THAT PEACE PROPOSAL.

It was announced yesterday that the peace offer made to France last year by Austria, as revealed in the letters written by Emperor Charles to his brother-in-law, Prince Sixtus, of France, will form the subject of a debate of the highest importance in the House of Commons today.

The Austrian Emperor had no idea the letter in question would be published, as it suggested peace terms Germany would not for a moment consider. The controversy which led to its publication cost Count Czermin his position, and also caused the resignation of the Austrian and Hungarian premiers.

Count Czermin began the controversy by a speech which was designed to cause the Premier just such an opening as he could have wished. Clemencau contented himself at first with the brutal reply that Czermin was a liar. He followed this with a formal official statement in which the French government categorically denied Czermin's allegations and flatly asserted that it was Austria, and not France, that had attempted to initiate negotiations for a separate peace.

The French were able to support their denial by pointing to the existence of a formal document in their possession in which the Austrian representative had been foolish enough to admit in writing that the initiative had been taken by Austria. Czermin was warned, more than once, that if he persisted in his false allegations France was in possession of written evidence from a much more important personage which would amply justify the French denial.

Count Czermin was in possession of written evidence from a much more important personage which would amply justify the French denial. He was warned, more than once, that if he persisted in his false allegations France was in possession of written evidence from a much more important personage which would amply justify the French denial.

The stories told of the atrocities committed by the Germans and their tools in Russia do not cause any surprise. We doubt if even Trotsky and Lenin are surprised. They and their kind are responsible for the tragedy of Russia. They have shown the world what so-called Socialism at its worst can do to a country.

How widespread was the German plotting is probably not yet fully known. The latest scheme to be uncovered was devised so long ago as 1914 and was designed to bring about a revolution of Germans in the United States should that country go to war.

COUNT MINOTTO, SON-IN-LAW OF L. SWIFT, WILL BE INTERNED

Presidential Warrant for Man of Doubtful Loyalty

Was Born in Berlin; Openly Pro-German at Outbreak of War But Later Offered Services to Italy

Chicago, May 16.—Count James Minotto, son-in-law of Louis F. Swift, the packer, was taken into custody here by deputy United States marshals on a presidential warrant ordering his internment.

A habeas corpus action was immediately instituted in behalf of the count and he was taken before Federal Judge Carpenter and released on $50,000 bond. Hearing of argument on the habeas corpus proceedings was set for May 20.

Count Minotto is a man of such tangled nationalities that he comes near to being a man without a country. His father was an Italian of avowed pro-German sympathies and his mother was a noted German actress. He was born in Berlin and educated in the banking business in Germany.

When the European war broke out he was employed in a German bank in London. He came to the United States and took out first naturalization papers here, but never completed the naturalization process. At first he was openly pro-German, but when Italy entered the war, he offered to return to his father's land as an Italian reservist, and was refused for physical reasons. Later he offered an ambulance service to the Italian government, but this gift also was refused.

Then he sought a commission in the United States army, but his German citizenship prevented. He offered his services to the bureau of naval intelligence to become a United States secret agent, but officials suspected him of bad faith and did not accept.

Mixed With Society. He has associated with society people in England, the United States and Argentina. He was a visitor at the German embassies in London and Washington, was a friend of Count Luxburg, the now notorious German charge at Buenos Aires, and also of M. Callaux, former French premier, recently arrested on a charge of treason, and with Mme. Callaux, when they were in South America.

Secretary McAdoo was entertained by Count Minotto when the secretary visited Buenos Aires two years ago. The count at that time represented a New York bank in Argentina, but previously, while acting as agent for another New York bank, had been recalled because it was feared his pro-German sympathies would commit the bank to improper policies.

The bureau of naval intelligence, whose request that Minotto be deported, was refused by the department of labor on the ground that Minotto had neither broken any United States laws, nor threatened to do so, cited as facts supporting its suspicion that the count was a German agent, that he maintained a mysterious private office at his Long Island home, and employed a private secretary, although his salary as representative of the New York bank was comparatively small.

