SCENE OF DESTRUCTION IN ST. PIERRE APPALLING

Everything Looks Rent and Scattered

a Tornado Had Swept the Place.

Two Feet of Cinders and Ashes Cover the Dead-The Crater Still Active-Many Drowning Casualties.

Fort-de-France, May 15 .- In the destroyed city of St. Pierre the work among the ruins is being continued in in unsatisfactory manner. The dead are being burned, the fires being fed with petroleum and tar. Great fires are kept going, which at night light up the entire island and which, being seen at St. Lucia, led to the belief that Fort-de-France has burned.

Although thousands have been burned, many thousands remain to be cremated.

Searchers, while walking through the ashes, often step upon what appears to be a charred pillar of stone, only to learn, as it yields grewsomely under foot, that it is the trunk of another

Some of the walls of the houses that still stand crumble and fall at touch. Some idea of the terrible heat that poured down from Mont Pelee may be had when it is known that the iron rollers of the Prinelle sugar mills were melted as though they had been passed through a furnace.

GRUESOME SIGHTS. London, May 15 .- A dispatch to the the city of St. Pierre are strange and gruesome. In the section of the city known as the Mouillage, no sign of known as the Moullage, no sign of the disaster. The secretary comfire is visible, but everything seems to pares the ignited matter, which dethe hospitals are twisted, but bear no textiles in the hospital simply vanished.

About 200 corpses have been found in the streets of St. Pierre, most of them lying face downward. The central quarter of the town is buried several inches under cinders. In the neighborhood of the creek several houses were found intact, but their inhabitants were all dead, and appeared to have been killed by lightning. Here the bodies were lying, sitting and re-clining in curiously life-like attitudes.

CITIZENS PREVENTED FROM LEAVING ST. PIERRE. The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Barbados, who visited St. Pierre on board the royal mail steamer Solent, has learned from a Dr. Artier, who marvelously escaped the disaster, that when the governor of Martinique, M. had declared all danger from an erup-placed around the town to prevent the people from leaving. Dr. Artier, how-ever, went to the suburb of Morne Rouge. He was riding back to St. Pierre when the explosion occurred. He turned and fled precipitately across the mountains to Fort-de-France. With the exception of a prisener who was confined in a dungeon at the time of the explosion, Dr. Artier is really the sole survivor of St. Pierre.

ENTOMBED IN ASHES. Castries, Island of Lucia, May 13 .-The destruction at St. Pierre was appalling. The streets are two feet deep in ashes, and cinders, which cover thousands of dead bodies, scorched black and shiny, as if they had been plunged into boiling pitch. Many of the dead were never touched by the volcanic fire, and some of the houses and woodwork destroyed show no signs of having been burned.

At Moudlage, in the southwestern portion of St. Pierre, the town hall is still standing as high as the first story, while at the fort, in the northwestern part of St. Pierre, the most massive stonework is calcined. The church tower, built by the Jesuits two centuries ago, of cyclopean mason work, is now like a huge heap of old metal. Soldiers are guarding property from prowling ghouls, who are robbing the dead. They meet with severe punishment when caught. The stench throughout St. Pierre is terribly offensive. The streets are still obstructed by huge piles of debris and dead bodies. The work of clearing the thoroughfares will necessitate the employment of large numbers of men for many months. CRATER STILL ACTIVE. Moudlage Rouge, near St. Pierre, is preserved, and Basse Point and Macouba are yet unhurt. But the crater is still inactive and smoke and ashes are blowing steadily northward. The surviving inhabitants are trying to cross from St. Pierre to the Island of Dominica in boats. Many drowning casualties are reported. Assistance is constantly arriving at Fort-de-France from all the neighboring islands. GREAT AREA DEVASTATED. London, May 14 .- Sir Frederick M. Hodgson, the governor of Barbadoes (British West Indies), forwarded to the Reuter Telegram Company, from Fort- colonial office today the report of the de-France, says that the scenes within colonial secretary, who had just returned from a visit to St. Pierre, Martinique. The bedclothes and all the services of doctors are not required, as there are no wounded persons. Governor Hodgson estimates that two million tons of dust from the Island of St. Vincent fell on the Island of HELP FOR THE SUFFERERS. Paris, May 15 .- Ex-President Kruger has sent a message of condolence to President Loubet, in which he says that although handicapped by cumstances, he desires to emphasize his sympathy by contributing $160 towards the Martinique fund. The town council of Berlin unanimously recommended to the municipal authorities the immediate donation of 40,000 marks. The pope has contribute 20,000 lire

($4,000) to the fund. The meeting Wednesday afternoon called by the American Chamber of Commerce, in Paris, to raise funds for L. Mouttet, and the insular officials the relief of the West Indian sufferers, was well attended, and over 12,000 that 50,000 more men were to reach Hartin in a fortnight's time. MINING ACTIVITY IN JOHANNES-BURG.

A dispatch from Johannesburg to the London Times says that two more mines have started operations. More than two thousand stamps are now in operation, and it is hoped that more than half the gold mining industry will be working by July. A thousand natives arrived from the east coast on Monday, and six thousand new arrivals are expected this month. impoverished by the war, but show a praiseworthy spirit of independence. LOUBET EN ROUTE TO RUSSIA.

President Loubet arrived at Brest on Wednesday en route to St. Peters-burg, and was welcomed by cheering crowds. He proceeded to the prefecture, and subsequently was entertained by fourteen hundred civil officials at lunch. Replying to a toast wishing success to his journey, M. Loubet paid a warm tribute to the cabinet minis-ters, whose services had raised the prestige of France abroad. Referring o the recent elections, he said: France is now unanimously Republican. Not a single candidate solicited the suffrages of the electors as a royalist or imperialist. I hope they (the deputies) are sincerely Republi-can, and that they will not allow their electoral promises to go to protest."

CABLE NOTES.

The Morgen Zeitung reports that a number of Russian political prisoners have been tortured at Villa. Thirtysix of them were stripped and flogged in the presence of the governor. Several afterwards died in a hospital. The British Government has decided to abandon the proposed increase of the stamp duty on checks from a penny to two pence. There are persistent reports at the Vatican that Bishop Charles McDonnell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is likely to be the successor of the late Archbishop Corrigan, of the New York diocese, but nothing has been decided. The Paris Temps says that French Government has requested Don Carlos, the Spanish pretender, who is visiting at Banylus-sur-Mur, to remove to the interior of France.

