premier Lloyd George, addressing a Liberal meeting here Saturday, said the uncertainty of making a livelihood in which millions of workers find themselves is mainly responsible for the growth of socialism in Great Britain.

Outlining what he conceived the Liberal programme to be, he declared that immediate attention should be given to the general status of the workers, adding that no programme could be complete without proposals for wiping out the great waste created by alcohol.

Referring to tariff protection, he said he was sure that saving one penny in Parliament would be plucked into the greatest fight ever known for the existence of free trade.

A BAPTIST PASTOR CAUSED SURPRISE

Defends the Stage, Sir Oliver Lodge, Sir Conan Doyle and Christian Science.

New York, April 30.—The Rev. Dr. Cornelius Woolfkin, pastor of the wealthy Park Avenue Baptist Church, when called to the "Booker T. Washington" discussion about the fringe of his parishioners today as a result of a sermon yesterday in which he criticized some long standing Baptist doctrines as reactionary and urged his congregation to vote to abandon them.

He also defended the stage and had a good word for Sir Oliver Lodge, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Christian Science.

Our practice of excluding members of other denominations unless they are baptized again in our rites is out of harmony with the spirit which is growing in the churches," he said.

We have already opened our communion table to other Christians and this proposed move follows that logically.

"Do you suppose in Heaven when communion is celebrated that John Calvin, John Knox, John and Charles Wesley and other great leaders of the non-Baptist world will be denied the privilege of sitting with Baptists?" he asked.

"We need a greater tolerance for the various sects, sects and sects that are growing in the churches," he said.

"We have already opened our communion table to other Christians and this proposed move follows that logically."

Falls Asleep in Tunnel Near Rails

Boy Was Walking From Port Huron to Hamilton to Feed Mother in Hospital.

Sarnia, April 30.—Walking the Canadian National track in the St. Clair tunnel in the early hours of the morning, Arthur Williams, a railway employe, found Norman Southern, a nine-year-old boy, fast asleep under a pile of lumber. His pockets were empty and he carried with him a tin of jam and a tin of marmalade. He had a note pinned to his shirt which read: "I am walking from Port Huron to Hamilton to feed my mother who is in the hospital. My home is in Port Huron, he said, and his mother was a patient in the General Hospital at Hamilton. He wanted to see her badly, as he was afraid she would die, and thought that the only way to get to her was to walk through the tunnel and along the railway until he came to Hamilton.

He had an extraordinary amount of energy for a boy of his age, and he had a letter from his mother and a note from the railway authorities, who communicated at once with the lady's relatives and the Hamilton police, who sent an officer to take the boy home.

MANCHESTER IS A GREAT CITY

Account of Voyage to St. John—Industrial and Social Conditions in England—Some Very Interesting Figures.

The Rev. Thomas and Mrs. Hicks, who have spent the past two years in England, arrived at St. John yesterday. They came in the C. P. R. steamship Marloch, and had an unusually long but enjoyable passage. The vessel left Liverpool on Friday, the 13th, and called at Greenock on the Clyde the next day. From thence she proceeded to Loch Boidale, in the Hebrides. The weather on the passage north was delightful, and the charming, rugged scenery of the Highlands was seen at its best. The journey to this part of Great Britain was as unexpected as it was pleasurable, and does not often occur on a trans-Atlantic voyage.

At both places mentioned a large number of passengers embarked, intending to settle in Ontario, and the Western Provinces. Loch Boidale and surrounding country furnished over three hundred emigrants who expected to settle in Alberta. Judging from appearances they are a promising lot, and should make a valuable addition to the farming community of that province. The ship carried over nine hundred passengers, including nearly one hundred in the cabin.

During the first few days the weather was delightful and good runs were recorded. On the fifth day of the ship ran into a dense fog, which prevailed for seven days, and which was so thick that, for hours at a stretch, it was not possible to see half the length of the vessel. Owing to the presence of ice, speed was greatly reduced and many times the ship was at a standstill. Many icebergs of large size were passed. It is quite rare to be fog-bound for so many days, and rarer still for a vessel to be a week behind time. But, despite the delay, the passengers accommodated themselves to the situation with abounding cheerfulness, and spent the hours pleasantly. Two or three concerts of no mean order were held, in which the passengers and members of the staff displayed more than ordinary gifts. On Sunday divine service was held morning and evening.

