

McLACHLAN PAYS THE PENALTY FOR BRUTAL TRIPLE MURDER

Executed at Whitby This Morning for the Slaying of His Wife and Two Little Children—Walks to the Gallows Calmly and Leaves Statement.

[G. N. W. Dispatch.]

Whitby, July 13.—Archie McLachlan, who murdered his wife and his two young children last October, at Uxbridge, was hanged in the county jail here at seven o'clock this morning. McLachlan, through one of his spiritual advisers, Rev. W. B. Tighe, made a statement before the execution to the effect that people should remember what drink had done in his case. He also left with Mr. Tighe, for delivery to the representative of the Toronto Globe, a sealed envelope containing a fuller statement with the explanation that that paper alone had given him a fair show.

Keeps His Nerve.

McLachlan, while walking from the cell to the scaffold preserved the same self-possession which had characterized his behavior ever since the tragedy. The rainfall last night swelled the wood of the scaffold platform so much that Hangman Arthur Ellis had to hit hard with a hammer half a dozen times the bolt allowing the trap to drop. The body fell seven and a half feet, the fall breaking the neck and causing instant death. Heart beats were perceptible for eight minutes. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from hanging.

FARMERS OPTIMISTIC NOW RAIN INSURES GOOD CROPS

Barley Will Be the Best in Years—Dangers of Past Few Weeks Appear to Have Been Exaggerated—Farmers Want More Help.

The farmer's tone has changed. Pessimism has given way to optimism. Over half an inch of rain has fallen since yesterday morning, and the farming community is jubilant. The long-expected rain will be untold.

The reports of damage by the drought appear to have been overestimated, and many of the farmers state that their crops were never better.

MISS MAYOU RESIGNS IS COMING TO LONDON

Former Lady Supt. of Victoria Hospital Is Leaving the Labrador Mission.

Word has been received here that Miss Edith Mayou, formerly lady superintendent of Victoria Hospital, and for the past few years engaged in the deep-sea mission work in Labrador, has resigned her position under Dr. Grenfell, and is returning to London. It is stated that Miss Mayou will arrive here shortly, and will take a long rest.

PARTY OF LONDONERS OFF FOR THE LAKES

Large Numbers Left Today and Will Embark On the Hamonic.

A large party of Londoners left this morning for Sarnia, where they will make the trip up the lakes on the steamer Hamonic, and then go on further to their destinations. Among the party were Dr. Burdon and family, going to Portland, Oregon; Senator and Mrs. Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Burns and son, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Young and son, and Rev. and Mrs. Alfred G. White, en route for Duluth; Dr. McEwen, going to Calgary; Col. W. M. Garsshore, Jack McKellar and Arthur Kingsmill, going to Winnipeg, and Miss Hodges, en route for Calgary.

THE CROP REPORT GENERALLY GOOD

Ottawa, July 13.—The monthly crop report of the census and statistics office, issued today, shows that the condition of field crops throughout Canada at the end of June was generally satisfactory, with the exception of parts of the west where the drought had done considerable damage. Fall wheat for all Canada is reported at 55.47 per cent of standard condition.

wished to save McLachlan's relatives the disgrace of usual burial in quicklime in the jail yard.

The crime for which McLachlan paid the penalty this morning was an exceptionally brutal one. He was found guilty of poisoning his wife and setting fire to their home at Uxbridge two little children perishing when the body of their mother was consumed. McLachlan evidently hoped to destroy all evidence of the crime by the conflagration, but an analysis of a woman's stomach disclosed traces of strychnine poisoning, and on this the prosecution based its case. McLachlan's apparent indifference at the time of the fire also told heavily against him, as well as a liaison he had formed with another woman of the neighborhood.

McLachlan originally was from Watford, Ont.

First Hanging in County. Citizens of the county which is to have in McLachlan's hanging, the first capital punishment in the criminal history of Ontario County, took the affair very seriously. Many went out of town over night so as not to be here when it took place.

Yesterday the gruesome sounds of executioners hammering together the scaffold could plainly be heard throughout the jail corridor. At intervals while this work was progressing he inquired particularly as to its being properly constructed so as to void any hitch. With his feet raised high against the wall while reading the newspapers, which were ordered for him, he discussed his tragic end with calmness.

Winnipeg, July 12.—Winnipeg Liberals reserved three cheers for today. They gave Sir Wilfrid Laurier a rousing reception. REAL ESTATE TALK OF BUYING A HALL

More Room Needed to Vent Opinions On All Matters.

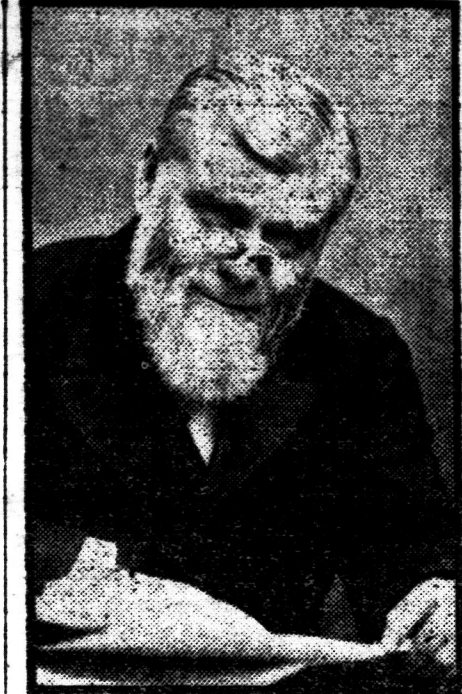

At the next meeting of the Real Estate Owners' Association, the question of buying a hall for the association will be considered. For some years the members have held their meetings in special rooms, which they rent. There has been a feeling for some time that the membership would warrant the purchase of premises down town which the association could use for commercial purposes and still have their own hall upstairs. "A number of our members think very favorably of the matter," said one real estate. "We have a good attendance at our meetings, and if we were to buy premises with a store under and rooms above we could have a fine hall and fit it up to suit ourselves. Other organizations have halls, and their meetings are not nearly as well attended as ours are. Our membership is steadily growing, and on many occasions our room has been badly crowded."

London, July 13.—Preaching at Perth, Rev. Robert Johnston, of Montreal, referred to the King's accession declaration. It was with interest interpreting the agitation to substitute for the denial of Roman Catholic doctrine a declaration asserting allegiance to one particular denomination of the Protestant Church.

COUNCIL SLOW ON DUNDAS ST. PAVEMENT WORK IS HELD UP

Fear Is Expressed That Richmond and Dundas Streets Will Be Torn Up for the Fair—Mayor Beattie Says a Move Will Be Made.

Although the petitions for the Dundas and Richmond street pavement have been passed some weeks, not a thing has been done towards laying the pavement, and the merchants are hoping the job will be started before fair time.

The London Street Railway Company have not made much progress on their work. The Barber Company have their men on the ground and are ready to begin at once, but the street railway company have trouble in getting their

"The council passed a motion last week, notifying all those who intend doing work on the street to get it done as soon as possible," said Mayor Beattie. "Notices have been sent out. We do not want to have the streets torn up during the fair, as is usually the case. It gives visitors a bad impression."

Manager King is hopeful, however, that they will get to work shortly. The merchants down town are complaining of the delay, and many of the aldermen have been scored for dilatoriness in connection with this matter.

GIRL STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE ESCAPED WITH SMALL HURTS

Little Dorothy Green Knocked Down at the Corner of Dundas and Adelaide Streets—Child Ran Directly Before the Machine.

Dorothy Green, the little daughter of Mr. G. T. Green, of 622 King street, was struck by an auto at the corner of Dundas and Adelaide streets last evening, but luckily escaped with a slight cut on the forehead and a sprained ankle.

The young man who owns the car was proceeding at a moderate rate with the stripped chassis, as he had crossed the corner of Dundas and Adelaide streets, the little tot ran suddenly from behind a buggy, directly in his path. He applied the brakes, and brought his car up within a few feet, the little girl sustaining only a slight blow.

The young man carried Miss Green to the office of Dr. Mugan, about a block away and had her injuries attended to. Later she was taken to her own home.

GRAND TO REOPEN AUG. 15 RUMORS AS TO MANAGEMENT

It Is Said Mr. John R. Minnhinnick May Be Appointed—The Name of Mr. Robert A. McVean Is Also Mentioned.

The Grand Opera House season will open on August 10 or 15th, probably the latter date. No definite announcement as to who will be manager for the coming season has been made. Mr. Geo. Moorehead, a former Londoner, but now in New York, was offered the position, but declined to accept. It is now rumored that Mr. John R.

