THE NEW COLONIAL SECRETARY. London, June 26.-The Canadian Gazette, treating of the composition of the new Ministry, as far as is known, says: Apart from the politics, we hope that Mr. Chamberlain's tenure in the Colonial Office will be prolonged. There is something piquant in this most interesting figure in English public life being placed in control of the colonial empire. We can hardly imagine that Chamberlain would hesitate to give Canada self-government, and in the matter of copyright we are sure that he will keep a close watch upon colonial interests in which the United States are concerned. His strong personality should enable him to cast aside the traditional policy if it should be found to stand in the way of a vigorous administration of colonial af-

The House of Lords reiected the Home Rule and Employers' Liability Bills. These, with the Welsh Disestablishment, the Irish Land, the abolition of plural voting and the local veto bills are today demanded in the interests of the whole nation; but the most important matter is the Leeds resolution, declaring that when the two Houses of Parliament come into conflict, the will of the Representative Chamber shall prevail.

Mr. Chamberlain today issued an address to his constituents in West Birmingham. Its tenor is similar to that of Mr. Balfour's address. He emphasizes the necessity of dissolving Parliament at the earliest time possible. He says that the policy of the new Government cannot be suitably discussed until after the dissolution, but he declares that the Unionists are absolutely agreed, if the elections place them in power, to lay aside the wild projects of constitutional change and destructive legislation forming the staple proposals of the last Government, and to devote their principal attention to constructive measures and social reforms. #### DASTARDLY DOINGS.

A Leading Buffalonian Captured by Crooks,

And Chained in a Cellar Without Food, for 40 Hours.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 27.—Octavius O. Ccttle, the well-known lawyer, of this city, was kidnapped on Monday morn-He was lured to a vacant house at 36 Bayne street, where he was overpowered by two men, who bound and gagged him, and at the points of revelvers and daggers compelled him to write a letter to his wife directing her to deliver over $2,500 to a messenger to secure his liberation. As Mrs. Cottle was arranging to carry out the instructions, she was advised not to do so. Meanwhile the captive was kept chained in the cellar with one of the daring crooks on guard over him. The fellow went away on Tuesday afternoon, and after several hours of persistent, desperate labor the lawyer managed to break his chain. Early yesterday morning he succeeded in attracting th attention of a policeman. Then, after 40 hours of imprisonment in a dirty underground room, without food or sleep he regained his liberty.

BINDER TWINE.

Protest from the President of the Farmers' Company.

Brantford, June 26 .- The Toronto World publishes a report from Ottawa giving an account of a discussion in the Commons regarding binder twine. In the course of the discussion the statement is made that the Farmers' Binder Twine Company, of Brantford, approached the Government with a view to induce them to raise the price of binder twine manufactured at Kingston Penitentiary, and to enter into a comhine to keep up the price.

The president of the Farmers' Binder Twine Company, Mr. Joseph Stratford, stated emphatically that no combine or understanding to his knowledge exists or was contemplated, desired or required. He had no hesitancy, however, in making a further statement that he had protested that convict labor twine was aggressive as against the existing manufacturers, as it was keing openly advertised as better quality to his and other companies better brands, which is positively not so, and that all his company wanted at the hands of Government was a fair field and no favors, as the Farmers' Binder Twine Company had its honest debts to pay. Mr. Stratford further stated that some time ago he represented to the Government that old American twine was being brought freely into the market to the detriment of Canadian manufacturers, and desired that the customs appraisal on this twine in entering it should be made as large as possible, and no good would come of its being allowed in competition to the splendid new twines made by the Cana ian manufacturers, and that the factory that he stood at the head or, consisting as it did of thousands of farmers as stockholders, was neither political nor aggressive against any Government.

NIPPED.

New York, N. Y., June 26.-When the steamer Rhynland landed at pier No. 14 today, she was boarded by detectives, who had warrants for the arrest of two men who came over in her. The men they were after were Max Gluckman, the chief mechanic of the firebug gang, and Adolph Hirsehkopf, whose confession has led to the arrests of several members of the gang. Both were indicted last March and they dis appeared at the time. They were traced to Europe and Russia, it was learned ten days ago, that they had started back for this country on the steamer Rhynland. The detectives took their men off the steamer and locked them up.

"An English woman said recently that men were never so happy as when they were dirty, and although personally I deny the accusation, I cannot help thinking that a bit of the accusation is true. Two or three weeks away from civilization, with no chance to ever shave, seems to delight some men. They go back to first principles; they are children and 'dirty boys' again, and they hate to be washed."

When the devil doesn't know just what to do in a church he generally raises a disturbance in the choir

To be fashionable, according to the very latest New York argot, one must either be "it" or "not it." To say that either be "it" or "not it." To say that a man or woman is so "it" denotes the highest development of chic. But, as a rule, I dislike argot, and discourage it. Slang has no place in the vocabulary of a gentleman or lady.

If there were no difficulties there would be no men.

Chic white kid belts are mentioned as much worn with yachting suits. Silk and chiffon blousettes, as well as white muslin ones, are grande mode.

In

consequence of this abjuring of milk, a Japanese baby takes to its tea drinking and rice eating as soon as it is weaned. The rice is served hot at breakfast and dinner and cold for supper, with hot tea poured over it." But what a season of sheer, filmy, gossamer gowns, laces, tissues and frills this is to be! What airyness, lightness, fairness! What transformations of beauty la mode pours out upon us from week to week! The New Pavement on Dundas and Richmond Streets.

Vitrified Brick Promoters Siake a Strong Effort

To Have No. 2 Committee Reconsider the Matter-Street Railway Wants Supplied.

