EXCLUSION OF WEST INDIANS AIDS NATIVE NEGROES

New York City, July—(By The Associated Negro Press)—What will be the political and economic effect on this part of the country through the exclusion of the West Indian? Will other prominent republicans follow the lead of Ed. Henry of Philadelphia in bolting the ticket? Is there really a "national director" of the Negro voter in the Republican party? These are questions that are creating no small interest in the East.

Under the Johnson immigration law, the West Indians coming from the British possessions are practically excluded since they may be admitted to this country now only on the basis of their numbers here in 1890. Since the number at that time was almost negligible it means that the tremendous invasion of New York by the West Indian Negro was automatically stopped July 1, through the operation of the bill.

Economically, the West Indian has been an asset to the race population in the East through his business acumen. He has been able to buy houses and is in the majority among Harlem business men. Lately he has invaded Brooklyn and acquired there a number of homes. But politically, the West Indian has been a dismal failure. He has not assimilated as he might with the native born colored man. He has adopted more or less the sharp practices of the Jew. He refuses to become naturalized. As a consequence the West Indian has been more of a liability than an asset, generally speaking. For that reason, the stoppage of their influx is apt to be more to the advantage of the native than to the disadvantage of the race in general.

Conservative estimates fix the Harlem population of colored people at 200,000, 75,000 of whom are surely foreigners. Of that number, it can be truthfully said that not more than one per cent. have qualified as voters and do actually cast a ballot. Across the bridge in Brooklyn there has been a surprising increase in the foreign population within the last year and there, of the estimated 60,000 colored residents, a conservative estimate may be made of 20,000 West Indians and foreigners of other nationalities.

HARRY COURSEY, who finished a close second to A. Vance, Canadian Champion sprinter in the 100 metre dash. Coursey qualified for the Olympic, recently held in Paris, but since this is his first year in training, he was advised by trainers Lightfoot and Cornelius to forego the Olympic in order to improve his style. Coursey's time was eleven and two fifth seconds.

Of that number of foreigners, a few worse percentage of voters have qualified in Brooklyn than have naturalized themselves in Harlem. Again, the sharp practice maintained by many of the West Indians who have acquired homes and immediately boosted rents to the highest has brought considerable condemnation for the island brother.

"IN BAMVILLE" COMPANY HAS BASEBALL TEAM

Boston, Mass., July—Male members of the cast of "In Bamville," Sissle and Blake's musical comedy extravaganza, which has created sensations in Pittsburgh, Chicago, Cleveland, Baltimore, and now is raising the dust in this city, have organized a baseball team which is to function during their summer run.

NEGRO SCHOOL ATTENDANCE ON INCREASE

Philadelphia, Pa., July—(By The Associated Negro Press)—There are 1628 fewer white children and 2388 more colored children of school age in this city now than there were a year ago. The population of school age has increased 754 to 336,323 in the last twelve months, according to the results of the 1924 census, made known by Dr. E. C. Broome, Superintendent of Schools.

A corps of seventy enumerators has been at work since April 1, under direction of H. J. Gideon, making a census of all children in Philadelphia between the ages of six and fifteen. The school census taken a year ago showed that during the previous twelve months white children of the school age had decreased 25, as compared with this year's shrinkage of 1628. In 1923 colored children of the school age increased over 1922 by 3263. There has been an increase of 91 per cent in colored children of school age in Philadelphia in the past ten years, Mr. Gideon points out. They have grown in numbers from 12,945 in 1915 to 24,843 in 1924. This year Philadelphia has only four Mongolian children more than one year ago.

Important Announcement

On Monday evening of August 11th, there will be held at Ulster Hall, a meeting for the purpose of organizing a society for the advancement of Colored people.

At this meeting the following subjects will be discussed:

- 1 Since it is generally conceded that the Colored man is one of Canada's most loyal citizens, is he being given equal opportunities with other races; if not, why not?
- 2 Are the Canadian colored people educating their children properly; if not why not?
- 3 Do our boys and girls, who specially prepare themselves for service, find positions; if not, why not?
- 4 Are we keeping apace with our brothers and sisters in the Republic south of us; if not, why not?
- 5 Can the situation be improved? If so, how?

Many of our most prominent citizens will be present at this meeting. It will begin at 8 p.m. sharp. All are cordially invited to attend.

Editorial

A TRIBUTE TO BRITISH JUSTICE.

In the editorial column of the London Advertiser of July 25, appears an article under the caption: "Justice grows with the people." In this article the editor pays the British people and British Justice one of the most fitting tributes which is possible to lavish upon any people or any courts of justice, and yet withal, we heartily agree with the views of the editor upon this subject.

