POWER BILLS ARE BEFORE COMMITTEE

One-Fifth From Water Privileges in Charlotte For Industries

THE GILMORE PROPERTY

Offer is Now $8,000 and Asking Price $15,000—Settlement of Expropriation Clause in Hydro-Electric Bill—C. P. R. Gets Land for Model Farm

(Special to Times)

Fredericton, N. B., March 26.—There are many St. John people here interested in power projects. The Hydro-Electric bill was before the corporations committee this morning, and the attendance of members and counsel was large. H. A. Powell appeared for the company and Messrs. F. W. Thomson and W. E. Foster were also present to urge passage of the bill. The Charlotte county members with Speaker Clarke in the forenoon were bound to have the interests of their county safeguarded and as one result one fifth of the power from water privileges will be conserved for industries of that section of the province.

The expropriation clause caused much discussion and is likely to be settled by a section providing that before any expropriation can take place both sides may be heard before the governor-in-council. The dispute over the Gilmore property is not settled yet. Those owning the land have reduced their price from $20,000 to $15,000, and the company have raised their offer to $8,000. There seems no chance of their getting together and settling the question.

Mr. Thomson, one of the promoters of the hydro-electric bill, said that the cost of the proposed works, for which plans had been drawn, would be $1,100,000, about equally divided on the Lepreau and Macdonald.

F. E. Scro and others are here to oppose the Hartland power bill, which they say will lessen their mill privileges, dams and privileges. This measure will come before the corporations committee tomorrow.

Mr. Thomson, industrial commissioner at the C. P. R., who is here today, announced that he has completed the purchase for the company of the Webb and Mitchell farms at Fredericton Junction, comprising 400 acres. It is the only farm which will be the first in eastern Canada. A capable man will be placed in charge and will work under direction of the local department of agriculture.

Doctor Fisher, secretary of the board of health, said today that there was only one case of smallpox at Meductic, although there was considerable exposure, he does not regard the situation as serious. Every precaution, he said, has been taken to prevent spread.

Mrs. Abram, widow of James Abram, died at her home here yesterday after a brief illness. She was aged seventy-nine and is survived by three children.

INDIAN "BAD MAN" IS GONE

Spokane, Wash., March 26.—"Crooked Mouth Rob," a renegade Indian, and terror of Central Washington, in territorial days, has gone to his reward. While on the way to his ranch on the Columbia river near Chelan, Wash., a few days ago, he fell from his cayuse and was run over by a team driven by two reds, the wheels of the vehicle crushing his skull. The Indians did not see his prostrate body in the road.

"Bob" acquired his name following a fight with a miner in the early days. He was victorious in the clash at arms, but the miner afterward took revenge by driving a pick through the Indian's hip, pinning him to the road side.

Many stories are told of "Bob's" prowess and physical endurance. He suffered bodily injuries sufficient to kill a dozen ordinary men. In a fight with a tribesman he was stabbed eleven times, one of the knife thrusts penetrating his lungs, but he walked off and recovered rapidly. During the latter part of his life he engaged in farming and, though he would fight at the least provocation, he was peaceable and observed the white man's law.

PLOT TO THROW CHINA INTO WORSE TURMOIL

Pekin, March 26.—A widespread plot to overthrow the republic and restore the baby emperor to the throne has been discovered. So serious is the situation today that President Yuan Shi Kai is afraid to arrest the leaders for fear that further fighting and disorder will follow.

THE WEATHER

Lindsay Dykeman, and two of young men taught by L. H. Thorne and Rev. Dr. Hutchinson. Mrs. Hutchinson presided. In an interesting program, addresses were delivered by the pastor, H. V. Hayes, superintendent of the school; W. J. McAlary, L. L. Dykeman and L. H. Thorne, and there were musical and vocal selections by the Messrs. Holder and Miss Frodham and Miss Holder. Refreshments were served and a most enjoyable time spent.

PANDEMONIUM AT COLONEL'S RALLY

Roosevelt Meeting Nearly Broken up by Suffragette—Candidate Helpless to End Uproar for Quarter of an Hour

(Canadian Press)

New York, March 26.—In the fifth of six meetings which Colonel Roosevelt addressed in the East side last night, on the eve of the primary elections today, he faced a situation which had the better of him and other leaders at the meeting for fully fifteen minutes. It was all due to a woman.

After Colonel Roosevelt had launched into an attack upon the new primary law, exhibiting the fourteen foot ballot as an example of its encumbrances, and had begun on the "right of the people to be ruled" one of the few women in the audience, upset things by crying, in a loud voice, "How about the women?" Many identified the interrupter as Maud Malone, a militant suffragette, who has upset similar political meetings in the same way.

There was at once wild confusion of hisses and cries of "Put her out." Mr. Roosevelt was self-possessed, and after the clamor had quieted somewhat, he replied as follows: "Madame, I have asked that you women yourselves be allowed to vote to determine whether you shall vote."

This was greeted with general cheering, but Miss Malone sprang to her feet, and was about to make further interruptions, when the colonel said: "Apparently you don't feel contented with this. In that case I have a great deal better opinion of your sex than you have."

