Injured Man Must Have Treatment of Physician Quickly in Order To Live.

Associated Press Despatch Mount Clemens, Mich., Feb. 7. -Favorable weather today held out promise of success for army aviators assigned the task of rescuing from Beaver Island in Lake Michigan, Jesse Cole, woodsman, who was injured seriously, and whose life was said to depend on the speed with which medical aid reached him. A snowstorm yesterday forced a rescue plane to land near Grayling, Mich., and a second machine was made ready to start this morning for the isolated ice-bound isle.

Lieut. Meredith, of the first pursuit group, detailed to make today's flight, planned to land at Charlevoix, pick up a physician and proceed to the island, about ten miles off the mainland. Cole's condition would determine whether the physician would remain on the island to treat the injury received in a log jam, or whether he would be brought to some Michigan city for hospital care, it was said.

The woodsman's head was crushed several days ago. The island colony had no physician. Medical aid could not be obtained. Relatives of the injured man appealed to the army air service, and the rescue trip was undertaken by members of the air service hospital unit.

Berlin, Feb. 7 .- Negotiations relating to the stabilization of the mark! in Germany are being carried on at present between the government and the principal industrial bankers' organizations. The plan is to reestablish gold mark accounts and credit in the Reichsbank, and possibly also in private banks, thus making possible business transactions in gold or its equivalent. Because of the continual fluctua-Is Only in Experimental Stage tion on the paper mark extensive losses have been suffered by private business interest, but recent laws passed to curb speculation strictly forbid transactions on a gold basis.

Businessmen, however, are doubtful about accepting the government's offer to permit accounts in gold values in the Reichsbank, as it is feared that such accounts might suffer heavily from Germany's hopeless financial condition.

So far as the stabilization of the mark is concerned, German bankers declare that the question depends upon the outcome of the Ruhr and the reparations difficulties

It will not suffice to put speeders and daredevil drivers in jail, thinks Dr. Raymond Dodge, professor psychology in Wesleyan University, and chairman of the division of psychology of the United States National Research Council. Comparatively few accidents are due to criminal intent, and certainly mere lack of intelligence is not criminal. All persons are not fitted to drive a car. Some people could run one kind of car safely but not another. So, as a move toward diminishing the fearful and ever-increasing motor car accident toll, Professor Dedge advocates nation-wide standardized cates nation-wide standardized mental tests for automobile drivers to determine whether an individual ought to be allowed to handle a car at all, and if so, what kind of ma-chine he should be permitted to run.

EXPLAINS WHY CORD TIRE LASTS LONGER

Motorists are now educated to the fact that much greater mileage is possible with the cord than with the fabric casing, but few of them really know what distinguishes these two types of tires. The characteristic of the cord type of casing is that the cord is not fabric, but a layer of sep-arate cords, lying side by side, all running in one direction and held together with delicate threads, which break when the tire is placed in ser-vice. The fabric tire is built up of ee more following as the year goes layer upon layer of closely woven cotton fabric, one thread being bent cotton fabric, one thread being bent cotton fabric, one thread being bent threads. Famous Racer Presents Analysis of Latest Trend in Motor Car Designs.

By BARNEY OLDFIELD.

It has been my practice each year to indicate the trend in design by an analysis of the cars exhibited at the New York show. There are two big developments that stand out this year, the low-priced closed body and the light six type of engine. The low-priced body is known as the coach, utility, all-steel and other names, but it characterizes a closed body that is made in large quantibody that is made in large quanti-ties at a price just slightly higher than an open type. It is the low-priced body-that will within a few years supersede the open type with the exception of the sport car, so-called. Incidentally the sport car is in the line of practically every manu-facturer we might say in articing. facturer, we might say in anticipa-tion of the closed car era. The six-cylinder car of short wheelbase, known as the light six, is here in much greater number. Engine smoothness has been given a lot of attention both by the designer of the engine and the production dea lot of attention both by the designer of the engine and the production department. Crankshafts are usually heavier to make them stiffer ard stronger and in many cases there are more crankshaft bearings. Nearly all Continental engines have four bearings this year. One four-cylinder engine has five hearings. Additional bearings coupled with a stiffer shaft and an improved oiling system make for long engine life with smooth operation. Higher speeds and more power also are obtainable when the vibration is reduced.

