DEATH LIST IN CHICAGO RIOTING INCREASED TO THIRTY

STRIKE OF HAVRE DOCK WORKERS AFFECTS 3,500 MEN

PRESIDENT WILSON DELVES INTO PERPLEXING PROBLEM OF HIGH COST OF LIVING IN UNITED STATES

American Railwaymen Declare Present High Rate of Living Must Be Lowered or Wages Increased To Meet the Ever Ascending Costs.

Washington, July 31.—President Wilson is giving "deep and very thoughtful consideration" to the high cost of living it was announced today at the White House, and all branches of the Government that might aid in solving the problem are at work.

The president is understood to have been deeply impressed by the statement presented to him yesterday by Warren S. Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, describing the unrest over the country because of the decreased purchasing power of the dollar.

In this connection it became known today that the Order of Railway Trainmen had presented to the railroad administration a statement similar to that of the engineers, setting forth that the trainmen must have increased wages unless immediate steps were taken to reduce living costs.

KING DECLARES MANY DEFECTS IN SOCIAL SYSTEM MUST BE REMOVED BY LEGISLATION

British Ruler Makes Notable Address in Reply to Deputation of the London Council and Nonconformist Ministers.

London, July 31.—His Majesty King George made another notable speech yesterday in replying to congratulations from a joint deputation of the London Council and nonconformist ministers at Buckingham Palace:

The King said: "The awakened consciousness of the nation demands new developments and the removal of many and grave defects in our social system. I am confident that our free and representative loyal institutions will be equal to the task."

His majesty spoke of the housing measures and other social reforms and added:

"The care of the weak and helpless, the protection of our infant life, the guardianship and training of those who by infirmity of body or mind are unfitted to engage in the daily struggle of life, are also matters very near to the hearts of the queen and myself."

3,500 LABORERS AT HAVRE DOCKS OUT ON STRIKE

Employers Declare Men Violated Contract Signed Last March.

Havre, July 31.—The lockout on the docks of Havre has become effective, 3,500 men being out. The union of employers has hired 300 day laborers to work for the French quartermaster's department.

Albert Claveille, minister of public works, has called a meeting of the employers and representatives of the men to be held at the ministry of public works in Paris today.

Advices from Havre on July 29 were to the effect that the union of employers of the port and city declare the dock workers to have broken the contract signed last March for a six-months period by the port workers' union, had decided to stop all work in the port from July 30. Other concerns, not members of the employers' union, agreed not to hire any dock workers until a settlement had been reached, it was added.

RUSSIANS VIOLATE ALLIED AGREEMENT

Inter-Allied Railway Commission Discusses Protest To Omsk Government.

Vladivostok, Saturday, July 19.—The Inter-Allied Railway Commission here discussed a formal protest yesterday to the Omsk Government of Admiral Kolchak, against violations of the Inter-Allied agreement regarding the operation of railways. The communication demands that the Russians live up to the agreement which they signed and are a party to, if the Government expects allied aid. The removal of Gen. Semenoff from the zone where he can interfere with railroad operations, also is asked.

The violations have chiefly been through the military station commandants who sell tickets, allot cars and attempt general supervision of traffic, a duty assigned to the technical board of the railway commission to Russia under the chairmanship of John F. Stevens.

STATE OF PEACE WILL EXIST IN FRANCE WHEN TREATY IS RATIFIED

Chamber of Deputies Will Not Await Official Announcement of Others.

Paris, July 31.—The French cabinet approved today the proposal that peace should be considered to exist officially from the date of publication in the official journal of ratification of the German treaty by the Chamber of Deputies, when completed. It was decided that the ratification of the German treaty should be considered to mark a state of peace without awaiting the completion of treaties with other powers still at war with France.

WAR BOARD WARNS CANADIANS TO SECURE NEXT WINTER'S COAL

Shortage of Labor and Coal Cars Given As Causes For the Alarming Situation—Railroads Preparing To Meet Conditions by Buying Heavy Stocks.

Montreal, July 31.—Immediate action is urged by the Canadian Railway War Board in connection with next winter's supply of coal for Canada.

"The impending shortage is real. Its seriousness cannot be exaggerated," said an officer of the war board this morning. "We are satisfied on that point, and the railways of Canada are themselves acting in accordance with the advice here given. Rumors that the coal famine talk in the United States is a scheme of the mine-owners to bring about high prices are not borne out by the facts.

Causes of Shortage.

"Two things are to blame for the situation. First, labor shortage at the mines due to the heavy exodus of Slavs and Italians back to their native countries, from which they were cut off during the war.

"The second is the shortage of coal cars on the American railways. So alarmed are the Americans that one famous railroad whose lines run through the coal areas has violated an old rule of the company and is building up an open-air dump of 700,000 tons as fast as it can get the coal. The great steel corporations, which ordinarily rely on their own mines for coal, are buying heavily from any mine that has coal for delivery. Canadian manufacturers who may have been hoping for the price of coal to drop, are likely to have to shut down their plants this winter unless they get in a supply at once. It is estimated by reliable authorities that forty million tons of American coal will be required for European consumption. The shortage of ships, hitherto responsible, will soon be overcome, we understand, and a further enormous drain will commence on the coal resources of this continent."

WOULD NOT HOLD AN ELECTION AT SAME TIME AS REFERENDUM

Rural Leaders See Chance of Politics Being Introduced.

PRAISE THE O. T. A.

Guelph Convention Delegates Believe Act Is Being Well Enforced.

Guelph, July 31.—Appreciation of the great benefits of the Ontario temperance act, and a firm belief that an honest attempt is being made to enforce it, despite opposition, were expressed in a resolution passed by the Rural Leaders' Movement convention, which has just concluded its sessions at the Agricultural College here.

The resolution also expressed the opinion that the coming referendum should not be taken at the same time as the provincial general elections owing to the possibility of the introduction of politics.

Another resolution indicated gratification with the work done in rural schools under the dental and medical inspections act but regretted that the interferences of local authorities had some times militated against the workings of the plan. A third resolution advocated the "all together" movement among the rural churches, and affirmed that one of the most serious hindrances to an ideal social condition in country life was denominationalism.

MARSHAL FOCH PAYS GLOWING TRIBUTE TO FIELD MARSHAL HAIG

Great Military Chief Tells of Meetings With the British Leader On Battlefield.

London, July 31.—Marshal Foch paid a remarkable tribute to Field Marshal Haig during the course of his address after the freedom of the City of London had been bestowed on him yesterday. The generalissimo said: "He shared more than any other the lives of his men. What interviews we had during the last six months, he from the north and I from the south, despite great distances and fatigue, sought each other like two big brothers in order to live in closest intimacy and insure by absolute community of ideas the more and more rapid march of our armies. We had to do so to force events.

"On that November 9 I sent Field Marshal Haig the following telegram, feeling certain I should be loyally followed by him and his armies: 'The disorganized enemy, owing to repeated attacks, is giving way along the whole front. It is essential to maintain and accelerate our operations. I call upon the energy and initiative of the commanders-in-chief and their armies in order to secure and render decisive the results obtained.'"

Marshal Foch concluded: "Let us salute the glorious dead who sleep in France. Faithfully, piously and jealously we shall guard them, and keep these memories alive, because to us they are a testimony and a pledge."

Mayor of Ingersoll Will Do Everything To Help University

District Favorable To Aiding Western To Progress.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ingersoll, July 31.—"I will do everything in my power to help the Western University," said Mayor J. V. Buchanan when recently discussing the inauguration of a campaign for the London institution. Citizens generally in Ingersoll favor the idea of a vigorous university in their neighborhood. Among those who have expressed a special interest in the university's welfare is J. C. Norsworthy, who had two sons killed in France and two others wounded.

LONDON DAILY NEWS ISSUES APOLOGY TO BRITISH STATESMEN

Newspaper Admits That the Recent Imputations Were Without Foundation.

London, July 31.—The Daily News today prints an apology to J. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer; Walter Hume Long, first lord of the admiralty; Sir Eric Geddes, minister without portfolio, and Sir Auckland Geddes, minister for national service and reconstruction. The newspaper says that its investigation has proven its imputations to be baseless.

A London dispatch of Wednesday stated that writs had been issued against the Daily News on behalf of the ministers above named for alleged libel. The specifications of the alleged libel concerned comments on charges made by the Weekly Nation, that the ministers were in possession of various Russian mining and development company shares, some of which had been purchased since the armistice was concluded, and, therefore, while Great Britain was hostile to Russia.

STRIKE DECLARED IN BREST.

Brest, July 31.—All work in the port has ceased, the employers having declared a lockout because of the demands of the dockers' union.

Foch Would Rather Face Cannon Than Photographers

London, July 31.—Marshal Foch, submitting to photographers at the hotel in London yesterday, said to a reporter of the Mirror:

"For me the terrors of peace are worse than those of war. I hate all this posing."

Major.-Gen. Maxim Weigand, who is accompanying Marshal Foch, said it was for Great Britain to decide what should be done with the former German emperor. "He is covered with shame and ignominy and branded as a coward," the general declared. "The French people think that that is enough punishment."

AUSTRIAN CABINET UNDER DR. RENNER WILL RESIGN

Ministers Contemplate Immediate Action Because of Vigorous Protests Against Clauses of Peace Treaty—People Believe Austria Will Be Driven Into Bankruptcy.

Vienna, July 31.—The Austrian cabinet, headed by Dr. Karl Renner, has decided to resign.

Austrian governmental affairs have recently been in a rather unsettled state. The peace terms presented by the allied and associated powers to the Austrians at St. Germain have been stoutly protested against in official circles in Vienna, the financial provisions being considered as particularly onerous, and predictions being made that Austria was likely to be driven into bankruptcy. Last week Dr. Otto Bauer, the foreign minister, resigned his post, largely, it was said, because of dissatisfaction at his failure to obtain important advantages for Austria in the negotiations leading up to the formulation of the peace treaty. Chancellor Renner, however, filled the gap caused by Dr. Bauer's resignation by taking over the duties of the foreign office himself, in addition to those of the chancellorship.

CABINET MINISTERS REACHED DECISION AT TUESDAY MEETING

London, July 31.—A message received here from Vienna by way of Berne, says it has been semi-officially announced in the Austrian capital that the cabinet reached a decision to resign at a meeting held on Tuesday.

All Conscientious Objectors In Canada Are Liberated After Serving Short Terms In Jail

Each Case Was Taken Up and Considered On Its Merits—Bona Fide Objectors Get More Leniency Than Real Slackers.

Ottawa, July 31.—Practically all conscientious objectors to military service have been released from jail. The policy has been to take each case on its merits. Investigations were made and reports obtained. Where a man was found to be a bona fide conscientious objector a maximum sentence was served of about six months. Where a man was shown to be "slacking" the sentence was longer. In April there were between forty and fifty cases under inquiry by the solicitor-general. Since then 25 of the men have been liberated.

CAILLAUX LIKELY TO BE TRIED BY HIGH COURT IN FRANCE

Paris, July 31.—Trial by a high court of Joseph Caillaux, the former premier who has been under arrest a year and a half charged with having had treasonable dealings with the enemy, is recommended in the conclusions of Theodore Lescouve, attorney-general of the republic. M. Lescouve's report has been filed with the commission of inquiry which is just closing its long investigation.

Montreal Prepares Big Welcome For Sir Arthur Currie

Arrangements Made For a Warm Reception to Canadian Commander-in-Chief.

Montreal, July 31.—Arrangements are being made by a committee of returned officers for a parade and reception for Gen. Sir Arthur Currie, who commanded the Canadian corps overseas, on his arrival in Montreal. The plans as far as they have gone include a parade of returned officers and men, with a guard of honor, and the band of the G. W. V. A. to meet Gen. Sir Arthur Currie at the station, with a triumphal parade and march past by the veterans to witness their old commander. This will be followed by a dinner to be tendered the general at the Ritz Carlton on the same evening.

SIR ARTHUR CURRIE CABLES HE WILL BE AT TORONTO "EX"

Canadian Commander-in-Chief To Attend On August 30.

Toronto, July 31.—In reply to an invitation extended some time ago by the directors of the Canadian National Exhibition, Sir Arthur Currie cabled today as follows:

"Proud and delighted to be at your exhibition August 30. Wish it greater success than ever."

This telegram sets an approximate date for the arrival home of the Canadian commander-in-chief in France.

HOCKEN AND MORPHY OUT FOR HEAD OF GRAND ORANGE LODGE

Election of Officers To Bring Sessions to a Close.

Ottawa, July 31.—Election of grand lodge officers for the ensuing year will be the important feature of Friday's closing sessions of the Grand Orange Lodge of British-America. That Horatio C. Hocken will be re-elected is the opinion of many of his supporters, while others claim that H. B. Morphy, M. P., will be a strong candidate for the first honor the grand lodge can bestow.

Lieut.-Col. Thomas A. Duff is mentioned as a candidate for the position of deputy grand master.

Discussion on the recommendations of the committee of constitution and bylaws and the insurance branch occupied the whole session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of British America at the annual convention in St. George's Hall this morning.

The discussion on constitution and bylaws commenced last evening and was not finished today. The reorganization of the insurance branch is expected to continue tomorrow.

The delegates to the grand lodge and the L. O. B. A. are on a motor drive today and will enjoy dinner this evening at the open pavilion at the Experimental Farm.

Clean Up America First, Mexico Next, Urges Noted Divine

Rev. Robert G. Speer Sees Need of Missionary Work in the United States.

Stoney Brook, N. Y., July 31.—"This is a poor time to be talking about 'cleaning up Mexico' when whites and negroes are shooting each other down like savages in the streets of our own cities," declared Dr. Robt. G. Speer, general secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian Church, in denouncing last night at the Presbyterian new era conference here "anti-Japanese and anti-Mexican propaganda," which, he asserted, was intended to embroil the United States with these countries.

LIBERAL LEADER WILL LIKELY BE SELECTED AT WEDNESDAY'S SESSION OF OTTAWA CONVENTION

Advisory Committee of Liberal Party Holds Its Preliminary Meeting This Morning—Prominent Members of Organization in Attendance—Party Caucus To Be Held Monday.

Ottawa, July 31.—The vote which will settle the question of the Liberal leadership will probably be taken on the afternoon of Wednesday, August 6, the second day of the national Liberal convention, which convenes on Tuesday next. This arrangement is not definite, because all convention plans are being considered by the Liberal advisory committee which held its preliminary meeting this morning, and must be ratified by a party caucus on Monday, but delegates who have arrived express the view that a time should be fixed for the selection of a leader, and Wednesday afternoon will probably be the time chosen.

The initial meeting of the advisory committee, which met at Liberal headquarters in the House of Commons at 10:30 a.m., was fairly largely attended, but a considerable proportion of the members of the committee have not yet arrived at the capital. Those present included Hon. John Oliver, premier of British Columbia; Hon. G. H. Murray, premier of Nova Scotia; Hon. J. B. Boyle of Alberta; Hon. W. F. Turgeon, Saskatchewan; Hon. Frank Oliver, J. A. Robb, chief Liberal whip; Hon. Charles Murphy; Hon. Rodolphe E. Lemieux; Hon. Geo. P. Graham; Hon. Mackenzie King and Hon. Jacques Bureau.

Hon. W. S. Fielding is in the capital, but was not in attendance at the meeting of the advisory committee, of which he has never been a member.

FRENCH THREW STONES WHEN GERMANS STUCK OUT TONGUES

Impolite Actions of Delegates From Germany While Leaving Versailles Resulted in Their Getting What They Deserved, Declares French Judge.

Paris, July 31.—The judge advocate attached to the second permanent court-martial, who investigated the incident connected with the departure of the Germans from Versailles finds that there is no case.

It has been established that the Germans aroused the protests of the crowd by sticking out their tongues at the spectators and shouting "Hoch" and the charges that stones were thrown rest upon the unsupported testimony of Dr. Theodore Melchoir, one of the German financial delegates to the peace conference and Frau Greta Dorlblush, one of the secretaries to the delegation.

A dispatch from Paris on June 17 said that Dr. Melchoir and Frau Dorlblush had been struck on the head by stones in the course of a demonstration against the German delegates on their departure from Versailles the night previous. The demonstration had several phases, but mostly confined to jeering the Germans.

Premier Clemenceau later sent a letter to the head of the German delegation apologizing for the demonstration, and the police officials charged with protecting the Germans were dismissed from office.

JAMES STEWART OF WINNIPEG LIKELY TO HEAD WHEAT BOARD

Appointments To New Body To Be Completed At Once.

Ottawa, July 31.—The Government will today consider appointments to the wheat purchasing board. It is intended to complete the appointments as early as possible, although perhaps another day or two will be necessary. James Stewart of Winnipeg will probably head the board. Hon. T. A. Crerar, former minister of agriculture, has also, it is understood, been asked to serve on the board, but it is doubtful, owing to business pressure, if he will be able to accept.

A proposal considered is that there shall be created a general advisory board, consisting of eight or nine members and representatives of the various interests—production, handling, milling, etc. Consumers, it is suggested, might be represented through a representative of organized labor. Through this general body there will be an inner board of two or three selected to take in hand the actual purchase and sale of the wheat.

The board will probably be given jurisdiction also over the purchase and sale of certain wheat products, the idea being that it should act as a general selling agency.

CHICAGO WHITES AND BLACKS CONTINUE TO SHOOT, STAB AND LOOT DESPITE U. S. SOLDIERS

TROOPS QUELL DISORDERS.

Chicago, July 31.—Chicago was comparatively calm today for the first time since Sunday, and public officials expressed the belief that the use of five regiments of state troops has effectually quelled the race riots, which resulted in thirty deaths and the injury of more than 1,000 persons.

State militiamen are patrolling the danger districts on the South Side. Their appearance on the streets has had the effect of suppressing violent disturbances. They were aided in their work by a driving rain, which kept crowds from gathering in the streets. A dozen arrests were made of whites and negroes, charged with carrying concealed weapons, and there were several sporadic fights between white men and negroes, but no mob attacks were reported.

State, city and county officials continued to operate in the suppression of violence. Governor Lowden, in a statement issued this morning, called attention to the fact that the city was not under martial law, and that no such action is contemplated unless conditions grow materially worse. He explained that the state troops are working in connection with the police, and that rioters will be prosecuted in the municipal and state courts, and not by military authorities.