Py a vote of 12 to 5, the City Council last night decided to grant the ratepayers' petition and lay an asphalt pavement on Dundas street, between Wellington and Ridout streets, and on Richmond street, from the Grand Trunk station to Fullarton street. The street railway company were also granted the privilege of building a line on Railway street, from the Wharncliffe road to the limits. This will form part of the Springbank route.

In opening the council, Mayor Little presented the following written message: "Some explanation is due you for asking you to take the trouble to attend a special meeting such a short time before the regular monthly session. You will remember that at the last meeting of the council No. 2 committee was instructed to take the necessary steps to proceed with the asphalt pavement. After that meeting my attention was called to the fact that in order to comply with the law as to ad-vertising, the work would have to be postponed until about the time of the Western Fair, and the manager of the street railway having stated that he was ready to proceed with the company's portion of the work as soon as the matter was definitely settled, and that they wished to have Dundas street at least in good order before the Fair, I took the liberty of asking the chairman of No. 2 to call his committee together for the purpose of making a special report to the council, provided that the petitions were sufficiently signed. At first I was in favor of vitrified brick, but finding that such a large number of the merchants on Dundas and Richmond streets preferred asphalt, I took steps to get all the information I could respecting it, and I have no hesitation in saying that a good asphalt pavement properly laid will meet all the requirements of the city.

THE COMMITTEE'S REPORT. No. 2 committee's report read: Your committee having examined the petitions for asphalt pavement on Dundas, between Ridout and Wellington, and on Richmond, between the Grand Trunk and Fullarton street, and the assessment commissioner's report thereon, recommend that the prayer of the same be granted, and that they be referred to the assessment commissioner with instructions to advertise the holding of the court of revision thereon port, Ald. Parnell said No. 2 committee was to carry out the wishes of the ratepayers. He said, however, that the majority of No. 2 was opposed to asphalt. Ald. Pritchard warned the council against adopting the asphalt pavement, and called attention to the trials of other cities with their streets. In reply to this, Ald. Wm. Heaman, chairman of No. 2, said some of the very finest avenues in America were paved with asphalt and were a pride. All that was needed was a proper foundation and first-class material. Ald. Skinner asked what portion of the ratepayers on Dundas and Richmond streets had signed the petition.

He also took the opportunity to speak in favor of vitrified brick. Assessment Commissioner Grant replied, stating that on Dundas street. between Wellington and Ridout, there were 147 owners. Of these 105 had signed the petition—a majority of seven over the required two-thirds. On Richmond street, from the Grand Trunk station to Fullarton street, there were 80 owners, 57 of whom had agreed to asphalt, or a majority of three over the required two-thirds. Ald. J. W. Jones, though opposed to asphalt, had signed the petition, not being desirous of preventing any improvements. Ald. Weld was another advocate of the brick, and moved in amendment to the adoption of the report that it be referred back to the committee to ascertain if the ratepayers would be willing to have the brick instead. Ald. Carrothers seconded, not with the object of balking the matter, he said, but in order to ascertain the cost of the two pavements. He preferred brick.

Manager Carr, of the street railway company, was requested to give his view of the matter, the company having about one-third of the street to pave. He stated that asphalt did not give as good satisfaction as the brick on streets where heavy trolley cars were run. He considered it a good idea to lay brick between the tracks and asphalt outside of them. Ald. Weld's amendment was defeated on the following division: Yeas-Ald. Pritchard, Carrothers, Skinner, Ardill and Weld—5. Nays—Ald. John Hea-man, Brener, O'Meara, J. W. Jones, Powell, Wm. Heaman, Armstrong, Callahan, Garratt, Dreaney, Nutkins and Parnell-12.

Another amendment was offered by Ald. Pritchard that between the tracks and at intersections brick be used. Ald. Skinner seconded, but the amendment was ruled out of order and the report adopted.

STREET RAILWAY WANTS. The street railway company asked permission to lay a line along Railway street, from the Wharncliffe road west to the city limits. The application was opposed by Mr. Jones, one of the four property owners on the street, and one or two of the aldermen. Ald. Garratt moved that the request be granted on the condition that the company further extend the city lines in the fourth and fifth wards.

Ald. Jones moved that the company be given the right to lay the track, and that the matter be referred for the pre-paration of the necessary bylaw. Caried. Ald. Garrett's scheme had three supporters.

Before the council adjourned Mayor Little gave notice of the bridge tenders received by the Port Stanley board.
All the members of the board were Commissioner present. Assessment Grant acted as city clerk in the absence of Mr. Kingston.

SUCCESSFUL CELEBRATION.

Big Gathering of Presbyterians in Westminster.

Rev. Mr. Sawer's Annual Missionary Picnic-Most Enjoyable Despite the Storm.

It was an ideal morning for a picnic, and few of the many who boarded the L. E. and D. R. R. train yesterday morning provided themselves with any necessaries for bad weather. Two carloads were filled with Presbyterians and their friends bound for Westminster station. Taking a beautiful country road for a distance of a quarter of a mile from the station, the party found themselves at the First Presbyterian Church of Westminster, commonly known as the Northern Westminster Church. The spacious and pretty grounds were crowded with members of the congregation and presented of the disthe congregation and people of the district. All met to celebrate the eighth annual missionary feast. The attendance was about 800.