Minnhinnick, who has been prominently connected with the Grand for some time, would be made manager. He is in Toronto today, and the rumor could not be confirmed.

The name of Mr. Robt. A. McVean, a London theatrical man, who was reported to have signed up with the Schuberts for the season, is also mentioned in connection with the management of the house.

[Special to The Advertiser.] St. Thomas, July 12.—The bids on the Hotel Invererie, of Port Stanley, which was offered for sale under a mortgage at the offices of Leitch & Green yesterday, did not reach the reserve. The property, which was taken down, will probably be sold privately.

A SERIOUS AFFRAY

Three Men Shot in a Row at Swan Lake, Manitoba.

Swan Lake, Man., July 13.—A serious shooting affray occurred here yesterday morning between 1:30 and 2:00 o'clock in the rooms above The Echo printing office, the result of which is that Fred Roskelly, Kenneth Peters and George Kilbourne lie seriously wounded. Roskelly is perhaps fatally hurt. Kilbourne and Fred Bowdwell were preparing to retire after lunch, when Roskelly came into the room, and he and Bowdwell got into a quarrel. Roskelly was forced outside and the door closed on him. He returned with Kenneth Peters and attacked the door, but they were met by a fusillade of shots from an automatic revolver in the hands of Bowdwell.

Kenneth Peters was shot in the thigh, Roskelly in the abdomen and right arm and groin. Kilbourne's arm was shattered above the elbow. Bowdwell made no attempt to escape, and assisted in carrying one of the victims to the hotel, where he was arrested.

A COUNCIL MEETING ON FRIDAY TO DISCUSS A NEW ENGINEER

Question of a Successor for Mr. A. O. Graydon Will Then Be Considered—Pavement Contracts Will Also Be Awarded.

There will be a council meeting on Friday afternoon, in all probability, to discuss the question of a city engineer for London.

Matters are in a somewhat chaotic condition owing to the action of the aldermen on Monday night, and tomorrow an effort will be made to straighten out the tangle.

A meeting is necessary to award the contracts for the Dundas street pavement. Tenders have been called for, and the board of works will open them on Thursday evening. In order to facilitate the work the mayor has decided to call a meeting.

Complaints of dilatoriness in connection with the resurfacing of these pavements have been made, and the aldermen intend to see to it that the work is not placed upon them for unnecessary delays.

Using Mr. Graydon.

As for the city engineer's position, a working agreement such as was suggested in yesterday's Advertiser will be carried out by the council.

The aldermen are unanimously in favor of dealing fairly with the public servant, and it is probable that Mr. Graydon's offer to devote as much time as his health will permit to the work of the city will be accepted.

work of the city will be accepted. The remuneration will be fixed afterwards. "I have decided to call a special meeting of the council to deal with the tenders for the Dundas street pavement, and we will also take the conditions prevailing in the engineer's department," said Mayor Beattie. "The department should not be left without a head as at the present time, so we will make some arrangements for filling the place temporarily."

His wish could not say exactly what the council would do in reference to Mr. Graydon, but in conversation with several of the aldermen the opinion prevailed that Mr. Graydon would be asked to devote what time he could to the office.

Mistake, Says Ald. Jeffries. "It is a mistake to allow Mr. Graydon to sever his connection absolutely with the department," said Ald. Jeffries. "He has a most intimate knowledge of the city, and it will be necessary to have that knowledge tabulated and filed away for future guidance."

"That will require time, and Mr. Graydon can do that as no other man could. It will cost him a great deal, but Mr. Graydon's offer to devote as much time as his health will permit to the work of the city will be accepted."

WHO RESCUED ETHEL SIMMONS? MEDAL TO BE GIVEN THE HERO

But There Are Five Names Mentioned and Inspector Sanders Does Not Know to Whom Honor Is Due—Young Lady Will Have to Settle the Question.

A Humane Society medal will be awarded the persons who rescued Miss Ethel Simmons, of Queen's avenue, at Port Stanley, on Saturday last.

Inspector Sanders is investigating the facts, and will report to the society the person he considers entitled to recognition.

Several claimants for the honor have come to the front, no less than five now being mentioned in connection with the rescue.

Among them are Simpson Parkinson, of this city; Lew Westover, Henry Turner, Port Stanley; Jack Robinson, a former policeman of this city; P. C. Kelly, of London, and several others whose names have not been reported to the society.

Mr. Sanders will interview Miss Simmons at the latter's opportunity, and will obtain her story as to the person most entitled to the credit for her rescue.

A Difficult Problem. "It is somewhat difficult now to know who really was responsible for saving the young lady's life," said the inspector. "Half a dozen names have been mentioned to me, all with friends who have urged their claims for recognition. There is no doubt in my mind that the person who rescued Miss Simmons is entitled to every credit, and nothing should prevent him from receiving the honor. Apparently it is somewhat difficult to arrive at the facts. When we do, we will recommend an award."

Mr. Sanders also took a fling at conditions prevailing at the Port, and pointed out that more protection should be offered to bathers at the beach.

Ropes Are Required. "A series of ropes should be stretched there to afford proper protection," he stated. "The depth of water should be shown at each rope in order that every bather would know, exactly where they were, and what the depth was. The ropes should be buoyed. Many a swimmer would have been saved from drowning had there been life buoys close at hand. A drowning man really does make an effort to reach them, while he would lose heart if the distance was very great. Every possible protection should be afforded bathers at Port."

ACTION FOR DAMAGES OVER LAND DISPUTE

Mr. F. W. Daly Has Had Written Issued Against Mr. John Richards.

Mr. G. N. Weekes has issued a writ on Mr. John Richards for unstated damages.

Mr. Richards is the owner of some low-lying lots on Adelaide street north of the Dundas street bridge, and the plaintiff claims that the defendant, in order to get earth to fill up his lot, excavated the road in front of Mr. Daly's property, causing the bank to fall away, to the injury of the property.

The case is not settled, it will probably come up at the fall assizes. It is a high court action.

NO TROUBLE AMONGST QUEBEC BRIDGE EXPERTS

The Railway Department Denies Story That Two Engineers Had Resigned.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, July 13.—The press dispatch from Montreal sent out last night to the effect that the board of engineers in charge of the construction of the Quebec bridge had been disrupted by the resignation of Engineers Fitzmaurice and Modjeska, is officially denied by the railway department here. No resignations have been received. Engineer Modjeska was at the department yesterday discussing with Deputy Minister Campbell matters in connection with the bridge, but the question of resignation was not mentioned at all. There have been of course differences of professional opinion among the three engineers as to the best plans to adopt. Such differences among experts on a work of such magnitude are practically inevitable, but a final agreement was reached months ago as to the plans and specifications, and the work is well advanced. The most difficult work of the board is now completed. The supervision of actual construction, according to contract, is a comparatively easy task, and even if Mr. Modjeska and Modjeska were now desired to retire, arrangements could be made for the work to go on without any very serious disruption. The pay of the members of the board is $1,000 per month. Recently Mr. Fitzmaurice returned to the department a salary check for $6,000, on the ground that owing to his absence in Europe he had not seen that he had properly earned the amount.

WHEAT MAKES JUMP TO A RECORD PRICE

On the Local Market This Morning It Went to $1.05 a Bushel.

Wheat reached a record price today on the local market for this time of year. Last week wheat was quoted at 95 cents and $1 a bushel. This morning it jumped to $1.05 a bushel. At this time last year wheat was quoted no higher than 90 cents a bushel. It has been rather a scarce commodity on the local market for some time past. Very little has been brought in and the dealers have been unable to get a supply.

A VERY NERVOUS THIEF STOLE MONEY FROM TILL

Goodge's Store in South London Lost Seven Dollars Last Night.

A nervous thief helped himself to $7 from the till at Goodge's fancy store at the corner of Bruce street and Wortley road last night between 6 and 7 o'clock. Mr. Goodge went to the rear of the store for a few minutes to serve some ice cream, and it is thought that this is the time when the thief got busy. It was stated that a boy was seen running away from the store. Mr. Goodge stated to The Advertiser today that he had not reported the matter to the police.

WHEN A ROYAL BABY TRAVELS

Little Juliana of Holland Is a Popular Idol.

CAREFULLY EDUCATED

Little Tot Is To Be Brought Up as a Strictly Out-of-Door Young Woman.

