1. That our Christian peop'e, especially in towns and cities, be exhorted to give all possible encouragement and help to those who in a legitimate way by the early closing movement, are seeking the relief of both merchants and their clerks, from the grievous bondage of late shopping, especially on Saturday nights.

2. That Presbyteries be urged to make a more vigorous effort to secure full replies to the questions on state of religion, from all the sessions within their respective bounds.

3. That Presbyteries be recommended, by visitation or otherwise, to institute inquiry into the financial system and general business management of such congregations especially, as are apparently behind in the grace of liberality.

4. That the importance of family worship, and their prime responsibility in the matter of home religious instruction, be earnestly impressed on parents, and that this be made matter of pulpit discourse on one or more Sabbaths during the year.

3. That a summary of this report be printed for distribution to pastors and superintendents.

On motion of Dr. Thomson, seconded by Mr. Chrystal, the report was adopted as a whole, and thanks given to the Committee, and especially to the Convener, for their suggestive and exhaustive report.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE REPORT.

The recommendations of the Committee on Sabbath Observance were then adopted as follows:—

1. That it would be well for the Assembly's Committee to follow the same system of securing information and reports in regard to this subject, that is followed by the other committees of the church, in regard to the subjects with which they are entrusted.

2. That all possible prominence be given to this subject in the pulpits within our bounds.

3. That our ministers and people be encouraged to co operate with those of other denominations, in seeking the removal of whatever form of Sabbath desecration may exist among them.

2. That members of our churches and others who deplore the injustice that is done them in being deprived of the rest and worship of the Lord's day, be advised to hail as a gracious manifestation of God's providence any opening which is afforded in which these are restored to them, and so to instruct and influence their children, as that they shall be led to follow some vocation in life in which God is honored and the rights of his people secured.

On motion of Dr. Cochrane, seconded by Mr. Tully, the report was adopted as a whole, and the thanks of the Synod tendered the Committee, and especially the Convener, for their labors during the year and the valuable report presented.

Parties were then called, when their appeared the Rev. Thomas McPherson for himself, and J. B. McDonald, Jas. McDonald, James Dow, W. W. Fortune, F. B. Hamilton, Robert Paton, and A. Adair for the congregation of Knox Church, Stratford.

It was found that these representatives of the congregation had not been regularly cited to appear before the Synod in this reference, but inasmuch as they had been appointed some two years ago to appear before the Presbytery of Stratford, and any other courts of the Church if necessary, in the interest of the congregation, they were with the full consent of all parties, regarded as entitled to appear before the Synod on behalf of the congregation.

Mr. McPherson was then heard at considerable length, giving a historical sketch of his connection with Knox Church, Stratford, and the causes that had led to the present reference.

At this stage of the pleadings the hour for fixing the time and place of next meeting of Synod arrived.

TIME AND PLACE OF NEXT MEETING.
