BORDEN WITHOLDS EXTENSION MEASURE FROM UPPER HOUSE WHICH ASSURES AN ELECTION

Bill Not Permitted To Go To Senate. As It Was Not Unanimous-Both Parties Clear Deck for Action-Government May Have Bill To Give the Soldiers' Wives and Mothers a Vote.

Commons today by a brief announcement from the prime minister.

Sir Robert said that it was not his intention to have the motion for the extension of the term of Parliament cantend to the country that there is to be an election before the end of the year. It does not appear certain that the Government has fixed the extension of the term of Parliament sent on to the Senate.

The premier is following the course he indicated in moving the adoption of the resolution, when he said that unless extension received practically the unanimous consent of the Canadian Parliament he would not have it pressed through and sent to the British House.

"Under the circumstances, and having regard to the course laid down, the Government does not propose to take any further action in this matter," said the prime minister.

There was applause from both sides of the House when the premier finished the declaration.

That the Government has fixed the approximate time.

There are reports that dissolution will come soon, and there are other reports that the House will be continued in session until September in order to pass a Dominion franchise measure and other legislation. There is the question of giving votes to the wives and mothers and daughters of men at the front, so that if there is any difficulty about having the vote of the soldiers polled on the other side they will be represented in Canada by their women on election day.

There was applause from both sides of the House when the premier finished the declaration.

Petain Continues To Have the Better of the Crown Prince.

Paris, July 19.-The Germans made an attack last night on a front of 800 metres south of St. Quentin. The war office announces that the enemy gained a footing in the French first line, but was expelled from the greater part of these positions by a counterattack. A German attempt to regain ground captured by the French near Avocourt wood, on the Verdun front, was defeated.

GERMANS HARD HIT.

French Front in France, July 18 .- (B the Associated Press).-The crown prince's army suffered the rudest shock when the French yesterday attacked and recaptured all the position northwest of Verdun. These cost th Germans much hard fighting when the took them from the French. The affair cost the Germans not only the loss of their former conquest and about 500 prisoners, but the French cut into their line and repeated German counter-attacks failed to recover any part thereof, and resulted even in more losses. The Germans when they advanced at the end of June obtained possession of a number of observatories, giving them splendid views of the French line. The French were obliged to delay the movement owing to bad weather, but continued the heavy bombardment, causcontinued the heavy bombardment, causing the Germans such losses that they were obliged to take the Tenth Reserve Division which was holding their position out of the trenches as some of its companies have been reduced to fifty men apiece. The 29th Division replaced it, supported by the 48th Division, composed of fresh troops brought from the Russian front.

It was while relief was proceeding that the French attacked it, thoroughly that the French attacked it, thoroughly surprising the enemy by appearing in their trenches while the bombardment was proceeding. The French battalions were greatly animated. In a few seconds they had surmounted the objects separating the armies and disappeared down on the other side. Delegates Expect Good Results for Organized Labor and Trades.

At the meeting of the trades and labor council last night the bylaw authorizing the guarantees of the bonds of the Ajax Rubber Company of Can-ada by the city received the unanimous indorsation of the delegates of the various local unions attending. The proposition was thoroughly explained to them by George Miller of the Ajax Company, Controller Shaw and Industrial Commissioner Philip.

Dr. Shaw explained in detail the agreement by which the city is given bonds. The Ajax Company, besides being required to build and equip a plant, capable of turning out 900 tires per day, costing a minimum of $300,000, is also costing a minimum of $300,000, is also to deposit with a trust company a sufficient sum to pay off the bonds when they fall due.

He said he had gone into the matter minutely and was gone into the matter minutely and wa of the opinion that the men presen should render their hearty approval o the stand taken by the Electrica Workers' Union and the Building Trades Council in their indorsation of the bylaw.

