WHILE EXAMINE MEN FOR DRAFT AT ARMORIES

Starting This Morning Those Eligible Under Act Will Be Inspected.

CLASSES OF SERVICE Provision is Made for Men Unfit for Active Military Duty.

Starting this morning, men eligible under the new Military Service Act may undergo medical examination at the Toronto mobilization centre, the armories, University avenue, to ascertain as to their fitness for service in the field, or in any other sphere of operations designated by the militia department.

Such is the gist of an order received by Major R. F. Christie, officer commanding the Toronto mobilization centre. By this means it is hoped to facilitate medical inspection, so that when conscription officially comes into effect there will be no hitch in the handling of those destined for military service.

The military service bill provides for every contingency, recruits being drafted according to their mental and physical qualifications into active and auxiliary services at the front, abroad or at home. The various categories are herewith appended:

Class A. Fit for General Service.—1. Men actually fit for despatch overseas, both as regards training and physical and mental qualifications. In this class recruits will be drafted to the infantry, army or service corps, cavalry and artillery, if recruits are required for the latter arm of the service.

Class B. (Fit for service abroad, but not for general service).—1. Recruits who should be fit for Class A, but are not so trained.

Class C (fit for service in Canada only).—1. In special service companies. 2. Special service companies. 3. In sedentary work as clerks, storemen, batmen, orderlies, sanitary duties.

Class D (temporarily unfit).—1. Not applicable. 2. In any unit under or awaiting medical, including dental, treatment, who, on completion, will rejoin their original category. 3. Class E (unfit for service in categories A, B, C).—Awaiting discharge or reclassification.

LOSS OF MINNEHAHA HAS BEEN CONFIRMED

Forty-Three Members of Crew Go Down With Big Liner.

New York, Sept. 14.—Confirmation of the destruction by a German submarine of the big Atlantic transport liner Minnehaha, with a loss of life, was received by the line today from its offices in England. The cable message said that 43 members of the crew perished and 110 were saved.

Chief Officer Albany O. A. Williams, Dr. J. J. Barrett, surgeon, and three other officers and three engineers were among those who lost their lives. Captain Frank Claret, the Minnehaha's commanding officer, and First Officer Pierce were saved.

EIGHT U-BOATS SUNK IN NAVAL ENCOUNTERS

British Submarine Destroys One—Armed Merchantman Probably Accounts for Two—Seaplane Eliminates Another by Judicious Bomb Dropping.

London, Sept. 14.—Stories of some recent successes of the British navy against German submarines were given to the public tonight in a series of brief descriptions of eight encounters in which eight, and possibly nine, U-boats were accounted for. These eight sea battle pictures were selected so as to cover practically the whole ground of anti-submarine activities. In one case there was a battle between an auxiliary cruiser and a submarine, in another between a seaplane and a submarine, and a battle between two submarines, in which the British submarine captain proved himself the better man, and finally two tales of successes of armed merchantmen against the enemy.

First: "From one of our auxiliary naval forces a torpedo was seen approaching on the starboard beam. It bumped out of the water when a hundred yards off and struck the engine room near the water line, making a large rent and flooding several compartments. A starboard lifeboat was blown into the air, pieces landing on the wireless aerial."

Conning Tower Demolished. "Soon after, a periscope was observed just before the port beam. It turned towards the ship, but quickly disappeared as the enemy further submerged. Again it appeared and was followed this time by the conning tower. Fire was opened and the first shot hit the base of the conning tower and removed the two periscopes. Other hits were obtained and the submarine quickly assumed a list to port and several men came out of the hatch. The U-boat wallowed along for a few minutes and then disappeared." (Concluded on Page 11, Column 5).

PLOTTED TO BLOW UP PROMINENT CANADIANS

Tremblay's Confession Mentions Designs Against Borden, Flavelle, Mackenzie, Mann, Gen. Wilson and Others, as Well as Several Montreal Newspapers.

Montreal, Sept. 14.—One of the alleged dynamite men, Joseph Tremblay, who was committed to jail a couple of days ago for contempt of court because he would not answer questions put to him in the preliminary hearing of the case, again today refused to talk and was sent back to jail by Judge St. Cyr.

Charges were laid against him this afternoon, namely, attempted murder and destruction of property by placing dynamite in the residence of Lord Ashurst, the summer residence at Cartierville. The first charge was having dynamite in his possession.

Tremblay made two confessions, one on September 5 and the other on the 7th instant, according to evidence given this afternoon by Stenographer Cusson. The confessions were made to the crown authorities, and were alleged to be true. Tremblay admits therein that one of the men present at a meeting in Lalumiere's store when the dynamite plot was hatched was a detective, this having been learned since. The discussion included the proposed blowing up of Sir Robert Borden, Sir Joseph Flavelle, Francis Mackenzie, Sir Donald Mann and General E. W. Wilson, G.O.C. of the Montreal district. Also were mentioned the names of R. H. Blandin, and the offices of The Gazette, The Star, La Patrie and Le Presso. Oaths of secrecy were taken, with loaded revolvers in sight, by all present.

It was understood at this meeting that a large gathering of the members of the board of trade in the assembly room of the Royal Bank building yesterday afternoon. Col. John H. Moss, of the Military Service Council, Ottawa, gave a thorough explanation of the workings of the Military Service Act, particularly of the exemptions in placing the men of the government in operating the act to its fullest extent.

In order that the question of physical fitness of all those liable for service under the first draft may be determined as early as possible the government has decided to establish medical boards in each district on or about Sept. 24. This will be before the issue of the proclamation calling all single men of military age between the ages of 20 and 34 to the colors.

