FULL OF HOPEMr. McEvoy Shows Up Hypocrisy of the Conservatives of London.

In one of the largest and most enthusiastic conventions ever held by the Liberal party in London, Mr. J. M. McEvoy, K. C., was nominated to contest the riding at the coming provincial elections in June.

Three nominees, Mr. McEvoy, Mr. J. H. Fowler, B. A., and Ald. Gerry went to the convention, Mr. McEvoy gaining a clear majority on the first ballot.

The nomination was made unanimous, amid applause.

Not in years has such enthusiasm been shown by the Liberal party as was shown last night.

Long before the hour appointed for the convention, Hyman Hall was thronged with Liberals.

The hall itself was completely filled within a few minutes, the delegates taking up the front part of the hall.

It might be added, in passing, that every ward and every subdivision of every ward was represented by its full quota of delegates.

There was not room within the hall for the many workers who were anxious to gain admittance.

The hallways were jammed with Liberals, all eager to see and hear what was taking place.

Many wearied of standing, and the many rooms of Hyman Hall were filled with Liberals who discussed earnestly the campaign issues.

Utmost Harmony.

Within the convention hall the utmost harmony prevailed.

Every speech was pregnant with hope. There was no fear of the result, all were confident that better days were ahead of the Liberals of London, and there was the splendid enthusiasm of unity.

There was no dearth of material before the convention, there being many men who could have been pressed into service and who would have made splendid representatives of the Liberalism of London.

On the platform were President Rumball, Mayor Stevely, Philip Pocock, ex-Ald. Thos. Gillean, Ald. G. W. Armstrong, Arthur Sippl, Ald. D. A. Stewart, Dr. A. O. Jeffrey, T. H. Purdon, K. C., F. E. Leonard, John Stevely and Dr. Geo. A. Routledge.

President's Address.

On calling the convention to order, President F. G. Rumball outlined the purposes of the meeting.

He was very glad to see so large a representation of Liberals at the convention. It showed beyond question that Liberalism in London was a very live corpse. The duty of the convention was to nominate the best man in the party to contest the constituency. There was ginger in the party yet, and it never was so manifest as it was tonight. (Cheers). The convention was open and above board, and every man had a chance. He would receive nominations for candidates.

The Nominees.

Ald. Armstrong nominated Mr. J. M. McEvoy. He referred to him as a nephew of Hon. Geo. W. Ross, and a man highly regarded by all. (Cheers). Mr. McEvoy was fully qualified for a Cabinet position, a position, no doubt, he would occupy after June 8. (Cheers). The nominee was a man of education, ability and honesty, a worthy representative of London Liberalism.

The nomination was seconded by Mr. Arthur Sippl, president of the Young Liberal Club.

The other nominees were as follows: Ald. Wm. Gerry, proposed by Wm. Kennedy.

F. G. Rumball, proposed by Alex. Stuart, K. C.

Ald. Donald Ferguson, proposed by W. S. Davidson.

T. H. Purdon, K. C., proposed by Mayor Stevely.

J. Harry Fowler, B. A., proposed by L. Martyn.

BRAKEMAN DIED OF INJURIES
RECEIVED ON G. T. R. MONDAYLeonard Butler Rallied for a Time, But Complications Set In—He Was Terribly Hurt While Attempting To Board Rear
End of an Approaching Locomotive.

Brakeman Leonard Butler, of Sarnia, who was so seriously injured in the Grand Trunk yards in East London on Saturday morning, died in Victoria Hospital at 2 o'clock this morning.

Butler, it will be remembered, while attempting to climb on to the rear of mogul engine 729, running backward, at Egerton street, on Saturday morning, missed his footing and was knocked down.

His left arm was cut off, and in addition to a fractured skull, the right leg was broken.

Butler was taken to Victoria Hospital, and seemed to be doing well until Monday night, when complications set in, which caused him to sink rapidly.

He was 28 years old and was only married six months ago.

His wife came from Sarnia at once and has remained at his bedside ever since the accident.

The remains will be sent to Sarnia today, and the funeral will be held on Saturday.

Four brothers—William, George and Frank, of Sarnia, and Joseph, of Oil Springs—and four sisters—Mrs. McMurphy of Sarnia, Misses Louise and Annie, of Oil Springs, and Miss Ursula, of Oil Springs—survive, beside his widowed mother.

No Inquest.

Dr. Seabrook stated to The Advertiser this afternoon in connection with the accident, by which Brakeman Leonard Butler lost his life in the G. T. R. yards, that there will be no inquest.

It was rumored this morning that an inquest would be held, also that a suit for damages would be commenced against the company. Nothing could be learned in regard to the latter rumor. The remains of Brakeman Butler were sent to Sarnia this morning, and the funeral will be held there on Saturday.

"It Was Whisky Brought Me To This"
So Said Burglar When SentencedWilliam Johnston Given Five Years in Kingston By Judge Macbeth.

"It was the cursed whisky which brought me to this," said William Johnston this morning, when sentenced by Judge Macbeth to serve five years in the penitentiary on a charge of burglarizing a King street residence recently.

Then turning to Judge Macbeth, Johnston said, "I thank you, your honor. I thank you."

Johnston, since his arrest, had apparently been slightly deaf, but he had no difficulty in hearing his sentence today, and when spoken to afterwards in a low tone of voice by High Constable Hughes, he understood readily what was said.

Johnston came over from Granoch, Scotland, a year and a half ago. For time he worked around Quebec, then drifted to Montreal and Toronto, later coming to this city. Work, he said, he found himself in bad company. Drink and necessity then drove him to theft.

When asked to plead at the recent election of trial before Judge Macbeth Johnston replied that he was not guilty, stating that he was willing to be punished for anything he had actually done, but not for a crime of which he was innocent.

Victoria Day in Galt.

A Galt paper says: The Victoria Day celebrations in Galt this year did fair to surpass anything yet held in this town. In addition to the famous Seventh Fusiliers from London, with its five hundred soldiers of the King, and its splendid band, the band of the Twenty-ninth, from Berlin, and the Preston band, with two military bugle bands as well, will be present. Altogether there will be 250 musicians, making near on 1,000 soldiers and bandmen combined.

[By Our Own Man.]

Alisa Craig, May 5.—The biggest surprise of the election campaign was sprung on the electors of North Middlesex at the convention here this afternoon, when Mr. Duncan Ross was unanimously chosen to contest the riding against Mr. C. C. Hodgins, M. P. P., of Lucan. Probably no person was more surprised than Mr. Ross himself at the unanimous display. It had been the opinion that Mr. Alexander Smith, of Alisa Craig, would be nominated, but Mr. Ross was the first man mentioned, and it was apparent from the wave of enthusiasm that swept over the large audience present that he was the unanimous choice. Mr. Ross was nominated by Mr. Dawson, of Parkhill, and the nomination was seconded by Dr. Hussey. Mr. Ross was called to the platform: amid a perfect storm of cheers, which did not subside until he commenced to speak.

The Nominee.

When I was here a short time ago," said Mr. Ross, "with Hon. A. G. MacKay, I was not of your riding, but now I am. Since I was here strange things have happened in all ridings. Ridings have been dismembered that have been together for many years. We have seen the riding of North Middlesex, and I am here to contest it. I may not accept your nomination without submitting the matter to the electors. (Continued on Page Four.)

Boy Agent of the Black Hand
Cuts the Throats of Five Persons

New York, May 6.—A 16-year-old boy, known only as Carmello, and employed in a barber shop in Brooklyn, early today cut the throats of his employer, Antonio Peraso, Mrs. Peraso and three barbers while they lay asleep in Peraso's apartment at 107 Fulton street. The wounds of Peraso and his wife are believed to be mortal, while those of the barbers are serious, but probably not fatal. The boy escaped.

The police have a theory that the boy was an agent of a Black Hand gang, which had been demanding money of Peraso under threat of doing him injury and that the blackmailers placed the boy in the shop in order to punish Peraso for his refusal to satisfy their demands.

G. T. R. Official Denies the Report
Knows of No Reduction in WagesHas Heard Nothing of Circular
Referred To in Toronto Dispatch.

"I am certain that there will be no reduction of either wages or hours in the Grand Trunk freight department in this city," Freight Agent Gordon told The Advertiser this morning.

"The usual conditions in traffic at this time of the year are prevailing. April was a dull month, but it always is, and from now on traffic steadily increases. Every winter, of course, there is a rearrangement of the staff. That is a usual occurrence, as we do not need so many men during the winter as at other times. I have heard nothing of any circular being issued announcing a reduction in wages after June 1, and do not believe there is any truth in the rumor that such a circular is to be issued."

Chief Dispatcher Forrester, of the Grand Trunk here, has inspected the telegraph stations of the middle division, and found them all in order.

A Toronto dispatch states that the company is to make a reduction of 10 per cent in employees' wages.

$5,000 Action for Injuries To Boy
Entered Against Wellington St. ManPeculiar Case Set Down for the Non-Jury Sitting on Monday.

Suit has been entered for $5,000 damages by John Johnston, a local painter, who resides on Ottawa avenue, against Richard Watson, retired, of the Wellington road.

The plaintiff entered action on behalf of a young son, who sustained a broken leg on the 10th of last August by reason of being kicked by a horse belonging to the defendant. It is alleged that the boy will be a cripple for life.

Johnston and his son were employed in painting the defendant's house at the time of the accident, and they allege that the horse was allowed to run loose, although it was known that it was a vicious animal with a strong propensity for kicking.

The defense alleges that if the plaintiff's son was kicked by the horse in question, it was because he trespassed on a pasture which the horse occupied.

It is further set forth that the animal was not a vicious one, and that it was never known to have kicked anyone before.

The case has been set down for the non-jury sittings next Monday.

MOIR SUSPECT UNDER ARREST
ST. THOMAS POLICE HOLDING HIMChief Does Not Say He Is Positive It Is the Man, But There Are Many Marks of Identification Similar To Those Carried By Barracks Murderer.

The St. Thomas police are holding a man who is supposed to be Moir, the murderer.

The suspect gives the name of John Tait and claims to be a tramp.

The chief of police does not say that he is the man wanted, but points out that there are many marks of identification similar to those carried by the Wolsley Barracks murderer.

He is a man of medium height, solidly in appearance, and Scottish dialect.

Part of his left ear has been bitten or cut off.

His left arm is tattooed, with marks similar to those said to be on Moir's arm.

He wore a civilian suit and a Christy hat.

When placed under arrest he took the matter quite coolly, and denied that he was the London murderer.

Chief Williams has been notified, and the London detectives left at once for the purpose of identifying the man, as also did an officer from Wolsley Barracks.

Bound Over in Sum of $50 Each
Charge of Stealing Shoes DroppedCity Is Determined To Collect
All Licenses Forthwith.

Albert Clark and John Hooper, the two young men who recently broke into a north end shoe store and stole some shoes, appeared in court this morning.

Mr. Slater, from whose store the goods were stolen, stated that he did not wish to have the matter pushed, as the shoes had been returned to him.

Magistrate Love, however, ruled that the matter was out of Mr. Slater's hands.

Under the circumstances, however, as the shoes had been returned, and it was thought that the theft had been committed while the young men were under the influence of liquor, the court decided to bind Clark and Hooper over in the sum of $500 each for their good behavior in the future.

City Needs the Money.

The police have instructions to get after all people who have not paid their licenses or who are doing business without a license.

E. R. Poole was this morning found guilty of keeping a livery stable without a license, and is liable to pay a $50 fine. The magistrate will deal with the matter on Monday.

E. Poine, charged with being a carter without a license, has taken one out, and the case against him was withdrawn.

Four first-time drunks were allowed to go.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

Will Wreck Whitney.

Montreal, May 5.—Senator Casgrain of this city, says that "socialism will wreck the Whitney Government at the coming election."

In an interview today he stated that he was going to Ontario to assist in the coming election.

