CALEDONIANS OF RESTIGOUCHE

OBSERVE ST. ANDREWS NIGHT

WITH BANQUET AT CHATEAU

Society's New Officers For The Coming Year Are Installed—Fine Program of Good Music, And Speeches Combined With Gorgeous Spread To Make Occasion A Most Pleasant One.

With a gorgeous spread, a lengthy toast-list, many fine speeches and a wealth of Scottish music and song, the Caledonian Society of Restigouche happily observed St. Andrew's Day, November 30th, here this year at the Chateau Restigouche. About eighty members of the Society from all parts of the county, and a number of guests were present.

The officers for the ensuing year were installed by Past President R. B. Rossborough as follows: President—W. F. Thornton. Vice-President—Dr. D. Murray. Chaplain—Rev. E. V. Forbes. Marshalls—F. E. Shepherd and Geo. G. McKenzie. Sec./Treasurer—H. R. Smith. Chief of Executive—John A. Blissett. Musical Director—T. J. McDevitt. Piper—H. M. McLennan.

Dining-Hall Decorated

The spacious dining-hall of the Chateau Restigouche was suitably decorated for the occasion. The Mackenzie clan plaid was festooned along one side of the hall and that of the Sturges along the other, each meeting in an arch over the portrait of Robert Burns at the south end of the room. The crowd gathered about the banquet board at half past nine, Piper McLennan heading the march to the brilliantly lighted dining-hall with "The Campbells Are Coming" rendered on the bag-pipes in true Scotch style.

The menu, every dish of which was up to the high standard of Chateau Restigouche, was as follows:

Grape Fruit Cocktail
Tomatoe Bisque au Cruton
Assorted Pickles
Pillet Haddie
BOAST DRESSED CHICKEN
Cranberry Sauce
Brown Gravy
String Beans
Mashed Potatoes
Potato Croquettes
SCOTCH HAGGIS "Auld Reekie"
Deep Apple Pie
Ice Cream

Tea
Cigars
Cigarettes
Coffee
A pleasing feature of the dinner was the somewhat formal introduction to the feast of a huge platter of Scotch Haggis. This was brought upon the scene by the chef, who carried it upon a large silver tray, while the waitress followed. Headed by Piper McLennan this procession marched up one side of the dining-room to the head of the table where the famous Scotch delicacy was delivered to the President for serving.

The Toast List, which was well varied with much spirited Scotch music was as follows:

SILENT TOAST To Our Departed Brethren.

OUR SOCIETY The President MALE QUARTETTE

H. B. LeRoy, T. C. Lapraik, R. B. Gerrard, and J. A. Blissett.

THE DAY WE HONOUR Proposed by R. B. Rossborough. Responded to by Rev. W. W. McNair.

OUR LEGISLATIVE BODIES Proposed by D. Murray, M. D. Responded to by Hon. D. A. Stewart.

OUR TOWNS Proposed by G. A. Wallace. Responded to by W. S. Montgomery.

SCOTCH REELS Archie McEachran, Violinist, T. McDevitt, Pianist.

AULD LANG SYNE ATHLETIC.

GO SAVE THE KING

In proposing the toast to "Our Society," Mr. W. F. Thornton, the President, gave a brief but appropriate address and dealt with the significance of St. Andrew's Day and the objective of the Caledonian Society.

Following the president's speech was a male quartette consisting of Messrs. Harry B. LeRoy, T. C. Lapraik, R. B. Gerrard and J. A. Blissett. "Bonnie Annie Laurie" and other Scotch songs were rendered with fine spirit and notable harmony and this contribution was received with hearty applause.

In proposing the toast to "The Day We Honour," R. B. Rossborough briefly reviewed early Scottish history and the usual Scotch song, which was not without humor, was delivered in his usual interesting way and listened to with close attention.

In responding to this toast Rev. W. W. McNair paid a tribute to the

FORDSON TRACTOR

HAULS 45 TONS

Fordson Tractor With Full-Crawler Equipment Is Demonstrated Here By Local Dealers.

The marvelous hauling capacity of the Fordson tractor with Trackcon Full-Crawler equipment was clearly demonstrated here on Friday morning of last week when this machine pulled a load of 45 tons in the railway yard here.

This incident took place at a Ford dealers, Gillis & Richards, at which a number of lumbermen were present. Mr. H. L. Thorne of the Ford Motor Company, St. John, was also present and explained the many advantages of the machine to those interested. In an effort to find something heavy enough to test the strength of the fully equipped Fordson, the machine was driven to the railway yard and hitched to a London box car which contained thirty-five tons of pig iron. The car, of course, was on the siding and the tractor was subjected to an awkward side-haul. The ground was slippery and at times only one crawler was laboring. But the machine pulled its heavy load along with ease and even the application of the brakes failed to halt it.

In explanation of this almost unbelievable strength, it may be said that the machine, equipped with full-crawler, has a road surface of over one thousand square inches. And the fact that its total weight of 4100 pounds is so well distributed, makes it equally serviceable on soft or in two feet of snow. The weight per square inch is only 3.9 pounds.

Low Cost

The cost of operation is placed at $15.00 per ten hour day and it is estimated by an I. N. R. lumberman, who has recently acquired one of these machines that he will save $40 per day in his lumbering operations and thus pay for this saving in one month's time.

In addition to this a local lumberman who has used a Fordson for two years, states that his total repair bill for that period has amounted to only $20.85.

One-Man Outfit

The Fordson tractor is sturdy a one-man outfit. It can be turned anywhere within its own length and is just especially adaptable to woods work. It has a 22 H. P. Heavy Duty Motor, and a three-speed transmission (Dodge shift) gives it a possible speed of fourteen miles per hour. Both in special tests and in actual work this Fordson has proven itself very conservatively rated at 20 tons hauling capacity for it has been known to haul nearly twice this weight even on poor roads. It will ordinarily do the work of four teams of horses or eight teams where hauling is particularly heavy.

Following the recent snowstorm the local dealers again tried out this machine and found that it worked equally as well as on the pavement before the storm.

LOCAL NURSES

ARE SUCCESSFUL

Three Campbellton Nurses Recently Passed The Registration Examinations At St. John.

At the examinations for registration of nurses recently held in Saint John, three Campbellton nurses passed successfully and were awarded diplomas as Registered Nurses and hence are entitled to write the letters R. N. after their names. The successful candidates are Sister Marie Shannon and Miss Mary E. Branch, graduates of the Hotel Dieu Hospital Training School and Mrs. Helena M. Palmer, graduate of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital Training School. We congratulate these successful nurses on the result of their examinations.

A solo by Mr. J. R. Vallis followed the minister's speech and this popular vocalist drew well-merited applause. Messrs. Archie McEachran and Thos. J. McDevitt, as violinist and pianist respectively, supplied the music for the evening and injected into it a spirit of genuine gaiety.