Another advance is in the silent chain timing drive in place of the gear drive. This year there are about 10 makers who have adopted this form over and above the concerns who used it in the past. The silent chain drive as new made is no doubt the form to be used by all makers in a few years. It is quiet to be sure, and cases the shock on the camshaft and crankshaft.

There is a slight increase in pump cooling and, sadly enough, no increase to speak of in the number of cooling system controls, such as thermostats or radiator shutters. This is one of the most important controls on the engine and the manufacturers seem to neglect it altogether.

In carbureters there has teen no

In carbureters there has been no change whatever, but some makers have redesigned their manifolds, and in two instances are cleaners are in two instances are cleaners are fitted.

In the field of clutches there is also a practical monopolist, or, at least, there has been. The dry-plate clutch made by one manufacturer was cheap to mare and had a good following. Now come two or three new designs to give this type of clutch some competition. The new designs have already been adopted by a few makers, and no doubt will

His record just received shows that he has served three jail terms for fraud and shop breaking, and that he was wanted in Montreal for the murder of a police officer. Word has been received from the Toronto police that he is wanted there, four warrants being out for his arrest, and also that they found a printing press in his rooming house.

ASSURES INHABITANTS ISLAND WILL NOT BE SOLD

Special Cable to The Advertiser. Cherbourg, France, Feb. 7 .- M Sarraut, French colonial minister stated Tuesday upon his return from the French Island of St. Pierre which is off Newfoundland, that he received a cold reception from the natives, because he said "reports that France would give the island to the United States as payment on war debts" had preceded him.

Last Saturday The Advertiser published a page of advertisements from automobile and accessor Part of an automobile picture was included in each advertisement. Prizes were offered for clipping out the parts of the automobile picture and pasting them in their proper place on a piece of paper to make a complete picture of an automobile. From the many excellent solutions the judges have awarded prizes to: Geo. Holmes 370 Ontario street, London, 1st prize, $5; Miss E. G. Small, Fairholme, London Junction, 2nd prize, $3; Fred T. London Ladies Lose To Preston: Brookes Wins Curling Trophy: Ingersoll Wins From Clinton

LADIES OF LONDON BLANKED BY PRESTON'S FAIREST ONES

First Game of Home-and-Home Hockey Series Played At Westminster Rink Last Night Proves Disastrous To Local Team -Return Game To Be Played in Preston.

The Preston Huribut sextet took the local girls' hockey crew into camp last night, when they defeated them to the tune of 2-0 in the first game of the home and home series.

The game was fast and interesting to watch, and the large crowd of fans who fourneyed over the river to see the ladies perform for the most part out of curiosity went home amazed with the brand of hockey displayed. Brilliant plays were made by both teams, and contrary to the results most of play was in Freston territory. Bill Legg's crew had a lot of hard luck in their shooting during the game, and consequently they cams out on the short end of the score. A great part of the fans who witnessed the game were of the gentier sex and they were right there when it came to rooting for the home team.

The Preston misses opened with some fast combination, and six minutes after the first bell Teddie O'Neil succeeded in lodging the rubber between the pilars on a pass from Miss Peirce. Preston drew a large number of ponalties, while London bombarded the Preston goal repeatedly in the first period, but Miss Roth in goal for Preston was always able to turn them aside. After many exciting plays the first period ended i-0 in favor of the visitors. In the second period the London girls had it all over the visitors until Teddie O'Neil socred her second goal, and then the locals slowed up considerably. In this period the work of Rena Curnoe, Peggy Reynolds and Pearl Fortner was brilliant.