The men audibly added to the rally by wadding up their paper programs, and showing these and other missiles at Miss Malone. The colonel pleaded for courtesy, but the crowd persisted in the pandemonium notwithstanding the colonel shouting from the platform, and the efforts of the chairman to rap the crowd to order. The riotous demonstration continued for a quarter of an hour, during which Colonel Roosevelt was absolutely helpless. The band tried to charm the rioters to calm, but the music only stirred up more excitement.

The situation was averted only by sending for special policemen who ejected the militant Miss Malone.

SAVED BY QUICK WORK

Mrs. Thos. MacDonald Was Native of Douglastown, N. B.—North Shore Church Union Vote

Newcastle, N. B., March 26.—Mrs. W. J. Keating has received word of the death of her son, the first Thomas MacDonald of Douglastown, in Haverhill, Mass. She died on Friday. The body will be buried here on Monday.

At the Methodist quarterly board meeting last night the vote for church union was: Yes, eight; no, one; abstentions, none. The trustees elected were: Messrs. W. H. Stuart, W. H. Stuart, W. H. Stuart, W. H. Stuart, W. H. Stuart.

At the Dominion, N. B., March 26.—It is a surprise to meet with full information and details of expenditure in the auditor general's report, but today, in the public accounts committee room, the members had this experience in connection with the accounts of the Provincial Hospital, Lantz. The superintendent, Doctor Anglin, who was appointed by the old government, and is one of its very few officials who were retained in the service of the province by the Hazen administration, not only particularized the expenses of the hospital, but in a separate report gave such further detailed information as the predecessor of Mr. Robinson, the opposition critic on the committee, who with the hospital affairs were handled.

He jokingly remarked to Chairman Pinard that this was one of the cases where the present government was wise in following in the footsteps of its predecessor. From the information given by Doctor Anglin, it was shown that the farm in connection with the institution had a profit of more than $5,000 last year, that in the main the supplies were bought by tender, that the municipalities were paid very well indeed, and that the receipts of relatives of the patients were also prompt and satisfactory.

Mr. Robinson criticized the sale of the very valuable corner lot opposite the hospital grounds to T. W. Simms & Co. for such a small amount as $5,100. The president of the council, Hon. Mr. Maxwell, was called to explain and while awaiting his coming, Mr. Robinson said that the location was always a most important one, and with the new bridge in prospect, and taking other things into consideration, the site was very valuable and he thought it was bad business management for the government to sell it for such a price.

Mr. Maxwell explained that he was responsible for bringing the location to the attention of the Simms people, and also for drawing the attention of the hospital commissioners to the opportunity for selling. According to his statement, he seems to have acted, in his capacity as commissioner, as the "go-between" for the factory people and the government. He had charge of the sale and bid the upper price of $5,000 and tried to justify that amount by the report of Engineer Murdoch made some eight or ten years ago for the old government.

Mr. Murdoch, it appears, had laid out the several acres with streets, etc., and divided the grounds into lots. These lots would have brought a big price today and that undoubtedly was in the mind of Mr. Robinson when he made the criticism. Caught a sharp retort from the opposition member of the committee. He said that if there had been anything wrong at all it was in following out the plan of the old government in the sale of some lots.

To this Mr. Robinson replied, "That would surely condemn it in your sight, Mr. Chairman."

Ottawa announces that the contract between the Dominion government and Norton Griffiths & Co. for the development work in Courtenay Bay was signed yesterday. The contract involves an expenditure of about $11,000,000 and the work is to be commenced immediately.

The final decision regarding the site of the dry dock and the direction of the water works has been left open for agreement between the government and the contractors and if the proposed changes are put into effect it will mean an important modification of the original plans. W. Burton Stewart, general manager of the company, who signed the contract, will be in St. John this week, accompanied by P. R. Warren, their chief engineer, and they will be joined here by Norton Griffiths who is on his way here from England on the Empress steamer due here on Friday.

The news that the contract was actually signed was received here with great satisfaction. While the matter has been regarded as settled there was some little uncertainty until the agreement was completed and the signing of the documents will dispel the last of this feeling. There is a general feeling that the news will mark another important step forward in the progress of the city and that its effect will soon be felt in all lines of business as well as in the real estate market.

TOLD MAGISTRATE SHE WOULD END ALL SCOTLAND AT WORK

Still no Settlement and Many Now Face Starvation Throughout Great Britain—King Gives up Visit to Races

(Canadian Press)

Glasgow, March 26.—Several hundreds of Scottish miners, including many trades unionists, returned to work today.

London, March 26.—Unless the national miners' strike is settled within two or three days and the million idle miners return to the pits, the men's leaders will go back to their respective districts in order to organize maintenance and relief for the distressed families and will ask other organizations to assist them.

This is the substance of a statement by one of the men who has been foremost in the negotiations on the men's side. He insisted that the miners had no intention of further reducing their demands. They had, he said, already given up the schedule of wages which they first submitted to the government and the owners. They agreed to accept the minimum daily rates of $200 railway clerks, to quit work at the end of this week.

Unless there is a speedy settlement of the strike, many more will join the ranks of those subsisting on the out of work benefit allowance of the trades unions, whose funds are now dwindling to the vanishing point.