The Hague, July 12. — Little Princess Juliana of Holland, who has recently made a triumphant tour through her country, is the most popular royal baby in the world. Her royal people, usually self-contained and quiet, went wild with joy when she was born, and have ever since been in a state of exaltation when they catch a glimpse of her, hear a bit of news about her, or even at the mention of her name.

All the world knows how Holland celebrated the royal tour made last week with endless processions, banquets, speeches and merry-making. Every town and village visited by the king, queen and princess was beautifully decorated with the national colors in flags, garlands and festoons. Every man and woman wore gala costumes, and every boy and girl was spick and span in the glories of Sunday best raiment.

At Amsterdam 8,000 children marched past the palace, at Haarlem, choral and musical societies serenaded the royals, at Rotterdam the military bands played while the crowd sang the national hymn. Everywhere little Juliana behaved in exemplary fashion for a year-old royalty, kissing her dimpled hands to the people, bowing her head in answer to their cheers, and often showing her one white tooth in a baby smile of goodwill.

Idol of the People.

Queen Wilhelmina has willingly ceded her place as Holland's idol to her little daughter, and is as proud of Juliana's charms as a mother can be.

Princess Juliana is a real little Dutch baby, round and rosy, with fair hair and blue eyes, and dimples in cheeks. She looks more like Prince Henry than she does like her mother. She is a very good baby, and despite the adoration of which she is the subject has not been a bit spoiled so far. She has two nurses, one an elderly woman, very experienced and very important, and the other a pretty young girl, notwithstanding the princess' still tender years, she has a governess, whose duties are not very arduous as yet. In spite of these guardians of mind and body, the princess spends a good part of each day with her parents and her grandmother.

Queen Wilhelmina has many sound theories regarding the regulation of her daughter's life during her babyhood, and all sorts of ideas for her girlhood and womanhood. The little princess' two nurseries are large, bright rooms with plenty of windows, which are open more than is usual in Dutch households, and as the princess grows older she is to spend much of her time out of doors learning games and sports which will develop and strengthen her.

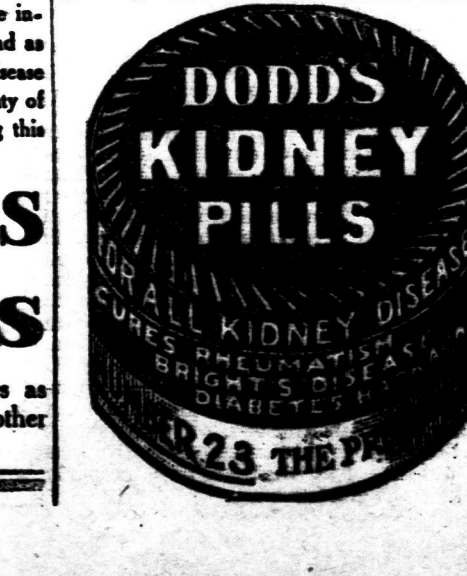

Naturally Juliana has a large assortment of toys, but her favorite is an ugly wooden doll in Dutch peasant costume. Teddy bears she has always disdained. Teddy bears have a passing admiration from her, while a polly-womb are strong in her affections at present. Toys are sent her from all over Holland, and many of them are packed away till such time as there may be a place for them in the day nursery.

To Be an Outdoor Baby.

Now that the royal family is in the country the princess takes her daily siesta under the trees, and rolls and creeps about on the soft green grass of the palace lawn, pulling bits of it up industriously, and gathering it into little bundles. Already she seems to have the passion for outdoor life which her mother wishes to inculcate.

As soon as the princess is old enough Queen Wilhelmina means to have her wear the Dutch national costume sometimes, as she herself did when she was a girl—the short skirt and velvet bodice, the fine white lace collar and cap with golden hair ornaments, thick stockings and cabots all complete. Nowadays her mother never dons this dress, but her people loved to see her thus arrayed, and photographs of her in that costume still sell in great numbers every year. Queen Wilhelmina was a very pretty girl, but of late years she has changed very much. She has grown far heavier, her face is broader, and her features have lost their delicacy. She looks older than she is, and is rather without animation. She dresses exceedingly well and sends to Paris for many of her things, and though she is not tall she is rather a regal figure on state occasions when she dons her sweeping robes and her jewels.

Prince Henry has had the unenviable experience of all prince consorts. He was very unpopular with his wife's people and had to work to win their affections. He has done so now. When some two years ago he offered his personal services to save the passengers on a boat wrecked off the Hook of Holland, and gave financial aid to the families of the unfortunate crew, he scored heavily. It is realized that in many cases he has advised the queen for the good of Holland and that he has the interests of the country at heart. But it is as Juliana's father, after all, that he is paramount, just as Queen Wilhelmina nowadays is even more loved than ever because she is Juliana's mother.

FIVE THOUSAND GONE "THRIFT FUND" TOO

Nicholas Jacobs, the Poet of Sixth Avenue, Brooklyn, Is Victim of Swindlers.

New York, July 12. — A dear old familiar story, whereby one seemingly and all so suddenly with a prize annuity to show he got enough money to have paid in case he lost, was employed today to swindle Nicholas Jacobs, the gentle 62-year-old poet of 34 Sixth Avenue, Brooklyn, out of $5,000 in cash. Only this time the game was new. The swindler, a very man was an agent for the Carnegie Thrift Fund, and Mr. Jacobs had to show his $5,000 as a proof of thrift, meeting a $10,000 prize.

It was on July 3 that Mr. Brown called to ask if the poet had won the prospectus. Mr. Jacobs said he had and added gracious thanks. Brown continued about a friend, an old man, who might be able to help the poet's declining years. They went to see the friend.

Brown dived into a house at the corner of Sixth Avenue and Ninth Street and came out at once, saying that his elderly acquaintance wasn't home, but might easily prove to be in his office across the street. Thither they repaired. In a bare room, with two chairs and a table, situated on the second floor, a man of 55 received them with a "Hallo, Brown!"

Young Jacobs won the $10,000 prize. Brown accepted the $20 and introduced the poet. The fortune dispenser suggested Brown try again, and Brown invited Mr. Jacobs to join him. Each put in $5, and after a sitting interval, the man at the table said: "Good Lord, Mr. Jacobs, you're lucky! You've won the $10,000 prize!"

A Reward From Carnegie.

Mr. Jacobs was told that the prize he had won was the Carnegie Thrift Fund; that Mr. Carnegie had decided to make a reward of $10,000 to the winner of a daily painstaking virtue. At the same time, to insure the funds rewarding only the really thrifty, it had been ordered that a prize should not be valid unless the winner could show that he had saved at least half as much as the prize in dogged, unexpected days gone by.

The poet then said that he had $5,000, and he went out to get it. First he secured his three bank books of the Brooklyn Savings Bank, the Brooklyn Savings Bank and the Brooklyn Savings Bank. He drew $2,000 apiece. He hurried into Brown as he left the Brooklyn Savings Bank. Brown had won a minor prize, and had gone home to get proofs of his thrift. Together the two went back to the bare office on Sixth Avenue. The man at the table took the money of both, showed them their prize money, stowed all in a box he trusted till the afternoon to the poet, and hurried away on an important engagement. The poet did not notice any difference between the box in which all the money was dumped and the box he received to care for temporarily.

The Carnegie Thrift person was to come at three this afternoon, and as supper time passed without his coming, Mr. Jacobs began to feel nervous. A sudden apprehension filled his mind. On the strength of it he took the box to the Fifth Avenue police station, where a prying open revealed several loose papers of no value, with a baiting of pieces of rock.

Looking to Canada.

Striking American Tinsmith Workers May Open Plant in Canada.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 13. — Striking tinsmith workers of Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry, Ohio, intend to start an independent sheet iron mill in Canada, far from the influence of American capitalists. The mill is to be co-operative, the first of its kind in the history of the tinsmith industry. Some of the union members are ready to quit the fight they have been waging against the tinsmith trust. They also are ready to quit the country.

W. S. Morris, Martin's Ferry, chairman of the relief committee of the strikers, left today for Toronto, Ont. He will endeavor to find a favorable location for a community where an independent mill can be built.

There are about 4,600 men in the vicinity who are striking. Over one-third of these say they are ready to move to Canada upon a favorable report from Morris. He will go home possibly a month. Enough of these men have money to put up the cash to build a mill. Since the first day the sheet and tinsmith workers walked out thirteen months ago they have been trying to settle the open question. The tinsmith trust has refused to arbitrate, much less treat with friends or representatives of the men.

