WILLIAM AT WINDSOR

Warm Welcome Accorded the Kaiser in England.

Empress Was Deluged With Flowers and Attention.

The Queen going to Italy—Death of Lady Salisbury.

Portsmouth, England, Nov. 21.—It was a typical November morning, chilly and foggy, as the Hohenzollerns loomed in sight, with Kaiser William of Germany on board, escorted by the German battleship Kaiser Friedrich III., and a flotilla of eight British torpedo boat destroyers, which met the German ships outside Spithead. The imperial yacht flew the British naval flag at her foremast, the German flag at her mainmast. As the imperial yacht entered the harbor, royal salutes were exchanged. A detachment of 1,500 soldiers and 900 sailors, forming a guard of honor, was drawn up at the jetty. Emperor William wore the uniform of a British admiral. The Duke of Connaught, accompanied by Admiral Seymour, Gen. Russell and members of the German embassy, promptly boarded the Hohenzollern. After his majesty had held a brief conference with the emperor, dressed in a fawn-colored costume, and participated in the greetings.

"WILLIE, WE HAVE MISSED YOU."

After playing national airs, the Marine Light Infantry Band struck up "Oh, Willie, We Have Missed You." This seemed to please the emperor greatly, and he shook hands with Lieut. Miller, who was in charge of the band.

Their majesties and royal highnesses took the train for Windsor at 11:30, amid shouts from the warships, bands playing and cheers from the crowds.

AT WINDSOR.

The Emperor and Empress of Germany and their party arrived at 1:45 p.m. They were received by the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Cambridge and the Duke of York, all wearing German uniforms, and there was tremendous cheering in the streets as the imperial party drove to the castle, where they were received by Queen Victoria.

The royal waiting-room at the railroad station, and the platform were lavishly decked with flowers. When the empress alighted, the daughter of the emperor of Russia presented her with a bouquet of Marchioness Niel roses and red orchids tied with the Windsor colors. On the town hall the British and German royal standards and the Stars and Stripes floated side by side.

WALES AND WILLIAM KISSED. The Prince of Wales kissed Emperor William on both cheeks, and the empress embraced him.

Queen Victoria received the imperial travelers graciously, and after a few minutes of affectionate salutation, the empress, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught and the Duke of York re-entered the castle quadrangle and inspected the guard. His majesty then went to the apartments prepared for him and for the empress.

British newspapers all publish a eulogistic notice of the visit, and are endeavoring to make political capital out of the visit. This view, however, is opposed by the comment of the German papers, which insist that the trip of his majesty is purely a family affair, and has no political importance whatever.

LADY MINTO.

London, Nov. 21.—The Countess of Minto, wife of the Earl of Minto, governor-general of Canada, is a passenger on board the Canadian liner Campania, which left Queenstown for New York Sunday.

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE QUEEN'S CHOICE.

The Queen is going to Italy for her holidays. Her majesty is very accurately informed about every item concerning the war, and has had her attention drawn to the persistent anti-English attitude of France and the French people. The Queen, who has all her life studied foreign popular sentiment, sees now that a stay in France is impossible, so Italy is chosen. She rents an entire hotel for next August. Boudighora, a handsome unfriendly Frenchman, takes up her residence in friendly Italy.

RUSSO-GERMAN TREATY. Berlin, Nov. 21.—While the czar was at Potsdam recently the general line of a prospective commercial treaty between Germany and Russia was reached. Berlin financial circles regard the crisis in Russia as only temporary, and are inclined to further Russia's financial and industrial expansion, on the ground that they will thus be subscribing to their own interests in drawing apart Russia and France, and in heightening Russia's powers of purchasing German products.

THE SHAMROCK. Glasgow, Nov. 21.—The racing yacht Shamrock, being dismantled at Greenock. She was towed most of the way, and only sailed under her own canvas 250 miles.

PATRIA TOWED TO DOVER. New York, Nov. 21.—Emil L. Boas, American manager of the Hamburg American line, received a cable dispatch saying that the Patria, which was abandoned on fire, has arrived at Dover, towed by the company's steamer Hansa.

THE PREMIER'S LOSS. London, Nov. 21.—Lady Salisbury, wife of the premier, who suffered a second stroke of paralysis in July last, died yesterday. She was a daughter of the late Hon. Sir Edward Hall Alderson, a baron of the House of Exchequer, and was married to the Marquis of Salisbury in 1867.

