Smoking-carriages for ladies are now
run on Russian railways.

A young soldier in California deserted from the United States army to join the Salvation Army.

ERCCA, June 27.—Nine hundred and ninety-nine deaths from cholera occurred here yesterday.

Dr. Nansen, the Arctic explorer, sailed with his North Pole expedition from Christiana last Saturday.

AUBURN, N. Y., June 26.—William Fitzhum was electrocuted here to-day in prison at 22.44 p. m.

Sir Charles Russell has been summoned suddenly to return to Paris, to attend the sittings of the Tribunal of Arbitration.

Two travelling Italian musicians were arrested at Winnipeg charged with the murder of their former companion, whose body was found horribly mutilated near Grenfell.

A despatch from Singapore says the natives in the southern part of Annam have risen against the French, and reinforcements have been sent to the French troops in that region.

St. Catherine got the tail end of a cyclone last night. Advice from Beausville and vicinity state that the rain and hail descended with terrific force and did some damage to the crops.

The Tattersalls sold at Newmarket this week the horses of the late "Squire Abington,"
"Medley," a three-year-old bay colt, by "St.
Gatien," out of "Bobby," was bought for an American for $15,225.

In fifty years the British navy has lost seventy vessels at sea. Eight of them were never heard from, six were abandoned in Arctic research, three have been burnt, and three captured at sea.

For the first time in the history of Methodism on this continent, so far as known, a woman has been admitted to membership in Conference. The Nova Scotia conference, in session at Canoe, has decided that Mary Dauphins has a legal right to sit on a perfect equality with the male members in that body, and she will take her seat.

The total debt of Great Britain, handled by the Bank of England, amounts to $2,470,702,500. This enormous sum is only £14,000,000 more than the gross annual value of production and profits assessed to income tax, and 204-million less than the value of British exports.

ANNIE WAGNER CHARGED WITH FIVE MURDERS.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 27.—The examining trial of Annie Wagner, the German servant girl charged with the murder of five members of the family of Charles Koesters, has attracted much attention. The effort of the State was directed to showing a motive for the crime, and Charles Koesters, whose father, mother, wife and two children were murdered, told his story without interruption by the attorneys, but at times broke down and sobbed like a child, many of the women present being also affected to tears. He said that after the death of his wife he brought his father and mother to live with him. Annie and his mother were not friendly, and the latter often complained that Annie "acted like a boss." One day he remarked that his little girl would eventually take the place of her dead mother in the household, and this seemed to anger Annie, who replied that one could not depend upon girls born in this country. One week later the child sickened and died. He also described the deaths of his other child and his father and mother in the same way. The defense offered no evidence, and the court held the defendant to bail.

IS THIS "JACK THE RIPPER" AGAIN?

LONDON, June 26.—The four crimes of "Jack the Ripper" were again called to mind last night by a murder that was committed in Rotherhithe, a suburb a short distance to the southeast of London. The body of a woman was found with the throat cut, as was the case in all the murders committed by the "Jack the Ripper." Persons in the streets at the late hour at which the murder was done state that they heard a woman scream two or three times. They ran in the direction from which the sounds came and found the woman lying on the pavement with the blood streaming from an awful gash in her throat. She was unconscious when found and died a few minutes afterward. The police were promptly on the scene, and think the crime was due to jealousy or a drunken quarrel between the woman and some man whose acquaintance she had made on the streets.

ELDER SAM'S OLDEST MAN.

CAIRO, Ill., June 27.—John McMullen, Bardwell, Ky., about twelve miles from this city, claims the distinction of being the oldest man in the United States. He was born near Lynchburg, Va., in October, 1776, and is therefore nearly 107 years old. He recalls General Washington, having when a young man walked thirty miles to Lynchburg to see him.
He has reared a family of twenty children, only three of whom are now living, the youngest having reached the advanced age of 65 years. The old gentleman is still able to walk, with the aid of crutches and sees and hears remarkably well for one of his great age.

COLLIDED WHILE CHANGING COLUMNS.

HIS DISSATISFACTION, CONTENDING THAT THE

REPEATED, IT WOULD BE IRKSOME IN BATTLE, WHEN

One newspaper has started the theory that the disaster was due to the attraction by the electricity used on both vessels for lighting purposes, but discreetly refrains from further explanation respecting this unique suggestion.

The Admiralty expect to hold a court martial at Malta the middle of next month.

