TRAGEDY IN BRANTFORD

Armenian Kills Daughter Whose Marriage Displeased Him.

Then He Shot Himself Through the Heart—His Obnoxious Son-in-Law Escaped Him—Husband of Murdered Girl and Man Named Siamosian, Said to Have Egged Father to Do the Deed, Arrested.

Brantford, Oct. 2.—In less than an hour after the two murderers, Bennett and Doyle, had received their death sentences, and within two blocks of the Court House itself, a double tragedy occurred Saturday morning, by which a father shot his daughter and then turned the revolver on himself.

Both were shot through the heart. Friday evening a young Armenian girl, Vartanoush Kasparian, married Vahan Sefarian. The ceremony was objected to by her father. Saturday morning the couple were walking out on Wellington street, near the Gould. Shepley & Muir wind mill works, accompanied by a boy 5 years old.

When half way up the hill the father of the girl, Kaspar Kasparian, who had been walking on the opposite side of the street, ran across and fired twice at the girl. One bullet pierced her side and the other her lungs. He attempted to fire at the other man, but the revolver only snapped, and this gave Sefarian and the boy time to run around a corner and escape.

The father then turned the revolver on himself, shooting himself through the heart.

"Oh, my God! that was my father," cried the girl in her awful agony, but the terrible injuries soon took away consciousness as she lay on the ground with her life blood staining her white blouse. She was removed to the hospital.

Sefarian, the husband of the murdered girl, was arrested shortly after, as was also a companion of the father named Siamosian, who egged on the father to do the deed.

It is alleged that the father was angered because the girl married Sefarian against his wishes, Siamosian being the favored suitor in the father's eyes because of Siamosian's money.

Murderer King Hanged.

Edmonton, Oct. 2.—Charles King, the American from Salt Lake City, Utah, who killed Charles Hayward, a young Englishman, and burned his remains, and whose execution was delayed a month owing to the celebration attending the birth of the new province, was hanged Saturday morning in the Mounted Police barracks yard. He had two trials.

Doyle Hanged on December 15.

Brantford, Oct. 2.—Justice Anglin Saturday morning sentenced Felix Doyle and Joseph Bennett to be hanged on December 15 next. A reserve case was asked for Doyle, but the judge refused to grant it, stating that the plea might be brought to the Court of Appeal. Doyle broke down under the sentence, but Bennett was immovable. Both prisoners asserted their innocence.

Is Acquitted of Murder.

Montreal, Oct. 2.—Charles Kernick, who was accused of the murder of E. Mitchell, while on a picnic some weeks ago in Dorval Islands, was acquitted Saturday evening in the Court of King's Bench, the trial having lasted several days. The parties had been drinking, and the evidence was so conflicting that the jury gave Kernick the benefit of the doubt.

Son Tries to Eat Father.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—William Little lives with his father, John Little, at 52 Starford street. On Saturday night the son came home drunk. The father remonstrated with him, and in return William assaulted his father, throwing him down and biting his chin and lip. The father was taken to the emergency to have his wounds dressed, and the son to No. 3 police station.

Pleads Guilty to Forgery.

Kingsport, Oct. 2.—John Hettnell pleaded guilty Saturday morning to passing a forged cheque for $190 on the Bank of Montreal here on September 1st. He was remanded to look up his record.

Set Fire to Hay in Stable.

Ingersoll, Oct. 2.—Thomas Denning, printer this town, appeared before Magistrate Morrison here Saturday on the serious charge of arson. Evidence was given to the effect that the prisoner set fire to the hay in a stall in the Kirwin House stables on September 25, and the magistrate committed him for trial.

$4,000,000 In One Rail Order.

Montreal, Oct. 2.—The Dominion Iron and Steel people are in luck. It was authoritatively stated yesterday that the Sydney plant received an order from the Grand Trunk Pacific for steel rails to the amount of $4,000,000. The delivery is to extend over a period of five years.

Russia Would Coax Back Douks.

London, Oct. 2.—(C. A. P.)—The St. Petersburg Berlevia Viedemost announces that the Russian Government made an offer for the Doukhobors inviting them back from Canada and promising to return them their lands with freedom to cultivate them.

Parades Called Off.

Budapest, Oct. 2.—The prefect has issued an order prohibiting the torchlight processions which the coalition parties and the Socialists respectively announced Saturday would take place October 3.

BIG CHEQUES

Colonel Rankin Received a Fat Wad of Regimental Pay From Government To-Day

The mail for Lieut.-Colonel J. B. Rankin, commanding officer of the 24th Regiment, was a valuable one this morning. It included a very official government envelope, duly registered.

Its contents will prove exceedingly interesting to the Regiment, being apportioned into four fat and satisfactory government cheques, the largest being for $1,928.40.

The cheques include the government regimental allowance and the various pay rolls.

SUDDEN JOLTS

The Tenants of the Opera House Block Were Kept in Terror This Morning

Blonde Bros. are busily at work tearing down the Bank of Montreal building. Some of the big beams as they fall down cause quite a disturbance to the adjoining tenants in the Opera House block. Several times this morning the merchants in this block were alarmed by what seemed to them to be young earthquakes.

Jack Watt says one of these surprises caught him unawares and from the way the building shook he thought the roof was coming in. E. J. MacIntyre, whose store is just across the road, says he received a sudden call from Mr. Watt this morning, and, judging from the hurried manner in which he entered the store and the marked tremor in his voice, it must have been just after the coming of the earthquake.

It is understood that Blonde Bros. have refused to be responsible for the wall between the Opera House building and the Bank of Montreal building, and have notified the company to this effect.

A LIFE-SAVER

School Trustee Lenfesty Contributes to the Globe an Article on Prowess of Lou Braxton

Saturday's Illustrated supplement to the Toronto Globe contains an excellent account of the prowess of Louis Braxton, of this city, who holds the proud record of 15 lives saved from watery graves. The Globe publishes a likeness of Mr. Braxton and enumerates some of his most conspicuous acts of heroism.

The article is from the pen of School Trustee A. E. Lenfesty and is written in a most capable and entertaining style.

AN ARTIST

Melbourne MacDowell Who Plays To-Night—A Treat in Store for Chathamites

Melbourne MacDowell, who will be seen at the Grand to-night, is one of the best known legitimate actors in America.

For fifteen years he was the stage companion of the late Fanny Davenport, whose husband he became after a few seasons as her leading man.

They lived and worked together in harmony, and when she died he inherited her repertoire and fortune.

All the properties of the Sardon dramas, in which Mr. and Mrs. MacDowell starred, are his exclusively, and for this engagement at the Grand he will present Sardon's greatest masterpiece, "Gismonda."

He will be supported by an exceptionally strong company, with Miss Charlotte Deane as leading woman.

The work that lady has already done with E. H. Sothern and Virginia Harned is sufficient proof of her perfect ability to portray the strong Sardon feminine leads.