After the large gathering had formed a circle about the room and joined heartily in "Auld Lang Syne," the singing of the National Anthem brought the happy event to a close.

GIRL HOCKEYISTS

PREPARE TO PLAY

Manager For Ladies Squad Secured And Other Officials To Be Decided On Shortly.

A meeting of the young lady hockeyists of Campbellton was held last week and steps taken toward the re-organizing of the team for the coming season. Miss Irene Jastline was appointed Secretary-Treasurer and a committee was named to interview other persons and ascertain whether or not they would act if appointed to other responsibilities in the club. Mr. E. Wallace Henry, it is understood will be manager of the team and efforts are also being made to secure the services of a coach.

The full line-up is not yet known but several of last year's players will appear again this season.

HOCKEY DANCE A

GREAT SUCCESS

Large Crowd Present—Double Orchestra And Dainty Lunch Much Appreciated—Use Of Linmac Hall Given Free.

Considered from every angle, the dance held at the Linmac last night under the auspices of the Campbellton Hockey Club was an outstanding success on the season's list of social events. A particularly large crowd graced the spacious floor and every particular was thoughtfully arranged for.

As an important contributory factor to the success of the occasion the spirited music of both the Linmac players and Burley's Orchestra was more than appreciated—their combined efforts made a hit and added immeasurably to the enjoyment of the affair. The well varied program consisted of fourteen regular numbers and two extras.

Dainty refreshments were served by the Ladies Hockey Club and these were done full justice to by all attending. The chaperones were, Mrs. W. G. Mier, Mrs. L. A. Gilbert and Mrs. Earl Mowat, while Mr. G. A. Wallace was chairman of the committee in charge.

On behalf of the Hockey Club sincere thanks is extended to Messrs. Sullivan & McCuskey who so kindly gave the hall free of charge; Mr. Burley and the members of his orchestra for the assistance in the musical program; the ladies who catered and all those who contributed in any way toward the success of the event.

SEVENTH ANNUAL ### CONFERENCE HERE

C. G. I. T. Conference Had Most Successful Two-Day Sessions Here—Many Delegates Present.

The seventh annual Conference of the North Shore Division of the C. G. I. T., was held in Campbellton on November 27, 28 and 29th under the auspices of the Maritime Religious Education Council. The conference which is the eighth of a series of fourteen being held throughout the Maritimes, opened at 7 o'clock on Friday evening in St. Andrew's United Church Hall, Miss Marjorie E. Trotter presiding.

Delegates from Chatham, Bathurst, Charlottetown, Tide Head, Flatlands, Matapedia, Oak Bay Mills and the local churches were present.

Chatham was represented by twelve delegates under the leadership of Mrs. H. B. McDonald and Miss Vernie Stewart; Bathurst had six delegates under the leadership of Mrs. McMillan, Miss Ruth Gifford and Miss Dalhousie; Charlottetown had four delegates; Tide Head had two; Tide Head had eight, under Mrs. E. V. Forbes; Flatlands and Matapedia had two representatives each; Oak Bay Mills, represented by two, under Mrs. H. F. Fair. The Campbellton churches, Baptist, Wesleyan United and St. Andrew's United, were represented by 66 delegates under Mrs. W. S. Godfrey, Mrs. W. H. Sharpe, Mrs. Barclay Gerrard, Mrs. Daniel Dewar, Mrs. Beatrice Somers, Mrs. Harry McLennan and Miss Mabel E. Keith who acted as registrar.

Following registration of the delegates on Friday evening and a singing conducted by Mrs. H. B. McDonald, the meeting opened with the Opening Worship of the conference program. After a welcome had been extended by Miss Dorothy Miller to the delegates the election of officers resulted as follows:

Pres.—Mary Bond, Bathurst. Sec.—Dorothy Miller, Town. The theme of the conference was "Dreaming True" and at 8.45 stories of "Great Dreamers" were told as follows:

Miss Lillian Sadler of Chatham told of L. M. Montgomery, the noted authoress. Thelma Fitzgerald of Tide Head told a story of Jennie Lind, the Swedish singer. Mary Kane of Campbellton, told a story of Pauline Johnson, the Indian story poetess.

These interesting narratives were followed by a helpful talk "Supping We Dream" by Miss Trotter and then the meeting came to an end with the closing ceremony.

On Saturday

Saturday morning the conference re-opened at 9.30 and the girls were divided into groups for the discussion of "Turning Our Dreams Into Deeds." A period of play concluded the morning session.

The Saturday afternoon meeting was held in Wesley United Church at 2 o'clock when handcraft and snapshots were exhibited by the delegates. At 3 o'clock reports of the morning discussion were heard from the secretaries of the various groups and Miss Mary Stewart of Dalhousie gave an interesting talk on "A Day At Camp." This was followed by C. G. I. T. stunts.

Banquet Held

On Saturday evening a sumptuous banquet was given the delegates by the women of St. Andrew's United Church. The toast list was as follows: Home Dream, proposed by Edna McDonald of Tide Head, and was responded to by Blanche de St. Croix of Campbellton; Church Dream Service, proposed by Helen Irwin, of Chatham, and responded to by Rev. W. W. McNair of Campbellton; Community Dream Brotherhood, proposed by Dorothy Stevens and responded to by Mrs. E. V. Forbes, Tide Head; World Dream Peace, proposed by Frances St. Croix, of Charlottetown and responded to by Mary Archibald, Bathurst; C.G.I.T. Dream, proposed by Ruby Maisey and responded to by Mrs. H. B. McDonald. During the banquet Mrs. H. F. Fair rendered a solo, "A Capital Ship for an Ocean Trip," which was heartily applauded. Mr. and Mrs. William S. Godfrey next rendered a vocal duet, "The Famous Buckwheat Cakes" which was also greatly appreciated.

At the close of the banquet a vote of thanks was moved by Miss Molly Loggie, of Chatham, and seconded by Miss Mary Archibald of Bathurst. After the banquet the camp committee met to discuss and make plans for next summer's camp. The committee consisted of Rev. W. S. Godfrey, Rev. E. V. Forbes, Mrs. H. B. McDonald and Mrs. Barclay Gerrard. This year's camp site was at Allen's Point, just below Dalhousie.

At 4.15 Sunday afternoon a vesper service was held the theme being "Dreaming with the Master Dreamer." The meeting closed by singing "Taps."

On Sunday evening the conference came to a close with Fellowship Circle and appropriate singing by the girls.

LOCAL TRAVELLERS

TO DINE HERE

Travellers Club To Hold Dinner At St. Louis Hotel On Saturday Evening.

Arrangements have been made by officials of the Campbellton Commercial Travellers Association for a dinner to be held at the St. Louis Hotel here on Saturday evening at 6.30 o'clock. Mr. E. J. Collier, a director of the organization will be the chairman and chief speaker at the gathering. Many other members will also be heard in a discussion of the club's activities.