A dramatic incident occurred at Malta. The warship "Colossus" which

PARTED FROM THE FLEET

just before the disaster, was entering the harbor, with the crowd in the best of spirits and singing to the band, which was playing "Home Sweet Home." When the officers were advised of the disaster the band abruptly stopped playing, the flags were lowered to half-mast, and gloom fell upon all on board, many of whom had belonged to the "Victoria" and had been transferred to the "Colossus," thus losing many personal claims.

Many sermons were preached last Sunday concerning the sinking of the "Victoria." In St. Paul's Cathedral, Westminster Abbey and many other churches the Dead March was played. Throughout Great Britain special references to the loss of the "Victoria" were made in the church services.

The Times publishes the following despatch from Tripoli: The collision between the "Victoria" and "Camperdown" occurred at 2.41 in the afternoon. The sea was perfectly calm and the evolution of changing line was being performed at the time. Many men were killed.

NARROWLY ESCAPED DEATH.

He was rescued only by the presence of mind shown by his comrade, who cut his diving dress. The comrade was drowned. Services for the dead were held. Seventeen minute guns were fired by the entire fleet.

It is said that the flag officer regarded as most likely to succeed the late Sir George Tryon in commanding the North American station.

Lady Tryon has received the following telegram from the German Emperor, which reached her through the German Ambassador here:

"As an ardent admirer and friend of Sir George I hasten to express the warmest and most heartfelt sympathy in the terrible loss which has befallen you. England has lost one of her noblest sons. My navy feels and deplores with me the untimely end of such a brilliant life. We mourn him as if he were one of ours. May God comfort you!"

The widows of married seamen and mothers of unmarried seamen who perished will, it is expected, receive a full year's pay, the widows of officers will receive an annual pension and children of the higher grades of officers allowances. A patriotic fund will supplement the payment of seamen's widows. As to the seamen's relatives, they are in all probability to be chiefly found at Portsmouth or Chatham.

Rear-Admiral Albert H. Markam, who was second in command to Vice-Admiral Sir George Tryon at the time of the accident off Tripoli, that caused the loss of the "Victoria," will be tried by a court-martial that will sit at Portsmouth. This court-martial will be presided over by the Admiral, the Earl of Clanwilliam, commander-in-chief at Portsmouth, whose son, Lord Gifford, was flag Lieutenant of the "Victoria," Rear Admiral Markham's flagship is the "Trafalgar," but advice received here show that his flag had been transferred to the "Camperdown," and that he was in charge of the manoeuvres of the fleet at the time the collision occurred.

H. O. Lanyon, of Belfast, Ireland, a guest at the United States Hotel at Saratoga, received a cable despatch stating that his son, Midshipman Lanyon, was among the lost on the British man-of-war Victoria, which was sunk by the iron-clad Camperdown.

The following cablegram was sent from Washington to the United States Ambassador in London:

Convey to Her Majesty expression of the heartfelt sorrow of the President and people of the United States by reason of the appalling catastrophe to the Victoria.

THE PILGRIMS AT MECCA

At Mecca this season of the year usually suffered heavily from Asiatic cholera, from which this city is seldom free. Mecca is the seat of the Mohammedan religion and the most celebrated city in Arabia. In the mosque the Kaaba (house of God) the great mosque. The city is annually filled at the time of the Haj or pilgrimage when apartment in almost every house are hired to strangers, many of whom are filthy and ragged, and this state of affairs naturally renders the city at this time very unhealthy. During the pilgrimages the city is visited by from 100,000 to 200,000 strangers.

TERRORE POWER CO.

Miss Kilby a Montreal Actress Claims Damages.

Mr. Tyrone Power a dramatic agent and manager who lately visited this city, had a suit entered against him by Miss Marion Kilby of Montreal who had been engaged as a member of his company. Miss Kilby has apparently been very badly treated by Mr. Power, who, it is said, broke his contract with her without even giving a reason. The story of Miss Kilby, who by the way has retained the case, is to the effect that early in April she was engaged by Mr. Power for a Canadian summer season of comedy. Miss Kilby at once made preparations to fill her engagements, even to the ordering of the necessary costumes. Shortly after the engagement was made, however Miss Kilby was informed privately that Mr. Power had said that she was not to be a member of his company. She wrote to Mr. Power, who did not even show her the courtesy of an answer, and the company took the road without Miss Kilby as a member. Miss Kilby claims damages on account both of the inconvenience and actual financial loss in the ordering of the costumes. The company, with Mr. Tyrone Power appears in Montreal next week. Miss Kilby is very well known in Montreal, her parents residing there. It is only lately that she foretook the amateur for the professional ranks, but in her short career has shown considerable ability. She has visited Montreal twice in the troupe of Miss Rosina Vokes, and is already very favorably known in dramatic circles in the United States.