Baseball Officials Must Replace Several Men Who Retired Last Year.

PROVES HARD WORK

Emslie Will Be Called Upon Again If Nationals Are Hard Hit.

By JOHN B. FOSTER. Special to The Advertiser. Copyright.

New York, Feb. 6.-While the managers of the major clubs and the minors too, for that matter, are busy trying to sign players to win championships, or east to give the turnstiles an excuse at least to give the turnstiles an excuse for being ofled, the presidents of the eagues today are trying to sign umites who will last through the season thout having their lives threatened than fifty times.

Heydler of the National early turned his pen upside abstracted manner and rethat collecting championship seemed to him to be no less a task than collecting championship players. Emsile, of course, has been given relief from active duty this year, but Heydler says he will be called on if necessary in emergency.

Possibly Frank Wilson will get a chance in the National League this coming season. He tried it in the American but did not make much headway. Umpires, however, frequently change from one circuit to another, and make a success in the second league after they have been an actual frost in the first. President Johnson of the American League will lose Chill, Walsh and Guthrie from his staff. Chill got into a jam in Cleveland that did not add to his hope of sticking with the majors. Walsh retired because one year was enough for him.

In place of the three men who are leaving the American, Clarance Rowland, former Sox manager; Howard

In place of the three men who are leaving the American Clarance Rowland, former Sox manager; Howard Holmes and Emmett Ormsby will be tried Connolly, veteran of the American staff, with Evans, Dineen, Moriarity, Owens, Hildebrand and Nallin will carry the bulk of the work.

Why Not You?

George Lawton was 29 (in 1902) when he took a 20-pay-life policy for $5,000.

The annual premium was $162.50, or a possible total cost of $3,250.00.

¶ But this was a participating policy.

The distribution of profits every five years so reduced his premiums that his actual payments only totalled $2,701.40.

¶ So that he had $5,000 protection for 20 years at an average cost of $135.

If he surrendered his policy today its value is $474.60 more than its cost.

¶ He is now in the prime of life. If he leaves his paid-up policy with us he will receive dividends as long as he lives. And he will still have $5,000 to bequeath to his family.

The Gold Standard of Values

FIGHTEEN years of wonderful accom-L plishment are truly reflected in the models which maintain the Reo as "The Gold Standard of Values."

—Two modishly designed closed cars a 4-passenger Coupe and a 5-passenger Sedan—all steel paneled over a sturdy hardwood framework braced with drop forgings, priced at $2,850 and $2,950, respectively.

-A generously proportioned 7-passenger Touring Car, with a full measure of comfort and good looks, selling for $2,300.

-A smartly appearing, completely equipped luxuriously comfortable Phaeton for $2,500.

All are equipped with steel disc wheels. with demountable rim, cord tires and step plates.

All express the Reo idea of a clean front compartment, with a neatly arranged instrument board, and the simple. distinctive Reo dual control-just two foot pedals and one lever.

All are mounted on the famous Reo double-framed chassis, where an inner frame mounting of power units gives protection from road shocks to vital parts.

All have an abundance of power for every condition of travel, because the rugged Reo 50-horsepower motor, with its large valve and ports, and 4-bearing crank-shaft is standard equipment.

Montreal, Feb. 7.—Noon—Textile issues as a group were most interesting on the Montreal Stock Exchange during the forenoon session, nearly all of these issues establishing new highs. Canadian Cottons jumped to 120, a 4-point gain in 24 hours. Canadian Converters advanced to 98 for broken and 97% for board lots. Dominion Textile sold up to 68. Penman's sold up to 142, representing an advance of 7 points from yesterday morning. None of these stocks were extraordinarily active, but it appears as if the demand largely exceeded the floating supply and prices had to be bid sharply upward by purchasers. 116%

Canadian Press Despatch.

