The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Metropolitan Toronto Library
Canadian History Department

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The last recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol \rightarrow (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ∇ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

Maps, plates, charts, etc., may be filmed at different reduction ratios. Those too large to be entirely included in one exposure are filmed beginning in the upper left hand corner, left to right and top to bottom, as many frames as required. The following diagrams illustrate the method:

L'exemplaire filmé fut reproduit grâce à la générosité de:

Les images suivantes ont été reproduites avec le plus grand soin, compte tenu de la condition et de la netteté de l'exemplaire filmé, et en conformité avec les conditions du contrat de filmage.

Les exemplaires originaux dont la couverture en papier est imprimée sont filmés en commençant par le premier plat et en terminant soit par la dernière page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration, soit par le second plat, selon le cas. Tous les autres exemplaires originaux sont filmés en commençant par la première page qui comporte une empreinte d'impression ou d'illustration et en terminant par la dernière page qui comporte une telle empreinte.

Un des symboles suivants apparaîtra sur la dernière image de chaque microfiche, selon le cas: le symbole \rightarrow signifie "A SUIVRE", le symbole ∇ signifie "FIN".

Les cartes, planches, tableaux, etc., peuvent être filmés à des taux de réduction différents. Lorsque le document est trop grand pour être reproduit en un seul cliché, il est filmé à partir de l'angle supérieur gauche, de gauche à droite, et de haut en bas, en prenant le nombre d'images nécessaire. Les diagrammes suivants illustrent la méthode.

NAVAL AND MILITARY CHRONICLE OF THE UNITED STATES.

ESTIMATE OF BRITISH TROOPS IN UPPER CANADA.

NOTWITHSTANDING the pomp and preparation of the wars, and the eclat of many of the battles, of Europe, we have always believed, and oftentimes asserted, that, for the number of men engaged in the service, the late contest between Great Britain and the United States was more active, vigorous, and sanguinary, and more strongly marked by deeds of heroic courage and desperate daring, than any other that has occurred in modern times. It was characterized, particularly on the part of the Americans, by much of the chivalric spirit of former ages, accompanied by an unusual degree of skill in the instruments and means of human slaughter.

The following statement, founded, as we believe, on authentic documents, taken in connexion with others that have heretofore appeared in this journal, furnishes ample testimony of the truth of these remarks in relation to that portion of the war which deluged in blood the Niagara frontier, in the summer of 1814. The campaign lasted but little more than two months, commencing on the night of the second of July, with the crossing of the Niagara river by the American forces, and terminating on the seventeenth of September, by their glorious sortie from the lines of fort Erie. During by far the greater part of this time, so active were the operations, that the sword and the bayonet but seldom found a day's repose in the scabbard, and the rifle, the musket and the cannon were in hourly use. Corresponding to this constancy of combat was the carnage which ensued. On this point we assert nothing positively, but express, without hesitation, our firm belief, that the annals of modern warfare will be examined in vain for an equal destruction of officers and soldiers, under similar circumstances, in so short a time, and in an army of such limited numbers.

Of the exact force of the command which general Brown led into Canada, we have no intelligence that can be deemed official. From information, however, which we believe to be correct, we venture to say, that it amounted to less than three thousand regulars, in two brigades, under the command of Scott and Ripley, and a few hundred militia, commanded by general Porter. Numerically speaking, it was certainly much inferior to the force of the enemy; and yet, in four general and desperate engagements, it was four times successively victorious. So dexterous and deadly was it in the use of its arms, that, on each occasion, the havoc it made among the foe was altogether unprecedented. Including the fall of their Indians and militia, there can be no doubt that the loss of the British was, in comparison with that sustained by the Americans, at least in the proportion of two to one. In fact, to every enlightened and candid observer of the progress of the war it must appear, we think, incontrovertibly obvious, that the army of the United States was rapidly acquiring over the enemy, the same ascendancy which, in every instance of conflict, marked the achievements of our gallant navy.—EDITOR.

These various losses, together with those occasioned by sickness, must, I think, be equal to his gain by the recovery of wounded men. This view of the subject will give his loss as follows:

Fort Erie and Chippewa,	700
Falls of Niagara,	1,000
Assault upon Fort Erie,	1,200

Force remaining upon the Niagara frontier Sept. 22, 1814, 3,657

In this statement it is to be understood always, that no account is taken of militia or Indians in the British service.

• From another document in our possession, entitled to no small degree of credit, the loss of the enemy, including that of Indians and militia, is stated at five thousand—Nor are we inclined to believe that the estimate is much exaggerated.

NOTE.—The siege lasted 46 days, from August 21 to the 17th September—the enemy's batteries, however, did not open upon our camp until the morning of the 13th, and but little execution was done after the 6th of September. The average loss per day during the whole of the siege was seven and a half: at different periods it amounted to twenty and twenty-three per day.
