TELLS OF TAX

City Hall Official Says Instructions Received Not to Collect Money

Montreal, Jan. 14.—Three men will appear in arraignment court today, following the coroner's jury in holding them "criminally responsible" for the deaths of 78 persons, as a result of last Sunday's fire in the Laurier Palace Theatre.

The men are Ameen Lawand, owner of the theatre; Camil Bazzy, employe, and Michel Arie, house manager.

CORROBORATES STORY

Jean Louis Falardeau, 11, told a similar story and was also unable to make identification.

TELLS ABOUT LICENSE

Albert Lacey, city hall license department superintendent, testified that the license tax due by the Laurier Palace on May 1 of this year, was not paid until December 29. At that time $888.50 was paid to the city, but then the theatre did not get a license to operate.

GRANTED BAIL

Lawand, Bazzy and Michel Arie, charge manager, were arraigned on a charge of manslaughter in Police Court here today, in connection with the fire and panic in their establishment last Sunday, which resulted in the death of 78 criminally responsible for the tragedy yesterday.

SEAMEN TELL OF HARDSHIPS ON SCHOONER

Crew of Schooner Charles Whittemore Now Safe at Boston

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 13.—A tale of hours spent in a dimly lit shelter of the wheelhouse of a dimasted schooner with only cold canned foods to eat and snow scraped from the decks for drink was unfolded by the seven men of the schooner Charles Whittemore, Nova Scotia for New York, when landed here this afternoon.

Two months ago Captain C. Malcolm Wilkie of LeChar, N.S., bought the four-masted auxiliary schooner from her Boston owners. On Dec. 21 she sailed from Port Greenville, N.S., for New York, with spruce. Head winds laid her by at Spencers Island until last Saturday when way was resumed.

The motor-boat and yawl were carried away. Water burst through the hatches and flooded the forecabin. The men saved a few cans of provisions and huddled in the wheel-house while the water mounted in the hold. The snow they scraped to stick their thirst was tained by the salt spray.

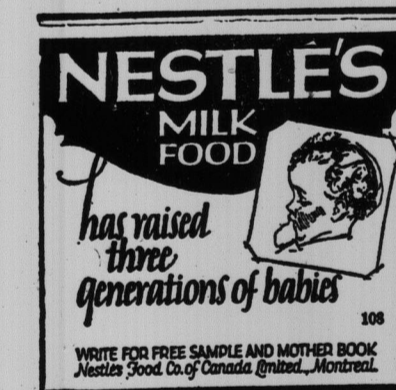

The Charles Whittemore was awash when the Boston schooner John B. Ericson sighted her yesterday afternoon when returning from Flouder dragging. Three trips in a dory were made in the still rough seas, 80 miles off Peaked Hill Bar, before the crew were rescued. The dory was set on fire to remove her from the path of navigation.

The Ericson turned over the rescued men to the cutter Dexter at Provincetown and the Coast Guard boat brought them here. The British Consul has taken charge of returning the men to Nova Scotia and restoring the clothing lost with the vessel.

The Coast Guard cutter Tampa later reported that she had extinguished the fire on the Charles Whittemore and taken her in tow to Provincetown, but Captain Wilkie has expressed doubt as to whether she was worth saving.

BIRTH RATE DROPS TO 21.3 IN TORONTO

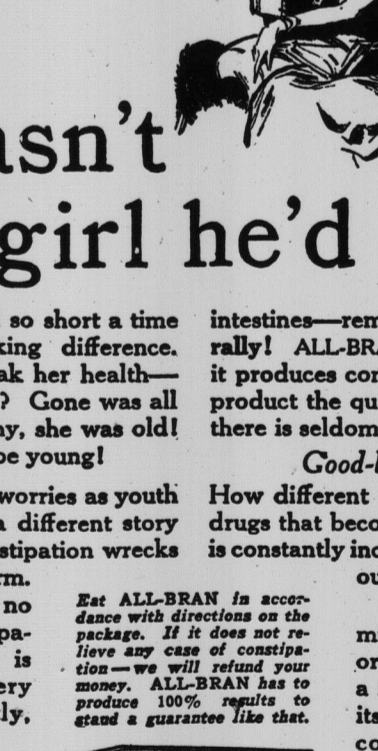

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—Toronto's birth rate last year was the smallest on record, Dr. Charles J. Hastings, medical officer of health, says in his annual report presented to the Board of Health today. Births were 11,890 in 1926, an average of 21.3. "The rate for births," the report says, "has been steadily decreasing since 1922, when the rate was 26.6. The death rate was slightly increased, and the infant mortality rate higher."

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 14, 1927.

MR. PITFIELD'S ADDRESS

THE friend who tells us our failings as well as virtues is the one from whose friendship we derive the most benefit. Mr. Ward C. Pitfield talks to the people of the Maritime Provinces with frankness because he is a native. He did not find the scope for his own energies here, but because one of that very large category which only need opportunity to win success in a larger field. Addressing the Board of Trade last evening, Mr. Pitfield laid stress upon a number of matters which are vital to the success of these provinces. Finding that our farms are not producing enough, he would have an Agent-General in London for the province of New Brunswick to promote immigration and trade; and added that so convinced was he of the benefit to be derived by the province that he would pay the salary of that official for the first two years, on the one condition that he himself be permitted to name the man. Regarding our Crown Lands policy Mr. Pitfield urged that it be made stable, and he predicted a large development of the pulp and paper business. Speaking of capital investment, he expressed the opinion that the provincial policy which provided a second electric distribution system in Saint John had had an adverse effect upon the investing public in the United States and Upper Canada. His counsel is, however, that when industry down this way needs capital and advice it should go to Montreal and Toronto instead of to the United States. Mr. Pitfield can speak with authority on this subject, because the company with which he is associated has provided over $25,000,000 for industrial expansion in the Maritimes. Mr. Pitfield was insistent in urging that the people of these provinces help themselves to the largest possible extent; and, since he is a native he may be forgiven for not at the same time setting forth the reasons for discouragement and apathy, which lie entirely outside of the province, and are one of the results of Confederation. Nevertheless his advice is sound, and when the recommendations of the Duncan report have been supplemented by legislation there will be no reason to complain of a lack of enterprise and energy in these parts. The press of the provinces will appreciate Mr. Pitfield's compliment to its non-partisan attitude and the additional influence it exerts at home and abroad on that account.

It was a happy thought on the part of the Board of Trade to bring back successful Maritime men to express their views on the Maritime situation. Mr. Pitfield was the first, and he has given the members of the Board and the people at large food for earnest thought and deliberation.

LIQUOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

IT HAS been said over and over again that prohibition would not be satisfactorily enforced in Saint John until the enforcement was placed in the hands of the city police. Such action, however, has never been taken, nor does it seem to be contemplated. Although the police are sworn to enforce the laws, the enforcement of prohibition is left to provincial officers. A similar situation seems to be about to develop in the city of Winnipeg, where there is a dispute between the City Council and the Provincial Government over the enforcement of the liquor law. The police department announces that heretofore it proposes to distinguish between crimes which it will consent to combat and crimes which, so far as it is concerned, may be committed with impunity in the presence of the police. The Winnipeg Free Press vigorously objects to such a course. It says: "The city would be justified in taking the stand that if it enforces the act properly it should be necessary to increase the membership of the city force, it would be justified in asking the province for financial assistance to pay the costs, in view of the unusual situation that exists in respect to breaking of the liquor laws. This might be done by way of a direct contribution from the Government or by permitting the city to retain all the money collected in fines from convictions under the Temperance Act. The Provincial Government has agreed in advance to a settlement along these lines, only to meet with a pre-emptory refusal by the Police Commission."

Saint John residents will be interested to note that the Manitoba Government is willing, either to make a direct contribution to the city of Winnipeg, or permit the city to retain all the money collected in fines from convictions under the Temperance Act. No similar offer has been made as yet, so far as we know, by the Government of this province. If it were made and accepted by the city, we would soon learn whether prohibition in Saint John can be enforced.

INDISCRETION OR FRANKNESS

UNDER the heading "An Indiscretion by Mr. Bruce," L'Evenement takes the Australian Premier to task over the declaration that declared autonomy implies fuller Dominion participation in Imperial defence. L'Evenement argues that "if it is true that the status of Canada has been changed to the point that the Dominion is now a country as free as proud Albion, British Imperialism is on the decline." If L'Evenement refer to the old Downing Street brand of Imperialism, the latter is not on the decline, but moribund, but not actually dead. "The French language newspaper says further: "London has seemed to accord us a classical claim in the way of Canadian sacrifices. In continuation: "Australia is free to follow the advice of the British Admiralty." On what grounds is this tutoring insinuated? It is presumed that Australia is preparing against attack—presumably so, and preparedness is the surest way to avoid war. Let Mr. Bruce confide to L'Evenement "under seal of secrecy" whom he fears—that were indeed an indiscretion. Whatever power may be the aggressor Australia fears, Canada is protected against it; the United States will not attack because we are defenceless; Japan could not attack because the United States—not the Empire, be it noted—would not let her. This is amazing. Has L'Evenement never read history to discover that the real causes of war have been nearly always obscure at the time, however plain the portents appear on future analysis; that rich nations who neglect defence are often the actual cause of predatory wars; that the most pacific desires on one side cannot always preserve peace—not honorable peace? Is L'Evenement so young as not to expect the unexpected?

