THE NEGRO IN CAMPAIGN FOR MEDICAL CENTRE

(By the A.N.P.)

New York, N.Y., May 13—Lenox Avenue in this city is known wherever Negroes foregather. The street represents to the Race the acme of metropolitan existence. It will always be cherished as a tradition with the Race for what it has stood for in the matter of progress. It is a symbol of great freedom. Few there are however, who have known that that same name Lenox, has claim to even greater significance with the world at large, and the Negro in particular.

In 1872, James Lenox sought to place an old colored woman in a medical institution in New York, only to learn that none would receive her. This prompted him to establish and provide for the maintenance of the Presbyterian Hospital, whose most prominent tradition is inscribed upon the corner stone. It reads: "Without regard to Race, Creed or Color." For more than fifty years a history of unbroken fidelity to that tradition has been recorded.

Now that famed hospital is to be consolidated with the Medical Department of Columbia University, and the world's most complete center of Medical Science, research training and treatment is to be achieved by associating in the big character and eminent standing. The immense project will occupy five city blocks.

The city has been divided into districts and May 3rd an intensive drive for part of the twenty millions required was begun. Five hundred thousand dollars is the goal set for this first drive.

In the territory north of 125th St. and south of the Polo Grounds, is being handled by a number of Color-men. John H. Nail, a typical business man; Dr. Boutte, a druggist; Walter White, a social worker; Chester Booth, a dentist; and Dr. Allen Graves, working with Dr. Louis T. Wright, former army surgeon, reserve officer and the surgeon general of the Deacons, are the men who are working in the drive.

DEAN W. SHERWOOD FOX, of the University of Western Ontario is a valued and important member of the Advisory Board of the Canadian League for the Advancement of Colored People.

Says Africans First To Invade America

BOSTON, Mass., May 13—Professor Leo Wiener of Harvard University, in a statement made recently, declared that Negroes from Africa had visited America long before Columbus ever set eyes on the Western continent. Centuries before the intrepid navigator touched these shores, black men had crossed the Atlantic and landed on the American continent.

Prof. Wiener, a teacher of languages, who speaks fluently twenty languages and understands sixty, stated that in his research work he had been able to trace similarity between the languages of the ancient Central American Indians and the Negroes of the ancient African midland.

According to naval authorities, one of Columbus' captains was a Negro. He is also declared to have made his voyage by way of Africa.

Prof. Wiener is at present engaged in writing a book. He has in his employment a colored girl artist, Miss Helen Smith of West Medford, a graduate of Boston Normal Art School, who is making illustrations for his publication.

SIGNAL HONOUR FOR EDITOR J. F. JENKINS

J. F. Jenkins, Executive Secretary of the Canadian League for the Advancement of Colored People has been asked by Judge G. Q. Warner of the Juvenile Court to co-operate with him in all cases where colored children are involved. This appointment is a signal honor both to Mr. Jenkins and to the League and such work is in direct line with the aims and objects of the League. The League believes that the present evils affecting society should be corrected within the family, among both parents and children and thus when this is done there will be little or no need for dispensing charity and that incorrigible and delinquent children will become almost negligible.

Mr. Jenkins was called upon last week to assist in dealing with his first case in connection with the Juvenile Court and the manner in which he handled the case was highly satisfactory to court officials.

Negro Student One Of International Debating Tour Party

By Associated Negro Press.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 14—John P. Davis, of Washington, D.C., student at Bates College, has been chosen to represent Bates College on the International Debating tour. He is one of four men and is the first colored student to be so honored. This group also represents the American University Union, Bates Colleges being chosen as the institution to represent the United States this year.

Among the institutions to be debated on this tour are Oxford, Cambridge, Manchester, Sheffield, Liverpool, Birmingham, Leeds, Edinburgh, St. Andrews, which is the oldest Scottish University and others probably including Dublin, Aberdeen and London University.

That's what I call a finished sermon," whispered a woman to her husband when the minister had concluded.

"Yes," he whispered back, "but, do you know, I had almost given up hope."

HALIFAX HEAVY WINS BATTLE

Mitchell Scores Technical Knockout over Pearlstein—Terrific Hitting to the Body Weakens Visitor—Right to Chin Ends Bout.

Showing form that greatly impressed a good sized crowd, Roy Mitchell, giant Halifax colored lad, won over Yussel Pearlstein, New York, champion of palestine. In the fifth round of a scheduled ten round bout at the Strand last night on a technical knockout. When Pearlstein was on his back taking the count his seconds threw in a towel. The visitor was in bad shape and unfit to continue. While the bout lasted, it was a slugging match and the crowd got plenty of action.