THE TROUBLE IN SECOND C. M. R.

Recall of Colonel Merritt Has Been Asked

Ey Colonel Evans, Who Was in Command of the Corps-Cause of the Difficulty.

[Special to Advertiser.] Ottawa, Ont., May 15.-It is understood that Col. Evans, commanding 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles in South Africa, has asked that Col. Merritt, second in command of regiment, be recalled. In meantime Col. Cameron, who was junior major, has been given the place of Col. Merritt. The matter is now under the consideration of the minister of militia. The reasons which are given by Col. Evans are said to be of a rather pe-culiar, if not startling character. It is said that upon arriving South Africa, Merritt endeavored to get himself promoted to that he would be senior to Evans, and also tried to get the name of the regiment chang-

SEND-OFF GIVEN TO MR. W. REID

United States Ambassador to Coronation.

New York, May 15.-Mr. Whitelaw Reid was the guest of honor at a farewell banquet given at the Union League Club last night in anticipation of his approaching departure for London as special ambassador of the United States at the coronation. In reply to the toast of his health, Mr.

Reid said:

"You have referred the the approching ceremonials in London. The event special attention and honor have been habitually extended among civilized nations since diplomatic intercourse between them began. The duty in connection with it with which the president has honored me has ever been prized as a high trust and signal distinction. But no event quite like this isfactory condition is afforded by the has occurred within modern history, ambassador before to carry under similar circumstances the friendly messages of such a people. On the one hand is a government on which the sun never sets. It is the first change at its head for two-thirds of a century. and marks the constitutional and orderly succession by the eldest son to the best beloved sovereign the English-speaking race have ever known. On the other hand, the congratulations and good wishes your representative is charged to present, come from what is now clearly the greatest compact and united body of self-governing people that has ever appeared on the tide of time, and are to be carried to that people's nearest of kin. "We trade more with Great Britain serious losses that have arisen from the and her colonies than with any other two countries in the world. We invest more capital under the British than under any other foreign government; and we have more British than any other foreign capital invested here. We send several times as many travelers to British ports as to any others abroad, and wherever else they may or may not travel, they always travel in England. We listen to more English preachers and scientific men and read ten times as many books by English writers as by those of any other foreign country. Thus, whether in business or in social intercourse, or in intellectual pursuits, our most intimate relations are with Great Britain, and, finally, we like her better. In fact, we like her so well that we have family jars with her from time to time, and take the liberty of scolding when we feel like it, as we would hardly think of doing with anybody we didn't know so well. And, to do her justice, there have been times when she treated us with the same family candor.

The promoters of this enterprise hope to secure mail and cruiser subscribers

A dispatch from Rangoon, British Burmah, says that a lifeboat belongng to the British steamer Camorta, overdue at that port from Madras, has been picked up in the Bay of Bengal. The Camorta was reported to have had 650 passengers on board. A lifeboat and boom belonging to the Camorta has also been picked up by a vessel searching for the missing steamer, near Krishna lightship, on the Madras coast. It is believed that the Camorta foundered during a cyclone on May 6. Besides her 650 passengers, who were natives, the Camorta had a crew of 89.

THE SLAUGHTER OF ELEPHANTS

French Explorer Wantonly Killed Six in Four Minutes.

Viscount Du Bour De Bozas Tells of His Hunting Adventures in Wilds of Abyssinia.

Killing six elephants in four minutes is the "record" of elephant slaughter just established by the Vis-count du Bour de Bozas, in Abyssinia, as against the record established by Superintendent of Keddars Sanderson, working in the Garrow Hills of India, when he captured 136 of the great creatures in one drive. But between the wanton killing of six such creatures and the capture of 136 for military and other purposes, there is a wide gap toward humanity, which the gap toward humanity, which Frenchman probably has not consid-

Finding six elephants at a water hole to which they had been obliged to come for drink, the Frenchman, waited upon by coolies carrying his express guns loaded to his hand, fired at an average range of 25 feet, knocking over the great brutes with more than the ease that the man with a target rifle shoots rabbits. And yet, trained to domesticity, any one of these animals might have been given charge of a babe, keeping flies off it, keeping it in bounds of its outof-door nursery, gentle with it as ever was the child's mother. And one of them could have been set to piling teak, working as men would not have worked; careful always, considerate of the right of way of vehicles and of passers-by—royal to his master and his master's wish.

SIX IN FOUR MINUTES. And six of these in four minutes! It might be sport in Abyssinia; it is akin to murder as the news of it comes to America. The viscount had an appointment from France to make ex-plorations in Abyssinia, and King Menelek had given full passports to the party. But from the French point of view there was no necessity for elephant shooting; certainly not for six of the animals in four minutes. But this is the viscount's story of it:

"The thorny shrubbery for a time served to conceal my movements, but it was not long before the elephantsby their angry actions—left me in no doubt as to their knowledge of my presence. They snorted and trumpeted, trampled upon the shrubbery about ed, trampled upon the shrubbery about and gave many evidences of fear and rage combined. Then they threw up their trunks, searching the wind, which happily was favorable to me in throwing them off my scent, for I was not 25 feet away from the pearest. not 25 feet away from the nearest.

"Then I made up my mind to begin operations. I quickly drew for the sight over my rifle at the nearest elephant and shot twice as quickly as I could pull the trigger, aiming at the thigh and the foreshoulder.

"As the bullets hit him he gave a terrific roar, at which the second elephant turned, and I sent two bullets at him in the same fashion.
"I was not left long in doubt as to the number of elephants in the group after this shot. Three of them seem-ed to rise out of the horizon. He followed later, with raions, noise equipments, and the tools for constructing the mighty "keddar" into which the big beasts, then ravaging the rice fields of the settled section, were to be driven. In the woods a second examination of men caused the turning back of the inefficients, and with a small regiment of picked men he pushed on to the Garrow Hills.

The keddar, as constructed, was a giant corral, built of tree trunks, braced and entertwined with saphings, having a drop gate suspended by a having a drop gate suspended by a rope which one blow of an axe would sever. From this gate wide wings, built of heavy trees spread outward, the jungle inside of them left un-marked by any sign of man. Beyond the ends of these wing walls, however, trees in line with them for many yards were hacked and the jungle brush broken and trampled. This for the reason that a herd of elephants fear such signs almost as much as they fear man himself.