"Hon. Mr. Whitney has acted like a bull in a china shop, so far as the financial interests of Ontario are concerned, and if I had no invitation to go to Ontario to help in the coming elections I would deem it my duty to see that the Government which has recklessly wrecked the credit of Ontario and of the rest of the provinces of the Dominion should not be entrusted with the administration of the affairs of Ontario for another term. If Ontario is not to protect British and foreign capital invested in this country, where is her future?"

"Many of the leading Conservative financiers will oppose Mr. Whitney at the coming election because of his interference with vested rights. If you follow the financial papers in England you will see that Ontario securities have been selling in London at a great discount."

Toronto, May 5.—Toronto Liberals will contest the eastern riding in both A and B classes.

The decision was reached at a meeting of the executive held last evening, and notices will be served today calling the convention for Monday, May 11, in the Oddfellows' Hall.

The prospective Liberal candidates for the convention are: Mr. J. W. Mogan, Dr. W. F. Bryans, Mr. P. O'Connor, Ald. Chisholm and Mr. A. Chamberlain.

The Liberal executive expressed confidence of the party's ability to capture one of the seats.

The question of calling conventions in the other Toronto ridings was also discussed, but no decision reached. They will, however, probably be held next week.

North Grey Liberals.

Owen Sound, May 5.—The annual meeting of the North Grey Reform Association will be held in the town hall on Thursday afternoon of this week at 1 o'clock. At 2.30 a convention will be held for the nomination of a candidate for the Legislature. Hon. A. G. MacKay will speak.

West Lambton Liberals.

Sarnia, May 5.—Owing to the withdrawal of Mr. Milne, West Lambton Liberals will hold a convention in Victoria Opera House here on Tuesday, May 12.

North Norfolk Liberals.

Simcoe, May 5.—A meeting of the Liberals of North Norfolk was held here today for the purpose of nominating a candidate to contest the riding in the coming provincial elections. Mr. L. L. Sovereign, of Watford, nominated Col. T. R. Atkinson, the present member, and the choice was unanimous. Addresses were made by Mr. H. B. Donly and Col. Atkinson. A very large number of delegates and interested Reformers were present. Every polling division was represented. A resolution of confidence was passed in the Dominion Government and the Ontario Opposition.

CAMPAIGN TO BETTER TOBACCOGovernment Arranging for Scientific Cultivation of the Canadian Leaf.

Ottawa, May 6.—The Government is going in for a serious campaign for the improvement of Canadian tobacco. Two years ago a tobacco expert, Mr. Felix Charleau, was brought from France to see what were the possibilities of the Canadian tobacco. He has been conducting careful experiments in the selection, raising and curing of tobacco in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia, and he has found that a high grade of tobacco can be produced, and that the methods of production and curing followed in the past have been defective, thus preventing the Canadian leaf from taking the place to which it is properly entitled.

For the Producer.

The recent changes in the excise law which place the Canadian leaf on a par with the imported leaf, were made for the benefit of the grower. Now the Government is going to undertake a campaign for the benefit of the producers. M. Chevallier, an expert in the growing and curing of tobacco, has been secured to assist M. Charleau in the work. An English-speaking expert is to be hired for Ontario, and it is expected that next year there will be a man for British Columbia.

Last summer the department leased a number of plots of home tobacco producers, and had them planted with the proper sort of seed, and attended to in the most scientific way. Remarkable results were obtained, and there was an object lesson afforded the tobacco growers of the neighborhood who could contrast the results obtained from the experimental plot with their own fields in the neighborhood. There will be many more of these plots this year, and demonstrations and lectures on the way to cure tobacco will be continued.

New York, May 5.—A 16-year-old boy, known only as Carmello, and employed in a barber shop in Brooklyn, early today cut the throats of his employer, Antonio Peraso, Mrs. Peraso and three barbers while they lay asleep in Peraso's apartment at 107 Fulton street. The wounds of Peraso and his wife are believed to be mortal, while those of the barbers are serious, but probably not fatal. The boy escaped.

The police have a theory that the boy was an agent of a Black Hand gang, which had been demanding money of Peraso under threat of doing him injury and that the blackmailers placed the boy in the shop in order to punish Peraso for his refusal to satisfy their demands.

G. T. R. Official Denies the Report Knows of No Reduction in Wages

Has Heard Nothing of Circular Referred To in Toronto Dispatch.

"I am certain that there will be no reduction of either wages or hours in the Grand Trunk freight department in this city," Freight Agent Gordon told The Advertiser this morning. "The usual conditions in traffic at this time of the year are prevailing. April was a dull month, but it always is, and from now on traffic steadily increases. Every winter, of course, there is a rearrangement of the staff. That is a usual occurrence, as we do not need so many men during the winter as at other times. I have heard nothing of any circular being issued announcing a reduction in wages after June 1, and do not believe there is any truth in the rumor that such a circular is to be issued."

Chief Dispatcher Forester, of the Grand Trunk here, has inspected the telegraph stations of the middle division, and found them all in order. A Toronto dispatch states that the company is to make a reduction of 10 per cent in employees' wages.

$5,000 Action for Injuries To Boy Entered Against Wellington St. Man

Peculiar Case Set Down for the Non-Jury Sitting on Monday.

Suit has been entered for $5,000 damages by John Johnston, a local painter, who resides on Ottawa avenue, against Richard Watson, retired, of the Wellington road.

The plaintiff entered action on behalf of a young son, who sustained a broken leg on the 10th of last August by reason of being kicked by a horse belonging to the defendant. It is alleged that the boy will be a cripple for life.

Johnston and his son were employed in painting the defendant's house at the time of the accident, and they allege that the horse was allowed to run loose, although it was known that it was a vicious animal with a strong propensity for kicking.

The defense alleges that if the plaintiff's son was kicked by the horse in question, it was because he trespassed on a pasture which the horse occupied.

It is further set forth that the animal was not a vicious one, and that it was never known to have kicked anyone before.

The case has been set down for the non-jury sittings next Monday.

MOIR SUSPECT UNDER ARREST ST. THOMAS POLICE HOLDING HIM

Chief Does Not Say He Is Positive It Is the Man, But There Are Many Marks of Identification Similar To Those Carried By Barracks Murderer.

The St. Thomas police are holding a man who is supposed to be Moir, the murderer.

The suspect gives the name of John Tait and claims to be a tramp.

The chief of police does not say that he is the man wanted, but points out that there are many marks of identification similar to those carried by the Wolsley Barracks murderer.

He is a man of medium height, solidly in appearance, and Scottish dialect.

Part of his left ear has been bitten or cut off.

His left arm is tattooed, with marks similar to those said to be on Moir's arm.

He wore a civilian suit and a Christy hat.

When placed under arrest he took the matter quite coolly, and denied that he was the London murderer.

Chief Williams has been notified, and the London detectives left at once for the purpose of identifying the man, as also did an officer from Wolsley Barracks.

Bound Over in Sum of $50 Each Charge of Stealing Shoes Dropped

City Is Determined To Collect All Licenses Forthwith.

Albert Clark and John Hooper, the two young men who recently broke into a north end shoe store and stole some shoes, appeared in court this morning.

Mr. Slater, from whose store the goods were stolen, stated that he did not wish to have the matter pushed, as the shoes had been returned to him.

Magistrate Love, however, ruled that the matter was out of Mr. Slater's hands.

Under the circumstances, however, as the shoes had been returned, and it was thought that the theft had been committed while the young men were under the influence of liquor, the court decided to bind Clark and Hooper over in the sum of $500 each for their good behavior in the future.

City Needs the Money.

The police have instructions to get after all people who have not paid their licenses or who are doing business without a license.

E. R. Poole was this morning found guilty of keeping a livery stable without a license, and is liable to pay a $50 fine. The magistrate will deal with the matter on Monday.

E. Poole, charged with being a carter without a license, has taken one out, and the case against him was withdrawn.

Four first-time drunks were allowed to go.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

Will Wreck Whitney.

Montreal, May 5.—Senator Casgrain, of this city, says that "socialism will wreck the Whitney Government at the coming election."

In an interview today he stated that he was going to Ontario to assist in the coming election.

"Hon. Mr. Whitney has acted like a bull in a china shop, so far as the financial interests of Ontario are concerned, and if I had no invitation to go to Ontario to help in the coming elections I would deem it my duty to see that the Government which has recklessly wrecked the credit of Ontario and of the rest of the provinces of the Dominion should not be entrusted with the administration of the affairs of Ontario for another term. If Ontario is not to protect British and foreign capital invested in this country, where is her future?"

"Many of the leading Conservative financiers will oppose Mr. Whitney at the coming election because of his interference with vested rights. If you follow the financial papers in England you will see that Ontario securities have been selling in London at a great discount."

Toronto, May 5.—Toronto Liberals will contest the eastern riding in both A and B classes.

The decision was reached at a meeting of the executive held last evening, and notices will be issued today calling the convention for Monday, May 11, in the Oddfellows' Hall.

The prospective Liberal candidates for the convention are: Mr. J. W. Morgan, Dr. W. F. Bryans, Mr. P. O'Connor, Ald. Chisholm and Mr. A. Chamberlain.

The Liberal executive expressed confidence of the party's ability to capture one of the seats.

The question of calling conventions in the other Toronto ridings was also discussed, but no decision reached. They will, however, probably be held next week.

North Grey Liberals.

Owen Sound, May 5.—The annual meeting of the North Grey Reform Association will be held in the town hall on Thursday afternoon of this week at 1 o'clock. At 2:30 a convention will be held for the nomination of a candidate for the Legislature. Hon. A. G. MacKay will speak.

West Lambton Liberals.

Sarnia, May 5.—Owing to the withdrawal of Mr. Milne, West Lambton Liberals will hold a convention in Victoria Opera House here on Tuesday, May 12.

North Norfolk Liberals.

Simcoe, May 5.—A meeting of the Liberals of North Norfolk was held here today for the purpose of nominating a candidate to contest the riding in the coming provincial elections. Mr. L. L. Sovereign, of Watford, nominated Col. T. R. Atkinson, the present member, and the choice was unanimous. Addresses were made by Mr. H. B. Donly and Col. Atkinson. A very large number of delegates and interested Reformers were present. A resolution of confidence was passed in the Dominion Government and the Ontario Opposition.

CAMPAIGN TO BETTER TOBACCO

Government Arranging for Scientific Cultivation of the Canadian Leaf.

Ottawa, May 6.—The Government is going in for a serious campaign for the improvement of Canadian tobacco. Two years ago a tobacco expert, Mr. Felix Charleau, was brought from France to see what were the possibilities of the Canadian tobacco. He has been conducting careful experiments in the selection, raising and curing of tobacco in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia, and he has found that a high grade of tobacco can be produced, and that the methods of production and curing followed in the past have been defective, thus preventing the Canadian leaf from taking the place to which it is properly entitled.

For the Producer.

The recent changes in the excise law which place the Canadian leaf on a par with the imported leaf, were made for the benefit of the grower. Now the Government is going to undertake a campaign of education for the benefit of the producers. Mr. Chevallier, an expert in the growing and curing of tobacco, has been secured, and will soon arrive from France to assist Mr. Charleau in the work. An English-speaking expert is to be hired for Ontario, and it is expected that next year there will be a man for British Columbia.

Last summer the department leased a number of plots from tobacco producers, and had them planted with the proper sort of seed, and attended to in the most scientific way. Remarkable results were obtained, and there was an object lesson afforded the tobacco growers of the neighborhood who could contrast the results obtained from the experimental plot with their own fields in the neighborhood. There will be many more of these plots this year, and demonstrations and lectures on the way to cure tobacco will be continued.

FATHER AND SON DROWN IN RIVER

William Mack Goes Down With His Thirteen-Year-Old Son.

Pictou, Ont., May 5.—Wm. Mack, a fisherman, 50 years of age, and his 13-year-old son, were drowned at Black River bridge, this country, last night, while fishing out of a punt. Mack, his son, and Fred Peeling were in the boat when it capsized. The latter swam ashore, but the other two went down.