Col. Moss dealt particularly the medical exemption cases and detailed the mode of procedure in placing claims before tribunals. He pointed out that it would be the duty of employers to determine those in their employ affected by the draft who were essential to the conduct of their business and then make formal application to the tribunals for exemption. If it were found that the work performed by a man eligible for service was in the interest of the industrial life of the community he would be allowed to remain home.

To protect the act the government would be mindful of the demands of industry, and care would be taken that the enrolling of young men in the service would be a gradual process.

KERENSKY SUMMONING SPECIAL WAR COUNCIL

Whole Military Situation to Be Discussed and Policy Shaped—Cabinet Crisis Continues, and Premier's Resignation May Result.

Petrograd, Sept. 14.—A special war committee, presided over by Premier Kerensky, and including Generals Alexieff, Ruzsky and Dragomiroff and Alexieff, Ruzsky and Dragomiroff, will meet immediately to discuss the entire military situation as affected by the German operations at Riga and the German advance. The committee will draft plans for reorganizing the Korniloff adventure. A resolution of the committee is to be submitted to the army. The Ruzsky-Vols says with a view to calming the agitation among the Cossacks, which General Alexieff has been exploiting, a special ministry for Cossack affairs will be created.

It has been settled virtually. The Bourne Gazette says, that one of the first acts of the reconstituted government will be to dissolve the fourth duma. Kerensky in Quandy.—The cabinet crisis continued all day. The evening newspapers assert that Premier Kerensky is in a very difficult position and that his resignation is not excluded from the possibility. ENEMY QUITE JUMPY

Foe Betrays Uncertainty by Constant Moving of Artillery.

London, Sept. 14.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Telegraphing from British army headquarters, Reuter's correspondent says: Yesterday's attack northwest of Langemarck was a considerable affair. Unusually heavy artillery firing warned our troops, so that when the Germans came on they met such an outburst of rifle and machine gun fire that they wavered. But so dense were the assaulting waves that the attack reached close quarters, resulting in fierce hand to hand fighting. Our main line stood fast and the enemy suffered heavy losses.

The enemy, who was jumpy, evidently wanted to test the efficiency of our defence along the rising ground between St. Jean and Langemarck. The manner in which he is constantly moving his artillery suggests uncertainty. Also in efficiency, our counter battery work, carried out with aerial aid rendered the attack of the enemy gunners to conceal their position.

The ground of the battle zone continues bad, despite the drying weather. The close quarters, shell bursts, the incessant hand to hand fighting, the incessant shell bursts these things soon brought up great quantities of mud which kept the mud liquid.

CRIMINAL CHARGE AGAINST MOTORIST

Robert H. Combs Arrested Following Bad Collision on Jarvis Street.

CHASED BY POLICE

Driver of Coupelet Has Narrow Escape When Car is Overtaken.

John B. Keeble, of 123 West Woodlawn avenue, had a narrow escape from instant death at 7:30 last evening when the motor coupelet which he was driving was struck and overturned by another car and thrown on the curbstone on Jarvis street, just south of Gerrard. Keeble was proceeding north as a madcap race of speed when a five passenger car driven by Robert H. Combs, of 143 Glen Grove avenue, struck the left hind mudguard and turned the car upside down. Keeble fainted when the car struck over, and fell from under the car by eye-witnesses. He was removed to the General Hospital suffering from a fracture of the left hand and a broken collarbone. An examination was made of the hand to see how many small bones were broken; and also suffering badly from shock, injured man was removed to his home from the hospital at a late hour last night.

Combs did not stop his car when the accident occurred, and when approached by the police at the corner of Charles street he denied having any knowledge of the accident. He was arrested by the police of Agnes street station on a charge of criminal negligence. Crown Attorney Corley allowed him to be released on bail of $500 with his appearance in police court this morning. The police would not have been furnished with particulars of the case had the police patrol not been passing along the corner at the time of the accident. They were towing a stolen motor car to Agnes street station when a witness of the collision stopped the policeman and pointed out the car in which Combs was driving north on Jarvis street. Policeman Powers gave chase and caught Combs at Charles street. From evidence furnished by the police in their investigation it appears that Combs was driving at a speed of about 25 miles an hour. Keeble was unable to throw any light on the occurrence. He did not see the car strike his coupelet. Neither of the cars was damaged. Combs' story was that he was attempting to pass the car and declares that if it was his car that caused the accident the rear of his car must have wrenched and hit the back of the lighter car. He denied having seen anything of the collision. Acting Detective Koster has been assigned to further investigate the case.

SUITS will arrest your attention by their lavish employment of fur—Hudson seal, Kolinsky, mouflon, Isabella squirrel and beaver—their long, straight coats—some of them go three-quarters and seven eighths of the way to the edge of the skirt—their close-fitting sleeves and their gay-patterned linings. Duvetyn, Bolivia, velours, serge, burella, gabardine and poplin are the materials of first favor.

THE COATS will impress you with the soft, velvety warmth of their fabrics, of which the chief favorites are the new pompon cloth (like Bolivia, only silkier and deeper of pile), velours, Duvetyn, Bolivia, "Silverton," soft, nap-faced weaves, and Rodier's djersabure (velours pile and Jersey back). Their collars know no limit in size, many of them reaching almost to the waist at the back, and when closed crushing softly around the neck like a muffler. On the loveliest models they are of fur—Hudson seal (seal rat), mouflon, Kolinsky, beaver and Alaska sable (skunk). Nine out of ten coats show belts, and all present the straight line of prevailing mode.