It is needless to say that at no time was there any anxiety among the passengers as to their personal safety, for they had perfect confidence in the experience, caution and skill in the captain and capable commander—Captain J. Hall—and his efficient staff. Many words of appreciation were said on all sides that safety was not sacrificed for the sake of speed and to save time. The service was all that could be desired, and everybody will have a pleasant memory of the courtesy and constant attention of all the officers and officials, who did everything in their power to minister to the comfort of the passengers on a protracted voyage.

SIX-YEAR-OLD HAD BRONCHITIS EVERY WINTER

Bronchitis generally begins with chills, followed by fever and a harsh, dry, hacking cough. There is a raising of phlegm, which at first is of a light color, but, as the trouble progresses it becomes of a yellowish or greenish color and is sometimes streaked with blood.

Those who are troubled with bronchitis will find in Dr. Wood's Pine Syrup a remedy that will stimulate the bronchial organs, subdue the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, and loosen the phlegm.

the centre of finance and industry. The great cotton factories are in the surrounding towns for the most part, but large industries are carried on in the city, producing iron and steel, chemicals and dyes, rubber goods and clothing. It is a great sight to witness in a period of activity, at the hour of closing the stream of humanity issuing from the doors of these great industrial institutions. Since 1894 the city has been connected with the sea by the ship canal, and has justified the business ability and sagacity of its originators.

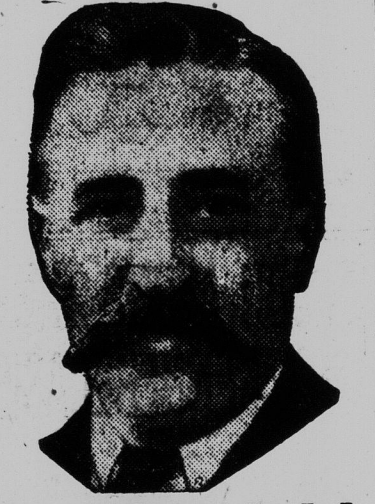

The canal is thirty-five miles long, a uniform depth of twenty-eight feet, while at the bottom the width is 120 feet, but varies in certain places, attaining at certain points a width of 315 feet. Steamers can steam up the canal with a tonnage of 18,000 without risk of running aground. Vast warehouses have been erected at the docks, affording capacity for storing the large cargoes which arrive daily at the city docks. Two elevators at Trafalgar Park are capable of storing three million bushels of grain. The city is now the third largest port in the kingdom, and has become a great distributing centre from which supplies are sent to fifteen millions of people.

The past two years have been years of business depression. A million and a half of people have been unemployed and the end is not yet. Manchester has shared in the general stagnation, carrying not less than sixty thousand unemployed. The immediate future seems a little brighter, although there is no hope at present of a return to the activity of former years. The rate of exchange and the impoverished condition of Europe stand in the way of industrial prosperity.

The cotton and engineering industries have suffered severely of late. The city does not claim architectural beauty, but its miles of great warehouses impress the mind with the idea of massiveness and durability. The people evidently have faith in themselves and hope for the future of progress.

The city, however, possesses many noble buildings, such as the Town Hall, the Royal Exchange, the meeting place of Lancashire business men—on the floor of which on any market day may be seen 10,000 men gathered transacting business reaching to the four quarters of the globe; the Rylands Library—a gem of architecture; Victoria University and others of attractive appearance. The Municipal School of Technology is considered one of the most perfect institutions of education along technical lines in the kingdom, and probably in Europe. Five or six thousand students are in attendance.

There are numerous well furnished libraries in different parts of the city and easy of access. Two are famous, one having been founded in 1425 by Humphrey-de-Chatham. It is rich in classics and theological works of the middle ages. Its valuable MSS. are of great interest to local historians. The building is venerable in appearance—practically unchanged since it was erected four hundred years ago, and stands on the site where the Romans had a market about two thousand years ago. The other famous library was built more recently by the widow of John Rylands, a merchant prince of the last century, and was opened in 1892. The building is a splendid piece of architecture.

Our Portrait is of Mr. E. F. WHEELER, of 22, Regent Street, Balby, Doncaster, England, who writes—

"About two years ago I had a nasty wound break out in my big toe. I had it attended to for about three months, but during that time it had spread to all the toes, with the result that I had to undergo an operation, but with no avail. Then, after another operation, as I did not get any better, I thought I would give your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' a trial. After taking the first three bottles I could walk better, and now after having six bottles the wound has quite healed, and I am pleased to say I have not seen any sign of it breaking out since."