Eight years ago Rev. E. H. Sawers, of the church—a more worthy pastor there could scarcely be—inaugurated this feast. His object was to increase the interest in church missions, and every June since these meetings have been conducted with growing popularity. As a direct result of these feasts, this church stands at the head as a contributor to missionary work in this Presbytery. As another result, Dr. Jas. Menzies, a young man in connection with this congregation, is to be ordained in August or September as a missionary to Honan. Besides being a great benefit to their own church, London, St. Thomas and other districts have been greatly helped by these ga-

Yesterday's feast and picnic was certainly the most successful one of the eight. The youth and beauty of the surrounding country were present, besides the five score or more from London, a contingent from St. Thomas, and friends from as far as Ingersoll, Aylmer and other places. About 12 o'clock the feasting proper began. Where all the eatables came from is a mystery to anyone but the people of that neighborhood. The Sunday school building was full of tables, the lawn had also a number, and people were sitting on the grass, wherever there was the least shade from the sun. Again and again the tables were filled, and as often emptied, and it was two hours later tefore the last person had his dinner, The great rainfall was the only thing not down on the programme, but as it was of great public benefit it was welcomed with becoming resignation. About 1:30, when the storm broke, the people regardless of the muttering thunder were all over the grounds. When the first big drops came there was a rush for the church, and as soon as the doorway was jammed, the manse, sheds and stables were also filled. It poured down for about fifteen minutes, and then Old Sol came out and helped to dry the dripping garments in time for the afternoon meeting. But as soon as the service started, the rain started

The clergymen present who took part were: Revs. E. H. Sawers, pastor; R. Johnston and J. G. Stuart, London; in accordance with the provisions of the Municipal Act."

In seconding the adoption of the representation were: Revs. W. J. Clark, and D. Robertson, London; F. C. Simpson had but one duty to perform and that Bridgewater, Nova Scotia; John Curwas to carry out the wishes of the rate-D. Smith, Aylmer; James Little, Birn R. McIntyre, St. Thomas; and J. Mc Ewen, London. Messrs. G. A. McGil-livray, Wm. Stevely, A. M. Gunn, C R. Sayer, R. A. Gray, O. J. Stevenson and others were also present. Rev. A. Henderson, of Appin, preached the annual sermon, taking as his text, "Do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith." It was an able discourse. The preacher pointed out that there was no antagonism between home and foreign work, and there was no sense in saying "I am for home missions," and in say ing "I go for foreign missions." Our duty is to both.

Rev. Robert Johnston, in his address, spoke on "Giving," and illustrated it by the widow of Zarepth, by Abraham offering Isaac, and by the lad giving his loaves and fishes to feed the multitude. Mr. Johnston characterized them as giving our first-fruits, giving our best and giving our whole. He spoke with much fervor.

During the morning service the brothers Nichols (three) sang a trio. The choir sang a number of selections during both services.

In the afternoon Rev. J. G. Stuart was the first speaker. He hoped that they had not a patent upon this sort of meetings. "We are simply playing with missions as yet," said Mr.Stuart, "and are only giving the fag-end of our means. This is our duty as loyal subjects of the Great King to do this great work." He took "Honan" as the subject of his remarks, and spoke of Knox College having sent out the first student missionary to this, the youngest mission in the field. Mrs. Goforth, of Honan, was present and gave a short adress. It is seven years and a half since Mr. and Mrs. Goforth left for China, and it was three and a half years before they could ge into Honan. Mrs. Goforth said: "W learned the language and many other important things, and we were saved from many mistakes which we must have fallen into if we had been admitted at once." Mrs. Goforth proceeded to say that many things that would be treated as great hardships in Canada are not looked on as such in their work. There are good results. Rev. Thomas Wilson, of Aylmer, spoke especially to the young people and gave good reasons why they should engage in active misisonary work; be-cause of the heritage left us by our fathers, the fact that young people are taking such an active part in church work, and that the mission fields are filling up with young people.

Rev. Mr. Duff, of the China inland mission, said that out of 40 societies in China, only two were from Canada, and one of these was the Presbyterian. He said that China had about a third of the population of the world. There are only 1,700 missionaries, or about one to a portion as large as Ontario. His first year was spent in a Chinese inn, and the next in hunting for a house.

Mr. Sawers closed the programme with a few appropriate remarks. A duet was sung by Misses Murray and Riddel, and solos by Mr. J. E. Nichol and Miss Maggie Murray. The First Presbyterian Church is situated on concession three, of Westminster, in a most beautiful spot. The annual report for 1894 gives it a membership of 312 and 112 families. The total sum collected for missionary and benevolent objects was $1,579 45, or an average of over $14 per family. The receipts for the year were $1,276 65, and Telephone 681. the expenditures $1,435 22. bath school has a membership of 270, with collections amounting to $118. The W. F. M. S. raised $150 80 during the year. The Y. P. S. C. E. is in a flourishing condition, and altogether the congregation is one of the most flourishing and pushing in the Presbytery.

ery of Mrs. John Dowly. Owen Sound, June 24.-Word has been received here of the complete restoration to health of Mrs. John Dowly, wife of a former well known and esteemed resident of the town. The intelligence has been very gladly received, as Mrs. Dowly has many friends here who are well aware of the lamentable condition of her health during the past six or seven years. Her illness has been found to result from a severe kidney complaint, and she has been restored to health by a judicious use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now well known to most of the residents in this locality, as having previously effected some very remarkable cures.

It is stated by the Popular Health Magazine that redness of the nose is caused by indigestion, not intemperance. The remedy, it is stated, is to abstain from over-indulgence in fats and sweets.

