

157 this year compared with 1 in 1950; there has been a decrease in the number of late students, from 37 now.

It is surprising to find that educationists, who are predicting a general decrease in enrolments this year in the freshman class of the small number of school graduates. In the freshman class it is expected to be larger.

Mr. Rice's report gave the following figures for other classes: 143; juniors, 139; incoming, 177; seniors, 180. The Education class consists of 12 students. There are 10 at the U. N. B. Law School and 10 at John.

FRESHMAN ELECTIONS ARE HELD

Rice Is Frosh Prexy

Soph. Ballot Thrown Out

In Freshman elections held Tuesday morning on the campus John Rice of Fredericton was elected President of the Freshman for '51-52. In winning out over his opponents Rice, although the victor by a comfortable margin, did not walk away with a landslide victory. His edge was only slightly greater than that enjoyed by Vic Hatheway who nosed out Joe Whitley by a few votes to take the runner-up position.

The only landslide voting of the day came in the vice-President balloting as Margaret MacDonald, another Fredericton product, defeated Barbara Smith of Oromocto by a two-thirds majority. The two girls were the only candidates for the office.

In the most closely contested battle of the morning, Roger MacDonald, a Moncton boy, barely squeezed through to a victory in the running for office of Sec. Treasurer.

The Sophmores will go to the polls at a later date to elect their S.R.C. representative. Due to the fact that the Sophs managed to have more people to vote than were entitled to the privilege, the resulting slim margin of victory was declared invalid and the ballot thrown out.

Following more closely to the correct procedure the Frosh managed to get the votes and voters to balance, and went on to choose Barbara Fisher, Murray Cain, Bill Baker and Don Shorten as their S.R.C. representatives. All the newly elected officials will take office immediately.

MORE SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED AT U.N.B.

University of New Brunswick has announced the award of three more scholarships to freshman students. Miss Geraldine M. Jones, of Lower Lincoln, Sunbury Co., has been awarded the Frances M. Peters Scholarship and the Katherine E. Black Memorial Scholarship. Norval E. Balch, Fredericton, gets the Walter V. Donahue Memorial Scholarship.

The Frances M. Peters Scholarship was founded by the late Frances M. Peters, who bequeathed the university $1,000, the interest on which goes annually to a woman student at U.N.B. The Katherine E. Black Scholarship, valued at $50, was founded by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire and is offered in alternate years to a woman student entering the freshman class at U.N.B.

Miss Jones, the recipient of these two scholarships, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Jones, of Lower Lincoln. A graduate of Fredericton High School, she is enrolled in the science course.

The Donahue scholarship, amounting to approximately $60, was established by Mrs. Agnes C. Donahue, of McAdam, N. B., in memory of her son, Walter V. Donahue, U.N.B. class of 1940, who was killed during an operational flight over Germany, July 31, 1942. Young Balch, the recipient, is 16, a son of Dr. R. E. Balch, of Fredericton, and a graduate of Fredericton High School. He is in the forestry course at U.N.B.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY DECIDES ON PLAY

Further plans for the year's projects were discussed at the Dramatic Society meeting last Thursday night.

Professor Shaw has received consent to produce "An Inspector Calls" by J. B. Priestly, so this will definitely be the Festival entry this year.

The play, set in England in the early 1900's, has a cast of six. As there is no actual lead role in the play, the four men and two women involved have equal importance.

The dates of the play's presentation to Fredericton audiences have not been decided and Joan Golding was appointed to find out which nights the Teachers' College auditorium might be rented.

Plans for the bill of one-act plays were also discussed. It was hoped that these plays might be presented in the gym "arena" style. This style, new to most Frederictonians, involves a centre stage with the audience surrounding the players. The members felt, however, that the possibilities of securing the gym were none too bright, so various other sites down town were suggested in case of a refusal.

The Society voted to begin preparations for the plays in hope of obtaining the gym, and decided "If Men Played Cards As Women Do" would be one of the three presented. The bill will contain drama as well as comedy.

The need for directors of the one-acts was expressed, and the members decided to ask Professor David Galloway for his assistance in this field.

A publicity committee was appointed with David Vine as chairman.

The next meeting of the Society is Thursday night at eight o'clock in the Ladies' Reading Room. Everyone interested in any aspect of dramatics is urged to be there.

Sophtettes Hold Banquet

The annual banquet given by the sophtettes in honour of the freshettes was held in the Ladies' Reading Room last Thursday night.

Mrs. A. W. Trueman and the women members of the faculty, present as guests, were introduced to the Freshettes by the President of the Society, Mary Louise O'Brien.

