PRISONER CZOLGOSZ

Stands by His First Story That He Alone Is Responsible for the Dastardly Deed.

Buffalo, Sept. 11 .- District Attorney Penney was seen by an Associated Press reporter at 11 o'clock. He said: We have not reached any decision as to what our course will be. The statement that Czolgosz has made another and more complete confession, implicating Emma Goldman or anyone else, is not true. He still stands by his first story, and insists that he alone is responsible. So far as I know there are no new developments in the case. The investigation is going along in a very satisfactory manner.

WE have just received and opened up a shipment of Linen Seconds of splendid quality—the kind that Customers always hurry up to buy, because the demand for them is great. We were lucky in securing such a good sized lot, but large as it is we dare not suggest that we have enough to go around. The imperfection—which makes them seconds—is insignificant, scarcely noticeable. A little colored thread shows location of imperfection. Makes no difference in appearance or wearing qualities, but a big difference in price. Note some of them. Come early to buy if you want to participate.

Nervous Dyspepsia

How it shakes one up, invades sleep, destroys strength, adds a real misery to life. Not the stomach but the nerves are affected. Starved nerves makes the whole trouble. You need Ferrozone, because it's a nerve food. It supplies the elements that are needed to make rich blood. This is the savings bank of health. The richer the blood in red cells, the richer you're sure to be in health. Ferrozone quickly makes blood, strengthens the nervous system, strengthens the digestive organs and, presto! the nervous disturbance disappears. Sold by W. T. ### A SEWAGE VAT!

Miss Maggie McEvay Tried to Commit Suicide at Interception Works in Hamilton.

Hamilton, Sept. 11.-Miss Maggie McEvay, a prepossessing young woman, whose home is in Paris, made a desperate attempt to end her life at the Ferguson avenue sewage interception works about 10:30 o'clock this morning. She jumped into one of the sewage vats to drown herself. Wm. Taylor saw her jump from the top of the wall of the vat, and ran from his wagon into the works and told the first man he saw, Mr. Feter Filman, an employe, who rushed out with a hook in his hand and pulled the woman out. She was semi-conscious, and the foul-smelling water came from her mouth, nose and ears. Her clothes -she was in street attire-were sat-

Some Sufferers Avoid Attack by Going to the Esa Coast, But This is an Expensive Prevent. DUCHESS' TOUR ive - In Former Years This Disease Greatly Puzzled the Doctors, But They Now Quickly Oure and Prevent It by Catarrhozone.

This summer Fever, Hay Fever or Hay Asthma, as it is properly called, consists in an excessive irritation of the eyes, nose and the whele of the air passages. It produces an itching sensation about the eyes and nose, violent sneezing and difficulty in breathing, with or without much mucous expectoration.

Doctors used to think it was caused by irritating emanations from certain the grasses, but now they know it is due to an irritation kept up by germs, and they cure it very quickly by Catarrhozone, the most powerful destroyer of germ life known.

Catarrhozone is inhaled through the mouth and nostrils, thus reaching every afflicted part, it destroys the germs and prevents their development and Hay Fever cannot last but a day or two where Catarrhozone is used. Catarrhozone is very soothing to the inflamed mucous surface. It cures the cough, makes breathing legular and easy, and allays all itemin sensations from about the nose and a

Others Afflicted with Costiveness and Paralysis of the Boweis.

Persons advanced in life often suffer from indigestion, and from paralysis or inability to evacuate from the bowels; likewise from urinary difficulties. We have the evidence of a large number of aged persons from 60 to 80 years of age who had daily been compelled to resort to injections to empty the bowels, have been cured by the use of Radway's Pills. Two or three pills every night in all cases insure a natural evacuation from the bowels, and the regular flow of urine. In cases where there is irritation of the bladder, Radway's Resolvent should be used with the Pills. If these organs are kept regular, life may be extended to a much longer period. By keeping the Liver, Stomach. Bowels and Kidneys in a healthy condition the blood will continue pure and dissolution checked. If Radway's Pills and Resolvent are used by the aged, life will be prolonged to the full measure of time. Another great end is secured by nourishing the body with these remedies—the faculties will remain in a healthy condition. A weak, feeble and decaying body enfeebles the intellect and clouds the brain.

> Which Rejoices That He Still Resides Within the Bounds in Which He Commenced Duties.

DR. PROUDFOOT.

