OWNER OF HIS DEAR FRIEND GUTELUS

about and was not afraid to talk about it. But he was born in the United States. An awful thing! Why, these Liberals boss of the number of people brought from the United States while they were in power. They say their immigration policy brought many settlers to Canada from the United States. But, now according to these gentlemen, it is a crime to be born in the United States. Of course, it is much better for a man to be born in Canada than in the United States; but after all no man can say where he shall be born. He may have something to do with where he shall live, but the place of his birth is not within his option. Therefore, I say, it was only a misfortune, not a fault, in Mr. Gutelius that he was born in the United States. But, Sir, when he had reached years of manhood, years of discretion, he crossed the line and came into Canada. The greater portion of his experience as an engineer was gained in Canada, gained in a country of the same conditions that obtained on the line of the Transcontinental. Who so well fitted to make a report upon that road and the manner in which it was built as the man who was familiar with all the conditions of that country? Mr. Gutelius not only came over this country, but he was one of the people connected with the Grand Trunk Pacific he cast in his lot with us and joined our citizenship. Is not he just as good a Canadian, having joined us two or three years ago, as if he had joined us fifteen years ago? And that is the only fault that hon. gentlemen opposite can find with him—that he was naturalized a British subject only a couple of years ago.

WORK CONTINUED

Kelliber, of the Grand Trunk; Engineer Gordon Grant, of the Transcontinental Commission, and Collingwood Schreiber, chosen by the contractor. They investigated and reported that over-classification and overbreak to the amount of $988,000 had been made and they recommended payments to the contractor should be reduced by that amount. The contractor had refused to accept the reduction and was prepared to appeal from it when Major Leonard took office.

Engineer Reversed His Decision.

Major Leonard said that he instructed Chief Engineer Gordon Grant to reach a settlement if possible with the contractor. The matter was again taken up. The contractor's arguments were heard. Chief Engineer Gordon Grant recommended that a cut of bill by $100,000 would be fair and proper settlement. Major Leonard accepted the contractor's recommendation. The contractor's auditor-general to pay the contractor on this basis.

William German, member for Welsford, was in charge of the examination of the witness.

To Mr. German, Major Leonard admitted that Stanton and Gutelius had been in the matter, but denied that he had been in constant communication with them.

"It was understood that their inquiry was to be into things which had passed, while I should look after the present and future only."

"Was the acceptance of $150,000 basis of settlement referred to the government?"

"No."

"How did you decide to agree to such a very great change in the reduction of the contractor's bill?"

"I accepted the recommendation of the chief engineer, who has authority in this matter and after hearing the reasons given by the contractor, and denied."

"You think that the chief engineer has authority to effect such a settlement as this?"

"That is my view."

"Stanton and Gutelius take a different view," commented Mr. German.

"You considered $100,000 reduction a fair and proper settlement?" he asked Major Leonard.

"I did."

"Did you discuss this settlement with the contractor's lawyers?"

"I don't remember."

Chief Engineer Gordon Grant, to whom Major Leonard has shifted the responsibility of dealing more leniently with the contractor than was first intended, will be called upon at the next sitting to tell his side of the case.

SUBJECT MATTER OF DALHOUSIE BARBER

Dalhousie, N. B., April 15—A young man named Fred Thorne, who came here recently from Pictou (N. S.), to work as a barber with Louis J. LeBlanc, died suddenly at noon on Friday. He had just returned from a hurried trip to Truro (N. S.). He went to the drug store a few minutes before the dinner hour and on returning to his room took an overdose of medicine. Returning to the barber shop down stairs, he took a seat and began reading a newspaper, when he fell over and became unconscious. He was at once removed to his room. Drs. Ferguson and Dishrow were immediately notified and did all they could for the unfortunate young stranger, who died a couple of hours later. His friends in Pictou were notified and his father arrived here on Saturday evening. The body was taken to Pictou by him on Monday's Maritime express.

GOVERNOR ASSENTS TO $2,000,000, JARVIS TREE Legislature Prorogues Under a Cloud

His Honor Signs One Bill to Give Valley Railway More Millions, and Another to Inquire Into What Became of $500,000 of Aid Previously Granted—Servile Majority Swallow the Doses Prepared for Them With a Wry Face and Conclude Their Labors Full of Gloom.

Fredericton, April 18—There was a sombre legislation today that was an unusual one. It was remarkable. After fifty-two days of session, there were no proceedings were unmarked by any of the usual signs of joy and rejoicing.