Toronto, Feb. 7.—Noon—The general list on the local stock exchange was strong this morning, with Brazilian displacing Barcelona as the market leader. Numerous gains were scored throughout the list, but Barcelona failed to continue its upward movement and dropped off a point to 18 at the close. Brazilian showed an early gain of ¾ at 44½, but weakened towards the noon close, the last sale at 43¾ being the same as yesterday's close. Among the stocks to show substantial advances were Canada Bread, 1½ higher at 63; Cement, 1¾ at 80; Steel of Canada, 2½ at 65½; Winnipeg Railways, 1¼ at 35. An odd lot of Mackay changed hands at 121½, a two-point decline from yesterday, while small lots of Toronto Rails caused a half-point loss at 89½. London, Feb. 6.—Linseed oil. 40s 6d. Sperm oil—228.

GREAT-WEST LIFE MAKES GOOD SHOWING FOR 1922

A most satisfactory report of the company's business for the year 1922 has been submitted to the shareholders and policyholders of the Great-West Life Assurance Company. Although the year 1922 was considered a difficult one, the Great-West succeeded in increasing the amount of new business issued by $1.888,713, the total having reached the amount of $56,116,675. Insurance in force, excluding group, is now $316,121,-936, an increase of $23,403,171 over 1921. Assets have reached the substantial sum of $49,198,255. Payments to policyholders amounted to $3,953,527, and provision is made for future profits of $4,832,639, an increase of $861,006. Alticogether the report is a fine indication. | Canadian Westinghouse | 120.00 |

SECOND POWER LINE.

A second power line is being strung in the Kirkland Lake district from Swastika to the Lake Shore Mine. This new line will mean that the Lake Shore and the Teck-Hughes will shortly have individual power lines, where formerly the two mines were restricted to the use of a single line. In this way greater power facilities will be given to both properties and their output will be measurably increased.

HAY AND WOOD PRICES

Receipts Were Small on the Market Square, With Slow Demand.

this morning were chiefly conspicuous by their absence. While there were about ten loads of hay and the same number of wood, there was no wheat, oats, or any other grain, and a general air of quiet reigned. Hay prices remain steady at $10 to $13, but the demand is not very brisk. There are several inquiries for the better grades of clover hay, and they would claim the top price if delivered. Some dealers are asking $12 per ton for timothy, and in some cases this is paid.

The price quoted for live hogs on Wednesday was $10, but up to noon none had arrived, though it was thought that before the day closes there would be a shipment.

Wood prices were still firm at $4 to $6 in most cases, and there is a very fair demand.

Thursday is a regular market day, and there may be a brisk session on that day.

New York, Feb. 6.—The raw sugar market was firmer, and prices were 1-16c higher, to the basis of 3%c for Cubas. cost and freight, equal to 5.5%c for centrifugal. There were sales of 50,000 bags of Cubas for February shipments. London, Feb. 7.—Wool auctions continued today with offerings of 13,600 bales consisting entirely of privately owned.

There was an attractive demand for all the better classes from all sections of the trade at the late values, but inferior qualities were not so well supported, this resulting in many withdrawals. There were a large number of speculative parcels, including greasy merino.

Livestock Marketing Is Reported To Be Slow in Many Districts. Inquiries for spring and summer help are increasing. Some are asking particularly for old country workers, as sor of those tried out last year were quite satisfactory. Leeds says: "No. 1 Spies and Kings are bringing $7.50 a barrel at Brockville, and even at that price they are not all choice in color or general condition."

South Simcoe quotes the following prices per bushel recently paid for seed grown in that county: Alsike, $3.50 to $6; alfalfa, $11.

$6: alfalfa, $11.

Baled hay is selling at $28 a ton in Kenora, and loose hay at $18. Fort William quotes at from $18 to $22 a ton. In Leeds the price is placed at from $12 to $14 a ton.

Leeds the price is placed at from $12 to $14 a ton.

