THE Reeve informs us that in all probability our new postoffice will have a tower and clock. The matter has been laid before the Minister of Public Works and the same has been promised every consideration. Mr. Armstrong has the matter in hand. The plans for the post office are under way. office are under way.

THE manufacture of cigarettes in Can-THE manufacture of cigarettes in Canada increased during the past year by no less than 195,000,000, while the number of domestic cigars manufactured increased by 48,834,581, the total number of cigars put on the market being 297,741,815. The raw material for this number of cigars totalled 5,775,308 pounds of leaf tobabco. The total weight of raw leaf tobacco used by manufacturers in Canada during the year was 23,849,987 pounds.

AUTOMOBILISTS would confer a great favor, if, when meeting a horse and buggy, they would turn out sooner than buggy, they would turn out sooner than some of them do now. A horse may be very quiet, but when an auto is rushing toward him and is turned out only a few feet from his nose, he is very apt to shy to one side. Several people have complained of this practice.

Many persons feel offended because their comings and goings are not mentioned while those of others are, and wonder what the matter can be. The explanation of the matter is that the editor means to be impartial, but some escape mention. The likes and dislikes of an editor have nothing to do with it, and while it is not pretended that the editor is more than human, he knows that the success of his journal depends on his fairness and impartiality to all. It is the best way always when a notice is desired MANY persons feel offended because THE mushroom season is again at hand, and it is necessary to warn the venturesome that there is no royal road to distinguishing between poisonous and edible varieties. It is necessary to known them by instruction or familiarity.

REV. MR. PENTLAND will preach in Watford Methodist church next Sabbath morning and evening.

THEDFORD TRIBUNE:—"Dissatisfaction with the support accorded them by local business men the Leamington Post and News is now accepting advertising for T. Eaton Co., Limited, of Toronto. The public generally may not know that local newspapers all over the province, including the Tribune, have in the past declined offers for Eaton advertising through loyalty to their own home merchants though there is no reason why they should do so."

MR. MEDLAND, of Medland Ltd., has advised the Reeve that owing to the rush of business at their other factories that it will be impossible to come to Watford to go into the matter of a canning factory for some time. He will be here before the season of next year opens and go into details with the people of Watford. He sees no difficulty in establishing a cannery here providing suitable arrange-ments can be made with the farmers for ANNIVERSARY services were held in the Watford Methodist church on Sunday last. Rev. W. G. H. McAlister, of Exeter, president of the London conference of th Exeter, president of the London conference, and about a dozen years ago pastor of the Watford circuit, occupied the pulpit morning and evening and preached sermons which were much enjoyed. The choir of the church was ably assisted by Miss Bernice Anderson, of London, a soloist of considerable merit.

A HANDSOMELY gotten up pamphlet entitled "Chevalier de la Corne and the Carrot River Valley of Saskatchewan," has been received from the author, A. S. Bennett, of Melfort, Sask. It is a treatise resources where agricultural effort was made in Western Canada in 1754, and gives an account of the events leading up to the first farming fete to be celebrated at Melfort in August, 1914. It makes very interesting reading.

ROUNDS' Ladies' Orchestra, consisting of ten musicians and a first-class comedi-an, of the Canadian Lyceum Association, of Toronto, will give a concert in the Lyceum, Tuesday, Sept. 23rd, under the auspices of the Watford Concert Band. THE FAIR-OCT. 7th and 8th.

Mark off on your calendar the above dates—especially the 8th—as the time when all the family, not forgetting the children, expect to spend the day at the big East Lambton Fair at Watford. There is every prospect that it will be bigger and better than ever this year. The first day will be spent in arranging and judging articles in the hall and tents. Wednesday there will be trials of speed, a baby show, (cash prizes), highland dancing, good platform performance and lots of fun for young and old. The Pipers Band will be in attendance, also the Watford Concert Band. A merry-go-round for the children and a good time in general for all.

The regular monthly meeting of the Warwick branch of the Women's Institute was held in the Foresters' hall on Thursday, Sept. 11. After the usual opening exercises Mrs. D. Auld gave a paper on "Winter Plants and Flowers." This paper pointed out the need of flowers in the home and also contained many valuable hints for their culture. Some very handsome pieces of fancy-work were exhibited. The most admired was a beautiful piece of knitted lace done by a lady who is eighty-one years of age. Roll call was answered by each member giving an account of something she had seen during the summer that would benefit the Institute. The meeting was closed by singing "God Save the King."