SAYS THAW IS INSANE

Such is Testimony of the Superintendent of the Mattawan Asylum.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 5.—Dr. Amos Baker, acting superintendent of the Mattawan State Hospital, in his return today to the writ of habeas corpus obtained by the counsel for Harry K. Thaw, denies the allegations in the petition of counsel that Thaw is now sane and alleges on the contrary that Thaw is insane. Dr. Baker has had Thaw under observation during his confinement in Mattawan following the trial for the slaying of Stanford White.

District Attorney Mack, of Dutchess County, declared today that he had been advised by Justice Morschauser that the number of expert witnesses to be called in the Thaw habeas corpus proceedings would be limited.

OBSTINATE SCALP DISEASE CONTRACTED BY CHILDREN

Mrs. Annie Pugh, of Pine Lawn, London, Ont., says: "It is now eighteen months since my two children, Cissie and Lily, aged respectively 10 and 4 years, contracted the itching eczema of the scalp. The first appeared small red pimples which soon burst or broke, forming sores and scabs over the whole scalp under the hair. We were compelled to have their heads combed every day, and their condition became so unpleasant. A great number of ointments, soaps and washes were used, all of no avail, until we tried Zam-Buk. After several applications of this balm the condition of their scalps was much improved. The children suffered cruelly from the intense itching and it was almost impossible to keep them from scratching. The disease on my youngest daughter's scalp was the worst of the two, her head being one mass of sores and scabs from which a foul odor arose. It was so unsightly I had to keep her head covered always with a cap. It was several months after beginning with Zam-Buk before the children were completely cured of this terrible disease. The case of the younger child proved the most obstinate, but Zam-Buk balm conquered the disease, banished the scabs and healed the sores most effectively. In about three months Cissie's scalp was cleaned of all traces of the disease, and in about six months from commencing with Zam-Buk, Lily's scalp was also smooth and clean. Since then their hair has grown again almost as thick and long as before. I am most grateful for their cures and do not hesitate to recommend Zam-Buk to others."

For healing eczema, running sores, cuts, bruises, burns, boils, eruptions, itchy, chapped hands, and diseases of the skin Zam-Buk is without equal. All druggists and stores, 50 cents, or postpaid from Zam-Buk Company, Toronto.

PREMIER WHITNEY OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN

Addresses a Large Gathering of His Supporters at Hamilton.

Hamilton, May 5.—Premier Whitney made his opening speech of the campaign here tonight. He was greeted by a large gathering of his supporters. The Premier's address was taken up mainly with a denunciation of the Ross Government, which he held, cultivated all the political sins on the calendar, and boasted statements in regard to his own administration. He held that the three-fifths clause was the best possible way to handle the liquor question, defended the education policy, said the C. N. R. guarantee was a fine thing for Ontario, and gave an "explanation" of the La Rose mine case.

Mr. Whitney defended the Government's course in regard to Niagara power, and said the redistribution was due to the glaring inequities that existed.

"BROWN OF HARVARD."

Henry Woodruff, one of America's foremost comedians, will appear at the Grand tomorrow evening in his three seasons' success, "Brown of Harvard." Mr. Woodruff will be accompanied by the Princess Theatre company of players, and the original production that added so materially to the wonderful success of this comedian in New York and Chicago. That "Brown of Harvard" is the best college play yet offered the public, is evidenced by the fact that it ran for thirty weeks in New York without interruption, and for one entire summer at the Garrick Theatre in Chicago.

E. M. SOTHERN.

The reception that greeted E. H. Sothern at the Lyric Theatre, New York, on the opening night of his engagement, where he presented his father's success of years ago, "Our American Cousin," hindred, made famous and popular by his father, was of such enthusiastic character that it left no doubt in the mind of Lord Dundreary as to leave not the slightest doubt of its sincerity.

Mr. Sothern's revival at this time of the comedy, that has not been played since his father's death in 1881, has awakened peculiar interest everywhere, and it is sure to be one of the most popular of Mr. Sothern's repertoire. Without its traditions and the delightful memory of its association with the elder Sothern, and now by his son, it is a made-over play—revised to give the character of Dundreary the center of the stage. The revision has disconnected the story and has injected a great deal of comedy monologue that has no relation to the story. Mr. Sothern will give one presentation of Lord Dundreary at the Grand on Saturday.

Three persons were injured at Walkerville by the collision of two trolley cars. Nine are seriously hurt. Roy S. Cogswell, of Batavia, N. Y., wanted on a charge of forgery, was arrested yesterday in Toronto.

GREWSOME FIND IN BACK YARD

Laporte, Ind., Police Discover Buried Bodies of Five Murdered Persons.

Laporte, Ind., May 5.—One of the most gruesome murder mysteries ever unearthed in this state came to light tonight when the bodies of five persons, all of whom were murdered, were found in the yard of Mrs. Belle Gunnes, who, with three of her children, were burned to death on the night of April 28 last.

So far only two of the bodies have been identified. These are Andrew Holgren, who came to this city from Aberdeen, S. D., for the purpose of marrying Mrs. Gunnes, whose acquaintance he had made through a matrimonial bureau, and that of Miss Jennie Olsen Gunnes, a Chicago girl, who had been adopted by Mrs. Gunnes. She disappeared in September, 1906. The other bodies were those of two men and a woman. None of them have been identified. The body of Holgren had been dismembered and the arms, legs and head and trunk were buried in different parts of the yard.

It is believed by the authorities that Guy Lamphere, who has been under arrest since the burning of the Gunnes' home, on the charge of murdering Mrs. Gunnes and her family, committed the Holgren crime.

Lamphere is a carpenter and the manner in which the body of Holgren was dismembered leads to the belief that it was done by somebody familiar with the use of the saw. In some quarters it is believed that Mrs. Gunnes may have known something of the murder of the five people, as it is not considered likely that so many could have been buried in her yard without her, at some time, becoming familiar with the fact. There have been rumors that Jennie Olsen Gunnes had knowledge of the manner in which the first husband of Mrs. Gunnes came to his death in Chicago.

It is known that Holgren had loaned $1,500 to Mrs. Gunnes, and that he had another $1,500 in his possession just prior to his death. It is considered probable that he was killed by Mrs. Gunnes or by Lamphere, or by both of them, in order to procure the cash he had and to avoid the necessity of repaying the loan he had made.

Lamphere denies all knowledge or participation in any crime, and declares that he knows nothing of the unidentified bodies.

HENRY EILBER ACCEPTS

South Huron Conservatives Name Him for the Legislature.

Hensall, May 5.—At the meeting of South Huron Conservatives held here today, Mr. Henry Eilber, M. P. P., of Crediton, was unanimously tendered the nomination of the party for the approaching Provincial election. The convention did not consist of appointed delegates, but was open to all representatives of the party.

The chair was occupied by the president of the South Huron Conservative Association, Mr. J. A. Williams, of Zurich. Mr. Eilber's nomination was seconded by Mr. Hugh Spackman, of Exeter, and seconded by Dr. Wood, of Bayfield. Mr. Thomas Carling, of Exeter, and Mr. Wm. Campbell, of Goderich, made brief speeches, and were followed by the candidate, Mr. Eilber, who defended the Whitney gerrymander, and fully endorsed all that the Government had done.

CHIEF JUSTICE ILL JUDGMENTS GIVEN

Sir Chas. Fitzpatrick Indisposed.—A Number of Appeals Decided.

Ottawa, May 5.—The May term of the supreme court opened this morning, but Chief Justice Sir Charles Fitzpatrick was absent owing to illness, and Sir Louis Davies was acting chief justice. Judgments were rendered as follows:

Quebec Railway Light and Power Company vs. Bayville—Appeal dismissed with costs, Davies dissenting. Meighen vs. Pacaud—Appeal dismissed with costs, MacLennan dissenting.

The King vs. Armstrong (Exchequer appeal)—Appeal dismissed with costs. C. P. R. vs. Hansen—Appeal dismissed with costs.

Marks vs. Marks—Appeal dismissed with costs, Davies and MacLennan dissenting. Wilson vs. Davies—Appeal dismissed with costs.

Wabash Railway Company vs. McKay—Appeal dismissed with costs. There are forty-six appeals inscribed for hearing, and it was arranged that, owing to the illness of the chief justice, the Quebec appeals should go to the foot of the list.

FATALLY WOUNDED

Jackson, Ky., May 5.—Edward Callahan was fatally wounded by a brother-in-law, John Spicer, at Callahan's store on Long's Creek, and Spicer was in turn shot and killed by Callahan's 17-year-old son, Wilson, when the latter, during the cutting, and shot Spicer. Spicer is a brother of Mrs. Callahan, who is now separated from her husband, Callahan, and is supposed to have been the cause of the trouble.

Everybody is always willing to look at the best side of an untoward thing, but are too often unable to find it. A chaplain is a punctilious person, who is guaranteed not to see anything.

HOLD THE SEAT BY EIGHT VOTES

Was the Election To Replace Sir Henry Fowler Significant?

London, May 5.—The declining popularity of the present Government was again revealed by the result of the by-election in Wolverhampton today to replace Sir Henry Fowler, who, as viscount of Wolverhampton, took his seat in the House of Lords. The Liberals retained the seat in the Commons, but by a bare majority of 8, as against a majority of 2,855 in 1906, the result of today's elections being as follows:

G. R. Thorne, Liberals 4,514.

L. S. Amery, Unionist, 4,506.

This result is looked upon as indicative of grave doubt that Winston Spencer Churchill, president of the board of trade, will secure his seat at the test the Liberals caused by the elevation to the peerage of Edmund Robertson.

There seems no longer room for doubt that the country is being rapidly converted to Joseph Chamberlain's tariff reform policy.

The campaign at Wolverhampton was fought almost entirely on this issue. This is admitted by the Liberal newspapers. Mr. Amery, who captured the seat for the Protectionists, is one of the ablest and most advanced advocates of tariff reform. He is a strong Imperialist with a brilliant reputation as a student of economics and military questions.

NO CONSISTORY UNTIL THIS FALL

Reports of Impending Nomination of New Cardinals Are Untrue.

Rome, May 4.—Reports have been circulated for nearly a week that a consistory is to be held in June for the nomination of several new cardinals, among whom the rumor included Archbishop Farnham of New York. There is absolutely no truth in these reports. For one reason, it is not usual to hold a consistory in June, and to hold one in that month would be to change a rule that has existed for 25 years. According to the constitution of the church, consistories should be held four times a year, in the week of the Ember days of the season. But the late Pope held no consistory for eighteen months, and it is said that his successor has every intention of following his example.

Italian Representation Small.

There is, however, no doubt that a consistory will be held before September, because of the occurrence of this year of the Pope's sacerdotal jubilee, and it is altogether likely that several cardinals will then be created. Recently the sacred college has lost two of its Italian members in the persons of Cardinal del Drago, who was a resident of the Curia, and Cardinal Portanova, archbishop of Reggio in Calabria. There two deaths have greatly disturbed the proportion of the sacred college and the Pope has already had his attention called to the matter and has been urged to appoint other Italian cardinals. As to the appointment of foreign cardinals the Pope has by no means made up his mind. Yet he asserts that every show of authority that there will surely be another French cardinal, probably Mgr. Amette, the new archbishop of Paris, and also an Austrian cardinal.

FLEECED THE AGED

Decrepit Women Drive Out Manager of Bankrupt Chicago Home.

Chicago, May 5.—Eighteen decrepit residents of Bethesda Home for the Aged, their average age being 71 years, drove out by fear that they would be forced from their home, attacked Frank F. Henning, former manager of the bankrupt institution, and after beating him, threw him bodily from the building last evening, threatening vengeance if he ever returned. The eighteen residents, the majority of whom are women, said Henning agreed to furnish them a home for life for a consideration of $50. In many cases this $50 represented the entire savings of the man or woman who was admitted. The home was forced into bankruptcy several months ago, and since that time has been supported entirely by public subscriptions. Henning was forced from the management of the place when one of the inmates committed suicide and others threatened to do so.