With the magnificent scenic investiture given this great play, a magnificent production is assured.

HAS OPENED STUDIO

Mr. J. A. Brent, organist of First Presbyterian Church, has opened a studio at Mrs. Fields' Wellington street. Pupils accepted in piano and theoretical subjects.

Mr. Brent is a thorough piano student of the analytical type, hence a teacher from whom the most valuable secrets of the process of technical and musical development may be expected.

His method and special technical material, which are original, have been thoroughly tested with variously talented pupils, with almost unique success, proving them, beyond a doubt, to be among the most effective means ever devised to brush the cobwebs from the fingers. The 20th century is nothing if not progressive in the matter of piano technique.

Intending pupils will do well to apply early.

Man seldom speaks of a wife's devotion without getting in a good word for himself.

MANY THROG TO CHURCH

Largely Attended and Very Enjoyable Anniversary Services Held Yesterday

Victoria Avenue Methodists Turn Another Milestone—Good Sermons and Music

The anniversary services at the Victoria Avenue Methodist church yesterday were eminently successful. Large congregations were present both morning and evening and the proceedings proved exceedingly edifying and enjoyable.

In the morning Rev. Mr. Rutledge, the new pastor of the Park street Methodist church, occupied the pulpit and preached a very able sermon. Mr. Rutledge is proving a decided acquisition to Maple City ministerial circles.

In the evening Rev. A. H. MacGillivray, the popular and esteemed minister of the First Presbyterian church, presided and concluded the successful day with an admirable and earnest address.

The music throughout was under the talented supervision of choir-master Harry Horstead and was a tribute to his energy and capability.

It included four splendid anthems, a duet by the Messrs. Hollman and a solo by Mr. Horstead. Miss Lou Jackson, the accomplished soloist of the church, sang the solos in the anthems.

The evident prosperity and advancement of the church is largely and rightly attributed to the zealous and consecrated efforts of the able young pastor, Rev. F. E. Malott, whose ministry is proving so successful.

ONTARIO TOBACCO

Hon. Mr. Monteith Pleased With Prospects of Industry—Will Help Farmers

Hon. Mr. Monteith expresses himself greatly impressed with what he saw regarding the growth of tobacco in Ontario. He has just returned from an automobile tour in Kent County. "I am convinced that tobacco growing has a future in this country, and we are going to try to help it along," said he. He believed the acreage and the growth of tobacco and just as good tobacco can be grown as anywhere in the States, with the exception of the Havana brands. The crop is a profitable one, often yielding as much as $100 per acre to the farmer. "I propose to make investigations regarding seeds, cultivation, and methods of curing in order to place as much information as possible before the farmers of the province," he concluded. — Toronto World.

EXPLAINS IT

"I see that Mr. Morley is anxious to know who is paying for the advice given to the Mayor by the city solicitor," remarked Mayor Cowan this morning. "The annual retainer paid the city solicitor covers any advice given to the Mayor. The taxpayers are not paying any more through advice being given to the Mayor."

VESSELS IN PORT

The schooner "Azov" arrived in port yesterday afternoon with a cargo of lumber from Georgian Bay for Wm. Drader. Capt. McDonald reports a very calm trip. The Azov, however, was delayed in the St. Clair river. She ran aground and was unable to get a tug to take her off. She was towed up the river by the tug Dr. W. Brown.

The Wyandotte, from Owen Sound, captained by Mr. McFarlane, also came up yesterday afternoon with another cargo of lumber from Lion's Head for Mr. Drader.

CAPABLE MUSICIAN

The services in Christ Church yesterday were attended by large congregations, both morning and evening. Rev. Rural Dean McCosh preached excellent sermons on both occasions.

Mr. John Smith, who succeeds Walter Dolman as organist, presided at the organ for the first time and did remarkably well. Mr. Smith is a surprise as an organist and displayed wonderful talent to those who attended the services yesterday. He is a capable musician and has a very bright future before him. In the evening the Christ Church male quartet gave a much appreciated selection. The choral singing by the choir was much enjoyed.

There is something wrong with the person who complains of conditions which could be changed by a little effort.

A PROVINCIAL NEED.

A case which has occurred in Galt has drawn the attention of the province to what is, without doubt, one of the most pressing public needs of the province—that of a home for consumptives in advanced stages of the disease. Henry Lepard, of Galt, a consumptive, went to Gravenhurst, where, after undergoing an examination, he was informed that he was incurable, and could not be treated there. He tried the Western Hospital in Toronto with like results, then Hamilton, and finally returned to Galt. In Galt he found that the verdict "incurable" had closed every door against him in his own town. The hotels where he had formerly boarded declined to take him in—people are afraid of consumption, and a hotel would lose trade with an incurable consumptive on the premises. Lepard has a married sister, but she has a family, and did not feel justified in opening her home to a brother who had been denied admittance even to the hospitals. In his extremity the man sent a letter to the Galt Town Council, as follows:

"The doctor tells me that I have consumption. I am unable to work, and am without means. Having the above named disease, I find it difficult to get a boarding house. Consequently I am driven to the last extremity, and humbly request you to make some provision whereby I may receive proper treatment without endangering the lives of others."

"Henry Lepard."

Ald. Cameron, of Galt, in discussing the case when Mr. Lepard's note was before the Town Council for consideration, said:

"We're perfectly helpless, and it is a pretty serious matter. They won't take him in anywhere. He can't go to jail, he can't go to the poorhouse, he can't go to the General Hospital, his people don't want him at home, and this town has no provision to care for him. As a matter of fact, we've no place in the province for consumptive incurables."

A temporary arrangement has been made by which Lepard will live in a tent and the town will make an effort to get him into some institution where consumption is treated. What is urgently needed is a home for such cases—an institution where skilled and determined medical scientists will combat the disease, and perhaps prove that many cases that are deemed incurable are not really so. People far gone in the disease have been restored to health in New York within the past couple of years. Such a home is needed not only for the sake of those who are incurable but for the protection of society against the spread of the disease. The Lepard case will serve a good purpose if it directs public attention to the necessity of providing for an urgent need. With due arrangements for the proper and scientific treatment of consumptive patients not only would such pitiable experiences as those which the unfortunate young man Lepard has suffered be avoided, but there is good ground for the confidence that the disease might be practically stamped out of this province in one generation.

A BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE.

(The Captive One in the Toronto World)
Little self denials, little honesties, little passing words of sympathy, little nameless acts of kindness, little silent victories over favorite temptations—these are the silent threads of gold which, when woven together, gleam out so brightly in the pattern of life that God approves.—Farrar.

A group of men were talking of the recent deaths of E. F. Clarke and T. P. Coffey, when one who knew them both intimately pulled the foregoing from his vest pocket and handing it to me said: "Publish that; they practiced it." Greater praise have no men had than this.