Only about one-third of the members remained until the last rites were over. The arrival of the lieutenant-governor was unheralded and in silence. The dull solemnity of the performance was not broken by the music of a band, the sound of a military march or the tramp of citizen militia or the regulars. These should have been in greater evidence for the chief executive was celebrating an anniversary—his seventy-first birthday.

And yet the gloom was there—prevalent everywhere. There were reasons. The premier of the province was absent under grave charges preferred by a fellow member and the governor was sending to one bill that provided for the investigation of his conduct.

And there was another excuse for the gloom of the proceedings. An amazing spectacle was in evidence of two bills being assented to by his honor in which all the people have a vivid and deep interest, one to investigate the expenditure of $200,000 or $17 million of railway in the garden of the province, to determine if some half million of the money had been wasted, or worse, and to investigate serious charges in connection with the giving of the contract that concerned two men prominent in public life.

The other bill was to guarantee further bonds for the same road as well as the unbegun sections for a sum of $10,000 per mile or a total of $2,000,000.

A Grave Occasion.

Never in legislative history were two such bills assented to at the same time by one governor.

The responsibility of such an act was laid on the shoulders of the lieutenant-governor. The high sheriff was on hand, the chief of police stood at the door, the coroner was present.

"Mr. Dugal Take Notice: 'Make you peace with your God. Prepare for death, because your days are numbered.'"

(Signed) "LEGATO. 'THE BLACK HAND.' 'Chatham.'"

The Royal Commission.

The appointment of the royal commission will be awaited with interest. Much depends upon the ability and impartiality of the men selected. The names of some supreme court judges have been mentioned, but as a number of them are related either to the members of the present or past government, and one of them to an ex-member of the government, the majority of them are being eliminated under the usage of the day.

The authority of the commission vests it with all the powers of the supreme court, and makes it possible for any commissioner to take evidence in the absence of his colleagues. Any person may serve a summons in any place in the province. Responsible expenses are allowed witnesses, and no evidence is privileged before the commission is admissible in other civil suits. The sittings of the commission shall be public, and the publication of the evidence is privileged.

Provision is also made for payment of the commissioners, who shall report to the lieutenant-governor.

Mr. Wood's presentation of the report of the investigating committee, which was published in the evening of Wednesday night, when it is expected the personnel of the royal commission will be announced.

Sift the Charges, Says Stewart.

Fredericton, April 18—The house met at 11:45 o'clock.

Mr. Woods presented the report of the investigating committee, which was published in the evening of Wednesday night, when it is expected the personnel of the royal commission will be announced.

Mr. Pinder presented the report of the public accounts committee.

The house went into committee, with Mr. Slipp in the chair, and agreed to the bill to provide for the railway commissions to enquire into certain charges connected with the St. John Valley railway.

The bill to authorize an enquiry into certain charges connected with the timber limits was then taken up.

Mr. Stewart (Northumberland), said that as an independent member, he was pleased to say that he believed a vote of Northumberland county would unanimously endorse the action taken by the government to have an investigation by an independent royal commission of the charges, which had been made by the hon. member for Madawaska, and which reflected upon the government and its policy in the whole atmosphere in Northumberland county had been putrid with stories and reports of graft and corruption, and he believed that the same was true elsewhere in the province. In fact so current were these reports that they had reached a stage where it was a disgrace to have them in the air, and the speaker had arrived when there should be a thorough investigation. This was exactly the intention of the government in deciding to have a royal commission to conduct the inquiries.

The last bill, that relating to the St. John Valley railway charges, showed that it was the purpose of the government to have the fullest investigation. It had been said that the government would not allow an inquiry into the cost of the construction of the railway, and one section of the bill relating to the charges regarding the timber limits which, if literally interpreted, meant, as he read it, that if the commission found that Hon. J. K. Fleming had not directed the alleged extortion of moneys from the limit holders, then the whole inquiry would fall to the ground. He was sure that all the members of the house now present felt that Hon. Mr. Fleming was not guilty of the charges which had been preferred against him, but under the bill, as presented, it was found that Hon. Mr. Fleming did not direct the extortion of the moneys, as alleged, and that Mr. Berry had not, as alleged, paid the moneys over to Mr. Fleming, then the investigation would have to stop. This would not clear the atmosphere or satisfy the people, and who wanted it so that no guilty man would escape. He moved the following amendments:

"Strikes out the words: 'And if they so find them, also to find what disposition the said Hon. James Kidd Fleming' and insert the words: 'and if they find that any of the said moneys were so collected through the agency of the said William H. Berry, then will also to find what disposition the said William H. Berry did make thereof.'"