At Cardiff, in South Wales, household coal is no longer obtainable, and in other towns and cities prices have soared to a point which none but the richest men can afford. The public baths and washhouses in London and elsewhere are being closed and this adds another to the many tribulations of the poorer people.

London, March 26.—King George today cancelled the arrangements for his visit to Liverpool to attend the Grand National Steeplechase on March 29. Telegraphing to Lord Derby, King George said: "The continuance of this disastrous coal strike makes it impossible for me to make any plans or to leave London."

The jury made several to the sheriff, which, in their opinion, would be an improvement and found a true bill against McAlduff. The prisoner pleaded guilty and will probably be sentenced this afternoon. The court adjourned until 2:30 when the case of the Northwest National Bank vs. Hughes et al will be tried. The docket is:

Norton Griffiths Here This Week as Well as His Officials—Good News Joyously Received

Ottawa announces that the contract between the Dominion government and Norton Griffiths & Co. for the development work in Courtenay Bay was signed yesterday. The contract involves an expenditure of about $11,000,000 and the work is to be commenced immediately.

The final decision regarding the site of the dry dock and the direction of the water works has been left open for agreement between the government and the contractors and if the proposed changes are put into effect it will mean an important modification of the original plans. BOARD OF WORKS TO DEAL WITH IMPORTANT MATTERS

The board of works will meet this evening in monthly session. Among the matters to be discussed will be the report of the city engineer on the proposed erection of a large warehouse in Water street on the site of the present city sheds and on the proposed electric conduit on the western side of Mill street, which latter is estimated to cost $10,000.

The engineer also reports on the site for public scales requested by J. S. Gilson & Co. The St. John Railway Co. has refused to accept the conditions imposed by the council in connection with double tracking Water street from St. James to Queen, and this will be placed before the meeting.

The board is notified that the date set for the meeting of the delegation to urge the construction of the Georgian Bay canal was March 14.

D. J. Seely & Son have notified the board that they have retained Hamilton & Hanington to look after their interests in connection with the lease of the Quinn wharf to Geo. Dick.

C. E. Colwell requests a lease of lots 18, 19 and 20 in Block D, Carlton, on the same terms as was granted to the Union Foundry.

In reply to the request that Rock and Richey streets be taken over by the city, the engineer suggests that the promoters be asked what contribution they would make towards making the streets passable.

In Favor of Union Renewed, Ont., March 26.—The result of the vote on church union in the Lennox and Renfrew Presbyteries shows that the members are strongly in favor of the measure. SLAYER OF FOUR IS HANGED

Maryville, March 26.—Rasco, murderer of the Hubble family of four, was hanged in the yard of the county jail this morning. He protested his innocence and recited the twentieth psalm. Rasco murdered Mr. and Mrs. Hubble and their two small children on November 20, 1910, and then set fire to the house to cover the crime.

DEPORTS ARRIVE On the Montreal train today there were brought to the city two men from the island of the United States, who have been deported on the prairie. They were in charge of immigration officials, one of them was handcuffed as he was regarded as a dangerous character and had him trouble before being placed on the train.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE. A sheet of granite glass, about one foot square by a quarter of an inch thick, fell from the roof of the United Depot this morning and scattered pieces about the floor of the station near the ticket office and that of the Carriage Depot. Five minutes earlier the passengers arriving on the Sussex train would have been in the station.

Vincent, cashier of the Old National Bank of Spokane and chairman of the agricultural committee of the Washington State Bankers' Association, is lining up 1,000 owners of automobiles in this city to drive into the country on Good Roads Day, April 12, and fill the ruts and chuck holes in the public highways. Most of the drivers will be accompanied by from one to three laborers and a complement of picks and shovels.

Frank M. Guilbert, vice president and secretary of the Spokane County Good Roads Association, is assisting in the work and results are expected.

Mr. Vincent thinks more real benefit will follow the day on the roads than could be expected from a long programme of technical addresses and good intentions

Death of Duchess of Buccleuch a Blow to English Society Life — High in Social Authority

(Copyright, 1912, by the Brentwood Company)

Half the great world of England has been thrown into mourning by the death of the aged Duchess of Buccleuch and Queensberry, who celebrated her golden wedding three years ago. She was the centre about whom always gathered an immense crowd of kinsfolk. With her, too, there disappears one of the very few survivors of the personages who figure in the novels of Lord Beaconsfield. Especially in that entitled "Lodges" plays an important role, as the daughter of "the duke."

The "duke" in question was in real life the late Duke of Abercorn, one of the handsomest men of his day, whom King Edward, when Prince of Wales, nicknamed "Old Splendid," by reason of the magnificence of his appearance and the extreme care of his person. When victor at Dublin, he was wont to suspend presentations for five minutes at various intervals in the evening during the course of a court or drawing-room, and to retire to an adjoining room, in order to have his superb long silky beard re-traced, re-combed and re-perfumed, so that it might not prove disagreeable to the fair matrons and young girls to whom he was required to administer a vice-regal kiss on the cheek, when presented to him.

Although the Duchess of Buccleuch resembled her father in many respects, and was perhaps one of the most impressive looking of the great ladies of the British aristocracy, yet she used to be, by the curiously inappropriate nickname of "Tiny" among her contemporaries, until long past her sixtieth year.