Chicago, July 31.—Six thousand troops on duty with rifles and bayonets in the most densely populated negro quarters of Chicago, and a light fall of rain, failed to stop fighting between whites and blacks last night. Long after midnight isolated groups continued shooting, stabbing and looting in places which the military had been unable to reach. The death list remained at 30, none being reported killed last night. Several hundred have been injured during the four nights of rioting and a dozen of these may die.

Adjutant General Dickson, on returning from the placing of troops, reported that snipers had fired on a company of soldiers on the way to Englewood. No one was injured. The general reported that after the troops had taken their stations, quiet had prevailed in the patrolled areas.

Double Tragedy Was Sequel to Unhappy Matrimonial Union

Letter Written by Mrs. Near Throws Light on Domestic Drama Which Culminated in Murder and Suicide.

Married at an age when she hardly knew her own mind, being of a temperament unsuited to the restrictions that married life demands, and taking heed to idle gossip, Mrs. Mabel Near left her home and husband and went out into the world to be free, unhampered and able to go her way at will. The result was the sordid Pontiac tragedy. This was revealed with the arrival yesterday in London of the body and effects of George Near, who is alleged to have shot his wife first and then turned the weapon on himself.

A letter written by Mrs. Near to her husband, the last she ever wrote to him, mentioned gossiping tongues. It was written just prior to her departure from London. This letter showed that the young wife felt the sting of gossip which she declared was untrue and she fought to defend all that is held dear by a good woman.

Not yet out of her teens, this young wife said: "Going away, I will not be taking any chances of giving people reason to talk."

Her closing sentence was a plea for her character and a vow: "I will always be a good girl."

Gossiping Tongues.

Gossiping tongues wagged. A man's whisperings were listened to by the husband. In the latter's brain evil thoughts apparently took form. Seeds of jealousy were sown. Gossip continued, with the result that Near and the man went together to Pontiac, where Near and his wife met again near the Pontiac Insane Asylum. The discovery of their dead bodies next morning gave the clue to the final tragic scene of the domestic drama.

On the ground near the bodies a note was found which was in the handwriting of Near. It read: "This is my wife, Mrs. Near, and myself, George Near, both of London, Ontario. There are letters in my pocket."

Since the death of Near and his wife efforts have been made by both the Michigan and Canadian authorities to locate the man who left this city with Near, so far without result. It is thought by the authorities that if the missing man could be located new light would be shed on the tragedy.

Mrs. Near's Letter.

Mrs. Near's last letter follows:

"July 19, 1919.

"Mr. George Near,
359 Hale Street, London, Ont.:

"Dear George,—No doubt you will be wondering where I am. So just a few lines to explain a few things to you which I consider necessary for you to know.

"Well, I was working, anyway, keeping myself, and I thought I might as well go somewhere where I would not have anyone to boss me. For you know when I worked in London you used to think I should never go out, and you must remember I am only young yet, and it is really impossible for me to be entirely settled down. So I decided I would work and go where no one knew me, and then I would not be taking any chances and giving people any reason to talk. But remember, George, I will always be a good girl.

"Although you told me I wasn't worthy of being the mother of the baby, but still it would take more than that to lower my dignity, and you thought Jake was causing all this trouble, so I thought I would show you I could get along without being anywhere where he was.

"Besides, you blame poor Mildred. Now, you will understand that little Mabel can take all the blame, and, George, there isn't any use of you asking where I am, for mamma does not tell things when asked not to. Besides, do not worry the life out of her asking where I am, for she will never tell you another thing. No more married life for mine. So have a good time, and in four or five years from now, when I am old enough to be settled down, I may meet you. But at present nothing doing, and don't answer.

"So au revoir and good luck,
"MABEL."

Three Letters.

Found in one of Near's pockets were three letters and a notebook. The letters were addressed respectively to George Atkinson, General Hospital, Brantford; his wife's mother and his own mother at 229 Queen's avenue.

A page in the notebook read: "There's a letter in my inside pocket, so send it to London with some other letters, so mail them too, please, send them. I thank you for this."

At the bottom of the note were three words: "For God's sake."

In another page he had scribbled: "Send me together and tell them to bury us side by side."

The letters were as follows:

Dear Uncle George,—

As I am sending this sad news to you, but you will never see me and Mabel again, as I have killed her and myself. So I will meet you in heaven. So good-bye, from George, with love.

Dear Mother,—

Well, it is too bad, but I can't help it. Well, my little Mabel is dead, and so am I. Good-bye from George.

Dear Mother,—

I have killed my little Mabel and myself. Please tell dad and Benny. Good-bye from your loving son, George. You will now know where we are.

Mother's Story.

"They can say what they like about my boy not supporting his wife. When he was able to work he worked, but having had the influenza twice, it left him in a weak condition. What his wife says in the letter about not supporting her is untrue. She says that she went away to work because he could not support her," said Mrs. Near, mother of the dead man, to The Advertiser today.

"The morning my boy left home," said Mrs. Near, "he said, 'Mother, if I find that she has been going with other men I'll shoot her and myself too.' I replied: 'George, you're worth more to me than her dead body.'"

Mrs. Near intimated that people in Pontiac had said that her son had every reason to do what he had done.

"I am telling you this because it has been said he did not support her, and I'll spend my last breath proving that my son did support her as much as he was able."

NEGLECTED COLDS

Lead To Consumption

Unless a complete cure is effected the inflammation passes rapidly to the throat, bronchial tubes, and then to the lungs.

You can't make new lungs any more than you can make new fingers or a new nose—hence consumption is practically incurable.

But Catarrh can be cured, except in its final and always fatal stage.

LT. HARRY YEATES AND FLYING FRIEND MAKE NEW RECORD

Cut Off Ten and a Half Hours, London to Cairo.

HAIR-BREADTH ESCAPES

Three Forced Landings in the Mountains, Dangerous in the Extreme.

How two Canadian airmen broke the flying record from London to Cairo is related in an interesting record of the trip which Lieut. Harry Yates of the Royal Air Force has forwarded from Egypt to his parents in Ottawa. Lieut. Yates is a son of George Yates, formerly with The Advertiser, and now head of a governmental department.

Lieut. Yates and Lieut. James Vance of Toronto, undertook the trip for the British Government, on a few hours' notice.

Their mission was one of great urgency by reason of disturbed conditions in the near east, and time was of utmost importance—hence the use of the airplane. They left London on the evening of June 21, and reached Cairo shortly after dark on the evening of the 25th, having broken the existing London-Cairo record by 10½ hours. They spent two of the five days on forced landing, due to petrol trouble, so that their actual flying time for the three thousand miles was just three days. They averaged from two and one-half to three hours' sleep per night, and one hot meal a day, and were very greatly fatigued at the journey's end.

After their arrival and safe delivery of their two distinguished passengers, they were tendered a dinner by Brig.-Gen. Salmono, and complimented by Gen. Allenby.

Mountainous.

Lieut. Yates writes: "We both thought it was over several times. Two-thirds of the route is over country which is mountainous right to the water's edge, and a forced landing means a certain crash. We had three forced landings with petrol trouble. As luck would have it, it was my trick at the wheel on each occasion. The first, which aged me at least two years, happened just after we entered the Gulf of Corinth. There were mountains on three sides and the gulf on the fourth. I managed to get down into the bed of a mountain torrent, and actually got away with nothing worse than a broken tail skid. I thanked my lucky stars that I knew Handley Pages as I do."

OXFORD COBALT CO. BEST BARGAIN IN THE COBALT MINING CAMP

See Saturday's and Tuesday's issue of this paper and get acquainted with the Oxford Cobalt Silver Mining Company, Limited, promoters of the property known as A100 and C1000, just leased by the Government in the richest silver area of Cobalt.

Professor Russell, geologist, late of Woodstock College, general manager of the company, has just returned to Woodstock after letting the contract for the buildings, machinery, pipe lines, etc., and development work will commence in a very short time.

The property of the Oxford Cobalt Silver Mining Company is situated in the heart of Cobalt's richest silver area, visible ore veins showing on the surface. Government reports state that over ten millions of silver has been already mined out of the adjacent properties known as the Beaver, Temiskaming, Trethewey and Adanac, all being of the same geological construction. Is it a wonder then that experts claim that the possibilities of the Oxford Company's property should equal, if not eclipse, them all. Imagine, too, the earnings of a mine whose investment is only $50,000, and whose possible earnings reach into the millions.

The organization of this company with so small a capital should convince the most skeptical of its known advantages, and of the stamp of men behind it, making success almost an assured fact.

250,000 shares of the par value of $1 each have been placed on the market, and are offered at the small price of 20 cents by the London Security Company, Room 304 Dominion Savings Building. This price will not last long, as evidence of silver has been found on the surface, and as soon as this vein is exposed the stock will surely take a big jump. b

ANOTHER PARTY OF VETERANS RETURNS IN EARLY MORNING

Men Quickly Dispersed and Sent to Homes.

A party of 6 officers and 110 other ranks, which crossed the Atlantic on the SS. Winnifredian, arrived at the Quebec street station of the C. P. R. here this morning at 4 o'clock. The soldiers proceeded directly from the railway station to Tecumseh Barracks, where they were quickly dispersed by the staff of No. 1 District Depot, and provided with transportation to their respective homes in Western Ontario.

The following Londoners, numbering sixteen, were included in the party: Lieut. F. H. Galpin, Kent street; Lieut. W. R. Smith, "Bishopstowe"; Lieut. G. H. Ellis, 239 Pall Mall street; Pte. H. Alfred, 12 Oxford street; Pte. T. W. Brulback, 139 Mill street; Sergt. H. V. Eckert, 434 Queen's avenue; Pte. R. Fulton, G. P. O.; Pte. A. Holmes, 1166 Brydges street; Corp. L. R. Hicks, 40 Miles street; Pte. J. Lee, 14 Queen's Place; Sergt. R. D. Mess, 134 Egerton street; Gnr. W. S. Mills, 98 Elmwood avenue; Corp. G. D. McConnell, 830 Princess avenue; Pte. R. Poulton, 13 Wharncliffe road; Spr. W. Stevenson, 598 Princess avenue; Pte. L. Wilkey, 510 Quebec street.

LT.-COL. INNIS CARLING IS HOME ON SICK LEAVE

Lieut.-Col. Innis Carling has arrived home on sick leave, and will spend about three months with his father, T. H. Carling, Talbot street. Col. Carling has been acting as special Canadian representative in England and France on demobilization, but suffered a severe attack of pneumonia, which kept him in hospital for about four months. At his release from this confinement, he was ordered home on sick leave, and is attached to headquarters, Ottawa, as assistant adjutant-general.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF BICYCLE AND MOTOR SALES CO. A SUCCESS

Thousands of Boys and Girls at Springbank Park.

BICYCLES AND BICYCLES

Ice Cream Cones, "Hot Dogs" and 2,000 Bottles of Pop.

Boys and girls and bicycles, and then some more boys and girls and bicycles—until they mounted into thousands—that is the pen picture of the annual picnic of the Bicycle and Motor Sales Company, held at Springbank Park Wednesday afternoon. Live George Wenige, who put the "buy" in bicycle and the pep in selling them announced that the picnic would be a hummer, and that a real "bun fest" would take place. It did. Anyone who saw the thousand—more or less—children all riding bicycles and eagerly waiting for ice cream cones, "hot dogs" and pop, would willingly admit that it was the goods without the least argument. There have been picnics and picnics at Springbank, but it is a safe bet that this one was the one best bet of the season. No worry about lunch baskets, no worry about money for ice cream or soft drinks; in fact, no worries about anything. When George Wenige does a thing he does it properly, and there are no jagged edges to bother the nerves and no sorrowful after-reflections unless it be that such a picnic does not occur every day.

Sharp at 2 o'clock, the crowd of boys, girls, big and small, and men and women lined up on Wellington street in front of the Bicycle and Motor Sales store, and each one was presented with a pennant, a cap or a noise maker, and they worked the latter to the limit. Down Dundas street to Richmond, then to York and out the Pipe Line road the happy, noisy crowd sped on their bicycles, much to the amazement of the natives, who never witness anything of the magnitude of Wenige's picnic, unless it is on the annual picnic day. And Wenige was in the lead, the biggest kid of them all. With pennants streaming from his bicycle, a fancy hat on his head and a noisemaker between his lips, he was as happy as anyone in the crowd. Arrived at the park in record time, the stage was all set to cause a throb of envy in the breast of everyone present. There were 2,000 ice cream cones, 2,000 "hot dogs" and buns, 2,000 bottles of pop, and 400 boxes of candy, but before anyone was allowed to even smell the "hot dogs" the sports were run off, and prizes given as follows:

Slow bicycle race, boys under 12—Charles Edwards, horn $1.35; Douglas Goodge, bell 60c; Augustine Murphy, valves 40c.

75 yards foot race, girls under 12—Ruth Short, bell 75c; Myrtle Gladstone, lock 50c; Mary Coles, bell 35c.

75 yards foot race, boys under 12—Joe Haskett, tool bag 75c; Jack Screton, bell 50c; Leonard Stevens, tire levers 30c.

Slow bicycle race, girls, open (no age limit)—Margarette Dicknoether, inner tube $1.75; Jessie Robbins, bulb horn $1.25; Agnes Murphy, tail light 50c.

Obstacle race, open to boys and girls, all ages. Ride bicycle 100 yards, dismount from wheel, leave wheel, run 50 yards, take shoes off, run to hoops, go through one, return, put on shoes, run to wheel, mount and finish—Agnes Murphy, lamp $5; Harold Todd, T. T. cover $3.50; Margarette Dicknoether, combination lock $1.50.

Slow bicycle race, girls under 12—Mary Coles, bell 75c; Madeline Dicknoether, bell 50c; Hilda Wenige, lock 50c.

Red Bird event, open to Red Bird riders only (spearing ring with pole while riding bicycle)—Alex. Westman, T. T. cover $3.50; Mable Hogg, tube $1.75; Stanley Hind, horn $1.35; Clayton Fitzpatrick.

Trick riding, three best three-minute stunts—R. Miller, lamp $5; Reg. Jarvis, carrier and stand $1.75.

Throwing the ball, boys, all ages—Kenneth McVicar, tire bell $1; Alton Upthegrove, tail light 75c.

Throwing the ball, girls, all ages—Jessie Robbins, frame pump $1; Gertrude Hogg, bell 35c.

100 yards foot race, open—W. Walters, lamp $4; Hayden Best, cyclometer $1.75.

The success of the picnic, which was not marred by the least mishap, was due in part to the untiring efforts of G. A. Wenige, A. Thrower, Tom Nottage, W. D. Robertson, Arthur Bischoff, Charles Keene, G. H. Hardy, J. C. McDonald, A. Thrower, C. Case, T. Hogg, Norman Knaggs, S. Stamp, Mrs. N. S. Ferris, Miss A. Fennacy, Mrs. Thrower, Mrs. Wenige, Mrs. Robertson, and Mrs. Keene.

When the sports were finished and announcement made that the feed was ready, a real stampede took place, and cries of "hot dogs, please," "pop, please," "ice cream, please," filled the air.

Along about 8 o'clock, the crowd wended its way homeward, all wondering when Wenige would produce another.

ONE WANTED LEAVE, ANOTHER WAS AFRAID, THIRD HATED ARMY

Reasons Given by Deserters For Their Offence.

THREE PLEAD GUILTY

Sentences Will Be Promulgated Within the Next Few Days.

Ptes. George McLean of Windsor, Peter McKeever of Stephen, Ont., and Lawrence Murray of Perth County, near Stratford, appeared before a district court-martial at Wolseley Barracks this morning to answer charges of desertion, and all pleaded guilty to the charges. Major H. M. Pardee, Canadian Engineers, acted as president of the court, and Capts. A. W. McNally, district intelligence officer, and H. C. McKendrick, No. 1 District Depot, acted as members.

McKeever, in his defence, stated that he had no excuse to offer for deserting from the Western Ontario Regiment here in June, 1918, except that he was afraid to proceed overseas. He lived in the fields and woods following his offence, and finally growing tired of the open life, surrendered himself to the military authorities last month.

Explains.

Murray stated in mitigation of his offence that he had applied for leave of absence, which was refused him by the authorities. He wished to assist his father on the farm near Stratford, but no clause in regulations permitted him leave. Finally, short leave was granted him, and while at home he took sick. On recovery he did not return to his unit, expecting the military police to apprehend him. This was not done, and Murray eventually gave himself up.

Did Not Like It.

McLean, in excusing himself for deserting, stated that he did not like the army life, with non-commissioned officers younger than himself giving orders. He was a member of the 149th Battalion, and deserted on October 28, 1918. He was apprehended by the authorities at Windsor recently and returned to London for trial.

The sentences of the court were not made public, but will be promulgated in a few days. The accused men are attached to the Canadian Garrison Regiment at present, and all three are draftees. During the trial today, Major G. N. Weekes, Corps of Guides, acted as judge advocate, and Lieut. W. T. Bartlett, Canadian Garrison Regiment, prosecuted.

DEATHS EXCEEDED BIRTHS FOR MONTH

But Marriages Were in Lead Of All.

During July, Mr. Stork visited London on 40 occasions. As a result of his visits the population of London was increased by 22 males and 25 females. For the month of July, 1918, the records show that 64 males and 61 females were born in that period. In June, of this year, the births of 51 males and 55 females occurred.

Vital statistics for the city show that there were 71 deaths in the city during this July. In the corresponding months of 1918, 57 persons succumbed in the city.

Eighty-nine couples were united in marriage this month, as compared to 54 in July, 1918.

Two couples published "banns" instead of "license" on their records.

AUSTRALIA TO ADHERE TO OLD SYSTEM OF UNIVERSAL TRAINING

About 30,000 Australians Still Awaiting Repatriation.

London, July 31.—Capt. General Monash, commander of the Australian expeditionary corps, in the course of an interview here, says that Australia will adhere to her old system of universal training. Future training, he says, must conform strictly to that of the British home army and every unit of the British overseas forces must be interchangeable.

The Australian authorities announce that any soldier absent without leave after August 15 will forfeit his return passage. About 30,000 Australians still await repatriation.