Minotto's friends explained that his wife was wealthy, and that, consequently, he was not forced to live on his business income. The department of labor referred the case to the department of justice, suggesting that if Minotto was as dangerous as the bureau of naval intelligence maintained, he might be interned.

Blinded by Indigestion And Tortured by Headache—Spells Became More and More Frequent Until Cure Was Found Ingonish Beach, N. S., May 15.—Chronic indigestion is hard to get rid of because the treatments used aim at relief rather than at removing the cause. This letter shows how the trouble develops from constipation until the digestive system is upset, the food ferments, and headaches and blinding dizziness result.

In this case cure was effected by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Mrs. Donovan writes that she has never had a headache since. This seems to be conclusive evidence of the thoroughness of the cure.

Mrs. John J. Donovan, Ingonish Beach (N. S.), writes: 'I wish to speak a word or two in praise of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I was troubled for years with sick headache and constipation, and was so bad that when the pain would strike me, I would get blind, would have to drop everything and go to bed. These spells used to come very frequently—sometimes as often as twice a week. I read in Dr. Chase's Almanac of his Kidney-Liver Pills, and decided to try them. I hadn't used this medicine long until I was completely cured. I have never had a headache since, and feel that I cannot speak too highly in praise of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.'

You cannot expect such results from substitutes and imitations, so be sure to see the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., on the box you buy. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25c a box, 5 for $1.00, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

fellowship of the church. The men's fraternal reported through R. T. Mawhinney interesting and profitable gatherings with an increasing spirit of fellowship. Miss Florence Kierstead in her report stated that the Mission Band had been reorganized with Mrs. Jacob Smith as president. The children are greatly enjoying the lessons of the study book as taught by six ladies in turn. The election of officers followed the reading of the reports and resulted as follows: superintendent of Sunday school, John Mott; assistant superintendent, Donald Manger; secretary, Herbert Smith; assistant secretary, Leslie Day; church treasurer, Deacon James Patterson. All the members of the advisory board were re-elected with the addition of Messrs. Allan Robinson and Leslie Day. A splendid spirit was manifested throughout the meeting, which was well attended and alive with interest. It closed at a late hour with the singing of the Doxology and the pronouncing of the benediction. It used to be that poor people felt sorry for the poor dyspeptic that couldn't eat. Nowadays people envy him.—Rochester Post Express.

POTATO PREPARATIONS.
As much is expected of the potato crop this year it is better not to put off any longer getting ready for a bumper yield of potatoes. Tubers seem to thrive best in a moist, cloudy and temperate climate providing there is sufficient moisture in the soil and the growing season is long enough, they are not at all fastidious in this respect. The ideal soil for potatoes is a rich, deep, friable, warm sandy loam with good natural drainage and well supplied with decayed or decaying vegetable matter. The potato requires a great deal of moisture and will not thrive in cold soil where the water is stagnant near the surface, so that thorough drainage is very essential to success. As a rule seed potato should be kept for they do not sprout too soon, for if they do, the sprouts are liable to be broken off at the time of planting. They may sprout again but that takes time and reduces their vitality. It pays, however, to sprout a few in the full light by spreading them out on the floor of the attic. If these are then planted out with care they will produce potatoes several weeks earlier and will generally give a larger yield than those planted later.

PERSHING'S COMMAND
Washington, May 15—General Pershing probably soon will be commanding French and British troops as the process of brigading American units with their allies on the western front goes forward. As if exemplifying the unity of the of the Flanders lowlands. The mechanism of war that attracted the civilian element were familiar to them and weighed but little with them in comparison with the scale models of battlefields.