Dear Sirs—I have been sick nearly two years and have been doctoring with some of the most expert doctors of the United States. I have been bathing and drinking hot water at the Hot Springs, Ark., but it seemed eyerything failed to do me good. After I saw your advertisement I thought I would try your pills, and have nearly used two boxes; been taking two at bedtime and one after breakfast, and they have done me more good than anything else I had used. My trouble has been with the liver. My skin and eyes were all yellow; I had sleepy, drowsy feelings; felt like a drunken man. Pain right above the navel, like as if it was bile on top of the stomach. My bowels man. Pain right above the navel, like as if it was bile on top of the stomach. My bowels were very costive. My mouth and tongue sore most of the time. Appetite fair, but food would not digest, but settle heavy on my stomach and some few mouthfuls of food come up again. I could only eat light food that digests easily. Please send "Book of Advice." HAD FOR MANUFACTURERS, TOO. Some time ago the "Advertiser" pointed out that one effect of the policy of high taxation, enforced by the men now in power at Ottawa, was to injure the smaller manufacturers and tromote centralization and "combine" rule. Some of the "protectionist" authorities profess to see something illogical in the declaration that high taxation has helped one set of manufacturers and has wiped others out of existence. There is nothing illogical in the contention. Many manufacturers recognize the injury that is done to them, partly through the squeezing of the combine element and partly through the impairment of the purchasing power of their customers; and for this reason they heartily support the Liberal policy of a tariff for revenue only. We gave an instance of how an intelligent manufacturer had protested against the increase of the tax on agricultural implements, when it was proposed to burden the Canadian people with a so-called "protective" tariff, and this instance has called forth the criticism that it is queer that the same system can help one man-a Masseyand hurt another-a Witson. Manufacturers themselves easily understand the situation, and so does every intelligent citizen who is not blinded by prejudice. John Watson, of Ayr, made a good living in producing agricultural implements long before the "N. P." was thought of. He began with a very small capital, and before 1876, when a Parliamentary inquiry was ordered, had grown to be a prosperous and in fluential manufacturer. At that time he protested against the increase of the tax on agricultural implements, even though it might for a time put money into his pocket. He pointed out that with free coal, cheap iron, steel, paints, and other supplies, and with farmers living under a low tax rate, and, therefore, prosperous customers, the manufacturer in the country town could make a living. But he expressed the belief that if taxes on implements were increased, the taxes on raw material were added to, and the taxes on the farmers also increased, the smaller factories, which then dotted the country, would go to the wall. And so it has come about in the implement manufacturing business, as well as in other industries. And among the dozen and a half implement factories compelled to go out of business has been that so well conducted by this stalwart Canadian, John Watson. The centralization he feared has taken place, for nothing tends to centralization and to combinations more than the collection of public revenue for any other purpose than the use of the public. The same results attended the cotton industry in the west, as Mr. Bain, M.P., pointed out. The rich combine shut up the Dundas mill, which was a prosperous concern as far back as 1876, and for many years before, in order the more effectually to keep control of the prices, and the work people were set adrift. These are notorious facts, and they prove that many industries have been blighted by the great centralizing agency; many towns and villages have had factories wiped out that flourished in the midst of them under a revenue tariff: while the country generally has not profited by the centralization of the manufacturing power in a few places like Toronto and Montreal, but rather has been distinctly injured.

THE WAR ENDED.

The war on the Liberal aldermen of the London City Council of 1895 has ended. Six months have been spent in the attempt to change the personnel of the Board of Aldermen, much money was spent in needless lawsuits, and what is the result? Mr. J. W. The anonymous letter writer could not keep out of the differences that have arisen as to the placing of a pastor for Queen's Avenue Church in this city. He has been busily at work, writing communications under a varlety of signatures, but all having a common object, to aggravate the difficulty, and to stir up bad blood. No wonder that such an one is ashamed to sign his name to his newspaper contributions. He cannot, however, have his anonymous attacks printed in the "Advertiser." This newspaper, in justice to the persons attacked, in justice to its readers, prints no anonymous, ribstabbing communications.

ASPHALT GOES IN LONDON. London City Council last night chose asphalt pavements to renew the roadways in the center of the city. Two reasons are given for adopting this pavement. First, the property owners who will have to pay for the work are almost unanimously in favor of it; and secondly, information obtained trial is to the effect that it is the best from cities where it has had years of material offering for the price.

Our view is that asphalt is good if properly laid, and very infrequently broken into for pipe-laying or repairing. But it must be laid on the best possible foundation.

AUSTRALIAN EXPERIENCE

"I look upon protection, as applied to agriculture, as a hollow farce. If, for instance, there had been a duty placed on wool 40 years ago we would now have protectionists confusing hazy free-traders with the magnificent example of what protection had done for the great staple industry of Australia. The fact is, in the case of agriculture, as in the case of wool, we have such vast stretches of virgin soil and such a small population, that in the shortest space of time the temporary, selfish and illusory advantage of protection disappears. The moment our local market is supplied all our farmers are exposed to the vicissitudes of the free trade prices of the world.—Premier Reid of New South Wales.

The publishers of McClure's Magazine announce, to begin with the July number, a reduction of price to 10 cents a copy and $1 a year. They explain that they are able to make a magazine of the highest quality at this price, and that they propose to give the public the benefit of this ability.

The current July number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly presents an art display that is unprecedented even the history of this great periodical of the people. It contains no less than one hundred and twenty illustrations, many of them full-page engravings in the best styles of modern pictorial art. It is truly a midsummer number, both in illustrations and in reading matter.

Sir Hibbert Tupper said that the cases were particularly distressing, as these people were suffering the consequences of delay, and had committed no of- lantic and Lake Superior Railway Comfense and contravened no law. The pany asking leave to lay before the Russian Government had conducted an ex parte examination into the facts as to the seizure of a number of Canadian f580,000 in bonds, and also copies of the vessels, and reported that four ships letters of the Department of Finance were not guilty of what they were charged with. Her Majesty's Government had within the last few days informed the Canadian Government that they were pressing for damages, and that the negotiations were proceeding, and that an endeavor would be made to meet the wishes of the Canadian Government in the Bering Sea Bill now passing through the British Parliament. Mr. Davies with the approval of Sir Hibbert Tupper gave notice that he would discuss the subject on a motion going into supply. Sir Richard Cartwright thought that the presence of some British gun ats natroling Bering Sea would have a good moral effect both on the Russians and on the Americans, although, of Sir Hibbert Tupper replied that the most prominent duty performed by British men-of-war last season in Bering Sea was to receive at the hands of the Americans two vessels which had been seized contrary to all regulations and contrary to law. Col. Prior stated that the British Co-umbia members would like the British Government to send the men-ofwar into that locality to look after the sealing. He thought the British Government should show more interest in patroling those waters.