Inside this wide angle of heavy walls converging to the corral gate cross lines of dry grass were stretched and covered with the natural green of the jungle, the purpose being that when the herded creatures should pass these succesive lines of timber they should be fired from behind stampeding the animals into the corral, which had been made further proof against a charge by a circular ditch running all around the inside.

THEIR SAGACITY THEIR UNDOING The herd being found, the hunters left to the sagacity of the beasts their own capture. For, with outposts here and there, just enough alarm was inspired in the creatures to keep them moving, and just enough of "signs" were left in the jungle to keep them headed for the keddahs. Not until the herd were within the solid walls of the wings was the first row of grass fired. Then natives, shooting muskets, beating drums and clappers and hooting and shouting, closed in be-

"SPIRIT" CASE BEFORE A CLEVELAND COURT!

An Alleged Medium Tells About the Tricks of the Trade.

[Cleveland Leader.]

A legal fight for possession of a number of "spirit robes" was started in Justice Morrow's court the other morning. "I am not a good judge of spirits real, rectified or raw, and have not as to group had much education along the lines seemof spirit wearing apparel," said Justice Morrow just before the case was with the lines of spirit wearing apparel, and said told her that if she followed the business she would have to get up and hustle instead of sitting quiet in the cabinet. She looked around and said: of it.'

The "spirit robes" in question were plevin papers sworn to by A. J. McIntosh, No. 186 Prospect street. They were found at the home of C. P. Hunhants, but the two shot at were hard Mrs. John Tite, of No. 17 Sayles street, wounds they formed a medium. McIntosh later showed her cent glow. He told her that this method of materializing spirit forms was used by all mediums. She took the paraphernalia home with her. McIntosh claimed he loaned it to her and wanted it back.

"I had been investigating along spiritualistic lines and got acquainted with McIntosh," said Mrs. Nettie Tite, who was the first witness. 'He told me he could develop me into a medium in two seen, charged, but stopped short of the weeks. He said he would do it for $50, and that I could then go to the camp meetings and make the money. Later I gave him the money and asked to be instructed in the phenomena. He asked me what I wanted and I asked that he instruct me in regard to materialization, slate work, independent writing and the materialization of flowers. By materialization I meant the appearance of the form of some dead friend or relative. McIntosh gave me five sittings. The first time

Indian," said Mrs. Tite. "What are Indian noises? I never heard any Indian noises. Imitate it,"

"Hoot, hoot," said Mrs. Tite. "That isn't Indian, that's Scotch," said Hart. Those in the court room were convulsed.

"Every one in the circle held hands, didn't they?" inquired Attorney Myler. "Yes, those in the circle held hands from a battery," replied the witness. McIntosh was next placed on the witness stand. He said he had told Mrs. Tite that he could develop her into a medium in two weeks.

"I gave her several sittings," said McIntosh, "and then explained to her the method of doing the business. I land enumerated the various improvements contemplated, which included told her that if she followed the business she would have to get up and ness she would have to get up and ness she would have to get up and all important points, and placed upon 'Where are the spirits?' PARLIAMENT CLOSES TODAY

A Grant of $50,000 for Earthquake Victims Passed.

Several Government Bills Bropped-Mr. Sutherland's Plans for St. Lawrence Mavigation.

Ottawa, May 14.-Rapid progress was made in the House of Commons today. Prorogation of parliament is fixed for tomorrow afternoon, at 3 o'clock. Several measures, which the government had not intended pressing this session, but were simply introto the house, were held over until next session.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier informed the house that he desired to take advantanswer to the numerous applications which have been made for assistance to railway construction. The government, he said, had determined not to ask parliament this session for an appropriation for that object.

In committee on ways and means, Hon. Mr. Fielding's resolution extending the period of the time for the free admission of machinery used in the manufacture of beet root sugar for one year until April 1, 1903, was adopted.

INTERCOLONIAL EXTENSION. This afternoon Mr. Charles Marcil, M. P. (Bonaventure), in view of the action of the senate in rejecting the Gaspe and Western Railway bill, asked the government during the recess to consider the advisability of extending the Intercolonial to Paspebiac, on the Bay des Chaleur, utilizing the Atlantic and Lake Superior Railway. Thus an open ocean port would be available practically all the year.

Mr. Lemieux (Gaspe) questioned the feasibility of navigation of the Bay des Chaleur throughout the winter. Lemieux desired to see a better winter steamship service to his constituency. Sir Richard Cartwright called attention to the difference of view as to winter navigation. He thought that the government might be able to arrange an improvised steamship service to Gaspe.

ST. LAWRENCE NAVIGATION. At 4:40 the house went into supply on the few remaining items of the supplementary estimates. Upon the item of $280,000 for improvements in the aids to navigation on the St. Lawrence, Hon. Mr.Sutherland said that the rates of insurance upon ships on that route were from two to five times as much as from competing United States ports. This proved a severe handicap to the producers of Canada, and the representatives of the shipping interests, as well as of the marine insurance companies, had represented that a material reduction could be obtained by improving the aids to navigation. We propose that one-half of that sum shall be at once supplied to the relief funds for the island in generosity: the relief funds for the island in which the greatest disaster has occurred, the Island of Martinique. U. S. CROP REPORT

Average Condition Much Lower Than That of May in Many Previous Years.

Washington, May 15 .- Returns to the statistician of the department of agriculture made up to May 1, show the area under winter wheat in cultivation on that date to have been about 27,103,-000 acres. This is 4,868,000 acres, or 15.2 per cent less than the area sown last fall of the department's estimate, of which no modification except for acreage abandoned is necessary. Of this abandonment Kansas reports 1.835,000 acres. For the area remaining under cultivation, the average condition on May 1 was 76.4, against 94.1 on May 1. 1901, 88.9 in 1900 and 83.2 the mean of the May average of the last ten years. The present condition is the lowest May condition, with the exception of the years 1899, 1893 and 1888, since 1885. The average condition of winter rye on May 1 was 83.4, as compared with 85.4 on April 1, 1902. The present condition is the lowest May condition since 1893, and the lowest with that excep-tion in 20 years. New York and Pennsylvania, with two-fifths of the total winter rye acreage of the country, report 91 and 83 respectively, the former being 3 points and the latter 7 points below the respective ten-year averages. The average condition of meadow mowing lands on May 1 was 86.6. against 92.8 on May 1, 1901. The present condition of mowing lands is the lowest May condition since 1888, with the exception of 1889, when it was 84.9. The average condition of spring pastures on May 1 was 84.9, against 91.5 on

THE OUTBREAK OF SOUFRIERE

Black Rain Followed the Opening Discharge.