During the last session of the London Presbytery, Rev. Mr. Henderson presented the following resolution regarding the resignation of Rev. Dr. Proudfoot, of his chair in Knox College, and his retirement from active public du-

Presbytery of London gives glory to the Great King and Head of the Church for the long protracted and eminently useful ministry which he has been pleased to youchsafe to our D. D., who now retires from its active

"Dr. Proudfoot graduated from Divinity Hall of the United Presbyterian Church in Canada in the year 1847, and was licensed by the Presbytery of London on the 24th of August of the year. He voluntarily offered f to the mission work of the church for one year before seeking a settled charge; so, beginning in London Presbytery, he visited all the misions and vacant congregations in Canada West, traveling on horseback as far east as Port Hope, and as far north as Lake Huron. On the 19th of July, 1848, he was ordained and inducted to the pastoral charge of St. Marys and Downie, a parish which included five townships. During his three years' ministry there he erected preaching stations at Flat Creek. Fullerton, Roy and North Nissouri, all of which afterwards became congregasucceeded his father, the and henored William Proudfoot, to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church, London, which included preaching every alternate Sabbath ifternoon in the fifth concession of Vestminster and Wyton, both which afterwards became harges, and were in due time separated from the First Church pastorate. This pastorate he held till the year 1889, when he resigned it in order to give more time and concentrated in which he had been appointed lec-turer in hemiletics, pastoral theology and church government in 1867, a posi-tion which he filled with eminent ability and acceptance, thus for 22 years holding the dual relation to the church of both pastor and (virtually) professor. In order to make way for a re-arrangement of the college classes, Dr. Proudfoot has resigned his lecture ship, and the General Assembly, in accepting the resignation, has given him leave to retire from the active duties of the ministry.

"The presbytery would not be mindful of the devoted service he has rendered it all these years—his regular attendance at its sessions, and at those of the superior courts: the livey interest he has always taken in the legislation, as well as in the practical and aggressive work, especially in the assassinator's hand had then taken his services as clerk of the presbyter for about ten years prior to the union of 1860; also as convener of the Presby terian home mission committee, which office he held for 25 years.

"The presbytery rejoices that Dr. Proudfoot still resides within bounds of the presbytery in which he first commenced his ministerial labors, ed him to throw up the hand with the and that consequently we may hope to enjoy his valuable counsel in its deliberations. The prayer of the tery is that the gracious Head of the Church may see it good to spare him and strengthen him, and that he may be enabled to put into possession of the church, in permanent form, the fruits weapon out of Secret Service Officer of his literary culture, his deep study and wide research in those subjects Foster's hand and drew a big knife which he has made a specialty. The minute was adopted, and or-dered to be engrossed in the records ter looked like an anarchist. He did look more like one than the other did, of presbytery.

C. C. Miller cured of a Chronic Case of Rheumatism by Powley's Liquified Ozone.

A Montreal Case

We want you to know about Mr. Miller's case. He suffered from chronic rheumatism and was cured by our preparation. He is a citizen of Montreal. He will tell you about his cure if you ask or write him.

Some years ago Mr. Miller had his health and was able to devote his time to his affairs, which grew and prospered. After a while his blood became impure, he began to suffer pain, and he knew that he was affected with incipient rheumatism. His condition gradually became worse, his joints stiffened, it became difficult for him to walk and each time he moved it caused him excruciating pain. He was forced to give up his establishment. He consulted eminent physicians and spent a great deal of money in medicines. He was so bad that he regarded anything that gave him relief from pain for five minutes as a splendid preparation. He became down-hearted and looked on his case as absolutely

One day he heard about the wonderful cures Powley's Liquified Ozone had been making with blood disease, and he purchased a bottle. Although he was discouraged, he received benefit from the first and he kept on. In a short time he was completely cured. This is what he says about Powley's Liquified Ozone:

'Its cure of my case was particularly gratifying. I was so grateful for the benefit it did me that I brought a supply of it with me when I came to Montreal, fearing I would not be able to get it here. My house is never without Powley's Liquified Ozone now, and I would not be without it, no matter what it cost. I feel as young and active as I did before I was sick. I am able to work every day, in fact, I can do a better day's work than ever before in (Signed) C. C. MILLER, 2141A St. Catherine St., Montreal.

This is simply a statement of facts. We believe you will profit by considering this case. The cure is remarkable. It shows the power of our preparation to cure disease. Consult our physician about your case. Write full details and you will get a specialist's advice free. Your letters are absolutely confidential. Address the Consulting Department, The Liquid Ozone Co., 229 Kinzie St , Chicago, U.S.A.

Fair Directors Believe Attendance Will Be Fully Up to the Mark.

Twenty-Five Thousand People Are Estimated to Have Entered the Exhibition Grounds on Wednesday---Notes of the Fair.

tions of croakers, and in spite, too, of unfavorable weather conditions that might wellnigh serve to blight the prospects of any exhibition, the Western Fair this year bids fair to fully equal the successes of former years. The fair has been unfortunate in that the unfavorable weather interfered not so much with the pleasure of visitors in attendance, as with the intentions of those about to start for the exhibition, and who were deterred from attending by the prospect of rain. In view of these conditions, the directors declare themselves more yesterday, which is estimated at over 25,000. Threatening as was the weather in the morning, thousands of rural citizens refused to forego the pleasure of their annual visit to London's big fair, and they came in crowds. Well were they repaid for their coming, for they found every department of the fair in full operation and replete with interest for all. They found also provided for their entertainment a programme of attractions and fireworks far surpassing those of former years. Should the attendance of today be as encouraging as that of yesterday, the fair will be a success in a financial sense, as it is from the standpoint of excellence. Tonight will be the last opportunity seeing the magnificent display of fireworks in front of the stand, and it should be taken advantage of by those who have not already seen Many of those who have witnessed it will require no pressing to again attend. In addition to the fireworks, the full programme of specialties, including the wenderful performing elephants will be given.