The matter then dropped. * * * *

Another long discussion on the rival claims and merits of the Coast Line and South Shore Railway, Nova Scotia, ook place on the adjourned debate on Mr. Flint's motion for papers, and was not concluded at 6 o'clock when the House rose.

At 8 o'clock private bills had precedence. In committee on the bill respecting the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway, Mr. Frazer moved to insert a clause that compels the company to provide for the unpaid bills of laborers and sub-contractors left in the urch by the assignment of Bracey Bros., the main contractors. Coatsworth read a telegram setting forth that the company was willing to meet all claims if possible, and read an amending clause which he submitted would cover the case.

Mr. Davies said there was doubt about their jurisdiction, and to make the clause effective it should provide that the bill should not come into operation until the laborers' claims were paid. A long discussion ensued, and it was finally agreed to let the bill go back to the railway committee to consider the best draft of the required clause.

Mr. Cameron, of Inverness, resumed the discussion on Mr. Flint's motion repecting the Coast Line and South Shore Railways. There was evidently a desire to talk against time for some ulterior purpose known only to parliamentary intriguers. Mr. Cameron occupied nearly the whole of the rest of the sitting. Messrs. McIsaac and Borden also spoke. Mr. Kaulback moved adjournment of the debate, and the House adjourned near midnight.

A ROW.

The railway committee this morning considered the bill giving a federal charter to the South Shore Railway Company of Nova Scotia, incorporated by the Legislature of that Province in 1892. It was promoted by Mr. White, of Shelburne, and very strongly posed by the friends of the Coast Line Railway Company.

Mr. Bingay, of Yarmouth, assisted

Mr. White in presenting the bill, while Messrs. Forbes, Frazer, Casey, Langelier, Mulock, McIsaac and others op-

The fight, which was warm from the start, waxed hotter and hotter, until the meeting merged into scenes of disorder transcending anything in the history of the committee, and resulting finally in an adjournment without reporting the bill. The Conservatives had been whipped in to vote for the bill in large numbers, and as it was a hot day and the atmosphere of the room was | previously been deposited.

ternoon Mr. Davies brought up an international question of the seizures of ten to the opponents of the bill, and certain Canadian vessels by. Russian tried to shout them down as they got men-of-war in Bering Sea in 1892, refer- up one after another to speak to the

NOTES.

A petition was presented to the House today by Mr. McAllister from the At-House copies of the prospectus issued in England by the railway company in connection of its proposed issue of these bonds. The statements in the prospectus having been questioned in a discussion in the House and "your petitioners greatly injured thereby, the railway company wished to lay the documents before the House "in order that the correctness of the prospectus and accompanying letter may be established and the honesty of your petitioners vindicated."

> Steel Structures Will Be Erected-What Stone Arches and Filling in Would Have Cost

A meeting of the London and Port Stanley Railroad directors was held in Mayor Little's office yesterday afternoon to award the contract for the bridges over Kettle and Mill creeks, just south of St. Thomas. In calling for tenders, Engineer Graydon asked for prices for the erection of steel structures, and also for building stone arches and filling in the ravines, making a solid roadbed. As already announced in the "Advertiser," the steel bridges could be placed at less than half of what the other plan would cost. Tenders to the number of about 20 were received, from the best known bridge and construction companies in Canada and a few from the United States. For the steel bridges the figures ranged from $38,241 to $67,000, while for filling in the ravines and stone arches, the tenders ranged from $78,-695 to $95,985. The board did not take the latter into consideration, and as for the other bids, only two received any serious attention. They were from the Hamilton Bridge Company, $38,241, and the Dominion Bridge Company, Montreal $39,-660. Both these figures included an allowance of $5,000 for stone work, which was not included , the tenders, thus making the tenders for the superstructure alone that much less. The Hamilton company, however, had not, in their plans, met the specifications drawn up by Engineers Grayon and DeGurse, and this apparently militated against them. The Montreal ompany were the only tenders that had done so, and on the written recommendation of the two engineers, their tender was

The Official Strength of the Various

Battalions Given. The Thirty-Second Leads-Bugle Blasts-The Rations

The first day in camp passed off pleasantly and profitably. The in-tense heat of the morning was modified in the afternoon by a delightful shower, which, while not interfering with drill, left the evening cool and refreshing. The men found their blankets comfortable at night, and tired out with the day's work, no doubt slept soundly. A large number flocked to the city in the evening, and citizens returned the compliment by visiting the camp in large numbers. The soldier boys who remained on the grounds enjoyed themselves before dark in varous ways. The open field was turned into a play ground, and many amused themselves with baseball, foot races and other sports. The tired lounged around, reading, smoking and playing games. Here and there a stalwart was stretched out in an improvised barber's chair while a companion wielded the razor. Shaving operations are usually performed in the open air because of the better light, and the performance generally attracts a knot of small boys whose admiring gaze some times embarrasses subject and oper-The faces of the men are gradually assuming a healthy brown color, which will deepen as the days go by. Universal dissatisfaction is expressed by the visitors at the change in the date of the camp, which will compel them to spend the approaching holiday away from their homes. This they con-sider a hardship, and they hope that the authorities will make the work on that day as light as possible or grant them a holiday in whole or in part. As they have been deprived of enjoying it at home, they hope to have some pri-

Until about 11 o'clock this morning the weather was perfect for drilling The sun was veiled in ficecy clouds and a cool breeze fanned the Heights. Before noon the sky cleared and Sol beamed too brightly for comfort, though the wind continued to temper the heat. The men passed a good night, the temperature being conducive to sleep. The Essex Battalien spent the day at the ranges in rifle practice, and the others went through the customary drill. The men are already showing much improvement. The majority of the privates are raw recruits, and their maneuvers at first were awkward in the ex-treme, but their step is becoming more uniform, their lines more regular and their action more prompt. A Good Story.