Lord Dundonald, in an article in the Fortnightly Review, comes out strongly against compulsory military service and says that the land defence of the British Isles can safely be entrusted to the citizen soldiery. This Dundonald is the same man that was hounded out of Canada and denounced as an extreme militarist who was scheming to put the whole male population in uniform.

"GISMONDA" AT THE GRAND TONIGHT.

Melbourne MacDowell and his leading lady, Charlotte Deane, are reviving the famous Victorian Sardou plays on their present trip through the United States. These plays, among them Gismonda and Fedora, have made the everlasting reputation of the world's greatest actress, Sarah Bernhardt, and during his present tour Mr. MacDowell will put them on in a lavish but historically correct manner. The company numbers some twenty-three actors and actresses especially selected for this record-breaking tour which will take the famous American classic actor all through the East along the Atlantic seaboard, the central West and the Northwest. A card of scenery is required for each of the two plays in which Mr. MacDowell and his company at present appear.

The scenic production and accessories of "The Isle of Bong Bong" are said to be elaborate in the extreme. Manager B. C. Whitney has excelled all previous endeavors in securing a tremendous all-star cast for this, his latest and most ambitious offering, which comes to the Grand to-morrow night. The inimitable dialect comedian, John W. Ransome, who won international renown as the creator of the "Cincinnati Brewer" in "The Prince of Pilsen" has the leading comedy role; sprightly and vivacious Alice Yorke is the prima donna; Anna Boyd, John W. Hendricks, Walter Ware, Charles Parcor and other well-known stage celebrities are numbered among the principals.

"ON THE BRIDGE AT MIDNIGHT."

Persons, who, besides enjoying a good play are interested in a stage achievement that took twenty men five months to build, will be sure to see Klimt & Gazzo's "On the Bridge at Midnight," which is coming on Thursday, Oct. 5. They will find the $10,000 reproduction of the jack-knife style of draw-bridge equal to the expectation aroused by its fame, and they will be delighted with the bright comedy and romance of W. C. Roberts' well-known drama. The author and producers were determined that "On the Bridge at Midnight" should not offer the usual cheap, sensational effects but, on the contrary, should be a play of genuine merit, not by any means wholly dependent on its remarkable climax for success.

LOCAL LEGAL

Trial Court, before Britton, J.—
Bank of Montreal vs. Scott.—Judgment (G.A.B.) in action tried with-out a jury at Chatham. Action against Margaret Scott as endorser of a promissory note made by Scott Brothers & Co. on May 12, 1903, payable on demand to her order for $5,000. Defendant Margaret Scott is the wife of J. L. Scott, who was a member of the firm of Scott Brothers & Co. The note was endorsed by Margaret Scott for the accommodation of that firm, and was delivered by that firm to plaintiffs as collateral security for the indebtedness of that firm to plaintiffs. Held that, assuming that there exists the presumption that Margaret Scott, living with her husband, was under and subject to his influence, so that she was entitled to independent advice, plaintiffs have not adduced any evidence to rebut that presumption, and the case is completely covered by Adams vs. Cox, 35 S. C. R. 393. Action dismissed with costs. Thirty days' stay. J. G. Kerr, Chatham, for plaintiffs. M. Wilson, K. C. J. M. Pike and W. E. Gundy, Chatham, for defendant Margaret Scott.

CANADIAN GRAIN FOR SCOTLAND.

Representatives of Co-operative Concern Come to Investigate.

New York, Sept. 28.—Two visitors from the other side in New York this week are Director T. C. McNab and Commercial Manager W. F. Stewart of the Scottish Co-operative Wholesale Society, Limited, whose head offices are in Glasgow. These gentlemen are representatives of an industry which, last year, placed upon the market goods to the value of $6,081,272, and which gives constant employment to 7,000 persons. They are here primarily to look into the grain situation. They will visit all the larger grain-producing centres in the United States and Canada.

Discussing the purposes of his visit, Mr. Stewart said: "We are here to seek additional knowledge in regard to the production and marketing of grain in the United States and Canada. The society is the owner of three flour mills, with a weekly production of 10,500 sacks of 280 pounds each, and as 95 per cent. of the grain consumed is foreign, it behooves us to keep in close touch with all markets."

Humor and Philosophy

NEVER DOUBT IT.

No, dear: It is not a bum steer. What you were told will hold Good. You may have understood There was some doubt About It.

Not so. The seasons fit.

First it's July

And then something else by and by.

That's why

We arise right here

Of successful contradiction.

It's not fiction:

It's a fact.

And you may act

Accordingly.

See?

If doubters come

Saying there may be some

Mistake,

Take

A fall out of them and show

By the watch it is so.

It is as sure as shooting

Or the tooting

Of Gabriel's trumpet.

We don't like to jump

At conclusions, but in this case

We're not afraid to say

Without hawing or humming

That Christmas is coming.

At first blush

You may be inclined to say: "Oh, hush!

You're giving us grief."

But really it's no bluff.

Investigate and see.

And you'll be

Convinced that it is not hot air.

But that it is really, truly,

Executing a Monster Elephant.

The Indian elephant named Fritz in the zoological gardens of Berlin was Europe's largest animal until it finally had to be killed for distemper. Dr. Schilling was appointed hangman. First he tried strangulation by means of ropes and pulleys, but the ropes broke and the elephant remained intact. Next he tried poisoning. The animal was given fodder of fresh bananas, which was devoured with a relish. Then a few bananas were dipped in carbolic acid, but no amount of coaxing could make Fritz "go" them. Finally shooting was tried. The heaviest big game rifle was procured and a shot was fired into the left armpit. The elephant merely looked around in surprise, the bullet having fattened against the shoulder blade. Then a Maxim gun was pulled up. A fusillade of projectiles was pumped into the big beast under the right armpit. The elephant went down like a house. In its death struggle, which was studied by many scientists, it broke all its chains and reduced part of the iron fence in the paddock to scrap iron.

Wolsley's Opinion of the Chinese.

It was Lord Wolsley who regarded the Chinese as the greatest race in the world. His opinion was formed about 1860, when he was in China, and he never renounced it. He said to a representative of the Strand Magazine: "The Chinese people possess all the elements of being a great people. They have courage, physical power and absolute contempt for death. Today in that country soldiering is looked down upon. Only the 'failures in life' enter the army. Let a Blomberg or a Napoleon rise up among them, and in two generations they would be the greatest nation and conquering power in the world. They only need a leader. Give them progress, and they will conquer. Three hundred years ago they were the head of the world, but their growth was stunted. China wants a modern man with modern ambitions. Let their leader come, and they must revive again."

Not So Poor.

He started in life as a barfoot boy Without any shoes or hat.

But he had enough swaddling clothes, I guess,

To carpet a good sized flat.

Making It Easy.

"You should follow the example of George Washington, who never told a lie."

"Perhaps his mother never asked him on a hot day if he had been swimming."