That Mr. Bruce was probably attempting to convert Canada to Australia's conception of Empire responsibility The Telegraph-Journal has already suggested, though whether this be an indiscretion or frank talk between brothers is open to debate. It has, however, been held that only in the basic conception, that Imperial defence resolves itself into maintaining and guarding Empire communications, are the situations of Australia and Canada the same. The means whereby each contributes to maintaining these arteries varies. Canada has a railway system that is undoubtedly Imperial, and therefore money spent on that are—in part at least—monies contributed to Imperial defence. The fact of the matter is that the Imperial Conference has fired all its delegates. Possibly Mr. Bruce is at the moment over-enthusiastic, but Canada may be sure that her own Premier will consider carefully what are Canada's obligations, and will act as best the leader of the government of a virile nation within the British Empire.

The proposed expenditure of $5,000,000 for storage, hydro-electric development, mill construction and plant equipment in the neighbourhood of Bathurst within the next two or three years, as proposed by the Bathurst Company, Limited, will be an immense gain to that part of the province. Mr. Angus McLean estimates that steady employment will be provided for a thousand men, as a result of the development. Mr. Pitfield last night predicted that there will soon be four or five paper mills operating in New Brunswick. When that is brought to pass the lumber industry will have entered upon a new and more prosperous phase of development.

Premier Baxter, at the Board of Trade meeting last night, laid emphasis upon the fact that the members of the Saint John Board of Trade are as deeply interested in the rest of the province as they are in the city, and he believes the province is being broken down. There should not exist any prejudice on either side. City and province will advance together or they will not advance at all. The sooner it is universally realized that the material interests of urban and rural centres are common, and that what injures the one injures the other, the sooner we shall be making headway.

A taxicab company of Newark, N.J., refuses to employ red-haired drivers on the ground that ninety-eight per cent. of red-headed men are reckless. The company bases this dictum on fourteen years' experience, so it is said, and, until some other theory is advanced, this latest classification must be accepted. Assuming it to be accurate, one is impelled to wonder at nature's provision of a danger signal—or is there a hair dye manufactory in Newark that needs to boost its sales?

Toronto wants a coking plant. The Mayor of Toronto intends to get in touch—immediately—with the Dominion Government to ascertain what money is to be granted certain cities for the development of heating and coking plants and electric power. Toronto is not backward in coming forward and there is no reason why others should be. We all have our claims—some of us are more fortunate than others. The unfortunate widow got what she asked for.

Kansas had better be careful. A bill has been introduced into the State Senate legalizing the sale of the sly cigarette. Incidentally dealers must take out a license. In a year or so Kansas will be maintaining the best roads on the continent "thanks to our nicotine legislation."

CANADA AND THE WORLD'S FOOD.

MOST of the estimates made by scientific men from time to time as to the assured time when the world's food supplies would run short have been proven wrong when the fatal day arrived. Canada has helped to leave them unfulfilled. The late Sir William Crookes in 1898 gave Canada 25 years to reach a maximum of 12 million acres in wheat. Yet in the period since, Canada's wheat area has grown from under 5,000,000 acres to nearly 24,000,000 acres this year.

VARIOUS WAYS.

THE death was reported in France a few days ago of a woman at the age of 104. It was said of her that she had never missed an opportunity to attend a dance, where she could see the many who might have been her grandchildren. There are different ways of getting through life. Some glide through, some dance through, some groan and growl and some merely vegetate. In the end, however, everybody manages to get through.

ONE FOR MR. HEARST.

IT would have been altogether fitting if the privilege of being the first man to talk with London over the telephone had fallen to Mr. Hearst. Inauguration of the trans-Atlantic telephone and Mr. Hearst's discovery of a passionate affection for the British Empire have been virtually simultaneous.

SOMETHING DOING NOW.

THE country still looks hopefully to the new regime in the department of immigration. This department's work in recent years has not reflected any credit upon either the minister, his deputy or officials, so far as volume of results is concerned. They have all been satisfied with very little in the way of actual performance.

MOVING ON.

THE world is still far from the millennium. But the world moves and the movement is forward, not backward, and forward towards that ideal of dreams Tenyson dreamed in "Lochley Hall," "the parliament of man, the federation of world."

NO HURRY.

ONE hundred thousand peonies are to be sent from Canada to England next July in honor of Canada's jubilee. Considering present weather conditions it probably would be just as well to defer the shipment for a while.

BUSINESS OWNERSHIP.

THE present idea that a business belongs only to those who own the capital therein, must give place to a new spirit that it belongs to all who contribute to its success.—Sir Arthur Lowes-Dickinson

News and Views From The British Capital

LONDON, December 30, 1926.—Last week marked the 81st birthday of the Duke of Richmond and Gordon, whose father led the Conservative peers before Benjamin Disraeli became Lord Beaconsfield. The present Duke is a handsome old Etonian cricketer, who served in the Boer War, as his grandfather did before him in the Napoleonic wars. Soldiering is in the Gordon Lennox family, and the Great War took its toll of the Duke's male descendants. His heir, the Earl of March, D.S.O., was an Irish Guardsman, and one of his nephews is a lobbyist at Westminster. The old Duke is a keen all-round sportsman, and a member of the Jockey Club, and will get no more sincere birthday greetings than from Tommies who recovered from their wounds at his splendid Highland castle near Pochobers. The alert attention and prodigal generosity with which his Grace catered for their welfare and amusement were beyond compare. The writer speaks feelingly about the joy he enjoyed that wartime hospitality in a blue suit.

Changing Tastes.

The Duke's chauffeur, who lost an eye at Mons, tributed to Imperial defence. The fact of the matter is that the Imperial Conference has fired all its delegates. Possibly Mr. Bruce is at the moment over-enthusiastic, but Canada may be sure that her own Premier will consider carefully what are Canada's obligations, and will act as best the leader of the government of a virile nation within the British Empire.

Play a Nation's Part

PREMIER BRUCE, of Australia, is a man of action, with the active man's contempt for mere words and phrases. The speeches he has made in Eastern Canada have given evidence of this. At Hamilton he said: "Play a nation's part"—the words carry a real message, and it is well that Mr. Bruce is on hand just now to speak to the nation on this subject. In this Imperial Conference, all the self-glorification some Canadians have indulged in since the Imperial Conference, all the additional efforts to explain our status has been advanced a foot here and six inches there, are all futile. These things count less than the success of the Imperial Conference could not add an inch to Canada's stature as a nation, nor detract from a number of them. The unfortunate widow got what she asked for.

Canada's Soldier Farmers

FIFTY years or more ago Sir Wilfrid Laurier spoke of Canada as the "Granary of the Empire," and was the butt of the flippant, who regarded Canada West as a barren wilderness. Last year the value of Canada's exports of grain and flour was $475,000,000. Settlers who knew little or nothing of farming have made a success of taking up land in the West. Since 1917 the Government has aided veterans of the World War with grants of land. Major E. J. Ashton, Commissioner of the Soldier Settlement Board, says of their venture: "That soldier settlement has produced a considerable crop of failures is admitted. What is not generally realized is that its successes form just as large a part of its general record as do successes among the farming public, and that today among the successful are men who have taken a leading part in Canada's agriculture."

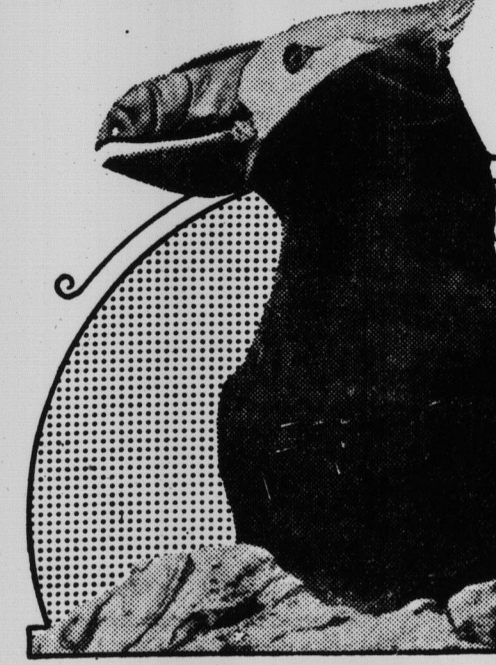

Psychology

THE psychology of propaganda was explained in this way by an advertising expert at a recent dinner: "A boy boarded an excursion steamer," he said. "Every bench and camp chair was occupied. The boy devised a trick. 'Seen the whale?' he began to ask the excursionists near him. 'Tied to the pier on the other side.' His whale story was laughed at. But he kept on repeating it. Gradually one by one, the passengers got up and crossed over. The boy got a seal. Soon he could have had 100 seals. For the whale story had at last got in its work. Everybody had hurried off so as not to miss the whale. He sat alone for some time. 'Pity he hooped up and rushed to the other side of the boat, muttering, 'Maybe there is a whale there, after all.'"

America and Greece

THE old and the new will come into stark contrast when the new Ford factory is completed under the shadow of the Parthenon in Athens. But the contrast between modern and ancient times is of less importance to Americans than the fact that a new Ford factory in Athens is bound to result in better roads throughout Greece. Students of the Pan-American University at the University of Athens, a network of good roads and motor buses will lure thousands of eager tourists. Announcement that a Ford factory will soon be built means that Sparta and Olympia, Delphi and Argos, will no longer be regarded as inaccessible.