The death of Sir Wm. Dawson has caused a widespread feeling of regret among British scientists. The Times says that by Sir Wm. Dawson's death Canada loses a distinguished geologist and naturalist.

CABLE NOTES.

The German Reichstag has rejected the anti-strike bill.

The Porte has addressed notes to the powers regarding the suppression of the foreign postoffice in Turkey. It is not believed the demand will be acceded to.

The German imperial budget estimates are as follows: Balance, 2,053,123,551 marks; recurring expenditure, $1,751,055,408 marks; non-recurring expenditure of ordinary estimates, 192,877,692 marks; extraordinary estimates, 7,918,411 marks. A special loan bill is appended to the estimates covering the extraordinary expenditure for the army, navy and railroads, and amounting to 3,081 million marks.

Capt. Valero, the remarkable upholder of Bertillon system, died suddenly at Ephraïm. He is the fourth important witness at the Rennes trial who has since died.

M. Labor's bullet is troubling him greatly. The doctors will radiograph the spot to see whether the bullet ought not to be extracted after all.

OLD COUNTRY WHEAT

Ample Supplies Available—Russian Government Reports Much Inferior Yield to Last Year.

London, Nov. 21.—Mild, open weather for this period of the year has favored wheat sowing, as well as threshing corn. The early sown fields are spoken of as looking well. The attendance of buyers in the market throughout the week has been very thin, inquiry for most cereals in the result ruling dull and hesitating. Transactions passing in breadstuffs were purely for pressurings wants. This being attributable to the ample supplies available, and also in view of the fact that home-grown wheat has been in moderate supply, but with no improvement in demand, business partook of a retail character, while currencies were a shade easier, in order to effect sales. Foreign descriptions also ruled easy, although the lower prices recently registered not tending to stimulate inquiry to any appreciable degree.

The Mark Lane Express says: "In France the wheat is no stronger in the ground and the growth of September sowings has been so vigorous that all danger from ordinary frost is regarded as over."

The Russian government has published its preliminary crop estimate, showing how it compares with last year, as follows: 1909—Wheat, 32,700,000 quarters; 1908, 57,180,000 quarters. The final report in February will no doubt modify these returns, but it is clear that the wheat is palpably inferior in yield to last year.

CROOKS SEEM TO BE BUSY

ambition Farmer Robbed of $15 by Masked Men—$500 in Silverware Stolen—Burglars Confess.

Forest, Ont., Nov. 21.—Mr. James Stubbs, of the Port Frank colliery farm, was in town Saturday disposing of a load of celery, and on his way home after night was held up by two masked men near the Jura schoolhouse. The men, who were armed, took $15, and then allowed to proceed on his way. There is no trace of the highwaymen.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 21.—Burglars made a haul of about $400 worth of silverware and cutlery from the hardware and house furnishing store of Fletcher & Sheppard, Queen street west, after one o'clock this morning.

The store doors were unlocked by a policeman and a light was burning. On entering he found the store in confusion, the showcases smashed and a large quantity of silverware missing, which the owners estimated at $400 in value. The thieves left no trace.

SAFE-CRACKERS CONFESS. Montreal, Nov. 21.—Four safe-crackers who were captured by the police about two weeks ago have admitted their guilt. Their names are Brennan, Rogers, Boyle and Edwards, and from information in the hands of the police they get the credit for being professionals of long standing.

FIFTY YEARS MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Skinner Celebrate Their Golden Wedding.

A Joyous Family Celebration—The Worthy Couple Honored Enthusiastically.

Fifty years ago—on Nov. 20, 1849—Mr. William Skinner and Miss Emma Saunders were united in marriage in this city by Rev. Dr. Crofts. Those have been fifty years of wedded happiness—an ideal union, "in love and mutual honor joined." It is not often that married life is privileged to span half a century, and the occasion was naturally made one of rejoicing in the family circle, some thirty or forty members of which assembled last night at the home of the couple.