Some Kenora farmers are busy supplementing their earnings by hauling in pulpwood, for which they are receiving $7 a cord, delivered at the mill, while others are working in the lumber camps. South Simcoe says: "Only moderate shipments of livestock were made from this county during the week. Five and three-quarter cents was the top paid for good quality butcher cattle. Hogs generally brought $9.75; sheep averaged 4½ cents."

cents."

The Huron representative, after an inspection of a large number of stables in that county during the last two weeks, speaks favorably of the condition of most of, the livestock, largely attributable to the abundant supply of feed on hand. Marketing, however, has been very low.

Leeds also states that livestock are much better fed than was the case last winter.

much better fed than was the case last winter.

Bruce says that there is very little movement in the marketing of livestock during the past week. The short-keep feeders have been marketed, and it is expected that there will not be many large shipments until later in the spring. The local butchers have been paying around 10 cents a pound for heavy finished lambs during the past week.

A local farmer in Peel sold a lot of short-keep steers which had been put in in fair condition in the early autumn for $59.25 less than he paid for the bunch. On the other hand, another man in that county, who had animals of particularly good type and sold on a favorable market, realized a spread of about 3 cents a pound in addition to a substantial grant or weight.

favorable market, realized a spread of about 3 cents a pound in addition to a substantial gain in weight.

Peterboro County Short Horn Association sale was held last week. The prices were rather discouraging, the average being only about $65 per head. At some sales of farm stock grade cowa almost equaled this price.

Farmers in Huron are more and more turning to dairying. The manager of one butter factory states that the supply of cream now coming in is about double that of a year ago.

Carleton says: "Concentrates are in little demand by the dairymen, owing to the plentiful supply of good roughage and slack demand for grain. Hogs are weak at $10 per hundred with a good supply to be had."

Rainy River states: "Mr. A. G. Crawford, Emo, who has been capturing all prizes available with his Percheron stallion and mare at Toronto, Guelph and Ottawa, has just returned with a carload of good, registered Shorthorn

NIAGARA IN WINTER.

The countless thousands who annually visit the cataract of Niagara pronounce it the greatest natural wonder on the continent of America. Little less in sublimity and grandeur than the waterfall itself is the gorge through which the waters rush onward to Lake Ontario after their awful plunge over the cliff. For a little distance from the foot of the falls, the stream is comparatively placid; but gathering momentum as its channel narrows it fills the gorge and rushes over the rocks in foamy rapids, here breaking into delicate spray and there springing high into he air as it dashes against some rocky obstacle in its mad race for a few days, and your kidneys and shrubs, bathed perpetually in the mist of the rushing stream, wear garments of glittering hoar froot, marvellously wrought and trimmed with loveliest lace. The crees and sinubs, bathed perpetually in the mist of the rushing stream, wear garments of glittering hoar froot, marvellously wrought and trimmed with loveliest lace. The crees and boulders along the course buroome huge blocks of gleaming ice, and mammoth iccles form before the Cave of the Winds and down the steep sides of the gorge. But no power can check the mighty flood, whose emerald waters take on a deeper, darker hue from the white rocks and boulders along the course have a delightful effective can be a delightful

Attorney-General Raney Moves To Prohibit Race Betting News.

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Feb. 7-The introduction by Attorney-General Raney of the bill to prohibit the publication of racebetting information, and the anouncement by K. K. Homuth, Government Labor supporter, from South Waterloo that he intends to introduce a resolution calling for a referendum on the O. T.A., featured yesterday afternoon's sitting of the Legislature. While the nature of the referendum, Mr. Homuth's resolution will call for, was not explained by him in his speech today, it has been previously intimated that it would be for a vote on permission to sell beer and wine within the prov-

In introducing his bill against the publication of betting information. Mr. Raney stated that it was intended to prevent the publication of information to assist bookmaking.
"Publish," the bill sets forth, shall mean the act of writing, typewriting, printing or otherwise making information legible and the act of producing, displaying, distributing, selling or offering for sale and disposing of.