Queer Quirks of Nature

HERE is a cousin of the pretty Murre, and a cousin of whom we strongly suspect the Murre is secretly ashamed, for whoever saw a more grotesque bird than this Puffin, which inhabits both sides of the North Atlantic and shores of the Arctic Ocean. The bird averages 11 to 15 inches in height when full grown, is black or sooty black above and white or sooty gray beneath. Added to an ungraceful body and clumsy gait, is a most peculiarly shaped head and beak, the latter of enormous proportions compared with the rest of the bird. This beak or bill is ornamented during the breeding season by several plates, gaudily colored in yellow, blue and red, and further embellished with grooves and embossing. These plates are shed after the breeding season and are supposed to be the persuasive paraphernalia by which Papa Puffin seeks to inveigle the lady of his choice into becoming Mamma Puffin. Puffins raise their little ones singly. Four weeks after the single large whitish egg is laid the baby sea parrot, which is the name often given them, appears on the scene. It is said the Puffin becomes diabolically vicious if disturbed at nesting-time, its powerful sharp-edged beak making a formidable weapon. It is said that a long time ago Puffins were abundant along the shores of England and Ireland, where they were highly prized for food. They were eaten fresh, and salted and dried, the younger birds being especially used for food. Their flesh was so oily and yellow, however, that instead of being classed as the meat of birds or fowl, they were considered to be fish, and regarded as such in religious restrictions.

Poems I Love

By CHAS. HANSEN TOWNE

Just Fun

"The Truant," by Walter de la Mare. DE LA MARE is not only a poet of distinction, but a writer of exquisite prose. "The Memories of a Child," published in 1922, placed him as a novelist among an exalted group. Always he has the poet's point of view, no matter what his subject; and some of his songs, delicate as lace, fragile as cobwebs, nevertheless have enduring qualities. He is at his best in such a poem as this, with its exquisite fancy and charm.

Ere my heart beats too coldly and faintly To remember sad things, yet be gay, I would sing a brief song of the world's Little children Magic hath stolen away.

"How was Professor Puffin's speech last night?" was asked. "Wonderful, sir; absolutely amazing!" responded old Gauntton Grimm. "Actually, he did not utter all the gins and scrimmes in the catalogue to bobbed hair or jazz!"

"HAS your present wife a more even temper than your first one?" "More even? No, even more."—Tit-Bits, London.

DEED TO LAW MEMORIALS HANDED OVER

Formal Presentation at Special Session of Council

RICHBURTO, Jan. 13.—A formal presentation of the Bonar Law cairn was made to the municipality of Kent at a special session of the Council held last evening.

Dr. Murray MacLaren, C.M.G., M.P., of Saint John, one of the members of the committee in charge of the Bonar Law memorial, was present and made the official presentation of the deed to the municipality.

Dr. MacLaren reviewed the history of the cairn from its inception, quoting from the letter of Dr. Clarence Webster of Shediac, to The Telegraph-Journal suggesting the movement, and from that to its completion at the splendid dedication in the presence of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province, the premier of the day and the sister provinces, the former premier of the Dominion, the Hon. Arthur Meighen, and other leading statesmen, the unveiling having been performed by the son of the late Andrew Bonar Law, to whose illustrious memory the cairn was erected.

SUGGESTION OF DR. WEBSTER

In referring to the suggestion of Dr. Webster that a committee should be appointed consisting of Hon. P. J. Veniot, the present Postmaster General, the late A. B. Carson, of Rexton, and himself, Dr. MacLaren said that this suggestion had been carried out and that the committee were very grateful for the hearty co-operation of the New Brunswick people. He referred, especially to the generosity of Richard O'Leary in offering the choice of a site for the memorial along a very pleasing front in Mr. Law's native village of Rexton.

REMEMBERS BONAR LAW

Dr. MacLaren spoke of his own early recollection of Bonar Law at school as that of a tall spare youth, very penative. During the war he met this celebrated statesman at a banquet given by Lord Beaverbrook, in London, and Bonar Law remarked to him, "Your father, Dr. MacLaren, was our family physician," showing he had a distinct recollection of his native place.

COUNCILLOR McINERNEY

Councillor McInerney spoke feelingly of the motive which prompted the people of New Brunswick to erect a memorial to the memory of a great and good man, distinguished for so many reasons and so much virtue. Enquiring into the principle by which we would discern the real character of the man he said the evidence produced indicated the cairn was erected to a man of world celebrity, rather than to record an incident of the past which merely touched the memories or pride of a neighborhood.

MALDEN, Mass.—Leverett D. Holden, city clerk, is 83 and he never catches the grippe. The sulphur works up through the system and wards off colds, Mr. Holden explained.

ANGLICAN DISPUTE AVOIDED IN CANADA

Bishop of Montreal Doesn't Wish to Talk of British Matter. MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—The controversy which is reported to be going on at a session of the Bishops of the Church of England being held at Lambeth Palace has no bearing whatever on the Church of England in Canada. For this reason His Lordship Bishop Farthing of Montreal did not wish to discuss the matter when interviewed today.

"If, as the papers say, the matter of a change in the prayer book is being discussed by the two Houses of Bishops in England, Canterbury and York, it would be impertinent on my part to make any comment," His Lordship said. "In any event, no changes made in England would have any effect in Canada as only those changes made by our own general synod can have any authority in our church here."

FORD COMPANY GROWTH SHOWN BY TAX APPEAL

Former Owners Deny Right to Extra Levy for Taxes

DETROIT, Jan. 14.—Contending that the Government in 1919 set an appraisal value of $190,000,000 on the total Ford Motor Company stock of $8,400,000, that it cannot now legally change the valuation, defense attorneys in the tax suit against former Ford stockholders have won a victory in the transactions which led to the valuation.

How $28,000, which comprised the cash capital of the Ford Motor Company at its organization in 1908, grew to $27,542,708 in surplus 16 years later, has been read into the records. It was the hearing on an appeal by the former minority stockholders of the Ford Company from an additional assessment against their 1919 incomes totalling some $800,000.

STORY OF FORD GROWTH OUTLINED

The story of the growth of the Ford industries was told by Joseph W. Davies, former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, representing the states of the late John F. and Horace E. Dodge. The seven other applicants, including James Cousens (R.) senator from Michigan, from whom the Government seeks an additional $9,000,000 in taxes, agreed to let Mr. Davies' statement stand as their opening argument.

The struggle Mr. Ford made to reinvest the constantly growing profits of the Ford Company in the expansion plans was told by Mr. Davies, who also explained the division of the Dodge brothers against this policy, a rebellion that resulted in a split in equity demanding distribution of dividends of a surplus of $22,000,000. The suit brought a distribution of $19,000,000 of the surplus and decision of the court to hold the Ford Motor Company to its original plan to reinvest the profits of the Ford Company in the expansion plans.

Mr. Ford, according to the document, the Michigan Supreme Court decision in 1919 following the decision of Henry Ford, Henry, 255 shares for his patents, machinery, etc., 255 shares for his half interest with Ford in same machinery, etc.

Gray, John S., banker, 105 shares, $10,500 cash. Dodge, John F., 806 shares, giving his note at three months for $8,000. Dodge, Horace E., 80 shares, giving his note at four months for $5,000. Strelow, Albert E., 50 shares, sold to J. Cousens in 1907 with 31 shares of Ford Motor of Canada for $25,000. Fry, Vernon C., 50 shares, paying $8,000 cash and $20,000 note. Bennett, Charles H., 50 shares, giving note for $5,000. Backham, Horace E., 50 shares, $3,500 cash and $1,400 note. Anderson, John W., 50 shares, $5,000 cash, which he borrowed. Cousens, James, 25 shares, giving $1,000 cash and $1,400 note. Woodbury, Charles J., 10 shares, giving $1,000 note.

Mr. Strelow's stock and 15 shares, bought from Mr. Bennett and Mr. Fry for $17,000, passed to Mr. Cousens. Mr. Ford bought out Mr. Malcolmson, The Malcolmson, which was the rival Aero Car Company, in 1905, for $200,000 and later bought in the shares of Mr. Strelow's stock and 15 shares.

ORIGINAL FORD SHAREHOLDERS

The original Ford Motor Company stockholders and their investments in 1919 followed: Henry Ford, 255 shares for his patents, machinery, etc., 255 shares for his half interest with Ford in same machinery, etc.

Gray, John S., banker, 105 shares, $10,500 cash. Dodge, John F., 806 shares, giving his note at three months for $8,000. Dodge, Horace E., 80 shares, giving his note at four months for $5,000. Strelow, Albert E., 50 shares, sold to J. Cousens in 1907 with 31 shares of Ford Motor of Canada for $25,000. Fry, Vernon C., 50 shares, paying $8,000 cash and $20,000 note. Bennett, Charles H., 50 shares, giving note for $5,000. Backham, Horace E., 50 shares, $3,500 cash and $1,400 note. Anderson, John W., 50 shares, $5,000 cash, which he borrowed. Cousens, James, 25 shares, giving $1,000 cash and $1,400 note. Woodbury, Charles J., 10 shares, giving $1,000 note.

JOINT MEETING ON INDUSTRY NOW PLANNED

Would Talk Over Proposals to Equalize Wages

LONDON, Jan. 13.—While the industrialists of Great Britain are lamenting the worst trade year ever experienced, the Federation of British Industries is planning some far-reaching schemes for the development of international co-operation in industry throughout Europe.

The latest step in this direction is the projected conference between the British and French industrial magnates, who have summoned an important gathering which will meet in London in the near future ostensibly to consider customs formalities, but also to explore the possibilities for joint action by certain leading industries with a view to equalizing wages, costs and selling prices in both countries.

