

Citizens of Cork County Centres Made Responsible for Ambushes Hon. Hugh Guthrie Tells Why Canada Should Stand By Protection

PROTECTION IS ONLY POLICY FOR DOMINION, SAYS HUGH GUTHRIE

HON. HUGH GUTHRIE, Minister of Militia.

If Free Trade Adopted Canada Would Lose Nationality in Few Years—Farmers' Movement Started by Men From U. S.—Country Has Flourished Under Protection for 42 Years—South York Member Favors Representation by Population.

The farmers' movement, which is a formidable one in Canada, was started by men from the United States, whose chief principle is to deal with the United States, declared Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of militia, speaking at the Eglinton Masonic Hall Saturday night on the occasion of the annual meeting of the South York Liberal-Conservative Association. The keynote of the meeting was found in the word "tariff," and confidence in the Melghen government, a word of warning was issued by Hon. Mr. Guthrie when he stated that, should free trade be adopted, in a very few years it would mean the loss of the country as a subservient to the United States and would lose its nationality. "To a large extent a new party has been formed politically in Canada," Mr. Guthrie declared, "known as the Farmers' party, which has its genesis in the far west. It started with the American farmers when there was a considerable exodus into Canada, and they brought their customs with them, one of which was to deal with the United States, and which they have never got out of their heads. During the war the movement came eastwards and took root." He declared no matter how it was formed, the policy was to adopt a free trade policy with the United States. Hon. Mr. Crerar had made straight free trade statements, which, Mr. Guthrie said, made no attempt to hide the matter. He read (Continued on Page 3, Column 2.)

URGENT THAT CANADA AID CHINESE WITH MONEY AND FLOUR

Second Deputation Sees Meighen—Requests a Relief Committee. MATTER IN ABEYANCE Ottawa, Feb. 6.—A strong appeal for national assistance on the part of Canada to China under her present distressing famine conditions was made to Premier Meighen on Saturday by an influential deputation which waited on him at the parliament buildings. Gilles Gaudet, returned missionary from Honan, China, representatives of the Rotary Club and other prominent citizens of Ottawa.

Concrete Appeal. A memorandum urged that the relief committee felt the time had come when the appeal for help should be placed on a national basis and that the government, after the example of the United States, should appoint a national committee. A generous grant of money was asked for from the amount received in poll tax from Chinese who entered Canada last year. It was also suggested that the government consider the sending of supplies, either of wheat or flour, that an appeal be made to farmers in Canada to contribute grain and that the government arrange for free transportation of supplies across Canada and by merchant marine to a Chinese port.

BISHOPS CONDEMN ALL LAWLESSNESS

Irish Prelates Denounce the Crown Forces and Sinn Fein Activities Alike.

Belfast, Feb. 6.—The fifteen pastoral letters read today by all the Ulster Catholic bishops were devoted to the serious situation existing in Ireland. That of Cardinal Logue, primate of all Ireland, dealt at great length with the situation. The cardinal declared that he had never written anything of deeper anxiety or with a more dark sense of his responsibility in the world prospects for the country's future.

"The cry of suffering Ireland," said the cardinal, "is the cry of the century, marking out a sorry place in the story for the present rulers. There has been no word of reconciliation, but repression pure and simple, since the days of Cromwell and such as any examples except that of perhaps Turkey and the Bolsheviks."

Cardinal Logue proceeded in scathing terms to denounce the policy of the government, which he said, had robbed it of "all sense of sacredness of human life and extinguished the instinctive horror of bloodshed. He declared that the so-called official reprisals were acts of wanton oppression and injustice; that men guilty of overt acts against law and order were dragged out of the dead of night and shot under the eyes of their families; that prisoners were shot in the under the plea of attempting to escape, though they were surrounded by armed men easily able to restrain them.

Are Shot at Sight. "Poor people, who instinctively run to cover when they see the formidable lorries approaching, are shot at sight—such is the policy set on life by those commissioned as guardians of the peace and of the security of the people," said the cardinal.