A full financial statement will be submitted at the meeting and a pleasant social hour is also anticipated.

TWO DEER KILLED

BY SINGLE RIFLE SHOT

Welland, Ont., Dec. 1.—The killing of two deer with one rifle bullet is vouched for by members of the Charter Lake Hunt Club who have just returned from their annual outing in the Pickering River district. Cecil Fegan, one of the youngest members of the club is given credit for performing the double kill. A buck doe and fawn stepped out of the wood a short distance from Fegan, who fired. The doe dropped with a broken backbone and the bullet continued into the head of the buck, which fell dead within twenty-five feet.

THE ICE BRIDGE

The weather turned cold Sunday and Monday morning the Restigouche was frozen over above Campbellton.

Tuesday morning the ice was firm and pedestrians crossed.

The meeting opened by singing "O, Worship the King," then the service of worship. A solo was given by Evelyn DuGuay which was followed by a talk "Dreaming with the Master Dreamer." The meeting closed by singing "Taps."

On Sunday evening the conference came to a close with Fellowship Circle and appropriate singing by the girls.

SPEAKING AT THE ST. ANDREW'S BANQUET

of the Caledonian Society of Restigouche here on Monday night, Hon. D. A. Stewart, Minister of Public Works in the present provincial government, announced that there would be no reduction in automobile license fees this year and that the proposed Gasoline Tax might be as much as 5 cents per gallon.

The minister was responding to a toast to "Our Legislative Bodies," and in doing so, naturally dealt with a few matters of political color. He pointed out that while a surplus in the provincial treasury has often been announced in recent years—both Liberal and Conservative governments—there never has been a real surplus created in the last 25 years.

Mr. Stewart also pointed out the need and the fairness of the proposed tax on gasoline and added that while its institution would not be any burden to the individual auto-owner it would, in the aggregate, help considerably in swelling the revenue of the province. The minister stated that the proposed tax would not likely be as high as 5 cents but that, in all probability, it would be at least three cents per gallon.

OBITUARY

Martha Jamieson

In Portland, Maine on October 25, occurred the death of Martha Jamieson, widow of the late J. S. Cape Campbell, formerly of Black Capes, Quebec. Mrs. Campbell was born and lived in Black Capes until about three years ago when after the death of her son Herbert, she went to make her home among her children, visiting in Montreal, Hamilton and W. Ham. Mass, and finally coming to Portland to make her home. Although not in the best of health for some time her death was entirely unexpected, and came as a great shock to family and friends.

Services were held at the home in Portland on Tuesday at 2.30 p.m. and the body taken to Black Capes where funeral services were held at the home of her sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Angus N. Campbell. Burial in St. Andrews cemetery, New Richmond.

Mrs. Campbell leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and devoted mother, five daughters, Tina who accompanied the body home, Mrs. C. C. Warne of Portland, Maine, Mrs. R. G. Parker of Montreal, Mrs. H. L. Anderson of Waltham, Mass., and Bernice, nurse-in-training in the Children's Hospital, Portland, Maine and one son, Earl of Hamilton, Ontario, also twelve grandchildren, four sisters and one brother mourn the loss of sister and grand-mother. ## FISH THROUGH ICE

ON THE MIRAMICHI

Chatham, N. B., Dec. 3.—The snail fishing season on the Miramichi opened today with most unusual conditions, it being the first time in many years that the fishermen have had to fish through the ice before the opening of the season.

Another night of zero weather, with sub-zero temperatures reported this morning, has apparently spoiled the Miramichi for the winter unless an unusual period of mild weather follows. Today the fishermen were busy operating their nets through the ice and some good catches were reported.

WHAT ABOUT HOCKEY?

Matapedia, P.Q., Dec. 2.—The cold weather has settled and now the skating and hockey season is at hand.

Every town and village that has any hockey material has one or more hockey teams organized but as Matapedia has nothing done and there is no sign of anything being done.

Will we be without a hockey team this winter? That would not be fair with all the promising hockeyists we possess.

I suggest that our leading citizens get together at once and organize the thing in good shape like the good hockey fans they are.

An important thing to be done is to supply work to a couple of our leading players and thus have a team to be proud of.

Girls used to be given such names as Patience and Prudence, but now, now, now!

HOCKEY SQUAD DOWN TO WORK

Members of Senior Team Enter Preliminary Training For The Season's Activities.

With the opening game in the Northern Section of the M. A. H. A. series still over three weeks away, the local squad has already got down to work to timber up for the coming winter's contests. The skating rink building has been secured for the purpose and members of the team may be found there three evenings each week going through their paces. In the absence of the coach, Rev. W. S. Godfrey, J. L. Annett, vice-president of the club, is assisting in this preliminary training.

All members of the squad who have so far been on deck for this "PT" appear in fairly good trim and, with three weeks remaining to turn superfluous fat into muscle, every man in the line-up should enter the opening game in first class condition. Considering this, it is only fair to predict that Campbellton will get away to a more brilliant start this year in the opening games of the league. With steadier weather in the next two weeks good ice will be possible and the boys will be enabled to brush up on their speed and combination play.

RINK IMPROVEMENTS WORK UNDER WAY

Two Dressing-Rooms And Reserved Seats To Be Provided—Work Already Begun.

Sport fans and patrons of the rink here will learn with a great deal of satisfaction that the long-needed rink improvements—somewhat as outlined in our issue of last week—have been undertaken. The management has placed men on this job this week and the work is going ahead without delay.

The improvements These improvements embrace two dressing-rooms, a stand of some three hundred reserved seats and a new band stand.

The new dressing-rooms will be built on the ground floor at the east end of the rink building and will, it is understood, provide satisfactory accommodation for both the visiting and home squads. Over these dressing-rooms will be located the band stand.

At the west end of the rink, where the home team's room and band stand were formerly located, will be erected the proposed stand of reserved seats. The balcony floor at this point will be lowered down somewhat and the seats built on a generous slant, (about 30 or 35 degrees) thus affording even those in the back row a good view of the ice.

Despite their long delay in getting around to these matters the management of the skating-rink has evoked many expressions of satisfaction by their action in this matter. With these improvements a more successful season in hockey is looked forward to here and, in all likelihood, it will also prove a more profitable one.

ROBERVAL SCENE OF GALLOP TRIAL

Woman Charged With Poisoning Her Husband Will Appear At Regular Term

Quebec, Dec. 1.—Mrs. Gallop, nee Emily Sprague, who was transferred from the Roberval district jail a few days ago to the Quebec prison where she is being detained pending her trial on a charge of murdering her husband by administering strychnine in his beer, will appear in the court of Assizes at the next term to be held in the district of Roberval early in the spring. It had at first been thought preferable to hold a special term during the winter, but the many difficulties in travel in that part of the province during the winter season might make it very difficult to bring the necessary witnesses, some of whom live in the more remote parts of the region, to Roberval for the trial.