Although only the immediate relatives were present, the whole community will join in the spirit of the celebration, and unite in felicitations to the worthy couple, who enjoy an overflowing measure of friendship, affection and esteem. Both are splendid types of grand old Devonshire. Mr. Skinner was born in that county—in Crediton—on Oct. 21, 1823, and came to Canada in 1849, arriving in London on May 24 of that year. Mrs. Skinner is likewise a native of Crediton, and crossed the Atlantic, with her relatives, on the same ship as her future husband—a happy prelude to their wedding, which occurred in the following November. London was then a small town, and they have literally grown up with it, and have deservedly shared in its fortunes. Mr. Skinner has always been a public-spirited citizen, of the class whom people take pleasure in honoring, and placing in positions of trust. In 1870 he was elected to represent ward three in the city council, and held that position almost continuously for 22 years, when he voluntarily retired, though solicited by his constituents to remain in the field. Subsequently the city council, in recognition of his long and faithful services, appointed him a member of the board of education. He has also served on the board of education. It is a striking token of his worth and popularity that he has never been defeated at the polls for any office to which he aspired. He was more than once urged to offer himself for the mayoralty, but modestly declined. In Masonic circles, Mr. Skinner is prominent. He is a past master of St. George's Lodge, No. 42, A. F. and A. M., and has received many marks of respect from the craft. He is likewise a member of the I. O. F., being one of the two original Oddfellows in good standing in this city. In all his relations with his fellow-citizens, his strong integrity of character has won the general confidence.

At the family reunion last night, congratulations were showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, and found concrete expression in a luxurious array of presents, including many costly gifts in gold and silver, and elegant drawing-room furnishings and ornaments.

During the afternoon a Masonic banquet was given at the Hotel Marlborough, and Mr. Skinner was presented with a beautiful Royal Arch jewel, solid gold and suitably inscribed. Last night the guests sat down to a banquet, and Mr. Skinner enthusiastically toasted the estimable couple, who, judging by their youthful appearance and vigorous health, will celebrate many more golden weddings. Of the seven children born to Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, five are living—Bessie (now Mrs. E. Noble), Olive (now Mrs. Miner, of Buffalo), Emma (now Mrs. Minerva and William H. All five were present last night, and all the grandchildren, with one exception. Among relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, of Windsor, and Mrs. W. Newbury, of Chatham.

VICE PRESIDENT

G.A. HOBART DEAD

Brief Sketch of His Busy and Successful Career.

Petersen, N. J., Nov. 21.—Vice-President Hobart, who died today, had been failing since last year, and had been in the hospital for some time. He was 68 years of age, and although the reports given out at the house were that he was holding his own, at midnight he became unconscious, and at 7 o'clock this morning he died. He was a native of New York, and his death was a great loss to the vice-presidency.

At 7:30 o'clock the vice-president's private secretary, Mr. E. J. Baker, called upon the White House by telephone, and notified President McKinley that Mr. Hobart was dying. At 9 o'clock Mr. Baker communicated the news to the president, notifying him of the vice-president's death.

Garret A. Hobart was eminently successful both in business and politics. His reputation as a man of affairs and as one of the shrewdest business men in the country was perhaps greater than his reputation as a politician. He was a statesman, until his election to the vice-presidency three years ago.

Mr. Hobart was born in 1844 at Long Branch, N. J. His ancestors, on his father's side were English, and on his mother's side Dutch. Thirty-three years ago he was graduated from Rutgers College and began teaching school. Three months later he entered upon the study of law. In 1869 he was admitted to the bar, and the same year he married the daughter of Mr. Tuttle. Mr. Hobart made his way rapidly at the bar of his native state, and his early led him to New York. Through his business connections and his law practice he built up a large fortune. After his nomination and election to the vice-presidency, he went to Washington and took up his residence. Socially, the vice-president was a charming man, and his wife, who was one of the best known and most popular women in the country, his opinion carried a vast amount of weight and consequently the following letter written by him will have great influence in changing certain prejudices still existing in some minds.

I wish to say that Dodd's Kidney Pills did me much good, and the cure in my case, Bright's Disease, has been entirely satisfactory. I am always willing to state the facts of the case if it will benefit others.

Senator William P. Frye, of Maine is now president pro tempore of the senate. He will call that body to order when it assembles on Dec. 4, and preside until a successor is chosen.

That he will succeed himself is generally conceded. The announcement of the vice-president's death, while not unexpected, came as a distinct shock, and cast a deep gloom over the city, where he was so loved and honored.