Models of Battlefields.
Round the model of the City of Ypres both the khaki and the older folk who proudly bore their mourning garments were thickly gathered. The scale model was large enough to show a tree the size of a match, a window in a ruined house, and the sea in the distance. Pointed reminiscently to miniature ruins that marked the sites of dugouts, shelters, or were even hills in the distance. The soldiers, too, came in for a great deal of quiet cross-examination from the poor black-and-parents.

"Where was Sanctuary Wood?" "Please," asked an old lady plaintively—"can you show me which is the Mean road?" "Englishmen, Canadians, all ranks from general to subaltern, were swift and soft-spoken in their explanations; keen to expound and knowledgeable in sympathy, for they, too, had left memories of sacrifice in the city of the dead.

Memories of Vimy.
There was somehow more than a bond of chance-met acquaintanceship about the exhibition. The trophies were too poignant, too intimate—the audience too acutely "en rapport." People who in the implicit but silent partnership that the bettered relics conferred upon them, and somehow or other as soon as the opening speeches were over little groups were going round. Here a New Zealander was conveying a group of English ladies, there an Australian was talking halting French to distinguished visitors. Khaki was telling his personal reminiscences of Vimy Ridge and the Butte de Warlencourt. Machine guns, snipers' marks, trench mortars and what not came in for a personal explanation, and all social differences were laid aside.

"They Shall Not Pass."
The Allies and all that the alliance means found expression in the little case that held relics of impregnable Verdun, presented by its commandant. The board that carried the motto of the troops, "Is no passport pass"—a simple signboard, meant more to the visitor than a mere museum exhibit. British and French alike, we know what Verdun meant, and the memory of its immortal glory transformed that simple case of exhibits into a radiant shrine. So it is with all things in this first temporary exhibition of the Imperial War Museum. The objects all speak of heroism, endurance and self-sacrifice. Many of the exhibits are made all or in part by women's labor patriotically and ungrudgingly given, and all bespeak the national will to conquer and to achieve a lasting and victorious peace. These models, too, made by wounded men, the shells and engines made by women's labor, are no less trophies of war than are the shattered "pommes de Zepelinus" vis the mortars and field guns captured from the enemy.

DON'T WASTE FOOD
The order-in-council against waste, making it an offence subject to heavy penalties, would apply if food were wasted in any of the following ways:

1. If food fit for human use is willfully or negligently damaged or thrown away.
2. This applies to proprietors of hotels, clubs, restaurants, cafes, steamships, dining cars, etc., managers of institutions, church societies or lodges, private householders or other persons who destroy or discard good food; also to wasteful picnic parties or travelers; also to hunters, fishermen, etc., who neglect to save game or fish secured by them.
3. If the person having control of food omits to take any precaution which should reasonably be taken for its preservation.
4. This applies to persons anywhere who allow food to spoil, if it could be saved by cooking, canning or other treatment; also to careless and wasteful cooks; also to farmers, gardeners or other producers who neglect to protect grain, produce or other food against deterioration or loss; also to merchants who allow candy, fruit or other food to spoil by exposure in windows, or open to flies, dust, moisture, etc.; also to persons who, through careless storage, leave food accessible to rats, mice, or other vermin; also to handlers who cause waste by careless packing or shipping; also to public or private carriers, who are negligent and cause waste or deterioration.
5. If any one procures for any purpose a greater quantity than is reasonably required and any part becomes unfit for human food.
6. This applies to dealers and others, including private householders who hoard food, if any part of it spoils because of inadequate storage facilities or for any other reason; also to persons who, through careless buying, purchase more for current consumption than they require.

4. If the person who has the disposal of food unreasonably retains it until it goes bad.

This applies to producers, dealers or private individuals who fail to market or otherwise dispose of food in excess of their own requirements in time to prevent waste; also to those who refuse to sell at a loss, if current prices require, in order to avoid food waste.

The penalties are a fine of not less than $100 or more than $1,000, or imprisonment for up to three months, or both fine and imprisonment. In the case of deaths, waste may also result in cancellation of the Canada Food Board license.

