The First Thanksgiving

In England there was a very strict law. It was that everybody should go to the English church. Those who did not had to leave the country.

There were some people who were called Puritans would not, and they went to Holland. They did not like it because their children were growing up and began to talk the Holland language. They had to work in factories and did not like it.

They went back to England and sailed from Plymouth in two boats called the Mayflower and the Speedwell. The Speedwell began to leak, and it turned back. Twenty of them stayed there in England.

The place where they landed they called Plymouth. Hard times came and food was scarce, and they could not build a big fire for fear the Indians would find them. A lot of them died and they planted corn over the graves so the Indians would not know how many died.

The next fall the women cooked and baked, and the men went to hunt. They invited the Indians to the Thanksgiving and in that way made friends with them. Ever after we hold Thanksgiving for to be thankful to God for the good harvest.

IDA CARSON,

Sr. III Class

The First Thanksgiving

Three hundred years ago Queen Elizabeth reigned. She made a law that everybody was to go to the English church. Now there were some Puritans lived in that country. They did not like to worship in that way so they left the country and sailed to Holland.

When they got to Holland they started to get settled and the children started to school. The men had to go and work in factories. They had been used to working out doors and here there was no work out side to do. They soon got tired of this life. Their children was learning the Dutch language, so they set sail back to England to get some more friends and to a new country.

They set sail from England with two ships called the Mayflower and the Speedwell. They had only gone a little way when the Speedwell began to leak and they had to turn back to get it fixed. Some of them would not go with them the second time. They had a hard time crossing the ocean. The ice had covered the ocean in a thin layer and they had to wade to the shore.

The first thing they done when they got to shore was to build a fire but they did not build a bright one for fear the Indians would see it and come and kill them. A dreadful disease broke out and many of them died.

In the fall they held a Thanksgiving day and invited the Indians. The women and girls were busy cooking and baking on the day of the feast. The Indians tasted every thing the white women had made, and said, How, How, which meant Good, Good, and ever after we hold Thanksgiving.

WANT MORE MINISTERS

CANADIAN CHURCHES FACE SERIOUS PROBLEM.

Crop of Young Men Who Desire to Preach the Gospel Appears to Be on the Wane as the Salaries Are Too Low for Them to Keep Families Under Present Conditions.

CAN a minister of the gospel live as cheaply as a teamster or a window cleaner?

The great inter-church Forward Movement financial drive is over. The millions of dollars have been raised. That the churches have the money has been demonstrated.

But so far, the average wage paid to the servants of the church in the different denominations is about equal to that paid to the driver of a bread wagon.

Is religion suffering a relapse that will carry the world back five hundred years to a time when ministers will perforce become penniless friars again, to wander the earth teaching the gospel and calling a barracks their home?

The Forward Movement, while amassing fifteen millions of dollars out of the churches of Canada, has not as yet brought new life into the theological colleges, nor has it stayed the resignation of young ministers who find they cannot honestly remain in the Christian ministry while harnessed with poverty.

The five great theological colleges in Toronto have graduated young men for the ministry this spring as follows:

Victoria College (Methodist) . . .	35
Knox College (Presbyterian) . . .	13
Wycliffe College (C. of E.) . . .	12
Trinity College (C. of E.) . . .	6
McMaster University (Baptist) . . .	5

Total 71

Other colleges this spring have produced young men for other professions as follows:

Osgoode Hall (Law)	176
Dental College (dentists)	116

Other colleges whose exams are not yet over have candidates as follows for graduation:

Medical College (doctors)	91
Faculty of Education (teachers)	285
Normal School (teachers)	245

The Ontario Veterinary College is just in a period of transition from a three to a four year course of study; but last year and this, 53 veterinary surgeons have been graduates.

That is, Ontario is producing eight times as many school teachers as ministers, twice as many lawyers and dentists. The care of animals is getting almost as much production of professional men as the spiritual care of humanity in the province.

Osgoode Hall has another large summer class in session to be graduated into the profession in September, probably making the production of lawyers three times as great as of ministers of all denominations.

Meanwhile, ministers are resigning. Dr. S. D. Chown, general supervisor of the Methodist Church, says that from Western Canada the resignations continue to be received.

"These," said Dr. Chown, "are mostly young Englishmen whom we have brought out from the Old Country for the missions and the ministry in the West. It is undoubtedly the pressure of the high cost of living that is forcing such resignations. Then again in some of the wide mission districts, an automobile is practically a necessity for getting around. And that, of course, is out of the question for the young ministers on their incomes. Also there is the temptation of money making, which is renewing itself in the West."

Rev. J. H. Edmison, secretary for Home Missions in the Presbyterian Church, says:

"There is no alarming condition in regard to resignations. The West is practically free of that problem. But from Western Canada, we have a certain percentage each year. The small salaries and the great increase in living costs has undoubtedly intensified the problem in the past two or three years. There are always a few young men who find they have chosen the wrong profession. But there has been no unusual number of resignations from our ministry in the past year."

The Baptist Church, which has also brought many young missionaries and ministers from the Old Country is feeling the pinch of small production of ministers from its University, and there have been the expected number of resignations from the younger missionaries.