The banquet was followed by the first business meeting of the year. It was decided the SADIE HAWKINS Dance would be planned for October 26, and a Dance Committee was formed with Audrey Baird as chairman.

The Freshettes were asked to sell apples at the football game Saturday. Proceeds of this sale will be given to the S.R.C. to defray costs of the Mt. A. train.

A vote was taken on a controversial topic on the campus these days, Fall Formal or Masquerade Ball? Only five of the co-eds preferred the latter.

The business meeting was followed by the customary initiation of the Freshettes into the Ladies' Society.

TRACK MEET CANCELLED

The M. I. A. U. track meet has been cancelled. This was made known last week to Dr. A. P. Stewart, faculty adviser to the Amateur Athletic Association, by the M. I. A. U. executive. This news came as track team try outs were being carried out here.

The meet was scheduled for St. F. X. on October 25. This date was not convenient for U. N. B. since some of the track team members would be playing in the U. N. B.-St. Dunstan's rugby game in Charlottetown on October 24. Since a suitable date for all concerned could not be arranged and because other universities could not send complete teams the meet was cancelled. The M. I. A. U. executive stated that they would reschedule the meet for the spring.

Fire Damage at St. F. X.

Antigonish, N. S., (CUP)—Fire allegedly caused by a blow torch, razed the recently opened faculty home, Xavier House at Westmount. Worst damage was done to the roof, while the newly decorated second floor was also gutted. Considerable damage was caused by smoke and fire. Xavier House is a residence for the faculty of Xavier Junior College in Sydney.

Blood Clinic Turnout Poor

In the work-out room of the Lady Beaverbrook gym last Thursday and Friday, a great x-ray machine peered intimately through the chest regions of the University coeds, looked unemotionally into the manly expanse of each male student member, and occasionally had the privilege of gazing at the chalk-coated entrails of the faculty — 788 persons in all. This was the result of the Christmas seals of the Tuberculosis Association and Provincial Health Department.

In the same building, at the same time, a blood clinic was being conducted. During the day (Thursday) one hundred and twenty-five students each gave their 380 cc. of blood. Among these your reporter noticed an extremely beautiful young nurse standing by an array of "blood-containers" well stacked — (the bottles, I mean). She went from bed to bed lingering the longest where the blood flowed the slowest. It was noticed that after one of her visits the blood still flowed regularly from the veins or Arsmen, but overflowed the bottles of Engineers and Foresters (imagine Foresters and Engineers with full bottles and too weak to do anything about it!)

Unfortunately U.N.B. did not measure up to its expected two hundred donors. This blood goes to supply our local hospitals who have a signed agreement with the Red Cross that no one is to pay for a transfusion. "Blood," say the Red Cross workers, "is life, and you can't buy life." So the slogan about helping to save a life is a stark reality and not just another organization with an axe to grind.

For those who are worried about losing some of their precious fluid, they should realize that every precaution is taken to protect the donor. Both a blood count and a haemoglobin test are (Continued on page six)

RADIO CLUB CONTACT

ACADIA

The second meeting of the UNB Radio Club was held on Thursday evening in the Forestry building. Seven new members were welcomed to the club and the location of the club rooms was described to them. It was reported that new tools had been purchased for the club work shop. A tour of CFNB's studios was arranged and took place Monday night. Possible sites for the Club Rooms "Up the Hill" were discussed and it was decided to move the rooms from Alexander College as soon as it was possible.

The club transmitter is now in operation on forty metres and contacts have been made with several stations in Nova Scotia, Quebec, Massachusetts and New Jersey. More operators are required to operate the club transmitter. Any licensed amateurs are urged to join the club. Any persons desiring to learn morse code and get their transmitting licence are also urged to join the club. Facilities are now available in the Electrical building for members to practise code.

Progress was reported in the formation of a Maritime university radio network intended to act as a medium for the exchange news between maritime universities. Stations willing to join in such a network are known to exist at Acadia and Mount Allison. On Friday evening contact was twice made with Gerry Gupit and Norman Jones at an amateur station in the Memorial Residence at Acadia University. Morse code was used at this end of the contact and radio telephone at Acadia. Items of news and several messages were exchanged. Reception conditions were good and the contacts lasted altogether about two hours. A further contact was made Sunday afternoon when Don McPhail, S.R.C. president, exchanged messages with Bill Hoyt, Maritime Vice-president of N.F.C.U.S.

Sophomore Notice

Applications are invited from eligible sophomores for the Dr. C. C. Jones Memorial Scholarship.

Only sophomores who obtained a first division mark on their freshman mathematics examination last spring are eligible. Sophomores who already hold a major scholarship are ineligible.

The award to be made later this month will be the first for the scholarship which was established last year by the Associated Alumni. Its value is $250.00.