CARTELS FORMED

While it is asserted that it is not intended to form a new international cartel, it is pointed out that during 1926, steel, aluminum and copper cartels were formed in western Europe as well as an international rails convention. Industrialists consider such plans the best means of reviving British trade, the adverse balance of which last year amounted to $468,000,000, the worst ever known.

Evening "invisible" exports, it is estimated that Great Britain's margin for investment abroad has almost disappeared. This state of affairs is explained by the coal stoppage, but the consequences are felt to be so grave that Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson's scheme for an industrial peace conference is regarded with much favor, particularly as it is expected to indicate the lines upon which a future agreement with labor may be built.

Important employers, however, are not enthusiastic over this plan, as they feel that labor is too much involved in politics to desire peace on a purely industrial basis. Other critics point out that the suggested industrial conference will afford labor a means of "sawing its face" after involving the country in a grave loss of trade.

Should a Lonely Widow With an Independent Income Live With Her Married Daughters?—The Too-Willing Girl Who Needs More Independence to Attract Men—Why Married Men Seek More Dates Than Single Ones.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a widow in middle life, have a good home with a comfortable income, but I am alone, and feel I cannot endure living by myself. I have two married daughters. Shall I break up my home and go to live with one of them? What shall I do? A LONELY WIDOW.

DOROTHY DIX

ANSWER: Don't break up your home. Don't go to live with your children if you value your happiness or their well-being. Preserve your independence. That is the one consolation prize that is left to a woman who loses her husband and whose children have left the home nest and have gone about the business of life for themselves. Believe me, if you sacrifice your independence because you are lonely you will pay a bankruptcy price for companionship. Don't deceive yourself by thinking that you will be happy and satisfied when you go to live in another woman's home, even if that other woman is your own daughter. It will be her house, not yours. She will be the mistress of it, not you. Her ways will not be your ways. She will resent your interference and scorn your advice. No woman who has run her own house for twenty-five or thirty years is ever happy outside of her own home. She misses having something to do and think about, and she becomes peevish and fretful, and a pest to everybody about her. And no matter how much her children love her, they would love her ten times better if she kept her own home and was an occasional guest instead of a permanent fixture in their houses. For there are always the in-laws to consider, and no man craves having a mother-in-law wish herself upon him.

So, my dear lady, stick to your own home where you can have your own furniture about you and cook the things you like to eat. And if you must have companionship, take in strangers with whom it is not such a heart-breaking affair if you quarrel. Or, if you are only middle aged, why don't you marry again? Widows who are fair, fat and 40 and who have a nice income of their own are matrimonial prizes.

And, anyway, you needn't be lonely in a world that is full of a million interests. Join clubs. Go in for philanthropies. Take in some poor little homeless child and mother it. Travel. Keep yourself so busy you won't have time to be lonely.

But don't give up your own home, and don't go and live with your children.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a girl of 20, and I have been going with a young man for a year. During this time he has never mentioned that he cares for me, but I think he does. He is very independent and can make a date with me any time he wants to. Don't you think I had better show him that I can be independent, too? DOT.

ANSWER: Surely. That sort of a chap needs a good hard jolt to wake him up, and if you have enough spunk to refuse to be at his beck and call you will make him sit up and begin to take notice.

Men take girls at their own valuation, and when one holds herself cheap, boys rate her at a bargain counter worth also. The girls who always say "yes, and thank you, too," every time a man asks them to go anywhere, are not the ones who have dates. Just the knowledge that a girl is sitting at home waiting for him to ask her to go somewhere with him destroys every man's interest in her.

There is no pep in the too-willing girl. There is no thrill in pursuing a girl who is chasing him. It is the girl who doesn't care who flouts men, who can get along perfectly well without them, that plagues their interest. It is the dates that are hard to get that keep a man on the telephone. There is no policy that pays a girl so well in dealing with men as independence.

As for thinking that a man is in love with you when he has never mentioned it, you are kidding yourself, my dear. There's nothing to it. When a man really falls in love with you, he will tell you about it often and at great length. There are no dumb lovers. There are all phoosers that never run down.

DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been employed for six years where there are quite a number of married men and a few single ones. The single ones pay me hardly any attention, but I am simply hounded by the married men. The single men seldom ask me to go out with them, but the married men are always inviting me to theatres, dinners and to ride. I do not accept these invitations, but I get them, and I wonder why I am apparently more attractive to the married than to the single. HARASSED.

ANSWER: Probably the situation in which you find yourself is accidental.

The single men with whom you work may be younger than you are, or engaged to be married to other girls, or they may not be earning enough to afford matrimony, therefore they steal themselves against your charms and avoid sentimental entanglements with you. Not so the flirtatious married men. They know that you know that they are already married, and that you cannot expect them to commit bigamy for your sake, and so they feel free to enjoy as much of your society as you will bestow upon them.

That is precisely why the married man plays such a low-down game when he tries to seduce a young girl into a love affair with him. He wins her heart knowing that he has nothing to give in return. He compromises her for the pleasure he gets out of a clandestine romance, and when it is all over and he has grown tired of her, he calmly chucks the whole business and wants to know what she expected, anyway? She knew that he had a wife and kids.

You are a good girl, and a wise one, to turn down the married phishers' invitations. The girls who accept them buy their fun too high.

VITAMINS FOR CHILDREN

Health statistics show plainly that millions of children are malnourished and require special nutritional care.

Will Feathers Replace Flowers as Shoulder Trimming?

See-Sawing On Broadway

AMONG the scattered statistics of this-and-that, Manhattan reports $15,000,000 worth of jewels stolen in the year 1926. Most of the losers were women.

This, of course, is only what has been reported to the police. There are, doubtless, many more kept secret by women who feared the resulting publicity.

BEHIND these astounding figures crouch the menacing, almost fabulous shadows of the immaculate night club crooks.

This latest turn that crime has taken, almost unbelievable to folk who have not actually seen it in action, is rubbing shoulders on the dance floor with some of the underworld's most sinister figures.

Some time during the night the jewels disappear, now at this cabaret and now at that. Some are lost in taxicabs, torn from throats and wrists by rock-coated bandits met during the evening. And, now and then, a woman is found dead, stripped of her valuables.

UNPLEASANT as it is to face, the tide of parasitic gigolos is rising. There is one fashionable hotel in mid-town where, each day, middle-aged and aging matrons keep rendezvous with youthful lounge-lizards. The "grandmas" buy clothes, meals and cars for their "baby swains," give them weekly allowances and cover their bridge debts.

This fantastic sort of situation may seem incredible to the smaller cities of the country, yet, so ordinary has it become in Manhattan, that two Broadway plays are now devoted to the subject.

IN the old days the "sob dramas" told of the young girls from the country who came to the "wicked city" and fell a prey to the villainous and well-intentioned males. Today the fictional situation is reversed. One new play shows a young man seeking to become a singer who gets a job in a cabaret by way of a start. Enters the middle-aged villain. She has wealth and uses it, presumably to help the young man along but actually to get him "all-time villain line—"I have you in my power!" Well, here it is all over again, but in reverse. A nice, plump grey-haired woman today takes her place as a seducer of youth.

This, of course, isn't entirely fair. The fact is that the parasite army sets out to capture these fat-pursed women of middle age who want one more fling before old age seizes them and binds them forever.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

By GENE COHN, Nea Service Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Stardom at 60!

A long time to wait, you would say, after reading the innumerable tales of young things who spring into cinema headlines over night.

But Alec Francis wouldn't agree with you. He didn't seek stardom and, when one is around his sixties, such things seem a bit ephemeral—but pleasant, of course. Francis is accustomed to seeing his name well up in the list, but it didn't appear in large letters at the top of the program or in the electric lights until he undertook the Warfield role in "The Return of Peter Grimm."

It will shine again when "The Mast Master" comes from the Fox plant in the near future. And Francis is old enough and mellow enough to know what to expect from audiences when one steps into a role for which David Warfield himself was sought.

THE CHARACTER MEN.

Those whose critical capacities cause them to weigh acting more carefully than star positions will tell you that some of the finest bits of any year have been done by the character actors, whereas stars have lived in their own spotlights.

Thus Francis for years has established himself more firmly in the back-

ALEC FRANCIS.

But actual stardom did not come to him until his sixtieth birthday was just around the corner.

You may recall him as the pioneer parson in "Three Bad Men" or the circuit rider in "Thunder Mountain" or any one of a dozen "old man" roles.

HEALTH SERVICE This Tells Why The Boy Is Always Hungry

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN.

EVERY time a muscle moves fuel is burned in the human body. A lumberman tramping through the cold and working constantly will give off about six times the amount of heat given off by a banker in a warm office who has not even cooled off in getting there.

A child is much more active than an adult. A normal child plays, runs about, jumps and dances. An emaciated, listless child is not normal. The healthful child, in order to meet the needs of its constant activity, will eat far more food and with a much better appetite than will the listless one.

The condition that develops is a vicious circle; because the child is thin and ill, it has little activity and little desire for food. Unless it gets the right amount of the proper kinds of food, it will not become normal and will continue to avoid food. This does not mean that the sick child should be overfed. The nutrition of the body is an index of its normality.

A baby one year old produces to the pound of flesh twice as much heat when asleep as does a full-grown man under the same circumstances.