CRONJE'S DEATH

Taunted His Father for Being Unable to Take Mafeking and Led a Second Attack in Person.

Mafeking, Nov. 12 (Delayed in transmission). The action already reported to have taken place at Mafeking, where the Boers were defeated by Piet Cronje, son of Commandant Cronje, who, it is stated, upon arriving from the capture of Vryburg, which was not defended, taunted his father with not taking Mafeking, and undertook to take it himself. The result was that he was shot, and has since died.

The Boers, who are now about a hundred-pound gun, with which they have since bombarded the town, without killing anybody as yet. Most of the residents are endeavoring to find shelter when the bombardment begins. The enemy are now entrencing themselves, and are gradually getting nearer to the town. The Boers are afraid to make an earnest assault.

The above dispatch explains the rumor called Mail and Express that Gen. Cronje had been killed in battle at Mafeking.

BOER REINFORCEMENTS.

Cape Town, Nov. 20.—Gen. Cronje with 2,000 men, arrived at Mafeking. It is supposed Mafeking has been making a stubborn resistance, as Boer losses are reported. In the latest fighting, the Boers killed 11 British and 11 killed and 20 wounded. The Boers suffered heavily.

Nearly 100 Boer prisoners were taken, many of whom are well known on the Rand.

BADEN-POWELL HEARD FROM. Bulawayo, Nov. 13.—The following has been received from Col. Baden-Powell at Mafeking, Nov. 6:

"All well. Have had a few successful sorties. Our losses are 2 officers and 17 men killed and 29 wounded. Four officers were slightly wounded. The enemy lost heavily. The enemy's numbers are decreasing, but their guns remain, and they shell us, keeping out of the range of our small guns. Have had no news from the outside since Oct. 20. We are all right here. One hundred volunteers and 25 police have left for Magalapa, the present base of the Boers. All is quiet at Tull."

SEVERE FIGHTING ON SUNDAY. London, Tuesday, Nov. 21.—A Pretoria dispatch declares that the British on Sunday made two unsuccessful attempts to oust the Rustenburg commando from a position near Mafeking, and that severe fighting took place.

WAS WEARY OF LIVING

Twenty-Two-Year-Old Mary Farmer Took Her Life.

Brooding Over Household Worries Unbalanced Her Mind.

Pathetic Letter to Her Sister Telling Why She Did It—No Inquest Necessary.

Mary Farmer, the 22-year-old daughter of Wm. J. Farmer, foreman of the London Soap Company's works, took poison on Saturday afternoon, and died a few hours later. She was suffering from melancholia, and her mind was temporarily deranged. The girl's mother died eight years ago, and she being the eldest child, has had the care of the other children, of whom there are a number. The boys have been troublesome, and one of them was sent to jail in Toronto a few weeks ago for stealing. This preyed on the mind of the young girl, who had been mother and sister to him. Besides, there were householding troubles. Mary bought the groceries, and managed the house. It was too heavy an undertaking for her. She could make both ends meet, and she ran a bill at the grocer's without telling her father about it. Saturday night the bill came to the father. He was surprised and annoyed, and spoke harshly to the tired little housekeeper. Worn out with worry and grown morbidly sensitive with brooding over her trouble, the girl took the poison to heart so deeply that it unbalanced her mind.

Mr. Farmer is utterly crushed by his daughter's tragic death. He said this morning that Mary had been complaining for several weeks of severe headache. She had been extremely depressed for the last few days, and yesterday, after she had prepared dinner for the others, she refused to eat herself, saying she was not feeling well. The Farmer house is near the soap factory, where Mr. Farmer is employed, and he returned to work at 1 o'clock. The other children also went out, and for a time Mary was left alone in the house. About 2:30 Mrs. J. Naven, Mary's grandmother, went to the house and found the girl lying on the floor. Several times Mary complained of cramps in the stomach, and Mrs. Naven wanted to send for a doctor, but the girl objected, saying she would be all right shortly. She grew alarmingly worse, however, and the grandmother sent word to Mr. Farmer that Mary was dying. He telephoned at once for Dr. Teasdale, who arrived a few minutes later, but Mary was dead. This was a few minutes before 6 o'clock, and Dr. Teasdale said she had just expired.

A LETTER FROM MARY.