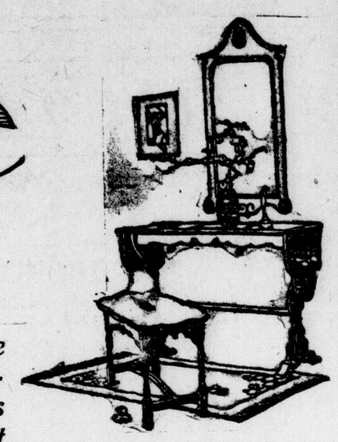

GRAIN WORKERS' STRIKE ENDS.

London, July 31.—The strike of grain workers, which has been in progress at Rotterdam, has ended, a Lloyd's dispatch from Rotterdam today announces.

SIX MONTHS TERM FOR SAMUEL GRAY WITHOUT AN OPTION

Convicted of Selling Whiskey to St. Thomas Men.

BUYER GIVES EVIDENCE

Friends Back Him Up, Saying Defendant Offered $400 Bribe.

Samuel Grey, 575 Bathurst street, was convicted for the second time in police court today of unlawfully selling liquor and was sentenced to six months in jail without the option of paying a fine. He made no defence, and was convicted on the evidence of Justin Barker, a carter, of St. Thomas, and four of his companions.

Before sentence was passed, Gray handed a roll of bank notes, the size of which caused his fist to bulge, to his lawyer, J. M. McEvoy.

Gray was arrested on Monday morning and remanded for police court hearing today.

How Barker, with four others, in a motor car came to London late in the afternoon and drove about the town all night until midnight on Saturday, and then called at Gray's house so that Barker could arrange to sell Gray his car, but instead bought a bottle of whiskey from Gray, was told in the evidence of the five men today.

Immediately after the five started to drive from Gray's house early on Sunday morning they were held up by P. C. Tom Noonan and W. McCullough, who found the bottle on Barker. He informed the constables that Gray had sold him the liquor, and went back to Gray's house with them in an attempt to recover the $7 which he had paid for it. They found the house in darkness, and Barker was bailed at the police station to appear in court Monday.

According to all five witnesses, Gray visited Barker at his home in St. Thomas on Tuesday morning, and offered Barker $400 if he would refuse to come to London to testify that the liquor had been bought from him. Barker refused.

Barker testified that the talk at Gray's home on the front doorsteps switched from the sale of his motor car to the water shortage in St. Thomas. This suggested liquid refreshment, and, according to Barker, Gray then offered to sell him some whiskey.

"Did you ask Gray for some whiskey?" the defendant's counsel asked him.

"No."

"He just thrust it upon you, with your four friends and several of Gray's relatives standing close by?"

"I can't just say," Barker explained. "My memory is very poor. I wanted the whiskey for sickness."

Besides Barker, Donald McDonald, Robert and Edward Maguire, all three of whom are employed as carters by Barker, and Sylvester Dunn, testified that they saw Barker pay Gray for the bottle of whiskey early Sunday morning, and the three employees all testified that on Tuesday at Barker's home in St. Thomas, Gray had offered $400 willingly to have the evidence of the liquor deal squelched.

Starts Crusade To Enforce Payments Of Vehicles Taxes

Inspector J. W. McCallum Summons Owners to Police Court.

Inspector J. W. McCallum announces that he has started a crusade against owners of vehicles who have not bought licenses.

In police court today F. B. Clarke and John Benenati were fined $1 and court costs on a charge brought by the inspector of operating vehicles without licenses.

Six persons were convicted of breaking motor vehicle regulations and were each fined $5 and costs.

Three men, each charged with breaches of the Ontario temperance act, had their hearing adjourned until August 1.

ARRESTED ON DESERTION CHARGE.—Pte. Fred Arnold, arrested at Wiarton recently on a charge of desertion from the 118th Overseas Battalion, Military District No. 12, has been brought to London, and has been handed over to the military authorities here, who will deal with his case. It is likely that Arnold will be tried on the above charge by court-martial in the near future.

PART OF CROWD WHICH ATTENDED BICYCLE AND MOTOR SALES PICNIC

Advertiser Illustrations
Here are some of the hundreds which enjoyed the time of their lives at Springbank on Wednesday afternoon.

TWO WILL APPEAR AT COURTS-MARTIAL AFTER "SKYLARKING"

Lance-Corp. Stearns and Pte. Murrill Charged.

A court-martial, with Major H. M. Pardee, Canadian Engineers, as president, will assemble at Wolseley Barracks on Monday morning at 9 o'clock for the purpose of trying two members of the Canadian Garrison Regiment, Lance-Corp. I. H. C. Stearns and Pte. W. G. Murrill. The former soldier is charged with conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, and addressing insulting language to the military police on July 17 last.

Murrill is charged with discharging firearms and intentionally occasioning a false alarm in camp, the charge being an echo of the riot which occurred at Carling Heights on July 16th, when the Canadian Garrison Regiment was under quarantine for diphtheria. Corp. S. Smith, who was also placed under arrest during the riot, appeared for trial recently and was reduced to the ranks by his commanding officer for taking part in the "skylarking."

Major G. N. Weekes, Corps of Guides, will act as judge advocate during the trial, and Capts. H. C. McKendrick, No. 1 District Depot, and A. W. McNally, district intelligence officer, will assist the president of the court in trying the accused prisoners on Monday.

LOCAL NEWS

CLEARINGS INCREASE. — Bank clearings for the last week show an increase of $1,116,976 over those of the corresponding week last year, the figures being: This year, $3,272,323; 1918, $2,155,547.

NO HOLIDAY FOR TROOPS.—Camp orders issued at Wolseley Barracks today announce that Monday, August 4 (Civic Holiday), will not be observed as a holiday by units in the London command.

WANTS PRESIDENCY.—City Clerk S. Baker, at the Ontario municipal convention to be held in the third week in August at Toronto, will run for president. He is now vice-president of the organization.

ACCIDENT VICTIM IMPROVED.—Alfred Murphy, who was struck by a motor car on Monday afternoon and received a severe scalp wound, is much improved. He is still confined to St. Joseph's Hospital.

ATTENDING SUMMER COURSE.—The following Londoners are attending a summer course conducted by the faculty of education at Toronto: John Dearness, Miss Flora Carson, Miss Gertrude Buttrey, Miss Clara Brenton.

GIVEN PROMOTION.—The many friends of Ambrose W. W. Birmingham are congratulating him on his promotion from cashier at local Grand Trunk Railway freight office to traveling freight and claims inspector over Ontario lines with headquarters here.

INSPECTED BUILDING LOTS.—Members of the housing commission made a tour of inspection of the lots in the city which have been offered for sale to the commission. They will report on their trip at the meeting to be held this evening at the city hall.

RECRUITS LEAVE.—A party of 16 permanent force recruits left this city yesterday afternoon for Toronto, where they will receive further training. The recruits were in charge of Lieut. J. H. C. Woodward, Canadian Garrison Regiment, who acted as conducting officer for the party.

SQUIRE IS IMPROVING.—The condition of Squire W. H. Chittick, who is dangerously ill at his home, 299 King street, is reported today as better. Squire Chittick is suffering with septic poisoning, and Dr. James Wilson, attending physician, stated this morning that hopes are now entertained for the recovery of the patient.

ARMY REGULATIONS.—District orders issued at military headquarters here today announce that civilian shirts must not be worn with uniform by soldiers in this district. When jackets are not worn, only army shirts or military khaki shirts are permitted. During hot weather it is desirable that all ranks be comfortably but properly dressed.

TIP TO ENUMERATORS. — Chief Local Enumerator W. C. Fitzgerald, under the temperance referendum act, has received the following instructions from headquarters: Persons residing in summer cottages, etc., in your electoral district, and who have permanent residence elsewhere, should not be entered on the lists for the polling subdivision in which the summer residences are situate, but where the municipality in which the summer residence is situate is the same as, or adjoins, that in which the permanent residence is situate, or in any other case where this can conveniently be done, it would be well for your enumerators to take the names, etc., and without entering them on the lists, transmit them to the chief enumerator for the proper electoral division, in order that they may be checked up and entered there.

PROFITABLE INVESTMENT IS LOEWS ENTERPRISE; TO BUILD IN LONDON

SAFETY FIRST.—Is it possible to doubt the safety of Lowes, the largest theatrical enterprise in America, with a reputation also of being the best-conducted and most thoroughly managed theatrical enterprise in America. Loews with a circuit employing over 5,000 actors, with over 150 theatres, and every facility to buy entertainment at the lowest price, and put on an entertainment no others can compete with.

Why listen to idle gossip, or some organized knocking, and permit yourself to pass up an opportunity that knocks at your door only once in a lifetime?

In a short time you will be following the crowds to Loews, you will see their wonderful success, you will see your neighbor cashing his big dividend check, you will see the stock jump in price, and, alas, your chance of a profitable investment is gone. JOINT BURIAL AS MAN DESIRED NOT GRANTED TO COUPLE

George Near's Funeral Held Today—Wife's Later.

"Send us together, and tell them to bury us side by side."

Thus wrote George Near prior to the deaths of himself and his wife by shooting, but neither part of the expressed wish has been gratified. His body was forwarded alone from Pontiac, Mich., on Wednesday and was buried alone this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Woodland Cemetery.

The body of his wife, Mabel Near, is being forwarded to this city also, but the time of the funeral and place of burial have not yet been determined.

On the pale grey casket of George Near were four wreaths from the family and immediate relatives. Only relatives were present at the funeral service held in the undertaking rooms of N. J. Griffith, where the body was taken on its arrival from Pontiac. The services were conducted by Rev. B. H. Robinson of the Memorial Methodist Church.

TAXI STRIKES POST; OCCUPANT SEVERELY HURT IN COLLISION

A man whose name was withheld by the police, but whom The Advertiser was informed was known as Scales, was badly hurt when a motor car, alleged to have been driven by Storey, struck a telephone post late last night in West London.

Scales, the occupant of the machine, had his nose broken, his face badly lacerated and received a severe shaking up. The driver of the machine escaped unscathed. The injured man received medical attention from a local physician.

Predicts Advance Of $4 a Pair On Boots and Shoes

Chicago Packers Blamed For Excessively High Prices Demanded For Hides.

Hamilton, July 31.—That the price of footwear within the next two months would advance $4 a pair was the statement made today by W. S. Duffield, of the John McPherson Shoe Company. Labor is not to blame for this, he said. The fault rests with the Chicago packers, who have a monopoly on leather. A horsehide that could be bought for $1 now commands over $17, while $65 is asked for a cowhide, a sum that would once have purchased a cow. Labor will get 20 cents out of the $4 advance. The packers will gobble up the balance.

PRESENTS MEASURES TO EXPEDITE BUILDING OF TUNNEL UNDER CHANNEL

Paris, July 1.—Measures to expedite the construction of a tunnel under the English Channel, connecting France and England, were presented to the Cabinet today by Albert Claveille, minister of public works.

JULY BUILDING IS FAR IN ADVANCE OF THE RECORD FOR LAST YEAR

July building amounted to $171,200, and 134 permits, covering that amount were issued by Building Inspector A. M. Piper. In July, 1918, only $48,685 worth of construction was done.

To date this year the inspector has been notified of $719,235 worth of building, and during the same period of 1918 notification of but $338,560 worth of building was received by him.

War had considerable effect on the amount of construction done. Following are figures that will prove this statement. In July, 1912, the building total was $204,794; in July, 1914, $341,405; July, 1915, $266,185; July, 1916, $214,020; July, 1917, $75,030, and July, 1918, $48,685.

Among the latest permits is one for the building of a two-story brick veneer dwelling on Ridout street, by Ira Owen, to cost $4,100. The board of education is adding a room to St. George's School at a cost of $1,500, and G. Rudd is constructing a one-story frame house on Hume street at a cost of $1,400.

WEDDING BELLS

BECK—SHULVER.

At 2 p.m. Wednesday, the marriage of Florence Shulver to C. T. Beck took place in the tastefully decorated library of the King Street Y. W. C. A. Rev. Mr. G. A. Leichliter conducted the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by the house secretary, looked charming in her traveling suit of sand serge, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. She was attended by Miss Violet Kealey, who wore a frock of blue voile with navy taffeta hat. Harry Lindsay was groomsman. Miss Curtis played the wedding music.

After a dainty luncheon, the bride and groom left for Cleveland.

Miss Shulver, who has been a resident at "Lenmore" for a year and a half, was the recipient of many useful and pretty gifts from her "Y." friends.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

LATE MISS SARAH SMITH.

The death took place at Victoria Hospital on Tuesday of Miss Sarah Isabella Smith. Miss Smith was a resident of Galt, but had been here for treatment for some time. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Jacob Smith, Ingersoll, three sisters, Mrs. Clifford Addison of Detroit, Mrs. Wm. Dempsey, Strathroy, and Mrs. Arthur Hurst, Ingersoll, also by four brothers, Jerome Smith, Detroit, Lorenzo of Kerwood, Frank of Newbury and Albert of this city. Interment will be made at Watford on Thursday morning.

PRISONER GETS OUT OF JAIL IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

Jules Kennedy Escapes and Has Not Been Apprehended.

SIMPLY WALKED AWAY

Was Allowed Out of Sight For Few Minutes and Disappeared.

Jules Kennedy of Chicago (colored), a former porter on a Grand Trunk diner, who was arrested at 11 o'clock Sunday night, July 20, after being beaten into unconsciousness when he resisted arrest, and was sentenced to four months in the county jail on a liquor charge, escaped at 11 o'clock this morning.

Kennedy was shoveling coal in the basement of the jail when he told Turnkey Robert Marsh that he wished to go to the lavatory. Marsh consented, but did not accompany him. After Kennedy had been absent longer than the turnkey thought necessary he went in search of him, and found him gone. He tracked a man, who pedestrians had said, was in prison clothes, down King street to the river bank, but there lost all trace of him.

Had Money.

The detectives were notified and also all border cities to be on the lookout for the man who made such a successful getaway.

It is believed that Kennedy will work his way to some of his friends in the city and get a change of clothes. He had money in his pockets when he escaped. If he manages to get his change of garb, other things will be easy for him, as he is believed to be one of an organized gang of smugglers, and with the aid of a civilian suit and money, friends probably will make a good attempt to get him across the border.

Governor Carter had nothing much to say on the escape, other than it was mainly due to a shortage of help, about fourteen men being incarcerated at the jail, but only about one of these being able to work.

Some Sick.

The others either are on remand or are sick.

The one man, a "trusty," was shoveling in the coal from the outside, and when another prisoner who was assigned to the work complained that he was ill, Kennedy was allowed out on condition that he was to be carefully watched. He has only been out once or twice since his sentence, and that was for a little exercise in the garden.

The governor stated that Turnkey Marsh was a good man, and this was the first prisoner he had lost. All police officials believe that he will be apprehended before many hours elapse.

This makes the fifth man who has escaped from the county jail in a period of two years, Elroy George being the last man prior to Kennedy's successful escape.

Descriptions Out.

Descriptions of Jules Kennedy have been sent broadcast from police headquarters here, and the local police are confident that if the escaped prisoner has attempted to cross the border he will be arrested without much difficulty.

Kennedy described himself in police court here on Monday, July 21, when he was sentenced to four months in jail, as hailing from Chicago, and it is believed that he will endeavor to reach his home town.

A close police watch was set on all the railroads leading from this city as soon as the escape was known, and special attention is being given to border railway stops.

HUNGARIANS FAVOR DICTATORSHIP FORM OF NEW GOVERNMENT

Proposal Is Made To Allied Representative At Budapest.

Berlin, July 30.—A dispatch received here from Vienna says the Hungarian people's commissaries who recently visited Col. Cunningham, the allied representative at Budapest, made the proposal for the replacing of the Soviet Government by a new government to be elected by the Socialist and Bourgeois parties, and that a military dictatorship be installed for the transitional period under the direction of one British, one French, one Italian and one American officer, to maintain law and order and see that the parliamentary elections were honestly carried out.

The dispatch adds that Col. Cunningham, afterwards conferred with Count Bethlen, representative of the Hungarian counter-revolutionary government, and it was decided to summon to Vienna various Hungarian Social Democratic leaders, including Ernest Garamix, who is now in Switzerland, and is generally regarded as the coming Hungarian premier.

BOARD WILL CONSIDER REMODELLING SCHOOL

May Utilize Princess Avenue Building for Commercial Classes.

To consider plans for the remodeling of Princess Avenue Barracks so that it may be used as a commercial school, a special meeting of the board of education will be held in the near future. This morning the commercial committee of the board met and decided that several thousands of dollars would have to be spent to put new seats and blackboards in the building. This will be reported to the board.

There was some talk at the committee meeting of opening a room at the old Quebec street school to relieve the situation at Boyle memorial school, where all accommodation is taxed to the limit.

BELGIUM PROHIBITS EXPORTATION OF COAL

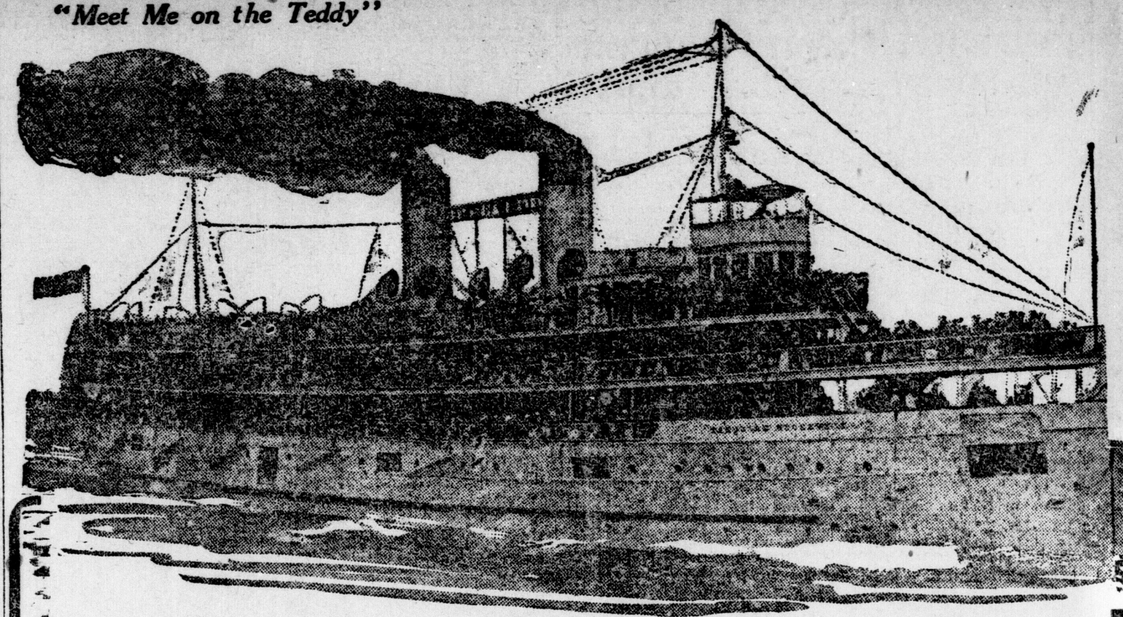

Brussels, July 31.—The Belgian Government today prohibited temporarily the exportation of Belgian coal to any country.