George Miller, the company's representative in London, dwelt briefly upon the labor side of the proposition. He said that the company's employees would practically all be selected from London, only the heads of the various departments being imported, in case men with the necessary experience and knowledge of the scientific departments are not to be found in the city.

of preventing the structure being smashed by the tremendous flow of water resulting from the heavy downpour of rain yesterday, caused the flooding of the whole of Southside Park, one of the principal picnic grounds and pleasure resorts of the city today. A greek running through the park was swellen to such proportions that it overflowed its banks and part of the roadway approach to one of the bridges was swept away by the flood. Recently part of the park was allotted to people of the city for growing potatoes, and these plots are now, for the third time this year, under water, and the amateur gardeners fear that they will not realize any crop. Another effect of the opening of the dam was that a large number of parent green bass, put into the Oxford County fishing preserve some days ago, went out into the creek.

To Act As Instructor,
Regimental Sergt.-Major A, S. Robins, formerly of the 71st Battalion, who twice attempted without success to reach the front by relinquishing his rank, returned to the city quite unexpectedly today, and, after spending a seven-day leave of absence here, will report to Toronto for duty as an instructor at the Royal Flying Corps School. The sergeant-major, after the 71st was broken up in England, reverted to the rank of private in order to get to the front, and reached the base, but there was rejected as medically unfit and sent back to England, where he was again given his first class warrant rank. A second attempt similarly met with failure, and he was later chosen, with fourteen other non-commissioned and warrant officers for instructional work in Canada in connection with the Royal Flying Corps.

Taking Advantage of July Sales

This is the month of stock inventory sales, our half-yearly stocktaking, which is of more significance than ever before, and we recommend careful shoppers that they buy now to fill definitely known future needs. It is undoubted wisdom to do so. We have been on record for more than a year as a house which anticipated steady rises through the past twelve months in all needables. Because of that we are more than logically in a position to supply your needs at reasonable prices. Besides the stocktaking clearings of summer merchandise the tremendous purchases of linens, cottons and sheetings for this month's sale now in progress offers emphatically low prices worthy of widespread attention. This store is in most thorough sympathy with your wish to make each purchase a prudent, money-saving transaction.

Urged Investigation.

Mr. McCoig brought the cold storage question before Parliament some time ago, urging that investigation be made into the corporation headed by Sir Joseph Flavelle, and that the Government take over, in the public interests, the entire cold storage industry. Today the West Kent man wanted to know what the Government proposed to do. There seems to be a strong movement on the part of members on both sides of the House to demand an investigation by a special committee of Parliament, with full powers to call for the production of books, and take evidence on oath. Members frankly state that nothing in years has so stirred up public concern. They are deluged with letters from constituents by Chief Randall. The charge against Moran was that he was regularly sending money to Germany, where his wife and family reside, their home being at Pforzheim. Moran, it is said, has been suspected for some time by the Government authorities of sending money to Germany, but previous to the United States entering the war he could not be caught as he sent the money to a friend in New York who forwarded it to his family in Germany. Since the United States entered the war, however, Moran has been sending the money to an address in Switzerland and from there it went to his family. It is estimated that since the war started he had sent close to $500 out of the country. When he was placed under arrest today, and the evidence of his guilt was placed before him, he showed no hesitation in making a clean breast of the whole affair. A search of his room at his boarding house revealed nothing of value except receipts for the money sent. He was a reservist of the German army, and the papers sent him telling him where he was to report for duty, were found by the officers. He did not have time, however, to get out of the country, and remained in Montreal, where he was employed up to the time he came to Guelph. He took his arrest in a quiet manner, and made no complaint. He will be sent to the internment camp at Kapuskising. to his family in Germany. Since the Bonar Law Says It Will Divert Attention From War Energies.

LONDON, July 18.—Announcement was made in the House of Commons today by Andrew Bonar Law, that the Government had decided not to proceed with the proposed judicial inquiry into the report of the commission which investigated the Mesopotamia campaign. In coming to this decision, the chancellor said, the Government had been guided by the objection raised during debate on the report to a further inquiry and also was influenced by the undesirability of diverting the thought and energies of the legislature and the executive at this critical time from the prosecution of the war. The soldiers would be dealt with by the army council in the ordinary way and the decision announced as soon as possible.