By Americans, she may well be remembered, as the great power in London Society who set her face strongly against the project organized some twenty years ago, to inaugurate a very rigorous boycott against those persons belonging to the United States, who had crossed a considerable amount of jealousy by their perhaps somewhat indiscreet manifestations of wealth. The organization was a very influential one, headed by several Duchesses, and with which the Duke of Buccleuch was of high and low degree, who publicly proclaimed his object, the members embracing themselves by the Duke of Buccleuch, and to induce their relatives and friends to do likewise.

The Duchess of Buccleuch, although representing the most conservative element in English society, was opposed to in the matter, and, after careful consideration and discussion with her husband, who was conservative as herself, came to the conclusion that it would be a most unjust and ungenerous thing to socially boycott an entire nationality, merely because some had given offence by their ways; and by the lack of regard for English high society, and to the time-honored institutions.

Thus, she never allowed any of what were known as the "Set of Anglo-American society" to pass within her doors; ignored, them, indeed, altogether. But she made her business to show courtesy and civility to Americans of birth and breeding, whose quiet manners and speech appealed to her, such as Mrs. George Cavendish-Bentinck, daughter of Mrs. Matrimon Livingston of New York.

Among those who were her friends on those days, and to whom she proved a friend of infinite value, were William Waldorf Astor and his wife, who, as he is today, a man set in his ideas, and of a somewhat irritable disposition, and had allowed himself to be drawn into foolish disputes with the late Duke of Westminster, about a visitor's autograph book which he said was included in the purchase of Cliveden. Astor had paid a very large sum to the duke for Cliveden, with its contents, as it stood. After the duke had got the money, he seemed to regret the sale, and developed an intense animosity to the purchaser, and was continually making demands upon him for objects which had been left behind, and which he said were not intended to be included in the purchase. Astor yielded in a number of cases, but when the demand came for the visitor's autograph book of Cliveden, which had been part and parcel of the belongings of Cliveden long before its ownership by the Duke of Westminster, Astor declined, and a merry war ensued, in which the Duke of Westminster endeavored to enroll all his friends and acquaintances against Astor.

It was in these difficult days for the Astors, that the Duchess of Buccleuch took him, and especially his wife, under her sheltering social wing, gave them all the benefit of her powerful support; and when their daughter Pauline, (now Mrs. Spencer Clay) became old enough to go into society, (as the girl meanwhile lost her mother), it was the Duchess who chaperoned her, and presented her at court, and gave many entertainments in her honor. I need hardly say that the Duchess did this out of pure sense of fair-mindedness and kindness of heart. There could be no question of interest, since the Buccleuchs have for hundreds of years been the very richest members of the British peerage.

Widow and Mourning

Among those who are placed in mourning by the Duchess' death, are her brother the Duke of Abercorn and his children, her sister, Lady Handford, and the latter's children, including the Duke of Marlborough and his American wife, her other sister, the Marchioness of Lansdowne, with all her married children, besides many others. In fact, the mourning resulting from her death is so widespread, that it bids fair to put a fatal touch to all prospects of brilliancy of the London season, already heavily compromised by the grave industrial and political troubles.

But what London will miss even more this season than the Duchess herself, is the closing of Montague House, her home in Whitehall Gardens. It is a purely modern building from an English point of view, dating only from some seventy years ago. Among its features are its big courtyard and its beautiful gardens, which, together with the terraces, all look down on to the part of the Thames Embankment, on to the embankment itself, and to the river below. The favorite lounge of the Duchess in the summer evenings, was the long terrace or immense broad stone balcony, on to which her boudoir and the large state drawing-room opened. When arranged with flowers and palms, and small tables lighted with colored lamps, the terrace of Montague House was a spot so ideal, that it was necessary to cast a glance at the lights darting to and fro on the Thames, to realize that one was in the heart of the metropolis.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH GAMERON

IF ANYONE who had a physical deformity knew that by a reasonable degree of self-control and self-government he could cause that blemish to grow less, and perhaps finally disappear, so that he could be just like other people, wouldn't he make every effort to bring about that happy result?

But how many people there are, marked out from their fellow beings by mental deformities as ugly and as evident as any physical malformations, who do not make the slightest effort to become normal, but even deliberately feed and aggravate their deformities!

And yet the physical deformity seldom seriously adduces more than one life, while the mental deformity almost always hinders the happiness, not only of the one who is afflicted with it, but of all who have to live with him.

I am thinking of a woman who has a hideously overgrown bump of caution. She was born with it, just as if she had been born with six fingers on one hand or any physical deformity. But, whereas, if she had the physical deformity, she would willingly undergo the most painful operation, or give over her hand to be rid of it, I don't think she has ever made the slightest attempt to reduce her mental deformity. And far from being such a comparatively unimportant thing as a superfluous finger, this malformation continually interferes with the happiness and ease and comfort of her own life, and of her whole family. It has spoiled innumerable pleasure excursions by the obstacles and precautions with which it strews the path of every plan. It has kept her husband from many profitable business ventures. It has denied her one half the most pleasurable of boyhood during his minority, and caused perpetual discord in the family as soon as he was old enough to defy this unjust and galling parental restraint.