A story is going the rounds at the expense of one of the best known men of this place. We shall not mention his name, but you know him. Of rather determined mien, he has of late been showing signs of mental agitation. He wears a full beard, but a few days since, his wife, much to her alarm, found him sharpening a razor. She thought his mind was unhinged, and went into hysterics. Explanations followed, and it was found that life had for him still some charm. He intended to use the razor upon painful corns. A friend who had used Putnam's Corn Extractor with success advised its use, with the following results: Man quihappy, wife ditto, razor sent away. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

He was sent to the Belleville Hospital, where he died at 12:25 p.m. today.

BRANDING OF CHEESE. Ottawa, June 26.—Some time ago the committee on agriculture sent cut a large number of circulars to manufacturers of cheese and cheese dealers, asking their opinion on the merits of Major McLennan's bill for the compulsory branding of cheese. Quebec, out of 430 replies, 409 favor branding it, 11 oppose it, and 10 are doubtful. The total result is that out of 775 replies received, 670 are in favor of compulsory branding, 64 oppose it, and 41 are

The first day in camp passed off pleasantly and profitably. The in-tense heat of the morning was modified in the afternoon by a delightful shower, which, while not interfering with drill, left the evening cool and refreshing. The men found their blankets comfortable at night, and tired out with the day's work, no doubt slept A large number flocked to soundly. the city in the evening, and citizens returned the compliment by visiting the camp in large numbers. The soldier boys who remained on the grounds enjoyed themselves before dark in varous ways. The open field was turned into a play ground, and many amused themselves with baseball, foot races and other sports. The tired ones lounged around, reading, smoking and playing games. Here and there a stalwart was stretched out in an improvised barber's chair while a companion wielded the razor. Shaving operations are usually performed in the open air because of the better light, and the performance generally attracts a knot of small boys whose admiring gaze some times embarrasses subject and operator. The faces of the men are gradually assuming a healthy brown color, which will deepen as the days go by. The officers of the visiting battalions were invited to a tennis party on the Barracks grounds by Lieut.-Col. Smith and accepted in large numbers. fair sex was well represented at the party, which was highly enjoyable.

On Friday night of both this week and next open air concerts will be given by the combined bands of the ive battalions, to which the D. A. G. and staff heartily invite the citizens of London. There will be good music and plenty of it

Admiral Wanless of the Young Liberal Fleet tonight invited the officers of the visiting battalions to attend the grand demonstrations to be given in Queen's Park Monday afternoon and evening by the Fleet. He was warmly thanked by all, and if the day's reguations will permit the invitation will btless be accepted by the majority. Twenty-first (Essex) Battalion is ing to Chatham on Dominion Day to assist in the celebration there. Universal dissatisfaction is expressed by the visitors at the change in the date of the camp, which will compel them to spend the approaching holiday away from their homes. This they consider a hardship, and they hope that the authorities will make the work on that day as light as possible or grant them a holiday in whole or in part. As they have been deprived of enjoying it at home, they hope to have some private pleasure here. ORDERS FOR THURSDAY. London, June 26, 1895. Field officer of the day to-morrow, Major Macqueen, Twenty-second Bat-

Until about 11 o'clock this morning the weather was perfect for drilling The sun was veiled in freecy clouds and a cool breeze fanned the Heights. Before noon the sky cleared and Sol beam ed too brightly for comfort, though the wind continued to temper the heat. The men passed a good night, the temperature being conducive to sleep. The Essex Battalien spent the day at the ranges in rifle practice, and the others went through the customary drill. The men are already showing much im-provement. The majority of the privates are raw recruits, and their maneuvers at first were awkward in the extreme, but their step is becoming more uniform, their lines more regular and their action more prompt. The instructors, however, have yet to exercise a good deal of tongue and patience. The camp strength of the visiting

Music and Elecution at the Grand Opera House To-night and To-morrow Night.

Tonight and tomorrow night will prove two of the most interesting evenings of music and ejocution given in this city this year. The occasions are the closing concerts of the Conservatery of Music. Mr. Barron (the princi pai) has spared no pains to make it a great success. The programme will be different each night. The funny comedietta, "The Mouse Trap," and the physical culture drill will be given each The musical programme is extremely interesting. It consists of four pianos work, songs, piano, guitar and mandolin solos, str ng accompaniments to concertos, a chorus of lady students of 75 voices. The stage setting will be very attractive. A fashionable audience is already assured. Altogether 150 students will be taking part. Mr. Shannon, the photo artist, will take flash light photograph before and after the concerts. A Good Story.

A story is going the rounds at the expense of one of the best known mer of this place. We shall not mention his name, but you know him. Of rather determined mien, he has of late been showing signs of mental agitation. He wears a full beard, but a few days his wife, much to her alarm, found him sharpening a razor. She thought his mind was unhinged, and went into hysterics. Explanations followed, and it was found that life had for him still some charm. He intended to use the razor upon painful corns. A friend who had used Putnam's Corn Extractor with success advised its use with the following results: Man quihappy, wife ditto, razor sent away. Use Putnam's Corn Extractor.