LOCARNO TREATY DULY SIGNED

Seven Nations Participated In Singing at London on Tuesday

London, Dec. 1.—The Locarno security pacts were signed here today. Statemen of Seven nations, assembled in a reception room of the foreign office affixed their names to a series of documents binding Western Europe to keep the peace. The signing constituted the greatest voluntary peace move in the history of the old world, marked the beginning of a new post-war phrase in the relations among the former warring nations and signalized the official re-entry of Germany into the European concert of nations after 11 years' absence.

Switzerland in times of peace is the country best supplied with hospitals, having nearly 18,000 beds or about six to every 1000 of the population.

LIBERALS SELECT THREE IN QUEBEC

Standing of Parties in the Legislature Has Not Been Changed.

Montreal, Nov. 30.—Liberal candidates who are supporters of the Government of Premier Taschereau were successful in three out of four provincial by-elections held today if substantial majorities held by them when returning officers closed their headquarters tonight are not affected by polls which cannot report till tomorrow.

This leaves the Taschereau Government in exactly the same position numerically as before the elections with 61 supporters in the Legislature.

"Did you hear the step-ladder fall?" His mother: "Yes; I hope father didn't fall." "He hasn't yet; he's still hanging on the picture-rail."

Here and There

British Columbia's whaling industry produces about 400 tons of whale bone meal and 900 tons of meat and blood for fertilizing purposes annually. This is exported mostly to the United States.

According to G. F. Tomsett, superintendent of the Saskatchewan Branch of the Employment Service of Canada, about 45,000 harvest hands were brought into Saskatchewan and distributed over the province to harvest and thresh the 1925 crop.

J. Stapleton, of Regina, ordered two springer spaniel puppies from a dog agent in Liverpool on October 9th. Thirty days later they were delivered to him after a voyage and journey totalling 4,500 miles, the shipment going at the rate of 150 miles a day. This constitutes a record for speed.

Constituting a record for Canada and probably for the world, 3,447,624 bushels of all grades were marketed on the lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Western Canada on November 19. The nearest approach to this figure was the 3,406,000 bushels marketed on October 18, 1915, in the year of one of the greatest crops the Dominion has ever harvested.

Reports received at Canadian Pacific Railway headquarters this week show that four more accidents occurred in cases where motorists drove their cars into trains already in the process of crossing levels. This brings the total of accidents of this kind up to thirty for the year. In all four cases the automobiles were damaged while the motorists escaped with minor injuries.

Eighty-seven black foxes, valued at about $100,000, shipped in 44 crates, arrived at Montreal last week from Buffalo. Twenty-five of the animals were prize-winners at the Black Fox Exhibition which concluded last week, and were on consignment to the Borestone Mountain Fox Ranch at Onawa, Maine.

The Far East has heard about Canadian apples. The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia carried 8,000 boxes of apples when clearing out of Vancouver last week. General trade conditions between Canada and the Far East are quite healthy as there was also on board the vessel 800 tons of Canadian flour, 100 automobiles and 160 tons of Alberta beef.

With each succeeding year Great Britain is relying more upon British colonies for agricultural supplies. In the seven months of 1925 ending July, Canada supplied Great Britain with 4,927,266 pounds of butter, compared with 154,224 pounds for the same period of 1924, and 40,458,544 pounds of cheese, compared to 20,153,504 pounds for the same period of last year.

Two bears, six coyotes and fifteen chipmunks were shipped to England on the Canadian Pacific liner Mont-dore last week from the Toronto Zoo to the London Zoo. In exchange, the Curator of these gardens has been asked to supply Toronto with Ceropals, Bean, Magellan and bar-headed geese; shell ducks; a female Comb Duck; two Rheas (ostriches); four Jays; two young leopards; and a Barbary Sheep. A stiff order.

Six champion juvenile swine breeders, winners in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, have been awarded medals and trophies by the Canadian Pacific Railway and are now the guests of the latter at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto. The young people, who competed in clubs on Canadian Pacific lines in the West are: Vern Johnson and Oscar Gud-lagson, Alberta; Lorne Joynt and Fred Argue, Rouleau, Saskatchewan; Jamie Cormack and Grace Ewen, Kenton, Manitoba.

Lumber industries of British Columbia are sending spruce to Boston and New York, fir to Florida and Cuba, new markets created within the last few months. Demands from regular fir markets in Great Britain, Asia, Australia and South Africa are reported better than normal.

The demand for Canadian flour is increasing rapidly in the Orient. This year 347,769 barrels of flour were shipped from Medicine Hat mostly for the East. Great Britain is Canada's best customer for wheat flour, having taken 130,000 barrels of the total of 684,698 barrels exported during the month of August.

The Canadian Pacific Rockies are not "hot up" yet. Following a 3-day hunting trip, Mr. and Mrs. Kollock, of Los Angeles, told of deer that walked right up to camp; bears that prowled all around in numbers; rams and mountain sheep in abundance; lakes full of trout caught with every throw of the line.

Despite alleged trade depression and "blue rainy" talk, during the week ending October 31, 1925, 67 new companies were formed with authorized capital of $151,658,000, as compared with 90 companies with $112,614,875 capital the previous week and with 37 companies with $7,568,000 capital, the corresponding week of last year.

During the 96 hours from Monday, November 9, to Thursday, November 12, the Canadian Pacific Railway loaded a car of grain every 56 seconds, the total being 6,150 cars. On Wednesday 1,865 cars were loaded and on Thursday 1,815, while the record for the year and for many years past was reached on Friday, November 13, when 1,994 cars were loaded.

Involving the use of 3 1/2 million tons of crushed rock, or about 70,000 carloads, approximately 1,000 miles along the Canadian Pacific Railway, Eastern Lines, have been ballasted with rock to date. Rock ballast is dustless and there is a very great increase in comfort for the passenger. Rock-ballasting also increases the strength of the track and otherwise improves its physical condition as to drainage and other matters.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has announced the offer of three free scholarships to apprentices and other employees enrolled on the permanent staff of the company and under 21 years of age, and to minor sons of employees. The scholarships cover four years tuition in architecture, chemical, civil, mechanical or electrical engineering at McGill University and are subject to competitive examination.

Taking steps in the United States toward a greater recognition of clean sportsmanship and the need of conservation of fish, game and forest resources, Ozark Ripley, of Tennessee, editor of Field and Stream, Outdoor Life, Outing, announced at Montreal recently that catching game fish with worms had been banned in practically all states of the republic. Worm fishing is considered destructive as small fish returned to the water are too badly wounded to live.