Deaths Resulted From Poisonous Gases-Bodies Buried in Trenches. Thirty in Each.

Fort-de-France, May 14.- The eruption of Soufriere, St. Vincent, began Wednesday. A huge cloud in a dark and dense column, charged with volcanic matter, rose to a height of eight miles from the mountain top. Darkness like midnight descended and the sulphurous air was laden with fine dust. A black rain followed-a rain of favilla, scoriae, rocks and stones.

There were bright flashes, numerous and marvelously rapid. These, with thundering, the mountain shocks, the earthquake roar, the lava and falling stones, created a scene of horror. Large areas of cultivation have been burled beneath the volcanic matter. On the windward coast seven plantations are totally destroyed. Nothing green is visible. Sixteen hundred and twenty deaths are already reported. There are 167 cases in the hospital at Georgetown under treatment.

DEATHS CAUSED BY SUFFOCA-TION.

The deaths have been caused chiefly by suffocation by the sulphurous gas, lightning and burning lava masses. Few of the cases in the hospital are likely to recover. The crew of H. M. S. Indefatigable buried 30 peasants found dead on the Owia estate, north of

The royal mail steamer Wear is transporting food and water to the leeward coast; sailing vessels proceeded to the windward coast on the same errand. Doctors and nurses have gone to the scene of distress. The majority of the corpses being found are covered with ashes, decomposed and hardly approachable. The dead are being buried in trenches

Binghamton, N. Y., May 15 .- George Eichenberg, of Oswego, has received word from Beowawe, Nev., that his son, Edward Eichenberg, was kill-ed in a game of cards in that place on April 26. Young Eichenberg was sitting in a big poker game. There was $500 in the pot, and he was $8,000 win-

The betting ran high, and when Eichenberg's opponent called he laid down four aces. Eichenberg showed a "royal flush," whereupon one man hit him on the head with a club and another shot him. GRAND COUNCIL ROYAL ARCANUM IN SESSION

Annual Report Presented—Officers Chosen— Toronto the Next Meeting Place.

Hamilton, May 14.—The fourteenth session of the Grand Council of Ontario, Royal Arcanum, met in St. Andrew's Hall at 10 a.m., Grand Regent wm. Ray, of Toronto, presiding. Supreme Deputy Regent Jas. B. Banks, Petersburg, Va., was introduced, and received a very hearty welcome.

The reports of the grand officers were presented, and referred to the distribution committee. A message of greeting was received from the Grand Council of New Jersey, and a suitable reply sent.

The executive committee's report was presented by Grand Vice-Regent Major H. J. Snellgrove, and contained much valuable information. Special committees were appointed as follows: Credentials—Thos. Bland, Toronto; M. A. James, Bowmanville;

Jas. Smith, Hamilton.

Press Committee—M. A. James and J. H. McIntosh, Strathroy. A committee, consisting of J. W. Hickson, C. B. Campbell and Robert Bucke, were appointed to consider the rearrangement of districts. A committee consisting of J. H. Mc-Intosh, R. Roy and J. C. Vancamp, was appointed to report upon the South African war question, and the deaths of Queen Victoria and President McKinley.

A committee, consisting of Drs. Mason and Hunter and E. C. Saunders, was appointed to consider the report of the medical examiners.

Bro. James B. McKillop, of London, from the committee on the state of the order, read the report, which was

The finance committee's report was also adopted. Bro. H. M. Stevenson, from the committee of appeals and grievances, re-ported that nothing had been brought before them during the term. Adopted. The election of officers resulted as follows: Supreme representative, Lyman Lee, Hamilton; second supreme representative, J. B. McKillop, London; 1st alternate, J. K. The committee on the death of the Queen and President McKinley and the South African war presented a most appropriate report, which was adopted.

Toronto was chosen as the next place of meeting, in 1904. In reply to a member, Bro. Lee stated that the matter of admitting members of 18 years of age was a live question in the supreme council, the main objection being the legal one of making a contract with a minor. If it could be done safely, he was in favor of such a change.

AN INJUSTICE DONE

Mr. Gibbons' Denial of Certain Statements

[Toronto Mail, May 12.]

Recently Published.

The report of the failure of the Canadian Advertising Agency, which occurred some three weeks ago, as published in a Saturday evening paper, contains an inference that does an injustice to an advertising agency which has a good standing among newspaper publishers in Canada. The report implies that Mr. J. J. Gibbons was or had been a director in the concern. Jibbons, when seen at his office in the Confederation Life Building, in reference to the matter, made the following

"I have never been a director nor occupied any executive position in the Canadian Advertising Agency. I employed as a solicitor in New York and Toronto when it was first started, and continued with it for two years. While I was with it the company was prosperous, and had accounts with some of the leading Canadian and American advertisers. Recently I have completed what I believe is the strongest advertising combination ever got together in Canada. Mr. J. E. McConnell, formerly advertising manager of the Slater Shoe and Semi-Ready Cloth-ing, one of the best advertising writers and designers in America, has joined my organization. Mr. E. L. McArthur, late advertising manager of the Toronto News, is now our outside repre-sentative. Mr. McArthur is one of the best-posted advertising men in Canada. "I might say, in justice to Messrs. H. E. Stephenson and T. J. Oliver, whose names are also mentioned in the report, that Mr. Stephenson, although formerly manager and treasurer of the defunct company, was not with it during its more recent troubles, and Mr. Oliver, who was employed as a clerk, has been with me since opening my office."

The last census shows 21,216,888 horses in the United States, with an average value of $49 07. The increased number of farms more than compensates the falling off in the horse population of cities.