THE DRESSES will charm you. How could they do otherwise? For soft, dull satin, charmeuse and crepe meteor compose the afternoon frocks, and duvetyn and velours—wondrously fine, supple weaves of them—are used for the tailored gowns of latest vogue. The Empire waistline, the Russian blouse and the Chinese tunic vie with one another in artistic effect, and the BUSTLE actually reappears in some of the French creations. But while draperies, tunics and simulated panniers are in evidence on the softer afternoon frocks the narrow skirt and the slim, straight line prevail.

IN THE SEPARATE SKIRTS—such a delightful array of them—you will notice that pleats are immensely popular, that pockets are flatter and smaller, and that for the softer, silkier models, draperies and tunic effects are prominent. Velours, serge, wool and silk poplins, a new Oxford weave, satin, brocade and fancy taffetas constitute the choice of fashionable materials.

BLOUSES for the new season are the very poetry of daintiness, with the round Grecian neck striking a note of distinct novelty. Georgette crepe, crepe de Chine and combinations thereof are the modish materials, with many new stitches of embroidery by way of decoration. Flesh pink, white, maize and the suit shades are the prescribed colors.

FASHIONABLE FURS!—for neckpieces and muffs, 'tis fox, lynx and wolf that will lead the way in the Showing, with Alaska sable (skunk) and neutria beaver following closely. After them in La Mode's approval neckpieces are wide and flat, and muffs medium size and round. When it comes to coats, the emphasis is all on Hudson seal (seal rat), with muskrat in marked favor for motoring and heavy winter wear.

FOR MISSES—Everything smart and new the season offers in coats, suits, frocks and skirts has been adapted for the wearing of Mam'zelle of 14 to 20 years of age. You'll find in the Misses' Department a captivating display of models for girls and young women of slim, youthful figure—costumes suitable for college, business and general indoor and outdoor wear.

WOULD CIRCULATE PROSCRIBED BOOKS

Rev. S. D. Chown Believes Public Would Benefit by Banned Literature.

HOLD SECOND SESSION

Methodist Committee on Social Service Discuss Child Welfare.

At the second session of the social conference of the Methodist Church yesterday afternoon Rev. Dr. Chown, who was in the chair, raised strong objection to the proscription by the Canadian Government of these two much discussed books, "The Eldiers" and "Defeat and Victory." While in Ireland, he said, he had been repeatedly told that Canada should set her own house in order, and that there was no freedom of the press in this country, in spite of all reports of such freedom. He was of the opinion that these books should be allowed free circulation.

Dr. Chown was supported in his contention by a number of members present.

Reports were given by Field Secretaries Dr. Hazelwood and Rev. Hugh Dobson of Regina.

Rev. Dobson gave an account of the work of the department through the west, and described the way in which all had co-operated to put a child welfare exhibit thru from Winnipeg to Regina, with great success. It had also been urged upon the federal government to take up the idea of a national child welfare week, such as has been adopted in England, approved and supported by Lloyd George, and is also carried out in the United States.

They had decided to hold congresses for the stimulating of public opinion upon this question.

Other vital questions which had been largely aided by the same boards of social service were the minimum wage law, provision for municipal hospitals, and, in Manitoba, the "Mothers Allowance Act," and in Saskatchewan a readjustment of the school system. At present a survey was being carried out to find which is the best type of school for the prairie provinces.

BOARD OF TRADE HEARS REVIEW

vice did not disrupt the business life of the community. The draft would be selective in every sense, cognizance being taken of the eligible's responsibilities and his domestic relations. No man would be taken whose service at home was of value to the nation.

Col. Moss asked the employers to observe the following requests in facilitating the work of the exemption tribunals:

To find out among those in their employ, men who are affected under the draft and who are fit for service.

Not to claim exemption for employees unless it was absolutely necessary to do so.

To make the necessary claims for exemption as soon as possible after the issue of the proclamation calling the first class to the colors.

To encourage and assist employees to report for service and to claim exemption immediately.

To report to the registrar the names of employees who had not reported for service or claimed exemption.

Civil Administration.

Referring to the passing of the Military Service Act, Col. Moss stated that the time had gone when there was any use comparing the advantages of the conscription law and the voluntary system. The Military Service Act was now the law of the land and as such it would be enforced. There was no question as to the intention of the government to enforce the law sincerely, fairly and vigorously. The intention was to call up by formal proclamation as soon as practicable the first class mentioned in the act, namely, single men and widowers without children between the ages of 20 and 24. The whole scope of the draft measure was based on the civil administration. Questions of exemption would be dealt with by tribunals established by the order-in-council and the constitution of the boards would be entirely non-political and non-military.

He emphasized that the national interest was the first consideration of the government, and where a man was of more value to the country in his present occupation than he would be on the firing line he would be allowed to remain at home. The successful and smooth operation of the act would depend to a large extent on the measure in which the people appreciated and grasped that distinction of that aspect of the situation. If the people regarded the exemptions as a matter of lawsuit in which their wits would be placed against the wits of the government, and they tried to see how many men they could put out of the service, then the measure was fraught with serious difficulties which would result in unpleasant consequences.

Reasons for Exemption.