Pearlstein's record in the latest books on the market, show that he is a good man but the terrific punching of Mitchell was too much for him. The local boy made a big hit in his first appearance in a Halifax ring against an experienced opponent, and the consensus of opinion is that it will take a good heavyweight to beat him. Weights were not announced, but Mitchell's seconds announced his as 187 pounds; Pearlstein was about 181.

Mitchell had a slight advantage in the first three rounds, but his punches were solid. In the fourth, his favorite blow, a ripping right to the heart, landed on its target and pearlstein was in bad shape when he went to his corner. As they engaged in the centre of the ring, Mitchell sent in a straight right to Pearlstein's chin and the New Yorker was knocked flat on his back. He was taking the count when the towel floated over the ropes. The crowd gave the victor a big ovation.

175 Words a Min. in Shorthand

NEW YORK, May 20—In a stenographic contest held here, Clifford Walton Wheeler, a graduate of Tuskegee Institute Commercial Department and city editor of the Nashville Globe, won over a field of 24 when he took dictation at 175 words per minute for 10 minutes. A prize of $250 was awarded. A white girl from N.Y.U. was second. A colored student from Briggs, third.

Editorial

Mr. Editor—With the hope that the Bobbed Hair Subscriber has been satisfactorily disposed of, may I be permitted to draw your attention for a few minutes from your type machine and the world of men's activities and material interests, to the charms of nature which abound near our city.

With some friends, lovers of nature, with whom I share a kindred feeling, a trip was made recently into the country. Words fail me to adequately describe the joy and pleasure and profit of such a ramble at this season of the year, and I must say that to get all the joy out of such a trip, the auto or other conveyance must be left at home. Having crossed the South Branch of the Thames by way of Adelaide St. Bridge, we soon found ourselves on the edge of a vast meadow, the boundaries of which were lost to view by the rolling nature of the ground. As the gentle breeze and mellow rays of the sun seemed to welcome us, a deep sigh escaped the lips of one of our party, accompanied with the words, Now we are away from miserable humanity and nearest to God.

Reaching the top of the nearest hill I was overcome with a feeling of my younger days, and at once challenged one of our party to race with me to the valley below, which was eagerly accepted, and such a frolic it was. Then up again and in a short time we were overlooking a beautiful valley, covered from our feet to the base of the distant hills with a luscious growth of velvety grass, dotted here and there with beautiful small shrubs and the vivid yellowish green of the "Skunk's Cabbage." I wish I knew the botanical name of this beautiful plant. As we advanced to a lower level we found a little brook dancing on its way somewhere, which added charm to the landscape, but the beauty of the picture which lay before us defies description.

As the meadow swept away to the foot of the hills to be lost in a maze of delicate dwarf shrubbery, delicately colored by the new buds of fresh green, bronze and gold, and here and there a dash of vividly yellow buttercups and a little further up the side of the hill, where the growth was densest and where a wild cherry or haw tree in full bloom gave a decided highlight to the scene, and through the azure blue atmosphere could be seen a thin line which threaded its way through the feathery branches indicating the top. Into all this beauty we plunged and with some difficulty soon found ourselves on an elevation from which came into view a silvery sheet of water which it might be said was one of Mother Earth's eyes with eyelashes all around it.

The squirrels and rabbits were interesting, but the birds in song were our constant companions. By this time we each had plucked a bouquet of wild flowers, many of which were unknown to us by name, and as we rambled down over this carpet of flowers it was our good fortune to meet one than whom we know no better authority on wild birds and flowers in the person of Mr. W. E. Saunders and a party of friends. In his genial, good-natured way he at once asked me what I had there? referring to the flowers, to which I replied that I did not know, and he proceeded to name and describe each variety. That says he, is "Trillium Grandiflorum (Waberoberin) and that is Erythronium Americanum (yellow Dogtooth Violet) and that is Claytonia Virginica (Spring Beauty), and that is Dicentra (Squirrel Corn)." I said that I believed every word he said and thanked him.

At this point we turned homeward and from the hilltop had a bird's-eye view of our city lying in the beautiful valley of the Thames.

Then to my home and on my knees in humble thankfulness to my God, the God of the universe who has seen fit to bless me with eyes to see, a nature to enjoy and a consciousness of His wonderful kindness to provide these great pleasures in which we may revel, if we will, at leisure.

HALIFAX, N.S.Reception to Students.

Last Thursday evening a grand reception was given to Dr. L. R. Winter and Dr. Ross Rayden, who were graduated at the convocation at Dalhousie University last Tuesday. The reception was given under the auspices of the Lyric Orchestra members, of which Mr. Charles Allison is director. The program consisted of speeches from leading citizens, songs and selections from the orchestra. Mr. J. A. R. Kinney, manager-sec'y of the N.S. Children's Home acted as Chairman. A large number were present, and after refreshments an hour or two was spent in dancing. The evening came to a close with everybody singing.