DOCTORS FIND IT WAS MURDER

The Erindale Tragedy Promises To Be Very Difficult of Solution.

Erindale, May 5.—Peel country's latest victim of violent death was murdered. If there ever was a doubt about it since the body of Oleka Smith was found in Faskin's bush, near here, on Sunday afternoon, that doubt was removed when Dr. Sutton of Cooksville, and Bowie, of Streetsville, announced the result of their autopsy this morning.

It was found that the man met death by a blow on the forehead, causing a fracture of his skull. The organs were found in good condition, showing that death had occurred from unnatural causes. The neck was found to be stretched, caused, it is supposed, by the body being dragged to the trench where it was found. This jaw was broken at the point of the ear.

The neighborhood is considerably excited over the affair, as this is the third similar occurrence within a three-mile radius in the last year. The coroner's inquest in the other two cases decided that trains caused death, but the community is by no means satisfied that these men were not placed on the track after being done away with. In the present case the circumstances certainly point to murder.

BERNIER GOING NORTH.
Ottawa, May 5.—Capt. Joseph Bernier leaves today for Sorel in connection with getting the cruiser Arctic ready for another trip to the Far North. Capt. Bernier's plans are laid for the next two seasons' work in applying Canadian authority over the islands which lie to the north of the mainland of the Dominion, and if these plans are realized, he will spend next winter in the Arctic.

G. T. R. RETRENCHMENT

Heads of All the Departments Enjoining to Cut Down Expenses.

Toronto, May 5.—There is little chance of the request of the G. T. R. conductors and trainmen for increased wages being granted by the company under present conditions, and the earnings dropping down to $300,000 less than for the same week last year.

There was somewhat of a sensation among the employees of all branches in Toronto and vicinity, when the report was circulated that, commencing June 1, a reduction of 10 per cent would be made in wages. This order will, it is understood, apply to all but superintendents and those in higher offices. It is also understood that this order will not interfere with any agreement made by the employees, because they will all end about that time.

The local officials declare they know nothing about it, but would not be surprised if such an order were issued. "For two months," said one official, "I have been cutting down the expenses of my department, until I can do no more with safety to the traveling public. It seems impossible, however, to satisfy the general manager, who thinks every department must keep below its earning power."

The great falling off in freight, and while the passenger department is holding its own, they are not making sufficient to keep the receipts up to last year.

The employees are silent, except here and there one a little more radical than others declares that if the private cars were put on sidings for a year, the company would not be so far behind.

Annoyed by his male rivals and by boys, who would invade her cab every time she stopped, Frau von Papp, Berlin's first chauffeur, was forced to apply to the police for permission to carry a young man with her as a bodyguard.

There is no use in a quarrel, but some people seem to get a lot of fun out of it.

LIMA'S REVOLUTION

Leader and a Handful of Followers Will Soon Be Captured.

New York, May 5.—Eduardo Higginson, the Peruvian consul-general at New York, has received cabled advice from his Government stating that the reported revolutionary outbreak in Lima has no importance whatever and is condemned by public opinion. Mr. Higginson said today: "The trouble is isolated in character, and has no weight or political significance. It was caused by the approach of the presidential elections in Peru, at which time local disturbances are likely to occur. Latest advice received by cable today are to the effect that the leader, Durand, with a few followers was being pursued by the Government troops. His capture is likely at any moment."

"SPRING FEVER"

The need of a spring medicine seems to be universal. This is due to the fact that during the winter the blood becomes impure on account of the hearty food eaten. This causes that tired, weary, all-gone, don't-care-to-work feeling, which is so prevalent at this time of year.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS*That Tired Feeling.

Mr. F. H. Leard, Saskatoon, Sask., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a blood builder and think it an excellent remedy. Everyone should take it in the spring to cure that tired feeling that comes to so many at this time of year."

Uses It Every Spring.

Mr. H. Langley, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters as a spring tonic, and I find it the best thing I can take. It builds me right up and I use it every spring. It is excellent for the blood."

"SPRING MEDICINE"*THE CRIMSON BLIND
BY FRED M. WHITE

"I daresay Chris and myself will survive that," Enid said, cheerfully. "But we have a plan, dear aunt; we have thought it out carefully. Reginald Henson has hidden the secret somewhere and we are going to find it. The secret is hidden not far off, because our cousin has occasion to require it frequently. It is like the purloined letter in Edgar Poe's wonderful story."

Margaret Henson nodded and mumbled. It seemed almost impossible to make her understand. She babbled of strange things, with her dark eyes ever fixed on the future. Enid turned away almost despairingly. At the same time the stable clock struck the half-hour after ten. Williams slipped in with a small tray of glasses, noisily. On the tray lay a small pile of tradesman's books. The top one was of dull red with no lettering upon it at all.

"The housekeeper's respectful compliments, miss, and would you go through them tomorrow," said the boy, tapping the top book significantly. "Tomorrow is the last day of the month."

Enid picked up the top book with strange eagerness. There were pages of figures and cabalistic entries that no ordinary person could make anything of. Pages here and there were signed and decorated with pink receipt stamps. Enid glanced down the last column, and her face grew a little paler.

"Aunt," she whispered, "I've got to go out. At once; do you understand? There is a message here; and I am afraid that something dreadful has happened. Can you sing?"

"Ah, yes; a song of lamentation—a dirge for the dead."

"No, no; seven years ago you had a beautiful voice. I recollect what a pleasure it was to me as a child; and they used to say that my voice was very like yours, only not so sweet or so powerful. Aunt, I must go out; and that man must know nothing about it. He is by the window in the small library now, watching—watching. Help me, for the love of heaven, help me."

The girl spoke with a fervency and passion that seemed to waken a responsive chord in Margaret Henson's breast. A brighter gleam crept into her eyes.

"You are a dear girl," she said, dreamily. "Yes, a dear girl. And I loved singing; it was a great grief to me that they would not let me go upon the stage. But I haven't sung since—since that—"

She pointed to the huddled heap of china and glass and dried, dusty flowers in one corner. Enid shuddered slightly as she followed the direction of the extended forefinger.

"But you must try," she whispered. "It is for the good of the family, for the recovery of the secret. Reginald Henson is shy and cruel and clever. But we have one on our side now who is far more clever. And, unless I can get away tonight without that man knowing, the chance may be lost for ever. Come!"

Margaret commenced to sing in a soft minor. At first the chords were thin and dry, but gradually they increased in sweetness and power. The hopeless, distant look died from the singer's eyes; there was a flush on her cheeks that rendered her years younger.

"Another one," she said, when the song was finished, "and yet another. How wicked I have been to neglect this ballad that God sent me a these years. If you only know what the sound of my own voice means to me! Another one, Enid."

"Yes, yes," Enid whispered. "You are to sing till I return. You are to leave Henson to imagine that I am singing. He will never guess. Now then."

Enid crept away into the hall closing the door softly behind her. She made her way noiselessly from the house and across the lawn. As Henson slipped through the open window into the garden Enid darted behind a bush. Evidently Henson suspected nothing so far as she was concerned, for she could see the red glow of the cigar between his lips. The faint sweetness of distant music filled the air. So long as the song continued Henson would relax his vigilance.

He was pacing down the garden in the direction of the drive. Did the man know anything? Enid wondered. He had so diabolically cunning a brain. He seemed to find out everything, and to read others before they had made up their minds for themselves.

The cigar seemed to dance like a mocking spirit into the bushes. Usually the man avoided those bushes. If Reginald Henson was afraid of one thing it was of the dogs. And in return they hated him as he hated them.

Enid's mind was made up. If the sound of that distant voice should only cease for a moment she was quite sure Henson would turn back. But he could hear, and she knew that she was safe. Enid slipped past into the bushes and gave a faint click of her lips. Something moved and whined, and two dark objects bounded towards her. She caught them together by their collars and cuffed them soundly. Then she led the way back so as to get on Henson's tracks.

He was walking on ahead of her now, beating time softly to the music of the faintly distant song with his cigar. Enid could distinctly see the sweep of the red circle.

"Hold him, Dan," she whispered. "Watch, Prince, watch, boy."

There was a low growl as the hounds found the scent and dashed forward. Henson came up all standing and sweating in every pore. It was not the first time he had been held up by the dogs, and he knew by hard experience what to expect if he made a bolt for it.

Two grim muzzles were pressed against his trembling knees; he saw four rows of ivory flashing in the dim light. Then the dogs crouched at his feet, watching him with eyes as red and lurid as the point of his own cigar. Had he attempted to move, had he tried coercion, they would have fallen upon him and torn him in pieces.

"Confusion to the creatures!" he cried, passionately. "I'll get a revolver; I'll buy some prussic acid and poison the lot. And here I'll have to stay till Williams locks up the stables. Wouldn't that little Jezebel laugh at me if she could see me now? She would enjoy it better than singing songs in the drawing-room to our sainted Margaret. Steady, you brutes! I didn't move."

He stood there rigidly, almost afraid to take the cigar from his lips, whilst Enid sped without further need for caution down the drive. The cigars were close and the deaf porter's house in darkness, so that Enid could unlock the wicket without fear of detection. She rattled the key on the bars and a figure slipped out of the darkness.

"Good heavens, Ruth, is it really you?" Enid cried.

"Really me, Enid. I came over on my bicycle. I am supposed to be round at some friend's house in Brunswick Square, and one of the servants is sitting up for me. Is Reginald safe? He hasn't yet discovered the secret of the tradesman's book?"

"That's all right, dear. But why are you here? Has something dreadful happened?"

"Well, I will try to tell you so in as few words as possible. I never felt so ashamed of anything in my life."

"Don't tell me that our scheme has failed!"

"Perhaps I need not go so far as that. The first part of it came off all right, and then a very dreadful thing happened. We have got Mr. David Steel into frightful trouble. He is going to be charged with attempted murder and robbery."

"Ruth! But tell me. I am quite in the dark."

"It was the night when—well, you know the night. It was after Mr. Steel returned home from his visit to 219, Brunswick Square."

"You mean 218, Ruth."

"It doesn't matter, because he knows pretty well all about it by this time. It would have been far better for us if it had."

if we hadn't been quite so clever. It would have been far wiser to have taken Mr. Steel entirely into our confidence. Oh, oh, Enid, if we had only left out that little sentiment over the cigar-case! Then we should have been all right."

"Dearest girl, my time is limited. I've got Reginald held up for a time, but at any moment he may escape from his bondage. What about the cigar-case?"

"Well, Mr. Steel took it home with him. And when he got home he found a man nearly murdered lying in his conservatory. That man was conveyed to the Sussex County Hospital, where he still lies in an unconscious state. On the body was found a receipt for a gun-metal cigar-case set with diamonds."

"Good gracious, Ruth, you don't mean to say—"

"Oh, I do. I can't quite make out how it happened, but that same case—that we—that Mr. Steel has—has been positively identified as one purchased from Walsen by the injured man. There is no question about it. And they have found out about Mr. Steel, being short of money, and the £1,000, and everything."

"But we know that that cigar-case from Lockhart's in North street was positively—"

"Yes, yes. But what has become of that? And in what strange way was the change made? I tell you that the whole thing frightens me. We thought that we had hit upon a scheme to solve the problem, and keep our friends out of danger. There was the American at Genoa who volunteered to assist us. A week later he was found dead in his bed. Then there was Christiana's friend, who disappeared entirely. And now we try further assistance in the case of Mr. Steel, and he stands face to face with a terrible charge. And he has found us out."

"He has found us out? What do you mean?"

"Well, he called to see me. He called at 219, of course. And directly I heard his name I was so startled that I am afraid I betrayed myself. Such a nice, kind, handsome man, Enid; so manly and good over it all. Of course, he declared that he had been at 219 before, and said it was too late. But he had one thing of the kind. Never, never have I felt so ashamed of myself in my life before."