"Let us," said the cardinal, "dealing with the destruction of property, 'even religion has not been spared. Sacristies of churches have been raided, and some times little respect has been shown to sacred vessels and investments. Churches have been surrounded by armed men while people attending mass were held up and searched as they left church. Of course, nothing was found except prayer books and rosaries. Catholics do not go armed to hear mass or prepared to commit crime."

The cardinal protested in equally vigorous terms against the raids on convents and the throwing of 'stones into confectionery.

"It must not be inferred," the cardinal's pastoral continued, "that I overlook or condone extremist crimes. The lying in wait and shooting of policemen or soldiers is no little crime of warfare, but is plain murder and will entail punishment for murder here and if not repented and atoned for, terrible punishment must be visited on such a sinner. No one who has committed such a crime can be justly excused."

Referring to the ineffectual peace negotiations the cardinal said they left the suspicion that they were a mere device intended by Sinn Fein to gain publicity until the country is beaten flat, and is despairing and prepared to submit to any terms the rulers may dictate, and even to swallow the nauseous pill of partition."

The pastorate of the bishops attacked lawlessness, condemning the government forces and the Sinn Fein alike. The bishop of Cork in his pastoral favored the acceptance of the partition act as the stepping stone to obtain other concessions.

"Was the proclamation of an Irish republic by the Sinn Fein members of parliament after the last election sufficient to constitute Ireland as a republic, according to church teachings?" asks Bishop Cahalan, bishop of Cork, and he answers his own question in the negative.

A REMARKABLE ESCAPE

This big car came down Glen Lake hill Friday night and instead of negotiating the short, awkward turn at the end of the street, jumped over the curb and continued on its way across a pile of stones and miraculously came to rest, right side up, at the bottom of a deep ravine near the bottom of Indian Grove and Glen Lake avenue. Nobody was hurt and the car was undamaged.

Announcement was made at Dublin Castle today that a court-martial had sentenced John Connolly to fifteen years' penal servitude for having, in a previous session, a bomb, a revolver, and six rounds of ammunition, and that two other men had been sentenced to seven and five years respectively, on a charge of robbing him of 10 shillings and a government watch.

Three Dublin Ambushes. Belfast, Feb. 6.—Dublin despatches today revealed that Saturday night that city experienced a sensation when loud explosions and continuous volleys, resembling the sounds of a battle on a small scale, became audible in the distant suburbs. It turned out that three ambushes had occurred, one of which resulted in the killing of a four-year-old child.

The first ambush was in the neighborhood of Merrion Square shortly before eight o'clock. Explosions, which shook some of the oldest houses, their foundations, were followed by fusillades of rifle and revolver fire. The inhabitants sought refuge in the street while persons in the street were stampeded by the firing. What had happened was that three bombs were thrown at a lorry filled with soldiers. This precipitated an exchange of shots, which lasted several minutes without cessation, except for the wounding of two civilians by bomb splinters.

The second ambush occurred on the south side of the city, where two military lorries were bombed and there was a similar brick exchange of fire. A child of four years was shot thru the chest and a woman was wounded and taken to a hospital.

The third ambush occurred at 9 p.m. when two military lorries were attacked at Rathmines, in the south suburbs, in the vicinity of the Catholic Chapel. An officer of the military was slightly wounded and some civilians, including a boy, received unimportant injuries.

LIQUOR CONTROL IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Government Has Framed Act on Lines People Voted for in October.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 6.—The chief feature of the first session of the five-year legislature of British Columbia, which opens on Tuesday, Feb. 8, will be the introduction by the government of the new liquor control measure to take the place of the present prohibition act. Another interesting feature is the possibility that Mrs. Mary B. Smith, M.L.A., Vancouver, may be elected Speaker of the house.

It is understood that the government will propose to control the sale of liquor, and that it is framed along the lines he people voted for in October, "the government sale of liquor in retail packages." The hotelmen, it is believed, will make a determined effort to secure the privilege of selling beers and light wines and children may also ask for a limited license.