The following reasons were stated to be good grounds for exemption: (1) Engaged in any employment that is of national interest. (2) Engaged in any special work necessary for the conduct of the war. (3) Undergoing instruction or

Once More Canada Must Stand in the Gap. Once More Must Hold the Lines of Communication

As, when at Ypres, Canada's Gallant Sons stood in the Gap and held back the Hunnish Hordes---and shed Immortal Glory on Canada's fair name---

So, in their homes, Canada's Noble Women are now called upon to Stand in the Gap and hold back the spectre of hunger from our troops.

The men "out there" must have sufficient food. Only certain kinds of food are suitable for export.

And so we ask you to Pledge yourself and your family to eat less of these foods, so that there may be sufficient of them for export.

For example---if you do your own baking use one-third oatmeal, corn, barley or rye flour with your white flour. If you buy from a baker, order some brown bread each day.

Substitute for beef and bacon such equally nutritious foods as fish, peas, lentils, potatoes, nuts, bananas, etc.

And---this is most important---positively prevent the waste of a single ounce of food in your household.

Next week a Food Service Pledge and Window Card will be delivered to you. The Pledge is your Dedication to War Service---The Window Card is your Emblem of Honour.

Practical Housekeeping Hints

THE FOOD VALUE OF FISH

People have got more or less into the habit of eating fish on Friday only. Fish are just as appetizing and nourishing on Tuesdays and Thursdays as on Fridays, and if you and your neighbors will buy fish any day in the week, you will get cheaper fish and better fish. Hundreds of carloads of fish are exported from Canada because the people living here do not appreciate the value of fish as a food, and do not buy it as often as they should.

Fish supplies the body with material for building and repair, and with energy for heat and muscular work. The value of any food to the body is reckoned upon its yield of digestible nutrients, chiefly in the form of protein, fat, starch and sugar. The demand for it frequently depends upon its cost.

Like meat, eggs, and milk, fish yields a great deal of protein (the chief body-building material), and in many cases at considerably less cost, e.g.,

- One pound of protein obtained: From salt mackerel at 10c per pound will cost 61c. From fresh codfish at 10c per pound, will cost 90c. From halibut, at 18c per pound will cost $1.18. From sirloin steak at 35c per pound will cost $2.13. From milk at 12c per quart will cost $1.82. From eggs at 50c per dozen will cost $2.50.

The energy value of a food is reckoned in calories. The calorie is the unit of heat or energy generated in the human body by the assimilation of a certain amount of food. In other words, the heat necessary to raise four pounds of water one degree Fahrenheit is one calorie; or, the amount of energy required to raise one pound one foot, is one calorie.

The energy value of fish, especially of the oily fish, compares favorably with other foods:

- 1 pound of salt mackerel at 10c per pound gives 998 calories. 10c worth of salt codfish at 15c per pound gives 360 calories. 10c worth of fresh haddock at 10c per pound gives 335 calories. 10c worth of sirloin steak at 35c per pound gives 380 calories. 10c worth of eggs at 50c a dozen gives only 190 calories.

Generally speaking, fish has about the same digestibility as meat, the non-oily kinds being more easily digested than the oily ones.

The caloric rating of different foods is not an absolute measure of their value. A better test is the proportion absorbed by the human body as tissue and blood-building elements. From this point of view fish foods rank very high.

PURCHASING.

The fish appears on the market in the form of fresh, salt, dried and smoked, shredded, frozen and canned fish.

In purchasing fresh fish, see that the eyes are bright and prominent, that the flesh is firm, and the gills red.

PREPARATION.

When fresh fish are prepared by scaling or skimming, they should be wiped with a clean, dry cloth, and placed in a dry place. If put in cold water, food substance will be dissolved, and so lost.

Before boiling, salt fish must be soaked for several hours in cold, unsalted water to remove some of the salt. This water should be changed several times, or, better, place the pan containing the fish under a tap, which is allowed to drip, thus ensuring constant change of water.

Frozen fish must be placed in cold water to have the frost drawn out. When this is completed, clean and prepare as any other fish, and cook in any desired form. This kind of fish is just as nutritious as any other fish, and its cheapness should make it more widely known.

education in order to be fitted for some special service.

(4) Having financial responsibilities or burdens or peculiar domestic relations.

(5) Ill-health or infirmity.

Qualifying these reasons, Col. Moss stated that in the case of an advanced medical student who was in his last year at the university, he would come under the third clause. It would be obviously better that he should become a doctor than that he should serve with the colors. In the fourth clause, where exemption could be obtained where serious hardship would follow if a man were placed on active service on account of exceptional business, financial or domestic obligations he did not think that it would be given effect to in many cases.

The speaker then explained the procedure in reporting for service and in making application for exemption. As soon as practicable the proclamation would be issued calling out the first class. That call would be to single men and widowers without children between the ages of 20 and 24 either to put in a claim for exemption or to report for service on or before a certain date to be named. Dates for exemption being slightly anterior to the dates for reporting for service. Forms for these purposes would be provided by the postmaster in each district, and the class affected would be required to make a claim for exemption or report for service.

Medical Boards.

It was hoped, he said, that the military exigencies of the situation would not render it necessary to call the whole 100,000 men to the colors immediately. The intention was to draw the men from civilian life by instalments. Just what these instalments would be would depend on the military situation at the time. The forms filled in would be brought together in the office of the registrar and then distributed to the different tribunals. In order to minimize the strain on the machinery of the act, medical boards for the examination of eligibles would be established in Toronto in about ten days, and the men could go there in advance of the proclamation and determine their fitness for service without destroying their claim for exemption. He hoped that the employers would do their best to see that the medical boards were made use of to their fullest capacity in order to get rid of that part of the work.