An average 75-pound boy actually needs 40 per cent. more heat to each pound than does a 150-pound man. The 150-pound man would not need twice as much total food as the boy, but only about 60 per cent. more.

Girls and women require somewhat less food for each pound in weight than do boys and men of the same weight.

The two demands for food include muscular activity and body growth. It is recognized that the muscular activity of the child is greater in general than that of the adult.

The demand for growth is also much greater. For instance, the heat-output at the age of one year is the highest of the whole range of life.

Art Club Hears Excellent Lecture On Architecture Delivered by W. W. Alward

A very interesting and enlightening address on "Some Aspects of Architectural Design" was given before the meeting of the Saint John Art Club in the Church of England Institute last evening by W. W. Alward and was greatly appreciated by the audience. The lecture was illustrated with many very beautiful lantern slides. Mr. Alward, honorary president, was in the chair for the opening of the meeting and announced that there were exhibited in the hall a number of the paintings of Alexander Watson which are still available for collectors, as well as a number of the pastels and water color pictures the work of the late Mrs. Herbert Tilley, which have been presented to the Art School. These pictures were viewed with much interest by those present.

Mr. Alward spoke of architecture in general and stated that the addition of beauty and dignity to the plans of the and illustrations of the renaissance in the last three centuries. In conclusion, Mr. Alward referred to the effects which modern means of transportation and new materials have made in present day construction as well as the revival of many old styles. He stated that we are now in a transition period so far as architecture is concerned. Our present King in opening a building some years ago said: "Any organization that is merely housed is meanly esteemed. It is now considered that good architecture pays." Mr. Alward asserted.

The evening closed with very pleasing vocal selections given by Mrs. P. N. Woodley with Miss Dorothy Nicks as accompanist. The songs were "Dear Old Homeland" and "Barney Office." A vote of thanks to Mr. Alward and Mrs. Woodley was moved by William Brodie and seconded by Miss C. O. McGivern.

Mr. Fisher being called to another meeting, Geoffrey Stead, vice-president, took the chair and spoke most appreciatively of the lecture and the evening's program but referred to the regret of all members that the former president, Ven. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot, was not present.

Social Notes

Mrs. Harold Allison entertained a number of young people at her residence, Wright street, yesterday afternoon, in honor of Miss Gail Kaye, who is a visitor at the family residence, Peel street, and Miss Peggy Crowfoot, who is leaving in the near future with her parents, Archdeacon and Mrs. Crowfoot, to reside. The drawing-room was prettily decorated for the occasion with spring flowers and ferns. At the tea hour the table was lighted with pink candles in silver candlesticks, and dainty favors in the form of pink baskets sweets were distributed to the guests. Mrs. Allison was assisted in entertaining the children by her mother, Mrs. Barton Gandy, Mrs. Chester Gandy, Miss Portia MacKenzie, Mrs. Rawland Gandy and Miss Gladys Hegan. Those present were Miss Gail Kaye, Miss Peggy Crowfoot, Miss Ruth Allison, Miss Mary Manka, Miss Barbara Ramsey, Miss Susanne Hanson, Miss Ellen Gandy, Miss Edith Gandy, Miss Hazel Teed, Miss Helen Sinton, Miss Joyce Foster, Miss Nancy Dupp, Miss Freda Hagan, Mrs. Rosemary Hazen, Miss Elizabeth Rising and Miss Gertrude McConnell.

were the favors at each guest's place. Those present were Miss Betty Sandall, Miss Dora Ross, Miss Lila Ross, Miss Eleanor Hising, Miss Frances Stewart, Miss Marion Leonard, Miss Doris Woodley, Miss Rosalie Dickson, Miss Dorothy Steele, Miss Sybil Gibbon, Miss Catherine Williams, Miss Phyllis Warwick, Miss Louie deForest, Miss Margaret Gilmore, Miss Audrey Gilmore, Miss Constance Schofield, Miss Jean Evans, Miss Jean Porter, Miss Betty Powers and Miss Jean Lawson.

For the first time since her marriage, Mrs. G. Arthur Bennett, formerly Mrs. Dorothy Teed, of Saint John, received yesterday afternoon at her residence, 422 McLaren street, Ottawa. Spring blossoms were used effectively to adorn the rooms. The bride wore a pretty gown of forest green with a shoulder knot of crimson rosebuds. She was assisted in receiving her many callers by her mother, Mrs. M. G. Teed, who had come to Saint John on a Christmas Day. Friends in the city will be glad to know that latest reports of Mr. Slackhouse's condition are more reassuring and he is showing some improvement.

THE EVENING TIMES-STAR, SAINT JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, 1927

$5,000,000 PROJECT OF BATHURST CO'Y OUTLINED TO COUNCIL

BATHURST, Jan. 13.—In appearing before the Gloucester County Council this afternoon with a request for fixed valuation for county assessment purposes of the Bathurst Company, Limited, plant and proposed additional development in the sum of $2,000,000, to start from 1930, Angus McLean, president and general manager of the company, set forth proposed additional development by the company with an expenditure of approximately $5,000,000, including storage, hydro-electric development, mill construction and plant equipment. The completion of the work, which he looked for within the next two or three years, would furnish steady employment to more than 1,000 men, he stated. He pointed out also that many would be employed in the construction work.

The petition presented by the Bathurst Company, Limited, was referred to the committee on petitions and the plans of the proposed construction and development were filed with the council.

Mr. McLean said his company proposed the installation of an additional hydro plant at The Narrows on the Nipisiquit River, in accordance with the rights already held, and stated that from information now available from the survey work thus far made by their engineers, the completion of the storage dams and hydro-electric development should give them approximately 60,000 horse power.

Mr. McLean said that this further hydro development was made necessary by the proposed new and enlarged pulp and paper mills which his company were planning to build and hoped to have in operation within the next two or three years.

PROPOSES NEW BRIDGE

Mr. McLean said he believed that all would agree with him that not only the public generally but his company as well found the present bridge over the mouth of the Nipisiquit River immediately adjoining the pulp and paper mills of his company was entirely inadequate for the present traffic. The bridge had been built many years before the erection of the pulp mill and the traffic over it was at present so congested as to be dangerous. It would be entirely out of the question for the present bridge to cope with the traffic that would arise by reason of the additional development.

Proposed plans, he said, would mean the closing of this bridge at least to the general public and that the highway at present leading to the bridge would be diverted to connect with a proposed new bridge further up stream. TO APPROACH GOVERNMENT. The matter of the bridge will be taken up with the provincial government and it is hoped that it may be arranged that its foundation would be in the form of a dam sufficiently high to keep out the tide which at present flows into the river from the Bale de Chaleur, thus furnishing a large fresh water storage, available to the pulp and paper plant and as an auxiliary supply to the present town system which would be very useful in case of a conflagration and perhaps necessary to supply the large influx of people that must come to Bathurst by reason of the increased activity. Due provision would be made in this dam for the handling of logs and no interference would be made with the passage of fish as a modern fishways would be installed if the dam were sufficiently high to necessitate this.

INCREASED PRODUCTION.

Mr. McLean pointed out that the pulp and paper production of his plants would be greatly increased by the proposed development as additional machines of the latest pattern and considerably larger than the ones at present in operation would be installed. Within the next couple of years they hoped to be turning out 450 tons of newsprint per day and that the final output would be approximately 600 tons per day. This, Mr. McLean stated, would mean greatly increased consumption of pulpwood and they would continue their policy of buying wood from farmers as in the past. This, the speaker pointed out, was a feature that concerned the whole community.

VALUATION MATTER.

The matter of valuation was then taken up and Mr. McLean asked that the valuation be fixed for the county valuation purposes at the sum of $200,000 to start from 1930, pointing out that they considered that under the present legislation their valuation was fixed at $175,000 to the year 1944.

In closing Mr. McLean summed up his position stating that it was unusual as it was inconvenient to all parties concerned to have a public highway through the yards of a large industry. He felt that with the increasing traffic the change would greatly relieve the situation besides removing the continual dread of serious accidents made more acute by the ever increasing number of automobiles. The site of the present road would be used for the creation of additional plant. The question of the bridge was well known to all. Not only was it too narrow but too light for present traffic. They were unable to make use of their heavy tractors as they would with a heavier bridge.

Mr. McLean hoped that the council would see the different matters presented in the same light as viewed by his company and in closing referred to the very pleasant relations that existed between the council and his company in the past and he felt he had the whole-hearted support of the people of Gloucester in the proposed large development, as it would increase the opportunities for labor, market for pulpwood and the general products of the farm.

CABINET ROUTINE

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—Premier W. L. Mackenzie King had no announcement to make at the conclusion of today's meeting of the cabinet council.

The seasonal program and an announcement of routine matters occupied the attention of the members of the cabinet. Practically all the ministers were in attendance. A further meeting of the council is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon.

BOARD HEARS CASE OF SASKATCHEWAN

Argument Develops Over Cost of Density and Sparse Haulage

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—The filing of Saskatchewan's evidence in the general freight rates case proceeded all day today before the Board of Railway Commissioners.

A statistical compilation made by A. G. McDonald, traffic advisor for the Saskatchewan government, was the centre of attention. The exhibit included comparative rates, costs, volume of revenues, tonnages and differentials. In view of its bearing upon the question of water competition, Mr. McDonald gave a comparison between the tonnage carried on the St. Lawrence Welland and Soo Canals, and on all the railways of Canada. For 1924, the latest figure given the canal tonnage was 196,605, while the railways carried 25,862,999 tons. Mr. Flintoft suggested that it might be fairer to make comparisons with railway traffic in the territory served by canals. Mr. McDonald agreed that perhaps it would.