Application forms may be obtained from Jack Murray, alumni secretary, whose office is on the second floor of the Arts Building. The deadline for the return of completed applications is October 26.

An Appreciation

The tragedy that the Forestry Faculty suffered in the loss of Professor H. E. Videto and Professor C. G. Hadley is shared by all the university faculty and students.

It is, however, a most personal loss to their students in forestry and to their associates on the forestry faculty.

Professor Videto was with us first as a student, graduating with a first class record in 1943. He joined the Faculty that fall and assisted with drawing and other courses. During the heavy post-war enrollment he carried an extremely heavy load.

A year at the University of London as a Beaverbrook Overseas scholar enabled him to become acquainted with general economic and personnel problems and with the work in forest products going on in England, Finland and Sweden. He brought back to the University this knowledge and a widened vision on our usefulness to students and industry.

Last year was spent at Yale where he took his Master of Forestry degree. His work there was in the field of seasoning and forest products.

His latest project at the University has been the installation of a model dry kiln to be used not only in teaching but to help industry in solving seasoning problems.

During the summers he has been associated with the New Brunswick Resources and Development Board on problems affecting the forest products industry.

Professor Videto was a gifted teacher, painstaking, well informed and keen. He believed in the student having an opportunity for a broad education that would enable him to select the field in which he was interested and for which he showed any natural aptitude.

He was a sound student adviser and ever ready to help a student in trouble. To his faculty associates he was a warm personal friend and ever ready to shoulder an additional load for the good of the University.

His loss will be felt far beyond the halls of the University through his assistance and cooperation with the forest industry of the Province.

Professor Hadley was a graduate in Forestry of Toronto University of the class of 1941. He was a first class student leading his class during his last two years. As a student he worked during the summer months with the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Company.

Soon after graduating he went into the Canadian Army and served overseas with the Intelligence Corps being discharged with the rank of Captain.

Following his discharge from the Army he was employed professionally with the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Company at Kapuskasing, Ontario until joining the Faculty of our University in 1946.

He was extremely interested in his work in Statistics and Mensuration and was an excellent teacher, being extremely conscientious and having his work both in the classroom and in the field very well organized.

He was always ready to help a student who needed additional instruction and set high standards both for himself and for his students.

During the summer months he was employed by both the Spruce (Continued on page six)

Editorial

M. I. A. U. REVISION DUE

Once again the students of this University have been victims of a lack of good faith on the part of certain other Maritime Universities, members of the Maritime Intercollegiate Athletic Union. This latest move has resulted in the cancellation of the Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet, to have been held at St. Francis Xavier this week. This cancellation came after several weeks of vigorous training on the part of our own track team.

The incident is another in the increasingly frequent withdrawal movements made by member universities when matters unfavorable to them are accepted by the majority. In this instance, Acadia and Mount Allison disagreed with the principle of holding the annual track competition in the fall. While several valid reasons for this stand were put forward, the majority of members felt that the meet should be in the autumn. Only when St. Francis commenced preparations for the event, these dissenting Universities forwarded information to the effect that token representation only would be made at the meet. This situation was highly undesirable from all standpoints and in consequence, St. F. X. felt justified in calling for cancellation.

It has become apparent that the M.I.A.U. has ceased to carry out the aims of its charter. Dalhousie's withdrawal last year, and the previous difficulties encountered with other Maritime affiliates have shown the ineffectiveness of the organization. In spite of these deficiencies, the Students' Representative Council of this University has steadfastly stuck to the policy of keeping all commitments. This has meant a great financial strain on the student finances, especially when we are the only University in the Maritimes competing in all thirteen sports sponsored by the M.I.A.U. Many times during the past four years, motions for the cutting of certain sports have been defeated by the Council on the grounds that commitments had been made the previous spring at the annual meeting of the M.I.A.U.

Nor has U.N.B.'s participation in the group been the result of continued measures favorable to this University. For example, last spring an attempt was made to have the dates of all contests for all sports fixed at the annual meeting. This was a measure designed to enable our own Council in particular, and those of the other Universities as well, to budget fairly and regularly for all sports. Adoption of such a measure would have eliminated many of the headaches the S.R.C. has each fall in the setting of the levy. Needless to say, the measure was defeated because of the uncertainty of several Universities. No trial of the method was even permitted.

This University does not want to leave the M.I.A.U. The need for such an organization is apparent. What we desire is a competent body of representatives from all Universities interested in entering Maritime Intercollegiate competition. More than that, we must have bargaining in good faith. The time is ripe for a complete revamping of the M.I.A.U. Pettiness and coercion must be eliminated. These past stains should be removed and a fresh start made. We are not attempting to prove that our own record is pure. We ask for a complete reorganization of the Union with an eye to promotion of Intercollegiate sports in a fair and able manner. It must be up to our own Amateur Athletic Association to initiate such a move.