Takes Those She Can Survive.

"Tasty tries all of his jokes on his wife before publication."

"Is she a good judge?"

"Well, if she doesn't fall over dead he uses them."

Same Results.

He dug down for an auto

And for repairs dug deeper.

It seemed a foolish thing to do,

For dynamite was cheaper.

The American Girl.

WHAT MAKES HER POPULAR.

The American girl is admired and liked at home and abroad because she is the happiest, usually the loveliest, and in the end the most successful of all.

She is fond of life and is alive to everything beautiful and good in existence. Mrs. Langley has said that the American woman is able to learn from her English sisters.

Dr. Pierce, the specialist in women's diseases, of Buffalo, N. Y., advises simple exercises for the head, and in the end the most successful of all.

But many women are confined to the house and their household duties and their business confines them to poorly ventilated rooms.

If a woman suffers from a headache, a backache, a sensation of irritability or twitching and uncontrollable nervousness, something must be wrong with the head or back, she naturally says, but all the time the real trouble very often centers in the woman's organs. In 98 per cent of cases the seat of the difficulty is here, and a woman should take rational treatment for its cure. The local disorder and inflammation of the delicate special organs of the sex should be treated steadily and systematically.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Russia Grateful to Man Who Ended the Big War.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—M. Witte, the senior Russian peace plenipotentiary, returned to St. Petersburg yesterday, and the enthusiastic welcome accorded by the awaiting crowds fully demonstrates the great popularity of the statesman, and public appreciation of the services he has rendered his country at Portsmouth. Will Help It Along.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—Hon. Mr. Montford expresses himself greatly impressed with what he saw regarding the growth of tobacco in Ontario. He has just returned from an automobile tour in Kent County. "I am convinced that tobacco growing has a future in this country, and we are going to try to help it along," said he. He believes the acreage can be greatly increased and just as good tobacco can be grown as anywhere in the States, with the exception of the Havana brands. The crop is a profitable one, often yielding as much as $100 per acre to the farmer.

"I propose to make investigations regarding soils, cultivation, and methods of curing in order to place as much information as possible before the farmers of the province," he concluded.

STRANGER THAN FICTION

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized The Treatment of Stomach Troubles.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery nor yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine out of ten suffer. The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges, containing vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin (government test), golden seal and diastase. The tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power to Stuart's Tablets show that one grain of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to thoroughly digest 3,000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap cathartics, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion. If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple, because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive power which weak stomachs lack and unless that lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure by the use of "tonics," "pills" and cathartics which have absolutely no digestive power.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores and the regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit better than any other argument.

"Electrified."

The startling physiological effects of electricity upon the human system fully warrant the use of the word as a superlative term to express enthusiastic conditions. This expression must have come into use at an early day, soon after Franklin made the static electrical machine a matter of general knowledge, for Thomas Jefferson in his autobiography stated, "Paine's 'Common Sense' electrified us." Thomas Paine's book was issued Jan. 1, 1776, and as Jefferson's autobiography was founded on his diary it is probable that the sentence was written by Jefferson at the same time.

Antiquity of Chairs.

Chairs were in use in Egypt so long ago as 3399 B. C. The Chinese employed them from about 1300 B. C. In India they were used and are mentioned as dating from 1100 B. C. Horse chairs with backs were in use in India A. D. 300. They are known to have been employed in Rome so early as A. D. 70, being mentioned by Pliny at that date. Chairs with foot rests were used in Rome A. D. 150.

STOLE BUTTER

Mrs. Pollard River Road Dover was Robbed Last Friday Night—Coggan and McGregor Investigating

Miss Pollard, who lives on the River Road, Dover, near the County House of Refuge, has reported to the police authorities that last Friday night her house was broken into and a 16-pound jar of butter and some other provisions were stolen.
The theft was reported to Crown Attorney H. D. Smith, who at once sent High Constable Coggan and James McGregor out on the case. It is expected that the thief will soon be caught, as Miss Pollard has a pretty good idea who did the robbing.
The farmers along the bank of the river are making continual complaints about people going down from the city in naphtha launches and stealing their fruit," remarked Chief of Police John Holmes this morning. "Some of the farmers are now on the lookout these fine evenings and are prepared to give a warm reception to all comers."

EVERYBODY WORKS

Rube Waddell the Well Known Baseball Pitcher is Roasted in Rhyme

Philadelphia, October 1. — Rube Waddell is getting it on all sides now. Patrons of baseball here, like his teammates, believe he is shirking. During the Chicago games the following verses were repeatedly sung by the fans on the bleachers:—
Everybody works but Reuben;
He sits around all day;
His feet upon a table,
And surely feeling gay.
His comrades they are frantic
To land that flag for us,
Everybody works but Reuben—
The darned old cuss.
Eddie Plank is pitching,
And winning every day;
His teammates all support him,
No errors mar their play.
There's victory on the hill top,
The boys are feeling well;
Everybody works in the ball yard
But Rube Waddell.
The Athletics' players are sore on Gennie Mark for pampering Waddell, and there is a movement on foot to have a committee of players wait on the management with a protest against easing up on Waddell while other players are held to strict account. They think Rube should be forced to work.

A CARIBOO HORN

W. K. Merrifield is a great lover of relics. He is just now showing his friends a part of cariboo's horn which he found in a fence corner on the 4th concession, Chatham Township. Mr. Merrifield was out picking walnuts when he made this extraordinary find. Cariboo have been extinct in Kent ever since the time of the early settlers so this is a very old relic. They are very plentiful in Northern Ontario. Their horns are like a reindeer and the present specimen came from an old one. Its horns must have been fully ten feet across. When Mr. Merrifield was a boy living on the farm with his father at Southwood he has seen cariboo with their horns measuring eight feet across.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The regular monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association was held this morning at the home of the President, Rev. Dr. Battisby. Owing to the absence from the Maple City of quite a number of the ministers the attendance was not large. The morning was spent in an interchange of thought on subjects of mutual interest. Some discussion was given to the question of discouraging Sunday funerals and the matter of having a band in attendance at Sunday parades. The inadequate lighting of our streets, especially in the vicinity of churches, on Sunday evenings, is a grievance that received its share of attention this morning. The ministers present voiced the sentiments of their congregations in protesting against the present conditions.
At the next meeting, which will be held at the home of the Rev. F. E. Malott, the Rev. W. L. Rutledge will give a sermon outline. Other matters of interest will be up for discussion.

CASTRO'S TRUMP CARD

Involves Britain and Germany in Venezuelan Game.

By Debt-Unifying Arrangement in Largest Obligations Thinks He Can Count Upon at Least Interference By These Powers If United States and France Became Impressively Insistent—How It Was Done.