Dr. Winter expects to return to his home in Jamaica, B.W.I. and Dr. Hayden, who is also from Jamaica is planning a trip to New York and may go to London England for a post-graduate course.

The best wishes of the people go with the young physicians who have won the affection and esteem of those with whom they came in contact during their stay in Halifax.

Mr. J. E. Griffith is counsel defending Duncan Gammon for the murder of his war time bride.

OWEN SOUND

The services in the B.M.E. Church on the 17th were very inspiring all day. Rev. E. A. Richardson, though labouring under a bad cold did well in his stirring words. The morning text was taken from Romans 1: 16. It was a very stirring and powerful sermon, the pastor impressing the need of steadfastness and immovability in adhering to the gospel of Jesus Christ.

At 3 o'clock the Sundal School opened with a programme of music and song led by Clifford Johnson convener of the Children's Day on June 2nd, with Rev. E. A. Richardson at the organ. The children did fairly well considering the selections were new to them.

At the evening service Rev. E. A. Richardson took his text from St. Matt ix: 2. He preached a fine sermon and finished by singing a solo which was much enjoyed by all those present.

The home made baking sale on Saturday with Mrs. H. Woodbeck as convener, was a success, there being a goodly supply of good things to eat. The president, Mrs. Woodbeck wishes to thank all who contributed and all those who patronized and bought to make the affair a success.

All praise to the convener and her noble staff of co-workers.

On Friday night, May 22nd Mrs. A. Harrison is having a social at her residence on 1940 Seventh Avenue E. for the benefit of the Conference Claims. We wish her and all her co-workers a bumping success in her effort to raise money for the B.M.E. Church Conference which convenes on June 23rd at St. Catharines, Ont. May God bless her and those who attend the social to make in a success.

Master Leonard Taylor is on the sick list at this writing, with a bad cold which he contracted from sitting under a drafty window at school. We pray for his speedy recovery so as to get back to school again, for he is one of our clever school boys of our race.

Master Douglas Smith has made a profession of Christian conversion and the baptism of the holy spirit at the Pentecostal Mission last week. He is a son of Mrs. A. Smith, a member of the B.M.E. Church here. He is 10 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnston and daughter Hilda made profession of the new birth at the Mission. She is 15 years old.

Master Earl Miller is indisposed at this time of writing. He is a son of Bill Miller, the Star Car dealer here.

The Lord's Day, May 24th, was celebrated at the B.M.E. Church here by holding a patriotic service in honor of our noble Queen Victoria's birth. The pastor, Rev. E. A. Richardson, portrayed many beautiful characteristics of our gracious and beloved Queen Victoria, who was friends to all people, both black and white, or brown or yellow, and the pastor exhorted all his hearers to copy her example by living a good, righteous, Christian life, for righteousness exalteth a nation but sin was a reproach to any people.

The Sunday School at 3 o'clock was fairly well attended. The children are doing very well in their program for Children's Day under the leadership of Mrs. Clifford Johnston and Rev. E. A. Richardson.

The evening service was the ascension of our Lord Jesus Christ. Subject: Jesus coming back to earth again to reign over His chosen ones. The pastor urged all to prepare for His coming and to be ready and waiting and watching. The sermon was listened to with great earnestness by all present.

The social at Mrs. A. Harrison's house was not very well attended owing to the conditions of the weather which was very threatening of a severe electrical storm and of wind and rain. But those who attended report a good time and Mrs. A. Harrison wishes to thank all who came and all who assisted and donated to make it the success it was. The proceeds were for the benefit of the B.M.E. Church Conference Claims.

The Mothers' Club will meet at Mrs. Wm. Johnston's on Wednesday for business. She is desirous of a good attendance of the mothers.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Johnston, the railroad preacher will not be in Owen Sound on our Rally Sunday. Some unforeseen thing has prevented his coming to our city but we hope to have the pleasure of hearing him preach at some future time. We are expecting some local help during our Rally, Sunday, May 31st.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Green's baby Mildred has been quite sick the last week but is some better at this writing. Pray for her speedy recovery.

Rev. E. A. Richardson and Mrs. Richardson's baby boy, Ernie, is sick with the whooping cough but he is doing nicely at the time of writing.

The Ladies' Aid are having a home made baking sale on Saturday, May 30th, on second avenue East. Please don't miss it. Mrs. H. Woodbeck, convener, may God bless her effort.

Mr. Carrol Woodbeck gave a splendid essay on the life of our beloved Queen Victoria, on Victoria Day. We are wishing for more such young men like him in this kind of work.

"Clarence sang at an entertainment in an insane asylum last night." "Did he say if the patients showed their insanity much?" "Oh, yes. They encored him three times."