Financial aid to municipalities may be granted for the operation of the moderation act, in that the government may provide for a fifty-fifty split of the profits on all flavors sold such municipalities.

Unemployed Conditions Likely to Reach Peak During Next Few Weeks.

The following official statement was given out last night by the citizens unemployment committee: The report reaching the citizens unemployment committee would indicate that unemployment conditions will become more acute and probably reach their peak during the next two or three weeks. The returns of the Ontario government employment bureau show that notwithstanding a number formerly registered with the bureau have been transferred to the department of soldier to civilian establishment for relief, the total number of new applicants for relief cards and weekly renewals is on the increase, increased civilian population an increase of 178 for the week ended January 23, over the preceding week, and single civilians an increase of 31. This is attributed largely to the influx of unemployed men into the city for the purpose of exhausting the resources of many and forcing them to become dependent upon the city for sustenance.

THE DAILY MAIL also accuses the air detachments stationed in Antwerp of habitually destroying air material allocated to Great Britain.

San Francisco, Feb. 6.—The passengers and crew of the steamer Klamath, driven ashore today at Point Arena, have been landed safely according to a wireless message received from Capt. Hall of the steamer Curaco which was standing by. Passengers numbered 19.

not been for some time. The Central was organizing and he was sure at the next general election they would send a solid delegation to the support of the Meighen government. He pointed out that reason why today the Canadian dollar was only worth about 80 cents in the United States was due to the fact that Canada went into the war with the firing of the first shot and stopped in it until the firing of the last shot while the Americans came two years after. He thought the Meighen government should hold a conference and he was of the opinion that the best place to hold conference would be on the Kingston road in the shadow of the grave of Sir John Macdonald.

Tremendous Problems. H. H. Ball in a brief address said he felt sure that the South York Association would hold together. They had tremendous problems before them which he viewed with a certain amount of alarm. He thought that the sooner Canada got loose from buying from the United States the better for the existence of Canada as it was jeopardizing their nationality. J. Bayliss, treasurer, reported a balance in hand of $26.50. He maintained that should the tariff be done away with, in two years' time they would be paying to be taken in the United States and they would lose their nationality. The annual election of officers resulted as follows: President, R. L. Baker; first vice-president, A. Craig; second vice-president, J. Davis; third vice-president, Capt. Reesor of Markham; treasurer, J. Bayliss (re-elected); secretary, H. Ball (re-elected) for the 16th year in succession. Others who spoke were G. S. Henry, T. Hunterford, president of Markham Township Association; Capt. Reesor, president of Markham Township Association; Alex. Craig, Mr. Underwood, and others.

The riding of South York, he said, had been readjusted and at the present time there were six thriving subsidiary associations in the riding. He did not think the division of the riding in which he resided, would be in South York at the next division and for that reason they would have to elect another president. He was confident that the province would be restored from end to end as it had

CANADA EMBARKS ON WORLD TRADING

Dominion Ahead of America in Business Per Capita, Professor Says.

That Canada has definitely entered upon a career of world trading, and that her per capita business was greater than that of the United States, was a statement made by Professor R. L. McIver in the course of a lecture delivered in Convocation Hall Saturday afternoon on "Canadian Industry and World Trade"...

Foreign trade, Prof. McIver said, began as a traffic in superfluities, but as a nation could live within itself without exports of great spiritual and monetary loss, trade in necessities rapidly grew to its present proportions...

INQUEST AT BROCKVILLE INTO DEATH OF INFANT

Brockville, Ont., Feb. 6.—To determine the cause of death of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hope who died in the General Hospital on Jan. 21 at the age of two days, an inquest was opened before Coroner Dr. W. E. Harding last evening. The infant had in the meantime been buried at Cornwall, the former place of residence of the parents, whence the remains were brought here yesterday. Suspicion on the part of the father that the death of the child was due to neglect through non-attendance was dispelled by the inquest, which was held for the inquest. The coroner ordered an autopsy to be performed, the result to be made known at a further sitting of Tuesday.