The impression that the fair visitor tomorrow will miss any feature of the great show is a mistaken one. Every exhibit remains in its place till the gates have closed on the last departing sightseer, and the visitor tomorrow sees all that has been seen any day of the week. In addition to the races, PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 11.-Oil closed the full performance is given on the amusement platform, and the Friday performance is always one of the best, as each performer has become familiar with his surroundings. The special attraction of the afternoon is grand stock parade at 1 p.m. sharp, a feature interesting to all and especially so to visitors from the country. At the meeting of the fair board this morning various minor matters were discussed. The attendance was good and the board were all of a mind that the coming days looked promising for them. In the matter of judging the sheep of Wm. Kelly, Mr. Smith, a sheep exhibitor, proved to the fair board that the judges' decision was perfectly honest and reliable, and it was moved that Mr. Kelly's deposit money be re-

NOTEWORTHY EXHIBITS.

Waggoner Ladder Company.

The Waggoner Ladder Company, Limited, of London, have a fine display of their goods in front of the machinery hall. It is only necessary to say of the Waggener Extension Ladder and the Lindenwood Extension Step Ladder that they maintain and even increase their admitted superiority over everything else in the market. For apple picking and general farm use, painters, plumbers, tinners, electric companies, etc., they are indispensable.

In spite of the pessimistic predictions of croakers, and in spite too, acoustic rim. This feature of the exhibit is a fine complement to the display of magnificent instruments, and demonstrates to the eye and the intel-ligence what is conveyed to the cultivated ear by the sound of the Nor-dheimer piano—the fact that it is a plano which recommends itself as the highest type of Canadian production. The sales of Nordheimer planos at this year's fair have been greatly in excess both of last year's sales, and of the expectations of the company's representatives. An important point for intending purchasers to remember is the fact that the Nordheimer Company possesses practically unlimited capital, and is so enabled to offer exceptionally favorable terms of payment. Visitors directors declare themselves more should see the display of Nordheimers than delighted with the attendance at the fair or visit the showrooms at 188 Dundas street, where they will find in addition a full line of Steinway and Haines pianos and a complete stock of musical goods and supplies.

Parke Catsup Flavor.

At this season of the year every housewife is arranging for making catsup. One of the most useful articles for catsup is Parke's Catsup Flavor. In the main building, Mr. Mc-Gregor, representing Messrs. Parke & Parke, of Hamilton, has handed out thousands of small glasses of samples to ladies and gentlemen. Of the large number who have tasted it but one lady has commented adversely. It is now on sale at all grocers and is re-commended very highly.

Hobbs Hardware Company.

Very rich and attractive is the disolay of one of the departments of Hobbs Hardware Company's immense business. While the general public are for the most part somewhat acquainted with, and have seen speci-mens of other special products of the company, such as their beautifully stained and painted windows, mirror and cut-glass work, the magnitude of their cutlery business is not generally known, and the general public have little or no idea of the class of goods carried in stock by the Hobbs people. They carry by far the largest stock of fine cutlery in the Dominion. By fine cutlery we mean such goods as shown ing Silver Handled Carvers, Fish Eaters, Tea Knives and Forks, Pearl Handled Dessert and Fish Sets, all with or without sterling silver mountings, put up in the most elaborate and beautifully lined cases and cabinets, and all of beautiful workmanship, with exquisite engraving and design. To describe in this article the beauty of this display, would be impossible. Suffice it to say, that it includes almost every design, both in the minds of the best artists in the world can produce. We are informed by the Hobbs Company that the great cutlery centers of Sheffield and Birmingham are being continually scoured for the very latest ideas and best workmanship produced in this class of Near by is a very handsome Stanhope which has been ordered by Dr. Niven, of Colborne street. Both these rigs are fitted with splendid rubber tires. Many people were particularly delighted with the wheeled English dog carts, which have a very jaunty appearance. The display of sleighs is also very extensive; but it would be impossible to mention all the delightful things that Messrs. John Campbell & Son are showing. The whole exhibit is a most creditable one, and there is no better way to discover the latest styles and the highest qualities in sleighs and carriages than to visit this Campbell display in the transportation building.

A Famous Instrument.

It is a distinctive piano, a piano that power a most refined, sympathetic quality of tone, free from harshness under the severest demands made on it, and filling with its volume the largest halls. Many sales have already been effected during the fair, among them a Baby Grand to Prof. J. W. Fetherston, of Queen's avenue. No evidence is lacking that the Heintzman retains its old-time prestige and popularity.

Doherty Organs.