Commissioner Oliver and Mr. Flintoft argued as to whether or not it cost more to carry a trainload if the traffic was dense than if it was sparse. Mr. Flintoft said that the heavier the traffic the more spread there would be to overhead, and Mr. Oliver agreed, but maintained that traffic density increased cost at terminals. It was such increased cost that led to the construction of double or quadruple tracks.

LAKE ST. JOHN ROAD TO EXTEND 110 MILES

QUEBEC, Que., Jan. 13.—The new railway around Lake St. John, for which the government will ask a subsidy during the present session, will be 110 miles long and will complete the whole belt of the lake. Plans have been approved by the provincial authorities and officials of the Canadian National Railway, and work will commence immediately. Construction will begin this winter on the bridge over the Ashamouchouan River at the Chute a L'Ours.

DECEMBER RECORD.

There has been a slight falling off in freight this month in spite of the large number of extra trains. In December the number of trains not listed on the time table was 160 but this was attributed to a large extent to the Christmas rush.

WARD C. PITFIELD
FAVORS N. B. AGENT
GENERAL IN LONDON

Offers to Pay Two Years' Salary if He May Nominate
Man—Royal Securities Vice-President Predicts
Maritime Prosperity—Premier and Mayor
Also Address Trade Board.

THAT New Brunswick and the Maritime Provinces were in an era of prosperity, provided they had faith in themselves, and an assurance that they could count on the sympathetic aid and co-operation of the people of the other parts of the Dominion was the keynote of the splendid address delivered last night by Ward C. Pitfield, of Montreal, vice-president and general manager of the Royal Securities Corporation, at the general meeting of the Board of Trade, held in the Admiral Beatty hotel.

To show his interest in the province of his birth and early manhood he offered to pay the first two years' salary of an agent-general in London, whom he declared strongly in favor of, provided he was allowed to nominate the man, who in his estimation would render the best service to the province.

Short stirring addresses were also delivered by Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., premier of the province, and Walter W. White, mayor of the city. At a short business session, H. C. Schofield gave notice of motion for a change in the by-laws of the Board and W. F. Burditt was made an honorary life member in recognition of his long and faithful service to the Board and the community.

More than 100 members of the Board sat down to dinner at 6.30. The chair was occupied by L. W. Simms, president of the Board, who had on his right the guest of the evening, Mayor White, and on his left Premier Baxter, Capt. Cox and Hon. L. P. D. Tilley.

This was the first of a series of meetings to be addressed by former Maritime Province men who have made good in wider fields and will be invited to come here and give their impressions of why there has not been more rapid progress made by the Maritimes.

In his address Mr. Pitfield was very frank in pointing out some of the things where he felt they had fallen down and also equally free to say where he considered they had done well and to point out the way for future success.

Premier Baxter

In calling the meeting to order after dinner the president said that before any business was proceeded with he desired to call on Premier Baxter and Mayor White, as they had to leave early to attend another meeting, and introduced first Premier Baxter.

Hon. Mr. Baxter said he was very glad to be able to pay tribute to the measure of co-operation there had been between the Board of Trade and the government of the province. Only that afternoon he had been discussing with some of the members of the board a problem and appreciated deeply their offer of help. This was the highest form of citizenship and any government which had the support and help of the business men of the country must of necessity prosper. The members of the Saint John Board of Trade were as deeply interested in the rest of the province as they were in the city and he believed this was being appreciated by the residents of the other parts of the province and the prejudice which once existed against the city was being gradually broken down.

His own acquaintance with Mr. Pitfield was of recent date but in that time he had found him deeply interested in New Brunswick and willing to do all he could to aid in its development. It was the work of men like Mr. Pitfield that was gradually breaking down the friction between the various parts of the Dominion and helping to bring about a closer relation and better understanding.

Mayor White

Mayor White was next introduced by the chairman. He said he was glad to have the privilege of meeting one who had brought much honor to himself and the province of his birth as the guest of the evening and as mayor of the city he welcomed him. He was sorry that he could not remain for the entire evening but the members of the council were very busy these days and the meeting they were having was to deal with one of the most important questions now before the city government. He was glad to say the council evening, Mr. Simms said they were to have the privilege of listening to a former Saint John man who had shown his faith in this province by having the company of which he was general manager invest $25,000,000 in its industries.

Mr. Pitfield

Mr. Pitfield said he was very glad to find himself once more among Saint John friends, and what he had to say he wanted them to hear as coming from a sincere and honest friend, who wished only to be of service. He had come from this part of the country and he had faith in it, and from what he had heard from the speakers who preceded him he felt the people here had faith in themselves and in their province.

As he saw it the Maritime Provinces had not suffered from the great depression as severely as had the middle and western provinces. He came here and did not see any hunger and starving as he did in Montreal. Everybody in this country had gone through hard times in the last five years, and it was up to all to take their hard times like men.

New Brunswick had a population of about 400,000, of these 30 per cent were in the cities and towns, and 70 per cent were in the rural districts. It seemed to him a great lesson was to be learned here. Despite the large rural population the Duncan report said enormous quantities of food stuffs were being imported into the province, and this would look as though the province was not getting the right kind of settlers and not raising enough on its farms. He felt it was false economy to shut the office of the agent-general in London, and if this office were re-opened he would be willing to pay the first two years' salary of the agent, provided he were allowed to nominate him.

ACTIVITIES OF COUNCIL.
The chairman then reviewed some of the activities of the council of the board since the last general meeting, referring especially to the freight rates hearing in Ottawa before the Board of Railway Commissioners, and the need for the Maritimes keeping a rate expert on the job if these provinces were to keep what they might gain. In introducing the speaker of the opinion that policy had set back the development of the province, for at least 10 years. Capital required in interest and safety and unless both were assured it would not be available. This he called the corporation baiting period in New Brunswick.

GRAND FALLS WORK

He was very glad that at last the government of the province had stopped making a football of the Grand Falls and had adopted a policy for its development. By July of 1926 there would be ready for distribution there 30,000 of continuous horse power of energy for industry and this was the pulp and paper industry. Before many years had passed we would be manufacturing here 12,000 tons newspaper a day and there would be more sulphite mills making pulp for fine grade papers.

It had been suggested to him that one avenue of investment open to the Maritimes was that of ships, both coastwise and deep sea and he had been asked why money was not invested in this line by our people.

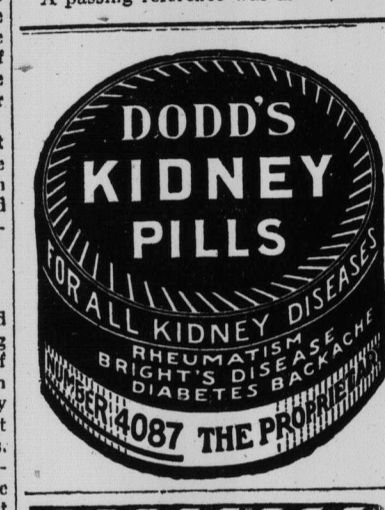

STABLE STAMPAGE RATE
Referring again to the pulp and paper industry he said that one thing that was necessary to the success of this was a stable stampage rate. In Quebec the rate was changed every four or five years and in Ontario it was set for as high as 20 and 30 years.

He advised the people to stop running to Ottawa and Fredericton to the government every time anything went wrong and to get busy helping themselves. One of the things they had to help them was the press, administrative Canada, and its non-partisan attitude on all questions made it a greater power than the people at home realized in other sections of the country.

He reminded them that Rome was not built in a day and they must not expect prosperity all at once. One of the things needed was a closer contact between the people of the Mar-times and Upper Canada. He advocated excursions between the various parts of the Dominion to bring this about.

He advised that when industry was in need of capital and advice that they come to Montreal or Toronto instead of going to New England. In the Canadian cities they would find a number of former Maritime men, and among these he named the managers of the Royal Bank, Bank of Nova Scotia, Bank of Commerce and Bank of Montreal, who were keenly interested in the development of these provinces and willing to help. Progress, he said, was gained by hard work and patience and the ease with which money could be borrowed. If we supplied the hard work and patience the money could be borrowed easily enough in Montreal and Toronto. The Duncan report was good and he hoped it would be implemented, but the people must help themselves. The time had come for them to stop talking and start more. A passing reference was made to the

THREE ARE HELD LIABLE IN PANIC AT MONTREAL

Owner, Assistant Manager and Head Usher Are Arrested

MONTREAL, Jan. 13.—Amen Laward, owner of the Laurier Palace Theatre where 78 children lost their lives as the result of a stampede following a panic of fire on Sunday, Michel Arie, assistant manager, and Camil Bazzy, head usher, of the same theatre, were found criminally responsible for the death of the 78 children and for that of "all other persons who may die from any cause attributable to this panic," by a coroner's jury here this evening.

A warrant was at once issued by Coroner McMahon, authorizing the police to hold Laward, Arie and Bazzy as prisoners.

They will be held for arraignment tomorrow morning.

The jury's verdict was rendered following a long inquest which was resumed here this morning. Out of the great amount of detail produced in the evidence, two facts were outstanding:

OUTSTANDING FACTS.

1.—That Annette Bordas, cashier at the theatre, had never received instructions to withhold the sale of tickets from children under 16 years, and

2.—That Alex Bazzy, brother of Camil Bazzy, acting as ticket taker, has lived in Canada for 16 years, has been employed at other theatres, but has never heard of the existing law prohibiting the admission of minors under 16 years of age.