STRANGER NOT SMALL BELIEF IN BROCKVILLE

Brockville, Feb. 5.—Local justice officials place little credence in the report of the identification of a stranger at Kemptville as the missing Ambrose Small. County Crown Attorney Brown expresses the belief that the stranger is the man who, some time ago, was believed to be Joseph Racine of Casselman, who has been living in abandoned shanties and seeking refuge on farms in that neighborhood for some time. A patient who jumped from a train near here while en route to the Ontario Hospital for the insane, is also at large in the same district.

Inspector of Detectives Guthrie said on Saturday that he was satisfied from the description that the man on the farm near Kemptville, Ont., was not A. J. Small. It was reported in Montreal Friday night that a detective had been sent from Toronto, but the police department is containing itself with forwarding a circular to the farmer in whose house the mysterious stranger is staying.

MURDERER'S LAND UNDER FORECLOSURE

Property Sale Takes Place in Front of Court House, N.B.

Fredericton, N. B., Feb. 5.—Two properties, one of 146 acres and another of about 100 acres, were sold in front of the Victoria County court house at Andover, under foreclosure of mortgage given by Newman Clark, who occupies a cell in the jail adjoining the court house, and is condemned to death for the murder of Phoebe Bell at Grand Falls almost a year ago. The properties are located near Four Falls in Victoria County where Clark and his wife lived until they were separated. The properties were bid in by his brothers at the amount of mortgage which had been reduced to $330, and it was said the sale was made for the purpose of getting some of Clark's business affairs straightened out in view of his present predicament and to supply funds for the efforts which are still being put forth to save him from the gallows.

MONDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY

Curbing the Coal Combines.

Fuel, coal and cement are still the big items in the family budget, and using as we do Pennsylvania anthracite for domestic service in Ontario, we cannot but be interested in any federal action by the United States to regulate and reduce the price of coal.

In no business is the spread between the producer and the consumer so astounding. If the miners worked for nothing it would probably have little effect on the retail price.

What the consumer pays is largely absorbed by the agencies of transportation and distribution. The transportation charges can be fairly well regulated by the railway commission, but up to date nothing efficient has been done toward limiting the charges and profits of handling, neither has there been any efficient expose of the way in which scarcity is artificially created and local prices are up to fancy figures overnight.

Most of the loading up in the case of anthracite coal is done on the United States side of the line and, therefore, beyond our control.

Congress, however, is dealing with a bill designed to vest extraordinary powers in the fuel situation to relieve emergency in the fuel situation by licensing operators and forbidding prescribing maximum prices, but for prescribable prices, and by using the bidding paper sales, and by using the railways to rush coal into districts where a scarcity of fuel exists, whether by reason of unavoidable circumstances or by reason of crooked combining.

A powerful lobby is fighting the bill, which seems to be opposed by operators and miners in union. The great difficulty is to find constitutional power to vest such authority in the president. It is said that coal is a public utility like water, gas or electricity, and therefore proper subject of governmental control.

These other services are malady under local control. No doubt the states in which coal is located might regulate its production and distribution within their own borders, and the federal power could undoubtedly deal with coal once it entered interstate commerce.

Whether a nation-wide regulation of coal as a national utility could be justified except in wartime is probably an open question, not dissimilar to the legal question involved in the board of commerce case, now pending on appeal from the supreme court of Canada before the imperial jury panel.

Little Boy Blue.

To the bulk of the people who ever heard of him at all Eugene Field is known as the author of "Little Boy Blue." The toy soldier standing where Little Boy Blue told him to remain when he played with his toys for the last time touches the heart, and thru this touch of nature Field found all the world his kin.

Field, who was for years a hard-working Chicago newspaper man, would probably have been amused at the idea of Chicago like Little Boy Blue, dropping into poetry. He would have told his fellow citizens that they knew and cared a great deal more about pork than they did about poetry.