Sugar beet production in Canada is increasing on a phenomenal scale while the value of refined beet sugar has increased about 100 per cent. in 1924. In 1924, 31,111 acres were planted to sugar beets yielding 295,137 tons of beets, from which 85,710,709 pounds of sugar was refined with a value of $5,192,545. In 1923 there was a yield of 159,300 tons of beets from 17,941 acres. The value of the 39,423,160 pounds of sugar refined was $3,745,200.

Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

WILL UPSET MANY BIRTHDAYS

Proposed Calendar Reform Will Work Many Changes in Anniversaries

Superstitious people the world over will have new cause for apprehension in the recent announcement that the League of Nations' committee on calendar reform proposed to revise the present calendar of twelve months by the addition of a new and thirteenth month. The same of the new month which has been proposed is Sol.

Already the date for Easter has been permanently fixed as the second Sunday in April, commencing in 1928 and the new calendar will be composed of thirteen months of four weeks each. It may or may not provide for future freedom from superstitious beliefs resulting from the frequent occurrence of a Friday on the fateful thirteenth, such as will occur next week.

The proposal for the inclusion of the thirteenth month of April provides for the establishment of this month by absorption of the two last weeks of the present calendar June with the first two weeks of July. Consequently people whose birthdays or anniversaries fall within this period will have some revisions to make. It will probably afford an excellent excuse for absent-minded husbands in failing to remember the anniversary of their wedding days.

Whether or not monthly salary contracts will automatically increase the year's earning power is already a matter of interesting speculation, as also the legal status of contracts based on months and dates which will come within the scope of the revised changes. One of the most important of Canadian public holidays—July 1st, Dominion Day—will come within the scope of the proposed changes. Will it remain July 1st or will it be the half-way holiday in the new month of Sol?

A feature of the proposed calendar not to be overlooked is the fact that after 1928 persons whose birthdays occurred but once every four years in the past on February 29th, will be entirely out of luck insofar as official birthday is concerned for there won't ever be a February 29th again. Their age will—do all intents and purposes—remain stationary.

Weather statistics, based on the present calendar year, will also go into disarray together with all statistics based on the twelve-month calendar. But if Rev. William Boaz Macgregor is correct in his prediction that change in the times and seasons will usher in a world-wide religious war and the general end of all things, it won't matter much after all.

RALPH CONNOR'S NEW BOOK

A very large reading public will welcome the announcement of a new book by Ralph Connor, for ever since the days of "The Sky Pilot" he has been a favorite author with thousands, particularly in his native Canada. His new book is a most interesting one, with plenty of action and thrill, an appealing love story and a touch of seriousness throughout that will give the careful reader pause to think. In spite of its Biblical title, however, it is not in any sense an "uplift" book. Nor is it a war story, though its action covers that period.

The story opens in a little Nova Scotia fishing village, and much of the action takes place there. The quaint folk of that vicinity are the principal characters. Tony Mackinroy, the handsome cultured son of a marvellous father who has been fisherman, sailor and naval officer in his day, is the central figure. To this quiet village comes a party of American tourists, young ladies and gentlemen, and during their stay their yacht is wrecked and of course Tony goes to the rescue. He falls in love with Diana, one of the girls of the party and she with him, but it is not till the outbreak of war makes separation imminent that either of them speaks.

Tony does special service during the war, in charge of his own gunboat. The war section of the book is comparatively short, though its influence is felt through the whole story, but the surprising twist that is given to the whole chain of events, and the final outcome is too good to expose here. A big powerful theme has been handled in a most sincere and convincing way.

Without hesitation or reservation we recommend "Treading the Winepress." It can be classed with the very best work that Ralph Connor has ever done. Put it on that Christmas list now—you can't go wrong because a story of this kind will appeal to almost any type of reader.

Had "The Tattoo" been started earlier in the summer, with provision of relief for the performers, human and equine, it is more than likely that the second year of the Wembley exhibition would have been transformed from a financial failure into a success. Major Creighton has gone near enough to this to justify the appellation of a miracle worker, for, thanks to "The Tattoo" there is not expected to be a deficit on this year's working.

WEMBLEY DEFICIT MADE UP THIS YEAR

Army Major Works a Miracle With Military Pageant, Attracting Thousands

(Special correspondence The New York Times).

There is "a miracle of Wembley," as well as "the miracle of Locarno," that the British Prime Minister, Stanley Baldwin, spoke of this week. The worker of the Wembley is a soldier whose name is probably not known to more than a few hundreds of the millions and a half people who have paid tribute to his thaumaturgic powers. His name and titles are Major W. R. Creighton, M. C., which final initials stand for the decoration of the Military Cross won during the late war.

When after one year of rather inglorious existence the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley, to the north of London, was closed last autumn, there was a possible deficit of $2,500,000. Conceived on magnificent lines and carried out on a colossal scale, the exhibition had, partly owing to bad weather and partly owing to its difficult accessibility, failed to attract a sufficiency of visitors. The Government had put up a guarantee fund of $1,000,000 and a number of big business firms, banks and private individuals were guarantors for another $1,000,000. Even these huge sums would have been inadequate to cover the deficiency in receipts. Proposals to carry on for a second year were put forward and finally agreed to by all concerned.

Government, exhibitors, despite a considerable amount of opposition on the ground that it would turn out to be a case of throwing good money after bad.

Second Exhibition Also Fails

Well, the exhibition was reopened last spring with a blare of trumpets and very little else. Visitors could not be got out to Wembley in sufficient numbers. All sorts of schemes were tried, but in vain. Professional "showmen" said it was owing to the fact that the exhibition authorities did not understand the rudiments of the art and science of attracting the public. Lord Stevenson gave the professional "showmen" an opportunity. Some of them balked at it; others said after studying the possibilities, that it was too late to carry out the grandiose schemes they could have elaborated had they been given an earlier chance. Thus it looked as if the second year of Wembley would be even worse from a financial point of view than the first.

Then came along Major Creighton. He was no "showman"; his profession was soldiering. But he had an idea for producing at the Stadium at Wembley a military spectacle which he believed would appeal to the public on patriotic grounds, and which in any case would be a good recruiting advertisement for the British army, navy and air forces. The military and naval authorities were agreeable, and finally Major Creighton got the ear of the exhibition management. Then he produced a "torchlight and searchlight tattoo," which at once leaped into the most enormous successful open-air spectacle.

The story opens in a little Nova Scotia fishing village, and much of the action takes place there. The quaint folk of that vicinity are the principal characters. Tony Mackinroy, the handsome cultured son of a marvellous father who has been fisherman, sailor and naval officer in his day, is the central figure. To this quiet village comes a party of American tourists, young ladies and gentlemen, and during their stay their yacht is wrecked and of course Tony goes to the rescue. ### New Spectacle Attracts Thousands

After the opening night of "The Tattoo" London began to flock out to Wembley in numbers which filled the guarantors with hopes of a considerable reduction of their liabilities. Then the provinces began to send their swarms to the stadium. Special trains were run from centres of population in the "home counties" just for the evening performances. Night after night the stadium was packed to capacity. Parenthetically, the seating accommodations for "The Tattoo" provide for 45,000 persons.