She knows that her point of view is abnormal, just as she would know that to have six fingers when other people have five, is not normal. And yet she feels no compulsion to be like other people. On the contrary, she apparently thinks the rest of the world is wrong and spends her life in a peace-destroying effort to force her standards on all with whom she comes in contact.

Now there is no doubt that if she had admitted in her youth that this overdeveloped bump of caution was a deformity, and had deliberately tried to conquer it, she could have at least gotten it under control. Instead she has never put up the slightest fight against it, and this hideous, happiness-spoiling mental deformity has increased steadily, every year of her life spoiling more happiness and making more trouble.

A great many of us—I might also say the majority—are born with some tendency far in excess of what it should be. It may be love of admiration, it may be sensitiveness, it may be caution, it may be timidity, it may be an inborn, but in itself the possibility of spoiling infinite happiness—our own and others'.

Now if parents would only look at such an excess as an actual deformity, to overcome which no sacrifice is too great, and would teach their children as soon as they are old enough, to feel the same, how much unhappiness the world might be saved.

All the year round there were always some members of the duchess' family staying at Montague House, and throughout the seasons, she had her usual round of balls, dinners, garden parties, and musicales. But it was only her personal friends who could boast of being acquainted with the interior. Neither she nor her husband was ever willing to lead the house to friends and acquaintances, but she was ever permitted to "bring people on" to her dances and she absolutely declined to have any of her relatives or friends already on her visiting list; and that this list did not easily expand was due to the fact that she herself never accepted invitations on the part of hostesses with whom she herself was not personally acquainted.

There was no arrogance, no haughtiness, in all this, but merely a wish to restrict her guests to people who were already her friends, and with whom she could be perfectly at ease and with whom she was able to give her full measure of kindness, respect and her charm of manner.

One feature of Montague House that I always recall, amongst the wonderful art treasures, the exquisite miniatures, the Venetian glass, and the Sevres china, was a unique crystal bird, all studded with diamonds, and her charm of manner.

The duchess was three times mistress of the robes to Queen Victoria, who had known her from childhood, occupied the same office throughout the reign of Edward VII, with regard to a diamond necklace, and remained at the head of the latter's household in her widowhood. Indeed, she was the only woman in Great Britain who held an official decoration and as a badge of office on state occasions, the portrait, set in diamonds, of Queen Victoria and Queen Alexandra.

IN DREAD OF CROUP

The inexperienced mother is always in dread of croup. There is seldom any warning unless the child awakens at midnight with the hard, metallic cough and gasps frantically for breath.

There is no time to wait for a doctor, no time to go to the drug store, even; relief must be obtained at once. If you are not so fortunate as to have Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house, cause the child to vomit with a spoonful of warm water or by tickling the throat with the finger.

Then get Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine so as to prevent the more serious attack which usually comes the second night. This treatment is wonderfully effective for croup, bronchitis and colds in the throat or chest. Mothers who make a practice of always keeping it in the house find that they can depend on it in case of emergency.

Free Trip to New York

Consider that you now use or should use a tooth paste. Consider that there is no better one on the market than Dr. Maher's Ribbon Tooth Paste.

Consider that in addition to getting your money's worth you likewise get a chance for the above trip.

Try our paste next time you need one. It will be of reciprocal advantage to yourself, your druggist and to us.

For general conditions of the mouth or for a soothing and healing remedy after the extracting of a tooth use "Dr. Maher's Mouth Wash." Handily put up in diamond shaped bottles. A free ticket for trip with this also.

DOLLAR GAS DEMONSTRATION

The tremendous possibilities of one dollar gas as a culinary fuel in the saving of labor and expense, forms the subject of this afternoon's free cooking demonstration, which W. J. Thompson, of London, Ontario, who is an expert in the use of gas as a domestic fuel, is conducting at the show-rooms of the St. John Railway Company.

Twice a week—Tuesday and Friday, during the next fortnight, a special feature will be the cooking, by Vincent the Caterer, of the regular daily meals, using one dollar gas as fuel.

Probably the most interesting part of this afternoon's programme is the cooking of two meals and most of a third one, beside bread and pastry baking at the same time with the same fuel, and, at an insignificant cost for gas, beside a very great saving in time and labor.

While Mr. Thompson, in the city he will be at the St. John Railway Company's show-rooms every morning from ten to twelve and each afternoon from three until five o'clock.

inick Hayes, Dennis Burke and Frank B. D. Hopkins.

After going over the jail the grand jury found that conditions warranted their approval of a former report presented by the recommendations contained therein.

These had to do with the matter of ventilation, which they found decidedly poor, with the water supply, sleeping accommodations, and the making of some repairs about the building.

Judgment in Cases of Interest

His Honor Justice McKenna in Chambers this morning delivered several judgments.

In the case of The King vs. McIntyre, His Honor set aside the conviction as being contrary to the statute. McIntyre was convicted for setting a fire to timber, which caused a loss something over $3,000. Dr. L. A. Curry appeared for the defendant and Ralph St. John Freeze for the prosecution.