"It seems a pity," Enid said, thoughtfully. "You said nothing about 218?"

"My dear, he found it out. At least, Hatherly Bell did for him. Hatherly Bell happened to be staying down with us, and Hatherly Bell, who knows Mr. Steel, promptly said, or half-said, that side of the problem. And Hatherly Bell is coming here tonight to see Aunt Margaret. He—"

"Here!" Enid cried. "To see Aunt Margaret? Then he found out about you. At all hazards Mr. Bell must come here—he must not. I would rather see Aunt Margaret and Reginald Henson master here. You must—"

In the distance came the rattle of harness bells and the trot of a horse. "I'm afraid it's too late," Ruth Gaspe said, sadly. "I'm afraid that they are here already. Oh, if we had only left out that wretched cigar-case!"

THE PRICE OF PAPER

Could Be Made for Twenty a Ton, Say the Newspaper People.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—John Norris, of New York, the representative of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, today repeated his statement before the House committee investigating the woodpulp and print paper industry that he had bought large tracts of woodlands in Canada and charged that instead of cutting the timber on this land, they have gone into the market and artificially marked up the prices on themselves. He protested that the American consumers should not be saddled with the penalties of any such speculation.

Margaret commenced to sing in a soft minor. At first the chords were thin and dry, but gradually they increased in sweetness and power. The hopeless, distant look died from the singer's eyes; there was a flush on her cheeks that rendered her years younger.

Don't Think They Are Getting a Show in the Cabinet Appointments.

Ottawa, May 5.—It is understood that a deputation from what is known as the Irish League, including a number of prominent English-speaking Catholics from Toronto, will visit Ottawa tomorrow for the purpose of discussing the question of the English-speaking Catholic representation in the Dominion Cabinet. Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick's appointment to the supreme court bench, has left the secretary of state, Hon. R. W. Scott, as the only spokesman for the English-speaking Catholics at the Cabinet board, and in view of the constantly repeated rumors of Mr. Scott's retirement from the Government, the members of the Irish League will no doubt offer their advice to the Premier as to who should take Mr. Scott's place when the latter steps out.

Columbus, O., May 5.—Threats to burn the towns of Aberdeen and Higginport, emanating from unknown sources, but resulting from the bitter warfare in the Burley tobacco of Ohio and Kentucky, are responsible for an order issued by Governor Harris tonight to Adjutant-General Critchfield to dispatch troops to the towns mentioned.

Troop B, of Columbus, will leave for the scene of threatened trouble tomorrow morning at 5 o'clock. Captain R. W. Knas, who probably have fifth cavalry men in his command. Company F first regiment at Cincinnati, and a company at Batavia, are also said to be under waiting orders.

Major-General Banks, of the Ohio National Guard, will have charge of the troops in Brown County.

A mass meeting of the tobacco-growers of Kentucky, across the Ohio River from Brown County, is to be held tomorrow night. The meeting is said to be planned to induce the growers to join in the movement not to raise any tobacco this season, and the Ohio independent growers who have refused to join the movement fear that there may be an invasion of the state following the meeting.

MEVOY UNANIMOUS CHOICE

Dr. A. O. Jeffrey, proposed by Wm. Moore.
F. E. Leonard, proposed by John Nutkins, Sen.
Jared Vining, B. A., proposed by T. H. Purdon, K. C.
Mayor Stevely, proposed by John Nutkins, Sen.
Art. Sippl, proposed by Angus Elliott.
Ex-Ald. Thomas Gillen, proposed by D. W. Blackwell.
Philip Pocock, proposed by Mr. Thos. Gillen.
John Stevely, proposed by Jared Vining.
Ald. D. A. Stewart, proposed by Dr. A. O. Jeffrey.
Dr. Geo. A. Routledge, proposed by J. W. Jones.

Dr. Routledge, ex-M. P., of Lambeth, was the first speaker, and declared that owing to the fact that he was so busy in East Middlesex, he could not think of being the candidate for London, as much as he would like the honor. He was delighted with the splendid convention, and was confident it spelled success for the Liberals of London. Dr. Routledge paid a tribute to Hon. A. G. MacKay, the Liberal leader, who was a worthy successor of the great leaders of the past. (Cheers.)

Ald. D. A. Stewart was not a candidate, although he appreciated to the fullest extent the high honor done him in nominating him. He thanked the party for its splendid support to him at the last municipal election, and said he would do his best to uphold the best traditions of the Liberal party. Any nominee would have his undivided support. (Applause.)
Ex-Ald. Thomas Gillen was also accorded a flattering reception. He heartily thanked his mover and second for the nomination, but declined it, as he has not the time to devote to an election. There is no reason, he said, why the candidate should not be elected. The party is strong and vigorous, and is ready for the fray. There is plenty of ginger in the party, and the Conservatives will find this out on the 8th of June. (Cheers.)

Mr. Philip Pocock was given a very hearty reception. He declined the nomination. He felt that the meeting would select a man who would be a worthy candidate, and who would receive credit on the party. There was every reason to be hopeful of the result of the election.
Mr. John Stevely in declining the nomination, was loudly cheered when he stated that no matter who was nominated, the nominee would be sure to receive every reason to be hopeful of the result of the election.

President Sippl.
Mr. Arthur Sippl, president of the Young Liberal Club, thought that if he would allow his name to go before the convention, there would be no doubt about his selection. (Cheers.) The party needed a fighter, and with the number of the candidates in the field there was no doubt that such a man could be selected. It was time to show Hon. Adam Beck that the people had no faith in him. After June 8, Hon. Adam Beck would be politically electrocuted. (Laughter and cheers.) Mr. Sippl would not allow his name to go before the convention, but would retire in favor of Mr. McEvoy.

East Middlesex.
Mr. Jared Vining felt highly honored by the nomination, and he would like very much to be the candidate, as the spirit manifested at the meeting left no doubt of the result, but on this occasion he was compelled to resign. He paid a tribute to the fighting qualities of Hon. A. G. MacKay, who, he said, is entitled to the fullest and heartiest support of every Liberal of London. (Cheers.) Speaking of his work in East Middlesex, Mr. Vining prophesied that the Liberal candidate, Mr. John Gison, will be elected, and will add a strong fighting man to Mr. MacKay's band. (Cheers.) The constituency will also return a Liberal to Ottawa very shortly, Mr. Vining said, amid cheers.

Mayor Stevely.
Mayor Stevely was given a splendid reception. He appreciated the honor done him in nominating him. If circumstances would permit, he would be willing to be the candidate of the Liberal party. However, it was impossible for him to accept at this time. He thanked the Liberal party for the splendid support at the last municipal elections.

"At the recent Conservative convention, Mr. Beck went out of his way to make insinuations about the recent municipal elections," said Mayor Stevely. "When the returning officers' report came before the council, the Conservatives could have ordered an investigation. But the four Conservative aldermen, after thoroughly going

The prices at which we secured these goods enable us to do a thing for the people of London that defies competition. When they are disposed of there will be regrets on all sides. into the matter, found nothing to investigate, and it was dropped. I have examined the list of deputy returning officers, 50 in number, and of that number I find that 10 will not be allowed to act in that capacity again. (Cheers.)

"Of these 10, 8 were Conservatives, and 2 were Liberals. That certainly does not show an organized Liberal conspiracy. If the Conservatives want an investigation they shall have the opportunity, but it does not appear that they will profit much thereby."

Business reasons would not permit Mayor Stevely to be a candidate, so he retired in favor of the nominee of the convention.
Mr. F. E. Leonard esteemed it a great honor to be nominated to be the standard-bearer of the Liberal party for the Legislature. He felt the prospects of victory are very bright, but at this time he could not see his way clear to accept the nomination. His heart had always been with the Liberals, and he promised his hearty support to any candidate who was selected. (Cheers.) The spirit of the meeting augured well for the success of the party on the 8th of June. (Cheers.)

Dr. A. O. Jeffrey, in withdrawing, promised to give his every endeavor to the election of the candidate chosen. He had been on the platform at the first Carling-Walker election, and had had some experience in elections. (Laughter and cheers.)
Ex-Mayor Rumball.
Mr. F. G. Rumball thought it considerably harder for him to speak on this subject than any of the other speakers. He referred to the campaign of four years ago, when he was the candidate. Mr. Rumball was convinced that the Liberal party was behind him to a man, but the odds then were too great. The hoteliers were against them, and the temperance people wanted a change. To be beaten only a few votes over five hundred was not an overwhelming defeat in face of the landslide. Mr. Rumball could not allow his name to go to the convention, as his business relations would not permit. He would stand behind the nominee of the party to the last.

J. H. Fowler, B. A.
Mr. J. H. Fowler, B. A., was given a most flattering reception. He spoke of the spirit of the meeting, which showed that the Liberals of London are not dead, as the Conservatives are prone to allege. (Cheers.) The Liberal party, he said, was looking for young men, and only because this was the fact would he consent to allow his name to go before the convention. He is a Liberal of the Liberals, born one, and will die one. (Cheers.) Referring to Hon. Adam Beck's statement regarding the municipal elections, and his statements that Conservative elections are clean, Mr. Fowler declared he had come to the conclusion that Mr. Beck is one of the sweetest hypocrites that live. (Cheers.) Referring to Dominion politics, Mr. Fowler won the audience by declaring that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had discovered Canada, and had made it what it is today—one of the greatest and most progressive countries in the world. Now is the time for the Liberals to fight and win, because it is just when the cause seems behind that it is near to victory. (Cheers.)

Mr. T. H. Purdon, K. C.
Mr. T. H. Purdon, K. C., was very pleased to be permitted to address so large a gathering of the Liberals of London. He was pleased to note the number of young men in the party. It augured well for the future. (Cheers.) He referred to the day when the late Col. John Walker organized the Young Liberal Club and made it a great power in London. If the Liberal party had erred at all, it was in that it did not give the young men the opportunity to show their strength. Mr. Purdon spoke of the former representatives of London—Col. Walker, Hon. C. S. Hyman and others—and many others who had brought distinction to the city. London should be represented by the very best man that could be chosen. He had confidence in any nominee of the Liberal party. (Cheers.)

The Province of Ontario needed the best brains for its government. There were many great problems ready for solution—the power policy, the school question, law enforcement, and other kindred matters. The Liberals had solved many of the great problems of Ontario, and many yet remained for the party to solve. A Scotchman once said that he could understand how a man could be a Conservative in England, but no man should be a Conservative in Canada. (Applause.)

The local situation was not without hope. The Liberals of London had often faced greater odds. Over-confidence had done greater harm to the Liberal party in the past, but if the party was united, there would be no doubt that the Liberals could elect their candidate. (Cheers.)

Mr. Purdon could not be a candidate, as circumstances would not permit. He would do what he could for the nominee of the convention.
Ald. Ferguson.
Ald. Donald Ferguson was cheered as he took the platform to speak. He said the party is today in a position to redeem the riding for the Liberal cause. Conservatives of London have called upon him within the last week to ask him to run, as they are distressed in the other family, and this fact will materially help the Liberal nominee. He declined the nomination, but stated that when the time comes to accept such an honor he will give his best efforts to the Liberal cause. (Cheers.) The party is full of fight, and will win on the 8th of June. (Applause.) No matter who was nominated, he would leave no stone unturned to elect him. (Applause.)

Mr. J. M. McEvoy.
Mr. McEvoy declared the nomination was not of his seeking. He had been approached by a number to allow his name to go to the convention, and he would do so, Mr. McEvoy said, if he had no speech to make. If the convention was behind him, as he was convinced that they would stand behind the nominee of the party, he would undertake the task.
"And those who know me know that I am not easily turned back when I start anything," he said amid cheers.
Ald. Gerry was absent from the convention owing to illness. President Rumball announced that Ald. Gerry had consented to allow his name to go to the convention, and he would run if the party desired him to do so.

The three names were then balloted for—Mr. J. M. McEvoy, K. C., J. H. Fowler, B. A., and Ald. Gerry.