Although only fifty performances of "The Tattoo" have been given up to the date of writing, considerably over 1,500,000 people have been to witness it. It was hoped that the 2,000,000 mark would have been attained before the exhibition closes on Saturday, Oct. 31, but the spell of bad weather which set in this week has cancelled two performances to be given next week, the closing week, owing to the fatigue of both horses and men engaged.

Had "The Tattoo" been started earlier in the summer, with provision of relief for the performers, human and equine, it is more than likely that the second year of the Wembley exhibition would have been transformed from a financial failure into a success. Major Creighton has gone near enough to this to justify the appellation of a miracle worker, for, thanks to "The Tattoo" there is not expected to be a deficit on this year's working.

naval tournaments and displays. Army, navy and air force each contributed its quota, marching and counter-marching, doing physical drill, giving jumping displays and musical rides, performing evolutions with colored torchlights, all to the accompaniment of music supplied by military bands, drums and fifes.

Audience Joins in Hymn

But as a spectacle, with searchlights playing over the arena and occasionally showing the forty-thousand people watching, it awakened enthusiasm and patriotism to such a high degree that nightly, as if moved by a common impulse, the spectators rose to their feet and stood bareheaded to listen to the evening hymn, "Abide With Me," as it was rendered first by massed bands and choir, echoed by choir and finally taken up by bands, choir and public in the concluding verse:

"I fear no foe, with Thee at hand to bless—
Ills have no weight, and tears no bitterness.
Where is death's sting? Where, grave, thy victory?
I triumph still, if Thou abide with me."

Then came "God Save the King," and the crowds dispersed to lively marches.

By the time this appears in print a small army of workmen, probably 10,000, will be at work removing the exhibits from Wembley, for immediately after the closing at 11 o'clock on the night of Saturday, Oct. 31, "demobilization" of the exhibition will begin. What is to be done with the many handsome structures of the exhibition yet remains to be decided.

TOURING WORLD BY CYCLE

Two Danish-boy scouts have set out from Copenhagen on an adventurous trip around the world. They left Copenhagen on cycle and had a splendid send-off. The two globe-trotters are not out for making a record in any way, but their route is very comprehensive. They will carry their cycles along with them, but will use such means of transport as seem most serviceable. First, they will visit England, and then the United States, where they may spend about a year, and they mean to traverse the States in all directions, go everywhere, see everything, visit a number of scout camps and scout friends.

From San Francisco they will go to Honolulu, Hawaii, where they also will remain for some time, and then on to the South Sea Islands, where they mean to spend some considerable time. From thence the journey will lead to Australia, from Melbourne along the coast to Sydney and Brisbane, with steamer further on to New Guinea, Java, Borneo, Sumatra, etc., and then by way of Philippines to Japan and China. Thence along the east coast of China to Shanghai, Hong Kong, Bangkok, Singapore, Rangoon, and Mandalay. They mean to do India thoroughly from Calcutta up the Ganges to Benares and Delhi, across the country to Bombay and also penetrating into the interior. They have planned long excursions in Egypt, from there to Palestine, through Asia Minor to Constantinople. In Europe, they intend to visit Greece, Italy, Switzerland and Germany.

The trip may take two years, perhaps more, perhaps less, according to circumstances.

ADMITS HE IS

REAL GOVERNOR
"Ma" Ferguson Not Boss of Job in Texas, Says Her Husband

New York, Nov. 30.—The New York Times in a despatch from a staff correspondent at Austin, Texas, says that former Governor James E. Ferguson admitted that he and not his wife, governor Miriam A. Ferguson, is the real governor of Texas.

The newspaper says he "tacitly admitted" to newspapermen during a two-hour interview that his wife had abdicated part of her executive functions to him and that he justified her in doing so. He said that she had told the voters during her election campaign last year that she lacked experience in statecraft and depended on him to help her.

THE RAYON FABRIC SURPASSES SILK

Silk Worm Giving Way to Competition of Man's Science

New York, Nov. 24.—The silk worm, after losing its secret, it giving way to the competition of man's science and machinery.

Rayon, an artificial textile fabric closely resembling silk in appearance, is used in the manufacture of hosiery, which consumes one-fifth of the domestic production, and if ribbon, cotton and woolen goods. Its tensile strength is greater than cotton and less than silk.

Count Hilaire de Chardonnet was the first to produce rayon, and he called it artificial silk when he introduced the fabric at the Paris Exposition in 1884. His invention resulted from a study of the organic process which takes place as the silk worm produces silk.

Imitating this artificially he produced a vegetable fibre which organically resembled cotton more than silk. Improvements were made in the process until cellulose, the material constituting the cell walls of plants, could be manufactured into rayon on a large scale.

Many processes are used, but in all capillary tubes so small as to be invisible to the naked eye. This produces endless threads which are pumped into chemical baths to harden and bleach them. From this stage the fibres are spun and handled like silk.

The silk-like sheen which rayon imparts to cotton fabric when woven into it within the past few months has resulted in a large demand from the cotton mills of the south and has greatly stimulated the sale of cotton goods throughout the country.

Rayon also is used for covering telephone wires and electromagnets, trimming and beading tire fabrics, for doll's hair, artificial flowers, shoe laces, suspenders, garter linings, and in knit goods.

In a statement issued by the Babson Statistical organization it was estimated that the domestic production of rayon was approximately 39,000,000 pounds in 1924, as compared with 8,000,000 pounds in 1920 and 2,450,000 in 1914.

This year's output will approximate 70,000,000 pounds. One hundred and forty million pounds was the total of the world's production last year, with the United States leading all other countries.

The competition between silk and rayon is reflected in prices. In 1920, raw silk dropped from $15 a pound to $5, while rayon of the unbleached 150 denier grade was cut from $6.50 a pound to $2.

Says an Indiana newspaper: "Nearly every man you meet is always ready to defend his home city or town. When he is away from home, yes; but when at home he knocks unmercifully."

"Look here," said Brand angrily "did you say my wife had a face like my bull-terrier?"

"I did," answered Grant. "What about it?"

"Take off your coat," shouted the brute one. "Nobody's going to say things against that thoroughbred dog of mine and get away with it."

"THE WIFE WHO WASN'T WANTED" with Irene Rich in a photograph from this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Bob Manning, with Diane Bledsoe and another couple, are driving to Calkin's Inn after the close of a country club dance celebrating Bob's twenty-first birthday. Bob is at the wheel with Diane leaning over him when the car crashes into a roadster, injuring a woman. The party is taken to a police station, where the sergeant is trying to fix responsibility. Meanwhile, Mrs. Manning and Marjorie Patterson, who is in love with Bob, are following.