Tinsmith workers, whether they are among those who plan to migrate to Canada or not, are unanimous in predicting the success of the co-operative venture if the mill can weather the first year. Managers and bosses of the mill would be selected from among the men themselves.

UNDERTAKERS WANT NO NOON FUNERALS

It Interferes With the Lunch Hour of Their Men.

London, July 12. — Burials in Paris are not so expensive that many people are of opinion that they cannot afford to die, but they happened to be managed by a company, holding a municipal monopoly, whose servants are in a constant state of dissatisfaction. Undertakers' strikes, though often threatened, will never, of course, really come off. But the men have grievances which they air once a month at least. The latest is: "Why should we bury people during lunch time?"

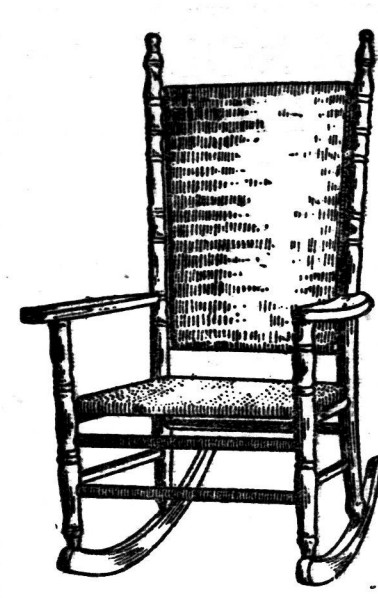

Funerals, especially "fashionable funerals," that is to say, those at which, according to a traditional French custom, thousands of official persons attend, are very often held at noon. The cheaper funerals only take place in the morning. Now, if the hour is noon, when on earth are the undertakers to lunch? That is what they ask.

At 11 a.m. they have no appetite—besides, even if they had, it would return to them long before dinner time. On the other hand, funerals begun at noon are never over until 2 at the earliest. Two, in Paris, is, of course, a ridiculously late hour for lunch, Parisians being early risers, and, moreover, eating no breakfast to speak of.

It is clear that if the undertakers have to wait often until 2 for their first square meal of the day, it will be positive ruin to their digestion. Why should a municipal service inflict dyspepsia upon its employees? The syndicated undertakers, therefore, petition that prohibited hours for burial be fixed from noon till 2. Neither the persons buried nor the mourners will suffer any inconvenience, and the undertakers will be able to lunch quietly, deliberately, and at the proper time.

GERMAN ARTISANS GROWING RESTLESS

See Taxation Mounting to Support the Bloated Military and Naval Armaments.

Berlin, July 12. — With forty-eight Socialist members of the Reichstag, of whom five have been elected since the last general elections, the conservatives of Germany stare in horror at the sword of Damocles over their heads. There is little doubt that the working classes throughout the country are seething with discontent.

They see a combination of Clericals and Conservatives united to oppose even the most modest of their political aspirations with regard to the franchise. They see taxation mounting steadily, mainly in support of bloated military and naval armaments. They see the prices of the prime necessities of life mounting far beyond any compensatory rise in wages, and are eager to pull down the system of government which would perpetuate these evils.

LONDON GAY AGAIN

Shop Windows Resplendent Now That Mourning Is Over.

London, July 13. — The last day upon which the public was expected to wear mourning for King Edward was June 30. In consequence of the blossoming of people into bright hues again London dressmakers and milliners have been working at high pressure to provide customers with colored raiment. The shop windows are decked with gay fabrics and hats in readiness for the change. Several colors which were fashionable before mourning was necessary have gone out of favor, and new tints will be popular at the end of the season. Blue in all shades is to be much worn, while rose tints have come into favor also. A number of curious greens have made their appearance, including the stagnant pool tint and the crude gooseberry.

Linens and other warm weather fabrics are in every shade of tawny, from palest bleas to deepest mahogany. Black evening dresses will continue to be worn, as the Englishwoman generally has one black gown among her costumes.

Feather trimming for hats has su-persed flowers. Zebra ostrich feathers in stripes of many colors wave over large hats of semi-transparent straw. Swansdown, too, is fashionable for hat trimming, while it also edges the filmy gauze cloaks in pastel shades which are worn. Ribbon bows in bright colors decorate Leghorn hats which are just making their appearance.

GERMANY'S GEM MINES

Southwest African Fields Yield Good Crop of Diamonds.

London, July 13. — Germany has a better investment in her Southwest African diamond fields than has been supposed, thinks Dr. Paul Rohrbach, who has gone over the ground thoroughly. Dr. Rohrbach says that eight months ago estimates of from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000 as the value of the Luderitz Bay properties were dismissed as unduly optimistic. These properties include all the claims between the 26th degree of south latitude and the Orange River. One of these claims, which has an area of 12,500 acres, and is in the neighborhood of Luderitz Bay, will, he says, yield this year diamonds to a market value of $25,000,000.

This property has been worked superficially by the same company for two years, and the results already obtained are an investigation at deeper levels fully justify this forecast. Other claims have not been worked so well or so long as this, but from his personal experience Dr. Rohrbach thinks they, too, will pan out much better than was expected.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER

SHE GOT HER WAIST IN UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT

INDIA TABLE COVER WAIST.

This girl got her nifty waist in the upholstery department. And she isn't a bit out of style. Indeed, she's only following the lead of the French women who discovered, a few months ago, that a pretty waist might be made from an India print table cover. The vogue spread through Paris and has now reached this side. The upholstery departments are doing more business in these table covers than in any other article.

The cloth is doubled in half. The neck is cut out of the centre. Two sections are cut out of the lower corners to make the waist. The shoulders, of course, are seamless. The darker border of the table cover forms the cuffs of the short sleeves and trimming for the lower part of the waist. At the belt, it is fastened in the back, where a long slit has been cut. There is an accordion pleated ruff for the neck and similar pieces for the sleeves.

Since these table covers are cheap—from 75 cents to $1.50—and the colors are fast, it is safe to venture a prophecy the waists will be popular.

ALL AROUND THE HOME

BY CYNTHIA GREY.

To clean a Wilton or Brussels carpet or rug and make it look like new, dust and tack to the floor, and dissolve a bar of any good soap in two gallons of water, and add one-half teacup of ammonia. Scrub with a brush, and wipe with a damp sponge wrung out of clean water. If there are ink-spots, rub with half a lemon and dry flannel cloth.

If instead of taking lace yokes and cuffs out of dresses to wash when soiled they are rubbed with dry starch, then rubbed thoroughly, the lace will look like new.

Many old gilt picture frames can be much improved by being enamelled white, or even in colors to match the paint work. For instance, black and white drawings hung on a brown wall paper may be placed in scarlet frames.

The light coat that has become soiled may be cleaned cheaply at home. Take a small lump of salt and lay it on a paper in the oven till warm. Place the coat on the table, then break off a piece of salt and rub the coat till the salt is soiled. Continue till the coat looks clean. Hang on the clothesline, and brush with a clean brush.

Tattooing cannot be properly washed to look as good as new, for it is almost impossible to restore the pigments to their natural shape. Soak the pieces in gasoline, and while wet dust them with cornstarch. Wrap them in a clean towel and leave them for several hours. Beat the towel lightly, lift out the lace and shake it free of starch. Press the pieces into shape and iron lightly on the wrong side.

To mend a crack on the inside of a range, use a filling made of equal parts of wood ashes and common salt moistened with water. This will prove hard and lasting.

HILMA

By William Tillinghast Eldridge.

From breakfast that morning we combined forces in the smoking-room, and from that time on—he had his seat changed at the table—we were together almost continually.

The trip was thus made far shorter and, above all else, far more agreeable. In fact, I felt as the end came I had no wish for a parting, and yet from what I could gather of my friend's plans he was to hasten forward on his journey. He said very little, if anything, of his trip to America until the last day of the voyage, and then he spoke generally and in a manner that considerably perplexed me.

We hoped to dock, I remember, at Liverpool early in the morning, and as we discussed the prospects of landing we were trumping the promenade deck.

"If we don't strike a fog we will be in London early this evening," I remarked, as we turned in our walk.

"Undoubtedly," he returned; "they'll run a train, a special, and it will take us four hours, not more."

"And what then?" I asked with real interest. "Do you stop or go on?" I should like to have you meet my sister and her husband, if you can."

"Undoubtedly," he returned; "they'll run a train, a special, and it will take us four hours, not more."