The bride looked very pretty in a gown of white embroidered marquesette and carried a sheaf of valley lillies. She was given away by her father, and her sister Miss Mary Muxlow, filled the role of bridesmaid, wearing a gown of white voile. Mr. Mac. Perry performed the duties of best man, while the bride's little neice and nephew, Anna and Ralph Muxlow, made a charming flower girl and page. After the ceremony the guests retired to the dining room which was decorated in pink and white and where a dainty wedding breakfast was served by J. Nunn, caterer, of Strathroy.

"When I wrote to you some time ago I was a very sick woman suffering from female troubles. I had organic inflammation and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend your medicine to all women whosuffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills, and think they are fine. I will never be without the medicine in the house."--Mrs. Frank Emsley, 903 Columbia Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

The Other Case.

Beatrice, Neb .- "Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls."--Mrs. R. B. CHILD, Beatrice, Neb.

"My work, as you may imagine, is responsible and not always pleasant by any means; but, on the whole, I like it very well and find that it suits me. Briefly put, my duties are to visit the different branches of our bank, to examine the books, check the contents of the till, and generally see that things are going on all right.

"Of course, these visits are always unexpected. If my visits were announced beforehand it would be an easy matter to adjust many of the little "discrepancies" which I discover.

"At one place a day may be sufficient for my work; at another I may have to spend a week or more, and every day of it full of work, worries and responsibilities.

it full of work, worries and responsibilities.

"I usually make my appearance just before the bank is opened, or just before it is closed for the day, and my first work is to see that the money in the bank agrees with the balance shown in the books. This I almost invariably find to be the case; for the fraudulent bank-clerk is much too cute to tamper with the till. He has equally as easy methods of fraud; which are much more difficult to detect, in manipulating the books. of fraud; which are much more difficult to detect, in manipulating the books. The dishonest bank employe is almost invariably a clever hookkeeper; and the skill with which he can conceal his peculation by cunning entries is as cunning as it is baffling.

"No, I have scarcely known a case in which a man who has been robbing the bank has betrayed himselt by any sympton of emparassment or emotion on my tom of embarrassment or emotion on my appearance. He is much too cool a cus-tomer to give himself away in that fashion, and, indeed, he is often the very last man you would suspect.

"One man who had been defrauding the bank heavily professed great pleasure at seeing me—he gave me every assistance when I was checking the accounts, and looked smiling upon me when I came to an incriminating page. When I pointed with my finger at a false entry, he coolly said: 'Bravo! I thought you would miss it! However, I'm glad the game is up for I was getting tired of the suspense.'

game is up for I was getting tired of the suspense.'

"In another case a clerk, for whom I was very sorry—he was one of the nicest young fellows I have ever met, and had 'borrowed' a few pounds to send to his mother, who was in sore circumstances—actually thanked me with tears in his eyes that I had discovered his traud. 'I couldn't have stood it much longer,' he confessed. 'For many nights I haven't been able to sleep. I'm glad you came.' 'In this case a severe reprimand ended the matter; the boy had had a lesson which he will never forget as long as he lives. But in grave cases the culprit finds himself in the hands of the law, and occasionally gets a heavy sentence. But, considering the facilities and the temptations, I must say the dishonesty among the employes of banks is amazingly small.

"In olden times a clever swindler could conceal his peculation for months."

could conceal his peculation for months or years; but nowadays it is scarcely possible to hide it for any length of time. The system of modern banking is too perfect and the inspection too keen to give the robber a long rope.

"But detection of crime by no means covers the whole body of a detective's covers the whole body of a detective's work. Among other duties he keeps a very watchful eye on loans, to see they are amply secured; he looks into bogus claims on the bank which are a favorite form of fraud, and here he has to match his wits against some very smart swindlers, I can tell you.

"And how did I become a bank in spector. Frankly, there is no royal road to the post. It is largely a matter of adaptability and personal qualifications. Like other men, I have passed through the ranks, and might have become a manager had I not become an inspector."

Two years from now will mark the centenary of the beginning of the last act in the tragedy of Napoleon. It was on Aug. 8, 1815, that "General" Bonon Aug. 8, 1815, that "General" Bon-aparte—as his English captors insisted upon calling him—was transferred from the Bellerophon to the ship Northumber-land, to begin the journey to St. Helena. There was much protest in England against the transportation of the distin-guished prisoner, but the government re-mained firm. Official England could see mained firm. Official England could see nothing but danger in keeping such a dynamic force as Napoleon within its limits, and, harsh as the actions of the government seemed, the position thus taken was not without logic.