On 'Change. Special to C. E. Turner, broker, Masonic Temple, from Kennett, Hopkins Company.

Chicago, June 26.—There is a growing confidence in wheat, and although the maket reacts sharply at times, holders do not get panicky and sell out. The situation is getting so strong that outsiders are coming back into the market, and local traders are not left to carry the burden, as for some days past. There is no improvement in the foreign situation. Markets abroad are relatively weaker than Chicago, and the export demand is discouraging. Threshing returns are the most convincing argu-ments on the long side. Everywhere they tell the same story of disappointment, and it is this which may be depended on to furnish the force for the next upward movement. Primary rests light, and old stocks of wheat are not likely to be added to the receipts, at least for some weeks. St. Louis is down to 100,000 bushels in public warehouses. and still bidding a big premium for the wheat which cometh not.

Corn and oats are heavy, with disposition to raid oats. Don't look as if there could be much money short in them under these prices.

Provisions, very little doing, and prices easily moved on a moderate order.

DESERTED BY HER HUSBAND

Pitiable Condition of a Woman Arrested for Larceny,

Sole Support of Three Young Children-Suspended Sentence-Hugh Ryan in Trouble-To Increase Bicycle Fines.

Mrs. Georgina Kerslake, the woman who was caught while in the act of stealing from Whiskard's drygoods store last night, was before the police magistrate this morning. Two charges were preferred against her: (1) The larceny of a large quantity of goods, valued at $40 and (2) for attempting another larceny. The lot of Mrs. Kerslake, as related by her counsel, Mr. Meredith, has been a most unfortunate and trying one. "She had," explained the counsel, "been deserted by her husband for about six years, and during that time supported herself by doing "It is certainly a deplorable condition for the woman, and if imprisoned it is hard to sav what will be done with her children. Hitherto Mrs. Kerslake has borne an excellent reputation, and it is almost certain she was driven to the larceny on account of her distressing | March 3, 1892, Earl of Rosebery 1 circumstances. A plea of guilty was June 24, Marquis of Salisbury - courts generally - to impose suspended sentence on first offenders.

Deputy Crown Attorney McKillop and Mr. Whiskard consented to suspend sentence, the latter imposing one conditionthat Mrs. Kerslake move out of her present quarters. This was agreed to and the prisoner was discharged. The stolen goods were in court. They included about a dozen pairs of black stockings, an almost endless quantity of embroidery, toweling, a fur muff, and trinkets. Entrance to the place had been secured by breaking a pane of glass in the lower sash and removing the rod which held it down. A SERIOUS CHARGE.

James Ryan, an elderly man living at 761 Colborne street, had the very serious charge of attempted criminal assault entered against his name. Frank Cameron, a neighbor, was the complainant, and the alleged incended victim was his 14-yearold daughter Jane. Cameron, it seems, was away from home last night, and the went to look for him. THE QUEEN'S MINISTERS. The present Ministry is the twentieth that has seen service under Queen Victoria and the nineteenth formed under her rule. When she came to the throne in 1837 Viscount Melbourne was in power. Gladstone has been Premier four times, and Lord Salisbury twice prior to his present call. Lord Derby was three times Prime Minister, and Mr. Disraeli twice. Mr. Gladstone was for twelve years at the head of his various Ministries. The Premier who comes second in length of service is Palmerston with a little over nine years, and next Salisbury, with somewhat less than seven. It is by no means unlikely however, that Salisbury will break Gladstone's record, being twenty years the junior of the ex-leader of the Liberal party. Following are the various Ministries that have seen service under Queen Victoria, with the length of time they respectively lasted, with the exception of that now being formed:

The Secret Out.

"We are going to Washington are we not?" she now half interrogated, half

He replied that this had been his in-"Then we shall have to start soon, for it is a long ride to Jersey City."

"I had expected—" he began, but he did not continue. Why waste words when she was only asking him to do what his own better judgment told him was best.

"You will go?" she persisted. "As soon as you can get ready." Her look of relief was unmistakable. She smiled and a tint of color came into her cheek. 'You are good," she declared, warm-Then as a loud swell of music rose from below, she glanced nervously at her dress and drew back. "I have to put on my traveling suit," she remarked. "When that is done we will call mother. Wait for me in your room." And with a nod she glided from him, her long train sweeping behind her, with reckless haste.

He watched her for a moment, his brows bent, but his heart in a glow. He did not understand her, but at this crisis he did not know that he wished to. The fascination of her look might depart when her trouble did, and he was not yet ready to see it go even though he grieved to have her ill, and felt a pang of real pain at the sight of her hollow eyes, whose glance he had lately found so brilliant.

He was therefore looking in her direction when she re-entered her room, and still looking when in less than a minute she came out again, and peering carefully on all sides, slipped up to a door near by, opened it, and discovering nothing to disturb her, passed hurriedly in, She carried her suit, hat and a small traveling satchel on her arm. It made him think of his own clothes and of another fact that was slightly embarrassing. This was, that his trunk was at his own house and his money Neither had he any carriage at his disposal, having dismissed his own as we remember at the elevated station down town. He would therefore have to request Mrs. Gretorex to order up her horses, which was certainly an awkward piece of business, and he would have to carry his bride to his own house before he could start with her to Washington. But these were small matters after the serious anxieties he had already experienced; and determining to make light of the whole affair, he sent word to Mrs. Gretorex that circumstances compelled him to take his bride away at an earlier hour than he had contemplated, and asked if he might be accommodated with the use of her carriage, as his own was not at his com-