YOUNG WOMAN'S DEATH DUE TO DROWNING

Paterson, N. J., July 31.—Lester Decker, who has been held in the county jail here pending an investigation into the death of his 20-year-old fiance, Miss Mabel Harris, whose body was recovered from the Ramapo River yesterday, after she had been missing since Sunday, was released from custody. His release was recommended by County Prosecutor Dunn, who reported that an autopsy on the young woman's body showed that she had met death by drowning, and that there were no marks of violence upon the body.

MARKET BRINGS $509.—Covent Garden Market earned $509.50 for the city during the present month. The upstairs department of the market house brought in $360 profit; the basement, $136; the space outside the market house, $3.50, and the butchers' pavilion $10.

ENGINEER AND HIS TEAMSTERS FAIL TO REACH AGREEMENT

But Men Delay Walkout Until After Monday.

City Engineer H. A. Brazier and teamsters employed by the city failed to reach an agreement regarding wages. The men are seeking to obtain $1 per hour, but the engineer would not agree to this rate of pay. At present the men are receiving 85 cents per hour.

Their grievance was brought before No. 2 committee on Tuesday, and Mr. Brazier was given power to settle the matter. The men threatened to strike unless the city acceded to their demands. The date fixed for the walkout was today. However, they will wait until after the meeting of the city council on Monday before taking action.

Arrangements Made For Works Department Picnic

Nearly 900 Will Be Present at Springbank, August 16.

Preliminary arrangements for the picnic of the public works department which is to be held at Springbank on Saturday, August 16, and at which there will be an attendance of 900, were made Wednesday night.

City Engineer H. A. Brazier was elected as chairman of the picnic. Mayor C. R. Somerville is president; Ald. O. G. Keene, first vice-president, and Ald. E. S. Little, second vice-president. J. A. Moffatt will act in the capacity of secretary, and Miss Olive White will assist him to fulfill his duties.

Committees chosen follow:

Refreshments—W. C. Maker (chairman), T. Bird, F. Baxter, J. Fletcher, A. Fuller, W. Leigh, C. Howard, J. Cribber, H. Aiken, and S. Birret.

Sports—W. B. Walker (chairman), W. Stephens (secretary), W. R. Hunter Robert Logan, William Walker, J. Simpson, S. McCoy, S. Loveless, and W. Spooner.

Printing and Invitations—E. O'Connor (chairman), J. Rostron, H. Pope and R. Roberton.

Lunches will be brought by the individual picnickers. A tent for checking them will be provided.

POLICE THINK BLOW HAS BEEN STRUCK AT SALE OF LIQUOR IN THE CITY

Police and liquor license authorities believe that with the six months' jail sentence imposed upon Samuel Gray, 575 Bathurst street, this morning, convicted of having liquor for sale, a severe blow has been struck at illicit whiskey-dealing in this city.

Gray was convicted of selling liquor in January this year and was fined. The offence for which he was convicted in police court today was the second, for which there is no option of paying a fine.

According to the police, bootleggers have coined so much money in illicit liquor-dealing in this city that they were quite willing to pay a fine of $200 or more for the privilege of booze-peddling. Gray is the first person this year to be convicted of a second offence of this kind under the Ontario temperance act.

RUSSIANS ARE ARRESTED.

London, July 31.—Ten persons, including a Russian general and a colonel and several women, have been arrested in connection with the death of Nikolai Ardasjeff, a prominent member of the Russian colony in Stockholm.

Ardasjeff has been missing since July 3, and it now develops that he was murdered. He is declared to have had close connections with the Russian Bolsheviki and the Stockholm message says it is believed probable that he was made away with by supporters of the old regime.

THE MAN WHO CAME BACK—PRESIDENT WILSON.

One of the first things he did was to ask Mr. Tumulty if the coal had been put into the White House coal-bin yet. "Yes?" "All right; then bring me those league papers next."

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL PCNIC HELD BY LONDON GROCERS ON PORT STANLEY BEACH

Thousands of Citizens Visit Lakeside to Attend Event of Events at Erie Lakeside With Grocers and Families.

The fourteenth annual picnic of the London Grocers, held to Port Stanley yesterday, was a success from start to finish. From early morning till late in the afternoon crowds boarded the London and Port Stanley Railway, which ran a special fast service for the occasion.

At 1:30 o'clock, the executive committee with another large crowd of grocers and their families left, accompanied by the G. W. V. A. Band. On arrival at Port Stanley, a program of sports was run off on the beach, and the baby show commenced on the hill. In the baby show were little baby boys and girls, all sizes, wreathed in smiles and dimples, who tried to look their best before the critical judges, who found it a hard proposition to pick prizewinners from such a crowd of pretty little baby faces.

The races, which were all funny, provided a great deal of amusement, especially "Tilting the Bucket" and the sack races. One little lad, whose name could not be ascertained at the time of going to press, broke his collar bone. He discovered this fact after he had been walking round for some time after the race.

A large tent erected at the end of the sport grounds, right handy to thirsty participants in the running races, provided everything in the way of "eats" for the picnickers.

The prizes awarded were most appropriate in these times of high cost of living, some of them were fifty pound bags of flour, half a dozen jars of Scotch marmalade, Swift's Premium hams, 3-pound tins of coffee, cases of ammonia and sides of bacon. Through The Advertiser, the Grocers wish to thank those who donated prizes.

The officers and commitee in charge: President, John T. May; first vice-president, P. H. Ranahan; second vice-president, Thos. McCormick; secretary, Frank C. Pierce; treasurer, H. P. Rosser; Ald. G. B. Drake, Thos. Shaw, H. Harley, J. Wyckoff, E. Noel, M. A. Young, H. Harley, Kenzie McCormick, F. Lapthorne.

CARVELL PROMISES IMMEDIATE ACTION AT PORT STANLEY

Minister of Public Works Wires That Immediate Investigation Will Be Made at Port Harbor.

As the result of trouble experienced by the Cleveland steamer Theodore Roosevelt in landing passengers at Port Stanley and the representations made to the minister of public works by the London Chamber of Commerce, the Western Ontario Associated Boards of Trade and S. F. Glass, M.P., Government engineers were at the port yesterday making an inspection of the piers and preparing a report as to improvements necessary to make the harbor available for docking purposes.

Immediate Action Wanted.

Secretary Philip of the London chamber and President John Bridge of the Associated Boards, in urgent dispatches, called the attention of the minister to the difficulties encountered, and pointed to the necessity for immediate action. Their messages were supplemented by one from Mr. Glass, which was as follows:

Messages Dispatched.

London, Ont., July 29, 1919.

To Hon. F. B. Carvell, K.C., M.P.,
Minister of Public Works,
Ottawa, Ont.:

Representations wired you by chamber of commerce, London, and by Western Ontario Boards of Trade in reference to conditions at Port Stanley harbor reveal correct situation.

Serious loss to transportation and shipping must ensue unless immediate action be taken.

Strongly recommend to instruct your engineers in this district to at once make report as to necessary means for immediate temporary relief, to be followed by permanent removal of obstructions and dredging in the harbor, making it safe for shipping now daily seeking entrance.

(Signed) S. F. GLASS.

Minister of Public Works F. B. Carvell has announced in telegrams to S. F. Glass, the mayor of St. Thomas, John Bridge of the United Boards of Trade of Western Ontario and Gordon Philip of the London Chamber of Commerce that he has ordered investigations to be immediately made with a view to remedying the present difficulty.

SUPREME COUNCIL APPROVES PLAN OF EXPELLING GERMANS

Foch's Recommendation Regarding Their Presence in Letvia Is Accepted.

Paris, July 31.—Division of the German and Austrian warships among the Allies was discussed at length yesterday by the supreme council, but no decision was reached.

The council approved of a report of Marshal Foch, recommending the immediate expulsion of the German army from Letvia, where Gen. von der Goltz and other German officers are becoming insolent, and are endeavoring to prevent the Letts from establishing a firm government.

The council approved of the clause on the Bulgarian treaty guaranteeing the rights of minorities, and also the ports and waterways clause, subject to final boundary decisions.

INTERESTING NEWS FOR WORKING MEN

An Article Well Worth Your While To Read.

This is a nerve-racking age—not a man in an office or behind the counter, striving hard to get on in the world, that does not feel the strain.

If nerves are in order, a man is strong, eats and sleeps well. Unstrung nerves means weakness, worry, sleeplessness and a general decay of bodily strength.

Most men are careless of their health. They trust to luck and that kind of thing, instead of taking Ferrozone for a few weeks when they feel dull in the morning, or when they sleep poorly or lose appetite.

Ferrozone quickly brightens up the mind. It creates an appetite and improves digestion. Ferrozone makes blood, quiets the nerves, makes muscle like steel and induces refreshing sleep.

Ferrozone is a body builder, thousands have proved it. If you are sick or out of sorts, use Ferrozone and enjoy the splendid health it so surely brings.

Permanent in its results, the greatest health-giver in the world is Ferrozone. Because nourishing and perfectly harmless, all can use it, even children. Get Ferrozone today, 50c per box, at all dealers, or by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Manufacturers and The Rich Rural Market

MORE than 60% of the population of Canada lives in the rural districts. The manufacturer who neglects the agricultural field is overlooking more than half the Canadian market.

To-day the Canadian farmer is in a better position financially than ever before in our history. He has enjoyed four years of record high prices. The vast increase in the number of motor cars sold in the rural districts of Canada since 1914 is all the proof needed of his purchasing power.

To-day the farmer is buying tractors—replacing his old farm machinery with new—putting up larger barns—installing modern bathrooms and running water in the home—buying phonographs and Government bonds. He is a consumer of the same necessities and luxuries as the city man.

The key to this rich market is the Farm Press of Canada. Canadian Farm Publications are ably edited and are closely read by the farmers of Canada. They cover the rural field thoroughly. By advertising intelligently in them you can enlarge your output in this rich farm territory.

Many of the most notable advertising successes in the rural field have been scored by clients of ours. We understand the "viewpoint" and the ideas of the farmer. We know how to present the salient features of a product or a proposition in the language and form that carries conviction to the tiller of the soil.

It is to the best interests of the Canadian manufacturer to sow the right kind of advertising seed and cultivate the farm market intelligently. A larger crop of sales and "good will" will be the results.

SAYS BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS BEST THING FOR THIN, NERVOUS FOLKS

Dr. Frederick Kolle, Editor of "Physician's Who's Who," Says It Should Be Prescribed by Every Doctor and Used In Every Hospital.

Remarkable Substance Creates New Flesh, Strength and Egergy in Two Weeks Time In Many Instances.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by druggists everywhere under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric acid elements, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Clinical tests made in St Catherine's Hospital, N. Y. C., showed that two patients gained in weight 23 and 27 pounds, respectively, through the administration of this organic phosphate; both patients claim they have not felt as strong and well for the past twelve years.

Our soldiers always pick out the plump, rosy-cheeked girls.

Increase in weight usually carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

Physicians are now recognizing its merits by its use in ever increasing quantities. Frederick Kolle, M.D., editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says: "Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

Miss Josephine Davis, reporting her own experience with bitro-phosphate, says: "It is remarkable what it did for me. After a few days I began to regain my strength, felt full of life, was able to sleep soundly and all my little troubles seemed to disappear. I gained twelve pounds in four weeks."

Joseph D. Harrigan, Former Visiting Specialist to North Eastern Dispensatory, says: "Let those who are weak, thin, nervous, anaemic, or rundown, take a natural, unadulterated substance such as bitro-phosphate and you will soon see some astonishing results in the increase of nerve energy, strength of body and mind and power of endurance."

CAUTION—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

WESTERN DELEGATES WILL URGE ADOPTION FARMERS' PLATFORM

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS IN PORTUGAL AUGUST 5

LISBON, July 30.—The election of a president of the Portuguese Republic will take place on August 5, it was announced today.

"I believe my own great physical activity is largely due to my personal use of Nuxated Iron", says Former Health Commissioner Wm. R. Kerr, of the City of Chicago. "From my own experience with Nuxated Iron I feel it is such a valuable blood and body building preparation that it ought to be used in every hospital and prescribed by every physician in the country." Nuxated Iron helps to make healthier women and stronger, sturdier men. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. At all good druggists.

Cuticura Helps Clear Away Dandruff and Irritation

On retiring, comb the hair out straight, then make a parting, gently rubbing in Cuticura Ointment with the end of the finger. Anoint additional partings until the whole scalp has been treated. Place a light covering over the hair to protect the pillow from possible stain. The next morning shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water, using plenty of soap, best applied with the hands. Rinse in tepid water. Repeat in two weeks if needed. Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum 25c. each plus Canadian duties.

BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unenameled tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter-pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, and see how freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear, and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

Former Attorney-General of Manitoba Expresses Views on Liberal Rally — Will Have To Deal With Labor Problems.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINNIPEG, July 30.—Hon. A. B. Hudson, former attorney-general of Manitoba, expects the coming Liberal convention in the east to formulate a platform which will unite the party and which will map out a course in the interests of the Dominion as a whole. He expressed his opinions on the convention and the political situation in Canada in an interview with your correspondent today.

"Are you going to the Liberal convention?" Mr. Hudson was asked. "No, I am not able to go on account of private business. I hope the convention will turn out well. There are quite a number of forward-looking men going from both east and west, and if their views prevail a real Liberal program will be adopted. They will also see that the men put in control are men who believe in the policy adopted and can be trusted to carry it out."

"What is likely to be proposed with regard to the tariff?"

"Well, our western men are bound to stick out for something very like the farmers' platform. The Legislatures of the three prairie provinces have passed resolutions very similar to it. For that matter, resolutions proposed by the Opposition in Parliament did not fall very far short of it, and one can hardly expect the convention to do less."

Labor Problems.

"What about labor problems?"

"The time has come when these problems must be dealt with courageously. We cannot afford to lag behind other countries in meeting the legitimate demands of labor. In addition to meeting these there will doubtless be a proposal for some more efficient and equitable mode of settling labor disputes, and also for the encouragement of profit-sharing schemes and co-operation."

"Do you know what proposals are as to taxation?"

"I do not, but I have no doubt that the men I speak of will insist upon a provision that undue profits made as a consequence of the tariff or other special conditions should be made to bear a much greater proportion of the public obligations."

"What if this course is not adopted?"

Real Liberty Policy.

"If the convention does not deal with these and other questions in a big way the result will be unfortunate. Liberal minded men and women will not be misled by a mere party name. To insure their united support there must be a real Liberal policy and a real Liberal leader. Another consequence will be to encourage the formation of disconnected groups advocating measures, in which they are alone especially concerned. These groups would be opposed by a solid body of reactionaries determined to maintain their special privileges. A good general always manoeuvres to divide the opposing armies. Some of my friends feel that there is still hope that the new Unionist party may be liberalized. I do not see any reason to justify such hopes. The Government's policy is bound to be determined in the end by the forces behind it."

Manitoba, however, he said, would be represented by more than ten members of the Provincial Legislature, who would give the convention the western views of what the Liberal platform would be.

"I have no doubt that a progressive platform will be adopted, and I wish the convention every success," Mr. Hudson concluded.

BOARD TO BUY AND MARKET WHEAT CROP

Will Sell For Farmers at Prevailing World Prices.

OTTAWA, July 30.—The Government this afternoon finally determined its policy in regard to this year's wheat crop. The main features of the plan are:

1.—The board to buy and market the crop of 1919.

2.—A cash payment on account to be made to the farmer at the time he sells his wheat.

3.—The wheat crop of Canada to be sold by the board at the prevailing world prices, and the surplus proceeds, after expenses are deducted, to be distributed to the original sellers of the wheat in proportion to grade and quantity.

4.—No speculation on exchanges or profiteering by handlers to be allowed in disposing of the wheat crop of 1919 to the disadvantage of either producer or consumer.

5.—A direct and immediate cash sale by the farmer and a speedy movement of the crop along the usual channels of transport.

ONTARIO TOWN IS SWEPT BY A GREAT FIRE

Whole Business District of Casselmen Reported in Flames.

OTTAWA, July 30.—Fire this afternoon did damage approximating $150,000 in the village of Casselman, Russell County. Two hotels, four stores, two of them general stores, a livery stable and other buildings were destroyed.

The blaze which swept down Nation street, the main thoroughfare of the village, was caused by young boys smoking in a livery stable which was destroyed.

HEARST DENIES DEWART CHARGE OF CONSPIRACY

Makes Statement at Conservative Picnic—Too Absurd For Contradiction.

TORONTO, July 30.—Premier Hearst, speaking today at Ward Four Conservative picnic at Queenston Heights, said: "I have no brief for Mr. Proudfoot or Mr. Rowell. They are both capable of taking care of themselves. Mr. Dewart's statements about my relationship with these gentlemen are too absurd to require contradiction. There is not a scintilla of truth in his charges of conspiracy, connivance and intrigue with these gentlemen."

DISTRICT ATTORNEY INVESTIGATES DEATH OF J. KEITH MURRAY

Inquest and Hearing Into Auto Accident Opened at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 30.—The inquest and hearing into the automobile accident of July 12 on the Byron road near Batavia, N. Y., in which Miss Ida Davis, Batavia, was instantly killed, and Keith Murray of London, Ont., died from injuries, were opened this morning at 10 o'clock in the office of District Attorney Kelly, Batavia, behind closed doors.

Although there has been considerable talk of legal proceedings, it is considered improbable that anything in the nature of a criminal prosecution will result.

Members of the party who survived the shock and accident are witnesses in the case. No eyewitness of the accident can be found who can testify as to the rate of speed Elmer Dewey, the driver of the car, was going.