New York, Oct. 2.—The Herald has the following Washington special:—
Has a new Venezuelan complication arisen? Some persons with an intimate knowledge of developments within the country dominated by President Castro aver that a situation has developed within recent months which is of far greater importance to this country than anything which has as yet arisen out of the asphalt company dispute or the French Cable Co. case.

Gen. Castro, according to these persons, has played a trump card and has succeeded in uniting Great Britain and Germany in a common interest in the greatest of all Venezuelan obligations. Debt previously separate and distinct, one owing to British subjects and the other to Germans, have been consolidated and unified. A large proportion of the customs receipts of all Venezuelan ports have been allocated to meet the interest and sinking fund charges.

That it is a quasi Government affair, so far as Great Britain and Germany are concerned, is indicated by the fact that the funds necessary to meet the interest and sinking fund charges are to be paid over, every fifteen days, in their proper proportions, to the English and German Ministers at Caracas.

Would Stir Up Trouble.
According to the extreme view of the case, this debt unifying arrangement is the outcome of a carefully considered plan on the part of Gen. Castro to place Great Britain and Germany on a buffer between this country and France on the one hand and Venezuela on the other. What, say these persons, can be done, even upon a joint demonstration against Venezuela? If we seize the custom houses of Guayaquil and Puenabaca, we are only creating a buffer between us and only 10 per cent. of the revenues are already assigned for the payment of debts to England, Germany and Italy and other powers. If we seize other custom houses it is only to find that by lawful contract sixty per cent. of the revenues are the property of England and Germany.

Would Not Stand Idly By.
A moiety of money, to be sure, over and above the assigned percentages of customs receipts, is left at each port, but it is likely, in view of the situation created, that England and Germany will stand idly by, in the event of the United States and France seizing customs houses in order to coerce President Castro? These two countries have now a vital interest at stake in all the customs revenue of Venezuela arising out of any port whatsoever. A blockade, "pacific" or warlike, would disturb the natural business of Venezuela and upset the flow of revenue.
It is not at all impossible, therefore, that a demonstration upon the part of this country would bring a strong protest from Great Britain and Germany, and send the war ships of these nations to the Caribbean Sea to protect their own rights.

Easton was 26 years of age, and leaves a wife and three children.

Port Arthur, Oct. 2.—Baron Komura, Japanese peace commissioner, passed through here Friday morning. He was greatly interested in the mammoth elevators.

To Develop Jap Commerce.
Tokio, Oct. 2.—A joint meeting of the chambers of commerce of the Empire was formally opened here to-day in the local chamber of commerce building.

The meeting has been called to consider the best method of development of commerce and industry.
Forty-nine chambers of commerce are represented.

Brantford a Main Line City.
Brantford, Oct. 2.—Brantford Saturday welcomed the advent of the Grand Trunk main line by one of the most notable celebrations ever experienced in the history of the city. All the leading magnates of the G.T.R., representatives of the Provincial Government, Mayors of Toronto and other large cities, presidents of neighboring boards of trade, and many others were present, and assisted in making the demonstration one long to be remembered. Thousands of citizens were present at the reception. While hundreds of others lined the streets to witness the procession. The celebration centred chiefly in the speech making at the new station.

Britain's Naval Plans.

London, Oct. 2.—The Observer, following up its article of last Sunday on Great Britain's naval plans, says the scheme is to establish bases at Gibraltar, Dover and Singapore, replacing Weihaiwei, Trincomalee (Ceylon), Halifax and Esquimaux. The paper adds that Dover two years hence will be fully equipped as a first-class base and fortress.

Big Strike Is On.

Berlin, Oct. 2.—A lockout in three of the greatest electrical companies in Berlin began yesterday. It affects all the factories of the Algemeine, the Siemens-Halske and the Siemens-Schuckert Companies, except one lamp factory, and throws about $3,000 workmen out of employment.

The Wheat Market.

Winnipeg, Oct. 2.—The total amount of wheat marketed along both lines of railway in the Canadian west is 12,049,000 bushels, compared with 2,441,000 last year. The inspections total 5,000,000 bushels against 1,769,000 bushels in the same period in 1904.

Insurrection Continues.

Woodsen Toothpicks.

"Stop chewing toothpicks, young man, if you value your life," said a physician to one of his patients. "You unconsciously swallow little shreds of the wood, which are not digestible and which become compact in the stomach. Finally you are annoyed by a hacking cough and the spitting of blood and you do not know what is the matter with you. You imagine you have consumption or some similar affliction when it is only the foreign substance in your stomach, that makes the strongest protest against your carelessness or ignorance in allowing it to accumulate there. Stop chewing toothpicks and swallowing quack nostrums, and by taking ordinary care of yourself you will live out the allotted threescore and ten years."

A Storm on the Pacific.

The captain of a San Francisco tug thus describes a storm on the Pacific: "When I say that the waves ran mountain high I am not exaggerating the situation in the least. The tug would be poised on the crest of a sea and then be plunged down into a valley of water which seemed a mile below us. At times the moon would come out through the clouds, and in the uncertain light the waves seemed twice as high. The wind was blowing a perfect hurricane, and our lee rail was under water all the time. The angry sea appeared raging above, below and all around us, and nearly every wave into which we dipped would wash over the tug. It was impossible to remain afloat, for the lower deck was flooded."

See East King St. Show Window. In presenting our overcoats we would you to bear in mind this: although Ready-to-wear they are a nearer approach to custom tailor ideals than custom tailored garments. The diversity of fabrics and models is too great to speak of here. But you may be certain of finding every model—from the smart top-coat to the long Chesterfield, that is good taste and good style.

EVANGELISTIC NOTES

Six congregations in the Township of Harwich, the House of Refuge and Home of the Friendless, were supplied with services yesterday by union men. Mr. Robert Campbell, student, on his way back from Russington, where he has been engaged in mission work during his summer vacation, taking three of these services. At Huffman's church, 10th Line, their Sunday school was found a fine working order, over 20 young men and women in their Bible and every teacher and officer at their post. A bright room, bright teaching, and the best of order and attention by the boys and girls impressed visitors most favorably.

Several good points came out in studying the lessons—one was that Belshazzar had one good point, anyway—he paid the prophet although he preached right at him, a most unusual thing. One infant class, three intermediate and the Bible class, a total present of 66. All adjourned to the congregation above at eleven. Their choir is a good one and the congregation all singing above the average. A friendly visit and a good dinner at Mr.
Bustia's and then on to Forbes church. Their Sabbath school also meets before the congregation. Children are reported as scarce in this vicinity, only 21 on the roll with 16 present—a great contrast to what it was 20 years ago. This intelligent neighborhood was well represented; their anthem being well sung and their choir leading strong. After two hours of rest and refreshment at the home of Mr. Newcomb, Harwich and Howard town line, where some sad memories of the past were recalled and made brighter with the glad prospects of the future; in a Heavenly Father's hand for His children, we said farewell. Soon reached Zion church. A country evening congregation is always large as a rule, and this was no exception. It is a pleasure to see the faces of so many old friends and new, and to be greeted with, "Yes, don't you remember it was at Mr. Hammond's meetings in Chatham over 20 years ago." He had not forgotten it. Neither had His God. Here we had a most difficult selection by the choir, it enlivening the service, but needed more practice. Their voices, with cultivation, will blend and be a help. The Sunday school here is not what it should be for such a neighborhood and only 22 present. Awake, awake, put out thy strength, O Zion.