GIRL CASHIER TESTIFIES.

Annette Bordas had been cashier at the Laurier Palace for 18 months. She admitted that she had sold tickets to unaccompanied children under 16 years. She did not know how many balcony tickets she had sold, nor had she ever been in the balcony since the tragedy.

TOLD TO TELL TRUTH.

Miss Bordas declared that she had been in conference with Laward on Wednesday afternoon in company with other employees. The conversation had been carried on in French and was not understood by her, but she was firm in her declaration that Laward had told her to tell the truth.

Canadian Bank of Commerce Improves Earnings For Year

Strong Position Pointed Out in Statement at Toronto Meeting

ANALYSIS of the statement of the Canadian Bank of Commerce for the fiscal year ending November 30 reveals highly successful operations and expanding business in Canada. The bank has rendered increased assistance to Canadian business in the year.

Larger commercial loans, the statement reveals, have been required during the year, confirming other reports of increased volume of business.

The current loans and discounts of the Bank increased from about $222,000,000.00 to over $241,000,000.00, while holdings of securities decreased from $97,246,922.00 to $78,228,651.00, the bank in this way preparing to meet the requirements of the business community.

The bank's large liquid resources, amounting to $238,802,830.00, and consisting of cash, notes and cheques of other banks, investments in high grade stocks and bonds and other assets readily available, are about 46 per cent. of the total assets and provide a reserve of over 60 per cent of the total liabilities to the public.

After provision was made for all bad and doubtful debts the net profits for the year were $3,636,983.00, the highest earnings since 1918. This amount, together with $1,234,874.00 brought forward last year, make a total of $4,871,857.00 in Profit and Loss

Account. Out of this there were paid dividends and bonuses of $2,600,000.00 and taxes of $500,000.00, while $40,000.00 was disbursed in donations and subscriptions. Other appropriations were $209,638.00, transferred to the Bank's Pension Fund, and $200,000.00 written off bank premises, leaving $1,280,899.00 to be carried forward in Profit and Loss Account.

Sir John Aird, president of the bank, addressed the annual meeting of shareholders Jan. 11, at Toronto, expressing the view that the year 1927 had opened satisfactorily.

S. H. Logan, the general manager, pointed out that the profits of the bank, which were $3,636,983 for the year, were the largest of any twelvemonth since 1918.

The highest hearing deposits amounted to over $308,000,000. The liquid resources of the Bank were over $238,000,000, or slightly better than 40% of liabilities to the public. With the improvement in business, the increased demand for commercial loans which, in the year's statement, are shown as $9,000,000 in excess of the figures in this leading in the previous year.

After paying the usual dividend of 12 1/2 per cent on the common stock, $540,000 in taxes and subscriptions and contributing $200,000 to the Officers' Pension Fund, $200,000 was written off Bank Premises and $1,280,000 was carried forward to Profit and Loss Account.

In closing, Mr. Logan referred to the remarkable development taking place in Canada in her pulp and paper industries, in mining and electrical energy, which he stated was attracting the attention of many capitalists to this country.

At the credit of Profit and Loss Account the sum of $1,280,000.

Turning to the Balance Sheet, our non-interest-bearing deposits, at present at about their normal level, are down about $22,000,000 for the year, but this is entirely due to special deposits of a temporary nature which were on our books over the last year and which are naturally decreasing as funds from commercial business and to the unusually late harvest season. On the other hand, our interest-bearing deposits now stand at $203,000,000, showing an increase for the year of $5,000,000.

There is no material change in our holdings of gold, silver and Dominion notes. These added to cheques and cash with bankers, amount to $11,000,000, or about 17 per cent. of our total liabilities to the public, while securities amounting to $78,000,000 show a decrease for the year of $19,000,000.

As the demand for commercial loans grows, a bank naturally decreases its holdings of securities. Our call loans stand at $78,000,000, an increase of $1,000,000 for the year, and our total liquid resources are over $238,000,000, or slightly more than 50 per cent. of our liabilities to the public.

Commercial Loans Increased

The feature of greatest interest on the assets side of the statement is the increase in commercial loans of over $9,000,000 for the year, an important indication of the increased activity in business, particularly in the export and import trade, and we are happy to say that not only have we been able to take care of all legitimate calls, but we have also been able to look after the anticipated future requirements of domestic and foreign trade.

A Factor in Foreign Trade

It is a source of great gratification that this country plays such an important part in foreign trade, and we feel that this Bank has been a powerful factor in this development during the year. Our foreign business personnel have visited many of the foreign countries in which our raw materials and finished merchandise are marketed, and the Bank has distributed in the leading trading centres all over the world a list of about 1,000 Canadian firms with whom orders for Canadian goods may be placed. Information is given to the committee in which they deal, and the names included are not confined to the customers of this Bank, but comprise the most important merchants and traders throughout the country, our object being to promote Canadian trade. We realize that what helps Canada in this respect must naturally mean increased prosperity to the Bank.

Our efforts in this connection have resulted in bringing millions of dollars' worth of orders to Canadian banks, and while the completion of the list involved a great amount of work, we consider that the undertaking has been fully justified. The list has recently been revised and reprinted.

Sixtieth Anniversary

It is of interest to note that this is the sixtieth anniversary of the Bank and that the Dominion of Canada also celebrates the sixtieth anniversary of Confederation this year. Naturally, the fortunes of this Bank are bound up with those of the Dominion of Canada, and as it prospers we shall prosper.

As is customary every year, all the assets of the Bank have been evaluated, and provision has been made for any losses that may reasonably be anticipated. All departments of the Bank are functioning satisfactorily with a strong desire on the part of the staff to give to the public the best possible banking service.

Our Development

Our remarkable developments in pulp and paper manufacturing, mining, electrical energy, etc., are attracting the attention of many capitalists to this country. With our important natural resources, two great transcontinental railway systems, and plenty of land for settlers, one cannot but be enthusiastic about the future of this great Dominion. What we need of course, is a larger population to produce and to consume and to help carry the overhead. The larger our population the more attractive it becomes to establish branch factories in this country, and these naturally increase our industrial activity. The more we produce from the land, the more we have to sell both at home and abroad. The prospect of great development in mining at the moment is most hopeful, and any increase in production from our metalliferous mines means increased wealth to Canada. If we encourage and promote immigration along well-considered lines and endeavor individually to create for the immigrant a congenial and friendly atmosphere we shall greatly assist in the upbuilding of the Dominion. Our information indicates that, with certain exceptions, an important improvement in business has taken place during the past year. The general situation is undoubtedly sound, and the outlook for the future is bright. If the coming season proves a favorable one for agriculture, we may look with confidence for a continuance of these satisfactory conditions.

With our important natural resources, two great transcontinental railway systems, and plenty of land for settlers, one cannot but be enthusiastic about the future of this great Dominion. What we need of course, is a larger population to produce and to consume and to help carry the overhead. The larger our population the more attractive it becomes to establish branch factories in this country, and these naturally increase our industrial activity. The more we produce from the land, the more we have to sell both at home and abroad. The prospect of great development in mining at the moment is most hopeful, and any increase in production from our metalliferous mines means increased wealth to Canada. If we encourage and promote immigration along well-considered lines and endeavor individually to create for the immigrant a congenial and friendly atmosphere we shall greatly assist in the upbuilding of the Dominion. Our information indicates that, with certain exceptions, an important improvement in business has taken place during the past year. The general situation is undoubtedly sound, and the outlook for the future is bright. If the coming season proves a favorable one for agriculture, we may look with confidence for a continuance of these satisfactory conditions.

GOULD OF MONCTON LEADS LEAGUE IN NUMBER OF GOALS SCORED

THOMPSON AND CLARK TIED FOR SECOND PLACE

League Leadership Hangs on Result of Game at Arena Tonight

IT IS estimated that 2,500 people will watch the Saint John Fusiliers and the Moncton Athletics battle at the arena tonight for the leadership of the Southern New Brunswick Hockey League. At present the Moncton team leads the league by two points, having won one more game than Saint John and with the same number of losses.

The success of the Southern League this season has shown conclusively that amateur hockey has come to stay and the Saint John fans have risen in a body to aid their soldier team. Many features will attend tonight's game. The goal-tending exhibition should be of the most sensational order.

"Fatty" Gould, flashy Moncton center, is the high scorer of the league to date with six goals to his credit. He will stack up against Keating, the Fusiliers' center, and their manuevers will be watched with interest.

THE FIGURES. Statistics for the season to date follow: LEAGUE STANDING. Moncton 5 4 1 8, Saint John 4 3 2 4, Sussex 2 2 2 4, Fredericton 5 0 5 0. Goals scored: For. Against. Moncton 21 12, Saint John 15 12, Sussex 8 12, Fredericton 8 23.

GOALS WEAKER. The condition of John L. Peck, M. L. A. for Albert county, who is critically ill in the Moncton hospital, was reported to be less favorable yesterday. He is gradually weakening.

Heydler Endorses Decision of Landis

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The significant feature of the baseball scandal investigation is that nothing "reflected" in any way on the present day. Heydler, president of the National League, declared today in a statement expressing complete accord with the decision of Commissioner Landis, exonerating players accused of "sloughing" games.

Heydler also endorsed the commissioner's four recommendations, designed to safeguard the game in the future.