Miss Genevieve Davis and Albert Bollmer maintain that the car was not going over 35 miles an hour which, at 4 o'clock in the morning when the accident occurred, could not be considered a rate for a criminal prosecution.

The only witnesses for the case are troopers who came to the scene from a military barracks when called for by the injured people.

SOUTH BRUCE U.F.O. PICKS CANDIDATES FOR BOTH HOUSES

WALKERTON, July 30.—The South Bruce U. F. O. met at Walkerton today and selected candidates to contest the riding at the next Dominion and provincial elections. J. W. Findlay of Brant Township was chosen as the nominee for the Dominion, and J. J. Zettler, also of Brant Township, for the Ontario House. About four hundred farmers attended the convention.

PARKHILL LAD LOSES LIFE BY DROWNING; MEN FAIL TO HELP

PARKHILL, July 30.—Leon Kanneman, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Kanneman, was drowned at Grand Bend yesterday. He was in camp with the boy scouts under the leadership of Scoutmaster Rev. Mr. Cree and Mr. Hill, instructor.

Mr Hill took all the boys to swim, leaving Kanneman in camp as cook for the day. He prepared the potatoes, built a trench fire and placed the pot on to boil. He then took the boat and rowed down to the pier, picking up two other scouts, Peterkin and Saaddock, on the way. The boys beached the boat near the mouth of the river on the Parkhill side, and Kanneman, who was only learning to swim, undertook to swim across the river. He had only gone a few feet from shore when he sank.

The other two lads pushed off in the boat and endeavored to reach him, but neither boy could row well and the boat was heavy. They called to two men who were sitting on the pier a few feet away, for help. The men said: "He will be all right," and gave no [illegible]. The alarm spread to the scouts, who were east of the breakwater, and in a few minutes Mr. Hill and all the lads were on the scene, but Kanneman had gone down for the last time.

Figures and Facts

The Canadian Official Record says that prices for June this year did not advance upon those of May, but ran about one and one-half per cent higher than in June, 1918. There is vast comfort in figures. In these days figures, like food, need to be well cooked to taste well. But perhaps, for good digestion, figures had better be served raw. One cannot help meditating, after taking the concoction, that butter and eggs are almost out of reach, woolen clothes a doubtful quantity at any price, leather (?) boots about to give way to wooden sabots as better than paper at any rate, and as for building materials, the poor man can now only look forward in faith to those mansions in the sky where the profiteer will no longer operate nor thieves break in and steal.

Resignations Demanded

The long-gathering thunderstorm of discontent on the part of Canadian workers with the pirate tyranny of Bordenism burst out in a great crash at Windsor on Tuesday. A resolution passed unanimously by the Machinists' Union, No. 718, calls upon both Premier Borden and Premier Hearst and their cabinets to resign at once. All other machinists' unions in Canada are to be asked to concur.

The reasons given by the machinists for this action hardly need to be asked, much less stated. Not only the farmers and consumers, but labor unionists have come to see in Borden, Hearst and their following the enemies of the people, the agents of the profiteers.

We have no longer democracy in Canada. We must tear the hands of the Ottawa Cabinet from the throats of Canadian workingmen. Such is the united sentiment behind the Windsor resolution. Bordenism has been the making of mushroom millionaires, and the Ontario Government has not carried out or made the least move to carry out its duty of prosecuting combines in restraint of trade. There has been a wholesale waste and extravagance in the Dominion administration, an insidious diminution of parliament's power, a rapid curtailment of people's rights, a flagrant pampering of wealth, and of late rank insolence and impudent disregard of public protests.

Speaking of waste, there seems to be a natural connection or parallelism between governmental extravagance and the destruction of food so frequently reported. Twenty tons of food, largely eggs, have been condemned and burnt in the last ten days in Winnipeg cold storage houses. Think of tons of eggs destroyed. It happens every now and then, but when the Bordenized cost of living commission reports, it has no word of censure for that sort of thing and blames the consumer for wanting too much or being particular about the quality of his food.

The huge waste of concentrated food at Winnipeg is attributed by "officials" to the strike. According to that, cold storage doesn't keep food very long in Winnipeg. Perhaps the heat of the argument penetrated the ice and played the mischief with the hoarded comestibles! Some people are very anxious to place the blame on the poor consumer or workingman, anywhere but on the real culprits. Mayor Gray of Winnipeg himself suspects that something else than the strike is responsible for the colossal waste, when he demands a prosecution under the Dominion Government of the men or companies guilty. But what is the use of asking for any more of these fake investigations, probes, commissions and "prosecutions" under a government itself the respectable-looking headpiece of the profiteering ring? The Windsor machinists face the real facts and demand the only effectual remedy. Canada must simply buck Borden and Hearst from its back and neck.

Greater Greece

In the dispute between Bulgaria and Greece over part of the north seaboard of the Aegean, our sympathies naturally incline towards Greece, our ally, and against Bulgaria, the most treacherous of our late enemies. It seems a pity that Constantinople itself, as well as Smyrna, may not conveniently be turned over to the Hellenic kingdom.

Many Greeks, Venizelos perhaps among them, have dreamed of a restored Hellenic empire, to embrace besides Greece and its islands, the coast of Asia Minor, the north coast of the Aegean, and Thrace with Constantinople. This would be a partial restoration of the old Roman empire of the east or Greek empire, whose language was Greek and capital Constantinople, and which was overthrown in 1453 by the Turks. Of such a restored power Constantinople would be the commercial metropolis, the New York, while Athens would doubtless remain the political and artistic capital, the Washington or Boston, the sacred city of everlasting memories, "shining Athens," as Sophocles called it.

Difficulties, however, lie thick in the way of restoring a Greece, as an Italy was restored in the peninsula next west. The component elements of a comprehensive Hellenic unification are far less promising, Thrace and Constantinople being populated by a mixture of several races speaking divers languages and professing antagonistic religions. The Asia Minor coast, however, around Smyrna is so predominantly Greek that a lodgement of the Greek power here has been allowed.

As to Constantinople, other reasons besides racial complexity weigh against its assignment to Greece. The Mohammedans, who are numerous in the British and French dominions, would feel themselves humiliated by a Greek recovery of the great city, just though that might be from more than one viewpoint; and the Mohammedans of India and Africa have stood loyally by the British and French governments during the war. They would probably not so much resent the establishment of Constantinople as an international port.

But still, we cannot help looking forward to the reunion some day of this city with Greater Greece. It is the natural capital of the Greek Church, as of old, and all Christendom would like to see Saint Sophia take the place once more in the Eastern Church that Saint Peter's occupies in the Latin communion. When Italy was delivered from Austria in 1860, Rome was withheld by a French garrison for another ten years before passing under the Italian Government. So perhaps it may be with Constantinople. Time may overcome Mohammedan feeling, as it did Roman Catholic sentiment in regard to Rome, and we may yet see the white and blue cross and stripes floating over Constantinople and Saint Sophia, if the fates allow.

Germans Again Exposed

The statement by Erzberger, German finance minister, that Great Britain and France made peace overtures in August, 1917, is an interesting misstatement. As Erzberger has it, the offer reached Berlin through the Vatican and was rejected a few weeks later on the advice of Chancellor Michaelis. The facts of the case are as follows: In August, 1917, the pope made peace proposals to all the belligerents, to which Germany was the first to reply. Great Britain then pointed out to the Vatican that Germany had made no declaration as to Belgian independence, reparation, etc. Cardinal Gasparri, in his desire to forward peace, may have been overzealous, or possibly he misunderstood the situation; anyway this communication was forwarded to Berlin in a way that made it appear as if Great Britain was making peace overtures.

The truth is that the pope's proposal, made with similar motives, could not possibly have been accepted by the Entente and the United States, because it provided for a restoration of the pre-war situation. Great Britain merely pointed out this fact to the Vatican, and, on the advice of France, dropped the matter. Erzberger now digs up the incident in an effort to prove the junkers turned down an opportunity for peace and drove Germany on to collapse and ruin. The controversy is of interest to the Allied peoples as another expose of Germany's shameless war leadership. It shows the German peace drive to have been a sham.

Why Do We Picnic?

A contemporary condemns the picnic as a public and private nuisance, but there must be something inherently helpful and wholesome about an institution so widely popular and which is as old as mankind, for wasn't life one grand picnic for Adam and Eve until that day they picnicked in an orchard, for the last time?

True enough, there are few picnickers, chronic or occasional, who will not confess—the evening after—that picnics are something of a disappointment, like matrimony, more inviting in the prospect than in the practice. "Never again" is the verdict as we cast up casualties to clothing, stomachs, pocketbooks, tempers. The outing which at its commencement was a fair picture of green fields, blue skies, bubbling brooks, birds, flowers, and which held that most delightful of all mysteries, the unopened lunch basket, at its conclusion appears a horror of pests, indigestibles, backaches, blisters, disappointment, and home, joyously and carelessly deserted at dawn, at dusk becomes a blessed haven and heaven to which we solemnly take oath to be anchored henceforth and forever. And next day we are busy planning another excursion.

The truth is that although it never measures with sincerest motives, could not possibly have and we have yet to meet the party who can honestly at the end of a picnic day carol of its perfection, picnicking provides a vast amount of amusement, entertainment and recreation which our bodies and minds crave and sends us homeward healthily weary. We recognize this, subconsciously very often, and that is why we go back to it again and again, even if past experiences assure that there will be ants in the butter, beetles in the jam, mosquitoes in the ear, and that little Willie will at some stage sit down on a thistle, if not the lemon pie. So pay no attention to the joy-killing pessimist who classes picnics with pestiferous things. Get out the lunch basket and the old reliable thermos bottle. We are going picnicking once more.

Who Killed Cock Robin?

Quebec Telegraph.

The crushing defeat sustained by the Conservative Government of Prince Edward Island yesterday, when twenty-six Liberals were elected and only four Conservatives, once more demonstrates the strength of the wave of Liberalism now rolling across Canada from coast to coast. The result in Prince Edward Island is in complete conformity to the recent by-elections in Ontario and the West, where Conservative strongholds have been taken by assault and Liberal principles have been persistently triumphant. The issue in Prince Edward Island has no doubt been in some measure determined by provincial questions, but the strength of the landslide makes the conclusion inevitable that deep discontent with the Government at Ottawa was behind the verdict rendered. Prince Edward Island went solid for the Liberal party at the last Dominion election, but half their representation was wrested from them by a manipulation of overseas votes which the people have not forgotten.

The methods and the conduct of the Union Government have ruined the Conservative party in Canada for years to come. The palate of the people for Tory government is cloyed for many a long day. That, it appears, is the net achievement of the Ottawa administration.

[By Izola Forrester.]

There were six seats in the box. Don had left the filling of them to Mrs. Galloway, providing she reserved two for Bab Seward and himself.

"Fourth time in two weeks, Don," warned his aunt. "Are you really sure this time?"

And Don, standing on her hearth rug, six foot one, athletic, stubborn and altogether her favorite, smiled down at her teasingly.

"Isn't she all right?" he demanded. "Now, honor bright, Aunt Kitty, isn't she a thoroughbred?"

"Dear lad, how should I know?" laughed Mrs. Galloway. "She's pretty and charming and a great favorite with everybody, but would she wear well? The trouble, Don, with most of our 'debbies' the past few years, they are like racers trained for the big race of matrimony, or to look well at the show, but when it comes to living life, just every-day life, I don't know what they would be like."

Don frowned. He knew what lay under her words. There was the big old house down home in Maryland, and his chances with the new airplane company he had sunk every dollar in. After that all he had to offer a girl was himself and his inheritance some day of his aunt's property. And she had brought him up ever since the death of his own mother, and had lavished so much love upon him that he felt she had, indeed, a right to voice an opinion. And he felt he was deeply in love with Bab. She was so gay and vivid, so full of enthusiasm and spirit, and he knew she had refused any number of men far better off than he was.

"Nannie will be there tonight," added Mrs. Galloway, changing the subject tactfully, and his brow cleared instantly. It was seldom, since her marriage, that he had a chance of seeing his sister.

"Seven fifteen," he said. "give Nan my best and tell her to let me come up to the hotel for breakfast with her. I'm bound for Bab's now."

The telephone bell rang as he passed down the broad stone steps, and Nannie's own voice called imperatively.

"Oh, but I'll have to bring her, dear, of course. Don will understand. She's little. She won't take up much room. I can squeeze her in anywhere. I went to school with her, and her father's been a missionary in China or Armenia, or some place where they fairly chewed them alive, you know, and Tess is adorable. She's just back home, and I must bring her with me. You'll love her, Aunt Kitty."

Don was late. Bab kept him waiting, and came down the curving staircase with most provoking leisure. She was in black, with a red fan of heavy ostrich plumes, and the Seward rubies in her dark hair. He frowned. Mrs. Galloway had said it was not quite good taste for Bab to wear her mother's jewels while she was still a debutante. Old Seward would have given her his own head if she had asked for it.

"I hate summer shows," she said, wearily. "We're going on a short cruise, Dad and about eight of his friends. Sorry I can't ask you, Don."

"Sorry I couldn't go if you did," he swung back pleasantly. "Nannie's in town. I'm bound out to Fairfield with her and Grant. You know her, don't you?"

Bab laughed.

"We used to scrap all the time at Miss Baring's School. I'm sure she doesn't like me yet."

The interior of the box was in shadow when they arrived, but Don could see there was only one chair vacant, and this next to his aunt. Bab sank into it ungraciously while he sent the usher after another, and Nannie's hand pinched his arm in the dark.

"Room down here," she whispered. "All my fault, Don, you poor old darling. Forgive me, won't you? Tess, this is my big brother."

And suddenly Don found himself looking into the most surprising pair of eyes, eyes so large and dark, so filled with a tender, velvety softness in expression, that they knocked away all thought of Bab's perversity from his mind, and left him a willing victim. Squeezed uncomfortably between Nannie and the side railing, he found he could whisper across her to this girl from the distant East, with her Persian mother's eyes and manner and Frank Warren's smile, the father who had given his life in the big struggle.

"You're due to breakfast with us, Don, remember," Nannie said when they parted. "Nine sharp."

Don nodded, caught one last glance from Tess's eyes, and listened for the call number of his car absently. Bab's voice recalled him abruptly once they were on the way uptown.

"Isn't it odd that Nan should have kept up that acquaintance? She was such a queer little thing at school, but Nan always was rather broad-minded, wasn't she? Her father, I mean, Dr. Warren, was a kind of missionary."

"He was a martyr, and a splendid chap," Don told her briefly. "Tess will stay with Nannie for some time, I imagine. My brother-in-law is her guardian."

"How very intersting!" murmured Bab. And still the hidden sting missed him, and he smiled as he leaned back in the car. The softest, darkest eyes he had ever seen and a voice so filled with sympathy and tenderness he could feel the thrill of it yet. He heard Bab saying something about the Ladds going on the yacht. Chester Ladd was in love with her, he knew, and still he did not care. The whole society game seemed trivial after the snatches of tragedy he had caught there in the shadows from the lips of this girl who had come alive through the furnace of fire.

The following morning he breakfasted with Nannie and Tess. Later in the day he took them down in his car to the shore cottage Nan had taken for two weeks. It stood on a rest of sand dune, with a fringle of pine and beach plum trees behind it. Every day saw Don's low, gray roadster parked outside the grounds. And Aunt Kisty kept "mighty quiet," as Don said later, leaving the game in Nannie's capable hands, until Tess told her they were engaged.

"I suppose I can thank you for this, Nan," Don said, happily, but Nannie laughed and shook her blonde head as she bent over her embroidery out on the broad veranda.

"It's Aunt Kitty's campaign," she answered. "You know none of the generals take the front any more. She issued orders from a listening post, dear. Do you mind if I write and tell that to Bab Seward? I've wanted to get a good shot at her ever since we were fifteen."

Not even the plea by her grace's solicitor that the offence was the act of her agents prevented the Marchioness of Queensberry from being mulcted for profiteering in England. She had previously been convicted of selling salmon at a price above that permitted by the war law.

SOUTHAMPTON'S RECORD.

[Halifax Chronicle.]

How great a part has been played by the port of Southampton during the war is shown by the figures quoted by the London Chronicle. From August 9, 1914, the first day of embarkation, until a recent day, a period of 1,784 days, the port's record shows that 17,186 ships were dealt with; personnel transported, 8,150,000; ammunition and stores carried, three and one-half million tons; mail bags forwarded, 7,700,000; horses and mules transported, 880,000; guns and limbers, 15,266; vehicles, 180,000.

SIR WILLIAM OSLER.

[Saskatoon Star.]

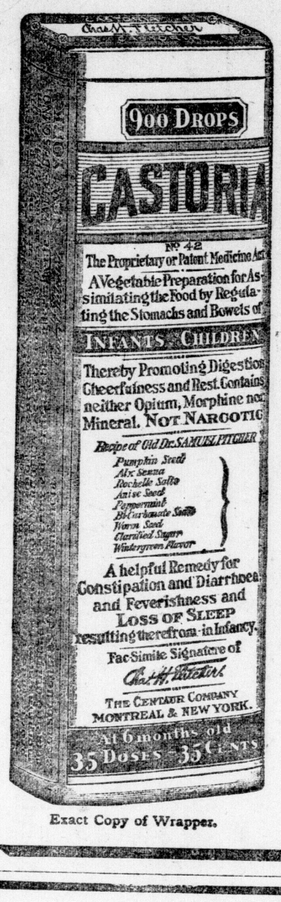

Sir William Osler, the world-famous surgeon, was born 70 years ago at Tecumseh, Ont., July 12, 1849, the son of a clergyman. He was educated at Trinity College, Toronto; McGill University, Montreal; University College, London, and the Universities of Berlin and Vienna. Some years ago, in an address at Baltimore, Osler commented on the "comparative uselessness of men above forty years of age." He quoted Anthony Trollope's facetious statement that men of 60 should retire for a year of contemplation, after which they should be chloroformed. His remarks were taken seriously, although not so intended, and aroused wide comment.

Care and Responsibility.

THE responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared: could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for, the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

A Word About Truth.

"Great is Truth, and mighty above all things." So says the Old Testament, yet it is equally true to-day. Truth shows no favors, fears no enemies.

From the inception of Fletcher's Castoria, Truth has been the watchword, and to the conscientious adherence to this motto in the preparation of Fletcher's Castoria as well as in its advertising is due the secret of its popular demand.