The Church of England, with its elaborate system of government, one ordinarily expects to be free of such troubles as resignations. While its ministers are known to be as thoroughly underpaid as any of the other denominations, it is forbidden, through that very system of government, through that archbishop, bishops and so on, to discuss such problems publicly as is done by the more democratic denominations. There have, however, been a number of resignations from the ministry of the Church of England in the past year owing to the impossibility of living on the stipends allowed.

One young minister who served overseas as a padre has gone into business. He has a family of five to provide for. The bishop could not give him more than $1,200. That is $25 a week, which on contractors, or on business men, or on farmers, or on any other class of men, is not much more than that.

The present plan of the older ministers is to get old and to change his residence. No matter how small the stipend, if it is sufficient to enable him to live in a comfortable and healthy environment, he has to count on it as a Christian's smiles and prayers.

Music In Schools.

From recent developments in Western Canadian educational circles, it would appear that the bonds of red tape will soon be cast aside.
Saskatchewan provides that music shall be an optional study in the High Schools of that province. This provision states also that credit will be given for a musical education received elsewhere. The candidate presents official evidence of having obtained a certificate in piano or theory
may be exempted from examination in algebra or agriculture, Latin or Greek. This shows what the world is coming to. Imagine music being accepted in place of algebra as part of the training necessary for a second-class certificate in the old days!

WATERDOWN,

What Is Job's Ministers' Fate?

PICTURE a bunch of cheerless Cabinet Ministers stranded on the beach, the tide of popular favor having receded over the horizon, leaving them high but not dry, with their clothes stolen and a chill wind whistling unkindly round their shivering bodies and flapping with mournful cracks through their political bathing suits. A sad scene, and heartrending too, were it not for the knowledge that most of them are secure in the possession of a private stock of most excellent B.V.D.'s.

What, though, does happen Cabinet Ministers when they lose their jobs? Have the recent Conservative rulers at Queen's Park joined the ranks of the unemployed? Are their eager eyes scanning nightly the help wanted columns in an anxious search for something to tide them over till the spring comes and work opens up? Waste not your pity in advance. They are all well fixed, or have hopes.

Take Sir William Hearst, for instance, their leader. He can't really complain. It's time he lost the right to consider himself king-pin of Ontario but he had not to wear out his own pins looking for work or to advertise: "Wanted by ex-Premier suitable employment. Good appearance and agreeable manners. Knowledge of law. Big connection. Willing to consider himself the servant of the people and work up. Wages to suit." No, the cheers of the farmers had hardly died away before Sir William found himself appointed a member of the International National Waterways Commission with a salary of $6,000 a year. It's a big drop from $12,000, but there is a lot of dignity in being a member of the I. N. W. C. and it is better than moving the family to the Soo and starting that law practice there again.

Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, was in a way the luckiest of the bunch. All his clothes were not stolen though there was little left but the shirt and socks. Still it was enough to make him leader of the party. There is not much money in it apparently, though there are hopes, in spite of heartless U. F. O. threats, if Mr. Ferguson becomes the officially recognized leader of the Opposition. Still Mr. Ferguson has no need to worry. He has a good law practice in Kempsville and another in Toronto.

But what about the masterful McGarry of the big physique, doughty biter, erstwhile Provincial Treasurer? Surely he is not going to bury his brains and his brawn. Surely the clever tongue of him is not doomed once more to beguile the Renfrew Board of Education or twist itself in petty pleading as the town solicitor. By no means! It is whispered that McGarry has big financial interests and that his capable handling of the provincial moneys, combined with his legal knowledge, has qualified him to set up as an expert financial adviser to big business.

And L. B. Lucas, the Attorney-General, another lawyer, what of him? Will he go back to his early task of helping settle disputes about rail fences between Markdale and Owen Sound? Of course, he might once again become a law partner of Hon. W. E. Raney, but two men of Attorney-General's rank in the one firm might make it top heavy. So he still practices law at Markdale and he still stays on the Hydro Commission. But it said he will resign the latter; and it is again whispered that Mr. Lucas, who "keeps his ear to the ground," has heard that there is a shortage of houses and that he intends to help supply the demand by the erection of choice homes to suit select purchasers.

Hon. W. D. McPherson and Hon. Rev. Dr. Cody won't have much trouble finding their B. V. D.'s. Both knew exactly where they had laid them. And they hadn't left them very long! From the Provincial Secretaryship to his old seat in his Toronto law office is for Mr. McPherson as smooth and frictionless as a duck taking the water. Dr. Cody simply steps down from the education rostrum and up into the pulpit of St. Paul's.

Hon. Finlay Macdiarmid, ex-Minister of Public Works, and Hon. George S. Henry, ex-Minister of Agriculture, may also be classed together. They have turned their backs on the city and for them it is back to the land. They will wake at cockerow and hurry out to watch the grass growing, and when the evening falls they will sit in the quiet country and philosophize about the shortcomings of their fellow-farmers now sitting in the seats of the mighty in Queen's Park. But, both Macdiarmid and Henry are farmers in a big way, the former at Rodney, the latter at Todmorden. Henry was credited with being the richest man in the late brotherhood, with a 300-acre farm and half a million dollars. He is also president of the Farmers' Dairy Co. Neither need worry.

There only remains Hon. R. F. Preston. He had no portfolio in the late Government so he had none to lose when the crash came. Thus he has merely gone back quietly to his medical practice at Carleton Place and continues to keep an eye on his investments.