Characteristic Audacity. Mr. Whitney and his followers are persistently denying that the Ross Administration is entitled to any credit for the industrial development of New In a series of speeches recently made in the western portion of the Province, the Opposition leader repeatedly made the statement that the Clergue industries were originated and extended altogether independent of the the Algema Central Railway, and that much for the cause of temperance. the land was a free gift to the corporation in the nature of an afterthought. Speaking at Stratford on April 24, Mr. Whitney, as reported by the Mail and Empire, said on this subject, alluding to Mr. Ross' Newmarket speech, delivered a short time previously:

"In its very first assertion it was stated that the vast Clergue enter- ing its information at second hand, as prises had grown up as a result of and grants to the Algoma Central Railway. The grants were made in 1900, and he (Mr. Whitney) had been shown through the pulp works by Mr. Clergue himself several years previously, which he could also prove by Mr. Clergue's utterance before the Toronto Board of Trade, that the other industries had been projected months before these grants had been contem-

Similar assertions were made by Mr. Whitney at other places where he spoke. A statement more entirely talse and misleading upon its face has seldom been made by a responsible political leader. Fortunately, it carries its own refutation with it. Mr. Whitney might better have left the bold assertion uncorroborated than attempt to substantiate it by referring to Mr. Clergue's memorable speech. That document is, in fact, a most emphatie contradiction of the Opposition leader's reckless attack, as the following extract therefrom clearly shows:

"We have found, however, as every new country finds, that we cannot get on without a railway. You see I have not got through with my evolution yet. I do not know where it is going to We found that the water-shed of Hudson's Bay came down very close to Lake Superior; that the tributary streams to Lake Superior were so doubled is within the mark." abrupt and rapid, and the region itself so rocky, as to be very unproductive of timber, and it is a fact today that the Sault Ste. Marie Company, notwithstanding that it went up into a supposedly great pulp country, is ments, half yearly, as this would be drawing pulpwood by rail from North more convenient than paying the whole Bay. So you see how necessary it is for works of this character to be able to have access to their own raw resources.

"We found plenty of wood up there, but it was not on the lake shores; we could not get it down the rivers; that in this inaccessible region there were plenty of forests, but we could not get at them. We found that it was necessary for the success of our works and for the establishment on so large a scale as we hoped and were planning, that it was necessary to have railway admittance into the region where the raw material exists; so we conceived the idea of building a railway into that the Conservatives. They appointed region, and we began the investigation the returning officers, the deputyof the possible routes into the forest preserves. We found it practicable, and we have now applied to the Government for certain concessions under which we expect to build during the next two years about 200 miles of railway through that country."

The authority so ostentatiously adduced by Mr. Whitney plainly shows that instead of the Algoma Central Railway grant being an afterthought and a gratuitous piece of favoritism, the construction of the railway, aided by the Government, was in fact a condition precedent to the further industrial development contemplated by the Clergue syndicate; that it was an absolute necessity to the establishment of these great industries on their present scale, as without it it would be impossible to obtain the raw material required in these varied enterprises. What are the public to think of the honor and truthfulness of a political leader who, with this evidence actually before him, could have the au dacity to make, and make repeatedly the statement that the land grant had nothing to do with building up the Clergue enterprises?

The Government and Temperance

A lawyer, upon being asked once an action would lie, answered "Yes, if the witnesses will lie too." That seems to accurately describe the position of the Ontario Government. If the truth is told, there is no case against them, and for 30 years they have lived in as fierce a light as that which beats one question, temperance, that is playing a part in the London The Government's course onward and upward. It has been sincere, consistent and progressive. The Province is much the better for it; but how has it been with the were tampered with by the wholesale, Opposition? At one time they cried, "Give back the power of licensing to and "spoiling" being the methods emthe municipalities." At another time ployed. We in London know how it they said, "Give the power to the Do- was done in one polling booth. minion Government;" and Sir John Macdonald actually appointed a numtled policy on the subject which tended vote for Colonel Leys, who supports spoken since her husband was put uptoward the betterment of the class of the Government that has done so on the block and auctioned off to hotels in this Province and the diminution of drunkenness. In no country in the world are the evils of intemperance less apparent than in the Province of Ontario, and for this state of affairs the country is much indebted to the Government.

No Reformers should be misled into voting against the Government candidate, Col. Leys. It should be plain to them that such men as Ald. Winnett and Dr. Roome intend to exert all their influence in favor of Mr. Beck, and that Liberal votes given to Mr. Daly are worse than thrown away. They merely help the opponent of Col. Leys and the Government. Should the prohibitionists succeed they would, after the election, be in the position of Llewellyn, who slew the dog that saved his child from the wolf's fangs. We repeat that when prohibitionists, like Ald. Winnett and Dr. Roome, will tak, their coats off to help the Conservative candidate, it is obvious that every Liberal who casts his vote for any other candidate than Col. Leys supports the Opposition and tries to grant of land made two years ago to kill the Government that has done so

A Silly Aspersion.

The Belleville Intelligencer makes the assertion that license commissioners are paid for their services and purposely prolong their meetings in order to increase their fees. The London Free Press echoes the charge, tak-

The statement is a clumsy falsehood. Had the Free Press made the most casual inquiry or looked into the license law, it would have found that license commissioners get no salary, no fees, no traveling expenses, no remuneration of any kind. Their services are wholly gratuitous. It would make no difference if they sat every day in the year. The Free Press might ask Mr. John McClary, Mr. George Harris or Mr. J. W. Little if they ever received a copper as members of the local board.

The Intelligencer says that it used to be the custom of the license commissioners to meet and grant licenses for a year, the commissioners receiving fees for their attendance. "But now it is different." says that veracious journal. "They did not get enough that way, and the scheme was devised to only grant the licenses for six months, and then meet again and renew for the other six months of the year, by which scheme the license commissioners were enabled to receive fees for two attendances instead of one." Whereupon the London Free Press adds: "It will therefore be seen that the statement that the salaries of the license commissioners have been

This is a malicious misrepresentaers petitioned to be allowed to pay their license money in two installments, half yearly, as this would be amount at once. The Government granted them this accommodation. The licenses are issued for one year as before, only the licensees have the privilege of paying every six months. The Free Press should not pretend to discuss the license system when it is ignorant of the most ordinary facts.

An Instructive Contrast.

From 1882 to 1896 the Dominion election machinery was in the hands of returning officers, and all the election officials. They were the custodians of the ballots and the ballot boxes.