The famous Doherty Organs are again found at their old stand, the southwest corner of the main building. If possible, a superior line of organs to any yet shown by this firm are on exhibition. The instruments shown are of magnificent design and finish, and for durability and quality of tone cannot be surpassed on earth. Mr. W. Doherty, founder of the firm, is at the fair, having just returned from an extensive and successful trip through Europe. He found that his business there, in common with his Canadian business, has been making wonderful progress, and the future of the Doherty Organs seem an exceptionally bright

Deserves the Higest Reward.

Were it the practice of the directors o award prizes for the displays of carriages and cutters, it is safe to say that the exhibit made by Wm. Gray & Sons' Company, Limited, of Chatham, would assuredly carry off a large pro-portion of them. The fine display made by this old established firm fills the entire western side and part of the central portion of the transportation building. The first vehicle seen on entering the door is a handsome open doctor's covert, from the latest model driven in Central Park, New York. Next is a doctor's Stanhope, from the latest pat-tern seen in Hyde Park, London. Other fine vehicles shown are an up-to-date stiver or speeding wagon, a canopy top Kenwood, a handsome Kensington, and many other beautiful designs. In cut-ters are shown some of the firm's popular styles, among them the Canadian Ottawa Favorite, Montreal Queen, Solid Comfort, Portland, and half a dozen other unique creations of the company. Mr. Gray, who is in charge of the exhibit, reports having taken a large number of orders, and says that the firm is finding a steady yearly increase of business. Having a plant equipped with all the modern requirements for carriage building, customers may rest assured that orders will be filled with promptness and thor-

Awarded a Gold Medal.

The completeness and beauty of the C. P. R. exhibit in the main building continue to excite the surprise and admiration of many thousands of visitors. No finer series of pictures than those illustrating this railway's Imperial Limited route across the continent have ever been displayed, and their arrangement is such that one can almost imaging himself traveling over and viewing the actual scenes. In addition to these pictures a practical and striking illustration of the richness and immense agricultural possibilities of Manitoba and the Northwest is given by the fine exhibit of grains and cereals from the great Prairie Province and Alberta. Many visitors have expressed wonder hibit of grains and cereals from the great Prairie Province and Alberta. Many visitors have expressed wonder at this object lesson on the fertility of Canadian territory. Mr. W. T. Dockrill, trayeling passenger agent of the C. P. R., under whose direction the exhibit is made, is to be congratulated upon its success. So highly have the directors of the Western Fair thought of the exhibit that they have awarded it a special gold model. a special gold medal,

Cowan's Delicious Cocoas.

The exhibit of the Cowan Cocoa Company, of Toronto, is surrounded daily by crowds eager to sample the dainty cup of delicious cocoa served over the counter. The fame of Cowan's cocoa is not a local matter, but handle, mounting and engraving, that pervades the whole Dominion, and it is recognized as being immensely superior to any imported goods, and the immense demand for the Cowan Company's goods is only a justly-earned tribute to their purity and excellence. Purchasers should ask their grocer for perfection Cocoa, as it costs less to the consumer than any other brand. Insist on getting it, as many imitators seek to trade on the reputation achieved by Cowan's Cocoa. A feature of the exhibit is the company's preparations of Tropon cocoa and chocolate, made of the finest materials and containing 20 per cent of Tropon, which is pure albumen, freed from all harm-ful and indigestible constituents. Tropon has been found invaluable by doctors and hospitals in the treatment of certain forms of invalidism. Those desiring to purchase it can be supplied at T. A. Rewat's grecery store, Dundas street. #### Artistic Display.

The most artistically arranged exhibit of pianos in the main building is easily that of the Mason & Risch Company, in the northwest corner. The walls are a beautiful crimson, and the One is the magnificent $1,000 parlor Glad- grand in Spanish mahogany, construction contains four improve-ments, covered by patents, which make it the most durable piano in Canada sweet, and it is easily the finest grand piano ever made in Canada. A second feature is an English quarter-cut oak case, colonial design, the first of its kind seen in London. The third, and a special share of admiration was a not least wonderful exhibit is the Pianola, the only perfect piano player which ter how ignorant of music. At the down-town showrooms of the Mason & Risch Company, at 211 Dundas street, can be found at all times a stock fuller in number and equally costly in quality to the display at the fair. Mr. H. Finchamp, the company's courteous manager in London, is ready at all times to receive visitors and show them the undeniably superior points of Mason & Risch instruments.

They Stand Pre-Eminent.