It is the duty of each municipality in Canada to enforce the regulations against waste within its municipal limits, and when a fine is imposed as a result of proceedings instituted by a provincial or municipal officer, such fine shall be paid into the provincial or municipal treasury. It is up to every individual citizen to see that the regulations are enforced.

CONDEMNED TO DEATH

Paris, May 15-M. Duval, who was director of the suppressed Germanophile newspaper Bonnet Rouge, was condemned to death today by court-martial for treason.
Six other defendants were sentenced to imprisonment for terms ranging from two to ten years. M. Marce, assistant manager of Bonnet Rouge, received ten years' imprisonment at hard labor. Jacques Landau, a reporter on the newspaper, was given eight years at hard labor. Goldstey was sentenced to eight years at hard labor and military detention. M. Joucha, a reporter on the Bonnet Rouge, was given five years at hard labor. M. Verdon was sentenced to two years in prison and fined five thousand francs, with sentence suspended. Jean Leymann, former director of the ministry of interior, was given two years in prison and fined one thousand francs.
Although M. Duval had expected the verdict rendered, he and M. Marce and Goldstey requested to be permitted to appeal from the judgment of the court. M. Joucha collapsed entirely, saying: "I have done nothing wrong. I don't want to go to prison. Send me to the front."

How Blue-jay Ends Corns

A is a thin, soft pad which stops the pain by relieving the pressure. B is the B&B wax, which gently undermines the corn. Usually it takes only 48 hours to end the corn completely. C is rubber adhesive, which sticks without wetting. It wraps around the toe and makes the plaster snug and comfortable.

Blue-jay is applied in a jiffy. After that, one doesn't feel the corn. The action is gentle, and applied to the corn alone. So the corn disappears without soreness.

Your Corn Can't Resist Blue-jay Blue-jay is the gentle way—but certain. Relief is instant when the corn comes out in 48 hours.

The little spot of B&B medicated wax covers only the corn itself. It is the dainty, clean way. Harsh liquids are messy and dangerous. Paring might bring infection. Millions of people have used Blue-jay for years. At the slightest appearance of a corn they put on a Blue-jay Plaster.

One plaster is usually sufficient; once in a while an old, stubborn corn requires a second. Try the Blue-jay way tonight. It means freedom forever from aching corns. Blue-jay Plasters at all druggists—25c per package. Also Blue-jay Bunion Plasters.

ONE MANAGEMENT FOR ALL ROADS

Ottawa, May 15—Negotiations for government acquisition of the Grand Trunk Railway and the Grand Trunk Pacific railways were announced in the House of Commons today by the prime minister. The G. T. P., he declared, would be a national enterprise, to which the credit of the Canadian people has been committed and in my judgment it is expedient to maintain it and not permit it to go into liquidation. The taking over of the Grand Trunk Pacific practically involves the taking over of the Grand Trunk as well.

You never had a headache when you were well. To keep well is to keep clean, inside. To relieve headache, and to prevent it, keep the liver active and industrious and the bowels as regular as a clock. Two generations of healthy, vigorous people have done this by taking one pill at bedtime, regularly—a large dose when nature gives the warning.

AN ASSEMBLY OF NECESSITY

Why The Presbyterians Will Meet This Year

London Welcomes Them

But Hospitable Folk Wonder-How Numerous Their Guests Will be - Uncertainty of Plans and Higher Traveling Expenses Will Affect Attendance

London, Ont., May 14.—The Presbyterian Assembly which meets in St. Andrew's church on June 5, will be known as the "Necessity Assembly," because it meets in the face of opposition from prominent individuals, important presbyteries, and influential boards, and for the reason that it has to meet because it was called or "ordered" by the moderator of the assembly last year at Montreal.