Penalties Attached. The penalties imposed shall be re-coverable under the Ontario summary conviction act. There was no discussion of the bill this afternoon in the House nor any announcement as to when it will be up for second reading when the debate on it is expected. The opinion is expressed that whereas the province has not the power to prevent publications from outside Ontario which carry "selections" and the odd paid by the pari-mutuels or "bookies," being sent into the province through the mails or by other means the act, it is claimed, would prevent the sale on the streets or from bookstores of outside publications carrying such information.

Three speeches were delivered during the afternoon in the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne. The speakers were W. E. N. Sinclair, Liberal; K. K. Homuth, Labor, and R. R. Hall, Liberal. D. M. Hogarth, Conservative member from Port Arthur, adjourned the deate on the address, and it is expected to continue tomorrow

Pace Is Killing.

Still a shade of satiety appears to have come over the city and moderated its once frenzied orgy of motion and turned its energy into a channel of reflectiveness. An European influence seems to be discernemerge a standardized model of an American — superficially at least and often sincerely imbued with the great American ideals. Suggestion is at work here both ways. New York may be likened in some respects to the rich self-made man who has worked hard for the best part of his life and now takes things easier while giving advice to his more exuberent offspring. Ah! it is different in these cities of the black country-Pittsburgh, Detroit and the others with their flaming furnaces and throbbing foundries and factories belching smoke that hangs a perpetual pall and blackens Nature's own thick mantel of fog. Here the e of the people beats quicker, unsteadier, impatient to outstrip time itself. It is reflected in their drawn faces, rugged mouths and restless Strong of character? Yes. Relentless of purpose, too, and eager to meet and overthrow the obstacle. But the pace is killing. I was struck by the nervous character of some of the audiences in the part of the country of which I am speaking. Among the crowd of sick persons who crowded around me for aid and advice which, alas, I was unable to give to all, nine-tenths could trace their troubles to a nervous affliction. Even a cursory survey is sufficient to tell me that these people live too fast. They live most of the time probably in their automobiles and their offices; eat wrongly, too quickly, and maybe too much; and disdain to pause to breathe in their race to their goal of achievement. Now, nerves cannot be kept taut for long without ething else giving away. So sick men and women are made.

Not Certain of Cure.

I have been asked if autosuggestion will cure them. It is impossible to say with certainty, but improvement is bound to result. I have told them so, but better still, the practice of autosuggestion will prevent all such evils. It cannot be too strongly recommended to businessmen and workers of all kinds who are inclined to and dark mixture, a dark brown suit waste vital nervous energy in abnormal brain activity. It will act as a break. It will quiet quivering nerves; a dark brown band. This could have transform an unbridled torrent of thought into an even-flowing, calm stream that furnishes infinitely more real energy in the long run. I was asked only a few days ago if I condemned the strenuous way of living, and I answered, "Certainly not."

Sir John was a man of influence in the northern kingdom, for before he had contracted the royal alliance he was secretary to the king, and was Scotland. Those were days when bitter feuds existed between the clans and the great families of Scotland, and there was bad blood between the Lyons and the Lindsays of Crawford. The culmination of the quarrel was in a duel between Sir John Lyon and Lvon fell. The history of Scotland contains frequent and lengthy reference to these Lords of Glamis. Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Minister of Finance Declares Progressive Motions Are Essentially Inacceptable.