The Government, on the representation of the foreign secretary, who alone was in a position to judge. Bonar Law continued, had decided that it would be detrimental to the interests of the foreign office if it should at the present juncture be deprived of the services of Baron Hardinge, under-secretary of state for foreign affairs, and had therefore refused his resignation, which had thrice been tendered. If it had been in the power of the Government to refuse the services of thrice been tendered. If it had been in the power of the Government to re-fuse the resignation of J. THE AJAX AGREEMENT

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT made (in duplicate) this A.D., 1917. BETWEEN-

THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF LONDON, (hereinafter called the Corporation),

OF THE FIRST PART,

THE AJAX RUBBER COMPANY OF CANADA, LIMITED, (hereinafter called the Company),

OF THE SECOND PART.

WHEREAS the Company is desirous of obtaining a site in the City of London, and of erecting thereon a factory for the purpose of carrying on its business, the manufacture of automobile tires, and the manufacturing and dealing in rubber and rubber products.

AND WHEREAS it will be necessary for the Company, in order to obtain the said site and complete the erection of its said factory and equip the same with the machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories, including crude rubber, necessary for the purpose of their business, to borrow the sum of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($450,000.00) by the issue of gold bonds or debentures of the Company.

AND WHEREAS the Company has requested the Corporation to guarantee the gold bonds or debentures of the Company to the extent of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($450,000.00), as hereinafter provided, upon the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned, which the Corporation have agreed

NOW, THEREFORE, the parties hereto agree to and with each other, as follows:

1. The Company agrees with the Corporation that, as soon as a Bylaw of the Council of the Corporation has received the assent of the electors of the said City of London authorizing the Corporation to guarantee the gold bonds or debentures of the Company to the extent of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($450, 000.00), as hereinafter provided, the Company will proceed to procure and will procure and pay for, a site in the said City of London, and unless there is, or are, already upon the site a building or buildings suitable for the Company's purposes, will erect and pay for a building or buildings, or such other buildings, as may be necessary for the purpose of the Company, and will install, fully equip and complete in the said building or buildings, whether those already upon the site or so to be erected, and will pay for suitable machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories, including crude rubber, at a cost for the said site, building, machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories of not less than three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000.00) and will have the said factory ready for operation, and in operation, within eighteen months from the passing of the said Bylaw; the said factory, when so completed, to have a capacity for the manufacturing of not less than nine hundred automobile tires per day. -

And the Company hereby agrees with the Corporation that it will submit to the Corporation, from time to time, and at all times, for its inspection and perusal, all vouchers, agreements and documents showing the expenditure of moneys by the Company upon and for the said site, building, machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories.

2. It is understood and agreed between the parties, and the Company hereby undertakes that it will issue and float four hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($450,000.00) of its gold bonds or debentures, or such other amount in its gold bonds or debentures, but not exceeding the said sum of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($450,000.00) as it may be necessary for the Company to issue and float in order to carry out the undertaking hereby contemplated, and that the proceeds of the said gold bonds or debentures shall be applied by the Company in making good, (and for that purpose only) the moneys expended by it in the purchase of the said site, plant and manufacturing accessories, and will execute and deliver a first mortgage or mortgages, to be made to a Trust Company, to be approved of by the Corporation, upon the site, factory, machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories of the Company as aforesaid, to secure payment of the said gold bonds or debentures, and also to secure the Corporation of, from and against liability upon its said guarantee, and such mort gage shall be in such form, and shall contain such terms, conditions and provisos as the Council of the Corporation shall require.

3. The Company further agrees with the Corporation that the Company will employ, during each and every year, for twenty years, from and after the purchase of the said site with a suitable building for the Company's factory upon it, and the installation in the said factory of the said machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories, or in the event of the Company obtaining a site for the Company's said factory without any building erected thereon, from and after the completion of the erection of the said factory upon the said site and the installation therein of the said machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories, not less than two hundred and fifty employees of whom an average of sixty per cent shall be adult males, and will pay to its employees residing in the said City of London, during each and every year of the said term of twenty years, the sum of at least two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000.00) in wages and salaries, exclusive of salaries or fees paid to any director of the Company.