The assembly is self-propagating. The assembly of yesterday ordered the assembly of tomorrow, and it has to meet tomorrow. No board, nobody, can order the postponement of an assembly. It has not yet been decided that an assembly can postpone its annual session, though it has the power to "order" an assembly. A mere layman might think that the prerogative that admits of ordering an assembly to be, could order an assembly not to be. But at this point the "hall" appears. This is the "Necessity Assembly" that draws on, and mere laymen accept it as such.

Economical Suggestions

A definite effort was made to improve a workable substitute for the large and altogether uplifting usual assembly. One thrifty suggestion was that a quorum of the circular inviting commissioners to pay their own way or stay at home. All these things made the London end of the assembly anything but a sure thing to gamble on, and we are still within the fringes of the woods until we have heard from the last man that is coming to share our hearty hospitality.

For the Fourth Time

London has had the honor and privilege of entertaining the assembly on three occasions in the past. In 1883, when the late Rev. Dr. John King was moderator; in 1895 when the great Dr. James Robertson, pioneer superintendent of missions in the west, presided; and in 1906, with Dr. Alexander Falconer, father of Sir Robert Falconer, in the chair.

Will He Become Moderator?

Londoners are naturally thinking not a little about the choice of a moderator for the coming assembly. They have no man for the position among their own. The ministers are too young and the laymen are too shy for the high place. London should be asked to name a political leader for either party in the House of Commons. It is not in Morocco, as has been reported recently, but in Vienna. There he is said to be carrying on intrigues for a separation of Austria from Germany.

Three Archdukes of the Hapsburg Family are said to have resigned military posts as a protest against the activities of the Parma family after vainly attempting to have the emperor put an end to them.

turn ticket. It is surmised that it will be a somewhat amply attended court.

Less Talk and More Work

It is openly asserted that a smaller assembly will mean more work done daily and consequently a shorter day for the commissioners at their billets in this city. Such a consequence might well be devoutly wished, by maidless housekeepers and those who suffer from the high price of eggs, and memories of days when bacon for breakfast was at least a possibility. The reporter does not know of any prospective hostesses who have expressed a preference for a brief assembly, but there are many things thriving and hearty that we do not know about. The altitude of the prices for the bone bare necessities for living is as distally high in London as anywhere else today, and it is one of the outstanding characteristics of preachers that they have good eating endowments, because they have good consciences. If assembly met in the autumn, when the gardens all are now planting were bringing in their sheaves it would not be so hard to feed the commissioners.

Oatmeal and Tea

Our London plans to conserve wheat for the overseas needs will not suffer from the same work as the assembly men, owing to their known ability to eat oats. If the assembly had the same fondness for tea and cake that the Anglican synod delegates have (and by the way, the Anglican synod meets in London the same week as the assembly), we might have Mr. O'Connor's successor making reports to the disinterested Hon. Mr. Cotterell. The oatmeal assembly and the tea synod will balance very well, and they will both be as welcome as showers of June, which they usually cause to fall wherever they meet.

Hospitable Folk Perplexed

While dealing with the subject of hostesses, let it be said that church folk were pretty well upset in their arrangements about domiciling the delegates by the rumor that there might not be an assembly. Londoners were working to the tune of having 500 men to put away for the night. Then came the word that there might not be any. Then we heard of the forty of ourselves, and then of the forty from the regions beyond, and then finally of the circular inviting commissioners to pay their own way or stay at home. All these things made the London end of the assembly anything but a sure thing to gamble on, and we are still within the fringes of the woods until we have heard from the last man that is coming to share our hearty hospitality.

For the Fourth Time

London has had the honor and privilege of entertaining the assembly on three occasions in the past. In 1883, when the late Rev. Dr. John King was moderator; in 1895 when the great Dr. James Robertson, pioneer superintendent of missions in the west, presided; and in 1906, with Dr. Alexander Falconer, father of Sir Robert Falconer, in the chair.

Will He Become Moderator?