Mr. Swin seconded the amendment.

Hon. Mr. Clarke said he listened with pleasure to the speech which the hon. member for Northumberland had made, and to his expressed disposition to stand behind the government in providing for a complete investigation of the charges which had been made, but in his speech the hon. member had gone beyond the line of the amendment he had drafted, and his ideas on the subject were short of the sentiments he had expressed in his speech.

He (Clarke) had been handed a copy of the amended motion, and the gentleman had moved, and it did not come from the hon. member for Northumberland himself.

Stewart (Northumberland)—Yes, it did.

Hon. Mr. Clarke said he may have received a copy which came from the hon. member for Northumberland, but he had previously received another copy which came from another person.

Some hon. members—Names, names.

Hon. Mr. Clarke, continuing, said that the government had drafted the bill for the purpose of providing for a thorough and complete investigation of the charges which had been made. He felt that this purpose would not be served by an amendment which the hon. member for Northumberland had presented, and he suggested its withdrawal.

Mr. Stewart said he would have to decline to withdraw the amendment. On the vote being taken, the amendment was carried.

Hon. Mr. Clarke said that in drawing the bill a printed copy of the motion of the hon. member for Madawaska had been handed to him, and in this printed copy there had been a clause which he thought that it would be necessary to make an amendment. He would, therefore, move that the main section of this bill be so amended as to read: 'if they find that the said moneys were so collected through the knowledge and consent, and under the direction, of the said Hon. James Kidd Fleming and the said William H. Berry, then what disposition did he make thereof?'

Mr. Stewart (Northumberland) said that he had no objection to the hon. leader of the house largely met the amendment which he moved.

The amendment was adopted and the hon. member agreed to the bill with that amendment.

The house went into committee and took up consideration of the bill to amend the New Brunswick Railway Act.

Mr. Guthrie moved to amend the bill by providing that the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners should be arbitrators under the act.

Mr. Slipp said there was no demand for any change in the law. No grievance had been shown or any other reason why the right of the farmer to name his own valuator should be taken away, and he considered it most unjust and unjust to do so. The Public Utilities Commission was a very unsuitable body for the purpose proposed, and it was not fair to the farmers that the matter should be put into hands of men, of whom they know nothing.

Mr. Tilley remarked that the only point in the amended bill was that a court of appeal was substituted for a single judge as body to whom an appeal should be made. That amendment was surely an improvement.

Mr. Young supported the amendment on the ground that the Public Utilities Commission would be a most suitable body to arbitrate on such matters.

Mr. Slipp said he had objection to the Public Utilities Commission, but he thought there were so many sections in the bill which might require it to be revised in order that it might be amended.

Mr. Lockhart said the amendment was unreasonable and there was no justification whatever of taking away from the farmers the right they had for so many years to appoint their own valuator.

Hon. Mr. Clarke said he had had for some time considerable doubt whether he would support the amendment, but he was all the more convinced that it was a most desirable amendment, and he would support it.

Mr. Slipp complained that the Public Utilities Commission would not have time to attend to the work they would be called upon to do.

Mr. Woods said undoubtedly the bill should go through in its original form. He had quite as much interest in the welfare of the farmers of Sunbury and Queens as his colleagues, and he did not think the bill would do any one of them a bit of harm.

Mr. Jones said the committee which had investigated the matter had been struck by the want of uniformity in the scale of prices paid by the company for land on different parts of the route. In one case the Railway had $1,500 an acre had been paid for swamp land, which appeared to point pretty clearly to the fact that somebody should be in charge of such matters, who would have the right to have a valuation made something like uniform.

Mr. Tilley said the present law had been in existence for many years and had not worked any particular hardship on anybody, and he felt the amended bill, as introduced by the attorney-general, would meet every case.

The committee recently held and Chairman Ball declared the amendment lost.

The bill was then agreed to with amendments.

The lieutenant-governor then entered the assembly chamber and assented to the remaining bills which had been passed by the house, and proposed the house with the following speech: "Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of Legislative Assembly: 'I desire to thank you for the close attention which you have given to the general business of the session, as well as to those special matters which I have submitted for your consideration, and I thank you for the liberal provision which you have made for the important services of the province. 'Now relieving you from your legislative duties I have to congratulate you upon the conclusion of your labors, trusting that they may prove of benefit to the province and I take leave of you with most sincere wishes for your individual happiness and prosperity.'" line of the amendment he had drafted, and his ideas on the subject were short of the sentiments he had expressed in his speech.