"All right. I haven't time for your life's history now." A new emphasis crept into the sergeant's tones. "But there was something wrong in that car long before you hit the roadster. The motorcycle policeman's report proves it. He trailed you for several miles. He says you were all over the road and nearly in the ditch a dozen times. What I want to know is, who was driving?"

For an instant Theo seemed upon the point of speaking. Then, with an effort, he sealed his lips, opening them when the keen gaze of the sergeant seemed to bore into his innermost soul, to mutter nervously, if ungrammatically, "It wasn't me, sir, no, sir, it wasn't me."

Now the stern gaze of the sergeant shifted to rest upon Diane. Bereft of her usual coolness and composure, she seemed to shrink, a trembling, terrified girl, under its severity. "Were you?" he demanded.

Apparently she could not meet his eyes. Her own swept the room as if in frantic search of aid in her plight. Suddenly she shook her head wildly.

"No, no!" she cried. Then, quick as a flash, turned upon Bob, and her accusation rang out unmistakable in its clearness. He was!

Again that same air of perplexity seemed to have claimed Bob. At her words he turned towards her and looked straight into her eyes. It was a strange look. There was bewilderment and pain in it. The world had changed so suddenly for him. His happy, care-free life seemed very far away.

But she, who had merely related a fact, seemed to flinch and quail under his glance, the police and self-assurance which had been such a part of her being forgotten.

With never a word Bob turned from her. And still, as if not fully satisfied with what she had done, Diane turned back to Theo and grew almost hysterical in the persistence of her accusation.

"It was he, it was Bob who was driving! I saw it, Theo! You know he was driving, don't you, Theo?" Under her questions Theo shifted nervously on his feet, shot a furtive glance at Bob and finally stared at the stern visage of the officer of the law as if fascinated.

"Yes—it was—" His voice trailed off into a whisper.

As if satisfied, the sergeant frowned and gave his attention to Bob. "If that woman dies, Manning, it will take all of you to get you out of this mess."

"Dies!" It was as if Bob could not believe his ears. Indeed, as if there were very much about the situation in which he found himself which he could not reconcile. Now a sudden movement of the sergeant and a sound from the door attracted his attention.

John Manning entered. Plainly shaken by anxiety, his face was ghastly white, and he paused for an instant as if to collect himself for the ordeal which was to follow. Then he moved forward, to stop before Bob and gaze into his face.

Yet such was his emotion that he seemed at a loss for words. What thoughts were his at the moment? Inured by the experience of years to similar scenes amidst such surroundings, the meaning of it all must have recurred to him with redoubled force. Here was the machinery of the law erected by the people of the state for their own protection, just as he had been chosen by these same people as their sworn representative in the enforcement of their laws. To him these proceedings had always had a solemn majesty, his part in their equitable application a solemn trust. His to see that the clear course of justice was unswerving, its penalties applied without fear or favor. Yet now, within the very shadow of the law, with its firm clutches poised above him, stood his son—the pride of his heart, the hope of his coming years.

Within him John Manning's high sense of justice, his cold, judicial mind was arrayed against his heart; his professional honor was set off against his parental love. And even more, for there was Eileen, his own beloved, to whom the welfare and happiness of the boy was dearer than life itself. Trust for his grandson, Marshall. Under such circumstances it was Field III, until the year 1954. With not strange that John Manning's thoughts were so filled with his son. He had enlisted as a private in 1917. He had a solemn majesty, his part in their equitable application a solemn trust. His to see that the clear course of justice was unswerving, its penalties applied without fear or favor. Yet now, within the very shadow of the law, with its firm clutches poised above him, stood his son—the pride of his heart, the hope of his coming years.

breast? Yet even amidst the turmoil of feeling which shook him he must have taken pride in the bearing of his son. For at that moment Bob carried himself bravely and met the gaze of his father unflinchingly.

Only for a moment did John hesitate before his son. He moved towards the sergeant, his face grim and resolute. Leaning towards that official, he was again a lawyer, the chosen representative of the people considering the facts laid before him calmly and dispassionately and, most remarkable of all under the circumstances, impersonally.

So he was engaged when again the door was opened and Eileen appeared.

"Bob!" she cried at sight of her son, and again, "Bob!" Headless of a bad habit when it is just as easy to acquire a good one, and why continue a bad habit when there is a good habit which can easily be substituted?

Before the local stores became so well stocked there was some defense for the mail order concerns with their diversified stocks. There was a time when the mail order house was the store where the resident of the small town and country could supply all his needs. But today your home-town stores can furnish all of man's needs without delays, misunderstandings and uncertainty of satisfaction. Four essentials in buying are quantity, quality, favorable price and quick delivery. Your home-town merchants set the standard in all four of these essentials.

There are men and women who go to larger cities to buy all or part of their wants. They argue that they can save money and obtain better satisfaction, but brought down to the actual facts they usually admit that buying out-of-town is only a habit, and an expensive habit at that. They lose the leisurely shopping, the personal service and the realization of responsibility which characterizes the local stores.

Morning, noon and night commercial travellers were calling on a harassed business man until at last he did not know which way to turn to avoid them.

After the two hundred and thirty-fifth canvasser was announced he felt extremely annoyed.

"Good gracious! What ever next?" he roared, as the man and bag, complete with beaming smile and "half-fellow-well-met" manner, were shown into his office.

"Confound you, sir!" roared the business man, jumping to his feet. "You travellers make me so crazy with your colossal nerve and impudence that I simply cannot find words to express myself!"

"Quite right, sir," replied the agent, unabashed.

Then I am the man you want. I have here," he said, extracting a volume from his bulky bag, "the very latest and most up-to-date dictionary published."

PATRONIZE YOUR HOME MERCHANTS

Buy Your Requirements from The Local Stores, They Give You Service.

Now that the Yule Tide season is approaching, a time of the year when practically everybody has more or less shopping to do, residents of the town of Campbellton and throughout the Bay Chaleur country should ponder a bit and listen to the dictates of common sense, before purchasing from the big mail order houses. Farmers throughout New Brunswick are at the present time enjoying an era of prosperity, due to the fact that they are receiving good prices for everything they have to offer for sale.

How much of the products of their farms do they sell to the big mail order houses? Not a single dollar's worth.

Buying away from home is a habit which usually does nobody any good but the mail order house. Buying at home is a habit which does a world of good to the buyer, the merchants and the home town.

Why cultivate a bad habit when it is just as easy to acquire a good one, and why continue a bad habit when there is a good habit which can easily be substituted?