(By the Spectator) RUGBY OR RING AROUND THE ROSIE?

Saturday's game with St. Dunstons is now history and written in the score books as a two all tie and although a summary is of little value at this date it is never too late for a post mortem. In fact to summarize the game would be much too simple as the better points of the contest could be adequately summed up by four little words, the weather was ideal. Outside of the perfect afternoon the other high lights seemed to be the—ah—ah—O well there are always the Canadian footballers.

In short, to make a long story nauseating the game was slightly under par. Rugby is a team game in which a hefty and heeblable scrum gets the ball back to their line, who on gaining possession travel down the field by means of passes and tricky foot work. To fit even such a poor definition of the English idea of football to the exhibition given here Saturday would take the services of a Chinese lawyer, and even he, I am sure, could easily become bewildered.

Consideration should be given to the fact that it was the team's first tilt of the season and therefore one could expect a little roughness in the plays but nevertheless there are many of last year's squad back in harness who, along with the new recruits may not be in top form but at least know the rules and the idea behind the game. After being present Saturday I am a bit doubtful as to their knowledge of either.

Fumbling seemed to be chief play of the game and it was one that worked often and smoothly, in fact one might think that they had a working agreement with the Red and White. Most of their passes seemed to be directed nowhere in general, just a desperation heave, and the few which by some twitch of fate found a target were bobbled, dropped completely or simply to cut out the confusion handed directly to the St. Dunstan aggregation.

Passing and tackling are two aspects of the game which do not, or should not take months of practice but many on the local squad seemed adverse to both during Saturday's contest. A few individuals appeared to have the idea in mind that they were the sole ball carriers on the team and shut their eyes to the players beside them when a pass was the last resort. I am the star of this club, better to lose than have someone else take the lime light. O. K. fellows; take that attitude if you wish, but you had better learn to be good losers.

The tackling department functioned on a gentlemanly basis with every one standing back and implying with a gesture of the hand, "After you, sir." That tactic might have come out all right if the St. Dunstan players had fallen in line with it and taken time out to wait for the courtesy decision but alas they were out to win in a game (Continued on page four)

NO VISITORS

At its recent conference in London, The National Federation of Canadian University Students decided to turn down a proposal made by retiring International Affairs Commission chairman Denis Lazure (University of Montreal) that an invitation extended by Lazure to a group of Soviet students to visit Canada be ratified by the National Federation.

The proposal would have seen a group of Russian students come to Canada this year for a tour, and a group of Canadian students go to Russia to return the visit. The NFCUS Conference turned thumbs down on the proposal.

Ordinarily such decisions are made, and then forgotten. This is one instance of the traditional NFCUS reaction to controversial issues that should come under some close scrutiny.

It would be difficult to say that the proposal was vetoed for one definite reason or another. But the impression stands out that the reasons were hardly adequate: "They will give NFCUS bad publicity," "If NFCUS does this it may get a Red reputation and that will finish it for twenty-five years!"

To say that the representatives of the various universities who make up NFCUS exhibited an attitude which in a sense merely provides the communist-dominated International Union of Students with ready-made propaganda would not be far off the mark. But that is only one aspect of the situation.

If the university students of this country are afraid, for one reason or another, to bring into this country for visits young men and women whose ideas are diametrically opposed to ours, then surely we have lost a large degree of faith in ourselves and in our democratic institutions. If we are aware of some of the large political issues that face us, and of the vast numbers of carefully trained people who are the opposition, then we should from time to time welcome the opportunity to bring them to Canada, and meet them on our home ground.

A little honest controversy over the visit of some dyed-in-the-wool Russian communists might be very good for the too often smug, isolationist tendencies that the Canadian student has shown so willingly and so frequently during these past five years.

In spite of the fact that this editorial might seem to follow rather closely the current communist line on this issue, we would rather enjoy the prospect of a Russian communist student entering the lists in a Hart House debate.

Canadian student leaders might well take another look at the principles and ideas which are currently directing their actions. The ostrich who sticks his neck out only to the point where his head is well buried in the sand, should realize he is in danger of losing his plumage.

— From the Varsity, University of Toronto.

Ed Note: — The Universities of New Brunswick and Toronto were in the minority delegations that supported the above mentioned proposal.

NOW, there is positively no excuse; none whatever. People who mumble "The Art Centre—where is it?" are in danger of revealing their complete illiteracy. After all, college students are expected to be able to read on occasion. I know that it is not a required course for university entrance, but it is useful to perform the great feat once in a while. Therefore, since all of us will want to give the impression of a high standard of education, the Art's Centre's location is no longer a mystery—it has a sign!