The Candidate.
Mr. McEvoy was given a majority on the first ballot, and on motion of Mr. Fowler and Mr. T. H. Purdon, K. C., the nomination was made unanimous.

The nominee was given a tremendous ovation on arising. He could not continue for several minutes. He declared that he sincerely thanked the convention for honoring him by nominating him. It was, indeed, an honor, one that he esteemed above all other honors. He would rather be the candidate for the Liberals of London than for any other constituency in Canada. (Cheers.)

Mr. McEvoy felt that a better man might be chosen, but he would do his duty. Now that he had put his hand to the plow, there would be no turning back. (Cheers.) He wanted the support of every Liberal, and he was certain he would have it. The situation was by no means hopeless.
Mr. McEvoy then devoted considerable time to the issues before the electors of Ontario.

"At the present point in the political development of this country and this city it is not easy," said Mr. McEvoy, "to advance sure-footedly. Any man who is thrust into the thick of the political battle here ought to realize humbly the tremendous and solemn responsibility involved. Let the supreme desire of each one be that Providence will provide the strength and wisdom for each of us, that will enable us to do the right thing in the right way at every turn of this campaign. The duty of every Liberal in this city is to do right. Let every Liberal to his duty, and the campaign will look after itself."

As to Corruption.
"It is said that the Liberal party in London is corrupt and that the tower of Siloam fell upon some who are pointed to by the hypocrites and pharisees as though they were sinners. Let all men who dwell in Jerusalem. London are without in, let them cast the first stone. (Cheers.) But let no man of discretion and honesty be deceived or disturbed. The Conservative party in London will have plenty to do to keep its own nose clean. These who know the record of the Conservative party in this country, and in this city, will rather say, 'Cast out the beam that is in thine own eye and then wilt thou see better to pluck out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.' (Cheers.)"

"Of all the graces that adorn the distinguished character of the honorable gentleman whom we have the duty to oppose, charity and humility are not the most noticeable. (Cheers.) I notice in the Free Press of May 2 a report of some remarks that the leader of the Conservative party in this city felt himself compelled to make, and lest I wrong him let me read."

"I have often said that any money I should give to the party should be spent in ferreting out corruption. Our money has been spent well. They can no longer say, 'Go to London and you will get crooks by the score.' Every man in the province and in the city can feel proud of what we have done to stop this thievery. 'But you and I can look each other in the eye and say that we are honest.'"

"And the whole Conservative party with one accord said, 'Yea, Verily.'"

The Pharisee.
"Two men went up to the temple to pray for votes, and the Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself: 'God, I thank thee that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers or even as this poor Grit. I fast twice a week and three times about election time for votes. I give tithes of all that I possess.'"

"But I tell you that in the eyes of the voter the poor Grit went down rather justified than the Pharisee."

"Let me remind you of the attic and let me ask you to remember how many of those whose names appear in that same report as being on the platform at the same meeting, and in the pews at this notable gathering of those illustrious, uncontaminated, whose names are enshrined in the sacred records of the Hyman-Beattie election trial. (Cheers.)"

Election Methods Bad.
"Let me call your attention to the instructions which Freeborn got, as was sworn from the Conservative organizer of Toronto in the Dominion election of 1896."

This man Freeborn swore that he got certain instructions from one Turner, who told him they were given by the Conservative organizer in Toronto. The instructions read:
"We have the printing of the ballots, therefore a sufficient number should be printed extra to enable the deputy returning officer to have them marked for our candidate and ready to use after the count to replace those read out wrongly to the scrutineers. Or the deputy returning officer can have them marked and folded in his pocket to slip into the box in place of an opposition ballot if the opportunity appears. This, of course, will occur quite frequently if we have control of both scrutineers."

"To get control of both scrutineers have one of our men, not a prominent one, but a supposed kicker, for instance, apply to the opposition to be put on as scrutineer inside. They are generally short of workers, and a few plausible men will turn the election in a close constituency. Or the man can write to their headquarters for scrutineer papers if he lives in the country."

"Efforts should be made to make these methods work in wards that give the heaviest of opposition vote."

"Having control of both scrutineers, a large vote is polled—dead and absent voters, etc., can have their ballots marked; there is no redress if both scrutineers were present."

"A friendly constable should be present to keep the poll clear of loungers and inquisitive people."

"The deputy returning officer should be a reliable, sharp and plausible man, so that if we do not get control of the opposition scrutineer, he can, when the counting times arrives, ask both scrutineers to take a large number of a pencil fastened under the little finger with beeswax, drawn across opposite our candidate's name in opening the ballot."

"If you cannot get control of opposition scrutineers, have your deputy returning officer announce that he is against you, so as to lead him astray if possible."

In the city of Winnipeg, where 5,000 or 6,000 ballots would have been sufficient in an honest election, there were 10,000 printed, and yet all had been used up at 2 o'clock and the polls had to be closed while more were printed. Altogether the Manitoba elections furnished an instance of the boldest and most colossal election fraud in history, under the auspices of the 'party of purity.'"

Tory Plot to Steal Seats of Liberal Members in 1896.
The circular of instructions sent out from the Conservative headquarters, King to Toronto, in 1896, pointed out four methods of doing up the Grits as follows:

(1) Slipping—(i.e., calling out a ballot for the Tory candidate when it is in reality marked for the Liberal.)
(2) Switching—(i.e., stealing ballots marked for the Liberal candidate, and putting into the ballot box ballots marked for the Tory candidate.)
(3) Stuffing—(i.e., polling votes of the dead and absent men with the connivance of both scrutineers.)
(4) Spoiling—(i.e., by making a mark on the ballot marked for the Liberal candidate opposite the name of the Tory candidate with a piece of lead fastened under the finger nail.)

The extent to which the last method (spoiling) was practiced is shown by the very large number of rejected ballots in 1896 as compared with other elections. The following table is taken from the official returns:

	Number of rejected Ballots in

In the provincial general elections of 1896 there were two acclamations and the returns for the Ottawa seats do not contain any statement with reference to rejected ballots, but in the remaining 90 ridings there was only an average of 28 rejected ballots.

Since 1896 the average of rejected ballots was 30 to a riding.

TOASTED CORN FLAKES

"NO GREEN IN HER EYE"

She wants Kellogg's, for she knows that there's health as well as deliciousness in every flake. A food for thinkers as well as toilers

—a food the dyspeptic can thoroughly enjoy, and children thrive on. Such is the genuine

"Toasted

Strive For the Highest Things The Spiritual Life in Peril

Thoughtful Address Before the Canadian Club By Prof.
Griggs.

Prof. Edward Howard Griggs, of Boston, was the guest of honor at the Canadian Club luncheon at noon today, and delivered a masterly address on "Man's Obligation to Man."

There was a fair attendance of members present. Dr. John D. Wilson, president of the club, occupied the chair.

The United States Depression.

The speaker dealt with financial conditions in the United States. The present depression was due largely to conditions that have been developing for some years. The country had grown very rapidly. Enormous wealth had been produced, but this wealth had gone into the hands of the few, and the whole nation had been living on borrowed capital. The people were living on next year's salary, and as a result the idea became prevalent that this prosperity would endure forever. The bubble finally burst, and the result was a great financial depression. Conditions were somewhat similar to the conditions prevailing at the time of the French Revolution.

A Social Revolution.

Then a great revolution in society decided the moral relationships were being more carefully developed than in years past. Men were beginning to see that all ability, wealth, social power, carried with it a moral responsibility. Wealth had been produced, but it had been at a great cost. The rich used their wealth without a regard to their moral responsibilities to others. Now it was commencing to be recognized that a man should at least give the world as much as he takes out. Every man should make a life rather than just make a living. If a man did not produce, they should not enjoy. Every man owed a moral obligation to his neighbor, whether he recognized it or not.

An Ideal Life.

Every man should have an ideal of life towards which he should strive. The danger of modern life is that the spiritual may be crushed out by the very machinery of life. Life was becoming so complex that it was much harder than ever to live in the light of a man's best moments. There was the great danger of being crushed beneath the weight of so much wealth, and luxury and high living.

Why Not Publish List of Deputies?

The list of deputies who will not be allowed to act in that capacity again, published in yesterday's Advertiser, was furnished by City Clerk Baker.

The same list was tendered to the Free Press, but for reasons best known to that journal, it was not used. The places of these men have been filled by other deputies, and when the vote on the water bylaw takes place shortly, not one of them will act in that capacity.

The information did not come from Mayor Stewley, nor was it published at his request.

The Free Press has been calling loudly for that information for some time, and when it was tendered to that journal it was not wanted at all. An attempt has been made to show that these deputies are being persecuted by Mayor Stewley.

The simple fact of the matter is, that the council, after due deliberation, decided that there was no need of investigation.

The mistakes made were explained to the satisfaction of the city council.

Then Mr. Beck went out of his way to insinuate that the elections had been corrupt, and called for the names of the supposedly guilty parties. A list of deputies whose inaccuracies decided the city clerk to discontinue their services was then given, and it was discovered that eight of the ten deputies were Conservatives. The Free Press refused to publish the names, but kept continually insisting that the one Liberal deputy was guilty of all the mistakes made by the deputies.

The information was not published by the Free Press, nor does that journal seem anxious to publish it.

Miss Mayou On Deep Sea Missions

Mrs. W. J. Reid has received the following letter from Miss Mayou, formerly lady superintendent of Victoria Hospital, and now engaged in mission work in Labrador. Any persons who would care to assist in the work by sending clothing may leave it with Mrs. Reid during this month, and it will be forwarded:

"Deep Sea Mission Hospital,
Harrington, Canadian Labrador,
"Aug. 23, 1907."

"Dear Mrs. Reid,—I am writing to thank you very much indeed for your very kind donations of clothing, etc., which you sent us in the bales and barrels. Everything was most acceptable and arrived in good condition. I am sure it would rejoice the heart of yourself and of all who contributed if you could see how much everything is valued and appreciated by those who are fortunate enough to get them. We give them away only in cases of widows, orphans, sickness, or unavoidable poverty. We use what is sent as payment for work done, or necessities bought, and the people are only too glad to clothe themselves and their families in this way, with such good, serviceable, well-made articles. The clothing sent is paying for the winter's supply of wood for the hospital, paying for the material and construction of an indispensable wharf, building a storehouse for the clothing and year's supply of groceries and provisions, heating the floors, and putting up shelves and cupboards, running the launch and driving the dogs, providing salt fish and berries for the hospital, and barrels of food for the teams of Komatik dogs, the only means of locomotion in the winter from December to June. Last winter the doctor traveled 1,700 miles with his dogs on snow and ice. Twice they went in and were not there, but the sick call was an urgent one, and there is so much good that the doctor can do on this coast, that they got out safely.

"If you repeat your kindness next year, will you ask especially for boys' clothing, warm underclothing for all; boots (very strong) for all; warm socks, stockings, gloves, mitts, hoods, mufflers and caps, though everything acceptable. I rejoice when I find articles of food, such as jelly, custard, cocoa, milk, soup, cereals, etc., for it is often difficult to make appetizing articles of diet for sick people with failing appetites, as you will readily understand, when I tell you that we have no fresh beef, mutton, veal, pork, poultry, vegetables, fruit or milk. The sea provides us with fish, seal and whale, and the air with birds, which, as their diet is fish, have a fishy taste. I made a pie of some when first I came. The crust was made of seal, and the filling was cod liver oil. For the rest we depend upon tinned, salted, dried and pickled articles. This is going to be a very hard winter for the poor people of this coast. The fishing has been a complete failure, though the men have toiled early and late, starting out at 3 a.m., and going to bed until 10 p.m. The native berry crop, too, has failed, owing to the lack of sunshine and continuance of cold, wet weather, with high winds. This makes the clothing doubly valuable, for every cent is needed for the winter's supply of goods.