The visitor to the exhibit of the Wm. Buck Stove Company, Limited, of Brantford, can well understand the reason why for nearly a score of years the lines of ranges, furnaces and heaters made by this firm have been recognized as Canada's best. Any stove The fame that has come to the piano manufactured by the old firm of Heintzman & Co is due to the fact that it is a distinctive piano, a piano that Nordheimer Piano and Music Cun-pany, Limited, at the eastern end of the main building, a special feature is a sample plane interior, showing the most important exclusive improve-men features in the construction of their new features in the construction of their new features in the construction of their experience can do are brought to their perfecting. ### PRETTY WEDDING

IN WEST LONDON Miss Ada Spence Becomes the Bride of a

Young Torontonian. At the home of the bride's parents, Maplehurst, West London, yesterday afternoon, the marriage of Miss Ada Amelia, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spence, to Wm. G. Nettleship, of Toronto, formerly of this city, was solemnized. Rev. T. E. Harrison performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was charmingly gowned in a cream silk dress, with a panel front, elaborately trimmed with allover and accordeon lace and chiffon. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Miss Elvie Currie, of Strathroy, cousin of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She was attired in a iress of India muslin, trimmed with Battenburg lace and ribbon, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Little Miss Juliette Boardman, of Macon, Ga., cousin of the bride, acted as flower girl. The bride's brother, Mr. William N. Spence, acted as best man Wedding March was played by Harold Currie, of Strachroy. Following the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served, after which the newly-married couple left on the evening train for Buffalo and points east. On their return

The Railways.

New York Sun: The persistently circulated report that H. B. Ledyard has resigned the presidency of the Michigan Central railroad is officially denied. It may be stated as a fact that President Ledyard, because of his long and useful service, will retain the presidency of the Michigan Central as long as he chooses to remain in active service. His retirement, however will bring the Michigan Central directly under the jurisdiction of the New York Central's president. Advance sheets of the reports of the Wabash Railroad Company show total receipts of $17,816,646; operating expenses, taxes, joint track rentals and miscellaneous expenses, $14,096,182; additions to property and other charges. $656,757; net earnings, applicable to interest, $3,063,708; interests on bonds, $2,780,571; surplus, $302,137; dividends, on debenture, A bonds, $210,000; net surplus, $93,137.

DISALLOWED BY THE CABINET

At the Instance of the Imperial Government.

Important Action Taken Regulating Acts Passed by British Columbia Legislature Regarding Emigration.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, Sept. 12.-At a meeting of the cabinet yesterday an act to regulate emigration into British Columbia and an act relating to the employment on works of Mongolians carried on under fran chises granted to private companies by the legislature were disallowed. The first act set up an educational test, which had for its object the exclusion of Chinese and Japanese. The other act prevented the employ ment of Mongolians on works which ob tained' franchises from the legislature. The Provincial Government was aske by the Dominion Government to amend these acts so as not to necessitate their being disallowed, but it declined to do so. The Japanese consul in London, England, called the attention of the British Government to these acts, and the home authorities insisted that they should be disallowed. It was pointed out that they were in direct violation of the interests of the empire, and therefore the Canadian Government had no other alternative but to disallow them.

LATE SPORTING.

FOOTBALL.

ONTARIO UNION SCHEDULES. Toronto, Sept. 12.-In less than month the long-haired, bepadded Rug by players will monopolize the attention of the sporting public, the executive of the Ontario Rugby Union, a a meeting held in the Rossin House last night, having selected Oct. 5 as the date for the opening games. President A. W. Ballantyne was in the chair, and in addition to Secretary J D. McMurrich, G. S. Gibson, London T. A. Godfrey, Ottawa; S. DuMoulir Hamilton, and F. H. Thompson, Argonauts, were present. The Granites -Mr. E. Zavitz, of Thedford, is visiting with Mr. Ellis McKay, 60 Euclid they will be in the game this fall. Mr. J. Morgan Shaw having forwarde -At yesterday afternoon's meeting the customary fee. In the intermed ing retired. Before arranging the schedules the executive considered several important matters. The proposal to divide the senior series into western and eastern groups, with the winners playing off for the champion ship at the end of the season, was de-clared impracticable for obvious reasons, and it was accordingly voted down. An effort was made to foist the Spalding ball upon the union in place of the Wilson ball, which has been in use for many years, but the plans of the Chicago people miscarters stand as they are.

At the annual meeting the question of Chicago, are bidding for the honor. The case of the London Club created a great deal of discussion. Last winter the London Hockey Club team, connected with which are several members of the Rugby fifteen, was suspended by O. H. A. for violating the amateur rule, and last night Mr. Gibbons, representing that club, endeavored to induce the union to ignore the ruling of the hockey organization, and permit the players in question to play this fall, but he was unsuccessful, the executive coming to the conclusion to recognize all suspensions for professionalism imposed by sister organizations, the right being reserved to reinstate any members of the union on the production of sufficient evidence. The suspension of Kunz, the Ottawa II. player, was raised, but he will have to be careful in the future, as a repetition of the offense will result in his expulsion. He was disciplined last fall for brutal work in a game against Peterboro at Rosedale. The applica-tion of Freeborn, of Hamilton, for reinstatement, was refused, although Mr. DuMoulin made a vigorous fight on his behalf. The schedules are as follows:

ELSIE.