In the case of the King vs. McIntyre, His Honor sustained the judgment of Magistrate Kaye. Mr. McIntyre was convicted of sending liquor for sale into Westmorland, a Scott Act county, and was fined $50 and costs by Magistrate Kaye of Moncton. A. A. Wilson, K. C., appeared for the prosecution; H. A. Powell and H. O. McInerney for Mr. McIntyre.

In the Ferguson case His Honor delivered judgment for the plaintiff, one defendant to pay $90 and the other $20; the costs to be divided equally between them.

"NEW BRUNSWICK'S GREATEST DEPARTMENTAL DRUG STORE"

TO COMMENCE WEDNESDAY MORNING WASSON'S GREAT 1c. SALE FOR MARCH

Introducing the Most Remarkable Values Ever Offered in St. John

The whole town knows that our previous one cent sale was a wonderful success. So brisk a demand was created for the rare bargains offered that frequently it was necessary to close the doors until shoppers already inside were served. The present sale will present still greater opportunities to save money. Wasson's is the store that points the way to make your dollars do double duty and this sale will emphasize more strongly the fact that high prices have no foothold here.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 26, 1912.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 22-24 temporary street every evening (Sundays excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

OFF TO A GOOD START
The welcome news has been received that the contract for the Courtenay Bay works has at last been signed, and that arrangements will at once be made to begin work. It is stated that Mr. Norton Griffiths, M. P., will himself be here this week, and he will be given a very cordial reception.

St. John is now fairly squared away for a great forward movement. In addition to the public works at East and West St. John, and the new army and post office, there will be new industries established and existing ones enlarged, and activity in the building of new houses made necessary to accommodate an increasing population.

IMPROVED FARMING
The Times has dwelt more than once upon the importance of taking agricultural education to the man on the farm. The agricultural colleges do a splendid work, but they are only attended by those who can afford it, and the number in attendance, in proportion to the number of young men engaged in farm work, is pitifully small.

A bill now before the United States Congress which provides for this work. It proposes that Congress give to each state $6,000, and increase the amount gradually for ten years, each state to appropriate an amount equal to that given by Congress. Under this arrangement a skilled farmer would be appointed to each agricultural county of the state "to bring to the individual farmer the results of the most advanced and scientific research and experiment, to be applicable to, and demonstrated by the individual in his own home and on his own farm."

New Process Coffee
Easy To Make
Don't bother again with any coffee that must be "settled." The new process by which RED ROSE COFFEE is prepared crushes the fragrant, fresh-roasted bean into even, little grains....removes all dust and the yellow chaff that makes other coffees bitter.....so that in a few minutes the boiling water extracts this coffee's full, rich flavor.....and it pours out bright, clear—without being "settled"—nice to see and fine to drink.

Report of the Committee of Anti-Tuberculosis Association on Proposed Site for Local Hospital

The following is the report of the committee of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association on the site of the proposed hospital at St. John, N. B.

The land has been purchased, and the deeds are now on record. At present there is an old house on the property, and the land has been used for grazing purposes.

Among the main requirements for a hospital of this kind are accessibility and convenience for good supply and sewerage.

It is also of the greatest importance, for obvious reasons, that the hospital be placed within easy reach of the clergy and the medical profession.

THE NEW MARINE DEPOT

At the special meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon a committee was elected to act in the matter of granting the marine and fisheries department power to extend its wharves so as to have 20 feet of water at low tide at the property lately acquired by the department on the west side of the harbor opposite Navy Island.

A communication in reference to a company which is seeking incorporation for running a motor bus line to Millville was read, and the general opinion seemed to be that the company should be subject to any by-laws which might be made by the city.

When the committee was resolved into a meeting of the common council, a committee, made up of Aldermen Scully, Wilson and McLeod, with the recorder, the city engineer and the chairman of the board of public works, was given power to act in connection with the request of the Marine and Fisheries department.

HON. C. W. ROBINSON IN TOWN

Hon. C. W. Robinson, ex-premier of the province, passed through the city yesterday en route to resume his legislative duties at Fredericton, and to a Telegraph reporter he expressed some interesting views concerning the forward movement in the east. He spoke particularly of the natural gas development in Albert county and predicted that the new company would soon extend its lines to Hillsboro, Amherst and possibly St. John.

Mr. Robinson also announced his own retirement from provincial politics with the dissolution of the present house, and had something to say with reference to the extravagance displayed by the present government. He said that it would be necessary to further increase the revenue of the province in order to make both ends meet, and that the salvation of the east, even admitting the present forward movement, depended greatly only upon the opening up of the large markets of the United States to the maritime province farmers. He thought the Liberal prospects in this province were very bright.

PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT DISCOUNTING THE FUTURE

Hon. Mr. Burchill Sets Forth Their Position—Crown Lands Being Depleted—Business of Yesterday's Session

Fredericton, N. B., March 25.—There were some new features of interest in the budget debate, which was resumed this evening. Notable among them were remarks by Hon. John P. Burchill upon the statements of Provincial Secretary McLeod in regard to there being no increase cut on the crown lands, while the stumpage collections were largely in excess of what they had been.

In emphatic terms Mr. Burchill took opposite ground, proving conclusively that the increased revenue was due to increased crown lands cut, and also that the cut was largely in excess of the natural growth.