It was manifestly impossible to discuss in detail the principles governing the application of the act. That rested with the local tribunals which were governed by special regulations. The important principle of the law was that no man should be kept at home whose place could be filled and whose activities were not important to the community.

On the other hand, where a man filled a responsible position which was manifestly in the national interest, it was desirable that he stay at home. The determination of that principle rested with the citizens. They would have to consider their conscience and decide who they should have exempted.

Personnel of Tribunals.

Answering a number of questions by the members, Col. Moss stated in the aggregate that the question of whether there should be commercial and industrial men on the tribunals rested entirely with the county judges named to make the appointments. There was nothing in the act to say who they should appoint. The commercial traveler, he said, could apply for any place for a form and forward it to the registrar. In case that a resident of the city happened to be in any part of Canada when the proclamation was issued he could be examined at the nearest medical board and have the report forwarded to Toronto.

The advisory board had not considered the matter of advising the men where and when to appear before the medical board as would be the case with the exemption tribunals. Exemption claims would necessarily take longer to consider than the determination of a man's fitness for service.

Food Control Needed

A new handbook for speakers on "Food Service" has been issued by the food controller, and while it is a most useful and illuminating manual, full of facts and cases, fertile in policies, as a whole it constitutes the strongest indictment of the food controller that has been issued; and this is saying good deal. After reading the pamphlet one is forced to the conclusion that the government appointed a food adviser or counsellor, but not a food controller. If the facts that are ascertained are real, true, genuine, sure-enough facts, then all this admirable advice should be turned into regulations and there should be authority to see that they are observed. It is a totally preposterous policy to follow in the fourth year of the war, when the world is facing a famine, to rely on good advice to get what is needed done in Canada.

The first food controller of any note of which we have record was Joseph. He controlled the corn crop in Egypt on a certain occasion. He controlled it for the benefit of the whole nation. There have been other Josephs since who have controlled food in their own interests, presumably thinking they knew better than follow the public ownership policy of Joseph, son of Jacob. There is an impression in some quarters in Canada that the Lord has changed His policy since He inspired Joseph, but it is hardly wise to adopt that view.

At any rate Joseph believed in regulations, and we believe this is where the policy of our Canadian Food Controller breaks down. All the advice in the world will not prevent some people buying and eating what they like and as much as they like. It will take regulations to establish control, and people must be instructed that the regulations must be kept. The majority of people regard the whole food control agitation as an amiable piece of bluff.

In Great Britain Lord Rhonda, and in the United States Mr. Herbert Hoover, have both taken hold of the food controlling business in a different way. They realize that fine words butter no parsnips, and they have imposed exceedingly stringent regulations. We were given to understand that the food controller here would be clothed with equal powers for Canada. If he has not been this should be made clear, or else a great injustice has been done. If he has power to act as everybody expects him to act he is making a grave mistake further to rely on voluntary measures which have broken down all around. There is no doubt about the shortage of food throughout the world. Masses of people in Canada do not realize this fact yet. They never will until deliberate and effective measures are taken to restrain the waste and the consumption of food, and the substitution of such articles of diet in this country as will replace transportable food material for the use of the armies and our allies overseas.

A Case for Premier Hearst

Government that seeks public opinion before acting should give serious attention to Justice Middleton's remarks when he turned loose a woman who had been accepting money for immoral purposes, and infecting her victims with a loathsome disease. Justice Middleton's grounds for refusing to allow the woman to be confined for six months and cured of her disease were that the charge was improperly laid, and that she should have been prosecuted under the Public Health Act and not under the criminal code. He admitted that the question of the spread of venereal disease was one of prime importance, but from the legal point of view it is much more important that the spread of disease be prevented. If this demonstration of the absurd state of the law does not convince the government of the necessity for immediate action, practically nothing will. We cannot believe that Sir William Hearst or Hon. I. B. Lucas can pass over this situation lightly. It is not merely a case of one woman or a few men, but of thousands of women and tens of thousands of men. Apart from moral questions altogether, the practical side of the matter in the infamous hygienic conditions and the intolerable burden of the cost to the nation brings it within the war policies of the government. If a day is lost in taking the matter up we believe the government is culpably negligent. Under the War Measures Act action should be taken at once, and an order-in-council issued giving the authorities the right to do what their common sense told them should be done, but which legal technicalities prevented them.

Weak, But Faithful

If it should prove that the Russian nation is the most humanitarian in Europe it would not surprise those who are familiar with the people. It is scarcely to be doubted that our western viewpoint was largely in sympathy with Korniloff and his demand for rigorous measures in dealing with the army. His revolt, as we have stated, was as disinterested as the leadership of Kerensky himself, and it was merely a disagreement as to the best way of getting successful results that apparently divided them.

There appears to be no doubt about Korniloff's discomfiture, but not before that he stood for his practically been conceded. There has been division in the Russian cabinet about what should be done with him. If Kerensky is big enough to make him his friend and trust him as a patriot, once more he will probably achieve a moral triumph greater than stern measures could secure. There is a strong aversion from any unnecessary shedding of blood in Russia which should be reckoned with as a national characteristic. The old regime deluged Russia with blood, and the people want something different and better. The bulk of the Russian army is still loyal and active. Even Riga, which yesterday morning a German midlayer was boasting they would never give up, was last night reported to be insecure to the Kaiser's troops. The Germans, let it be understood, are in no better plight than the Russians in the eastern front, and have been desperately trying to make a separate peace with the Russian Government. This is one thing they cannot do, and therein we may depend on the fidelity of our allies.