All imitations, all substitutes, all just-as-good preparations lack the element of Truth, lack the righteousness of being, lack all semblance even in the words of those who would deceive.

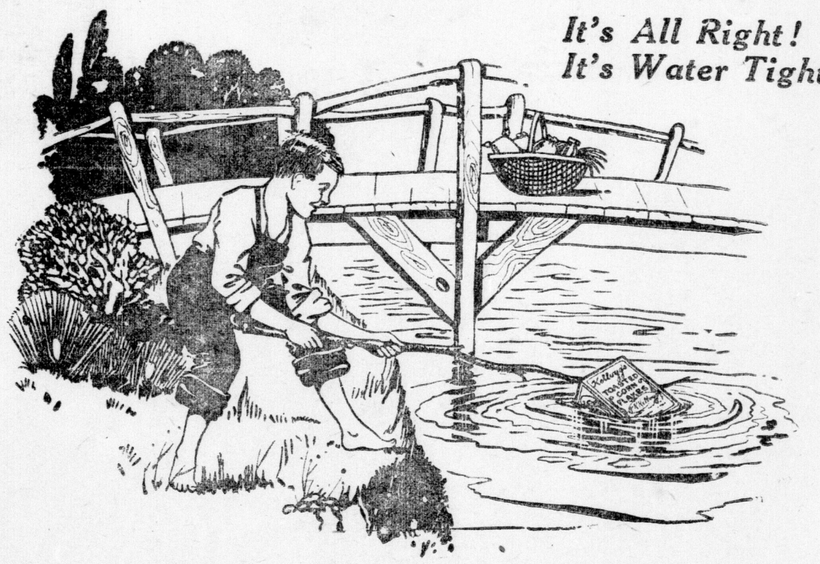

And you! Mothers, mothers with the fate of the World in your hands, can you be deceived? Certainly not.

Fletcher's Castoria is prepared for Infants and Children. It is distinctly a remedy for the little-ones. The BABY'S need for a medicine to take the place of Castor Oil, Paregoric and Soothing Syrups was the sole thought that led to its discovery. Never try to correct BABY'S troubles with a medicine that you would use for yourself.

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

WINIFRED BLACK

Writes About "A Strange Case."

Copyright, 1919, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

She is a good woman, a good mother, a good friend, but a very bad wife. Years ago she wasn't a bad wife at all, but a very unusually good one. She was young and pretty, light-hearted and gay. She had a pretty wit of her own, too, and could make an evening pass as quickly as a thought.

She had a taste for music and could play by ear. She wasn't one of the sort who need folios or stacks of elaborate music to sit down and play an old song for the family. She read aloud very well, too, and evening after evening the husband and wife spent together wandering over the meadows with Little Nell or crossing the wide channels with David Balfour.

They were very congenial, so congenial that most of their friends thought that theirs were the happiest lives that they had ever known. The little wife was a real wife—home-loving, home-keeping and home-making.

Well, the husband was called out of town. That was when there were two little children. One was a baby about six months old, the other was a child of about three. While the husband was gone, the little wife was very lonely, but she did the best she could to keep herself cheery and happy. She wrote long, loving letters to her husband, and told him everything the new baby looked, and everything the old baby said. She made herself some pretty clothes, all ready to meet him when he came back.

All Is Changed.

He was homesick, too, and lonely—so he wrote her—and longed for the sweet sound of her voice and the sight of her smile. There was a great merry-making when he came home. The children were dressed in their best, the table was set with all the pretty china and nice silver. There was a fire leaping on the hearth, the new canary in the cage seemed to know that it was a great occasion, and sang louder and more sweetly than ever.

But there was something wrong about the husband. He was glad to see his wife and children, but somehow there was a shadow across his face. He seemed to be thinking of something else all the time.

His wife noticed it. After the children were put in bed she put to him a few plain questions, plainly and without rancour of any sort. He denied the things that she hinted at, denied them utterly and completely. But later she found that her miserable suspicions were true.

From this moment that little wife has never pretended to love him any more. She is good to the children, keeps her house as pretty and neat as ever, makes herself agreeable when her husband is there, but she is always glad when he goes, and isn't at all glad when he returns.

Now the husband is different. He has wept and cried and begged for forgiveness; he has announced his repentance. He says he knows he has done wrong and he is bitterly sorry for it. Why can't his wife forgive him? But the wife will not forgive him, and that little family is slowly but surely drifting on to the rocks.

What's to be done about it? Dear me! I wish I knew. The little wife doesn't want to bring all this misery into her life. She would make up with her husband in a minute if she could, but somehow she says she can't. She says every time she tries to think kindly of him again she wonders what sort of looking woman it was that he made love to in the great city when he was so far away from home, and she cannot forgive him, and can never trust him again.

What Should Be Done?

I wonder if it's her fault. Wouldn't it pay for her to give him one more trial? It seems to me that it would but perhaps she can't. Love goes where it's sent, you know, and love is like a flame. When it is out—it is out.

I'm sorry for the little woman, and I'm sorry for the man, but sorrier than all I am for the poor, little, helpless, innocent children. Why can't this foolish couple make up their minds, for the sake of the children, to begin again, all over.

I wonder if it's possible? I wonder if it's worth while? What do you think?

KITCHEN ECONOMIES

Here Are Meatless Menus For One Week.

Here are a number of menus that may suggest ways and means of avoiding meat for an entire week or more if you wish to cut meat from the program during hot weather. These are simple foods, which most persons know how to prepare, and recipes for which have been given in this column heretofore:

Meatless Dinners for One Week.

Tomato puree.
Macaroni au gratin.
Spinach. Creamed carrots.
Fruit salad.
Chocolate layer cake.

Curried cauliflower, rice border.
Tomatoes stuffed with peas.
Almond and cheese salad.
Lemon gelatine.

Lima bean loaf with mushroom sauce.
Scalloped tomatoes.
Potato puffs.
Fruit salad.

Salmon souffle.
Stuffed peppers. Brussels sprouts.
Sliced pineapple. Gingerbread.

Potato chowder.
Stuffed eggplant. Creamed asparagus.
Cucumber salad.
Lemon meringue pie.

Cheese fondue.
Stewed tomatoes. Corn on cob.
Endive and banana salad.
Strawberry cream.
Vegetable soup.

Rice and poached eggs with tamato sauce.
Nut salad with cheese balls.

Meatless Luncheons for One Week.

Cream of corn soup.
Bar le duc sandwiches.
Ice chocolate.

Egg souffle.
Creamed potatoes.
Baked apple. Graham crackers.

Combination salad, egg, potato, tomatoes.
Peanut butter sandwiches.
Cherry gelatine.

Creamed vegetable hash on toast.
Fried cucumbers. Potato balls.
Cold sliced peaches.

Sour milk waffles with honey.
Orange and banana salad.

Cream of asparagus soup.
Hard-boiled egg sandwiches.
Strawberries. Gingerbread.

Cream cheese and olive salad.
Graham bread. Sliced tomatoes.
Chocolate pudding.

Some of these dishes can be prepared so as to serve for luncheon sandwiches for school or picnic. Salads can almost always be utilized in sandwiches, and mayonnaise can be spread on the bread instead of butter, which is rather unpalatable when it melts on the bread and remains warm for several hours.

WHAT COLORS WILL PREDOMINATE IN DRESSES AND HATS

The Coming Season Promises Many New Color Combinations.

Women Like to Think the Color That Is Most Becoming Is the One Most in Style—Some Color Surprises in Store—Navy Blue Still Holds Good.

Ask a woman what is the most fashionable color of the season, and she is pretty sure to tell you which of the several leading colors is most becoming to her. We are always thus a little partial in our judgments, and if a color that comes into high favor happens to become us amazingly, well then we are the last to give it up, and we insist that it is still in good repute, though it may have gone through the last bargain basement of popularity and run the gamut of all the back-street ready-made shops.

Funny thing—how often the colors that gain first place in fashion's favor, the new and distinctive shades, are not becoming save to a very few. Say what you will, henna red was becoming only to a few, although they did look amazingly well in it, and that dreadful mustard that was so long in being killed some seasons ago was about as uncoming to the average woman as any color ever produced by the dyers.

Among the present colors that are enjoying attention there are some that are really very kind to us all. Brown has been enjoying such a vogue as it has not known for some time and this is brown in the warmer shades that is unbecoming usually only to the radiantly fair or the coal black brunette. To all the in-between varieties and to the girl so blessed as to have red hair these browns are very becoming.

Then there are shades of blue that bring out the blueness of your eyes if they are even remotely blue and likewise take the sallow tones out of the average complexion. They are not the light blue nor the sky blues, but what the French would call blue vif—a shade that combines exceedingly well either with dark brown or with black in autumn millinery.

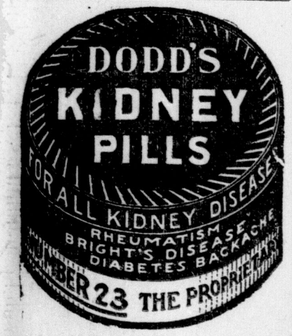

Drapeau blue and blue roy—flag blue and king's blue—are likewise sufficiently vigorous to be generally becoming and of course blue marine or navy blue is something that combines smartness and becomingness as no other blue ever does. Try as we may to convince ourselves that some other shade is coming to take its place for smart street wear, it goes on like Tennyson's brook forever.

There is a shade that they say is going to be in high favor for street wear this autumn. It started in Paris and it started with hats, and it quite often happens that a new color does first become distinguished through its use by some milliner. This color is named in honor of an insignificant little Brazilian monkey, called ouistiti, whose name would never be known to any but naturalists had he not in some way got into the fashion. And there are no doubt no end of people who will use this term in application to the new shade of drab without ever knowing that it is the name of a little Brazilian primate.

Another little animal that has found itself in the fashion, but one far better known to us all, is the mouse, for gris souris is a color that we read about whenever we read about French clothes. Other shades of grey are silver grey and lead grey, which the French call gris plomb.

Among the garden colors that have had and are still having much favor are the nasturtium shades, which play an important role in millinery. The currant tones are also some colors that count a whole range of shades that are in favor for evening and indoor wear, the nasturtium shades being usually used for day time and for outdoors. Prune is nothing more nor less than our plum, and that is the color chosen for some of the new suits that are designed in Paris for advanced autumn wear. Brilliant orange and lemon color, known as citron, are other popular fruit colors and amande seche or dried almond is another.

There are many greens and despite the fact that jade green has been reported done for on more than one occasion, it still appears in very good company. Pea green is a good summer color, but poison green—vivid and clear—is another.

Miss Olive O'Neill, R. N. A. M. C., has returned home after spending some time in the American army at the General Hospital, No. 38, New York. Miss O'Neill intends to spend a month's vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. O'Neill, Denfield, before going to Detroit to continue her training.

CARFRAE—HOWARD.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Howard, 207, Adelaide street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon, when their eldest daughter, Myrtle Marie, was united in marriage to Mr. Sidney R. Carfrae, son of Mr. Hugh Carfrae of Carfrae street. The Rev. J. A. Agnew officiated. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of georgette crepe over duchess satin, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and roses. Mrs. Fred Foxworthy, sister of the bride, being bridesmaid, wore pale yellow silk marquisette and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. Mr. Fred Foxworthy acted as best man. After a dainty wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Carfrae left for Detroit and points west. The bride traveled in a biscuit-colored gabardine suit, with georgette hat to match. The young couple received many beautiful and useful presents.

Good Night Stories

By Blanche Seaver

THE OGRE WHO LIVED IN THE ROSE CASTLE.

It was noised about among the meadow folks that a great, big Ogre had rented the rose castle that stood at the end of the walk in the garden.

Of course, no one had seen him move in or even had heard of any one who had seen him, but just the same Mama Ant told her little ones that he lived there, and warned them not to venture near the castle.

"Play all around the garden if you want," said Mama Ant to her children, "but whatever you do, keep away from the rose castle. For they say folks who ventured to knock on the castle gates never live to tell what they saw."

"Pooh!" exclaimed Blackie Ant. "It's only a scare old Yellow Bee has started to keep us fellows from going there to get our honey."

"And the honey well in the rose castle they tell me is the richest honey well around here," cried Blackie's brother.

"Just the same, take heed and stay away," said Mama Ant, as she kissed her little flock good-bye and sent them off to play.

"I don't believe there's an Ogre in that beautiful rose castle, do you?" Blackie Ant asked his brother.

"Well, no, not exactly," replied his brother. "But if Mama Ant says we mustn't go there, then I guess it's best to mind her."

"Cardy coward!" cried Blackie Ant. "You don't need to come, but I'm going to find out for myself."

Without another word Blackie Ant ran up the green stem path and knocked at the beautiful rose castle gate.

"You'd better run home and mind your Mama," buzzed Mr. Bumble Bee, as he lighted on a petal tower. "The rose castle is no place for you tiny ants. If the Ogre sees you—well, he'll make short work of your little black coat; Better take my advice and run home while there's still time."

Blackie Ant laughed, and knocked again, this time much louder. From down the castle hall he could hear the soft creping of big feet as if some one was trying not to make a noise. Then the door opened a crack and Blackie Ant saw two fiery eyes glaring at him from the rose petals.

That would have been the end of Blackie Ant if the kind wind hadn't come along just then, and seeing his plight, gave the rose such a shaking that Blackie Ant lost his balance and fell with a thud to the ground.

Blackie Ant hurried away home as fast as his legs could carry him. His brother and sisters had already told his Mama where Blackie Ant had gone, and she was crying bitterly when he rushed into the ant hill all out of breath.

"It's true!" he exclaimed, when he could find his voice. "It's a great, big yellow spider Ogre! And if it hadn't been for Mr. Wind I wouldn't be here now!"

"Just as I thought," replied Mama Ant, drying her tears and kissing her little ant boy. "It's that dreadful flower spider. He lives in the different flowers, and instead of throwing out nets to catch his prey like other spiders he hides and jumps on unsuspecting meadow folks who visit the flower castles where he lives. He's hard to see because he's something like a chemeleon, he can change the color of his suit to match the flower he lives in. Now I hope you're satisfied.

Then Mama Ant gave Blackie a nice crumb of bread and sent him out to play.

Indeed Blackie was satisfied!

SENSATIONAL FURNITURE VALUES

"KEENE BROS.' TRUCK AT YOUR NEXT-DOOR NEIGHBOR'S MEANS THE GOODS ARE PAID FOR."

The greatest sensation in the history of the world's furniture industry has just taken place. So rapid has been the advancing prices of the manufacturers that the retail price is now actually below the wholesale prices. Knowing the condition of the furniture market as we do, it seems to us that we cannot urge our customers too strongly to take advantage of these clearance prices. Everyone knows that furniture prices are going sky-high. Materials get scarcer every day. It may be many months—or more probably many years—before we shall again be able to offer such prices. Our King street location, and the unusual volume of business which we enjoy, make these prices possible. We believe that the furniture values we are offering are without doubt the most remarkable in London at the present time.. BUY NOW—if you would save money on Rugs, Draperies, Ranges, Furniture, Toys and Baby Carriages.

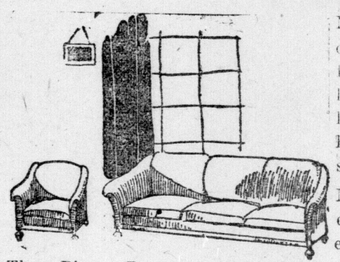

Dining-Room Furniture

A FUMED OAK DINING-ROOM SUITE REDUCED TO $69.00

Must appeal to the thrifty. We have three of them to sell. 40 other complete suites and odd pieces in great abundance, reduced from 10 per cent to 40 per cent off; will give you a selection well worth looking at. Pay a deposit and we hold the goods for you if you are not ready for them at present.

August Sale of Upholstered Furniture

No other store in London shows such a wide range of desirable numbers in upholstered living-room furniture—certainly no other store sells on the same low percentage basis. Now, take from these regular low prices the enormous August discount, and you have a price lowness almost unbelievable. For instance:

Magnificent Solid Walnut Cane Rockers and Armchairs, with beautiful velour or tapestry, spring cushion seats, at $19.50

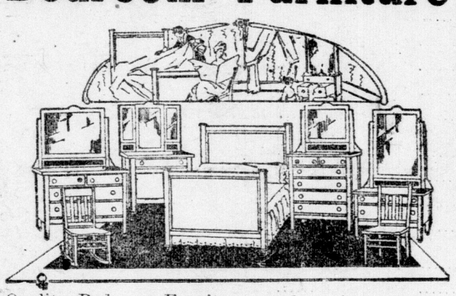

Three-Piece Davenport Suite, upholstered in fine blue velour, consisting of davenport, easy-chair and rocker, only $189.00

Overstuffed Easy-Chairs and Rockers, upholstered in fine silk velour or tapestry, as low as $29.00

Luxuriously Upholstered Tapestry Davenports, with loose, spring-filled cushions and soft pillow arms. August Sale price $89.00

Scores of other Fine Overstuffed Davenports, Rockers and Easy-Chairs priced for August selling far below their actual value.

Bedroom Furniture

Quality Bedroom Furniture at the prices we now have reduced them to are bargains, indeed. Take heed to our August Sale prices—everything marked in plain figures. You will pay double the prices after August is over.

London Starts Right and Victory Results

Quinn Is Knocked Out in Second Inning — Shay and Emery Appear With "Dad" Stewart's Team — Pittenger Argues Himself Out.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

KITCHENER, Ont., July 30.—The London Tecumsehs got an early lead this evening, which the Beavers couldn't overcome, and won by score of 4 to 2 in the first game of the series between the tail-enders of the Michigan-Ontario League. Frank Quinn, who is claimed by London, but who has been given permission to play with Kitchener, pending the investigation, was in the box of the Beavers, and during the two innings he pitched allowed three hits, two of them triples, one charity and four passes, netting three runs for the visitors.

Sharp Was Good.

Sharp finished the game, and after the first man he faced had hit a single down the third base line and scored Pittenger, there was no further scoring for the Tecumsehs. In the first, Emery, who reported to Manager Stewart after the arrival of the Tecumsehs, brought in two runs with a clean single. He also fielded his position in right field in fine form.

Wade Hit a Home Run.