COLLAPSE OF A HOTEL.

PORT SCOTT, Kan., June 28.—The Tremont House, a four-story brick building, collapsed yesterday morning, burying about seventy-five persons. A young woman, Effie Caldwell, was the only one seriously injured. The building split in the middle. The east side fell out from under the mansard roof, which still hangs in mid air. The west half is unsafe. A fourth story mansard roof had just been added and it is supposed the additional weight was too heavy for the side wall and foundation.

FATAL EXPLOSION OF AN IRON MOUND.

BERLIN, June 27.—At terrible and fatal accident occurred yesterday in Rohrig's iron works at Magdeburg, Saxony.

The workmen were engaged in making a heavy casting and were pouring the molten metal into the mould. Without a moment's warning there occurred a terrific explosion, the liquid iron flying in every direction and covering the workmen. Six men were killed outright, while seven others were so terribly burned that their recovery is despaired of.

It is believed that the sand in the mould was damp and that this caused the explosion.

FINE FOR NON-REGISTRATION.

TORONTO, June 27.—James R. Allen, representing the Supreme Lodge of the Sixty-ninth Degree, was brought before the Police Magistrate, under the Ontario Insurance Corporation Act of 1892, charged with collecting moneys on behalf of the said League and transmitting the same to the United States, such League not being duly and legally registered according to law. He was fined $20 and costs or thirty days' imprisonment. This is the first conviction under the act, which has been in force since last December.

THE PROVINCIAL INSTITUTE.

The Provincial Teachers' Institute which has been in session in Fredericton for the past three days represents one of the most important, if not the most important of all the classes of people in New Brunswick outside of their numbers and intelligence. The teachers of the province as a body have a very direct and powerful influence over the youth of the country during the formative period of their growth, when they are most susceptible to lasting impressions; and their calling is especially honorable, and important because this controlling influence is exercised most largely over the mind and characters of the young. For this reason, if for no other, the annual deliberations of so large a body of very capable and intelligent teachers as we fortunately possess in New Brunswick, should command the attention and stimulate the interest of the fathers and mothers who have sons and daughters under training in the public schools of the province. But there is further reason why so much interest should attach to this meeting. The government of the province has lately, and none too soon, formally recognized the important place which the Provincial Institute occupies in the educational system of New Brunswick, of giving them the right to elect one representative to the senate or governing body of the University; thus bringing the educational of the province into closer touch with one of its more active and influential subordiates. Last year Mr. W. S. Carvell was elected by a large majority to this position, and Mr. Jas. M. Machum has been elected. We are in hopes that in the near future the relations thus established between the university and the provincial teachers may be greatly strengthened. From such a connexion the university, which is apparently not gaining ground as fast as her admirers wish, would reap nothing but good results. Once get the large body of teachers to see that they are identified with the welfare and progress of the U. N. B. and an increase in attendance is almost sure to follow.

THE VICTORIA DISASTER.

The collision of the Camperdown and Victoria off Tripoli last week is the most terrible naval disaster in point of number of lives lost that has occurred in a time of peace since the foundering of the Royal George off Spithead.

Fifteen minutes after the Camperdown's ram entered her side the Victoria keeled over and plunged to the bottom in 60 fathoms of water, carrying down with her, Vice Admiral Sir George Tyrone and 463 officers and men. In England the receipt of this terrible news caused universal sorrow and suspended all social events. From the Queen down to the meanest subject, all joined in the national grief over the death of so many brave men.

The Victoria was a twin screw single turret battle ship of the first-class, launched in 1887, her dimensions were: length, 340 feet; breadth, 70 feet; draught of water, 27 ft. 3 ins; displacement, 10,470 tons; indicated horse power, 12,000; speed, 17 knots. She was protected by armour 16 and 18 inches thick and carried two 11 ton guns in a revolving turret, armoured to the extent of 18 inches. In addition to these guns she was armed with one 30-ton gun, firing stern or on either side; 12 5-ton guns; twelve 6-pounder and nine 3-pounder quick firers, a considerable number of machine guns, and 9 torpedo dischargers.