Before the local stores became so well stocked there was some defense for the mail order concerns with their diversified stocks. CANADIAN AND UNITED STATES CHEESE

Why does Canadian cheese command a higher price in the United States than the home production? It is an American writer that puts the question. He seeks to imply that it is not as might be supposed on account of transportation expenses but because of its greater uniformity and soundness. To Canadians this is pleasant news and a sure encouragement to maintain quality so that the demand by consumers may increase despite the slightly higher price. After all people will always pay for quality, especially sustained quality.

The writer of the article was in a Pullman dining car when the proponent of the question and the reply of the waiter was that many travellers prefer Canadian cheese even at slightly higher price "not because it is always better but because it usually is." This seems to imply that it is more dependable. It is a fair instance of what ensues from persistent effort to produce something better than the other fellow and to meet the demand, not only of the general market, but also of the consumer, the satisfaction of the latter being after all the real key to the situation.

A man arrived at a hotel and was shown into the rooms he had engaged. Shortly afterwards a friend called on him and found him sitting gloomily surveying a trunk that stood against the wall.

"What's the matter, old man?" asked the visitor concernedly.

"I want to get a suit of clothes out of that trunk," was the answer.

"Well, what's to prevent you—lost the key?"

"No; I have the key all right," he replied, heaving a sigh. "But I'll tell you what's the matter. My wife packed that trunk, as she expected to come with me, but was prevented. To my certain knowledge she put in enough to fill three trunks the way a man would pack them. If I open it the things will boil up all over the room, and I could never get them back. Now I am wondering whether it would be cheaper to go and buy a new suit, or get two more trunks."

"Let a man give five or ten minutes a day to thinking of Canada and he will get somewhere," declared the new Chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission a few days ago.

"Let us get away from the water-tight compartment idea," he said, "for wealth made in one province is reflected in the others." This broad national outlook is what Canada needs. If our Dominion is to grow into a great nation, her people, instead of looking at things in a narrow, provincial and petty partisan way, will have to learn to think on wide national lines.

What About Your BATTERY
AT ZERO

Cold weather is a severe test of any battery. Your engine is harder to start. You burn the lights longer. And a battery which will deliver 100% of its rated output at 70 degrees will deliver only 50% at zero. Proper attention to your battery NOW will save time, temper and money. Don't blame the battery for YOUR neglect.

IF YOU DRIVE YOUR CAR

1.—Make three or four Hydrometer tests over a period of a month to be sure that the generator is keeping the battery sufficiently charged. As a rule the charging rate of the generator should be increased for winter driving.
2.—If your battery is not in first-class condition have the necessary repairs done.
3.—Have the oil in your crank case changed to the grade recommended for winter driving.

IF YOU LAY UP YOUR CAR

Let us store your battery. This will save you from worrying over a possible costly freeze-up and ensure your battery being in first-class condition in the Spring.

Wet Storage
This method of storage keeps your battery properly charged all winter—prevents freezing.
Dry Storage
Your battery is dismantled and re-assembled with new insulation in the Spring.

SAVING UP FOR CHRISTMAS

Ever since school re-opened there has been a certain liveliness in the work of the Penny Bank in Toronto. Children in many schools are conserving their resources, buttressing their financial position, in preparation for the great feast of the year, when expenditures are likely to be heavy.

This art of setting aside temporary pleasure in order to acquire the means of a larger gratification is the aim of all sound education in thrift. No one would favor raising up a race of skinflints; no one would teach hoarding as an end desirable in itself.

Money is the most useful tool in the hands of men; too often it is not skillfully used. If children can be taught the amazing power of assembled pennies as against scattered ones, the coming generation is likely to be more efficient and more useful to Canada than the present one.

Discipline is loose in this country. The first requirement of it, a steady self-control, may be acquired—at least in part—through training in systematic weekly saving. That is the educational value of the Penny Bank.

"Last Easter," says the Globe, "the Bank adopted a new system of receiving deposits in the schools. Sufficient time has elapsed to show that it has distinct advantages. Each depositor's pass-book is numbered and has perforated inter-leaving, which also bears the number of the book. When the child makes a deposit the amount is entered into the book, carbon copy being made on the inter-leaf. This is detached and sent with the money to the head office in the York Street school, where all the bookkeeping is done."

The only duty of the teacher is to enter the deposits, tear the slips and enclose money and slips in a bag, which is sent to the head office. The Head Master of the school has no counting to do, and the old daybook and ledger for each class-room have been made unnecessary."

Little Robert was interested in carpentry, and, since joining the carpentry class at his school, wanted to knock nails into everything he came across.

One morning his father heard sounds of hammering which appeared to emanate from the garden, and, on looking out, he saw the youthful Robert busily at work on his favorite pastime. Beside him stood his little sister Mary, apparently looking on.

Out into the garden went father. "Haven't I told you, Bobby, that you'll smash your fingers if you keep on driving nails into things?" he asked.

"Yes, I know," answered the sage youngster; "but Mary's holding the nail."

She was a woman who always told everybody her business. With a cheery smile she settled herself at the counter of the gentlemen's outfitter's and began:

"My husband has been very ill—very ill indeed. So I have to do his shopping; and I want a nice shirt."

"Certainly, madam," said the assistant, courteously. "Stiff front, and soft back?"

"Oh, no!" she exclaimed, in surprise. "The doctor says he just avoid anything with starch in it."

"Why do you want a divorce from your wife?" asked the director.

Hint: "Because I married her."

A lot of people will be unhappy in Heaven when they find out they can institute any reforms or pass any laws.

It is a most unusual thing to find a man standing in a public highway holding a goat by its horns, and consequently the passer-by was rather interested.

"I say," remarked the man holding the goat, "would you mind holding this beast while I climb the fence and open the gate?"

He pointed vaguely with his foot. "Certainly," answered the stranger, smiling at the other's predicament. He grasped the animal firmly by its horns.

"Thanks, very much," replied the stranger, having scaled the fence. "The brute attacked me over an hour ago, whilst I was strolling through the lane, and we've been struggling ever since. But so long as you hold his horns he can't hurt you much—and I have you have the same luck in getting away as I've had!"

With those words the gentleman raised his hat and sped swiftly out of sight.

It is a good idea to kiss the children good night if you don't mind waiting up for them.

Yet with the woes of sin and strife The world has suffered long; Beneath the angel strain have rolled Two thousand years of wrong; And man, at war with man, hears not The love song which they bring; O hush the noise, ye men of strife, And hear the angels sing.

For, lo! the days are hastening on, By prophet-bards foretold, When with the ever-circling years Comes round the age of gold, When peace shall over all the earth Its ancient splendors fling, And the whole world give back the song.

I declare I begin to feel that I am growing old. It's really unpleasant." John Blunt: It must be, especially for one who has been young so long."

"Does your husband make himself useful in the home?" "Wife: "Most certainly! You can see that I did not marry him for an ornament."

Said the bank teller to the new girl who was making a deposit: "You didn't foot it up." "No," she replied innocently, "I took a taxi."