"I hope you are all well. Please give my love to Mrs. Waterman when next you see her. I am going soon to answer the sweet letter I had from her at the end of last month. I am always delighted to hear any London news. "Again thanking you and all who helped to fill the bales and barrel. Believe me, yours sincerely,
"EDITH MAYOUE."

Didn't Know It Was "Little Charley"

Charles Dean, who committed suicide yesterday, seems to have been very well known in this city, although a large number of his friends did not know that his name was Dean. He was more familiarly known as "Little Charley," and many persons who saw the remains at once recognized them.

Dean appears to have been very popular, as everyone who knew him speaks well of him, and gives him a good character.

The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon from 115 Dundas street to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

The Roman Catholic Bishops Meet

It is understood that the Roman Catholic Bishops of Ontario, His Lordship Bishop McEvoy of London, included, held a meeting in Toronto on Monday to discuss the resignation of Archbishop O'Connor, and to nominate his successor.

It is said that Bishop McEvoy was the unanimous choice of the Bishops, and that the announcement of his appointment will be made within a very short time.

It is further said that amongst the candidates for succession to the Bishop of London is Rev. Father Mahony, of Hamilton.

Be Sure Your Name Is On the List

All young Liberals are requested to call at the Liberal Club rooms at the corner of Queen's avenue and Park avenue and register their names as soon as possible.

The rooms will be open every day and evening for that purpose. No one should take it for granted that his name is on the list, but should make certain. If your name is not on the list, get it on.

All information on the subject will be furnished by calling at the Liberal Club rooms.

Don't forget to register.

Captain Jack Crawford, the poet-scout, says John D. Rockefeller and Harold McCormick will provide funds for country summer playgrounds for New York City children. Captain Crawford will have personal charge of the first playground opened. When you are no better than you have to be you are no better than you should be.

A MOIR RUMOR FROM HAMILTON

Man Answering To His Description Applied for Lodging There Yesterday.

From speculating as to the whereabouts of Moir, the slayer of Sgt. Lloyd, local public interest now is centered on the possibility of a reward being offered for the apprehension of the fugitive.

The general opinion is that Moir will never be taken unless a reward is offered, and that the chances of a reward look rather slim.

Inquiry at police headquarters elicited the fact that absolutely nothing had been heard lately of the elusive one, and that none of the London officers were out on the case.

So far as is known the only rumor out lately has come from Hamilton, and the fact that the local police has not been notified would seem to weaken that story, which runs as follows:

Hamilton, May 6.—The police were asked yesterday to be on the lookout for Moir, the soldier who is wanted for the alleged murder of a companion at Wolesey Barracks, London. It is thought he is in this city. A man answering his description applied at a house for lodgings yesterday morning, and when the woman who called informed the police at once.

CHINESE PUPILS ENTERTAIN TEACHERS

Pleasant Time in the Primary Room of Dundas Center Sunday School.

The Chinese pupils of Dundas Center Sunday School entertained their teachers at a banquet on Tuesday evening in the primary room.

The decorations and refreshments were entirely of the Chinese, and were most dainty and abundant. Rev. Mr. Lancelotti thanked the boys for their hospitality, and Lem Wong and Harry Lee replied in fluent English, giving an account of the many rapid changes now taking place in China.

Marjorie Skinner contributed a solo, and Messrs. Winnett and Fitzgerald short speeches. The Chinese class in Dundas Center is increasing in size and interest.

MR. MEVOY STANDS FOR CLEAN ELECTION

Assures His Friends That Everything Will Be Above Board.

"I understand that Mr. Beck has declared that he will run an absolutely clean campaign—one free from any kind of corruption," said Mr. John McEvoy, the Liberal candidate, to The Advertiser today. "I will meet him on that matter, and I pledge myself and my friends that so far as my campaign is concerned, it will be absolutely clean."

FATALLY HURT IN A RUNAWAY

Owen Sound, Ont., May 6.—A serious runaway occurred this morning on street this morning. While Mrs. Hughes, of Balclava, was driving down the main street, the horse was frightened by some dogs, running away and colliding with a grocery rig. The shaft of the grocery wagon penetrated Mrs. Hughes' side. She is not expected to recover.

The present Lady Essex has been too high and mighty to suit Lady Meux, who has not only ceased giving Lord Essex his allowance, but has signified her intention of leaving her money to a charming American girl who has taken her fancy. This is Ellen Beach Yaw, the opera singer, whose top notes are as famous in Europe as in America. Miss Yaw is one of the sweetest natured women to be found anywhere. She is true-hearted, unselfish, and Lady Meux tells her friends that Miss Yaw gives her more comfort than all her money.

Meets Ellen Beach Yaw.

She first saw Miss Yaw some four or five years ago at the old Sarah Siddons house near Regent's Park, where she was living with Mme. Guy D'Harcourt, the composer. Lady Meux was calling upon Mme. D'Harcourt when she met Miss Yaw in the hall just as she was leaving. She invited the American girl to her country place near London for the day and kept her there a month. Miss Yaw had just returned from a tour in London, but Lady Meux canceled them by telegraph and paid Miss Yaw more than enough to cover her loss.

When Miss Yaw came back to London it was only to pack her trunks and return to Lady Meux to study. She seemed to be able to be amiable and charming to all the motley crowd of guests that thronged the Meux houses in the country and in London, and she was a great drawing card for Lady Meux.

The following year, Miss Yaw declared that she should return to her musical career and she made contracts to sing in Paris to continue her studies at the same time.

Lady Meux followed her to Paris, leased a flat for her in the Champs Elysees quarter, furnished it with a magnificent and extraordinary bed and turned it over to her protégée. Not content with this she sent to San Francisco for Miss Yaw's mother to come to Paris for the winter and the summer to stay with her.

At the reception in the American quarter and at the opera Miss Yaw dazzled the aristocratic set with her jewels and the jewels she had received from Lady Meux. She frankly acknowledged Lady Meux as her fairy god-mother, and tried to take a daughter's place in the life of that erratic ex-queen of the burlesque stage.

While Miss Yaw was wearing the finest diamond necklace seen in Paris in the American set and every week appearing in a wonderful new gown Lady Essex was trying to recoup the family fortunes by starting a laundry in London, but it failed.

ITALIAN SPIES FOLLOW MORGAN

London, May 5.—As is well known on the other side of the Atlantic, J. Pierpont Morgan, of New York, has been paying a visit to Rome, indulging his artistic taste of studying the matchless antiques of the Eternal City. He has been lionized by the aristocratic society of Rome, and has been asked to the Quirinal. But from the moment he crossed the Italian frontier until he recrossed it on leaving the country, he was kept under the strictest surveillance of detectives detailed for the work. Since the affair of the Asot cup, and also of other priceless works of art, which, like that, have never been recovered, the Italian Government is taking no chances with Mr. Morgan or anyone else. Last year several Van Dycks from the Vatican collection at Genoa, were smuggled out of the country.

When Mr. Morgan gets on board his yacht, the Corsair, and turns up unexpectedly at some historic spot along the coast, it is not so easy to learn what he is up to. Therefore, it is said that on this occasion the Corsair has been followed along the pathless deep by a torpedo destroyer, which in point of speed could make circles around Mr. Morgan's yacht.

War On Rats.

The great war on London rats has begun. "One estimate of the damage done by rats during the course of a year has produced a total of $50,000,000. From exhaustive observations, however, which I have made throughout the country, should place the figure at $60,000,000, or even $70,000,000.

MAKES SINGER HER HEIRESS

Lady Meux Forms a Liking for Famous Ellen Beach Yaw.

Essex would introduce Lady Meux into society the earl might inherit millions, but the countess says she will start first, and the Meux millions are likely to go to Ellen Beach Yaw.

When the lovely Adele Grant of New York married Lord Essex in 1893 he seemed to be secure. In the affections of his rich aunt, Lady Meux, and was looked upon as her heir.

WEARS $1,000,000 IN ACT

Fannie Ward Scores Triumph Before London Audiences.

London, May 4.—Miss Fannie Ward, so well known in America, has greatly astonished the greatest admirers by her activity in "The Marriage of William Ashe." When she was seen here last Miss Ward (in private life Mrs. Joseph Lewis) showed a remarkable advance in her art.

But now it is admitted that no actress on the English stage—except Marie Tempest, perhaps—could have approached Miss Ward's acting as Kitty Ashe in humor, fire, coquetry, tenderness and abandon. She was simply admirable when she danced on the stage clad—or unclad—as Venus.

The most marvellous feature of her performance is the gliding display she makes of her diamonds. As Venus, fanned by her beauty unadorned, Fannie Ward wore $1,000,000 worth of diamonds. She is plastered with the gems head and body, back and front. Her husband was a diamond merchant.

WEEKLY REVIEW
OF THE MARKET

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Wednesday, May 6.
One load of hay was offered at the market this morning, which sold at $12 per ton.
A couple of loads of choice oats sold at $1.62 per cwt.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

The markets held here the past week were of the ordinary kind. There was a fairly brisk demand in all lines, and there was not much change in prices.
Grain—Oats are firm, at $1.58 to $1.62 per cwt for choice. Wheat is quoted by the millers at 92c per bu, but only an occasional load is offered.
Hay—The supply of hay, although large for this time of the year, was in fairly brisk demand, and prices are from 10c to 11c per ton lower than a week ago; the prospects are for lower prices, as there is a large quantity of hay to be placed on the market; prices range from $11 to $12.50 per ton. Straw is dull at $7 to $7.50.

Potatoes—The market is firm at $1 per bag wholesale and $1.05 retail.
Apples—Ordinary apples in slow demand, but there is fair buying of the finer grades; sales are made at 80c to $1 per bag, and $1.75 to $2.25 per barrel.
Butter and Eggs—The dealers have been expecting a sharp decline in prices for two or three weeks, and consequently they have not been buying very actively; the way that prices keep up is a disappointment to many, and the talk at present is that there will not be any great change until the grass butter comes in; sales are made at 25c for crocks and 27c for choice pound rolls; mixed rolls sell at 25c per lb; eggs are firm, and from the way in which the packers are scouring the country for eggs, there is not likely to be any reduction in prices; sales are made at 15c to 16c for crates and basket lots.

Poultry—Supplies of poultry continue very small, and the market is firm; turkeys sell at 12c to 15c per lb dressed, and 12c alive; old fowl, 9c to 10c alive and 12c to 13c dressed; a few spring chickens have been offered, which sold at $1 per pair; dealer quotes 30c per lb for spring chickens that weigh 1½ lbs each.
Dressed Hogs—The cool weather has helped trade in this line; sales are brisk and most of the hogs sell at $1.50 per cwt.
Live Hogs—For last Monday's shipment $6 per cwt was paid for select, and $5.75 for fat sows; it is expected that from $5.50 to $6 per cwt will be the price next Monday; small pigs sell at $5 to $6 per pair.

Bullocks—Meats—Beef is firm, at $7 to $9 per cwt; veal sells at $7 to $9 per cwt; spring lambs, $8 to $9; yearlings, 12c per lb by the carcass.
Hides—Prices of hides have advanced considerably; it is said that the cause of the sharp advance is partly due to competition among the local buyers; prices are 6c for No. 1, 5c for No. 2, and 4c for No. 3 grades of cow hides; calf skins are 20c per lb higher, and are now quoted at 10c per lb for choice.
Wool—The market continues dull, with no change in prices; orders for woolen goods are unsatisfactory, and until there is an improvement in that direction there is probably little hope for better conditions in the market for the raw material; the decline in the result of the continued curtailment in the spinning of wool, of course, means less demand for wool; the local buyers will not quote prices until the shearing is completed.

HIDES, TALLOW, WOOL.
Toronto, May 6.—Hides—While prices remain steady and firm, dealers are unwilling to pay five for present take-off country hides, cured and free from grubs. A considerable proportion of the hides being offered are not of the best quality. Buyers are not anxious to take stocks in the present condition of the market. Calfskins are in rather free supply. Deer skins have advanced 5c. Ruling prices here are: Inspected steers and cows, No. 1, 4½c; No. 2, 4½c; No. 3, 4½c; do, country, 4½c; do, present take-off, 5c; do, dekins, 6c; sheepskins, 7c to 8c; horsehides, 10c, 1½c.
Hides—2½c.
Tallow—Rendered, 4½c to 5½c.