Londoners are naturally thinking not a little about the choice of a moderator for the coming assembly. They have no man for the position among their own. The ministers are too young and the laymen are too shy for the high place. London should be asked to name a political leader for either party in the House of Commons. It is not in Morocco, as has been reported recently, but in Vienna. There he is said to be carrying on intrigues for a separation of Austria from Germany.

political opportunities that tend to forgetfulness of years, or fears, as the case may be.

J. K. Macdonald Favored

Among those who have a right to speak upon the matter here, the name of J. K. Macdonald of Toronto is most prominently mentioned as man for moderator, and the hope is entertained that he will "make the place." It is not generally known that Mr. Macdonald was a divinity student in the "studies" and through a combination of circumstances got pushed out of the cloisters into the hall of commerce and business. He has been an ardent churchman all his life, a friend of the ministers everywhere and has all the qualifications for the high position of moderator. If he is the choice, it will much please London, where he is well and favorably known.

GERMANY REVILES AUSTRIAN RULER

Increasing Hostility to Emperor Charles is Shown by Enemy Press—Calls Family Anti-German

Rome, May 15.—Increasing hostility to Emperor Charles of Austria and even greater feeling against the emperor and her family is being exhibited by the German press.

George Bernard, the famous writer, openly accuses the family of the emperor of intrigues harmful to German interests. He admits that the Parma family, which has its connections in Italy and France as well as in Austria, might serve as an instrument toward achieving an understanding between the belligerents, but objects that the family is anti-German, and urges that the peace intermediary should be equally well disposed towards all the warring nations.

Some of the German papers accuse Empress Zita's mother (the Duchess Marie, recently reported expelled from Austria) of plotting to put her son, Francis Xavier, on the throne of France. This assertion is evidently made to antagonize French public opinion.

The Leipzig Nachrichten asserts that Prince Sixtus, the emperor's brother, to whom the emperor wrote the letter seeking peace with France and acknowledging the justice of the French claim to Alsace-Lorraine, is not in Morocco, as has been reported recently, but in Vienna. There he is said to be carrying on intrigues for a separation of Austria from Germany.

Three archdukes of the Hapsburg family are said to have resigned military posts as a protest against the activities of the Parma family after vainly attempting to have the emperor put an end to them.

HOLLAND WARNED BY THE ENTENTE

of Dangers Which May Result From Accepting German Claims; Tonnage After War

London, May 15.—Germany has made claims on Holland which are described in a Central News despatch from The Hague as very serious stipulations that would bring Holland to a great extent under the economic influence of the Germans. These claims are in addition to the one respecting the Dutch tonnage which is demanded for use after the war, as an offset to the tonnage which the Allies are now using. "Germany is actually endeavoring to make a second Roumania of Holland," says the despatch.

At a conference a few days ago between Foreign Minister London and the ministers of the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy, it was pointed out that the Entente is viewing with great appreciation the situation between Holland and Germany. Holland was told of the dangers which might befall from agreement with the German claims in connection with grain shipments from America. The Entente representatives promised not to put difficulties in the way of Holland, but made it plain that their governments had not departed from their original viewpoint. Germany now makes an agreement on the economic questions dependent upon acceptance by Holland of its claims regarding the shipping question. This might again give rise to serious difficulties.

G., of the British war office, is expected to visit the city to address the Canadian Club in this city, saying that he may be in St. John next week and suggesting a possible subject for an address "The State and the Soldier." MR. PULLEN TELLS COUNCIL ABOUT CONTRACT

To Commissioner McLellan, Mr. Hare said that he had found no records of instructions to Mr. Pullen. His judgment that there were two coats of paint on the building was based on his examination of the building and on his knowledge of such work.

Commissioner McLellan said that before the bill was paid he would like to see the affidavits mentioned and a check on the measurements of the shed. He added that he had no personal feeling against Mr. Pullen.

The mayor announced that the city solicitor would prepare an affidavit for Mr. Pullen to sign and the matter was allowed to stand over.