Napoleon was placed on his honor at Elba, but honor did not weigh with him when embersed.

Elba, but honor did not weigh with him when ambition was concerned. Charles Lamb spoke for those who favored Napoleon's detention in England when he wrote to Southey: "After all, Bonaparte is a fine fellow, as my barber says, and I should not mind standing bare-headed at his table to do service to him in his tall. They should have given him Hampton Court or Kensington, with a tender extending 40 miles round London." Lamb whimsically ren.arked that if Napoleon should remain in England the people might some day eject the Brunswick in his favor, and the government tool: the suggestion seriously. Now that Napoleon is safely dead, such a fear seems absurd—but Napoleon was a fear seems absurd—but Napoleon was then alive, and, in view of that fact, no government was safe in saying "I should James Anderson, an employee of the Lambton Packing Company, Petrolea, had his right hand and part of his right arm torn off Friday morning. The belt of one of the corn-cleaning machines came off and in attempting to replace it without slackening the machinery, it caught the tips of his fingers and dragged him over the shaft. It literally twisted his arm off. He was thrown over the shaft and had a very narrow escape from being thrown out the window, which was open. As it happened on the third floor it would have meant instant death. Anderson did not fail and was at once rushed to the hospital.

Farmers in Essex county will lose thousands of dollars as a result of failure or partial failure of the alsike clover crop this year. In some sections there is practically no seed in the clover and farmers who have started out to thresh have stopped the machines, when it was learned that it would be unprofitable to continue. In many cases the farmers have burned up the clover, which is not regarded as good for feed when cut at certain seasons of the year.

THE INDUSTRIAL MORTGAGE & SAVINGS CO. SARNIA, ONT.

Absolute security should be the first consideration when making an investment. On this ground the Industrial Mortgage & Savings Co. can appeal to the public for patronage as the Government by an Order-In-Council made it a legal depository for trust funds. Deposits and Debentures are the first claim upon the entire assets of the Company. Deposits of one dollar and upwards received and Debentures issued for one hundred dollars and upwards.

Toronto, Sept. 16.—Receipts at the Union stockyards to-day were 300 cars, with 6,000 cattle, 500 calves, 977 hogs, 1,871 sheep and lambs and 14 horses.

with 0,000 cattle, 500 caives, 377 nogs, 1,871 sheep and lambs and 14 horses.

The biggest run of cattle for one day's market in the history of the cattle market in Toronto was the statement made at the Union stockyards to-day. Up to the noon hour there had been received over 300 cars of live stock all told and consisting, besides sheep, lambs and hogs, of over 6,000 head of cattle.

In the face of such heavy receipts the market held remarkably strong. There was a good demand for all classes of cattle and prices were steady to firm, buyers in many cases affirming that they were 15c to 20c higher. Commission men and drovers would not admit this, but all agreed it was a good market.

Sheep and lambs were steady to firm, the latter quoting about 5c higher.

Hogs opened steady, but weakened off to 25c lower than last week's quotations. To-day's quotations.

Our Prices are right.

Mr. Mason Spearman, Bosanquet, met What a shock it would be if a few of the early settlers of Lambton could rise out of their graves long enough to get a peep at the price being paid farmers to day for logs. In the olden time the farmers regarded three, four and five dollars as a good price for hogs live weight. Five dollars was in those times a top figure, yet last, week $10 was being paid the farmers of the county for each hundred pounds of pork delivered by them on the hoot. It is only another in stance of the rapid increase in the high cost of living.

Mr. Mason Spearman, Bosanquet, met with an accident from which he had a miraculous escape. He was hitching his ineam to the wagon and had one leg over the tug and doubletree when the horses started to run away. He was caught and he could not free himself, and with every jump of the horses he received a kick on the back. After jumping a large hole and also over a rail tence he managed to get clear with only a severe shaking up and a badly bruised foot.

One noon I saw a cop who took his stand where two great city highways intersect; he made some magic passes with his hand and all he is the biggest czar I ever sawthe job was through my envious heart grew calm, my spirits gay, for by this little circumstance I knew that he who seems to rule must oft

Stopping a Train

Frank Madigan, of Oakville, boarded a fast Grand Trunk train only to learn that it did not stop at his own home town. Rather than be carried past to Hamilton or some other foreign town, Frank, when nearing his native heath, slyly yanked the bell cord, the train came to a standstill and he made his escape. Next day he was arrested and on pleading guilty in court, was fined $35 besides being required to furnish security in the sum of $3,000 that he would not assume the functions of a conductor for the space of two years.