Sufferers from Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Stitches, Burns, Erysipelas, Rheumatism, etc., should realize that lotions and ointments are of little use. The blood must be thoroughly cleansed of all impurities, and the true cause of such troubles. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly accomplishes this, and expels the impurities, that is why no man can be cured of such troubles unless he takes, and free from injurious ingredients.

ecture, and evokes general admiration. Mrs. Reynolds bought the valuable Altaville Library from the Earl Spencer family. It consists of 40,000 volumes, and is considered the most important part of a collection of 275,000 volumes.

The main feature is the number and variety of its early printed books. A renowned French Bibliographer recently spoke of it as the richest and most beautiful private library in Europe. It is said to say the least, an excellent library for historical and literary research to many students. A reputed cost of the library is said to be nearly one million pounds.

The religious needs of the city are well supplied there being no less than four hundred places of worship. The Anglicans lead with 126; then the Methodists come next with 114; Congregationalists 45; Catholics 42; Baptists 20; Salvation Army 10; Presbyterians 10; Unitarians each 15. The Anglican Cathedral, venerable with its 500 years, has a large congregation. The Central and Albert Halls, belonging to the Wesleyans, have also overflowing congregations, numbering 2,000 worshippers each.

The clubs are numerous, and everywhere in the city are active, aggressive and make their influence felt. Were it not for the loss of the city as a centre of public authority would be far more difficult. The fine body of devoted laymen of all the churches have in common, do not talk of failure but keep working for the future with faith in the gospel and abounding hope for the future.

The serious aspect of English cities is the general use of intoxicants. Public houses are in evidence everywhere. An acquaintance with the effects of the drinking habits of people at close range reveals the magnitude of the evil. Many thousands of people would be vastly better off in mind, body and estate, if the liquor business could be prohibited or greatly restricted. In Canada we are in advance in temperance legislation, and better off as a people. It is amazing to hear men like Sir John Simon state that in 1921, despite the huge national debt, stagnation in business and serious unemployment, the people spent four hundred million sterling on their liquor bill. The forces of temperance are at work, but it will be a long time before the prevalence of intoxication is accomplished. It ought to be said that considering the vast number of men, women and children who are in the habit of drinking, it is a rare thing to see a drunken person in crowded streets. In the life of the city there is a great change for the better.

Manchester is rich in the possession of beautiful parks and recreation grounds. The municipality for many years has adopted the policy of securing large and valuable properties for public use. There are seventy in all, of varying size—the largest being Heaton Park—the domain for hundreds of years of the Earls of Wilton. It comprises 700 acres. Another is known as Platt Fields and originally belonged to Col. Worsley, a distinguished officer in Cromwell's army.

All the parks, large and small, are kept in perfect condition, and present an attractive appearance, with their well kept walks, ornamental trees and flower beds. Thousands of people flock to them in fine weather, and there is opportunity for every reasonable form of amusement and recreation. They are the favorite resorts of young men, who find ample space for football, cricket, lawn tennis, bowls, boating. It is pleasing to note that they are proving an effective and reforming force in the life of the young.

It has been a great privilege to renew acquaintance with this centre of industry, after nearly fifty years residence in Canada. This city within that period, has witnessed a remarkable development, and is in front rank of the progressive cities of the Empire.

SAYS HE LACKS SYMPATHY WITH PRO-HIBITION COUNTRIES

New York, April 28.—When Major E. G. French, son of Earl French of Ypres, who arrived on the Olympic, en route to the Bahama Islands, to take charge as Commandant of Police, was asked if he would do anything to prevent rum-running into the United States, he evaded a direct answer. He said he was not sure what his duties would be.

It was suggested that perhaps he had no sympathy for a dry country, but the Major answered, laughingly, "No, and I never will have."

"The Torch of Verified Circulation"

Lights up the way for the Advertiser

The Telegraph and The Evening Times, with a combined daily net paid circulation exceeding 30,000 copies, are the only A. B. C. (Audit Bureau of Circulation) papers in the province of New Brunswick. These newspapers alone give the advertiser a verified circulation whose extent is absolutely known and established beyond question.

Mr. Advertiser, do you realize what this means? All of the principal Canadian dailies are members of the A. B. C. That is, they give their advertisers, present and prospective, circulation figures which are audited, certified and approved by an independent court whose standing is recognized in business circles throughout Canada and the United States.