He says in part: The Chicago Tribune uses the Loeb and Leopold case in that city to illustrate the difference between British and U.S. methods of conducting murder trials, pointing to the superiority of the British plan The Tribune concludes that the remedy is in placing drastic restriction on the publicity given to such cases before a trial, yet the Tribune's explanation is not deep enough. We do not imagine that where the tables reversed, and British papers full of details and probable defense and prosecution theories, that British justice would falter and collapse. The failure of the U.S. judicial machinery to stem the flood of murder is not to be found in the length of which papers go. There can be no defense of the thing of which the Tribune complains, but the battering down of plain and unaltered justice comes from a deeper cause than newspaper publicity. The British people have an inherent love for justice. It finds expression in a phrase that is world wide—"British fair play". It came to the surface when the forefathers of the British race inhabited the land bordering on the Baltic. They carried it with them to the tight little island, now known as the world's greatest empire. These same qualities have been the tools with which Britain has supplied her new lands; with them they have turned colonies into nations, autocracies into free agencies; they have guaranteed and pledged the freedom and the safety of the individual. It is in that atmosphere that justice finds favorable soil to sink its root; it is in such a condition that a greater thing than justice has spread its wings—the love of justice. If the Chicago Tribune realizes, as she apparently does—that British Justice is far superior to that of the United States, it will have to go deeper than newspaper publicity on crime to find the cause.

Very well said, and very beautifully expressed, Mr. Editor. All you have said concerning the situation is true, and even more is true, for we are persuaded that even you have not gone deep enough to find the cause which is sought. The failure of the United States judicial machinery to stem the flood of murder and other atrocious crimes was brought about through its own failure to punish crime, if crime was against black men and black women. It began sixty years ago when the first black man was lynched and then the murderers were allowed to go unpunished. Disregard for law kept apace with lynchings and burnings. The actual crime was perpetrated against the defenseless ex-slave but the result reacted upon the whole American people. And thus, at the present time, nothing is cheaper in America than human life itself. The inhuman crimes which they perpetrated against Negroes taught them the will to commit the same and even worse crimes against each other.

The two dominant political parties in the U.S. have just closed their conventions. We noticed with much interest that neither party had the moral courage to insert a plank in its platform against the Ku Klux Klan, an organization which has set itself above the supreme law of the country, a body which has for its object the "Keeping down" by fair or foul means, of Catholics, Jews and Negroes. When we remember this, together with the fact that her Senate, her supreme law making body, recently refused to ratify a bill which was aimed at the very heart of the lynch law, we can then easily reason why, not only is British justice, but even the savage administration of justice superior to that of the United States.

LOVE GIVES ALL.

(By S. E. G. Allen)

Father in Heaven, I list Thy voice,
Whatever fate would me befall,
That in Thy leading I rejoice,
I give Thee all.

I would hold nothing back from Thee
In yielding to Thy slightest call.
So bountiful Thy gifts to me,
I give Thee all.

In drawing nearer and more near,
I feel and know that 'tis love's shrill,
And need not hesitate or fear,
To give Thee all.

Spacious and deep, Thy love to me,
And millions more, like herds in stall,
Nothing but watchful love I see;
And give Thee all.

ADDRESSES BAR ASSOCIATION

Terre Haute, Indiana, July— (By The Associated Negro Press)— The joint meeting of the Illinois and Indiana State Bar Association in session here May 28th had as their special guests the winners of the two states in the recent nation wide high school oratorical contest. Archibald Carey, Jr. who won in Illinois, and Miss Margaret Jenkins, (white) of Indianapolis, Indiana, victor, were the two who attended the banquet and spoke. Young Carey, who was presented by Hon. Roger Sherman, President of the State Bar Association chose as his subject "The Constitution." Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson delivered the principal address.

Delegates Cheer Haiti's Plea For Freedom

Lyons, France— (By the Associated Negro Press)— At the close of a brilliant address by Dantes Bellegarde, the Haitian Leader and delegate to the League of Nations in session here, the members of the League arose en masse and cheered him for several minutes. Delegate Bellegarde made a plea for "Justice and liberation" directed at the United States which is now occupying his country by force. It was very evident that the entire assembly was in sympathy with the views as expressed by Haiti's representative, C. A. Duniway, white American, agreed after the debate to the resolution on the subject which was passed unanimously by the congress. The resolution expressed the satisfaction of the federation at the fact that the Secretary of State of the United States had declared the intention of the government to withdraw from Haiti as soon as pos-

TEACHERS PLEDGED TO WIPE OUT ILLITERACY

Jackson, Miss., July— (By the Associated Negro Press)— Four thousand and Negro teachers of this state, through their representatives, at the State Teachers Association convention here, are pledged to wipe out adult illiteracy in the state. Each teacher in the state is to agree to teach one or more illiterate adult for one year, without compensation. The state association will stand behind the sectional and county teachers' groups to see that the pledge is carried into effect.

Another important move was made in the establishment of an $8,000 fund for the publication of a monthly magazine, devoted to the interests of the teachers. Officials of the association declare that the public spirit of the colored teachers has been met by ninety per cent. of the white educational authorities of the state, there having been a slight raise in salary made for each teacher.

IS THE "USUAL CRIME" A LIE

Huntingdon Adams, in a letter in the current issue of the Nation, published in New York, raises the question as to whether the excitement relative to the Negro in America and the alleged "Usual Crime" is not all about a lie, one of the most despicable lies of all times.

Mr. Adams was moved to ask the question after reading one of Mr. Herrick's articles on the race problem in the Carribean in which the latter shows an absence of the "usual crime" among Jamaicans and other West Indian groups. Other references are produced by Mr. Adams to prove the truth of Mr. Herrick's statement, such strong authority that Mr. Adams is led to believe that all this talk of Negro attacks on white women, anywhere, is all the bunk, that white people have reasoned themselves into belief of the existence of a practice which does not exist at all anywhere as a racial tendency. He believes the "usual crime" is a colossal lie.