Frank should try to regard the situation with philosophy. To stop a train illegally or unceremoniously is not always punishable by fine or otherwise. All depends upon the party who does it. The railway company might have headed that same train into the ditch along the track or brought it to a stop by running it, full tilt, into another. Frank might have been killed or deprived of one or more of his limbs, but the punishment meted out to the company would neither have been so swift nor so drastic as that which Frank was made to suffer. Perhaps the company would not have been made to pay out anything. But whether or not it is a chinch that no court in Canada would have required the company to put up a cash bond to be forfeited in case they again undertook to bring a train to a summary standstill contrary to schedule.

These are busy days for the transatlantic steamships and one sees queer actions at the pier sometimes. The departure of one of the French liners from New York a few days ago was made lively by the late arrival of a man of about 45 years who was possessed with a mania for kissing everybody in sight. He kissed the minister, his chauffeur, a man in a Panama straw hat and his own wife. who happened to be crowded in the con-fusion around him into his near presence. At Rest After One Hundred

PUT-IN-BAY, Ohio, Sept. 11.—Amid most impressive ceremonies and in the presence of 11 direct descendents of the presence of 11 direct descendents of the Perry family, the bones of the British and American officers who fell in Battle Erie, were this afternoon removed from the earth in Water Front Park and placed in a permanent grypt at the base of the new Perry memorial, which has been erected on a little neck of land a short distance from the town of Put-in-short distance from the town of Put-in-Bay.

Minute guns sounded as the heavy black box containing the remains of the unknown dead were lifted from the spot where they have reposed for a full century and were carried by the military escort to their final resting place.

As the box was laid in the newly prepared crypt covered with the Union Jack and Stars and Stripes, prayer was offered by Archdeacon Cody, rector of St. Paul's Church, Toronto, and Right Rev. James De Wolf Perry, jr., Bishop of Rhode Island. Then a bugler sounded "taps" and a white robed choir intoned "Nearer my God to Thee."

The body contains phosphorus sufficient to make 483,000 matches. Phosorus is one of fourteen elements composing the body—divided among nes, flesh, nervous system and other organs. The perfect health of body quires a perfect balance of the elements. These elements come from the bod we eat—the stomach extracts and distributes them.

But if stomach is deranged—the balance of health is destroyed and the blood does not carry the proper elements to the different organs, and there is blood trouble—nerve trouble—heart trouble. Danger From Potato Canker

Mr. H. T. Gussow, Dominion Botanist, Central Experimental Farm, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, has issued the following circular:

Pot to canker should not be allowed to gain; a foothold in Canada. It is a disease which makes slow progress, but where once broken out it has defied every known means of control. With the approach of the potato harvest all grocers are particularly requested to examine their potatoes for signs of canker. A case of potato canker escaping detection forms a source of future intection.

The appearance of this disease has been well illustrated by the Farmers' circular No. 3, obtainable free of charge from the publication branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Potato canker, owned.

Agriculture, Ottawa, Potato canker, ow Agriculture, Ottawa. Potato canker, owing to its serious nature, has been made subject to certain legislative measures under the Dominion Destructive Insect and Pest Act. In order to familiarize the farmer with the requirements of the act their attention is called to the following extracts and other information concerning the necessary steps to be taken in any locality.

4. Dig at once all potatoes on your farm, carefully hand pick them and those already dug, and separate the diseased tubers from those "apparently" or perfectly cound to the series of fectly sound. Place the diseased tubers in a pile and cover with earth. The inspector will advise you regarding their disposal. 6. All perfectly or "apparently" sound tubers may be stored in the usual way, but none must be used for any pur-pose whatsoever until the inspector has given permission.

Allow no tubers to remain in the ground, nor any animals to have access to an infected field. The organism caus-ing the disease is liable to be spread through the excreta of animals having eaten infected potatoes in a raw condition.

No raw potatoes whether diseased

8. No raw potatoes whether diseased, "apparently," or perfectly sound, must be used for any purpose whatever. After they have been examined by the inspector they may be boiled. Boiling will absolutely destroy the disease germ. All parings must be burned immediately.