Prussian Brutality

It is stated that a proclamation of the Kaiser has been read calling for more humane treatment of British prisoners. It was certainly not before if it was needed. The stories of the humane barbarity in some of the camps would disgrace the most savage races, and the conduct of hospital nurses seems to have been as bad as that of prison guards. It is some consolation to know that not all Germans are as bad as this, and in some of the camps no complaints were heard. Some of the photographs that have come from German prisoners indicate that there is a clear distinction to be made between some camps and others, and the reports bear out this conclusion.

The fact only emphasizes the distinction that has all along been made between the two classes of people in the German Empire. On the one hand the governing militaristic class, with all the instincts of brutality and domineering cruelty. On the other, the ordinary plain German people. They might perhaps be more definitely classified as Prussians and others. Where the brutal Prussian element is predominant we have a series of brutalities in accordance with their national policy of frightfulness. These are the men who take sailors from their submarines and then submerge leaving the men to drown, after destroying their boats. It is such men who are reported to have sunk two small Irish schooners in St. George's channel and then turned their guns on the boats in which the men were trying to escape, killing three and wounding the other three in one boat, and shelling the other with shrapnel.

The persistent bombardment of hospitals, the sacking of cities like St. Quentin, the destruction of cathedrals, the looting of art treasures and other objects of value, are a strange combination on the Pope's proposal for condemnation as one of the terms of peace.

Cannot Secure Rails for Pope Avenue Line

Ontario Railway Board Investigates Delay in Completing Street Railway Extension.

When the Ontario Railway Board met yesterday to see what progress had been made by the Street Railway Company and the city toward securing rails for the Pope avenue extension, Fred L. Hubbard, assistant manager of the railway company, stated that he had found it impossible to secure either "T" or girder rails because of the war conditions. The earliest delivery obtainable would be in the city, and he had also failed to find any rails available.

Fees to Be Refunded

Osgoode Students Who Are Drafted Will Also Be Granted Year.

That the fees of students registered at Osgoode Hall who are drafted will be refunded and that they will be granted their year, was the announcement of Secretary Edwin Bell, K.C., of the Law Society for Upper Canada. At present there are some 17 men in the hospital or in military service who are eligible for military service. It is not expected that the school will close as there will be enough men left to carry on the classes. In the case of students not being taken in the first class there is a possibility of fees not being refunded.

Yeo Sterloff and Paul Tarpenoff, charged along with Sterloff with robbing Stoyanoff of $110, were discharged on the evidence of Sterloff, who denied the robbery but admitted assault.

TEMPERANCE ACT'S FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Premier Hearst Receives Gratifying Reports From All Parts of Ontario.

LAW WELL OBSERVED

Great Reduction in Number of Criminal Cases Thru-out Province.

Tomorrow the Ontario Temperance Act will have been in force one year, and the advocates of the reform are well satisfied with the results.

Interviewed by a reporter for The World yesterday, the premier said: "We have now had twelve months' experience of the Ontario Temperance Act, and I am thankful to be able to say that the operation of the law has come up to my greatest expectations."

While there have been a number of violations of the act throughout the province, the law generally has been well observed, having resulted in a number of what drastic provisions of the act and the great change in former conditions and practices in the province.

Future Benefits. "I feel confident that as years go by and our people become accustomed to the changed conditions, still better results will ensue. A generation will grow up free from the temptations and temptations of the open and public sale of intoxicating liquors."

where necessary, to make it more effective and to carry out its intention. Our grateful appreciation is due to the men and women all over this province, whose untiring and unselfish labors thru the years made possible this great measure of social reform.

At last the secret is out. For weeks past the reading public of Toronto have been both attracted and harassed by mysterious advertisements all containing the words, "The Public Be Damned" and "advertising to watch this space."

"The Public Be Damned" is a gigantic and crushing exposure of food profiteers—the pirates in blue—hastened by mysterious advertisements all containing the words, "The Public Be Damned" and "advertising to watch this space."

The film deals with the most vital problem that is confronting this country at the present time. It shows that the Germans are not the only enemies, but that right in the midst of the people of every warring country are the subtle and insidious foes who are keeping prices high when they should be low, who are keeping men, women and children ill-fed and ill-clothed right here in Canada, the land of plenty, the granary of the British Empire.

Mr. Hanna views himself as a trustee for the consumer and particularly for the poor consumer. He does not hesitate to stigmatize the man who boasts prices with the object of making a vast fortune out of the necessities of the poor, as a "blackmailer." Mr. Hanna does not use such ungentlemanly language as that, but one would be fairly safe in assuming that those who witness the thorough exposure of the methods of the profiteers involved in the presentation of "The Public Be Damned" will be even stronger and more strenuous in their crusade against the profiteers and their cruel and crooked ways.

"Step Lively Girls" contains a ten thousand dollar fashion show with a collection of gowns and models that might proudly grace the windows of the world's most famous modistes.

STAR.

The Star Theatre is offering "The Aviators" as next week's show, and from advance notices from the cities that this new show has played it is judged that the burlesque fans are in store for a real treat.

"INTOLERANCE"

This afternoon and tonight will be the last chance for Torontonians to see Griffith's wonderful screen production "Intolerance" at Massey Hall. Nothing in the realm of moving pictures has ever created such universal interest and controversy as this marvelous spectacle, and during this, its third week, the large audiences have taxed the capacity of Massey Hall.

CIRCUS GOES TONIGHT.