A Strike.
Commissioner Fisher reported that the employees on the city stone crusher had not approved the arrangements for increased wages and had gone on strike. He moved that he be given power to make the new order retroactive, applying from May 1 to May 14. The men had asked for increased pay to date from April 1, and the delay which had occurred in getting the matter through the council was not fair to the men. The motion was carried.

An opinion of the city solicitor regarding a request from a fisherman that a new fishery lot be laid out at Ballast wharf was read. The solicitor found the city had no authority to lay out and sell new lots at this time. On motion of Commissioner Bullock the letter was filed and an answer ordered sent to the applicant, Mr. Harrod.

A communication from H. C. Groat for the C. P. R. asking permission to displace overhead wires at No. 1 wharf, W. E., as may be found necessary in rebuilding the supports for the grain conveyor, on the understanding that they would replace the wharf in the condition found, was read. Permission was given subject to confirmation by the city solicitor.

A report from G. N. Hatfield to the effect that a lot tendered to C. P. Baker did not include a ten foot strip which had been reserved to leave light for the Orange Hall in Fairville, was read and placed in the hands of the common clerk.

The Eastern S. S. Co.
Commissioner Bullock also submitted a communication from the agent of the E. S. S. Co. regarding negotiations for improvements to and renewal lease for their wharf, contending that the agreement was that the company should pay ten per cent on the cost of improvements, the total not to exceed $2,000. Members of the council said that the agreement was for twelve per cent, and there was no limit.

Commissioner Fisher said he understood the city engineering staff was working on these plans and incorporating features which he thought should be looked after by the tenant.

Commissioner Bullock said that the present rental was $2,700, and he thought it should be at least $3,000, if the new work was to be done it would cost more than $30,000, and they would have to pay twelve per cent on that also. The company was not applying for a renewal of their lease at the Anchor Line wharf, but wanted opportunity to do so before it was leased to any other applicant. He moved that the company be notified of the estimated cost of the improvements and that the city would require twelve per cent rental in addition to a rental of $3,000 for the present facilities. Carried.

Commissioner Bullock submitted an estimate of $6,000 for repairs to Reed's point wharf. His motion that the estimate be accepted and the work be continued was carried. A call for tenders for birch timber for the work was authorized.

The militia department's request for a lump sum contract for carrying soldiers on the ferries was referred back for information regarding the status of the negotiations.

SIEGE BATTERY OFF TO NEW LOCATION

Men March to Battery Point on Red Head Road—Under Canvas Tonight

No. 9 Siege Battery, 250 strong, left their quarters in West St. John this afternoon and paraded to their new camping ground at Battery Point, Red Head road. The men will sleep under canvas tonight.

An advance party of the unit left last evening and prepared the camp for the balance of the unit. Major Wetmore, officer commanding the unit, speaking of the new quarters this morning, said that the point was a very desirable spot for the battery and he was much pleased with the change.

Battery Point commands a view of the Bay of Fundy and the entrance to the harbor. It holds such a commanding position that the authorities in the war of 1812 had placed a battery there. The name still is retained.

The surrounding country will afford Major Wetmore a magnificent opportunity for training his men and this he fully realizes.

MAJOR FRANK DAVE NOW IS ACTING SECOND IN COMMAND

Former Professor at the U. N. B.; Halifax O. C. Who Went Over as Corporal

THE SCHOOL CHILDREN MUST BE VACCINATED

The board of health at the noonday meeting today talked over matters pertaining to the smallpox situation. There were no cases reported and no further action taken in regard to the enforcement of vaccination.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon, it was decided that all school children who heretofore have not been vaccinated, will have to be before being allowed to attend school. Dr. G. G. Melvin, speaking of the order this morning, said that the larger portion of the school children in the city had been successfully vaccinated prior to the present appearance of the disease here.

Another case was discovered yesterday afternoon in a house in Middle street, West St. John, already under quarantine. This makes a total of eighteen cases in the city.