Kitchener scored their runs in the fourth when three hits were bunched off Barry, Beatty crossing the plate, and in the eighth when Wade hit the ball to the right field fence, and the sphere bounced over it. Both teams fielded in fine form, Stark at second for Kitchener accepting twelve chances without an error.

Pittenger Banished.

Pittenger was banished from the game in the fifth when he disputed Umpire Strowger's decision at first base when he was caught by Sharp and Beatty. Shay played short for London and gave good account of himself. He reported from Newark today.

C. K. BLUETT'S RINK PROVES TOO STRONG FOR GALT FOUR; LONDONERS ARE VICTORS

Two Skips Go to Preston—Cockneys Win By Eleven Shots.

GALT, July 30.—Four rinks of the London Thistles were here on tour today. On arrival here two rinks journeyed on to Preston, the other two playing at the George street greens. C. K. Bluett's rink, with its one-sided victory, gave the visitors the game by eleven shots. From Galt the tourists went on to Woodstock for an afternoon game and an evening game at Ingersoll. WOLVES AND HALLIGANS DIVIDE A DOUBLE BILL

BAY CITY, Mich., July 30. — The Wolves and Halligans split even in today's double-header, before one of the smallest crowds of the season, occasioned by the local street car strike, Bay City winning the first game 13 to 2 and dropping the second encounter 3 to 1.

In the seventh inning Whaley sprained his ankle sliding into home plate, and will be out of the game for a couple of weeks. Scores:

SOUTHAMPTON RINK WINS M'KAY TROPHY AT OWEN SOUND

Winning Rink Skipped by McAuley, Who Defeated Plattsville Four.

OWEN SOUND, July 30.—Brock McAulay and his rink from Southampton won the McKay trophy this afternoon in the annual tournament of the Owen Sound Lawn Bowling Club, defeating Dr. English of Plattsville by 17 to 10. It is a coincidence that Brock McAulay also won the Premier trophy in the curling bonspiel last winter. The winning quartet were M. McAulay, W. J. Johnston, E. Short and Brock McAulay, skip. The other rink in the finals was A. E. Shantz, L. Milne, T. Pratt and J. B. English, skip. Owen Sound is showing up well in the London Free Press trophy, for all the rinks in the semi-finals were from Owen Sound. H. J. Thompson and his men had a bye, while John Thompson played A. F. Armstrong. The Bankers' trophy is well under way, and play is expected to continue until on into the morning. The weather was ideal.

BATTLE CREEK WON SECOND OF SERIES WITH SAGINAW

Both Teams Filled Bases in Sixth With No One Out, But Each Failed To Score.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., July 30.—Battle Creek outhit and outfielded the Saginaw Aces this afternoon, and won the second game of the series here 7 to 3. A peculiar feature of the game was that in the sixth inning each team filled the bases with none out and neither was able to score. Neither pitcher walked a man, but each wild-pitched in a pinch. Bullard had the edge on Weiner throughout.

CRACK LONDON SHOT WINS AGAINST LARGE FIELD OF WEST ONTARIO RIFLEMEN

R. W. Glover Knocks Down 118 Out of 120 Birds in Six Events of 20 Each— Crediton and Dresden Men Second and Third.

The trapshooting tournament held by the Springwood Gun Club Wednesday afternoon proved one of the best shoots of the season in this district. There was a good attendance, representing the best trapshots in Ontario.

The program consisted of six events of 20 birds each. R. W. Glover of this city won the silver cup for high gun, having missed only two birds out of 120. F. Kerr of Crediton was second, and Wes. Hart of Dresden came third.

O.R.F.U. Will Hold Meeting in Toronto on August 7th

Prospective Teams For Senior Series Includes London—All Clubs Asked to Send Representatives to the Meeting.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, July 30. — While it is rather early to do anything definite as yet concerning rugby, still all unions realize that there is much work to be done this season, and are therefore getting in as much advance activity as possible. The Ontario Rugby Football Union, the only organization outside of the city league to keep the game going during the war, will hold a get-together meeting at the Central Y. M. C. A., College street, Toronto, on Thursday night next, August 7. This meeting is for the purpose mainly of getting a line on the senior prospects, though other matters will be discussed also.

Many Promising Players Developed.

The O. R. F. U. has not operated a senior series since 1915, but it developed many promising players through the medium of the intermediate and junior teams. For that they are to be congratulated. There appears to be plenty of rugby material in all quarters, and the popular pastime should have a banner season.

Just who will make up the senior series of the O. R. F. U. this fall is not known. Both Parkdale Canoe Club and Toronto R. A. A. C., it is known, are ready, while Beaches are also said to have senior ambitions.

London a Likely Senior Prospect.

Hamilton Rowing Club, who were in it before the war, are again expected back, though nothing definite has been heard. London, it is said, is also talking senior, and may make the jump. If it does not, it will at least have an intermediate team. London would be a good addition to the senior. There is plenty of good rugby material there. Eric "Buster" Reid, the former McGill player, is boosting the game in the Forest City.

Clubs intending to play in the O. R. F. U. senior series should send a representative to the meeting next Thursday, so that the union officials can find out just how things stand.

THISTLE BOWLERS ARRANGE TOURNEY FOR CIVIC HOLIDAY

Four Sets of Handsome Prizes Will Be Donated—All Bowling Clubs Invited.

The games committee of the Thistle Bowling Club have completed arrangements for the annual Civic Holiday tournament to be held on the Thistle greens next Monday, August 4.

Invitations have been sent to all the London bowling clubs, and it is expected that this year's entry will be the largest on record for this popular event. The Thistle Club have the reputation for donating excellent prizes at their tournaments, and this year will be no exception. There will be four sets of handsome prizes distributed. The draw will be made Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the Thistle club rooms. Play will begin at 9:30 a.m., fast time, Monday, and if started promptly it is hoped to be able to play four fifteen-end games, otherwise only twelve-end games can be played, as it is the intention to complete the qualifying games by 6 p.m. The four rinks with the highest scores will play off for the prizes.

Last year the club voluntarily contributed an additional prize as a consolation. If the entry warrants it, this generous action may be repeated this year, although no promise is made in the invitations sent out. It is claimed that there are no better greens in Western Ontario than the Thistle greens this year, so that a most enjoyable day's bowling is guarantee everyone. Several entries have already been received by the secretary, O. C. Barrie, 312 Wolfe street, phone 5591.

NEW WORLD MARK FOR SIXTH HEAT IS MADE AT COLUMBUS

Wilkes Brewer Does Mile in 2:05 1-4 in 2:06 Trot—Ante Guy Wins.

COLUMBUS, July 30.—Wilkes Brewer, winner of the unfinished 2:06 trot of yesterday, took a new world's record today in winning the sixth heat of this event in 2:05¼. It was the fastest sixth heat ever trotted, lowering the record of 2:06¾, made at Toledo last year by Esperanza. Royal Mac was no match for his rival, tiring badly the last 100 feet of the race.

Ante Guy, making her first start of the year, won the 2:04 trot in straight heats from Binland, who was driven by Geers, in the absence of Frank Hedrick, who is still suffering from injuries received at Toledo.

Mignola Won Big Purse.

Mignola handily won the 2:08 trot, the Southern Hotel Stake, purse $3,000. He trotted around his field whenever he pleased.

Roy Gratton, a heavy favorite, took the 2:08 pace without a ripple.

In the 2:13 pace, Lady Wreath and Jack Keith were the real contenders, the latter finally winning after a hard five-heat struggle.

Thomas Murphy today purchased the pacer, Wood Patch, 2:05½, from G. A. Bergsing of Minneapolis for a reported price of $7,500.

The pacer, Symbol Baron, 2:06¼, owned by Chauncy Sears of Fall River, Mass., dropped dead this morning while Dick McMahon was working him on the track.

BEHANS FAST BALL WORKS HAVOC WITH RED SOX

BRANTFORD, July 30.—Hamilton defeated Brantford here tonight in the first of the five-game series between the two rivals, the Tigers getting a 9-4 verdict, mainly because they negotiated the fence on the Brantford ground for home runs. No less than four home runs were made, Zinn getting two and Lapp and Donnelly one each.

The game was a most spirited one all through and was featured by a fistic combat between J. Murphy and Morrissette, Umpire Fyfe banishing both players, after the crowd was cleared from the field by the police.

Behan took up the hurling burden for the Tigers, and his fast ball worked havoc with the Red Sox in the growing twilight.

Umpire Fyfe made his initial appearance here, having been called in by both Hamilton and Brantford for the present series. His work was good.

SCOTCH DOUBLES TOURNEY STAGED AT ELMWOOD CLUB

McDougall Skips the Winning Rink—Many Exciting Matches.

The Elmwood Bowling Club's Scotch doubles tournament which was held yesterday was a very enjoyable event for the players and the spectators. A few of the contestants had their joy marred by having some unearthly scores piled up against them, but every one was satisfied, and on the whole it was enjoyed very much.

The rain threatened to put an end to the tourney, but after letting down a few drops Jup. Pluv. apparently decided it would be wicked to spoil the fun and the rain ceased.

James McDougal of the Thistles made an unprecedented score against Anguish of Lambeth. It was 52 to 2.

The prize-winners were given their little bundle of watercress at 11 p.m., when all the events had finished. McDougal with Ashplant as lead won first with 4 wins and a plus 93 score; Fred Brown and J. Smith were second with 3 wins and plus 48; Fred Allen and E. Manness third with 3 wins and plus 33; Dyer and H. Marshall got fourth with 3 wins for a plus 30 score. The scores were:

DOUGLAS EDGAR WON GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP BY BRILLIANT PLAY

Former French Champion Did the 72 Holes in 278, a Record For the Course.

Hamilton, July 30.—Playing one of the most sensational games ever witnessed on a Canadian or American links, Douglas Edgar, an English professional, representing the Druid Hill Golf Club of Atlanta, Ga., former French open champion, won the Canadian open championship here this afternoon, concluding the two-day tournament. He came out with the record score of 278 for the 72 holes, and was 16 strokes ahead of James Barnes, St. Louis; "Bobby" Jones, Atlanta, Ga., and Karl Keffer, Ottawa, the Canadian ex-champion, all of whom were tied for second position with a score of 294. Edgar beat the world's record of 283, which was tied last week by Barnes at Cleveland, by five shots. He was cheered by a large gallery when he finished the last round, 18 holes, in 66, which was three below the course record.

Edgar worked like a well-oiled machine, and his beautiful play fascinated the gallery. That Keffer should have lost his championship in such a match was no disgrace, for Edgar was unbeatable. He was presented with the prize of $200 and gold medal.

BIG BASEBALL DEAL RESULTS IN YANKEES GETTING CARL MAYS

Former Boston Pitcher Secured by New York Americans for $40,000 and Three Players.

Boston, July 31.—The trade by which Carl Mays, underhand pitcher of the Boston Americans, was transferred to the New York Yankees took rank today among the biggest transactions financially in the history of baseball. An official of the Red Sox stated that the Boston club received $40,000 in cash for Mays, in addition to Pitcher Allen Russell, Catcher Robert McGraw and a third player to be chosen later. An estimate placed the trading value of the three players in excess of $15,000.

It was understood that Derrill Pratt, second baseman of the New York team, was the most likely choice of the Boston club among the six players.

Boston probably will offer Pratt and another player, with $15,000, for Perry, it is said.

CANADIAN GOLFING STARS PLAY IN INTER-PROVINCIAL

Weather Is Threatening, But Large Crowd Gathers to Follow Matches.

Scarborough Golf Links, Toronto, July 31.—Most of Canada's best known professional golfers are here to take part in the inter-provincial match between Ontario and Quebec, which will be opened today. The course is new, but in good shape. Despite the fact that the weather is threatening a large gallery is on hand to follow the players.

Tomorrow there will be a keen contest for the P. D. Ross cup, emblematic of the professional championship.

ONLY THREE RACES TODAY AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ohio, July 31.—One of the shortest cards of this week of the Grand Circuit races is offered today, when but three races were on the regular program. They were the 2:10 trot for 3-year-olds, purse $1,000; the 2:12 class trot, purse $1,000, and the Deshler Hotel pacing stake for 2:10 eligibles, purse $3,000.

Frank Dewey starts in the pace and will be a big favorite. Goldie Todd, a Columbus horse, also starts in this event, along with Wellington Direct and others. The track is fast and the weather again good.

BANK CLEARINGS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

On the market during the past week there has been a hay famine. Last week 80 loads were brought to the city, but this week only 20 loads were sold. The C. P. R. freight department has 48 horses, but there is no hay in the barns for them. If the farmers would bring the fodder to the market, it is said they could sell 50 loads on Friday.

New wheat advanced in price to $1 90 @2 per bu, and $3 17@3 33 per cwt.

Live hogs are selling at $23@25 per cwt.

Tomatoes are somewhat lower in price, being quoted at $1 25@1 75 per basket.

Owing to the fact that raspberries will soon disappear from the market, the price of this fruit has soared a little. The wholesale price is 27@28c, and the retail 28@30c.

GRAIN

Chicago, July 31.—Opening: Corn—September, $1 95¼; December, $1 78½. Oats—September, 79½c; December, 82½c.

Chicago, July 31.—Although rain here and in various other places tended at first to ease the corn market, setbacks were not of a lasting sort. Offerings proved to be scarce, and an unexpectedly good demand from commission houses sprang up. Bulls contended that general soaking rains were needed and that serious crop damage had already taken place in many sections. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅞c decline and ⅛c advance, were followed by rallies that in some cases reached well above yesterday's finish.

Oats were governed largely by the action of corn. Opening unchanged to ⅞c lower, the market swung sharply upward.

Winnipeg, July 31.—Oats opened unchanged to ⅜c lower for October at 90⅜@90c; December ¼c higher to ¼c lower at 87½@87c.

Barley—Unchanged for October at $1 37.

Flax opened unchanged for both July and October, at $6 20 and $5 84 respectively.

Chicago, July 30.—Close: Corn—No. 2 mixed, $1.99; No. 2 yellow, $2.01@2.01½. Oats—No. 2 white, 79½@81c; No. 3 white, 78¾@80¾c.

Rye—No. 2, nominal, $1.16½.

Barley—$1.28@1.43.

Timothy—$9@11.50.

Clover—Nominal.

Toronto, July 30.—The board of trade cash grain quotations today were as follows:

Manitoba Wheat—In store, Fort William: No. 1 northern, $2.24½; No. 2 northern, $2.21½; No. 3 northern, $2.17½; No. 4 wheat, $2.11.

Manitoba Oats—No. 2 C. W., 93¾c; No. 3 C. W., 90½c; extra No. 1 feed, 90¾c; No. 1 feed, 88⅝c; No. 2 feed, 85⅜c.

Manitoba Barley—In store, Fort William: No. 3 C. W., $1.42¼; No. 4 C. W., $1.38½; rejected, $1.32; feed, $1.32.

American Corn—On track, Toronto, prompt shipment: No. 3 yellow, nominal; No. 4 yellow, nominal.

Ontario Oats—According to freights, outside: No. 3 white, 92@95c.

Ontario Wheat—F.o.b. shipping points, according to freights: No. 2 winter, $2.03 @2.08, other grades nominal.

Peas—Nominal.

Barley—Malting, $1.31@1.35.

Buckwheat—Nominal.

Rye—Nominal.

Montreal, July 30.—A firm feeling prevailed in the local market today for cash grain, and prices generally were maintained. There was some demand for oats from local buyers, and sales of a few round lots of No. 3 Canadian western, extra No. 1 feed and No. 1 feed were made ex water and a few odd cars ex store, but the volume of business on the whole was small, and the market is quiet with No. 3 Canadian western and extra No. 1 feed quoted at $1.03½ a bushel ex store.

FLOUR

Toronto, July 30.—Flour—Manitoba, Government standard, $11, Toronto; Ontario, Government standard, $10.25@$10.50, in jute bags, Montreal freights, prompt shipment.

Millfeed—In carlots, delivered, Montreal freights, bags included: Bran, $42@45 per ton; shorts, $44@49 per ton; good feed flour, per bag, $3.25@3.35.

Montreal, July 30.—There was no important change in the condition of the flour market today.

The market for all lines of feedstuffs is strong, and the prospects at present are for higher prices. Rolled oats are very firm at the recent advance.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat, war grade, $11@11.10.

Rolled Oats—Bags, 90 lbs., $5.25.

Bran—$42.

Shorts—$44.

METALS AND OILS

London, July 31.—Calcutta Linseed—July and August, £56.

Linseed Oil—128s.

Sperm Oil—£54.

Petroleum—Unchanged.

Turpentine Spirits—123s.

Rosin—American strained, 35s.

COTTON

Liverpool, July 31.—Cotton—Futures closed barely steady; Augusst, 20.73d; September, 20.90d; October, 21.02d; November, 21.10d; December, 21.14d; January, 21.6d; February, 21.16d; March, 21.16d; April, 21.14d; May, 21.2d.

PROVISIONS

Chicago, July 31.—Strength in the hog market gave an upward slant to provisions. Trade, however, was slow.

MONEY

New York, July 31.—Bar silver, $1 07⅝ per ounce.

MONEY

London, July 31.—Closing: Money, 2⅞ per cent.

Discount rates—Short bills, 3 7-16@3½ per cent; three months, 3 9-16@3⅝ per cent.

Gold premiums at Lisbon, 110.

Bar silver, 55 9-16d per ounce.

WALL STREET

New York, July 31—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—The heaviness of shippings, motors and oils imparted an irregular tone to active stocks at the opening of today's session, although offset to an extent by further gains in tobacco, leather and paper shares. Early reactions extended from 1 to 2 points in Marine common, American International, Texas Company, Studebaker and Virginia-Carolina Chemical. Steel and allied equipments recorded only nominal changes, and rails were almost entirely neglected.

Noon.—Anticipating the week-end recess, dealings became dull after the first half hour of moderate activity. Trading continued to centre in the tobacco, leather and paper groups, food shares also claiming speculative attention. Among motors and oils irregular recoveries were made, and equipments hardened on the strength shown by Crucible Steel. Texas and Pacific was foremost of the rails rising 1¾ points, and Montana Power and Pacific Gas and Electric featured the utilities, the latter at a 3-point gain. Call money opened at 6 to 6½ per cent.