"I see," I broke in, endeavoring to relieve him from further explanations; "then let's leave it that way. We'll travel as far as London together, if you hear nothing when we land. Then if you stop in London, you'll call, as you say. In any event, let's hope we may meet again later. Perhaps when your present mission is over we can renew this pleasant week's acquaintance somewhere in Europe. I'm going, by the way, into Germany, with my sister and brother-in-law. It's to be a motor trip."

He shook his head.

"I should like very much, but for several months I will be so busy I shall be unable to get away. In fact," and he laughed bitterly, "I may, perhaps, have the pleasure of ending all my work very abruptly."

Again the shake of the head, with a sarcastic smile.

"If my work ends, I'll go nowhere but to heaven or hell."

The words were tinged with a great deal of bitterness, and so different from his usual tone that I looked at him in astonishment. His meaning was hardly clear.

He saw that some explanation was due me, so he hastened to add:

"I mean that while my mission so far has been successful, it may end so. If it does not, I am very likely to lose my life. The fact is, I'm playing in a quiet game, quite free of danger."

The statement was made in an off-hand way that I came later on to know well, and seemed to dismiss the matter as of no consequence.

Suddenly my liking for the fellow got the better of me.

"Well, I'd like to play the game with you, that's all I can say," I exclaimed.

other channels, but though I spoke on several subjects, I saw he hardly heard me at all.

Finally we tramped the deck in silence.

We had passed up and down along the row of stateroom chairs well filled with passengers for possibly the tenth time, when suddenly I caught sight of a figure at the far end of the deck.

"Look," I exclaimed, as my hand fell on his arm, "do you see that woman there?" He looked up sharply, and as he followed my discreet gesture the woman turned toward us. She was wrapped in a long coat, and a heavy scarf partly concealed her face.

"No, I never saw the lady—yet—there is something very familiar—but I have not the honor of her acquaintance."

"It's nothing," I replied; "I thought you might know her. She was on the train from Chicago."

He shook his head and was instantly lost in his own thoughts. As we again took up our silent promenade the woman turned out of sight.

Why I had thought it worth while to call her to his attention, and yet not tell him of the curiosity she had shown over his affairs, I cannot say. Nevertheless, I am satisfied it could have made little difference as things turned out. They were surely cut in a mold, and already the game was fairly started.

CHAPTER III.
The Papers Change Hands.

We made better time than had been expected, and by noon had docked, passed the customs, and a very light task in comparison to the requirements on the other side, and settled ourselves in a compartment near the special which waited for the boat.

As I saw the station fade away, I turned to Von Herder, and to my surprise found him puzzling over a long message. On his face was an expression of much perplexity.

"Bad news," I asked.

He glanced up in a startled way. Undoubtedly my presence had been forgotten in the telegram before him.

He shook his head slowly as he turned back again to his message. "It is of his matter I have to read, and they have bungled the code."

I nodded, and as he did not seem inclined to volunteer any further information, turned to a shifting landscape.

From this contemplation and the fragrance of my cigar I was suddenly brought back to my surroundings by hearing my companion address me.

I turned quickly at something in his tone, and found him silently regarding me with a quickening expression on his face. I had a feeling he had been making up a study of my profile for some time.

"Well," I demanded, "I should tell you something more of my plans," he began, slowly, drawing his chair close to mine, for we have come in a short time to know each other so very well. Up to now, however, I have been unable. Even now I cannot tell you as much as I would, but because I am going to ask of you a favor, I must, I feel, tell you certain things."

A Young Girl's Queries.

Dear Miss Grey: When you first meet a young man is it proper to invite him to your house? Is it proper to accept an invitation from a young man to go to the theatre? When you have an engagement with a young man, and another calls at the same time, should you excuse yourself, and how? Is it proper to ask a young man to call again when he has made his first call?

DORIS.

Unless I knew who the young man was I do not believe I would ask him to the house the very first time I met him. It is perfectly proper to accept an invitation to the theatre provided you are old enough to be out in society, that your parents do not object to your going, and the play is a proper one. Explain to the second caller your previous engagement and ask him to come again; perhaps naming an evening when you will be at home with no other engagements. It would be polite to ask the young man to call again, that is, if you really want him to come.

CANADA'S NEXT CENSUS
JUNE OF NEXT YEAR

Will Embrace Subjects of Population, Manufactures, Minerals, Agriculture, Etc.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, July 13.—The next census of Canada will be taken under date of June 1, 1911, and will embrace the subjects of population, mortality, agriculture, manufactures, minerals fisheries, and dairy products.
Population will be recorded under the heads of residence, and personal description; citizenship, nationality and religion; profession, occupation, and trade, or means of living; wage-earnings and insurance; education and language spoken, and infirmities.
Every person living on June 1 will be entered on the schedule of population by name, as member of a family, institution or household, together with place of habitation, sex, relationship to head of the family or household, and whether single, married, widowed, divorced or legally separated.
The month of birth, year of birth and age at last birthday will also be recorded. Entries will be made for each person to show the country or place of birth, year of immigration to Canada if born elsewhere, year of naturalization if formerly an alien, and also racial or tribal origin, nationality and religion. Every person of alien birth who has become a naturalized citizen is a Canadian by nationality; and every British subject with residence in Canada, as well as every native of Canada who has acquired citizenship by birth or naturalization, is also a Canadian by nationality. But there is no Canadian by racial or tribal origin, unless the Indians are so counted.

Occupations and Trade.
Every person having an occupation or trade will be entered for it, but if employed in the census year at some other occupation for part or whole time he will be so recorded also. If the person is working on his own account, the total earnings in 1910 at chief occupation; the total earnings at other than chief occupation; and the rate per hour when employed by the hour.

Wage-earners are entered to show the number of weeks employed in 1910 at chief occupation or trade; at other than chief occupation, if any; the hours of working time per week at chief occupation, or at other occupation if any; the total earnings in 1910 at chief occupation; the total earnings at other than chief occupation; and the rate per hour when employed by the hour.

Entries are required to be made for each person showing the amount of insurance held at date of the census upon life, as well as against accident or sickness, together with the cost of such insurance in the census year.

Under the heading of education and language records will be taken for every person of 5 years of age and over showing the number of months at school in 1910, and if the person can read and write, and the language commonly spoken by the person. The cost of education in 1910 for persons over 16 years of age, at college, convent or university is also called for.

CONDEMNED; LYNCHED

Appeal to the Supreme Court Granted, Mob Hangs Murderer.

Rayville, La., July 12.—Aroused by the fact that an appeal to the supreme court had been taken, following his condemnation to death here Friday on the charge of having murdered Town Marshal C. C. Cheneau, a mob battered down the doors of the parish jail at Rayville today, dragged J. D. Freeman, a blacksmith, from his cell, and hanged him on the same spot where he had slain the marshal. A deep gash in Freeman's throat led to the theory that he had attempted suicide when he heard the approach of the mob. The lynching took place early in the morning, Saturday afternoon, and the body was taken to the town hall for burial. The mob then attempted to arrest him for a minor offence. The officer was one of the most popular residents of this community, and feeling against his player was intense.

"This is the outcome of the appeal," was the note found pinned to the dead man's clothing. Freeman shot and killed Cheneau three weeks ago, when the latter attempted to arrest him for a minor offence. The officer was one of the most popular residents of this community, and feeling against his player was intense.

Regulate the Bowels

"I have been troubled with constipation for several years, and have tried a great many kinds of pills, as well as medicine from the doctor. Nothing seemed to help me until I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills. I found the little pills very effective, and I am thankful that at last I have a reliable remedy."

MRS. F. M. DUNKIN, LeRoy, Ills.

Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills

GEORGE V. SIGNS
ANCIENT BOOK

Organization Founded by Charles II. Has Privilege of "Direct Access."

London, July 12.—King George V. is busy holding courts for the reception of councils, associations and those corporate bodies which from time immemorial have been honored with royal patronage. These are all brilliant functions, many of them quaint in the old world ceremony which makes them so interesting and impressive.

Perhaps the most interesting court held so far was that of the Royal Society, which is the oldest society that has the privilege of "direct access" to the sovereign, having been founded by Charles II. "for the improvement of natural knowledge." The last occasion on which the society was received at St. James' Palace, was in 1901, when King Edward, on his accession, signed his name in the society's charter book as patron.

Evelyn records in his diary, under date of Aug. 23, 1892: "The council of fellows of the Royal Society went in a body to Whitehall to acknowledge his majesty's royal grace in granting our charter and vouchsafing to be our founder. Our president made an eloquent speech, to which his majesty gave a gracious reply, and we all kissed his hand."