The whole pathetic story was explained a few minutes later, when a letter from Mary, addressed to her sister Hattie, was found. It had evidently been written just after she was taken to bed. The letter was written on a note-paper with an indelible pencil. "Dear Hattie," it began, "I am about to do a terrible thing. I know I ought not to do it; but I cannot help it. Life is nothing but trouble, trouble, trouble, and I am going to end it all." So it went on for two pages. The paper was blistered with tears.

Coroner Dr. J. W. Piper was notified of the girl's death. He referred the matter to a coroner's jury, and the facts in the case to the coroner's attorney, who decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Dr. Piper said there was no other cause apparent for the girl's act than that given in the letter.

Miss Farmer was a pretty girl, of winning, affectionate disposition.

DON'T LIKE THE BOERS

A Native Basuto Writes to an American Magazine—Boer Brutality.

In the current number of the Independent a native Basuto, Marshall Maseke by name, testified to the sympathy of his people for the British in their present contest with the Boers and gives numerous reasons to explain and justify the attitude of the blacks. His evidence relates almost solely to existing conditions, but it is the repetition of a complaint that has been heard whenever the negro and the Dutch Afrikaner have come in contact.

The great trick grew out of the British government's emancipation of the slaves, who were cruelly used by their Boer masters, and we may trace the friction between the two white races further back still to its origin in the earlier disputes over the natives.

"Slagter's Nek day," which is celebrated as a national holiday in the Transvaal, commemorates the Boer man's wrongs as well as a Boer uprising. A farmer named Beuzendhout had been summoned to answer to the charge of harboring a negro, and in resisting legal process and arrest was killed. This was the cause of the first outbreak against British rule, whose ring-leaders were executed and afterward enshrined as martyrs to the principles of civil liberty.

In the long time that has elapsed since the dominating spirit of Boer toward blacks persisted. But the natives have lacked the capacity of the Uitlanders to make their grievances known, so that Mr. Maseke's article is a unique contribution to political literature. The writer, who is a student at Wilberforce University, begins by saying: "The whole matter of my people's antipathy for the Boers depends upon the barbarous and inhuman treatment accorded them at the hands of the Boers. He declares that the Boers are 'a people who seem to know nothing of right and justice,' and goes on to depict the miserable condition of the natives in the Transvaal and to describe the oppressive laws from which they suffer. They are worse off than the dogs, he says, because they are denied the use of the roads, and are compelled to take to the muddy roads. The intelligent and the ignorant alike are herded together in separate quarters in every community, and are treated like convicts. This is the universal practice of the country, not a regulation of corporations merely."

Only house servants are allowed to reside near the white people. At the rest have their own location, set apart in the most undesirable part of the towns, in which each man rents from the city government at very high rates so that they are almost constantly in debt to the collectors. Every month the Boers have what they call "patrols"—a certain number of riding Boers to go to the remotest district and see how they behave and to ascertain if they all have their passes and badges. These patrols are very oppressive and repeatedly injure the natives.

The wages offered black help are low at best, and the greater number are cheated out of their earnings by the Boers who hire them; "to those who slave in the families no wages are paid."

Such, in brief, is the exposition made by the Basuto, and it is doubly interesting. First, because it demonstrates an inherent weakness in the Boer policy, and second, because it indicates very clearly that the Transvaalers have nothing to hope from a native uprising.

AMUSEMENTS

TOMORROW'S COMEDY.

Mr. Hepburn Johns, the dramatic critic of the Chicago Chronicle, in a criticism on "The Carpetbagger," says: "It is a great and good American play." It is in this play, a political, romantic comedy, that the eminent comedian, Tim Murphy, will be seen at the Grand tomorrow night. "The Carpetbagger" is a clean-cut comedy of American manners, the time chosen being the reconstruction period in the south after the war of the rebellion.

hero, a carpetbagger in the governor's chair in Jackson, Miss, and its chief thread of interest is the love story of the good old kind, which it is to be hoped our fathers, as well as our mothers, used to make. The play is conceived in the best artistic spirit, and its execution is really beautiful.

Mr. Van Kinkle, who plays the "Shadows" in the new melodrama, "A Man of Mystery," and who hypnotizes the owner of a safe, and makes him rob himself, is actually the possessor of hypnotic power, and has written a book on the subject. He discovered his power accidentally while a boy, but rarely exercises it. He holds that it is a gift which must not be abused, although in the play he shows how easily it could be done by an unscrupulous man.