Elsie did not know if she liked Basil Byrne very much or detested him ex-tremely. Was he good or bad, faise or true, mean or noble, a hero or a scheming plotter? Did he admire her? Was he making fun of her? Did he want to lead her out of the "steep and thorny way to heaven," in which her young feet had always trodden, and into those "primrose paths of dalliance," where dangers lurk and things are quite different from what they seem? the was better than handsome, in the sense of possessing a face keen and sparkling with intelligence; his dark eyes greamed with humor; it was an interesting face, but was it one you could thoroughly trust? Even if not, it was a charming countenance, Elsie decided, charming countenance, Eisie decided, when he had talked with her a little "Would you like to know the names of some of these ladies and gentlemen?" he asked Elsie, presently. "It may be convenient, as you are staying in the house with them."
"Very much; I am wondering about so of them. many of them."
"Begin then, and tell me which among them interest you, and I will try and tell you some of the good qualities of your

Could she not be all three, Miss a fortune?"

"Neither," answered Basil. "Her father is Captain Bracegirdle, formerly in the Austrian service; her mother was an Austrian countess. Miss Bracegirdle's Austrian countess. Miss Bracegirdle's home is in Paris with her papa; but she is, she says, tired of him and of her home, and chance threw her in the way fancy he would not mind using one. When the countess proposed taking Pauline away Paul went to her and threatened to shoot himself if she separated him om his betrothed; so the countess, fine ing the youth poor and unemployed, made a post for him in her household—it made a post for him in her household—it is that of her foreign secretary. She has large correspondence all over the continent, and is at the bottom of every new philanthropic scheme that comes up for the benefit of poor humanity; so she gives Lafonte a couple of rooms here at Charteris, and a couple of hundred a year; and then he travels about with Pauline in the train of the countess."

"And does Miss Bracegirdle recite grandly?"

"I have never had the great happiness of hearing her, Miss Carew, and I don't know of anybody who has. I believe Miss Bracegirdle is only studying now, and when she goes to town she takes lessons, when she goes to town she takes lessons, but nobody has heard her attempt Shakespeare. However, she seems to have some talent as an actress of light comedy, and we shall have an opportunity of judging of her abilities next week. If we remain so long at Charteris, for she is going to act here in a piece called 'Mademoiselle Renee.'" oiselle Renee."

"The countess seems the noblest, st, sweetest woman in Christen said Elsie, speaking with an en thusiasm that brought the color to her cheeks and sparks of fire to her eyes. Basil Byrne smiled as one smiles at a little child who has said some odd and original thing.

"Well, yes, she is a thoroughly kind "Well; yes, she is a thoroughly kind woman; she would do away with punishments of all sorts if she could, abolish hanging and make state pets of criminals, and as for the poor she would beggar her children in order to give to them. She is an earl's wife and an earl's daughter, but she is a radical nevertheless at heart—the most extraordinary woman in civilized society at this moment, I am positive she is. I could tell you such tales of her philanthropy—and it's of the genuine kind; she does not expect gratitude or look for it; if she does find it she is delighted; but she is like the Divinity in showering her benefits alike on the unthankful and the evil."
"She is not like a woman," said Elsie.
"She is like an angel!"
The M. P. shrugged his shoulders.

"She is like an angel!"
The M. P. shrugged his shoulders.
"She is only a woman, after all," he said—"a kind, unseifish, generous woman, but still a woman. Has it never occurred you to ask where the Right Honorable to you to ask where the Right Honorable the Earl of Chase is all this time?"

"No," said Elsie: "I really forgot him.
Where is the earl?"
"Well," replied Mr. Byrne, "he is in his wan room, nursing his foot, which is attacked by gout, but he will limp down at dinner time with his hand on his valet's shoulder, and he will take the head of the table and make a few afterdinner speeches in the old-fashioned style. He is a fine man in the prime of dinner speeches in the old-fashioned style. He is a fine man, in the prime of life; a genial, pleasant man, fond of his ease, with some wit and humor in him thoroughly Conservative principles, and an inordinate reverence for the class to which he belongs. His radical wife, with her philanthropic schemes, her love for humanity, her reverence for talent, her dislike to conventional rules and social shams, must have jarred on every prejudice that he has, and I believe that the earlier years of their married life were not happy ones; now, however, both of them being wise, both of them being rich both of them peace-loving—my lord from George Ketcham, owner of Cresceus, them being wise, both of them being rich both of them peace-loving—my lord from indelence, my lady from gentleness of soul—they have agreed to differ. The countess fills Charteris with all the world and his wife. At Ingleswood Hall, the grandest seat in Northamptonshire, nobody is made welcome except by the earl, and thither flock the upper ten, the scions of noble families, the great ladies who lead West End cliques, the heirs to dukes and marquises and earls—the eligible partis for sweet Lady Marjorie; also thither resort those right honorable and noble lords who sit on the same side in the Upper House as the Earl of Chase. Beldom does her ladyship visit Ingleswood Hall unless her son is there, but the earl comes to Charteris always at Christmas and often in the spring, because it is near enough to London for him to run down for a night or two during the session. Always at Christmas he condescends to us, the invited of the countess. He condescends to chatter with me, and to chaff me on my wild radical notions; and I daresay he will ask Miss me, and to chaff me on my wild radical notions; and I daresay he will ask Miss Bracegirdie to play something, and to Monsieur Paul Lafonte he will talk some bad French or worse German; he will call for dances and Christmas games after dinner, and join in blind-man's buff or turn the trencher, that has been the genial custom of the Earls of Chase for the last two hundred years."