- The Following Canadian Newspapers are members of the A. B. C.: St. John—The Telegraph and The Evening Times (the only A. B. C. papers in New Brunswick). Halifax—The Chronicle and Echo, The Herald and Mail. Charlottetown—The Guardian. Quebec City—LeSoleil, L'Evenement. Montreal—The Gazette, The Star, The Herald, La Presse, La Patrie, Le Canada, Le Devoir, The Standard. Ottawa—The Citizen, The Journal, Le Droit. Toronto—The Globe, The Star, The Mail and Empire and Sunday World, The Telegram. London—The Advertiser, The Free Press. Brantford—The Expositor. Brockville—The Recorder and Times. Fort William—The Times-Journal. Hamilton—The Spectator. Kingston—The British Whig, The Standard. Windsor—The Border Cities' Star. Winnipeg—The Manitoba-Free Press, The Tribune. Saskatoon—The Star, The Phoenix. Regina—The Leader, The Post. Calgary—The Morning Albertan, The Herald. Edmonton—The Bulletin, The Journal. Vancouver—The Province, The Sun, The World. Victoria—The Colonist, The Times.

Mr. Advertiser, in that list you have the chief newspapers of Canada. They give you an independent audit of their circulation by a universally recognized authority.

"Net Paid" circulation does not mean old lists of doubtful value. "Net Paid" means that every subscriber included in the figures is either paid in advance or does not owe for more than six months. The Telegraph and Times, remember, have a combined "net paid" daily circulation of more than 30,000 copies.

Figuring by circulation The Telegraph and Times are the lowest in the Maritime Provinces.

By putting the same ad in both papers you cover the city of St. John and the province of New Brunswick as with a blanket, so far as prospective buyers of your goods are concerned, for these two papers reach to a really wonderful extent the people in this city and this province who are in a position to purchase the goods that local or national advertisers offer for sale, be these goods bonds or toothpicks, razors or mowing machines, diamonds or medicines, shoes or silks.

Think over the facts, Mr. Advertiser. Just ask yourself quietly and thoughtfully what that chain of leading Canadian newspapers means. Their verified circulation is their greatest advertising solicitor. Think about "the torch of verified circulation."

"I Had Bilious Attacks and Stomach Weakness"

Mrs. Wm. Robinson, York, Sask., writes: "I suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and used to have bilious attacks so bad that I could do nothing for weeks at a time. My stomach would be so weak that not even a drink of water would stay on it. On my sister's advice, I began to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and must say that they have made me feel like a new woman."

FEELING TIRED

Nearly all constitutions during the winter season experience an almost indescribable, but thoroughly understood, feeling of lassitude, which is extremely unpleasant and which may, if neglected, lead to very serious consequences. No remedy at present known has proved so successful in a case of this kind as DR. WILSON'S HERBINE BITTERS A True Blood Purifier.

Labor M.P. Claims Authority On Domestic Servant Problem

Tells Protesting Member He Courted Four and Married One, So He Should Know Their Complaints—Will Have To Settle With His Wife

Mr. Stanley Burgess, Labor M.P. for Rochdale, knows all about the difficult and complex human problem of the domestic servant by studying it at close quarters. He ought to know, because, as he told his constituents the other day, he courted four domestic servants, and married one of them.

He has also told "Reynolds" a little about this bright little episode, and how he was able to give a Tory M.P.—who thought he knew all about the problem because, forsooth, he merely employed four domestic servants—some of his new ideas about the matter.

Mr. Burgess, who is a young man with curly hair, a bright smile, and a bright mind, was naturally a bit diffident. "However," said Mr. Burgess, with a laugh, "it all happened through a debate in the House of Commons on the employment of domestic servants for domestic service staff."

LACE CURTAINS AGAIN

Nottingham is full of enterprise. All the old exquisite designs are now being woven into beautiful summer curtains, which are in the fashion. The dainty windows of the modern house require that dash which the latest style of lace curtain gives.

FAST AND DANCING

FRIGIDE BETHORRAL OF INDIAN MAIDEN
Marriage Announcement is Occasion for Glad American Whose Love and Unique Celebration Held.

The modern "society" fapper, with her coming out party, has nothing on the American Indian maiden, whose marriage announcement party has been among the tribal customs from time immemorial.

Among the Washoe Indians of Nevada there is a dance or ceremony known as "The girl's dance," in honor of the young girl who becomes eligible for marriage. Her white cousin, however, would hardly care to be the star of such a feat, for the guest of honor is allowed to eat nothing at all for four days previous.