ECHOES OF THE CONVENTION.

Newspapers are jubilant, and confidently anticipate a change in government. At a meeting of the Maritime Province delegates held at Ottawa before the close of the convention, it was decided to thoroughly organize the provinces of the sea, and with this end in view a meeting was appointed to be held in Moncton some time in the early fall, at which organization could be finally completed. It is the intention of the leaders to raise a fund necessary for the purpose and to send a lecturer through the maritime provinces continuously until the coming political contest.

These measures indicate a stirring activity, and cannot fail to increase the interest and belief in the liberal cause throughout this section of the Dominion; and similar measures are being adopted all over Canada; the liberal party will go into the struggle better organized and prepared than ever before.

THE GIBSON FIRE.

Although interest in the Gibson fire sufferers has apparently subsided, there is still quiet and continuous work being done on their behalf throughout the city. The committees appointed for that work have already obtained very generous subscriptions. Clothing and food has been liberally contributed by people of Fredericton, St. John and other cities, and the destitute are thus enabled to feed and clothe themselves. Over in Gibson, the work of rebuilding is going steadily forward, and, although many will not remain in their old home, still it appears that a very respectable number will immediately replace their ruined dwellings by others of better and more handsome design.

THE RIGHT POLICY.

Tariff for the revenue only is the policy of Great Britain, the wealthiest, most civilized and the greatest country in the world. It is the policy of the United States, whose people rank second to Great Britain in wealth, civilization, power and greatness. If Canada would only adopt the same sensible policy, she would very soon find herself making similar great gains in wealth, and in all the powerful and civilizing attributes which the magnetism and influence of wealth attracts and creates.

Why some People Like the First.

Because it's one holiday more a year anyhow.
Because.
Because.
Because.
Because it gives them a chance to go ashore and lie about it.
Because the dear girls at home put extras on the dinner table.
Because their love of noise is second only to their love of peanuts.
Because the troublesome small boys have a chance to kill themselves.
Because they may show off the latest thing in tennis blazers and yachting suits.
Because it gives them a whole day for love-making and love's ineffable ineffableness.
Because roasting peanuts in a bonfire is a pleasure not experienced every day in the year.
Because they may make the same patriotic speeches they made last year and the year before.
Because one may go out into a vacant lot.

Once a year it comes
With its flags and drums,
With its cannon loud,
With its rockets high
And their starry crowd
Filling all the sky.
Music in the air,
Powder everywhere,
Crackers making noise,
Snapping at your feet,
For the happy boys
All along the street.
Then, hurrah! I say.
Our natal day
Comes but once a year,
With its noise and smoke.
Let us hold it dear,
Big and little folk.
Let us take our part
With a loyal heart,
Be our flags unfurled,
Little maid and man,
Proudest in the world?
I feel Canadian!

Moonlight on the River.
The Committee composed of the board of school trustees and the city teachers who were in charge of the moonlight excursion tendered the teachers attending the institute, have every reason to congratulate themselves upon the complete success of the affair. The Weston left her wharf at eight o'clock with about five hundred excursionists on board. The night was beautiful. The Fredericton Brass Band, which accompanied the excursion, furnished excellent music for dancing their time being perfect, eliciting applause and encores from the dancers. The excursion returned to the city at midnight, all expressing themselves as delighted with the sail.

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

"Gentlemen: Fifteen years ago I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which was followed by eczema or salt rheum, breaking out on my right leg. The humor spread all over my legs, back and arms.

A Foul Mass of Sores, swollen and itching terribly, causing intense pain if the skin was broken by scratching, and discharging constantly. It is impossible to describe my suffering in those years of agony and torture. I spent

Thousands of Dollars in futile efforts to get well, and was discouraged and ready to die. At this time I was unable to lie down in bed, had to sit up all the time, and was unable to walk without crutches. I had to hold my arms away from my body, and had to have my arms, back and legs bandaged by my faithful wife twice a day. Finally a friend, who was visiting at our house, urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began by taking half a teaspoonful. My

Stomach Was All Out of Order
But the medicine soon corrected this, and in six weeks I could see a change in the condition of the humor which heavily covered my body. It was driven to the surface by the Sarsaparilla, the sores soon healed, and the scales fell off. I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man was I. I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven months, and a time, nearly two years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well.

The Delight
of myself and wife at my recovery it is impossible to tell. To all my business friends in Boston and over the country, I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla from personal experience. S. G. DERRY, 45 Bradford street, Providence, R. I.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

Hold Their Fourteenth Annual Meeting in the Normal School.