Little Leonard Baldwin, age 10 yrs. departed this life on May 13th after an illness and patient suffering for one month in the hospital. He leaves a mother and six brothers and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. He was an exceptionally bright child with a sunny disposition which won him many friends. The funeral was held on the 15th from the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Johnson. The service was conducted by Rev. S. R. Drake assisted by Rev. S. A. Lucas. The floral tributes were very beautiful. The death is more sad as his mother and oldest brother are also in the hospital.

Mrs. Bennet of Detroit (nee Lily Malotte, London) is in the General Hospital, where she has undergone an operation.

Mrs. George Johnson is also in the hospital. She has been a long and patient sufferer and we pray for her health to be restored again.

Mrs. George Wilson of Toronto is in the city visiting her mother and sister, Mrs. Charles Walker and Miss Gladys.

Rev. S. R. Drake spent Monday and Tuesday in the city visiting the sick at the hospital and the Sanatorium and many others that are sick and not able to get out, leaving them a word of cheer.

Sunday, May 31, will be Woodstock Quarterly Meeting. A number of Brantford's people are anticipating going with the Brantford choir to Woodstock for the occasion. Let's everyone go and help make the day a grand success.

The first Sunday in June, the 7th, will be Quarterly Meeting in Brantford and we cordially invite Woodstock and neighbouring cities to spend the day with us. All are welcome, it being our last Quarterly Meeting this conference year.

Mr. Harry Johnson, Mr. Ed. Johnson leave this week for Barrie to join Mr. Phil Delfish, where they all secured employment.

Mr. George Malotte was really surprised on Tuesday evening, May 19 when a large number of friends walked into his home, the occasion being his birthday. After a number of addresses and many good wishes. The evening was spent in games and music after which a most delicious lunch was served. Every one expressed their thanks and said they had had a wonderful evening. We don't care how soon he has another birthday.

LONDON

On Saturday and Sunday Miss Hilda Carter entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brown, 385 Hill St., two carloads of friends from her home-town, Dresden.

The party consisted of the Misses Cora Carter, Vida and Vivian Smith, Doris and Lillian Lucas, Messrs. Stanley Highgate, Hugh and William Carter and Earl Britton, nephew of Mrs. Brown. They worshipped morning and evening at Beth-emmanuel Church and motored to Springbank Park in the afternoon. All report an enjoyable time.

Sunday, May 24th was a red letter day in the B.M.E. Church. Two very fine services were held under the auspices of the Men's Brotherhood, and a splendid program rendered. Bro. Wm. Groat gave a very interesting paper at the morning hour. His subject was "The Gift of Friendship." Bro. J. Wesley Fountain the speaker for this service, addressed the audience from the topic: "Jesus the Bread of Life." A duet by Rev. Stewart and Louis Groat and a solo by the latter, closed the morning meeting. Bro. C. H. Brown was in charge of this service. The evening service was equally as interesting as the morning one. Special numbers being given by a quartette composed of Messrs. F. Fountain, C. H. Brown, P. Lewis and F. Stewart. Solos by P. Lewis and the Pastor. Bro. John Harris was the speaker for this service, taking for his subject "Building." This topic proved interesting and at the same time conclusive that we need the Word of God as our guide in erecting God's building. A choir of 15 men accompanied by Fred Ball furnished the music for the day. Bro. H. A. Mackay presided at the evening service.

The choir and a number of friends met at the home of Mrs. Jennie Brown on Wednesday, May 20th after prayer meeting and completely surprised her, it being the occasion of her birthday. A very pleasant evening was spent by all present.

On Friday evening the home of Mrs. Mary Drake on Maitland Street was the scene of another surprise, when a number of the women of the community gathered together and completely surprised Mrs. F. Stewart by giving her two very beautiful pairs of oxfords and eight dollars in cash. Mrs. Stewart takes this opportunity to thank all who had a part in this affair.

Revs. Mary E. Taylor and J. A. Darey, with Miss Hawkens, a niece of Rev. Taylor, spent a few hours in the city with Rev. and Mrs. F. O. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brown. They assisted with the mid-week service which was enjoyed by all.

The Colonial Tea and Dance which was held last Monday evening under the auspices of The Jonquil Art Club, West Indian Cricket Club and the Praestamus Athletic Club was a grand success in every way. The affair began with a very elaborate and well prepared programme which bespoke much talent among both the children and grown ups. Throughout, the program was varied and most interesting. The Original Bostonian Orchestra was present to supply the music. Never before was the Occidental Hall so beautifully decorated and never have the lights of this building shone upon more graceful and more perfect dancers. The dance was featured by the old fashioned minuet, the ladies wearing colonial ball-room dress, which added to the beauty of the occasion.