On the fourth night the dance starts, at about 8 o'clock, and continues until sunrise the following morning. The Indians form a circle, joining hands, and move by short steps in a ring, humming a sort of chant without words or music. The girl, accompanied by an elder woman as a sort of chaperone, and carrying in a long staff to support her because of the weakness induced by her long fast, weaves in and out of the dance, joining in the step.

As the dance proceeds late into the night the girl's family give money and other possessions to the dancers to keep them moving and to induce others to join in the greater the number of dancers the greater popularity of the family. Shortly after midnight a feast is given by the girl's relatives, and all participate.

The ceremony closes at sunrise when the girl is taken to her pete and attended in bunches of sagebrush in which money is concealed. She appears before the assembled dancers and throws money to them, amid a wild scramble. After which she is ready dressed over her head as the concluding ceremony, after which she is ready to receive a proposal of marriage.

REVIEW OF MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS BY JOE PAGE

Well Known Baseball Promoter and Big League Scout Gives Some Facts About 1923 Pennant Race.

(By Joe Page in Canadian Sports Review)

The American League race starts but with practically the same prospect as last season. The Yankee aggression will again be top heavy favorites to finish first in the 1923 race. Some of the wise critics seem to think they have a far easier and better chance to win the American League Pennant than the Giants have to land the National League flag.

However, back to the American League race for 1923. The only doubtful spot one can find in the make-up of the Yankees, so far as the fielders are concerned is to be found at center field. Witt as a member of the Athletic team several seasons back, was looked upon as one of the coming out-field stars of the game as a fielder.

But don't overlook St. Louis, Detroit and Chicago. The Tigers seem to have the best chance to upset the Yankees.

Gothens Will Have Plenty of Opposition. But don't overlook St. Louis, Detroit and Chicago.

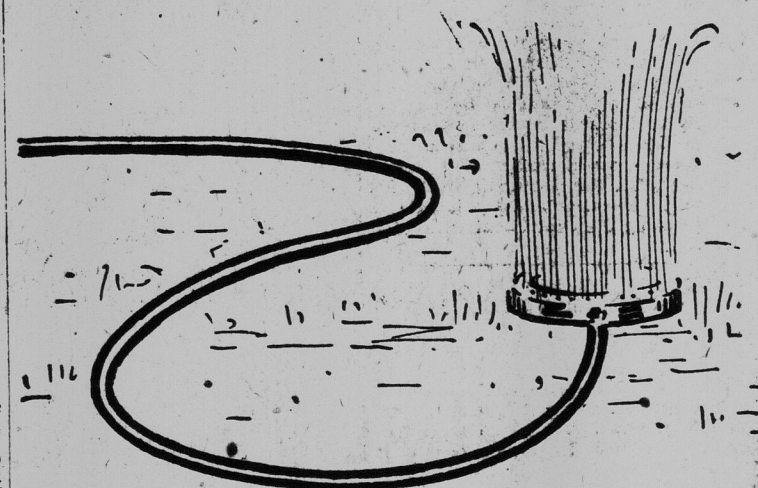

Will Witt Play Regular? Hinkley Haines and Tucker, both outfielders from the college world, who have been on the pay-roll of the Yankees for several seasons, are both touted for Witt's position.

Here, Cobb's main batting and Tiger team combination of hitters: Cobb, 389; Hillman, 356; Hanesy, 352; Woodall, 344; Blue, 300; and Higney, 300.

Herman Pillette, a young pitcher, uncovered last season, won 19 games and finished second in percentage of earned runs allowed last season.

the same. If such is true, look out with Penock, late of the Boston Red Sox added to the staff, one of the star side-wheelers of the game. In condition, it looks like one sweet pitching corp.

Chicago Strengthened. With Willie Kamm, the $100,000 beauty, covering third sack, the White Sox look to be an even money favorite with Detroit and St. Louis to beat out the Yankees.

DROVE WIFE TO DEATH IN POND, HUSBAND CONFESSES. Connecticut Man Said to Have Held Her Head Under Water When Both Survived Dive.

New Britain, Conn., April 30.—John A. Carlson, whose wife, Freda, was drowned on March 24 when their motor car plunged into a pond in Willow Brook Park, is said to have made admission to police which may result in a charge of murder being made against him.

According to the police, Carlson, who is a plumbing contractor, acknowledged that he and his wife had quarreled over his refusal to buy a $300 fur coat for her. Detectives say he admitted driving the car into the pond with the intention of ending his wife's life and his own.