4. The Company further agrees with the Corporation that the Company will procure to be transferred and delivered to the said Trust Company, securities of a class in which trustees, are, under the laws of the Province of Ontario, entitled to invest Trust funds in to be first approved of by the Corporation to an amount which shall be sufficient to provide a sum sufficient to pay off the principal of said gold bonds or debentures of the Company, at the respective maturities of said gold bonds or debentures, the same to be held as security for the said gold bonds or debentures in addition to the site, factory, machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories of the Company, as aforesaid, and that the said Trust Company will enter into an Agreement with the Corporation and the Company, that the said Trust Company will hold the said securities or any securities that may be substituted therefor, or stand in place thereof, if any, or the proceeds thereof and the income arising therefrom upon trust, that the said Trust Company

(a) In the event of the Company duly and promptly paying all the said gold bonds or debentures, and the interest thereon, when and as the same respectively become due, transfer the said securities and moneys, if any, to the Company and

(b) In the event of default being made at any time in payment of the principal of the said gold bonds or debentures of the Company, or any of them, or any part thereof, forthwith after such default, upon the request of the Corporation, transfer the said securities and pay the moneys in the hands of the said Trust Company to the Corporation, to be held by the Corporation to indemnify the Corporation of, from and against all loss, damages, costs, charges and expenses which the Corporation, or its successors, may sustain, suffer or be put to for or by reason of its guarantee of the Company's said gold bonds or debentures as aforesaid. The said Trust Agreement to be in such form and to contain such provisos, covenants and agreements as the Council of the Corporation may direct or require.

5. The Company further agrees with the Corporation that the Company will insure, and keep insured, the said factory, machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories in an insurance company, or companies, satisfactory to the Corporation, for at least the sum of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000.00), and make the loss, if any, under such insurance policy, or policies, payable to the said Trust Company, as its interest may appear, and shall deliver such policy, or policies, and all renewals thereof, from time to time, to the said Trust Company in due

6. The Company further agrees with the Corporation that the Company will pay the expense of submitting the said Bylaw for the assent of the electors, and will pay to the Corporation, on demand, at any time before the said Bylaw is submitted to the electors, such sum as the Council of the Corporation shall estimate to be sufficient to cover the cost of submitting the said Bylaw.

The said Mortgage shall be in the form provided for by the Short Forms of Mortgages Act, R.S.O. 1914, Chapter 117, and shall, in addition contain a proviso that in case of default for one month in payment of any of the said gold bonds or debentures, or of any panyment of interest thereon, or any part thereof, or in the event of the Company ceasing to carry on business in the said factory as manufacturers of rubber as aforesaid, or becoming insolvent, or making an assignment for the benefit of its creditors, or in the event of the continued breach of any of the covenants contained in the mortgage, and after one month's notice in writing by the said Trust Company, specifying the breach complained of, the whole amount remaining due and unpaid upon the said Mortgage shall immediately become due and payable, and shall further contain a covenant by the Company that the books of the Company shall be open for inspection by the auditors of the Corporation, or such other person or persons as may be authorized by the Council of the Corporation to inspect the same, at all reasonable times, for the purpose of ascertaining the number and character of the employees of the Company, and the amount of the weekly and annual pay roll.