In 1900 the control passed to the Liberal party for the first time since 1878. In view of this, the following table affords an instructive contrast:

In nearly all elections ballots are inevitably spoiled by some stupid or inexperienced voters, but how are we to account for the remarkable difference between the numbers rejected in 1896 and in 1900? It would be flattering to think that four years of Liberal rule had so improved the intelligence of the electorate that there was only one stupid voter in 1900, where there were three in 1896. Conservatives will dismiss that theory, so that there can be only one explanation. The ballots in the general election of 1896 "slipping," "switching," "stuffing"

At Sault Ste. Marie Mr. Whitney excused his opposition to the Algoma Central Railway grant by saying that he and his colleagues "could see no further than their noses." Mr. Whitney never spoke truer words. The Opposition have all along depreciated New Ontario simply because they "could not see further than their noses."

Individually, Mr. Beck is as good Reformer who thinks his vote would be lost by giving it to Mr. Daly, might easily acquit his conscience as a temperance man, by voting for Mr. Beck.

The Free Press, appealing for prohibition votes, is one of the comedy elements of the campaign. We hardly think any prohibitionist will be gudgeon enough to give his vote to a party that has been the enemy of the temperance movement in the past, and today stands pledged against even a reference of the auestion to the people. A vote for Mr. Daly is as useless as a vote for Mr. Beck. The only hope for further temperance legislation is in a Liberal Government. Women Copying Men's Fashions. [London Tailor and Cutter.]

Do women imitate men's fashions, or do men appropriate the ideas of the fair sex? Our opinion is that in the vast majority of cases it is the women who copy the men. For some time past the Englishman's ideal of styl clothing has been the easy fitting waists and the emphasizing of hight. Ladies have now adopted the same idea, the tall, straight figure, without form or shape.

Domestic Ability.

[Duluth News-Tribune.] An aristocratic East Superior street woman, who has had the usual number of failures in the way of domestics, having tried nearly every nationality, heard the other day that a number of girls had come here from Finland to seek employment as servants and that they were highly recommended as strong, intelligent, capable and generally excellent help.
With high hope the housekeeper hied her to the office where these paragons were on exhibition, and was soon brought face to face with a brawny specimen, who could not speak a word of English. With the aid of an interpreter the following conversation took formation of the great Morgan octo- was about the same to day. has not only managed to incorporate the principal Atlantic steamship lines in his 'merger,' but he has with him all the leading United States railways which center at New York, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Newport | city. News. The object of this joint railway and steamship car line is to secure a monopoly for the United States of the passenger and freight traffic crossing the Atlantic. The effect of the Morgan combine remaining unopposed would be to make Canadians hewers of wood and drawers of water for the United States. The control of communication by sea and land would render the Americans vagrancy. masters of the situation. Our western grain would be taken to the seaboard by American barges and railways and transferred from New York in American steamships. The control of immigration to Canada would pass out of our hands, and of the steamships, the Morgan combine could restrict the number coming to this country, to exactly what proportion they pleased.

TO FIGHT THE STEAMER TRUST

Proposal to Establish a Canadian Fast Line.

Government Reported To Be Negotiating With the C. P. R.—Combine's

TO MEET THE COMBINE. "How to meet this dangerous and threatening situation is the question which has been occupying the attention of the government. Representatives of the different Canadian steamship and railway companies have been sounded as to their views of the situation, and the government is said to have been convinced that the best way to fight the Morgan combine is through a company able to operate a trans-Atlantic fleet and a transcontinental railway of its own. It is now reported that negotiations have been opened with the C. P. R. looking to the establishment of a fast Atlantic steamship and freight service. The idea is that there should be a weekly passenger service between Canada and Great Britain equal to the best that sails from New York. In order to maintain a good freight service a dozen freight steamers would be required, and the total The government already has the power to subsidize a line to the ex- boy sopranos. tent of $750,000 a year, but a passenger and freight service, it is said, would involve a million yearly.

"The C. P. R. is reported to be willing, if the project goes throught, to allow the fast steamship line to be controlled by trustees nominated by the government. National control would be a guarantee that fair rates would be extended to all Canadian companies and that there would be no discrimination for or against any particular rail-

"According to report, the matter is now engaging the consideration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues, and further developments are expected when they proceed to London in June. And we presume you are It is thought that the project will about discouraged. Now then be discussed with the C. P. R. diwhat do you think of our rectors and representatives of the British Government. "Certainly. An old gentleman arrived here early this afternoon; he looks to be nearly seventy, although he says he is barely sixty. He has evidently known better days—shows evidence of culture and of having mingled in good society; but he is sadly worn and broken by dis-sipation and fast living. A sudden thought struck Max-a kind more quickly, and robbed his face of something of its color.

"All right; sit over yonder, and mind that you don't stare at me," the invalid returned, pointing to a chair by the grate, as he sank back upon the pillow. The Yankee Athlete.

We've beaten 'em at polo, We've wated 'em at polo,
We've wated 'em at chess,
At running, leaping, hurdling,
We've humbled 'em, I guess.
In football we could teach 'em They never knew the game; In fifty ways they show us They've lost their early fame.

Alas! the British athlete! No comfort can he know. Except in dreary cricket-So stupid and so slow.
We'll let him wear his laurels
Around his cricket bat, Until the game attracts us-We'll beat him then at that.

Alas! the Yankee athlete
Was born in County Down,
Or maybe Tipperary,
Or some Canadian town;
Perchance in Merry England
He opened first his eyes,
And possibly his birthplace
Was beneath Old Scotia's skies.

Alas! the Yankee athlete! He's a critter composite, But it's British blood that gives him His uncommon stock of grit.
He's a decent sort of fellow,
When everything's been said,
Though it's safe to bet your money

His old dad was British-bred.