He (Clarke) had been handed a copy of the amended motion, and the gentleman had moved, and it did not come from the hon. member for Northumberland himself.

Stewart (Northumberland)—Yes, it did.

Hon. Mr. Clarke said he may have received a copy which came from the hon. member for Northumberland, but he had previously received another copy which came from another person.

Some hon. members—Names, names.

Hon. Mr. Clarke, continuing, said that the government had drafted the bill for the purpose of providing for a thorough and complete investigation of the charges which had been made. He felt that this purpose would not be served by an amendment which the hon. member for Northumberland had presented, and he suggested its withdrawal.

Mr. Stewart said he would have to decline to withdraw the amendment. On the vote being taken, the amendment was carried.

Hon. Mr. Clarke said that in drawing the bill a printed copy of the motion of the hon. member for Madawaska had been handed to him, and in this printed copy there had been a clause which he thought that it would be necessary to make an amendment. He would, therefore, move that the main section of this bill be so amended as to read: 'if they find that the said moneys were so collected through the knowledge and consent, and under the direction, of the said Hon. James Kidd Fleming and the said William H. Berry, then what disposition did he make thereof?'

Mr. Stewart (Northumberland) said that he had no objection to the hon. leader of the house largely met the amendment which he moved.

The amendment was adopted and the hon. member agreed to the bill with that amendment.

The house went into committee and took up consideration of the bill to amend the New Brunswick Railway Act.

Mr. Guthrie moved to amend the bill by providing that the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners should be arbitrators under the act.

Mr. Slipp said there was no demand for any change in the law. No grievance had been shown or any other reason why the right of the farmer to name his own valuator should be taken away, and he considered it most unjust and unjust to do so. The Public Utilities Commission was a very unsuitable body for the purpose proposed, and it was not fair to the farmers that the matter should be put into hands of men, of whom they know nothing.

Mr. Tilley remarked that the only point in the amended bill was that a court of appeal was substituted for a single judge as body to whom an appeal should be made. That amendment was surely an improvement.

Mr. Young supported the amendment on the ground that the Public Utilities Commission would be a most suitable body to arbitrate on such matters.

Mr. Slipp said he had objection to the Public Utilities Commission, but he thought there were so many sections in the bill which might require it to be revised in order that it might be amended.

Mr. Lockhart said the amendment was unreasonable and there was no justification whatever of taking away from the farmers the right they had for so many years to appoint their own valuator.

Hon. Mr. Clarke said he had had for some time considerable doubt whether he would support the amendment, but he was all the more convinced that it was a most desirable amendment, and he would support it.

Mr. Slipp complained that the Public Utilities Commission would not have time to attend to the work they would be called upon to do.

Mr. Woods said undoubtedly the bill should go through in its original form. He had quite as much interest in the welfare of the farmers of Sunbury and Queens as his colleagues, and he did not think the bill would do any one of them a bit of harm.

Mr. Jones said the committee which had investigated the matter had been struck by the want of uniformity in the scale of prices paid by the company for land on different parts of the route. In one case the Railway had $1,500 an acre had been paid for swamp land, which appeared to point pretty clearly to the fact that somebody should be in charge of such matters, who would have the right to have a valuation made something like uniform.

Mr. Tilley said the present law had been in existence for many years and had not worked any particular hardship on anybody, and he felt the amended bill, as introduced by the attorney-general, would meet every case.

The committee recently held and Chairman Ball declared the amendment lost.

SEALER THOUGHT LOST IS SAFE

St. John's, Newfoundland, April 18—The sealing steamer Kyle was reported safe today.

WHY A FARMER SHOULD KNOW HIS COWS INDIVIDUALLY AS TO PRODUCTION AND COST OF FEED—FARMING METHODS.

Just as long as a dairyman knows only the production of all his cows, just so long will he be without the necessary incentive to take steps for herd improvement. But when he knows his cows individually, as to production and cost of feed, then he can retain the abundant and economical production of the French farmer each produces corresponding crop yields to that of the British. The American farmer averages fourteen bushels of wheat to the acre.

Why is this difference? Why should lands tilled for centuries produce so much more than lands that have been yielding crops on an average, tilling the country at large, of hardly more than one century? The same thing could be shown in corn, oats, or any other crop generally raised.