8. IN CONSIDERATION WHEREOF the Corporation agrees with the Company:

(a) That the Corporation will, upon the completion of the work, and upon having vouched to it, by the Company, the expenditure of all moneys upon the said site, building, machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories as accommodation and as security for the Company, guarantee the principal and interest of a duly authorized bond issue of the Company to the amount of not more than four hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($450,000.00), payable as to one-half of the said gold bonds or debentures in ten years from the date of the issue thereof, and as to the other onehalf thereof in twenty years from the date of the issue thereof, and bearing interest at not more than six per cent per annum, payable half-yearly, provided that the Company shall have purchased and paid for a suitable site for the Company's factory, with a suitable building for the Company's factory erected upon it, and shall have installed in the said factory and paid for the said machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories, or in the event of the Company obtaining a site for the Company's said factory without any building erected thereon, provided that the Company shall have erected upon the said site, and paid for the said factory and shall have installed therein and paid for the said machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories as aforesaid, and shall have had the said factory, whether purchased or erected by the Company as aforesaid, ready for operation and in operation within eighteen months from the passing of the said Bylaw, and provided also that the Company shall have had transferred to the said Trust Company the securities mentioned in paragraph four hereof, and shall have insured the said factory, machinery, plant and manufacturing accessories in the manner, and to the extent provided for by paragraph five of this Agreement. Provided also that the said Trust Company shall have entered into an Agreement with the Corporation and the Company, that the said Trust Company will hold the securities mentioned in paragraph four hereof, or any securities that may be substituted therefor, or stand in place thereof, if any, or the proceeds thereof and the income arising therefrom upon trust, that the said Trust Company will:

(1) In the event of the Company duly and promptly paying all the said gold bonds or debentures, and the interest thereon, when and as the same respectively become due, transfer the said securities and moneys, if any, to the Company, and

(2) In the event of default being made at any time in payment of the principal of the said gold bonds or debentures of the Company or any of them, or any part thereof, forthwith, after such default, upon the request of the Corporation, transfer the said securities and pay the moneys in the hands of the said Trust Company to the Corporation to be held by the Corporation to indemnify the Corporation of, from and against all loss, damages, costs charges and expenses which the Corporation, or its successors, may sustain, suffer or be put to for or by reason of its guarantee of the Company's said gold bonds or debentures as aforesaid, and that the said Trust agreement shall be in such form and shall contain such provisos, covenants and agreements as the Council of the Corporation may direct or require,

(b) That the form of the guarantee to be given by the Corporation as aforesaid shall be as follows:

"Payment of this debenture and the interest thereon is hereby guaranteed by the Corporation of the City of London under Bylaw , passed on the

A.D. 1917.

9. This Agreement shall not be binding upon the Corporation unless and until the said Bylaw has been duly assented to by the electors of the said city, as required by the provisions of The Municipal Act.

AMES GILPIN PYLE'S biography of James J. Hill stands out as year takes no account of war profitters, and has a particular interest for the people of this country, not alone because Hill was by birth a Canadian, but also by reason of his connection with Canada's greatest railroad-building enterprise. The share that James J. Hill had in the building of the C. P. R. has been obscured by the longer connection with that road of men like Van Horne, Shaughnessy and the late Lord Strathcona, but his biographer says that "to him more than to any other man, was due the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway at this time, by the route that made it a success as a carrier, and as an organ of development for the Canadian Northwest." There may be those who will regard this as too celulogistic, but Hill's career showed clearly that there were few men who had greater vision of what the openone of the great books of this year, clearly that there were few men who had greater vision of what the opening up of this continent must mean to the whole world or who were more able to carry out their visions of that continental development. For Hill was not alone a railroad builder. He realized that a railroad built through the most fertile country was likely soon to the most fertile country was likely soon to the most fertile country was likely soon to take the man on the mouth.

So Bruce began to travel from city to city. But still he had a dearth of ideas. And a new feeling began to creep over him—a feeling of loneliness. He realized that he had not a real from Mary since her visit to the city. As he sat idly before his easel one day to determine summarily the responsibility for the war will have to reckon up the admissions by the Huns. The firemen had lost hope of saving it, and were giving their attention to the means to promote the prosperity of the people who settled along the lines. of his railways, knowing well that the greater their intelligence and industry the greater would be their use of his ated after the war.

Given an idea along this line, he would follow it up with persistence joined to the most intimate knowledge which he could acquire. From men and from books he would gather the information desired and his memory was remarkable. Mr. Pyle says he was "desperately fond of reading." It was his him to send for a list of the best books dealing with the topic, and to go right through them, covering the margins with his notes and comments. So thoroughly would he go into a subject that it was his for all time to come.