AT THE MELODRAMA.

"I think he's just lovely," said she, as the curtain fell on the first act. "Who?" asked he.

"Why, you know. The one with lovely moustache and the blue eyes. You know. His nose is just too Roman for anything, and his hair falls in such sweet waves over his forehead."

"You must mean that pig of a hero," said he.

"The one the horrid dark man with the top hat always looks on."

"The corner of his eye at. Do you know, Ed, I believe he's up to something!"

"I shouldn't wonder," said Ed.

"You know. Can't he be going to cheat him out of property or anything like that?"

"It would be a surprise if he didn't," said Ed.

"Maybe he will kill him," exclaimed she, in a horrified whisper.

"If he does I shall scream," said she.

"It's only a play, you know," said Ed.

"I know," said she. "But it's awfully real, isn't it?" It makes me just wriggle when that horrid man shows his teeth like that. That poor, nice young man! I am so nervous about him."

FAILED TO INFLUENCE THE POPE.

New York, Nov. 21.—The correspondence of the Berlin Tageblatt in Rome contains a statement that certain circles that an influential group intend to influence the pope against the British policy in South Africa. The Herald writes that the pope has declined to make any pronouncement, and adds: "The pope declined to follow their counsels, because England has never given the church any ground for complaint." It is said that an English British policy would check the movement in England in favor of good relations with the Vatican, and affect a number of conversions to Catholicism.

London, Nov. 21.—Final arrangements have now been made for the annual visit of Queen Victoria to the shores of the English coast. The least unforeseen political circumstance should interfere her majesty will proceed about the middle of March. Her majesty will leave London for about three miles east of Vantimig and the French frontier, says the Herald. Here she will occupy the same suite of rooms as she occupied in August, in which the Empress Frederick spent the greater part of the last winter. Elaborate preparations have been made to insure exclusiveness and comfort for the Queen.

Mr. Andrew Brown, a highly respected resident of Mossa, died on the 4th anniversary of his birth, December 10, 1890. He was a native of Scotland who was born in Paisley, Scotland, and came to this country about 30 years ago. He leaves two brothers and two sisters: John, of Manitoba; James, of Mossa; Mrs. John Fletcher, of Windermere; and Mrs. Duncan MacArthur. The funeral took place at the Simpson cemetery. A large number of the neighborhood came to the esteem in which the deceased was held by the residents. The pallbearers were A. Beattie, A. G. Miller, J. Millar, D. Stewart, F. S. and C. Welch.

The death occurred suddenly on the other day of Mr. Benjamin George, who resided on a part of the Bartlett farm between Glencoe and Strathburn. George was endeavoring his usual good work up to within an hour of his death, when he complained of a pain in the region of the heart. He was 70 years of age, and leaves a wife and a family of five boys and four girls.

The death occurred at Fingert, where Mrs. George has a sister, Mrs. J. E. Roome, of Glencoe. Mr. Potts arrived recently from Montana and was paying a visit to relatives there this week. Three weeks ago she taken down the old road for the Potts was well known in Glencoe.

Tea and Concert.

A very successful anniversary tea meeting and concert was given in the First Congregational Church last night.

The attendance was large, and a splendid programme was rendered. The proceeds go to the funds of the Ladies' Aid Society. From 6:30 to 8 o'clock tea was served in the school room by the ladies, after which an adjournment was made to the church, and the concert opened at 8:15.

Rev. E. C. Oakley, of Detroit, who has been called to the pastorate, occupied the chair. The programme consisted of a chorus by the choir; cornet solo, Mr. C. Irwin; solos, Mr. Guy Lombardo, Miss Sylvia Warren, Mr. R. A. Brown, Miss Williams and Miss Kow; readings by Miss Walker, and addresses by Rev. C. C. Owen, rector of the Memorial Church, and Rev. W. H. A. Clark, pastor of the Southern Congregational Church. Mr. Bleuthner, organist of the church, was the accompanist. The chairman was heartily applauded at the close of the programme, when he spoke of the cordial relations existing between Great Britain and the United States. He said that he was one of a great party in the States who believe that, without any written treaty, there should be an international Anglo-Saxonism among the two peoples. The evening ended by the singing of "God Save the Queen."