Scientists Are Hopeful.
There is not the least doubt that men of science in every part of King George's dominions look with the utmost confidence to that personal encouragement of their aims and methods which his majesty's prolonged technical training and career as a naval officer seems to warrant. They remember his speech when he performed the opening ceremony of the national physical laboratory.

"This ceremony," he said, "is not merely a meeting with the object of taking over a new theatre of investigation and research. Is it not more than this? Does it not show in a very practical way that the nation is beginning to recognize that if her commercial supremacy is to be maintained, greater facilities must be given for furthering the application of science to commerce and manufacture? In the profession to which I am proud to belong, there are, perhaps, special opportunities of gaining a certain insight into the general trade and commerce of the world, and of comparing the commercial vitality of the different countries."

Unique Honor Roll.
The charter book in which the King inscribed his name as patron on a specially illuminated page, is of unique interest as a roll of honor. It dates from the year 1664, and it leaves no doubt that the book is a record of the finest intellects of the country, velvet, it has gold clasps and corners, having on one side a gold plate, showing the crest, an eagle holding a shield. The arms of England, superbly emblazoned, adorn the first page, and those of the society appear on the next.

CLEVER GANG ROBBED
HOUSES OF MOURNING

While Relatives Were Watching the Corpses Invaders Ransacked the Rooms.

Paris, July 13.—Several men who are suspected of being members of a gang which is described as having devoted special energy to the robbing of houses of mourning are now under lock and key. According to the account which is given of the gang's exploits, it particularly singles out chateaux or villas of the rich, where deaths had occurred, and while the relatives of the deceased were watching the corpse its members effected surreptitious entrances and laid hand on the inheritances. But the band would not seem, according to this story, to have confined its activity exclusively to houses of mourning.

It is believed to have broken into the registrar's office of a large court-house, and to have attempted a similar coup at another court-house. Some time ago a man who is suspected of being the ringleader was taken into custody, but some friends contrived to insert a small saw into the sole of one of a pair of boots, which they were allowed to send to him. He was then able to escape, and he is now being sought by the police. The band is described as having been especially energetic along the Riviera, and as having managed to appropriate large sums of money, as well as a quantity of jewelry.

RAISE SALARIES
TO KEEP TEACHERS

Many Good Ones Lost to the Province Says Minister of Education.

Toronto, July 12.—Commenting on the scarcity of teachers in the province, the Hon. Dr. Pyne, minister of education, stated that boards of education in this province would have to pay the teachers higher salaries if they wished to keep them here, instead of allowing them to go west for higher pay. The fact that people can make more money by following industrial pursuits also was mentioned. When asked as to the scarcity of teachers, the minister said:

"Yes, the scarcity of teachers, which has been felt for about seven years, still exists to some extent, and will continue to be felt for another year, at least. The two chief factors in the situation are the movement of Ontario teachers to the Western provinces and the inadequate scale of salaries in Ontario. The substitution of Normal for Model schools has not affected the situation. All our Normal schools, except that at North Bay, were filled last year, and the applications thus far received for the coming session indicate an even larger attendance. In this respect the Government's policy has worked out exactly as was expected and the supply of candidates is quite satisfactory."

Will the teachers trained in Ontario stay here? I have investigated the subject as far as it is possible to do so and am greatly impressed by the heavy drain to the West. Salaries are higher there, and we are losing both experienced teachers and the new graduates of our training schools. The longer they are taken the less are needed. Natural conditions gradually being restored.

The train had left the One Hundred and Sixteenth street station as the trouble started, and the fight lasted almost until it reached One Hundred and Sixth street. Conductor John Cody was unable to stop hostilities, and had the motor-man blow his distress whistle.

Ways to Save

Be systematic if you are determined to develop the saving habit. Here are several plans which may help you to save money and get ahead financially:

Make an allowance for each class of expenses, and then plan to save something on each allowance. Make it a rule to set aside a certain per cent of your income on pay day. Consider that this per cent is insurance against the future. Look upon it as a debt which must be paid. As your income increases your savings will increase.

We pay 3% interest, compounded every six months.

Campbellton Wiped Out

Dalhousie, N. B., July 12.—A waste of smoking ruins extending for two miles and seven isolated buildings represented tonight the town of Campbellton and the nearby village of Richardsville, which were overwhelmed yesterday by fire, driven before a gale.

Two lives were lost during the 10-hours fire. Dr. Beverly Sprule, a dentist, while aiding with his automobile in rescuing women and children, was burned to death by an explosion of gasoline. An infant was suffocated in the dense smoke.

Five thousand residents of Campbellton and 400 of Richardsville are homeless. One thousand buildings in Campbellton and 75 in the village were destroyed. The combined loss is estimated at $2,500,000. The total insurance is $1,000,000.

The flames burned themselves out in Campbellton and Richardsville this morning, but the forest is still ablaze at many points.

The Canadian Government is a heavy loser through the destruction of Intercolonial railroad property. The Government does not insure its property.

Second Reading for Suffrage Bill

London, July 13.—The House of Commons by a vote of 299 to 190 passed the second reading of the women's suffrage bill last night.

The bill provides for the granting of the parliamentary franchise to women who are possessed of the property qualifications and who exercise the franchise in municipal elections.

It was expected the bill would pass the second reading, after which it is the intention of the Government to shelve it.

War Airship Sails Over London

London, July 13.—While Londoners ground, the mammoth dirigible, under perfect control, made many daring evolutions, twice encircling St. Paul's Cathedral at the height of four hundred feet. After more manoeuvring, the dirigible pointed her nose back to Aldershot, 35 miles away into the city of London. High above the

NOTED BRITISH DIVINE IS VISITING LONDON

Dr. John Munro Gibson in the City, the Guest of His Brother.

Rev. John Munro Gibson, D.D., of London, England, one of the foremost divines of Great Britain, is spending a few days with his brother, Mr. Lawrence Gibson Talbot street.

Dr. Gibson obtained his literary and theological training at the University of Toronto and Knox College. The last occasion on which he was in Canada was in 1893, when he conducted the jubilee services of St. James' Square Presbyterian Church, Toronto. During the same visit he received the honorary degree of LL.D. from his alma mater, on which occasion a similar honor was conferred upon his old college friend, the Hon. John Morrison Gibson, the present lieutenant-governor of the province. It is a somewhat remarkable coincidence that these two gentlemen, whose names are so much alike, were the first to secure in successive years what was known as the Prince's Prize, instituted by His Late Majesty Edward II. after his visit to Canada in 1860, for the student obtaining the highest aggregate of marks in his final year at the University of Toronto.

Dr. Gibson will visit Chicago before returning home. He had an important charge in that city for some years.

Personal Mention
Dr. John Adams, of Seattle, is visiting in the city for a few days.

Miss Lulu Herrick, of London, will be the guest for several weeks at the home of H. E. Fitzgerald, Christina street south, Sarnia.

Miss Myrtle Hicks, 508 St. James street, has successfully passed the Toronto University junior papers, examination held in this city recently.

Miss Isobel Jackson, of Princess avenue, left today by C. P. R. for a two months' visit to friends and relatives in Winnipeg, Calgary and Banff.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parsons and family, of this city, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Parsons, Sarnia. They motored there from London in their Buick touring car.

Dr. and Mrs. Burdon, with Miss Florence and Master Frederick, left today for a three months' trip to the west. They will go direct to Vancouver and return by the way of Portland, Oregon, and Yellowstone Park.

Mr. Alfred Marriott is renewing old acquaintances in the city. Mr. Marriott is traveling representative for the Columbia River Milling Company, with headquarters at Seattle, Wash. He will remain here for a couple of weeks.

Miss Flo. Mawby and friend, of Detroit, formerly of London, are spending a short vacation with her mother, Mrs. Mawby, of Adelaide street, city.

(Rev.) Lawson and son, of Alder, of Aylmer, Quebec, are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley P. Charlton, Ilderton.

Mr. Wm. Knapton, of Grandville, left on Monday morning for a three months' trip through the west and Vancouver, where he will visit his daughter, Mrs. Hugh Cochrane.

CHOLERA SWEEPING
CZAR'S EMPIRE
St. Petersburg, July 12.—Asiatic cholera in its most virulent form has broken out in the town of Peterhof, surrounding the Czar's summer palace.

The scourge is sweeping all over Russia with terrible results, hundreds of deaths being daily reported. The medical authorities seem powerless to stay the spread of the disease.

HERMAN HEADS ELKS
Noted Baseball Magnate Elected Chief at Detroit Convention.