There is much that recalls Strathcona in the career of James J. Hill. Each came from humble beginnings to great prominence in affairs, each displayed in early life that marked devotion to the business in hand which steadily paved the way to higher things, and both had in them the genius for big things. They were

Weak, Anaemic, Nervous Run-down

WHEN your system is undermined by is undermined by worry or overwork - when your vitality is lowered—when you feel "anyhow"—when your nerves are "on edge"—when the least exertion tires you-you are in a run-down condition.

Your system is like a plant that is drooping for the want of water. And just as water revives a drooping plant--so Wincarnis gives new life and new vitality to a "run-down" constitution. Because Wincarnis possesses a four-fold power. It is a tonic, a restorative, a blood-builder and a nerve food - all in one. Therefore Wincarnis promotes new strength, new blood, new nerve force and new vitality.

The benefit begins from the first small dose. You can feel it doing you good. You can feel your whole system being surcharged with new vitality and new life.

That is why over 10,000 doctors recommend Wincarnis. Wincarnis quickly brings back your old-time vigor-gives a sparkle to your eyes - and coaxes the roses back to your cheeks. You look well-feel well-eat well-sleep well-and can revel in the new health and new life Wincarnis creates. But, remember, that only Wincarnis can give you this new and vigorous health. Visiting "Mrs. Fatty."

Dear Miss Grey,—Just by way of an introduction. I will tell you that I am "Skinny's" sister. We both would like you to know that we visited "Mrs. Fatty" in your city last week-end. Did we have a good time? I should say so. We had a lovely time, and, dear Miss Grey, if you could, we are all sure that you would enjoy a visit with dear "Mrs. Fatty." We also saw the little girl who came all the way from England with "Auntie." We all love her already, and "Dad" is bringing her up for a visit on Saturday. She is not a German or enything, but just a "chirper." It is one thing to read about air raids, but it surely is another to hear "Mrs. Fatty" tell of her experiences in the old land. One thing I want to mention is the honor roll that "Mrs. Fatty" has. Such mice Jack Tars and the nice old Father and Mother at the head of it. Surely who ought to be proud of it. But, of course, she is. Visiting "Mrs. Fatty."

she ought to be proud of it. But, of course, she is.

Could you please tell me how we could make money at a lawn party? Something new and original would help us a lot, as we are all working girls in our little club, but I believe we are energetic. Thanking you in advance.

SKINNY'S SISTER. Ans.—It is certainly nice to have vis-ors carry home such warm apprecia-

tiors carry home such warm appreciation of their hostess, and one feels in this case the guests would also leave a good impression.

So you are busy wage-earning girls, anxious to get a new idea for your lawn party. Could you conduct a "pound" toooth? Beg, borrow, or—get donated, from every one you can, gifts of almost any commodity—tied in a pound packing. One may send a pound of tea, raisins, sugar, rice, and so on. All should be at hand a few hours before the affair opens in order to give your workers time to list the contents, and put price mark on each package. A very tidy summight be realized in this way without theavy stress on the pockets of the donors. Another idea is to collect second-hand articles from all the people you know, and sell these at a moderate price. Odd dishes, vases, mendable umsionellas, books, etc., etc. Have everything displayed, as neat and clean as you can. It sells better. Wish you much success.

"A Cake or Something."

Dear Miss Grey.—Being a reader of The Advertiser, and seeing so many want addreses of soldiers who have no one to send them boxes, I will send you the address of this poor fellow. His mother and father died when he was young. He has no brother, but one sister in Detroit, who is young. He wrote to her and asked her to try and get someone to send him a cake or something, poor fellow. (Signed)

Ans.—I feel I can quite safely assure "Exeter" that not only the "cake," but the "something" will be forthcoming for his friend. Now who'll be first to "adopt" him?

Annual Event at Port Stanley Best in History.

DANCING CONTESTS

Program Was Carried Out in Detail Without Hitch.

More than six thousand Londoners at Port Stanley Wednesday afternoon and evening helped to make the annual picnic of the Retail Grocers Association one of the most successful in the history of the organization. Perfect weather conditions and capable management by those in charge of the arrangements did the rest.