Which would have been true enough, but more or less true of many less bustling commercial centres.

The newspapers have at any rate produced whatever literature Chicago has given to the world, and in this respect have far surpassed the dailies of New York. They give their "deck-hands," as Field called them, a free hand, and encouraged originally, sometimes they hit the mark and often they missed it wildly. But they wrote stuff which the man on the street appreciated, and his judgment is not to be despised. Field's touching tribute to the clinkety-clink of the ice in the water jug as the bal-bow approaches the bed of the man who was not drinking ice water the night before, probably won him wider fame at the time than Little Boy Blue.

But the newspaperman working from day to day after he has turned in his last copy for the day will be longer remembered because they published their productions a book at a time instead of from day to day. Indeed, by a strange and unaccountable law of chance the author who is only small groups engaged in reconstructive and intelligence work. In some areas, where conditions are wholly favorable, the companies are formed into battalions and brigades.

Asked why individual policemen were shot down, he said that no policeman was picked off because he happened to be an officer, asserting that the police were being used as a weapon by the police's record, such as engaging in intelligence work.

Local quartermasters, he went on to look after the flying columns and provide billets and supplies.

"The men are all well fed and are in good health," he added, "and their continued resilience is amazing. Nothing depresses them; they are all ways game for a new job, even if knocked about night after night."

Asked why individual policemen were shot down, he said that no policeman was picked off because he happened to be an officer, asserting that the police were being used as a weapon by the police's record, such as engaging in intelligence work.

Discussing the "Republican army" methods of warfare, he explained that "Guerrilla fighting is not as futile as many people may believe. Our people in '38 came out in masses against the British and were mowed down in one summer's campaign. We would be quickly annihilated, too, if we attempted to oppose the military in bulk.

But we hit them without being hit. We have kept on for a year, and the boys are still full of ginger and eager to continue.

Our methods are undermining the morale of all the crown forces. Take the auxiliaries, for example. At first the auxiliaries were a dash lot and handy with their guns. But now, since they have been forced to take refuge in armor-plated cars covered with netting, their prestige is gone. We no longer fear them.

We are also undermining England economically. The cost to England we estimate is a million pounds weekly to maintain armed forces in Ireland, and it will be necessary to increase the forces immediately before they can make headway against us.

Furthermore, we are undermining England's reputation abroad.

AID BEING FURNISHED TO DESTITUTE FAMILIES

Brockville, Ont., Feb. 6.—The publication of reports that many local families were destitute and in want has brought offers of assistance from many sections. Farmers in the neighborhood are among the most ready to furnish relief and necessities and are contributing various provisions to the G.W.V.A., which has a list of 39 returning assistance.

Small boys has turned over the contents of his tin bank, amounting to $124.

Maintenance of Supplies.

Regarding the maintenance of supplies, arms and ammunition, Colonel X said: "There is no danger of any shortage. Besides what is captured in attacks the usual supply continues to trickle in from the outside. Our methods of fighting, short sharp engagements, economize ammunition to the utmost."

The "Irish Republican army" is not hampered by lack of funds, a large part of which, Colonel X declared, has been proclaimed in subscriptions to the "Republican loan."

No pay is given to any of the members of the organization, except instructors. Martial law has thus far not directed the operations of the Republican army, said Colonel X. Since martial law has been proclaimed in the south the commanders of all brigades and districts concerned have met for the purpose of dealing with the new conditions.

It is any wonder that houses are scarce and so many out of employment, when lumber merchants are allowed to charge such extortionate prices for building material?

It is about time that the Ontario legislature took a hand in regulating the profits in building, since there could not be so many out of employment.

The newspapers have at any rate produced whatever literature Chicago has given to the world, and in this respect have far surpassed the dailies of New York.

They give their "deck-hands," as Field called them, a free hand, and encouraged originally, sometimes they hit the mark and often they missed it wildly. But they wrote stuff which the man on the street appreciated, and his judgment is not to be despised.