"Lady Marjorie," said Elsie, "is not like her mother."

A look shot into the quick dark eyes of the barrister-M.P. at the mention of Lady Marjorie's name which told its own tale to Elsie. A faint color stole into his dark cheek, and he sighed a short, impatient sigh, which told of pain and pleasure, fear and hope, all the baffled desire of an intense love which is not sure of its object, and yet dares to hope that success will crown its efforts—the effort of the knight to win the inaccessible lady-love so far above him, so out of his reach, so pitilessly, perllously dear "Lady Marjorie." he said, lightly "is "Lady Marjorie," he said, lightly, "is only nineteen, and knows nothing of this world or its ways. She does not know what life means. At least, to her it means riding on winter days and dancing on winter nights; it means the whirl of the London season and pleasant change of foreign travel; it means pleasure as it has always meant happiness; but this can't last forever. One day Marjorie will awake. She is now like the sleeping can't last forever. One day Marjorie will awake. She is new like the sleeping beauty in the fair tale, dreaming sweet dreams."

"And the prince will come and awaken her," said Elsie—"the destined prince."

Basil Byrne's face was dark and sad at that moment as a sullen summer sky where tempest broods, where the black clouds hide the lightning in whose shaft is danger, terror and death.

Elsie possessed no regular dinner dress. In her cinnamon-colored velvet she appeared at the lunch at Charteris Court; and in the same gown, relieved only by an exquisite bouquet of white and crimson flowers given to her by the Court; and in the same gown, relieved only by an exquisite bouquet of white and crimson flowers given to her by the countess, she appeared at the Christmas dinner.

AUSTRALIAN TRADE

Very Quiet-Too Much Holidaying-Bepressing Effect of Tariff Agitation.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.-A report has just been received at the department of trade and commerce from J. S. Larke, the government's commercial agent in Australia. It is dated Aug. 14. Mr. Larke reports that Australian trade is quiet; the commonwealth, he adds, is suffering from the long series of holidays and the extra expenditure of the royal visit; payments are slow, the price of wool does not encourage expansion. The contest regarding the tariff had a depressing effect. Dealing with matters affecting Can-ada trade, he does not consider that any change will materially affect the existing conditions of trade. The Australian parliaments are following New Zealand in passing laws bearing on the relation of capital and labor. The recent census has disclosed that Australia is gaining little increase of white people from abroad; the immigration barely balances the emigra-tion. Mr. Larke adds that if the change existing trade conditions. He cautions Canadians from investing in manufactures at the present time without due consideration

ASYLUM POPULATION

Accommodated.

Toronto, Sept. 11 .- A return just compiled by the provincial secretary's department shows that the number of lunatics in the various institutions of the province on Aug. 31 was 5,241, compared with 5,152 a year ago, 5,084 in 1899, 5,029 in 1898, and—to go back to the beginning— 1,366 in 1871. The returns of the depart-ment show that the number of this unfortunate class to be cared for by the province is steadily on the increase, al-ways taxing the accommodation to the utmost, but not perhaps—recently, at any rate—more than the increase in population warrants. The greatest pressure at present is on

An order-in-council was passed by the Ontario Government Wednesday on recommendation of the provincial engineer, Mr. MacCallum, providing that all street railway companies in the province must equip their cars with Providence, or Twentieth Century, or Steelman's improved fenders. In one or two places good fenders are already in use, Ottawa, for example, having the Providence, but in most of the cities the present fenders are lifetraps, and must be removed within three months If the order is not com-plied with, a fine of $10 a day may be imposed. The Toronto Company will have to spend about $10,000 at once on the new fenders.

Several of the city pastors were present, and enlivened the social gathering by short, pithy, interesting remarks, among them being Rev. Mr. Baer, Rev. Mr. Powell, Haliburton Street, Rev. Mr. Dodds and Rev. Mr. Parr, of Wellington. The room was tastefully arranged with neatly decorated tables distributed over the floor, at which refresh-ments were served by the zeal-ous band of ladies of the congregation, the whole presenting the appearance of a pleasant, chatty, family gathering, rather than the stiff and formal "function." At the close of the proceedings, Mr. Cumming, after a touching reference to the interest attaching to the revisiting of scenes associated with former days, expressed his sincere thanks for the hearty welcome accorded him.

"Superba" is meeting with the heartiest reception in other cities. This big spectacular pantonime, with its various specialty features, its strong cast and its beautiful transformations and tableaux, is the best that the Hanlons have yet presented. The Tiller troupe of dancers and singers elicit great praise, and their pretty faces, well-trained voices and fine terpsichorean work have won the admiration of all. To the children who are attracted by "Superba" this season's production is a greater treat than ever, and furnishes a rare panorama of fairyland.