Die in Buggy.
Cayuga, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Daniel Hero of Ononda, while returning home from Cayuga in a buggy last evening, suddenly took sick on the road and expired in a few minutes. The cause of death was heart failure.

and the disease attacked him while on fever report to 8 p. m. yesterday: New cases, 23, total 3,923; deaths 3, total 201; new food cases under treatment

227; discharged 2,405.

Abolish Net Fishing.
Belleville, Oct. 2.—The Ontario Government has decided not to issue any licenses for net fishing in the Bay of Quinte this season, from Deseronto to the Murray Canal.

Woodstock Man Suicides.
Woodstock, Oct. 2.—George C. Campbell, aged 60, of the firm of Brash & Campbell, implicated agents, committed suicide Saturday by taking carbolic acid.

EX-CHATHAMITE

Mr. Walter F. Payne, news editor of the Manitoba Free Press at Winnipeg, was presented this week with a handsome cabinet of silverware by his associates in all departments.

Mr. Payne is to be married in Detroit on Wednesday, and the address accompanying the gift congratulated him on the important step he was to take.—The Toronto Globe.

Mr. Payne was formerly an esteemed member of The Planet staff and is well known in Chatham. His many Maple City friends are extending congratulations.

A Double Bull.
A double bull in a single sentence was perpetrated by the late John Holingshead, an Englishman. He wrote,
"When Lord Mohun was killed he was living in Macclesfield house, Gerrard street, Soho, at the back of Leicester house, a site now occupied by the defunct Pelican club."

Vindicated.
"I congratulate you. I understand you have been vindicated."
"Triumphantly, Johnson. At the first trial the jury disagreed; at the second trial my lawyers found a flaw in the indictment, and the case was thrown out of court!"

Accommodating.
The Landlady—Will you have coffee,
tea or cocoa, Mr. Slopy? Mr. Slopy

BAD BOY

Policeman Peter Dezelia gave rather an unexpected and unpleasant surprise to two young boys on Friday and incidentally restored a stolen rig to the rightful owner, J. Glas-cow.

The little fellows, who are eight and ten years old respectively, attended the Fair on Thursday and, seeing a horse and rig tied up on the grounds they appropriated it to their own use and drove out to Charing Cross. They tried to put up there for the night but were refused, so they drove home and tied the horse up in the yard at the rear of one of the boy's homes. They drove away

JOYS OF MATERNITY

A WOMAN'S BEST HOPES REALIZED

Mrs. Potts Tells How Women Should Prepare for Motherhood

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to childless and lonely old age. Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to a displacement of the womb or lack of strength in the generative organs.

Mrs. Anna Potts

Frequent headache and distressing pains, accompanied by offensive discharges and generally by irregular and scanty menstruation indicate a displacement or nerve degeneration of the womb and surrounding organs.

The question that troubles women is how can a woman who has some female trouble bear healthy children?

Mrs. Anna Potts, of 510 Park Avenue, Hot Springs, Ark., writes:

My dear Mrs. Pinkham:—During the early part of my married life I was delicate in health; both my husband and I were very anxious for a child to bless our home, but I had two miscarriages, and could not carry a child to maturity. A neighbor who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it. I did so and soon felt that I was growing stronger, my headache and backaches left me, I had no more bearing-down pains, and felt like a new woman. Within a year I became the mother of a strong, healthy child, the joy of our home. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a splendid remedy, and I wish every woman who wants to become a mother would try it.

Actual sterility in woman is very rare. If any woman thinks she is sterile, let her try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free to expectant or would-be mothers.

SHOT WHILE DUCK HUNTING.

Yesterday a hammerless gun in the hands of Keyes discharged accidentally while the young men were in a boat, and the charge entered Klotz's thigh, passing through his leg. He was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital. His physicians think the leg can be saved.

Demands Instant Release.

Tangier, Sept. 30.—An official of the United States legation at Tangier has gone to Fez under instructions from Washington to demand immediate repatriation from the Sultan for the refusal of Mohammed El Torres, Commissioner for Foreign Affairs at Tangier, to release an imprisoned man who is under American protection.

New Pacific Cables.

Liverpool, Sept. 30.—Geo. G. Ward, vice-president of the Commercial Cable Co., sailed for New York yesterday on the steamer Cedric, having completed arrangements for extending the Pacific cable to China and Japan. The new cables, both to China and Japan, will be laid, and in operation, on or before April 1, 1906.

TAKE MY CURE, WHEN CURED YOU PAY ME

The fear that you could not be cured may have deterred you from taking honest treatment, or you may have been one of the unfortunates who have been treated in vain by inexperienced physicians, free treatments, free trial samples, patent medicines, electric belts and other similar devices. Such treatments cannot and will never cure you, nor will these malades cure themselves. When I offer you a cure, and am willing to risk my professional reputation in curing you, and have such faith and confidence in my continued success in treating these diseases that I will not be paid until you are cured, a better proposition cannot be offered to the sick and afflicted. This should convince the skeptical that I mean what I say, and so exactly as I advertise, as I am positive of curing you in the shortest possible time, without injurious after-effects. My charges will be as low as possible, for conscientious, skillful and successful services, and my guarantee is simple and true. No dollar need be paid until cured. I have it diploma and certificates from the various colleges and state boards of medical examiners, which should be sufficient guarantee of my standing and abilities. It makes no difference whether you write to me for my opinion of your case, which I give you free of charge. I want to hear from patients who have been cured, as I guarantee a positive cure for all chronic, nervous, blood and skin diseases, which I accept for treatment. I not only cure the condition itself, but likewise all the complications, such as rheumatism, kidney and bladder troubles, blood poison, physical and nervous debility, lack of vitality, stomach troubles, etc. All medicines for patients are prepared in my own laboratory, I send the requirements of each individual case. All medicines for Canadian patients sent from Windsor, Ont., duty and transportation prepaid. I will send a booklet on the subject which contains the 14 diplomas and certificates, entirely free. Address simply, Dr. E. Goldberger, 208 Woodward Ave., Suite 311, Detroit, Mich.

Beresford's New Cook

By A. M. DAVIES OGDEN

Copyright, 1905, by A. M. D. OGDEN

"I don't care what she is—heathen, Hottentot or bank robber," cried Mrs. Beresford desperately. She had followed her husband into the hall and now stood clinging to his buttonhole in wistful appeal. "But I must have somebody. Here are the Witherses and all those others coming to dinner and no one to cook a thing. I have telephoned the intelligence office, and Mr. Lewis says she will have a girl at the station for your train, so all you will have to do is speak to her and bring her along."