Detroit, July 13.—Garry Hermann's most cherished dream came true and by acclamation he was made head of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. Last year there was a long-drawn-out contest for this honor, and it is an open secret that Mr. Hermann felt a sense of loss and defeat when the efforts of his friends proved unavailing. But he knows how to lose and yesterday, when, by ringing cheers, he was given his heart's desire without a struggle, he got up and said: "This is the happiest moment of my life," and everyone who heard him knew he meant it.

Atlantic City was chosen for next year's grand reunion. There wasn't much of a fight on this score because the big sea-coast resort city put forward some very strong inducements.

Card of Thanks.
Mrs. Charles McDowell and family, of 778 Grey street, wish to thank their many friends for their kindness shown to them during their recent bereavement.

FISHING BOUNTIES.
Ottawa, July 12.—The marine department in the last year has paid $115,000 in fishing bounties. The claimants numbered 14,000.

CHEERS THE PREMIER

ern hustler, the man who believes he can make two blades of grass grow where all the alchemists known to agricultural science maintained it is impossible to produce one. There may be two viewpoints of hustling, that of the hustler, as well as that of the hustled, but it is indisputable that the results attained have made Winnipeg what the premier termed "the model of Canadian cities in its substantial character, splendid streets and intense civic patriotism." He urged a continuance in well-doing. More was yet to be accomplished. "I am from the east," said he, "but whatever concerns the west concerns the east. Our policy is all for each and each for all."

Winnipeg asked for substantial Government aid to the projected centennial exhibition of an international character. "Let me see what you have at ready done," the premier commented, pencil and paper in hand. "Five hundred thousand dollars from the Canadian Pacific, $500,000 from the Grand Trunk Pacific, $250,000 from the Canadian Northern, $250,000 from the Local Legislature, $500,000 from the city of Winnipeg, and $500,000 in subscriptions from the citizens. That makes $2,500,000. If my arithmetic is good, now, if it were possible to get from some other source—I don't say where—another $250,000, I should think you would be in good financial shape for your great and worthy undertaking. (Prolonged applause.)

"I cannot make any promise," continued Sir Wilfrid, smiling. "The Minister of Finance, who knows me, put me under bonds to develop his treasury in trying to meet the requirements of the west on this trip. But if I tell him I assured you that his administration was like unto the Kingdom of Heaven, I don't think he can find fault with that; and I read of that kingdom, 'Ask and ye shall receive.'"

Premier Roblin Called.
During the afternoon Sir Wilfrid received many visitors, including Provincial Premier Roblin, who called informally to extend felicitations, with Bishop Matheson, Rev. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), and many prominent Liberals.

The immense Horse Show Amphitheatre, gorgeously decorated, was thronged to the roof at night. Several men had climbed to the rafters to get accommodation. It was estimated that over 11,000 were in attendance. The premier got an exceptional welcome. The great gathering rose and cheered for several minutes.

Mr. Isaac Campbell, K.C., presided, and with him on the platform were Acting Mayor Harvey, Hon. G. P. Graham, Hon. William Pugsley, Senator Gibson, E. M. Macdonald, M. P., E. P. Parker, M. P., Frank Fowler, E. J. Cash, M. P., Senator Watson, Ald. Milto, and many others.

Premier on Boundaries.
Sir Wilfrid defended the position he had taken owing to the inability of the three provinces to agree. He did not blame the provincial premiers for seeking to get all possible for their provinces, but agreement was a necessary antecedent to any action by the imperial authorities. He resented Hon. Roblin's blood-and-thunder speeches, and claimed that, if any discourtesy had been committed, it was not on his part. If Manitoba continued to remain the "postage stamp province" it has been, it would be no fault of his.

The Liberal Government had brought luck to Canada. To the late Sir John A. Macdonald, he gave credit for building the Canadian Pacific Railway, although he thought some of the terms were unwise, but that railway having been built, it failed in its purpose, because there was no population tributary to the line.

"That problem of immigration has been settled," said Sir Wilfrid, "and I am glad to say that the initiator of that policy is the son of Manitoba, Hon. Clifford Sifton." (Cheers.)

Rates Must Come Down.
The Prime Minister asserted that "the value of the product of the farmer is the selling price in the world's market, less the cost of transportation." Up till 1896 the west had been at the mercy of the C. P. R. in respect to rates, the original contract not giving Parliament any control whatever over traffic charges. This defect had been overcome, when the C. P. R. accepted the condition of the Crow's Nest Railway subsidy, and made a planed.

substantial reduction on staple articles. The cost of sending wheat from Brandon to Liverpool, from over 26 cents a bushel, had been reduced to 16 1/2 cents.

"The cost of transportation must still be decreased," said Sir Wilfrid. "It is ten cents a bushel less than it was 14 years ago, but it is still to be decreased, and we will work at it."

He reiterated former utterances with respect to the Welland Canal and Georgian Bay, and Ottawa Canal, and followed the remarks of Mr. Pugsley in connection with Conmee's scheme for a waterway from the foothills of the Rockies to Winnipeg, and even to Lake Superior. He would not live long enough to see the scheme completed, but hoped to see the traffic as far as Winnipeg, and in time there would be a continuous all-waterway to the Atlantic Ocean.

"This is not a vision, it is a reality, and will be a fact," he declared.

A PECULIAR CASE

Jumps From Train, Loses Foot and is Prosecuted by Railway.

Ottawa, July 13.—A peculiar case was heard in the police court today when Ovide Joannette, a young man who last May jumped from a moving train, near Carleton Place, losing his left foot under the car wheels, was prosecuted by the C. P. R. for a violation of the railways act.

Evidence by Conductor McGonigle went to establish that Joannette had refused to pay his fare, but had tendered his watch in lieu of a ticket. The conductor refused to accept this and locked Joannette in the car. As the train neared Carleton Place, the prisoner jumped out of the window and was injured.

Joannette claimed that the conductor had assaulted him after he had offered him the watch. He then proffered McGonigle the fare in cash, he says, but the latter again refused it and again struck him. When the train was approaching Carleton Place Joannette noticed three trainmen coming toward him, and thinking he was to be again assaulted, says he jumped from the car.

Magistrate O'Keefe decided that Joannette was technically guilty of a violation of the railway act, but in view of his accident suspended sentence in the case. The defendant on this morning is taking an action in the civil courts against the railway and the case at the court is thus explained.

HARRY MERRITT REFUSES TO WAIT ON STURGEON

"Not Running a Cafe for Oviparous Vertebrates," He Declares Indignantly.

Sarnia has a citizen with a fund of knowledge on feeding sturgeon. Some days ago Mr. James Gleeson, of Port Stanley, presented a young sturgeon to the city and it has been shoring quarters with the speckled trout in the city hall aquarium. It is not difficult to feed the trout, but the problem of how to feed the sturgeon.

Today City Treasurer Bell received a card from a Sarnia man, instructing him to break into the trout out of the aquarium, feed the sturgeon three soft-boiled eggs for a week, with a dash of salt on them, and the fish would thrive.

When the proposal was made to Harry Merritt to supply the eggs, he promptly refused.

"I'm running no cafe for fish," he said, "I suppose I'll have to jump around every time that sturgeon shouts 'One up!'"

The city treasurer has not solved the problem as to what fund to charge the maintenance of the sturgeon. In the meantime the big fish is not well fed, and the trout continue to make efforts to bite holes in his armor.

CROPS OF PROVINCE IN GOOD CONDITION

But Light Rain Caused Low Averages in Some Sections of the West.

Ottawa, July 13.—The conditions of all the crops are good in Ontario, the highest being for fall wheat, and the lowest for spring wheat. Quota crops range from 74.45 for mixed grains to 102.58 for hay and clover.

Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta have low averages throughout owing to a light rainfall. In the west, general condition of crops in Manitoba is much below the average.

Conditions in nearly every district report no rain for several days. The hot, dry winds that absorbed the moisture and withered the crops. The lowest average condition is reported for Brandon and Morden, and the highest for Winnipeg, where it is placed at a standard.

In Saskatchewan the crops do not appear to have suffered from climatic conditions to the same extent as in the west. The crops are in good condition, and the weather is favorable.

Reports from Lloydminster, Battleford, Indian Head and Qu'Appelle are very favorable. The condition of wheat is placed at 100 and over wheat. The prevailing condition of crops in the west of Alberta, south of township number thirty, is below the average in consequence of the drought and hot winds.

In the Edmonton district the crops, although suffering to some extent from the same causes are in much better condition. The best reports come from the Strathcona district and those from the Athabasca district and the Lake Athabasca district are also particularly favorable.