"THE BLACK FLAG." A large audience and a well-presented A large audience and a well-presented play characterized the performance of "A Parisian Princess" at the London Opera House last night. Miss Katherine Standish did excellent work in the trying dual role of the title, and the support was all that could be desired. The specialties were clever and well received. The bill for tonight is the standard melodrama, "The Black Flag," and it should be greeted by a full house.

CLOSED THEIR ENGAGEMENT. "'Way Down East" last night closed "'Way Down East" last night closed its successful three nights engagement at the Grand Opera House, the last performance being greeted by a big and well-satisfied audience. The success of the special price matinee amply justified Manager Cairns' action in putting it on, and the matinees will undoubtedly prove a popular feature of the season. "'Way Down East" plays the balance of the week at Hamilton.

A BRILLIANT COMEDY.

Roland Reed's "Humbug," which will be presented at the New Grand next Monday evening, is a vivacious and complicated tale of cross purposes. Two young plebeians—one the rich widow of a pork packer, and the other the aspiring son of a German shoemaker—marry under false pretenses, each concealing from the other their real character. The story has to do with the unmasking of each to the other, a task which is accomplished only after a succession of funny and involved situations. The genius which is displayed in thus tangling up the threads of the story is only surpassed by the cleverness with which the author gives the whole mass the twitch which untangles them in a trice at the end. The play, which starts out in the first act as a gentle breeze of comedy, winds up in the third as a whirlwind of fun. The dialogue is crisp and refreshing. A BRILLIANT COMEDY.

Impressive Services Conducted by Masonic Fraternity.

The funeral of the late Richard Becher Hungerford, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Masons in Canada, was attended by one of the largest gatherings of prominent Masons ever assembled, and by many citizens who had known and esteemed him. The services were most impressive. At the home on Elmwood avenue and at the graveside, they were of the description provided by the ritual of the Masonic crder, and were imposing and beautiful. The remains reposed in a rich casket that was almost hidden by a great abundance of floral offerings. After the ceremony at the house it was removed to St. James' Church, where for many years Mr. Hungerford had been churchwarden. The casket was placed in front of the chancel, with the magnificent floral offerings surrounding it. The services in the church were conducted by Ven. Archdeacon Davis in the presence of a gathering that filled it completely. The floral offerings that were received from the branches of Masonry with connected and from his many personal friends were exceedingly beautiful. The majority were emblematic, and all were of handsome design. Many of them came considerable distances.

The grand lodge's memorial was a the grand master's jewel, square and compass, and words "Grand Lodge" brought out very distinctly.

The Supreme Council of the A. and A.

S. Rite, 33 degrees, sent a large design, with the double eagle and "33" worked in vari-colored flowers on the pillow. It was a neat piece of art.
The "Gates Ajar" from the eight city lodges was also an emblem of more than ordinary magnificence, and

A large floral square and compass was the contribution of No. 1 (Erie) Masonic district. The North American Life Association were represented by a magnificent crescent.

Masonic Lodges Nos. 68 and 37 of R. W. Bro. J. C. Morgan, of Barrie, and numerous other brethren of note, sent wreaths, and the sprays and smaller designs from old friends and acquaintances were almost innumerable. Kilwinning, No. 64, opened a special communication in the Blue Room shortly after 2 o'clock, with W. Bro. U. A. Buchner in the chair. After the opening services had been con-cluded, the D. G. M. and officers of grand lodge were admitted and the control of the business handed over to their keeping, the following being the positions held by those who officiated on the occasion: As Grand Master-R. ing, acting grand master. The brethren marched from the late residence to the church, where they lined up, and the carriages containing the mourners and the floral tokens and the hearse passed between the lines. As the casket was carried up the church aisle the organ gave forth the solemn notes of the Dead March in Saul. The full choir were present. The church was filled completely. The center was reserved for the Masonic brethren. Before the members of the fraternity reached the edifice the available space was well taken up by the general public. The chancel and pulpit had been heavily draped in black, as well as the pew which deceased had occupied. The service was a brief one, but very impressive. Two appropriate hymns were sung, and with the Scripture readings and prayers brought the cer-emony to a close. Ven. Archdeacon Davis officiated, assisted by Rev. Canon Smith.

The funeral procession was reform****** ed and proceeded to the Pipe Line road, where carriages and 'busses awaited the Masonic brethren who were on foot, to convey them to the cemetery.

The Masonic rites at the graveside were conducted by the acting grand master, Judge Harding, of Lindsay, assisted by Past Grand Masters Malone, Murray and W. Gibson, and R. W. Bro. J. C. Hegler, of Ingersoll, P. D. D. G. M.

The pallbearers were M. W. Bros. Wm. Gibson, of Beamsville; Hugh Murray, of Hamilton, and E. T. Malone, K.C., of Toronto, all past grand masters; R. W. Bros. De Witt H. Martyn, M.D., Kincardine; J.