Beresford gasped. "What, me?" he ejaculated. "Speak to a strange woman in a railway station and ask her if she is a sudden fear, she sprang out of bed and ran to the dressing table.

"My sapphire bracelet!" she cried. "That girl came so late last night that I had to hurry to dress and forgot half my things. I know I left the bracelet here, but I supposed you had put it away. Did you, Norah; did you?"

Norah gave a gasp. "The sapphire bracelet, is it? Sure, I didn't see it."

"What's the row?" inquired Beresford, appearing at the door of his dressing room. His wife flung herself at him.

"The cook—the cook is gone!" she panted. "And my sapphire bracelet! And here's a letter from Mrs. Lewis saying that the girl came back to the office last night and said she couldn't find you. Who—who did you bring out then?"

"Oh, my soul!" murmured Beresford, with a swift recollection of the big woman. "Never mind, puss; I'll find it for you."

"Find it?" wailed Mrs. Beresford. "My lovely sapphire bracelet! Your wedding present to me! Oh, Harry, reproachfully, 'how could you bring such a person into the house?'"

"Well, I like that!" exclaimed Beresford. "How was I to know?"

"You—you ought to have," wept his wife. "And that was her last word. He should have known."

The bracelet, a very handsome one, was of rather an uncommon pattern, and Beresford had no doubt of being able to trace it, yet his effort met with no success. And then one morning Mrs. Beresford, languidly opening a letter postmarked Boston, uttered a little shriek.

"Listen, oh, listen!" she cried. "It's from the cook! Listen!"

Dear Madam—I cannot hope for your forgiveness, and yet I think if you knew the whole story you might be a little bit sorry for me. I am a widow with two children to support, one of whom has been ill for a long time. All illnesses are terribly expensive. All I own in the world is a small property that my husband left heavily mortgaged, and the mortgage was coming due. As I stood in the station that day, having come to New York in the vain hope of finding some one to help me, I was mad with fear and anxiety. How was I to meet the mortgage? What was to become of my children? And then your husband spoke to me. Can you utterly condemn me that I was caught at the chance? I was desperate. I came. You know the rest. I can cook. I did my best with the dinner. And then, pleading sickness—and God knows that was not entirely untrue; I think I must have been crazy—I got upstairs, and when your maid went to fill the hot water bag it was easy enough to seize the bracelet off the dressing table. It seemed as though it had been left there for me. And it saved us. But here is the pawn ticket, and if I work my fingers to the bone you shall have the money too. Try to pity me. MARY MATHEWSON.

Mrs. Beresford, whose sweet voice was by this time shaking suspiciously, laid down the letter.

"Oh, poor thing!" she cried. "What did I tell you? I felt somehow all the time that she was all right."

"Oh, did you?" ejaculated her husband in some indignation. "Well, you took a queer way of showing it."

But Mrs. Beresford, a reminiscent look creeping into her face, heaved a regretful sigh.

"Yes," she murmured yearningly, "she certainly was a good cook."

Heaving the Anchor.

Sam Pemberton, who had been in his younger days captain of a whaling vessel, was invited with his wife to take tea at a neighbor's, and during the meal some one passed the captain a plate of cheese, whereupon his wife became much agitated and exclaimed: "Sam Pemberton, you be very careful how you get cheese. You know how I have to suffer whenever you do." All who were seated about the table were curious to know how it was that Mrs. Pemberton should suffer when Mr. Pemberton ate cheese, and so the captain explained after this manner:

"I'll tell you what Marlar means. Ye see, about a week after I'd left the ship we were visitin' our daughter Jane down in th' city, an' one night we had for supper some cheese or good deal like this, an' as I like cheese I eat quite er lot on it. Waal, after I'd gone ter bed I had th' greatest dream ye ever heard tell of. I dreamed that I was aboard me ole ship, an' there cum up such er storm as ye never see. I see there wasn't but one thing ter do, so I yelled ter th' first mate, 'Heave over th' bow anchor.' Waal, he tried, but somehow he couldn't do it, whereupon I sprung up an' yelled, 'Stand aside, ye landlubber, an' see me heave it.' An' after tuggin' a good deal over it went. But, would ye believe me, thet ole bow anchor begun ter holler: 'Sam Pemberton! Sam Pemberton, what are ye er doin' off?'"

"Thet waked me up, an' what dew ye s'pose I'd did?"

"Instid of throwin' over the bow anchor I'd pitched Marlar out of bed!"

Washington After Retirement.

George Washington's life, after he retired from public service and went to live on his beautiful estate, Mount Vernon, was simple and methodical in the extreme. Every morning he rose early, made a plain toilet, and, although he had a body servant, washed and shaved himself. Before breakfast it was his custom to write a few letters with his favorite gold pen and then visit the stables. He kept his own accounts very carefully, and his handwriting was remarkable for neatness, accuracy and uniformity of stroke. His breakfast usually consisted of Indian cakes and honey and tea or coffee. After leisurely partaking of it, he daily mounted his horse and visited every corner of his property. His appearance on horseback was most imposing, as he always wore a riding frock of handsome drab colored broadcloth, ornamented with plain gilt buttons and a waistcoat of fine scarlet cloth trimmed with gold lace and gilt buttons. His special attendant, Bishop, in scarlet livery, always rode behind him.

SHE WAS IN BED FOR THREE YEARS

Pain-Racked Woman Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills

Strong Statement of Mrs. James Hughes, of Morley, Ont. — She's Strong and Healthy Once More.

Morley, Ont., Oct. 2.—(Special).—What Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing for the suffering women of Canada will never be fully known. It is only when some courageous woman breaks the secrecy that covers woman and her troubles that a passing glimpse of their great work is given. For this reason a statement made by Mrs. J. S. Hughes, of this place, is of more than passing interest.

"I was a great sufferer for four years," says Mrs. Hughes. "I was treated by five doctors and a specialist from the U. S. I tried nearly every kind of medicine I could hear of, but none seemed to do me any good."

"I was in bed for nearly three years," she says, "and my head, over my eyes, across my back and through my left side. I took fourteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and now I am strong and able to do a good day's work, thanks to 'Dodd's Kidney Pills.'"

THE WONDERS OF THE BODY.

Its mechanism, like delicate machinery, by even a slight cause is so disarranged as to be practically useless. A headache is no trifling matter, because the stomach, kidneys and liver are sure to be affected. To cure the cause of headaches and prevent new attacks, use Ferrozone; it aids the stomach by supplying nourishing blood, vitalizes the nerves and brain instantly. Ferrozone braces—gives tone—elevates your spirits. No such health bringer known. Fifty cents per box or fifty chocolate coated tablets at all dealers.