This brought the lady to his room, as he had expected, and a short passage at arms occurred between them which ended in his wishes being respected and the carriage ordered. But Mrs. Gretorex was greatly disappointed and did not hesitate to say so. It was consequently a relief to Dr. Cameron to have their interview interrupted as it shortly was by the appearance of his wife, fully dressed and ready for departure. 'Oh!" she murmured, as she saw them together, and set down the satchel she carried in some confusion. But she speedily recovered her self-possession,

"Sorry to leave you so soon, mother. It would be pleasant to stay, of course. but I had an awful shock when that scream was heard, and Dr. Cameron thinks as I do, that we had better go while I have the strength to do so. You will pardon us, won't you, especially as you will see us so soon and advancing lightly, observed with Mrs. Gretorex did not answer; she was examining her daughter's dress. "Well, I never saw you look so well in elive before," she observed, at last, as the daughter turned almost petulantly aside. "And how that new dressmaker does fit you. Your figure looks as well again as it did in Madame Dubois' dresses. Anyone would have declared you had gained five pounds, if they did not stop to see that it was the skill of the modiste that had rounded you out so gracefully. I will never Interfere in such matters again, my love."

The young bride flushed, as if this obtrusion of feminine trivialties into a departure of this nature was especially distasteful to her. But she said nothing, and lifted up her face to be kissed, in the cold and somewhat ceremonious way Dr. Cameron himself had been accustomed to. "Good-bye, mamma," she murmured. "Say the same to papa for me. I-Oh, where is Peter; I have a trunk to go down." "Peter is coming now. Good-bye, Dr. Cameron. Bring my daughter back as happy as she was four years ago, and shall have nothing more to ask of u." And Mrs. Gretorex stepped aside as if to make room for them to pass

But though Dr. Cameron, animated by her gesture, led the way to the door, his bride showed no disposition to follow him.

"I will wait till Peter has taken my trunk," she declared.
And though he endeavored to urge her to descend while the hall was comparatively empty, she refused to do so, and not only lingered till Peter appeared, persisted in going with him herinto her room where she showed nim her trunk, strapped and ready by murmured Mrs. Gretorex. But her daughter not minding the implied criticism, advanced with forced gaiety, and taking Dr. Cameron's arm, announced that she was now ready to

"I will just close and lock your door." said Mrs. Gretorex.

But her daughter, saying there would be plenty of time for doing this after her departure, led her mother towards the stairs, and smilingly waited till she had seen her long damask train disappear across the first landing. Then she looked up at Dr. Cameron and they ran rapidly down.
"We will slip out as quietly as we can," she whispered. But the company had already got wind of their departure and there were many good-byes to be answered, and much merriment, to which Genevieve lent herself with a good grace, though her husband could see that her eye scarcely left her mother's tall figure, and that the grasp of her hand on his arm tightened if ever that mother made the least movement as if about to withdraw.

Finally the last handshake was given, the last jest uttered, and they found themselves at the carriage door. "Now," cried he, "we will soon be on our way." And he held the door open for her to enter. But she was not yet ready. "I have something to say to Peter, first," she declared. And slipping up to the old servant, who was just about to re-enter the house, she thanked him and gave him what seemed a final gift.

The man bowed and went hurriedly in. She cast one look behind her, sighed, or so her husband thought, then turned quickly and stepped into the carriage. The doctor followed, the door was shut with a bang, and the carriage rolled away. As it did so, the young husband felt the pressure of his wife's head on his shoulder, and looking down into her face perceived that she had

The Auditor-General is a firm believer in the efficiency of advertising.

For condemned stores sold off $128 10 was realized in London.

The Northwest Mounted Police cost $622,959 22 last year. There are some queer contrasts in the purchase of supplies. At Brandon, for example, 860 bushels of potatoes were bought for 63 cents a bushel, while at Regina as high as $1 25 a bushel, or within a cent of double, was paid. Then, though Prof. Robertson told the agricultural committee at Ottawa the other day that butter in the Northwest was phenomenally low in price, we find that last year the Dominion Government bought 4,-000 pounds in Quebec Province for 23 cents for use by the mounted police. Coal oil prices are also contrasts. At Regina coal oil was bought at 35 cents a gallon; but at Maple Creek, a short distance off, 41 1-2 cents was paid; and Of this sum No. 1 Infantry Company, at Swift Creek and Calgary the charge was 50 cents.

LABORERS STRIKE.

The first trouble of any kind between the railway company and its laborers since the commencement of the Springbank line, occurred yesterday, when 23 of the men becoming dissatisfied, struck. They had been paid $1 a day so far but demanded an increase of 25 cents. This was refused and the dissatisfied ones left work together. There were plenty of idle men standing by however, and 25 were put on in less than five minutes. The strikers were very orderly.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Mrs. Cersley, a young widow, was nicely caught in Whiskard's drygoods store about 10:30 o'clock last night. For some days past Mr. Whiskard had missed articles from the rear portion of the third story of the building. Mrs. Cersley was taken to the station. She has been in the city only a short time, and rented a room over the store adjoining Whiskard's, where a quantity of the missing goods was afterwards found. missed, Taschereau dissenting. In the case of Odell vs. G Odell entered suit against his wife for separation on the ground of her misconduct with two men, and obtained a judgment. The Court of Appeal set it aside on the ground of condonation: he had taken her back subsequent to the alleged offense. Odell then appealed to the Supreme Court, but was met by a motion to quash his appeal on the ground of want of jurisdiction. The court was unanimous in quashing the appeal. Odell has a bill of divorce in the Senate, where it was rejected by a narrow majority, on the ground that the case was pending before the court Whether it can now be proceeded with this session is a question. Mrs. Odell is charged with criminal conduct with a Quebec civil servant named Hamel, and a Montreal commercial traveler as her associates.