Mr. W. B. Wardle, one of the members of the firm, is at present in Detroit, having been in the city a few years ago from Minnesota.

Mr. C. D. Gower, the other member of the firm, is well known in this city. He has been a traveller out of this city some years.

Lack of working capital is said to have caused the failure.

Boys at Baths. Over three hundred boys patronized the free swimming baths this morning. The playgrounds Association are delighted with the alacrity with which the youngsters pick up the art of swimming. THE MARRIAGE BELL

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Monday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, 121 Horton street, when Miss Helen Watson, daughter of Mr. Fred Keene, was united in marriage to Mr. George Watson, of Kerwood. The bride entered the drawing-room leaning on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Louise Watson. She was attended by her sister, Miss Virginia Watson, and her brother, Mr. George Watson, who acted as best man. The bride's travelling suit was of grey broadcloth, with hat to match. They left on the evening train for Victoria, B. C., where they will reside.

FUNERAL OF MASTER DUNCAN M'VICAR

Remains of Derwent Drowning Victim Laid at Rest.

The funeral of Master Duncan Mc-Vicar, the bright lad whose tragic drowning in the treacherous Foster Lake, near Derwent, was recorded in Monday's Advertiser, was on Tuesday afternoon attended by a large gathering of friends assembled to show their sympathy with the suddenly and sorrowfully bereaved family. Six young members of his class in the Salem Sabbath School acted as pallbearers, and among the touching floral tributes was one from the class and school. The Rev. John Currie, of Belmont, conducted the services at the home and Dorchester Cemetery with impressive solemnity.

An appropriate memorial service in honour of the late Rev. Dr. Savage, of Guelph, will be held on Sabbath afternoon next in Salem Methodist Church, Derwent, which was established by him many years ago. He was greatly revered by the people of the locality. Rev. A. E.
Jones, the pastor, and others, will take part.

The heavy and general rains of Tuesday were an incalculable boon to the crops, already good, and will greatly improve the pasturage of the district.

Card of Thanks.
Mr. Roy B. Freedland desires to thank the friends who so kindly assisted him

WATCH THE IRISH PICNIC

Chairman Fowler Announces a Long List of Prizes for Big Event.

The prizes continue to pour in for the Irish Benevolent Society baby show, and it promises to be the best ever.

At the meeting of the committee held last night in the city hall, Fire Chief Altken, Harry Merritt and the chairman reported that they had received many valuable prizes for the show, and had not been able to meet a number of the members who always take a deep interest in the baby show.

Among the prizes received are the following: Hon. Adam Beck, prizes; Ald. Tancock, special; Ald. Pocock, special; Ald. Morgan, jar of goldfish;
Mayor Beattie, special for twins; Dr.
Wyckoff, silver cup, special; W. A.
Martin, ton of coal for the largest family; Ald. Eckert, box of Old Abe cigars for handiwork; father showing baby; Furdon Hardware Company, baby hammock, special; Ed J. Carty, silver cup; N. Parke Graydon, special; Electrical Engineer Roberts, special for fat baby; Geo. A. Henry, Gilean, special prize.

In addition there will be the regular list of prizes, which will be largely augmented.

It was decided that the baby show will be held on Inverleigh at 4 p.m. sharp on the day of the picnic.
In other years it has not been held until later, with the result that the babies were tired and restless. Seats will be provided for the mothers. If the day is stormy the show will be held in the roller rink. The crowd will be roped off, so that they will not interfere with the judges in their work.

The matter of dividing the kiddies into different classes, say six months and under, one year and under, and two years and under was taken up, and the division will be made if the

IMPROVE LABORATORY AND MAKE IT PAY

Victoria Hospital Trust Decide to Do So—A Meeting on Tuesday.

At the regular meeting of the hospital trust held yesterday afternoon it was decided to expend the sum of $125 on the pathological laboratory, in order to place the department on a paying basis.

"In conversation with Dr. Beal, our pathologist, it was thought that the department could be put on a paying basis, just the same as the X-ray department is," said Chairman Judd.

Beal, an confident the department will be as well managed as any other in the hospital.

After some discussion, it was decided to expend $125 on the laboratory, under the direction of the house committee.

Trustees S. Screeaton and George B.
Harris were named a committee to make arrangements for connecting the heating plant of the Victoria Hospital with the Hygienic Institute. It was thought that the boilers of the institute could be used as a reserve until further arrangements were made.

The superintendent's report showed that there were 181 patients admitted during the month of June, 42 males, 66 females, and 53 children. During the same period 170 were discharged, 40 males, 76 females, and 64 children.

June 30. There were 53 operations, 15 births and 11 deaths. The receipts were $2,696.80.

tees S. Screeaton, T. C. Turnbull, Geo.
B. Harris, and Superintendent Heard.

LATEST NEWS FROM PORT STANLEY

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Port Stanley, July 12.—Did it rain this morning? Well, just ask one of those London gentlemen who summer on Orchard Beach. The lightning rained, the thunder rolled, and the rain came down in torrents. And it was just about time to take the morning train for London. Everyone had their umbrellas in town last night. No one expected such a sudden break in the dry spell. The storm raged for over an hour without a letup. It was the heaviest rainfall seen for some years. The only damage reported so far was the burning out of the electric light wires at the postoffice.

Mr. Harley Taylor, the ice-man, has a team of very desirable horses. Yesterday afternoon while Mr. Taylor was delivering ice at a cottage on Orchard Beach, the horses decided to go for a stroll down the shady lane. They were, however, forced to drag the heavy ice wagon with them. They had not gone far when they collided with Mr. E. A.
Smith's handsome pony carriage, over which they attempted to pull the ice wagon. But this is not all. This morning as the same team were hauling the same ice wagon up Stanton's hill, the whiffletree broke, and the wagon backed rapidly down the hill. The ice was scattered along the way. Mr.
Taylor says he will attempt to go his rounds again tomorrow, if anything exciting transpires, he will at once purchase a new team and a new ice wagon.

Semi-Steel Fire-Pot—Not Gray Iron

A FIRE-POT of a furnace surface which practically seals or "closes" up the pores. Semi-
Steel easily repels the attacks
of gas fumes and thus greatly prolongs the life of the fire-
pot.

The material commonly used for a fire-pot is gray iron.
The Sunshine fire-pot is Semi-Steel.

Now, avoiding technical terms, gray iron has what may be called "open" pores.
Through these "open" pores
the destructive sulphur fumes attack the iron and hasten disintegration.

On the other hand, Semi-Steel is a close-grained material, with a smooth-as-glass surface which practically seals

or "closes" up the pores. Semi-
Steel easily repels the attacks
of gas fumes and thus greatly
prolongs the life of the fire-
pot.

A Semi-Steel fire-pot weighs 50 per cent. heavier than the same size and pattern in gray iron. It is therefore better able to endure tremendous heat.

Semi-Steel is made by an exclusive McClary process.
You can only get a Semi-Steel fire-pot with a McClary furnace. That is one strong reason why you should have the Sunshine installed in your home.

Our agent in your locality will tell you many other reasons. Ask him.
Remember, the Sunshine is guaranteed, by the largest makers of furnaces in British Empire, to heat your home to your entire satisfaction.

A GRIST OF DRUNKS IN THE POLICE COURT

Magistrate Love Told Robert McKee What He Thought of Him.

William McGeary, an Indian lister, who appeared yesterday for being drunk, and who was allowed to go until today, failed to appear when his name was called this morning in the police court, and a warrant was ordered for his arrest.

Robert McKee, another lister, who was allowed to go yesterday in order that he might celebrate Orangemen's
Day, was given a very severe lecture.

"Your mouth ought to be sewed up, or you should be put in a lunatic asylum," said the court. "You have never worked for yourself, your wife, nor your family all your life. You have done nothing but work for hotel-keepers. I have been looking into your case, and I refuse to allow you to return to your wife and family. They are far too good for you. If you go near the house you will be treated as a trespasser and arrested. If you think so much of whiskey that you are willing to go behind the bars for it, that is your look out. I fine you $10 and costs."

Mr. Pauls represented McKee, and asked that his client be given until Saturday to pay. The court agreed on condition that Mr. Pauls would appear with McKee. Mr. Pauls agreed to do so.

Thomas Proctor, of St. Thomas, got so intoxicated that he went out the Hamilton road looking for his home.
He was arrested, and spent the night at the station. He was allowed to go this morning.

Samuel Chapman, for being drunk,
was fined $3.