Carlson said, according to the police, that his wife was lying with her head almost submerged, he sat on her and held her head beneath the water until she ceased to struggle, when he crawled out of the car and called for help.

Nobody knows what this ball club the bank of Newfoundland for a season's fishing.

As for the Athletics, one pitcher, Rommel, won 27 games for seventh hole team, and the answer is, when a team can't finish better than they did with a star of this magnitude to pace the way for them and with practically the same line-up again this season, their chances look slim.

Has Rommel got the Iron Heart to go out and double his last season's average? If so, the Athletics will finish better than seventh; enough said.

Clark Griffith and his band of Senators have a fighting chance to beat out Cleveland, Philadelphia and the Red Sox of Beantown.

This vessel was launched at Essex but nine days ago and the celebrity with which she has been prepared for sea is considered remarkable.

Under the deed of gift governing the international trophy contest, the schooner must leave her last port of departure on or before April 30, next Monday, unless conditions are waived in her favor.

Therefore Capt. Alden Geale, the Columbia's skipper, will attend to the odds and ends of fitting out while the schooner is on the way to Shelburne where, given average conditions, she should arrive Saturday or Sunday.

Having dropped anchor in the snug little harbor, 29 dories will be taken on board and members of the crew who live in the provinces are to be picked up.

Grand Jury Finds A Still In Prison. Also Buys Drugs in Eastern Penitentiary—Reports the Food "Unsuitable." Philadelphia, April 30.—The County Grand Jury in a report to the court on its inspection of prisons and city hospitals stated that in a visit to the Eastern Penitentiary it "saw prisoners under the influence of drugs and liquor, found a still in actual operation where liquor was being made, and that the jury was able to purchase heroin from one of the prisoners." The report was eagerly awaited as a result of the resignation announced last Saturday of Warden Robert J. McKenley and the declaration of a prison inspector that a self-constituted committee of desperate prisoners known as the "Four Horsemen" were running the penitentiary. The Grand Jury report stated that much of the trouble at the penitentiary was due to the fact that more than 1,700 prisoners are confined in 900 cells, with 119 guards working in three shifts. Three women are confined in cells built for two. Unemployment among the men and women is also noted, most of the women prisoners sitting idle in their cells all day, it is stated, and that the existence of the men is even more depressing, only a little more than 800 of them being employed. The report stated that two babies born in the penitentiary have been sharing the cells of their mothers for nearly two years. "The food at the prison was unsuitable," the report said, "and on one occasion the bread was sour and the meat was indescribably tough." The report also stated that a commissary department where prisoners who have money can buy tea, coffee, sugar and other articles of food, with luxuries such as cheese, sardines, cookies, etc. The report made many recommendations to correct the evils it pointed out May 8.

LORD ROBERT HAS SAILED

Delivered Very Strong Address on League of Nations in Boston

A Gateman Impressed—President Lowell's Introduction—Lord Robert's Answers to a Number of Interesting Questions from the Audience.

Of Lord Robert Cecil as a man, John S. Allen writes in the Boston Herald—

Lord Robert Cecil is a very approachable sort of citizen. He is tall, above the average, but his height does not show because he stoops badly while talking. He dresses inconspicuously, in a dark suit and overcoat, and has a way of jamming his soft felt hat flat down on his head when he puts it on. But let Joe Fallon, gate-man at the Grand Central station, describe him sartorially:

"He ain't much of a fashion plate, is he?" said Joe. "I saw him here at the gate saying good-by to some friends and I thought he looked like the picture I'd seen, but yet he didn't appear aristocratic enough. I thought he'd wear spats and carry a cane, and put on a little dog. Instead of that, he looks as if he didn't think about his clothes at all. I guess, after all, we get our ideas about the nobility from the melodramas we used to see 20 years ago. Clothes worry the other passengers on this train a whole lot more than they worry that bird."

Lord Robert said yesterday that his voice had given him no trouble on this speaking tour, and that he was not particularly tired, bodily. In conversation he talks with a moderate British accent. So many subjects in which he is interested are tied up with our own politics that in discussing the league he has to be continually on his guard.

There is a little hint of sadness in his eyes, but none in his smile. The smile wins you. Quick of understanding, sympathetic, extremely courteous, he answers all questions readily but with marked discretion. About the league he is whole-hearted and optimistic.

"The league is going well," he said, "and we have great hopes that as time goes on it will function more and more successfully. I have enjoyed my trip immensely. And as I have said, the people have certainly been interested. So I think I have been well repaid for coming."