9. Under no circumstances may you dispose of, sell, receive or give away any potatoes resulting from a diseased crop, however slightly that crop may have infected. Note regulation 10 under the "The Destructive Insect and Pest Act," reading:—"It shall be illegal to sell. "The Destructive Insect and Pest Act," reading:—"It shall be illegal to sell, offer for sale or in any way to dispose of or to receive any trees, shrubs or other plants, vegetable matter or portions of the same, if the same are infested with any of the insects, pests or diseases hereinafter specified."

10. If the quantity of potatoes permitted to be used by the inspector is considerable, you are strongly advised to keep a number of pigs and use a quantity of boiled potatoes among the usual food.

Household Hints and Helps

If using ammonia to soften water, put it in cool water instead of hot, as the lat-ter would evaporate the ammonia.

If the floors of a closet are wiped with gasoline or benzine after being scrubbed insects will be kept away.

Melted beef drippings or tallow may be used over the top of jelly instead of paraffin, if the latter is not at hand. After the tallow is cold, if it has shrunk away from the glass, fill in with more. When washing handkerchiefs, add some slices of lemon to the boiling water and they will come forth much nicer and whiter. Another good way to bleach handkerchiefs is to wash them and then let them soak over night in water in which a little cream of tarter has been dissolved.

Borax is one of the best exterminators for ants, and shelves and cracks where the insects appear should be sprinkled well with it.

To frost a cake evenly to the very edge, and yet prevent the icing from running down the sides, double a piece of stiff waxed paper and pin it about the cake closely, letting the band come about half an inch above the top of the cake. Spread on the icing thickly and evenly. Do not remove the paper until the icing

To clean a smoke-blackened ceiling Make a fairly thick paste of starch and water and apply this with a pad of flan-nel. When dry, brush off with a soft brush, and you will find the result well worth the trouble.

When poaching eggs, try adding a teaspoon of vinegar to the water. This helps to set the white and keeps it from spreading.

RELIEF FOR SUFFERING WHERE.—He whose life is made miserable by the suffering that comes from indigestion and has not tried Parmelee's Vegetable Pills does not know how easily this formidable foe can be dealt with. These Pills will relieve where others fail. They are the result of long and patient study and are confidently put forward as a sure corrector of disorders of the digestive organs, from which so many suffer.

The Elephant's Bath

The elephant enjoys a bath in the streams and pools of his native habitat, but his lordly brother in captivity finds no such comfort in the bath that from time to time is given him. A trainer thus describes the expensive operation: It takes a week to carry out the process in every detail. It requires the services of three men and costs $300. This treatment is necessary for a show elephant and, if the animal is a valuable one, the proprietor of the show does not consider the money wasted.

The first step consists of going over the

the money wasted.

The first step consists of going over the immense body with the best soap procurable; 150 pounds of soap are used, and the elephants ears are especially attended to. When the soaping and drying are completed, the elephant is well sand-papered and after that rubbed all over with the purest Indian oil until the mouse-gray skin is supple and glistening.

The last finishing touch is the most expensive of the whole bath, as it means the application of about $150 worth of olive-oil.

Miller's Worm Powders destroy worms without any inconvenience to the child, and so effectually that they pass from the body unperceived. They are not ejected in their entirety, but are ground up and pass away through the bowels and leave them in a condition not favorable to worms, and there will be no reverse of the pests.

It Pays to Paint in The Fall! The better the Paint, the better it pays.

It pays, because the wood is free of moisture and, no hot sun to blister the paint. It pays, because there are not many rainy days, and the flies and bugs are gone. It pays, because the paint has a better chance to take hold of the wood and dry hard and smooth, protecting the surface better for the eight roughest months of the year.

And it certainly does pay to buy good paint. It pays, in the fresh, bright colors-it pays in protection-it pays in the longer wear.

THE GARDEN OF ALLAH

World's Greatest Dramatic Spectacle at London, Ontario

And now "The Garden of Allah." After two years of work on the dramatization of Robert Hichens' novel and one year of New York success, all is in readiness for the opening at the Grand Opera House, London, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and matinee Saturday, September 25th, 26th and 27th.

For the faithful reproduction of the scenes of the novel, the Liebler Company's general manager, George C. Tyler, with Hugh Ford, stage director, and Edward Morange, scenic expert, spent considerable time with Mr. Hichens in the desert, where the action of the play transpires. They took hundreds of photographs and were fortunate enough to winess a typical sandstorm, later reproduced on the stage of the Century Theatre, New York. In the desert country arrangements were made for the importation of Algerian dancers, members of Arab tribes, sheiks and dervishes, camels, dogs and sheep. Everything that would help out an appreciation of the spirit of the desert was considered, and when the party left Algeria the work had been thorough. With the knowledge gained in the desert, the work of fashioning the electrical effects and myriad mechanical devices went forward as soon as the party returned to New York. Experts working under the direction of the Liebler Company executives delivered their product to the theatre, as Hugh Ford, in charge of the stage summarized results: "It doesn't merely look like the desert—it is the desert."