Canada Writes Australia For Preferential Compact.

The Federal Government is considering the communication.

PAIN ABOUT THE HIPS.

It is a common complaint with women. The right treatment is Nerviline, which penetrates to the seat of the pain immediately. Nerviline warms and soothes the affected parts, draws out the irritation and pain, allows the patient ease after one rubbing. No liniment so economical and safe. Nearly fifty years in use, and the demand immensely greater every day! Nerviline must be good.

Notice Your Waiter.

"Did you wait on me?" asked the man at the corner table.

"No, sir," said the tall waiter.

"Then who did?" grumbled the corner man.

"I don't know, sir," was the reply. "You'd better ask the head waiter."

The corner man did ask, but the chief of the staff was no wiser than his assistant.

"What kind of looking man was he?" he asked.

"How should I know?" stormed the hungry diner. "I didn't come here to make a study of waiters' faces. I came to get something to eat, and if somebody doesn't hurry up—"

The head waiter stepped aside too soon to hear the rest of the complaint. "He is like ninety-nine out of a hundred men that dine out," he remarked.

"None of them knows his waiter. There would be much less confusion if people would be a little more observing. Any man can take a peep at his waiter without loss of dignity. However, few do, and as a consequence they all have men that pass with the query, 'Are you the fellow that waited on me?'"

Champagne.

There are two peculiarities about champagne drinking which are capable of explanation. The one is the rapidity with which the wine exhilarates notwithstanding the small proportion of alcohol it contains. This is due to the carbonic acid gas evolved, which is inhaled while drinking, for it is the property of this gas to expedite the action of anything with which it is associated.

It is estimated that one glass of champagne is equal in effect to two glasses of still wine of the same strength and is more rapid in action. The other peculiarity is the sort of lethargy or deadness which follows after excessive champagne drinking. This is analogous to the stupor produced by carbonic acid gas, but it is assisted and intensified by the excess of sugar deranging the stomach. The undigested sugar turns into acid, and thus it is that too much champagne is apt to produce dyspepsia.

Not Just What She Meant.

The former head of a large private school in Cleveland was a gentleman of dignified bearing, refined and correct always in manner and speech. By birth and early rearing he was a Vermont and doubtless of straight Puritan extraction. One day in his boyhood his mother called him in from the yard where he was playing with some other boys to say to him, in a tone suggestive of mingled sadness and severity:

"Noble, my son, I never thought to hear you say a swear word."

"Why, mother," said the boy, "I didn't use any swear word. I only said 'the devil.' Nobody thinks that's swearing."

"I don't care," cried the mother quickly. "It's making light of sacred things."

Why the Horse Acted So.

"I wonder what the matter with that horse," said a man to his wife while he was in the act of unbiting the animal. The horse was rearing and plunging and displaying signs of terror whenever his master came near him. A passerby came to his aid, and while quieting the animal explained to the owner. "I noticed," said he, "that you just came out of the zoo over there. A slight scent of the wild animals has clung to your clothing, and although your horse has probably never seen anything wilder than a cow, his instinct tells him that where that scent is there is danger. If we wear off scent and you will have no more trouble."

Crescent Shaped Rolls.

The little horseshoe shaped rolls to be seen in every baker's shop in the world have an interesting history. In 1687 Vienna was besieged by the Turks. They were about to enter the town by an underground passage that they had dug when the bakers, who work all night in order to deliver hot bread in the morning, gave the alarm. The authorities were so grateful they allowed them to manufacture a breakfast roll in the shape of the crescent moon, which is a device of the Turkish banner.

A Mathematical Incongruity.

How is this, from an expert accountant:

10 - 10 = 0
100 - 100 = 0

By axiom 1 things equal to the same thing are equal to each other; hence 10 - 10 equals 100 - 100.

Divide each side of the equation by 10 - 10, and the result is 1 equals 10. Figures will lie, even women's.

Safe.

"But," said the lawyer, "your case seems hopeless. I don't see what I can do for you. You admit that you beat your wife."

"Yes," replied the defendant, "but my wife's testimony will discount that. She'd never admit that she was beaten."

No Views.

Mrs. Gushington—I suppose, now that you have been abroad, you have your own views of foreign life? Mrs. Newrich—No, we ain't got no views. We didn't take no camera; it's so common.

His Nap.

"How late do you usually sleep on Sunday morning?"

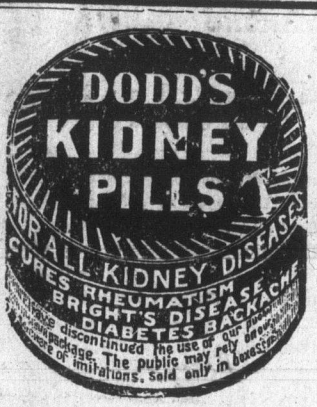

"Well, it all depends."

"Depends on what?"

"The length of the sermon."

Time's Driver.

Binks—Time runs on, eh? Now, what makes time run on? Bunks—The spur of the moment, I suppose.

Boy Torn By a Nail.

Toronto, Sept. 30.—With his intestines badly torn by a nail, eight-year-old Willie Owen is in the General Hospital in an extremely serious condition. When he entered the hospital his abdomen was terribly ripped. The boy was climbing a door at his father's home at 41 McGee street yesterday. A nail had been inserted in the keyhole in order that he might reach a parrot placed high up. His foot slipped and he fell, the nail tearing his clothes and entering his body.

A JUDICIOUS INQUIRY.

A well known travelling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if got a child they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by all druggists.

After Gaylor and Greene.

Montreal, Sept. 30.—United States Marshals George F. White and J. F. Doyle of Georgia arrived yesterday to take Col. Gaylor and Capt. Greene under the stamp of arrest. They will start as soon as a warrant for extradition reaches the sheriff from Ottawa.

HOW TO CURE CORNS AND BUNIONS.

First soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing the balm for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by all druggists.

France Will Join.

Paris, Sept. 30.—The officials here say that it is practically assured that France will accept an invitation to the second peace conference at The Hague owing to the united efforts of Emperor Nicholas and President Roosevelt, but official action awaits Russia's communication.

The profit of a gold mine depends, not on the amount of rock crushed and the stamps, but upon the amount of gold which can be extracted from the rock. In a similar way the value of the food which is eaten does not depend on the quantity of food which is taken into the stomach but upon the amount of nourishment derived from it by the organs of nutrition and digestion. When these organs are diseased they fail to extract the nourishment in sufficient quantities to supply the needs of the several organs of the body, and these organs cannot work without nourishment. The result is heart "trouble," liver "trouble," and many another ailment. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acting on every organ of the digestive and nutritive system, restores it to health and vigor. It cures diseases remote from the stomach through the stomach in which they originated. Golden Medical Discovery contains neither alcohol nor narcotics.

To succeed in literature requires much ability and many postage stamps.