A Large Enrollment.

Addresses by the Governor, Mayor Beckwith, Chief Supt. Inch, Hon. A. B. Harrison and Others.

The fourteenth session of the Educational Institute opened at the Normal school, Wednesday at 2:30 p. m., Chief Supt., Inch in the chair.

The devotional exercises were conducted by the chief superintendent, after which he briefly addressed the teachers.

A nominating committee consisting of W. S. Carter, James Barry, Geo. J. Oulton, H. V. B. Bridges and W. T. Day was elected.

Vandinas, Harriet H. Richardson, Minnie Colpitts.

After enrollment the executive committee's report was read. The balance after the payment of all bills was $137.64.

The report of the committee on grading was read by Geo. A. Inch. The committee recommended that the duty of grading devolve upon the teachers of the several departments by supplying the principal with lists marked qualified and unqualified, as the merits of the pupils deserve. The pupils could then be examined by the teacher of the grade in advance; also that the test questions would be submitted to the principal, who would decide in case of difference.

The report of the committee on the higher grades was read by the chief superintendent for his decision. A motion could be made where possible to have the examination annually in the standards below the high school.

The report was discussed by Messrs. Montgomerie, Hay, Barry, McFarlane, Foster, Inch, March and the chief superintendent.

The secretary elected were James L. Palmer and Miss M. K. Tibbits.

The large hall was filled at the evening session. The following was the programme: Prayer, Canon Roberts; selection, F. O. M. W. orchestra; address of welcome, Mayor Beckwith, A. F. Randolph; piano solo, Miss Walker; address, Some Tendencies of Modern Education, Chief Superintendent Inch; solo, Miss Campbell; instrumental duet, Misses Babbitt and Bailey; address, His Honor the Lieut. Governor; solo, Miss Sharpe; address, Rev. Dr. Brecken; selection, orchestra; God Save the Queen.

Mayor Beckwith gave the teachers a hearty welcome to the city, and Hon. A. B. Harrison, chairman of the board of trustees, extended the greeting of the trustees, and both wished them every success in their deliberations and a pleasant sojourn in the city.

The chief superintendent read his paper. He said the statistics presented showed a remarkable contrast between use of steam forty years ago and its use to-day, as well as that of electricity and other powers, and was an evidence of this progressive age. The cause of education is undergoing wonderful changes. We are in an era, as well as science in a state of transition and of consequent unrest and must be careful in the adoption and adaptation of new methods. The world to-day is calling for practical knowledge, and to this end schools in many cities in the United States devote a reasonable proportion of their time to manual training. To place a liberal and practical education in the possession of every child without regard to class, creed or color ought to be the aim of all educationalists. The world looks for purity in the life of teachers as well as knowledge. Behind all the machinery and thought there is a power invisible which sees and knows every effort which the humblest of us may make.

Sir Leonard Tilley was greeted with applause on rising. He took occasion to thank the teachers for their assistance in carrying out the educational system of our province. The conduct of the teachers and their devotion to their work has been highly satisfactory to the board, and while religious instruction in our schools is impracticable, yet the consistent lives of the teachers preach daily sermons and leave their impressions upon them in the minds and hearts of the children, and will be felt in the future.

Rev. Dr. Brecken spoke of the nature of the teachers' work and the difficulties to be contended with. If our boys are to stay at home and develop our country, we must make patriotic Canadians of them. He commented upon the various phases of education and gave some very practical hints.

Dr. Harrison, chancellor of the university, in speaking of the tendencies of modern education, recited ten demands which suggested themselves to his mind. The demands for natural and experimental physics, laboratory and field work, and the use of mathematical instruments for belief in the efficiency of training, for the broad of classical culture instead of the stodge of grammatical drill, for the study of English literature, French and German, for the electric system of study, university extension, the admission of women to the university, the widening of the scope of practical knowledge and the recognition of its pre-eminence above intellectual power.

Prof. White rendered a violin solo very acceptably at the close of the addresses.

Thursday morning's session opened at 9 o'clock, Chief Supt. Inch presiding.

After roll-call and the reading of the minutes, the nominating committee submitted 22 names from which the following were elected members of the executive: Philip Cox, St. John, A. B. John March, St. John; G. J. Oulton, Dorchester; Lizzie Gilman, Woodstock; John B. Sutherland Milltown; W. H. Parlee, St. John; Mary K. Tibbits Gagetown; John Brittain, Fredericton; G. U. Hay, St. John; B. C. Foster, Fredericton.