The sign is a beauty! I could go into aesthetic raptures over it, but with great restraint I will leave that to a later time. The Engineers can rave about the lettering; the Foresters, the wood chosen, while the rest of us will content ourselves with the activities the centre offers us. For example the art classes on Thursday night which are being swamped by students this year; and the Sunday night concerts to which we all have become very attached. A propos of this, the Van der Mejdens are going to run the concert this week, playing some of their favourite records. The programme may not be a shade of the "bop" concerts last year, but it will be good—hang around jazz fiends your time will come later, wait and see.

Another exhibition is planned for the near future—it is an exhibition of woodcuts by Sybil Andrews. I didn't mean the usual kind, sawdust, chip off the old block and things like that—come and see them—you Foresters might want to try something like this in your idle summer evenings. You have all the wood that you need.

Ah, the autumn season is a wonderful time for artists of all species. The brilliant colours, the crisp air, football games, cheer leaders, CHEER LEADERS! Yes! That's the problem. We need some. There is nothing worse than sitting in the mute bleachers watching a certain Prep school yell its head off. Moreover the artistic quality of those lovely knees and ankles being breath taking, the problem is even more acute. However, it is the custom to follow our own leaders, (yelling of course) since it is a good outlet for temperament. So when our three trim freshettes walk out on the field this year, yell at them if you must, but yell. More things are wrought by lung power than most men dream of, to borrow a phrase. Even if there seem to be six of them (these girls are worth two of the normal kind of course) yell for the college because U. N. B. is you.

Platitudes, platitudes, dear old platitudes; but (sigh) they serve a purpose. The Dramatic Society (no platitude here) is in need of assistance and interested students. MOUNT A. TRIP

By Eric McGillivray

Last week I said something about the Mount A. trip. At that time it was rather a nebulous idea but since then much has happened and the trip is now very real and concrete. That doesn't mean you can stop supporting it now however, for it still depends entirely on your support. Well as I said much has happened in the last week and here I am back again to tell about it.

As you may have remembered last week I mentioned that there were rumors that the S. R. C. had mentioned something about the trip at a meeting. It now appears that they recommended that some group or organization on the campus get behind the trip and sponsor it. Well the U-Y club have done just that, but remember that they cannot do it alone. They need the student support so come on and pitch in with them. Ah! a question. What is the U-Y and why should it go out of its way to do this sponsoring? A good question.

The U-Y is a service club on the campus, or rather I should say it is the only service club on the campus. It was founded by the students and while it is a University organization it is also affiliated with the Y. M. C. A. in Canada. Its main activities are running canteens and check rooms at dances, sponsoring expeditions like the Mount A. trip etc., etc. "Nuff said. Now back to the matter of the moment namely the Mount A. trip.

Last week I mentioned that I had no actual or accurate figures on the trip. Well, since then that matter has been partly rectified. Here goes for better or for worse. The railway company is charging a minimum of six hundred and eighty-eight dollars ($688) for chartering a train and wants a minimum of one hundred and thirty-three (133) passengers. This works out roughly to five dollars and twenty cents ($5.20) per person for the round trip, which is less than half the regular fare of ten dollars and fifty cents ($10.50) for the return trip. Look at the bargain folks. Just think, a trip to Mount A. and return for half fare. For this we thank the railway company "ad infinitum". Not only this. The U-Y has decided to pay one dollar and twenty cents of each fare themselves leaving only four dollars ($4.00) to be paid by the student. For this we offer our heartiest thanks to the U-Y club.

The question now arises as to where the U-Y club will get all the funds needed to take on this financial burden. Well, here's the answer. On October the twentieth the firemen of the city are having a dance at the armouries and they have very kindly consented to split the proceeds with the U-Y club in order that they might have enough money to help reduce the train fare to Mount A. For this we cannot thank the firemen enough. We also should thank President Trueman and the social committee of the University, without whose co-operation this would not have been possible.

You have probably noticed the lists posted in every building on the campus on which people wishing to go on the trip have been signing their names these last few days. So far only about half enough people have signed up.

What's wrong? Didn't you know they were there? Well, you do now. Go on, don't be cheap, sign up. You'll never have so much fun in your life for the same price. Ask anyone who's been there. Seriously, the U-Y would appreciate it very much if you would sign as soon as possible so that they will have a good estimate of how many want to go. By the way, in case you didn't notice it, there is a list posted in the canteen just to the right of the door as you come in. Let's see those names pile up. Surely there are over a hundred people, out of seven hundred and forty-one, with college spirit. I have been told that the freshman names are conspicuous by their absence on the lists. What's wrong "frosh"? Are you scared of getting lost in Sackville? Don't worry, that's impossible. As I mentioned last week, it's a wonderful opportunity to get better acquainted with the upper classmen. (Don't worry, they won't bite. At least, not all of them).