The Goderich Signal of Nov. 9 has the following to say of a concert recently given in that town: Miss Roblyn, whose sweet and cultivated voice we heard for the first time, sang several times, and was well received. I know that Mr. Roblyn's voice was beautifully rendered, and her other selections were also very pleasing. The absence of the tremolo was agreeably noticeable. Mr. Skinner's fine baritone voice gave pleasure to his hearers, and was heard specially to advantage in the choruses. Mr. Barron, who had been announced as one of Canada's best pianists, fulfilled the expectations of the audience.

Judge William Elliot heard three appeals against city assessment yesterday. The Ontario Loan and Debenture Company claimed that their head office building on the Market Lane was not assessable at the value placed upon it by the court of revision. The original assessment was $54,000, but the court of revision cut it to $45,000. Mr. Bullen, manager of the company, gave a valuation between $30,000 and $35,000. The appeal was dismissed. Joseph Needham's appeal against an assessment of $300 on income was allowed. The sum of $50 was allowed off each of two cottages owned by John Chapman in West London.

REGIMENTAL ORDERS.

The regimental orders which were read last night at the Seventh's parade state that eleven men had been enrolled since Nov. 13; four men had been granted their discharges, and four have been struck off the strength of the regiment because of having left the city limits. Permission has been granted to Second Lieut. E. M. Harris to attend No. 1 regimental depot, Royal Canadian Regiment of Infantry, for a special course of instruction.

SALMON FROM THE COAST.

The promoters of St. Andrew's supper are sparing no trouble or expense to make it the most successful of all such affairs ever held in the city. As an instance of this determination, Mr. R. S. Macle, who is attending to the supper arrangements, has telegraphed to British Columbia an order for the salmon that will be served. Unlike the regular style of placing the tables there will be a large number of small tables, at which only four will sit, thus affording a better opportunity for all to have a good dinner. Fifty tickets will be sold, and the sale will stop next Tuesday.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

County Judge Will Try Ward Foreman Hamilton.

Board of Works Ignored but Could Not Checkmate the Investigation.

Resolution Regarding the Death of the Late Magistrate Parke.

The Canadian Packing Company's Application Laid Over—Stamped Caused by Question of Ward Abolition.

The meeting of the city council last night had some features of unusual interest. In spite of the adverse majority of the board of works, Ald. Parnell succeeded in having Ald. Malloch's charges of dishonesty against Ward Foreman Hamilton sent before the county judge. Two interesting features of the case were the timely withdrawal of the mayor and the beautiful seamanship of Ald. Douglass, who trimmed his sails to catch the wind just in time to avoid capsizing. The Canadian Packing Company's request for permission to tap the city's trunk sewer developed some opposition, and was laid over. A resolution of condolence was passed in connection with the death of the late E. Jones Parke, Q.C., police magistrate. A stamped application of the majority of the aldermen saved them from expressing themselves on Ald. Plant's motion for an electoral vote on the abolition of the wards. All the members were present except Ald. McPhillips and Winnett.

NEW BUSINESS.

A number of petitions for remission of taxes were referred to No. 1 committee. Mrs. Laddell's claim for damages, for injuries through alleged defective sidewalk was referred to No. 2 committee. W. H. Dean's communication re nuisance from overflow of water from Hamilton road, No. 2 committee. J. O. Meredith re taking over London lane, No. 2. Mrs. Johnston's application for admission to the aged people's home. Referred to the Mayor and Inspector.

W. H. Morgan on behalf of the A. O. U. W., asking for use of the city hall for Dec. 7, and inviting the city council to attend a reception to the grand master. Permission was granted, and the invitation accepted. On suggestion of Ald. Wilkey the hall will be strengthened.

Ben Johnston claimed a mistake of $100 in his tender for the Brighton street sewer. Laid over till report was read.

Residents of St. Patrick street asking that the street be renamed Gerard. Referred to No. 2.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

There was no report from No. 3 committee.

Through Ald. Douglass No. 2 committee recommended the acceptance of Benjamin Johnston's tender for the Brighton street sewer at $100.