Philip Cox, A. B., read a very able and instructive paper on the question: Do Existing Methods of Teaching, as Applied in Our Schools, Develop, as They Should, The Ability of the Pupils to Think.

He said our methods there should be free and natural, and that there should be no attempt made by the teacher to supersede natural methods. It should be the aim of the teacher to stimulate thought and speech by directing the pupil to investigate for himself and express the results carefully and correctly thus to observe and develop the power of the expression. He strongly deprecated cram, and was of the opinion that it did not matter much if the whole year's work was not completed if the pupil had been led to rely upon his own ability in his work.

Discussion was participated in by Chancellor of the university, Harrison, principal of the Normal School, Mullin, and Messrs. Foster, Montgomery, Hay, Creed, Palmer, Inch, all of whom spoke favorably of the most excellent paper and explicit manner in which the subject had been dealt with.

The afternoon session was opened at 2:30, Chief Supt. Inch presiding. After some changes to be made in the programme had been announced by the chief superintendent, Mr. J. T. Rogers' paper on "The necessity of unity in the teaching of arithmetic," was taken up and admirably discussed.

It was discussed by Messrs. Barry, Parlee, Meagher, Stothart, Mullin, and others.

Mr. Meagher, chief superintendent, presiding. J. B. Oakes, former inspector of schools in this province, now of Wolfville, N. S., being present was invited to the platform by Supt. Inch and briefly addressed the teachers assembled.

On motion of Inspector Carter the consideration of the subject of grading was postponed until a future session of the institute.

The following additional names were enrolled in the course of the day: Agnes Hamilton, Helen Dale, Elizabeth McNaughton, Margaret McNaughton, G. Hugh Harrison, Ida McAdam, Ida M. Dorcas, Sadie G. Hammond, Emily Estey, Gordon B. Knight, Henry Town, Lizzie J. Somerville, Amy C. Starkey, Grace Murphy, Wendell N. Goodwin, Bessie Burpee, Ida M. Lucy, Emma D. Gunter, Phillip Cox, Ina H. Semple, Sarah M. Millen, Louise C. Crown, Wm. H. Parlee, Chas. A. Sampson, Wm. McLean, Inspector Smith, George A. Inch, Herman C. Henderson, Annie S. James, Kate E. Hall, W. S. Carter, Barbara Thomas, M. Alice Smith, Lizzie McLean, Sophi M. Lamont, W. G. Chamberlain, Annie I. Scott, Hattie Rebecca Hazleton, Katherine A. McDonald, Grace A. Ingraham, Mary C. Monahan.

The fifth session opened yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. After the election of representatives to the senate of the U. N. B., the institute was divided into three sections as follows: Section A. Kindergarten and Primary. Papers—(1) "The place of the Kindergarten in education," by Mrs. Susan S. Harriman, of Halifax, N. S. (2) "Reading in the primary schools," by Miss Minnie C. Edgar. A discussion followed the reading of the papers.

Section B. Intermediate (1) "The necessity of unity in the teaching of arithmetic," by J. F. Rogers. (2) "Suggestions on teaching Composition and Grammar," by N. W. Brown, A. B. Both these subjects were handled in an able manner. An interesting discussion followed.

Section C. Superior and Grammar. Papers—(1) "The place of Classics in the school curriculum," by P. G. Macfarlane, A. B. (2) "The Study of English Literature in the schools," by Miss Elizabeth McNaughton, A. B.

The sixth and closing session opened at 2:30 yesterday afternoon. A report of the committee on text books was submitted, which called forth an animated discussion. Routine business followed, taking up as usual, considerable time, after which the institute closed one of its most instructive and pleasant meetings.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

What the Gossips have to Remark about

The Trend of Matters Political Parliamentary or Otherwise.

Some Touch-and-Go Notices of all Mentionable Matters of Things.