There has also been a call sent out for cheerleaders, both male and female. There has been a list posted in the Arts building on the main notice board. There are certain advantages in cheerleading, the main one of which is a free trip to and from the "swamps". That's right. If you sign up as a cheerleader you don't have to pay any train fare. The U-Y takes care of that. I believe that you contact Howie Boucher (9004) in the Lady Beaverbrook residence or Anne Sansom (9061) in the Maggie Jean Chestnut house (ladies' residence to you) if you are so inclined, but anyway you can certainly sign your names on the cheerleaders' list.

Well, that's about all there is to say about the matter. Of course I can never repeat often enough the matter of student support. Just remember the old saying, "the more the merrier". After all the work that has been done on this expedition it would be a shame if it fell through because the students didn't have enough pride in their "Alma Mater" or were too lazy (yes I said lazy) to get out and support their football team.

A big rousing cheer should be given to everybody who has worked to make this trip possible. I may safely say that Bob Sansom has been, and still is, one of the hardest workers on this project and deserves a great deal of credit for the work he has done. Again I pass on our thanks to President Trueman, the social committee, and the firemen of Fredericton without whose valuable help and promises of help this project would never have come as far as it has. Come on, fellow students, let's not be the ones to throw an axe in the works. I'll be seeing you on the train (I hope).

where etiquette takes a back seat. Forget the manners boys, the fellow behind will forgive you for jumping on some one who is rightfully his. If you must decide why not flip a coin, it's faster. Heads we let the other guy take him, tails we call time for a spot of tea.

In all fairness to those who were in there trying we should mention Ross Sheppard, Jack Thompson and Brandy Brannen who turned in steady and at times flashy performances, but three men are not enough. Brannen came near turning the tide when his drop kick hit the cross bar but then again St. Dunstan's had a similar occurrence of luck so who's to complain.

Behind these three, in order of their addition to the game we must place the co-eds who peddled the apples and Wally Fleets — ? — well your guess is as good as mine.

ON THE OTHER SIDE OF THE FIELD

St. Dunstons took the field with their usual light and fast squad and combined speed with team combinations to have far the best of the play. Their passing was in striking contrast to that of the Red & Black but it was the lack of weight in their line which prevented them from going over on more than one occasion. They bottled the locals up to such an extent that three-quarters of the play was in the U.N.B. end and kept the hillmen on the defensive during the greater part of the game. It appeared a couple of times that they were on their way across the line only to be repelled at the last moment by the heavier opposition.

In almost all respects St. Dunstons had the better of the two squads and with everything taken into account should have come out on top because even on the defensive the Red & Black kickers seemed to be trying for altitude rather than distance. Just why they did not win is contained in that added something which makes any sporting event an uncertainty and adds the thrills to the game. Without it, and all being a sure thing sports would be indeed extremely dull.

Looking ahead to the future we see that the reigning Maritime champs, Mt. Allison, are booked for this coming week-end and with that game comes the big test. If the locals are in the same state as at present we hope to have a favorable excuse to be out of town. But let's take an optimistic attitude and realize that any change can follow only one path and that is for an improvement. Such an improvement can easily occur as the team has the material to work with and all they need is to be injected with the idea that they are in a football game where you hit first and ask questions later and where team work spells the difference between this last game and the hopes we hold for the nearing tilt with the Marshmen.

Perhaps having this one game under their belts is all that is needed for them to hit their stride and we surely hope so, because to tie with St. Dunstons is one thing but to lose to the Garnet and Gold is an unforgivable sin.

Fumble if you must, fail to tackle if you're so inclined but win, lose or draw remember that a team is only as good as its weakest man and without team work even the great teams are lost.

If you're in there giving it all you've got, playing one hundred per-cent for the team then those miscued kicks and dropped passes can be overlooked and forgotten because to err is only human, but when it comes to ball hogging, deliberate failure to work and co-operate with your team mates then that is a bird of a different colour and cannot be overlooked or forgiven, even by the spectator.

U.N.B. FRESHMEN GET SCHOLARSHIPS

Two young men from Westmorland County and three other students from the Victoria, Sunbury and York areas of the province have been awarded University Scholarships at the University of New Brunswick.