Ald. Parnell did not remember that the tender for the sewer had been submitted a statement from Mr. Johnston that he had made a mistake in his calculations, whereby his tender was $100 too high. He wished to amend the figures to read $65.20. Ald. Jolly moved and Ald. O'Meara seconded that Mr. Johnston be allowed to tender his figures as he wished. Ald. Parnell moved that the tender be accepted. Ald. Wilkey moved in amendment that Mr. Johnston be refunded his deposit, and that the contract be awarded to the tenderer who offered the lowest. Ald. Greenlee seconded, and established a bad precedent to allow a contractor to alter his figures after the contract had been accepted. Ald. Reed moved that the tender be accepted. Ald. Parnell said it was not a question of dollars and cents, but a question of principle. It would furnish a bad precedent, ever after, to allow Mr. Johnston to be the victim of a mistake.

Mr. Johnston was given a chance to explain, and said that he had prepared his tender in a hurry, and made a mistake of $100 in his addition. He was willing, however, rather than lose the contract, to give to the city the sum named in the original tender, even if he lost money.

After some further discussion the council adopted a vote of 3 to 5, and Mr. Johnston carried out the contract at the original figure.

S. A. Henry was, after some discussion, allowed $14 in full of claim for damages for injuries sustained by falling on an alleged defective sidewalk.

THE BANKRUPT BOARD.

The question of an additional grant of $4,000 to the board of works to cover their overdraft, and to keep them going to the end of the year, came up before the city solicitor that the council had to give to the board of works for the purpose. The solicitor's report was supplemented by a report from the city engineer explaining how a portion of the excessive expenditure had been incurred.

Ald. Graham—Well, what is No. 3 going to do about it? We can't do anything about it. When a man gets into debt he has to borrow money from the bank to pay his debts.

Ald. Graham—But you can't borrow the money. If you've spent all your money and can't get any more, you'd better resign and go out of business.

Had an asset of about $2,000 worth of stone, which at the end of the year would leave them only about $2,000 in the hole. He moved that the chairman of Nos. 2 and 3 committees meet together to consider some method of relieving the financial embarrassment of No. 3.

Ald. Douglass said No. 3 had scarcely enough of their own appropriation to see them through.

Mayor Wilson said the chairman would better meet and see where they stood. And so it was decided that the question of renaming certain streets was referred back to the committee.

Ald. Rumball wanted to know why the report of the chairman of No. 2 committee made no reference to a certain investigation held by the committee, but he received no satisfaction.

THOSE OLD SEWERS.

The report of No. 1 committee was adopted with slight changes, and so the others tried again to get his motion to relieve certain ratepayers from future payments on certain old sewers.

Ald. Rumball said it would mean the cutting off of $1,936 a year during the remainder of the term the rentals had to run. It was a case of a bad bargain made seventeen or eighteen years ago, and retroactive legislation was a bad thing, and if they began on those sewers there was no telling where the thing might end. It was doubtless a hardship to the ratepayers involved, but others had completed equally long payments on other city sewers, and they might with equal justice ask the city to refund them a portion of what they had paid. Ald. Graham and Ald.

Plant expressed similar views, and the matter was temporarily disposed of by

Ald. Jolly's motion that the city treasurer submit at the next meeting of the council a report of the cost of the sewers in order to show whether or not the city was actually deriving a profit on the sewer rentals in question.

THE ASSESSORS' SALARIES.

The finance committee's recommendation that a request from Assessors

Toll and Peel for an increase of salaries be filed, was finally adopted, after a motion by Ald. Wilkey for $100 increase failed to find a second, and

Ald. Jolly's motion for a $50 increase, seconded by Ald. Douglass, had been lost.

Ald. Rumball said the time to fix salaries was when the rate was struck.

Ald. Jolly said the men had done extra work, and should be paid for it.

Ald. Parnell moved that Mrs. Crawford Beckett be granted $3 a week on account of the death of her husband in the city hall disaster. The matter was sent back to the committee with power. Ald. Carrothers said Mrs. Beckett had been offered the same amount as other widows similarly placed.

PACKING COMPANY'S SEWAGE.

The application of the Canadian Packing Company for permission to drain into the trunk sewer system was reported upon, and a report from the engineer was read, stating that the ca-capacity of the sewer was adequate for the additional sewage.

Ald. Wilkey said he did not want to back the application, but he doubted

the power of the council to allow an outside corporation to drain into the city sewer. He moved that the matter be referred to the city solicitor. Ald.

Pritchard seconded.

Ald. O'Meara thought that the city engineer had overstepped