The story of "The Garden of Allah" is well known to the majority of American readers. It concerns Domini Enfildin, a girl who has gone to the desert to escape the narrowness of a society for which she does not care, and who meets Boris Androvsky, a man who holds for her a singular attraction. Their hearts are singular attraction. Their hearts are joined in the magic of "The Garden of Allah," as the Arabs call the great waste, and their married life is very happy until the sudden discovery of Domini that her husband has been a Trappist monk, who has deserted the broken his vows.

Surviving his wife but a little over two weeks Nathan Kerr Nesbitt, of Windsor, formerly of Kertch, aged 79 years, passed away Tuesday night, September 2nd, after an illness of five days. He had been a sufferer with heart trouble during the past two years, but his condition was not considered serious until Eriday night before he died. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. Arthur Carlisle, of All Saints' held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. Arthur Carlisle, of All Saints' church, at the house, interment in the Windsor Grove cemetery. Mr. Nesbitt was born in Ireland. He attended school in Ireland first, but was still young when he came to Ontario with his brother James. Landing in New York, they made their way to the County of Peel, where Nathan K. continued his education and fitted himself for the Normal School at Toronto. After he obtained his certificate he began his work at Bear Creek, County of Lambton, and for the next thirty-three years was in public school next thirty-three years was in public school work, mainly in the Counties of Oxford Peel, Brant and Lambton, and he was leaded to the was looked upon as one of the best teachers wherever he taught. He held the highest form of certificate, entitling him to teach in any Province without examination. In 1890 he was, by the school law of the County of Lambton, superanuated, and then engaged in other work. As early as 1873, on coming to Kertch, Plympton township, he had gone into the grocery business there, and in addition to this, Mr. Nesbith had held the position of postmaster since 1878, having ooked upon as one of the best teach tion to this, Mr. Nesbitt had held the position of postmaster since 1878, having been appointed under the administration of Sir John Macdonald; the duties of this office he has invariably performed to the general satisfaction of all. He was mail contractor for H. M. S. for over thirty years between Wanstead and Uttoxeter.

thirty years between Wanstead and Uttoxeter.

Fraternal organizations occupied much of Mr. Nesbitt's attention for a number of years. He was a member of the A. F. & A. M., Burns Lodge, No 153, in Wyoming; of Wawanosh Chapter, R. A. M., of Sarnia; of St. Simon Cyrene Commandery, K. T., of Sarnia; and of the K. O. T. M., Wyoming Lodge, No. 38, in which he was Recordkeeper for several years. He was one of the oldest Orangemen in the county, and a member of Plympton Purple Star, L. O. L., and was secretary of said lodge until he resigned the office. Politically he was a strong Conservative and an enthusiastic supporter of the principles of Sir John McDonald. For several years Mr. Nesbitt filled the office of auditor of the township.

On Aug. 4, 1861, at Oakville, County of Halton. Ont., Mr. Nesbitt was married to

Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt were members of the church of England at Wanstead. Their domestic life has been one of the greatest mutual devotion and they were both liked and respected throughout the township. Surviving them are three daughters, Mrs. (Dr.) P. A. Dewar, Mrs. (Dr.) H. Martin and Miss J. K. Nesbitt at home, and one son, Charles of Wyoming.

The 1913 Winter Fair at Guelph

Preparations are well under way for the holding of the Thirteenth Annual On-tario Provincial Winter Fair to be held im Guelph, December 9th to 12th, 1913. The-Premium List which is now to hand, shows a very attractive classification and a considerable increase in the amount of a considerable increase in the amount of prize money offered over former years. Several extra sections have been added in the horse department. In the dairy cattle section, the prizes have been increased in several sections. In the swine-department last year, a class was provided for "any other breed, grade or cross"; the cross the classes are provided one. ed for "any other breed, grade or cross"; this year the classes are provided, one for "any other purebred," and one for "grades or crosses of any breed." In the poultry department, several classes have been added and the prizes for ducks are to be increased according to the number of entries as is now the case in the classesfor fowls.