In the afternoon games the Thistles finished with a majority of 20, the scores being: Thistles, 56; Fredericton, 36. The scores for the evening games were: Thistles, 64; Fredericton, 40.

AFTERNOON. Thistles, Fredericton. H. W. Kinsman, L. S. Webb, W. S. Barnes, C. W. Hall, E. P. Howard, E. C. Murchie, R. E. Crawford, H. E. Fowler, skip, 10 skip, 12.

EVENING GAME. Thistles, Fredericton. M. W. Parke, L. W. Richards, J. Currie, J. D. McKay, W. H. Gamblin, H. R. Babbett, J. S. Malcolm, S. D. Simmons, skip, 24 skip, 12.

WITHDRAW PROTEST. FREDERICTON, N. B., Jan. 14.—The Fredericton Hockey Club will probably go no further with the charges that Jack Ingram, coach of the Moncton Athletics, actually coached the players of the Moncton team during play in last night's game at the Arctic Rink, while he was acting as referee, than to draw the matter to the attention of President Bolton of Sussex, and ask that the Southern section of the New Brunswick League pass a regulation making officials and employees of clubs ineligible to act as referee in games in which their team participates.

MONCTON TAKES LEAD BY WIN AT FREDERICTON

ATLANTICS DOWN CAPITAL TEAM BY 3 TO 2—WIN OUT IN LAST PERIOD. FREDERICTON, Jan. 13.—Moncton took the place in the Southern N. B. League here tonight, but it was the narrowest of margins, the Athletics noosing Fredericton out by one goal in the third period of a fast and hard-fought game, winning 3 to 2. The Fredericton team, which drove them to the limit, was almost the same in personnel as that which was defeated by Saint John last week, but it looked like a different aggregation on the ice.

The shift which was contemplated was not made, Stoen remaining on defence instead of going up to centre. Capt. Alden Clark was with the team again and made a huge difference. He scored both for the team and made the play much faster.

It was anybody's game until the last, but the Athletics hung to the one goal lead given them by Ed. Kervin's single-handed effort and kept Fredericton's attack off. A fair sized crowd was out for the game and saw a contest which left nothing to be desired. The penalty was very light and no personal clashes occurred between players. Two officials had charge of the game and kept it moving fast and clean at all times.

LEAD TWICE. Fredericton twice held a lead of one goal and local supporters until late in the last period were expecting a victory for the Athletics.

Both teams played up until Moncton the better, but Fredericton showing a defence which kept the Moncton centre, scored twice for his team and was a valuable player. Both goalkeepers gave fine exhibitions. Bidlake, as a former Fredericton player, was given a hearty welcome.

Federicton held the lead in the first period and sent a fast right wing shot past Bidlake. The crowd was delighted, particularly as the home team, which had got away to so bad a start in the season, was playing Atlantic City to a standstill. Moncton's chance to cheer came late in the period when Gould drove one in on a rebound from a wing shot by James.

Nothing in the way of scoring occurred in the second period, both teams putting up a defence which the attack was unable to penetrate.

THIRD PERIOD. The third period furnished the excitement of the game. Clark was in the penalty box when it started. Finlayson, who had been in the penalty box and hardly reaching his position he took the rubber through and beat Bidlake with another shot from right wing.

It looked like Fredericton's game and had the one goal lead being considered sufficient to a defensive game played that might have resulted.

Play opened up, however, and Moncton tied the game up on ice pieces of forward play. James carrying the puck down on right wing and giving it to Gould, who scored.

The period was half gone and overtime seemed to be coming. Atlantic took their first lead of the game when Ed. Kervin produced a spectacular piece of individual play attack handling throughout and scoring between the defence. The balance of the period was largely an effort of Fredericton with a four man attack which was through and score. Moncton held the attack off and won 3 to 2.

THE LINEUPS. The teams were: Fredericton—Goal, Hickson; defence, Steen, McKenna, Keene, Cole, Colby, 20, the scores being: Thistles, 56; Fredericton, 36. The scores for the evening games were: Thistles, 64; Fredericton, 40.

Aaron Ward Traded To Chicago White Sox. NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The New York Yankees jumped into the trading spotlight today, announcing the completion of the deal by which Aaron Ward, veteran second baseman, goes to the Chicago White Sox for two youngsters—John Grabowski, catcher, and Ray Morehead, infielder.

According to Ed Barrow, secretary of the league, it was a straight trade with no cash involved. The college twirler, Howard Holland, former University of Virginia star, and Ned Porter, of the University of Florida, have been signed by the New York Giants.

WITHDRAW PROTEST. FREDERICTON, N. B., Jan. 14.—The Fredericton Hockey Club will probably go no further with the charges that Jack Ingram, coach of the Moncton Athletics, actually coached the players of the Moncton team during play in last night's game at the Arctic Rink, while he was acting as referee, than to draw the matter to the attention of President Bolton of Sussex, and ask that the Southern section of the New Brunswick League pass a regulation making officials and employees of clubs ineligible to act as referee in games in which their team participates.

Odds Given No One Will Finish Swim

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 1.—Those who back their opinions with greenbacks are said to be betting 10 to 1 that not a single one of the 153 swimmers entered in the Santa Catalina Channel swim next Saturday will complete the test and win a prize.

Tides, low water temperature and distance of 22 miles are the three factors on which the peddlers of these odds are making their wagers.

CAVADIENS ARE BACK IN RACE FOR 2ND PLACE

DEFEAT AMERICANS BY 3 TO 1—Senators and Cougars Also Win—Tie Game. MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—Canadiens are back in the running for second place in the Canadian section of the National Hockey League race. They cut the Canadiens in place of themselves and the New York Americans when they defeated New York's skates in Montreal last night, 3 to 1. Two points now separate the two teams.

Morens, playing at left wing for Canadiens in place of the suspended Joliat, scored Canadiens' first goal in the opening period, spotting the team a working margin. Pete LeGue added the second early in the final session on a beautiful individual rush from his own end line, in which he completely dazed the American defence to get to close quarters with the New York goalie for the tally.

It was a cleanly played game, with only three minor penalties. Hainsback the American threat with a perfect display of goal-tending. He stopped 40 shots, 19 by Forbes. SENATORS WON. After being held scoreless for two periods, Ottawa Senators, aided by their third period, scored three goals and won from Pittsburgh Pirates at the Smoky City last night. The final score was three to one.

Finnegan, who was recently granted a three-year contract by the league leaders with a substantial increase in salary, started the ball rolling when he scored on an individual effort. Kilrea, another spare, practically won the match single-handed, when he ran in two goals within a minute. McKinnon scored the Pirates' lone tally near the end of the game.

The Detroit Cougars came within striking distance of the lead in the American division by defeating the Boston Bruins at Windsor, Ont., by a score of 3 to 2.

The Cougars staged a whirlwind attack in the initial session that netted them three counters, Loughead scored and Poynton scoring. Galbraith scored for Boston. The second period was scoreless.

The Bruins, who are tied for second place with Chicago in the United States division, came back strong in the third period, scoring the winning goal. Oliver cut down the Detroit lead when he beat Holmes from close-in.

The New York Rangers were forced to divide the honors with Toronto St. Pats at Madison Square Garden. The game ended in a 1-1 tie after 80 minutes of play.

"Close In" Shot Important

By H. G. OLSEN, Ohio State Coach. THE SHORT SHOT. The short, or "close in" shot is perhaps the most important shot a basketball player attempts. Technique is important in long shots, but the element of luck is present there to a much larger degree than in the case of short shots. The short shot can be made in such a way as to be practically a "sure thing." The number of short shots which a team gets during a game are comparatively few, and since the short shot presents such a fine chance to score, it is highly important that those attempts at the basket should be "deadly."

Generally speaking, in a basketball game "two hands are better than one," but in the case of the short shot this is not true, for the "close in" shot can be made more accurately with one hand than with two—and at the same time it is a harder shot to guard than the "two-handed shot."

In making this short shot, the player should first of all get up in the air as high as possible, with the shooting arm fully extended toward the basket. Most players make the mistake here of getting a good jump and then falling to extend the arm fully. It seems scarcely a matter of common sense to know that the longer you can keep the ball under your control on its flight to the basket, the less the chance of error.

WILLING TO BOX SURVIVOR OF ELIMINATIONS

Delaney Has Not Yet Come to Terms—Next Champ Must Sign With Tex. NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Jack Dempsey has yielded to the demand of Tex Rickards that he submit his title comeback hopes to at least one test fight, according to the former champion's eastern Representative, Leonard Sachs.

"Dempsey will string with Rickard," said Sachs, in announcing the determined king had abandoned his attitude of opposition to any bout other than a return match with Gene Tunney. Sachs said Jack would get in shape to take on the survivor of Rickard's elimination series, involving Jack Sharkey, Jimmy Maloney, Paul Berlenbach, Paulino Licudini, and possibly Jack Delaney.

Another important point is in the way the ball leaves the hand. It should roll off the tips of the fingers in such a manner that the palm of the hand is visible to the player as the ball leaves the hand. In other words, the ball is not behind the ball pushing it on its way—this results in "overshooting" in a "hard" shot—but rather the ball is gently "laid against the backboard" and allowed to drop through the hoop. The carom shot (ball hitting backboard first and then dropping through the basket) is much safer than the other method of shooting them "straight in."

Note these points in the illustration: 1. The high jump; 2. The fully extended arm; 3. The ball leaving from the tips of the fingers—the palm of the hand toward the player.