He was reminded that the accepted method of capitalizing interest in this country was to achieve 100 per cent. publicity by figuratively hitting some one in the head.

"Ah," he exclaimed, picking up his hat from the seat beside him and jamming it down over his ears as if for protection, "but then you see, if I did that, somebody might hit me in the head, too. And that wouldn't do over here at all."

Pres. Lowell's Introduction. In introducing Lord Robert to the vast audience in Symphony Hall, Boston, on Wednesday evening, President Lowell of Harvard said in part:

"In Kingsley's 'Water Babies' there is the tale of people who walked backward, and sometimes I have wondered whether that means the American people. Before this war, the American people could not be induced to believe that we might be drawn into it, and we went in almost unprepared. We have been, as it seems, as little pre-neither of them is true. What we ask of the American people is that they will fairly and faithfully look at this thing—that without preconceptions and prejudices they will attempt to make out what the League of Nations is, whether its objects are beneficent or otherwise, whether so far as its action has actually taken place it has been for good or for evil, and above all whether it possesses any of those terrible dangers which somehow our overheated imagination has attributed to it among our fellow citizens. We have here one who knows as much about the league as any man living and he is here to tell us what the league really is. We can rely on him to tell the truth as he sees it.

An interesting part of the great meeting came after Lord Robert had given his address on the League of Nations. He was then called upon to answer questions, and the Herald reporter says:

In answer to a question whether the members of the league would be willing to rewrite the covenant so as to eliminate objectionable features such as the least semblance of coercion as in article XVI, Lord Robert replied that the league is more than ready to consider any proposition this country might make to it, although he thought there would be some difficulty in obtaining so far as Europe's concern the withdrawal of the powers conferred by article XVI.

To another questioner he declared that he quite agreed with him that we want as much public statement of the truth as can be. "The provisions of the covenant," said he, "are practically that all the proceedings of the league are to take place in public, and every proceeding is recorded not only by the representatives of the press present but by official verbatim reports and every effort is made to distribute as widely as possible the accounts of what takes place."

Somebody asked the question why doesn't the League of Nations step in and settle the trouble between France and Germany at the present time? "The League of Nations can only step in if it's asked to do so by one of its members," answered Sir Robert. "I am very strongly of opinion that it is most desirable that the League should settle the dispute between France and Germany, not only on the question of reparations, but on the question of the rights of France and other matters, should be referred to the league, and I regret very much that it has not yet been found impossible for any member of the league to raise the matter before the organs of the league. I hope to find out when I get back to Europe, if I can, why that has not yet been done. I think it ought to be done as soon as possible, and I am satisfied that whenever it is done the solution will be found, and I very much fear that until that is done no solution will be found."

Another question was what if any effect has the league had on the opium trade in China, India and Mesopotamia, to which Lord Robert replied that the league had made the greatest possible efforts to limit and suppress the use of opium. In his opinion the only way would be to limit the amount of production, and that the league had under consideration.

In answer to question whether he was in favor of admitting Germany and Russia to the league, he said he was in favor of admitting Germany, and as far as he was concerned he would like to see Russia in the league as soon as possible. "But of course," said he, "we are governed by Article I, which says that a country to be admitted must show a sincere intention of obeying its international obligations. I want all trustworthy nations in the league because they will be of assistance in carrying out the work of peace, and I would much rather have an untrustworthy nation in the league than out of it."

To the question of England's six votes in the league, he declared that the dominions took their part in the great war, were invited to the Paris conference, and having taken part in that conference they could not very well be left out. The nation that had the greatest influence is the one that would sway the league councils, said he, the greater nations having more influence, naturally, than the smaller, but it must always be remembered that the league was an advisory, consultative body, not one that could force. To another question why the European nations cannot make a success of the league without the United States going into it, Lord Robert said that the league is a success now, but in order that it may be a greater success, the influence of the United States is necessary, and with its influence a great deal more good can be accomplished.

VETERAN SENATOR DIES ON TRAIN ON WAY TO HIS HOME

Harrisburg, Pa., April 29.—United States Senator Knute Nelson, the grand old man of the Senate, died on a Pennsylvania Railroad train last night while on his way from Washington to Chicago, where he was to continue on his way to his home in Minnesota. Death was due to heart failure. So far as the railroad train crew could figure the train was passing through Piquon, Maryland, eleven miles from Baltimore when the aged senator had an attack of angina pectoris from which he died shortly afterwards. His death removed from the Senate its oldest member and one of those with the longest service records. He was eighty years old and had served twenty-eight years.