URGES WITHDRAWAL

Declares Political Chaos in Canada Would Follow Their Approval.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Feb. 7 .- "Whatever the consequences, this self-respecting cannot accept the amendments." Thus Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, yesterday tersely defined the government's day tersely defined the government's attitude toward 'the Progressive amendment to the address and to the sub-amendment of Capt. Shaw. Mr. Fielding urged that the amendments be withdrawn. Those who moved them seemed to think they did not involve a vote of want of confidence in the government. "I say frankly and sincerely," added Mr. Fielding with emphasis, "that they will involve a vote of no-confidence with all the consequences that may arise."

volve a vote of no-confidence with all the consequences that may arise."
"If either of these motions should pass," Mr. Fielding went on, "it would impose consequences upon this government of the gravest character." Was there to be political chaos in Canada? "Are we," he asked, "to have political conditions such as may be found in some of the turbulent states of Europe? I say that if these amendments are carried there is only states of Europe: I say that it these amendments are carried there is only one thing open to the government: You will produce a condition of po-litical chaos in Canada, a condition litical chaos in Canada, a condition not good for the Conservative party, not good for the Progressive, not good for the Liberal party and not good for the state."

Replies To Meighen.

Mr. Fielding replied to some of Mr Meighen's criticisms made earlier in the debate. "If," he said, "we suc-beded in getting the increase in the national debt down to $45,600,000 rom $92,000,000 in 1921, we did not Contining the debate on the address in the House of Commons this afternoon, W. T. Lucas, Progressive, Victoria, Alta., was "greatly disappointed" that the speech from the throne contained no reference to fur-ther tariff reduction. Progressives had been led to believe that the rehad been led to believe that the led ductions of last session were merely preparatory to still greater reductions. There should be substantial tions. increases in the British preference, and every effort should be made to develop trade with the old country. The condition of the western farm-

There was serious depopulation throughout the west. He urged a thorough study of transportation problems and an investigation of the vestern grain route via Vancouver. qualization of eastern and western freight charges was also necessary.

The people of Canada, said Mr. Lucas, were anxiously waiting to see whether the government was going to live up to the platform on which it was elected. The resolution moved by Mr. Hoey would make a showdown Congratulates Progressives. W. F. Carroll (Cape Breton South) congratulated the Progressives on the choice of their leader. Looking over the history of Canada, he believed that the two old parties had done well, and the Progressives had done as well as the old political parties. It had been said that there was too little in the speech from the throne. He was of the opinion, however, that if the members did their duty by the speech from the throne, they would be here this year W. F. Carroll (Cape Breton South) posed to take to curb mergers and combines. He hoped that the legislation proposed would be effective, and would be enforced by the government. He felt that there had always here a tendancy not only ways been a tendency, not only among the so-called mergers and combines, but also among wholesalers and retailers, to keep the prices on necessities of life to a high level.

With regard to immigration, Mr. Carroll deprecated what he called With regard to immigration, Mr. Carroll deprecated what he called "advertising of the wrong sont."
"Facts and not fiction should be preached to intending immigrants," he declared. He was opposed, on the hand, to spreading abroad the spreadi soldier settlement board in obtaining immigrants and seeing that they vere properly located on the land. Mr. Carroll reminded the house that a government had gone down to defeat in 1911 on behalf of the farmer. At the present time the existing administration was taking the only practicable means of finding new markets. Surely the Progressive did not ask Canada to take down its tariff wall while our products were prohibited from entry into United States. (Conservative cheers). Canadian products were now met on that side of the line with field guns in the shape of high tariffs. Reviews Yukon Activities. George Black (Conservative, Yu-kon) reviewed recent explorations made in Yukon territory, and stated that the existence of highly-mineral-ized ore fields had been demonstrated.

The returns had been demonstrated. The returns had been highly remunerative, and the population of the Yukon was again increasing.

Owing to the Volstead act, the Yukon was in an awkward situation. In that territory they handled the liquor wroblem as in British Columbia, except that they did not try to put over any homebrew. They had bia, except that they did not try to put over any homebrew. They had to import their liquor across the Alaskan panhandle, and this was prohibited under the Volstead act.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, dealt with the statements of Right Hon Author Maighen in finance, dealt with the statements of Right Hon. Arthur Meighen in reference to customs taxation. Mr. Meighen, he said, had quoted a number of tariff averages. These were sometimes misleading. He believed that Mr. Meighen himself had been misled by them and had given the House doubtful information. Mr. Meighen had said that the government had collected $88,000,000 of customs tax on importations of $506,000-000 as against $78,000,000 on an importation of $502,000,000 the year before. The leader of the opposition re. The leader of the opposition ad continued that a tariff averag-

Fielding Replies.