The winners, whose names were announced today by U.N.B. President A. W. Trueman, are: David B. Douglas, Salisbury; Joseph D. Whitely, Moncton; David R. Jamer, Andover; Barbara Ann Smith, Oromocto; and Joan M. Murdock, Fredericton. All are first year students at the provincial university.

The University Scholarships were established in 1940 by an act of the provincial legislature. Five are available each year, of an annual value of $100, for New Brunswick students who have shown marked promise in their high school courses and are entering U.N.B.

Young Douglas, 17, is a son of Fred W. Douglas, Salisbury, and a graduate of Horton Academy, Wolfville, N.S. He is enrolled in the science course. Whitely, an engineering student, is 18 and a son of Cyril D. Whitely, of Humphrey, Westmorland Co. He graduated from Moncton High School.

steps upon the boards. Surprisingly enough I agree with the whole society programme this year. (For a change.) One act plays inspectors and things, they all promise much good fun and festival honours (I hope-I hope-I hope). Its about time too.

U. R. P.—U. R. P. well, well, well. Since the meeting is still in the future, deadlines (horrible word) being what they are all I can do is make a few general remarks, which is probably just as well. U. R. P. or University Radio Productions is our species of radio workshop. That is to say, it presents radio plays. Even though, quite seriously, the C.B.C. has no need to worry about its laurels at least for the time being, the organization offers all sorts of fun and opportunity to those actors who wish to remain unseen by their audience. A mike is a pleasant little device! This year it is planned to run a broadcast every other week so that no one will be worked too hard and so that more people can take part. If you were not at the last meeting come to the next one, and put your voice on the tape. You only record, in case you were worried, for the moment.

The Red N Black Revue is a deep secret. A few murmurs here and there can be picked up now and then, but security police have kept the iron curtain tight. Oh well, time which heals all wounds will crack curtains and iron can rust on occasion.

By the way, if anyone wants to make comments on anything, prices, campus activities, prices, lectures, prices, news, prices, the Royal Tour and prices, the rag I mentioned last week, you know, The Brunswickan, is daring enough to print them. Any modern poets floating around? If poets float that is.

P. S. I say Mt. A.—The train is a darn good adventure, and if you don't mind swamps, the train is . . . well, go and make your own remarks.

UNB, ST. DUNSTANS TIE 2-2

By DENNIS HAMMOND

In the opening game at college field on Saturday U.N.B. and St. Dunstons fought to a two-all draw. Although a not-too-keenly contested game, at times it produced some sparkling action.

The first half opened with St. Dunstons kicking to U.N.B. The team from the island had a definite edge in territorial play throughout much of the early part of the half, but as play progressed the hillmen were taking advantage of their heavier scrum and were carrying the play. About midway in the half Brannen booted a penalty kick over the bar to open the scoring for U.N.B. Minutes earlier he had hit the crossbar with a penalty kick. The half ended with U.N.B. in front 2-0.

The second half had more action than the first and 3 or 4 times varsity came within inches of scoring. Coyle tied the game up as he too booted the ball over the bar. Through the game U.N.B. had 8 penalty kicks while St. Dunstans had 10.

SIMPSON, VEY WIN TENNIS

The annual Maritime Intercollegiate tennis championships are slated for the clay courts of the Wilmot Park starting tomorrow. The UNB team, present holders of the Maritime Intercollegiate championship, will be defending their championship against Mt. Allison, St. Mary's College and Dalhousie University. Although only sending a men's team strong opposition is expected from St. Mary's.

The UNB elimination tournament wound up last Sunday with Jackie Vey winning the women's singles over Marrion Gaunce in a three set match. Miss Vey edged out her opponent by scores of 3-6, 6-4 and 6-0. Third and fourth places were also decided between Janette Webb and Joan Murdock. Miss Webb won over Miss Murdock 6-2 and 6-4 to cop third place. UNB will be represented in ladies' singles by Jackie Vey, in ladies' doubles by Marrion Gaunce and Janette Webb and in the mixed doubles by Jean Murdock and Jim Burley.

In the men's division Burt Simpson won over Jim Crocket by scores of 6-3 and 6-3 to win the men's play. Jim Strickland gained third place on the team by winning over Jim Burley in a long three set match. Burley took the first set 7-5 but Strickland came back to win the last two 11-9 and 6-3. Jim Strickland will represent UNB in men's singles play while Burt Simpson and Jim Crocket will play for UNB in the men's doubles.

VARSIITY IN ACTION

MONCTON STOPS SOCCER TEAM

By DENNIS HAMMOND

In a closely contested game on Saturday the UNB soccer squad dropped a 4-2 decision to the visiting Moncton team. The Moncton forwards were "hot" and their superior passing paid off although the varsity team was without the star center-half, John Kelly.