For those who have not seen "Polly of the Circus" with the charming Mae Marsh as the star, word is sufficient. This is the last day to see this marvelous production. Next week "On Trial" will be shown and it is one of the most dramatic offerings of the picture theatre.

VALESKA SURATT AT STRAND.

A magnificent cast, a tensely interesting story, an internationally famous star, superb direction, and the crystal photography—these are the outstanding features in the new William Fox production "The Slave," which, with Valeska Suratt as the title role, will be presented at the Strand Theatre for the first half of next week.

GOOD BILL AT MADISON.

A fine "doubleheader" bill has been arranged at the Madison Theatre for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Edna Goodrich will be seen in "Requiem," a powerful and dramatic Mutual production, which shows very forcefully the evil wrought by scandal.

"THE SKY PILOT."

The company which will present "The Sky Pilot" at the Royal Alexandra, week beginning Monday, Sept. 24, consists of Brandon Tynan, Regina Wallace, Ernest Anderson, Harry D. Southard, Eddie Heron, Louis Leon, Hall, Elza Frederic, Isabelle Winlocke, Edwin Caldwell, Joseph Lawrence, Theodore Kehrwald, and Edward Broadley.

MUTT AND JEFF DIVORCED.

The fastest of all frolics, is the way buses and public elsewhere are describing Bud Fisher's newest musical production reintroducing his world-famed comedians, Mutt and Jeff in a musical comedy called "Mutt and Jeff Divorced." The production continues to the Grand week of September 23.

PRINCESS REOPENING.

Klaw and Erlanger's big musical production, "Miss Springtime," has been selected as the opening attraction for the new Princess Theatre, which is to open its doors to the public on Monday evening, October 1. This, the latest addition to Toronto's amusement houses, is modern in every particular and when complete will be one of the finest theatres on the continent.

WOMEN PREPARING FOR CONSERVATION CAMPAIGN. Old Nordheimer Building is Rapidly Being Equipped for Work of Officials.

The old Nordheimer Building, 15 East King street, has put on a very businesslike appearance in preparation for the conservation of food campaign which Toronto women, at the request of the government, will carry out next week.

With the pledge card which the workers will ask housewives to sign, there will be given "War Meals," an interesting pamphlet containing many palatable menus which may be substituted for the flour and bacon which citizens are asked to conserve.

Another pamphlet is called "Can, Dry and Store for Victory," and gives much useful advice regarding the conservation of fruit and vegetables which are perishable unless canned.

Every Canadian housewife is urged to attend the meeting at Foresters' Hall on Monday at 3 o'clock, when a number of addresses and final instructions will be given. The telephone number of the campaign headquarters is Main 1100.

WILL ADDRESS WOMEN. Mrs. E. Newhall of Calgary, founder of the first league in Canada, opposed to combinations holding up food prices, and first president of the consumers' league in Calgary, and now president of the associated consumers' league in that city, is an interesting guest of the city.

Visit Soldiers at Whitby. A surprise visit was paid by fifty women from the various Orange lodges of Toronto to the Whitby Hospital, when a dinner provided by the visitors was given the men in the ward.

Flower Day for the Soldiers. All Helpers, boys and girls, will meet at World today at 2 o'clock to take flowers to the hospitals.

Patriotic Golf Tournament. A cheque for $130 was received by the Liege Chapter, I.O.G.E., from Mrs. Hamilton Burns, proceeds of patriotic golf tournament held recently by the Rosedale Golf Club.

HEALTHIEST ONE IN THE FAMILY

No Sign of Dropsy and Kidney Trouble Since Taking "Fruit-a-tives."

HATTIE WARREN.

Port Robinson, Ont., July 8, 1915. "We have used 'Fruit-a-tives' in our house for over three years and have always found them a good medicine. Our little girl, Hattie, was troubled with kidney disease. The doctor said she was threatened with dropsy, and we began to think she could not live. Finally, we decided to try 'Fruit-a-tives.' She began to show improvement after we had given her a few tablets. In a short time the swelling had all gone down and her flesh began to look more natural. Now she is the healthiest one in the family and has no signs of the old ailment. We can not say too much for 'Fruit-a-tives,' and would never be without them."

50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

You don't like the cheap tea you are using. Do you?

Before the war so increased the cost of living, many people used to drink better tea than they are now using.

Perhaps, this is true in your case? Of course, you are not drinking poor tea because you like it, but because you think it necessary to save money.

But are you really saving anything? Cheap, common tea only make about 150 cups to the pound. You are lucky if you can stretch them out to 185 or 200.

On the other hand, Red Rose Tea easily makes 250 cups. It goes further because of its fine quality, consisting chiefly of Assam teas, the richest and strongest in the world.

You may almost doubt if so many cups of tea can be made from a pound of even such good tea as Red Rose, but you can readily prove the economy of Red Rose without waiting for a package to be used up. Just use a few leaves less of Red Rose for a brewing than you use of common tea—the result we are sure will please and surprise you.

Dyspeptics Get Relief Or Money Back. A REMARKABLE REMEDY. The contention that over 99 per cent. of all stomach troubles are either directly or indirectly due to acidity or food fermentation, seems to be amply proven by the uniformly instant relief experienced by sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia, who take a tea-spoonful of pure Magnesia Neutra in a little water immediately after eating. Many dyspeptics, however, have tried so many highly graded remedies without obtaining relief that they have begun to think nothing can help them. It is therefore a matter of pleasant surprise to these people to learn that every bottle of Magnesia Neutra is accompanied by a blank guarantee to return the purchase price if it fails to give complete satisfaction—proof positive of our confidence in this Magnesia Neutra, which is readily obtainable of any druggist, is the most remarkable remedy ever known for dyspepsia, indigestion, acidity, flatulences and stomach troubles generally.