Mr. Fielding replied that the valuation of the goods imported made a vast difference. If all duty were on an ad valorem basis it would be easy to strike a percentage, but a large part was under specific duties by the barrel, pound, etc. The minister said he could quote a series of averages vastly different to those of Mr. Meighen.

Except for tobocca, cigars and cigarettes, Mr. Fielding declared, every change made during last year's revision had been downward.

Careful study was necessary before any comparisons of taxation could be made. The budget was passed last year at the end of May, and reductions were always slow to reach the consumer. He believed the effect of the tariff changes of last session would be felt more from now on.

on.

Dealing with the question of the national debt, Mr. Fielding said Mr. Meighen had declared that the debt had increased during the past year by $45,000,000. Apparently in this he had taken the calendar year. It would by $45,000,000. Apparently in this he had taken the calendar year. It would have been better to consider the figures for the fiscal year, for there were periods early in the year when revenues were higher and expenditures lower for the time being, and when it would be possible actually to show a decrease in the debt.

Mr. Meighen had overlooked one important feature, said Mr. Fielding. Of the calendar year only nine months had been under the control of the present government. Before months had been under the control of the present government. Before that it had worked under the budget proposals of its predecessor. It had found contracts signed and expenditures already arranged for. All it could do was to pay the bills as they came in. For three months of the twelve the present government had actually had little control of the expenditure.

enditure. Mr. Meighen had also overlooked the part which the National Railways played in this increase. The government had to provide for them. In 1921 $92,000,000 had been added to the 1921 $92,000,000 had been added to the public debt, and in the following year the addition was $81,000,000. "If last year we succeeded in getting down to $45,000,000 increase, as compared with $92,000,000 in 1921, then we did not do so badly," Mr. Fielding observed.

Discuss Railway Issues.

The 22,000 miles of national railfrom $92,000,000 in 1921, we did not do so badly." Had it not been for $67,000,000 in railway expenditure the government, he claimed, would have had a surplus of 30 millions odd.

Contining the debate on the adhave a surplus," Mr. Fielding declared. This year, he said, the government could provide for everything and have a surplus and have a chared. Inis year, he said, the government could provide for everything except the railways and have a balance of $30,000,000 odd or hand. However, $67,000,000 had to be provided for the railways.

Mr. Fielding declared he did not wish to enter into a discussion as to which party was responsible for the railway situation. It must be borne in mind, however, that the Canadian Northern had been "wished on" the Liberals by their predecessors in

Mr. Meighen interposed with a query if the contracts for the building of both the Canadian Northern and National transcontinental National transcontinental were not authorized by the Liberals.

Mr. Fielding replied that he believed the Canadian Northern project as originally planned was a good one. The country needed a second transcontinental railway which would be a competitor to the C. P. R. The third transcontinental railway, he said, was Debate Is Adjourned.

The minister of finance said that he felt that the members who moved the amendments (Mr. Hoey and Mr. Shaw) had acted hastily. He hoped they would see their mistake. They had not taken the best opportunity of discussing the questions of econof discussing the questions of econ-omy tariff reduction. This opportunity would occur during the budget debate later.

"Are we to have chaos in this country?" he asked. "Precedent tells us that we cannot accept any amendment to the address."

On the motion of the prime minister, seconded by Hon. W. S. Fieldister, seconded by Hon. W. S. Fleu-ing, a motion was carried to make the opening hour for the House 3 o'clock on Wednesday, commencing tomorrow, instead of 2 o'clock, as provided by the rules. L. P. Bancroft, Progressive, Sel-kirk, adjourned the debate, and on the motion of the prime minister the House adjourned.