About the next big fight of consequence which will arouse the sporting world is the battle between Terry Mc-Govern and Young Corbett. McGovern is exhibiting at the Lyceum Theater in Philadelphia, where he is meeting one of the crack boxers of the town each night, and so far very successfully. He feels certain of victory when they do meet, but some of the best judges of pugilism are not so sanguine. They look upon Young Corbett as being younger and fresher than the ex-champion, and they feel certain that when they do meet Corbett will be again the victor. Terry will leave no stone unturned to get in the best possible fix, and it may be that he will be able to reverse the verdict of the previous battle. His future lies wholly and solely in the result of this contest. He has been a very proud young fellow in his time, and it is Luck may not win or lose in baseball, but the record of Pitcher Siever of the Detroit Americans, formerly of London, this season indicates that it does. He has pitched five champion-Buffalo070022400-15133 ship games, and prior to Tuesday the only one that he was able to capture he got through shutting out his opponents, Chicago. In three games that he has been beaten, the total runs made by opposing teams was eight, his own side being unable to score at all in two games, and getting but one run in the other. He has beaten Chicago twice, and his own side, in these two games, made more runs than both sides together in the entire three games that he lost. Tuesday's third inning made it look as if he was about to lose another tough one, but his team's timely sticking and Garvin's It Makes Them Feel as Easy and wildness enabled him to put this one

There is much debating being done just now over the question of whether or not live bird shooting is inhuman. In Jersey the legislature has decided that the action is cruel, and down east generally public sentiment forces the trap shooters to use inanimate targets. The question came up in a Chicago court this week, three men who participated in a live bird shoot being arrested on a charge of cruelty. One, whose case will be made a test, was fined $10, Judge Hall deciding the action to be a cruel one. The higher court will be asked for a final decision.

THE C. L. A. JUNIOR SERIES. Ingersoll, Ont., May 15.-The committee for No. 8 district, C. L. A., junior series, met here yesterday afternoon and adopted the following schedule: June 9, Ingersoll at Brantford; June 23, Brantford at London; July 9, London at Ingersoll; July 23, Brantford at Ingersoll; Aug. 9, London at Brantford; Aug. 14, Ingersoll at London. The representatives of the three clubs were: Dan McLean, Brantford; Chas. Fleming, Ingersoll; W. O'Brien, London, and the convener, Mr. Somers, of Ingersoll. J. M. Cameron, of the St. Cathar-Ines Athletic Lacrosse Club executive, is in the city, says the Toronto World, and talks glowingly of the prospects of his team for the coming summer. He named over the list of St. Kitts players, all home-brewed, except Mc-Lean and Cornett, of Shelbourne, who may not make the team, and declares that St. Kitts team will make even Brantford hustle, with their Dade and Henry. Mr. Cameron thinks the Tecumsehs on paper look none too strong, but on the whole expects a great season for the C. L. A., and some het games in the senior series. Athletic availables are as follows: Goal, Dixon, Bowman; point, Lobb; cover, Devlin; defense, Elliott, Richardson, Harris, C. Downey, Chaplin, center, G. Downey; home, Gourlay, McLean, Cornett. thinks of investigating the conduct of Dade and Henry in moving from Mon-treal to Brantford presumably for la-crosse purposes. Did the C. A. A. U. ever think to investigate the conduct of those Canadians, who, becoming too good at track athletics for this country, were moved by that same impulse that leads all athletic Canucks to join American clubs? If the C. A. A. U. is going into the investigating business it looks to have a nice summer's work cut out.

Woodstock Sentinel-Review: Since London has published its lacrosse club line-up the team does not look as formidable as it did in the comments of the Forest City papers. Although the names of nineteen men appear on the list, we are not as yet sure whether London has secured them all or not. As regards the men being qualified to play in senior company that idea is questionable. The five players whom London obtained from Point St. Charles are intermediates only. They have yet to play in the senior league. Taken all around we would conclude from the line-up that Taken all around we London must yet strengthen considerably before it can hope to land the championship of District No. 2 O. L.

Toronto, May 15.-There was the biggest crowd of the year at the Woodyesterday. The weather was fine and the track fast. The star performance was furnished by Robert Davies' plater Opuntia, when he established a new record for the year for a candidate for the guineas. Running over the course he will have to cover on race day, Opuntia went the full plate distance in 2:161/2. He carried full weight -at least 123 pounds-and had something left at the finish. Parisian Lady, whose form has been fancied by a great number, stayed with him for a mile and then shut up like a jackknife. although Jockey McGuade rode her vigorously to the wire, which she reached in 2:20½, many lengths behind Opuntia. George Hendrie's plater, Caller Herrin', worked the plate distance in 2:18 flat, about 11:30 o'clock. Cherry Wild and Wire-In carried her along to the mile in 1:48½. She finished well, but was nearly through at the wire. Dyment's Easy Street did the fastest work of the day, his mile in 1:46% being exceedingly well done. Belcourt, La Gazelle and Miss Hanover brought up the rear.

Kid McCoy has postponed his fight with Kid Carter in Philadelphia until May 19 so that he can get in proper shape to meet the Brooklyn middle-weight. When McCoy fought Fred Russell in Philadelphia about a week ago he was in very poor condition. He had trained but little for the bout, and not only lacked his usual shiftiness, but was badly winded before the six rounds were over. The Kid, believing that Carter would give him a much warmer argument than the lumbersome Russell, very wisely concluded to take a couple of weeks' time for training before going into the ring with the youngster from the City of Churches. From a friend of McCoy's it has been learned that the Kid's sole ambition is to work himself back into public favor once more and to that end he will prepare faithfully for all future contests. True the buying and selling of black men and women as cattle is abolished, but there are still many thousands who are bound in an awful bondage and who daily suffer punishment greater than ever the average slave had to endure. Dyspepsia is the task master whom these poor unfortunates are bound, and a cruel master he is.

Lashed to desperation by his awful punishment, many have sought liberty in death, preferring suicide to further torture. But a Great Deliverer has appeared, and is striking off the shackles from all who would be free. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have made old King Dyspepsia totter on his throne, and have snatched many a victim from his ruthless clutches. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets by their timely aid have saved many a life from dispair and death. Into the very heart of this hitherto unconquerable old monarch's realm have Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets strode as a conquering hero to whom many wan and weary faces have been turned for deliverance.

And no poor Dyspeptic Slave has ever turned to Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets for emancipation in vain.
Right on the palace gate of the ty rannical monster has been posted the ALL DYSPEPTICS MAY BE FREE

SIXTY YEARS MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. Neil Taylor, of the Hamilton road, this week celebrated the 60th anniversary of their marriage. The event was marked by the holding of a family reunion. Three score years ago Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were married in Argyleshire, Scotland. Immediately after their marriage they came to Canada, where they took up their residence for three years near Belleville. They then came to St. Thomas. where they resided about six years. They then bought a farm on the 11th concession of Yarmouth, in Elgin holding was known throughout the from their labors, and so left their to Animer and Springfield was made rural home to take up residence in for one year only. "ARIZONA."