1:30 p.m.—Oils and miscellaneous specialties were the prominent issues of the noon hour, Mexican Petroleum and Texas Company guiding the spirited rise at extreme gains of four to five points. rPices soon reacted, however, on the higher rates quoted for industrial loans.

JAPANESE OFFICERS TORTURED BEFORE BEING PUT TO DEATH

Incident At Kwang Chang Tau To Be Fully Investigated.

Tokio, Monday, July 28—(By the Associated Press).—A second official statement on the incident at Kwang Chang Tau places the Japanese losses at 16 officers and men killed and 18 others wounded.

The Communique alleges that four Japanese, including an officer, were tortured before death.

It is understood that the foreign office has instructed the Japanese minister at Peking to investigate the circumstances and take steps to obtain satisfaction.

Gambling Palace At Campione Proves Now 'White Elephant'

Italian Authorities Close Place At Instance of the Swiss Authorities.

Geneva, July 31.—An interesting situation has arisen at Campione, the Italian Monte Carlo, near Lugano. At the instance of the Swiss authorities the Italian authorities closed the gambling place recently, whereupon the residents, consisting of several hundred male voters, declared Campione an independent republic with the object of reopening the casino, which during the few months of its existence, made a profit reported to be more than a million dollars. The chief shareholders were Austrians.

A delegation, headed by the mayor, with a petition and proclamation, was on the way to Rome to interview the king when stopped at the Italian frontier. The delegation was sent home, the papers were seized and the delegates threatened with arrest.

In the meantime, the casino has become a "white elephant." It was formerly frequented chiefly by German and Austrian officers and members of various royal families, who lost heavily. Seven of the officers committed suicide.

SHIPBUILDERS' STRIKE AT LAUZON SHOWS NO SIGNS OF SETTLEMENT

Quebec, July 31.—The strike at the Davis Shipbuilding and Repair plant at Lauzon seemed as far from settlement today as when it started Tuesday morning. G. L. Davis stated last night that no concession would be made by the company. The men would have to hold to their contract.

LADIES OF ORANGE ORDER WELCOMED BY OTTAWA MEMBERS

Women Pleased With Laws Advocated at Convention.

Ottawa, July 31.—Greetings from the local lodges of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association to the visiting delegates and from the Royal Black Preceptory here, featured the sessions of the 26th annual meeting of the Grand Lodge L. O. B. A. The ladies were pleased with the noble stand taken by the members in advocating one marriage law, one language, one school and one flag for the Dominion of Canada. That the outcome of this meeting is certain to be a predominating factor in the history of the order, was emphasized.

Drink
Coca-Cola
TRADE MARK REGISTERED
DELICIOUS and REFRESHING

The taste is the test of Coca-Cola quality. The flavor is the quality itself.

Nobody has ever been able to successfully imitate Coca-Cola, because its quality is indelibly registered in the taste of the Canadian public.

CRANBERRIES.

When Jimmy Coon had finished the last drop in the molasses jug (with Teddy Possum to help him) in the hollow tree, they looked carefully out of the hole to see where Cousin Bruin was. And those two rascals heaved deep sighs of relief when they saw Cousin Bruin sound asleep.

"Isn't that a mercy," said Jimmy Coon, "Cousin Bruin has forgotten all about the molasses and the jug, and we are safe—that is, if we can think of anything for him to eat when he wakes up!"

"Well, I know exactly the thing—cranberries. Cousin Bruin always likes something sour after too much sweet, and he always eats sour ants for a pickle after too much honey, so cranberries are just the thing. I know a swamp where there are lots and lots of them, and they are as red as strawberries."

Jimmy Coon was sitting beside the hole where a woodmouse lived.

"That's all settled. So I am going fishing until he wakes up." Jimmy Coon was sitting beside the hole where a woodmouse lived. He was as patient and noiseless as a cat until in a few moments out came Mr. Woodmouse. In less than no time Jimmy had him, and ran to the brook to wash him. He sat by a pool and washed and washed his mouse until it looked like a rag. Then, after eating the tidbit, he settled down to fishing until Cousin Bruin should wake up.

Now some of Uncle Bullfrog's family lived in this pond, and Mrs. Mud Turtle had some relatives also, and Jimmy Coon hoped to catch some of these. He liked a nice fresh frog's hind leg, and there was nothing better than an omelet of turtle. But neither a frog or a mud turtle could be found. Soon Bobby Skunk came rolling along, and he was so fat that his feet seemed much too small to carry him.

"Where are you going with that big load of fat? Bobby Skunk? You look as if you were going to a soap factory!"

"None of your business," snapped Bobby Skunk. "I don't know any soap factory, and I am carrying home my fat to my winter hole. Also I have to have a big load for I have to live on it all winter."

"Well, you needn't get so mad," said Jimmy Coon. "Nobody is hurting you, and I'll tell you what I will do—I will give a prize to the fellow who can catch the most grasshoppers by this time tomorrow night, and the prize will be something good to eat, and I will give to the fellow who wins the prize something he likes to eat."

"That sounds good to me. Let's begin now."

At last Cousin Bruin yawned, stretched, and opened one eye, and then the other, and wanted to join in the grasshopper race.

Tomorrow—The Grasshopper Race.

MY HEART AND MY HUSBAND

ADELE GARRISON'S NEW PHASE OF

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

Why Madge Kept Her News To Herself.

Alice Holcombe took the school reports from me with hands that trembled visibly. Her eyes were full of tortured, questioning which I knew, of course, she could not voice. How I longed to tell her what I had just discovered—that she herself, none other—was the woman momentoes of whom Kenneth Stockbridge cherished in his desk.

But my lips were sealed not only by the prohibitive inscription the principal had left in his desk, but by the conviction that the general situation surrounding the principal of the Bayview school, resembled a highly inflammable pile of wood, which needed only a light. And I had no intention whatever of applying a match to it.

One question, entirely legitimate, left her lips.

"Had Milly done much damage?"

"I don't think so," I returned promptly. "She stirred things up considerably, evidently in the hunt for something personal among the pile of school papers. But none of the reports or other papers were missing, that, I could see. I straightened things out as well as I could and locked the desk again. There were few personal belongings of Mr. Stockbridge. The drawers were nearly filled with school papers. Here are the keys."

Alice Holcombe Troubled.

She took them mechanically and stood silent, evidently in deep, troubled thought for a minute or two. I had purposely made my voice and words as matter-of-fact and reassuring as I could, but I could not tell how much weight she had given to them.

"I'm afraid she has taken papers away with her," she said at last.

"I don't think so," I returned. "She had nothing in her hands when she went down the walk that day. By the way, have you heard anything from her?"

"Not a word. And that worries me more than an outburst of some kind from her. I know she is well, for I met Christine this morning on my way to school, and she had just come on an errand from there. If Milly had been sick, she would have told me. No, she is plotting some devilment. If only Mr. Stockbridge could stay for a week or two, she would wear her temper all out planning, and be quite tractable by the time he gets home."

"Do you know when he will be back?" I asked.

Mrs. Stockbridge Silent.

"Probably tomorrow, perhaps not until the day after. And when he comes, look out for trouble. I only wish I could foresee what form it would take. But here comes our wards. How I'd like to be Herod for about an hour or two! You and I would have a vacation."

"Yes, until the sheriff got here," I answered, smiling at her absurdity, trying to meet her ironical mood. "How bloodthirsty you are!"

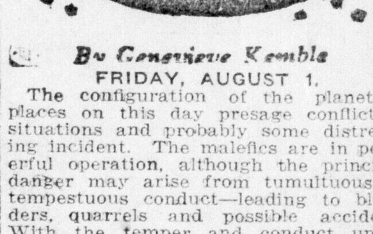

"Positively cannibalistic," she retorted, as she turned to go into her classroom.

I noted the tired droop of her head, the languid gait, the listless attitude, so different from her usual appearance, knew that the emotions which had been swaying her for the last day or two had wofully sapped the springs of her wonderful vitality.

Fear of what jealous-crazed Milly Stockbridge might do was mingled with her own emotional speculation as to the mysterious tokens in the desk of the man for whom she cared so deeply. I could take away one part of her burden with a word.

I took a step toward her, opened my lips to call her, then sternly suppressed the impulse. I must not let myself be affected by the tempestuous emotional atmosphere in which I was moving. There must be one sane, unaffected mind, I told myself grimly, in this bizarre drama which Milly Stockbridge was staging.

But whatever was in the mind of the principal's wife, she gave no sign of making any disturbance through this second day of Mr. Stockbridge's absence. And when I left the schoolhouse late in the afternoon, after working with Alice Holcombe to clear up all the work possible, she had made no sign.

By Genevieve Kemble

FRIDAY, AUGUST 1.

The configuration of the planetary places on this day presage conflicting situations and probably some distressing incident. The malefics are in powerful operation, although the principal danger may arise from tumultuous or tempestuous conduct—leading to blunders, quarrels and possible accident. With the temper and conduct under cool and controlled government all of these adverse conditions may be neutralized and the strongly favorable influence of Sol and Neptune, both under sextile transit of the Moon, be allowed to dispense their benefits and kindly offices. Those in employment should prosper, and affiliations with combinations, trusts or secret societies are encouraged. Especial care should be taken to guard against accidents.

Those whose birthday it is have the prospect of success if they keep their affairs well in hand and guard against quarrels, litigation and accidents. A child born on this day, though being rash and impulsive, will be popular and clever. It will succeed in employment.

LONDON AND ST. THOMAS TRADE BOARD MEMBERS TO GO TO CLEVELAND

May Take Joint Get-Together Outing Third Week in August.

A joint outing in the form of a one-day trip to Cleveland on the Steamer Roosevelt has been suggested for the members of the London Chamber of Commerce and the St. Thomas Board of Trade. It will probably take place during the third week of August.

Joint committees are working on the matter, and it will probably be acted upon favorably. It is to be a get-acquainted-get-together affair. It is planned to leave Port Stanley in the morning, spend the afternoon in Cleveland and return home the same night.

THEY BUILD YOU UP

It is an assured fact that some day you are going to try Tonal Iron Capsules, the new iron tonic. It is an excellent preparation for curing nervous troubles, anaemia system weakness, loss of appetite and heart weakness. You never tried anything like these capsules. They are put up in French gelatin, and are soft and easily dissolved, and as a result the ingredients are quickly taken into affected parts of the system. Their action is almost immediate. That is why they have been so successful, and why so many people are recommending them. Why not try a box now? You will be astonished at the results obtained if you are suffering from any of the following ailments: Anaemia (thin or watery blood), Impure Blood, Nervousness, Nerve and Muscle Twitching, Weakness or Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Excitability, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Liver Trouble, Pain in the Back, Kidney Troubles, Rheumatism, Vital Weakness in Men, Mental Worry, Cold Extremities, Numbness, Poor Circulation, Lassitude, or any form of Physical Decline. Price $1 a box. If your druggist does not carry Tonal Iron Capsules, mail us $1 and we will send a box to you.

PUBLIC UTILITIES COMMISSION ASKED TO FIX AGREEMENT

With Street Railway Company For Springbank Park Sunday Car Service.

As no agreement has been completed between the city and the Street Railway Company regarding Sunday service to Springbank, a request was forwarded to the public utilities commission by No. 1 committee at its meeting on Wednesday afternoon to draw up one. A special meeting will have to be called by the commission for this purpose.

Complaints have been made about the Rectory street stub line, but, at the same time, there have been numerous expressions of praise regarding it. As a result, this system, the two-way system, and the placing of trippers on the line at the busy hours of the day, will be tried out. The most satisfactory system will be adopted.

Two organizations and a private firm are seeking to occupy the building on the Fecteral Square now used by the I. O. D. E. Sergt. Fred Young, on behalf of the Army and Navy Veterans, asked that that association be permitted to use the building. It could pay a reasonable rent, he said. On account of its close proximity to the armories and because it was on the main street, it would be an ideal clubhouse.

The Reliance Machine Works representatives, who had leased the building prior to the war, claimed that there was an understanding that it should be returned to them at the termination of the war.

Ald. E. S. Little, chairman of the committee, declared that the Great War Veterans were to have the use of the building and, in turn, allow the G. W. V. A. rooms to be used by the I. O. D. E. In two weeks the matter will come up again when definite information will be obtained.

A communication from Superintendent C. Forrester of the local division of the G. T. R., stated that the railroad would move its yards farther east by fall. This would result in the Egerton street crossing being clear of yard engines, thus preventing traffic blackades.

According to the report of Fire Chief John Aitken, the firemen made 200 inspections of buildings during the fire prevention period.

There were eleven fires and one false alarm in July, and during that time four firemen were sick.

A grant of $100 to the convention of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association, which assembles here shortly, was recommended.

Mayor C. R. Somerville will attend the convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, which is to be held in Kingston on August 12, 13 and 14.

Recommendation will be made to the council that a bylaw authorizing the early closing of barber shops be passed and that a vote be taken on the early closing of shoe stores.

No action was taken on a request for financial aid toward the Alberta Industrial Development Convention. American and Canadian businessmen were taking part in this convention.

In reference to this Mayor Somerville declared that Canada should do less buying in the United States, as the Canadians were getting the worst of any reciprocity that might be in existence. The Canadian dollar was worth but 95 cents across the line, because Canadian bought too great an amount of American goods.

To bring the City of London bill to the Legislature at Toronto cost the city $1,044.15 it was found. The account has been presented to the city.

On the motion of Ald. F. R. Watkinson, a recommendation that a monument to the memory of London's fallen be erected in Queen's Park will be sent on the council.

The public utilities commission will also be asked to spend money, which it secured for the purpose, on the improvement of the park.

CAPACITY AUDIENCES SEE NAZIMOVA, THE GREAT, AT THE GRAND

Miss Grace Nelson and Arthur Lawrason in High Class Musical Program.

In "Revelation," one of the season's most powerful photoplays, which is being shown to capacity audiences at the Grand all this week, the sublime Nazimova is seen in the role of Joline, a cabaret dancer, performing in a Latin Quartet resort, who offers to pose for a young American artist, Paul Granville. The picture wins a leading place in the salon. Joline's Apache lover, Duclos, slashes the picture into fragments on the day of the exhibition. For this he is arrested and sent to prison. Joline continues to be Granville's model and inspiration. He wins fame quickly through his canvasses. Count de Roche plans to separate the pair. He obtains a commission for Paul to paint the Madonna of the Rosebush, for a monastery whose monks are praying for a re-appearance of the Virgin, which alone can cause the rosebush to blossom. Granville does not think that Joline can fill the Madonna type. His attempt to engage another model ends in disaster, as Joline savagely attacks the model sent by the count and drives her away. In tears she begs Paul to allow her to be his model. Struck by her expression, he admits that she can fulfill the contract. They journey to the monastery, but no women are admitted to its inclosure. Joline disguises herself as a boy, and while the monks are at prayers Paul paints her arising from behind the rosebush as the Virgin. Brother Augustine accidentally comes upon the scene. He sees the radiant figure, imagines that the Madonna has actually come to visit him, and faints. Artist and assistant make their escape. The story of the miracle spreads and worshippers flock to the convent, for the rosebush has really bloomed. Joline dislikes what she terms "mere superstition," and insists upon telling the prior the truth. She does so, but the old man's gentle ways and his belief that through her the Madonna has spoken her message brings her the solace of contrition. She leaves her lover Paul and devotes herself to the good of mankind. The finale comes when, after the great war breaks out, both the Apache lover Duclos and Granville, who has also entered France's service, lie wounded on the field. Joline, as a Red Cross nurse, watches the last moments of Duclos. Later at the base hospital, established in the old monastery, she meets Granville, and they are joined in marriage by the prior.

Grace Nelson, Prima Donna.

Miss Grace Nelson, prima donna, in a program of popular and classical songs, assisted at the piano by Mr. Arthur Lawrason, a selected comedy and the Pictorial Life are all included in this exceptional bill.

MISS GRACE NELSON, American prima donna of Kansas City, Mo., who with Arthur Lawrason acting as accompanist, yesterday gave patients of the local military hospital a decided treat with a half-hour's program of songs and piano selections.

E. Cunningham, 415 Rectory Street, Has Narrow Escape in Race Spill.

ST. THOMAS, July 30.—E. Cunningham, 415 Rectory street, London, is at the Amasa Wood Hospital here, suffering from a broken nose, several nasty bruises and probably internal injuries as a result of a fall from his motorcycle while racing in a side car contest at the race tracks here this afternoon. The race in which Mr. Cunningham was hurt was the last on the bill. He was traveling at a fast rate of speed, but the tracks had become so dusty that it was almost impossible to make the curves. In order to avoid colliding with his opponent, W. Andrews of Toronto, he swerved at one of the turns and landed head first up against the fence.

The ambulance was summoned at once and he was conveyed to the hospital here, but it is stated tonight that he may be out again in a few days. How he escaped from death is looking less than a miracle. His machine was moving at a terrific rate of speed, but it is thought that the thick coating of dust on the track to a certain exent prevented his machine from shooting through the fence at the side. He is reported to be getting along fairly well tonight, although nothing definite could be learned as to the extent of his injuries.

"SWEETEST GIRL IN PICTURES" NOW AT MAJESTIC THEATRE

Marguerite Clark Appearing Today, Friday and Saturday in Photocomedy "Girls."

Comedy is rampant in the new Paramount picture, "Girls," starring charming and dainty little Marguerite Clark, which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre today, Friday and Saturday.

One of the delightful situations in the film is that confronting a young man who has fallen hopelessly in love with a beautiful girl, and is seeking admittance to her home that he might woo her. But his beloved is living under the impression that she is a man-hater, having been jilted in her younger days and having sworn a hatred of men, has hung above her door a sign reading, "No man shall cross this threshold." And he wins the girl, too.

Such a glaring defiance might have intimidated most young men, but not Edgar Holt. He is a young lawyer and a man who perseveres. He simply goes around to another room across the courtyard, crawls across a suspended shutter and enters her window. Thus he gains admission into her presence without crossing the threshold. And he wins the girl, too.

The original play by Clyde Fitch, from which the picture was adapted, scored one of the biggest successes of the day when first presented on the stage. Walter Edwards directed the star and thoroughly capable players, including Mary Warren, Helene Chadwick, Harrison Ford, Lee Hill, Thomas D. Persse, Virginia Foltz and others portray the supporting roles.

A comedy, a news weekly and special overture by the Majestic orchestra will complete a thoroughly excellent program.