CONTINUOUS AND GROWING DEMAND FOR MINING SHARES

The upward movement and increased dealings were apparent on the Standard Stock Exchange again yesterday and the demand shows every inclination to grow to materially larger proportions. The company boom in mining stocks will serve more than one useful purpose; among them, and not least by any means, it should render valuable aid to the disposal of the next government war loan. There are thousands of Canadian holders of mining shares who will be able to dispose of their stock at a profit. These have been locked up for a long time, and the conversion of a portion of these holdings into cash will later into the war loan will be the performance of a patriotic duty without entailing any hardship.

WORK APEX FROM DAVIDSON

H. B. Willis, in his weekly market letter, has the following on Apex: Drill hole No. 2 is now being sent 150 feet direct east of the old discovery and a depth of about 100 feet will be reached today. The management are optimistic with another week or so the extension of this vein will be pierced, in which case a 100 per cent. advance would appear justified. Arrangements are being made to start mining on the 300-foot level in the main shaft of the Davidson directly into the property now being operated by Apex, and as this work will start within the next few days, it is likely high-grade ore body of importance will quickly be opened up.

COTTON LETTER

F. Bickell & Co. report: For several days we have directed attention to the change in weather conditions in the south and to the prospects of storms developing. Traders have largely ignored this and today paid a penalty as when cotton was wanted there was little for sale and buyers were forced to bid up the price sharply. We have now reached a point when good weather is absolutely essential to save the crop that has been so far so good. Dry and warm weather is needed. The tropical storm is having an effect in producing rains, and in addition to this, there is the constant likelihood that it may actually strike the belt with sufficient force to do additional damage. Under such circumstances it seems unwise to be short of cotton.

PHENOMENAL WHEAT YIELD

Thorshill, Man., Sept. 14.—J. Cowan, a farmer, has threshed a half acre of wheat which grew on new breaking, and which yielded 280 bushels of No. 1 wheat, an average of over 43 bushels per acre. Another field of 23 acres of well-ripened wheat yielded 745 bushels, an average of over 32 bushels, making a total of 1025 bushels from 29 1/2 acres.

REGARD McINTYRE WITH MUCH FAVOR

Immense Ore Body Reported at Property of High Value. Kieley, Smith & Amos have received the following wire from Mr. Amos, the Cobalt representative of the firm: "I am told by an engineer who has held some of the most important positions in Porcupine that McIntyre is destined to become a mine as big as the Holly or the Dome. He informs me that they have an ore chert on the lower levels that is 1000 ft. long, of an average value of $12 per ton. He also states that the vertical extension is the equivalent to its length, which would mean that this vein alone would equal one million tons of ore of a gross value of $12,000,000, and there are other veins in the byways and ore bodies, but the one mentioned bids fair to be the longest and best developed ore chert in the Porcupine camp."

INCREASE IN OPHIR CAPITAL PROPOSED

Further Financing Required to Carry on Development. A special meeting of the Ophir Cobalt Mines Ltd., has been called for September 24, for the purpose of increasing the capital of the company, and also to ratify the proposal of the directors to increase the amount of the capital of the company from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. The increase in capital is to be made to enable the company to dispose of stock for the purpose of providing finances with which to carry on further development.

LONDON STOCK MARKET

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Reassuring Russian news had a favorable effect on the stock exchange today, particularly in the Russian section, where bonds advanced two to three points. Russian mines and oil shares were correspondingly dearer, while Russian exchange improved to 220. Cilt-ed securities were cheerful and generally harder, without increased business. Speculation in mine, oil and rubber sections continued active features. American were dull. Money was in good supply and discount rates fell.

UPWARD MOVEMENT RESUMED IN MINES

Profit Taking Exhausted—Renewed Buying Advanced Prices.

Distinct signs of strength with a larger volume of buying characterized the trading in the mine stocks yesterday. The profit-taking which arrested the upward swing of the market earlier in the week appears to have exhausted itself, and the market having advanced, it was in this section where the gold issues, however, displayed strength, with a better tone all round. Hollinger was again a feature of the day, the group making a further gain in price to $5.45, which constitutes a new high for the movement. The group, however, was again a feature of the day, the group making a further gain in price to $5.45, which constitutes a new high for the movement.

ADANAC BAGGING ORE FOR SHIPMENT

First Consignment of High-Grade to Be Made Within Month. Some time ago a 2000-ounce vein of high-grade had been reported. The Adnanac Mining News, an examination of this vein underground showed a remarkably strong calcite silver showing large amounts of free silver and cobalt bloom, and running from two to six inches in width. This vein was picked up in the raise from the 400-foot level to the 300-foot level. After drifting for 150 feet, Manager Cartwright commenced stoping operations. During the past two and one-half weeks, about 150 bags, each weighing about 120 lbs. of high grade, have been sorted and are awaiting shipment. It is expected that the first consignment of high grade will be made within a month. With silver at $1 an ounce, this would mean gross receipts of $60,000.

WAIT ON QUEBEC BRIDGE

Received by Heron & Company's private wire: Montreal, Sept. 14.—Trading on Dominion Bridge in anticipation of the completion of the Quebec Bridge. If there is no mishap in this operation there should be some improvement in the local. A good many traders have been waiting to see what will happen tomorrow before buying stocks, and last year's disaster is still fresh in their memories. They are naturally cautious now.