The combined crops of the United States last year, it is estimated were worth about ten billion dollars. There may be a million or so of error in this estimate either way, but one million is only one-tenth of one per cent. of a billion, and the error, if there be one, is not important. An average increase in the crops of only one-fourth—an increase of between three and four bushels of wheat, seven or eight bushels of corn, or sixty to 120 pounds of cotton, and so on, to the acre, in any year, would mean an increase in the wealth of the country for that year, of two and a half billions of dollars.

This would build another Panama canal every two months. It would pay the cost of the complete and perfect improvement of the Mississippi river and the reclamation of its broad and fertile valley in a few months. It would equal the net annual earnings of all the railroads in the country for a year. It would pay the expenses of the entire educational system of the United States for that time.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUHL

(Domestic Science Lectures)

Discovering the Attic

Almost every house has an attic, but the conveniences of these secluded places have not all been put to use. Sometimes it is because the room is not needed, but more often it happens the top floor is not ventilated, lighted or heated properly. Again it may only be used for storage or for drying clothes in wet weather. This is certainly the only use that is made of unplastered attics that are dreary and ugly; overhung with dusty webs and scarcely fit for the uses made of them.

The college towns have shown us what may be done with attics, no matter how unsightly they are in the beginning.

The lighting problem must be solved first; of course gas or electricity should be used if practicable, but splendid lights are provided with the modern, improved oil burning lamps and acetylene gas burners. Sufficient daylight is harder to provide, but this can be had with a skylight, and such an arrangement gives the needed fresh air summer and winter.

The plastering of unfinished parts of houses is undoubtedly the bugbear that has made your top floor almost useless for habitation and plastering is expensive and so tedious a job that the man of the house dreads undertaking it. But Modern Improvement has cared for this too, or rather does away with plastering by providing something much better in the shape of wall-board.

This covering can be put on without any underframing, except a heavy studing here and there, to hold the nails that secure it. It is superior to lath, plaster, canvas or any other form of wall covering, for it keeps out cold and heat and is indestructible.

The material comes in sheets from thirty-two to sixty inches wide and in any length up to twelve feet. There are several varieties made and the price is regulated by the thickness of the wall-board selected. It is less than half the cost of plastering even when the finest board is used.

Any building supply company will give estimates for this sensible wall finish, and after it is purchased it only remains to hammer the sheets into place with wire nails. Where the edges of the wall-board join, a border is used, and this gives an artistic, paneled effect that is as handsome as the best paper produced. These borders are of wood fibre and are also nailed on, or paper borders may be used.

There is a wide choice of flat, or grained, or granite tones to choose from in this material, and this flat, soft-textured surface is always safe for any wall finish. Later, if you tire of the monotony, you can paint or paper over the board for a change.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Rev. N. Franchette performed the ceremony. The newly-wedded couple will reside here.

Last Saturday Thomas Sullivan, of Johnville, fell from a barn on which he was working and was fatally injured. Friends hastened to take him to the hospital, but he died before the train arrived.

Mrs. A. D. Colwell arrived from St. John Wednesday, and Mrs. Colwell will reside in the Carr building.

Rev. P. A. Fitzpatrick visited his sister at Florenceville this week.

Miss Dora Mason, of Fort Fairfield, spent the week-end with the Misses Glinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace R. Nixon entertained the Philatelic class at their home Friday evening. The evening was spent in playing games, after which a dainty lunch was served.

PRESENTATION OF WATCH AND CHAIN TO BURNS

Commander of the Government Steamer Lansdowne Honored for His Gallant Conduct at Time of the Cobeguid Disaster—His Fine Speech in Reply.

Yesterday morning Mayor Frink presented to Captain Arthur Burns of the government steamer Lansdowne, on behalf of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, a handsome gold watch and chain the work of his own hands in connection with the rescue of the steamer Cobeguid, wrecked on Trinity ledge in 1904.

At the presentation the mayor spoke in terms of highest praise of the gallant efforts of Captain Burns and his crew. Did His Duty.

Captain Burns in his reply said: "I am not aware that I did anything more than what was my duty to do, and what common humanity and the affinity that exists between one seaman and another, would naturally accrue me. I was my own command, who did everything in their power to make the rescue of the remaining members of the Cobeguid crew a success, and if through our efforts the lives of any of the survivors were saved, we have no lived in vain."

"I thank you, Sir, for the presentation. I think the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, owners of the ill-fated Cobeguid, for their generous gift, which I will ever treasure as a remembrance of a time in my life when I was the humble instrument of doing a little good, and the ship's company, in upholding the traditions of seamen under the flag we all love."