The Dominion of Canada is 28 years old to-day, and this is the anniversary of our country's birthday. Once a year it comes into the busy life of the world and bids it cease work and celebrate. The celebration of the nation is a universal holiday, but although the citizens of Fredericton may cease to work, with a few exceptions, but the celestial city's celebration of the day is restricted to the small boy and the firecracker. However, we all love the 1st of July. The groupwork because of its associations and the illimitable possibilities of the country whose birthday it is. Every man can recall the feeling of one small boy in his memory, who was nearly blown up with gunpowder. Every woman has a recollection of one little girl with burned fingers and a hole in her dress. Every father and mother has a little story, a reminiscence to relate. The children listen and laugh with their parents, at the recollection. So we all love the 1st of July. Even the baby, whose first list is to-day, shouts in glee at the disturbance and grasps the beautiful bright flag you put into the chubby hand and ease the pain off with infantile relief. Fun and jollity should certainly prevail. No nation can as well afford to laugh and be glad as we. But a still, small voice whispers, "It would be even much better if we had freer trade relations, and the party now in power must give place to the Liberals."

To celebrate the First properly you must rise at 4, creep to the window and try to find out if it looks like rain. Go to bed again and dream dreams of infinite wealth until the small boy fires a cracker at your door and wakes you to the realization that you are in poverty and Canada. Get up and assume that nonchalance which becomes a man who has had a holiday forced upon him. Take a bath and breakfast if you can afford them, then about your slippers and hang them tenderly, for ere the setting of the sun you'll be as poor as a church mouse.

Some of the newspapers, rankly opposed to the Blair government, have been stating that Mr. Pitts gave the Attorney General's legal reputation a knock-down blow during the Howe Pitts libel case. The idea is simply absurd, and causes an angry smile.

Notwithstanding the fact that the jury verdict in the case for Major Howe.

A treat is in store for all who are interested in missionary work.

AN OLD TIME FIRST.

A Reminiscence of a Dominion Day Celebration of Long Ago.

Did you ever stop to think over the way you used to pass the day in the village where everybody knew you by a nickname? There were the old crates back of the crockeryman's store. The groceryman had some use for the oil and tar barrels but he always left them out of doors. You were a boy then, and for weeks and weeks you stole behind the buildings and dragged those crates and barrels to a place where nobody in the village could find them. The 30th of June was always a momentous day in town. The good crockery dealer knew what would be done with his crates. The groceryman knew what disposition was to be made with his missing barrels. They were to be burned. And so they were. Just as the clocks in the silent houses were striking the midnight hour there was a blast of fire near the town dump, and in an instant the vine covered homesteads and the stores with their purple shades and queer weather cocks reflected the glow of the patriotic fire. The crockery dealer's crates and the groceryman's barrels were in that blaze. But those merchants didn't mind that.

It was the First of July.

Slowly the great bonfire fell away to ashes and snapping embers. Then day broke. With the first pulsations of light in the east came the middle aged villager with the village brass cannon. It was always dragged to the common by the hotel bus driver or the snare drummer in the town band. These men knew how to fire a cannon. For a day or more they had been making charges of powder in red flannel socks and stalking about the street at night with the air of a man who thinks he holds the world by the tail and can break its back by one swing of the arm. The boys who had built the bonfire with the crates of the crockery dealer and the barrels of the groceryman and you were all there.

Nothing to say. The real serious waking-of-the-day had just begun. The only thing you had done was to start the fire. The salute was always fired at sunrise. The bills on the boards of a fence of the fair grounds had announced the hour weeks before. There was much ceremony in ramming the charges home and jerking the lanyard. The hostler of the hotel barn had always had something to say about the way the thing should be done.

Country people never got to town much before noon. They came in wagons with soft maple boughs fastened to the harness of the horse and a flag or two fluttering from the tail gate of the conveyance. Meantime a Conestock looking fellow had given a street entertainment with a performing bear in front of the postoffice. But the real celebration of the day never began until 2 o'clock. Then the M. P. of the district (and a mighty man was he with his stringy hair and owlish eyes) would read the proclamation of the anniversary. Then would come the oration. Sometimes the M. P. would deliver that too, but as a rule the M. P. was given the job. His wife always sat on the platform with a proud look on her face. Then would come the greased pole, which the town lout would make a desperate effort to climb, but with the invariable result of falling ignominiously to the ground. The greased pole, a sack race, a procession of ragamuffins always closed the afternoon's celebration. Then the good women of the church would give an ice cream festival, at which the M. P. with his stringy hair and the M. P. P. who had filled the oration of the day would fill their faces and slobber over their napkins thrust in their necks. Then would come the fireworks, the screeching and hissing of the skyrockets, the bursting of a colored ball of fire in the lace curtains of the hotel and the spitting of a pinwheel on the town pump. The night closed with the expiring flicseer of the big bonfire.