A Fish Story.
A Port Stanley dispatch says: There was quite a sensation in the village Monday, when the tug Nettie B., Capt. Wm. Berry, came in from her nets, and it was learned she had on board a very large salmon trout, in addition to a lot of other fish. People came from far and near to view the fishy monster. It is the first of the kind which has been caught by fishermen here within the past 30 years, and was certainly a novel sight. The measurements of the fish were as follows: Length, 3 feet, 7½ inches; circumference, 24 inches; weight, 23½ pounds. It was sold and taken to the city and will adorn the tables of the Grand Central Hotel. The fish was photographed before it left the city.

Closing Session of the Presbytery of London on Tuesday.

The regular May meeting of the London Presbytery held in Chalmers Church yesterday was closed in the afternoon, after a great deal of important business had been discussed.
Rev. T. A. Watson, of Thamesford, presided.
The committee on the rearrangement of the Delaware field, consisting of Revs. J. G. Stuart, H. F. Jelly, Dr. McCrae and H. F. Scott, reported through Rev. W. Moffatt that they had visited the fields in the district, but owing to the fact that Ivan is likely to stand alone, they proposed that the following arrangement be carried out:
That North Caradoc and Mount Brydges be formed into one charge; that South Caradoc, Delaware Village and Muncey be another charge, and that South Delaware, Tempo and the new congregation at Payne's Mills form another.

Still Unsettled.
On account of the fact that the matter of Ivan and Caradoc had not been definitely settled, the committee will continue, and next week will visit North Caradoc, Ivan and Payne's Mills and seek to have a satisfactory arrangement completed.
It was felt that if this can be done it will make the congregations strong and united and convenient for work. The committee will report on this matter at the general meeting of the presbytery to be held on May 27 in the First Presbyterian Church.

Paynes Mills.
In regard to Paynes Mills, a petition was received from the people there, asking for the organization of a congregation and requesting that it be united with Tempo and South Delaware.
They promised to contribute $200 a year for their share of the support.
Messrs. W. Campbell and A. Gilbert, of Paynes Mills, supported the petition and presented the matter in such a favorable manner that it is likely that steps will be taken at once to meet the wishes of the people of Paynes Mills.

Musical Treat in First Meth. Church

Seldom have music-lovers in London enjoyed such a rare treat as the lecture given by Sir Frederick Bridge, of London, England, in the First Methodist Church last evening. There was a large attendance, and the programme provided was most enjoyable.

Sir Frederick Bridge appeared in the gold and scarlet robes of the office as organist in Westminster Abbey. He gave a lecture on cathedral music, illustrating it by selections from many noted composers.
Sir Frederick traced the history of cathedral music from 1487, when Dr. Christopher Tye wrote, up to the present time. He declared that cathedral music was imperishable, and would endure forever. He then entered into the programme.

Several organ solos were given by the distinguished visitor in a manner that stamped him as an organist of exceptional talent. His tones possessed a roundness and beauty that were most delightful. This organ is the first of the kind he has yet played on, and he was somewhat unfamiliar with it, but in spite of this he showed his great genius as an organist.

The Choir's Splendid Work.
The choir, augmented by many picked soloists, was in no way inferior to the splendid work of the ladies' voices was also very fine. He also congratulated Mr. A. D. Jordan on the splendid efficiency of the choir.

Ottawa, May 5.—In a House crowded as it only is on the most important occasions, the first shots were fired today in the battle over the Manitoba and British Columbia voters' lists, and the prospects are that for many days to come the Commons will resound with the clash of a combine provoked in large measure by the party fanaticism of the Roblin Government. To Hon. A. B. Aylesworth fell the duty of moving the second reading of the Dominion elections bill, the first clause of which is the real issue in the fight begun, and he performed the task in a speech as admirable in tone as it was in form. After all the abuse that has been leveled at him by Conservative

Progressing Favorably.
Rev. James Rollins reported in regard to Egerton Street and Hamilton Road Missions that they are being supplied by a student from Queen's University, who also looks after Chelsea Green.

The work is progressing most favorably.
A New Mission.
Rev. Thomas Mitchell, of the New St. James' Church, asked permission to hold a new mission on the corner of Quebec and Oxford streets.

This was sanctioned by the Presbytery, and a committee consisting of Mr. Walter Bell, Dr. Merchant and W. T. Brown, were appointed as trustees to hold the property for the Presbyterian Church.

General Assembly.
Rev. J. G. Stuart moved that in future one-third of the story 27, the general assembly be elected by ballot and that two-thirds be elected by rotation from the roll. In the past all have been elected by rotation. This motion did not carry.

Salary Increases.
It was reported that the Dorchester congregation had decided to increase the salary of their minister, Rev. J. G. Orr, by $50 a year, and also that the congregation of Ivan would grant Rev. J. Argo an increase of $50 a year. On motion of Rev. James Rollins, it was decided to instruct the clerk to have prepared for the moderator a docket of business for the beginning of each session in the Presbytery. This motion carried unanimously.

A Special Meeting.
It was decided to hold a special meeting of the Presbytery in the First Presbyterian Church on May 27. The next regular meeting will be held in St. Andrew's Church on the second Tuesday in July.
Dr. McCrae was appointed convener of the home missions committee.

Mr. L. A. Wood, a graduate of McGill College, made application to be taken on trial in order that he might secure a license. The matter will be considered.

The Ladies Aid of Chalmers' Church prepared a delightful luncheon for the members of the Presbytery, and were accorded a very hearty vote of thanks for the kindness shown.

Every anthem was a gem, and pleased greatly.
Miss Beatrice Hunt sang magnificently the solo in the anthem, "Blessed Be the God and Father," Miss Hunt is rapidly improving and as a soloist of exceptional promise. The choir also appeared to great advantage in this anthem, the exquisite shading being most noticeable.

Sir Frederick's own compositions were rendered, and were not the least enjoyable of the numbers. His setting of Mrs. Browning's exquisite poem, "He Giveth His Beloved Sleep," was in keeping with the poem itself, which is as high a tribute as can be paid to it. He was especially delighted with the manner in which the choir had rendered this anthem, and declared that it has been many years since he heard it so well rendered.

Was Highly Pleased.
A double quartet composed of Messrs. Hunt, Taylor, Mountjoy and Clark and Messrs. J. Chapman, Major Hayes, F. Soper and E. Beach took part in the programme and sang well.

Sir Frederick was highly pleased with the excellent work of the choir, which, he said, was the best he had heard in Canada. He declared the attack was perfect. The quality of the ladies' voices was also very fine. He also congratulated Mr. A. D. Jordan on the splendid efficiency of the choir.

possible for the returning officer to do more than guess the locations of those claiming the franchise. This led him to refer to what is now known as the "thin red line" case, and while pointing out that the allegations of the Opposition in that connection had been greatly exaggerated, he claimed that the course then pursued was indignantly reasonable, and had been admitted to be so even by the solicitor who prosecuted the returning officers charged with violating the law.
Government Legislation.
Mr. Borden, in combating the arguments of the minister, declared that he would resist that part of the bill with all the strength and energy he could command. Mr. Greenway, than whom none has a fuller knowledge of the situation in Manitoba, delivered a vigorous and effective speech in favor of the bill.
Before the orders of the day, Sir Wilfrid Laurier fulfilled the promise of yesterday of giving a further idea of the measures which the Government proposed for the present session. First there was the civil service act, which, he thought, would be introduced early next week. Then there were bills for the extension of the boundaries of Manitoba, an amendment to the Manitoba grain inspection act, an amendment to the lands act, aid to the construction of a railway to Hudson Bay, bills respecting the judicature, Chinese immigration bill, to amend the law so as to provide for a wholly elective council for the Yukon, and perhaps an amendment to the customs act.

Grant to Mine.
"Let me say that although the Liberals were in power for 33 years no grant of $130,000 has been given to any person, relation of a minister of mines, or minister of anything else in the dying hours of a dying parliament. (Cheers).
"Let me say to you," Mr. McEvoy continued, "that although the Conservative party has been four years in charge of the public records of the province yet that bold challenge of the ex-prime minister if this province is answered. (Cheers).
"He said over and over again to these prating hypocrites, I defy you to put your finger upon one cent of the public moneys of this province misappropriated during 30 years of Liberal rule. (Cheers).
Horse Show.
"During that thirty years no minister of the crown profited by moneys put into the public charges to exhibit horses in London. (Cheers).
"A grant of $2,000 was made, and can be found in the public accounts, as being given to the Horse Breeders' Association for the International Horse Show, London, England.
During the session the minister was challenged to show that any advertisement of the fact that this money was open to horsemen who wished to export to the horse show had appeared.
"Hon. Nelson Monteith had to admit that no advertisement had been published, and also admitted that no circular had been sent out calling the attention of horse owners and breeders to the fact that there was a grant of $2,000 to send horses to the International Horse Show in London, England. All that money was spent upon the horses of Mr. Beck or his family. The public accounts show that expenditure. Did it ever occur to you that any Liberal minister of the crown had been given a grant of $2,000 for this very same purpose? It remained for the most honest, most sincere Mr. Beck to introduce this method of public finance into Ontario. (Cheers).
Conservative Extravagances.
Mr. McEvoy then dealt with the extravagance of the Whitney Government. The Conservatives have been in control for four years, and in spite of their fair promises to retrench the expenditure, it had been increased greatly. In 1905 the first year of Conservative Government the expenditure was $5,396,015. In 1908 the expenditure is estimated at $7,909,205, an increase of 50 per cent in four years. The per capita expenditure has been increased more during the past four years than during the whole 33 years of Liberal administration.
The Whitney Government boasted of a surplus of $600,000. Where did this come from? It came from the beneficent legislation enacted by the Liberal Government. The succession duties act, opposed by Mr. Whitney when he was in Opposition, gave the country $821,692.98. The supplementary estimates act, passed to reach large corporations, telegraph and telephone companies and street railway companies, also opposed by the Conservatives in Opposition, but now accepted because they need the money, gave $672,241.66. The brewery tax was also opposed by this virtuous temperance party, but now they need the money. It yielded $75,000 last year. In 1904, the mines of Ontario yielded $27,000. In 1907 they yielded $1,686,624.35; all this was due to the Temiskaming Railway, one of the best acts of the Liberal rule.

In concluding his speech, Mr. McEvoy urged hard work from now on. The Conservatives were not entrenched beyond the possibility of defeat. He would do his best, and he would look to the loyal support of his Liberal friends.
The convention closed with cheers for Mr. McEvoy, Hon. A. G. MacKay, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the King.

IMPORTANT WORK
YET TO BE DONE
Measures Which Conservative Obstructionists Have Kept Back.
Ottawa, May 5.—Owing to the time-wasting tactics of Conservative obstructionists, many very important measures to be dealt with by parliament at this session have not yet been touched. Sir Wilfrid Laurier gave the House a list of these measures yesterday, which includes the following:
A resolution in respect to aid to the Hudsons Bay Railroad.
An act to extend the Manitoba boundaries.
An act to amend the civil service act.
Acts to amend the grain inspection act and Dominion lands act.
An act respecting Chinese immigration.
An act amending the customs act.
An act in respect to the Yukon council.
The last mentioned will make the Yukon council elective instead of but partially elective as at present.

Water Commissioners Let Spring Contractors Yesterday.
There was little business before the water commissioners at the regular meeting held yesterday afternoon.
The contract for painting the pavilion at Springbank was awarded to Mr. W. Wignmore for $230.
The pumping engineer's report showed the average to be 3,900,000 gallons daily for the half-month.
These present were Chairman Wm. Jones, Commissioner Darch, Mayor Stevely, Engineer Moore and Secretary Ellwood.