"The value of the gift is enhanced by the fact that it comes, indirectly, through the hands of my old employers, Messrs. William Thomson & Co. Once again I beg to thank all concerned. The watch itself is a handsome one of solid gold, with three-quarter case, and is engraved on the inner side of the back cover.

To Captain Arthur Burns from the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co., in grateful remembrance of the services rendered by the Lansdowne 18th and 14th January, 1914.

The chain is a heavy one of solid gold in the design of a ship's cabin. The gift was greatly admired by all present and Capt. Burns was warmly congratulated and complimented, both for his heroic conduct and his fine speech.

DISEASE IS DUE TO BAD BLOOD

To Cure Common Ailments the Blood Must be Made Rich and Red

Nearly all the diseases that afflict humanity, are caused by bad blood—weak, watery blood poisoned by impurities. Bad blood is the cause of headaches and backaches, lumbago and rheumatism; of indigestion, nervousness, neuralgia and other nerve troubles, and disfiguring skin diseases like eczema and skin eruptions show how impure the blood actually is.

No one trying a different remedy for each disease because they all spring from the one cause—bad blood. To cure any of these troubles you must get right down to the root of the trouble in the blood. Pink Pills do just what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do. They make new, rich blood and thus cure these diseases when common medicine fails. Mrs. John Jackson, of Woodstock, Ont., suffered from both nervous troubles and a run down condition and experienced a complete cure through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I was a sufferer for a number of years from neuralgia, and a general debility of the nerves and system. I had tried several remedies, but none more quiet well and able to attend to all my household duties. At the time I began the Pills I had grown so bad that I could hardly do my work, and was forced to wear elastic bandages about the ankles. The pain I suffered at times from the neuralgia was terrible. I had almost given up hope when I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In the course of a few weeks I felt the improvement, and I gladly continued the use of the Pills until I am now more quiet well and able to attend to all my household duties."

If you are ailing begin to cure yourself today with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50. From The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Your Many Strength "Nature" Book Free

My Free Offer to My Men and Young Men Readers. My free offer is as follows: There are in existence today numerous creditable books relating to the much discussed sex science, and they range in price from 75c to $5, while my offer is given below is a free one.

I publish a little private compendium of 72 pages, pocket sized, containing 8,000 words and 80 half-tone photographs, which thoroughly covers the subject of sex, but only in its relation to manhood or vital manly strength, its legitimate uses, its wanton abuses, its loss and the causes thereof, its possible self-restoration and its permanent preservation. These are the vital phases of the sex subject which I find to be of most interest to all men, young or elderly, single or married, and I have therefore put into this little self-help book the very best that I can offer relating to that particular personal and private advice and information, which my 20 years' practical experience in this field has taught me men most seek, and through which they can get the most real benefit in respect to their own vigor and health. This, reader, the book, and my offer to send it by mail, absolutely free of charge, in a perfectly plain, sealed envelope, to any man or young man anywhere who writes for it (see coupon below), and there is not a particle of obligation of any kind whatsoever involved in making this gift offer to you. Over a million of these books have been thus sent to men all over the world who wrote for them.

The reason why I can offer this illustrated sex book free is that in one part I include a description of a little mechanical vibrator of my own invention, which is for use by those of my readers who need some outside aid in the restoration of their manly vigor. However, that is a matter for each person to decide for himself. The book itself may become as vital, manly and forceful as the best man of your acquaintance, then I have merely given you a clear understanding of what nature itself is herself constantly endeavoring to tell and show you.

As to my vitality, it may or may not be necessary in your own case, but if you want to use it after reading the description, I will gladly make some special proposition so you may get one to try. This vitality, weighing only several ounces, is worn all night. It generates a soft, easy flowing force which I call vitality. This force enters your system at the small of the back, flowing thence through the kidneys, liver, stomach, bladder and organs, and diffusing itself to every part of the body. Over 300,000 Standard vitality men are now in use or have recently been used. It keeps up its gentle action while you sleep. Men everywhere have said it makes them feel better and stronger almost at once, that it often takes pain out of the back in a few hours, and 60 to 90 days' time is sufficient to restore normal vigor. With special attachment my vitality is used by women as well as men for rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc.

If you live in or near this city, would be pleased to have you call. Hours, 9 to 6. However, whether or not you ever use the vitality, at least you want the free book, so kindly fill in the coupon and the book will go to you, sealed, by return mail.