Trainloads of citizens began to pour into the summer resort early in the morning, and the crowd was soon augmented by hyndreds entering the Wed. mented by hundreds enjoying the Wed-nesday half holiday. Although final arrangements for the event were not made until the early part of the week, not the least trouble was experienced, and although judges and members of the various committees were kept hard at work, every number on the long pro-at work, every number on the long program came off as arranged.

A feature of the day was the Scotch and Irish dancing contests, in which more than a score of little boys and girls from the city participated. So numerous were the entries that it was necessary to award several special prizes. These were presented by the judges, Arch McPherson and Ken McCormick, who fulfilled their rather difficult task to the complete satisfaction of everybody. of everybody.

Athletic Program.

In the athletic part of the program, an interesting event was tilting the bucket. Contestants in this competition an interesting event was tilting the bucket. Contestants in this competition made their entries in pairs. One member of the duet occupied a seat in a wheelbarrow, which the other contestant navigated. The man in the barrow was provided with a lance, which, as he passed under a block of wood upon which a pail of water was balanced he attempted to pass through a small hole in the block. Failure to do this tilted the pail, deluging both the contestants. Nobody on the grounds was able to turn the trick properly, so there were no prizes awarded. There were any number of contestants, however, and at one time His Worship Mayor Stevenson was almost induced to try for honors. The running high jump brought out a fairly good showing of contestants, and there was keen competition in all the other events.

The Baby Show.

Judges had a difficult time when it came to picking out the winners of the wastern appeal of the baby.

The largest family one the grounds proved to be that of A. Wright of Madison avenue.

Music throughout the day was provided by the Marconi Club Band, under the direction of Prof. Pasquale Venuta, and the Cortese Orchestra.

Boss grocers from the north south of the city provided one of the best little exhibitions of baseball witnessed at Port Stanley in some time. Fred Brown, at bat for the south end team, lined out three home runs. These brought the score for his team up to 20. The north end aggregation secured only five runs.

The players on the south end team were: W. Craig, Charles Ross, H. Langford, Fred Brown, P. Chadwick, K. McCormick, G. Player, F. St. Lawrence and G. Drake.

The players on the north end team were: A Henry, H. Ranahan, M. Young, R. Donaghy, C. Pierce, J. Manning, F. Harley, J. Gillett and F. Lapthorne.

MISS POWELL TELLS HOW TO PRESERVE GREEN VEGETABLES

second demonstration in ganning fruit and vegetables given by Miss Powell in the Lord Roberts school, under the Association. For the benefit of those who were monstration, Miss Powell repeated several of the methods of preserving fruit and vegetables, and again emphasized the importance of thoroughly sterilizers. Although there was a large attendance on the first day, yesterday reached the hundred mark. the importance of thoroughly sterilizing the jars and other things used, as it could not be expected that the product would keep in jars that contained bacteria. "Another important fact that bacteria." she said, "was to be said, "was t few people realize," she said, "was to get the fruit before too late in the season." Miss Powell stated "that if they could only realize the difference it would make to the whole of Canada if everyone would can or preserve all the surplus products, they would then not have to import these goods from other countries and so keep their money in the country."

Greenstuff of every kind except cabage, are almost unobtainable in winter, yet these being the most healthful to his home here yesterday. Of all those who went overseas from this too keep their it have to see here yesterday. Of all those who went overseas from this community he is the first to return, having been invalided home on account of illness.

Conductor George Nethercott and wife of St. Thomas, and Lieut. Pliny Nethercott of Toronto, visited at the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Nethercott lately. They returned to their homes yesterday.

Although the hay crop is quite heavy, it is almost impossible to save it because of the rainy weather.

Mrs. Whiteye of this reserve is ill at her home.

Miss Powell urged that as much green-stuff as possible be canned. She de-monstrated several ways of canning beet-tops, Swiss chard, and beets. To successfully can beet tops, should be thoroughly washed a drained, and if the stalks are heat they should be cut into jar lengths a plunged into water for ten minutes a