"Arizona," which comes to the New Grand next Friday evening, ran for 150 night at the Herald Square Theater, New York, with "Sag Harbor," "A Royal Family," "The Adventures of Marsac," "Lady Huntworth's Experiment," "San Toy," "Richard Carvel," "All on Account of Eliza," "Her Majesty," and "Rogers Brothers in Central Park" as its principal competitors for popular favor. Mr. Thomas' play outran them all, except "Florodora," in point of time, and drew crowded houses even with the opposition of Maud Adams and Sarah Bernhardt in the two rival productions of "L'Aiglon." This first year's triumph was repeated when 'Arizona" opened the Academy of Music last August and played another re-cord-breaking New York engagement of 15 weeks almost within the year. Chicago and Boston subsequently approved New York's verdict of Mr. Thomas' play, and Philadelphia indorsed it with an embarrassment of kind words and weeks of crowded houses.

Stella Mayhew will again be seen as Aunt Lindy. Miss Mayhew's portrayal of this role is a characterization of rare excellence. "On the Suwanee River" is a classic in comparison with the average attraction playing the popular theaters. Popular prices will

SOUSA WILL SOON BE HERE. Additional attractiveness will be lent to the spring season by the return of John Philip Sousa and his great band. Sousa did not need foreign approval to establish his superiority in the concert field, but his many friends find satisfaction in the knowledge that the Sousa band, the Sousa music and the Sousa concert, as well as Sousa himself, have all been accepted in Europe at exactly the same valuation that they placed upon them at home. As the Topical Times, of London, said: band is so supremely good that it can well afford to be judged upon its own merits." It will interest many to know much a component part of the Sousa programme as are the printed num-bers themselves, and the "March pect and demand them with a prod-igality only exceeded by the liberality and graciousness with which Sousa responds to such demands. THE LONDON PRESBYTERY

Regular Meeting Held in Knox Church, St. Thomas.

Some Interesting Statistics From Thirty-Six Pestoral Charges in the District.

The Presbytery of London held its regular meeting in Knox Church, St. Thomas, Tuesday morning, at 9 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Lawrence, moderator, pre-

After the minutes of the previous meeting had been approved, it was agreed, on the suggestion of Rev. Mr. Henderson, that a telegram of condolence be sent to the son of the late Principal Grant in the name of the presbytery.

On motion of Rev. W. J. Clark, seconded by Rev. H. W. Reede, a committee, consisting of Rev. J. G. Stuart, Dr. McCrae and the mover, was appointed to draw up a resolution in regard to the life and services of the late Principal Grant. Revs. Mr. Armand, W. H. Madill, J. R. Mann, Robert McDermid David Cockburn, C. Rutherford, T. L. McKee and T. R. Forbes are the names of those for whom applications are to be made to the General Assembly for admission to the Presbyterian Church in

The clerk read returns from eight sessions in regard to the methods of meeting traveling expenses of members of presbytery. A number of ministers also reported action taken by their sessions. It was decided, in view of the fact that full returns had not been made, that the matter should be laid on the table until the meeting in Sep-

The following resolution in regard to the death of Principal Grant was adopted, and ordered to be recorded on the minutes, and a copy forwarded to the son of the deceased gentleman:

"The Presbytery of London desires to place on record its deep sense of the great loss sustained by the Presbyterian Church in Canada, as well as by the whole Canadian nation, in the death of the Rev. George Munro Grant, principal of Queen's University. Principal Grant had been one of the first citizens of Canada. In its national life, in educational affairs, in the work of the Church of Christ, his voice ever rang out strong and clear, and only the great Master of all can know how largely his talents and character have helped in these various spheres of human effort. While mourning the loss suffered, we rejoice in the remembrance of this noble and eminently useful life, and pray that the Giver of all gifts may raise up men of a like spirit to lead the present and coming generations."

The session records of Fingal were approved. Rev. Mr. Wilson obtained permission to moderate in a call to Wards-ville and Newbury. Rev. Mr. Burnett reported that his report on Sabbath schools had been consumed when his manse was burned, but he could state that there had been an advance in almost all the work of the Sabbath schools within the bounds of the presbytery. The presbytery adjourned, to meet the second Tuesday in July in First Church, Westminster, at 11 a.m. The ladies of Knox Church entertained the presbytery to dinner, and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to them for their hospitality. After dinner Rev. Mr. Wilson, of Neemuch, India. gave an interesting account of the mission work in Central India, for which he was tendered the hearty thanks of the presbytery.

INSIDE THE GROCERY

Some Facts Made Known.

It is often thought that grocers really have very little care regarding the food value of the articles they sell, but the real facts are that grocery keepers of the right sort are extremely particular as to what they recommend. One of the fraternity relates a tale. "The highest priced coffee on the market I introduced to my customers and used myself. I began to have bilious attacks and after a little observation attributed them directly to coffee. Every time I left off drinking it I got better, but I felt the need of a warm drink for breakfast.

Along in '96 a wholesale grocer urged me to put in some Postum Food Coffee in my store, which I did with considerable misgiving, for, at that time, the now famous Postum was not so well known.

"He urged me to try it myself, which tasteless beverage, so was my wife. I remembered the wholesale grocer said something about following directions carefully, so I took the package and studied it. I at once discovered that we had not boiled it long enough, only three or four minutes, but it must be boiled 15 minutes at least, so we tried it again, with the result that we got a perfect cup of coffee, a delightful and healthful beverage. I have continued the use of Postum in my home ever since. We use it for breakfast, dinner and supper. "My bilious attacks quickly left and I am free from them altogether. I began to explain to my customers something of the value of Postum Coffee and now have a very large trade on it." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich

The story of the unfortunate young woman's experience was gone into in detail, and medical evidence was given to show that in the wearisome walk from the house at 198 Elizabeth street to the home of her brother, Robert Moon, in Highland Creek, 15 miles from the city, the girl's mind was affected by extreme physical exhaustion, and on this was based the plea of irresponsibility by T. He came to this city less than a year ago, and opened an office on Elm street. He enjoyed a good practice and there was nothing except the recent scandal to cause such an act.