The trans-Atlantic argument made by Hon. Mr. McLeod was shown to be utterly false and misleading. In 1911, Mr. Burchill said, stumpage was collected upon 310,000,000 feet and 285,000,000 feet were shipped across the water but to this amount there should have been added 17,000,000; United States markets from the same port, 5,000,000; destination shipments, 2,000,000; roused wood not shipped at Chatham, 2,000,000; lumber on wharves at the same port, 400,000, as well as roused pulp shipments from Dalhousie and Bathurst and the Dominion pulp mills of which he did not have figures.

But he summed up that from what places had mentioned and the trans-Atlantic shipments there were 400,000,000 feet, and in addition to those there was no doubt a proportionate increase on every year. He thought the Liberal prospects in this province were very bright.

He made the important statement that the cut upon granted lands at the head waters of the Miramichi which had been large years ago, had now practically ceased.

In other respects his speech was a kind of warning to the government that they were going too fast, that the limited resources of the province would not stand the strain, that they were discounting the future and that deficits were due to be paid.

Neither did he fail to point out that the old government had doubtless done the best they could with a limited income and that much more would be expected of this administration with so much more money to spend.

Mr. Munro's measured plaudits for the government and its acts, wound up with a kick at the favorite political football, the Valley Railway. He was unwilling to accord sincerity of purpose to Mr. Upham in his support of the railway bill, and his statements drew a sharp and flat contradiction across the floor from the active Liberal M. P. from Carleton county, Mr. Hatheway was addressing the house at the hour of adjournment.

Hon. Mr. McLeod presented a petition from the St. John & Quebec Railway in favor of a bill to incorporate the St. John & Quebec Railway Company.

Mr. Hatheway presented a petition in favor of a bill to incorporate the St. John Arts Club.

Hon. Mr. Morrissey introduced a bill to amend the motor vehicle law.

The house went into committee with Mr. Upham in the chair and agreed to a bill relating to the Church of England in New Brunswick.

The committee also considered a bill to enable the municipality of Northumberland to issue debentures for the erection of a court house.

The bill was agreed to as amended.

Mr. Munro in the chair and took up consideration of a bill to fix a valuation on T. S. Summa & Co. of Carleton county.

The bill was agreed to with amendments also a bill to fix a valuation on the Wilson Bros. Company of Carleton county.

Mr. Lablolla gave notice of enquiry as to patronage in Restigouche county.

The House went into committee with Mr. Sproul in the chair, and took up consideration of a bill to amend the workmen's compensation bill.

Hon. Mr. Maxwell said the bill increased compensation to be paid for a workman's life from $20 to $25,000, and was introduced as a result of strong representations which had been made by the Trades and Labor Council of St. John and other bodies.

The bill was agreed to.

The house took recess at 6 o'clock.

DID NOT KNOW THAT HER HUSBAND WAS MARRIED BEFORE

Winthrop Woman Wants to Protect Her Property Holdings Against His Daughter

Boston, March 25.—For thirteen years Mrs. Caroline A. Jovel, of Winthrop, lived with her husband, Willard Henri Jovel, without knowing that he had a daughter living or had been married before, under a different name.

This fact appears in a bill she filed in the Supreme Court here against her step-daughter, Mrs. Pearl B. Green, asking for a decree to the effect that she was and still is the owner of an estate in Winthrop which, she says, she bought.

She alleges that her husband acted as her agent in the purchase and without her knowledge caused the deed to be made out in his own name. She wants the court to find that there was a resulting trust in her favor since she paid the purchase price of $2,250. The property is subject to a mortgage of $820.

She was married on Feb. 23, 1897, and lived with her husband to June 23, 1910. Some time after his death she learned that he had been married and divorced before his marriage to her, and had a daughter by that first marriage, who is the defendant.

She found out that he had been known as William H. Burchmore, and Willard H. Burchmore, and was married previously under the name of Burchmore, she is administratrix of his estate, which she asserts is insolvent.

If the real estate was his property, then she would be entitled to a third of it, and his daughter to two-thirds. She

LOST CONTROL OF HIS TEMPER

Once there was a man whose liver was not working right. When dressing in the morning he had trouble with his collar. Then he lost the collar button. Then he said something.

By the time he got to breakfast he was so irritated that he had no appetite and quarrelled with his wife. He went to the office with a headache and when finally some important business to transact he bungled it.

When you find yourself easily irritated and lose control of yourself and your temper, look to the condition of the liver, and take one of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills at bed-time.

The dark-brown taste will not bother you in the morning, the tongue will clear up, digestion will improve and you will not have the tired, worn-out feelings which accompany a sluggish condition of the liver.

RECENT DEATHS

Many friends in the city will sympathize with George H. Kinball, in the death of his wife, who passed away yesterday. She had been ill only two weeks, and besides her husband, she leaves three children, the youngest an infant, her mother, five sisters and four brothers. She was a daughter of the late William A. Reed, and was only twenty-nine years of age. The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, from her late home, 61 Harrison street.

Mrs. Agnes Horton, wife of A. F. Horton, assistant car foreman of the C. P. R., died at her home in MeAdam on March 20. She leaves her husband, three sons and five daughters.