The first half ended with the Moncton team out in front by a 2-1 count. The first score of the game came to Moncton after a corner kick, Dormer scoring the goal. A few minutes later Moncton scored again.

VARSIITY WHIPS DRY DOCKS 5-4

A 5-4 win for the UNB soccer team over the St. John Dry Docks opened the 1951 soccer season here. Ron Coster sparked the Red and Black victory with his steady play as well as putting the game on ice with a timely goal.

The game, played on a soggy College Field, was fairly even for the first half but in the second frame the superior condition of the varsity squad proved the downfall of the St. John team.

The visitors opened the scoring on a goal by Byfield. UNB came back to even the count on a goal by Burt Simpson who received a pass from Ron Coster to beat Wyld in the Saint John nets. The visitors again forged into the lead after Williams beat out Stig Harvor in the Red and Black twines. Their lead was short lived however as Bernie Scott tied the game with a second UNB counter. Saint John once more gained a one goal advantage on a score by James, only to have Scott again tie up the game. Two successive goals by the Red and Black the first by Simpson and the second by Williams.

U OF M WINS CROSS COUNTRY

The U. N. B. cross country team was overpowered (18-45) by a strong University of Maine team in the annual Maine-New Brunswick meet on Saturday. The meet which is held alternately at U. N. B. and U. of M. was held this year at Orono, Me. The U. N. B. team, coached by Amby Legere, set the pace at the beginning of the gruelling four mile course.

Mal Miller, U. N. B. team captain, placed third with a time of 22 minutes 9.0 seconds. Dow and McLean of U. of M. tied for the best time of 21 minutes 12.2 seconds.

The line ups for the meet were:
U. N. B. Miller, Vine, Stewart, Brideout, Kelly, Swan, Currie
U. of M. Dow, McLean, Hirst, Osborn, Perry, Haskell, Bepper

 ton went ahead 2-0 with Dormer scoring again, this time on a penalty kick from in front of the goal. The first UNB goal came near the end of the first half. Coster booted the ball home on a fast pass from Reid.

The second half was almost a replay of the first half with Moncton again scoring twice and varsity once. On an exact same play as in the first half — after a corner kick—MacKechnie scored the third Moncton goal. Dormer, with his third goal of the game, made it 4-1 on a passing play in front of the net. Half way through the second frame varsity got the final score on a very fine play by Randall who bounced the ball off his head into the Moncton goal. Despite a fine last minute drive by the Red and Black they were unable to gain another score.

Extension Courses

Spreading

Recent announcements by the University of New Brunswick that college extension lectures would be given this winter in both Saint John and Fredericton have raised the possibility that the extension program may spread to other areas of the province this year.

The popularity of extension courses was so well established by the success of the first series of lectures held in Saint John last year that the provincial university has been able to continue the Saint John program and also inaugurate a similar one in Fredericton.

Considerable demand for the U.N.B. courses stems from the fact that general interest is the only entrance requirement. In addition to those who take the course for general interest, a number also are working toward a U.N.B. degree by this means.

But the significant development is considered to be the willingness with which the University of New Brunswick has responded to the demand for an adult education program in various parts of the province. Prof. R. J. Love, extension course director, has asked that any individuals or groups interested in any form of college course available at U.N.B. communicate with him. The indication is that that courses will be given wherever the demand warrants them.

As a result it is thought not too late for extension courses to be organized in other New Brunswick centres this year, with the North shore area, Charlotte, Carleton and King's counties being mentioned as some of the possibilities.

Mystery continues Mt. A's reasons, if any, for rejecting Vey as a referee for the Saturday afternoon's game. The proposal to have the game refereed by Stan Spicer, B. Physical Education, was submitted by the referees, Vey of Fredericton and Stan Spicer of Charlottetown. The decision was made by the three referees, Vey of Fredericton, Stan Spicer of Charlottetown and Stan Spicer of Fredericton. Vey of Fredericton stated briefly that he was not acceptable unless the referees were such that the selection was absolutely fair. This decision was made after a telephone conversation between Vey of Fredericton and Mt. A. M.I. with no success.

It is the privilege of the referees to reject a referee for any reason. The question remains.

In an attempt to settle the dispute a letter was sent to the Editor-in-Chief of the A's newspaper, the Argosy.

"ADVISE MT. A. M.I. REJECTS STAN SPICER AS REFEREE SATURDAY GAME."

To which a high level reply came back:

"DIRECTOR NEW BRUNSWICK PHYSICAL EDUCATION STAN SPICER AS REFEREE STOP HANDS ENTIRELY."

NANCY ARGOSY

From this it can be seen that the Argosy is uninformed on the subject and in no position to comment.