Field's touching tribute to the clinkety-clink of the ice in the water jug as the bal-bow approaches the bed of the man who was not drinking ice water the night before, probably won him wider fame at the time than Little Boy Blue.

THE MATING OF THE BLADES

By AHMED ABDULLAH. (Copyright, 1920, by the James A. McCann Co.)

And then, out of the trooping shadows, came the words, in gentle, purring tones: "Take the money, sahib, and keep the blade. No, no, no," as Hector, recalled to earth, was about to flare up.

"You must forget your petty, withering pride. Do you wear your heart calls you. Follow the feet of your soul . . . out there to Asia!"

Then he added: "I am not altogether unselfish. You see, sahib, I am an Asian, and Asia is old and worn and tired. It needs fresh blood. It needs men like yourself. Here! Call it a loan."

He drew a purse filled with sovereigns from the voluminous folds of his waist shawl.

"All right," Hector said. "I agree to the bargain. But I give you fair warning: you'll lose by it. I thought of going to India even before I read your advertisement. But—sahib—second thoughts—"

"He shrugged his shoulders. "It's really useless, you know. India is only an imitation suburb after all. I—oh—I am impatient with the slow pace of life here. I have not the fluttering ghost of a chance in India."

"India is not the only land east of Suez," the sahib rejoined gleefully. "But I tell you I haven't a chance over there."

"You have something else?"

"What?"

"The blade!" All Yusuf Khan's words came with a tremendous, cold energy. "The blade!" he repeated, in a husky, flat voice.

"Kid Scanlan's 'make good' was hanging from his left shoulder, and it made enough dimes in five years to step out of the crowd and watch others scramble from the side lines.

"It was an ordinary arm, size 36, model A, lot 768, same as we all have—but inside of it the Kid had a wallop that would make a six-inch shell look like a lover's caress. 'Inside of his head the Kid had nothin'."

The result was that Tolemache Wade paid another and humiliating call on Sam Lewis, the user of Lombard street, by signing a note for fifteen thousand guineas, received five thousand in cash and the remaining ten thousand in promissory notes.

COME TO THREE POINTS GAINS IN NEW YORK

Oil, Steels, Equipments and Rails Are Most Active, Bullish Manipulation Giving Shorts Uneasiness—Industrial Advances Rather Conflicting.

New York, Feb. 6.—Today's brief session of the stock market was occasionally enlivened by the operations of bull power that resulted in covering of short contracts, extreme gains in various divisions of the list ranging from almost 3 points.

As usual the greater part of the moderate dealings converged around these steel equipments and rails with limited specialties. Buying of rails was interesting for the activity of reading common and 1st and 2nd preferreds in anticipation of a forthcoming announcement of the segregation plan.

Several of the Mexican issues—stocks and bonds—were freed from their lethargy on buying orders which followed overnight reports that the Mexican government has in contemplation a comprehensive plan for refunding its external obligations.

Changes in the clearing house statement were unimportant, slight expansion being shown in actual loans and discounts and an increase of a little over $6,200,000 in reserves, bringing the total excess to about $15,900,000.

Local reactions in the bond market, but otherwise, including the Liberty group, dealings were light and irregular. Total sales (par value) aggregated $5,825,000.

The weekly review of mercantile agencies reported "slow and cautious improvement" in various lines of trade. This was qualified, however, by the statement that industrial conditions continue to suffer from the "blight of unemployment."

Investments had an average business for a Saturday session and changes did not indicate any new feature of this department.

Substantial gains by Montreal issues. Montreal, Feb. 6.—Trading in listed securities on the local stock exchange was quiet and the market was narrow, only 50 issues figuring on the active list.

The market was filled with speculative stocks closing at substantial gains. The paper market was somewhat firmer, but without any apparent ostensible reason. The papers in all instances recorded advances, but clearly this was not because of any public demand for the shares.