The death of Mrs. Magee, wife of Mayor C. Hazen Magee of St. George, occurred at her home there on Sunday. She had been in poor health for about three weeks. She was thirty-six years of age and is survived by her husband, three daughters, one son, her mother, three sisters and two brothers.

The death of Mrs. Harriet Rebecca Curran, widow of Thomas J. Curran, occurred at her home in Windsor, N. S., on Saturday last. She was more than ninety years of age and is survived by two sons and one daughter. Norton and William Smith of this city are nephews and Miss Jessie Smith, also of this city, is a niece.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRE

The three-masted schooner James B. Jordan, bound from Philadelphia for Surinam, Dutch Guiana, has been practically given up as lost, with the crew of six men. On Dec. 5 the Jordan, laden with about 1,000 tons of coal, left Philadelphia, she put into Hampton Roads, and while anchored, there on Dec. 16 she was run into by a car-float and had to be towed to Norfolk for repairs. On Jan. 5 she left Norfolk. Ordinarily the trip to Surinam occupies between twenty-five and thirty days. Capt. George I. Holden, of Deer Isle, Me., was in command. William Coombs of Stoughton, Me., was the mate, and Timothy C. Veno of Malone Bay, N. S., cook. The names of the other members of the crew are not known. The James B. Jordan was built at Thomaston in 1884, and hailed from Jonesport, her managing owner being O. B. Pankling. She was valued at about $12,000, and was partially insured in Boston.

Hon. Mr. Deberry's bill to amend the criminal code in respect to the incorporation of racing associations, was put through the House after an amendment proposed by Hon. Dr. Pugsley to make the bill retroactive to cover the two new racing associations incorporated last week, was voted down on a straight party division in the House of Commons in Ottawa yesterday.

Toronto, March 25.—A large portion of the King street east street car barns, between St. Lawrence street and the Don River, with 270 street cars and several adjacent buildings, was wiped out this afternoon by a fire which started about 2:30 p. m., causing a loss estimated at between $500,000 and $600,000.

From nine to sixty-three years was the sentence imposed yesterday in Paterson, N. J., by Judge Scott, upon a fifteen year old boy, Albert Vranich, convicted on nine charges of burglary.

Paris has been terrorized by the depredations of a band of outlaws. Yesterday they stole an automobile and motored from a suburb to Chantilly, a few miles distant from the city, and there shot and killed a bank cashier and looted the bank. The other employees of the bank narrowly escaped being killed.

CHILDREN INJURED

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They may cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying.

I personally recommend and guarantee Rexall's Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy, which, in my opinion, is the only one that can be given with confidence and without any danger of causing constipation and associated bowel troubles, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall's Orderlies commonly completely relieve constipation, except of course when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition. Three sizes of packages, 10 cents, 25 cents, and 50 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in St. John only at my store—The Local Store, Watson—109 King street.

Object to Nude Statue

A petition circulated by Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, a leader of Mason, Ga., society, and signed by nearly 1,000 women, has been presented to the mayor and council, in protest against the statue of a girl in the fountain in front of the City hall, in Poplar street.

The women declare that the statue is "immoral, immoral and shocking," and that it should be suppressed. They do not like the classical cut of her vestments, which consist of a smile and a dimple. And they have not hesitated to say what they think in vigorous English. The cause of complaint seems to be that the figure occupies a greensward adjoining that upon which the monument to the women of the south was recently erected.

A FINE CONCERT.

A very enjoyable concert was given at the Ivory Day Club last evening, and there was a fairly large attendance. The entertainment began with a chorus by the club's minstrel, staging behind the curtain. Then followed an instrumental duet by Messrs. Fryce; character song and monologue, Thomas Stack; stop-dancing, C. McFadden; vocal solo, H. Dykeman; comic song, W. McCluskey; solo, E. A. Belding; mandolin solo, Mr. Fryce; comic song, G. Duplessis; monologue and solo, Harry Martin; harmonica solo, James Carson. The performance closed with a minstrel act, with solos by E. A. Belding and Mr. Kirby, and jokes and songs by the end men, Messrs. Stack and McCluskey.

DON'T BE UNREASONABLE

If You Neglect the Care of The Scalp You Should Not Expect Beautiful Hair

The hair is more exposed and hence more liable to accumulate dust and dirt than any other portion of the body. In spite of this the hair receives, as a rule, the least attention and no real effort is made to keep it healthy.

If the dandruff germ is allowed to work unmolested and the scalp becomes crusted with dirt accumulations, one may expect the hair to die and fall out. There is no cause for surprise in this phenomenon; it is natural and happens in every instance where the care of the hair and scalp is overlooked.

The one sure remedy which prevents the loss of hair and permits a healthy luxuriant growth is found in Newbros' Herpicide.

The dandruff germ cannot live on a head to which Herpicide is regularly applied. The germ dies. The hair ceases to fall. The terrible itching stops almost instantly. That is what Newbros' Herpicide does. One dollar size bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Send ten cents in stamps for booklet and sample to The Herpicide Co., Dept. B., Detroit, Mich.

Norfolk, Double-breasted, Sailor and Russian Suits fill the cases with the spirit of youth.