ASBESTOS MINERS LIKELY BACK TODAY

Sherbrooke, Que., April 29.—All was reported quiet over the week-end at Theford Mines, the scene of recent disorders when the miners threw down their tools and marched Col. C. H. McNutt, assistant general manager of the Asbestos Corporation, and his band of forty special detectives out of town. In fact, it is expected that the miners on the payroll of the Asbestos Corporation will be seen at work again on Monday, the agreement reached at the conference held here on Friday night between the miners' representatives and the company officials apparently having met with the approval of the men. The lockout resulted in quite a heavy loss to the men in wages.

CAPTAIN DROWNED AND BARGES LOST

Providence, R. I., April 29.—George Gardner, of Fall River, was drowned and three coal-laden barges were lost in the gale off Point Judith last night. The barges were part of a tow of four, which the tug Watappa, of the Staples' Company, commanded by Theodore Almy, of Fall River, was bringing from South Amboy to Fall River.

Captain Almy brought the barge Randolph to the shelter of the Point Judith breakwater and returned to aid the crews of barges Canton, Taunton and Braddock. Captains and deckhands of the three craft, with the exception of Captain Gardner, of the Braddock, were saved by the tug. The barges swamped and were broken up on the rocks.

ATTEMPTS TO REFOAT CYMRIC QUEEN FAIL

North Sydney, N. S., April 29.—Attempts to refoat the steamer Cymric today failed. The C. G. S. Mountain, going to the assistance of the vessel, was reported making slow time in heavy ice off St. Paul's Island, north of Cape Breton. The Cymric Queen has been aground on Black Breakers, five miles north by west of Point St. Esprit, on the south coast of Cape Breton since Thursday night.

'Exiled Noblemen' Capitalize Pity In London Dance Halls

Tell Their Sorry Tales of Fortunes Lost and Seek to Turn Sympathy of the Credulous Into Hard Cash.

London, March 31.—(By mail.)—The dancing boom is giving rise to a new crop of crooks, according to a correspondent writing in The Cardiff Times and South Wales Weekly Review.

"In my own country I am a Russian prince," one of the crooks said while dancing with a woman whom he had just met. "At the moment I am desirous to inform you that funds are exhausted. If you could be so kind, madame," and the elegantly attired "prince" displayed his gleaming teeth beneath the black toothbrush moustache.

Fortunately, the woman resisted the impulse to help the handsome dancing partner whose story was so romantic. "Later," says the writer, "I was able to point out to her that the alien gentleman in question was 'Flash Fritz,' one of the boys who 'worked' the 'Russian noblemen' line of crook business, and whose specialty was to pose as an unfortunate 'refugee of good birth,' temporarily impoverished until his fortunes should arrive from a mythical aunt."

"Dancing haunts are full of these pests, who are taking full advantage of the many Russian refugees in our midst. 'Bogus noblemen' are cheap today in Bohemia. The average persons from the country on their occasional trips to London are imbued with a desire to see 'life' as they phrase it, and a descent into Bohemia is an event that they look forward to. They want to see the sights, and the unscrupulous scoundrels who live on the credulity of these persons leave no stone unturned to provide them with the sights they seek. Consequently the 'night clubs' and other secret dancing dens flourish. The visitors, under the impression that they are really seeing London's night life, prove easy to pluck. What they do not know, however, is that these places are by no means typical of real London life but are actually arranged for the edification of the innocent abroad."

"There are dozens of these places in the West End of London, and the regular habits of them shelter anything from drug traffickers and confidence tricksters to women of the streets. The majority of them are called 'dancing parlours,' the reason being that in that guise they are able to accost any visitor to the club and offer to introduce him or her to others. "The very latest pest to flood these dancing haunts are bogus noblemen," as mentioned already, who are sheltering themselves behind the fact that large numbers of Russian refugees of noble birth have settled in our midst. There is always a gamon of romance upon the mysterious stranger, who hints that if only he had his 'rights' he would be enjoying the status of a prince or some nobleman of high degree. It is a delicious and romantic fancy for the unsophisticated maiden who is fascinated by the lure of the 'dance hall' to feel that the very elegant stranger, into whose arms she surrenders herself, may indeed be Prince 'This' or Duke 'That.' Upon this the glittering scoundrel who specializes in the 'bogus noblemen' trick trade diligently.
